SHIPMENTS FROM THE THIRD CUTTING HAY LIKELY TO BE SMALL

The third cutting of alfalfa hay is now well underway and will soon be finished. Much of the third cutting is being left for seed and the greater part of the cutting will be stored, leaving very little for shipment to market.

Grade No. 1 has been selling around $13.00 per ton, but the market is reported slow and draggy. This condition is attributed largely to the heavy feed crop in Texas and other points where hay is usually shipped.

REPUBLICANS LAUNCH COUNTY TICKET AT THE CONVENTION TUESDAY

Tuesday Afternoons Session Reported to be Harmonious—Delegates are Elected to Attend State Convention at Albuquerque.

Eddy county republicans will have a county ticket in the field at the general election. This action is a result of the county convention, which convened at Carlsbad Tuesday afternoon. And it is the first time the republican party has contested the county affairs in a number of years.

The session at Carlsbad Tuesday was attended by about forty delegates and it is reported to have been a harmonious meeting. The north end of the county was well represented by Artesia, Hope and Cottonwood. The county ticket launched includes a large portion of Artesia residents.

J. W. Dauron, of Lakewood, was elected chairman of the convention and S. E. Ferree, of Artesia, secretary. The routine of business transacted includes the nomination of a county ticket, the election of delegates to the state convention at Albuquerque August 12th and the selection of the county central committee.

The County Ticket.

The following county ticket was nominated: Sheriff, F. M. Spencer, Artesia; county assessor, Grant Mann, Carlsbad; county clerk, B. R. Hammond, Artesia; superintendent of public schools, Mrs. Ethel James, Artesia; probate judge, J. W. Dauron, Lakewood; county commissioner, district No. 1, J. E. Wallace, Carlsbad; county commissioner district No. 2, J. W. Dollman, Loving; county commissioner district No. 3, M. H. Ferriman, Artesia.

The county central committee was authorized to fill any vacancy which might occur in the county ticket. After the convention closed T. E. Hinshaw, of Artesia was elected as county treasurer by the county central committee. Delegates selected to attend the state convention at Albuquerque August 12th were: Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hill, Cottonwood; Mrs. F. A. Linell, S. E. Ferree, Wm. Dooley, Artesia; R. L. Halley, Mrs. Helen C. Hemmingway, Mrs. L. E. Foster, Carlsbad; F. M. Hatfield, Malaga; B. H. Ellsworth, Otis; W. P. Riley, Hope.

Resolutions favoring good schools, good roads and lower taxes were read and adopted. Resolutions were also passed condemning many policies of the present democratic administration.

R. L. Halley, of Carlsbad, was re-elected to the position of county chairman of the county central committee.

Artesia was represented by the following delegates: S. E. Ferree, M. H. Ferriman, E. A. Hannah, S. A. Lanning, T. E. Hinshaw, J. K. Hastie, W. J. Williamson, O. N. Trotter and F. A. Linell.

MRS. Wm. LINELL'S 18 MONTHS OLD NEPHEW WAS KILLED SATURDAY

Mrs. Wm. Linell received the sad news Saturday morning that her eighteen months old nephew, little Eugene Head, of Memphis, Tennessee, was killed as a result of an auto accident. While not all of the details of the tragedy are known, it is understood that the child was playing near the door of the garage at the home of Mrs. Head. An uncle of the child attempted to back an auto out of the garage and in so doing ran over the child, who he did not see.

The little fellow was not badly crushed evidently, as he lived forty minutes after the accident occurred, however, it is presumed that he received internal injuries which caused his death.

"BOUND" TO WIN OR LOSE

A town cannot progress any faster than the people in it. They are "bound" to win or lose together. If the individuals comprising a city lack foresight and enterprise, they not only retard their own chances of success, but they hold back the town's chances as well. On the other hand, a vigorous and progressive citizenship sets a rapid pace and the community keeps up with it.

