GREYHOUND ARENA
EASTERN NEW MEXICO UNIVERSITY

JAMBOREE IN ARENA--The Floyd Lions Club's 35th annual Country Jamboree will be held this year on March 29-30 in Eastern New Mexico University's Greyhound Arena at 7 p.m. each night. Portales mayor Don Shafer has issued a proclamation designating Greyhound Arena as being as official part of the Floyd City Limits during the Jamboree. Present at the proclamation were (front row, L-R): Walter "Cotton" Clark, Portales major pro tem; Dr. Robert Matheny, president of Eastern; Don Shafer, Portales mayor Larry Griffith, Floyd major; and Gerard Martinez, director of student activities at ENMU.

Floyd Lion's Jamboree Scheduled

According to Panny Bigler, member of the Floyd Lion's Club, who is one of the coordinators for the 35th annual Floyd Jamboree, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, March 29 and 30, "We are promising an evening of strictly family entertainment, with good performers.

This is definitely not a dance, but will be an evening the entire family can attend and enjoy."

Performances are scheduled at 7 p.m. (MST) each night, and this year for the first time, the Jamboree will be staged in Greyhound Arena at the Physical Education Complex at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales.

Bigler said there will be 50 different acts each night, and the cost is still a low $2.50 per person. He added that the location had been moved to provide the seating needed as the event is growing each year.

"We try to keep it very affordable, so everyone, the entire family, can afford to attend," said Bigler when he visited The Journal offices. "We have very good, very clean entertainment."

Helping with the annual event, ENMU officials said they have realized the growth of the annual affair, and will be providing more than 3,000 good seats for each performance.

Parking will be more than adequate to handle the crowd expected during the two nights. Auditions were held several months ago, to be sure to sign up the most talented performers from a wide area, and the chosen groups have been putting in a lot of practice getting ready for this years performances.

"We have always appreciated all our friends from around Muleshoe who have supported the Jamboree," added Bigler. "They have attended each year,

Special guests at the meeting included Mark Williams, Don Williams and Vic Coker.

Last week, the official rainfall report in Bailey County, as reported to the National Weather Service, was 1.92 inches, with 1.32 reported from Tuesday, followed by an additional .60 on Wednesday.

According to Bailey County Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley, "The moisture may be a real boon to producers. If we

New Assistant

To Administrator

West Plains Medical Center welcomed a new assistant hospital administrator last week. Art Fink, who is a native of Philadelphia, Penn., moved to Muleshoe from Columbia City, Ind. to begin his new position. He attended school, and college in Florida and Georgia.

He said that during the past week, he has been attending staff meetings and in general, becoming acquainted with the hospital where he will be serving as representative of the acute facility; the clinical facilities and the maintenance.

When Fink became an employee of Westworld Community Healthcare, he was with a hospital in Columbia City, which is near Fort Wayne, Inc.

Prior to making the decision to move to Muleshoe, Fink said he toured three different Westworld facilities. "I found that Muleshoe had the best physical facility; it had the best staff, and certainly Muleshoe has the friendliest people," he commented.

Fink said he could see a lot of potential for the hospital in Muleshoe, and expressed his 'delight' in the friendliness of everyone he has met since arriving in Muleshoe.

This weekend, he expects his family to arrive in Muleshoe. Joining him here will be his wife, Denise, who is a registered respiratory therapist; and children, Melissa Sarai, 11 years of age, and two - year - old Gabriel Michael.

Fink also spoke briefly of some of the changes planned for the hospital here, which will include the Intercept Program in the near future. The Intercept can stay away from too much wind, producers may not have to pre-water this year."

Tanksley said the rain was general over the area, and everything is looking 'excellent' as far as the early moisture.

Muleshoe National Wildlife reports indicate that during the time of the rains last week, they reported a total of 1.69, and said 'everything is beginning to green up now.'

Severe weather was reported in the area both on Monday and Tuesday, with some damaging hail and wind reported in the Lehman areas to the south of Morton, and on toward Leveland and Lubbock.

Then on Tuesday, sand invaded this area, but the high winds and clouds did not produce more than 'mudballs' with the sprinkles reported.

Tornado watches were issued for a large portion of the South Plains Tuesday afternoon, but Bailey County was not included in the watches, which were cancelled before the 10 p.m. time set by NWS.

