VOLUME 21 NO. 51

Hunker Claims New Mexico Is In Democratic Column by Large Majority.

A democratic majority of 10,000 for A. A. Jones candidate for the United States senate, and majorities of 8,000 and down for the rest of the ticket were predicted by Chairman George H. Hunker tonight. Hugh B. Woodward, republican chairman, admitted that on the face of the returns the republicans had lost the entire ticket.

Governor-elect James F. Hinkle Hinkle this morning received the following telegram from C. L. Hill of Hill, N. M., late republican candidate for governor: "My heartiest congratulations. Best wishes for a successful state administration."

Mr. Day, a noted Y. M. C. A. speaker, addressed the student body of the Artesia high school last week at a regular assembly hour.

J. Bun, who has been away for several weeks with his cattle, returned to Artesia on Tuesday, after securing pasture for his cattle.

The Library Board served lunch to the voters on last Tuesday. A lunch stand was erected across Third street, from the pools. A large number of persons patronized the ladies on this occasion.

William Newcomb announces that not a single fight or any great disturbance was noticed on election day. All was very peaceful and William (Vic) is satisfied as every thing happened just as he said it would.

The Mexican population staged another big "balle" on last Wednesday night in the hall on the north side of Main street. As usual, the persons who attended had an excellent time. Music was furnished by the Artesia Mexican Orchestra.

Mrs. R. G. Knoedler and young son have returned from Illinois, where they have spent the summer and fall. Mr. Knoedler, manager of the Joyce-Fruit Hardware company remained in Artesia.

The constructive work of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Christian Church recently begun and definitely outlined during a recent enjoyable meeting at the home of R. H. Norton, is progressing nicely. Their meeting last Thursday with Mrs. Connor was marked by unusual social and spiritual devotion that betokens the accomplishment of great tasks in the near future. They meet Thursday this week with Mrs. H. H. Walker.

New York, Nov. 8.—The republicans had elected 200 house members and the democrats 196 of the 218 majority needed for control upon the returns completed at 4:30 p. m. Easterg time today. Thirty-seven districts still were missing from the returns, which showed a total net loss to the republicans of 66 members. In the senate contests, the republicans had lost eight, the democrats winning seven and the farmer-labor party one, the latter in Minnesota.

The official returns give Eddy county to the Democratic candidates by an increased majority. In the Sheriff race between Waller and Shattuck, the Independent candidate, Shattuck was elected by several hundred majority.

James F. Roselle and Mrs. Glassmire, brother and sister of A. F. Roselle, returned to their home, Wednesday, in Carizozo, after several days visit here. They were accompanied by Haven, a son of Mrs. Glassmire. While here they enjoyed hunting with Mr. and Mrs. Roselle, along the Pecos.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

The Parent-Teacher Association will meet at the Grammar School building in the west part of town next Monday afternoon at 3:30.

Miss Jones, music and art supervisor of the public schools, will have charge of the program. The Girls Glee Club of the Grammar School will sing. Miss Jones will talk and give a practical demonstration of the use of the Victrola in the school room.

A round-table discussion will follow the program.

AN INTERMEDIATE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETY.

On Monday evening of this week the Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society of the Christian church was royally entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Conner, and Miss Florence acted as hostess.

It was a hallowe'en party and the home was decorated to harmonize with the occasion. There were thirty-three young people present and all enjoyed the evening to the joy of all present. There were refreshments, sure, consisting of marshmallows and weenies which were toasted before the fire which was glowing in a cosy fireplace.

Then came the cocoa and good old pumpkin pie. When these were all finished all voted thanks to the hostess for such a glorious good time and retired.

DELEGATES TO TUCUMCARI

Rev. W. C. Taggart and Mrs. C. M. Cole left on Tuesday morning for Tucumcari, New Mexico, where they will represent the Artesia First Baptist Church at the New Mexico Baptist Convention. Rev. and Mrs. Ira Harrison of Carlsbad came to Artesia on Monday and accompanied the Artesia delegates. The trip was made overland.

MISS JAMES IS HOSTESS

The "Wide-Awakes, Sunday school class of the First Baptist church entertained at the home of their teacher, Miss Lucile James, on last Tuesday evening. Miss James was assisted by her mother. Amusing games were the leading means of entertainment.

Refreshments, consisting of marshmallows and weenies, which were roasted over a fire in the back yard, disappeared in record time. Among those present were Ina Cole, Lucile James, Mattie Addington, Alene Wilson, Bertie Hooper, Dooley Bruce, Stanley Smith, Farrell McLean and others.

MISS IRENE GAGE IS HOSTESS

The young lady teachers in the Artesia public schools were entertained at the home of Miss Irene Gage, on west Main street, on Friday evening, with a typical "kid" party. The school teachers were children for a few hours and played the role in great style. Little curls, pig-tails, big sashes, and other characteristics of the small lassie were in evidence.

While in the middle of the evening's frolic, John Richards was reported to be returning home amid much embarrassment and speedy retreats, he appeared "in all his dignity." Festivities continued, however, and all was well. Animal cookies and sandwiches were served by the hostess.

Among the teachers who were present, were Misses Lucine Jones, Ruth Morgan, Jeanne McCaleb, Esther LaDue, Beatrice Bergen, Lillian Meadows, Martine Waskom, Velma Smith, Mary Sands, Hazel Morris and Irene Gage.

