Weddings Leap Year In Artesia Dance At This Week Hardwick

GISSLER-JACKSON
Mr. Howard T. Gissler and Miss Mattie Mae Jackson, two of Artesia's popular young people, were united in marriage last Saturday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. J. H. Walker, being the officiating minister. The ceremony occurred at four o'clock and was witnessed by only the sisters of the young people, Mrs. Ed Kissinger and Miss Anna Frances Jackson, and the Misses Bertha Richards and Ella Brown. The happy couple left immediately for a short honeymoon trip to Roswell. They have gone to housekeeping in the house formerly occupied by the late Dr. Baker.

RUNYAN-POLK
An unexpected event occurred last Sunday afternoon when Mr. John Runyan and Miss Ayliffe Polk quietly slipped away to Carlsbad and married there at 1:30 p. m. Rev. A. C. Douglas, pastor of the Methodist church there officiating. They were accompanied there by Skell Williams and Miss Phyllis Polk, sister of the bride, who witnessed the wedding ceremony.

GIFFITHS-PUMPHREY
Miss Carrie Pumphrey, who it will be remembered, was a member of the 1919 graduating class of our high school, was united in marriage recently to Mr. Jack Griffiths, of Illinois. The ceremony took place at Keytsville Mo., and after a honeymoon trip to St. Louis and Illinois the couple went to Kentucky to live, the groom being employed by the government in the construction work on the levees there.

TWO MEN ARRESTED FOR SELLING LIQUOR NOW UNDER BOND
Lee Steadmon and M. T. Young, both of Roswell were arrested by Deputy Sheriff M. Stevenson, last Saturday, charged with selling liquor. The still proper, in which the liquor was made is believed to have been located near Roswell, however, these men are reported to have had a supply base, two miles north of town, which they would frequent as fast as the sales were made.

When their actions became suspicious, the fact was reported to the Deputy Sheriff, who maintained a close watch over the suspects until an opportunity came to trail them to the liquor hiding place. They were run back to town and arrested in a local store.

Both men were taken to Carlsbad and placed under a $1000.00 bond and will await the action of the Eddy county grand jury. This is the second liquor charge against Young, the first case came up for trial in the Federal court at Roswell Wednesday.

RUMORED BODY OF H. DE AUTREMONT FOUND IN RIVER LAST SUNDAY

Positive Identification of Body Said to Have Been Made by Father of Boy in Wedford, Oregon—Telegram Received Here.

A rumor was current on the streets of Artesia Wednesday morning that a telegram had been received by Mrs. De Autremont of Lakewood, mother of the De Autremont brothers, stating that a body had been found believed to be that of Hugh De Autremont, wanted in connection with a train robbery which occurred at Siskiyou, Oregon last October 12th.

A long search has been made for the De Autremont brothers, Hugh Ray and Roy, twins, alleged robbers of a mail train near the line of California-Oregon, in which four persons were killed. So far no trace has ever been found of either of the three brothers, despite a long vigilant search by several railroad detectives, since the date of the robbery.

So far as is learned at a late hour, no information is available relative to the truth of this rumor. It is understood that the telegram asked for identification marks on the body of Hugh De Autremont.

The El Paso Times of May 6th carries the following Associated Press report relative to the finding of the body of Hugh DeAutremont: WEDFORD, ORE., May 6.—The body of the young man found in Rogue river near Bybree bridge Sunday was positively identified this morning by Paul DeAutremont of Eugene as his twenty-year-old son, Hugh, indicted with his two brothers, Ray and Roy, for the Siskiyou tunnel holdup and murders last October.

REV. MEANS WANTS ARTESIA TO SELECT CAMP SITE IN MTS.
Artesia will have the opportunity of securing a very desirable camp site in the heart of the Sacramento mountains, that is if we want it and it appears to be a very inviting proposition. Rev. Lewis Means of Weed, N. M. passed through Artesia Wednesday en route to Carlsbad, where he will present the matter of the establishment of a camp site to the Commercial body. Rev. Means is very much interested in getting the attention of the lower valley folks turned toward the mountain district; a place where they may spend a very delightful outing in summer. At the same time Rev. Means explains that he has nothing to sell us, and that the many benefits derived from an undertaking of this kind would be mutual interest to all of the lower valley.

Rev. Means had planned to take two persons, a representative body from each of the towns, Artesia and Carlsbad. He addressed the Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce on the proposition and it is expected that the Commercial body there will take a favorable action. Efforts to secure two business men from Artesia to go on the inspection trip have met with little success, however, it is hoped that we may be so pleasantly surprised before the body departs for their westward journey Friday morning.

