Heavy Rainfall

In Some Areas

Helps Producers

Rain was spotty, and in some instances very heavy in Bailey County for the first of this week.

Heaviest rains fell to the west as three to four inches were common for Sunday night.

For instance, Preston Cargile emptied four inches of rain out of his rain gauges, shut off his wells, and went fishing.

Some roads were under water both Sunday night, and again on Monday night from rains that inundated the western part of the county.

At the same time, Muleshoe stayed rather dry, with only .04 being recorded at the National Weather Station measuring devices behind KMUL Radio.

Bennie Claunch, at Bula, said they received one and one half inches of rain Sunday night and Monday night.

At the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge, the amounts varied from .76 at the headquarters to 1.32 at the gate on the east side of the Refuge.

In the Maple community in southwest Bailey County, the Maple Co-op Gin reported .4 during the first two days of the week.

Some crops in the central to northeastern corner of the county were beginning to show some signs of stress at midweek as little to no moisture has been recorded in that area.

National Weather Service predicted continued spotty showers through mid week.

Commerce and Agriculture, it was proposed to landscape the Mule Memorial site, and plant trees and shrubs. On hand for the meeting was Toni Eagle, manager of the CofC, and Ron Montgomery, local SPS manager, who is a CofC board member.

She said a local nursery operator had suggested installing a water system to keep the plants and trees watered and tended.

Also proposed was a new lighting system, to light the lot 24-hours a day, lighting the mule and the lot, as well as the flag, which could then be flown around the clock.

Lupe Rejino Receives Top FFA Award

Several members of the Muleshoe Future Farmers of America Chapter attended the 58th annual State Convention in Amarillo last week. One of the highlights of the convention was the Muleshoe FFA recognized by receiving the Superior Chapter Rating.

Another highlight, a very special highlight of the convention was when Lupe Rejino Jr. was named the 'Star State Farmer of the State of Texas in Agribusiness' -- the only award given in the state for this honor.

Lupe, a 1986 graduate of Muleshoe High School, was an FFA member all four years of high school, and had many projects, including raising calves, pigs and crops. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lupe Rejino Sr.

