

Making Extraordinary Mileage a Certainty -

Car Owners want more rubber on the tread where the wear is hardest; more gum between cord plies to perfect a resilient and powerful carcass. And they want a scientifically constructed Non Skid tread with all angles and contacts to resist skidding and give sure traction. Firestone Cord Tires have met these demands of the car owners.

Read Letters Below—
Records from 29,000 to 57,000 Miles

Cord Tires built the Firestone way could not fail to produce mileage. Every day, from all over the country, comes the word that 10,000, 20,000 or 30,000 miles are frequent and consistent records.

Now and then they are emphasized by unusual instances such as quoted below. Performances like these demonstrate the ultimate possibilities of Firestone Cords under careful driving.

Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Jacksonville Branch, Jacksonville, Florida.
Gentlemen:—
I submit herewith the history of a 33x4 Firestone Cord tire. This tire has run 27,000 miles. I have retreaded it seven times. The average mileage for each retreading was about 7,000. I think you will agree this is a remarkable record. It is especially unusual as I know the owner to be a severe driver. However, he gives his tires proper inflation. The tire in question is not yet out of service and has every indication of being sufficiently strong for another retread. I am mailing photographs under separate cover.

Gentlemen:—
It occurs to me that you might be interested in the mileage that I obtained from the set of Firestone Cord tires on my Dodge coupe. The first tire went over 29,000 miles. The second tire rolled up a mileage of between 34,000 and 35,000. These were both rear tires and had been cut considerably by chisels. The two front tires have gone better than 35,000 miles and are still in good condition. I expect to get at least 40,000 miles from each of them. I need scarcely say that the Firestone Cord will be my tire choice for the future.

METHODIST CONFERENCE CLOSES AT ARTESIA.
Next Meeting to be Held at Pecos. Record Crowd on Sunday.

The reading of the appointments on last Sunday evening, closed the thirty-second session of the New Mexico and West Texas conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The conference had been in session during the preceding week. The business sessions were very important and much business of denominational importance was transacted.

Among the noted men, who made addresses during the session here, were Bishop H. M. Du Bose, presiding bishop of the eleventh district; Dr. Beacham, of the Missionary board, at Nashville, Tennessee; Dr. Neal, secretary of the Sunday school board and Ralph Nolner, secretary of the Epworth League board of Nashville, Tennessee.

A large number of visitors and delegates attended the conference throughout the week. Several hundred visitors motored from the neighboring towns of Roswell, Carlsbad, Hope, Dexter, Hagerman, Lovington, and Lake Arthur, to attend the Sunday services. The seating capacity of the spacious Methodist church was not great enough to accommodate the crowd at the Sunday morning service. Although many were turned away, over one thousand people were able to hear the address, delivered by Bishop H. M. Du Bose.

The afternoon service was a memorial service, in memory of the departed members of the conference. Among whom was Mrs. J. B. Cochran, wife of Rev. J. B. Cochran, former pastor of the Artesia church but now presiding elder of the Albuquerque district.

One of the principal business sessions was devoted to the proposed plan of establishing a sanatorium within the bounds of the New Mexico conference. The increase in membership of the conference during the past year was more than two thousand, one thousand of which was reported from the Clayton district. Rev. J. H. Messer, presiding elder of this district was formerly pastor of the Artesia church.

The conference will meet in its thirty-third session next year at Pecos, Texas. When Bishop Du Bose announced that Rev. R. F. Davis would remain at Artesia, the local church members were well pleased as was shown by their hand clapping.

Following are the appointments for the New Mexico conference for the ensuing year: Roswell district, J. C. Jones, presiding elder; R. F. Davis, Artesia; A. C. Douglas, Carlsbad; J. N. S. The most absurd piece of political propaganda handed to the gullible voter during the recent campaign was that Senator Bursum had accomplished such wonderful things for the people in four month's time. The deceptive campaign bubble was pierced by a statement of the Secretary of the Interior, Albert B. Fall, a staunch republican. This statement was published in the Albuquerque Herald since the election. Any man who thinks did not have to wait for Secretary Fall's statement to know the absurdity of such pre-election gush. The Senate of the United States is regarded by a great many—especially Senators—as the greatest legislative body on earth. Isn't it amusing to think of the statement that a man could go into such a great body and accomplish more in four months than all his predecessors had done in ten years? Every voter should learn to cut such claims and cast them into the "fery furnace" and form his opinion on the merits of a question.

Business.

