The Latest Happenings in Development of the Pecos Valley Oil Field

Oil development which has for one reason or another been in a state of coma for a few weeks is showing signs of an immediate awakening. In fact activity has already begun.

Kansas-New Mexico well No. 2 found upon reaching a formation of hard limestone at a depth of 400 feet that its drilling equipment was too light. Work was delayed a few days while a new rig was procured and installed. The drill started up again today and with the new equipment is doing satisfactory work. This well has gone through an artesian flow of water that is running 1500 gallons per minute, and with its depth of 400 feet has had four separate and distinct showings of oil. These showings were mostly light, though the last one looked like a barrel or two a day. They were sufficient to inspire courage, and the owners of the well think there is a good prospect that it will be the first real producer.

The Chaves-Eddy which was shut down pending the arrival of a new part which had to be freighted nearly across the continent is now going again, the part having arrived this week.

Work is steadily progressing at the wells of the Natl. Exploration Co. at Lake Arthur and Orchard Park. The depths reached and formations encountered are not known.

The Pecos River well which has been down several months will soon be working again. There has been a reorganization of the company and the management will be in new hands. The Advocate is not informed as to who the new company is or where it comes from. It does not know the details of the rearrangement or when work will be resumed. But it has the word of the nominal president and secretary that the scheme has been consummated and that work will be resumed just as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made.

The Lincoln have not resumed drilling on either of their two wells as had been expected, but they have been and still are engaged in the preliminary work, such as cleaning out, adjusting the casing etc.

Van Welch, the manager of the Illinois people, whose visit here was announced last week, returned home last Saturday evening. A few leases were added to the string while he was here but even with those additions he did not feel that he had acreage enough to warrant the company in resuming work. In an interview with Mr. Welch as he left for his train he remarked that the attitude of his company was exactly the same as when he was here on his former visit. He was unwilling to go further in development until the expiring leases were renewed and that the matter was up to the land owners in the vicinity of the Dayton well to decide whether any more work would be done or not. He added that the committee in charge of the matter had informed him that it would make another final effort to secure more acreage and really thought it would be able to secure a satisfactory amount. It is the belief of the committee that when the people interested are made to clearly understand that a persistent refusal to lease will destroy the last hope they will come to their senses and yield.

Upon this statement of the committee's faith Mr. Welch said he would allow his crew to remain a reasonable time. If the committee fails in its undertaking the crew will be ordered to fold tents and depart.

It should be stated that the men who refused to lease are mostly non-residents who think the well will go down anyway and that their leases are too valuable to give away. These men are standing in their own light.

Mrs. Frank Wilson and niece, Miss Helen Sage left Tuesday to attend the Silver City normal. Mrs. Wilson has been employed as teacher in the Junior High School.

Mrs. R. O. Cowan and daughter, Miss Gladys, and the Misses Etta Burns and Mary Awalt are among the number who have gone to Las Vegas to attend summer school.

Here's a Real Argument For Philippine Independence

A Typical Philippine Homestead

The United States isn't the only country that has homesteaders—those enterprising pioneers who leave thickly populated districts and take their families into virgin territory to create homes for themselves. The Philippine islands have thousands of thrifty homesteaders.

The above photograph shows a picture of a Christian Filipino homesteader and his family near Pikit, Cotabato province, Mindanao, P. I. Five years ago he was a cab driver working for low wages at Cebu, a thickly populated city. He went into the wilderness of Mindanao, planted hemp and coconuts, paid for his land and has become wealthy. Thousands of similar instances could be cited. One Mindanao homesteader is worth $200,000.

The Philippine government is encouraging the immigration of Filipinos from the thickly populated sections into Mindanao. This is the second largest of the islands of the archipelago. It is still sparsely settled, although it is one of the richest and most productive islands in the world. Many Americans have established plantations there and become rich.

Filipinos are using the stories of the many successful Filipino homesteaders as an argument for independence. They make the point that a people that can go out into a tropical wilderness with no capital save their patience, perseverance and energy and win homes for themselves, have the necessary stamina to run their own affairs.

Legion Box Supper A Complete Failure

Legionnaires tried to raise a little money Monday night by giving a box supper but were compelled to call it off after waiting until after nine o'clock and finding at that late hour that only nine ladies had responded to their plea by bringing boxes and only some four or five men were on hand to buy the boxes. The money raised was to go toward buying furniture for the new Legion club rooms and the boys had set great store on the response but were compelled to return the few boxes to the donors and wind the affair up as a complete failure.

Thoroughly discouraged the Legion boys have about decided that the people of Artesia do not want them or care whether they make a success of their activities and talk was strong among the members Tuesday suggesting that they abandon their efforts because of lack of support.

Is it fair to forget them so soon?

PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONARY MEETING.

Mrs. Harter, of Roswell, gave a most entertaining and instructive talk at the Presbyterian church last Thursday afternoon along the lines of Americanization. Talks by Mesdames Winans, Mathes and the president, Mrs. Francis, combined to make this one of the best programs ever given by the New Era Club. Some little people also helped to make the program interesting. They were LaRue Mann, Jeanne Wheatley, and Wallace Gates, who gave a vocal trio and Clara Spencer who gave a piano number. The ladies of the Methodist Missionary Society were special guests at the meeting.

