Ladies Win Tourney; Husbands Lose

In what may become a 'classic', the "Battle of the Sexes" or "The Husband and Wife Fight of the Year" occurred in Muleshoe during the past weekend at the Mule Putt Miniature Golf Course.

At the end of the regulation playoff action, The Silver Bullets, with a score of 207 had emerged the clear-cut third place winners. But something happened along the way, and no first or second place winner had emerged.

With scores of 194 each, the Ms. Fits and Four Horses were all tied up, and no winner, folks. And, who are the Ms. Fits and The Four Horses? The Ms. Fits are Mary Hicks, Linda Elder, Jan Pierce and Sherri Shipman. The Four Horses are their husbands, Jerry Hicks, James 'Granny' Elder, Gerry Pierce and Gary Shipman.

Again, the teams were thwarted in the efforts to have a winner. The rains came -- and did the rain ever fall Saturday night at the miniature golf course. And, in due course, the final playoff had to be postponed.

The two teams decided not to play 'sudden death' but to play an entire game of 18 holes of golf. At 5 p.m. on Sunday, they teed off, and when it was all over, the Ms. Fits were in trouble. I mean, in real "BIG" trouble. Not because they lost, but, because they won.

In the final analysis, the Ms. Fits beat the Four Horses by a score of 185 to 193 for the men.

Ann off-shoot of the tournament will be another tournament scheduled to get underway tomorrow, Friday. It will be a two-member team tourney, and entry fee will be $10 per team. Again, individual trophies will be presented to first, second and third place winners.

Parker Woodall, past district governor for District 55, of Portales, was guest speaker for the Muleshoe Rotary Tuesday at noon. He showed slides of a trip to visit South American Rotary Clubs.

The slides, from 1981, showed Rio de Janeiro, Chile, Paraguay and Brazil.

Other guests at the Rotary meeting included Stacy Campbell, Steven Johnson, Glen Green, Sherry Henry, Agnus Labunto and Darlene Henry.

Wheat, Barley Crop Insurance Available Now

September 30 is the last day to apply for crop insurance for barley and wheat in Bailey County, according to Jackie Harris, District Director for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC).

Crop insurance covers unavoidable loss of production resulting from adverse weather conditions, wildlife, earthquake, or fire.

"Three coverage levels (50, 65 or 75 percent) are available for insurance protections. Additionally, FCIC offers three optional price elections for valuing production lost or damaged," says Harris.

"To assist producers, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation will cost-share up to 30 percent of the cost of carrying insurance. For more information about the program, producers should contact an authorized crop insurance agent," says Harris.

To select an agent, Harris says producers should check the list of agents available at their county ASCS office. Applications should be made no later than September 30.

New All-Weather Track Proposed During Meet

Killer '84 Has Moved To The East

Several years ago, before Highway 84 was widened and changed to a four lane between Muleshoe and Clovis, it became known as 'Killer 84' because of the many accident victims along the stretch of highway.

Lately, persons have been wondering if 'Killer 84' has moved to the east side of Muleshoe as multi-accidents have been recorded there in the last several weeks.

Last Saturday evening was the latest in a 'rash' of accidents which have occurred, and in each instance, the accident has been a single vehicle accident, involving various vehicles.

Between 6:30 and 7 p.m. an eastbound pickup truck went out of control leaving the vehicle traveling for some distance along the median before the driver apparently over corrected putting the pickup into a broadside skid.

The pickup overturned, ending up on its top in the driveway at the Lubbock water works. Both the driver and passenger were taken to West Plains Medical Center for emergency treatment.

Heather Merritt spent the night in the hospital and Deidre McGrew was transferred to a hospital in Lubbock.

Recently several vehicles have overturned, or have been involved in various accidents, including losing wheels, throwing a large caterpillar off, and overturning.

DPS Trooper David Blackerby said that between Muleshoe and the county line, they had

West Side Stands May

Become The 'Home Side'

It was a small meeting, it was an informative meeting, and by the time it was over, it was decided to pursue a major undertaking to help the students of the Muleshoe School system.

