M. Bill appropriating $750 for the relief of Dr. C. Leroy Brook, government physician, North Pueblo agency, New Mexico, for loss of automobile in flood. AMERICAN LEGION HEAR DELEGATES

The members of Clarence Kepple post, No. 41, American Legion, met at the Oddfellows hall on Monday evening for a special call meeting of the organization. Commander Dunagan was unable to be present. Oscar Samelson, past commander, presided at the meeting.

A report by Comrades Thomas S. Cox and Bun Muncy, delegates to the state American Legion convention at Las Vegas, made a report concerning this convention. The post was ably represented by these two men. The American Legion has increased in the state of New Mexico at a rapid rate during the past year. The organization has grown in power and much benefit has resulted from its organization.

Col. J. D. Atwood, formerly of Artesia, and captain of the Company C, New Mexico National Guard, before the European war was elected State Commander. He is now located in Roswell, where he is an attorney. Rufus Rowan, a member of Clarence Kepple post, was elected an alternate to represent New Mexico ex-service men at the National convention at New Orleans.

The Legion members also discussed in detail the plans for the American Legion show, "The Music Box Revue", which will be presented some time this month.

FRANK J. THELAN DEAD

Word was received in Artesia on Friday morning of last week that Mr. Frank J. Thellan, manager of the Wholesale Dry Goods department of the Joyce-Fruit stores at Roswell, had died during Thursday night. This was a sad report to the many friends of the deceased at Artesia. The funeral services were conducted on Saturday night at eight o'clock, at the Tilton funeral home, by Rev. Sidney M. Bedford. The body was then shipped to Pierce City, Missouri, for burial. The remains were accompanied by Mrs. Thellan and two children.

The deceased was manager of the dry goods department of the Artesia stores for many years. He was then transferred to Roswell, where he was the manager of the dry goods department at that place until the Wholesale Dry Goods department was established by the Joyce-Fruit company; at which time he became manager of this department. He was a director of the company and was a valued friend of all patrons of the Joyce-Fruit company.

ATTENDS STATE CONVENTION

Atty. S. E. Ferree is back from the Republican State Convention which was held at Albuquerque last week. He was a delegate from Eddy county.

He states the Republicans have a clean ticket this time and that they are sure of electing it this fall. We suggested to the Judge that if he was so sure about electing his ticket this fall that the Democrats withdraw and declare the Republicans elected in order to save expenses. He thought that a good idea. But then Judge we have found a number of Democrats that don't believe that way; what shall we do about it?

Artesia, New Mexico.
Artesia Advocate,
Dear Sir:

I see in the Advocate of September 1st, that night watchman M. Stevenson states that he will employ W. F. Daugherty to do his running. Now I want it understood that I will not be deputy under Mr. Stevenson. If the City Dads want to employ me to run, I am at their command, provided that they will employ some Mexican to do the other part; viz., shoot.

It seems to me that if Mr. Stevenson had any pride about him, he would resign his position; as he can not shoot for he has been tried (see what he did at Dayton). I am sure some get so they can not run in Artesia but I did not know that Mr. Stevenson partook in quantities so that he could not perform his duty as night watchman.

W. F. DAUGHERTY.

SAVE YOUR MONEY for the Big Legion Show. Coming Soon.

IN JUDGE GILBERT'S COURT

A large number of interested persons, especially the Mexicans around Artesia, were present on last Thursday at the trial of Martinez Eredia. The man was charged

WOMAN INJURED BY FALL

Mrs. Anderson, whose home is west of Artesia, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. P. George. Last week she suffered a very painful accident, when she fell from a porch, breaking her ribs. According to reports she is improving, although suffering from the pain of the fractures.

REV. COFFEY RETAINED

Rev. Coffey has accepted a permanent call as minister of the First Christian church of this city.

Rev. Coffey came here a few months ago and has through his happy ways, won many friends and we are pleased to know the Reverend will remain a permanent fixture in our city.

GIRL BREAKS ARM

The small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hartheart, who reside east of Artesia, fell from a burro, which she was riding on last Sunday afternoon and broke her arm. Dr. H. A. Stroup was summoned and administered medical aid to the injured member. The girl was small and the fall resulted in a very painful accident.

B. STEPHENSON RESIGNS CLERK JOB

B. Stephenson resigned his position as city clerk last Thursday evening at the regular town council. Mr. Stephenson has been clerk for a number of years and it will not seem natural to have him off the job. Mr. Stephenson goes to Paris, Texas, Monday and will remain there for a short time when he expects to go to El Paso to make his future home. Success to you, "Be. Steve" in your new home.

