ALFALFA MEAL MILL

Discussed and Caterpillars De-nounced at Club Meeting.

As foreshadowed in last week's Advocate, the great "Commoner" will deliver his lecture the "Prince of Peace" here September 19th at 10 o'clock. This was formally settled at the club meeting Wednesday night. A committee consisting of Gayle Talbot, E. R. Gesler and William Dooley was appointed to investigate the proposition that Artesia exhibit at Chicago in November. A proposition from an Oklahoman to erect another alfalfa mill was referred to the committee on manufactures and a resolution was passed asking that all citizens take part in a crusade against caterpillars.

The Bryan matter was a signal for considerable local oratory as the president asked asked the opinions of a number of those present before putting the question to a vote. Former Governor H. J. Hagerman who was present as a visitor took advantage of the opportunity to pay a graceful tribute to both the Nebraskan and Artesia. After this was disposed of, the following letter was read:

Albuquerque N. M. June 4 '09.
Mr. Gayle Talbot,
Artesia, N. M.

Dear Sir:--
All the railroads entering Chicago from the West have united with the Chicago Tribune in a great Land and Irrigation Exposition to be held in the Coliseum, Chicago, Nov. 27--Dec. 4, while the National Live Stock Show is under way. Half a million people are brought to Chicago each year by the Live Stock Show. The railroads estimate that half a million more will be brought there by this Exposition. As outlined, it will be the greatest exhibit of what the west can produce on the lands it has for homestead entry and for sale and of the opportunities it offers that has ever been made. The Northwest is coming to this Show with a tremendous exhibit of its resources. Colorado expects to make a great exhibit of its resources. Oklahoma and Texas will be there and so will Arizona and California. It is up to New Mexico to make some kind of a creditable showing at this exposition. It can be done at comparatively small cost to each of the different districts but if anything is to be done the work should be started now. I recently had a conference with the Land and Irrigation Department of the Santa Fe Railway and they are ready to assist us in every way possible. It has been proposed that each district willing to co-operate should prepare its own exhibit, send it to Chicago, with a man in charge, if possible, and there unite it in one big New Mexico exhibit, the Santa Fe to furnish men to see that it is properly installed and exploited. Would it be too much to ask that you discuss this matter briefly with your people, or some of them, and let me know as quickly as possible your idea of this exposition? As an advertising medium it cannot be overestimated. It is simply up to New Mexico to get in the game.

An early reply will be appreciated.

Yours truly
H. B. Henning.

This was sent to Mr. Talbot for the purpose of having it taken up by the people. The club then appointed a committee composed above to investigate and, if as prepared, to report at regular meeting Monday night. It is likely that it will be adopted and the exhibit sent. The meal mill was then talked about for awhile and referred for further consideration.

A resolution "That the appearance of caterpillars among our shade trees ought to warn us to fortify ourselves against the pest before it spreads and becomes serious and that public attention be called to same," was carried after a discussion in which the advisability of anticipating the spread of the unwelcome settlers was agreed upon. E. R. Gesler suggested that while he had known of instances where tree owners had kept the "pillars" from climbing by putting sticky fly paper around the trunks of the trees, there were pastes that do the work better. He suggested that a committee be appointed to investigate ways and means to keep the pests away but this was not done though we think it should be acted upon Monday night.

After the transaction of some other business the club resolved itself into parts and evaporated. To meet with the farmers at three o'clock Saturday and in regular session Monday night.

Religious Item.

It is reported that ex-President Roosevelt had great sport recently shooting monkeys, and on Sunday morning at that. It would have been more in keeping with the professed piety of Teddy if he had tried to organize a Sunday school class among the monkeys instead of shooting them. —Hagerman Messenger.

About thirty young people were guests at a party at the home of Martin Koelling, south of town Wednesday evening. The refreshments were ice cream and cake and a general good time was enjoyed.

GOOD TIMES PREVAIL

Fourth Will Be On July 5th at the Pleasant Spa.

