HEARST TROPHY

"The Valleys Pride" Will Go to Carlsbad After Festival

RAILROADS AND CHATAUQUA

Discussed. Also Trade Excursion. Railroad Meeting Monday Night.

In response to a courteous request for the temporary use of the Hearst Trophy, the Commercial Club Monday night voted to instruct the secretary of our willingness to oblige, and to try to make arrangements for final amicable settlement of the funny little fracas that has been going on of late. The Club also heard about the efforts to secure new depot and about the several suggestions that have been made as to the best way to lure the coy "San Diego" road to this part of the "vale of water." The proposition to join the Pecos Valley trade excursion which leaves Roswell in October was endorsed and the committee on correspondence told to hump itself and see "whose a gwine" and report next Monday night. Monday night is railroad night and all club members are urged to be there and tell what they think ought to be done and how it ought to be done. This is important. Come out and let us hear from you. Other matters were discussed too. Here are the

MINUTES OF THE MEETING AUGUST 23, 1909

The Club met in regular session at its rooms at 8:30 o'clock p. m., with president J. G. Osburn in the chair and Jas. D. Whelan acting secretary pro tem, in the absence of that official.

The roll revealed the presence of the president J. G. Osburn; the 1st vice president, G. U. McCrary; and the following directors, J. J. Sullivan, H. G. Gray, E. C. Higgins, Henry Nimitz, G. U. McCrary and Jas. D. Whelan.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

Members of the committees on correspondence and advertising, and on native produce and irrigation, said that no meetings of their respective committees had been held and that none had been called by the chairmen thereof. S. E. Ferree of the first named committee suggested that advertising matter should be issued by the club and kept on hand to send to prospectors and to those who desire information in regard to the town and country, real estate men to buy said books through the club. This idea was endorsed by D. D. Sullivan and R. M. Davis.

A communication was read from Frank Richards, secretary of the Carlsbad Commercial Club requesting that the Hearst Trophy be expressed to Carlsbad for a short time at the expense of Carlsbad Commercial Club. The letter stated that Artesia had had the cup as many months as Carlsbad had had it weeks, and that the Carlsbad Commercial Club was especially anxious to have it during the Firemen's Tournament and meeting of the Pecos Valley Press Association in October. Moved by Whelan and seconded by Ferree and Davis that the secretary be instructed to reply that the Artesia Commercial Club will be glad to comply with request of Carlsbad Commercial, since the request comes from that body in its own behalf; that however, Artesia will have a celebration, to wit the Annual Alfalfa Festival and the Chatauqua course in less than a month from date, and prior to the meetings in Carlsbad referred to in the letter from date; for which reason Artesia desires to retain said Trophy until after said meetings when it will turn it over in compliance with request; and that the secretary be further instructed to urge the necessity for a permanent arrangement between the towns of Artesia, Hope and Carlsbad in regard to the rotation and proper care of the Trophy. The motion was favorably discussed by McCrary and others and then carried unanimously.

Tammany Hall.

"New York, Aug. 18—Tammany Hall, the most corrupt and vitiating American political institution, now has on its hands the little job of electing a successor to its present mayor, George B. McClellan. It's August, it's hot, election is about 75 days off, but Tammany is cool and active in the work of lifting up its criminal allies—thieves, thugs, white slave traders, divekeepers, saloonkeepers, vagrants and riff-raff, who are depended upon to unite forces on "the big bay" for the big causes of graft and lawlessness.

That Tammany will this year, as usual, depend upon professional criminals to carry the election is shown by recent sinister events. But there will be a slight change in methods. To elect a Tammany mayor will mean to the big grafters continued control of $150,000,000 annual city expenditures, besides untold millions from other sources for the little fellows—the criminal element."

The above is taken from a New York syndicate letter which appeared last week in a number of Republican papers throughout the country. Frankly, it is tiresome to us, because unjust and misleading.

Not that Tammany does not do all of the mean things charged against it, but because it does far worse things in which it is acting as the tool for the plutocratic forces that inspired the article from which we have quoted.