SIXTH GRADE HAS PARTY

A large number of the members of the sixth grade were present at the home of Fred Cole on last Friday night, at the first class function of the year. The sixth graders had postponed the affair from the week of Hallowe'en events and a good representation of the class was present. Many living in the country were unable to attend. The children began to arrive at an early hour and the games and contests of the evening were started, after some music of various kinds.

"Numbered Questions," "Wink 'em," and other games were played in the house. Outdoor games were also played as the night was warm and the moon was shining bright. After several hours of amusement, refreshments consisting of cookies, sandwiches and hot chocolate were served by Mesdames C. M. Cole, Joe Richards, and Blakey. Among the members of the class, who were present, were Dooley Bruce, Maurine Blakey, Lawrence Burrows, Eugene Benz, Linnietta, Henderson Ruth Hawkins, Bertie Hooper, Emma Hooper, Norine Long, Laura Page, Aline Wilson, Helen Cogdell, Elizabeth Cogdell, Lowell Hoffman, Charles Horne, Velma Klopfenstein, James Naylor, Eula Moore, Charles Reams, Edna Riggs, Lola Ward, Velma Richards and Effie Dell Jones.

SONG RALLY BY THE DEMOCRATIC LADIES

The Women's Democratic Club arranged a unique rally meeting at the Elrose theatre on last Thursday evening. The auditorium was packed with men and women, who were interested in the announcement concerning this community's song rally. Mrs. Martin Yates, well known singer, directed the singing of many popular songs, which received the co-operation of almost every voice in the building. Tex. Polk, Dr. Skeen, Dr. Russell, Bob Caraway, and others sang with much enthusiasm. The enthusiasm was at a high pitch.

Miss Phyllis Polk sang a very appropriate solo, with Miss Ayliffe Polk at the piano. The parodies on popular songs, concerning the Democratic candidates proved very popular. The entire audience sang America, with Mrs. Martin Yates directing, and Miss Lucile Jones, head of the music department of the Artesia schools at the piano.

Mrs. C. Bert Smith, president of the Women's Democratic club, presided at the meeting. Dr. M. P. Skeen, local speaker and authority on political matters, addressed the large crowd, which had collected in the building. Many important matters of state interest were discussed by this able and fluent speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Harrison of Carlsbad were visitors at the C. M. Cole home this week. Both these young people were classmates of Fred Cole, while in college.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Ruth Morgan, head of the Domestic Science department in the high school, and Miss Lucine Jones, head of the music department, and Mr. Ralph Reed, head of the Manual Training department, are conducting classes each morning with the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. These departments are proving a great benefit to the children.

Harold Crozier, who has been attending school at Lakewood, enrolled as a member of the eighth grade this week. New pupils have enrolled every week, since the opening day.

The sixth grade enjoyed a class party on Friday night at the home of Fred Cole. Most of the class members were present.

The Grammar School football team will meet the high school second team in game on the high school gridiron on Friday afternoon. The team is developing into an excellent football machine and will be hard to handle by the high school seconds.

The girls are again practicing basket ball under the supervision of Miss Hazel Morris. Games will be scheduled with the high school freshmen girls and the high school second team.

Sallie Cook is back in school this week after being absent ten days on account of sickness.

John Clark was absent a few days as a result of an injured ear, which was hurt in some manner, while in play.

The county health nurse was a visitor at the Grammar school this week.

Most of these Panhandle-Plains cities of today are just riding over these knockers. The boosters know that progress can't be made with these jayhawkers so they just put them out of the way and usually unmercifully. When boosters go to a Chamber of Commerce meeting, they soon realize the knockers and "it can't be done men." The pessimists are getting fairly well known in Amarillo just as they are in any other progressive city. When men become knockers to the extent that they are a detriment then the thing to do is to omit them from any booster meeting or trips. There is no need of paying any attention to these fellows who are gloom hounds. Nearly every citizen is opposed to paying any more taxes than is necessary. Yet there are certain persons that will vote against any tax issue, no matter how worthy or how necessary it is. The person who opposes absolutely every progressive move because it will cost a little money now and cannot see the future value needs to have it "poured on 'em" in these live Panhandle towns.

In the accomplishment of things, business men have clashes of opinions in the most efficient methods to put over enterprises. In a man's method is not accepted, he should hold no personal grievances and work hard for the plan that the others decided was better.—Amarillo News.

NOTED SPEAKER AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Miss Kathleen Mallory, general secretary of the Womens Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention, was in Artesia on Sunday and addressed a large congregation at the First Baptist church on Sunday morning. This woman is an active leader among the women of the Southern Baptist Board. Her talk concerning the opportunities of the women of today in the religious activities was very interesting and her presentation of her subject deserves very favorable comment.

BOYS CLASS HAS SOCIAL

The boys Sunday school class taught by Mr. Bullock, in the Baptist church, entertained their lady friends with a social at the church on last Tuesday evening. A large number were present and the festivities were at a high pitch of enthusiasm and excitement, when it became known that a marauding party had stolen the eats. Chase began and the culprits were soon captured. Paul James and one of the invading party had a little party of their own, but James, who was a member of the group enjoying the social, was successful with his classmates and the refreshments were returned.

Mrs. W. R. Keenan, of Lovington, who has been so ill in Eddy County hospital, suffered the amputation of her right arm at that institution last Monday. The lady had a gangrenous affection which necessitated the amputation, although heroic efforts were made to save the member.

FLOYD STEWART DIES

The death of Mr. Floyd Stewart, a young ex-service man, who is well-known at Artesia, occurred at the Pecos Valley Rooms on last Sunday night. The young man has been in a critical condition for many months and his death was not a surprise to those who knew him.