SHIPS FINE TOMATOES

D. E. Hedgepeth, who farms one mile south and two and one-half miles east of Artesia, brought to this office a box of tomatoes raised on his place that proved to be the best the writer has ever seen in any country. He has several acres and is shipping them to other states. He also has a good market at Amarillo, Pecos and other points. He also has them for sale at the farm to local trade. We thank you for the fine gift, Mr. Hedgepeth.

MISSES LADUE ARE HOSTESSES

The faculty members of the Artesia public schools were entertained by the Misses Esther and Emma Ladue at the J. T. Collins home on Friday evening. Several teachers were unable to be present, but an excellent occasion was enjoyed by those present. This event enabled the teachers to become better acquainted with each other. Punch and cake was served during the evening. A large supply of watermelons were also served to the guests.

BIRTHDAY SHOWER FOR MRS. E. E. MATHES

The members of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Presbyterian church, surprised Mrs. E. E. Mathes on Friday evening with a delightful birthday shower. Fruit of all kinds and in large quantities was presented to this popular member of the organization. She was unaware of the occasion until the guests began to arrive, stating that they were going to assist her in celebrating her birthday. Special musical numbers consisting of vocal and piano solos, by Miss Margaret Mathes and Miss Iris Iler, were features of the occasion. All report an excellent evening, especially the surprised honoree.

FAREWELL SOCIAL FOR MISSES DAVIS AND COWAN

A group of the younger set were present at a delightful social on the Methodist church lawn on Saturday evening, complimentary to Misses Lorie Davis and Gladys Cowan, who left this week for Texas, where they will attend college. The lawn was an ideal place for the outdoor games which were enjoyed by all present.

Rev. and Mrs. R. F. Davis accompanied on the occasion. After taking a trip to California with lip sticks, powder puffs and Mexican lasses, which proved very amusing, delicious ice cream and wafers were served by Misses Adele Ohnemus and Mildred Frisch. Among those present were Rev. and Mrs. Davis, Misses Mildred Frisch, Vesta Frisch, Gladys Cowan, Lorie Davis, Zanada Mann, Beatrice Davis, Adele Ohnemus, Lorene Kirkpatrick, Effie Glover, and Messrs. Fred Cole, Lewis Cole, Ralph Davis, Lloyd Cowan, Ralph Reed, Henry Davis, Herman Cole, Russell Rogers and Clint Cole.

C. E. Shumaker has been appointed to fill the city clerk job. We feel sorry for you, Mr. Shumaker, for the "C....." you will get buy then we are satisfied you will fill the place O. K.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES READY FOR FOOTBALL SEASON

Prospects Bright For Fast Team

The Artesia high school expects to place a fast football team in the field for gridiron contests during the 1922 season, according to reports from Coach Frank C. Adams, and members of the football team. The athletes are practicing daily for the initial games which will be played in the near future with the best teams in this section of the state. Coach Adams, who coached the athletic teams last season, is back and is drilling a large squad of aspiring athletes in the rudimentary points of the great college game of football on the high school gridiron each afternoon. He is being assisted by O. K. Evans, a noted athlete who won five letters for athletics in William Jewell college at Liberty, Missouri, and Henry Davis, a graduate of Simmons college, Abilene, Texas.

About twenty-five husky lads, including a large number of letter men from last year's squad are trying to win a place on the first eleven. Captain Chauncey Yeager and Tom Bullock, last year's captain, are again at their old positions of half-backs. These two athletes are considered the fastest pair of athletes in the state. Davis, who won his letter at tackle, is going good at full-back and will likely fill this position during the season. H. Cole utility backfield man, will be shifted to an end position, unless Yeager goes to quarter-back. Pollard at end and George Williams, a guard, and Edward Welsh, husky tackle, are the other letter men to return. Williams is doing good work at center this season.

DeAutremont, fast track man, appears to be the best bet at the quarter-back position. Lyda House, quarter-miler, is also doing good work at the end positions. Among the other new men, who are showing good qualities on the gridiron, are J. C. Floore, Will Meadows, Knowles, Ohnemus, Rideout, Bruce Adams, Stevenson, Conner and Bo Howard, 180 pound lineman. Several of these men were members of the squad last year.

The schedule has not been completed, but games are expected with the Roswell high school, state champions of the 1921 season, Portales high school, Clovis high school, Carlsbad high school, and the New Mexico Military Institute second team. The team record was very successful last season, considering such teams as Battery A and the champion Roswell High school as teams met on the schedule. A game is expected in a short time with the local town team, who have met the high school lads every year.

