WPMC Board Explains Decision

At mid-week, controversy continued to rage over the announcement last week by West Plains Medical Center that they were dropping the State funded Medicaid program for the Muleshoe Nursing Home. Along with that announcement was the notification that some 23 Medicaid patients, currently residing in the Muleshoe Nursing Home would be transferred.

By the first of this week, several patients had already transferred, and families were checking out area nursing homes in an effort to relocate their family members.

Monday night, board members of the West Plains Medical Center met and attempted to answer some of the many questions during the past week.

Board members, under direction of President Delbert Watson, said the nursing home has been in financial trouble for the past three to four years, and they faced one of three choices -- provide quality care; close the nursing home or drop the Medicaid program.

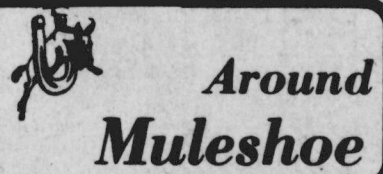

He said the board had spent hour after hour during the past several years trying to decide which was the best way to go in order to continue to provide quality care for hospital patients, and the persons who are paying their own bills (private pay) to stay in the nursing home.

One of the most asked-questions is "We put our hard earned money into the nursing home and hospital, is it going down the tubes now?"

Also, "Is the hospital headed toward being headed by a corporation?"

Board members were emphatic in that they were trying to keep the hospital open, provide the best medical care possible and also keep local control.

They said they had spent more time on trying to work out problems in the hospital and nursing home, and clear Con't Page 6, Col. 1

Late Monday night, Carver Light, who was recently employed as director of ambulance services for West Plains Medical Center, was injured in a one vehicle rollover about three miles east of the New Mexico state line on FM1760.

Following emergency treatment at West Plains Medical Center, he was transferred to a hospital in Lubbock for surgery on broken bones.

Biggest Food Spenders-The 35-44 Group

The fastest-growing age segment of the U.S. population -- the 35 to 44 year-old group -- is also the segment which spends the most on food, says Dr. Al Wagner.

Wagner is a food technologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Households headed by persons from 35 to 44 years of age spend 38 percent above the national urban average at food stores and at eating-out establishments," Wagner reports.

This age segment now comprises 12 percent of the U.S. population, he says.

The age segment is expected to increase to 15 percent of the population by 1990 and to 17 percent by the late 1990's, he adds.

MR. AND MRS. LARRY JOE JACOBS, JR.
(nee Kim Bray)

Kim Bray, Jacobs United In Marriage

Kim Bray and Larry Joe Jacobs, Jr. were united in marriage in a single ring ceremony at 8 p.m. Saturday, June 23 in the Church of the Brethren at Quinter, Kansas with the Rev. Alton McDaniel officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bray of Quinter and Mr. and Mrs. Larry J. Jacobs, Sr. of Gove. Miss Bray is the granddaughter of Mrs. Lola Bray Crim of Muleshoe.

The altar was decorated with two arrangements of fresh cut flowers of roses, carnations, chrysanthemum, babies breath and greenery. The bride's Bible, opened to the 23rd. Psalm, was at the center of the altar table displayed on a brass Bible stand.

Two circular candelabrum which held 18 tapers were placed on each side of the altar table with a kneeling bench in front.

Selected organ music was played by Valetta Kesier as the guests arrived. Randy Lang, brother-in-law of the groom, was accompanied by Linda Shilts as he sang "Roses" and "You Needed Me".

The bride's brother, Allen

Bray, lighted the candles. Jayme Fose, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. The ring bearer was Travis Jacobs, cousin of the groom.

The bride was escorted by her parents, Keith and JoAnne Bray, who together gave her in marriage. She wore an ivory colored Peau de Soie bridal dress fashioned with a 22 inch train. Lace adorned the short puff sleeves and off-shoulder neckline. The dress was made by Martha Leibham, the bride and her mother.

The bride carried a bouquet of silk roses made by the groom's mother. For something old she wore a watch which is five years older than she is; something new was her dress. She borrowed a lace trimmed handkerchief from Ms. Leibham and wore the traditional blue garter.

Pennies minted in the bride's and groom's birth were worn in her shoes. She wore a diamond teardrop necklace which was a gift from her parents. Her veil was caught onto a lace-covered head band accented with tiny seed pearls.

Judy Leibham served as maid of honor. Ushers were Eddie Albin and Joe Leibham.

Guests were registered by sisters of the groom, Linda Jacobs and Sue Nowlin. His sisters, Carrie Fose, Tony Coker, Sandy Lang and Linda Jacobs served at the reception.

The bride and groom and their parents received guests in the fellowship hall where the reception was held.