Floyd County, to the east of Bailey County was placed under a tornado warning around 4:45 p.m. when two tornadoes were reported to have touched down.

The first tornado was reported

Nurse Program Slated At South Plains College

The newly-accredited associate degree nursing (ADN) program at South Plains College will shortly begin testing procedures and selection of candidates for the first class this summer.

Deadline to make application for the first class is by 4:30 p.m. April 15, according to Maria Cottenoir, director of the college's ADN program and chairperson of the nursing department.

ADN testing dates are from 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m. March 30, April 6 and April 10 in the Student Assistance Center at SPC's Levelland Campus. Fee is $5. Applicants must contact SPC's nursing office in Levelland for an appointment.

Additional requirements include three professional or educational references, transcripts from the last high school attended or GED scores and certificate, and transcripts from any colleges or nursing schools attended, noted Mrs. Cottenoir. Applications will be completed on the testing dates, she said.

Any person who has graduated from high school or received a GED certificate is eligible to apply for enrollment in the program, Mrs. Cottenoir said.

"We have had a tremendous amount of interest in the program thus far and we strongly encourage anyone interested in enrolling to notify us right away," said Mrs. Cottenoir.

A total of 24 places are open for the first class.

SPC's ADN program received initial accreditation earlier this month from the Texas Board of Nurse Examiners. The two-year program includes both classroom lectures and clinical experience in affiliated area hospitals.

Persons who successfully complete the two-year program will be awarded an associate in applied science degree and will be qualified to sit for the accreditation exam required for state registration as a registered nurse, Mrs. Cottenoir noted.

The program includes 40 semester hours of nursing courses, such as Fundamentals of Nursing in Illness-Wellness, Psychosocial Nursing, Maternal Child Health Nursing, Nursing Trends and Nutrition and Diet Therapy for Nurses.

Required academic courses, totalling 32 semester hours, include chemistry, psychology, human growth and development, introduction to sociology, anatomy and physiology, microbiology, and college composition and rhetoric, an English course.

Students in SPC's ADN program will average about two days a week receiving clinical experience in one of several area hospitals or medical facilities, Mrs. Cottenoir noted.

Hospitals include Cook Memorial Hospital in Levelland, Lubbock General Hospital, St. Mary's of the Plains, Methodist, Highland and South Park Hospitals in Lubbock, in addition to Levelland Nursing Home.

Mrs. Cottenoir holds a master of science degree in nursing from West Texas State University and has a 16-year career in nursing.

Additional faculty in SPC's ADN program include Helen O'Conner, who holds both bachelor and master of science degrees in nursing from Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., and Elise Browne, who has a bachelor of science degree in nursing from Montana State University and her master's in nursing from the University of Maryland.

For more information on the ADN program, contact SPC's nursing department at (806) 894-9611, ext. 356.

Boy! Texas Is Different

Telling someone where to go in Texas isn't the easiest thing in the world.

One of the best tools travel counselors have is the Official Highway Travel Map produced by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

It remains, year after year, the most popular piece of travel literature produced by the department. About a million requests a year for the map are fulfilled by mail and at 12 tourists bureaus and visitor centers operated by the department.

But the map does pose some puzzles. For Example:

Some of the logic our forefathers displayed in naming places in this state was flawless. Dallas, the city, is in Dallas, the County. Victoria is in Victoria, El Paso in El Paso, Lubbock in Lubbock, Childress is in Childress and so on.

But wait, Houston, the city, is in Houston County? Wrong.

Houston is in Harris County. Crockett is the county seat of Houston County up in East Texas, and Crockett County? It's way out in West Texas, surrounding the city of Ozona.

Take the name Johnson. Johnson City logically ought to be in Johnson County, but it's not; it's in Blanco County. Johnson County is up in North Central Texas. There's a town named Burleson in Johnson County, but Burleson County is in Central Texas and the town of Caldwell is in it. Caldwell County is a hundred or so miles away and Lockhart is its county seat.

There's a Smith Point, a Smithville and a Smithland on the map, none of which are in Smith County. Tyler is in Smith County; Tyler County includes the city of Woodville but Wood County is up in Northeast Texas, nowhere near Woodville.