Headed up by Dr. Jack McCarty, the group discussed the possibility of conducting a fund raising drive to construct an all-weather track at the Muleshoe High School Football Field.

"The current track is outdated, dangerous, and no district track meet can be held on it," said Dr. McCarty.

To kick off the estimated $100,000 needed to construct the track, as well as other necessary work to have the new track, the Muleshoe Athletic Booster Club has contributed $1,000 which has been placed into a savings account.

Dr. McCarty told the group that the school has indicated they would match any funds raised by the organization established to help with the new project.

"It will be a major undertaking," cautioned Dr. McCarty, "and I'm sure it could not be accomplished without working on it for a minimum of two to three years."

All-weather tracks cost from $40,000 to $200,000, according to the figures quoted by the doctor, as he mentioned Sudan's new $55,000 track.

Most people may not be aware of the fact, that in order to practice, the Muleshoe track team is bussed to the Sudan school to work out on their track. This bussing takes place in all types of weather, as the Muleshoe track has been determined to be inadequate for training for the tracksters.

In almost all instances, all track meets are now held on fields with the all-weather tracks, thus Muleshoe cannot have a district track meet here, according to school officials.

Extensive work will be necessary just to prepare for the track, said Dr. McCarty. He cited that the current track is not a 400 meter track.

In order to construct a new track, the football field would have to be widened, and this cannot be accomplished to the east of the field. So, the west stands would have to be moved out the curb could be moved approximately 50 inches to the west, explained Dr. McCarty. A lot of dirt work would be necessary, he said, and basically, the football field would have to be redone.

It was estimated a figure of around $25,000 would have to be raised each year in order to have the matching funds from the school, and a two to three year project for the reconstruction of the football field, the track and the west side football stands, which would become the home side of the field.

Several of the persons at the meeting were unanimous in the

Early Childhood

Screening Set

For September 10

A free screening to assess the development of children, aged birth to three years, will be conducted in Muleshoe on Monday, September 10, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the community room of Summit Savings Association.

Sponsored by Central Plains Mental Health - Mental Retardation Center at Plainview, it is provided by the Rural Infant Education Program (RIEF). Funded by the state's Early Childhood Intervention Program (ECI), RIEF provides early intervention and training for developmentally delayed and disabled children, said Mariene Hoover, Homebound teacher.

"If you suspect your child is not developing as he/she should or if you are concerned about a particular area of development, please come by for a free test," said Ms. Hoover.

"The staff will be happy to discuss your child's progress with you and offer suggestions for enrichment. For further information call 272-4433 or 806/293-4475."

Monocycle Rider Hopes To Set New World Record For Book

How would you like to balance on a unicycle (or monocycle) for some 4,000 miles? That's just what Deepak Lele is doing. The native of Sangli, India, and two companions spent Monday night in Muleshoe enroute from New York City to Los Angeles, following the route taken by the Olympic torch bearers earlier.

A civil engineer in Bombay, India, Lele said he and his two friends are attempting to set a new unicycle record for the Guinness Book of Records.

He said he averages around 50 miles per day on the unicycle, and on a real 'good' day, can make as many as 60 miles. They stay in motels on the route, and planned to spend Monday night at the Ranch House Motel just west of Muleshoe.

His companions are Vikas Kulkarni, a lawyer, and Prakash Diwan, who is a supervisor in a factory, both from Bombay, India.

The trio left New York City on June 6, and expect to arrive in Los Angeles on September 15. Along the way, they said they are getting acquainted with America.