The couple are both 1984, graduates of Quinter High School. They will be at home in Gove and Quinter until September when they will be moving to Glendale, Ariz. to continue their education. The bride attended the Muleshoe schools.

COFFEE ANYONE---Tuesday morning some of the residents of the Muleshoe Nursing Home got together, for what may be the last time at the local nursing home, for a cup of coffee and cookies as well as visiting. Of those leaving the majority will be going to Farwell Nursing Home, where several of the local residents will be sharing rooms there.

Several Nursing Home Residents Moving To Farwell

Twenty-three residents of the Muleshoe Nursing Home have already moved or, are in the process of moving to other area nursing homes, with the majority moving to Farwell.

In an interview with the Journal, the residents stated that they were sad to be leaving and will miss the nursing staff and their activity coordinator, Joy Stancell.

Mrs. Alma Henley pretty well summed up the feelings of all the residents when she stated that she is sad and doesn't like it, she hates to leave her friends, but she added that even though she can't fully describe her feelings or answer the question "Why" her daughter thinks it couldn't be helped.

Mrs. Henry celebrated her 85th birthday on July 1. She has been a resident of the nursing home for four years and three months and a Muleshoe resident for 42 years. She went to church her, worked in the schools for 13 years and substituted for six or seven more years. She also worked at the old Green Hospital. She will be leaving today (Thursday) for the Farwell Nursing Home.

Mrs. Ora Roberts, 84 years young will also leave today for the Farwell Nursing Home. She has been a resident of the Muleshoe Nursing Home five years and a Muleshoe resident 43 years. When asked how she feels about the move she says she will miss all her friends and hates to leave but it is something she has to do so she will make the best of it.

Another resident, Effie Smith who will be 82 in December has been a resident of the nursing home for three years and will be moving to Farwell Nursing Home. Mrs. Smith said "I'm sad about leaving but I will make the best of it. This has been a wonderful place and I love and everyone and they seem to love me."

Mrs. Smith has been a resident of Muleshoe since 1941 and had lived around Sudan since 1925.

Mrs. Cordelia Cochran 83 has been a resident of the Muleshoe Nursing Home for two years, previously a resident of the Farwell Nursing Home. She will be returning to Farwell. She stated that she hated to leave Muleshoe, having been a resident of Muleshoe since 1942. She had been a resident of Parmer County since 1925.

Another resident, Nona Davis is undecided where she is going. She stated that she is going to miss everyone here in Muleshoe.

Others who are leaving the nursing home will be going to Littlefield, Dimmitt, and Lubbock as well as Farwell.

Creative Woman

by Sheryl Borden

"Mini Meals" will be the topic on "The Creative Woman" show on July 24 and 28. Vickie Willis, home economist with Southwestern Public Service Co. in Roswell will present the program. Mini meals is directed at persons or households with only one or two persons. This could be young adults starting out on their own, newlyweds, empty nesters and senior citizens. Mrs. Willis will discuss recipe conversion, equipment for cooking smaller amounts, and also share several recipes designed for one or two persons.

The topics to be presented on the show on July 26 and 29 include tole painting and preparing sauces in the microwave oven. Elizabeth Dixon, an artist from Kress, Texas will display several articles representing different surfaces that can be painted on. She will discuss brushes, paints and other supplies needed to do tole painting. She will explain the difference between tole painting and decorative painting.

Another guest will be Donovan Fandre from Fresno, California. Mr. Fandre is a chef for Rubbermaid Company and he has his own television show in California called "Microwaves are for Cooking". His approach to microwave cooking is definitely a common sense approach and he will demonstrate how to prepare sauces in the microwave oven.

"The Creative Woman" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show airs at 12 noon on Tuesday and Thursday, at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday and at 5:00 p.m. on Sunday on KENW-TV, Portales. Viewers can request copies of printed materials offered on the show by calling on the toll-free telephone lines.

MOVING TO FARWELL...Longtime area resident, Ora Roberts has almost finished packing for her move to the Farwell Home. Mrs. Roberts has been a resident of Muleshoe 43 years with the last five being at the nursing home.

SAYING GOOD-BYE...Effie Smith, seated, and Cordelia Cochran, right, are saying good-bye to Joy Stancell, activity director of the Muleshoe Nursing Home. Mrs. Smith says that she will miss all of the nursing home staff especially Mrs. Stancell.

the financial picture, than on anything else during the past two to three years. Delbert Watson, president of the hospital board commented, "We came to the conclusion that we could turn the hospital over to a management corporation, or continue on until the doors would be forced to close. "This step we have taken will hopefully avoid future problems with the hospital." In a discussion as to why people choose to go out of town to hospitals, such as to have babies, Dr. Bruce Purdy said some of the women prefer to go to a specialist, and at times, even more so if the specialist is a female doctor. Robert Haralson, administrator of the WPMC said that during the past year, the local hospital attracted 350 patients from Parmer County, and 75 from across the state line. Board member Bob Finney commented, "I don't think any one on the board is not receptive to suggestions. Everyone on the board has worked very hard, long hours to make it work, using the best ideas they have.

