

CECIL I. BROOKS, Evangelistic Singer

from the state of Kansas is leading a choir of over one hundred voices in the song service preceding every sermon in the tabernacle. This portion of each evening's service is a great factor in the co-operative gospel crusade in Artesia. An orchestra of twelve instruments serve as an accompaniment. Don't fail to hear Brook's solos. They are worth while.

ARTESIANS AS I KNOW THEM

(By W. M. Todd)

C. O. Brown is the man whom the Santa Fe gave a big stick and placed in charge of their interests in Artesia. And the company made no mistake in the man or the size of the stick. Everything Mr. Brown says goes, but he is very careful what he says. Should the road do a shipper an injustice Mr. Brown would explain it so plausibly that when he was through the shipper would feel that he had been treated with rare courtesy and generosity. And when it comes to devotion, if Mr. Brown should find that he had inadvertently done anything or decided anything against the interest of his road he would drop dead in his tracks. But station agents are a recognized necessity and it would not do to exterminate them. Mr. Brown is perhaps more tolerable than the average. He is not a bad man at heart and he always answers politely when asked how late the train is.

Earl Bigler was until recently the local manager of the Mountain States Telephone Co., but he resigned to engage in insurance business. He is also the progenitor, promoter and "special master" of a telephone line running from Artesia to Lovington. The number of his accomplishments is bewildering. He belongs to the fire department, plays ball and manages the local club. He hunts bear in the mountains and is a fisherman who could have given pointers to Isaac Walton. He is a burnt cork artist, sings in the church choir, and has a rare repertoire of cabaret stunts. His only source of mental depression is the lack of opportunity to develop still other talents which he feels he possesses. He descended from good sturdy stock and there is no evidence of degeneration in the descent. He is an unreservedly good fellow and one of the handiest men of the town.

R. E. Alexander was captured early in his existence in a Tennessee jungle and kept in captivity until thoroughly domesticated. He lived a short period in California, but this was before the day of the movie studio and he was thus not involved in a scandal there. He also lived a short time in Mississippi, but a search of the criminal records of that state fails to reveal his name. He has never given his reason (or coming to New Mexico) but it is generally accepted as legal and no investigation has been made. He collaborates with one Corbin in the business of selling hardware and on the side gives expert advice on the cure of bots in mules, the training of bird dogs and the medicinal uses of sassafras. He is a fair citizen but his choice of smoking tobacco is vile and intolerable.

Daniel Eipper, when a little boy, was told by his mother that "little boys should be seen and not heard." The youngster's obedience to that injunction created a habit that he has never abandoned. Dan Eipper seldom takes. There are people here who have known him for years, and seen him every day of that time, who never heard him speak. And yet he seems to get along as well as others who talk most of the time. Mr. Eipper is a building contractor and a very artistic workman. Some of his cabinet work could not be excelled. He is also a well informed man and a substantial citizen. He has recently been nominated for city councilman on the only ticket in the field. He may do no talking at the council meetings but he may be relied upon to vote and vote right.

George Welton is assistant manager of the affairs of the Santa Fe railroad at this place. The duties of his position are not so arduous as to produce physical or mental fatigue, still he draws his salary with prompt regularity. In the meantime he tries to look wise and sometimes succeeds. It was the wish of Mr. Welton's parents to make an Episcopal clergyman of him and he was educated with that purpose in view. But George concluded he couldn't endure a high vest and stiff collar in this warm climate, and so instead of donning the clerical garb he invested five dollars in a khaki suit and went to railroading. In his official position he readily submits to impositions without resentment when he knows he has to. Otherwise, otherwise. But George is a corking good fellow when one gets to know him.

NOTE

With this issue of this paper the task of portraying the characteristics of Artesia's business men and women is finished. The intention has been to include in the list only business people. There may be others who should have received at least a "favorable mention," and some may feel slighted because they did not receive it. It is hard to sit down and cover with one's mind all the celebrities and freaks in a place of the size of this and if any who feels neglected will make it known I will gladly include him or her in a postscript with due apologies. Anything like a history has not been attempted. Only the lights and shadows that make an impression on an elbow acquaintance have been described. Some features have been purposely exaggerated because otherwise the descriptions would have been insipid and would

HORSE THIEF CAPTURED WITH MUNCY'S HORSES

"Red" Burkett, a young man, who gave his address as Big Springs Texas was given a preliminary trial in Judge Gilbert's court at Artesia on Monday morning on a charge of horse stealing. The prisoner, who had been captured by Deputy Sheriff Guy Wood of Lea County and Harve Muncy, plead guilty of the theft of eleven head of horses, which were the property of Mr. Harve Muncy, well-known farmer in the Atoka section. The man was taken to Carlsbad by deputy sheriff M. Stevenson. According to late reports from that place, the man was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary.

The horses were taken from Mr. Muncy's pasture on Sunday night, March 12, and were driven toward the plains country. Farmers along the road saw the animals, but as a man was driving them, thought nothing of the matter. However, the stock, which were all young unbroken animals, were missed on Wednesday morning. The trail was found on Thursday and the chase began, but proved fruitless for several days. A description of the man and his saddle horse had been secured by the officers of both Eddy and Lea Counties.

On Sunday morning, deputy sheriff Wood and Harve Muncy and party met the man desired in the middle of the road, fifteen miles this side of the Texas line. When asked if his name was Burkett, he responded in the affirmative, but denied any knowledge of the horses.

This was almost the truth as the animals had gotten away from him and he was in search of them at the time of his arrest. His steed was almost exhausted. When taken to Lovington, he saw that no escape was possible and confessed his theft. The prisoner was then brought to Artesia by deputy sheriff M. Stevenson of Eddy county, and remains in his custody until sentenced.

The horses were found and returned to the Muncy pasture after a short search under the cap-rock. It is thought that the man had accomplices, but this charge has been denied by the prisoner.