J. R. Boyd, Independent candidate for sheriff of Eddy county, was a visitor in Artesia Monday. Mr. Boyd lives in Carlsbad, and is asking the voters of Eddy county to elect him to that office at the fall election. He places his announcement in this issue of the Advocate.

The ticket nominated by the Democratic convention is generally conceded to be one of the strongest state tickets, if not the strongest, yet put into the field by that party. At least four names on it will tax the ingenuity of the Republican managers. They are the candidates for Governor, James F. Hinkle; for United States Senate, A. A. Jones; for Congress, John Morrow; and Supreme Court Justice Samuel G. Bratton.—Albuquerque Morning Journal.

MISSIONARY MEETINGS

The Ladies Missionary society of the First Christian church held their bi-monthly missionary meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. George Benz. The society was well represented and a good program rendered under the leadership of Mrs. C. Bert Smith. A large vision of the needs of the various departments of our home field were enthusiastically discussed and greater activities will be inaugurated.

BAPTIZING

The Church of the Nazarene will have baptizing next Sunday afternoon, September 17th, at 3:30 o'clock. The place of baptizing will be announced in the services Sunday morning.

TO ALL WHO ARE INTERESTED IN THE CHRISTIAN WORK OF YOUNG PEOPLE

A speaker of international fame, who is to be in New Mexico, is to visit Artesia next Thursday in the interests of the International Christian Endeavor Movement. It is W. Roy Breg of Dallas, Texas, Southwestern secretary, United Society of Christian Endeavor, a man of large vision and accomplishments, a recognized leader in world wide Christian Endeavor affairs. You will surely want to hear him at the Presbyterian church of Artesia, on Thursday evening, September 21st, at 7:30 o'clock.

Everybody invited, but especially all members of Young People's societies. He will speak on "Christian Endeavor's Greater Duties for this Greater Day." Don't miss hearing him.

RAINS IN PECOS VALLEY

A great portion of the Pecos valley has been visited by rains during the past week, according to reports, which have been brought to our town by motorists and visitors. Hope was blessed with a two inch rain on Sunday morning, which was the first rain of any importance to fall at that town for many months. The smaller mountain settlements and towns of Y-O crossing, Weed, Duncan and others have all been visited by rain. Artesia and the lower valley towns have had less rain than other localities.

The rain is too late to cause the grass to grow sufficiently to make winter grass. Stockmen will be forced to seek winter range elsewhere or feed their cattle and sheep during the winter season. Rains in the valley will aid the crops and of much benefit to the farmer at this time. More rain is needed to improve the roads and highways, which are exceedingly rough for this section of the country.

STORK VISITS BROWNIE HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brownlie announce the arrival of a fine nine pound boy at their home. The little fellow, who is reported to be "red-headed", arrived on Sunday night and is pleased with the world. Cecil's smile can be seen for blocks.

Edwin Mansell left this week for Lubbock, Texas, where he will deliver a car load of apples. He and his father, W. E. Mansell, are dealers and shippers of fruit.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Keinath, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ferriman, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Story have returned from a motor trip to Santa Fe and other points in the state. They attended the Santa Fe Fiesta.

B. L. McAlister the Lakewood auctioneer, places an advertisement in this issue of the Advocate. Read it. W. B. says darn the Republican administration, they even took all the moisture away.

Rev. and Mrs. Tom Cox, pastor of the Nazarene church, have returned from Hamlin, Texas, where they attended the Nazarene camp meeting at that place. Rev. Davis and wife superintendent of this district for the denomination, also attended this meeting.

Mr. Lewis Hale, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, was taken to Meridian, Mississippi, last week by his brother and sister, who came to Artesia after him. Word has been received by Artesia friends, stating that the sick man was not affected by the long journey.

Mr. and Mrs. Everitt announce the arrival of a fine baby girl at their home on last Saturday night.

Eat Great West Flour. The best made. Buy it at Cowards.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR HAVE PICNIC SUPPER

Approximately forty persons motored to the Pecos river bridge on last Thursday evening, when the Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church enjoyed a picnic supper. The eight automobile loads left Artesia in ample time for the joy makers to enjoy a dip in the river before the supper was served. While some were swimming, others built fires and toasted marshmallows and roasted wienies. The more playful members of the group entered into the outdoor games.

The most interesting part of the occasion was the bounteous picnic supper, which consisted of an almost unlimited supply of sandwiches, cake, wienies, pickles, fruit and many other good things to eat. Edward Welsh proved to be worthy of mention in this portion of the program.