We are fairly well versed in the literature of Tammany. We know that there is some stealing of public moneys; indirectly of course, by favoring contractors and the like; for there is little downright stealing of municipal funds and has been little since Tweed, and not overly much then. We are quite convinced that the white slave trade is being plied virtually under the protection of the police of the metropolis; that gambling is rampant in large portions of the city under the same sort of protection; that saloonkeepers violate the laws of God and man and are permitted to do so on account of the payment of certain sums to the Hall.

In view of all this, it may seem strange that we should say that there are worse things done with the connivance of the men who periodically take a spasm of reform and set forces at work to "purify" New York.

But it is true, for the "thieves, thugs, white slave traders, dive-keepers, saloon-keepers, vagrants and riff-raff" could not maintain Tammany in power for a day were they not supported by the so-called best people; the four hundred, the magnates of Wall street, the railroad kings and the holders of franchises who buy councils to grant them perpetual licenses to loot. It is from "rake-offs" received from such as these that the great part of the boodle of Tammany comes. To be sure, nothing escapes, from the Dago peanut vendor to the giant monopoly, but all that the little fellows combined (and among the little fellows we include the whole vast liquor element of the great city) contribute would not account for the enormous fortunes that are piled up by the Tammany chieftains.

Every franchise of magnitude that is issued to "our best people," the relations-in-law of dukes and counts and other descendants of robber barons; means more for the sachems than the combined annual contributions of the saloons and white slave traders. Of course, the beneficiaries of the privileges granted will not fight Tammany regularly, for speaking generally, they can get their licenses to steal more cheaply from a systematic institution like Tammany than from a bunch of amateur grafters who creep in under the wing of a real reformer. Once in awhile however, Tammany grows arrogant and demands more than the big monopolists are willing to pay, whereupon there is a crusade against the small grafter and the iniquities of Tammany Hall are painted in gruesome colors. Ordinarily there is a secret understanding between the Republican city machine and Tammany; which means a division of the spoils, but when there is a probability of a Tammany defeat the Republican organization joins hands with the reformers and names enough hungry grafters on the so-called reform ticket to render all real attempts at reform futile in the event that Tammany is defeated.

Moreover, even the best reformers who seek office in New York fail to look under the surface, and content themselves with prosecuting petty grafters. They fear to antagonize the really powerful elements which make Tammany and municipal corruption possible. The Lexow report resulted in making a so-called reformer, Strong, mayor; but not only were things generally not improved, but the city actually received less for money expended than under the most corrupt Tammany regimes. Mayer Low's administration was a failure: though Low is an honest man and hunted the small criminals consistently and persistently. There was less official corruption and more official incompetence under Low than under Tammany. People prefer those who "Do Things;" with all its wickedness Tammany is an effective administrator.

Henry George was the only anti-Tammany candidate for half a century who made a fight on the real source of power of the great graft machine. He was twice defeated: once by the assistance of one Theodore Roosevelt as a stalking horse for Tammany, and once by death. He traced the power of evil to the great monopolists who are "Too good to mix in politics;" and whose alleged abstemiousness in this respect has furnished the tearful text for more than

Lastly, it is unjust to charge that Tammany is the most corrupt political institution in America. It is no more corrupt than the Philadelphia Republican machine which cooperates with the Democratic minority in that city or than the infamous San Francisco machine. In San Francisco, Spreckles and Heney are doing what Henry George would have done had he been elected in New York: exposing the real powers behind the grafters; and they have traced the trail all the way up to the Southern Pacific Railway Company and E. H. Harrison; side partner of aforesaid Theodore Roosevelt in the New York campaign of 1904—he to whom said Roosevelt affectionately declared "you and I are practical men," in a letter written before they fell out about the terms of the agreement, and before Roosevelt called Harrison a liar.

Everywhere all political corruption worth mentioning can be traced to the beneficiaries of privilege and everywhere the surface reformers do more harm than good by obscuring the real issue.