There is a place in Wood County called Coke. The map says there are 105 people there. There's also a Coke County, but it's 250 miles and another climate zone away, out in West Texas. Robert Lee is in Coke County. Lee County, is nowhere near and neither is Roberts County. There are at least two counties in Texas in which the county seat and the county are named for the same person, first name and second name.

One of the Texas heroes so honored is Gail Borden. Gail is the county seat of Borden County. Gail Borden incidentally, made a fortune with canned milk and, yes, he's the man the dairy products firm is named for also.

The other forefather with this unusual honor is Collon McKinney, only this time, they reversed it. The town has his last name; the county his first. And, wonder of wonders, McKinney is in Collin County.

Then there's poor old Philip Dimitt. They named a county after him, but they spelled it "Dimitt" instead of "Dimitt." There's also a town named "Dimitt" up in the South Plains, but it wasn't named for Philip.

There's a Hemphill County, way up in the Panhandle, next to Oklahoma and not all that far from Kansas, just beyond the Sooner State's skinny little panhandle. Hemphill, the town, is way over by the Sabine River, almost in Louisiana. There's a Zavalla town over in the Piney Woods also, but Zavala County (with one "l") is out in the winter garden area southwest of San Antonio.

Austin the city is not in Austin County, it's in Travis County. Bellville is in Austin County not Bell County, but at least Belton is.

Jefferson is not in Jefferson County and Cameron is not in Cameron County. Brownsville is in Cameron County. There is a Brown County. Brownwood is in Brown County but Brownfield and Brownsboro aren't.

The possibilities are seemingly endless. Don't look for Kingsville in King County; or Jacksonville in Jackson County. Jacksonville is in Cherokee County and Rusk is in the county seat. Henderson is the county seat of Rusk County and Athens is the county seat of Henderson County. Simple, huh?

Huntsville isn't in Hunt

County; Sherman isn't in Sherman County; Bowie isn't in Bowie County; Taylor isn't in Taylor County; Terrell isn't in Terrell County; Pecos isn't in Pecos. Castroville isn't in Castro.

You could look it up for yourself in the department's official travel map, but there is a better use for the popular travel aid. That's planning a trip--getting out and exploring this great state.

If you don't have one in the glove compartment, go by one of the highway department's 12 tourist bureaus or write P.O. Box 5064, Austin, Texas 78763.

Proposed Federal Flat Tax Could Hurt Oil Industry

AUSTIN—If Congress adopts the U.S. Treasury's proposed flat tax, the oil and gas industry predicts a sharp decline in production, job layoffs, and a dangerous over-reliance on foreign fuel sources.

I have written to President Reagan asking that he meet with me and Oklahoma Governor George Nigh to discuss the problems associated with the flat tax.

As co-chairmen of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, Governor Nigh and I commissioned a study on the effects of the flat tax. From preliminary study results, we conclude that the flat tax proposal would cripple domestic oil and gas production by eliminating many of the tax exemptions which have historically underwritten the risks associated with energy production.

More than 80 percent of our nation's oil and gas reserves are discovered by independent oil and gas producers who rely upon many individual private investors to finance their high risk search for new energy supplies. Historically, Congress has supported the need for tax breaks and other incentives to encourage this kind of investment.

But the Treasury's flat tax proposal, initiated by the department's former Secretary Donald Regan, constitutes a near-sighted attempt to eliminate these incentives at a time when the administration should be taking a leadership role to achieve more national energy independence and to encourage domestic energy production and development.

The U.S. Treasury is proposing to eliminate the oil depletion allowance which permits independent producers to recover their capital costs. Tax deductions for intangible drilling costs, such as fuel and labor, would be eliminated along with incentives to develop new technology to enhance oil recovery.

According to preliminary results of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission study, the flat tax could reduce oil production by more than 750,000 barrels per day by 1991 and shrink tax receipts by hundreds of millions of dollars over the next five years.

As this country's largest oil and gas producing state, Texas would feel the brunt of the proposed flat tax. Texas could lose 85,000 to 170,000 oil- and gas-related jobs by 1990, and state severance tax revenues could drop by more than $100 million annually between now and 1991. Texas royalty owners could lose $30 million in payments per year.

The first written constitution in history is believed to have been the Fundamental Orders of Connecticut.

Maine is the only state in the union that borders on only one other state: New Hampshire.