Among those present were Mrs. Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Gilbert, Mrs. Olivia Addy, Misses Lucille Jones, Herma Welsh, Nila Wingfield, Grace Keinath, Marjory Wingfield, Wanda Pearson, Margaret Tarbet, Doru Russell, Emma LaDue, Esthes LaDue, Ruth Russell, Iris Iler, Mary Louise Paris, Effie Glover and Messrs. R. L. Paris, J. T. Collins, Earl Collins, Louis Cole, Billie Paris, Donald Mathes, Edward Welsh Hugh DeAutremont Garland Rideout, Chester Russell, Jr., Chester Russell, Sr., Frank Adams, R. A. Brewer, Lloyd Atkinson, Fred Knowles and Rev. E. E. Mathes.

THE STATE INCOME TAX

On top of a federal income tax a state income tax is to supply the tax eaters more "revenues."

A state income tax means a new machine established in the state with a lengthening chain wound around the taxpayer's neck.

It means a new department of state government with inquisitorial powers over the personal affairs of the citizen and the system to be extended.

An army of officials, with experts to overhaul your books and investigate your investments, will be added to the state and county governments.

If you, dear fellow citizen, like more of this sort of thing, more fat salary drawers, vote for it and it will be fastened on you forever.

They will tell you it is to pinch the big fellow—but nine out of every ten will find a way to escape or shunt it onto the little fellow to pay.—Hope Press.

This expression of commendation from the Republican Journal indicates the high type of candidates selected by the Democratic convention. The leaders in the party are more than gratified over the ticket. Senator Jones declared he was highly pleased with the ticket generally, forecasting Democratic victory despite claims of the Republicans that they again will be victorious.

A letter from O. Sparrachuh of Lincoln, Neb., orders the Advocate to be sent to his address, 915 You Street. He says he hopes to hear something good happening in Artesia soon. Just listen a little while Mr. Sparrachuh.

A little party was enjoyed at the Terrill house on Tuesday evening, at which time the birthday of Miss Lucille Jones, music and art teacher in the public schools, was celebrated. A special dinner was a feature of the occasion. Messrs. Henry Davis, O. K. Evans, Raymond Gentry, Ralph Reed, assisted in making the occasion interesting.

Fred Wilson, assistant prosecuting attorney, conducted the case for the plaintiff. J. H. Jackson, local attorney, was the attorney for the defense. The case was conducted in the Justice of the Peace court, under the jurisdiction of Judge S. Gilbert. The defendant was bound over to the session of the Grand jury, under a seven hundred and fifty dollar bond. The bond was made.

The Albuquerque Herald, now an independent newspaper, announces in an advertisement in this issue a forthcoming series of articles in which it will discuss in an informative and critical way the opposing candidates on the states and congressional ticket. At the conclusion of the articles, 12 in number, and beginning on September 19th, the Herald will announce the candidates it will support and its reasons therefore. Voters are promised a clear, impartial statement of the qualifications of each candidate for the office he seeks.

With this issue of The Messenger, the mechanical and editorial efforts will be the product of J. W. Utterback, one of Hagerman's most influential farmers and a Christian gentleman. Mr. Utterback will continue in that capacity until the editor, Harrington Wimberly, returns, or until the call of the road comes. It was only after offering him a large salary that The Messenger was able to secure him, and we hope to be able to meet our obligation somewhat regularly but in case we are unable to do so The Messenger may sprout a set of wings.—Hagerman Messenger.

LAKE ARTHUR MAN INJURED BY FALL

Mr. J. W. Harvey, of Lake Arthur, was seriously injured on Monday afternoon as he attempted to step from the running board of a moving car. The man was en route to Artesia with a friend, when they decided to stop. Mr. Harvey, who is about seventy-two years of age, stepped from the car before it had come to a stand still. His right hip joint and his wrist were both broken in the fall.

The injured man was brought to Artesia, where medical aid was administered by Dr. H. A. Stroup, who accompanied the man to his home in Lake Arthur. The accident is very serious, especially since the man was aged. His recovery is doubtful on this account. The driver did not know that the man was leaving the car until he fell.

ARTESIA YOUNG PEOPLE TO GO TO COLLEGE

An unusually large number of Artesia young people have left during the past week for distant points, where they will attend colleges or universities during the present school year. Others are expecting to leave soon.

Among those who have recently left are Miss Laura Pearson, Miss Nila Wingfield, Miss Doru Russell and Chester Russell, who will attend the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque. Miss Grace Langston, who will attend Montezuma Baptist college at Las Vegas, New Mexico. Miss Lorie Davis went to Clarendon college at Clarendon, Texas. Janus Stagner will again enter Arizona University at Tucson. Newman Smith and Clarence Stoldt will attend Oklahoma University at Norman, Oklahoma. Miss Ethel Bullock has enrolled in the Texas University at Austin. Miss Gladys Cowan, Messrs. Lloyd Cowan and Dwight McCree are entering the Southern Methodist University at Dallas, Texas.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION HAVE MEETING

The first meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association this year was conducted at the Grammar school on Monday afternoon at 3:45. A large number were present at this meeting; however, the attendance was not as large as was expected. Mrs. B. A. Bishop, president of the organization, presided at the meeting.

