RECORD TURNOUT RECORDED

Bailey County Voters Choose Reagan, Gramm

Numerous Entries For Poster Contest

Students at Watson Junior High School in Muleshoe said loud and clear, "Wake-up good citizens, it's voting time." And, the students said it with their posters drawn up especially for election time.

The judges came early, and expected to leave early. After about three hours at Watson Junior High School, they came to a difficult conclusion.

Judges finally selected the winners of the poster contest on "Why We Should Vote." Over a hundred and fifty entries were submitted for the contest. Judges said the quality and quantity of the posters displayed on both walls down the long hall were outstanding.

The posters depicted a serious-minded group of students who appreciate the freedom and privileges of our United States of America, according to one of the judges of the contest. "They are asking their parents and the community to exercise their responsibility as good citizens to vote on that long awaited day."

The Muleshoe Police Department and Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture are sponsoring a program on "bad" checks and protecting yourself.

An FBI team is scheduled to present the program, November 8, at 7 p.m. in the meeting room of the Bailey County Civic Center.

Everyone is urged to attend and all businesses are urged to be represented.

Rick Copp, vo-ag teacher at the Lazbuddie High School, said their fruit and sausage, along with peanut, sale is continuing until Monday, November 12.

Available will be sausage, oranges, grapefruit and apples, as well as roasted and unroasted peanuts. Contact the Lazbuddie School to place your order, or tell any Lazbuddie FFA member.

"Congratulations to Southwestern Public Service Co. and Mickey Merriott for winning the Halloween decorating contest!" says Toni Eagle, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

"Don't forget that the CoC is sponsoring a Thanksgiving decorating contest for all local businesses," she added. "To enter, all you must do is decorate, then encourage your customers to call or write the Chamber office and cast their vote."

James Storie and his "Gentle County" band held a benefit concert for 20 month Old Jamie Newsom of Tahoka in the Muleshoe High School auditorium last Saturday night.

Although the crowd was not as large as was hoped for, it was reported that they dipped deep into their pockets and something more than $1,000 was donated for the youth to help toward a kidney transplant.

Contributions were also being made at both banks in Muleshoe through Tuesday of this week. Coordinating the effort were Bob Phillips and Gene Lowe.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock has announced that Phillip Land from his Lubbock field office will be at the Bailey County courthouse in the county commissioners courtroom on Tuesday, November 13, 2-4 p.m. A Comptroller's representative is available to assist local residents at the courthouse on the second Tuesday of each month.

November 6," said Jane Raines of the WJHS art department.

Posters were displayed before and after the election in the Bailey County Courthouse and the Bailey County Civic Center and Coliseum.

Mrs. Raines commented, "The people of Muleshoe are welcome to bring their friends to view the clever and whimsical statements and illustrations expressed in the many posters."

"Parents, you are doing a great job. Your children will continue the American tradition as one student expressed in his

Basketball Ticket Sale Starts Monday

Basketball season tickets will go on sale on Monday, November 12, at the principal's office on each of the four local school campuses, and at the Muleshoe ISD Business Office.

Price for the Adult Season Ticket is $15 and Student Season Tickets are $7.50. Basketball season tickets are honored at every home basketball game.

The purchase of either Adult or Student Season Tickets can represent a sizeable savings to those who plan to follow the Muleshoe basketball team this year, and coaches, players and all school personnel are urging everyone to back the basketball teams in their efforts.

The price of general admission at the games will be $2 for adults and $1 for students at all high school games, and $1 for adults and 50 cents for students at all junior high school games.

Tax Workshops

Planned Soon

Texas Agricultural Extension Service is cooperating with the Internal Revenue Service in offering 38 Tax Practitioner Workshops across the state, reports Spencer Tanksley, Bailey County Extension Agent. The nearest workshop to the Muleshoe area is Lubbock.

These two day workshops are specifically designed for tax practitioners who work extensively with farmers and ranchers.

Topics to be covered in the general workshops are: What's New; Alternative Minimum Tax; Capital Gains; Net Operating Losses; Self-Employment Tax and Social Security Planning; Subchapters Corporation; Financial Distress--Tax Considerations; Retirement Plan Problems--IRA's, HR-10's, added Tanksley. This workshop will be held in Lubbock on December 3 and 4.