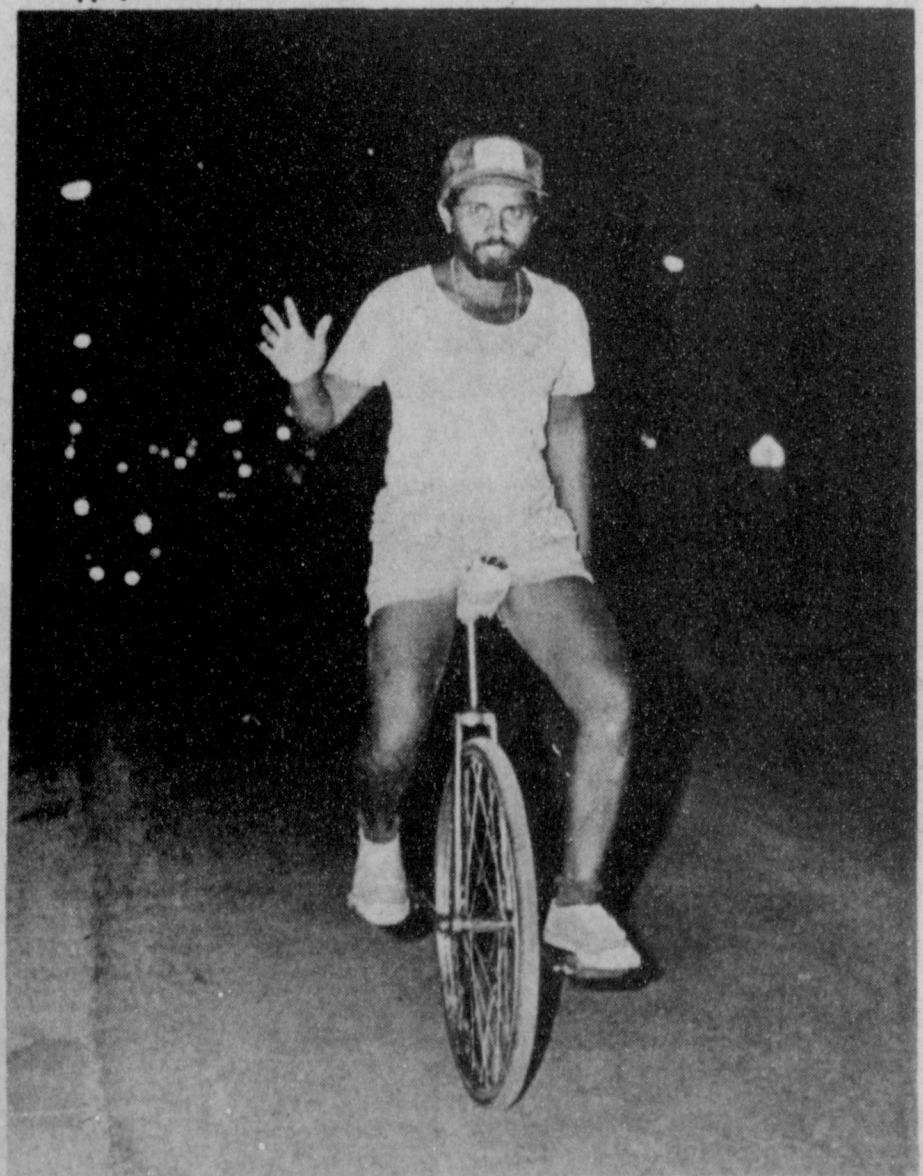

From the movies, they rather expected to see the "Wild, Wild West" once they reached Texas, but have failed to find the 'shoot 'em up' cowboy image portrayed in the movies in India. But, they were highly complimentary of American people, and said they have met a lot of very nice people along their route.

Tires and wheels for their unicycle and bicycles have caused their major problems, although they do all the repairs themselves. On the two bicycles, they carry tools and spare parts for the machines, and have no hesitation about stopping alongside the road for quick repairs.

Deepak said "The spirit of adventure never dies, and we are wishing to salute the spirit of adventure."

Taking a four month leave of absence from their jobs in India, the trio will be returning to India shortly after they complete their journey.

WELCOME TO THE U.S.--When Deepak Lele of Bombay, India traveled through Muleshoe late Monday night, he raised his hand in greeting from his monocycle. He is attempting to break the current record on riding the monocycle (minicycle).

MRS. GARY WAYNE WRINKLE
(nee Diane Jo Dot)

Diane Dot, Wrinkle Wed At Midland

Miss Diane Jo Dot became the bride of Gary Wayne Wrinkle in a candlelight ceremony Saturday, July 21 at 4 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in Midland. Dr. Daniel Vestal read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Dot of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wrinkle of Muleshoe.