BRIDGE CLUB PICNIC

On Tuesday morning the Bridge Club drove out to the country home of Mrs. R. G. Brainard for an all day picnic, the picnic luncheon being served by half of the members and Mesdames Brainard, Corbin, Anderson, Welton, Rowan and Person. Mesdames Ferriman, S. D. Gates, Kenneth, Rowan and Phillips of Dayton, who frequently substituted for members, were invited to participate in the good time.

Mrs. Roy Lang and children, who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Morthland, left Saturday night for their home in Amarillo, Texas.

Miss Jessie Glenn Bullock is a member of the graduating class at Oklahoma University this year and has been elected instructor of English in an Oklahoma school. She will visit relatives in Texas before returning home and will be accompanied by her grandmother, Mrs. M. E. Bullock who has been visiting her children in Texas for several months.

Sata Fe, May 23.—Foreign born residents who have declared their intention to become citizens but who have not taken out final naturalization papers are barred from hunting and fishing in New Mexico, Attorney General Harry S. Bowman said today in an opinion for the state game and fish department.

Mr. Bowman quoted the act passed by the last legislature, which says: "It shall be unlawful for any unnaturalized foreign-born resident of New Mexico or adjoining states to hunt for, capture, kill or wound any wild birds or game animals within this state."

The act further prohibits such persons from having in their possession any firearms.

DECORATION DAY SERVICES SUCCESSFUL

HONOR AND TRIBUTE PAID OUR SOLDIER DEAD BY CITIZENS AND SOLDIERS.

Services honoring the noble dead who fought for the liberties that make our country the greatest free nation in the world were held at the Methodist church Monday under the direction of the local post of the American Legion. Veterans of the Civil war, Spanish-American war and sturdy young America who defended the flag in the recent World war joined in a Memorium to all the dead who gave the supreme gift, their lives, in answer to the call for men.

Blue and Grey sat peaceful and in perfect harmony during the service and one could not but recall the time when these old veterans took up arms and offered their lives for the same principles of Justice and Freedom that has ever been dear to the hearts of all true Americans since this great country was founded. Never has there been a time in our history when there was any hesitation on the part of Young America when the emergency demanded of '61 sat the veterans of San Juan Santiago and other battles of the stirring times between '98 and '99 when this country rushed to the defense of our little suffering neighbor, Cuba and helped wrench independence for her from the Spanish tyrant. Grey has begun to appear in the heads of these veterans and it will be but a few more years until they take the front seats occupied at this service by the Civil War veterans and those grand old men will have passed on to the God of Battles for their last reward.

In a section just to the rear of the others above mentioned quietly sat the boys of '17, '19. Still in their prime, heads erect but with dimmed eyes these veterans of the Great war were again living the horrors of the battles in which they participated so recently and were thinking of the Buddies who had gone "West" in defense of a World.

Tears were close to the surface in the eyes of all these boys as they sat in silence listening to the splendid tribute paid them by C. Bert Smith and Rev. Mathes. Retrospection was the guide for their thoughts and the battles of the Argonne, Somme Soissons and Cantigny were again brought to mind and thoughts of that Buddie who fell in Flanders fields writhing in a field of Poppies, down in the mud clutching, clutching for one last breath and dying like the hero he was. Memory brought back again the swish of the German shells, the nervous strain preceding an advance over the top, the groans of the wounded and dying as the advance went on and left them. No one who was not there can for one moment conceive of the things these boys suffered nor will they ever be able to understand just what that Armistice meant to these lads when the Hun finally decided to quit.

Such is the purpose of Memorial Day, to bring back and keep fresh the deeds of valor performed by our soldiers. To honor the memory of the ones who did not come home and to inculcate and keep fresh that same spirit of true Patriotism in the hearts of the coming generation who will be called upon perhaps in some future period to take up arms in defense of their country and flag.

Dr. Mathes gave a masterly address and his words will live for years in the hearts of all those who heard him. Recalling the things fought for by all our ex-soldiers and the sacrifices not only of these fighters but of those who served at home, he made a plea for greater America, a cessation of all armed strife between civilized nations and a renewal of our pledges to our flag and country that we might not forget the services of those who fought and those who died that we might enjoy the blessings of a free nation.

C. Bert Smith preceded Dr. Mathes and talked on the Fraternity that should exist between us all. He paid a wonderful tribute to our fighters and to the women of our nation who gave so much in service and sacrifice during the war periods that have swept our land.

At the close of the service at the church a procession formed headed by a firing squad under the leadership of Lieut. John Runyan and commanded by Oscar Samelson, Commander of the Legion post. At the cemetery the beautiful ritualistic service of the American Legion was used for the first time and at the close of the service the dead were saluted by three volleys of rifle fire and then the day was brought to a close as the crowd stood with bowed heads and listened to the sad but beautiful sound of 'Taps' as it was sounded in a farewell to those who sleep.