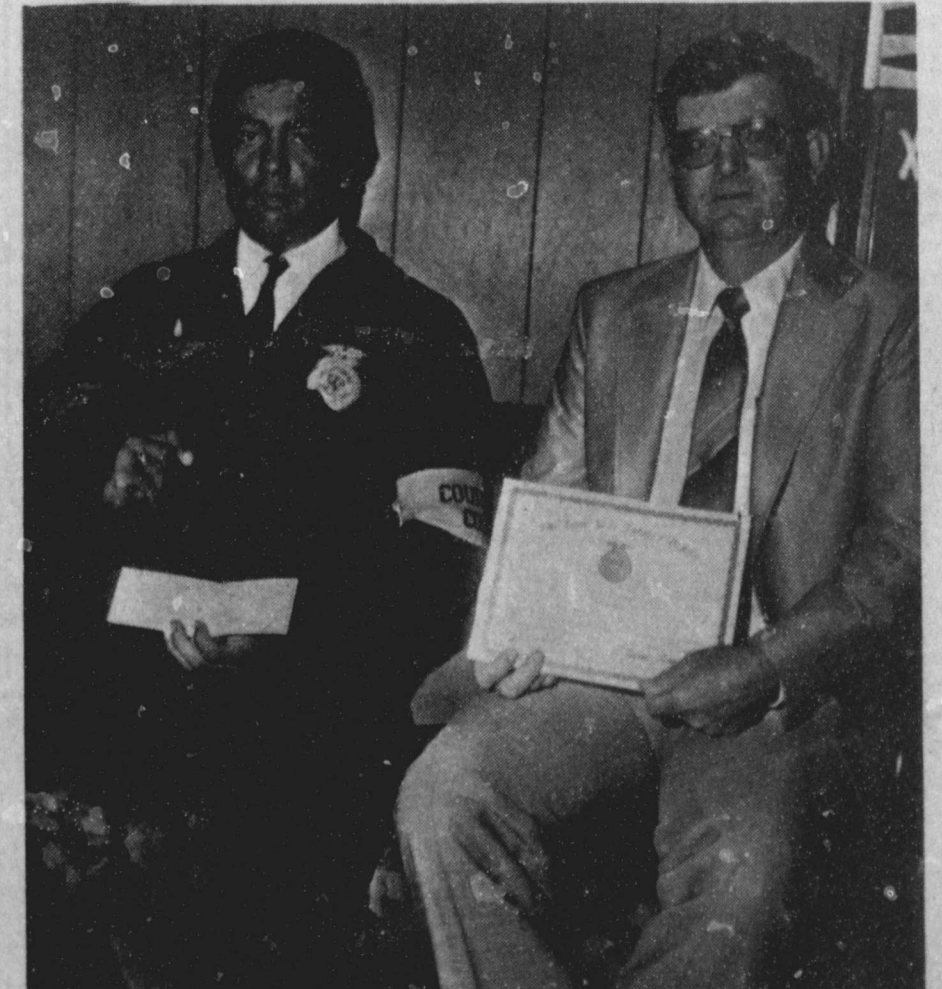

He served as Sentinel for the Muleshoe FFA Chapter during 1985-86. This fall he will be a student at Sul Ross College in Alpine with a major in agriculture. However, Lupe said he does not plan to be a farmer, as ranching is his main interest.

Lupe was also among the four members of the local Chapter to receive the state farmer degree. The others included Joe Bob Newman, son of Mrs. Fred Clements; Brian Houston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Houston; Jeff Vinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buria Vinson.

Kasey Whatley, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Whatley and Michael Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Duncan, served as voting delegates for the Chapter.

The Muleshoe Chapter also had two members selected to serve on the convention Courtesy Corps. Lupe Rejino Jr. and Brent Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Black.

Muleshoe FFA vo-ag instructor Carl Wheeler served as one of the advisors for the group.

A TOP AWARD--Lupe Rejino Jr., left, is pictured with a plaque he was presented at the annual State FFA convention in Amarillo last weekend. He was the only winner in the state of the Star State of Texas Farmer Agri-business award. He is also holding a check which was part of his award. # Turnaround Begins For Cotton Industry

A turnaround is beginning for the U.S. cotton industry, and the new farm law's cotton program is credited as being the major force behind the dramatic reversal.

"Markets are being regained, and foreign cotton-producing nations are having to share in the reduction of huge surplus stocks and excess production capacity," Charles Bragg, National Cotton Council vice president for producer affairs, said today.

Six Local Youth Are Noon Guests Of Rotary Club

A group of young people were special guests at the Muleshoe Rotary Club's Tuesday noon meeting. Two of them, Mike Holt and Deborah Nieman, were delegates to attend Camp Ryla, the Rotary Leadership Camp, last summer. They were to report on their experiences at camp.

Other youth guests included Jodi Ferris, Tisha Cox, Lance King and Chadrin Gunstream, delegates to the Rotary-sponsored camp for this summer.

The two speakers were introduced by Rotarian Olan Burrows, who said the Ryla Camp Leadership Program could be the most important function of Rotary.

Mike thanked the Muleshoe Rotary Club for the opportunity to attend a camp that "was very beneficial."

He said the camp centered around the Free Enterprise System, teaching youth they can do what ever they want to do, and be whatever they want to be.

Included in the different camp speakers were a DPS Captain from Amarillo, Tumbleweed Smith, who owns a radio station and travels Texas, obtaining interesting folk stories about Texans; and a mountain climber who gave slide presentations. He also talked of the games and sports for the youth while at camp.

Deborah Nieman said the leadership camp helped her a lot. "We had a lot of dominant ladies who spoke to us. They were executive ladies, a bank owner and president and a personnel officer."

"The personnel officer helped a lot, because she told us what people look for before they will accept us for job interviews."

She also talked about a treasure hunt, and aerobics each morning, as well as a social worker who told of some of her experiences.

"It was like one big family," she concluded. President Bill Liles spoke briefly about the Rotary plans to serve breakfast during the Mule Day Festival on August 9.

Other guests at the Rotary meeting were Harry Sheets and Mark Williams, visiting Rotarians from Farwell; Annette Bond, Brett King and Brandon Lee.

equally divided between export and domestic customers," he added.

The Council official said the turnaround is all the more remarkable in light of the near-crisis situation cotton faced before passage of the 1985 farm act.

