

WASHINGTON.

THE TRIAL OF GUILTEAU.

He is Declared as Sane by Several Eminent Physicians.

WASHINGTON, D. C. December 28.—Mr. McDougal again took the stand this morning and was cross-examined by Mr. Scoville. The questions were directed mainly to the subject of temporary insanity and the witness was asked if in his experience he had not met instances of this kind of insanity. He replied yes.

Witness asked what he meant yesterday by saying, "I think the prisoner had been playing a part in a court," and replied, "I believe he has been feigning what he believes to be insanity—not really insanity—I believe he has been trying to get the impression to the court that he is insane, with that idea he has been acting a part."

Residence, superintendent of the central insane asylum, near Richmond, Va., visited the prisoner at the trial, of the trial, and examined him; Dr. Loring & Hamilton examined him; and from his personal examination and observation was of the opinion that he was sane.

The witness also testified that he believed Guiteau had been feigning insanity, and that he was of the opinion that the facts as set forth in the hypothetical question to the prosecution, that the prisoner was sane on the 23rd of July, when he shot the president. Upon the examination of the witness, it did not believe in moral insanity, though it was quite probable that insane people might plan and execute their crimes. Questions—Have you not stated to Mr. Hayden, in this court room, since this trial began, that you believed Guiteau to be insane?

Answer—No, sir, I made no such statement to any person, here or anywhere. Afterwards, by consent of counsel on both sides, the witness was asked to be sworn to the official report.

Dr. Jno. Callender, superintendent of the Tennessee state asylum, had given special attention to the study of insanity for the past twelve years. He had seen about 2000 cases during his connection with the Tennessee asylum. He examined the head of the prisoner in jail and found it was not more than that of a sane man. He also examined the head of the prisoner in jail and found it was not more than that of a sane man.

Dr. Callender did not believe in moral insanity nor hereditary insanity, but only in the idea of a greater susceptibility to the development of insanity in certain lines of insanity existed, and his idea of the significance of the term moral insanity is a person of an average intellect, who gives free vent to evil passions and commits the most heinous crimes. As a hypothetical case, he stated, Guiteau, that he appeared of a rational countenance for weeks previous to his crime. Witness was asked if he thought a person of sane mind could be so deluded as to believe that he was insane and would conceal his purpose as an insane person.

Such a person really insane, he did not think it possible to disclose his purpose to the changing manner of his conversation. Guiteau professed the reality of the insanity, and by the statement that the whole question was full of falsehoods, and added he made this statement to the hand to avoid interrupting as the reading went.

After the prosecuting counsel resumed his motion that Guiteau be placed in the witness box, he stated some discussion Guiteau, trembling with anger or apprehension shouted that the grand juror, next Friday, only shot in exposing him in the dock and withdrawing the jury from the case. He who has so long formed his body guard about the court.

Scoville, with much feeling, protested against the proposed action, that he had said not but he understood as the invitation to the witness to shoot the prisoner if he inclined. Cox gave his opinion that he would not object to secure the prisoner's silence could have been taken that would not have bridged his constitutional rights, and he thought that the prisoner's behavior and utterances would prove the insanity of determining his mental condition.

Guiteau in a defiant manner promised to keep quiet, if permitted to remain near his court. Judge Devens refused to move your honor that the court-room be cleared. After he was placed in the dock a plaster cast of his head was shown Dr. Callender, who exclaimed it looked like Humpty Dumpty. Witness thought the head showed by strikingly peculiarities of shape but he attached little importance to this matter, as he had known plenty persons of other shapes who had ill-shaped heads and had plenty of insanity in their minds.

The prisoner had not been feigning insanity, but he had exaggerated his natural characteristics of egotism, vanity, insolence and audacity. Guiteau continued to interrupt occasionally. He called out, "Oh, I'll get in my work even here, don't you worry about that."