Teenagers of Texas host families will have the opportunity to live in a family in France the following summer if they wish.

Last summer, Texas teenagers lived with French families in Biarritz, Cannes, Grenoble, Paris, and other parts of France. In Texas, French teenagers were welcomed by families in Dallas, as well as from Texarkana to Midland-Odessa.

As the need for international understanding is becoming more and more evident, the Nacel program offers opportunities for building better international understanding at a very personal level. It provides the opportunity for French students to experience the American lifestyle, develop greater skill in speaking English, and establish lasting American friendships. It provides the American families an extraordinary opportunity to broaden their horizons and learn first-hand about the French way of life.

Students are individually matched to families according to interests, activities, and special requests (such as living on a ranch, riding horses, playing tennis, or working with computers). Families are needed to host boys ages 13 to 18 and girls ages 14 to 18.

If you are interested in participating in the program, write to Nacel coordinator for Texas: Mrs. Carol Ann Carl, 5908 Highland Hills Drive, Austin, Texas 78731, Telephone (512) 452-8526.

Texas Senior

Games Registration

Deadline Nears

May 1, is an important deadline for Texans age 50 and over, according to Hal Geldon, Executive Director of the Texas Senior Games for Fun and Fitness. May 1 is the last day for registration to participate in the Games.

The four day event will take place from May 15-18, on the campus of The University of Texas at Arlington. Senior Texans who register by the deadline date will be eligible to participate in 58 different athletic and recreational activities. These include swimming, bowling, bridge, golf, tennis, track and field, forty-two, horseshoes, washer pitching, dancing, two mile walk-a-thon, billiards, 5K and 10K, racquetball, checkers, table tennis, and bicycling.

According to Geldon, the Texas Senior Games has become one of the largest events of its kind in the nation. Last year 1129 Seniors registered. This year over 1500 are expected to participate. At the third annual Games last year the largest age group was those participants in their sixties, with 507 registrants. Three competitors were in their nineties, and thirty-two were in their eighties.

Most competitions are conducted according to the following age groupings: 50-54, 55-59, 60-64, 65-69, 70-74, 75-79, 80-89, and 90-over.

In addition to the competitive events, there are scheduled a variety of other free health and recreational activities available to all Seniors. These include the opening ceremonies on May 15, a dance party with live big band music, a health fair with medical tests and check-ups, a sports medicine and physical fitness clinic, and CPR training.

Registration fees for the competitive events of the Games are $2 for each event entered, plus a facility use fee of $2.50 each for bowling, tennis, and billiards, and $3 for golf.

Entry forms and information are available at most local parks and recreation departments, area agencies on aging, or from the Texas Senior Games, P.O. Box 676, Richardson, Texas 75080.

The Texas Senior Games has a three-fold purpose: (1) to promote physical fitness and well-being of Senior Texans through participation in competitive games, recreational activities, and athletic events; (2) to provide public information and public education regarding physical fitness, lifetime sports, and recreational activities for Senior Texans; and (3) to change the public's image and attitude of aging and older persons to the realization that older persons can remain physically fit, have fun, have a desirable quality of life, and remain active in the mainstream of life in their community.

Six inches of wet snow fell in the Muleshoe area slowly sinking into the soil and benefiting the farmers.

Previous to the snowfall here there was rain during the night, which gradually turned to wet snow, much of the first fall melting as it struck the ground, but becoming heavy enough to form a five inch coating over the wet soil. As the day advanced the wind raised forming drifts two feet and more in depth.

Changes In Cured Ham Labeling

Beginning April 15, the U.S. Department of Agriculture will regulate the amount of curing solution in ham and other cured pork products by requiring minimum protein levels.

The new rule requires measuring the protein in the finished product, instead of estimating the amount of curing solution used in processing, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutrition specialist Dr. Dymple Cooksey.

Current regulations permit no more than ten percent curing solution in a finished pork product labeled "Water Added," she says.

Under the new regulations, the specialist says that consumers will be able to choose from four categories of canned ham:

"Ham" is defined as at least 20.5 percent protein. This is the same amount of protein found in fresh ham.

"Ham with Natural Juices" is at least 18.5 percent protein.

"Ham - Added Water" is at least 17 percent protein. Hams with a ten percent curing solution added contain this amount of protein.