Mrs. Kellar of Hope and her daughter, Anna Lou, have been visiting at the home of her son, I. C. Kellar, during the past week.

Mrs. Joe Riggs and son were Carlsbad visitors on Monday of this week.

Miss Nellie Jonas has been sick this week at the home of her sister, Mrs. G. D. Holmes.

Over one hundred children, under sixteen years of age, have been attending the Bible drill given at the tabernacle after school. The children enjoy the drill very much and will give the drill some evening at the regular tabernacle service.

not have been read. If anyone has been said about anyone that got "under the skin" the assurance is here given that it was not intended. The aim was to please rather than offend. The people who have been led out and exhibited by pen sketches are from first to last a fine bunch of citizens whose acquaintance and friendship are a genuine pleasure. Just 79 people in all have been the victims of this involuntary exposure, and it is probably the last task of this size, character and importance I shall ever undertake. The responsibility of such a task when one tries to hew to the line and do exact justice is one from which the timid might well shrink. With these explanatory remarks I will add my best wishes with a hearty, "So long, fellows."

LOCKHART BOMBARDS SIN AT TABERNAACLE

Great Crowds Flock To Hear Evangelist. Hundreds Accept Christ and Take New Stand in Life. Wonderful Music.

The interest in the Evangelistic Crusade being promoted by the five leading Christian denominations of the town, is on the increase at a rapid rate. Great throngs attend the services in the tabernacle on each evening, as the evangelist, Wm. J. Lockhart, wages war on the vice and sin of the world today, especially in the town of Artesia. The speaker has a reputation of being a man, unafraid to denounce sin and preaches the true Gospel as was taught by Christ himself. He upholds this reputation in an excellent manner. The wrong doer cannot fail but see the evil of his or her way of life and hundreds are responding to the appeal made at each service. Two hundred and forty-one persons had walked down the aisles of the tabernacle and taken a new stand for the right, up to and including the Tuesday evening service. One hundred and seventy-four persons took the stand the first week. Others are expected as the meeting progresses. Many children have responded to the appeal, which makes the scene very touching to the older persons and the Christians of the town. Many grown men and women, well known to the citizens of Artesia, have confessed "their sins before men," for the first time. Back sliders are "hitting the trail" and taking a new stand at every service.

Sunday was a great climax of the crusade, up to the present time. The evangelist made three appealing addresses to a crowded throng at the morning and evening services. Many were unable to gain entrance on account of a lack of seating space. All available standing room was taken. The tabernacle was almost filled with the men and boys on Sunday afternoon presentation of "Men's Sins." As the speaker made a wonderful more interested crowd of men has never been seen in Artesia before. A total of seventy-eight persons walked down the aisles of the tabernacle to take a stand for Christ, during the day.

The young peoples meeting at the Methodist church, preceding the regular service on Sunday evening, was attended by several hundred young people. A large group of young ladies also conducted a prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church during the Men's meeting in the afternoon. The prayer meetings for the women at the various homes in the town have been very interesting and the ladies are much concerned about the lost of the town in these services. The men are attending the prayer meetings in the McClay furniture store each evening in large numbers.

A very notable event of the Crusade was the increase in attendance at the Bible schools on last Sunday. Attendance on March 12 was 485, while the goal of 600, which was set for last Sunday was not great enough for the opportunities. 807 persons attended Bible school at the five churches who are co-operating in the evangelistic campaign. A goal of one thousand or more has been set for next Sunday.

The local high school was given the introductory portion of the services on last Friday evening, which was used by the high students in giving their yells and singing songs. The sermon was then directed to the young people. Approximately thirty responded to the invitation, which was given after the address. Next Friday will be junior high school night, and the student body of this school will attend the services en masse. The service is also dedicated to "Motherhood."

The address on Wednesday night concerned the great question of "Conversion," and a large number heard this great message. The special service on next Sunday afternoon will be for Women only, and will be similar to the Men's service on last Sunday.

The song service is also worthy of much credit and praise. A large choir of approximately one hundred furnish the music under the direction of song leader Cecil Brooks, at each service.

DUST STORM OVER THE STATE

Last Saturday afternoon and evening, when the terrific dust storm was raging at Artesia, other portions of the state were being visited by a similar or even worse storm. At Las Cruces, the dust became so thick and darkened the city to such an extent, that lampposts were lighted in the business houses. Automobiles were forced to use their lights, while traveling through the streets. Albuquerque was visited by a strong gale, which damaged several buildings. A few persons were injured as sections of roofs and other parts of structures would fall. The Morning paper of Albuquerque stated that it was the worst storm seen in the state for many years. Artesia was lucky regardless of the sand and dirt, which permeated the atmosphere.

William Brown is in Artesia this week, visiting his mother. He is now in the employ of the Turkey Creek Cattle ranch, east of the town.

Charles McCree left on the Tuesday afternoon train for a business trip to Carlsbad, where he will attend to matters during the present session of court.

The South African revolt, killing hundreds, originated in a dispute over how much labor is to get as its share in the mining of gold. Wherever there's gold, there's trouble. To obtain gold, men freeze to death in the Klondike, perish of thirst in the desert. Gold is the greatest destroyer of woman's virtue and man's honor. The universal desire for it creates the greed that has made man more cruel and vicious than any animal. Lust for gold is back of tenebrous, starvation and other forms of poverty. This is the thing for which men sell their souls. Yet gold is valuable only in a man's imagination, and for most practical purposes is about the most worthless substance on earth. You cannot eat gold, nor can it keep you warm. No man can carry it beyond the grave, yet it is the emperor of civilization.