There will be all the usual attractions and some novel ones at Spring Lake Spa, the only modern watering place in the "Sunshine Territory" on the 4th of July which, as the Irish put it, comes on the 5th this year. Races; horses, donkey and man. Fat men versus other fat men, ann lean and lank against cadaverous and hungry. Egg races and gondola races and three legged races and tub races and wheelbarrow races, and all sorts of things with plenty of shade. Red lemonade and sarsprilly and soda pop and ginger ale and ice cream and cookies and lots and lots of other things to tempt the palate. Orators too, to tell how George Washington cut down the tree and crossed the Delaware. There will be a big a big time at the Spa which is really one of the most beautiful spots in the Southwest, and upon which the latest style of boats have been launched, where fish abound and many bathing places are to be found with up to date bath houses.

NOT A MERE TOWN

We Have Lights and Theaters in "Our Burg" and Are "Up To Now."

Those people who have persisted in looking on Artesia as a town are beginning to sit up and note the great changes that have come upon us. Wednesday night the new electric light system went into operation and the darkness that heretofore prevailed was dispelled. The following night the "Phantom" opened up and the barker was heard on the streets while further up Main "The Crystal Dome" was opened by band music. Both shows are first class in every way and quite on a par with the best in the large cities. The piano at "The Dome" was "out of kilter" Thursday night and while the manipulator touched the right keys at the right time, to our unsophisticated ears the resultant disturbance cannot safely be called music by one careful to preserve a reputation for truth and veracity. However, as Dooly says "one man's noise is another man's music" and we are not official critic of the city. But the show and specialties are good and so is the affair at "The Phantom" and both deserve liberal patronage.

All of which brings us back to the starting point. We are a real 'sho' 'nuff' city.

Save The Trees.

The best time to fight Caterpillars is before they get a good start.

The best means of destroying this pest is to Spray Freely with One Pound Arsenate of Lead to Twenty Gallons of Water.

This is inexpensive, is easily applied and very effective. We will be glad to give anyone interested booklets descriptive of the way this pest is fought in other places.

Don't delay, but do it now.

An Unmuzzled Press.

Publicity, provided it be of the truth, should be, logically a promoter of international peace. At the same time, journalism that distorts facts, appeals to passion and especially that is misinformed, may contribute to the subsidiary causes of war, although its estimated influence has been grossly exaggerated. For example, the chances of peace are not lessened but promoted between England and Germany because of the comparative freedom of the press in each country, even though that be greater in one than in the other. It was not the glamor of a sensational portion of the American press that brought on the war with Spain, rather was it the absence or suppression of intelligent journalism in Madrid and other centers of the peninsula that conceivably could have retained the fealty of Cuba by compelling, through an informed public opinion, the just and honest administration of that last relic of Spanish cis-Atlantic possessions. The suppression of published truths in Paris and Berlin in 1870 facilitated the German advance upon the French capital.

Wherever war offices most dominate journalism militarism is most rife, where newspapers are freest, as in England and the United States, there is the widest understanding in each country of popular feeling, desires and interests in the other. Concealment and ignorance promote prejudice and passion. A free press and educated national opinion might have saved Russia its disastrous conflict with Japan.

It is, therefore, more than less desirable that there should continue unrestricted discussion in English newspapers and periodicals of the conjectured plans of Germany. Even if there be a strain upon national feelings, as well as upon the national purse, the temporary anxiety will have another influence toward encouraging that palpable but really better understanding between the United States and Great Britain that has been growing into clearer evidence for the space of a generation. This government retains the traditional policy, inherited from the fathers, of nontanglement with the counter diplomacies of Europe; but the United States has the Monroe doctrine to uphold, and the completion of the isthmian canal will enlarge vastly its commercial interests in lands and among peoples where the flags of both English and German merchant ships have been better known than the Stars and Stripes. Here, also, the candor of such diplomacy, for example, as the Latin-American tour of Secretary Root and the periodic proceedings of the Pan-American Congress, makes more for peace than would efforts at concealment. —Albuquerque Citizen (Rep)

Notwithstanding all the incidental evils that flow from a free press in the matter of sensational and unfounded tales, the benefits conferred by an untrammelled discussion of public issues by the newspapers, far outweigh the disadvantages, but the sort of postal censorship which we are now beginning to establish is all wrong and should be discontinued. So, also, should the policy of dragging editors and publishers to the District of Columbia or to other places exclusively under the federal jurisdiction to answer charges of criminal libel under federal statutes, because a copy of the paper supposed to contain offensive matter, happens to be sent either by the proprietors or, perhaps, by the secret service to some federal reservation. It is contrary to our whole theory of government, and if permitted will deprive the press of its freedom and the people of the benefits which they derive from such freedom.