"Projected world production and carryover stocks were at the highest levels in history," he stated. "Market prices were far below cost of production, and exports were projected to be the lowest in this century."

Compounding the situation was the influx of cotton textile imports that was decimating the domestic spinning industry and thus U.S. producers' markets.

Bragg said the major change in the new cotton program is the so-called marketing loan under which cotton will be priced competitively in world markets regardless of how low world price fall. As the U.S. cotton industry adjusts to these more competitively in world cotton producer income will be protected through target prices and deficiency payments.

"These will be gradually and systematically reduced over the five-year life of the new farm law," the Council representative said.

Acknowledging that critics are already attacking the new farm program on the grounds of cost, Bragg said taxpayer costs of farm programs should be measured against the alternative of a bankrupt agriculture.

"What would be the economic, social, and political consequences of a bankrupt U.S. agriculture not only in this country but around the world?" he asked.

Bragg noted that public concern for the supply and price of food and fiber has led the federal government to play a major role in supporting and stabilizing farm prices and incomes, and thereby consumer prices.

"Even at today's historic high levels, public expenditures for farm programs represent less than 2 percent of federal budget outlays and less than one-half of 1 percent of this country's Gross National Product," he stated. "That's a bargain by any measure."

Afternoon Ceremony Unites Ms. Lynne O'Donald, Merys

MR. AND MRS. ROGER HENRY MERYS
(nee Lynne Hanson O'Donald)

Lynne Hanson O'Donald and Roger Henry Merys, both of Amarillo, were united in marriage at 3 p.m. on July 6, in the Savior Lutheran Church, Amarillo. The Rev. Wayne Christopher officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Hanson, Muleshoe, and Mr. Ed Merys and Mrs. Mary Jane Merys, both of Aurora, Colorado.

An arrangement of fresh spring flowers centered the altar, flanked by single candlebras holding tall white tapers. Matching candelabra trees, each decorated with greenery and white baby's breath, and holding 14 white tapers, completed the background for the afternoon ceremony.

Mrs. Carol Hulsey, Amarillo, presented traditional wedding selections, including "Theme from Ice Castles", "A Love Until the End", and "You Needed Me". Mrs. Hulsey also presented Logengrin's "Bridal Chorus" as the Processional and Mendelsohn's "Wedding March" as the Recessional.

Escorted by her father, and given in marriage by her two daughters, the bride wore a wedding gown of ivory lace over candlelight satin. It featured a Victorian collar and long sleeves with ruffles at the cuffs. The softly gathered skirt formed a wide scalloped ruffle at the hemline, and the waistline was encircled with a satin sash and streamers of candlelight satin ribbon.

The matching headpiece was a circle of ivory silk flowers, accented with seed pearls and long streamers of ivory lace and candlelight satin ribbon.

The bride carried a bouquet of pink roses, miniature pink orchids, and white Pixie carnations, accented with white baby's breath, white lace, and pink streamers. It was arranged over a white Bible that was carried by each of her sisters at their own weddings.

Following tradition, the bride wore a diamond and sapphire necklace, a gift from the groom, and her bridal ensemble was "new". Her "blue" garter was fashioned to hold pennies minted in the year of the couple's birth dates. "Something old" was a diamond and ruby horseshoe brooch "borrowed" from the bride's grandmother, Irene Wickson.

Mrs. Jerry L. Waggoner, of San Antonio, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor.

Valerie JoAnne O'Donald and Christina Marie O'Donald, daughters of the bride, served as honor attendants.

Robert Merys, Aurora, Colorado, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers, who also served as candlelighters, were Howard E. Calcote, brother-in-law of the bride, and James Hicks, both of Amarillo, and James Hanson, brother of the bride, Muleshoe.

Following the ceremony, the couple, and their guests, were honored with a reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Detten.

Mrs. Paul Faulk and Judy

Aitkins, both of Amarillo, served white wedding punch, cake, nuts, and pink heart and rose shaped mints, from silver and crystal appointments.

