Be Prepared to Weather a Storm.

THINGS may be going well with you today. You may have a fine position. Your business may be prospering. You may be in the full vigor of youth and health. Of course none cares to look on the dark side. But it always is well to be prepared for a change in the tide. The greatest preparation is a healthy bank account. Drop in and see us about an account. We'll gladly talk it over.

First National Bank

From the Oil Fields.

At the Altus Well

The Altus well has received a cement floor at the approach of the first stratum of the oil sands. This stratum has an estimated depth of twenty feet. About 800 feet deeper lies the second stratum of oil sands whose estimated depth is 50 feet. The third stratum, much further down, has an estimated depth of 200 feet, and so on. Theoretically the oil in the first stratum will be pumped out before the well is extended to the second stratum.

The oil is not found in these sand strata in pools or rivulets as some suppose, but the sand is saturated with oil. A 20 per cent proportion of oil is called a good saturation.

Work has been suspended for several days in this well to allow the cement to harden.

It has been expected that it would be sufficiently hardened by to day, Friday, to resume drilling. If every thing goes well it ought not to require more than a day or two to drill through this first stratum of oil sand, and then, unless calculations go awry, the well should begin to yield up its treasures. Mr. Jones wagered a box of cigars with "Dad" Mummert that they would be pumping oil in ten days, which time ends tomorrow. If they pump oil in paying quantities tomorrow "Dad" loses. If they fail, "Dad" wins.

In the Lake Arthur Dist

The Lincoln Oil Co., drilling at Lake Arthur, are now working into the oil rock which caps the first stratum of oil sand. Even this rock, though not porous, is oily. Milton McWhorter, an Oklahoma oil man, who is in charge of the drilling, says there is now absolutely no question about striking oil. The only question is, how much? This rock through which they are now drilling is very hard and progress is necessarily slow, although they are working a day and night shift.

Mr. Lincoln, the president of the company has said that if this well produces even ten barrels a day he will drill all the land in that block of leases full of holes.

Still Another Company

The Roswell News in its issue of the 18th has the following:

Virgil More of Lake Arthur came up this morning to attend to matters pertaining to oil development in the Lake Arthur country. A new corporation has just been formed of which Milton McWhorter is president, Virgil Moore, secretary, and B. C. Moots, resident agent, with a capital stock of $250,000. This company is organized for the purpose of actually developing the oil industry in the Pecos Valley and are already at work drilling their first well, which is very promising. They are down 1,115 feet and have, by the McWhorter process, eliminated water trouble, using cement to cut off the water. The drill in their Lincoln well, on the Moots property, has penetrated 65 feet into solid rock that is just beneath the water strata, and the indication of oil is very strong.

The Union Red Cross Service

The union Red Cross service at the Methodist church last Sunday night was fairly well attended, though not as well as was expected. The streets were muddy from the rain of the day before, the light power was off and threatening clouds added to the gloom. Then again Red Cross enthusiasm is not at a dizzy height in Artesia. While there are a few devoted and tireless workers in the ranks there are hundreds of others, who could well afford to give time or money or both, who take about as much interest in the work of the Red Cross as they would in a last year's bird's nest.

The addresses of Reverends Cochran, Harrison and Sparks were well received. Rev. Cochran spoke upon the serious aspects of the war, Rev. Harrison upon his experience in Red Cross work and Rev. Sparks, extolled the importance and extent of the work being done by the Red Cross. He grew really eloquent as he cut loose and began to rip things.

The remarks of Mrs. Atkeson, the president of the local chapter, were well chosen and straight to the point. She was tactful, interesting and witty. It is not too much to say that of all the women in Artesia she is the most ardent and devoted Red Cross worker. She permits nothing outside of her necessary domestic duties to stand between her and Red Cross work. She has willing and able assistants, but into her hands, more than into any other's is committed the destiny of the Red Cross work in this jurisdiction.

The solo by Mrs. Yates not only gave pleasure but aroused the spirit of the audience.

A male quartette also gave a number. Dr. Inman who was one of the main spokes in the quartette wheel was summoned to Roswell on Sunday, and at the eleventh hour a substitute was found.

