Rain Continues To Fall; Farmers Re-Plant

Timothy W. Kock, director of the Texas Tech School of Banking, informed The Journals this week:

"Last month we offered the 1986 Texas Tech School of Banking. I am pleased to announce that Kay Mardis and Pat Prater, both of Muleshoe State Bank, successfully completed the one week program.

"This program runs one week and comprises over 25 seminars on issues facing the banking industry today. The school is co-sponsored by the Texas Bankers Association and Independent Bankers Association of Texas. Approximately 160 bankers attended this year."

Auston Floyd, who underwent surgery last week at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, is in Room 673E, and would appreciate hearing from his friends while he is recovering.

Family members report he is recuperating very well at this time.

Jacinda Gleason from Muleshoe received a bachelor's degree in biology during Texas A&M University's spring commencement exercises.

A total of 3,460 degrees were awarded, including 2,951 bachelor's, 411 master's and 98 doctoral degrees.

Mike Holt, a 1986 graduate of Muleshoe High School, will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

He was nominated by MHS Counselor Linda Marr, for his achievements in honor roll and leadership.

He is the son of Ronnie and Sue Holt; and his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. F.D. Holt, Muleshoe and Mrs. R.W. Stewart, Lubbock.

Mule Days

Coming Up

In August

Mule Days are fast approaching, and as usual, the pace is picking up in planning for an all-day celebration on Saturday, August 9.

Almost all events will be conducted at Jeff Smith's barn located some two miles east on Highway 70, and one-half mile south.

Events will get started at 6 a.m. with the Omelet races. Following the unique breakfast, the hot air balloon rides will begin at 6:30 a.m. just to the east of the big blue barn on the farm.

Next on the agenda will be the 10-K run at 8 a.m., which starts off from the front of Radio Station KMUL at 600 West Eighth Street.