This close relationship between individual and community effort should never be overlooked. If the town is not making as much headway as some of us might think it should, it may be because something is holding it back.

We must remember that cities have characteristics the same as people and that Artesia's characteristics represent the average of those living here. Therefore it is up to all of us to keep alive the spirit of progressiveness in order that this shall be the dominating spirit of the community.

WANDERING YOUTHS FROM CLOVIS HELD HERE FOR PARENTS

Three Clovis youths were apprehended by officers Floore and Stevenson here Sunday after the officers had overtaken the boys on the south highway. Suspicious actions of the boys, who stopped at the Dunn garage led to an investigation and after numerous questions the lads finally admitted to have been running away from home. They were bound for El Paso and had spent the night traveling from Clovis to Roswell.

The party was one less when they arrived in Artesia, one of the youths became repentant and quit the car for home at Lake Arthur. The three remaining with the car were locked up in the city jail following a conversation with the sheriff of Curry county, who stated that a search was being instituted for the missing boys.

The ages of the youths held here ranged from twelve to sixteen. They gave their names as Robert Hazlewood, Jack Robert Merrweather, James Floyd Linn and Leo Glidwell. Leo Glidwell, however, quit the party at Lake Arthur and officers returned Hazlewood to his parents Monday.

The two remaining were held in the jail awaiting the arrival of the sheriff.

Messrs. Kissinger and Ragsdale are preparing to erect a modern six room stucco adobe apartment. The new apartment will be located just east of the Ragsdale apartments on Main street and will be built on the Spanish mission style.

LIGHTNING KILLS CHICKENS

The Penasco Press reports that Wednesday evening of last week during a thunder storm, two fryers belonging to Dee Swift, of Hope, were killed by lightning. The fryers were found near the front gate with their feathers still on fire.

CHAS. S. TOLAR DECEASED

Word reached here last week of the death of Chas. S. Tolar, of Borger, Texas, which occurred Sunday, July 18th at Phillips camp. Up to a few months ago Mr. Tolar worked as a teaming contractor in the oil field here and was well known to many of the local operators. Mr. Tolar also enjoyed a wide acquaintance in Roosevelt and Chaves counties, having been connected with the construction of highways in the eastern part of the state for several years.

Burial was made at Amarillo. Besides a widow the deceased is survived by five small children, all of whom live at Phillips camp.

ALLEGED AUTO TIRE THIEVES WILL AWAIT GRAND JURY ACTION

Two men, Louis Hyatt and Frank Hardy, who gave their address as Rotan, Texas, and who were arrested here on the 27th of July on charge of theft of auto casing, are now confined in the Chaves county jail at Roswell. A preliminary trial was held yesterday at Roswell and the men were bound over to await the action of the Chaves county grand jury. The bonds of both Hyatt and Hardy were set at $1000.00 each and upon failure to make bond the defendants were remanded to jail.

NEW MEXICO COTTON CROP PLACED AT 84 PER CENT NORMAL JULY 16

Condition of 132,000 Acres of Cotton is Four Points Above Condition Two Weeks ago. Crop Over South Shows Decline.

The condition of the 132,000 acres of cotton in New Mexico was placed at 84 per cent of normal on July 16. This is four points above the condition two weeks ago and two points above the condition on July 16, 1925. The crop under irrigation is still inferior to the crop of last year. The stand is poor and the plants have less fruit. However, the dry farm crop is in good shape, while last year at this time, the crop was about to be abandoned and ultimately a large part was abandoned.

There has been a decline of seven points (from 80 per cent to 75 per cent) in the condition of the 18,948,000 acres of cotton in Texas since the June 25 report. The condition of the 5,160,000 acres in Oklahoma remains the same—78 per cent. For the United States a decline of 4.7 points took place since June 25, which indicates a crop of about 15,368,000 bales or 267,000 less than was indicated on June 25.