MRS. J. B. COCHRAN DEAD

A telegram was received Monday afternoon by B. P. Williams announcing the death of Mrs. J. B. Cochran at Albuquerque Monday morning. The deceased was the wife of Rev. J. B. Cochran who for several years was the pastor of the Artesia Methodist church. They have a host of friends here who feel deeply the loss of this excellent woman. Cause of death was not given in the telegram.

S. S. Ward and family have been in from the Flying H for a few days stay, coming particularly to meet Sterling Ward, who returns this week from the State University also Mrs. Irene Whitcomb, of Amarillo, who comes for a visit with home folks on the ranch.

COUNTRY CLUB LEASES LAKE

Clarkes Lake has been leased by some thirty members of the newly organized Country Club and carpenters are busy erecting bath houses and building boats for this project. The beach will be graveled and rafts, spring boards and many other conveniences to make bathing ideal will be installed. Only members and their families will be admitted and this spot promises to be a popular one this summer.

Artesia Looses In Game Poorly Played

In a game where bone head plays were the rule on both sides and characterized by numerous errors Artesia went down to defeat Monday afternoon before a team from Carlsbad who did not show too much better advantage than did our home boys. The game was a tiresome exhibition of mistakes and ballooning on the part of both teams and the fair sized crowd that witnessed it were all glad when the exhibition was ended.

The redeeming feature of the same was the masterly work of both pitchers and only by their efforts was it possible to make the exhibition even look like a baseball game. Hits were frequent but errors were more so, the score at the finish being 11 to 4 in favor of Carlsbad.

Give me the sweet old country lanes,
Rich with the scent of the purple heather.
Little I care for the city street,
The ceaseless plod of the eager feet.
Put me away from the hustling throng
Where the sum of life is a simple song.
Take me anywhere—dump me down
On mountain, or river in shady valley;
Anywhere out of the crowded town,
Anywhere out of the narrow alley.
Little I care for the city street,
The ceaseless plod of the eager feet.
Put me away from the hustling throng
Where the sum of life is a simple song.
Gold and Ambition—what are these,
Compared with this wild, free life of mine?
Out in the shade of the forest trees,
Laying my life at the Sun God's shrine.
Little I care for the city street,
The ceaseless plod of eager feet.

Younger Generation of Women Said to Look for Utility When Presents Are in Question.

One must mingle with the younger generation to comprehend the changing standards of domestic life. Those things once the heart's desire of women have not lost their charm, we are told. While the proverbial route to a man's heart has not changed its roadbed, and good cooking is still the trade-mark of a desirable wife, yet anniversary expressions of a husband's love are said to be changing in form.

The new note is utility. This is exemplified by a story that comes to us from one who recently visited a young couple while they discussed their approaching anniversary. "I think I shall get Ruth a necklace," the young husband said. Ruth demurred. What then did she wish, was his query, with the suggestion of a diamond or a piece of mahogany furniture, or some other embellishment for the home.

"If you really insist on a present," she said, "I have always wanted an electric washer and a vacuum cleaner."

This suggests the story of the negro bridegroom who, when the honeymoon waned, brought home a heavily mirrored dressing table and a washtub. "Now, Mandy," he said, "you can sit down in front of this and watch yo'self starve to death, or you can use this tub and earn yo' livin'."—Omaha Bee.

IDEAL SERVANTS IN MEXICO

One May Get a Descendant of the Incas and a Friend for Life, for $15 a Month.

Mexico is Utopia for American housewives, for there is no servant problem there, according to Mrs. S. C. Dunlop, wife of the chief engineer of Cia Transcontinental de Petroleo, the Mexican branch of the Standard Oil company.

"Ten years ago I could hire any servant for $2 a month," she said, "and now I have to pay only from $10 to $15. Often in my kitchen I have a descendant of the Incas making my bread, and when a Mexican Indian—who must not be confused with a peon—really attaches himself or herself to you, you have not only a servant, but a friend for life, one who really looks after your interests."

"Of course, in Mexico, as well as anywhere else, the servants stand 'on their rights.' The cook only cooks and does not wash dishes; the chambermaid will have nothing to do with the kitchen; but after all, the wages of the five or six servants do not equal those of one servant in New York."

"I hear my New York friends groaning because the food of the servants costs more than their own table. Now, if you give your Mexican Indian her tortillas (cakes) and her beans with plenty of chili, she is perfectly satisfied and scorns a more elaborate diet."

Amusement for Both.
"Marriage—it is wonderful!" gurgled the happy Smith. "It is blissful, joyous! It is heaven! Ah—but I forget!" he exclaimed, suddenly serious. "You have found it a very different thing—eh?"

"Yes. Personally I consider marriage a tossup," said Jones.

"Poor fellow, poor fellow!" muttered Smith. "How you manage to put up with that tartar of a wife I don't know!"

"It might be worse," said Jones.

"We have lots of fun."

"How is that?"

"Well, you see, when my wife gets into a passion she always hurls things at my head. Every time she hits me she's as pleased as Punch, and every time she misses I'm as pleased as Punch. So between us we are never short of amusement."

