AROUND MULESHOE

At press time, funeral services for Juanita Mata, 62, were pending with Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe. Todd Ellis, Justice of the Peace, pronounced her dead at 4:35 p.m. Tuesday at her home.

This year, the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture has decided on the theme for the Annual Christmas Parade. The theme will be 'Christmas Time is -- Time.'

The parade will be Saturday, December 6, at 10 a.m. with parade participants lining up at the Boy Scout Grounds at 9 a.m.

Santa Claus will make his first official visit to Muleshoe this day, and will stay to have pictures made with boys and girls of Muleshoe.

All Muleshoe clubs, organizations, businesses, churches and individuals are urged to participate in this year's parade.

Muleshoe's Jennyslippers invite the children of the community, and their parents, to visit the Civic Center on Friday, October 31, for a Halloween Skating Party from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Admission is $1 at the door and a concession stand will be available.

Prizes will be given for the 'Scariest Painted Face' and the 'Most Original Painted Face.' Everyone who enters the Civic Center with a painted face will be entitled to a cup of witch's brew.

Girl Scout Troop No. 160 will sponsor a spook house on Halloween night, Friday, October 31 at the Girl Scout Hut at 615 West Second.

This will be open from 7-11 p.m. and admission is $1. Children under the age of five will not be admitted without an adult to accompany them.

Shelley Pickering of 1916 Avenue H will host an organizational meeting for a local chapter of MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Driving).

The meeting will be conducted by Lou Young, president of the Lubbock MADD chapter.

Mrs. Pickering said mothers are not the only persons invited, as all interested persons will be welcome to attend the organizational meeting.

Bailey County Commissioners court will meet in special session at 10 a.m. on Friday, October 31.

Items on the agenda include payment of routine county bills; review county treasurer's report for September and miscellaneous items, according to Bailey County Judge Gordon H. Green.

Renovation Continues On Santa Fe Depot

Every Monday evening, a group of local dedicated people are volunteering their time and talents as they gather at the old Santa Fe Depot to work on the renovation of that historic old building. Jenne McVicker said their hope and their dream is to make the depot into an attractive and comfortable center for the senior citizens to use and enjoy -- and very soon.

At this time, the old depot has been painted and restored to its original red and white paint on the outside, and new shingles have been placed on the roof, making the building waterproof. The outside has taken on a bright and shiny look for everyone to see.

Also, work is going on at a steady pace inside the buildings. A group of volunteers are very busy making a dining area in the part of the depot that once was a freight platform. The sliding wooden door at the end was replaced with a large glass door and glass side panels which give light and sunshine in the dining area. The walls will be insulated and paneled, and the floors sanded and carpeted.

REMOVING ACCIDENT VICTIMS--Onlookers stay back as personnel from the Bailey County Ambulance Service removed accident victims Kathy Day, and her son, Tommy Day, from a wrecked vehicle at West Sixth and Avenue B early Saturday afternoon. At the right is the suburban that slammed into the driver's door of the Day vehicle.

Mules, Hornets Clash Set Halloween Night

When the Muleshoe Mules travel to Tulia this week, all you will be hearing will be the angry buzz of Hornets, as the Tulia Hornets are expected to be out in full force in an attempt to retaliate -- against anyone -- following their surprising loss to the Friona Chieftains last Friday night.

It is not expected to make any difference that the Mules didn't do it -- the Hornets slipped up and Friona slammed by them 28-21, while the Mules were falling to powerhouse Littlefield 28-6.

Now, in a state-ranked team, the 28-6 loss wasn't all that bad at all, as the young Mules proved their mettle, and proved to have a very stingy defense, who really 'dug in' and refused to allow the Wildcats to roam at will over the football field.

With the Littlefield game behind, the Mules evened out their season record to 4-4, yet, unfortunately, are 0-3 in district action.

However, you will not be disappointed, as the Mules will be performing well, and could just pull it off when they invade Hornet territory for a 7:30 p.m. game on Halloween night.

Muleshoe still holds the rushing yard total at 1,477 in 316 carries to 1,303 in 306 carries for their opponents; in passing, the Mules hold a big advantage, with 52 completions in 145 attempts for 755 yards, while their opponents only show 33 completions in 122 carries for 542 yards.

There's lots of work as yet to be done, and Mrs. McVicker said more help is needed.

She also said the Byron Gwyn family of Muleshoe and Hobbs, N.M. are completely remodeling the waiting room and the ticket office, and will furnish that area. This is being done in memory of their husband, father and grandfather the late Byron Gwyn.

Gwyn always desired to do something to make life more comfortable for the senior citizen age group, explained his family. The room will be remodeled, painted, carpeted and furnished in the style that depicts early West Texas. It is expected to be very attractive, and a comfortable room, and will be called the Byron Gwyn Room, a tribute to the memory of the late Byron Gwyn while it serves the community in a worthwhile way.

The kitchen and outside deck around the building will be the last to be completed, as it depends on funds that will hopefully be made available.

Interceptions have not proven to be that much of a factor, either, as the Mules have been intercepted only seven times to six times for their opposition.

For the year after eight games, the Mules show 27 punts; at 953 yards, for an average of 35.3 yards per punt.

They have 109 first downs to 95 for their opponents. This breaks down to 25 by passing, to 16; 81 by rushing, to 75 and three by penalties, to four.

Penalties have not been that one-sided either, as tie Mules show 44 penalties for 394 yards to 41 penalties for their opponents, for 390 yards.

The Mules have lost 15 fumbles this year, to 16 for their opponents.

Individually, Todd Bessire has 465 yards on 74 carries; Armando Del Toro, 431 yards on 76 carries; Michael Dunham, 385 yards in 93 carries; Michael

City Gets Big Check For Purchase

Tuesday morning, with two of the five members of the Muleshoe City Council out of town, it was purely an 'informational' meeting for council members A. V. Wood, Tommy Gunstream and Mayor Darrell Turner.

Meeting with the council was Judith Eversole of Lubbock, representing South Plains Association of Governments, who discussed the recent scoring of Texas Community Grant Applications.

Muleshoe, who had applied for a paving grant, ranked 15th out of the 30 applications submitted for the available federal funds. Of the 30 applicants, only seven were funded for the upcoming year, out of the $1,413,214 regional allocation.