This year, 13 advanced programs will be offered in major cities. The closest one to Muleshoe will be on November 19 and 20 in Lubbock.

Topics to be discussed in the Advanced Workshops are: What's New; The Tax Reform Act of 1984; A Special Look at Corporations; and Introduction to Oil and Gas Taxation.

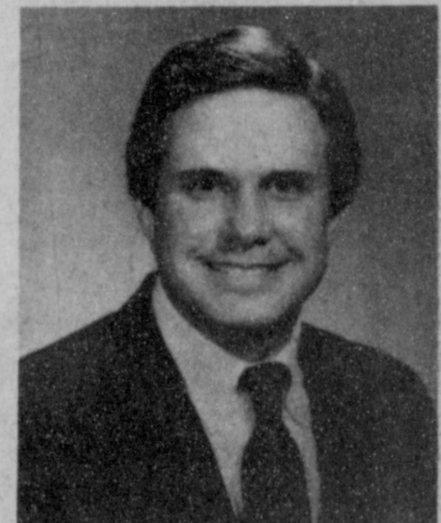

Tanksley said the Tax Practitioner educational program has been highly successful. Last year, about 3,300 people participated in this state-wide series and these practitioners reported filing more than 680,000 tax returns. For additional information, Tanksley says to please contact the Bailey County Extension office for a brochure explaining more about the program and registration information.

Two Entrants In Tie In '84 Football Contest

Just in case you haven't been keeping up all that close, the weekly Merchant's football contest is fast drawing to a close, and has really tightened up.

After the latest contest, which is the ninth in a series of 12 games, or weekly contests, two persons are currently tied for the lead. Mrs. John (Kathleen) Hayes, who had won the fifth and seventh contests, enjoyed the lead for a couple of weeks.

However, this week, by winning another first place to go with his fourth week, first place, win, Danny May also has 20 points toward the grand prize.

But, don't despair, several persons are still in contention, and as far, as that is concerned, with two more weekly contests after this week, others could catch up, take the lead and become the winner of the $100 grand prize.

Danny was one of 15 persons who missed only three games in the latest contest, but, he was lucky and was only 11 points away on the double tiebreaker score.

Harvest Festival

Coronation Set

Saturday Night

Saturday night will be the evening for the Harvest Festival. Formerly, the Harvest Festival was the Fine Arts Boosters Halloween Carnival, but was moved to mid-November in order not to conflict with the PTA Halloween Carnival for the youngsters.

A lot of activities will be going on at the Bailey County Civic Center and Coliseum when the doors swing open for the Festival at 6 p.m.

Fine Arts Boosters have rented booth space to a number of organizations, who will have game and food booths set up for everyone to enjoy.

Highlight of the evening will be the coronation of the Harvest Festival Queen at 9 p.m. Candidates have been chosen from the band, art and speech and drama.

The queen will be the candidate who has collected the largest amount of money for her candidacy.

Richards Edges Combest In Close County Tally

Bailey County voters turned out in record numbers on Tuesday to choose new government leaders from a county to national basis.

Just over 71 percent of the 3,679 registered voters took the time to go to the polls Tuesday, and overwhelmingly gave their nod of approval for another term for President Ronald Reagan. A total of 2,618 votes were cast in Bailey County Tuesday.

He received 1,888 votes to 684 for the Democratic team of Walter Mondale and Geraldine Ferraro.

At presstime, President Reagan had taken 49 of the 50 states, with only Mondale's home state of Minnesota being in doubt as to a 'clean sweep' for the President.

Early returns from across the nation gave President Reagan and Vice President George Bush a wide lead, prompting predictions they would sweep the election.

By the time polls were closed only a short time, projections said the Reagan-Bush team would be back in the White House for another four years.

Also on a local basis, Phil Gramm received county voters nod for United States Senator. Gramm received 1,562 votes to 838 for Democratic Lloyd Doggett. Gramm was also chosen from across the state in an election culminating a long and hard battle between the Republican and Democrat who sought the seat being vacated by Senator John Tower.

Although Republican Larry Combest was elected United States Representative for District 19, Bailey County voters narrowly supported Democrat Don Richards for the post. Richards received 1,423 votes in Bailey County to 1,206 for his Republican opponent.