Seated as a special guest was Mrs. D.E. Wickson, grandmother of the bride, of Amarillo. Mrs. Julia Keck, grandmother of the groom, was unable to attend the wedding. Local guests were registered and out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Hanson and James Hanson, Muleshoe; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry L. Waggoner, Courtney, Christen, and Jerry Lynn, San Antonio; Ed Merys, Mrs. Mary Jane Merys, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Merys and Tina, Aurora, Colorado; and Mrs. Pamela Francis and Shelley, Cookeville, Tennessee.

The bride is a graduate of Springlake-Earth High School and earned her Bachelor of Arts Degree in Elementary Education from West Texas State University. She is resigning her position as Executive Secretary for the Development Support Lab of Owens-Corning Fiberglas in Amarillo, to move to California.

The groom is a graduate of Hinkley High School, Aurora, Colorado, and served a tour of duty in the United States Marine Corp. He has recently accepted a position as General Manager of ARA Sunset Airport Systems for the Los Angeles International Airport. Following the trip to California, the family will make their new home in Los Angeles, California.

Members of the wedding party and out of town guests attended a rehearsal dinner at 7 p.m., Saturday evening, July 5, at Lubys Cafeteria in Amarillo.

Candelight Ceremony Unites Miss Hagins, Strickland

MRS. JAMES STRICKLAND
(nee Nicki Renee Hagins)

Miss Nicki Renee Hagins became the bride of James Strickland in a candlelight ceremony Saturday, July 12 at 3 p.m. in the Muleshoe Church of Christ. Tommy Blalock, minister from Lake Jackson, read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H.P. Hagins of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. James Strickland of Tahoka.

A fifteen branch candelabra and two candle trees holding white tapers and entwined with leatherleaf and jade formed the background of candlelight for the wedding party. Large purple satin bows accented the candelabra and the candle trees and marked the pews. All the flowers and decorations for the wedding and reception were designed and made by the bride's aunt, Wynelle Donnell of Levelland.

Wedding music included "Annie's Song", "Just You and I", "For Baby", "My Only Love", "Wedding Song", "Faithful and True", "Blest Be the Tie" and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You", recessional.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a Victorian styled gown featuring a mandarin collar of Aspirin Dot and edged in lace and outlined with a wide lace ruffle that formed the sleeves. The fitted bodice held a full tea length skirt that was accented with lace ruffles matching the lace at the neckline and sleeves. The entire dress was satin overlaid with Aspirin Dot and lace. Her hat was lace matching that of her bridal gown. It featured a side upswEEP and lace rosettes. A tea length veil of tulle nad rosettes completed the hat.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of purple roses, miniature carnations and tiny grey roses accented with orchid tulle and long purple satin streamers tied in love knots.

For the traditional something old the bride wore a penny in her shoe minted in the year of the birth of both the bride and groom. Something new was her bridal gown; something borrowed was diamond earrings belonging to the bride's mother; something blue was a blue garter.

Melissa Wagon of Lubbock served as maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Kristi Ethridge of Muleshoe.

They were attired in lilac sheermist dresses. Each dress was designed with a full tea length skirt. The fitted bodice was completed with a low rounded neckline which held a deep ruffle that formed the collar and sleeves.

To complete their apparel, each carried a long stemmed purple silk rose encircled with orchid tulle and complimented with purple satin streamers.

Kelley Strickland, sister of the groom, registered the wedding guests. Jeff Hagins, brother of the bride, of Levelland served as best man. Groomsman was John Hawthorne of Seminole.

Candlelighters were Tracy Kyzer of Denver City, cousin of the bride, and Don Holdren of Lubbock, brother-in-law of the groom. They also served as ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church. The bride's table was covered with a white crocheted tablecloth over white with purple satin bows at the corners. The table was centered with the bride's bouquet. Heart-shaped wedding cake and punch were served from crystal appointments.

The groom's table displayed a silver candlestick which held a lilac taper. The cake was decorated to represent the groom's occupation of farming. Silver appointments were used.

Members of the house party were Kellie Kyzer, Donna Corder, Debra German, Donna Holdren, and Lela Jo Pierce.

The bride graduated from Muleshoe High School in 1984, and attended Texas Tech. She is presently employed with Pebsworth Insurance Agency in Tahoka.

The groom graduated from Tahoka High School in 1983. He attended South Plains College and currently farms near Tahoka.

