They are residents of Shallowater.

Rotary Hears Program On Down Syndrome

Rotarian Mike Hahn was in from Plainview who explained the day-to-day care of their youngsters who have Down Syndrome, once known as Mongoloid.

Penny Cremeens and Desiree Isom, both of Plainview, and employees of the Rural Infant Education Program of the Central Plains MH/MR, introduced the women who told their Four youngsters afflicted with the disease, also attended the Rotary meeting. Their aim was to educate the public so people can treat their family as normal.

As one of the mothers said, "We don't treat Jeff any different because he has Down Syndrome than we treat Amanda different because she has red

They explained how mothers accept the handicapped child into the family and emphasized that they do not treat the handicapped child any different from their other children.

The Rural Infant Education Program works with the child from birth to the age of three when the public schools take when the public schools take over with their early education. Playoffs They are taught Daily Living Skills such as self-feeding, dressing, toilet training and other activities.

They are taught physical skills such as sitting alone, crawling, walking, jumping and grasping and releasing objects and the use of small muscles to manipulate objects.

Scouts Travel To Annual Show Last Weekend

On Saturday, November 10, 45 Muleshoe residents rode the Scout bus to the 1984 South Plains Council Scout Show at Lubbock.

They participated in first aid demonstrations, computer games, tests of skill, leather crafts, woodburning, and wide varieties of other activities.

Muleshoe's Scout booth was an 'outer space' theme and free flying saucers, it was very popular and won a blue ribbon for the local scouts.

Pack 620 said they would like to thank everyone who donated materials for the booth and who supported the local Scouts by purchasing tickets for the Scout Show.

They ask that everyone remember to donate used toys for the Salvation Army by calling Melinda Ziegenfuss at 272-3222.

The handicapped child is also charge of the program for taught to coo and from there, to Rotary Tuesday, and presented speak in sentences. They are and problem solving. Their sensory abilities are trained and in many instances, physical therapy is included, along with speech therapy. Ms. Cremeens explained that currently, they are working with nine Down Syndrome children in the nine county area they serve. She said a home bound teacher goes to the home of the handicapped child and teaches parents how to teach their child.

The name of the homebound teacher for this area is Merlene Hoover, who resides in Plainview. She makes regular visits to Muleshoe.

She said if a parent believes their child may be a slow learner or believes the child needs testing, contact Rowena Myers at the Muleshoe office or call the local office at 272-4433.

Other guests for Rotary Tuesday included Cindy Purdy, Judy Wilbanks and Jeanine Gun-

Bi-District Set Friday

They're second ranked in the state, and going into playoffs on Friday night -- they're the Littlefield Wildcats. the Wildcats will be going into the bi-district playoffs against the Childress Bobcats with a perfect 9-0 record for the year.

And, it's all going to take place in Wildcat stadium at Littlefield. After Littlefield Head Coach Jerry Blakely and Childress' Charlie Johnston could not agree on a neutral site, it was decided to flip a coin.

Littlefield won the coin toss, and won the home field advantage over the Childress team, who will make the 160 mile trip to Littlefield for the 8 p.m.

Childress ended up with a second place in their district, with an 8-2 overall record and 4-1 in district action, behind Perryton's 8-2 overall and 5-0 in district action.

Perryton will be meeting Idalou in the bi-district playoffs, as the Idalou team came in second in District 2-3A.

Pregame tickets for the Littlefield-Childress game are on sale at the school business office and at Littlefield High School. Pregame tickets are $3 and student tickets are $2 each. All tickets will be $4 at the gate the night

City Asked To Approve Convenience Store Site

James Hanson

In First Place For This Week

It really took the tiebreaker scores to determine the winners in the weekly football contest for the past week.

Apparently most of the contestants found the latest contest to be somewhat harder than past contests, as the closest anyone got to being correct was to miss four entries.

Every contestant missed the tie between Iowa State and Kansas State, who knotted up at 7-7. Also, not helping a lot were two entries which were not considered by the judges because 'state' was left off the second entry when it was Arizona State vs. Oregon and the eighth entry which was Wichita. State vs. West Texas State University. Neither one was counted in the contest.

When it all came down to the wire, James Hanson picked up another win with four wrong guesses and 28 points away on the double tiebreaker. After splitting a second place with Travis Bessire in the seventh contest, Hanson, now has 13 points.

In second place, Dr. Jerry D. Gleason also missed four games, but was 40 points off on double tiebreaker. Dr. Gleason and Hanson were the only two entries for the week to miss only four games.