If the anti-Tammanyites in New York will put up a man who will strike at the root of the evil by pointing out its source; they will win a moral victory even though they do not carry the election; but if they are content with merely assailing the minor forces of evil they will exhaust themselves as usual even though they elect their ticket and the result will be a return of Tammany after a brief exile, with reformers permanently weakened by the manifest futility of their own victory.

Applications for membership from E. E. Maddox, W. L. Bishop and Richard J. Hill, properly recommended and endorsed were read in open meeting and as there were a majority of the board of directors present, the gentlemen were elected under suspension of rules.

The matter of a trade excursion to Southern points concerning which a communication had been received from J. A. Graham, secretary of the Roswell Commercial Club, then came before the club and was discussed by Higgins, Gunter, D. D. and J. J. Sullivan, McCrary, Ferree, Morgan, Davis and Reeves. Moved by Whelan seconded by Reeves that the plan be endorsed and that the committee on correspondence and advertising take up the matter and make an effort to find out approximately how many desire to go; the same to be reported at a meeting to be held Monday night. Carried.

The railroad committee reported concerning action with reference to new depot and stockyards. Whelan said that at the suggestion of E. R. Gesler of said committee, he had consulted the station agent C. O. Brown in regard to culverts under the railroad track on Main street. Mr. Brown had stated that the matter had been taken up by the city council some months ago and an engineer sent here whose report led the company to refuse the request on the ground that the streets had not been originally graded in the right direction and that the water is not now following its natural course. No further action had been taken. Many suggestions had been made in regard to the proposed San Diego, El Paso & St Louis road and he favored an effort to get out a full meeting Monday night and that everybody come prepared to tell what they believe in regard to the best way to proceed. Morgan opposed delay, and suggested that the present meeting had been principally for the purpose of discussing that question and the members had been notified; would they attend better Monday night? He favored a just bonus to the road, provided it prove to be a bona fide proposition, and the proper protection were afforded Artesias interests, and told several experiences which came under his observation in Kansas. After some discussion and an agreement to get all the members possible out Monday night, the club adjourned until that time; when the unfinished business referred to and the final arrangements for the Bryan chataqua course will come up for determination.

Breakfast in Honor of Miss Sincoke

A delightful musical morning was spent by the Artesia musicians at the Kauffman residence Wednesday, when Mrs. Kauffman and Mrs. Erb entertained at breakfast in honor of Miss Lena Sincoke of Des Moines Iowa. Miss Sincoke is undoubtedly the most gifted and accomplished pianist who has visited Artesia and the musical people counted themselves fortunate to have the opportunity of hearing her in this informal way. The entertainment of the morning consisted of a program of musical numbers, both vocal and instrumental, rendered by the home musicians, a very accomplished class of ladies, and a few numbers by the guest of honor. Miss Sincoke's playing was a joy and delight to those who heard her. To the musical temperament she has added all the proficiency that comes from superior and thorough training and the result is a charm, which must be heard to be appreciated and which makes the hearers long for a continuation of the beautiful harmonies. She has very graciously consented to give a recital for the benefit of the Presbyterian choir at the church next Tuesday evening at which time the citizens of the town will have an opportunity to hear her play. The musical feast completed, a four course breakfast was served by the hostess, little Maud Erb and Mary Kauffman assisting. The place cards were unique, each bearing upon its face a little original melody containing upon its staff some letters in the name of the guest at whose plate it was found. The floral decorations were golden glow and roses. At this second social function given this week by these charming and successful hostesses the guests were Mesdames Corbin, McCrary, Enfield, Love, Phillips, Ray, Yates, Ragsdale and Hobbs and the Misses Lily McIlhany, Cora Rice, Lora Williams, Vivian Newkirk, Margaret Mathes, Sara Owen, Ivy Morgan and Anna Jones.