Water projects got the nod in all instances with those cities and communities approved for the funding year. Funded were Ralls, Morton, Anton, Levelland, O'Donnell, Olton and Matador.

City Manager Marr also discussed the operation of the Sanderosa Well Field, and said the tenants, who have horses on the Sanderosa Well Field land, are being asked to remove their horses.

After the city manager said Ronnie Shafer had indicated a desire to be removed from the Bailey County Appraisal District Board, councilman A.V. Wood agreed to serve as the city representative on the board.

Marr also said he had received a check in the amount

Tolk Plant Manager At Rotary

It was a re-run for Ben Green, manager of the SPS Tolk Plant near Muleshoe Tuesday at noon when he was guest speaker for the Muleshoe Rotary Club.

Green had spoken to the Rotarians in the past, and in Tuesday's discussion, using a slide presentation, along with a verbal presentation, brought Rotarians up to date on the coal-fired electric generating plant located some nine miles east of Muleshoe.

Green told the group that SPS began construction on the plant eight years ago this month and the construction force peaked at about 900 men early in 1982.

He said the first coal train arrived at Tolk on February 3, 1982, and since that time, 800 trains of coal have delivered 8.9 million pounds of coal to Tolk.

At this time, there are 120 full time employees, with 54 of this number living in Muleshoe and 55-57 having a Muleshoe address, as they live near the city of Muleshoe. Green also said 13-14 of the permanent employees are Muleshoe natives while the rest were moved into the area.

Moving the permanent employees into the area took approximately one and one half years, and Green said with the

Local, Area Banks Show Increase In Deposits, Loans

This year, even with a totally depressed farm economy, as well as few crops due to weather-related problems, bank deposits have climbed in the local banks as well as the banks surrounding this county.

For the eight banks in this area, deposits were $226,310,105 at the close of business on September 30, 1986, up some $8,642,674 over the $217,667,431 on deposit closing out September, last year. Loans for the same eight banks also climbed during the year, by more than $9 million.

Loans for September 30 this year were $109,260,218 for the eight banks, compared to $99,579,912 at the same time a year ago, an increase of $9,680,306.

For the two banks in Muleshoe, deposits have increased by some $3,988,504 for the past year. Deposits were $68,035,000 at the close of business on September 30 of this year, compared to the $64,045,496 at the same time last year.

There was also a big increase in loans for the two local banks during the year. At the end of business on September 30 this year, loans were $42,162,000, up by $9,456,113 over the $32,705,887 shown at the end of September, 1985.

Muleshoe State Bank had an increase in deposits of $3,009,504 for the year, with $36,420,000 being on deposit at the end of September this year, compared to the figure of a year ago of $33,410,496. Loans at the bank increased by $7,607,113 for the year, with loans at the end of September last year being shown at $20,285,887, up to the $27,893,000 at the same time this year.

For First Bank, deposits increased $979,000 during the year. Deposits at the end of September last year were $30,636,000, and had increased to $31,615,000 for the same time this year. For First Bank, loans also increased some $1,849,000 during the year. Loans were $14,269,000 on September 30 this year, and on the same date last year, loans were $12,420,000.

First State Bank at Morton also reflects an increase in both deposits and loans for the year, with deposits of $30,142,874 closing out September this year, up by $466,277 from the 1985 figure of $29,676,597. Loans at the Morton bank increased $3,852,460 during the year. This year, at the end of September, the loan figure was $11,137,568, compared to $7,285,108 for a year ago at the same time.

Security State bank at Farwell shows a good increase in deposits and a very large decrease in loans for the past year. Deposits at the bank were

Who is it that says that the new 'No Pass, No Play' ruling is hurting students? Well, it may be argumentative in some school districts, but in Muleshoe High School, the first six weeks grading period proved that it is helping students.

According to Wayland Ethridge, High School principal, a full 23 percent of the entire student body of Muleshoe High School made the honor roll for the first six weeks of this year.

He stated that 33 percent of the senior class members were on the honor roll; 22 percent of the junior class members made the honor roll; 18 percent of the sophomore class were honor roll students and 18 percent of the freshman class were on the honor roll.

When asked his reaction to this, Ethridge stated that this is the highest percentage that he can remember. "This really makes you feel good about the students of Muleshoe High," stated Ethridge. "We adults often blame all of society's problem on young people just because they are easily the scapegoat for many of our own problems; then to see so many show that they do so much better than those who preceded them in school really makes the real story surface."

"I guess that I just feel very elated concerning such a high percentage," Ethridge stated. "With so much publicity over the past two years concerning eligibility and the adverse effects that many think the new regulations cause, it is heart-warming to know that young people do have what it takes."

When the principal was questioned concerning the number of failures for the first six weeks grading period, he was more elated. "Sixteen percent of MHS students were below passing in one or more subjects," he stated, "this is a percentage that needs some improving, but again, this is the lowest percentage that I can remember."

Students in Muleshoe High School take a total of seven classes. Of the 65 students who were listed as failing one or more courses, 26 of these were below passing in only one course; 18 were below passing in two courses; and 12 were below in three courses. "This certainly presents a challenge to administrators and faculty in Muleshoe High," stated Ethridge, "but again it is a vast improvement over the past."

Concerning eligibility, Ethridge states that only 14 students became ineligible to participate in activities for which they were enrolled. Of these, four students became ineligible for ninth grade athletics; four were ineligible in varsity athletics; six became ineligible for cross country track and three band members were ineligible.

"I feel that the incentive given students because of the new state legislation--the eligibility standards, and the necessity of passing the TEAMS exit examination--have contributed to the increase in students' productivity toward school. These same things are responsible for a low percentage of students who are not passing all courses, and I just feel real good about the entire situation at this point. Tutorials, held before and after school in all major subjects, plus a staff of dedicated teachers who expect and desire for students to succeed are definitely the contributing factors."

$40,692,736 to close out business on September 30 of this year, up by $3,786,448 over deposit a year ago. Loans at the bank dropped by $6,093,361 for the year. Loans were $10,195,531 at the end of

Refreshments were served to the following eight members and one guest: Mrs. Joe Costen, Mrs. Barry Lewis, Mrs. Roland McCormick, Mrs. Charles Shain, Mrs. Doyle Turner, Mrs. Wilson Witherspoon, Mrs. Wilma Thompson, Mrs. Robin Taylor and the hostess, Mrs. J.G. Arnn.

