—The frequent occurrence of copious showers during the past day or two has made the vegetable garden look bright and green, and has rendered the market to be well supplied with fresh produce.

—A new oyster and fish market has been opened on Market street, two doors from the main plaza, by Mr. J. H. Hines. The oysters are all from the Gulf coast, and are of the best quality.

—The present season should not be allowed to pass without a visit to the city. We have plenty of good material, and of hand-drawn stockings, a really nice line of underwear, and a variety of other goods, which it is well to see.

—The sports are still a favorable prospect of evening. The crowd from the grounds are cheering, and the game is a natural smile upon their faces. It is well to see the crowd of spectators, and the excitement of the game.

—Almost every thing is in a state of confusion in regard to the condition of the sidewalk in the vicinity of Deoch & Hines's saloon. The water is in a pool, and the sidewalk is in a state of confusion.

—Something should be done by the city authorities to prevent the water from spilling on the iron bridge at the mill. A few rain water sometimes remain on the bridge, and it is a nuisance to the people.

—We learn there is some talk among our people of a new bridge across the river. It is a project that has been discussed for some time, and it is well to see the plans for it.

—A gentleman of this city who was recently interviewed by the Express regarding the railway question, and who speaks of the Deoch and Hines as a "blood-sucking concern," which it is stated that the Galveston News correspondent has interviewed, is remarking that the term was applied to some one connected with the road.

—There is talk of another match game of baseball at the spring between our local team and the team from the city of Houston. It is a game that is well to see, and it is well to see the plans for it.

—The game of football was played yesterday at the city. It was a game that was well to see, and it is well to see the plans for it.

—In the Texas Milk Register we find the following: "Useful Milk" and explain: "Mount Barker is near Mount Bonnell. It is a small town, and it is well to see the plans for it."