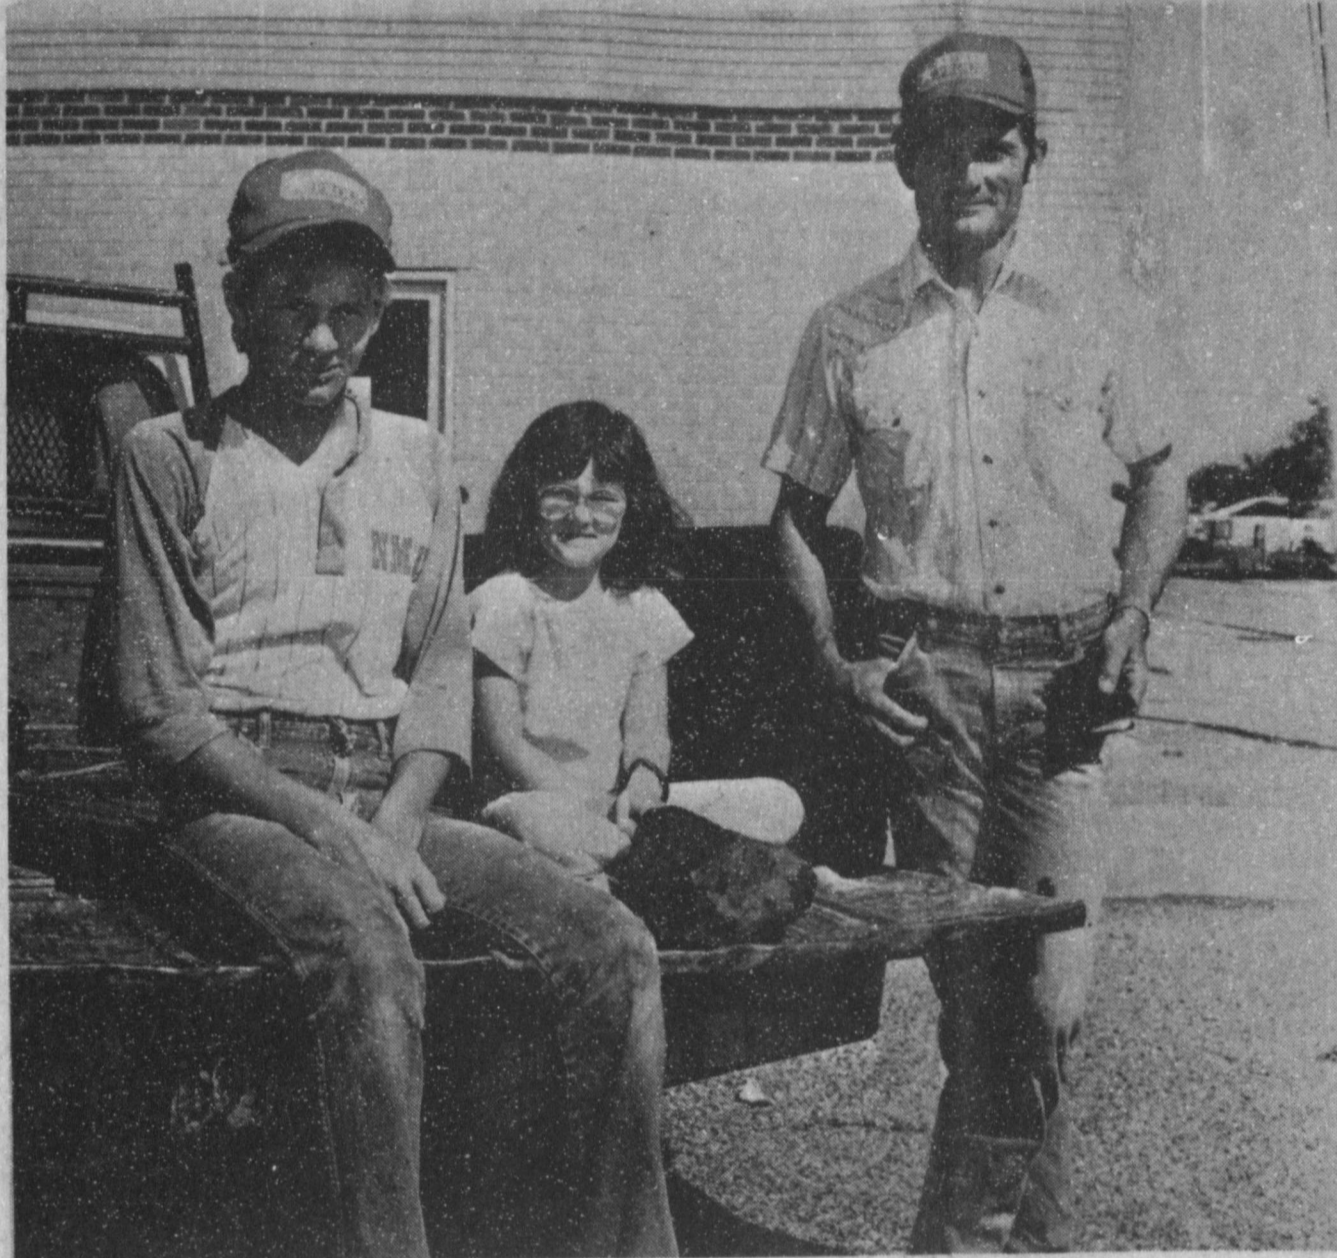

Back at the farm, turtle races, popular with all ages, get underway at 8:30 a.m., followed by the Arts and Crafts Festival in the barn at 9 a.m.

At 10 a.m., the big parade begins in the City of Muleshoe, and entries for the parade are being sought at this time. Co-chairmen Dianne Nicman and Greta McCormick have parade entry forms. Mrs. Nicman can be contacted at 272-5285 or 272-5286; Mrs. McCormick may be called at 272-4838, during the day or 272-4477 in the evening.