Vows were exchanged before twin candelabras holding white tapers, accented with greenery and white carnations. A unity candle, centered by two tapers, was the focal point. The tapers on either side of the unity candle were lighted at the beginning of the ceremony by the mother of the bride and groom, signifying the unity of two houses into one new home which began with this marriage ceremony. Pews were marked with violet bows.

Before the ceremony, Kim Hopkins, soloist, sang "Doubly Good To You" and "God, Man And A Woman" just before the unity candle was lit by the bride and groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a chapel length gown of white satin and Alencon lace. The fitted bodice was accented with a band collar and deep overlay of Alencon lace with seed pearls. The full sleeves, also inset with lace and ending in a point at the wrist were highlighted with pearls. The lace bodice dipped slightly in the back to highlight a satin bow. Appliques of Alencon lace, scattered with pearls, enhanced the satin skirt. The gathered fullness at the waist emphasized the full sweep of the chapel length train. Alencon lace encircled the lower edge of the gown.

Her fingertip length veil of silk illusion fell from and Alencon lace and pearl encrusted cap. She carried a cascading bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids, excium blossoms and stephanotis blossoms with violet streamers. In keeping with tradition for something old the bride wore her mother's wedding petticoat, something new was her dress, something borrowed was pearl earrings borrowed from Laura Gaffard, and something blue was the traditional blue garter.

Dr. Sidney A. Smith, brother in law of the groom, of Friendswood served as best man. Groomsmen were Mark Faldyn of Columbus, Martin Brown of Austin and Terry Burton and John Calburn, both of Muleshoe.

Candlelighters were Kent Jow of Long Beach, Calif. Kelly Joy of Ft. Worth, cousins of the bride. Ushers were Bill Bolding, brother in law of the groom, of Midland, Kent Jow and Kelly Jow, cousins of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Holiday Inn Holiday. Susan Layton of Midland registered guests. Guests were registered at a table covered with a violet table cloth centered with a gold Chinese wedding symbol, signifying double happiness.

The bride's table was encircled with fresh greenery centered with a three tiered wedding cake decorated with violet roses on each tier, white wedding bells and violet flowers. Enhancing the setting were violet napkins with "Diane and Gary, July 21" embossed with silver.

The groom's table was decorated with a cake shaped like a football field and track. Violet candles in a candelabra accented the opposite side of the table. Red napkins with the seal of Texas Tech University were

by Sheryl Borden

On September 4 and 8 "The Creative Woman" show will feature a program on "Microwaves are for Cooking" and the guest will be a chef with the Rubbermaid Company. Don Fandre is from California and he has a television program on cable and it's called "Microwaves are for Cooking" and he approaches microwave cooking from a very common sense approach.

Three very interesting topics will be presented on the show on September 6 and 9. One part of the show will be on designer look-alike fashions with guest Renee di Vito, a fashion coordinator with the American Home Sewing Association in New York. Ms. di Vito will show six designer originals and six look-alikes and viewers will have a chance to compare the garments.

Another guest will be Diane

Duncan, home economist with the Rice Council in Houston and she will explain how rice can be used very successfully by people who are allergic to many other grains.

Another segment is called "The Magic of Pearls" and is a special fashion show taped in New York and will feature lots of fashionable looks for pearls.

"The Creative Woman" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show airs at 12 noon on Tuesday and Thursday, at 2:00 pm on Saturday and at 5:00 pm on Sunday on KENW-TV, Channel 3 in Portales. Viewers can request copies of printed materials offered on the show by calling on KENW-TV's toll-free telephone lines. Visible Fats In The Diet

Every time you butter a slice of bread or pour dressing on your salad, you're adding visible fat to your diet.

Visible fats and oils are those added to foods, either directly or as ingredients in meals, bakery products and other processed foods, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Mary K. Sweeten.

U.S. Department of Agriculture figures show that we get the largest share of visible fats

-- about 30% -- from foods prepared at home, notes Sweeten. Ingredients in prepared baked goods account for another 7.4 percent; canned goods 6.8 percent; and frozen foods 6.3 percent; of the visible fats and oils we consume. Potato chips add another 6 percent to the total.