Floyd Stewart was in Artesia last winter, but left during the summer. A report had been received here recently that the young ex-service man had died, but this proved false. A few days ago, he arrived in Artesia in a very poor physical condition with the intention of spending the winter at this place. His health rapidly failed and after a game fight on the part of the deceased for his life against the great white plague, he died on Sunday night, with a few of his local friends with him in his last hours. His parents had been notified of his condition, but did not arrive until Monday. The remains of the man were shipped to his home for burial, from The McClay Undertaking Parlor. The father of the deceased accompanied the body.

Miss Ethel Olson has returned from a two weeks visit with relatives in Roswell.

Oscar Samelson, John Runyan, Misses Loretta Linell and Phyllis Polk attended the dance at Hope Tuesday night.

HAY TRADE CONDITIONS OF THE WEEK

While receipts at most markets show some increase over last week's reports, values show little change, though the feeling is a little easier. The bulk of the offerings reported to be of the lower grades and at some markets these are accumulating under lack of demand with a consequent lessening in the firm tone noted a week ago. Most markets are fully steady on top qualities of all descriptions.—Hay Trade Journal.

FARMER MADE $3,000 ON BROOMCORN CROP

John Womack, who lives east of Campo, had the rather unusual experience of a big return on an investment. Some time ago Mr. Womack bought 100 acres of broom corn of Mr. Collins of that neighborhood for $300. It cost him in the neighborhood of $200 to get it harvested. This week he sold his crop in Elkhart of $3,434.75, clearing almost $3,000 on the crop.—Elkhart (Kans.) Tri-State News.

JUDGE BRICE SUSTAINS CITY IN THE PAVING CASE

In the district court this morning, Judge C. R. Brice handed down a decision in the paving case, brought by M. W. Hodges and others, completely sustaining the city, dissolving all injunction proceedings and placing the improvement program absolutely in the clear.—Roswell News.

COTTON BRINGING GOOD PRICE. Over Five Hundred Bales Ginned at Local Gin.

The local ginners have been actively engaged during the past few weeks in caring for the present cotton crop. The workmen have been working steady during the day and devoting a great part of the night in over-time in gin work. Over four hundred bales have been ginned and the cotton to be ginned will yield over one hundred bales. This will make over six hundred bales.

Higgins brothers have sold forty bales, receiving twenty-eight cents per pound for the crop. Cotton is now bringing about twenty-nine or thirty cents per pound for the long staple variety. The net income from this crop will equal many thousands of dollars.

The crop last year yielded only one hundred and seventy-five bales which was considered a very unusual thing for the Pecos valley. The acreage was increased this year and will be greater next season.

IT TAKES MONEY TO BUILD TOWNS

With the heading, "A city that has low taxes usually hasn't much else," the Wichita Falls Times mentions the fact that the combined tax rate which Wichitans will be compelled to pay this year will be almost $5 on the $100, it isn't, as the Times suggests, a pleasant fact to contemplate, but there is a lot of truth, of sound reasoning in the way of city building in its additional statement, that applies to other towns than Wichita Falls. "But perhaps you emit a groan of anguish," it says, "ask yourself if you would be willing, as a Wichita Falls property owner, to do, without the streets, parks, sewerage, schools, highways and water supply that account of about two thirds of your tax bill?" Wichita Falls is a standing object lesson in the way of rapid growth, due largely to the efforts of its citizens and their willingness to foot the bill for those things which accelerate that growth. The tax rate in 1917 was $2.78; in 1918, $2.73; in 1919, $3.13; in 1920, $3.27; in 1921, $4.03; in 1922, $4.85. The fact that it went from the town class to the city class from 1910 to 1920 is fairly conclusive answer to the erroneous statement, rather frequently heard, that high city taxes deter new citizens from coming. One wonders if there is any reason for pride on the part of a city in a low tax rate, and if there isn't a mountain of truth in the Wichita paper's heading over its presentation of the case—"a city that has low taxes usually hasn't much else."—Denton Record-Chronicle.

BOOST YOUR TOWN

Don't let little personal grievances stand in the way of boosting your town. Don't let the knocker stand in the way of your boosting spirit. There is always one or more jayhawkers that carry the little hammer and are opposed to anything that is for the growth and advancement of the community.—Lynn County News.

MARCEL BAD BUT WILL TRY AGAIN

French Orphan, Mascot of A. E. F. Brigade, Determined to Be American Citizen.

HAS BEEN DEPORTED TWICE

Returns as Sailor, Deserts Ship and Enlists in United States Army, but Will Be Sent Home a Third Time.

San Antonio, Tex.—Petted as the mascot of a brigade of the American army in France, Marcel Jules Dupuys, a French orphan boy, longed to become a citizen of the United States. Through a series of misfortunes he is now in jail here pending the arrival of a steamship at New York which shall carry him back to France. His deportation has been ordered by the government. Although he has had many adventures during the last few years, Jules is still a boy. He declares that his determination to make this country his home has not been changed and that he will come over again as a stowaway the first chance he gets.

The recorded history of the boy began when a government transport returning to the United States in 1919 was found to have a little French stowaway among its soldier passengers. The youngster, decidedly blond, with pale blue eyes, was so very small that he was taken to be ten years old, while in reality he was fourteen.

Adopted as Army Mascot.

Before that date his story was that of many of the children of France. His mother was dead and his father, an officer in the French army, was killed at the battle of Verdun. He was a homeless waif until adopted as a mascot by a company of the French army, and later on by a brigade of the American army. So, when his shackled friends boarded a transport for home he also sneaked aboard.

