Cheerleaders 'Superior' During Camp

The 1986 Muleshoe High School Junior Varsity Cheerleaders were given all superior ratings at the National Cheerleaders Association summer camp held last week on the campus of Eastern New Mexico State University, in Portales.

Becky Vela, Selina Gonzales, JoAnn Gutierrez, Lisa Triana, and Amber Green, who make up the squad were rated each night on the techniques learned during the day.

They received all 'superior' ratings, the highest given. Judges were looking at such things as spirit and enthusiasm, motion technique, voice projection, jumps, stunt incorporation, crowd appeal, and timing and rhythm. The cheerleaders were also nominated for the Award of Excellence, the highest award given at the camp.

In addition to all those blue ribbons, the junior varsity squad was chosen as 'Spirit Stick' winner, and brought the spirit stick home to add to Muleshoe's High School's Trophy case.

Becky is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vela; Selina is the daughter of Ana Gonzales; JoAnn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gutierrez and Amber is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Green; and Lisa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Triana.

The cheerleader's sponsor, Mrs. Helen Adrian, said, "These girls left as five individuals who wanted to be cheerleaders. They are returning as a team of which Muleshoe can be very proud. They worked extremely hard, and this fall everyone will see just how that work paid off for us all."

Texas' FmHA Loans Double Amount On Loan In 1985

The Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration in Texas has made twice the number of guaranteed operating loans this year as it did at this time last year, according to FmHA, Texas State Director, J. Lynn Futch. As of June 4, FmHA had guaranteed 11,024 operating loans totaling $1 billion during the fiscal 1986. At the same time in fiscal 1985, FmHA made 5,951 guaranteed loans amounting to $675 million. Texas has made 386 guaranteed loans for $50 million. At the same time in fiscal year 1985, Texas had made 171 guaranteed loans for $25 million.

"After a somewhat slow start," Futch said, "banks and other private sector lending institutions are participating to a greater extent with FmHA in providing farm operating credit to farmers who need special help."

"For the first time, direct farm operating loan funds have been exhausted in the states," he said. Additional requests for operating credit in Texas will have to be met through guaranteed loans.

As an example of the 'new spirit of cooperation' Futch noted that in just three weeks since the announcement of

Water Officer Talks To Rotary On Fertilizer

Kent Carver, assistant manager of High Plains Underground Water District No. Two, of Lubbock, was guest speaker for the Muleshoe Rotary Club on Tuesday.

He focused his talk on the water efficiency, versus watering using fertilizer. Carver said you use the same amount of water either way, however, the yields are generally much better with the fertilizer.

He said soils in Bailey County are low in nitrogen and phosphorus, and encouraged soil sampling. He said soil samples can now be taken at a four foot depth, compared to the former maximum one foot depth, and says the deeper sample makes a great difference.

The speaker also spoke on fertilizer in water supplies, commenting that agricultural fertilizer does not pollute rivers or the aquifer.

Dr. Tom Bonds was in charge of the program for Tuesday.

Also discussed was the August 9 Mule Day Festival, and it was announced that the Muleshoe Rotary would be serving a breakfast on Saturday August 9, for the festival.

Guests for the Tuesday meeting included Danny Atkins, Don Richards, Macon and Stacy Harlan, Kathy Day, and Tony Williams.

Operation Assist, private lenders have accepted 232 FmHA guarantees nationwide for $17.9 million. Under Operation Assist, FmHA County Supervisors complete paperwork for farm credit applicants and take them to a private lender to try to work out a FmHA guaranteed loan. If the private lender makes the loan, FmHA agrees to reimburse the lender up to 90 percent of any loss which may occur.

The Interest Buy Down program, authorized in the 1985 farm bill, already has resulted in 819 loans for $83 million nationwide. Under the interest buy down, FmHA will match a

A simmering family disturbance burst into violence late Sunday evening, leaving a Muleshoe man shot to death and his brother-in-law charged with shooting him to death.

Nazarene Church Renovated; Sets Reopening Date

After being closed for approximately six weeks for renovation, the former Muleshoe Nazarene Church is reopening Sunday, July 20, with services at 10:30 a.m.

A new minister and associate pastor will be conducting the 10:30 a.m. service. They are the Rev. Dennis Hayes, pastor, and his wife, Awilda, a licensed minister, who will serve as associate pastor.