NEW RAILS SOUTH OF CARLSBAD

The following item from the Carlsbad Argus is self-explanatory and it is hoped when the new rails are laid the Santa Fe will see fit to run trains on to Pecos daily. The present system is very unsatisfactory to the Valley travel as we are compelled to stay over night in Carlsbad should we want to go to any town below Carlsbad. Here's hoping we soon get better service:

The Santa Fe Railway company has a gang of men at work replacing the light steel between Carlsbad and Malaga with heavier rails, the change being made necessary by the heavy traffic between the two points especially during the active farming season. The road north of Carlsbad already is laid with the heavier steel, but that south to Pecos is of a lighter kind.—Carlsbad Argus.

NEW ICE PLANT A REALITY

The new machinery for the new ice plant and cold storage room for Artesia has arrived and a large number of laborers have been busy all week unloading the machinery and building additional space for its installation near the canning factory.

The Artesia Utility Company was organized and incorporated for the purpose of manufacturing ice and managing a cold storage room and canning factory at Artesia. This is a needed enterprise in the town. The engineer stated that the plant could be in operation by the first of May, and would endeavor to accommodate the Artesia public as much as possible. The person who said that the plant would never be installed can see for himself if he cares to look in the direction of the old canning factory.

CANNON GARAGE CHANGES OWNERSHIP

Preston Dunn and sons have purchased the garage formerly managed by Cannon and son, last week. The new owners are well known to Artesia people, having resided in this section of the valley for several years. The exact pecuniary value of the transaction is not known at this time. The change in the management will take effect at the first of April. Mr. Cannon has made no definite arrangement concerning his business after that date.

CLARKSON CAFE RE-OPENED

Carter Bros., well known restaurant men from Mexia, Texas have purchased the Clarkson Cafe, which has been closed for a few months and have opened for business again. A first class cafe will be operated by these progressive business men, who know a good proposition when they see it. This and other new enterprises show that business in Artesia is increasing and the calamity howler must hunt for new quarters.

From the beginning of the Baptist 75 Million Campaign to January, 1922, a total of $30,256,319.41 had been paid in to objects fostered by the Campaign, it is announced by the general headquarters office at Nashville. Of this amount $28,799,971.16 came in through the payment of regular Campaign subscriptions and the remaining $1,556,348.26 in special contributions.

Regular receipts from the various states follow: Ala., $1,301,134.76; Ark., $714,683.09; D. of C., $123,250.01; Fla., $469,753.53; Ga., $3,000,174.10; Ill., $298,576.13; Ky., $3,187,656.15; La., $307,991.13; Md., $393,517.46; Miss., $1,248,846.50; Mo., $1,190,754.70; N. M., $145,229.97; N. C., $2,271,741.50; Okla., $340,562.65; S. C., $2,633,840.53; Tenn., $1,797,483.10; Tex., $5,462,658.85; Va., $3,279,085. More than 250,000 baptisms were reported by Southern Baptist churches last year.

How Money Was Distributed

Seven general objects of the denomination were embraced in the Campaign program, and from the regular Campaign contributions those objects have received the following amounts, according to a compilation by the headquarters office: Foreign missions, $5,434,012.53; home missions, $3,562,500.67; state missions in the seventeen states and local work in the District of Columbia, $4,954,813.26; Christian education, $7,192,442.79; Baptist hospitals, $2,004,099.16; orphanages, $2,103,787.33; and Relief and Annuity Board, which ministers to aged dependent ministers and their families, $799,126.99.

What Money Has Done

These funds represent an advance, ranging from 200 to 300 per cent, in the contributions of Southern Baptists to their general missionary, educational and benevolent work, prior to the inauguration of the Campaign, and have enabled the boards and other agencies to greatly extend their services in all departments. In addition to sending out more than 180 new missionaries since the Campaign began, and providing many church buildings, mission residences, schools, theological seminaries, publishing houses, hospitals and the like on the older fields the Foreign Mission Board has been enabled to open work in the new fields of Spain, Jugo-Slavia, Hungary, Roumania and Southern Russia in Europe, and Palestine, Syria and Siberia in Asia, and Dr. Everett Gill, for many years a missionary in Italy, but more recently a pastor in Kansas City, has been named special European representative to supervise the greatly expanded work on that continent. Dr. Gill is giving much of his time to distributing Baptist relief funds in Russia and otherwise looking after the interests of the denomination there.

Home Work Enlarged

Among the outstanding accomplishments of the Home Mission Board are the aiding of more than 1,000 churches with loans and gifts for church buildings, completion of the big tuberculosis sanatorium at El Paso, enlargement of the work in Cuba and the Canal Zone, strengthening of the 37 mountain mission schools and the development of all eleven departments of the work of the Board. In all seventeen states of the Southern Baptist Convention the state mission work has been greatly extended, the number of Baptist hospitals in the South has been increased from eleven to twenty-three, all of the older eighteen Baptist orphanages have been aided in material ways and two new ones have been established, while the number of aged dependent ministers and their families has been doubled and the amount of aid given them increased 100 per cent.

Collections Are Pushed

While the collections so far represent a big gain over the contributions of Southern Baptists to their work before the Campaign, the sum collected is not all that is due and in all the South an effort is being made to collect as much more as possible by the close of the Convention year, May 1, that none of the work may suffer.

NEW BAPTIST PASTOR

W. C. TAGGART ACCEPTS CALL TO LOCAL CHURCH

The First Baptist Church of Artesia has secured the services of Rev. W. C. Taggart as the pastor of the local church. He accepted the offer, made by the Artesia church, at the Sunday School service on last Sunday morning. However, a portion of his time will be devoted for a short period to the Dexter church.

Rev. Taggart has been pastor of the First Baptist church at Hope and is considered one of the strong denominational men in the state. He is a graduate from Simmons College and the Southern Baptist Seminary, being a gifted speaker and an excellent leader among his followers. Artesia is very fortunate in securing this man for the work at this place, not only from the benefits derived by the Baptist church in his coming, but to the entire community as well. Rev. Taggart expects to move to Artesia as soon as it is possible for him to make the necessary arrangements.