"We have a commitment to make the hospital work -- in some form or fashion. Our decision was not made lightly. We chose not to lower the standards of care for any of our patients.

"The decision we finally reached is one that was determined to have a minimal impact on the fewest people. It is not their fault that Medicaid payments are as low as they are."

Dr. Purdy added that the board has known that the nursing home was losing money "For a long time," but they elected to keep it afloat as long as possible with funds from the hospital. "But that did not work, as we were not making any profit from the hospital to put back into the nursing home to keep it going."

Dr. Purdy said it came down finally to the fact that

Late Tuesday afternoon, Bailey County Judge Gordon H. Green, issued the following notice:

"Because of an urgent public necessity, the Bailey County Commissioners Court will meet in Special Session at their regular meeting place in the courthouse" at 1 p.m. Thursday, July 19.

Listed on the agenda will be to consider an order to advertise for bids for seal coating the West Camp pavement and miscellaneous items.

people "had to go, or 50 people would have to go.

"Our nursing home has always had a long waiting list, due to the high quality care we were known for. We want to continue that quality care for the nursing home."

David Stovall, another board member, said he did not believe the hospital and nursing home situation would get better until the farm economy turned around. We have no industry, and everything depends on our farm economy now.

Dr. Purdy reminded that Medicaid pays $29.96 per day for each of their patients, while other states, such as New Mexico, pay much higher for Medicaid recipients. For instance, the State of New Mexico pays $56 per day for care in a nursing home facility, the members stated.

"If the government would give the program enough money, we would not be in this situation today," added Dr. Purdy, who reminded that many of the patients being transferred are his patients. "I will have to try to work something out, wherever they go, so I can continue to see my patients."

Stovall said he had been a member of the board for nearly four years, and during that time, had seen approximately $1 million written off as bad debts from the hospital.

It was reported the hospital was some $280,000 in "the red" last year, and expects to be near that amount again this year. "But, that is a positive step," said Dr. Purdy, "as we are not slipping even further behind."

All board members echoed Finney when he commented, "We are not pessimistic about the failure of the hospital. We are making small adjustments to make the hospital work, and we don't want people to have fear that their hospital will close."

It was mentioned several times that, yes, the people do own the hospital, but by the same token, the board, who serves without compensation of any type, is committed and obligated to keep the hospital operating, and operating in the best manner possible.

West Plains Medical Center is the largest, or second largest employer in the county with 132 employees and an annual payroll of more than $1.5 million, according to the hospital administrator. He said, however, that many of the employees are considered part time, as they work only three hours a day, or work the two day week ends.

In the meantime, the board members invite suggestions from any citizen who believes they may have answers for the multi-financial problems facing the hospital and nursing home.

Lawn Problems In Mid-Summer Require 'Care'

Along with hot temperatures, mid-summer in Texas may bring special lawn problems -- drought, weeds, insects and disease.

These lawn problems can cause concerns for homeowners unless accurate diagnosis and proper treatment takes place before they become severe, points out Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Dry spots, thin turf and weeds can result from improper watering, fertilizing and mowing practices, notes Tanksley. Follow recommended cultural practices before applying a chemical to correct lawn problems, Tanksley suggests.

Drought stress most often occurs in mid-summer and shows up as wilted, discolored turf. Adjust watering schedule to wet soil to a depth of four to six inches, and water only when grass shows symptoms of moisture stress.

Also, raise mowing heights one-half inch to improve drought tolerance to mid-summer, Tanksley adds.

Lack of nitrogen or iron often creates a lawn problem. Grass with a nitrogen deficiency may have a pale color and be heavily infested with weeds, explains Tanksley. A light application of nitrogen fertilizer will improve the lawn's appearance.

Grass leaves that have yellow stripes parallel to the leaf margins may be deficient in iron. A foliar application of iron sulfate at six ounces per 1,000 square feet will usually solve this problem, says Tanksley.

Leaf spot diseases are generally a problem when lawns are under stress and increase with high temperatures, drought, heavy shade and close mowing, points out Tanksley. While proper mowing and watering will reduce these problems, fungicides may be required to prevent serious damage.

Chinch bugs and white grubs feed heavily on lawns during mid-summer, and their damage resembles drought injury, notes Tanksley. If turf does not respond to applications of water, suspect these insects. Both pests damage St. Augustine-grass, but only the white grub damages bermudagrass lawns.