The new name of the church is new Vision Church of the Nazarene.

Rev. and Mrs. Hayes have moved to Muleshoe with their family from Wellington. He said there will be 10:30 a.m. services on Sunday, with a possible 3:30 p.m. service each Sunday for teenagers.

"We want to welcome everyone," he said. "Our church is open to every one and we are very interested in meeting the needs of the people in the community. We plan to have home Bible study and prayer meetings in addition to the regular services."

A registered nurse, the Rev. Mrs. Hayes says she plans to use her nursing training to help the community, with free blood pressure clinics and other services.

They are the parents of six children, two older daughters are married and live in Hawaii and Dallas. They also have Christopher, 19, and out of school; Dennis Jr., 18, a senior; Jennifer, 16, a sophomore and Faith, seven, and a second grader. They also have three grandchildren.

The Rev. Hayes says they are excited about living in this community.

The initial call went in to the Muleshoe City Police Department at 8:26 p.m., according to the police log. A female called in a fight at the Henry Carrion residence in north/northwest Muleshoe.

Although no weapon was reported in the initial call, an immediate call followed that gunshots were heard in the neighborhood, prompting a call for all available officers.

Officers responding included Sgt. Richard Bonham and Patrolman Gary Maddox. Upon arrival, they found Julio Flores, 22, lying in a ditch on a dirt road. An ambulance was called, and six EMT's and paramedics responded.

Also responding to the call was Sgt. Julian Dominguez, who went from his home, along with Patrolman Dewayne Haney who also responded from his home. They were assisted by Sheriff Bob Henderson and Deputy Sheriff Jerry Hicks who were responding from their homes and DPS Trooper Lacie Kirk, who was off duty and in his private vehicle at the time.

As the EMT's and paramedics worked on the shooting victim in the ditch the officers were busy attempting to calm two emotionally upset families, whose relatives were involved in the shooting.

Sgt. Bonham left for the

Donkey Baseball Coming To Town Next Saturday

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is once again planning their annual Donkey Softball Game with the Lions Club of Muleshoe as opponents. The Chamber is practicing almost every day and say they expect an easy win over the 'large Lions.'

Game time has been set for July 19, at 7:30 p.m. at Jeff Smith's arena east of Muleshoe on Highway 70.

Tickets are on sale now at the CoC office at the Muleshoe City Hall, or from board members of the Chamber. Tickets are $2.50 in advance and $3 at the gate for adults and $2.50 for children under the age of 12.

"The Chamber has made a special effort to secure only gentle, well-behaved donkeys for the game," said Toni Eagle, manager of the Muleshoe CoC. "Any donkeys noted to be acting up will be assigned to the Lions Club."

"Plan to attend this annual event and laugh your cares away!"

Horse, Burro Adoption Dates Are Released

Three wild horse and burro adoptions have been scheduled at the Muleshoe Wild Horse and Burro Distribution Center in Muleshoe.

The dates are: July 26 and 27; August 23 and 24; and September 20 and 21.

Muleshoe's facility, located 15 miles west of Muleshoe on Highway 1760, was designated a holding facility for wild horses and burros last July. The Bureau of Land Management ships animals from Muleshoe to various locations for adoption under the Department of Interior's Adopt-A-Horse and Burro program.

The Muleshoe center has recently been approved for adoptions on scheduled weekends. It will also continue to serve as a holding facility for shipment of animals to temporary adoption locations.

The scheduled adoptions will begin at 8 a.m. each day. Drawings will be used to determine the order of selections. Applications will be taken, screened and processed on the spot as quickly as possible. However, people are encouraged to apply early to avoid delays.

To adopt, you must be of legal age and able to provide adequate care and facilities for the animals. The BLM adoption fee is $125 for each horse and $75 for each burro.

The program helps alleviate the over-population of the herds and ensure balanced multiple use of BLM land. Currently there are an estimated 50,000 wild horses and burros in the western states. The management goal is 25,000 to 30,000 animals.

Term Senility Is Misleading

Calling an elderly relative or friend "senile" is misleading and can cause a loss of self-confidence, says gerontologist Dr. Judith Warren.

"Senility is not a disease, nor is it a normal sign of growing old," states the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service specialist. "It's simply a clinical term used to describe a large number of conditions with an equally large number of causes."