Hugh Nickols, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Nickols, of the upper Cottonwood, decided to try army life for a while. He enlisted last week at Roswell for a term of enlistment with the United States Cavalry. He is now stationed at Ft. Bliss.

Mrs. Reed Brainerd of Clovis, is visiting her father, Dave Runyan, and many other friends in Artesia during the week. Peggy Brainerd, young daughter, is visiting with her mother. We regret that Reed was unable to accompany her on account of business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Crockett, who have been visiting near Clovis, are back in Artesia. They are making arrangements to move to Blackwell, Texas, where Mr. Crockett has business matters, demanding his attention and time.

Word received in Artesia states that Chas. Holstein who at one time ran a restaurant here, was in an auto wreck a few days ago at Wichita. He lost one eye and it is feared he will lose the other. He is said to be in a critical condition.

Gayle Hamilton, Dillas Holmes, A. L. Terpening and others were summoned as members of a special venire, to report at Carlsbad for jury duty on Monday evening. The regular petit jury members reported on Monday morning.

The disease of the sore eyes is yet present in the town. A large number of the children and some adults have suffered as a result of sore eyes during the week. Many dark shaded glasses are being worn to protect the eyes from the light, as the eyes are weak for some time after being affected. The exact cause is not known, however no serious results have been noticed.

Rev. F. A. Thorold Eller of Carlsbad was a caller at this office Monday morning. He has been in charge of the Episcopal church here for the past few months and states from now on will hold services every Sabbath evening. He extends a cordial invitation to all to attend these services.

"Our Lawless Age!"

JAMES M. BECK

By JOHN DICKINSON SHERMAN

As we, in this year 1922, A. D., entering into a "Lawless Age?" A good many men and women of position and experience seem to think we have already entered in and are well on our way.

James M. Beck, solicitor general of the United States, may be taken as fairly representing the views of those who are alarmed over conditions. In an address before the American Bar association he said that contempt for law and the present revolt against the spirit of authority make this age eminently "one of sham and counterfeit."

He rejected the easy theory that these symptoms of a grave malady are merely a reaction of the World war. Far from causing the moral sickness of the age, says the solicitor general, the World war was in itself, perhaps, but one of its many symptoms. Some of the contributory causes of the world's disorder are reluctance to obey laws regarded as unreasonable or vexatious, the law's delays and laxity in administration which have bred a spirit of contempt, and the rampant individualism which began in the Eighteenth century, with its excessive emphasis on the rights of man and small stress on man's duties. In proof of his contention, Mr. Beck instances the records of the criminal courts and police dockets; violations of the sumptuary laws, which in the case of the prohibition statute have resulted in fines aggregating an estimate of more than $300,000,000; and "an increase in nine years of nearly 400 per cent in the comparatively narrow sphere of the federal criminal jurisdiction."

"In the greater sphere of social life we find the same revolt against the institutions which have the sanction of the past," says Mr. Beck. "Laws which mark the decent restraints of print, speech and dress have in recent decades been increasingly disregarded. The very foundations of the great and primitive institutions of mankind—like the family, the church and the state—have been shaken. Nature itself is defied. Thus, the fundamental difference of sex is disregarded by social and political movements which ignore the permanent differentiation of social function ordained by God himself."

Five plagues are afflicting humanity, said the pope last year in a public utterance before the College of Cardinals. The first, Mr. Beck recalls, is the unprecedented challenge to authority; second, hatred between man and man; third, abnormal aversion to work; fourth, the excessive thirst for pleasure; fifth, a gross materialism which denies the reality of the spiritual in human life. All these charges, says the lawyer, are proved in recent experience.

It is, however, to a wide-spread change in social conditions rather than to any change of man's essential nature that the solicitor general attributes the malady of our time. It seems to him that "the morale of our industrial civilization has been shattered. Work for work's sake, as the most glorious privilege of human faculties, has gone, both as an ideal and as a potent spirit. The conception of work as a degrading servitude to be done with reluctance and grudging inefficiency, seems to be the ideal of millions of men of all classes and in all countries."

The great enigma, then, which this situation propounds to us, and which, "like the riddle of the Sphinx, we will solve or be destroyed," is this: "Has the increase in the potential of human power, through thermodynamics, been accomplished by a corresponding increase in the potential of human character?" Then Mr. Beck goes on to say:

"A mass morality has been substituted for individual morality, and group morality generally intensifies the vices more than the virtues of man. What was true of Germany was true—although in lesser degree—of all civilized nations. In all of them, the individual had been submerged in group formations, and the effect upon the character of man has not been beneficial."

"There are many palliatives for the evils which I have discussed. To rekindle in men the love of work for work's sake and the spirit of discipline, which the lost sense of human solidarity once inspired, would do much to solve the problem, for work is the greatest moral force in the world. If we of this generation can only recognize that the evil exists, then the situation is not past remedy."

"I have faith in the inextinguishable spark of the Divine which is in the human soul and which our complex mechanical civilization has not extinguished. Of this, the World war was in itself a proof. All the horrible resources of mechanics and chemistry were utilized to coerce the human soul, and all proved ineffectual."

As everyone knows, law-abiding citizens in a number of big American cities have been driven by conditions to organize law-enforcement committees—a fact which would seem to corroborate Mr. Beck. Denver is the latest city to feel the necessity of such an organization. The indictment against the city administration is mildly expressed by Mrs. Mabel Stearns Noble, executive secretary of the Woman's Co-operative league, who puts it thus:

"Drunkness, immorality and gambling are our

MISS JEANNETTE RANKIN

MRS. O.H.P. BELMONT

against marriage. It is a short-sighted view, for you cannot mend things by looking on, any more than you can stop a dog fight by waving an umbrella on the pavement. But the great majority of younger women are realizing today that, if a change is to be made, if we are to get nearer a single moral standard, it is for women to bring this about.