The Juniors, composed of girls, and constituting a branch of the local Red Cross, were out in force, and gave several vocal numbers with spirit. The Juniors have done and are doing good work.

At the close of the service an invitation was given to all to join the Red Cross. Seventeen responded.

The power plant started up in the midst of the program and from that time on to the close was an important factor.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL

J. M. Conn recently received news of the death of M. A. Alden, who lived in Oregon. Mr. Alden once lived near Artesia, and owned property in this vicinity at the time of his death. He was well known by the old residents of this part of the Valley, and had many friends among them.

A large amount of honey is being shipped from Artesia. It goes mostly to Roswell, Amarillo and Kansas City. This has been an exceptionally good year for honey, both in quantity and quality.

H. Y. McBride Returns

H. Y. McBride has returned from Philadelphia and other eastern points where he has been for several weeks in the interest of his wool scouring machine. The machine is now finished and shipped, though he thinks it may be a month before it arrives. It weighs in the neighborhood of 2500 pounds and will come in sections. Mr. McBride is enthusiastic over the prospects of the machine's success.

Maj. W. B. Pistole Off

Maj. W. B. Pistole received a telegram last night instructing him to report at once for duty at the office of the Judge Advocate General at Washington, and he leaves to night for that destination. His family is expected to soon join him.

Club Members' Exhibit

The Advocate has been asked to announce that the boys' and girls' clubs of Artesia will hold an annual exhibit, at the Grammar School tomorrow, Saturday. The club members are requested to have their exhibits and stories complete and in proper form. Parents and friends invited.

The Lower Cottonwood members will exhibit with Artesia; the Upper Cottonwood members on Monday Sept. 24, at the home of W. S. Morgan.

The request is signed by Richard H. Burens, Asst. County Agricultural Agent.

Service at Christian Church

S. G. Battenfield, pastor of the Christian church at Canyon, Tex., will preach at the Christian church Sunday morning at the usual hour. Rev. Battenfield, is here on business and will remain until Sunday evening.

Bevo is a great favorite in the Army Canteens, where none but pure, soft drinks may be sold. After drill or march, you are sure to see a long line of hot and dusty-throated soldier boys making a bee line for Bevo. They know that there lies complete satisfaction, full refreshment and pure wholesomeness.

At home or abroad—at work or play—between meals or with meals, you will appreciate what we have done for you in making this triumph in soft drinks. You will find Bevo at inns, restaurants, groceries, department and drug stores, picnic grounds, baseball parks, soda fountains, dining cars, in the navy, at canteens, at mobilization camps and other places where refreshing beverages are sold.

Maybe So and Maybe Not

Germany has been publishing to her people from time to time what they will do "after the war." Germany may have very little to say about it. Every time a bomb is dropped on the roof of a hospital or school house and innocent non-combatants killed, Germany's chance of having a voice in the terms of settlement after the war receives a setback. This, assuming that Germany is conquered. If Germany wins, heaven help us.

Villa Thinks He's a Saint

Villa is still barking for forgiveness. He claims his services in helping to put down the Huerta regime entitle him to generous consideration. In the first place there are many who think it would have been better for both United States and Mexico if the Huerta regime had never been put down; and in the second place no one can see any good reason why Villa should live another day. The most charitable request he ought to make is to be permitted to end his own life in the the easiest way.

Swedish People Favor Allies

A. O. Eberhart, former governor of Minnesota, who is a Swede, gave out the following interview concerning the sympathies of the Swedish people in the war:

"Although the Swedish ruling class is pro-German, the Swedish people in the United States and in the fatherland, favor the Allies' cause and if Sweden enters the war it will be on the side of the United States and the Allies. The Swedish rulers would perpetuate autocracy but the Swedish people are for democracy. The majority of the people in this country are loyal to the flag and in communities where disloyalty prevailed a misunderstanding of the government aims existed.