Warren points out that some clinical symptoms of senility, such as serious forgetfulness, confusion and certain personality and behavior changes in older people may be the result of emotional stress.

"The loss of friends and relatives through death, changes in living arrangements and lifestyle may cause the elder to be depressed, but that doesn't mean he or she is senile," the specialist says.

Slight confusion or occasional forgetting may signify an overload to facts in the brain's storehouse of information rather than senility.

There are a number of medical conditions associated with mental decline in old age, including multi-infarct dementia, Alzheimer's disease and Parkinson's disease.

She stresses that only a thorough medical, physical, neurological and psychiatric evaluation by physicians can confirm or deny the presence of these conditions.

Even healthy people may show certain physical and mental changes which a lay person may find similar to the symptoms of a person diagnosed as having Alzheimer's disease or one of the other types of dementia.

Because elders may worry about losing their mental capabilities to disease, careless use of the term "senile" can raise their doubts and fears, Warren says, and become a "Self-fulfilling prophecy."

An otherwise healthy older person who mistakenly believes he or she is "senile" may withdraw and behave in ways that lead to declining health because of the worry, loss of contact with people, apathy, failure to meet other health needs and poor nutrition.

"One of the best things we can do for our elders is to stop assuming that they are or will eventually become senile," concludes Warren.

Jay Harrison of Canyon and Larry West of Littleton, Colo. visited last week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Masten and also with Brad, Keeva and Shawnda Masten.

Houston and Tanya Bell and John Cooper of Seminole. They were also here to attend the Independence celebration.

They were also here to attend his class reunion and the July 4th festivities. Also joining them were Mrs. June Bellamy and Wanda York of Snyder. by Wayne Peterson

The business meeting was called to order by vice president, Jack Rennels, and Bill Kinard read the minutes of the June meeting, which were approved as read.

The Texas State Fireman and Fire Marshal Association is again selling tickets on a car to support the firemen's lobbyist in Austin.

The firemen have again been called upon to help out by cooking for the annual Muleshoe Day Celebration. The request was voted on and passed. So, everyone come on out to the Saturday night supper at Jeff Smith's Barn, the second weekend in August. Proceeds from the project received by the Department were again voted to go to Girlstown USA at Whiteface.

The Department is planning a what not, want not auction. So, if you have anything useable that you get tired of walking around in the garage, or can't find room for it anywhere, we will take it off your hands and auction it off. The date is yet to be set.

Men and women pumper teams from Muleshoe each brought back a first and second place trophy and a total of seven trophies from Sudan's summer celebration.

The Muleshoe 4th of July festivities have come and gone once again and we at the department wish to thank you for asking us to participate in the parade and display the fireworks. It's great that every year there are those who will take the time and put forth the effort to organize this community project and make it happen. We think it means a lot.

The department has received an application for membership from Ralph Chavez. After attending meetings and fires for a short time, we hope he wants in. The fire department must grow on.

The profile of a fireman this month is on Mickey Tosh, a fireman since Sept. 4, 1985. Mickey, his wife, Lori Ann, and sons, Mickey Jr., four and Michael, one, live at 1729 W. Ave. B.

Although he has only been in the department a short time, he has already attended the Lubbock Annual Fire School, and also received a certificate in Radiological Monitoring.

Mickey is 26 years old and is employed by Franklin Welding and Mill Works.

In Fashion

Layered separates can become uncomfortable during the hot months of summer. For office wear, the shirtdress or the coat-dress, in cool cotton, will be more comfortable.

Designed with wide shoulders and crisp tailoring, this shirtdress or coat-dress is perfect for office wear.

Hemlines vary from well above the knee to the ankle. For business, well below the knee or mid-calf lengths are most impressive.

CYTOMEGALOVIRUS: WHO IS AT RISK AND HOW DANGEROUS IS IT?

Cytomegalovirus, or CMV, is one of the four types of herpes viruses. Many of us have it and don't even know it, and it is generally not harmful to adults. However, CMV can be extremely dangerous to newborns.

CMV was first identified in humans in 1956. You may have heard more about it recently because of its association with acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS). It has been known for some time that most gay men have CMV, which can be transmitted sexually or through the blood. Doctors now suspect that some of the complications of AIDS may be related to the fact that they have CMV.