With only two months of the extra session of Congress yet to run, it is predicted that the tax revision bill and the separate peace treaty will occupy about six weeks of the time, which augurs ill for the balance of the administration's program, including the so-called Railroad Funding bill, a camouflaged title for a bill to loan the railroads $500,000,000 in addition to the $731,000,000 they now owe the government.

The administration programme also includes the bill for funding the foreign war loans, giving the Secretary of the Treasury blanket authority to do this in any way he may see fit. There is little opposition to the Railroad bill compared with this measure for the handling of $11,000,000,000 by one man without restrictions of any kind. Senator Underwood, the Democratic leader, and Senator McKellar (Dem., Tenn.) one of the most brilliant debaters in the Senate, have already exposed the sinister and dangerous character of such a measure, which will have practically unanimous opposition of Democratic senators and strong opposition from the Republican side. Under this bill Congress is asked to relinquish all authority over the funding of these loans, and to transfer it to the secretary of the treasury. Some who favor this transfer of authority accompany it with the impudent assertion that it is only necessary for the funding methods to have the approval of the great financial interests.

GANG WAY! HOT STUFF!

KEPPLE POST LEGION NOTES
BY R. H. ROWAN

Comrade Albert Richards is here for a few days visit with relatives. He is taking vocational training at the University at Albuquerque.

Comrade Albert Vogel left Saturday night for Denver to take up vocational training work at that place.

The ex-soldiers of Hope met last Friday evening and organized an American Legion Post at that place. H. M. Roberts was elected Post Commander; Horace Gossett, Adjutant; Mark Brewer, Post Historian; Reagan Brewer, Chaplain; Virgil Craig and Joe Davis, building committee. Here's wishing the Post good luck.

Another Kepple Post member entered the ranks of double-harness this week when Comrade Stanley Stehwein was married. Wednesday evening in Roswell to Miss Nellie Bolinger of Bushton, Kansas. Comrade Stehwein is a disabled veteran, sailing from the same town in Kansas and has been here in Artesia for a year. Has been an active member of the Post. He is now on the entertainment committee. Comrade and Mrs. Stehwein returned from Roswell Friday and will make their "nest" here.

Beginning this week, we are starting in the Hot Stuff Column a record of the members of the Clarence Kepple Post, showing our readers what each member did during the World War, where he was, etc.

Post Commander Oscar W. Samuelson enlisted May 15, 1917, with Battery "A" at Roswell. Spent several months in training at Albuquerque, going from that place to a camp in New York state, spending a few months there before sailing for France. The Battery was connected up with the Forty Second (Rainbow Division) being the 142 Field Artillery, 66 Field Artillery Brigade, Samuelson being with Headquarters Company. They sailed for "Sunny France" on Christmas day, 1917, arriving at Southampton, England, two weeks later. Went from there to a training camp in France where they spent five months in training, going into action at the great Chateau-Thierry battle. Helped stop the great German advance at that place, later going to Aisne-Marne sector, offensive, Champagne Marne, defensive, took part in the great St. Mihiel offensive, going from there to the Meuse-Argonne front. Commander Samuelson was in the thickest of the fighting from July until the signing of the Armistice on November 11, 1918. His outfit went from the Argonne to the Army of Occupation where they spent several months. He was first sergeant of Headquarters Company. Commander Samuelson is not married—but he says he is open for a good proposal. He received his discharge from the service July 2, 1919. Has been Commander of the local post for a year. Served as Adjutant for a year before being elected commander. He is one of the liveliest members and is at all times working for the good of the organization. He is engaged in business in Artesia, being half owner of the Smoke House, that popular legionnaire holdout.

By Scoop:
Vice Post Commander R. H. Rowan was born in Powersville, Mo., in 1895, (according to his story). A- fong about May 14, 1917, our brave comrade persuaded Uncle Sam that he could not win the war without him, so the Uncle accepted his gracious offer, and sent him where the bullets (also the bull) was the thickest—to the Ammunition train of the 34th Division. It took him several months to convince Uncle Sam that he knew how to handle bullets (and bull) so our brave hero was sent to France in August, 1918. Just as a matter of practice the 34th Division was sent along with him. Up to the day of the Armistice, Rowan hauled ammunition up to the front, several miles back, and then outside a few battles with General Vin Blanc and Col. Cognac at Paris, he did nothing but rest and accompany truck conveyers to every part of "Sunny" France and the Army of Occupation until that glorious day when the band played "Homeward Bound" while Rowan stepped lively up the gang plank and took a farewell look at France. He landed in the land of "home brew" June 23, 1919, and was handed his most treasured papers June 28, 1919. He is an active member of Clarence Kepple Post, hardly ever misses a meeting and is always ready to lend a helping hand in anything that comes along. He is now employed on the Artesia Advocate. We hold great hopes for his future, provided, that he ceases his habitual association with the gang who spend a greater part of their time at the race track.