Wedded But Unmarried.

The wisest thing a man usually does is those which his wife counsels him to do. A wife is the grand wielder of the moral pruning knife. If Johnson's wife had lived, there would have been no hoarding up of orange peel, no touching all the posts in walking along the streets, no eating and drinking with a disgusting voracity. Goldsmith was a bachelor. That's why he affected that memorable and ridiculous coat. Whenever you find a man, whom you know little about, dressed oddly, talking absurdly, or exhibiting any eccentricity, you may be sure he is not a married man. A man should be wedded either to a wife or to a cause. A man should have a purpose, an object in life. He should not live for himself alone. However, the heavy taxes that are now imposed on what children eat and wear tends to multiply the number of bachelors. —Denver Catholic Register.

For the past five years, ever since we reached our majority, people have been insinuating that we were in the state of bachelorhood. We, knew better but never took the trouble to explain that all the time we were wedded to a purpose (which purpose was to further the honored principles of Democracy) and that we were therefore not in the bachelor class. Our friend John B. McGuaran, of the Register, however, wants it known that he has been wedded to a cause (to wit, the single tax) for some time and that any aspersions in regard to his increasing age and alleged singleness are irrelevant. Ergo, if you want to avoid dressing oddly, talking absurdly or exhibiting any eccentricity of manner get married; either to a wife, a purpose or a cause and you will tog up like a fashion plate, exude wisdom in your conversation and comport yourself with dignity and propriety upon all occasions.

Boost the National Guard.

The Western Liberal is rather sarcastic in speaking of the condition of the National Guard at Albuquerque, or rather its non-existence. It says:

"The Albuquerque company of militia has been disbanded. It held together long enough to have the legislature make a big appropriation to pay for a building called an armory, erected for the Irrigation Congress, which the people of Albuquerque had no further use for, and did not want to pay for. It is probable that as soon as the armories at Las Cruces, Santa Fe, Las Vegas and Silver City are completed and paid for by the territory that the militia in those towns will be disbanded, and the armories will be used for city halls. It is a great thing to have a pull with the legislature." —Santa Fe New Mexican

The Artesia company is going right ahead drilling under Enfield, Echols and Clayton, and is not going to disband, armory or no armory. That is the proper spirit. A well drilled militia has been long justly regarded as a bulwark of liberty while a large standing army is ever a menace. We have no use for war unless waged in a clearly righteous cause. We look with horror on the famous wholesale murderers who are called conquerors, and realize that no war of aggression was ever justifiable. But it is eminently proper that home boys should be trained in order that in the event that a foreign foe shall attempt to invade the United States we will be prepared to meet him. And if we are prepared to defend ourselves the foe will not attack us.

To The Public.

We have purchased the dray and transfer business of Artesia, the best town in the Pecos Valley noted for its rich and prosperous people; but honestly it is agreed by all that we have the best thing in town. We shall endeavor to run this business respectfully and in every way try to please the people, and in regard to our livery, will say that we have a few buggies that need trading off and new ones to take their place and we replace old worn out horses with good fresh and gentle ones to fill the demand, and will make such charges as high priced corn and hay and labor will permit. The people that do the kicking on prices are so busy kicking that they don't have time to drive, so no difference what they say. So we ask you to call or phone No. 23 for anything in our line and we will leave it to you whether you are a kicker or not. Of course we won't allow any swearing or drinking or card playing an indecent or vulgar language and will make every effort to supply men that will please the public. Very sincerely

IRRIGATE 10 THOUSAND ACRES

That is the Plan of Farmers at Margin of Artesian Belt.