Juan L. Garza picked up third place. He was one of several persons to miss five games, but was only 21 points away on the double tiebreaker. Garza now has 18 points total toward the Turn To Contest, Page 6

Citizen Input Is Needed About Mule Memorial

Provided the citizens Muleshoe have no objection to a new convenience store located near the Mule Memorial, and do not feel that the new store would inhibit visitors to the Mule Memorial site, there is a distinct possibility such a store will be constructed in the near future.

Giese Realty Investment Co. of Clovis, has asked the Muleshoe City Council for a letter Fe approving such store to be located at the crossroads on the corner west of the Mule Memorial site.

According to William Giese of the Clovis company, a company he represents plans to purchase the site of a former Phillips '66' service station, plus additional 50 feet to the north of the station, and 50 feet to the east of the existing station to construct the store.

City council members said they believe the citizens of Muleshoe need an input as to whether or not they want to give up a part of a lease the city currently holds with the Santa Fe Railway in order to give the store the room they will need to operate.

Dave Marr, city manager, explained that the city currently has a yearly lease on the property to the west of the Mule Memorial site, however, it could be transferred to the new owners of the property.

Giese explained that the company planning to build the store did not want to erect a barrier between the store and the Mule Memorial site, with the belief that gas pumps and controlled parking for store customers would server as a > control light on the corner. 'We would do nothing to harm the present Memorial," said Giese, "but, we do believe a new store on the corner would travelers to stop longer, and perhaps leave a little more money in Muleshoe when they stop at the site to see the mule. "Also, we believe maybe more people would stop to see the mule. Right now, there is only one way in and out at the Mule Memorial. We think that more people in travel trailers, vans and larger vehicles will be stopping to see the memorial, as they will be able to maneuver their vehicles around easier. We

Herring Receives Heroism Award

Ray Herring of Munday crawled into an electric utility truck bucket July 6, 1983, to rescue a fellow Knox County man and was awarded the 1983 Texas Rural Heroism Award for his lifesaving efforts.

The search is under way for a 1984 rural hero, says Ben Bullard of Waco, president of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council which presents the annual award. The 1984 recipient will be announced April 1, 1985, at the 46th annual Texas/Southwestern Safety Conference and Exposition to be held at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel in Houston. Deadline for submitting 1984 entries will be March 1, 1985, Bullard said. Send all nominations to Texas Farm & Ranch Safety Council, Box 489, Waco, Texas 76703.

Herring received his award last March in Dallas for saving Ray Longan, a Knox County co-op serviceman.

To qualify for the honor, a candidate must have performed a heroic act of human-lifesaving within Texas during 1984, and it should be related to farming or ranching, Bullard noted.

Nominations should include a written account of the incident and the names addresses and telephone numbers of all persons involved. Newspaper clippings and photos should also accompany the nominations when available, Bullard said.

First St., Muleshoe, Tx. 79347 or given to any auxiliary member.

THE 251/2 BUDGET--It's very difficult to tell any fanily how much they should spend on food, clothing, shelter, transportation and other items, because all families are different, says family finance expert Nancy L. Granovsky. But financial counselors at some of the non-profit consumer credit counseling services have developed a simple, easy to understand system called the 25 percent budget, says Granovsky, a home economist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. To make this budget work, you divide your monthly take home pay into four equal parts. Assign 25 percent

25 percent for monthly loan payments and 25 percent for everything else, she explains. While using the 25 percent budget and 25 percent for everythinbg else, she explains.

While using the 25 percent budget guideline may not be helpful to every fanily, it does provide a benchmark, especially for those who are not budgeting at all and may be experiencing some financial difficulty, says the home economist.

STUDY SHOWS CONSUMER STEAK PREFERENCES--Many American consumers still prefer higher grades of steak, but a significant number -- especially in the west and south -- are willing to buy lower grade, leaner cuts with less fat. Those are the findings of consumer preference tests conducted in four cities by researchers at Texas A&M University's Agricultural Market Research and Development Center. The study showed that consumer ratings of steaks prepared at home generally agreed with USDA grading standards, which are based on the amount of fat within the lean. but about 25% of the consumers in the sample found leaner beef acceptable in terms of its eating quality and indicated they would buy it, said Dr. Robert Branson, project

No decision was made at the November meeting as whether or not to write the letter of approval to the Santa Fe Railway, waiting to hear from the general public. A decision will be announced at the December 18 meeting of the city council.

In other action, Muleshoe City Secretary read the proposed ordinance which would annex 88.75 acres of land northwest of the City of Muleshoe to the city. The final reading of the ordinance will be on December 18. No one attended the meeting to object to the proposed annexation of land that would take in both sides of the highway to the 1760 'Y' on West Highway 84.

Following a discussion, a bid from IBM for a new computer for the city was approved unanimously.