Fats are a necessary and beneficial part of a balanced diet, says the nutritionist. But, making wise choices among the many margarines, oils, dressings and shortenings on the market can help consumers reduce their visible fat consumption and increase the ratio of polyunsaturated to saturated fats in their diet, she adds.

The following information can help consumers select among different forms of fats and oils:

Fats and oils that are solid at room temperature contain more saturated fat than those that are liquid. Liquid semi-soft fats and oils made from vegetable oils provide the lowest degree of saturated fats.

If your physician has restricted your cholesterol intake, reduce your consumption of shortenings and margarine that contain animal fats, such as lard.

Read the labels carefully to determine the oils used in production of margarine and shortening. Oils from a single source, labeled as 100 percent soybean, corn, safflower, or sunflower oils, have a higher ratio of polyunsaturated to saturated fatty acids. Products simply labeled "vegetable oil" or "vegetable margarine" can contain a combination of oils, including palm and coconut oils which are the prime vegetable sources of saturated fats.

After that time, stories will be run on a space available basis. Any wedding more than two weeks old, when received, will be edited and only the basic information will be included.

tires are broken into small chips and properly distributed, evaporation is greatly reduced. This method also increases soil temperature providing a longer growing season and, for example, longer staple cotton for a more profitable crop.

Research is also being carried out on drought resistant crops, more effective brush control and many other ways to conserve our water.

No single solution will solve the problem and no one has all the answers. We must constantly try new methods. And if something works, keep it; if it doesn't, try something new. To do this we rely on the people whose job it is to search for answers. And they rely on our government's support. But far too often their work is forgotten, neglected or tied up in bureaucratic red tape. That's why we must have a Representative in Washington who will continually apply the pressure needed to maintain, and increase, government support for their work which is so critical to our survival.

Finding Solutions to Our Water Problem

Sometimes it seems like our water problem is like our weather: Everyone talks about it but no one does anything. However, the truth is there are many fine people working on the problem; they just need more help.

People are finding solutions at the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, the U.S.D.A. Department of Soil Conservation, the Plant and Water Stress Center and the Water Research Center at Texas Tech University, just to name a few. This week I'd like to share with you some of the things they're working on.

Much of the research involves finding ways to increase the recharge of the Ogallala Aquifer. Most of our rainfall evaporates before it ever reaches the aquifer, so experiments have been conducted to route rainfall directly to the aquifer through a series of holes drilled in the surface. Unfortunately, in the past, these holes soon became clogged with debris. Recently, new filters have been developed that can eliminate this problem. It is estimated that this technology could extend the life of the aquifer by ten percent.

A large amount of the recharge is through the many playas that lie over the Ogallala. And there's a new development that could increase this flow. Experiments are being done with knot grass, a species that can grow on the bottom of the playas. Its roots make an excellent conduit for recharge. These experiments have also led to what could be a significant side benefit. Knot grass has a high enough protein content to support one and a half animals per acre. With 17,000 playas averaging 22 acres each, this means over a half a million more animals could be supported on the High Plains.

Since almost half our rainfall is in small increments (less than 25/100 inch) which evaporates quickly, any method that can reduce evaporation will have a great impact on our water supply. An interesting experiment uses discarded rubber tires. Research has shown that if these

Building A Step Family Takes Time

Rearing Children is tough, but rearing someone else's children is even tougher. Today, a parent who divorces or becomes widowed is likely to remarry. And the new spouse may have children by a previous marriage, too, says home economist Dr. Dolores Stegelin. Combining two families in a new marriage may be extra complicated because old and new relationships, attitudes and beliefs are involved, says Stegelin, a specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. "Members have not shared past experiences and the new family may have to redefine rights and responsibilities to fit their individual and combined needs," she continues. In noting that time and understanding are the key allies in making a successful transition to a new family, Stegelin offers some suggestions for the new spouse with a child or stepchild. Expect to deal with confusing feelings, including your own, your spouse's and each child's. Anticipate that loyalties will be questioned. Allow the relationship with a stepchild to develop gradually. Don't expect too much from the child or yourself. Give each child in the new marriage time to mourn and think about the parent who is lost, whether through divorce or death. Allow the child time to adjust, accept and belong to the family. Don't try to replace a lost parent: be an additional one. Recognize that you may be compared with the absent parent. Be prepared to be tested, manipulated and challenged in your new role. Decide with your mate what is best for the child and then stand by your decisions. Try to help the child understand your love and need for him or her is different-but no less-because you love and need your spouse, too. Steglin stresses the importance of keeping lines of communication open between marriage partners and the children in a new family. She says parents should not pretend everything is fine if it is not. "If problems occur, deal with them openly," she recommends, "and remind yourself that nearly everyone needs help in one way or another."