When the transport reached New York, Jules was held by the Ellis Island authorities to be sent back to France immediately under the immigration law, which provides that minors are not eligible into this country unless accompanied by a parent or guardian. But through the intervention of a generous American, Jules was allowed to stay.

His American benefactor took the matter up with the immigration authorities at Washington, promised to support and educate the boy as his own son, and was allowed to take him in charge. It was then that trouble began, for Jules proved to be not only bad in his usual boy fashion, but developed tendencies which alarmed his guardian. He was cared for and treated for two years, and finally pronounced to be liable to become a social menace at any time.

He was then turned over to immigration authorities and deported as an undesirable alien, his benefactor paying all the expenses.

Deported Second Time.

The boy came back to the United States immediately as a stowaway and was deported the second time. He then signed up as a member of the crew of a ship coming to Galveston from Hamburg, Germany, and when the boat reached port he deserted it, eluding immigration officers, and got as far as Stephenville, Tex. From there he went to Fort Worth and enlisted in the signal corps, United States army, and was sent to Camp Travis.

"I learned that he was at Camp Travis and that he had made illegal entry, and investigation of the case disclosed the boy's peculiar history and the fact that he has been deported twice before. The fact of his illegal entry into the country makes his enlistment in the army void," E. W. Smith, immigration inspector explained.

TIPSY MOUSE DEFIES CATS

Staggers About Pittsburgh Police Station, Eluding "Dry" Agents, Frightening the Women Clerks.

Pittsburgh.—A heavy drinker, partaking freely of the contents of confiscated kegs and dripping stills in the county detective headquarters, appearing in the offices in a highly inebriated condition, frightening women clerks, but eluding the efforts of 30 sleuths to capture him, is the latest scandal in liquor law enforcement here.

The toper is often seen, but even when he is blind, staggering drunk, which seems to be most of the time, he is too fast and wary for detectives.

The entire force would appreciate the loan of a skilled mouser, for the dry-law violator is only a little mouse with a taste for moonshine, who, when drunk, sits right up on his hind legs and in what may be his deepest bass, calls for any cat in Pittsburgh.

Birds Wound Man.

Chillicothe, O. — Frank Schneider, caretaker at the Eagles' club, the other day was routed by two infuriated bluejays. Schneider was mowing the club lawn when he noticed a baby Jay on the grass. When he picked it up to put it in a nearby tree, the cries of the fledgling drew the parent birds, who pecked at Schneider's head, drawing blood. Schneider ran for safety to the clubhouse and a housekeeper drove the birds away with a broom.

ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW

(By Spooks)

The Henry Hise place, once known as the Darlington ranch, has changed hands and Mr. Hise and family leave soon for Oklahoma.

Messrs. Taggart, Williamson, Bishop and Stevenson were the members of a quartet that rendered beautiful music at the Sunday evening service of the Baptist church.

N. D. Meddock and family of Eldorado, Kansas, have arrived for a protracted visit with Mr. Meddock's daughter, Mrs. Earl Embley at the Hastie ranch.

Ernest McGonigle of Seven Rivers, champion broncho buster of the Pecos valley, has returned from Texas. He helped move a herd of cattle to one of the large pastures in that state.

R. L. Paris, one time superintendent of city schools, now most efficient of farmers, departed Wednesday the twenty-ninth with two car loads of sheep for the Kansas City market.

Nevil Muncy and wife left by auto for California by way of Phoenix, Arizona, Tuesday, morning. California is the lure that appeals to so many. We give them a year in which to return.

A jolly party of young folks enjoyed the celebration of Hallowe'en at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wilde, two miles south of Artesia on last Tuesday evening.

Babe Campbell of Seven Rivers, had the misfortune to lose his house and barn by fire. The family were away at the time and nothing was saved. This fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin as not a scrap of the iron of the two cars supposed to be destroyed could be found in the debris. The cars evidently were stolen and the buildings burned to divert suspicion.

George McGonigle, ranchman, southwest of Lakewood, reports an influx of none too scrupulous hunters, who don't hesitate to take down the cattlemen's fences and leave their gates open. Of course these hunters are all from the south, as no Artesia gentleman would be guilty of such a discourtesy to the man upon whose land he is finding his game. Mr. McGonigle is a deputy sheriff.

The Baptist minister and wife from Carlsbad, Rev. Taggart and Mrs. C. E. Cole, left Tuesday morning by auto for Tucumcari, to attend the convention. On the way they will visit the Orphans' Home at Portales. This denomination evidently believes in 'faith with works,' as besides maintaining an Orphans' Home at Portales they have an excellent hospital at Clovis.

The poor we have with us always, could well be changed to the gambler and the bootlegger we have with us always. Anyone with one eye, one ear and a nose could not fail to be convinced of this fact, did he get within reasonable distance of the switch at Atoka Sunday. Oh, for just one two-fisted man brave enough to make the arrests that would rid our community of this two-headed dragon of evil. Surely some sweet day, some high-salaried revenue officer will wander down Artesia way and will scent this carrion that smells to Heaven, and our portion of right minded citizens will have much cause for rejoicing.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Heindselman and son, Clifford, of Olney, Ill., arrived in Artesia Saturday afternoon. They were met at the train by Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Gissler, and immediately were taken to a home like furnished cottage, the Gissler's were fortunate in scuring for them, and which is the property of Mrs. Southworth, located just north of Main street, near the home of Mr. Daugherty's. Mr. Heindselman is a health seeker, and has found our sunny climate very satisfactory, thus far. The Heindselman's spent Sunday at the home of the Gissler. In the country, the two men being christians to consider, as well as first cousins. The Gissler's recommended the family to the good people of Artesia.