But in most adults, CMV causes no symptoms or only mild mononucleosis-like symptoms, including fever and fatigue. There is no treatment for it, but most adults recover on their own within two to four weeks, with aching and bed-rest.

Some immunosuppressed patients, such as those with leukemia, can get CMV from the donor of bone marrow (or the donor of an organ in the case of transplant patients) and can die from the complications. Some clinicians are now recommending that all donors and recipients be checked for CMV first to avoid this risk.

Creative Living with Sheryl Borden

Three interesting topics will be presented on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, July 22 at 12 noon and repeated on Saturday, July 26 at 2:00 p.m. on KENW-TV. (All times are Mountain). Did you know that salads were once an oddity, served only to the wealthy? Now, they're considered an indispensable part of the meal--or often they are the meal. Barbara Gonsor, manager of Public Relations with Pepperidge Farm, Norwalk, CT, will explain why salads are so popular, and she offers a variety of imaginative salad recipes.

Beverly Seyfert, owner of The Sewing Center in Arkansas City, KS will show how to machine quilt the "Blazing star", an all-time quilter's favorite. She'll provide a list of supplies needed and demonstrate the cutting and sewing techniques.

Another guest will be Martha May, an instructor at The Quilt Works in Albuquerque. Martha will show how to make attractive covers for photo albums or other favorite books. These covers can be made for birthdays, weddings or other special occasions.

On Tuesday, July 22 at 9:30 p.m. Karen Dillion, a well known sewing expert with Palmer/Pletsch and Associates, Walnut Creek, CA will demonstrate custom linings vs. quick linings--the end results are the same and the quick linings, made with fusible interfacing, saves a lot of time.

Proper and safe food storage will be discussed by Dulcie Simonds, Public Relations supervisor with Rubbermaid from Wooster, OH. Dulcie will also show some new items from Rubbermaid to make food storage much easier.

Also, Susan Wright, Extension Clothing Specialist with the NM Cooperative Extension Service, Las Cruces, will show how to do pad stitching by machine--another time saver.

On July 24 at 12 noon information on making the blooming vest, teaching children to use the microwave oven and doing ethnic cooking will be presented on "Creative Living". Leta Brazell, co-owner of The Quilt Works will demonstrate making the popular blooming vests and will discuss fabric selection and the surprising method of making the vests "bloom".

Janet Briggs is a home economist with Panasonic Co. in Secaucus, NJ, and she has the perfect solution for children's snacking habits. She advised parents to teach children to use the microwave oven and let them prepare their own snacks--with adequate supervision at the beginning. Janet will share some snack recipes and discuss recipes for children to experiment with when using the microwave oven.

Finally, Barbara Gonsor, Pepperidge Farm, will talk about the popularity of ethnic cooking and how it manifests itself in American food. She will prepare several ethnic recipes and share many others for viewers to try.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show is carried on more than 95 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico, and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, Colorado.

DESSERT PUDDING

(Italian Zuppa Inglese)
1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 cup cornstarch, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 2 cups milk, 3 egg yolks, slightly beaten, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract, 2 tablespoons creme de cacao, 1/2 cup dark rum, 1/4 cup marsala wine, 1 pound cake, cut into 1/2-inch cubes, 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped. Garnish: chopped candied fruits, toasted almonds or maraschino cherries.

In a small saucepan, mix sugar, cornstarch and salt. Stir in milk and cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and comes to a simmer. Beat about 1/2 cup hot custard into egg yolks; return to saucepan and cook a few minutes longer, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Divide equally into thirds; flavor one-third with creme de cacao and the remaining one-third with 2 tablespoons rum. Mix remaining rum with marsala wine and sprinkle over cake cubes. Arrange 1/2 cake cubes in the bottom of a 5-cup glass bowl; top with one of the flavored custards. Repeat layering with remaining cake cubes and flavored custards. Cover and chill at least 2 hours. Garnish with whipped cream and candied fruits, almonds or cherries. YIELD: 8 servings.