thought that if the community would and could get behind the project, it could work.

Rather than two or three massive projects, Muleshoe City Police Chief Les Irvin, who is also president of the Muleshoe Lions Club, proposed some intermediate size projects. Among the items he mentioned were a trip to Hawaii, or perhaps, a home computer.

In answer to the question that many people may ask, "Where do my school taxes go?" The ready answer is "For basic education."

General consensus is that with the new legislation, and money getting tighter each year, all state and federal funds will be used for basic education, and in order for the schools to have extras, such as track and fields, the parents, fans and community, will have to come up with the extra money.

A slide presentation will be put together, showing the Muleshoe track and comparing it with other all-weather fields, and explaining the need for the new track.

It was decided to show the slide presentation to the various civic and social organizations, and perhaps to organize a dinner meeting to explain the proposal to the public.

"The community needs a chance to see what we are proposing, and why we are making the proposition," it was explained. "Before they say no to donations, they need to know just what they are saying 'no' to."

In the near future, another meeting will be scheduled, with a special organization set up at that time to head up the fund drive for the new track.

Then, on Sunday night, September 2, there will be gospel music, beginning as soon as church services are over, around 8 p.m. Included will be groups from Muleshoe, Lubbock, Clovis, and Sudan.

Prather said there will be on admission charge, but they will welcome donations to MDA. The groups are performing at no charge, playing at their own expense, reminded Prather, to help raise money for MDA.

Billed this year as "THE" Telethon, the 2 1/2 hour show will be broadcast live from Caesars Palace in Las Vegas, Nev. A-Team's Mr. T. will join forces with Knight Rider's David Hasselhoff and cast members from Dallas and Knots Landing when the Telethon hits the airwaves. Other performers slated to appear will include personalities from country and western music, popular TV shows, and many more.

Ed McMahon will join Jerry Lewis as Telethon anchorman and Sammy Davis, Jr., and Casey Kasem will share co-host duties.

A&M prof advises to be cautious during snake season

COLLEGE STATION -- Summer is snakebite season and time to exercise caution, warns a Texas A&M University wildlife specialist. Even so, the odds are 50-50 that most poisonous snake bites won't be fatal.

"Chances are only four in ten that a poisonous snake will release venom when it bites," says Dr. Fred Hendricks of Texas A&M's Department of Wildlife and Fisheries Sciences. "But that's no excuse not to be cautious."

The fatality rate from snake bite is extremely low. Less than one percent of the victims who are struck die from the 2,000-plus bites annually reported nationwide, he said.

"If you do encounter a snake, simply walk away," Hendricks said. "Most snakes are not aggressive and most man/snake encounters go unnoticed by man. In any case, an average person can outrun a snake."

Bounty Hybrid Top Wheat Yields

Records are made to be broken. That is certainly true of the Kansas State University winter wheat variety performance tests. The record yield of 104 bushels per acre was set in 1983 by Cargill's Bounty 310, a hybrid (as opposed to a wheat variety, the traditional type). This year, at the same irrigated site, the Sandyland Experiment Field at St. John, Bounty 203 yielded 106 bushels per acre to eclipse the year-old mark of Bounty 310.

The new champion, also a hybrid by Cargill, was the top yield entry at seven of the university's 14 test locations (two of its 16 sites were abandoned during the growing season). Thus, Bounty 203 demonstrated that its sky-high performance at St. John wasn't a fluke.