Reception for Miss Bertha Schenck

Artesia has been having many social affairs of late, but the first reception out of doors was that given upon the Schenck lawn by Mesdames Schenck and McCreary last Wednesday afternoon from half after four until six o'clock in compliment to their sister, Miss Bertha Schenck of Ludington, Michigan. The broad stretch of shady greensward to which the bright hues of bunting lent color and attractiveness, was an ideal place for an afternoon gathering and the fresh coolness of out doors was much enjoyed by the guests, who numbered nearly a hundred. The ladies were met at the gate by little Ruth Inman and Norman Clyde, who made charming little ushers. Mrs. Inman, Mrs. Darwin Reed and Miss Ellen Sangter assisted in entertaining upon the lawn and Miss Grace McCreary presided over the refreshments of pine apple ice and wafers, which were served in the house and porch. She was assisted by Misses Alta Sang-

Section 3. All of the sidewalks herein above mentioned shall be made and constructed as follows:

SPECIFICATIONS

Section 1. That all sidewalks constructed within the Town of Artesia pursuant to this ordinance shall be built of cement and according to the specifications prescribed in Sections Two and Three of this ordinance.

Section 2. The building of all cement sidewalks shall be under the direction and control of the Town Engineer, or some competent person that the Town Board may, in the absence of the Engineer, elect or when he is unable perform the work herein required. Such walks shall be built according to the following specifications:

1. Stakes shall be set by the direction of the Engineer to define the line of one edge of the walk with a grade mark thereon to indicate the top of the walk at said line. The transverse slope of the walks shall be one-eighth (1-8) of an inch per foot and shall be determined by such means as said Engineer shall direct.

The sidewalks shall be graded to a width designated by said Engineer for the entire length, including all wings and curvings on a well packed sub-grade, four (4) inches the top of the grade level and leveled to an even surface; and must be satisfactory to the Engineer, and first be inspected and accepted by him.

3. Upon this sub-grade a pavement of the following description shall be placed. The pavement shall consist of a foundation of good Portland cement concrete the layer not less than three inches deep well rammed and compacted, and wearing surface of Portland cement mortar one inch thick, except that on Main street the sub-grade shall be not less than six inches thick.

4. All material shall be of good quality and must be inspected by the Town Engineer: the gravel used in the concrete shall be of such size that the largest dimensions of any place shall not exceed 2 inches and the sand used shall be of the best quality sharp and clean and free from dust, loam and other foreign matter, as must also be the gravel used.

5. The cement used shall be Portland cement of good quality.

6. The water shall be fresh and free from earth, dirt or sewage.

7. The concrete shall consist of one part in volume of Portland Cement, two parts sand and five parts gravel.

8. The cement, gravel and sand in the specified proportions shall be thoroughly mixed dry in a tight box or on a platform with shovels or hoes by turning at least three times until no streaks are visible; water then shall be added in sufficient quantity to produce the desired consistency, and the whole thoroughly mixed until a homogeneous mass is produced.

9. All surfaces on or against which concrete is to be laid shall be thoroughly cleaned and dampened by sprinkling with water just previous to placing the concrete.

10. The concrete shall be evenly spread upon the foundations as soon as mixed in a layer of such depth that after having been thoroughly compacted with rammers until moisture rises on top, it shall not be in any place less than three inches thick, and the upper surface of it shall be parallel with the proposed surface of the completed pavement.

11. The flag or slab divisions shall be formed by cutting the concrete clear thru as soon as laid in blocks of 5 feet square.

12. Concrete shall not be mixed in larger quantities than can be used in twenty minutes and no batch shall be larger than one cubic yard.

13. The wearing surface shall be composed of one part in volume of cement to two parts of clean sharp sand.

14. The cement and sand in specified proportions shall be thoroughly mixed dry on a platform or in a tight box until no streaks are visible. Clear water then shall be added in sufficient quantities to produce a mortar of the desired consistency, and all be turned and mixed until a homogeneous mass is produced.

15. The mortar while fresh shall be spread over the concrete base before the latter has reached its first set in such quantities that after being thoroughly manipulated and spread over the concrete it will make a layer one inch thick conforming to the required grade and cross section. It shall be smooth and present a neatly finished surface.