Old Schooners Become Barges.
Disposal of large numbers of old schooners, to say nothing of an over-supply of new wood ships, has been a problem for the past few years. River and canal men, meanwhile, have been facing a shortage of barges. Putting these two facts together, Eastern shipbuilders have now evolved a new form of schooner barge, made by removing the upper works and the below-deck cabins and bulkheads of the schooners. Such barges are capacious and have the advantages of speed in towing and seaworthiness for coast work, and if lost from a sea tow can make port with a jury rig. In South America as well as the United States, rebuilt schooners for barge work already are at a premium.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Italians Melt Up Small Change.
The second-hand dealers all over Italy have cornered the bronze 10 and 5 centime pieces, which they have melted down and sold as ingots for soldering at two and three times the price the pennies cost them. This has caused a great deal of annoyance, as small change is scarce, and in some of the cafes stamps have been given as change. The government has reduced the size of the new 10 and 5 centime pieces, but even that has done little good, so it has now decided to coin the new pennies out of a composition metal which cannot be used as solder if melted.

Tables Turned.
Mr. Knobome—Well I surely can envy the tramps these days.
Mrs. Knobome—And only a few weeks ago you chased several from the front yard.
Mr. Knobome—I know, but just think, they can live in box cars and we can't even get a home to live in.

ASKS INDEPENDENCE WITH OR WITHOUT PROTECTION

Manila, P. I. — The people of the Philippines want independence in whatever form they can get it. Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, declared in an address before that body.

"Let the Americans in the Philippines and those in the United States know that the people of the Philippines covet their freedom, liberty and political emancipation so much that they will not hesitate to receive from the Congress of the United States complete and absolute independence without protection," Quezon said.

"If the United States, dictated by its own interests, decides to extend protection to the Philippines, well and good. We would accept that as a solution of our problems. If not, let us have absolute independence in whatever form we can get it."

President Quezon declared that if the question were put before the Filipinos for a vote, 98 per cent would favor absolute independence.

VICTORY MEDAL OFFICE
MILLS & CAMPBELL STS.

Dear Sir:
To The Editor,
El Paso, Texas, May 25, 1921.—

In the interest of the intensive drive now being conducted by the War Department to distribute Victory Medals to ex-service men, it will be greatly appreciated if you will publish the following:

"All ex-service men have probably heard of the VICTORY MEDAL. Every man who served honorably in the U. S. Army at any time between April 6, 1917 and November 11, 1918, and the nearest of kin of those men who were killed or who died while in the service between those dates, is entitled to the VICTORY MEDAL.

This is a bronze medal, pendant from a Rainbow Ribbon, with a miniature statue copied from the Winged Victory of Samothrace on one side, and on the other the inscription, "The Great War for Civilization" together with the names of the various allied nations. For those men who served in France but who did not participate in any battles there is a clasp on the ribbon with the word "FRANCE". There is also a clasp given for each major operation, such as "Aisne-Marne," "St. Mihiel," "Meuse-Argonne," "Defensive Sector" etc.

All that is necessary for an ex-service man to secure his VICTORY MEDAL, is to mail his discharge certificate, or a true copy thereof, certified to before a Notary Public or Commander of any American Legion Post, to VICTORY MEDAL OFFICER, MILLS & CAMPBELL ST., EL PASO, TEXAS. Application will be completed at that office. The Victory Medal will be mailed to the applicant within ten days to two weeks after application is submitted. Relatives of deceased soldiers should merely write the Victory Medal Officer, stating the soldier's name and organization at the time of his death and serial number if known. Men should not hesitate about mailing in their discharge certificates, as these will be returned to them by registered mail, on the day following that on which they are received by the Victory Medal Officer. Utmost care will be taken in handling them.

All ex-service men, relatives of deceased ex-service men are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to obtain the medal to which they are entitled, with the least possible delay."

WEEKLY NEWS ARTICLE

Washington, D. C., May.—Disarmament as related to reducing taxation has been the chief feature of the discussion of the huge Naval Appropriation Bill in the Senate with emphasis on the recent report of the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Mellon, that a reduction in the appropriations for war purposes is the only means left of reducing Federal taxation by this Congress.

Republican writers and speakers have created a widespread impression that by disarmament is meant the United States shall reduce its armaments without regard to a reduction by other great naval powers. No one of course, is proposing any such thing. The proposals before the Senate are the resolution by Senator Borah (Rep., Idaho), requesting the President to call a conference of the leading naval powers (the United States, Great Britain and Japan), and the amendment by Senator Pomerene (Dem., Ohio), making it discretionary with the President whether he shall suspend naval building operations for six months to find out whether or not we can bring about some agreement for disarmament.

The sudden willingness of Republicans in charge of the bill to cease opposition to the Borah resolution is not regarded here as a change of view on their part, but as a parliamentary move to hasten the passage of the bill. They show no willingness, however, at this writing, to accept the Pomerene amendment, which, it is pointed out, would put responsibility in the hands of the President and compel him either to make good his party's election promises to reduce Federal taxation or to repudiate them.

Senator Borah asserted that "this Republican Congress, pledged to economy, will increase the expenditures of 1920," and cited figures presented by a member of the Finance Committee to show that the appropriations this year would be $4,500,000,000 with a deficit at the end of the year of $1,500,000,000 or $2,000,000,000. He also asserted that 93 per cent of all the money expended by the government in 1920 under a Republican Congress was on account of wars past and future and only 7 per cent for all other operations of the government.