After the parade, the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang will again serve lunch at the farm, with the Ole Timers Fiddlers Contest getting underway at 12:30 p.m.

At 1 p.m., the Mule rodeo starts, with the Mule races scheduled for 6 p.m. Winding up the day will be the dinner and dance at 7:30 p.m. at the barn.

A reminder has been issued that all proceeds, after necessary expenses are paid, are contributed to Girlstown, U.S.A. at whiteface. For a complete breakdown of expenses and receipts for the past three years, see Page 6.

METEORITE FOUND NEAR MULESHOE--What geologists describe as a 'rare' meteorite was found this month on a ranch near Muleshoe by Dale Griswold, right. His son, Chad, was nearby when the meteorite was found, as was Steve Griswold, not pictured. The 63-pound meteorite is directly in front of Kimberly Griswold on the tailgate of the pickup. Griswold has taken the meteorite to a geologist at Texas Tech University to verify its authenticity.

Large, Rare Meteorite Found On Ranch South Of Muleshoe

Sunday afternoon, June 8, started out as just another routine afternoon for Dale Griswold, and his sons Steve and Chad. They were rounding up cattle on the Johnny McMurry Ranch south of Muleshoe. The ranch is currently leased by Lee McMurry, and the group was riding horseback on the roundup.

Griswold noticed a depression in the land, and spotted something about two-thirds embedded in the center of the depression.

What he had mistaken for a soft-block (cattle mineral block) turned out to be much more than that. As he checked the substance, he found it to be a very hard, very heavy iron-like substance.

The cattleman then thought he had found an 'Indian Rock' as the area had given up many, many Indian artifacts. This idea was quickly dispelled when he sought to pick up the 'rock.'

As Griswold struggled with the block, which was somewhat smaller than a basketball, approximately half the size, he realized he may have something more, especially by the weight, and the iron-like makeup of the substance.

Griswold carried the rock to an area where he could get his pickup truck to load the rock onto. Griswold took the rock to Texas Tech University where it was checked by Geologist Gary Strathearn, who said he was 90 percent sure the 63 pound rock was a meteorite.

The geologist said that when the meteorite hit the earth, it probably left a crater approximately 100 feet across, fitting in with the low spot where Griswold had found it embedded in the earth.

There is no way to estimate how long the meteorite has laid in the pasture in southeast Bailey County, as Griswold said grass and weeds had filled the crater where he found it.

Also, the geologist explained that golf ball to soft ball are the common sizes for meteorites found anywhere, so the larger meteorite could be considered rather 'rare.'

Strathearn could not estimate the 'dollar value' of the rare meteorite, although he did tell Griswold that it would be greatly prized by rock collectors.

Another geologist, V. Yeats, will be examining the meteorite at a late date, and will verify that it is an authentic meteorite.

Griswold said the geologists have wanted to cut the meteorite into two pieces, but he is to date, very hesitant about allowing such cutting be done on the meteorite he has found.

THE PAST AND THE PRESENT--Paul Wilbanks, left, current president of the Muleshoe Rotary Club, welcomed a very special guest for the Tuesday noon meeting of the civic organization. He is Ray Keeling, right, a former Muleshoe resident, who served as the Muleshoe Rotary's first president. Keeling now resides in Littlefield.

Most Cotton Destroyed In Waterlogged Fields

With National Weather Service keeping the 'promise' of additional moisture for this area, skittish farmers are beginning to feel the pressure of not being able to get into soggy fields to re-plant lost crops.

To date for June, nine to 12 inches of moisture has kept fields waterlogged, and farmers off their tractors. Most cotton in the area has been virtually lost, either through intermittent hail storms, or wash-outs, or from seedling disease and root rot.

What re-planting that has taken place has been in the form of grain sorghum, with a few sunflowers, as farmers begin to run out of time to plant for 1986 crops.