Rehearsals for the Senior Play to be given in December, are being held regularly at the Grade School. Members of the cast and the director are being annoyed by uninvited guests who take the liberty to look in the windows and to engage in much hilarity while making use of the playground apparatus. Surely the school-grounds and steps were not meant for sparking or for a public playground after night. Many of the cast are from the country and are losing valuable study time. For this reason they would like an uninterrupted practice. Now, if you hear some one cussing out the author you can be sure their offspring were among the offenders. We wish to absolve the teacher from making any complaint. She has not the pleasure (?) of our acquaintance, and is very patient with the intruders. We hope a way will be found to abate this nuisance.

Prof. William A. McKeever, formerly connected with the University of Kansas, child welfare worker, and present editor of the Golden Rule Magazine, is advocating a substitute for the age-old destructive plan of celebrating Hallowe'en. According to his plan the young folks can still sing Hail, the Gang's all Here! but in this instance the gang will include father and mother, who, no matter how much they try to suppress the activities of their boys and girls on Hallowe'en used to be right there when any mischief was brewing. Prof. McKeever would have all citizens from toddler to grand-parent wear masks and funny make-up and all frolic together. He would have a program of yells and songs and funny stunts, in fact any kind of innocent fun. Above all there should be plenty of eats to be furnished by lodges, clubs and churches and free to all revelers. Boys will be boys and in our town girls will be girls and we think it would be wise to provide safe and sane amusement for those who seem to think Hallowe'en is the time to turn loose. We do not want our children to be milk-sops but we do want them to have a little respect for property. There is nothing the matter with "Young America" if we can harness its energy and make it pull in the right direction and all our pulpit eloquence avail little if practical demonstration does not follow.

It's well enough to dream about the things we'd like to do, but we must wake and get to work to make our dreams come true. We do not want to be accused of plagiarism, so will state that the verse is not our own, but exactly expresses our sentiments.

The Ukrainian National Chorus, a picturesque highly trained organization who sing the folk songs of Little Russia, will soon appear in El Paso. They sang recently at Hampton, Virginia, before the students of the negro college. The negroes applauded their music and in turn sang for the Russians some of the beautiful negro spirituals such as "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Listen to de Lambs," and "I'll Neber Turn Back no Moah," sung as only three hundred and fifty negroes, who are natural musicians and have had the best training, can sing. The Russians, forty in number, were astonished at the melody made by the representatives of a race they had been led to think were as much down-trodden as their own peasant class. More than eighteen thousand Americans journeyed to the little Bavarian village of Oberammergau to see the Passion Play staged there by the peasants this past summer. This play is given every tenth year. In 1663 they gave the first representation of the passion of our Savior, moved it is said by gratitude for being spared from the Black Death, a plague that had ravaged all Europe. Peasants form the cast. Why should not Artesia become as famous as Oberammergau, not because of a play staged here, but for a great chorus of several hundred. We have the material and we have a fine teacher of vocal music in our public schools. Might she not be persuaded to devote a few hours a week to this labor of love? Suitable recompense could be made and will be accompanied by the gratitude of a music-loving people. We sometimes speak slightly of the Italian race and yet better music can be heard on the street corners in Italy than can be heard on the stage in America. There are thirty thousand vacant pulpits in the United States and many more lack the power and influence they might have if they were backed by the additional attraction always exerted by good music. Start the ball a-rolling.

Dr. Doss is giving milk cows the tubercular test. The fee is one dollar and fifty cents for one cow and one dollar apiece for more than one. Some cows have been found that are infected and for the sake of the public health every milk cow in the valley should be given this test. And right in line with this comes our county health officer with a life insurance policy against diphtheria for the small sum of sixty cents. Truly the physical man is being cared for and if we could only avoid the evils of over-eating, loss of sleep breathing vitiated air, poisoning our systems with drugs and nostrums, plastering the pores full of cosmetics and lotions and a few more kindred evils men and women are prone to indulge, we might attain a ripe old age. This is the season when we crawl into a hole and pull the hole in after us in order to escape the penetrating cold. Churches and public meeting places, (not the schools, thank goodness) are guilty of non-ventilation and we earnestly hope that some way it may be impressed upon the minds of the responsible parties that it is a crime to poison a man's body with vitiated and germ-laden air. We met Mr. Grouch on the street and he said "this here thing or school inspection is getting to be the limit. Our John goes swimming in the summer time oftener than any boy in Artesia and now they are trying to make him take a bath. They also told our Mary to wash her neck and ears and I'm sure no girl looks any prettier than our Mary." Rouge and powder cover many a defect and we hope the day will come when school-girls will be required to wash if they appear in the school room with faces decorated with stripes of paint that reminds us of the Indian painted for the war dance. John's soiled hands and cloudy finger nails along with Mary's dirty neck and ears and powdered, rouged and lip-sticked face are a

SAVE FOR A PURPOSE MAKE THE POST OFFICE YOUR SAVINGS BANK

"It does not need argument," said Postmaster Hannah of Artesia, "to convince any sensible person that saving is a good thing for the individual, for the community, and for the nation. Saving does not mean that you shall forego the comforts of life, or even the luxuries. But do not make the mistake by thinking the trifling things you do not really need or want are either comforts or luxuries. Do not spend your money for little inconsequential things. Save it for something worth while. You cannot save money by carrying it around in your pocket—hoarded money is inexcusable. Idle capital is the thief of income. Money slips away unless it is placed in a safe place. The best place is in a secure investment, an interest bearing investment, where your money works for you. When the time comes you can get something worth while, the home, the automobile, the vacation trip, or anything else that will bring joy into the lives of yourself and family. If you have only a small sum to save invest in postal savings. You can open a banking account with your government with ten cents. That will buy a ten-cent savings stamp and ten stamps can be exchanged for a $1 interest-bearing postal savings certificate. Postal savings have proved to be very popular with the people, many buying the limit which is $2,500.