According to the best information obtainable there will be ten thousand acres of land brought into cultivation along the margin of the artesian belt and just beyond in the event that the new five hundred horse power electric plant is installed. J. E. Picard of Denver, representative of the Westinghouse people, declares that such a plant with all necessary machinery can be put in for about ninety thousand dollars. About one half of that sum is now in sight. The committee of the Farmers Electric Irrigating & Power Company is now ready to report to the meeting of the Club to be held this afternoon.

Oil Situation Still Looks Good.

Since last week's issue of the Echo there has been little change in the oil fields. Those who are in management of the Williams well are telling little of their plans and just what amount of oil they think the well will produce. From the amount of oil that has been bailed out of the well it has been variously estimated by different people to afford anywhere from 5 to 600 barrels per day if pumped. It is reported that eight barrels per day is the output with the baler and some think that many times this amount would be produced if pumped. A cement reservoir is under course of construction at the well for the purpose of holding the oil.

Oil prospectors from other places are coming in and all admit that the prospects look good. Negotiations are under way to get other companies interested and many land deals are being planned. It is thought that thirty days of time will mark a great change in the Dayton country and that many prospect wells will be going down.—Dayton Echo.

Minutes of June Meeting Cemetery Association.

The Association met in regular session in the Club rooms.

The following ladies responded to roll call: Mesdames Atkeson, Dooley, Major, Gilbert, Bishop, Brainard, Pitts and White and Miss Cora Hess.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Report of the treasurer by Mrs. Pitts: "May 3rd 1909 bank book showed a balance of $155.75; paid out since then $13.25, leaving now on hand $142.50; Mrs. Reed treasurer."

Moved and seconded that the following bills be paid: Marsh Tuttle $2 for one days labor in cemetery. Kemp Lumber Company $6 for stakes and $3.80 for Lumber. Miss Hess one dollar for having ditch filled.

Report of ditch committee by Mrs. Gilbert: the Association would have to dig a ditch on west and south and that would be very expensive. Mrs. Major was added to the ditch committee to see if the cemetery could connect with some other drainage ditch.

Report of immigration committee by Mrs. Brainard: The ditch for the water pipe has been closed and in the main avenue way was levelled to make it better for Decoration day. Arrangements have been made to have some grading done this week. Eighteen fences have been taken down and with one or two exceptions have been hauled away. Some piles of dirt in the avenue near the gate were levelled making some improvements there. The committee recommended that one of the two 3/4 inch pipe be laid running south from the two inch main. This report was presented by Mrs. G. R. Brainard, chairman.

The lot committee by Mrs. J. B. Atkeson reported that five graves have been moved to wit: those of Mrs. D. W. Runyan, two Santo children, Mrs. Brunson's child and the baby of Mr. Smith of Dayton. One hundred and forty dollars had been collected from sale of lots and from subscriptions. Moved seconded and carried that the Association employ a sexton for one month at a salary not exceeding $15.

Mrs. Gilbert read a letter from Mrs. Garrard president of the Roswell Cemetery Association in regard to their work there.

Moved, seconded and carried that the Association take steps to be incorporated and a committee consisting of Mesdames G. R. Brainard and William Dooley was appointed to see to the work of incorporation.

Rev. Arthur Stout came up from Artesia yesterday and held services at the Christian church last night. Brother Stout has a regular appointment here every Thursday night and always delivers excellent sermons. W. H. Mullane Married.

A one-cent postal card, post-marked Maricopa, Arizona, June 12, 1909, and addressed to James Mullane, Carlsbad, conveyed the information that W. H. Mullane, editor of the Carlsbad Current, was married in Phoenix, Arizona, on that date, to Miss Delia Sweeten, in the Catholic church. It stated further that they (Mr. and Mrs. Mullane) would leave that day for Seattle, stopping one week in Los Angeles. They expect to return to Carlsbad about July 15th. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Aubrey Gist and resided in Eddy county about six years ago, at which time she taught the school at Queen, on the top of the mountains, and she also attended the county normal, in this city it was here that the acquaintance was formed which finally resulted as above stated.