In the only locally contested race, R. L. Scott was re-elected as Bailey County Commissioner, Precinct One. He received 429 votes to 308 for his write-in opponent, R. O. Gregory, for a difference of 121.

In other contested races, John Thomas Henderson received 1,228 votes in Bailey County to 1,055 for Mack Wallace.

COUNTRY INTERSECTION CRASH--Around 9 a.m. on Monday, the third country intersection crash in six days occurred northeast of Muleshoe. Ricky Vaughn was driver of the small pickup shown. He was in the intensive care unit of West Plains Medical Center at presstime, reportedly with broken ribs and punctured lung. Driver of the second vehicle involved was treated at the hospital and released. Vaughn was driving east on the dirt road and the other driver was headed north when the collision occurred.

Washington, So. Cal. Vie For Rose Bowl Spot

Washington and Southern California are down to their final two games in the battle for the Pacific-10 Conference championship and the host spot in the Rose Bowl. The Huskies are where they were expected to be before the season started - battling for the title. But the Trojans have been a surprise entry. Neither team has really bowled over any league rival, but they're both at the top of the conference heap. The Trojans entertain the Huskies Saturday in the 57th renewal of their rivalry, Southern California holding a 15-game edge in the won-lost department. However, Washington has won the last three times including a 24-0 shut-out last fall. And, no surprise, Washington is favored again. The Huskies close their regular season next Saturday against pesky intra-state rival Washington State, and Southern Cal meets U.C.L.A. in its final conference game.

An on-the-nose .750 is our forecasting average following the weekend of October 20th. The totals are 1,007 winners out of 1,342 games.

The Georgia Bulldog has also come down to its "final two". I can either win, tie, or lose the Southeastern Conference championship on these next two Saturdays as it faces two of the other three teams in contention for the title. And Georgia meets both of them on the road. This week it's Florida in Jacksonville; next week, Auburn. A double win would give the Bulldogs the title as L.S.U. is undefeated (in the conference), but has a season-opening 21-21 tie with Florida on its record. Taking one game at a time, we think the 'Dogs will pull the first one out of the fire against Florida.

In a battle of powerful independents, Florida State will meet South Carolina in Columbia. The Seminoles are favored to put a big blot on South Carolina's excellent season record. Also, Oklahoma State will nip Missouri in the Big Eight, and Miami will beat Maryland.

United States is melting pot for 155 nationalities.

Bridal Shower Honors

Miss Marleea Cox

Miss Marleea Cox, bride elect of Cody Crittendon, was honored with a bridal shower from 10 to 11 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 3 in the home of Janelle Turner.

Guests were greeted by the Microwave Heating Extends Milk Freshness

Consumers can use their microwave ovens to restore a fresh taste to week-old milk without affecting its nutritional value, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service food and nutrition specialist.

Researchers at Cornell University have tested microwave heating as a way to kill the souring bacteria that develop in stored milk, reports Dr. Dymple Cooksey. Their tests show that a two-minute treatment at 2450 MHz reduces the bacteria in a cup of 10-day old milk to the level present in fresh milk.

Milk "goes bad" long before it is actually unsafe to drink, noted Cooksey. One study has shown that over 40 percent of 10-day-old milk samples rated poor because they have a fruity, fermented and rancid off-flavor, she explains.

One of the main causes of deteriorating quality is psychotropic bacteria which lead to stale, bitter or sour flavors as milk is stored. Milk becomes contaminated with these bacteria during handling, so the pasteurization process which improves the quality of fresh milk cannot prevent the development of these off-flavors, says the specialist.

But microwave heating of pasteurized milk when it is eight to eleven days old reduces the contaminating bacteria and the off-taste as well, says Cooksey.

According to the specialist, one advantage of microwave heating is that it uses fairly low temperatures, so the milk is not left with a "boiled" taste. Most importantly, microwave heating does not destroy any of the important nutrients in milk, she emphasizes.

The microwave treatment is most effective on store-bought milk that is about eight days old, or two to three days before the "pull date" marked on the carton.

Milk can be kept in its original paper or plastic carton for microwaving. Heating the milk to 60 degrees C or 140 degrees F at 2450 MHz would preserve it up to 21 days, or double the average shelf life, the specialist says.