The government is also offering a very attractive investment in the form of Treasury savings certificates. For $20.50 you can buy one of the lowest denomination, and in five years the government will redeem it for $25, your $20.50 earning $4.50. If you have $82 to invest it will earn $18, and for you $820 investment you will get $180 in interest. All the time this money, which is working for you will be safe and secure. You can get your principal at any time in case of an emergency, with interest at 3-1/2 per cent while it has been in the keeping of the government. What is more, these certificates are registered in the Treasury Department and you are safe from loss or theft. They are exempt from the normal Federal income tax, and from estate and local taxation (except estate and inheritance taxes). They pay 4-1/2 per cent interest compounded semi-annually, if held until maturity; that means 25 per cent on your investment in five years. "Get that idea of making the post office your bank for your savings and small investments. It is just the same as making your government your bank, for the post office is part of the government. Become a member of this great United States Government Savings System, the safest savings system in the world."

SOUTHWESTERN DIVISION LOOKS AFTER SOLDIERS

Red Cross Workers in That Section Assist, Care For and Entertain Men in Camps and Hospitals.

Approximately 30,000 able-bodied soldiers and more than 5,000 invalided soldiers and ex-service men in the hospitals in the United States have been assisted in obtaining compensation and in the solution of their other problems by the American Red Cross, according to E. S. Transue, director of war service of the Southwestern Division of the American Red Cross.

"Red Cross workers in the camps and hospitals in the Southwestern Division are rendering much-needed service to the men who are in the army at the present time," said Transue. "Those service men undergoing hospital treatment for one cause or another and ex-service men who have been hospitalized both in the army hospitals and hospitals operated by the Veterans' Bureau, are some of the men in need of this service.

"The army camps and hospitals in this division covered by Red Cross workers are located at Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, Mo.; Camp Travis, Tex., including Ft. Sam Houston Hospital; Ft. Bliss, Tex., including Wm. A. Beaumont General Hospital; Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., including the U. S. Disciplinary Barracks at that point; Ft. Riley, Kan.; Ft. Sill, Okla.; Fitzsimons General Hospital, Fitzsimons, Colo.; Camp Furlong, New Mex.; Camp Harry J. Jones, Douglas, Ariz., and the Army and Navy General Hospital at Hot Springs, Ark.

"The Veterans' Bureau hospitals served by the Southwestern Division of the Red Cross are: U. S. Veterans' Hospital No. 35, St. Louis, Mo.; Veterans' Hospital No. 25, Logan, Tex.; U. S. Veterans' Hospital No. 55, Ft. Bayard, N. Mex.; U. S. Veterans' Hospital No. 67, Kansas City, Mo.; U. S. Veterans' Hospital No. 78, N. Little Rock, Ark., and U. S. Veterans' Hospital No. 80, Fort Lyon, Colo.

"Of the 5,000 patients, approximately 75 per cent are undergoing treatment for tuberculosis and mental diseases. This makes the work one of considerable difficulty, inasmuch as it is oftentimes a real problem to provide proper recreation or to connect the man's present condition with his service.

"There are three phases of the Red Cross program for service and ex-service men in the camps and hospitals—Home Service, Recreation and Medical Social Service. Our regular camp service program consists of what is known as home service work. This calls for co-operation between the Red Cross worker in the camp and governmental and chapter agencies in taking care of problems of the enlisted man in the army. Difficulties relating to allotments, allowances, insurance, compensation, state bonus, travel pay, etc., are all brought to the Red Cross by the enlisted man. The Red Cross also contacts the families through the chapters in case of distress, sickness or death.

"The recreational and entertainment program in the hospital brings movies for the boys, amateur theatricals, dances, parties and those many other things that the sick man longs for, but which he could not have were it not for the Red Cross.

"The Red Cross medical and social service program calls for a study of the individual needs of the man, to help him in solving his personal and family difficulties, to aid him by material assistance when he is without resources, to aid the doctor in his treatment of the patient by obtaining former medical or social histories which may lead to an accurate diagnosis and to interpret the whole situation to the Red Cross Chapter home service worker in the man's home community, so that not only will the proper attention be given to the family during the man's absence, but he may be free in mind and thus derive a maximum amount of benefit from his treatment.

"In carrying out our work for the ex-service man undergoing hospitalization the Red Cross has constantly borne in mind that the great object has been to play the right part in the period of adjustment through which the ex-service man must safely pass if he is to continue to be a good citizen. This work has required personnel who are not only sympathetic in the dealing with patients but who must have an understanding of the social problems of civil life.