The groom who has lived in Carlsbad always (?), and is the veteran editor of the Current, is well known by every citizen of the valley, all of whom extend congratulations to the newly wedded couple.—Carlsbad Argus.

The Advocate hopes that the "spalspeen" will do well, "good cess to him" and that his life may be long and happy.

Judge Larremore Dead.

On last Saturday evening at 5 o'clock Judge George W. Larremore, after a long and painful illness, died at his home in this city, the direct cause of his death being a cancer of the face. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and were conducted by Rev. J. F. Hedgpath, after which the body was followed to its last resting place by a large concourse of sorrowing friends, the funeral being conducted under the auspices of the Odd Fellows lodge of this city of which order the deceased had long been a member.

The deceased is survived by a wife and five children, Mrs. Mary Bureson, of Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. Alice Hellyer, of Malaga; C. W. Larremore of this city; J. M. Larremore of Panhandle Texas; Mrs. Dora Bass, Queen N. M. Two of his children, Mrs. Quinzie Cole and Minnie Larremore being dead.

A man of the strictest integrity, a devoted husband, a kind indulgent father, a true friend, and a useful progressive citizen: Judge Larremore's death leaves a vacancy in this community that will be long keenly felt by all who knew him, and the world is the better by reason of his having lived in it. The Current joins his numerous friends in extending its heartfelt sympathy and condolence to the surviving members of the family.—Carlsbad Current.

Judge Larremore was elected Probate Judge of Eddy county last fall and has filled the office in an eminently satisfactory manner.

A Thrilling Rescue

How Bert R. Lean, of Cheny, Wash. was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever." IMPRESSIONS OF A TENDERFOOT

Being Unorthodox Sketches Of Real Human Interest.

To students of political and economic history, no matter what opinions they may have of its scientific correctness, the present spread of the prohibition sentiment is deeply interesting. It emphasizes the fact that it is as true now as then, when Lassaigne contended it more than a hundred years ago that "reforms travel in waves or cycles." The last great temperance wave was in the 70's. Great as it was, it was in no wise as great as the present movement, and was more nearly to be truthfully described as a "wave." It rose in a year and passed away in two or three. The present movement has been forming for ten years, and has extended all over the United States. Even Texas will at the present rate of progression be a dry state in a few years, and it looks very much as though Illinois, second only to Kentucky as the mother of booze, would not be far behind. What is true in these states is true in many others, and there is no wonder that the millions invested in breweries and distilleries are uneasy. To be sure they are not in immediate danger, on account of the grotesque ruling of the courts in regard to "original packages," and all that sort of thing, whereby the ridiculous precedent was set that a person may buy an article that is contraband at home with impunity elsewhere. However, owing to the peculiar way in which the sentiment is growing, it is not inadmissible to predict that in ten years the nation will be as dry as Dayton is now, which is certainly carrying the point of aridity far from the acquia. It is another question whether it will stay dry. The average student will be inclined to believe that it will share the fate of other crusades, the anti-Masonic, the anti-Catholic, and many others that have flourished for a while and then petered out, as people got over their hysterics and saw that they were chasing a rabbit. Of course there are exceptions to all rules, and this may be one of them, but it will take time to determine the fact.