At presstime, the sky was still partially cloudy, a condition that has persisted for more than a week, and NWS said there would be at least a 30 percent chance for additional moisture on Wednesday night and on Thursday.

The area is expected to get a brief respite from the almost constant rain before more moisture moves back into the area for the weekend. Bennie Claunch from Bula reported all the lakes full and overflowing in the southeastern part of the county, as they are beginning to receive the heavy rains that have plagued the northern sections of the county.

Bula was the only place in the county reporting rain for Tuesday night with one-half to one inch being reported on Tuesday night.

"It rains every day and we have lost lots of crops," said Claunch. "Most of the cotton is gone now."

From the Maple Co-op Gin, around 11 inches of rain has been recorded to date in June, and a spokeswoman at the gin said there's "not much cotton in our area now." She said a little planting of grain sorghum is going on, although the fields are almost all too wet to allow the farmers in with their tractors and planters.

A total of 1.37 has been recorded at the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge during the past week, and the refuge Cont. Page 6, Col. 2

Anhydrous Ammonia Seriously Injures Man

Shortly before 9:30 a.m. Monday, the West Plains Ambulance Service, Muleshoe Fire Department and Bailey County Sheriff's office responded to a call from Blackwater Agricultural Association about two miles west of Muleshoe on Highway 84 to an anhydrous ammonia leak.

Arriving, the emergency personnel found that a valve had 'popped off' on one of the ammonia tanks, and ammonia was creating a ground fog that was irritating to eyes, nose, throat and chests.

The ambulance personnel loaded one man onto the ambulance and took him to West Plains Medical Center for emergency treatment. Jimmy Johnson, who was described by hospital personnel as having 'chemical burns' was transferred early Monday afternoon to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Johnson, 36, an employee of Blackwater, was the only person injured seriously enough to require treatment, although ambulance personnel, firemen and the deputy sheriff, Jerry Hicks, all received very liberal doses of the ammonia fumes.

It was explained that if the liquid ammonia touches your skin, it will leave dangerous burns, and that prolonged inhalation of the fumes from the ammonia can cause severe breathing problems.

Firemen utilized Scott Air Packs to go into the ammonia and shut off the escaping liquid, and has a water truck standing by to keep the liquid fertilizer washed away from the fire department emergency personnel.

Summer Jobs

For Area Youth

School is out, it's summertime, and many, many teenagers, are looking for summer employment. Youth Employment Services has reactivated, and is operating out of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

This week, two 'crew chiefs' Jimmy Sinceros and Lawrence Jaramillo, both age 15, have set up four member crews and are going business to business to solicit summer employment.

The Y.E.S. crew chiefs said they will look at whatever job you have for them to do, make an offer to the business or individual for completing the job, and contract for your particular job.

They are centrally located at the Muleshoe CoFC office, and you may call there, 272-4626; or call Jimmy Sinceros at 272-5008, or Lawrence Jaramillo at 272-4626. Overall coordinator will be Della Snell, who is the city's code enforcement officer.

The Church PLANTS and WATERS...

The church plants the seed of faith, waters and tills the soil. These are the things that a church can do, and no more... then God provides the love and life-giving essentials. The growth then depends on the type of soil... is it barren... mediocre... or fertile. Your life with God will grow according to your will and desire.
 "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. But his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in his law doth he meditate day and night. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water."

Holiday Driving Can Be Dangerous Says DPS

Major V.J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety said, "Everyone should know the most dangerous time to drive is on weekends, during the summer, and on holidays. This July 4th holiday is going to combine all three."

The Texas Department of Public Safety will be conducting "Operation Motorcade" from Thursday, July 3 at 6:00 p.m. until Sunday, July 6 at midnight. During this time all available troopers will be working to assist motorists, so they might have a more safe and enjoyable holiday. But Major Cawthon also stated these same troopers will also be on the alert for the motorists who continue to be traffic hazards for everyone and that will be the drinking and the speeding driver.