16. The surface shall then be cut into flags, the marking to be made directly over the joints in the concrete and cut clear through the wearing surface with edges nicely turned and filled with dry sand also edged at each side of the walk shall be nicely turned as per plans, and sides plastered with wearing coat and smoothed off. The pavements shall be kept moist and protected from the elements and travel by half inch of sand kept dampened for at least five days. Mortar or concrete that fails to show a proper bond or fails to set after, in the opinion of the Town Engineer, it has been allowed sufficient time, shall be removed and material of proper quantity put in its place. Wooden frames or molds must be left in place until the cement sets perfectly and to the satisfaction of said Engineer.

Section 3. And it is further provided that in the above order to construct such sidewalks it is intended that the owner or owners of the lots affected shall only be required to build to the limit of above description. Provided, however, that the owner or owners of each corner lot shall build such sidewalks seven feet beyond the limit of such lot or lots in all cases where sidewalks from an intersecting street are not already built upon such additional seven feet the intention being to affect a complete union and joining of all sidewalks that will intersect each other within the territory hereinabove described.

Section 4. That owners of lots abutting said proposed sidewalks, as hereinabove specified and set out, are hereby given ninety days from and after the publication of this ordinance in which to complete the laying and construction of the sidewalks specified in Section 2 hereof in accordance with plans and specifications referred to in Section 3 hereof.

Section 5. That in the event of the failure of the owners or owners of said abutting lots within the territory described in this ordinance, to comply with the provisions of this ordinance, the same will be done by authority of the said Town of Artesia, and the cost thereof will be assessed and collected, together with the cost of any action that may be brought against any one or more of said owners as in such such cases by law made and provided.

Section 6. This ordinance shall have full force and effect from and after five days after its publication.

At a meeting of the house committee of the Artesia Commercial Club held Wednesday afternoon, it was decided that hereafter dancing will not be a feature of the public receptions of the club either during the time of, or as a sequel to, said entertainments. This decision was arrived at in deference to the scruples of some of the members who are conscientiously opposed to dancing of all kinds, and who would otherwise be glad to participate in the social meetings. The dances have always been highly pleasurable and enjoyable in every way to those who participated. The member of the house committee show no signs of unusual spiritualization, as the majority of them take part in the mad whirl of the festive fandango, whenever an opportunity is presented.

Make Fourteen in Last Partisan Game-Will be Played Off Tuesday.

It took fourteen lively innings and night to make a draw game between the Democrats and the Republicans in their last game Tuesday, which was to decide the contest for supremacy on the diamond. The game was too long and strenuous for a sciolist to describe: so we shall not go into details. At the end of the ninth it stood four and four and from that to the end each side crept up just as much as the other did. There was plenty of slugging and not a few errors, but the game abounded in brilliant plays and there was something doing every minute. When the sun went down on the field of carnage at the end of the fourteenth and saw the teams seven and—Manager Linell wisely determined not to make an all night affair and called the deciding game for next Tuesday afternoon when the tie and the rub will be played off. Here is the lineup for the next game.

RECEPTION GREAT SUCCESS

The reception given by the Artesia Commercial Club, Friday of last week was one of most successful events ever held in Artesia. Notwithstanding the heavy rain, the hall was crowded. The evening was delightfully spent. The Club hostess, Mrs. J. G. Osburn, was assisted in receiving by Mesdames C. W. Williams and C. N. Welton and Miss Leona Williams.

Mrs. M. A. Corbin will assist Miss Sincoke at the recital at the Presbyterian church next Tuesday evening, giving assurance of a doubly fine entertainment for Mrs. Corbin has a beautiful and highly cultivated voice of much power and sweetness.

Western College will open on schedule time, Tuesday 9 a. m. September 21. Teachers for all the departments have been employed and will be here ready for the opening. A full college course is offered in the Literary Department and to meet the demands tuition will be furnished to a limited number in the grades, beginning with the third grade. The announcements as issued will form a basis to work from and the college management will make any changes necessary to meet the demands.