The principal address of the occasion was delivered by Miss Alma Givens superintendent of city schools. She spoke to the assembled faculty members and the school patrons, concerning the hygiene and health of the children. She also urged the parents to cooperate with the school authorities in the affairs of the children, in order to make the school year a very successful one. Other matters were also discussed by Miss Givens in a very pleasing manner. She clearly stated that the initial object of the authorities was scholarship.

Rev. R. Coffey, pastor of the First Christian church, spoke to the assembly, preceding the address by Miss Givens. It was announced that the county nurse would be present, but she was unable to attend.

Mr. Raymond, principal of the Grammar school, and Miss Ethel James, principal of the grade school, made a few remarks concerning the school work.

The Association is planning to conduct their regular meetings in the evenings, in order to increase the attendance. The fathers cannot attend during the afternoons on account of business matters. They are vitally interested in school work and their attendance is requested and desired.

MORE ABOUT THE WATER WORKS

Mr. F. L. Hancock, consulting engineer, of Denver, Colorado, spent several days at Hope this week going over the plans of the water system with the city council, and obtaining all necessary information and measurements.

Mr. Hancock will return to Denver Saturday where the final plans will be drawn up and submitted to the city for approval. He also says he is well pleased with conditions at Hope, and at this time, sees no reason why work should not start within sixty days. It is not known at this time on what streets the mains are to be laid but Mr. Hancock has promised the Press a full report for next issue.—Hope Press.

BURRO INTO WELL

One of the Burros that "Watermelon" Bronn drives to his watermelon conveyance recently fell into a well, the water being twenty feet deep. The burro swam for about thirty minutes before a rope could be attached to his neck, after which he was drawn to the surface again. It is none the worst for its experience as it draws the watermelon conveyance daily for Mr. Brown. "Some Burro."—Brown.

Mrs. M. S. Widney, of Dallas, Texas, is visiting in Artesia with her son, Mr. Harve Widney. She expects to remain during the winter months.

"HORSE-POWER" UNIT WRONG

Mistake That Can Be Definitely Traced to James Watt Was Never Officially Corrected.

"H. P.," as you know, stands for "horse power," and if, therefore, your motorcycle is a four and one-half h. p. one, you know that what is meant is that the engine has a power which is equivalent to that of four and a half horses.

Not so! You would be incorrect to the extent of no less than 40,000 pounds, remarks a London Answers writer.

The h. p. unit of power is a fraud, and the late James Watt of engine fame is responsible. He was a very careful engineer, in theory and practice, and he discovered, by many experiments, that the raising of 22,000 pounds one foot per minute was a good average horse-power.

But "horse-power" today is reckoned at 33,000 lbs. per foot per minute—11,000 pounds in excess! That is due to the fact that Watt, in his anxiety to encourage business, offered to sell engines which would develop 33,000 pounds per foot as a horse-power—a third more than the actual.

It would seem that he meant ultimately to be honest, but he died before that happened, and so bequeathed to the world, which has accepted it, a false unit measurement of horse-power.

Engineers, of course, know of the error, and make due allowance for it; but the average individual does not. Your 10 h. p. car is, therefore, in fact, but a 6-2-3 one, and its power is equal to raising 222,000 pounds a foot in a minute, and not 333,000.

IMMENSE ROOKERY IN LAKE

Birds Find Sanctuary on Island on Which Hunters Are Forbidden to Set Foot.

Set in the middle of Great Salt lake is Hat Island, 12 acres in area, one of the most densely populated rookeries in the world. Its official name is due to its shape, but it is more familiarly known to westerners as Bird Island.

Seagulls and pelicans live there. The island is literally covered with them, and since hunters are not permitted to disturb the fowls, visitors experience no difficulty in walking about among them and observing their habits. The birds have established their roosts among the rocky formations of the island, which is surrounded by salt water more dense than that of the ocean. The highest point is about 100 feet above the surface of the lake.

The strangest sight on the island is the flock of young pelicans. They walk about like a drove of sheep. One acts as leader and the rest follow. Large bodied, clumsy birds they are, scarcely able to waddle out of the way when one approaches.

As evening approaches one may look out over the lake, far to the north-east, and see a cloud of tiny specks. It is the adult pelicans returning home from the mouth of the Jordan river, or from the Great Bear river, 50 to 70 miles away. They are laden with fish for their young ones. The pouches under their beaks are filled with fresh-water fish.