Most microwave ovens run at a frequency of 2450 MHz, but consumers should check the oven manual to make sure, Cooksey adds.

Checklist For Better Microwaving

Every microwave cook occasionally needs a checklist to remind them of good habits to keep for microwave cooking.

1. Persuade all family members to read the oven instructions and a simple to follow cookbook. Everyone can then take advantage of being able to prepare their favorite foods.
2. Be sure the microwave is on its own separate circuit. A refrigerator or other appliance connected on the same circuit with the microwave will decrease microwave power.
3. Keep the microwave oven clean. Food spilled on the floor of the oven will be continually cooked on the surface with each additional use of the microwave.

Reducing Fat In Cooking

A change in your cooking methods may help protect you and your family against heart disease, hypertension and other health problems, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Mary K. Sweeten.

"Lowering the percentage of fat in the diet appears to be one of the major keys to a more healthful lifestyle," she explains.

The specialist recommends reducing butter, margarine, oil, mayonnaise, lard and salad dressing. To adapt your favorite recipe, start by cutting fat by a third or a half.

For example, in a casserole calling for six tablespoons of margarine, try three or four. Or if a muffin recipe suggests a cup of oil, try three fourths of a cup. If that works, use only two thirds the next time around.

"You should experiment," says Sweeten. "Cutting the fat in cakes can be difficult, but you should have success with most casseroles and quick bread recipes."

When recipes call for onions, green peppers, mushrooms or other vegetables to be sauteed in oil or butter, you can often cut the amount of fat in half or leave it out entirely. Just add several tablespoons of water or broth. Then steam in a covered pot.

Sweeten says you don't even need fat to make an acceptable roux or gravy. Brown flour in a slow oven or in a heavy pan on top of the stove, stirring constantly. Cool, and then slowly add cold water or broth.

After it is smoothly blended, stir the mixture constantly over medium heat until it comes to a boil and thickens. You can make a white sauce or pudding the same way by adding cold milk or fruit juice directly to flour or corn starch.

Another way to reduce the fat in your diet is to trim the fat from meat edges and remove the skin from poultry. Also, broil or bake meat on a rack so that the fat drips off.

Brown ground beef and then drain well in a colander before you add other ingredients. Chill soups overnight and remove hardened fat.

The nutritionist says low fat plain yogurt works well as a substitute for sour cream in cold dips. It can also be used to stretch mayonnaise in coleslaw, tuna and potato salads and dressings. Try half yogurt and half mayonnaise.

Yogurt can also be used in place of sour cream in cooked foods. To keep it from separating and becoming watery, just whisk some flour into it before cooking.

Better still, add the yogurt after removing the cooked food from the stove. If you need extra incentive, Sweeten says to remember that per cup, low fat plain yogurt has only 150 calories, whereas sour cream has more than 450 and mayonnaise more than 1500, mostly from fat.

"You will be surprised at how soon your family will become accustomed to the adapted recipes and may even prefer the new lighter taste and the less heavy feeling after eating," she observes.

"You may have a few flops as you experiment, but the successes will soon start multiplying. Then, be sure to write down the alterations so you can do it again," says Sweeten.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek examines oil and human nature this week, sort of.

Dear editor: According to an article I read the other day, if the 13 OPEC countries can't stick together on the price they charge for oil, the world price will plummet and the oil market will face chaos and disaster.

That's the kind of chaos and disaster I could use more of. I know it will take courage, but I Muleshoe Woman's Sister Dies At Clovis, N.M.

Funeral services for Mrs. Delma Whitley, 58, of Clovis, N.M. were conducted Monday, Nov. 5 at 3 p.m. at the Calvary Baptist Church with the Rev. Bill Anson officiating, assisted by the Rev. Gary Mitchell.

Burial was in Mission Garden of Memories under the direction of Steed-Todd Funeral Home of Clovis. Mrs. Whitley died Thursday at Clovis High Plains Hospital.

She was born May 18, 1926, in Glenwood, Ark. and married Clifford Whitley in Paducah. She and her husband moved to Clovis from Plainview in 1963. She was a member of the Parkview Baptist Church and a charter member of the Curry County ARC.