"Ham and Water Product" is any canned ham with less than 17 percent protein. The actual percentage of added ingredients must be stated on the label.

Many consumers prefer a more moist pork product and this new rule responds to that market demand, Cooksey says.

She explains that the new rule also assures consumers of minimum protein content in a cured pork product. Since the curing solution dilutes the protein content of the fresh, uncured pork, the rule provides control over the amount of solution used.

Don't Wait Too Late

To Plan For Prayer Day

"Don't wait too late to begin preparing for the National Day of Prayer on May 2."

That's the message--and plea--coming from the National Day of Prayer Task Force, a non-denominational group which, since 1982, has taken a leading role in publicizing the annual prayer observance and urging grassroots involvement by Americans.

"Two months seem far away, but planning meaningful events takes a lot more time than we usually think," said Mrs. Bill Bright, co-chairman of the Task Force and chairman of its parent National Prayer Committee.

Herbert E. Ellingwood, chairman of U.S. Merit Systems Protection Board, also serves as co-chairman of the National Day of Prayer Task Force.

The group is especially urging that all Americans "Take 5 at 12"--take at least five minutes at 12 noon on May 2, wherever they may be--to express their thanks to God and to pray "for His continued blessing on the nation and its leaders," Mrs. Bright said.

Through a network of state coordinators and the distribution of information to interested persons across the country, the Task Force is also encouraging such actions as prayer services and gatherings on May 2 and the enactment of state and local Day of Prayer proclamations to tie in with the national-level proclamation.

By action of the Congress and the President in 1952, each U.S. President sets aside one day annually as a National Day of Prayer.

On January 29, President Ronald Reagan issued a Presidential proclamation designating Thursday, May 2, as the nation's thirty-third consecutive National Day of Prayer. Observance of the Day is left to each citizen on a voluntary basis.

In his proclamation President Reagan emphasized the importance given to prayer by American leaders throughout U.S. history, including Presidents Abraham Lincoln, Grover Cleveland and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"Today," the proclamation continued, "our Nation is at peace and is enjoying prosperity, but our need for prayer is even greater."

"We can give thanks to God for the ever increasing abundance He has bestowed on us, and we can remember all those in our society who are in need of help, whether it be in material assistance or in the form of charity or simply a friendly word of encouragement."

"We are all God's handiwork, and it is appropriate for us as individuals and as a Nation to call to Him in prayer."

The President concluded by calling Americans "to gather together (on May 2) in homes and places of worship to pray, each after his or her own manner, for unity of the hearts

Junior High Students Win Contest

Once again, one of Ms. Twila Albertson's social studies' classes at Watson Junior High School has 'gone out in front' and her eighth period class has won the latest round in Ms. Albertson's contest through the 1984-85 school year.

During the past several months, her classes have been studying about the Roman Empire, and have compiled a book about that era.

Ms. Albertson commented, "One of the most exciting facets to teaching is watching students grow in both knowledge and ability. The second book done by my sixth grade social studies students shows tremendous growth in both of these areas."

"Every class has done an outstanding job of gathering and presenting information on the Roman Empire. The artwork done in these books is fabulous."

"I congratulate all of my students for a job well done and am most eager to see even more improvement as we undertake book number three," she concluded.

Also in the contest were the following classes:

Second Period: Raul Agundis, Laura Arzola, Jason Box, Johnny Cisneros, Gregory Combs, Latavia Copley, Rose Espinoza, Sheila Garner, John Paul Garza, Mary Garza, Kimberly Grigsby, Tonya Hewett, Stacy Knowlton, Scott Long, Romana Marrufo, Christie Maxwell, Ofelia Olivas, David Parmer, Robin Berry, David Ramos, Julia Recio, Jessie Snell, Amy Turner, Guy Wiley, and Marsha Wilson.

"We always anticipate seeing our local friends when we get ready for the Jamboree."

In order to provide a continuity with the Jamboree being held in Floyd throughout its history, Portales mayor Don Shafer has proclaimed Greyhound Arena as being an official part of the Floyd City Limits during the event.

According to Rusty Bennett, president of the Floyd Lions Club, there will be over 40 acts each night performing one song apiece. The same acts will perform a different song on the second night. The music will range from traditional country to bluegrass to modern country. Performers will range in age from 10 to 65.