"Women have, on the whole, been, or tried to be, what men expected them to be. If women expected more of men, too, would do the same." Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson, sister of Theodore Roosevelt, believes the girls of today are superior to their sisters of yesterday. Notwithstanding their bobbed hair and their abbreviated skirts and even their cigarette smoking, they are more capable, more interesting and think oftener and clearer than the types of their mothers' generation.

"The girl of today is a splendid creature," she asserts. "Her cigarette smoking and bobbed hair are just outward signs of that flapper stage through which she is passing."

"Girls today are developing remarkable executive ability and leadership. This naturally makes them more independent. They are doing things their mothers never would have dreamed of undertaking. They are succeeding in every field of business and industry they enter."

"But more than that—they are becoming better wives and mothers. The franchise has widened their point of view. With their greater understanding, men are discovering their better comrades, and children are finding them able to understand even their pettiest problems."

"Woman's place is still within the home. The very highest type of woman today is that one who can add civic responsibilities to her domestic duties without slighting the latter in any way. Women, by living more systematic and orderly lives, are doing what twenty years ago they would have regarded as impossible."

Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont has been elected president of the National Woman's party, following her gift of $146,000 with which to complete the purchase of the entire block composing the "old capitol" at Washington. She announces that a new "Petticoat party" will be in the field, with women voters organized in every state to "carry on" against the old political parties. There is to be a woman's platform and a woman candidate for president. The first issue, however, is a proposed amendment to the Constitution to abolish all legal discriminations against women. The slogan of the "Petticoat party" is practically this: "Man has got things into a pretty mess. The women must clean up the mess."

Mrs. Belmont has money and social position. The National Woman's party is the militant wing of the women suffragists. Its members have the courage of their convictions, as was shown by the White House picketing, the jail terms and the hunger strikes still fresh in the public memory.

Miss Jeannette Rankin, Miss Aime Morgan, Princess Catacuzene, Charlotte Perkins Gilman and others are back of a plan to give to mankind a "New World's History." It will give the "truth of history" and set woman straight in the eyes of the world, like this: "Woman was created before man; the rib story is man-made. Cleopatra was not a vamp, but a political and military genius. Joan of Arc never heard 'voices'; she was a military maid who joyed in the clash of battle. Henry of Navarre and Napoleon did not hold a candle to their mothers."

Mrs. Elizabeth Murray Shepherd will edit the "New World's History." And she says:

"The greatest tragedy of the race was when man wrested control from woman. Since the power of selection was taken, from woman man's era of selfishness and war came upon the earth. We must admit that man's ambition has made the world progress in many ways, but if we weigh the murders, woes, vices and other oppression against this benefit, none of us can help being agreed that woman's era was the better. This bi-sexual state in which we now are will soon grow into a Golden Age with all sex warring over with. Neither will rule the other but both will contribute to the development of humanity."

HOT BRICK PLAN GOOD IN WINTER

Electrical Connection in Garage Eliminates Many Starting Troubles in Morning.

KEEP WATER FROM FREEZING

Quick Start Can Be Made by Use of Vaporizer—Mixture of Salt and Glycerin Will Keep Snow and Rain From Sticking.

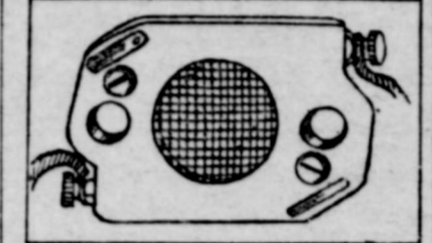

If there is electrical connection to the garage there should be no trouble starting off in the morning. The "hot brick" method electrified may be used

Instant starting in cold weather is promised by the use of this electric vaporizer. It is a heat-resisting case, sprayed gasoline and facilitating the starting.

To prime the engine for starting, pour a mixture of high test gasoline and ether into each cylinder through the priming cups at the top. Then limber up the engine with the crank and starting will come easily.

Prevent cold drafts coming up through the openings for the clutch and brake pedals, by gluing a piece of sheet rubber or leather to the bottom of the toe board, with merely a slit for the pedal arm.

To prevent rain or snow from sticking to the windshield, mix about two ounces of glycerin with one ounce of water and a dram of salt. Apply this to the glass with a cheesecloth. Wipe in a vertical direction only, so that the mixture will direct the rain to flow down and off the glass.

DO NOT BE IN HURRY IN STORMY WEATHER

Some Drivers Have Real Fear Something May Happen.

Careful Inspection of Car Before Beginning Lengthy Journey and Use of Plenty of Common Sense Are Essential.

Some automobile drivers have a real fear of driving in the winter rains along city pavements and country highways. There is a constant dread in the mind that something adverse may happen at a critical moment; the car may skid, something may go wrong with the steering gear or the automobile may fail to perform up to the proper standard in negotiating a steep grade.

"Fears of winter driving would be greatly lessened," declared E. E. Caister, director of sales for the Standard Steel Automotive corporation, "if the motorist would use plenty of common sense in the matter of actual driving, together with a careful inspection of his automobile before a lengthy journey is undertaken. One of the really great errors that a driver can make in traveling during the winter months is to imagine that he can proceed at the same rate of speed that is possible during the dry months."

"Of course, the pavements, after the oil has been washed off by the early rains, are in no sense a danger, yet it is well to observe proper precaution and play safe. The reason for driving at a slower speed in the winter months than during the summer is that a motorcar cannot be brought to an abrupt stop as easily on a wet pavement as is the case on a dry stretch of roadway. The brakes may be applied but if the car is going at a high rate of speed it is not at all certain that it will not slide just enough to cause a collision at a curve or a railroad crossing."

TIRE LOG WILL HELP OWNER

Use Small Note Book and Keep Accurate Record of Date Put on, Taken Off and Mileage.