"The pre-election talks that the United States was interested in the war merely for commercial reasons has had a bad effect in many parts of the country, but I have found that when the real issue of the war have been explained, virtually all persons whom I have met, are loyal to the nations. The recent disclosures by the federal government regarding the activities of Swedish diplomats in Mexico City and Buenos Aires will set the Swedish people to thinking and will no doubt have beneficial results.

"But the actions of the Swedish diploma in any way represent the true feelings of the Swedish people. The people will find out that the ruling class is attempting to aid Germany to perpetuate autocracy and there will be a movement among them to aid democracy."

HOT TAMALES

The symptoms indicate that the Russians should take tamales after their meals.

Unless we are careful the economical habits acquired during the war will stick to us after the war is over.

There are many things that we raise in abundance here in this valley; but there is one thing that we seldom raise—an umbrella.

The high price of gasoline is the source of tearful sympathy on the part of some people who can't afford automobiles for those who have them.

Artesia was serenely peaceful yesterday and to day. The lawyers were all at Roswell attending the annual meeting of the State Bar association.

For the steenth time the German Crown Prince has tried to break through the French lines at Verdun. And for the steenth time he didn't do it.

The Russian soldiers are emulating the hog, which to be driven in a certain direction has to be made to think you want him to go in the opposite direction.

When a man sees the kind of washrags and things his wife makes for the Red Cross he wonders how he has gotten along with the things he has always had to use.

The king of Sweden and the Kaiser both deplore with tearful eyes the Argentina affair, but they are still throwing kisses at each other and continuing their skirt dance.

Switzerland, lying between the warring nations, is in the position of the girl who said of her two lovers: "I could be happy with either dear lover were t'other dear lover away."

The intermittent rains that began last Saturday show that it can rain here same as elsewhere if it takes a notion. A man was seen on the streets Monday with a raised umbrella!

Congresswoman Jeanette Rankin is said to aspire to an election to the U. S. Senate next year. That seems like a foolish ambition, for she isn't rankin' very high in her present position.

A prize has been offered by a German general for the first American soldier brought dead or alive into his lines. The French, British and Italian soldiers are bringing thousands of German soldiers into the lines without being paid for it.

There are vacant lots right in the center of the residence district of this place, not owned by non-residents, either, that have Russian thistles around, across, over, under and in the center. Has the city got to cut and burn these thistles?

To day, the 21st instant, Old Sol makes the transition from the summer solstice to the autumnal equinox. Or, to use terms less didactic and more proletarian, it is the day when the sun "crosses the line." From to day until December 21st it will be "fall."

B. F. Brown has a cat menagerie in the rear of his store on Main street. He doesn't know how many cats he has as he hasn't invoiced them lately. Their vocal ejaculations are very sonorous and impressive at feeding time—so much so that if he would only feed them at precisely 12 o'clock there would be no need of a noon whistle in that locality. We deserve great credit for not calling the noise a cat-astrophe.

Fifty-one steers sold in Kansas City at $17 a hundred pounds, one day this week, bringing $12,545.49. The cattle averaged 1,447 pounds each, and this was the highest price ever paid west of the Mississippi river.

Property damage reaching several hundred thousand dollars, heavy damage to crops and drowing of three negroes resulted from the heavy rains of the last few days in eastern North Carolina. At Wallace, a dam burst driving approximately 300 people from their homes.

Eight Iowa stockmen were killed in a rear-end collision on the Burlington railroad near Earlsville, Ill. Ten or more were injured. The men who were killed and most of the injured were in sleeping cars and a way car attached to the rear of the stock train. The merchandise train plowed through these three cars.

Twenty women and girls were placed at work in the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad shops at St. Joseph, Mo., to fill places vacated by men summoned to military duty. The women all wear overalls and jumpers, and are principally engaged in wiping locomotives and as mechanics' helpers.

Owing to a dispute over wages, 2,500 iron workers on ships being built for the government in San Francisco have struck, and the strike threatens through sympathy to extend to other important industries. Samuel Gompers has been asked to try to settle the dispute and induce the strikers to resume work. Work of the estimated value of $150,000,000 was brought to a standstill by this strike.