MARINATED LAMB ON SKEWERS

(Greek Souvlakia)
1 1/2 lb. boneless leg of lamb or beef chuck, cut into 1/2-inch cubes, 2 green peppers, cored, seeded and cut into 1-inch pieces, 1 large yellow onion, peeled, cut into eighths and separated, 1/2 cup dry white wine, 1/4 cup fresh squeezed lemon juice, 1/4 cup olive oil, 1 Tbsp. Worcestershire Sauce, 1 teaspoon minced garlic, 1/2 tsp. dried oregano leaves, 3 bay leaves, 16 cherry tomatoes, 1 pkg. (12 oz. each) French rolls.

Put lamb, peppers and onion in a large bowl. Mix wine, oil, lemon juice, Worcestershire, garlic, oregano and bay leaves; pour over lamb mixture and let marinate 24 hours in refrigerator. On 10-inch skewers, thread lamb alternately with peppers, onion and tomatoes. Cook over a charcoal fire or broil 4-inches from heat sources for 10 to 12 minutes, turning and basting frequently with marinade mixture until meat is cooked to desired degree of doneness. YIELD: about 8 servings. If desired, serve with plain yogurt.

Extension Service To Train Family Day Care Providers

The home economics program of the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service (TAEX) will offer a training program for home day care providers beginning in August.

Dr. Lynn White, Extension family sciences project supervisor, says the program is designed for care providers who do not have training opportunities available in their area, or those whose home day care businesses and family responsibilities keep them too busy to attend outside classes and workshops.

TAEX specialists developed the self-instructional child care manual and videotape series on nutrition, health and safety, child development and home business management which will be available through county Extension offices.

Development of the program has been funded in part by grants from the Texas Department of Human Services and the Corporate Child Care Fund for Texas.

White says that more than 469,000 Texas families rely on some type of child care outside the home, with the majority of very young children receiving care from women who care for children in their family homes.

"Further education for family day care providers is a step toward greater professionalism for them and toward quality child care for young children in Texas," White remarks.

Diane Welch, Extension family life specialist and program coordinator, says there are over 18,000 family day care providers registered with the Texas Department of Human Services and estimates of an equal number of unregistered providers.

She explains that Extension home economists will initiate the program for these family day care providers in 29 counties during late summer and fall. By January 1987, the program will be available in all Texas counties.

The counties receiving the training program in August are: Randall, Potter, Scurry, Parmer, Wichita, Baylor, Young, Hunt, Kaufman, Lamar, Harrison, Midland, Rannels, Tom Green, McLennan, Hill, Panola, Nacogdoches, Travis, Williamson, Brazoria, Harris, Hidalgo, Val Verde, Kerr, San Patricio, Aransas, El Paso and LaVaca.

Camping out overnight presents special food safety problems but you can plan ahead to solve them. The biggest problem is lack of refrigeration. Even on short overnight trips you'll need to keep cooler space for fresh meat and poultry, milk, butter, and eggs. If the trip involves several meals; supper the first night, plus meals and snacks the following days; here are some suggestions for handling food:

*Don't take any more foods that need ice to keep cool than you can use early in the trip. For later use take along canned meats and fish, vegetables, soups, and stews, dry cooked cereals, and peanut butter.

*Camping stores have a variety of dehydrated foods, including dried meat sticks, dried fruits, and nut mixes and even whole dried dinners. For beef stew in a pouch, for example, you just add boiling water.

*If you catch fish, remember they're highly perishable. After cleaning, wash the fish thoroughly and cook immediately or wrap the fish tightly and keep it in the cooler with ice for no longer than 24 hours.

*To help keep your ice chest cool longer, wrap the cooler in newspapers and put it in a sleeping bag in the shade while you're hiking, fishing, or boating.

*Keep the same standards of cleanliness for cooking as you would at home. Clean your hands before working with food by using either soap and water or disposable wet hand wipes. And wash your hands again after working with raw meat, poultry, or fish and before handling other food.

Food safety is just as important as fire or water safety on a camping trip.

Fatal Shooting

Bailey County Law Enforcement Center immediately with Henry Carrion, J., after taking him into custody moments after arriving at the shooting site. He then returned to the site to assist with the investigation.

As Lt. Wayne Holmes, second in command of the police department, and his family had left on vacation late last week; and MPD Chief Les Irvin was reported to be somewhere in the Dallas area. Sgts. Bonham and Dominguez headed up the investigation, and proved their training and maturity with expert handling of the entire investigation.

Hysterical family members filled the hallways around the emergency room at West Plains Medical Center while Drs. Jack McCarty and Henry Muysbondt, three nurses and other emergency personnel attempted to revive the victim.