Never Saw Their Faces.

The young woman was looking at a child's book, "The Sunbonnet Babies." Those Sunbonnet babies were my delight and my despair when I was little," she said, "because I never could see their faces. If you'll look carefully at every picture you'll notice the faces of those babies are never revealed. Other characters in the illustration show their faces, but never the sunbonnet babies.

"The only idea you can get of what sort of little girls they were is by their posture. And I used to peer and peer at those sunbonnets. I used to turn over the pages and look through from the back side; I used even to tear the pages a bit to see if I could not get inside of those sunbonnets. But I never could.

"Some day I'm going to write to that sunbonnet artist and ask if he won't send me, in confidence, one picture of those babies with their bonnets off."—Springfield Union.

Eagles Change Color.

The young eagle is clothed in three kinds of garments before it reaches maturity. During the first year it is black, the second year slate-colored, the third year brown and white. It might be said that the bald-headed eagle is not bald. It is so called from the white ruff of feathers about its head. The three different appearances of the young eagle one time provoked a strange misunderstanding among bird observers. It was thought that they were three different species—the black, the George Washington and the bald. The eagle is one of the Falconidae, which includes hawks and all similar birds of prey.

Great Authors Write Badly.

All great authors write badly. That is well known. At least the pedants say so. Great writers are impetuous. The vigor of their vocabulary, the intensity of their style, the daring of their phrases disconcert the pedants. To the pedants good writing apparently means writing according to rules. But born writers make their own rules, or rather make none. They change their manner at every moment as inspiration dictates; sometimes they are harmonious, sometimes rugged, sometimes indolent and sometimes spirited. So, according to the common notion, they cannot write well.—Anatole France.

COWBOY'S WEAPON THE RIFLE

Never Had the Popularity of the "Gun," Which Was Name Universally Given the Pistol.

In describing the weapons of the cowboy of the Western range, Philip Ashton Rollins in his book says: The rifle, when carried, was conveyed, not by the cowboy himself, but by his horse, which bore it in a quiver-shaped, open-mouthed scabbard, into which the rifle went up to its stock. This scabbard sometimes hung from the saddle horn, but more commonly was slung, butt forward, in an approximately horizontal position along the near side of the animal, and passed between the two leaves of the stirrup-leather. The rifle was thus eschewed, because, being heavy, it interfered with ready saddling and unsaddling; and, being bulky, it materially detracted from the rider's comfort.

After the early '70s the rifle, regardless of its make, was usually called a "Winchester," though this particular term, because of its similarity to the name of a well-known condiment, was occasionally paraphrased into "Worcestershire." Falling these titles, the weapon was styled merely "rifle." It, except in the case of the rifles specially designed for bison shooting and called "buffalo guns," never was termed "gun," that word, save for the single exception noted, being consecrated to the pistol.

"Scatter-guns," otherwise shotguns, were occasionally produced by tender-foot; but they, unless with "sawed-off" barrels, loaded with nalls or buckshot, and in the hands of express messengers, served for the westerner only as objects of derision.

OLD IDEA IN UNIVERSITIES

Student Bodies, Fraternally Linked, Had Their Beginnings in the Fifteenth Century.

University life today embodies many ancient practices in slightly modified form. College fraternities really date back to the Fifteenth century, when universities were few in number and students were attracted to them from many lands. The student body naturally gathered into groups according to nationalities, and these groups were known as "nations." Later came the organization of the student corps in German universities. In some American universities today there are nation societies, as the Philippine, Chinese, Japanese and Cuban, representing the nations, and the Southerners, Southwesterners, Pacific coast and others representing sections and states of the Union.

Poor students of the Fifteenth century drifted from one university to another, supporting themselves by singing, begging, stealing and, occasionally, working.

The freshmen had a rather sorry time. In the German universities they were termed "Schutzen," and were compelled to perform all sorts of menial offices for the upper class men, who were termed "Bacchanten," and were often worthy of that title. From this practice developed the system of "fagging" in the English grammar schools. That practice traces back even to the academic schools of Athens. The freshmen, on admission to a university, were put through an initiation ordeal which was the origin of the present-day hazing.

Hard Cider Homilies.

Different people have different ways of giving us pain; our friends leave us—and our relatives fall to.

Eternity is almost beyond human comprehension; imagine, if you can, a period so long that it would allow a man to save enough cigar coupons to get a piano or a motorcycle.

Proximity may account for many marriages, but it is responsible for even more divorces.