Major Cawthon warned, "Motorists also need to be on the lookout for people that are using the back roads to discharge fireworks, especially the smaller children. The people that drive out into the country to discharge fireworks need to be especially cautious and watch out for fires and protect other people's property."

So whether you plan a trip across town or maybe across the state, by observing all traffic laws, not drinking and driving and driving as if your life depends on it, you can make this July 4th holiday safe and more enjoyable for everyone.

Born September 10, 1902, in Weatherford, she was a member of the Baptist Church and a member of the Eastern Star in Morton.

Survivors include a daughter, Afton Harless of Burnet; two sisters, Ethel McKnight of Ft. Worth; Georgie Plumly of Hobbs, N.M.; seven grandchildren; 19 great grandchildren; and seven great great grandchildren.

Canning Low-Acid Tomatoes

A little lemon juice may make the difference between safe home canned tomatoes and those that can cause food poisoning, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service specialist.

According to nutritionist Marilyn Haggard, recent U.S. Department of Agriculture research shows that the acidity level of fresh tomatoes drops after canning.

"This can compromise the safety of home canned tomatoes, especially if they are overripe when canned or if the lower-acid varieties are used," she cautions.

The acidity of foods is ranked on a pH scale. Foods that have a pH below 4.6 are acid enough to prevent the production of botulin toxin if heated in a water bath canner.

The botulin toxin can cause a person to become ill with botulism, a serious form of food poisoning.

The specialist explains that foods with a pH about 4.6, such as vegetables and meats, must be canned under pressure to reach a temperature of at least 240 degrees to destroy the botulin organism.

"By adding lemon juice to tomatoes, the acid level will be high enough that home canners can safely use a water bath for tomatoes, rather than having to use a pressure cooker," she advises.

One tablespoon of bottled lemon juice per pint of two tablespoons per quart should be added to the tomatoes, says Haggard. Bottled lemon juice is recommended because it has a uniform pH.

Healthy Eating Requires Label Reading

The ingredient label on food packages can be of great help when you're trying to eat a healthy diet.

Ingredient labels show the proportion of basic foods in a product, since the ingredients are listed in descending order of predominance.

So, for example, a canned beef stew which lists "gravy" as its first ingredient had more gravy than the beef or vegetables listed further down the list.

According to Dr. Alice Hunt, a nutritionist with the Texas A&M University Agriculture Extension Service, it's even more important to use ingredient labels to identify the fat, sodium and sugar in the product.

"The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Dietary Guidelines along with the recommendations of most major health organizations, advise Americans to cut back on fats and avoid too much sugar and sodium," she says. "And the ingredient label is where you find out what substances are included in the food product."

The nutritionist advises checking for the following on ingredient labels:

*Palm oil, palm kernel oil and coconut oil. Although these are vegetable oils, these fats are saturated and raise the level of cholesterol in the blood.

*Hydrogenated vegetable oils. Vegetable oils become saturated when they are "hydrogenated" to make a solid fat. Some margarines and shortening are hydrogenated. Instead, look for corn, soybean, safflower or sunflower oils which are polyunsaturated.

*Sucrose, glucose, maltose, dextrose, lactose, fructose and sirups. These are all sugars. Avoid foods in which these are listed as one of the main ingredients.

*Sodium, soda or Na. Ingredients containing sodium, such as sodium bicarbonate, monosodium glutamate and sodium saccharin, add salt to the diet.

All packaged foods must contain ingredient labels, notes Hunt. Many food product packages also carry nutrition labels which can be of additional help. But these labels are required only if the product makes a nutritional claim.

But first they gave their own selves to the Lord.

MULESHOE PORTALES

New Arrivals

Jonathon David Nowlin

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Nowlin of Lubbock are the proud parents of a son born at 3:20 a.m. Saturday, June 14 in the Methodist Hospital at Lubbock.