Mrs. Taylor's program was on "Meals of Wheels". She said some of the people only had the contact of those who deliver the meals. She also said they are in desperate need of people to help deliver these meals and if you want to be a part of this program, call Glen Williams at the Court House or at home. The hospital is still furnishing the meals.

She told the group that the program is run on donations from clubs and individuals alike and as of right now they have money for the meals, but will need more later, "so please

Choosing A Fire Extinguisher

A fire extinguisher may not add much to the decor, but could keep your kitchen -- or the whole house -- from going up in flames.

The combination of heat and flammables, such as grease, make the kitchen a prime location for fire hazards, says Dr. Peggy Owens, a housing specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

She says that small fires in pots on the stove can be extinguished simply by replacing the lid to cut off the oxygen supply. Baking soda poured from the box will also put out small fires.

But a home fire extinguisher is still the best insurance against the spread of a small fire into something that could threaten the entire house, remarks Owens.

According to the specialist, a small carbon dioxide extinguisher is ideal for small kitchen fires because it sprays a fog which smothers the fire and evaporates without making a mess.

Next best is one containing a dry chemical, which also will deny grease fires the oxygen needed to burn, but will require cleanup of the spray powder afterward.

Both types of extinguishers are superior to using water or an extinguisher with a water-base agent as the fire-fighting material.

"Spraying or throwing water on grease or electrical appliances is very dangerous," says Owens, "since water causes the grease to spatter and spread."

Putting water on electrical equipment not only creates the risk of shock, but can also short out the appliance and ruin its future usefulness, she adds. Once you have a kitchen fire extinguisher, study the directions so you know how to use it. Periodically check the expiration date to make sure the contents are still good.

Also check to see if the fire extinguisher must be discarded after use or you can get to it in emergency, advises the specialist.

Meals From Machines Usually Safe

Food from a vending machine may not be a gourmet treat, but it is usually safe.

Food safety expert Marilyn Haggard says stews, soups, lasagna and other canned foods are safe to eat even at room temperature, unless the cans are rusted, dented or bulging.

"If the can is damaged, don't even taste the food," cautions the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service specialist.

When canned extremes come out of the vending machine box, the machine is working properly she says.

"Cold foods, such as ham salad, egg or tuna sandwiches, should be cold to be safe," Haggard remarks. "This means the temperature inside the machine must be 40 degrees Fahrenheit or below."

The specialist suggests checking the "use-by" date for freshness too. If a sandwich has an off-odor or mold, throw it away.

Some vending machines contain sealed in retort packages, she notes. These packages act like light-weight, flexible cans and need no refrigeration.

Like cans, retort packages have a shelf life of 2 to 5 years as long as the pouch is intact. But if the pouch is bulging or leaking, don't taste the food, Haggard warns.

When a vending machine isn't working properly, post a note for fellow employees and call the vending company, the specialist advises. If the company doesn't respond, call the health department and report the problem.

Information on the McGruff Puppet Program for school children and a demonstration on the 7-day dress will be presented on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, November 4 at 12 noon and repeated on Saturday, November 8 at 2:00 pm. (All times are Mountain).

Most adults and children recognize McGruff as the Crime Prevention Dog and the symbol of the National Crime Prevention Council. He's well known for his campaign to "take a bite out of crime". Nell Stewart is the Director of Public Affairs for Texize, and she's a dedicated consumer advocate. She, with the assistance of McGruff, will tell about the McGruff Elementary School Puppet Program, which is available for grades 1-5, and helps teach children about safety. Ms. Stewart is from New York.

Mrs. McVicker added, "The Muleshoe Heritage Foundation appreciates the fantastic support of the Muleshoe area people. The donations from the membership drive a year ago, generous contributions, and later, the participation of the entire community in the Heritage Foundation's Celebrity TV auction over Channel Six have made the renovations, to this point, possible."

She added, "Donations and memberships are still needed and will certainly be very much appreciated. There is now electricity in the depot, electric outlets, light switches and other electrical necessities, thanks to a volunteer electrician who so generously gave his time and his expertise to see that the depot is wired for electricity. slow process, most people didn't realize it was going on. As he showed the slides and commented on the various advantages of the plant, he said SPS plants are second to none in appearance, and continue to be constructed less expensively than other utility plants. "Also, their reliability is almost better than anybody's," he added.

He cited the safety and health features constructed in the plant, as well as the appearance of the coal-fired plant. Green told the Rotarians that 90 percent is very good for any plant to be ready to operate at total capacity, and the Tolk Unit No. One operates at 97.9 percent for an availability factor. He also said that at only .1100 of one percent would Unit One not be ready to operate at full capacity, with Tolk Unit No. Two almost as good.

In response to questions, Green said the estimated life of Tolk is 35 years, and said the available water is expected to be more than adequate for that period. He also said he believed the actual life of Tolk Plant could be 40-60 years.

He also said Plant 'X' near Earth is closed down at this time, but is undergoing major maintenance and should be ready for operation in 1988.

Clifton Finley was in charge of today's Rotary program.

Guests at Rotary included Otis McMillan, Martin Chandler, Jan Crawford, Martina Schornwurst, Danette Bunch and Clea Williams.

Rotary President Bill Iiles presented correspondence from a Dr. Smith, an ophthalmologist from Littlefield, who would like to present one or all of four different programs to Rotary. President Iiles also briefly discussed the upcoming Christmas Parade, and asked for a volunteer for a chairman of the float committee.

U.C.L.A. Bailey County Judge Gordon H. Green left sample ballots on each table for Rotarians to study prior to the general election set for Tuesday, November 4.

SMU - A&M Expected To Be Best

Trying to look ahead and pick conference winners in the muddled title pictures that exist in almost every league is still virtually impossible, even considering that only four to five weeks remain in the college football season. As yet a clear favorite hasn't emerged in any conference. So we'll stay off that long range forecasting limb for the moment... enough problems just picking winners week to week!

Some clarification should come out of two contests in the Pac-10, three in the Southeast Conference, Ohio State-Iowa in the Big Ten, two in the Atlantic Coast, and S.M.U.-Texas A&M in the Southwest.