"Just as it has always been recognized that the time spent in a government hospital is only a brief episode in the life of a patient, so has it been recognized that the activities of the hospital worker are only a part of the responsibility of the Red Cross to the ex-service man; that the hospital work can be successful only as it correlates itself closely with the work of the Red Cross as a whole. The hospital worker is the outpost detailed to special duty. It is his endeavor to interpret the present condition of the man in the hospital to the home people and as each of us, as individuals, watched the men who marched away to service, as each one of us helped to "keep the home fires burning" while the boys served in the front line trenches, so does it become our duty today to render a very definite service to these men, who are still fighting the great battle of humanity, begun in 1917, and in which to date no armistice has been declared. Through the Red Cross you are helping them to hold the line."

Ex-Premier Briand Is Seized as Men Thief

Rouen, France.—Police headquarters here, following an epidemic of petty chicken-coop thefts, recently sent out instructions for all the commissaries of this district to be on the lookout for suspicious characters.

A young ambitious gendarme, recently appointed, hailed a pedestrian along the high road.

The gendarme escorted his prisoner to the nearest police station for further examination.

"You made a wonderful capture," the prisoner told the youthful officer. "You are certain to receive a lot of credit for this arrest."

Upon arriving at the station-house the prisoner was allowed to telephone to the public prosecutor here, who ordered his immediate release.

He proved to be Aristide Briand, seven times premier of France.

HONEYMOON SHIP'S FLAG

This is not a pirate or any other enemy flag but a "Honeymoon" emblem. The captain of the popular Shipping Board vessel, President Garfield, ordered this special flag made because he carries so many honeymooners that he wished to confer some distinction upon them. The emblem is being displayed by Mrs. H. Russell, the nurse assigned to the ship.

MUTE HERO NOW TALKS AGAIN

French Surgeons Supply Rubber Tongue for Man Maimed in the World War.

Paris.—Modern surgery has accomplished another uncanny feat.

Insertion of an artificial tongue, enabling Sergeant Vialla, a Verdun wounded war veteran, to talk, has just been reported at the Val de Grace hospital.

Sergeant Vialla lost his lower jaw in the war and it was reconstructed with a complete set of teeth.

When the surgeons had finished this job, there was only the base of the tongue left, and Dr. Eugene Quenelle set to work to fix up a rubber tongue and palate.

Vialla was soon able to eat with this mechanism instead of having to use a tube. Later he trained himself to make sounds on the palate and now it is reported he is able to converse and even sing.

Atlanta Citizen Took Up Golf but Must Pay Penalty for Losing His Temper.

Atlanta, Ga.—After being a good law-abiding citizen all of his life, Robert A. Cassel took up golf. Now he is under a court sentence to keep away from all links.

Cassel was brought into Superior court on a charge of striking his caddie with a golf club.

"He started talking when I was about to make a mashie shot," Cassel told the court.

To some golf-playing judges this might have been sufficient provocation for hitting a caddie, but not Judge Humphries. He said it would be the chain gang for Cassel if he doesn't stay off the links for a year.

Operate on Milk Can to Save Boy.

London.—St. George's (London) hospital doctors performed the toughest operation of their lives when they operated on a tin milk can, into which Sidney Weinberg, nine years old, had climbed for a bet. The boy couldn't get out, and the doctors had to saw the can apart without hurting the boy.

Rabbit Avenges Her Young.

Colonial Beach, Va.—A rabbit killed a four-foot blacksnake near the home of W. E. Ward of Lyells, Va. The reptile had just swallowed one of the rabbit's offspring. After kicking the snake into unconsciousness, the rabbit finally killed it by gnawing two large places in its head.

Promise of Napoleon to Marshal Ney Carried Out

Paris.—The promise made by Napoleon to Marshal Ney has just been fulfilled by the commission governing the Saar valley under the supervision of the League of Nations. The commission has authorized the institution of a supreme court at Saar-louis, the celebrated marshal's birthplace.

It is a town of less than 10,000 inhabitants, which was the old capital and military stronghold when the Saar was a French province. When General Mangin passed through the Saar with his troops on the way to the Rhine some of the old inhabitants who retained French sympathies reminded him of the emperor's authorities.

"But I'm not Napoleon's successor," General Mangin replied, "and the judiciary is not my line. I will pass on the request to the proper authorities."

General Mangin was relieved of his command in the Rhineland before he could take steps in the matter, but the Saar commission found no objection to the project, since it was not only gratifying to the town of Saar-louis, but was considered of real utility.

Upon opening the door to depart from the Odd Fellows Hall Tuesday evening, October 31st, the brothers met the surprise of their lives. A good doctor and his humble farmer were the first out. The farmer accused by a guilty conscience of leaving his family alone while he attended lodge and played cards afterward, thought the Ku Klux Klan had appeared to meet out a just punishment. The doctor thought the Judgment Day had come and the Devil had sent these evil spirits to take him to the pit because of his only flagrant misdemeanor, the giving of nauseous doses to the poor sick folks who must submit to his autocratic rule. Peeping over the shoulders of these two each Odd Fellow, on beholding this fearsome sight, thought if his own pet sin and shuddered. Tears of penitence began to course their way down the good doctor's furrowed cheeks, upon seeing which, a merry laugh rang out and the fearsome ghosts proved to be angels in disguise. About twenty Rebekahs served coffee and pie to the surprised Oddfellow and a general good time ensued. The good brothers resolved to keep a clear conscience after this so that the appearance of spirits might not them afflict. Spooks could not be present.)

$700,000 SPENT BY RED CROSS IN SOUTHWESTERN DIVISION IN A YEAR

Money Was Used in Relief and Rehabilitation Following Disasters. In the District.