Peoria last Sunday witnessed the first dry Sunday in 40 years, when police, acting on instructions from Maer Woodruff kept the city bars and clubs tight as a drum. The orders to close Saturday night at midnight and remain closed until 5 a. m. Monday, were

But now no one in the world "should worry," because the moment you put "Gets-It" on, it means the end of a corn. There is nothing in the world like "Gets-It"—nothing as sure and certain—nothing that you can count on to take off a corn or callus every time, and without danger. The corn never grew that "Gets-It" will not get. It never irritates the flesh, never makes your toe sore. Just two drops of "Gets-It" and presto! the corn-pain vanishes. The road between Artesia and Hope is kept hot by freight wagons. The wagons bring apples to the railroad station then return to Hope with coal and other merchandise. There is an endless procession of teams and motor trucks.

Herr Nickson received a letter from his wife who with others motored to California, saying the party would reach home about Oct. first. She also says that notwithstanding all the horn-stooting about California she prefers the ozone of New Mexico, and will be glad to return.

Five cars of pleasure seekers made a trip to Capitan last Saturday and returned Sunday. The party was constituted as follows: From Artesia Chas. Meece and family, V. H. Doubeck and family, Miss Lura Moore, Mrs. Geo. Austin, Miss Julia Austin; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Heighley, Bay City, Texas, W. B. Millner and Miss Lottie Greaves, of Roswell.

E. B. Bullock, his wife, daughter Jessie and the baby left at 6:30 Tuesday morning in their Dodge for a trip of three weeks. They intend to go first to Austin, Tex., where Mrs. Bullock has a sister, then to Waco where Mr. Bullock was raised. Miss Jessie will not return with them but will enter school at Georgetown, Tex. A telegram was received from the tourists at Big Springs, Tex., saying they had sidetracked for a heavy rain.

Rain Finally Reigns

A good shower fell last Saturday evening. It was much needed. There had been frequent rains in every direction about us, but through some freak of nature they all jumped over this particular spot without leaving anything for a remembrance. Since last Saturday we have had a little rain every day, which in the aggregate has been beneficial though it has hardly reached down to the lower roots of the grass. But the spell is on, and we are liable to have a plenty before it ends.

Future Residence Uncertain

P. V. Pardon has recently returned from Palacios, Tex., where he and his family have been for six weeks. Mr. Pardon will soon return to Palacios and from there he and his family will go to Kentucky for a visit before returning to Artesia.

There has been a persistent rumor that Mr. Pardon was going to leave Artesia but he states that this is not yet decided. He has sold his interest in his sheep ranch but he has still other interests hereabouts as well as a considerable Artesia property, and he is as likely to remain here as he is to leave.

Judge Ferree's Trip

Judge Ferree returned last Saturday from a six weeks trip to the north and east. He first went to St. Paul and Minneapolis, where he once lived, but where he had not been in sixteen years.

He was there during the state fair which is the biggest thing in the line of state fairs in the United States. The number of people in attendance each year exceeds the attendance of the Dominion fairs of Toronto.

From Minneapolis he visited his mother at Paynesville Minn., which is in the best bass fishing region on the American continent.

He also visited a brother at Urbana, Ill., near which place is an aviation field with 100 Curtiss biplanes, 1000 troops in the signal aviation service and 56 instructors. He took in the Ill. State fair at Springfield, and visited St. Louis and Kansas City.

The weather was so chilly in Minnesota that the judge had to invest in woolen underwear on his arrival there, and he only found a few days of warm weather during his whole absence.

Nothing he saw on the trip impressed him more than the growing corn fields in Iowa and Illinois. He says that while riding on traction roads he passed through what seemed an endless field of corn. The corn crop in Minnesota was damaged, he thinks, about 25 per cent by frost. In Iowa and Illinois the frost did some damage to the corn fodder but the kernels were not injured. He was informed that the corn in these two states was a record breaker, both in quality and quantity. The wheat, oat and flax crops in Minnesota and the Dakotas are also good.

The judge has much that is interesting and amusing to relate concerning his trip, but while it was in every respect a pleasant one he is glad to get back home.