In addition to the regular literary work, specialists and masters of their profession have been employed for the music, art and oratory departments. It is with pleasure that we announce that Mrs. S. W. Gilbert will have charge of the art studio at the college. A large china kiln will be provided and all branches of art will be taught. Miss Allene Stowe of Iowa, a successful teacher of several years experience will have charge of the oratory department. In this department tuition will be furnished not only in oratory but also in physical culture.

Miss Nellie O. Francis an artist and teacher of note will be in charge of the music. To those wishing to do a high grade work in music no better instruction can be secured this side of an Eastern Conservatory.

It is the purpose to make the first session of Western College strictly first class in every respect. We invite your investigation and solicit your patronage. Citizens of Artesia and community help us make a good showing this the first session of Western College.

GAMBLERS, BEWARE!

It is said that Judge Pope has decided to give convicted gamblers not less than six months. Those pleading guilty before justices should see that the name of the offense appears in the records. Otherwise it is no protection, and records cannot be amended. Luckily, there is no gambling in Artesia.

Some folks imply that a certain Southend editor is not entitled to a Carnegie Bravery medal. After all, a rag that is edited by a blackleg who fawns upon a gentleman, whom he permitted, without resentment to slap him for lying about a friend; and managed by a blackmailer, who (before purchasing that nickel's worth of cartridges) fled from the just wrath of the crippled head of family whom he was holding up for "bloodmoney," ought not to be too hard on others who have "rabbits in their feet."

What of an Ice Plant?

The Board of Directors of the Artesia Commercial Club met Thursday afternoon and heard J. S. Russ discuss the ice plant proposition. He says he can cut down the cost of ice fifty per cent. He proposes that the town or the people give him two lots near the railroad track, free water and a franchise; these conditions subject to change. The matter was referred to the committee on railroads and manufactures.

We certainly need all the improvements we can get and an ice plant would be a great benefit to Artesia.

IMPRESSIONS OF A TENDERFOOT

Being Unorthodox Sketches Of Real Human Interest.

Deep general interest has been inspired by the case of Joseph R. Clarkson, formerly justice of the district court of Omaha. The judge wandered away from home, as he had once eighteen years before. When his folks found him he was doing honest work on a farm under an assumed name. They said he was temporarily deranged, and maybe he was. In the sight of the world any man who would forsake a lucrative law practice and take to the hay fields has something loose in his cabeza. The judge himself did not explain it. He said that he simply had an itching to do honest work once more, to feel the of normal labor run down his body, and to heave hay and dally with the south end of a cultivator drawn by a strawberry mule and a hogback bay. He used to be a dandy at that sort of game, and just wanted to see if the accumulated tripe of a sedentary life could be worked off. He shook his professional garb and put on a hickory shirt and a pair of overalls. For the first time in eighteen years he felt that he could really breathe. Then taking along only tobacco money, he hit the grit. The first farmer he asked for a job thought he was a big fat bluffing tramp, and set the dog on him. The next one set him on to a wood pile and he spit on his hands and went at it. It was a bit awkward at first, but in a little while he caught on and made the chips fly in a different way from that to which he had been accustomed. The next farmer needed hay hands and after a few days of awful and consuming soreness he found he could throw a forkful of timothy clean over the loaded wagon, and the hands voted him a wolf with a red tail. He was prouder of it than he had been a $25,000 fee. In a few weeks the tripe vanished, and his muscles hardened up like a section hand. He could bind his station with any young whelp, and eat as he had thought impossible a few months before. He never even belched after he ate. When the supper-by-lamp-light stunt was over he could sleep on a board and get up in the morning before day, feed the critters and come in for breakfast without having a dark brown taste in his mouth. It was just like it used to be when he was a young man, when he was struggling along like a chump to read law, and had a fool idea that it was a step up to be a professional man. He had worked hard at that, and achieved some fame. All that he had got out of it personally was his board and the dyspepsia. What did it all amount to anyhow? The only breath of real untainted air was when he went to somebody's funeral. The only whiff of a hayfield in eighteen years was once when he was going out to Broken Bow to make a speech, and the said whiff was heavily charged with coal smoke. He hadn't heard a catbird singing in an apple tree, occasionally stopping his melody to howl for the c-a-t, since Heck was a pup. All these years he had been cooped up by these man-made conventions, and tied hard and fast to a treadmill that is without hope except some costly flowers and a coffin before it was time. The fields called him. He longed for the rustle of the corn blades, the zip of the mower, and the unspeakable music of the conch shell at noon. He wanted to be just simply a natural man once more, and see how it felt. He was getting along simply fine when his folks found him and spoiled it all and he either had to go back into the grind or be given a free ride to the bug house and have his property ruled over by a cock-eyed deacon as guardian.