After all emergency procedures failed to produce a steady and continuing heartbeat, the family was told the victim had expired.

A number of witnesses, in the meantime, were giving statements at the Muleshoe City Police Department.

Monday morning, Carrion was taken before a justice of the peace and was arraigned on a charge of murder. Bond was denied and he is in the Bailey County jail.

Also on Monday evening, the body of Julio Flores was taken to Amarillo for an autopsy to be performed by Pathologist Dr. Ralph Edmann. Initial reports showed that Flores had been shot two times, both near his right armpit.

A bullet was found in his heart, and the second bullet apparently exited through his right back. Other results will be released following a study.

Funeral services for Julio Flores were conducted at 4 p.m. Wednesday at the Spanish Assembly of God Church with Rev. Luis Campos, pastor, officiating. Burial was at Muleshoe Cemetery under direction of Ellis Funeral Home.

He was born August 24, 1964 at San Angelo, and had lived in Muleshoe for the past 10 years, moving here from Morton. He was a laborer.

reduction in interest rates by a bank of up to two points. That agreement can result in a reduction of up to four points for the farmers.

The Approved Lender program had attracted 1,300 banks as of April 30. An approved lender is a bank or other lending institution whose forms and paperwork have been approved by FmHA in advance. Guarantee requests from approved lenders are given high priority by the agency.

"Private sector lenders have accepted the new FmHA programs designed to help as many efficient farmers as possible to stay in business," Futch said. "The word is out that the Federal Government can no longer afford to meet all the demands for operating funds from farmers who are facing financial difficulty. From now on, that's a shared responsibility of both the private and public sectors."

A&M professor says relationship with the boss may indicate job success

COLLEGE STATION—Pushing the boss' "right buttons" may do more to win a promotion than doing a good job, says a Texas A&M University management professor.

Research by Dr. Gerald R. Ferris of Texas A&M University's College of Business Administration pinpoints the importance of the relationship between bosses and subordinates in determining who succeeds and who doesn't.

"Subordinates sometimes manage to create positive impressions that may not be valid. They may know how to push the right buttons with the boss to make him think they do more and deserve more than others, when they really don't," Ferris said.

"We found the quality of the working relationship with a boss is very important in terms of subordinate outcomes, such as whether they work hard, are absent a lot, or in terms of how long they stay with a company," said Ferris.

Reports

TEXAS AND TAXES

AUSTIN — As Texans search for answers to the state's deepening financial crisis, it becomes increasingly apparent that the possibility of new or expanded state taxes cannot be ignored.

We face a deficit of $2.3 billion for the current biennium. By the next biennium that deficit could expand to $6 billion. The chances of budget-cutting alone erasing the deficit are slim since, as we discussed last week, 90 percent of the state's budget is tied up in four areas — education, social services, highways and prisons — that probably cannot be cut too heavily.

This is not to say taxes are the only alternative; they're not. We firmly believe taxes shouldn't even be considered seriously until an exhaustive effort has been made to trim the state budget to a bare-bone minimum.

However, it would be foolish to pin all our hopes on budget-cutting. And, since Gov. Mark White has said he probably will call the Legislature into session this summer to address our budget woes, this seems an appropriate time to examine our tax alternatives.

The tax most frequently mentioned around the Capitol as a target for change is the sales tax. Many people believe this tax will be the first to be altered, either through an increase in the tax rate or through an expansion of items that can be taxed. The overall effect of such changes could be enormous.

For instance, if you raised the sales-tax rate to 4.5 percent, Texas would receive an extra $350 million to $400 million in fiscal year 1987 and an extra $1 billion during the 1988-89 biennium. If we raised the rate to 5 percent, close to $1 billion would be added for fiscal 1987 and more than $2 billion in 1987-1989.

Expanding the sales tax to include services currently not taxed could raise as much as $3.5 billion or as little as $15 million during the next three years. The amount of increase would depend largely on what new items were taxed. None of those estimates, by the way, include a sales tax on groceries or medicine.

Most political experts are saying the sales tax is where the action, if there is any, will be. State Comptroller Bob Bullock, for instance, points out that Texas' tax structure bears little resemblance to its economy. We tax oil and gas heavily, yet the energy industry is on the decline. Our service industry is the state's fastest-growing, and it also is virtually untaxed.