But the glory was not Bounty 203's alone. For example, also at St. John, TAM 107, a new semidwarf variety to be released jointly by Texas A&M and KSU this fall yielded 102 bushels per acre. TAM 107 led all wheats in yields at Ottawa and Tribune.

Ted Walter heads KSU's variety performance test program, which is open to all varieties and hybrids, public or private. Walter, a research agronomist, cautions against a rush to judgment by farmers selecting seed for planting this fall.

The reason, he says, is that some hybrids have been producing high yields in recent years in a cool, moist high yield environment. It remains to be seen if they can maintain their record under different weather conditions.

Walter said some hybrids, such as Bounty 203, have exhibited considerable leaf disease resistance, which undoubtedly has contributed to their yield advantage over such susceptible varieties as Newton.

James T. Hull, president of Golden Spread Electric Cooperative, Inc., has announced the appointment of Robert W. Bryant as general manager of the cooperative.

As general manager, Bryant is responsible for long-range planning, and for developing sources of power supply and transmission for the cooperative's 11 retail electric distribution systems. A VISIT TO
THE FARM

Remember those wonderful carefree days when we visited the old farm. We awoke with the sun, scampering out of bed, not wanting to miss a single minute playing in the corn fields or even doing chores like feeding Grandpa's horses. And with a cane pole over our shoulder walking down the dusty lanes toward the cool shady stock tank and an hour's fishing before Grandmother called us in to a real farm style supper.

Can we forget those quiet Sunday mornings as we rode the wagon into town to the small church and bowed our heads and thanked God for the rich harvest we had reaped from His fertile earth.

The days of our childhood are but warm memories now; but the peace we knew as children in that small country church can still be found today. Renew your pledge to God and once again enjoy the rich bountiful harvest His church can bring into your life.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere, and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should unshakably and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE REQUEST AND STATEMENT OF INTENT

Notice is hereby given that BAILEY COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION ("The Cooperative") intends to change the design of its Irrigation Rate and its Cotton Gin Rate. The Cooperative is not requesting additional revenue from either of these two classification of service. The filing is to change only the method of collecting the annual revenue amounts presently approved by the Public Utility Commission.

The proposed change in the Irrigation Rate are as follows:

The facilities charge of $7.50 per installed horsepower per year which is billed in twelve (12) equal installments will remain unchanged.

The present demand charge of $5.00 per operating horsepower for April through September is proposed to be changed to be $22.80 per installed horsepower during the on-peak season, which shall be billed in six (6) equal installments from April through September billing months. Customers shall have the option of requesting that the electric meter be disconnected for the entire on-peak season, in which case the customer will not be assessed the demand charge, provided that a written request is received by the Cooperative prior to the end of the customer's March billing month. The Cooperative will reconect the customer's meter after the end of the on-peak season, if so requested by the customer, at no charge to the customer.

The present demand charge of $2.00 per operating horsepower for October through March is proposed to be changed to read "no demand charge for installed horsepower for the off-peak period from the October through March billing months."

The present energy charge of $0.04234 per KWH per month is proposed to be changed to $0.04247 per KWH per month. It is proposed to eliminate the present energy charge of $0.0719 per KWH for non-irrigation usage.

It is further proposed to determine the installed horsepower to be the manufacturer's motor nameplate rating, but for billing purposes this shall not be less than five (5) H.P. for the three-phase service, and not less than three (3) H.P. for single-phase service.

The proposed changes in the Cotton Gin Rate are as follows:

For the Ginning Season (October - 0645 per KWH per month.

The annual minimum charge of $15.00 per KW of peak demand and the non-ginning season (April - September) rates will be unchanged.

With these proposed changes, the date the irrigation and cotton gin meters are read will make no difference in the bills.

The proposed changes are applicable to all irrigation customers and all cotton gin customers of the Cooperative.

The classes and number of Cooperative customers affected are as follows:

IRRIGATION 2908 COTTON GIN 25

Implementation of the proposed changes is subject to approval by the appropriate regulatory authority. A statement of intent including the proposed revisions of tariff and schedules and a statement specifying in detail each proposed change is available at the general office of the Utility located at 305 East Avenue B, Mulshoe, Texas. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400 N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

THE IMPORTANCE OF ANIMAL RESEARCH

Almost every medical advance of the last century has been based upon animal research. Animals are used to study ways to prevent, diagnose or treat both human and animal health problems.