Since the greater part of the Pecos Valley has gone dry, and Tucumcari, Roswell and Carlsbad are marked for early tests, this is certainly a live subject, and perhaps the writer may be asked for precedents in support of his deduction of the evanescence of these waves. It is not difficult, and we may with propriety take the liquor using first, as it is the paramount evil, and certainly the most ancient. There is absolutely no doubt of this antiquity. It existed in Babylon, in Tyre, in Thebes, and in Uz, and comparatively modern history is filled with references to it. For instance in the fourth century before Christ, Pythias went up from Massilia, now Marseilles, in the southwestern part of France, through Northern Brittany, and thence over to England. He described it as a region of forests, and grain fields, of many cattle and sheep and growing grain, which the inhabitants made into whisky, with honey. That was three hundred years before Caesar swarmed up from the south and taught Johnny Bull how to play seven-up. It is more than two thousand years from now, and the English drink whisky to this day, drink it all over the world. They have spent more for it than they have on their armies and navies and for education combined. It is hard to pry them loose from it in the tropics and in the arctic. It is born in the flesh, and has been transmitted from them to all the nations of earth of Anglo-Saxon blood. It is almost impossible to conceive of a nation that speaks English being a nation of teetotallers. Ages of heredity are behind the taste for fire water, and what is true of them is true to a greater or less degree all over the world. If there is to be such a great change, chiefly it must be done by education, and there is no lack of method in the idea of education used by the W. C. T. U. and other dry societies. It were the only way the thing can be accomplished. It is a matter of education, whole-ly, if the thing is to be made permanent, of demonstrating its wisdom as a matter of health and morals rather than of economics, properly speaking. A great number of this generation will need convincing evidence, although many have already been convinced, and you will find a hundred men in this town who will vote for the dry ticket every chance they get, whom ordinary deduction would class as 100 to 1 shots for the wet bunch. As it is here, so is it doubtless all over the country, and if there is any reason to believe the present tide will be permanent, it comes most of all from this class, who refuse to have their views known, but are quietly there when it is time to vote.

How truly the prejudices of years are wiped away may be gathered from that remarkable gathering at New Rochelle, New York, on the 8th of June, when the centenary of Thomas Paine was celebrated by a great and thoroughly cosmopolitan gathering. It is not so very long ago that such a thing would have been impossible, and the ministers who participated in this event would have been bounced bodily from their jobs. And yet Paine was one of the purest and sweetest souls that ever lived, a patriot of holy resolve, a great thinker, a philanthropist and a deep student of the light. If he were alive today, he would be accepted as one of the greatest Unitarian preachers. But for seventy-five years he was forever crucified, and it was not until the American people began to count its treasures that he began to be appreciated, that he is honored now, a hundred years after he closed his unstartled eyes upon the joy of life, to open them upon joys eternal. I am not an old man, but I can remember when it was the fashion or rather the way to hold up Paine as a horrible example, to consign him to that place which is as hot as Pecos City, but who all his life lived the Golden Rule, loved his fellow man and his native land. Of truth we are getting broader, getting closer to the real brotherhood and the time when the gospel of love will rule the world. The spirit of gentle Tom Paine must smile as it beholds the change. I believe it does, for I am one of those who find it impossible to believe that a great and useful life ends with the grave. Rather does it then begin.

It would seem to a man up a tree that the persistence of Teddy Roosevelt is about the most wonderful thing of the age. From the depths of the nigger continent he forwards a screed to the Outlook that winds up with a sweeping denunciation of all newspapers who do not agree with him. It does seem that after the versatile theorist was so thoroughly cleaned up for his fool screed about socialism that he would stand hitched for a while but he seems to have forgotten that there is such a man as Debs, and that a shut mouth is often very becoming. Great is Roosevelt, great in his policies, great in his intellectuality until it gets tangled up with facts, and great in his egotism. It is often to laugh, now that he is no longer president and open to criticism the same as the common dubs. He is getting to be windier than Bryan, weaker than Cochran, and a bigger chump than Elliot. All of which is going some.

It is not likely that the discovery that a man by the name of Lowenstein, at Ysleta, near El Paso, eats alfalfa in place of breakfast food, will stay in the limelight very long. He will be featured by the alfalfa meal fellows for a while, and then forgotten in the shadow of the fact that we need all of the alfalfa for more valuable animals than mere man.

The latest geological figures are that the earth is 240,000,000 years old. That is a good bit of a while all right but it is merely an incident to the time that the fellow who takes a paper out of the office for two years and then turns it back marked "refused" will have it bumped to him. Vengeance is the Lord's and it will take more than the time expressed to discipline such pups.