Out of town wedding guests were from Tahoka, Spur, Denver City, Abilene, Campbell, Fort Worth, Sweetwater, San Marcos, Lake Jackson and Lovington and Hobbs.

Parents of the groom hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Chick 'N' Dock Restaurant.

The newlyweds now reside near Tahoka.

It's often possible to save up to eighty percent of your prescription dollars when purchasing medication. That's according to a new paperback guide to generic drugs. A generic drug is a medication that can provide an inexpensive alternative to the original, patented formulation.

The new Harper & Row book, The Essential Guide to Generic Drugs ($8.95) by registered pharmacist M. Laurence Lieberman, covers five main points: Which generic drugs are approved by the FDA as equivalent to the brand name, the difference between brand-name and generic drugs, when it's safe to take a generic drug and when the more expensive brand name is a better choice, when switching brands is not recommended, and the right questions to ask your doctor or pharmacist.

A consumer should always get the product that effectively treats the medical condition for which it has been prescribed.

Mule Memorial

CofC, said new, additional lighting would also curtail parking, especially by the youth who use the Mule Memorial lot for a gathering site.

With one existing lighting fixture, two bids were presented to add at least five more lighting fixtures.

City Manager Dave Marr said the cost to add the new light poles and lights would be a capital outlay of $4500-$5600, plus approximately $60-$75 for power each month.

Other proposals were to re-coat the mule to make it shiny again; to perhaps construct barriers to help curtail some of the 'cutting across the Mule Lot' and also add benches for a 'town square effect.'

The city manager said he was against the barriers, as it was designed to restrict the flow of all traffic, not just trucks. He said it comes down to access versus control, and that is very hard on public property.

Montgomery said the city franchise with SPS prohibits area lighting with street lights, and said SPS can only provide street lights at intersections and alleys.

The city manager said the franchise could be altered to accommodate the lighting needs at the memorial site. Mayor Darrell Turner suggested a comprehensive plan be drawn up and presented to the council at a future meeting.

Another area discussed by the City Council was a method of controlling 'long-term parking,' which was defined as being vehicles that parked on the Mule Lot all day while people were away from the vehicles.

City Manager Dave Marr explained that the city traffic code would have to be revised to change or include any specific rules about parking on the mule lot.

A revised code, which may only include one to two hour parking, will be presented at a future meeting.

Possible future use of the Sanderosa Well Field land south of Muleshoe was discussed with City attorney Michael Caldwell, who said he had been checking all possibilities for the land.

"The city cannot economically improve the land," said Caldwell, "and it is doubtful that you will find some private person who would be willing to put the thousands of dollars into the land it would take to make the land feasible for growing or grazing."

Council Member Paul Wilbanks suggested the city look into seeding the land from the air with buffalo grass, love grass, or some other type of hardy grass.

A total of $744.20 was transferred to bad debts, and this was followed by an executive session to discuss pending litigation with the city attorney. City Manager Dave Marr briefly explained that the City of Muleshoe was included in a law suit as "Owner of West Plains Medical Center." The city was to discuss an answer to the law suit, as the city has never been owner in full or in part, of West Plains Medical Center.

City Police Report

City police officers have been very busy during the past week, with a large number of incidents and accidents.

One person was arrested on outstanding DPS warrants, and paid fines of $85 and $54.

Two hit and run accidents were reported, with one involving a school sign in the 400 Block of West 18th and the second which did $700 damage to a Soil Conservation Service vehicle.