It has taken Satan thousands of years to reach his present technic; yet the latest arrivals from the earth can always show him a thing or two.

People seldom turn maxims over and look at them from the back. It is easy to believe that great oaks from little acorns grow, but it is quite as easy to believe that little acorns from great oaks grow.—Edwin H. Blanchard, in the New York Sun.

Mr. Jones.

Consider the case of Mr. Jones. He bought a watch for 50 bones. Does Mr. Jones rant, curse and swear, does Mr. Jones his toupee tear; whenever in the day or night he finds that watch not running right? No, Mr. Jones, a thoughtful man, knows watch never will or can, so long as heat and cold prevail, hit time exactly on the nail. Now this identical Mr. Jones will buy—well, not for 50 bones, but for the price of a cheap cigar—the right to ride on a trolley car, a car that has to run its race within no sealed and dustproof case, but on a crowded city street where all the tides of traffic meet, and yet Mr. Jones starts a hot debate whenever that car's a minute late.—From Electric Traction.

Length of Birds' Life.

The chief of the biological bureau in the United States is able to give the ages to which some birds have lived. The following are his figures: Thrush, 15 to 20 years; swallow, 9; canary, 20; cardinal, 21; raven, 69; magpie, 21; large owls, 68; golden eagle, 46; white pelican, 41; cormorant, 28; large blue heron, 60; swan, 102; mallard, 29; other ducks, 11 to 23; oyster-catcher, 30; herring gull, 44, and wandering albatross, 46 years.

CHINESE NOW CLAIM HONOR

Buddhist Priests Said to Have Discovered America Long Before Day of Columbus.

Legends common to the literature of both China and Japan relate that about the year 499 Hwui Shan, a Buddhist missionary, in company with five brother priests, found a land many miles to the eastward of China which he named Fusang. They sailed along the Chinese coast to Kamchatka and thence along the Aleutian islands to Alaska. The description of the peoples they found fits the Aleuts and the Eskimos as they are today.

From Alaska, which they called Great Han, they sailed along the coast to Fusang. Hwui Shan describes the dwellings made of blocks of sun-dried mud, which housed many people, a description which fits the pueblos of ancient America. He mentions a plant used in making cordage and paper, which afforded vegetable milk and which yielded tender edible sprouts. The magney plant also answers this description.

He also describes a plant and its fruit which is the species of cactus commonly known as the prickly pear. From the Chinese records, therefore, Fusang was very like Mexico.

A few years ago the Chinese government directed its historian to make a search of the Imperial records, and from them came the foregoing account.

PESSIMISM NEVER IN ORDER

Present Time Always Just as Good a Time as Any, if One Will but Consider.

Our age is bewailed as an age of Introversiion. Must that needs be evil? We, it seems, are critical; we are embarrassed with second thoughts; we cannot enjoy anything for hankering to know whereof the pleasure consists; we are lined with eyes; we see with our feet; the time is infected with Hamlet's unhappiness—

Sickled o'er with the pale cast of thought.

Is it so bad then? Slight is the last thing to be pitied. Would we be blind? Do we fear lest we should outsee nature and God, and drink truth dry? I look upon the discontent of the literary class as a mere announcement of the fact that they find themselves not in the state of mind of their fathers, and regret the coming state as untried; as a boy dreads the water before he has learned that he can swim, if there is any period one would desire to be born in—is it not the age of Revolution; when the old and the new stand side by side, and admit of being compared; when the energies of all men are searched by fear and by hope; when the historic glories of the old can be compensated by the rich possibilities of the new era? This time, like all times, is a very good one, if we know what to do with it.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

"I knew him when he was a boy"

What one is there of us that has not felt the glow of satisfaction over the outstanding success of a life-long friend! Often a surprise—seemingly "all of a sudden." Yet neither surprising nor sudden, when you stop to think back over each step of his progress.

THE United States Rubber Company—makers of U. S. Royal Cords—were first to conceive, make and announce the balanced tire. A tire in which there is such complete unity of action in tread and carcass that neither will give way before the other.

First to conceive, make and announce a complete line of tires—a tire for every need of price and use under one standard of quality.

First to tell the public about the good and bad in tire-retailing. (You remember the phrase "Go to a legitimate dealer and get a legitimate tire.")

First also to arouse industrial and trade minds to the need of a new kind of tire competition. (Competition for better and better values. Greater and greater public confidence.)

THESE high spots along the U. S. road to leadership indicate the intent—the will to win by the quality route in a price market.

Now that so many car-owners have given their verdict for quality tires in general, and U. S. Tires in particular—a number of dealers and car-owners whose vision has been clouded by "discounts," "sales" and what not, are beginning to remember that they "knew him when he was a boy."