The recent swarming of Fighting Bill Mullane was something of a surprise to the rest of the bunch, who are now making impertinent remarks about it, though all of them are honestly glad that the old man is drifting back toward civilization. Everybody on the slope either swears at or by Bill Mullane, and have ever since he sprouted the Carlsbad Current. It is no surprise to me, however. I have known it for quite a while. It only takes a very slight symptom when an Irishman is concerned, and I was morally positive that something was going to happen this spring when he began to congratulate the young people when they stepped off. Whenever an editor lays it on thick at such times, you can always bet that he is either going to be married or wishes he wasn't. It is the human nature of the calling, and just to show that we are all de-lighted, as Teddy would say, that staunch old Bill is in out of the wet, we are going to insist that he and his bride lead the grand march when the Pecos Valley Press association meets at the beautiful in a month or two. We owe him that much for reminding us that Cupid is mightier than Mars.

Speaking of Press associations, I notice that the Las Vegas Optic is suggesting the formation of a territorial association, referring feelingly to that midnight meeting at Santa Fe, after the last republican convention, when it was decided to organize one and absorb the Pecos Valley association. The P. V.'s refused to be absorbed, when I submitted the matter to them as the president at that time. They were doing mighty well as it was. They were in favor of a territorial association all right, but when it came to paying fare like common folks, it was not prudent to give up a tried society and blow themselves on a territorial body. They reasoned that the more local associations the better, and if they were united into a general federation or territorial association it would be best for all. There is certainly sense in the idea, and it is most likely through local associations with a general union that the territory must be organized. In the past dozen years there have been several attempts to organize a state body, all of which failed. That such an one would be deeply beneficial no one can doubt. If we had had one, there would have been no Sweezy mistake, and there would not be several other mistakes. Admitting these thoughts as the correct dope, we can of truth advise the other sections of the territory to follow the Pecos Valley's example and organize a local association. It will fit them for fast company when the territory becomes a state and there is a big New Mexico Press association.

There is reason for the deep disgust that is felt all over the land at the proceedings of the Gould divorce case, in which day after day the tragedy of misspent lives is brought out in open court and scattered all over the land. There ought to be some way to cover up such stuff, just the same as there is to reduce other forms of public nuisance. It smells bad, is infinitely hurtful to society generally, and a deep reproach upon the country at large. The prominence of the parties makes no difference whatever. If anything it makes it worse, for without the daily rack of bread-struggle, they ought to have time to be decent. If they have not, when they get to the point of telling the truth about each other, there should be a law compelling private hearings alone. It is a subversion of justice to turn a more or less respectable court into a sewer.

Now it is given out that Hon. A. C. Campbell, or "Andy" Campbell, as we used to call him here in Roswell and Carlsbad, is going to be promoted chief law shark for the reclamation service. If he is, I suppose there will be another howl about the Pecos Valley hogging everything. It also illustrates the fact that no matter what they want the man for, we have him.

A great and useful genius has been denied the newspaper business, by the refusal of Will Marable of Dayton to quit selling real estate. Ever since he came forward with the proof that he cut thirteen tons of alfalfa hay per acre on his ranch, it has been apparent that there was a great and shining light hid under a bushel. With such genius as that on tap, I guess he

Of Interest to Farmers and Mechanics.

Farmers and mechanics frequently meet with slight accidents and injuries which cause them much annoyance and loss of time. A cut or bruise may be cured in about one-third the time usually required by applying Chamberlain's Liniment as soon as the injury is received. This liniment is also valuable for sprains, soreness of the muscle and rheumatic pains. There is no danger of blood poisoning resulting from an injury when Chamberlain's Liniment is applied before the parts become inflamed and swollen. For sale by Redford & Mann.

If I want what I want when I want it I go to Harpold the Tailor to get it.

Women Who Are Envied

Those attractive women who are lovely in face, form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion. Many charming women owe their health and beauty to them. 50c at Pecos Valley Drug Co.

couldn't make those amateur parsons at Portales look mighty small. It isn't exactly fair that fate should divert the streams of humanity into the wrong channels, and this case proves it to the queen's taste.

