In 1867 he was superintendent of public instruction under Throckmorton, an office in which he took a great deal of pride and interest. During his residence in this state he was a regular attendant at the district courts of this city, onjyed a good practice and was favorably known throughout this western section. He retired from his profession about ten years ago, the last case in which he was interested being the somewhat celebrated King and Gray case, in which he was succeeded by Mr. J. W. Stayton. A DISCOVERY BY ACCIDENT

DISEASES OF THE RIDNEYS are the most prevalent, dangerous and fatal affections that afflict mankind, and so varied and institions in their character, that persons often angier for a long time before knowing what alls them. The most characteristic symptoms gradual wasting away of the whole is the back, side or loine; a weak, fe austed forther.

THE ONLY CURE.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that Day's Kidney Pad is the first and only infallible cure for every form of Kidney discase. It is the best remedy yet discovered for this complaint, and more effectual in its operation than any other treatment. By using faithfully and persistently no case will be found so invelorate as not to yield to its powerful remedial virtues. IS STRONGLY ENDORSED.

Chicago, September-15.—There has been considerable excitement to-day in that portion of the south side through which the Chicago & Wastern Indiana railroad is attempting to get an entrance to a convenient place for a passenger depot. The company has secured a state supreme court decision in its favor, and it has obtained several intending restraining the various rail road companies whose tracks it will cross from interfering with its track laying, and has pitrohased and condemned the land which it needs except a few small strips. Its opposition originates with the other railroad companies whose tracks it effects and the land which it needs except a few small strips. Its opposition originates with the other railroad companies whose tracks it erosses, and with some of the property owners along the route. It is regarded as in reality a great context between the Vanders bift and Gould interests, the Western Indiana being also an entering road for the Grand Trunk and perhaps the Wabash. Last night the track was practically completed as far north as Tweifth street, the tracks of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, the Michigan Central, the Chicago and Northwestern railroads at Sixteenth street having been crossed in spite ot considerable poposition from the engines and cars of the roads above named. This morning a squad of about twenty employes of the Western Indiana began laying track on the condemned land north of Tweifth street. They succeeded in geiting the track pretty nearly all down, when some excited groups of residents, mostly of the lowest classes, selzed the rails and took them to one side, and pilling up the ties made a bouffier of them. The police, under instructions from Mayor Harrison, refused to interfere, and at midnight the railroad drew of its force. The case will be taken into the september of the condemner of the work, was struck on the Asead with a brickbatt and badly hart, and J. Y. Richardson, one of the employee, was hit on the research of the work, was struck on the Asead with a brickbatt an

Doyle was taken home to No. 38 Church place, where he has a wife and two children, and Connell was taken to his home at the corner of Wood and Fourteenth streets, where he has a wife and six oblidren, but subsequently both were taken to the county hospital. There Doyle died in the most horrible agony yesterday. The deputy coroner, who was notified, went there to hold the inquest, but the hospital physician could extend no hope for Connell's recovery, and his condition was so low that it was decided to postpone the inquest until to-day, when the chances are that the inquest will be a double one. The jury was impaneled and the body of the dead man, which was almost entirely past recognition in places, was viewed by them. She is thin and angular (sometimes.)

OFFICE OF THE DAILY AND WREELY EXPRESS, (Windless Streams attill affect receipts. It is reported that at the Laredo crossing of the Median there are about a hundred teams waiting for the water in subside and among the freights there, waited the beaund for this city, are over a hundred and fifty bales of cotton. Like reported are received from nearity all the various crossings of the western streams and this is the cause of the apparent streams and this is the cause of the spapered lack of activity as the control of the streams and the streams and the streams and the streams and the streams of hides and skins from Laredo to this city on the read for about two months and that are not yet received.

Among the received:

Among the received of wool received to-day there were 61 bags of the Gonzales Trevinto city, and among to-day's sales were eight bags of the Jerome Strickland city at 175,185. This wool was sold as Sam C. Bounett's. A large amount of wool is on the road to this city, but is delayed by the high water in the streams. Wool is in more request to-day, but the prices show no Improvements of last Friday says.

The Boston Advertian of last privances, and certain wools that are regarded as cheap are receiving their attention. The sales of the week are nearly 8,000,000 lbs, although about a third of it is carpet wool. Othe and Michigan faceoes are firmer and fully half a count a pound dearer, but at the price they have been sold they continued to be replaced from the country, and there is little hepe of growers yielding for months to come. The leather trade are preparing for the coloration to-morrow, said not a great amount of business has been done to-day. There is some and the price of the country and there is little hepe of growers yielding for months to country and there is proved to the price

A Card to the Public.

Editors San Antonio Expunss:
You are hereby authorized to announce my name as a candidate for the next three months for the sale of a large quantity of general merchandise at very low prices. I promise to work diligently for the welfare of my constituents and the country, which I shall have the honor in part to represent, by selling them good articles at fair prices. My stock is large, well selected, carefully bought and the profit expected very small.

If my friends will kindly continue their former patronage my, election is assured; but I hope to largely swell the majority by the addition of many new friends and customers. I pledge myself to stand on this platform.