The young man weighed six pounds and 13 ounces and has been named Jonathon David. The couple have two other sons, Garrett Michael and Tyler Daniel.

Grandparents are Wayne and Nealy Moore of Muleshoe, Joel and Ruth Nowlin of Mississippi and Bonnie Nowlin of Midland.

Great grandparents are Irene Steinbock and Bill and Gladys Maddox.

ROAD NOW OPEN: PAVING SLATED

A long time dream of a shortcut between Muleshoe and Portales is rapidly becoming a reality, and what once was billed as only a "please don't rain" highway, may become an all-weather route before long.

As a matter of fact, when New Mexico gets through with its portion of the road, the only unpaved portion will be a seven and half mile strip on the Texas side of the line.

While neither the Texas highway department nor the Bailey County road program has money in the bank for paving that seven and half mile dirt strip, road enthusiasts here predicted that the route will become an all-paved highway "before very long".

ABOUT YOUR HOME

By April Rhodes

Insect sting (bees, wasp, spiders) can be fatal. Watch for symptoms such as respiratory difficulties, nausea, abdominal cramps and diarrhea.

White and yellow clothing tends to repel insects. Dark clothing attracts insects.

Suntans are very becoming if not overdone. Remember the darker your suntan, the more damage it will cause. For most it will cause the skin to dry out, cause wrinkles and make one look older.

Sunburn can be painful. If you spend long hours at the lake or beach and get a sunburn you can ease the discomfort by adding 2 cups of baking soda to your bath water -- and soak for a while.

Parents -- Do you know that many common plants (bulbs, leaves or berries) are poisonous? Acquaint yourself with as many of these as you can. Small children can become violently ill if they chew or eat them.

In Fashion

A summer outfit in black and white is always a mark of sophistication, whether it is a two-piece dress or three-piece suit.

Bright, sunshine yellow is used as a dramatic accent this season.

Independence Day Celebration Planned

Flower show rules for the Sudan Independence Day Celebration Saturday, June 28 will include five categories to be judged in the flower arranging competition: Fresh flowers and follages; dried or preserved materials; silk or silk-like materials; celebration theme interpretation and open. The interpretive design should be based on this year's theme "I'm Proud to Be a Texan" and the arrangement should be accompanied by a short statement explaining your interpretation. As in the open category, the arrangement can use any combination of fresh dried, or fabric materials and props.

The arrangement will be judged on the following design elements:

1. Composition--selection and grouping of flowers, foliage, containers, and any accessories to create a pattern. The parts must be selected to create a single theme or idea to convey a message.

2. Harmony--the relationship between the parts chosen and their unity to create an impression of completeness.

3. Balance--dividing the materials so that the arrangement appears balanced.

4. Line and Rhythm--the visual path of the eye through the arrangement. This creates a feeling of movement and life in a design.

5. Texture--the physical surface qualities of the materials used, including the container and any accessories.

6. Color--the use of color to give the arrangement life and personality. Color can also be used to give the arrangement harmony, balance, line and rhythm.

Any questions about these rules you are asked to contact Cindy Davis. These arrangements should be in the Senior Citizens building at 9 am on Saturday the 28th of June. They will be judge by noon.

Applications are now available for the Student Arts and Crafts show to be held during the Independence Day Celebration.

Those wishing to enter this may get their applications either from Neil Kieman or may get them when they bring their things into the Senior Citizens building on Friday the 27th of June between 9 am and 12 noon. Wanda Swart, Chairman of the Antiques display during the Independence Day celebration, announces rules for display.

Summer Camp?

Many parents send their children to summer camps unaware that safety regulations governing operation of such camps are often almost nonexistent.

In New York State, one parent who lost a son at summer camp began a campaign to acquaint parents of this danger.

Summer is, of course, the time for outdoor living, and summer camps offer many benefits. Like every other facility dealing with the public, however, they should be required to conform to safety and health regulations -- carefully designed regulations, enforced.

Savings?