The road to Weed is reported now in fair condition, the worst stretch, beyond YO crossing has been repaired and forms an important connecting link in the highway of that section. This part of the road has been worked by public donation, which indicates clearly the desire of those people to co-operate with us in getting an outlet for Artesia and the surrounding country.

Rev. Means, who is at present stationed at Weed, in the interest of the Methodist missionary work, thoroughly understands all of the advantages to be found in the Sacramento mountain and is very enthusiastic over the proposed camp site.

"The Woman of Tomorrow-Girlhood Forces," was the program topic at the Methodist Missionary meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Robertson last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Leon Meeks was the leader of this very interesting program. The vice president, Mrs. J. H. Walker, presided at the business meeting in place of Mrs. Will Benson, the president, who is visiting in Texas.

This being the social meeting, light refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Landis Feather.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Daily air mail service between New York and San Francisco, with deliveries within 35 hours, or from one morning to the following evening will begin July 1, it was announced today by Postmaster General New. The time of transit will be cut to 24 hours probably within a few months, the postmaster general believes.

THIS WEEK

Too many girls in Hollywood.
Flappers and war criticized.
Poppies open at night now.
Some more teapot dome.
Black hand to get six.
Mail to go by air.

NEW YORK, May 4.—A campaign to warn screen-struck girls against heading for Hollywood has been started by the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce and the Studio Club Y. W. C. A., according to Miss Marjorie Williams, director of the club, who has arrived here attending the National Y. W. C. A. convention at the Hotel Commodore.

These two organizations have sent hundreds of placards to towns in all parts of the country," Miss Williams said. "Together with a warning of the scarcity of positions, there is a picture of a large crowd waiting before a studio in hope of receiving work. I have known instances where 1,200 persons have applied for positions for 50."

"One in fifty of these girls who go to California to seek employment in a studio is successful. They will go without food, and even without a place to sleep."
"Many of these girls who tell me that their one ambition in life is to act in moving picture have never been graduated from colleges."

NEW YORK, May 5.—After voting to promote a "constructive program of peace" and to outlaw war as "an international crime," the students' assembly of the Young Woman's Christian association at the eighth biennial convention today forgot world affairs in a discussion of "parties," "flats" and flappers.

Miss Rachel Dunaway, University of Texas, newly elected president, predicted the establishment of "more sensible relations" between the sexes, even to the extent of sacrificing good times for principle.

"Flappers are about passed. There was too much pose about them to last," she said.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Thanks to Luther Burbank, the plant wizard of Santa Rosa, Cal., the wild poppies of California for the first time are gracing social functions at night with their petals open. Heretofore the golden petals closed themselves at sundown.

A San Francisco matron recently complained to Mr. Burbank that it was a shame poppies had to go to sleep so early in the evening. Mr. Burbank experimented, and as a result he gave her this advice:

Stalk the poppies to their lair just before daybreak, while their petals still are closed for the day. In the evening the flowers, put in water and exposed to the warm air of a drawing room, will yawn gratefully, open their petals and expand their loveliness for all beholders.

He said the same treatment could be adapted for other night-closing flowers.

CHEYENNE, WYO., May 4.—The government suit for annulment of the lease on Teapot Dome naval oil reserve, held by the Mammoth Oil company, is ready for assignment hearing. Counsel for the government did not file a rejoinder to the Mammoth's reply to the government bill in equity in which annulment of the lease is prayed, although Saturday was the final day of the period within which the government might file. The issue therefore, is joined.

The case may be set for hearing when the civil docket of the United States court for Wyoming is called, May 13. However, the business of the court, it was indicated Saturday, may not permit a hearing before August 1.

THE SPARROW CAMPAIGN
Some good lady who modestly refused to divulge her name, telephoned the Advocate office last week and requested us to try to start a campaign against the English sparrow, which seems to be dealing all garden owners misery at this season of the year.

While we can not dispute a thing of this kind is sorely needed now, but it has also been brought to our attention that the remedy suggested, poisoned wheat, would be likely to kill the song birds along with the sparrows, so it is our opinion that it would be wise to wait until winter, when other birds have migrated. We believe too that the poisoned wheat remedy would be more effective in winter anyway, since all vegetation would be dead.

Men, who were blue are now wearing a smile;
And are saying "Artesia and Eddy county are worth while."