Do you keep a tire log? It will help a lot when you go to the adjuster with your tale of woe. Use a small note book and give a separate page to each tire. Rule off five vertical columns. Label them as follows: Date put on, speedometer reading, date taken off, speedometer reading, mileage. Make the partial totals in the last column and add any other information necessary, such as kind of weather, etc.

GOOD TEST FOR VENT PIPES

In Filling, If Clear, Fact Will Be Indicated by Overflow of Water Over End.

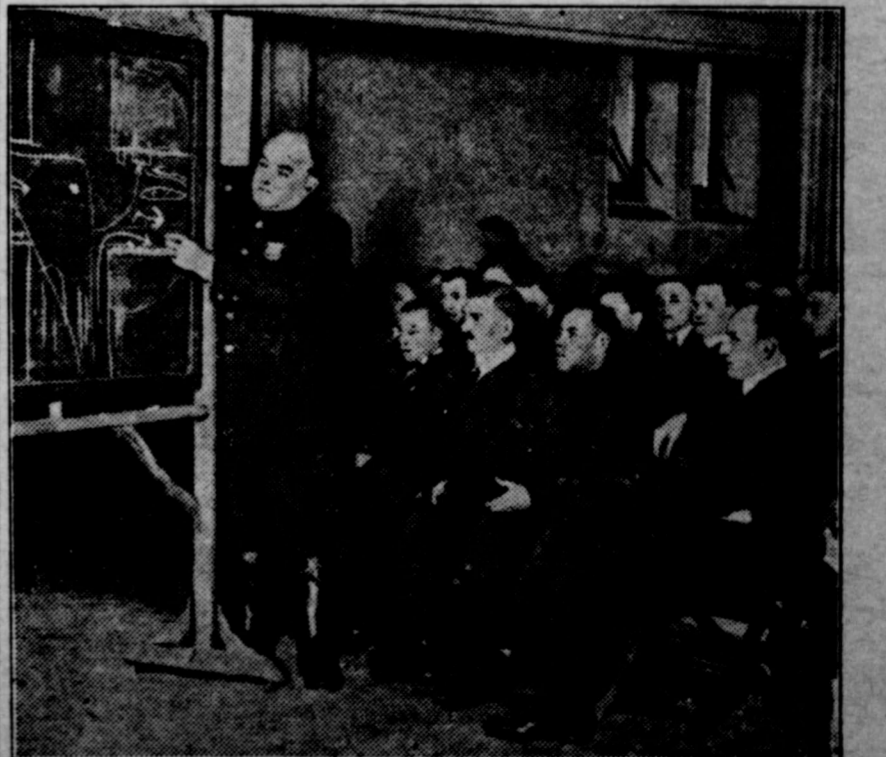

In filling the radiator of the car, allow enough water to pass in to bring the level over the end of the vent pipe. If this pipe is clear, as it always should be, the fact will be indicated by the overflowing of the water through it. If it is not clear, the water will overflow through the filter cap and not through the vent pipe, which should be attended to at once.

PROPER CHAINS SAVE TIRES

Without Them Wheels Tend to Spin Around More or Less Rapidly on Slippery Surfaces.

Many motorists seem to believe that tire chains induce wear; not if they are properly used. Without tire chains the drive wheels tend to spin around more or less on slippery surfaces. Sharp pieces of stone, cinders and other similar material in the road cut the rubber and scrape it deeply, a condition that does not arise when the chains are in place.

BLACKBOARD LECTURES GIVEN TO OFFENDING BROOKLYN MOTORISTS

Offending motorists brought before Magistrate Flisk in the traffic court, Brooklyn, are punished in a rather novel manner. They are compelled to listen to a blackboard lecture, delivered by Policeman John M. Finnerty on traffic regulations and the rules of the road as shown in the photograph.

ARTESIA HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATS CARLSBAD

LOCAL LADS CLOSE BASKET BALL SEASON BY WINNING LAST GAME BY A 23 TO 11 SCORE IN ARMORY COURT

Coach Adams "Bulldogs" the local high school boys basketball team won a slow game of basketball from the Carlsbad quintette on last Saturday night by the decisive score of 23 to 11. It was evident from the initial whistle that the local boys were more proficient in every phase of the game. Interest in the contest was high, however, as the Lower valley lads wished to gain revenge from the Artesia boys for the defeat administered to them early in the season. Rooters for both teams were noticeable.

Davis, lengthy center for Artesia was unable to enter the game on account of illness. However, Captain Stoldt was shifted to this position and proved to be the stellar performer on the court. His floor work was excellent and he was a great factor in the defensive brand of ball played by his team.

Nickey played his usual good game at forward, being able to ring the basket for five goals. Brown played the other forward position, and tied with Nickey in number of points made. However, he was taken out of the fray near the last and George Williams was substituted in his place. Norman Clyde and E. Klopfenstein were "going good" in the guard positions. Very few field goals were allowed the opposing forwards.

Hardy at guard, and Foreman, who substituted for Nickols, at forward, were the stellar performers for Carlsbad. Although the team was outclassed, these men played excellent ball. Many fouls were called on both teams, which allowed many free trials for a goal. Artesia was penalized fifteen times and the Carlsbad boys finished the game with eight fouls against them.

This game was the last game to be played by either team this season. As the Artesia court had been destroyed for several days, it was necessary to play the game on the Armory floor at Carlsbad. Artesia high school has lost only two games was the defeat administered to the boys at the Roswell tournament by Hagerman high school. The other defeat was at the hands of the Dexter high school on an outdoor floor. Considering the lack of a good court and the handicap of the flu epidemic, the season has been a satisfactory one. The boys are now starting track and baseball.

Following are the lineups:
Carlsbad position Artesia
Nickols forward Brown
Thomas forward Nickey
Ussery center Stoldt
Hardy guard Clyde
Lewis guard Klopfenstein
Substitutions: Williams for Brown; Foreman for Nickols; Erwin for Ussery.