Fred Brainard is a Charter member of Clarence Kepple Post No. 41 and he has a long string of "Eligibility" behind him, having enlisted in August, 1917, going to the first

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Knoedler drove to Roswell Monday.

The American Legion has made enemies and friends but at all times we stand for one big union. The United States of America.

Officer's Training School at Leon Springs, Texas, and was commissioned 1st Lieut. F. Art., in December the same year. Went from the officer's training camp to Douglas, Arizona, being assigned to the 14th Field Artillery, Regular Army. From Douglas the 14th went to Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, spending six weeks at the school of fire at that place, going from there to France. Comrade Brainard was in the great Meuse-Argonne offensive, his outfit advancing several "kios" in that big fight. His outfit spent several months in the Army of Occupation. Brainard was in charge of an all star baseball team which toured France, playing all the Division teams scattered throughout France and the Army of Occupation. He is a former New York Giant, also has played in the Texas league, international league, University of Illinois star. He has played the past two seasons with Columbus in the American Association. He owns half interest in the Smoke House, a Legionnaire hangout, and spends the winter months taking care of that place.

Comrade David Crockett Cogdell was born in Beaumont, Texas, in the year 1893, and lived there for several years, going to school and fighting his way through the world. About May 1, 1917, he hooked up with U. Company, 1st New Mexico Infantry, that being the Artesia Company. After leaving here the First New Mexico spent several months in camp at Albuquerque, going from there to Camp Kearney, California, where they were in training for several months. The 1st New Mexico and the 1st Arizona Infantry were consolidated and our comrade became a member of Co. C. 142 Infantry, 40th Division, the Division leaving for France in July, 1918. Dave was later with the 142nd Engineers and was under constant shot fire for 35 days in the Meuse-Argonne drive and also participated in the Limay-Thiercourt offensive. He was in the Army of Occupation for several months. Also had some hard battles with Generals Von Blane and Cognac and it is rumored that he met (Hard-Bolled Smith) in one of his battles in France. Was mustered out of the service in July, 1919, now employed by the construction company building the Hope-Artesia road. Charter member of Clarence Kepple Post.

Major Bujac, the ex-service man's friend, made the following statement after the visit of the government Clean-up-Squad at Carlsbad on the 7th of October: The Major said it was pathetic and lamentable that a "Clean-up-Squad" should have to be sent into a community to pass upon the justice of a claim, when there are competent and capable men and women in every community who can investigate and pass upon these matters, and give the same all the time and consideration necessary. He does not believe any relief will be obtained, and believes much harm and injustice will result from their recent casual, incomplete investigation. Men were invited to present their claims and in many instances they were turned away with a wave of the hand after they came. "It was mighty different in 1917 and 1918, when the star shells were bursting in "No man's land," and the foundation of earth trembled at the rattle and roar of the cannons of the Central Empires. Now, lest we forget, is the time to show our love of country by doing justice to these disabled veterans and heroes," said Major Bujac, and it is his opinion that before relief can be had for several of our injured local men the matter will have to be taken up with Senator Bursum, who is a member of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, and the friend of the ex-service man to the last ditch, and then some, that all ex-service men and women love, and can be relied upon to stand firmly by these men so justly entitled to consideration and relief. "They are not paupers, and they do not want a handout," remarked the Major, "but they are entitled to our love and a part of all we have. Had it not been for them we would not even have a flag, much less possessions for the same to fly over." So let's stand with "for God and Country" and a square deal for all the deserving disabled.

Professor: "What! Forgotten your pencil again! What would you think of a soldier without a gun?" Jones, an ex-service man: "I'd think he was an officer."—Brown Jug.

Commander Samuelson appointed the following on the entertainment committee: Bun Muncy, Stanley Stehwein and Homer Dunagan. This is a live bunch and we look for some lively events while this committee is in charge of the amusement end of the Post.

The American Legion has made enemies and friends but at all times we stand for one big union. The United States of America.