Survivors include her husband, Clifford; one daughter, Carolyn, of the home; her mother, Grace Plyler of Clovis; four brothers, Frank Plyler of Vernon, L.D. Plyler of Port Orchard, Wash., H.L. Plyler of Midland, and J.C. Plyler of Clovis; one sister, Wanda Kittrell of Muleshoe; and a host of nieces and nephews.

believe I could call up my strength and face the prospect of cheaper gasoline without feeling chaotic and disastrous.

The article said the 13 OPEC leaders called an emergency meeting because one of them broke their solemn compact and cut the price of oil. Naturally oil buyers started buying from the pricer, leaving the others with more oil than their storage tanks will hold.

I understand their problem. Except for the fact the word wasn't spread around, a parallel situation with a different product could have existed in the United States. Had hardware stores around the country known that one store was getting $500 for a screwdriver from the Pentagon, don't you know they'd have cut their price way under that, even if it did cause chaos and disaster in the screwdriver market.

The OPEC leaders may know a little something about oil, after somebody comes along and discovers it under their land, but they don't know much about human nature. It's pretty much the same, whether it's under a 10-gallon hat or a turban.

Trying to get 13 countries to get together and agree on what they'll charge for oil, and then expecting all 13 to stick with it, is like two candidates for the same office agreeing to tell nothing but the truth during their campaign and sticking with it. In fact, sometimes it's impossible to get even one to stick with it.

Competition in oil, screwdrivers and lies will break out every time.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

The Church Building

This is only a building, but it is a special building for it is the worship place for God's people. It is a place where one may go to study and hear God's word preached.

"... faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God."

If there are unanswered questions in your mind... go... seek... and find God in his house

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Mighty Marching Band Has 'Superior' Rate Again

Saturday November 3, the mighty "M" marching band traveled to Odessa to compete in Regional Marching Competition. The band received the highest rating, division I (superior). Competing in class 3A were Crane and Kermit, from the Odessa marching district, and Brownfield and Muleshoe from the Lubbock area. In this, like any UIL band contest ratings from I-V are given and a rating of I must be achieved to advance on to state competition. In this situation all AAA competitors received I's which made all eligible, and left the judges to make a choice. Obviously they went conservative and chose Crane and Kermit.

Miss Anthis commented, "I am very proud of the band. We had an excellent season and I really appreciate all the support this fall." Mr. Gibson stated, "I just could not ask for more! They did Fantastic. I was very disappointed that we did not go on, however, what a great way to end a marching season, receiving a I at Regionals. This is a Fine band and I am looking forward to the rest of the year. We have succeeded in completing the marching leg of the sweepstakes three."

Don Hayner, a judge from Austin commented, "You have an exciting band! A beautiful uniform and wonderful teaching-Keep doing what you are doing. I really dig your style. Congratulations and best of luck!"

LEADERS OF THE BAND--Leaders of our award-winning band are Anthony Gibson, head band director; Martha Anthis, assistant band director; Alan Finney, assistant drum major; and Shelley Sain, drum major.

Army Offers Four-Year Scholarships

High school seniors with good academic records may qualify for one or more than one thousand four-year scholarships offered each year by the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC). Those who are awarded scholarships receive one of the most complete college financial aid packages available today.

Army ROTC scholarships pay for tuition for four full years at one of 312 colleges and universities which host the program nationwide. Also included are required educational fees, a specified amount for books, supplies and equipment as well as a subsistence allowance of up to $1000 per year for each year the scholarship is in effect. Although scholarships are open to students planning to study any major academic discipline, special consideration is given to students majoring in business, engineering, physical science, and nursing.

Four-year scholarships are awarded on the basis of standardized test scores (Scholarship Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Test (ACT)), high school grades, academic standing in the class, extracurricular activities (including part-time jobs), and the results of a personal interview. Athletic participation, physical aptitude, and positions of leadership held are also major considerations. Winners average 12550 or better on the SAT, with 75% ranking in the top 10% of their graduating class. All are physically fit and able to meet Army medical standards.

Students interested in ROTC four-year scholarships should ask for an application no earlier than April 1 of their junior year. The completed application must be returned to Army ROTC, Fort Monroe, VA 23651, no later than December 1 of their senior year. Applications can be obtained from Army ROTC, P.O. Box 9000, Dept. LG, Clifton, NJ 07015, or from the Professor of Military Science at the nearest college or university hosting ROTC. Applications must be complete and each applicant should read the instructions carefully.