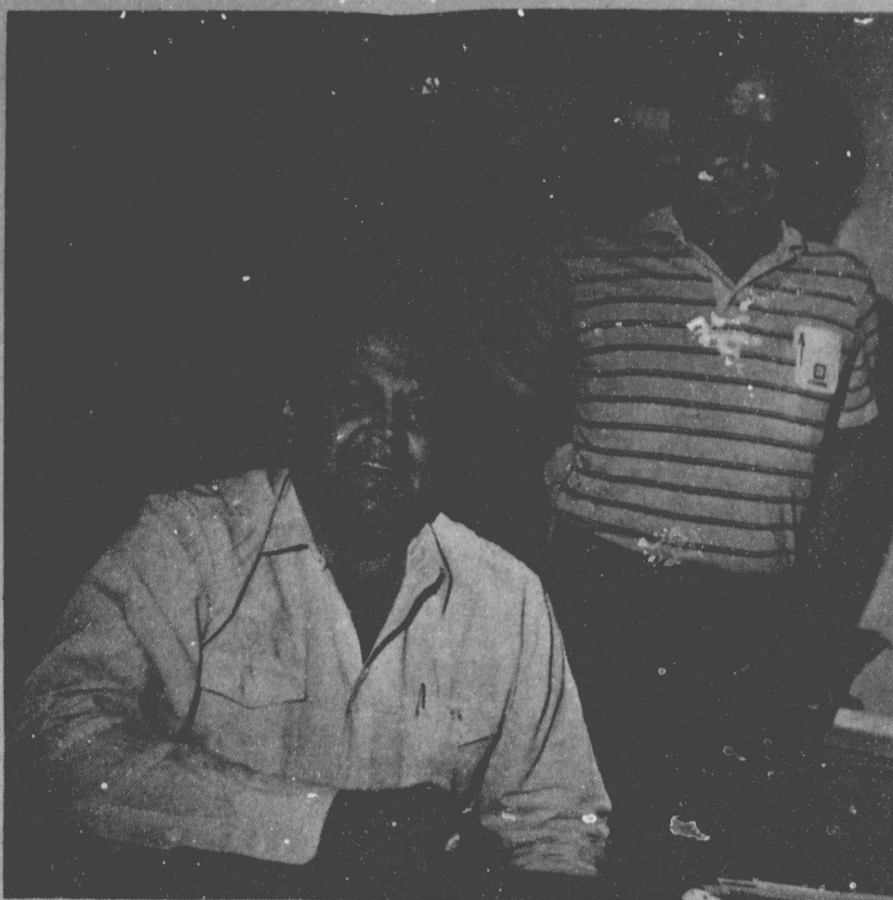

A three vehicle accident occurred in the 1700 block of West D, when a vehicle hit two parked cars; a vehicle driven by a 13-year old hit a tree at West 8th and D; and two vehicle accidents occurred in the 200 block of East B and the 400 block of West 17th.

Burglaries were reported at Rhel Williams Car Wash with $655 in items taken; at Lenau Lumber where a door was broken and thefts were reported by Jessie Costilla, who lost two bicycles, a Schwinn Silver 20 inch and a White 10 inch boys bike, both valued at $175; and target gas reported the theft of $12 in gas and Heritage House Inn reported two subjects, who were not staying at the motel filled their ice chest with ice from the breezeway of the motel.

Also, a stolen black and white Boston Terrier was reported.

One suspect was arrested and jailed for assault in a domestic dispute.

Americans returning from Libya will be prosecuted.

PROMOTIONS ANNOUNCED-Jeff Smith, seated, has been promoted to executive vice president of Great Plains Foods, Inc. and Jim Burgess, standing, has been named general manager of the firm. Great Plains Foods, Inc. has four locations, one in Muleshoe, which is the headquarters, one at Y-L, and two at Milo Center, 12 miles north of Hereford.

Smith, Burgess Get Promotions

Great Plains Foods, Inc., who purchased the former Griffith & Sons Elevator in Muleshoe, announced the recent promotions of two local employees.

Jeff Smith has been promoted to executive vice president, in charge of national sales and Jim Burgess has been promoted to general manager, in charge of day to day operations of Great Plains Foods, Inc.

Smith has been with Great Plains Foods, Inc., for approximately two years and Burgess became an employee on April 1, 1986 after 13 years with Fry & Cox, Inc.

Burgess will be in charge of personnel and financial management of the four Great Plains Foods, Inc. locations; in Muleshoe, Y-L, and two at Milo Center, north of Hereford.

Smith will be traveling all over the United States, keeping contact with two salesmen in California; one for other states and will be selling food corn himself.

The new executive vice president said "we have doubled, and more, the sales volume in the last 18 months, and we are expecting more of an increase in our sales efforts."

"Soon we will be shipping to Hawaii and Canada, and right now, we ship corn from North Carolina to California (coast to coast)."

They ship by rail, piggy-back carrier, and their own trucks.

From the initial five employees when Smith took over the operations in Y-L and Hereford, the staff has grown to around 25 employees and continues to grow, he said.