The Presbyterian ladies, following the pleasant custom of showering the Presbyterian brides, gave a delightful entertainment last Thursday afternoon for Miss Mina Collins, who is soon to wed Mr. Ralph Henderson of Long Beach, California. The function was held at the home of Mrs. Addy and properly speaking was not strictly a shower, but rather a downpour of beautiful gifts for this very popular young lady. Little John Gates dressed as a messenger boy precipitated the deluge when he arrived with a huge box of gifts. He was followed presently by two charming little fairies, Mary Louise Paris and Jeanne Wheatley, who made several trips to bring in the presents, the last being a shower bouquet of American Beauty roses. A unique game preceded the shower. In this the married ladies were grouped according to the months of their weddings and the fortunes for those months read out to them. Also as a souvenir for the prospective bride each wrote on a card her full maiden and married name and the place and date of her marriage. Refreshments of ice cream and cake completed this unique party.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller spent the weekend with his parents. They were accompanied by Miss Ella Bauslin and Mrs. Laura Kelly.

The Wonders of America

By T. T. MAXEY

THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT.

THIS gigantic shaft, unique, imposing, dignified, yet simple to an extreme, is a most fitting and suitable memorial to the Father of Our Country. It occupies a site near the River Potomac, selected by the man whom it honors, in 1783.

The cornerstone was laid on July 4, 1848, and the last stone set on December 6, 1885. It was dedicated on February 21, 1885. The proportions of this mammoth obelisk are colossal. The foundation goes down 38 feet and is 55 feet square. The walls are 15 feet thick at the base, 1 1/4 feet thick at the top and taper one-fourth of an inch to the top; 23,000 stones were used. The cap stone weighs 3,800 pounds. It is 555 feet high and is said to be the highest monument in the world. The white marble used in its construction came from the quarries of Maryland. It is claimed that there is room enough in the interior to house an army of 12,000 men. The stairway to the top contains approximately 900 steps. An elevator makes the top easy to reach, so that all visitors may see and enjoy the magnificent view of the national capital, its historic surroundings and the romantically beautiful river the man it honors loved so well, which is visible in the bird's-eye view from the top. On a clear day, a prominent peak, Sugar Loaf, in the Blue Ridge mountains, fifty miles or more to the northwest, is plainly visible.

THE WOMANS' CLUB.

The years' work began auspiciously on Wednesday afternoon with a lecture upon archaeology by Major Troutman of the Roswell Military Institute, who spent last summer with the Hewitt archaeological expedition. After hearing the splendid talk of Major Troutman the audience had a much fuller conception of the greatness of our state, which leads all the others in archaeological and historical interest and in the attractiveness of the Pueblo Indians. Col. Atwood, who although of Roswell, still in sentiment regards Artesia as home, introduced Maj. Troutman with a brief speech in which he touched lightly upon the greatness of our state and the progress of our women. A few beautiful musical selections were given, a piano solo by Mrs. M. H. Ferriman, a vocal solo, "Nueva Mexico," by Mrs. V. L. Gates, and Indian music by Mrs. White of our club. Also two beautiful solos by Mrs. Florence of California, who with Mrs. Atwood, accompanied the two gentlemen down from Roswell. The audience room of the Presbyterian church, in which the meeting was held, was beautifully decorated with Indian pottery, rugs, etc., also flowers, as was also the Sunday School room at which, at the close of the program, punch was served, by the entertainment committee. The Cottonwood Womens' Club, as well as a large number of others attended the lecture.

Several matters of business were dispatched before the program, among them being the election of Mrs. R. F. Davis to fill the treasurers' office also the election of delegates to the State Federation in Roswell Oct. 25, 26 and 27. These are the delegates: Mrs. G. R. Brainard, and the president, Mrs. Stroup, alternates Mrs. Francis and Mrs. Ferriman. Mrs. M. A. Corbin is a delegate by virtue of her office of district president. Mrs. Martin Yates will appear upon the program at the concert on Oct. 26.

On account of the Federation meeting the regular program of the club has been postponed one week. It and all other regular meetings will be held in the library.

PECOS FIELD OIL NEWS.

With a steadily rising column of oil in the Toyah Bell No. 2, and with the tools removed the bailer was working in the hole today, Friday with excellent prospects of increased production within a very short time. The tools which had been blown about 350 feet high in the hole late last week when the gas flow was first struck, were removed late Thursday evening after a week's battle with the sand and cable which held the tools in an almost air tight grasp.

While the tools for a stop proved almost impervious stopper in the hole the gas finally worked its way around and began carrying oil and oil sand into the hole. For a time this sand appeared to be almost a thousand feet high in the oil with a big column of oil on top of it. This sand continued to rise despite almost constant bailing until Sunday night when the bailings began to lower the sediment in the hole, and on Tuesday the tools were reached. After considerable work with the rope spear considerable cable was removed from the hole, and after working with the walking beam for about twenty-four hours the tools were loosened, and brought to the top.