What ailed the judge was simply the call of the wild, for the exultation that comes to man when he beats nature in a wrestle and makes the earth yield to its only conqueror. The philosophers call it "the recrudescence of the primitive man." I am not sure that I know just what that means. I do know what ailed the judge. He had simply gotten a bad bellyful of the false conditions, the perverted customs, the strained ethics of modern life. In the artificial current of the cities he had found by sad experience that every other man was a liar. The hypocrite and the saint rub shoulders every day, and it takes a darn smart feller to tell which is which. The sun rises over dirty roofs and sets in the wheels of the automobile of some son-of-a-gun who has to be sued for his poll tax. Everybody is on the skin. Graft is in the air. Everybody tries to be what they are not, and the cocktail and the demi-tasse take the place of buttermilk and a long deep swig of cold spring water without typhoid germs. It is the fashion of the times to disguise such things, but I bet there isn't one man in ten who has evolved from the soil that doesn't sooner or later have the same longing that the judge did, minus the will to carry it out, cut it for awhile and take to the brush. It is more noticeable when the subject has gotten over the first enthusiasm of the big mill and begins to realize that there is really nothing in it, jerks men into sausages when they should be full of ginger and electricity and have more life in them than a race horse. Then comes the realization that all of these years they have been chasing a will-of-the-wisp, and that fame and position and excessive dinero are not to be compared to a healthy stomach and a knot of muscle on the arm that would choke a steer. The primitive man recudes pretty strong then, and they wish they had the moral strength to go back to the farm. They haven't; they stay right on the firing line until the doctors have to cut out their appendixes and baled hay and peptinoids take the place of beef-steak, fried mush and boiled potatoes. They will all of them join with me in the very sincere belief that Judge Clarkson was not crazy. He was simply so much smarter than his folks that they could only explain it by filing a charge of lunacy, and making it stick with the mass who have voluntarily drifted away from the divine injunction of sure enough labor, and who are the real descendants of society all over the world.

Go To Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Watkins left Wednesday for Plains, Texas where they will make their home. They came from there to Hagerman about two months ago and thought they would reside here permanently, but Mr. Watkins father persuaded them to return to Plains and assist him in his business of running a farm and a blacksmith shop. We regret to see Mr. and Mrs. Watkins leave Hagerman as they are a most worthy young couple, but hope they will find Plains a more agreeable place to live in than they considered it during their former residence there.—Hagerman Messenger.

The Watkins family have many friends in Artesia who endorse all the nice things the nice things the Messenger says about them.

Cholera Infantum Cured.

"Something like two years ago my baby, which was then about a year old, was taken seriously ill with cholera infantum, vomiting and purging profusely, writes J. F. Dempsey of Dempsey, Ala. I did what I could to relieve her but did her no good, and being very much alarmed about her went for a physician but failed to find one, so came back by Elder Bros. & Carter's store and Mr. Elder recommender Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. I procured a bottle of it, went home as quickly as possible and gave the baby a dose of the remedy. It relieved her in fifteen minutes and soon cured her entirely." For sale by Redford & Mann.
