Gev. F. S. Stockdale. of Curro, Dewitt county, is in the city to attend the sitting of the U.

S. court, and was last evening met by no Expect reporter who had the pleasure of a godhalf hour's taik with the genial gentleman. The conversation turned principally to railreads, and particularly to the possibility of San Antonio's securing the Morgan road at an early day Gov. Stockdale had considerable to say, thouch nothing definite, and it being his request of the reporter that no "thow "should be made as to what the reporter that no "thow "should be made as to what the reporter that no "thow "should be made as to what the reporter that no "thow "should be made as to what the reporter that no "thow "should be made as to the reporter that no "thow "should be made as to the extended to the state of the Morgan interests might do, gis not our privatege to say much. The governor, however, is decidedly of the permusation that the Morgan road should be extended to the Antonio without delay. It would have been here long ago but for the fact that a heavy interest was taken in the Lectural and by Mr. Morgan before his death. Mr. Hetchinson, representing the road, has just returned from harrope, and it is probable that we had should be a shall soon hear a hat he had done or proposes to thall soon hear a hat he had done or proposes Ben-Milam's remains do lay upon the edge of the Banders road, and a st-ne slab, with the name, Ben Milam, engraven upon it, rests above them. And alm-st every wagon which passes that road takes a chip off the s-nb, and from the lay of the grave it is judged that sill who pass that road tread or travel over a portion of the grave. It is a diagrace to our city and people that this is s. But soon the international rail-way will establish its dapot west of the city, and an hundred vehicles will travel that r ad where one does now. They will chip off this stone and drive over these remains. And the omalbusses will pass that way filled with visit-ors and people from other states and countries coming here to settle, and the eyes of these people will fail down upon that rough stone as they drive it by and read the name en-graven upon it.

money inergether than the control of the bartender claimed that only 15 ceuts had been put down. Then a dispute arose and I said that I saw the gootleman put down the 30 cents. The next think I knew I was shot. Between the time that the dispute arose and ny having been shot three or four minutes passed. They did not assault the barte-der until after the shooting. Next day I beard that they assaulted the barkeeper after I had be n shot. I and my triends had been drinking beer very freely. I did not provoke the barkeeper. The shot was fire I form behind 1: e bar. [Signed] "Joseps C. Littus."