ROTC and service as an Army officer are great ways to gain the executive experience needed for a successful career in the military, business, or industry. Scholarship students repay the Army for their educational expenses by serving on active duty for four years or, if selected, in the Army National Guard or the Army Reserve for eight years.

FFA Attends District Contest

On Saturday November 3, The FFA teams traveled to Lubbock to the district Parliamentary Procedure Conducting Team competition.

Those participating in the Greenhand Level where Scotty Spies, president; Shawn Wheeler, vice-president; Jedon Ruthart, secretary; John Killingsworth, treasurer; Sawnya Branscum, Sentinel; and Kevin Atwood, Advisor. Out of 16 other teams the freshmen team placed ninth.

Also attending the contest was a Greenhand Quiz Team which consisted of Annette Davis, Kasy Whatley, and Michael Lee. Over all the Quiz team placed sixth. The Sophomore Radio Team placed eighth and consisted of Darren Albertson, Brent Black, and Jerry Spears.

We would like to congratulate these students on their success.

Coaches Comments

Although the score was 22-0 in favor of Littlefield, the game was much closer. Not until 2 late interceptions that set up quick touchdowns was the game ever out of reach. Littlefield scored first on a long drive. The Mules came right back to drive deep into Littlefield territory, only to come up short. The Mules tough defense kept Littlefield in check the rest of the first half. The JV Mules, on their next possession, again drove deep into Littlefield territory to the 6 yard line. This time a fumble prevented the score. And so the halftime score was 8-0. The Mules continued to move the ball in the second half, but could not seem to score. The Mules ended up with 2 more yards of total offense than Littlefield, with 219 yards. The Mules completed 6 of 20 passes, but 10 catchable balls were dropped. This was the real difference in the ball game. This was the JV Mules final game; we would like to thank all the people who supported the Mules.

EDITORIAL

Arriving at the end of ten weeks of school the effects of House Bill 72 have been acutely felt by all. Both positive and negative repercussions have been experienced by all.

Students are feeling resentment toward some of the new school rules outlined in HB 72 and the interpretation by local policy of those rules. Some of these rules seem to be removing the interest in school from the students.

As of January 1, HB72 states that students may not participate in any extracurricular activities if that student is failing any academic class. It is the feeling of many students that this section should be altered to include only class required for graduation. The school and state recognize that required classes are more valuable to the education of the individual than are electives which are designed as an enrichment according to individual interest. It is the belief of this writer that a student taking an elective because of individual interest will not fail that course under normal conditions.

Section 21.923 of HB72 states the strict enforcement of a policy limiting interruptions of classes during the school day for nonacademic activities such as announcements and sales promotions. The local interpretation of this section has been the total elimination of all announcements on the loud speaker. As of this week, at the request of the student council this section has been altered to allow one announcement per day.

Student feelings on this issue are that too often teachers forget to read the announcements and therefore no one knows what's going on at school.

With no class interruptions, students are not allowed to leave the class room for any picture taking, class meeting or any other non-academic activity. This means meeting must be held before school or after school. Its hard for most students to make it to these meetings because of conflicts with other activities also delayed until after school, such as athletic practices and work programs.

House Bill 72 states that a student may not be exempt from taking a final examination in any class in which any other students are required to take a final examination. Most seniors feel if they already have an A average in a class they should not need to take the final exam to prove they know the material.

Student have some resentment to these policies, which they hope might be altered or changed to give the students breathing room.

Poems Written By MHS Students

Alpha and Omega
A child is born
so small, so fragile.
Everything works... eyes see, ears hear, mouth
sucks, hands grasp, legs kick.
Magic!
A child comes into the world owning nothing else but goodness.
He does not own
Pittiness, hate, prejudices, spite, fear.
So why in a world of computers, space travel, technological advances,
does a child lose
the sparkle in his eye,
the roses in his cheeks,
the bounce in his walk,
the eagerness for life.
The small being dwells in a white environment.
It knows sympathy, kindness, patience, love.
It experiences
fright, exhaustion, anger, pain,
until finally a child dies.

Coach Jerry Johnson commented, "I thought in the Regional meet everyone competed on a 95% level. As a team, all the individuals know that they will be able to take anywhere from 5 to 30 seconds off their time, and if we're able to accomplish this then we can be able to repeat our State Championship."