Field goals: Nickey 5; Brown 3; Foreman 2; Hardy 1; Thomas 1. Free goals: Brown 4; Stoldt 1; Nickols 1; Thomas 2.

Z. B. Moon has returned from a meeting of the executive committee of the National Park recently held at El Paso, and brings the cheering news of the good work accomplished besides progress made in every department of the work.

A strong committee composed of Gov. Meacham, Z. B. Moon, Col. Stackhorn and Capt. Thompson, are to go to Washington within the next fortnight to press the work to a finish.—Hope Press.

By the Associated Press. Albuquerque—Prager Miller, of Roswell, was unanimously chosen to again head the New Mexico Wool Growers' Association, which completed its nineteenth annual convention here. M. B. Otero, vice president last year will serve in that capacity during 1923. Miss Bertha Benson will continue as secretary and treasurer of the association which will hold its 1923 convention in this city next spring.

The southwest corner of Canyon and Mermod streets which has remained unoccupied except for the old ruins of the Bates hotel since the catastrophe which removed that edifice from that location, will soon be again occupied by a building which will erase the memory of years gone by from the minds of the citizens of Carlsbad. A. J. Crawford is having plans drawn for the erection of a building on the corner for use as a garage and filling station, and work will begin upon the improvement as soon as possible. The new building will be the latest thing in its line and besides the filling station will contain roomy quarters for a garage and sales room.—Carlsbad Argus.

Bobbed hair has been subjected to much criticism, and has stood up, during the season. One of these so to speak, under it creditably. But while we have been speaking our minds of the girl's hair, how about the sleek and oleaginous pompadours of the cake eaters? No hair ever, by following its own inclinations, ever lay back that shingly and one suspects that if hair oil is not responsible, then vaseline is.—Fredonia Herald.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT YOUNG PEOPLES MEETING

The largest number of young people to attend any of the union services of the various young peoples organizations were present at the Methodist church on Sunday evening. Miss Elva Clyde was in charge of the program.

Miss Julia White delighted the group with a reading. A male quartette, composed of Messrs. Homer Dunagan, James Bates, R. A. Brewer and Fred Cole, sang "That Beautiful Land." Short addresses were made by Misses Ethel Fore, Lorie Davis, Amy Wilde, Vesta Frisch, Hester LaDue and Messrs. Lewis Cole, Everett Long, Dwight McCree, and R. A. Brewer. Miss Gertrude Baber was appointed to lead at the next meeting on Sunday evening.

San Francisco, March 18.—The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad has embarked on a program to double track its system from California to Chicago according to W. B. Storey, president of the company, who is here today from Chicago. His statement confirmed previous reports in unofficial quarters of the contemplated move. "Provisions have been made in the 1922 budget for the laying of 75 miles of second track in Arizona as part of the general plan," Mr. Storey said. "The rate of development of California will largely determine how soon this ultimate plan will be carried out."

Business generally seems hopeful in the territory served by the Santa Fe, Mr. Storey said, but hope for further reduction in passenger and freight rates could not be held out until volume of business increased materially.

Charlie Beeman was in Carlsbad, Wednesday, from his home in Malaga, and remarked to an Argus reporter that the work just completed on the highway south between this city and Malaga was the best ever done upon that highway. All the chuck holes and low places in the road have been filled with gravel and the portion under the superintendency of F. E. Little, county road supervisor has been done in such a manner as to attract attention from all who pass over it. Under the agreement, the state repaired the highway between Carlsbad and Lovington, while the county did the work between the last named town and Malaga.—Carlsbad Argus.

Frank Adams, of Artesia, was a week end visitor to the Beautiful this week.

The Service Is Yours—

WHILE the plant of The Telephone Company belongs to the stockholders, the Service belongs to the public; and it is under the control of the public to a much larger extent than it could possibly be controlled by the Company independently of the public.

As a matter of fact, the telephone organization is simply an agency through which a community serves itself. If this agency is hampered by unreasonable legislation, restrictions on requirements, or by inadequate revenues, or by unjust burdens of taxation, the ability of the agency to properly function is impaired if not wholly destroyed.

Because of the requirements of the public for efficient and abundant telephone service, the public has a very vital interest in the financial health and general well-being of the Company.

ALL ROADS SHOULD LEAD TO PECOS IS WILLIAMS' IDEA

J. W. B. Williams, candidate for commissioner of precinct No. 4, was in Pecos Tuesday from a trip to Amarillo where he visited with his daughter for a few days having gone that far with a shipment of fat lambs which he had consigned to Kansas City.

On his return home through the Pecos Valley, Mr. Williams stopped off at Carlsbad, where he was honor guest at one of the semi-monthly midday luncheons held by the town builders of the City Beautiful. While attending this meeting, Mr. Williams became interested in the good roads plans of the Carlsbad boosters, one of which is a proposal to continue the Ozark Trails highway from that city to Sierra Blanca and thence to El Paso, the gateway. There are features of this route which make it impracticable for winter travel, chief of which is that it would traverse mountain ranges which are clogged with snow and ice during the greater part of the cold season.

Mr. Williams suggested to the Carlsbad town builders that they concentrate their plans to make an approved highway from that city south, following the outline of the Pecos river to the State line, with the expectation of getting the cooperation of the town of Pecos and all this section in completing the highway from that point to this city where it would connect with the Bankhead Highway, and make an all southern route to El Paso over which there would be no closed seasons.

Mr. Williams pointed out that the increased distance of this proposed route would be negligible to motorists, if a standard highway were furnished and the objectionable features were eliminated. Developing the idea to an issue, Mr. Williams suggested that he would endeavor to get the Pecos Chamber of Commerce to embrace the project and the Carlsbad boosters came back at him with an invitation to his home boosters for a visit to that body at some early future date, when the interests of the two towns in this particular phase of development will be discussed, along with other plans of mutual interest.