The Church of Christ revival which is being conducted by Evangelist Jno. W. Hedge of Roswell, continues with increasing interest and attendance. The service was an enjoyable one and those attending the service went away saying "It was good to be there." Members of the First Christian church dismissed their evening service and attended the revival in a body. The Church of Christ extends thanks for the favor. The good people of other churches in town attended also and their presence was appreciated no little.

Mr. Hedge speaks on the following subjects the remainder of the week and Sunday and you are cordially invited to hear him:

The first of the 1924 alfalfa crop has been cut this week. Cutting and baling will soon be the order of the day, although the bulk of the crop has been held back on account of the cold weather. Ordinarily the first crop is cut about May the first and a good yield is secured, but weather conditions have made a difference this year.

S. A. Lanning was the first farmer to start cutting operations that we heard of, however, several alfalfa growers are now cutting and baling. The yield will naturally be light from the first cutting, but the recent warm weather will add much toward the maturity of the late alfalfa.

The price of hay continues strong and it is believed that the first crop will bring a top price.

WHAT TO HAVE FOR DINNER

A nice meat dish which is especially tasty is prepared from a thin slice of tender lean veal as follows:

Veal Birds.— Pound a slice of firm but tender veal with a wooden potato masher until very thin, then cut into small pieces, heap on each a spoonful or more of seasoned bread crumbs, adding a bit of minced salt pork and a little scraped onion. Roll up and skewer with toothpicks then put into a hot frying pan with a little salt pork or suet and brown well all over, turning until evenly browned; dredge with flour so that there will be enough to thicken the gravy. Season the meat with salt and pepper, place in a baking dish and add enough milk to almost cover and bake until the milk is thick. Serve the birds with the thickened gravy poured around them.

Brown Mango.—Soak half a box of gelatin in a cupful of milk for three hours. Strain into it a scant cupful of granulated sugar and pour upon it one quart of scalding milk. Add one-half cake of grated chocolate, wet to a paste with milk. Stir over the fire just long enough to dissolve the gelatin and melt the chocolate but do not let the milk boil. Pour this mixture gradually upon the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Turn into a bowl and set in a pan of chipped ice; beat the contents until it begins to stiffen like jelly. Turn into a glass bowl and set on ice to stiffen. Serve in the bowl, dotted with spoonfuls of whipped cream.

Spanish Rice.—Boil one cupful of rice until tender but not broken. Drain and set in the oven in a colander. Fry two medium-sized onions sliced very thin, in butter; put them and two chopped green peppers with the rice and stir in two cupfuls of stewed tomatoes, tossing lightly not to break the rice. Turn into a buttered baking dish, season to taste with salt and pepper, cover with buttered crumbs and brown.

Customer Cooperation

TELEPHONE service consists essentially in providing the facilities for communication.

Reduced to fundamentals, it may be stated thus:—

- A is provided with a telephone.
- B is provided with a telephone.
- C, through wires and mechanism, connects these two telephones.

Satisfaction with the service depends largely on A and B.

From the very beginning their co-operation is imperative. A must call B and B must answer. Doing these things in the way which makes for good service involves:—

- 1—Such care in asking for the number as one would use in addressing a letter.
- 2—Such promptness in answering the call as one would give to keeping a personal appointment.
- 3—Such courtesy as one would show in making or receiving a business or social call.
- 4—Such clear, correct speech as one would use in the face-to-face transaction of the most important business.

Each subscriber can increase the effectiveness of his telephone communication by such thoughtfulness as he would employ in his daily life.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK
 By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee,
 Okla., Board of Commerce.

THAT progressive cities build for future greatness.
 THAT cities where the people as a whole show interest in civic affairs, especially those improvements which effect the general appearance of their city for all time to come, move ahead fast.

THAT it is one thing for a city to TALK progressiveness, and another to BE progressive. Experience has proved that cities who really do worthwhile things are those cities
 whose citizens preach co-operation and practice what they preach.

THAT cities which have an attractive appearance have much public pride, which instills in its citizens a strong desire to co-operate to make it progress faster.

THAT constructive co-operation is an index of a city's prosperity. It

BUSHY'S SURPRISE

BUSHY SQUIRREL had, all his storehouses full. He was not lazy, even if he was too fond of mischief. After his work was done Bushy began to look about, peering into the pantries of all his neighbors.

Grandpa Squirrel lived all alone, so
 of course he had to look out for his stores and take care of his home all himself, and such a neat and tidy place as it was quite provoked Bushy when he peeked in through the shutters and saw everything in apple-pie order.