During the fiscal year 1921-22, ending June 30th, the Southwestern Division, American Red Cross expended $730,936.79 in disaster relief. Part of this came from the National Red Cross funds secured from memberships, part from chapters and parts from individual contributions. This money was expended in disasters in various parts of the division, especially in the flood areas along the west bank of the Mississippi, in Missouri and Arkansas, in Texas, around Fort Worth, and in the Rio Grande Valley, at Burlington, Kan., and at Pueblo, Colo.

The greatest amount of time and effort in any of these disasters went into the rehabilitation of Pueblo and of the district covered by the Rio Grande Valley flood of last June, according to a report from the Southwestern Division, American Red Cross, in St. Louis. Fifteen hundred and ten families were affected by that flood.

The manner in which the Red Cross undertakes these disasters depends upon the conditions to be met. In some cases the local chapters and citizens' committees take charge and the division office goes in an advisory capacity. In others the situation is reversed, and in still others the work is handled jointly by the Red Cross and the citizens.

Relief work in the Rio Grande Valley flood, which was the last disaster of real importance in the division, has been practically closed and the auditing committee, as well as the advisory committee, with the Red Cross director, Henry M. Baker, are compiling their reports, to be submitted to the citizens and to the division. The wide area affected in this disaster has caused the work to be continued longer than would have been necessary, it is believed, but that it has been thoroughly done and has created friendship for the Red Cross among the citizens of the section is evidenced by the letters received at the division office.

The Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Association of Little Rock, Ark., both have thriving life saving classes which were started during the summer by the director of life saving of the Southwestern Division, American Red Cross.

MISSOURI JUNIOR RED CROSSERS GIVE CHILD SUNDAY CLOTHES

The Junior Red Cross members of Harrisonville, Mo., are very proud of the fact that they have enabled a little girl to go to Sunday School once more. The child had stayed at home for lack of proper clothes and the Juniors found it out and used some surplus funds, which they had earned at a bazaar, to purchase her the outfit.

This little girl now is the proud owner of a pink organdy dress, a pink ribbon, a blue gingham dress, hose and underwear. The gingham dress was made by one of the Juniors.

The children are enthusiastic over home work and tell the secretary that if ever she needs more help to "just whistle" and they will be right there.

TWELVE-YEAR-OLD GIRL WINS RED CROSS LIFE SAVING CERTIFICATE

Ruth Elberfeld, 12 years old, daughter of "Kid" Elberfeld, manager of the Little Rock (Ark.) Baseball Club, has just received a certificate in the Red Cross Life Saving Course, which is usually issued only to adults. Ruth took the course in a class of girls, but her work was so far ahead of her age that she finally was put in the adult class. One of the extraordinary feats in the course was the bringing in of a 100-pound man through the water for a distance of 50 yards, towing him and handling him in four different ways, according to the requirements of the course.

OLD FAITHFUL IS OUTDONE

New Yellowstone Geyser Starts Business on Fifty-fifth Anniversary of the National Park.

Yellowstone, Wyo.—With a prodigious cough on the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of Yellowstone park as a national playground, a new geyser spouted into the air from an old hot mudhole, shooting higher than "Old Faithful" and smashing all previous records for altitude.

H. M. Albright, superintendent of the park, took a look at the newcomer to the wonders of the place and decided to call it the Semi-Centennial geyser. A motoring party drawn close to the innocent-old mudhole called it various other things, for the machine and members of the group were bathed in goey mud and pelted with brick-like fragments of rock, apparently baked mud. Government rangers later formed a guard around the place.

The new geyser is near Roaring mountain. Its first eruption threw mud and stones 900 feet in the air. Trees in a wide radius were coated with slime, which quickly dried and left them wearing a dry gray crust. The mudhole had been tranquil for many years.

Tourists flocked from many miles away to see the new wonder, which has set itself an hourly schedule for its eruptions.

MINE MULE KEEPS EYESIGHT

He Spends His Life in Dark Tunnels, but Does Not Go Blind.

Hazleton, Pa.—The coal-mine mule, which ordinarily spends years of his life in the darkness of mine tunnels far under ground, retains his eyesight even though he does not use his eyes.

So veterinarians in the anthracite region have determined, following examination of many of the mules which have been brought to the surface since the mines closed down last spring. With this announcement the veterinarians exploded a theory held by many for years—that because he did not have any use for his eyes, the mule lost his sight.

The coal-mine mule usually begins life like any common farm mule. Once he becomes a mine worker, however, things change. He is sent far under ground into the dark workings of the hard-coal mines and there he stays, often for the remainder of his life. Being a hardy animal, he sometimes remains in the mines for 20 years without seeing daylight.

When the mules were hoisted to the surface and turned loose upon the companies' properties, some of them blinked a bit at the sunlight. When the veterinarians looked them over they found their eyes were there and as good as ever.

TURKEY'S BIRTHRATE FALLS

Refugees in Russia and the Balkans May Be Brought Back Home.

Constantinople.—The decreasing birthrate in Turkey, and the gaps in the population brought about by the war, are causing serious alarm.

In some villages, it is said, there have been virtually no children for several years.

As a remedy it has been proposed to bring back to the homeland some of the thousands of refugees who are now in Russia and the Balkans. The transfer of a few hundred thousand Moslems into Anatolia from Russia, it is argued, would be extremely useful to Turkey, and Russia would never miss them.

Modern Girls Bad Tempered.
London.—A great English surgeon has recently expressed the view that bad-tempered women are sick women, especially women sick in a digestive sense. He thinks modern girls are bad tempered in a greater proportion than were their mothers, and that the sweet, sure temper of health is the exception, rather than the rule.