As the facilities handle about 50 percent white and 50 percent yellow food corn, they are handling specific varieties of the two, and contract most of the corn they handle in advance.

Great Plains Foods, Inc. is just beginning to handle organic yellow and blue corn, and have expanded to three cleaning facilities, which Smith says helps with the capabilities of handling the market. He says they ship out of both bulk and bag corn, according to the buyers' needs.

At this time, Smith is utilizing every corner of the former Griffith & Sons Elevator office building, and is installing a new telephone system to accommodate the large volume of telephone calls, both incoming and outgoing, handled at the main office each day.

Matters Of Health From West Plains Medical Center.

EPSTEIN-BARR VIRUS-- LOTS OF COMPANY!
I've read that most of us have the virus that causes mononucleosis. Why don't most of us get sick with "mono"?

Just about everybody has Epstein-Barr Virus (EBV), the herpes virus that typically caused infectious mononucleosis (the "kissing disease"). By adulthood, 90 to 95 percent of Americans carry EBV. Why is it so common? Because it's transmitted through the saliva, and we all drink out of each other's glasses, share toothbrushes and kiss each other enough to unsuspectingly ensure the plenty of the virus gets around.

Fortunately, most of the people who have EBV never have symptoms. However, once infected, you have the virus for life and can transmit it to others. Most people who transmit the virus are perfectly healthy.

EBV is associated with other diseases besides mononucleosis. They are Burkitt's lymphoma, seen mainly in equatorial Africa, an nasopharyngeal carcinoma, common in Chinese and other oriental populations. These diseases are rare in the United States.

The most common disease caused by EBV in the western world is mononucleosis, which is becoming primarily a disease of adolescents and young adults. Symptoms or manifestations of "mono" include fever, sore throat, enlarged lymph nodes, fatigue, and muscle pain. Mononucleosis can sometimes look like toxoplasmosis, which also involves the lymph nodes and can cause fever, or like cytomegalovirus (CMV), which can cause fever and fatigue.

The treatment for "mono" is bedrest. Some patients may only suffer from a fever and sore throat for a week or so, and then feel fine. Others have severe fatigue, which can last several weeks and sometimes a couple of months. However, two to three weeks is the common timespan for "mono" symptoms.

Whether or not you are suffering from mononucleosis and its accompanying symptoms, however, it is presumed that you can transmit EBV if you have it. But that doesn't necessarily mean you are constantly transmitting the virus every time you share a glass or a kiss. It's estimated that at any one time 10 to 25 percent of people who have been infected will have the virus in their saliva. The rest of the time these same people are not infecting others.

EBV should not be high on your list of things to worry about. Although there can be complications with "mono," these occur rarely. Even if you're pregnant, there is little danger to your baby if you have "mono." There have been very few cases of congenital infection reported.

Should you try to find out if you have EBV? There's really no need to, and besides, the test is not widely available and is expensive. You probably will be given a "mono-spot test" if you go to your doctor with a sore throat and other mono-like symptoms. Otherwise, even if you are one of the many carriers of EBV, there's no need to be concerned.

Company Contracted For Horse Adoptions

The Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior, has awarded a contract to operate a permanent Wild Horse and Burro Adoption Center and conduct adoptions throughout Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas to Tex-King, Inc., of Liberty Hill, Texas.

Associate BLM State Director for New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, Monte Jordan said, "There will not be any major changes in the way the Wild Horse and Burro Adoption Program is run. The contract will result in savings in travel an administrative costs."

The New Mexico BLM office has been conducting wild horse and burro adoptions in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and New Mexico since 1977. The rate of adoptions in the four state area has increased in the last 7 years to about 2,200 animals annually.

"About 75% of the animals adopted out of the New Mexico office go to Texas," Jordan said. "The contract will bring the administration of the program closer to the adopters."

Under the contract, Tex-King will set up a permanent distribution center for 150 animals 6 miles southwest of Liberty Hill, Texas. In addition, Tex-King will hold adoptions in various locations in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, normally on weekends.

Adoptions are part of the Department of the Interior's Adopt-A-Horse or Burro Program which help alleviate overpopulation of the herds and ensure balanced multiple use of BLM public lands. Currently, there are an estimated 50,000 wild horses and burros in the western states. The management goal is 25,000 to 30,000 animals.