Bushy's eyes began to twinkle. "I'll have some fun," he said to himself.
 "I will turn everything in Grandpa's house topsy-turvy and I will hide all his nuts and put stones in place of them."

So the bad fellow went to work. He upset everything in Grandpa's sitting room first, and then he began on the pantry. But of course he could not carry away all the nuts in one day,
 so he didn't begin with those in plain sight. He dug a hole under the pantry and took the nuts that were stored
 the deepest.

Day after day he worked, and by
 and by he had carried off all of Grand-

"Day After Day He Worked."

pa Squirrel's stores and put stones in place of the nuts.

He watched when Grandpa came home and found his room upset. Bushy was disappointed that Grandpa did not make a fuss about it and call out of the door: "Who has been in my house?" Instead he went to work and put everything in place, whistling all the time just as if he liked it.

"He won't whistle when he finds stones instead of nuts," said Bushy.

"I guess he will be a surprised old Grandpa when he discovers that."

But just as Bushy went out of the house who should come along but Mr Dog and Mr. Man with an axe.

Mr. Dog barked and chased Bushy until he was glad to hide in a tree far from his home, where he had to stay for a long, long time, and when
 at last he did dare to run home his house was nowhere to be seen, for Mr
 Man had cut it down and carried it off. And he must have taken the nuts also, for not a nut did Bushy find though he looked all around.

He was a very forlorn-looking fellow when Grandpa Squirrel came along a little later and found Bushy sitting on the ground where his home
 had been.

"What is the matter?" asked Grandpa Squirrel, and when Bushy told him Grandpa said, "Come along home with
 me. I have plenty of room in my house and plenty of stores."

Poor Bushy! He felt sorry for the way he had treated Grandpa Squirrel.
 And he was glad enough to go, for it was cold and he knew that it would be a long, cold night for a little squirrel without a home.

When Grandpa Squirrel opened his door a nice bright fire was burning in the fireplace and everything was in apple-pie order. But it looked very different to Bushy now and he was glad to sit down in a nice big chair
 in Grandpa's tidy room.

Grandpa hurried about, making a nice nut soup. And as Bushy watched him he began to feel uncomfortable.
 "What if Grandpa found the nuts were gone and he had only stones in his storeroom," he thought.

It wasn't nearly the fun Bushy had expected it to be when he started out that day, and if Grandpa did not have any nuts he would have to go without his supper as well as Grandpa.

Bushy Squirrel felt and looked very much ashamed, but Grandpa laughed
 and said, "I know just how you feel,
 my son. I was young once myself,
 and I have not forgotten that I thought it was fun to eat old Miss Squirrel's nuts."

Bushy stayed with Grandpa and he would not let Grandpa do any work.
 He got up early mornings, made the fire and got the breakfast, and did all he could to make up for the pranks he had played on him and to repay him
 for his kindness in giving him a home.

And no more pranks did he play, for Bushy learned that many times what he thought fun was really plain unkindness.

WHAT NEW YORK THINKS
 OF JACKIE COOGAN

Following the completion of
 "Daddy," a first national picture
 which is coming to the Majestic theatre Wednesday and Thursday, little Jackie Coogan, its star, made a trip to New York with his parents. There he received a welcome such as few kings get, and he was the guest of honor at a round of festivities. The hit he made in the metropolis is illustrated by this account, written by a magazine editor:

"Jackie Coogan gave a party to representatives of the press at the Biltmore hotel last Saturday, and
 this statement can be taken literally.
 It was Jackie's party. He treated his guests to the time of their lives,
 because, in spite of all the success
 he has achieved, enough to turn the head of the most modest grown-up, Jackie is still the most wonderful unspoiled little shaver that can be imagined.

"There are stage-trained children who are clever—lots of them—and usually they give people who know them privately a 'pain.' They strut, boast and imitate, and make themselves generally obnoxious.

"Jackie doesn't. He is just a natural, lovable, happy little fellow whose expressive face reflects his every thought—a prodigy if you will
 —but in spite of that a regular boy.
 And that's saying a lot.

"Jackie did most of the entertaining at his party—sort of ran the show to suit himself, ad libbing his way along in a manner few adults
 could improve upon.

"The only time he used something that he had 'learned' was when he recited 'Dangerous Dan McGrew'
 and a couple of other little poems.
 And then he proved that the silver sheet isn't the only place where he shines. He read his lines like a troupier. Like many a mother thinks of her son, we almost regret that he must grow up. We should like to keep him always—just Jackie."

 carried out in Germany with a steam-

 and thus allow a greater speed to be attained.

 will tighten them.