Marr said, "The bids we opened on October 23, 1984, contained bids on four hardware configurations. Two system configurations from each of the vendors, NCR and IBM.

"Both of the vendors produce good equipment and

reliable service delivery systems."

He suggested the council approve the IBM bid as it is the lowest bid when compared with the NCR bid, and will allow the city to do a software conversion initially ranther than a complete software purchase. It also will allow expansion in the future, he added, plus maintenance for the IBM will save the city $3,311 annually over the maintenance cost as proposed by NCR.

Also briefly discussed were proposed improvements grade crossings on the Santa Fe Railway and said the city has approved closing the crossings while the work is being done.

COTTON HARVEST IS HERE AGAIN and BAILEY COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE ASSN. urges extreme caution when

In recent years, many tragic incidents have occurred involving cotton module builders and power lines. The extended portion of the cotton module builder can come into contact with overhead electric lines if the operator is operating farm equipment

HIGH VOLTAGE

We urge farmers and their employees to be alert to these potential hazards and to take every possible precaution to avoid serious injury... or even death! When you are moving a module builder, be sure the packer arm is lowed as far as it will go. When using a stripper with an overhead basket, be sure to check for overhead lines before dumping.

not very careful. The same problem exists with overhead baskets on cotton strippers.

DANGER!

If some piece of equipment DOES contact these 7200 volt lines, it is important that you or the operator not try to simply back away. The line could break, or if it's already broken, it could tangle in the equipment and break again, compounding the problem and increasing the danger. Jump clear of the machine, being sure NOT to touch the ground and the machine at the same time. Move quickly away at a right angle to the power line. Then call the Cooperative office whether or not the line is broken so they can help you.

REMEMBER -- a little precaution is ALWAYS worth the time it takes !!

The Power of Greed

The people of the earth have become avaricious; the feeling of generousity no longer is apparent. Countries of the world are interested in only controlling one thing;

Everyone seems to dissatisfied;

People everywhere struggle to be on top of the heap. Respect and fellowship have shown signs of diminishing. As we face a touchy nuclear situation; this is no time to become greedy.

Other issues ranked farther behind all of

> In the area of water resources, WTCC members continued to register strong support for meaningful action in water resource planning as 97% of those surveyed agreed that increased emphasis should be given to water conservation statewide. 80% of respondents urged more research of drought resistant crops and plants, and 77% believed more loan guarantees for local water projects are needed. Three-quarters of those surveyed believed that a multistate committee should be formed to discuss and coordinate the importation of water. A bare majority of those surveyed believed that increased funding for brush control was needed, or that a "grid system" should be implemented to enhance future interbasin water transfer. A majority support the revised Texas Water Plan as submitted by the Texas Department of Water Resources.

Only 23% of the respondents supported legislation passed during the special session providing workers compensation coverage for migrant labor, while 66% of the respondents opposed this legislation, with 11% undecided.

A bare majority of 52% of WTCC members surveyed believe that additional money should be appropriated to highways above what was passed during the special session this summer. A slightly higher majority of 59% believed that pari-mutuel betting should be allowed in Texas, with 35% opposed to the concept and only 6% undecided.

While expressing concern over education by ranking it second among issues, WTCC members were equally divided between favoring and opposing many of the concepts proposed by H. Ross Perot's Select Committee on Education. In the area of increasing taxes in the upcoming legislative session, 55% of those responded that no new taxes should be considered this session, and that expenditures should be trimmed to meet revenue forecasts. 42% of those surveyed acknowledged that some increases in taxes might have to be considered during the upcoming session. When asked where the additional taxes should come from, 66% indicated that they should come in some form of sales taxes, while only 8% and 1% respectively believed that corporate or personal income taxes should be

Ten Commandments Of Firearm Safety

Accidents with firearms don't just happen. They are caused by ignorance, carelessness or disregard for safety rules.

With hunting season at hand, now is a good time to review firearm safety rules, Spencer Tanksley, county Ex-tension agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. He lists these "Ten Commandments of Firearm Safety:" 1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. Watch that muzzle! Be able to control the direction of the muzzle even if you should stumble.

3. Be sure the barrel and action are clear of obstructions and that you have only ammunition of the proper size for the gun you are carrying.

4. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; know identifying features of the game you hunt.

5. Unload guns when not in use. Take down or have actions open; guns should be carried in cases to the shooting area. 6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; avoid all horseplay with a

7. Never climb a fence or tree or jump a ditch with a loaded gun; never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.

8. Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or water; at target practice be sure your backstop is adequate.

Store guns and ammunition separately beyond the reach of children and careless adults. 10. Avoid alcoholic beverages before or during shooting.