To qualify to adopt, you must be of legal age and able to provide adequate care and facilities for the animals. The fees are $125 for each horse and $75 for each burro.

Anyone interested in the program can obtain further information by contacting the Bureau of Land Management, New Mexico State Office, P.O. Box 1449, Santa Fe, New Mexico 87504 (505-988-6231) or Tex-King, Inc., P.O. Box 216, Liberty Hill, Texas 78642 (512-778-6041). Tex-King is owned and operated by Dee Dee and Ricky King of Liberty Hill.

Kevin Knapp New Assistant For Sarpalius

Sen. Bill Sarpalius today announced the appointment of Kevin Knapp as his executive administration assistant. Knapp, 27, began work July 8.

"We're extremely pleased to have someone of Kevin's caliber working on our staff," said Sarpalius, D-Canyon. "There's no doubt he's going to do an outstanding job working for the people of the Panhandle and South Plains."

Knapp's duties include operation of the Sarpalius Mobile Office, which travels throughout the 31st Senatorial District to help the senator solicit input on state and regional issues, listen to constituent problems and update people on the latest happenings in state government.

In addition, Knapp will be responsible for the day-to-day operation of Sarpalius' district office in Amarillo, a portion of the senator's legislative agenda and representing Sarpalius at some official functions.

"I'm really looking forward to getting settled in the job and helping the people of this area," Knapp said. "I've lived all my life in Panhandle, so it means more than I can say to be able to work for the people that live here."

Knapp is a native of Amarillo, a 1977 graduate of Caprock High school and a 1982 graduate of West Texas State University, where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree in mass communications.

After finishing college, Knapp worked one year for Berneta Communications, an Amarillo advertising and public relations firm. Knapp in 1983 was named director of tourism for the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, a position he retained until coming to work for Sarpalius.

He also spent five seasons performing in "Texas," the musical produced each summer in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Knapp worked his way up in the production from a back-up singing and dancing role and eventually won the coveted role of Calvin Armstrong.

Knapp and his wife, Angela, have a daughter, Shelby, who is eight weeks old.

Congressman Would Withhold Waste Site Funds

In an effort to delay funding for the nation's first high-level nuclear waste repository, Congressman Larry Combest (R-Texas) appeared before the House Rules Committee today requesting that $677,649,000 in funding for the site selection be withheld until an independent investigation could be conducted to determine if the Department of Energy has complied with the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982.

The proposed amendment to the Energy and Water Development Appropriations would have delayed funding until: (1) Congress has chosen an independent three-member commission to study and review DOE's actions in the site selection process and (2) the commission has reported to Congress that DOE has acted in complete accordance with the Nuclear Waste Policy Act.

The House Rules Committee did not grant the waiver for the amendment to be introduced when the U.S. House of Representatives debates the appropriations bill next Tuesday, July 22.

Testifying before the Rules Committee, Congressman Combest stated that complaints continue to be raised concerning DOE's method of site selection. The Department, who has yet to address these questions, must be held accountable for its actions. "The people of West Texas deserve at the very least a full and accurate accounting and I am determined to make sure they receive it," Combest said.

"The question of whether politics is dictating DOE's site selection process is a very real concern I share with my constituents in the 19th District. An independent commission who doesn't answer to the Department, is a viable and reasonable method of determining whether DOE has complied within the law," Combest noted.

"This was one more attempt to make the Department of Energy accountable for their actions. Despite today's ruling by the House Rules Committee," Rep. Combest said, "the people of West Texas and DOE can be sure that I will continue in my pursuit."

Our fears seem as big and as terrible as this alligator sometimes, don't they? Fear about this thing and that can paralyze us and prevent us from doing our daily work.

Many of our fears are real. A great many of our fears, however, are unfounded—a result of thinking and worrying about ourselves. Sir John Denham phrased it this way:

"My fears are countless and ungrounded, Fantastic dreams and melancholy fancies."

There is only one thing that will dispel fear of this type. We must do something to get out of ourselves. That means: loving and helping others.

The Bible puts it so well in 1 John 4:18: "There is no fear in love; but perfect love casts out fear; because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love."

The Church is God's Agency designed to help you. We invite you to attend this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long prosper and the freedom which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church as the pillar of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