Senator Pomerene, saying that the big naval programme now sought to be adopted was made in 1916 when we were facing war declared that business was staggering under the load, and called attention to the deplorable conditions among farmers, manufacturers and laboring men. "You cannot have great appropriation bills without adding to the taxes which burden us," he said, "and you cannot add to the taxes without adding to the cost of living. The time to save money is before it is expended and not afterwards."

A prophetic warning was given by Senator Lenroot (Rep. Wis.) against Republican extravagance in appropriations who said: "Unless we make reductions in the appropriations for the Army and Navy, considering the fixed charges with reference to interest upon or loans, with reference to the care of our soldiers, so that we may be able to reduce taxation in the next four years, Republican as I am, I want to say that four years from now, when the votes are counted, members of some other party will do the cheering and not members of the Republican party."

Senator King (Dem. Utah) made many points against what he called an "antiquated naval plan," showing the probability of the vessels being out of date by the time they are completed.

Declaring that this nation leads the world, that its example will be followed and that other nations desire to march with this republic, he asked:

How shall we respond? The proposition is to build the biggest navy in the world, to tax the American people more than a billion dollars annually for our Army and Navy."

Previously he said: "We did not fight Germany in order to transfer from the Kaiser to the President the crown of military supremacy."

THE KNOX RESOLUTION declaring the state of war with the Teutonic powers at an end and paving the way for a separate peace with Germany has struck another snag. It is discovered that the German alien property seized here during the war is involved in the matter and that the resolution will have to be much amended, which, of course, will take more time. Chairman Porter of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, assumed to be speaking the wishes of the administration, is reported as opposing the repeal of the Knox resolution as provided in the resolution in a speech at a gathering of Pennsylvania congressmen.

There may be vital reason for delaying its passage in the suggestion that the Knox resolution is full of political dynamite and that Congressmen are becoming afraid of it. Informed politicians profess to know that the sentiment of the country is strongly against it, and there is a probability that Congressmen have been hearing from home.

ALTHOUGH SENATOR NEWBERRY is back in his seat in the Senate, the New York World points out that the merits of his case are yet to be decided. The decision of the Supreme Court did not deal with the truth or falsity of the charges against him, but only with the unconstitutionality of the law under which he was tried. The Senate, as the World states, is still the sole judge of its own membership and effort is being made to revive Senatorial inquiry into Senator Newberry's election.

ONE OF THE STRONGEST POINTS made against the Fordney Emergency Tariff Bill, which recently passed both houses and was agreed upon in conference, was that with starvation in many parts of Europe the American farmer found no market for his products there even at present prices because of the inability of Europe to buy, having neither money nor credit. How then was Europe to buy at increased prices? On the other hand, it was pointed out, the farmer would have to pay a higher price for his farm implements, machinery and fertilizers by reason of the tariff imposed upon him by the bill. The constant decline in the export trade is the best evidence of Europe's inability to buy. In February, this year, the trade balance in favor of the United States was $274,000,000; in March only $132,000,000, a decline of more than 50 per cent.

IN THE COURSE OF THE DEBATE upon the resolution by Senator Pat Harrison to abolish secret executive sessions of the Senate, the following tribute was paid Senator Harrison, who is displaying great activity and ability as an orator and a debater, by his colleague, Senator John Sharp Williams.

"He (Senator Harrison) has proven himself worthy of his position as a Senator from the great state of every day in his worthiness. In other Mississippi, and he is improving words, his worthiness is increasing. The time will come when he can see and his friends can see that he is thoroughly at par excellence, for the position of a senator from a state whose Senators, while they have not been superior to the Senators from every other state, have been to a full extent equal to them."

A GEM FROM THE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD.

Congressman Tom Williams (Rep. Ill.) was discussing Civil Service in connection with the postoffice Department, when he was interrupted by Mr. Garrett (Dem., Tenn.)—Has thus:

the Postmaster General (Mr. E. J. Connelley) ever stood a civil service examination? (Laughter.)

Mr. Williams—No. And while I have the highest respect for the distinguished gentlemen who constitute the Cabinet of the President, yet, in my opinion, if they had been required to pass a civil service examination such as these rural letter carriers and fourth-class postmasters are required to pass, outside of Hughes and Hoover, none of them would have been able to get on the eligible list. (Laughter and applause.)

Among the purely political developments of the week was President Harding's modification of President Wilson's order for the selection of first, second and third class postmasters under civil service requirements instead of being required to select the candidate standing highest, the administration may under President Harding's order give the place to anyone of the first three at the head of the list. About 13,000 Post Offices are affected. Deserving Republicans, who are present in Washington in large numbers, seem to have no doubt that out of the highest three on the list the Postmaster General will find one Republican.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale
BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

IN THE WOODS.

"I love the woods," said the Wood Fairy, "and I see that you do, too, Pink Toadstool."

"Oh, yes," said the Pink Toadstool, "I wouldn't care about living anywhere else. Some of my family might, but I would rather be here. I, too, love the woods so much."