It's all right to save money, but too many are trying to save it from people they owe it to.

2. The Antiques should be brought to the Senior Citizens building between 9 am and 12 noon on Friday the 27th of June.

3. All displays will be at the owners own risk.

Bi-Lingual School Set For Summer

On Monday, June 30, Bilingual Summer School classes will begin for eligible Pre-kindergarten and Pre-first grade students, said Muleshoe ISD Superintendent H. John Fuller. According to Fuller, each school district in the state that is required to offer a special language program must offer a voluntary summer program for children of limited English proficiency who will be eligible for admission to kindergarten or the first grade at the beginning of the next school year.

He said the program will begin at 9 a.m. on Monday on the high school campus. All eligible students should report to the high school on Monday. The Bilingual summer school is a half-day program designed to help students prepare for a successful kindergarten and first grade experience, he said. The instruction will focus on language development essential elements appropriate to the level of the student. The program will run from 8-12 each morning through August 21 with August 21 being a full day session. The regular summer school being offered voluntarily by Muleshoe ISD as part of the local school improvement program begins Monday, July 7, and runs through August 15, six weeks. It, too, is a half-day program (8-12) and is specifically designed to help students that need more time to achieve mastery of the essential elements in the regular curriculum, said the superintendent.

Questions concerning either summer school session, should be addressed to Elizabeth Watson, assistant superintendent for curriculum, or H. John Fuller, superintendent.

A report from Mule Team Laundry indicated someone had broken into their office and had taken tools valued at $400 and left $150 in damage to the wooden door of the office inside the laundry.

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Acres takes a look at the space race this week.

Dear editor: According to a report I read last night, Russia is 10 years ahead of the United States in space.

I don't know how such an exact measure can be arrived.

Rain...

lakes have good water at this time.

Around West Camp, Robert Hunt reported a sprinkle on Monday, and no rain on Tuesday. They did receive one inch last Friday night, and have received some eight to nine inches of rain during the month of June. Most of Hunt's crops have been replanted and "the wheat has been cut, although we sure didn't make anything," said Mrs. Hunt.

In the Clay's Corner to Lazbuddie area, one half inch to .7 was the rule for Monday night, with no rain being recorded on Tuesday, and some farmers were trying to get back into their fields.

Northwest of Muleshoe on the Sam Harlan farm, no rain was recorded at his home, although one of the pieces of land he farms north of his land received .6 on Monday night.

In the Y-L community, around one-half inch was recorded on Monday night, with no rain on Tuesday evening or night.

Tuesday night, a Bailey County law enforcement official reported hard wind and a heavy rain approximately seven miles south of Muleshoe, with very little moisture being recorded, although the Needmore/Circleback area received not more than a sprinkle.

at, but then I've never understood how a school can figure out that one student in four years learned 3 tenths of one percent more than another.

Now it's true that Russian cosmonauts have stayed aloft longer than Americans, monotonously circling the earth month after month apparently without getting airsick or homesick, but that seems little more than trying to break the record for riding a merry-go-round the longest.

We've put men on the moon, while the Soviets have put writers and scientists in prison, but those are two different races. I don't know what the results were from the Russians' riding in cramped quarters around the earth for six months, but I think I know the results of our moon-landings. We left a multi-million-dollar moon buggy up there in exchange for a sackful of moon rocks, about which we haven't heard much lately.

The Soviets are also ahead of us in nuclear disasters, but that race isn't over yet.

I may be like the Spaniards who thought it was a waste of money to send Columbus out over that uncharted ocean, but I'm having a hard time understanding what the fruits of far-out space exploration will be. So far, all the photographs taken of Mars and Venice by un-manned satellites show that there ain't nothing out there a man could produce an agricultural surplus on.

On the other hand, there may be an over-powering allure about exploring other planets. It's the thrilling prospect of landing on some place that's absolutely tax-free, debt-free, crime-free and war-less.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.