Next to the sales tax, the revenue option most closely examined will be pari-mutuel wagering.

Spider Mite Can Damage Your Plant

Spider mites are tiny but they can cause big problems in home gardens.

These pests prefer tomatoes, beans and peas and do most of their damage in hot, dry weather, points out Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Spider mites, also called red spiders, are only 1/60-inch in length and vary in color from white to green to red.

The tiny pests can build up quickly and completely engulf plants. They lay eggs on the underside of leaves, which hatch in four to five days. A complete life cycle takes three weeks, and as many as 20 overlapping generations can occur in a single year.

Mites spin a thin web which often can be seen on the underside of an infested leaf.

They feed by inserting their mouth-parts into the tissue and sucking juice from the plant. While feeding, they inject toxic substances into the plant, Tanksley explains.

Infestations of spider mites can be identified by tiny white spots on the underside of a leaf. Heavy infestations cause bleaching or yellowing, first along the main leaf veins and then throughout the plant. The plant may also shed buds and small fruit. Spider mites can completely defoliate a plant if not controlled, Tanksley says.

Control of spider mites is often difficult and requires from two to four applications of insecticide at five-day intervals. Plants should be checked frequently for spider mites since the pests can build up rapidly.

Insecticides registered for controlling spider mites in gardens are diazinon and kelthane.

As always, read and follow label directions on all insecticides, cautions Tanksley.

Letter To The Editor

(Editor's note: The letter below is typical of the many letters, calls, visits and clippings, received by the group who planned the Golden Fifties Class Reunion a couple of weeks ago. The Committee once again wish to thank everyone who helped make the MHS Golden Fifties reunion the rousing success it apparently was. Ex-students from all over the U.S. and Germany attended.)

Dear Gordon,

I hope by now you have received a letter from everyone who attended the reunion for the fifties' celebration and that they expressed as much satisfaction and appreciation as my wife and I feel. What a great idea! But great events are never an accident and are nearly always preceded by careful and exhaustive planning. Thank you and your Committee for the excellent event.

The group reunion idea avoided two of the pitfalls of typical class reunions—one upsman-ship and the regravitation to cliques. With eleven classes, it was too easy to find someone twice as rich or twice as poor, so no one bothered to compare. Also, cliques take time to reestablish, and with so many people in other classes in which to visit, who wanted to bother.

Birda E. Garrett Former Muleshoe Resident Dies

Funeral services for Birda E. Garrett, 83, of Longview were held at 11 a.m. Wednesday, July 16 in the Progress Baptist Church with the Rev. Pat Riley, pastor of the Farwell First Baptist Church, officiating.

Interment was in Muleshoe Cemetery under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe. Mrs. Garrett died at 6 a.m. Saturday at Lake Cherokee.

A native of Pocasset, Okla., Mrs. Garrett was born June 16, 1903, and moved to Longview six weeks ago from Hartselle, Ala. She had lived in the Progress community from 1930, until 1957. She was a housewife and a member of the Hartselle Calvary Baptist Church. Her husband, E.A. Garrett, died in 1935.

Survivors include four sons, Robert Garrett of Longview, Phil Garrett of Farwell, Bill Garrett of Hartselle, Alabama, and Jim Garrett of Robert Lee; 11 grandchildren; and 11 great grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by a daughter, Idela Elizabeth, in 1940.

Again, from beginning to end: from the parade to the fifties music; from the picnic to the barbecue; from the fireworks to the mixer; and everything in between; congratulations and thanks for a job well done.

Cleanse your hands, ye sinners, and purify your hearts, ye double-minded.

1. Name the author of this admonition.
 2. What position did he hold in the early church?
 3. To whom was he writing?
- Answers to Bible Verse

1. James - probably James, the half-brother of Jesus.
2. If this James was Jesus' half-brother, he was head of the early church in Jerusalem.
3. To "the twelve tribes scattered abroad."

Almost an Orchid

This iris is a gorgeous flower, so beautiful that one feels that it is almost an orchid. But on the flower market the iris brings no premium; it is no substitute for an orchid. There are substitutes for many things in life, but as there is none for the orchid, just so there none for Christianity. Only the real thing gives life and that abundantly. Go to Church this week and partake of the blessing God offers to you.