"Ah," said the Wood Fairy, "I don't think anything else is so wonderful as the woods. Just think! I have for a soft, wonderful one made of pine needles. They are so brown and so cozy looking and so very soft. Then the great dark trunks of the trees seem to protect me and look after me. And the shadows come in and dance between."

"In the winter there are more spaces between the great trees because then the leaves on the bushes and shrubs have gone to rest and the leaves of the trees have gone to sleep under the snow."

"Along the edge of these woods are wild asters, and they are like a beautiful border to the woods. Later there will be many changes. The trees will all change in color."

"There will be reds and scarlets and trees of orange shade. There will be some that will not turn red and golden so soon."

"And the deep woods, with their dark green trees, will look so lovely back of all these trees of the different colors."

"The path of these woods leads up a hill which they call Slippery Hill. And it is very slippery because of the carpet of pine needles."

"Before the carpet of pine needles begins there is the bright green carpet of the field down below."

"In the winter time there is more room in the woods, it seems, but it is nice to have one's winter home a little different from one's summer home, and yet have it the same home."

"Now, people have fireplaces and radiators in the winter in their homes, but we have snow blankets instead! Oh, the beautiful woods I do love so much!"

"Of course you aren't here all the time, but you are very wise, Pink Toadstool, to choose the woods for your home while you are here. It is so nice and cool here when out in the fields it is so hot."

"You see, we have the Magic Coolers of the woods making everything so cool and comfortable, no matter how hot the day may be."

"The birds come here and talk to us and tell us what goes on about."

"A number of birds told me yesterday they had had breakfast with some real people."

"Birds had had breakfast with real people?" asked Pink Toadstool.

"Yes," said the Wood Fairy, "the birds had been giving a morning concert in a garden near a big house. The people were eating their breakfast on the back porch of that house."

"And when they saw the birds they said: 'Oh, we will give you some breakfast, for you gave us such a lovely concert.'"

"And then they spread nice bread-crumbs about, and other good things to eat. The birds are quite often invited to meals like that."

"Not long ago they had a cookie banquet. Some children were having lemonade and cookies on a hot afternoon and they gave the birds some of the cookies and then filled a little pan with cool water for them to drink."

"Yes, here in the woods the birds come to talk to us. Many of the birds live here almost all of the time. There are little toads and frogs who live here, you, lovely Pink Toadstool have chosen it for your summer home, and the Wood Fairies all live here."

"The woods are better than anything else in the world."

The Wood Fairy waved her wand and sang while the Pink Toadstool smiled a Toadstool smile:

"I love the woods above everything. They make me happy, they make me sing, high-hee!"

Discoverer of America.
"Who discovered America?" asked the teacher in the Americanization class.

There was a pained silence for a few moments, and then a Greek spoke up.

"Ohio," he said.

"Ohio," echoed the teacher. "Why, it was a man named Columbus."
"Sure that was his first name," replied the nonplussed Greek. "Columbus Ohio."

A TEST OF FAITH
(Chattanooga News.)
We have frequent occasion to protest against the efforts of Japan to impose her dominion upon unwilling peoples, yet we have thus far failed to exemplify the ideals which we recommend to Japan. If we should withdraw our sovereignty from the Philippines, in accordance with our repeated promises, we could the more consistently ask Japan to follow a similar course toward Shantung, Manchuria and Siberia. Our plea would have a great deal more force if we could make it with clean hands. To say that the Philippines are not ready for independence is merely to express an arbitrary, gratuitous opinion. It is perfectly easy to create conditions—in one's own mind—that no people ever could comply with. Our delay about respecting our own pledge is a reflection on our national good faith and a constant invitation to international complications in the far east.

INDEPENDENCE OF PHILIPPINES
(Atascadero (Cal.) News.)
The Philippines should be given absolute independence, which is their natural right, even if we are well aware that they have not yet reached the full stature of Americanism. We ourselves have not reached it so long as we insist upon governing other peoples against their will.

The fool killer is another worthy citizen who never catches up with his work.—El Paso Herald.

Politically speaking, there is a general disposition among Democratic leaders to avoid carping and factious criticism of the Harding administration and only to oppose such measures and policies as are clearly antagonistic to the welfare of the country. The general inclination is to give the administration a fair show, and then to hold it to strict accountability on its record.

DO YOU EVER BOUGHT ANY STOCK?
If you have then you will be more than interested in our offer.

We have the most complete Information Bureau in the country on unlisted stocks and bonds.

We are offering for two weeks only a complete book covering all points connected with the purchase of stocks or bonds written by men who have had many years experience in the securities business.

We also include in this offer a market report on all unlisted stocks and bonds, and allow two reports on this contract.

The above mentioned book may save you many times its cost for the following reasons:

- 1st. It explains promotions in plain English so that any man, woman or child can understand thoroughly the operations of the 20th Century promoter.
- 2nd. It explains how to detect frauds in stocks and thereby protect your savings.
- 3rd. It will enable you to talk intelligently to any one offering you an investment which may be a good one.

Our book is not offered the public with the idea of hampering any legitimate enterprise but simply to aid the general public in determining what to do in the event of their being offered stock or if they have already purchased some. How and Where to Sell.