Washington's loss to Southern California a month ago makes its trip this week to Arizona State extremely important. Another Husky loss would probably seal the coffin. The Sun Devils were tied by Washington State, but they've beaten both U.C.L.A. and the Trojans. Arizona, a U.C.L.A. victim, hosts Southern Cal, upset loser to Washington State. Winners: Washington and Arizona.

Alabama, Auburn, and L.S.U. are all favored to continue their 3-way fight in the Southeast Conference. However, they're running into real stubborn competition in the Mississippi State Bulldogs, the Florida Gators, and the Mississippi Rebels. At least one upset won't be

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
Americans who cherish our democratic system of government have cause to rejoice over legislation enacted by President Reagan on the civil rights of the handicapped who use the nation's commercial airlines.
"The Air Access Carrier Act of 1986," signed into law by President Reagan, makes law the right of Americans with a handicap to use commercial airlines with safety and dignity.
For the handicapped traveler, "the adventure of flying" has been just that, prior to the passage of this important legislation. Until now, the handicapped air traveler could expect any number of difficulties, from being refused one's choice of seat to being refused passage altogether. Other restrictions often included an extra handling charge for wheelchairs, being required to travel with an aide, or being forced to give advance notice of one's intent to travel—as a handicapped individual—well in advance of departure. Each of these restrictions was at the complete discretion of the airline official on each particular flight—with no consistency among airlines or even among different flights of the same airline.
The quick passage of this legislation, actively supported by the Paralyzed Veterans of America and a broad range of organizations serving the needs of handicapped Americans, is an indication of the growing feeling nationwide that we can no longer tolerate discriminatory treatment of people who happen to have a handicap.

The 'Air Carrier Access Act of 1986' addresses this critical need to protect the civil rights of the handicapped passenger aboard commercial airlines and is a tribute to the fine leadership of Senator Robert Dole (R-KS) and Representatives John Paul Hammerschmidt (R-AR) and Norman Mineta (D-CA) in the House of Representatives. We owe our thanks and appreciation to these members of Congress and many others in supporting our nation's ideal of "equality for all."
In advocating full citizenship, dignity and safety for 25 million handicapped Americans within our great democracy, our nation's representatives have further protected these rights for all Americans.

Sincerely,
R. Jack Powell
Executive Director
Paralyzed Veterans Of America

Convenience Banking?

- What's So Convenient About:
 - PAYING higher interest on your loans?
 - EARNING LESS interest on your savings?
 - PAYING HIGHER service costs at banks?
 - LOSING local control over banking?
 - SACRIFICING service to the big banks' benefit?

YOU WILL HEAR A LOT FROM THE SO-CALLED CONVENIENCE BANKERS ABOUT PROPOSITION FOUR BUT YOU PROBABLY WILL NOT HEAR THIS:

The big banks of Texas hope to create a bank monopoly at your expense. Proposition Four has disguised branch banking as "full service banking." Whatever they call it — Branch Banking is a bad idea for Texas, and Texans will end up footing the bill for the big Texas bank holding companies to get bigger.
You especially don't want this to happen now since the Texas Legislature just passed a law permitting the large banks of New York City to purchase some or all of the large Texas bank holding companies. Not only can this legally happen now, but is almost certain to take place in the immediate future.
For all these years, Texans have never wanted or allowed the big banks of New York City to own and control the Texas Banking industry. We are sure that this position by the people of Texas still has never changed.

Protect Your Interests And Your Pocketbook On Nov. 4.

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION FOUR.

COMBEST COMMENTS

by Congressman Larry Combest

In a few days we will all have an opportunity to go to the polls and cast our ballots for those we wish to represent us in the councils of government. It is an opportunity I hope our citizens will not take lightly, for in many parts of the world it is an opportunity that never comes. In our own history, many of our kinsmen and neighbors have died on battlefields near and far in order that we might govern ourselves. This is one of those times when we must not let them down, but must exercise our right and duty.

I hope my record as your congressman during the past two years is one that meets with your approval. I am standing for re-election as your congressman for the 19th Congressional District, and I earnestly ask for your vote in this election so we can continue the fight for sound, conservative government in Washington.

I hired on as your full-time, working congressman. I have kept that commitment to you. I have not missed a single vote in the House of Representatives during my two years in office.

During those two years, I have worked to make certain that the voice of the farmer, the small businessman, the energy producer of the 19th Congressional District is heard and heeded in Washington. You are the people who keep our small towns and cities alive. You need a voice in Washington, and I have tried to be that voice.

Much remains to be done. Those who prefer the route of "tax and spend" still outnumber us in the House. It is important that the "conservative coalition" in the House be maintained if we are going to make progress toward fiscal integrity in our federal government.

So please remember to go to the polls and vote on election day. I know that these are not the best of times. The weather has not been good to us this year. But we have come through rough times before in West Texas, and we will come through this time as well. And when we do, we will go on to better times for all our people.

Honors English Class On Special Pilgrimage

To highlight their study of Geoffrey Chaucer's Canterbury Tales, the Honors English IV class went on an imaginary pilgrimage. Monday, October 20, the travelers went to Mrs. Pat Watson's Honors English III class and then to Mrs. Pam Gambles' English II class. Mrs. Denise Keeling's Honors English I and Coach Jim Stewart's Regular English IV class joined Mrs. Gamble's class to observe the pilgrimage. The pilgrims were dressed in authentic medieval costumes. The pilgrims entered the rooms in groups of three, and each student then recited a twelve-line iambic pentameter verse he or she had written that described the character he or she was impersonating. The verses described each one physically as well as describing the personality of each. The students learned in class that Chaucer wrote Canterbury Tales to comment on the problems of church and society of the fourteenth century. He used a pilgrimage to show a cross section of society who were going on a religious pilgrimage to Canterbury to pray at the Shrine of St. Thomas Becket, a Roman Catholic Archbishop who was murdered because he loved God more than King Henry II. Becket was canonized a saint by the church in 1173. For centuries people prayed at his shrine. Chaucer used this then to show the problems of his day. The class realized these problems still confront mankind. The students learned much from their study of a classic and it was evident by the students' enthusiasm they enjoyed the study and for a short time they stepped back almost six hundred years into history and became, perhaps, for a moment one of their forefathers.