The differing ways in which people look at the matter of bond issues is instructive in the extreme. Every conceivable motive has inspired the support and carriage of the various issues that have been submitted in the Pecos Valley this year. To be sure many are inspired by a high-minded desire for the common good, to conserve the public health, but it must be confessed that more are led to champion the issues from a perfectly justifiable impulse of self interest. Not a bond issue in New Mexico would carry if it were not the general belief that the investment would add several times as much to the value of the property affected. The theory is sound, and has proven out in practice, and it really makes no difference if it is the chief argument in getting permanent improvements. Self interest is what actuates most of us anyhow, and it is not often that in reaching after it everybody is benefited, as they are by the installation of sewers and water. It is only a matter of a little while until Tucumcari, Clovis, Portales, Roswell, Artesia and Carlsbad will have more miles of sewer, sidewalk, water lines and street paving than all the rest of the territory combined, and be the healthiest and most prosperous towns in the west. It cuts no ice if the installation of these improvements was purely a matter of self interest on the part of the people of those towns. That it is, makes the improvements all the more valuable.

In a recent letter I spoke of the wisdom of an income tax as a matter of sense and justice, and since the same was published I have received letters from all parts of the country endorsing my view of the subject as a strictly non-partisan matter. From them I gather that without exception, the idea appeals in the form stated, so that the special message of President Taft on the subject is especially timely so far as our little world is concerned. To be sure he sets forth the point, which may be readily admitted, that there is no sense in passing an income tax until the constitution has been amended so as to make sure the approval of the supreme court, which could not be had in the first attempt for such a tax. He favors the submission of an amendment without the concurrence of the states, which is a wise thing, as the matter should be decided by a popular vote of all the people, protected from the slush funds and interference of corporate and other interests as would inevitably butt in if it were taken up by states. He also favors as a forerunner to a regular income tax a system of excise or corporation taxes, which he contends would be constitutional, though just where he gets his dope is a little hard to understand. That he should take such a stand points to the direction of a correct system of income, corporation and inheritance taxes, phases of government support that have been too long neglected, and which should certainly be utilized until such time as the real, rational system is adopted in this country, and which will do away with all other forms. I refer to the single tax, of course, which is also a non-partisan principle, and one that is certain to come when education has progressed far enough. That may be a life time away, and in the meantime all roads that lead to it should be used by the people. By all means submit the amendment. The time is ripe for it and it will help the people to see that there is a growing disposition to make the big fellows share the load of the little fellows.

This stand of President Taft is only second in interest to the newspaper fraternity to the effort to increase the duty on wood pulp, which looks now as though it would go through, in spite of all the protest of a hundred thousand newspapers and the reading portion of seventy millions of people. There is absolutely nothing to justify such an increase of tariff. On the contrary there is every reason why this duty should be abolished altogether. It would be wiped out if it were not for the highly intelligent work of the great paper trust, which has shrewdly contorted the healthful principle of protection, which was never meant to protect an industry to the point of the oppression of the people and the limitation or embarrassment of the press, the real corner stone of American liberty. This also is really a non-partisan matter, in which there is on one side the power of corporate greed and on the other side the consuming public who demand a square deal.

An amusing spectacle is afforded students by the rustling that is now being done to secure the stated number of subscribers for the new Martinez paper at Albuquerque. In Roswell alone a committee led a hundred men to pony up five apiece, and the natural question occurs, how many of them would be equally industrious in boosting a home paper? Of course no home paper would have the gall to ask anybody to buy a pig in a poke like that, but the question occurs just the same, and it is all the more persistent because the inspiring reason for the invasion of Martinez is well known. He has been promised a United States senatorship upon the admission of the territory, which has been made him by the leaders of the democratic party, with the complacent knowledge of a few fool republicans, who ought to have more sense. The whole bunch of them are throwing in to fatten the batting average of a citizen of another state, who is not nearly so competent or generally fit for a senatorship as dozens of our own citizens. Lots of people have chipped in on the deal without knowing these facts, or rather not stopping to absorb them. Many of these ignorant patriots will buck and gag right when the job is worked, but just now they are the gold brick subjects who would freeze up like clams if any such attempt was made to get them to help out the worthy local paper, which would be infinitely more to their profit and that of New Mexico. Of truth a sucker is born every minute.