We are not connected with any brokerage houses and when offering a market report list all brokers making a bid on the specified stock with their relative offers. The above book and report service sells for $1.00 and we do not hesitate in saying that you will find both to be worth many times the price asked.

TOBACCO'S FOES LOSING GROUND

Carvass of 7,847 Editors Shows 7,393 Communities Against Abolishing Weed.

ANTIS LOSE THREE STATES.

Utah, Under Mormon Influence, Only Commonwealth to Adopt Prohibition Measure During Year.

"Is tobacco going to have its scarp added to the belt of the prohibitionist beside that of the lamented but as yet not altogether late alcohol?" is the question asked by Garret Smith in an article in the current issue of Leslie's Magazine.

The writer reaches the conclusion that while there has been increased agitation and legislative activity on the subject of tobacco following the success of the drive for prohibition of liquor the efforts of reformers seeking to abolish tobacco have no general support. This opinion is based on the results of the questionnaires on the subject sent out to newspaper editors of the country by the Press Service Company of New York City.

The questions asked were:
(1) Do you favor the enactment of laws prohibiting the personal use of tobacco by adults?
(2) In your judgment does the general sentiment of your community favor such legislation?
(3) Is the use of tobacco personally objectionable to you?

No arguments accompanied the questions and from their form it was impossible for any editor to determine the attitude of the questioners.

Out of 12,518 editors questioned, 7,847 replied according to the summary given. These editors, it is estimated, represent a combined circulation of 21,870,046. Of the 7,847 editors replying, 7,393, or 95 per cent, represent public sentiment in their communities as opposed to anti-tobacco legislation. Only 290 editors, or 3 per cent of those replying believed there was any considerable sentiment favorable to tobacco prohibition. There were 174, or 2 per cent, in doubt, while 20 failed to record their judgment.

Editors' Judgment Unbiased
"It is of special interest to note that 569 editors in answering the first question, personally favored such legislation, although only 290 of them reported that public opinion also favored the prohibition of tobacco—an indication of the conscientious effort made by the editors to distinguish public opinion from their own personal opinions," the article continues.

"The highest percentage of replies reporting public opinion favorable to prohibition of tobacco came from Utah, where 42 per cent of the editors thought the public were for such a movement. Utah is the only state which has since adopted an anti-cigarette law. The result was forecast by several of the editors who stated that the influence of the Mormon Church was against tobacco. The Mormon Church is also strong in Idaho, which is the other state where the use of tobacco was recently prohibited, but the governor has signed the bill just passed, in which the prohibitory legislation is repealed. In this state 89 per cent of the editors estimate sentiment in their communities as against tobacco prohibition, which, nevertheless, is 6 per cent below the average reported opposition.

"The legislature of Tennessee some weeks ago passed and the governor has signed a bill repealing the anti-cigarette law of that state. The questionnaire showed 93 per cent of its editors believed the public against anti-tobacco legislation. The legislature of Arkansas has also passed a bill repealing its anti-cigarette law. In this state 94 per cent of the editors reported against tobacco prohibition.

Arizona's Practical Joke
"A bill, introduced in the current session of the legislature of Arizona to prohibit smoking in public dining rooms and other public places, was first amended to prohibit the consumption in public of peanuts, chewing gum, tea and coffee and then defeated by the senate. The questionnaire returns from that state were 92 per cent 'no.'"

"In Iowa where the 'no's' were 95 per cent a bill to repeal the anti-cigarette law has been passed and signed by the governor.

"A bill to repeal the anti-cigarette law in Kansas, with 89 per cent 'no's,' is receiving the attention of its legislature. Last year a petition for a referendum in Oregon to prohibit the use of tobacco failed of sufficient signatures to bring the question to a vote, and 95 per cent of the editors declare their public against legislation. In Oklahoma an anti-cigarette bill has been reported unfavorably in the house. The editors of that state reported 94 per cent against its public support.

"Outside of Utah, where Mormon influence predominates," the article concludes, "the anti-tobacco movement appears, as in the case of Tennessee, Arkansas and Iowa, to be losing ground and is not to any considerable extent supported by the people."

The friends of tobacco feel particularly elated over this showing, inasmuch as 1920-21 was a maximum year in legislative circles with 42 state legislatures in session and the tobacco sector received an unusual amount of attention.

STATE'S FIRST FISH HATCHERY TO BUILD ON LISBOA SPRING.

New Mexico's first fish hatchery with a capacity of 3,002,000 trout a year, will be located at Lisboa spring, on the Pecos river, not far from the Valley ranch, some 28 1-2 miles east of Santa Fe, Thomas P. Gable, state game and fish warden, announced yesterday that the commission had reached a final decision in the matter. The attorney general's office is now examining title to the spring and the 5 1-2 acres of land which will be purchased. Construction work will be commenced in July, Warden Gable believes.

The state selected only after the three members of the commission—Judge Colin Neblett, of Santa Fe; A. L. Hobbs of Raton, and William McGrath, of Belen—had inspected the proposed sites. The commission accompanied by Warden Gable, recently went to Denver and made a study of the Colorado state hatchery that is located near Denver. After this careful study of the whole situation it was decided that the Lisboa spring would meet all requirements and was the best available.