Mules' Tale Featuring Departments

The Mules Tale staff will be featuring a department from Muleshoe High School in each edition of the school newspaper throughout the year. We would like to make parents and school patrons in the school programs as well as to inform our readers about what is going on at MHS and to introduce the faculty and staff. Our first article to be featured is the MHS library which is managed by our librarian, Mrs. Barbara Milburn. One of the best features of the Muleshoe High School Library is the reference section. The abundance of different, updated sources makes it more enriching for students involved in varied research activities. The many volumes of current reference works are complimented by an excellent vertical file, complete Readers Guide and microfiche viewer and film. The ability of the students to use of the Reader's Guide and microfiche. These skills will be used throughout their high school and college careers.

There are some changes that could be made in our library to update the computer check out system. A hard disk drive to simplify our computer program could be added in the foreseeable future. A program that could be converted to an on-line cataloging system would be a dream come true. Another addition to our library would be a microfiche printer. Microfiche use is limited to one student at a time. The printed would speed up the note taking process and more students would have access to the material available.

A personal goal for our library is to have students checking out more books just because they want to read as well as just finding material for academic research.

The Mighty "M" Band has really gotten off to a tremendous start again this year!! The band started off by receiving a third place trophy in the South Plains Fair Parade which they had not competed in for several years. This gave the band a determination to win! However, the band had one small letdown at the Texas Tech marching Festival. The band went there hoping to continue their reign as outstanding 3-A band but instead, they received a division II.

Although the members were disappointed, they did not let up. They refused to be gotten down by a loss such as that. The band worked extremely hard the next week. (They even had a night rehearsal, which has been unheard of the past two years!!!!)

With much hope and a new winning spirit, the Band traveled to Lubbock for their U.I.L. Marching Competition. Yes, you guessed it. That hard work really paid off!!! The band received straight I's. The scene was an awesomely happy one as the ratings were reported over the loud speaker. The previous disappointment was forgotten as the band realized that they had won in the major competition..... the one that enables to get a sweepstakes if they work hard in concert and sight reading.

The sweepstakes is an accomplishment that they Mighty "M" has striven for and reached the past two years. This is a tradition that the officers and seniors hope stays around for a long time. Very few bands receive a sweepstakes because it means that the band has to get an overall I rating in Marching, Concert, and Sight-reading. This is a difficult trophy to win because the hard work cannot be stopped at ANY time during the school year. This means that many bands lose their determination and strive to win as the year begins to draw to a close. The Mighty "M" however has decided that they want to win this prestigious award again and will not give up.

Sue Haire, assistant drum major and section leader, commented, "IT was a great feeling. I could get used to winning and I am confident we will continue." Lisa Hamilton, drum major, stated, "I felt extremely good when our ratings were announced. I really felt that this was something were deserved because of our hard work. I also hope that this work will pay off not only in concert season, but next year when the band will go to compete in U.I.L. competition. I wish them luck next year, because I know they can win!!!!"

Mr. Heidel was extremely happy with the ratings and said, "The band performed very, very well Saturday. The show was one of the best performances of the season and the judges rewarded their efforts justly. The band represented the school and community excellently and we should all be very proud of them. I AM!!!"

We would like to congratulate the band on the honor, and also congratulate Mr. Heidel on this accomplishment. We feel like Mr. Heidel deserves the support of this town after furthering our band's winning streak. We also feel like he will greatly help establish this tradition in year's to come. Congrat once again to him and the Mighty "M" Band!!!

Honors English IV students prepare for Canterbury Pilgrimage

Tribute Given 'Knights'

All English IV classes study British literature and Mrs. Johanna Winkle's Academic English IV class has just read "The Day of Destiny" from Le Mort Darthur by Thomas Malory, which is the legend of King Arthur.

To show their understanding of the knightly qualities of men in King Arthur's day, and to show that these qualities still exist, the students wrote discourses describing modern-day knights. One half of the class wrote about a fellow classmate and the other half wrote about a teacher in Muleshoe High School. The class would like to share two of the papers.

A Knight in School

If teachers were eligible for knighthood, there would be many of them teaching in shining armor, but when thinking of this honorable position, one particular person come to mind. This man is a person with great experience in his work such as a squire would have to obtain before becoming a knight. He is a gentleman who has lead many battles throughout the state of Texas, and coincidentally, many of them did involve swords. His extreme love for his work has brought him countless victories and unheard of loyalty from his followers. "Who is this courageous knight?" you ask. Well, you might know him if I told you "more." (Kerry Moore)

by Rudy Gonzales

A Young Lady is a Knight In the days of chivalry, men were considered the supreme beings, but I am going to tell you of a young lady who has the same qualities that were considered important in a knight. This young lady is honest in everyway. She is full of courage and does not slow down for obstacles that are in her path. She is considered honorable, and she likes to see that justice is served. Her loyalty is given to the people who deserve it. Her wisdom is reflected in the way she handles the events that occur in her daily routine. I feel that her greatest attribute is her love. She cares for all things and all people. Her quality of forgiveness is inspired by her love for people. Therefore, I feel that this young lady, Norma Castorena, would have made an honorable knight in the days of chivalry.

Government Students Hold Convention

The senior United States government students at Muleshoe High School have been studying the early development of the United States government. In order to gain an understanding of the complexity and the many compromises necessary to put up this system the classes did simulations of the Constitutional Convention under the direction of their teacher, Jean Allison. In each of the three civic classes, the students portrayed one of the Founding Fathers such as George Washington, James Madison, Edmund Randolph, Rufus King, Elbridge Gerry, etc.

Cross Country Teams Take Multi-Firsts

The MHS Cross-country teams returned from the Lubbock Invitational Cross-country Meet, Saturday, October 11, with a winning spirit and three first place trophies. Both boys and girls' varsity teams placed first in the meet, beating much of their district competition. J.V. boys also finished in first place, while the J.V. Girls came in a strong second.