PERSONAL
R. H. Bailey, an old timer resident of this section has returned from an extended visit to California points.

A. D. Hill and Oscar Montgomery of the Cottonwood community were business visitors in Carlsbad Monday.

Ralph Wilde has arrived here from Bethany, Oklahoma, where he has been living for the past four years. Mr. Wilde will plant a cotton crop and assist his father with the farm work this summer.

Mesdames Clara Welton and Geo. Welton attended the state convention of the Episcopal church, which was held in Albuquerque this week. They also took in the sights at Santa Fe during the trip.

The first of the 1924 alfalfa crop has been cut this week. Cutting and baling will soon be the order of the day, although the bulk of the crop has been held back on account of the cold weather. Ordinarily the first crop is cut about May the first and a good yield is secured, but weather conditions have made a difference this year. S. A. Lanning was the first farmer to start cutting operations that we heard of, however, several alfalfa growers are now cutting and baling. The yield will naturally be light from the first cutting, but the recent warm weather will add much toward the maturity of the late alfalfa.

The price of hay continues strong and it is believed that the first crop will bring a top price.

Glasses That Fit—Ed Stone

It is better to be a steady, reliable plodder than to be a brilliant but erratic and undependable genius. The plodder wears better and in the end accomplishes more and better work. WHAT TO HAVE FOR DINNER

A nice meat dish which is especially tasty is prepared from a thin slice of tender lean veal as follows:

Veal Birds.
Pound a slice of firm but tender veal with a wooden potato masher until very thin, then cut into small pieces, heap on each a spoonful or more of seasoned bread crumbs, adding a bit of minced salt pork and a little scraped onion. Roll up and skewer with toothpicks then put into a hot frying pan with a little salt pork or suet and brown well all over, turning until evenly browned; dredge with flour so that there will be enough to thicken the gravy. Season the meat with salt and pepper, place in a baking dish and add enough milk to almost cover and bake until the milk is thick. Serve the birds with the thickened gravy poured around them.

Brown Mince.—Soak half a box of gelatin in a cupful of milk for three hours. Stir into it a scant cupful of granulated sugar and pour upon it one quart of scalding milk. Add one-half cake of grated chocolate, wet to a paste with milk. Stir over the fire just long enough to dissolve the gelatin and melt the chocolate but do not let the milk boil. Pour this mixture gradually upon the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Turn into a bowl and set in a pan of chipped ice; beat the contents until it begins to stiffen like jelly. Turn into a glass bowl and set on ice to stiffen. Serve in the bowl, dotted with spoonfuls of whipped cream.

Spanish Rice.—Boil one cupful of rice until tender but not broken. Drain and set in the oven in a colander. Fry two medium-sized onions sliced very thin, in butter; put them and two chopped green peppers with the rice and stir in two cupfuls of stewed tomatoes, tossing lightly not to break the rice. Turn into a buttered baking dish, season to taste with salt and pepper, cover with buttered crumbs and brown.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK
 By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee,
 Okla., Board of Commerce.
 THAT progressive cities build for
 future greatness.
 THAT cities where the people as a
 whole show interest in civic affairs,
 especially those improvements which
 effect the general appearance of
 their city for all time to come, move
 ahead fast.
 THAT it is one thing for a city to TALK progressiveness, and another
 to BE progressive. Experience has proved that cities who really do
 worthwhile things are those cities
 whose citizens preach co-operation
 and practice what they preach.
 THAT cities which have an attractive
 appearance have much public
 pride, which instills in its citizens a strong desire to co-operate to make
 it progress faster.
 THAT constructive co-operation is
 an index of a city's prosperity. It shows confidence in the future.

BUSHY'S SURPRISE

BUSHY SQUIRREL had all his storehouses full. He was not
 lazy, even if he was too fond of mischief. After his work was done Bushy began to look about, peering into the
 pantries of all his neighbors.
 Grandpa Squirrel lived all alone, so
 of course he had to look out for his
 stores and take care of his home all
 himself, and such a neat and tidy place
 as it was quite provoked Bushy when he peeped in through the shutters
 and saw everything in apple-pie order.

Bushy's eyes began to twinkle. "I'll
 have some fun," he said to himself.
 "I will turn everything in Grandpa's house topsy-turvy and I will hide all
 his nuts and put stones in place of
 them."

So the bad fellow went to work. He upset everything in Grandpa's sitting
 pantry. But of course he could not carry away all the nuts in one day,
 so he didn't begin with those in plain sight. He dug a hole under the pantry and took the nuts that were stored
 the deepest.