The hole is filled with oil and sediment to within a few hundred feet of the top. The oil is heavily loaded with sand, and while gas continued to pour from the hole, it is believed that the heavy weight of about 8,000 feet of muck in the hole has acted as a weight to keep the gas down. When the bailer was sent down Friday morning about one hundred feet of packed sand was found in the bottom of the hole.

The general opinion is that when this sand is removed that the gas will be given a right-of-way and that it will bring a big production of oil to the top.

The continued good showings in the well have about quadrupled the prices of acreage in the vicinity of the well, the close-in acreages having the best call.

Dr. J. E. Carpenter, of Dallas, the geologist who located the Toyah well, arrived Thursday, and on the day at the well. Dr. D. Christner, the field representative of the U. S. geological survey has also returned to watch developments. —Pecos Times.

The shot placed in the Bell No. 1, last week seemed to have doubled the production of that well, and made a twenty barrel well a possibility. Ira J. Bell was not satisfied when that production and has determined to go deeper in search of the main pool. General geological opinion is that the frequent oil showings in the Bell are the result of big cracks in the rock formations, caused by the anticlinal uplift, and that when the shot disclosed the fact that these cracks are not near enough to the main pool to be opened by the nitroglycerin, that when the proper depth is obtained that a big flow will be found.—Pecos Times.

SANTA FE OFFICIALS VISIT PECOS OIL FIELD.

That the officials of the Santa Fe railway are alive to their interests and watching the development of the Pecos oil field closely, presumably for the purpose of preparing to take care of the business which will come to them in this development, is believed to be the cause of the visit of the officials of that road to Pecos and the Pecos oil field yesterday. They came to Pecos in their special cars over the Santa Fe as follows:

- F. H. Leeman, general manager, Amarillo.
F. L. Meyers, assistant general manager, Amarillo.
C. E. Snyder, Superintendent, Clovis, N. M.
T. B. Gallaher, general passenger agent, Amarillo.
J. W. Freeman, treasurer, Amarillo.
Roy Wheatley, director, Amarillo.

$25.00 STORAGE BATTERY FOR FORD CARS. THE EXIDE. THE LONGEST LIFE BATTERY IN THE WORLD. GUARANTEED. ARTESIA AUTO CO.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 8. — On the ground "that it would be unjust to punish a lesser offender under the bootleg law, while wealthy social leaders of Capitol Hill are allowed to have their wine cellars, without fear of molestation," Judge Ben B. Lindsay of the juvenile court today freed Chester Lasater and Clete Hinton accused of giving young girls liquor to drink.

In a statement read in open court, Judge Lindsay charged "that a conspiracy exists among the rich to have the laws enforced only against the poor."

"If we are to have jail sentences," said Judge Lindsay, "I would recommend that the prominent men involved in the delivery of thousands of dollars worth of first class booze—free of the poisons that are in the booze of the poor and are punishable enough—be followed, prosecuted and sent to jail."

"They Satisfy"

Amarillo, Texas, Oct. 8.—A new edition of the folder descriptive of New Mexico, issued by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, is just off the press, announces Mr. C. L. Seagraves, General Colonization Agent, Chicago. The book is well illustrated with new and expressive pictures. The illuminated cover shows the Elephant Butte Dam in all its massiveness. There are farm, live stock, orchard and town scenes, indicating the character of development in New Mexico.

The text has been wholly re-written. New statistics, including the 1920 census figures, have been compiled. Comparisons show that New Mexico is advancing. The descriptions, necessarily brief, outline the great variety of natural resources in the state.

New Mexico has something for everybody. There is variety of climate from the southern valleys to the high mesas in the north and west. The farmer may choose a location under irrigation or in rainfall districts. He may locate on highly improved lands or grow up with the big undeveloped section in the west part of the state. The investor may find mines, forests and industries.

The Colonization Department of the Santa Fe Railway will give the new folder wide distribution, it announces. The Earth, the Industrial and agricultural monthly, published at Topeka, circulates widely among people seeking new locations either for a home or for investments.

It is evident that the Santa Fe Railway is thoroughly in earnest to further development of New Mexico. It announces that it is ready to cooperate with every movement that leads to progress.

Modern Servants

Every twentieth century machine has its part in serving man in a better way than he was served before.

But if you had to do without all but one of the modern inventions, which one would you keep?

To realize the value of the telephone to all of us in our everyday business and social life, we have only to glance back a comparatively few years and recall what we did when there were no telephones.

Today the alert business man is sending his voice here, there and everywhere by Local and by Long Distance Telephone, going after business ahead of competitors who employ slower methods. The telephone is man's most useful modern servant.