An outstanding race was run by Norman Perez, who finished first with a time of 16:37; Rudy Flores, who finished second with a time of 16:42; and Greg Garcia, who finished third with a time of 16:44. Following their teammates in were varsity runners: Richard Ring in fourteenth place, Michael Garza in seventeenth place, Ramon Sanchez in twenty-fourth place, and Miguel Sanchez in fortieth place. Individual places for the boys' JV were: Esteven Sandoval, tenth; Alex Bachicha, sixteenth; George Alvarado, nineteenth; Hector Reyes, twentieth; Joel Leyva, twenty-fifth; Ronnie Perez, Forty second, Shannon Simmacher, forty-third; Galo Tapier, eighty-third, and Jeffery Noble, one-hundredth.

Jeffery Noble, one-hundredth. The varsity girls' individual places were: Norma Castorena, thirteenth; Jennifer Hayes, fifteenth; JoAnn Gutierrez, seventeenth; Heather Hutton, Twenty-fourth; Michelle Cox, twenty-fifth; Jennifer Green, thirty-third, and Debbie Brown, fortieth.

The JV girls' results were: Kelly Conklin, sixteenth; Caroline Liles, twenty-third; Gloria Gilliam, twenty-fifth; Amy Harrison, thirtieth, Amber Green, fiftieth; Lydia Alfaro, sixty-first; Amy Alvarado, sixty-third; Esther Acosta, seventieth; Wendy Greer, seventy-first; Anna Jaramillo, seventy-eighth; Tifani Collins, ninety-fifth; and Brenna Matthews, ninety-seventh.

With the district meet fast approaching, the four teams are striving especially hard to compete well and be in top form for the season's important race. Everyone is encouraged to come out and support the teams at the district meet Tuesday, October 28, in Plainview.

Reba McEntire named top country female singer.

Issues which were a part of the Constitutional Convention as well as the Founding Father which he or she portrayed. Some of the issues which were debated during the simulation of the convention were doing away with the Articles of Confederation in favor of a new document (the Constitution), the representation and make-up of Congress which resulted in the Connecticut Compromise. The make-up of the other two branches, the method of electing the Chief Executive the term and age of the President. Finally, the court system was discussed and set up by the classes.

The students gained an understanding of how regional issues, population differences etc. influenced some of the decisions which were made by the Founding Fathers and some very stimulating debates developed during the simulations. At the conclusion of the Convention portrayed, the students had a formal signing of the Constitution which had been presented by the committee headed by James Madison.

Motley Crew Puts Down Extra Gold

In the fall of the year, most of us begin to think of cool evenings watching players on the gridiron. And so it is in Muleshoe on Friday nights as a rule, but last Tuesday night another football game was held.

The stands were full, except for the empty spaces, the

Sociology Classes On The Rise

Sociology Class On The Rise. The Sociology class is becoming an active part of Muleshoe High School. Recently, they took a poll of what students thought were most important. Their results were ranked in the following order:

- 1) member of a group of high status friends
- 2) class clown
- 3) class president
- 4) classmate with clever sense of humor
- 5) captain of football team
- 6) member of wealthy family
- 7) good looking student
- 8) holder of high grades
- 9) student who drives a car to school
- 10) student of reputation of honesty
- 11) star of play
- 12) talented musician

After this successful project, the class decided to undertake another one. The class is now sponsoring the Positive Peer Promoters Box which is located in front of the office. This project is meant to help students with their teenage problems. If anyone has a problem and feels he has no one to talk to, he can submit an anonymous letter for advice. Hopefully students will take this seriously so that this will be a successful project for the sociologists.

excitement grew, until, "Time out, I broke my fingernail!" That's right, it was the annual powder-puff match between the fish-senior "Motley Crew" and the soph-junior "Extra Gold."

The "Motley Crew", under the coaching skill of head coach Lance King, aided by Michael Angeley, Scott Bickel, Todd Bessire, and Greg Young, showed great strength, fortitude, and endurance. What they did not show was much skill at the game.

Likewise, the "Extra Gold", under the direction of head coach Johnny Garcia, assisted by Armondo Del Toro, Russell Brown, and Jerry Mendoza were exceptional in the spirit category, outstanding in their enthusiasm, and awesome in their game outfits, but lacked "something" in the techniques of the sport.

Half-time saw Lance King crowned Senior Powder-puff King and Russell Brown crowned Junior Powder-puff King. They were escorted by Tisha Cox and Caroline Liles. Other Candidates and escorts were Scott Bickel, escorted by Debbie Isaac; Todd Bessire, escorted by Casey King; Michael Angeley, escorted by Leah Bell; Johnny Garcia escorted by Debbie Brown; Armondo Del Toro escorted by Amy Bean; and Jerry Mendoza escorted by Michelle Cox.

As always, the game was outrageously funny, extremely painful, and generally a complete success.

The final outcome of the game was the awesome senior-freshman team, the Motley Crew, over the junior-sophomore team, the Extra Gold.

$50 million industry inaugurated with sale of first Texas blueberries

(HALTOM CITY)—"The only thing sweeter than these fresh Texas blueberries is the future economic activity that they represent for Texas agriculture," Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower said here.

"We have delivered the first fresh Texas-grown blueberries to be sold by supermarkets in Texas," Hightower said. "This delivery marks the start of what we estimate will become a new $50 million-a-year cash crop for East Texas producers. Blueberries promise to be a mighty sweet deal for farmers, for the Texas economy, and especially for consumers who get to put them in their mouths."

Hightower made the comments at the Kroger Co. store located at 3304 Denton Highway in this Fort Worth suburb. Kroger is the first retail chain to purchase fresh, Texas-grown blueberries.

Joining Hightower to spotlight commercial blueberry production in Texas were Dean Winkelbleck, vice-president of Kroger's Dallas Division, and Glenn Neuse, produce manager of Kroger-Wesco Foods. Also on hand were Bart and Brent Ramage, who are producing the first commercially-sold Texas blueberries on their farm at Hooks in Bowie County. Others in attendance included Don Cawthon, president of the Texas Blueberry Growers Association; John Schoellkopf, owner of the blueberry-producing Fincastle Farms near Athens, Texas; and Dr. Jack Starling, chairman of the marketing department of North Texas State University at Denton. NTSU assisted TDA in determining the economic potential of Texas-grown blueberries.