BRACKETT. Large Purchase of Cattle by H. Strait—Capt. G. W. Polk Promoted—Return of the Livermore Expedition—Death of Dr. Kowals—Contractor Mearns Fined—Trial of the Beaucom Bartlett.

Special Telegram. BRACKETT, December 28.—H. C. Tardy has sold his large stock of cattle, on the Pecos, to M. Half, of San Antonio. Mr. Tardy has been remarkably successful in the cattle business.

The many friends of Capt. Geo. W. Polk, are highly gratified to learn that he has been advanced to a more important position in the engineering department of the Sunset railway company. The purchase of the land for a beautiful Christmas tree on Monday evening and all received nice presents. Largely attended ball was given in the court-house the same evening.

The men of the Livermore expedition have got in and do not give a favorable report of the leader as a suitable man for duties allotted to him. They had a most deep sleep in the Guadalupe mountains.

Dr. Kowals, an esteemed citizen of Del Rio, died here last night of pneumonia, and was buried to-day. Word has reached here that contractor Mearns was stabbed by his son-in-law, who was arrested by his son-in-law.

The Bacon Barrett trial drags on and the jury is still out. It is probably close this week. The public defender has been a beautiful Christmas tree on Monday evening and all received nice presents. Largely attended ball was given in the court-house the same evening.

Infraction of Patent Case. BARTON, Mo., December 28.—In the United States circuit court, to-day, the case of Boykin & Corman against T. J. Baker & Co., which was argued before the court several weeks since, Judge Hunt has given in favor of the defendants. The action was for an alleged infringement of a patent for the manufacture of ball-bearings held by complainant.

Several buildings were destroyed by fire at Wadesboro, N. C., on December 28. A special to the Star reports fire at Wadesboro last night, which destroyed several buildings. Loss, $15,000 to $20,000. Insurance estimated at $7,000 to $8,000.

A negro named Jack Robinson, well-known in Meridian, was called out on Monday night, and given and given about fifty shots well laid on.

MALIGNANT SMALL POX.

Five Cases Developed and Fear of Others.

The Cleveland News, reporting from Washington, D. C., says that five cases of malignant small-pox have been developed in the city. The cases are reported to be of a very malignant nature. The authorities are exceedingly warm for this time of the year.

Special Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, December 28.—At two o'clock this afternoon an old man was picked up on the streets and carried to the court house. He was suffering from congestion of the brain induced by excessive drinking and the immoderate use of morphine. His name is Andrew Campbell, but he has been formerly known to Pedro Salinas, one of our young sports, as one of the culprits; and the festive Pedro, who was out at that time, had been with him in the street, and attempted murder, again became an inmate of our jail. But Pedro is an old hand at giving the officers the slip, and last night he, with four other prisoners, broke jail and got away.

Special Telegram. EAGLE PASS, December 28.—Dolores Villacast, who murdered Sabar Chavez, at Comoch, on December 8, was captured here yesterday by Sheriff Callender. Several nights ago the store of Mr. Jones was burglarized and a large quantity of goods were stolen. Suspicion fell on Pedro Salinas, one of our young sports, as one of the culprits; and the festive Pedro, who was out at that time, had been with him in the street, and attempted murder, again became an inmate of our jail. But Pedro is an old hand at giving the officers the slip, and last night he, with four other prisoners, broke jail and got away.

Special Telegram. WILLIAMS' RANCH, December 28.—Business is looking up; trade is remarkably good. The people are in good spirits. The mills have changed hands, and the farmer will be able to grind all the small grain generally looks well. The stock are in fine condition.

Special Telegram. GEORGETOWN GREETINGS. GEORGETOWN, December 28.—Our town has been lively for the past week. Merchants are jubilant over their successes. The morning receipts have lullied. Mabel Norton played to a full house here last night. The company goes to Austin.

MALIGNANT SMALL POX.

Five Cases Developed and Fear of Others.

The Cleveland News, reporting from Washington, D. C., says that five cases of malignant small-pox have been developed in the city. The cases are reported to be of a very malignant nature. The authorities are exceedingly warm for this time of the year.