Day after day he worked, and by
 and by he had carried off all of Grand-

pa Squirrel's stores and put stones in place of the nuts.
 He watched when Grandpa came
 home and found his room upset. Bushy was disappointed that Grandpa did not make a fuss about it and call out of the door: "Who has been in my house?" Instead he went to work and
 put everything in place, whistling all
 the time just as if he liked it.
 "He won't whistle when he finds
 stones instead of nuts," said Bushy.

"I guess he will be a surprised old Grandpa when he discovers that."
 But just as Bushy went out of the house who should come along but Mr.
 Dog and Mr. Man with an axe.
 Mr. Dog barked and chased Bushy
 until he was glad to hide in a tree
 far from his home, where he had to stay for a long, long time, and when
 at last he did dare to run home his house was nowhere to be seen, for Mr.
 Man had cut it down and carried it
 off. And he must have taken the nuts
 also, for not a nut did Bushy find
 though he looked all around.

He was a very forlorn-looking fellow when Grandpa Squirrel came
 along a little later and found Bushy
 sitting on the ground where his home
 had been.
 "What is the matter?" asked Grandpa Squirrel, and when Bushy told him Grandpa said, "Come along home with
 me. I have plenty of room in my house and plenty of stores."
 Poor Bushy! He felt sorry for the way he had treated Grandpa Squirrel.
 And he was glad enough to go, for it
 was cold and he knew that it would be a long, cold night for a little squirrel without a home.

When Grandpa Squirrel opened his
 door a nice bright fire was burning in
 the fireplace and everything was in apple-pie order. But it looked very different to Bushy now and he was glad to sit down in a nice big chair
 in Grandpa's tidy room.
 Grandpa hurried about, making a nice nut soup. And as Bushy watched him he began to feel uncomfortable.
 "What if Grandpa found the nuts
 were gone and he had only stones in
 his storeroom," he thought.

It wasn't nearly the fun Bushy had
 expected it to be when he started out
 that day, and if Grandpa did not have any nuts he would have to go without
 his supper as well as Grandpa.
 Bushy Squirrel felt and looked very
 much ashamed, but Grandpa laughed
 and said, "I know just how you feel,
 my son. I was young once myself,
 and I have not forgotten that I thought it was fun to eat old Miss Squirrel's
 nuts."

Bushy stayed with Grandpa and he would not let Grandpa do any work.
 He got up early mornings, made the
 fire and got the breakfast, and did all
 he could to make up for the pranks he
 had played on him and to repay him
 for his kindness in giving him a home.
 And no more pranks did he play, for Bushy learned that many times what
 he thought fun was really plain un-
 kindness.

 OF JACKIE COOGAN

Following the completion of
 "Daddy," a first national picture
 which is coming to the Majestic theatre Wednesday and Thursday, little Jackie Coogan, its star, made a trip to New York with his parents. There
 he received a welcome such as few
 kings get, and he was the guest of honor at a round of festivities. The
 hit he made in the metropolis is illustrated by this account, written by a
 magazine editor:

"Jackie Coogan gave a party to
 representatives of the press at the Biltmore hotel last Saturday, and
 this statement can be taken literally.
 It was Jackie's party. He treated
 his guests to the time of their lives,
 because, in spite of all the success
 he has achieved, enough to turn the
 head of the most modest grown-up, Jackie is still the most wonderful unspoiled little shaver that can be imagined.

"There are stage-trained children
 who are clever—lots of them—and
 usually they give people who know
 them privately a 'pain.' They strut,
 boast and imitate, and make themselves generally obnoxious.
 "Jackie doesn't. He is just a natural, lovable, happy little fellow
 whose expressive face reflects his
 every thought—a prodigy if you will
 —but in spite of that a regular boy.
 And that's saying a lot.
 "Jackie did most of the entertaining at his party—sort of ran the
 show to suit himself, ad libbing his
 way along in a manner few adults
 could improve upon.

"The only time he used something
 that he had 'learned' was when he
 recited 'Dangerous Dan McGrew'
 and a couple of other little poems.
 And then he proved that the silver
 sheet isn't the only place where he
 shines. He read his lines like a trouper. Like many a mother thinks of her son, we almost regret that he must grow up. We should like to keep him always—just Jackie."

Steam-Driven Plane

Experiments have recently been carried out in Germany with a steam-driven airplane. The steam turbine and boiler, with which the machine is fitted, are much lighter than other types developing an equal horsepower, and thus allow a greater speed to be
 attained.

 will tighten them.