Chinch bugs and white grubs can be controlled with insecticides. Water the lawn thoroughly prior to applying an insecticide for chinch bug control, and follow with a light watering.

Tanksley advises drenching the lawn after an insecticide is applied for grub control, since grubs feed in the soil.

Research finds real estate still a good investment

COLLEGE STATION — Despite statistics showing a decline in home ownership for the first time in 20 years, a research economist says real estate still remains the best long-term investment.

"The recent decline in home ownership is the result of higher housing costs and higher interest rates, which make homes unaffordable for more Americans," said Dr. Waldo Born of the Texas Real Estate Research Center at Texas A&M University.

Sudan News

By Evelyn Ritchie

A greatly improved Earth Astros team came to Sudan June 25 and shocked the high powered Dodger hometowners in a 7-6 heart stopping Dodger decision.

After an early season scoring rampage, the Dodger batting train derailed as the hometown team trailed through the first three innings 4-2.

The Dodgers offense finally rallied in the bottom of the fourth inning when lead off batter, Tray Baker, got a centerfield, line shot, homerun to start the inning. This was one of two solo homeruns for Baker. With Gary Boyles on via a walk, Kyle Maxfield collected a three bagger bringing Boyles in to tie the game at 4 each.

The rest of the inning was a series of courtesy runs by an error stricken Astro offense, and a Ricky Weaver single. The tally after four was 7-4 in favor of the Dodgers.

The battling Astros pulled within one in the top of the fifth but the Dodger pitching finally showed up to put a lid on the game at 7-6.

The Dodgers will now gear up for the Tournament play after ending a perfect season with 7 wins and 9 losses.

Spider Mites--Tiny Pest Can Cause Big Problems

Spider mites are tiny but they can cause big problems in home gardens.

These pests prefer tomatoes, beans and peas and do most of their damage in hot, dry weather, points out Spencer Tanksley county agent with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Spider mites, also called red spiders, are only 1/60-inch in length and vary in color from white to green to red.

The tiny pests can build up quickly and completely engulf plants. They lay eggs on the underside of leaves, which hatch in four to five days. A complete life cycle takes three weeks, and as many as 20 overlapping generations can occur in a single year.

Mites spin a thin web which often can be seen on the underside of an infested leaf. They feed by inserting their mouthparts into the tissue and sucking juice from the plant. While feeding, they inject toxic substances into the plant, Tanksley explains.

Infestations of spider mites can be identified by tiny white spots on the underside of a leaf. Heavy infestations cause bleaching or yellowing, first along the main leaf veins and then throughout the plant. The plant may also shed buds and small fruit. Spider mites can completely defoliate a plant if not controlled, Tanksley says.

Control of spider mites is often difficult and requires from two to four applications of insecticide at five-day intervals. Plants should be checked frequently for spider mites since the pests can build up rapidly.

Insecticides registered for controlling spider mites in gardens are diazinon, kelthane, malathion, ethion and sulfur.

However, avoid using sulphur on vine plants as severe plant change could occur.

As always, read and follow label directions on all insecticides, cautions Tanksley.

Open Letter To The Public

Dear Editor:
I go to the Muleshoe Memorial Cemetery quite often, and I would like to tell the public how very nice the cemetery is looking. I think the care taker should have a pat on the back for their work in making it so much better. We are all prone to complain and write in when things don't look so good, but a lot of the times fail to take time to commend the one's who are working hard to make the cemetery look better. To them I would like to say Thank you so much.
Yours sincerely,
Myrtle Creamer.

A MATTER OF CONCERN
As a public minded citizen, I feel it is my right and responsibility to inform the public as to what is happening at the Muleshoe Nursing Home. It is appalling the way our Senior Citizens are being uprooted from the only home most of them have known for years, with no way of fighting back. So we must fight for them. I have talked personally to a number of the residents and they are all deeply hurt at having to leave their home. Why is this happening? Partly because no one cares enough to speak out, and partly because of indifference, we are a product to the Elderly, without them we would not be, our very existence is due to these people.

There are laws prohibiting the elderly from this form of abuse and we are the only ones who can see that these laws are not violated.

The Nursing Home will have only about 23 residents left, these will be only private pay, which means they receive no Federal Funding such as Social Security, Medicare, etc.

The residents being evicted are all on some form of State and / or Federal aid. We pay our hard earned dollars to the Government to help these people and I feel our money is being wasted if things like this are allowed to happen. I appeal to everyone.

Help these people. You can start by protesting this, start petitions, talk to the Mayor, write your Congressman.

Please join in the fight for fair treatment of our Senior Citizens. REMEMBER- We will all be Senior Citizens one day.