There will be a seven-member backup band for the performers which has been rehearsing since January. Panny Bigler, publicity chairman for the Lions Club, estimates that the performers have put in more than 4,000 man-hours rehearsing for the shows.

Proceeds from the Jamboree will be donated by the Lions Club to various worthy causes to Floyd, such as sending children to summer camps, buying eyeglasses for deserving children, supporting the Little League baseball program, etc.

It was suggested to call ahead for reserved seats. Ticket reservations may be made by calling Rusty Bennett at 505-356-5166; Wayne Tivis at 505/359-0591; Bill Roberts at 505/478-2324 or Rod Payne at 505/356-5927.

MULES' TALE

Editor: Susan Lunsford

Official Publication of Muleshoe High School Written and Edited by Students of the Muleshoe Schools

Schools, Music Combine; Something For Everyone

by Alan Finney

Music is one of the few offerings in our schools that can be something to everyone. Music teachers today are often required to justify their positions in terms of productivity, purpose, and need. These justifications should no longer serve as guidelines for retention and expansion of musical opportunities. It is necessary to construct programs around society's needs, to offer these programs of interest to students, and to modernize the standard music curriculum to meet the needs of those wishing to study music as a vocation.

Music has multitude of uses within society. All of these different areas are important, and are certainly relevant in today's opportunistic music curriculum.

Music should develop the creative potential of the individual. This creativeness should involve the listener and the performer. The listener and performer can enjoy individual pleasures based upon their training and knowledge. This fact alone justifies music in our school programs.

Music can help individuals to become aware of theirs' and others' cultural heritages. Through performance of music that represents a wide variety of cultural backgrounds, one can approach the study of feelings, styles, history, and heritage. It is much easier to accept the views and feelings of others when comparisons are made through methods which do not provoke force or requirement.

Music develops the ability to be critical, whether as a participant or as a listener. Music can bring about feelings of happiness, sorrow, or concern. Music has different meanings, surrounded by a variety of sounds, presented to an assorted group of listeners with many and varied tastes. This, in itself, qualifies music as an important offering since it caters to every member of our society. Musical performance requires a combination of several skills which can contribute to the overall development of personal skills. The playing of an instrument assists in the coordination of physical and mental processes. Choral music requires cooperation, sensitivity, a feeling of belonging, and total awareness of group dynamics through individual contributions and associations. Participation in musical endeavors can provide a sense of achievement, a sense of self-esteem, and a feeling of contributing to society. Music can and should serve as a means of enjoyment and involvement whether it be as a profession or a leisure time activity.

Muleshoe High School currently offers band and theory for students who wish to participate in music, and many students take private instrumental instruction.

Poems Written By MHS Students

Waiting
by: Barbie Seaton
Like a bird with no family,
I sit here all alone.
I have no wings to carry me,
To the places I want to go.
So I stay here, alone,
Trapped in this sanitary prison..

Time passes by
As I sit here staring
At the cold, bleak walls
Of my "private" room.
(The room I now call home)
Waiting for the footsteps
That will never come.

I loved life, seventy years of it...
But what happens when Life approaches the end?

Why?
did they move me from my home?
did they put me in this horrid place?
has my family forgotten me?
do I have to live this solitary life?
WHY ME?

My mind is filled
with endless questions.
Questions with no answers.
The only answer I can find
Is death...
And it will be here very soon.
So I sit,
Waiting to see what tomorrow will bring.

The Best of Friends
by: Michael Precure
The lights were dim and the air was filled with the smoke of cigarettes.
In one corner huddled two figures.
"It's fun, man," said one.
"You'll really get a kick out of this one."

The two became close friends.
They did everything together:
went to the movies, were teammates on the basketball team and dragged main on Saturday nights.

The pot was cool, but not enough. Cocaine was brought in.

Their grades dropped and they really did not even care. Their coach kicked them off of the team. They came to school late and skipped regularly.

The cocaine was cool, but not enough. LSD was brought in.

Soon they were doing their habit every day. Before school, after school and many times during.
Finally it happened: one became a burn-out and the other overdosed.

But all that was remembered about the two friends were how fun they were at parties, how cool they were and how much beer they could drink.

They really thought that was really cool.

Tell me, what was so cool?