HANDS INDEX TO CHARACTER

Still Reveal Much, Though Probably Less Than Was the Case Some Few Years Ago.

Once it was possible to tell a "lady" by her hands—that is if you regarded a lady as "a female of the favored social class." She had well-kept hands because she did nothing to roughen them or enlarge their knuckles or cause premature wrinkles. Even if fortune had gone against her she somehow avoided the work that would mar the symmetry of those hands. She did without sugar for her tea and did needlework for money in order to avoid the work that she regarded as menial. And because a woman of this class knew that it was at her hands that others looked for an index to her social position it was her hands that she saved, wearing gloves by day and by night to keep them white and to protect them and repair them from the ravages of wind, sun and housework.

The situation is rather different now. The young woman of immigrant parents who sells tinware in the department store basement has elaborately manicured nails and hands that are smooth, but the wife of the college president has hands that clearly show the effects of work that we would once have regarded as menial.

Perhaps still to the keen observer hands have something to tell of their owner's rank or pedigree. There are some hands that no matter how diligently manicured always look a little grimy at the corners, and others, lacking entirely the luster of the manicure buffer, that are always scrupulously clean.

PRIZED AMBER AS ORNAMENT

Romans Secured It From "Barbarous" Germans, Who Had Small Idea of Its Real Value.

Amber, which is fossilized resin, was in great demand among the Romans for ornaments. Tacitus, in his "Germania," tells that it was gathered by the barbarian Germans. "They explore the sea for amber, in their language called 'glaese,' and are the only people who gather that curious substance," he says. "It is generally found among the shallows; sometimes on the shore. Concerning the nature of the cause of this concretion the barbarians, with their usual want of curiosity, make no inquiry. Amongst other superfluities discharged by the sea this substance lay long neglected, till Roman luxury gave it a name and brought it into request. To the savages it is of no use. They gather it into rude heaps and offer it for sale without any form or polish, wondering at the price they receive for it."

Tacitus guessed correctly the origin of amber, saying: "There is reason to think that amber is a distillation from certain trees, since in the transparent medium we see a variety of insects and even animals of the wing, which, being caught in the viscous fluid, are afterwards, when it grows hard, incorporated with it."

Poem Had Origin in Actual Life. The famous poem about the boy who stood on the burning deck had its origin in an actual happening which constitutes a page in history.

It was during Napoleon's expedition to Egypt that England sent Lord Nelson to capture him and annihilate his fleet. At the battle of Abukir the French navy was crushed and Napoleon was forced to flee, all but four of his ships being sunk, burned or captured.

The French admiral had been killed. And on the deck of the flagship stood her captain, Louis Casablanca, who then had command of the fleet. He was wounded and the ship was burning, but he refused to leave his post. And in spite of commands and entreaties, his son, a boy of ten, stayed with him and died with him when the ship went down, supplying the theme for that famous epic of child heroism. "The boy stood on the burning deck."

Compass Plant Western Product.

On the prairies and plains of Utah, Texas and southern Minnesota there grows a wonderful plant which has proved useful to travelers wandering over these vast tracts of country. It is called the compass plant, or pilot plant, because of a peculiarity in the growth of the leaves, which grow alternately along the stalk, and point precisely north and south.

The Indians followed the direction given them by these pointing leaves, and told the white men about it. This plant belongs to the family of the Compositae, and looks very much like the sunflower. It has a strong, resinous odor, somewhat like turpentine, and sometimes goes by the name of "turpentine plant."

One of Noah's Pets.

It was swampland around Denver 2,000,000 years ago, according to Prof. J. D. Figgins, director of the Colorado Museum of Natural History. The traveler who wants to hobnob with the monsters of long ago can do so in the city park collection, in Denver, where the skeleton of an animal closely related to the present-day rhinoceros is on exhibition, one-half of it covered with an imitation hide.

Natural Qualification.

"Oliver Twist was always asking for more," remarked Senator Sorghum. "Yet he became a worthy citizen," observed the admirer of Dickens. "Yes. Probably he grew up eventually to be a tax collector."

TO THE VOTERS OF EDDY COUNTY.

As the candidate of the Republican party for United States Senator, I earnestly solicit your support.

It is your right to know the policies for which I stand and upon which I seek election. I will endeavor to visit every county during the campaign but in the limited time available it will be impossible to meet all the people and present in person my position upon public questions. So that you may have this knowledge I will publish a series of brief statements in which I will give my position upon some of the questions now before our country and upon which it is likely that your representative in the Senate will be called upon to vote.

I ask you to read these statements with care, feeling that if you agree with my views I may expect your support and your vote.