Some facts:
 • Polio was conquered after research on cats, dogs and rhesus monkeys.
 • Survival rates in children with certain cancers have risen decisively as a result of new treatments. For example, victims of childhood leukemia, who once faced certain death, now have a complete remission rate of 90 percent due to chemotherapy developed through animal research.

• Transplants—of corneas, livers, kidneys, lungs, bone marrow and hearts—are viable techniques because of animal experimentation. Dr. Christian Barnard worked with dogs before performing the first human heart transplant in 1967.
 • High blood pressure, the "silent" killer, was nearly uncontrollable until hypertension drugs were developed in laboratory animal testing.

• Cures and treatments for such crippling ailments as multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, cystic fibrosis and Alzheimer's disease are now the goal of intense biomedical research efforts that must depend upon the use of animals.

MAKE A SPIRITED PLUM JAM

Any type of fresh plum will lend its own unique flavor and color to homemade jam. By adding some brandy or Grand Marnier, however, it is possible to create a truly gourmet jam not available on the grocer's shelf.

The morning toast will assume a new importance with the addition of Plum-Brandy Jam. This delicious fruit topping is also excellent on ice cream or pound cake. It might also be used as a glaze for a fruit cake.

There is a variety of unusual jams and jellies that can be made with wines and liqueurs. Cherries, peaches, raspberries and apricots all can be mixed with brandy to make unique jams. Blueberries, strawberries, grapes, raspberries, and grapefruit all make delicious jellies when mixed with the various types of wines.

Following is a recipe for Plum-Brandy Jam supplied by Christine Palmer, senior home economist for MCP Foods, Inc. Additional recipes for making wine and liqueur jams and jellies are available free of charge by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to MCP Foods, Inc., P.O. Box 3633, Anaheim, CA 92803.

PLUM BRANDY JAM (Yield: 11 Cups)

- 3 1/2 Lbs. Plums
- 1/4 Cup Lemon Juice
- 2-oz. Package MCP Pectin
- 8 1/2 Cups Sugar
- 1/4 Teaspoon Margarine
- 1/2 Cup Brandy

To Prepare Fruit:
 Wash and pit plums. Do not peel. Grind finely. Measure 5-3/4 cups plum pulp.

To Make Jam:
 1. Measure sugar into dry bowl to be added later.
 2. Measure fruit pulp into 6- or 8-quart kettle. If short of fruit pulp, fill last cup with water to equal exact amount. Add 1/4 cup lemon juice.

3. Add the package of MCP Pectin to fruit in kettle. Mix well. Stir thoroughly and scrape sides of pan to make sure all the pectin dissolves.

4. Place over high heat. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Add the pre-measured sugar. Mix well. Continue stirring and bring to a full, rolling boil (a boil that cannot be stirred down). Add the 1/4 teaspoon margarine. Boil hard exactly 4 minutes.
 5. Remove from heat. Skim foam. Quickly stir in brandy.

6. Pour into jars. Seal according to directions given on recipe folder in pectin package.

FOUR-FOOTED FUN

What has four legs, is furry all over and is good for us both physically and emotionally? You probably guessed it—the family pet!

New research has confirmed what many of us have known all along about our dogs and cats. A national survey of Psychology Today magazine readers found that pet owners are more satisfied with their lives than non-pet owners. The survey also revealed that 98 percent of both pet owners and non-owners strongly agree that pets play an important role in positive child development and family unity.

The summer months are a great time to acquire a new four-footed pal. Take advantage of long summer days to train or get to know your new pet. Also remember the variety of healthy, loving pets available at your local humane society. Your shelter offers lots of lovable puppies and kittens. Or have you thought about getting an older dog or cat? Adult dogs are frequently already trained, have good dispositions and provide a great sense of security. And adult cats make great hammock mates!

By adopting a new four-footed pal, you're not only doing a favor for your family, but for the pet as well!

Made to measure: An ice cream scoop holds the equivalent of one-third cup.