Mr. Williams states that the projection of the Ozark Trails road from Carlsbad to this point would open up the Pecos Valley from the northern to the southern extremity of its development, opening an avenue at Pecos for the flood of tourists who come in from the northern routes to Roswell, who are diverted from that point in its westward trend by the lack of a standard highway south from that point or this city.

That Carlsbad is hopeful of the ultimate success of the proposed Red Bluff irrigation project, is a conclusion reached by Mr. Williams in mingling with the City Beautiful builders, who assures him that its installation would in no wise detract from the water supply of their project, but rather its culmination would be a source of vast benefit to the Valley at large.

By way of emphasis to Mr. Williams' suggestion, The Enterprise would suggest that Pecos business men send a delegation at an early date to Carlsbad to discuss with the business men of that city the phases of development in which the two cities are mutually interested, one of which certainly seems apparent in the projection of the highway from that point to a connection here with the Bankhead Highway.—Pecos Enterprise.

Clint Cole, Fred Nelson, J. C. Floore, and several others are serving on the petit jury at Carlsbad this week.

Mr. Harry Thorne, furniture man and prominent man in civic affairs of Carlsbad, was an Artesia visitor on Tuesday of this week, visiting his many friends and attending to business matters.

ARTESIA SUNDAY SCHOOLS MAKE DRIVE TO INCREASE ATTENDANCE

Evangelist Lockhart and Singer Brooks Starts Movement

The attendance in the various Sunday Schools of the town is expected to total more than one thousand persons on next Sunday morning. Each of the denominational schools, which are co-operating in the Evangelistic meeting, reported a large increase in attendance on last Sunday over the attendance of the preceding Sunday. A larger increase is desired for the coming Sunday.

Blue and red tags are being worn by the members of the various Bible schools, stating that the wearer will be one of the One Thousand at the schools on Sunday. Every person who will promise to attend is also given a tag to wear. A rivalry exists between the two divisions in securing new members for the various classes in the various churches. Last Sunday, men attended the Bible classes, who had not been in Sunday school for eight and ten years.

The Methodist increased from 161 to 294 persons present. The Baptist attendance on March 12 was 90, while on last Sunday 182 were reported present. An attendance of 114 at the Presbyterian school increased to 152. The Christian church reported an increase from 69 to 126 persons. The Nazarine Sunday school made a gain of 32, the attendance going from 51 to 83. A total gain in the five denominational Sunday Schools of 322, so that the total attendance was 807.

How Firestone Has Reduced the Cost of Tire Service

Size	Jan. 1921 Prices	Jan. 1922 Prices	Reduction
30 x 3 Fabric	$18.75	$ 9.85	47%
30 x 3½ "	22.50	11.65	48%
30 x 3½ Cord	35.75	17.50	51%
32 x 4 "	56.55	32.40	43%
33 x 4½ "	67.00	42.85	36%
33 x 5 "	81.50	52.15	36%

HOW the cost of building quality tires has been brought down to the lowest level in history was explained by H. S. Firestone, President of the Company, to the stockholders at the annual meeting on December 15, 1921.

1. All inventories and commitments at or below the market.
2. Improved manufacturing efficiency and volume production reduced factory overhead 53%.
3. Selling costs reduced 35%.

Mr. Firestone stated, "This reduction in prices is made possible by our unusually advantageous buying facilities, and the enthusiasm, loyalty and determination of our 100% stockholding organization."

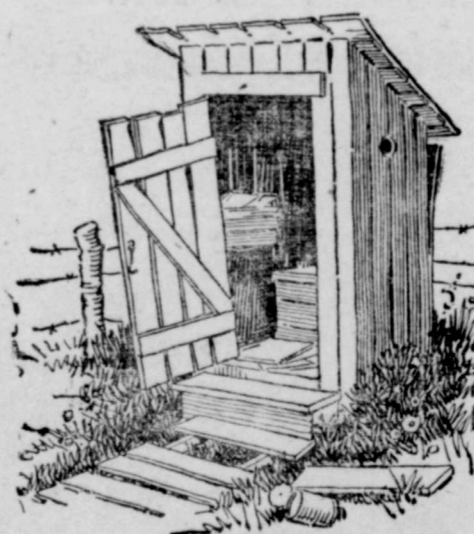

"Due credit must be given to Firestone dealers who are selling Firestone tires on a smaller margin of profit. This brings every Firestone saving direct to the car-owner."

The saving through first cost plus the saving through high mileage doubles Firestone economy and is daily adding new fame to the Firestone principle of service—

REMAINS OF MRS. EDITH BECKWITH SHIPPED TO MISSOURI

Mrs. Edith Beckwith, wife of Fred Beckwith, well-known farmer, south of Artesia, died at her home on Sunday night. Her health has been very poor for many years and her death has been expected by friends for some time. Mrs. Beckwith has been practically an invalid for ten years, coming to Artesia about three years ago from Benton county, Missouri, in search of a climate better suited to her health, being a sufferer from tuberculosis.

The deceased is survived by a husband and a sister, Miss Vesta Young, who have resided with her at Artesia, during her residence at this place. The father and mother and two brothers are now living at Fristow, Missouri, to which place the body was taken by Mr. Beckwith, for burial.

Mr. S. H. Walker has been loading a car of household articles during the week, prior to a trip to Illinois, where he will make his home. The car of household goods, a car of horses and a car of cattle left Artesia on Thursday, in charge of Mr. Walker and Lawrence Wilde for the new home in Illinois. The family will remain in Artesia until the present school session closes, at which time they will join Mr. Walker. He has purchased a large farm in that state, and is taking his livestock with him, in order to take proper care of the tract. Artesia loses one of its best families in the departure of these people.