"We're excited about being the first supermarket to receive commercial shipments of Texas-grown blueberries," said Winkelbleck. "We trust that this is just the beginning of a business arrangement that will benefit Kroger, Texas blueberry growers, and especially the consumers of Texas for many years to come."

Added Hightower, "Around 300

acres—upwards of 750,000 pounds—of fresh Texas blueberries will be picked this season, most at pick-your-own outlets scattered throughout East Texas. But for the first time, Brent and Bart Ramage are selling between 12-15,000 pounds of fresh Texas blueberries from their farm at Hooks to Kroger Co. stores in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

"Already there are projections that in 1987 Texas growers will produce as much as 75,000 pounds of fresh blueberries for commercial sale," Hightower said. "Based upon the studies done by the Texas Department of Agriculture and North Texas State University, 4,600 acres (about 10 times the blueberry acreage currently planted) are needed to satisfy the present demand for fresh blueberries in Texas and other southwestern states."

"Home-grown blueberries are doubly attractive because Texas is the westernmost state in which commercial blueberry production is feasible, and Texas berries are harvested well before the more traditional blueberry-producing states along the Atlantic Coast," Hightower said. "While most attention now centers on fresh blueberries, some producers are already looking down the road at the additional economic potential of fresh-frozen blueberries and such processed products as puffed blueberries and blueberry newtons."

Blueberry production is centered in East Texas, but the crop has proven successful anywhere east of the Brazos River, north to the Red River and south to the Golden Triangle where soil and water meet growing requirements.

The Ramages are now producing blueberries on about 36 acres of their 580-acre farm at Hooks. They have been growing blueberries for four years, and Brent Ramage is the past president of the Texas Blueberry Growers Association, which is one of the newest and most energetic agricultural groups in East Texas.

As are all blueberries grown in Texas, the Ramages produce what are called "Rabbit-eye" blueberries. They began commercial shipments of blueberries to Kroger in early June, and weekly deliveries are expected to continue through July.

"From blueberries in East Texas to crawfish along the Gulf Coast, from jalapeno peppers in South Texas to pinto beans in the Texas Panhandle, the Texas Department of Agriculture is working to develop new cash markets for our Texas producers," Hightower said. "We're helping develop new markets for these specialty crops by working closely with Kroger Co. and other retailers, and by helping producers sell directly to food processors."

"This cooperation between the public and private sectors is proving successful by helping put new cash money directly into the pockets of our hard-pressed producers, while both retailers and consumers enjoy quality Texas produce at excellent prices."

Military Christmas Can Be Very Lonely

"I WISH TO EXPRESS MY GRATITUDE for the Christmas greetings this command received through...Mail Call. We have distributed the Christmas greetings to soldiers assigned in the...area as well as to this Christmas that these soldiers will never forget... Thank you for your good work," wrote a lieutenant general in the U.S. Army in response to a bundle of mail sent through the 1985 Christmas Mail Call.

Commented one of the USOs which receives mail each Christmas, "You are to be congratulated as well as deeply appreciated for your consistency. We were able to advertise the joy of cards and holiday wishes well in advance with the assurance you would once again, as in so many years past, shower us with seasons greetings." These sentiments are extended in a special THANK YOU to those who have been so faithful over the years with Christmas mail.

Concerned, thoughtful Americans have for a number of years shown that two million servicemen and women are too many to forget—especially at Christmas (as well as at other times during the year) through Military Mail Call. Mail received from across the nation this past Christmas was sorted into more than 650 bundles and sent to destinations all across the U.S. and around the world for distribution to members of our Armed Forces.

Nationally, American Legion

Auxiliary #49 of ORANGE, TEXAS, and Maudie Hensley, one of their members, were number one group and individual. The top four groups in the country were from Texas.

Other TEXAS leaders included the Youth Ministry of First Baptist Church, QUEEN CITY (#4 church nationwide); Military Council of Catholic Women, LAUGHLIN AFB Chapter (#5 military facility in the country); Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority, University of Texas-AUSTIN; John Powers' Students, Harrell Center for Vocational Training, WICHITA FALLS (#6 high school nationally); Pam Paddock's Students, Lincoln Middle School, ABILENE (#7 junior high); and Jeanne Vander Roest's Students, Tierra del Sol School, EL PASO (#9 elementary).

Our sincere thanks go to those mentioned as well as to all the other wonderful folks who had a part in making the 1985 Christmas Mail Call by far the most successful ever.

Mail Call is an exciting project for groups, organizations, churches, families, individuals, and schools from kindergarten through college...in short, for just about everybody! For complete information on how you, your family, and your group can have a part in this unique, patriotic opportunity please send a self-addressed, stamped envelope (business-size if possible) to: MILITARY MAIL CALL, box 14397, NORFOLK, VIRGINIA 23518. Thank you!

Straight as an Arrow

In Archery you score only when you hit the target. To score well, you must have straight arrows.

When you attend church, it makes it easier to stay on the straight path. The church wants to help you in all ways of life, but can only do so, if you stay within its circle. Attend church and know the joy of a good life.

Halloween Can Be Safe For The Kids

Now that October is here, children may be thinking about whom they would like to be on Halloween this year. The Scott and White Department of Emergency Medicine would like to share these ideas to help insure a safe evening on October 31.

For a safe costume:
 * Make each costume short enough so the child won't trip when going up and down steps.
 * Use bright colors or big patches of white to give good visibility.
 * Use fire-retardant fabric or treat material with a chemical fire-retardant.
 * When making masks or hoods, allow large enough holes to assure easy breathing and good vision. Better yet, use makeup or face paints instead of a mask.
 * If face paints are used, make sure they are designed for this purpose, are nonpoisonous, and wash off easily.

Other suggestions for a safe Halloween include:

- * Prevent fires by using small flashlights -- not candles -- to light jack-o-lanterns.
- * Do your trick-or-treating before dark, especially if you have young children, and go with them. Set a curfew for older children and enforce it.
- * Instruct children to stay in their own neighborhoods and to call only on people they know and trust.
- * Remind children to use sidewalks rather than cutting through yards and vacant lots to prevent tripping over objects.
- * Give each child a flashlight and remind them not to shine them into anyone's eyes, especially a driver's.
- * If your child get sick, try to find out exactly what he or she ate and where it came from. Call your doctor immediately or contact the Poison Control Center at Scott and White, (817) 774-2005.