The last legislature authorized the use of $30,000 from the gasoline collections for this hatchery.

The state of Colorado now has 10 fish hatcheries in operation.—State Record.

WESTERN POSTMASTERS INSULTED.

The postoffice staff of Silver City has been insulted, from Col. Brumback down by the postoffice department at Washington. They would probably all have tendered their resignations on the spot, but fortunately cooler counsel prevailed. The idea of offering real westerners automatic pistols to stop mail bandits. Any man who has carried a long 44 for the most of his life and can hit a gnat's eyeball at 500 feet, can't be persuaded that an automatic is needed anywhere, much less to stand off mail robbers.—Fort Sumner (N. NEW MEXICO HONORED.

In "Sports Afield."

New Mexico honored at the presentation ceremonies in the presentation of the gram of radium to Madame Curie this afternoon, as Secretary rail will address the assembly eliciting Madame Curie upon her great discovery and expressing the joy of America at furthering in this way the great cause undoubtedly to be made by Madame Curie through the use of this gift of the American women. Senator H. O. Bursam will meet Madame Curie by appointment on Saturday at the residence of Mrs. Assistant secretary of State and Mrs. Robert Woods Bliss, whose guest she is and will present to her a package of the containing radium crystal and sent from Silver City, New Mexico, by the Radium Treatment and Sanatorium Company of that city accompanied with an invitation to the celebrated scientist to visit Silver City and view the property from which this ore was taken.—State Record.

The sheriff was called to Loving Tuesday to investigate the killing of Jose Corales and wife, Victoria, whose bodies were found at their home a mile south of that town by a Mexican youth the same morning. Arriving at the scene of the killing, the officers found the woman lying across the doorway of a small tent just to one side of the shack, and the body of the man in the brush, where he had evidently been attending the demands of nature. The woman was shot twice, one shot entering at the point of the chin and coming out at the lower part behind the ear, shattering the jaw bone; the other shot went through her head. One of the shots went through her head and a corner of the tent, embedding itself in the corner of the house. The man was shot through the jugular vein and killed instantly. No motive is assigned for the deed, as the couple was old, between 60 and 70 years, and were poor, only $6.10 being found on the premises. A coroner's inquest was held and testimony given that one Mexican living near by had heard three shots the night before the bodies were found, about 9:30 or 10:00 o'clock. The murdered couple was well thought of by the people of Loving, particularly the native population. There is no clue to the perpetrators of the deed.—Carlsbad Argus.

Fresh Eggs.

The pert proprietor of a grocery in East Twenty-fifth street, is nothing if not good at repartee.

The other day, rather early in the forenoon, one of the good wives in the neighborhood stepped into the store and inquired:

"Any real fresh eggs?" (Great emphasis on the "real fresh.")

"Oh, yes, ma'am," he replied. "Some just laid this morning."

A day or two later, somewhat earlier in the forenoon than before, the good wife again dropped into the store and inquired:

"Any more of those real fresh eggs?" Whereupon the grocer cried to his clerk:

"Run to the back room, boy, and see if this morning's eggs are cool enough yet to sell."—Indianapolis News.

Famous London Tree Gone.

A famous old mulberry tree in north London, England, under which 144 years ago it is said the American Declaration of Independence was first read in that country, has fallen under the weight of its age. American boy scouts attending the International scout conference in London visited the tree only a few days before it crashed and its history was told to 300 of them, who had their photographs taken beneath its branches. The tree stood on one of the lawns of the Midway conference hall. Many religious leaders have addressed meetings under its ample shade. Hundreds of requests for chips from the historical tree are being received.

No Great Harm Done.

Juanita, knowing that her playmate Jack wanted a kitten, picked one up one day when it started to follow her and, taking it over to Jack, sold it to him for five pennies.

"Juanita," said her mother, on finding out what she had done, "don't you know you have no right to sell or even give away a kitty that isn't your own?"

"Well," said the young business woman, "I guess it can go home when it gets ready, can't it?"

Immersion Heater.

An exceedingly practical contrivance for a mother is an electrical immersion heater, cylinder shaped. This will heat water or milk for the baby or invalid in a moment at any time, day or night. This cylinder is simply plunged into the liquid and the plug attached. It takes only a moment to make the liquid boiling hot.

Bullrushes Found of Value.

As a result of a German professor's discovery that the roots of the ordinary bullrush contain as much as 30 per cent of cane sugar, special dredges are now being built for the purpose of harvesting them, reports Popular Mechanics Magazine. The roots grow in thick horizontal masses, and in one part of Germany are believed to underlie everywhere a tract of marshy land comprising 500,000 acres. Though sugar is the product chiefly sought, secondary processes yield alcohol and a nutritive cattle food. From the juice there is made, also, a strong beer resembling porter.

Health and Service

The service of the butcher is a big one to the community. If his produce is of poor grade or from diseased animals the lives of his customers may pay the forfeit.

When Conditions Are Right and quality up to high standard—when the butcher knows his business and keeps things clean and sanitary people KNOW and appreciate the right kind of service.

OUR SHOP is always cool and clean. Our products properly protected during hot weather and our service, both store and delivery always the best.
