Indications for To-day.
WASHERY, D. C. Omelette indications for the week; stationary barometer and temperature.

City News.

John Herf scores 30 to-day.
A telephone is to be put up at the Summit depot.

William Farrel has opened a lunch room on Fredrick street.
A private box was given at Turner's hall yesterday evening.

Many teams loaded with country produce arrived in this city yesterday.
Street commissioner Marshall is wrestling with the muddy streets and clogged gutters.

We extend our thanks to the Rev. J. W. Loring for the refreshments sent down last evening.
John Wilkes, huckster, says some thief robbed him of a pith helmet and a bag of clothes.

A negro child fell down the steps of a house on Tenth street, having the baby of Mrs. Clara O'Connell in his arms. The child was badly injured.

William Tell is being rehearsed by our German dramatic artists, and the great play will be presented on Sunday week, with a cast of twenty-five persons.

Mr. L. Block of New Orleans, in the city and talks about selling his iron mine in Idaho county for a big price. Mr. Block has a fortune in the mine, and is not going to misrelax it.

While leading a wagon with flour at the Summit depot yesterday, a barrel slipped from the platform and landed on the negro messenger, fastening him out like a pancake, and giving him a white coating of flour on his face.

Mr. W. T. Turner, formerly one of the most extensive sheep owners in California, is in the city negotiating for a ranch. Mr. Turner has a fine flock of improved sheep at $5.00 per head to consume with, and will increase his flock in the spring.

The Houston correspondent of the Galveston News says, two new locomotives have arrived at Houston for the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio railway. They are beautiful pieces of machinery and are named B. Oppenheimer and M. Hall.

A little girl standing on the top of a picket fence nearly toppled over. Her father's cooper shop, lost her balance and fell headlong into the street. The girl had her shoe caught between the pickets and held her suspended face down until assistance was sent.

Moses Oppenheimer, Ben Mauer, Mann, R. Becker and N. J. Cosgrove were fined ten dollars each in the police court yesterday for failing to appear in the case of the falling of the picket fence. Mr. Cosgrove offered the excuse that he was in the employ of the Kaiser, and not a citizen of this country.

A woman by the name of Zula Sherwood, while driving west on the San Pedro last evening with a little girl, ran into Francisco Villavieja's wagon. The girl was thrown into the air, and the wagon overturned, upsetting the buggy and spilling its contents into the rough street. The woman's right hand was hurt, but the child escaped.

It is rumored that the object of Col. Thomson's purchase of the DeWitts' land in the ranch of the DeWitts brothers, and his subsequent visit to Kentucky, means the consummation of a plan to establish a stock-brokers' bank at Kansas City. A one-third interest in the bank is thought, should be worth $75,000.

One of the amusing sights on Main street yesterday was a small boy sitting pulled in the direction of the setting sun, and holding a stick of dynamite in his hand. The boy had tied a cord to the dog's collar and fastened the other end to his waist, and started to lead his dog home. But the large Newfoundland dog, seeing things in this light, and not seeing his master's house, started to bark and growl, and the boy fled in terror.