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

For many years, I have had the privilege of discussing various issues through this column. Since Congress has recessed for the year and I am retiring soon, this will be my last "Capitol Update." I hope the readers of this column have gotten as much from reading it as I have from writing it.

Representing Texas in the Senate has been the highest honor and the most rewarding experience of my life. I owe an enormous debt of gratitude to the people of Texas who four times have elected me their Senator. To those who have given me their encouragement, support, dedication and friendship, I will never be able to adequately express my profound appreciation.

I also am indebted to my colleagues in the Senate who have entrusted me with positions of leadership. I have attempted to meet those responsibilities to the best of my ability. The confidence and trust they have placed in me have been a source of strength and satisfaction that few who enter public service come to know.

Representing the interest of Texas always has been a challenging task because of its diverse populace and industrial base. I always tried to keep in touch with my constituency through correspondence and trips to Texas. I have endeavored to serve the interests and to reflect the basic values of my fellow Texans.

As chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, I have been able to participate and aid in the rebuilding and modernizing of America's national defense capability. I believe we are stronger than we ever have been, and are able to respond to a variety of situations around the world. We are now in a better position to negotiate a more secure peace to last generations to come.

I also am proud of my legislative initiatives which have made housing more affordable to more people, particularly young couples and those in lower income levels. Adequate housing is a right for every citizen, and I have worked diligently toward helping people reach that goal. I also have taken consistently strong stands when dealing with energy, manufacturing and agricultural interests which are so important to the people of Texas.

My future plans include teaching political science at Southern Methodist University in Dallas. I was a college professor before entering the Senate in 1961, and look forward to returning to the classroom. Although I do not plan to seek elective office again, I will continue to remain in tune to what is happening in state and national politics.

In closing, I would like to thank my fellow Texans once again for their continued support in the past 23 years. I look forward to returning home to the best place in the world -- Texas.

Accent On Health

Elderly persons and those with chronic diseases are at high risk from influenza and should contact their private physicians for recommendations on taking influenza vaccinations in advance of the approaching flu season. While fall and winter pose a flu threat to everyone, those hardest hit are the elderly and persons of any age who are chronically ill, reports the Texas Department of Health.

Considered at risk are all persons with: heart disease; chronic pulmonary disorders; chronic renal disease; diabetes or other metabolic diseases that increase the risk of infection; chronic severe anemia such as sickle cell disease; and conditions which compromise the immune mechanism, including certain malignancies and immunosuppressive therapy.

Influenza epidemics are frequently associated with deaths in excess of the number normally expected. More than 200,000 excess deaths are estimated to have occurred in association with influenza epidemics in the United States during the 1968-1982 period. Last year almost 1,100 Texans ages 65 and over died of pneumonia and influenza. Total deaths in the state for all ages from the two diseases totalled 2,685 persons.

Efforts to reduce the impact of influenza in the United States are aimed at protecting persons at greatest risk of serious illness or death through annual vaccination. Influenza virus infections occur every year in the United States. The three dominant strains anticipated during the approaching flu season are A/Brazil/78, A/Philippines/82, and B/Singapore/79 viruses. Antigens in this year's vaccine reduce the likelihood of infection to these strains and the severity of disease if a vaccinated individual contracts influenza.

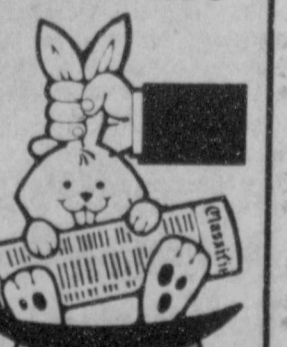

tracts influenza. Vaccines generally been associated with only a few reactions. During the 1982-83 winter, influenza activity occurred at moderate levels in this country. Excess mortality was slightly elevated during the epidemic period starting in January 1983. The viruses implicated as the major cause of nationwide epidemic activity were influenza A (H3N2) strains, which caused nearly all outbreaks in nursing home or hospital settings for which laboratory diagnosis was obtained.

For further information, contact Tina Fields, Public Health Promotion Division, Texas Department of Health, 1100 W. 49th St., Austin, Tx. 78756, Tel. 512/458-7405.)