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek examines the new Russian dictator this week, sort of.

Dear editor:
Russia is having one dictator after another so fast the experts on that country are sometimes one or two dictators behind with their estimates of what the new one is like.

In some ways this is an advantage to the experts--a dictator up and dies before their estimates of him have a chance to be proven wrong.

Now this new one they've got, Gorbachev, was elected unanimously. He got all 10 votes. That's all it takes from the 10-member ruling committee. Nobody is sure how the ruling committee got elected. Been there so long everybody's forgotten.

Anyway, I was interested to learn that Gorbachev, before he won his mandate, was in charge of Russian agricultural production.

During the eight years he held that job, grain production steadily declined. It fell far below what it takes to feed the Russian people, no matter how long they stand in line.

Gorbachev had a ready explanation. Said the weather was bad. Blamed eight years of crop failures on the weather.

I'll tell you, if I was farming in an area where the weather was bad for eight years running, I don't believe it'd take me eight years to figure out I was farming in the wrong area.

Of course it might be that I was using the wrong farming methods, but in Russia where the government owns all the farms it's probably unconstitutional and suicidal to admit something like that.

In fairness though I think there might be a reason for Gorbachev's farming failure. He has a law degree and may have thought his job was to aim for a tax write-off.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Labour... is honorable

"For thou shalt eat the labour of thine hands: happy shalt thou be, and it shall be well with thee."

It is God's command that man must work and he has promised much to those who labour.

"... to rejoice in his labour; this is the gift of God." "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

Enter the Lord's house at the beginning of each week, receive spiritual comfort to carry you through another week of labour.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

COTTON TALKS
FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, will be represented March 7 at the Texas Agricultural Forum (TAF) meeting in Fort Worth by three current directors of the producer organization, two of whom will play prominent roles in the TAF proceedings.

Topic of the TAF meeting, the subject that has dominated the national media, the Reagan administration and the halls of Congress for the past several weeks, is "The Farm Credit Crisis: Making It Through the Shortrun."

Gary Ivey of Ralls, a PCG past president, as Vice Chairman of the TAF is expected to provide the Forum's opening remarks and serve as chairman of the morning session.

Lloyd Cline, also a PCG past president and President of the First National Bank, Lamesa, will appear on a panel of commercial bankers during the afternoon part of the Forum along with Bob Finney, President of Muleshoe State Bank, Bill Harrison, President of the First National Bank of Eagle Lake, and Vern Peckham, Vice President for Agribusiness at the Republic Bank, Dallas.

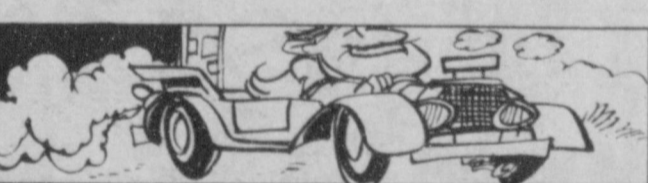

The third representative in attendance from PCG will be Tommy D. Fondren of Lorenzo, current PCG board chairman.

The morning session is designed to give "A National Perspective on Government Financing Programs." Presenting an overview of the subject will be Neal Johnson, Deputy Administrator for Program Administration in the office of the Under Secretary for Small Community and Rural Development, which includes the Farmers Home Administration.

On the program from the Farm Credit System, which oversees the operations of the Federal Land Bank, Federal Bank for Cooperatives and Production Credit Associations, will be James Rogers, Chief Operations Officer for Texas, Austin. Rogers and Johnson are expected to review what agricultural producers can look for from their respective institutions in the near future.

The afternoon part of the all-day proceedings will be built around the subtitle "How a National Crisis Affects Your Local Bankers." Chairman of the afternoon session will be Dan Pustejovsky, cotton producer from Hillsboro, Texas.

The TAF meeting precedes by one day the March 8, 9 and 10 Southwest Farm and Ranch Exposition and Championship Truck and Tractor Pull. This, plus the intense interest in farm credit problems among farmers, farm organizations and in state and national government circles, according to TAF Secretary-Treasurer Clemon Montgomery, should assure good Forum attendance.

The first car theft reportedly occurred in Paris in 1896. The Baron de Zuylen's auto was stolen by his mechanic while it was undergoing repairs.