COTTON TALKS
 FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Countless producers on the High Plains are facing a decision on whether or not to harvest cotton fields severely damaged by insects, heavy rains, a cool growing season, hail and/or the frost and freeze that hit the area October 12.

In addition to the economic aspects of crop value versus harvesting and ginning costs, many either have federal crop or multi-peril insurance that enters into the decision.

Producers filing early claims are finding that neither the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) nor any of the multi-peril insurance companies require that cotton be harvested to determine the extent of loss, say officials of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. Instead, adjusters are appraising fields for potential yields and deducting the potential from the number of pounds insured before calculating dollar losses.

PCG has voiced to FCIC officials producer objections to this deduction, arguing that the appraised yield is of no consequence to growers when it's obvious the yield and quality is so low that harvesting would result in a net loss.

The only response from FCIC so far has been that the insurance provides only a production guarantee, not a guarantee against economic loss, and the extent of damage has to be assessed accordingly.

Complaints have also been heard about disparity between the appraisals of adjusters for some 8 or 10 companies writing multi-peril insurance as well as different FCIC adjusters.

Although some differences are inevitable among adjusters, FCIC says, insuring companies and FCIC are aware of the need for uniformly fair adjustments and are working toward that goal. According to Ted Crouch, FCIC Field Operations Director of College Station, a meeting of adjuster supervisors is planned for the week of October 20 to discuss potential problems and seek solutions.

Some producers also have asked questions about possible effects on future government program payment yields, says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson. "But unless the current law is changed, harvesting or abandoning this year's crop should have no effect at all on payment yields for 1987 or future years," he says.

Payment yields for 1986 and 1987 were fixed by the 1985 farm act at the average of payment yields for 1981 through 1985, excluding the high and low years. For 1988 and subsequent years the Secretary may set yields by the same formula, using the same years, or he has the option to use 1983 through 1986 payment yields and actual yields for 1987.

Beef Checkoff Program Requires Assessment

The new, federally-mandated beef checkoff program got underway October 1, and industry spokesmen are calling the first weeks exceptionally successful.

According to Anne Anderson, Executive Director of the Texas Beef Industry Council, response to the program has been positive. "We had mentally prepared ourselves to expect calls from some very upset cattlemen," she said, "but much to our delight most of our callers have had specific questions, either on the forms or a new situation that we had not previously addressed."

"In the few instances where the callers voiced opposition to or frustration with the new $1/head assessment," she added, "this reasonable opposition was expressed with typical Texas graciousness. All in all, we have experienced a very smooth beginning due to the tremendous support by Texas beef organizations."

The checkoff program, known officially as the Beef Promotion and Research Act, was created by the 1985, Farm Bill, and it requires that $1 a head be collected from cattle producers when cattle are sold. The money is then funneled into existing state and national organizations for beef promotion and research.

Initiated by cattle industry leaders as a measure to revive their sluggish industry, the program is on a 22-month run. The federal order requires a referendum be held by spring 1988 for cattlemen to vote on whether or not to continue it.

When cattle are sold, the buyer must collect $1 for each head of cattle from the seller, unless the seller verifies he has owned the cattle for less than ten days. In that instance primarily occurring when order buyers are involved, the buyer collects a non-producer status form from the seller. At the end of the month, the buyer totals the checkoff dollars and non-producer forms and enters them on a monthly report form. The monthly form, money, and non-producer forms are then forwarded to the beef industry council to the buyer's state of residence.

Anderson noted that a "concerted effort has been made to keep paperwork at a minimum. We do not want the industry flooded with unnecessary forms and bookkeeping. We have also tried to make the forms and information accessible to everyone," she commented. "County Extension Agents and Farm Bureau offices can provide the monthly report and non-producers forms, or cattlemen can call our office and request them."

She also pointed out that the law stipulates refunds be made available to producers not wanting to pay the checkoff. "They still must pay the assessment when they sell cattle," she said, "but they must apply for a refund within 60 days afterwards from their state beef councils."

Penalties for non-compliance with the program are stringent. Fines of up to $5,000 can be levied or restraining orders filed in federal district court.

The program is being administered at the national level by the Cattlemen's Beef Promotion and Research Board, created by the federal order. The 113 Board members were nominated by certified cattlemen's associations and farm organizations and then selected by the Secretary of Agriculture. Each state with over 500,000 head of cattle was guaranteed at least one slot on the Board; Texas has 14, and one of its members, John Shelton of Amarillo, serves as the Board's Vice Chairman.

"We are very pleased with our representation on the Board," says Anderson. "Since Texas produces more cattle than any other state, it is important that we have a strong voice in how the checkoff funds are used."

Spearheading the Board is its Operating and Executive committees. The 24 operating committee administrators the organization's promotional duties by contracting with existing national organizations such as the Beef Industry Council (BIC) of the Meat Board in Chicago, who has served as the beef industry's major marketing and research arm since the 1920's.

At the state level, most programs are administered by each state's beef council. The Texas Beef Industry Council in Austin was created last summer by the state's major cattle market, and packer associations to collect and disburse the state's checkoff funds, as well as to carry out its promotional program.

After the state organization collects the checkoff funds, the federal law required that at least 50 cents of every dollar be sent to the national Board for nationwide promotion efforts. The remaining 50 cents can be credited to the state's own beef council to use for in-state programs and to help provide additional funds to the national effort. As a result, more than half of all funds are being directed to national programs.

Texas sends approximately 92 cents of every dollar to the Board and the BIC. Of the eight cents remaining in the state, six cents is budgeted for industry feedback and two cents for administration. "We anticipate that over $60 million will be raised this year through the national program," John Shelton remarked. "That compares to $18.5 million raised last year from the individual checkoff programs in each state." With substantially more dollars to invest in promotion, the industry expects to pack more marketing punch than ever before. "We ought to be able to spend roughly the same on marketing our product as do such visible companies as Crest, Michelob, Federal Express, and MCI," Shelton stated. Their marketing effort gets underway on January 15, 1987, when the BIC will begin a national advertising program for network television, radio, national magazines. It will also allocate funds to educate health professionals and consumers, produce school educational packets, stimulate foreign markets, and continue to provide nutritional information for supermarket meat counters.