Special Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, December 28.—At two o'clock this afternoon an old man was picked up on the streets and carried to the court house. He was suffering from congestion of the brain induced by excessive drinking and the immoderate use of morphine. His name is Andrew Campbell, but he has been formerly known to Pedro Salinas, one of our young sports, as one of the culprits; and the festive Pedro, who was out at that time, had been with him in the street, and attempted murder, again became an inmate of our jail. But Pedro is an old hand at giving the officers the slip, and last night he, with four other prisoners, broke jail and got away.

Special Telegram. EAGLE PASS, December 28.—Dolores Villacast, who murdered Sabar Chavez, at Comoch, on December 8, was captured here yesterday by Sheriff Callender. Several nights ago the store of Mr. Jones was burglarized and a large quantity of goods were stolen. Suspicion fell on Pedro Salinas, one of our young sports, as one of the culprits; and the festive Pedro, who was out at that time, had been with him in the street, and attempted murder, again became an inmate of our jail. But Pedro is an old hand at giving the officers the slip, and last night he, with four other prisoners, broke jail and got away.

Special Telegram. WILLIAMS' RANCH, December 28.—Business is looking up; trade is remarkably good. The people are in good spirits. The mills have changed hands, and the farmer will be able to grind all the small grain generally looks well. The stock are in fine condition.

Special Telegram. GEORGETOWN GREETINGS. GEORGETOWN, December 28.—Our town has been lively for the past week. Merchants are jubilant over their successes. The morning receipts have lullied. Mabel Norton played to a full house here last night. The company goes to Austin.

Special Telegram. MORRIS, Ala., December 28.—In Baldwin county, near the Shelby Mills, opposite the Mobile Bay, a negro, who is well known citizen, was riding along the road when he was shot from behind a tree by a negro. The shot struck John Arzal, long the terror of Fredrickville and vicinity, and thirty of his followers were killed. The express and train robbery on the Alabama coast, which was reported last week, has been charged upon the express messenger Barnard, whose examination is to-day in default of $250 bond.

An area equal to five other states combined, it offers every variety of soil, climate and production, and is capable of supporting at least 10,000,000 people. While the farmers in case and abundance, and then it would not be settled a tickle by the Government.

Every year the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern and Missouri Pacific railways carries hundreds of people who are going into that country to engage in agricultural or stock raising pursuits. All these will do well, and will do well from an analogous mode of reasoning, as all who have gone into that country have done well there.

The bill to aid in the temporary support of public schools will be brought up at the present session of congress, and will be strongly supported, if it does not pass. It provides for annual appropriations of money, to be distributed among the states according to ratio of illiterate population, as follows: The first year the sum of $15,000,000, the second year the sum of $15,000,000, and the third year the sum of $15,000,000, and thereafter a sum diminished $1,000,000 yearly from the sum last appropriated until ten annual appropriations shall have been made, when all appropriations under the act shall cease.

The ladies' "Indian Treaty-keeping and Protection Association," of Philadelphia, makes an appeal to the country to have a change made in our Indian policy which will give the noble red man more protection, as guaranteed in treaty stipulations, the benefit of courts and individuality as citizens. We have tried the whole world and have failed, but as it was not properly accompanied by the Winchester rifle or six-shooter it was failure, like all other Indian policies this government has tried, and we are now trying the plan of the society named.

to warrant the announcement, that the settlement with the creditor's virtually completed. The effect of the settlement will be to secure to creditors of the Sprague thirty per cent. of the debt, which amount, added to what has already been received, will net them nearly fifty per cent. of the principal of the debt. The exact details of the settlement could not be obtained, but it is understood that Gen. Butler has purchased the entire property, including the ex-Gov. Sprague's certain liabilities which will be lightened to pay in the aggregate $3,000,000. This is estimated by creditors to be more than could be realized by selling the property at auction and in parcels.