Nearly all cotton states report recent weather conditions as favorable for plant growth, but as a result of the late start, cool nights, and the loss of the early bloom through the widespread ravages of the cotton hopper much less fruit than usual had set up to July 16. This leaves the crop more exposed than usual to late weevil damage, which may prove a serious menace in a number of states, should weather conditions be favorable for the propagation of these insects. The uncertainty of the situation has caused a sharp decline in the reported condition of the crop in the gulf states. However, there is at present an ample supply of moisture through a large portion of the cotton belt, and the plants are making rapid growth, and a rapid improvement in prospects might result from weather more favorable for fruiting or for insect control.

It is still too early to calculate the losses to be expected from the boll weevil. On the one hand, the rains of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Mississippi have permitted the multiplication of this insect and interfered with its poisoning. On the other hand, throughout the cotton belt the weevil emerged from hibernation late and in small numbers, and in some areas of Tennessee and southeast, dry weather has lessened the weevil menace.

The hopper has become a real menace to the cotton crop this year throughout all but the northern edge of the belt. It is chiefly responsible for the reduction of the average condition of the crop in the gulf states. In Texas, hopper damage has extended over 90 per cent of the cotton growing area, but this insect is now reported to be disappearing from many localities in the southern, central and eastern districts, and young plants there are beginning to bloom freely.

Oil Rentals Royalties Net Land Office $651,775.00

Common Schools Will Get the Largest Sum Ever Turned Over to the School Fund—Report Surpasses Banner Year of 1921.

SANTA FE, Aug. 4th.—The greatest year in the history of the state land office tells in a few words the substance of the bi-annual report now being prepared by E. B. Swope, commissioner of public lands.

The total money turned over to common schools, colleges, and other state institutions by the land office during the fourteenth fiscal year, ended June 30, 1926, was $1,635,641. This is the largest amount ever recorded in the state.

Commissioner Swope's record year surpasses the previous banner year, which was the ninth fiscal year ended November 30, 1921. During that year the total collections for all institutions amounted to $1,269,202. Of this amount, $440,000 was derived from oil and gas leases and $268,000 of this sum represented rentals from oil and gas received during the eighth fiscal year. The money was held in suspense from the previous year and credited to the ninth fiscal year after a favorable decision had been rendered by the Supreme Court.

During the last fiscal year the land department received $421,174 for oil rentals and $230,601 from oil royalties, making a total of $651,775.

The land office turned over to the common schools last year a total of $865,195, of which $697,163 was income fund and $168,031 was permanent fund, bringing the common school permanent fund up to $1,070,078. This is the largest amount ever turned over to the common schools of the state, both in income and permanent funds.

A comparison of the fourteenth fiscal year with the best previous fiscal year, the ninth, in the operation of the land office, shows an income of $398,888 last year compared with $259,460 for the ninth fiscal year. This gives an increase of $139,428 in (Continued on last page, column 6)

MANY LOCAL CATTLE SALES ARE REPORTED DURING THE PAST WEEK

Numerous local sales of cattle and livestock have been reported during the past ten days. Practically all cattle sold will be transferred to ranches nearby, very little of the livestock offered for sale will be sent to market.

All livestock is reported to be in the best condition known here for several years and this fact has probably stimulated the sales somewhat, although there has not been any record of high prices being paid. The local market is probably stronger than at the period early in the season. The prices paid are classed from fair to good.

R. H. Adams, of Roswell, former resident of the Hope section, recently purchased the cattle from the Four Dinkus ranch, property of S. S. Ward. The sale is said to have included about 400 head. Mr. Adams also purchased one lot of cattle from J. M. Greene of Hope. This sale included approximately 150 head of cattle. Other sales to Mr. Adams in the Hope territory include cattle belonging to John Teel, George Teel, Mrs. Hilda Teel and John Plowman. The transfer included approximately 350 head of cattle.

Col. Williams and son, Sam, have sold their calf crop, consisting of approximately 1000 head to Walter Hightower, of Seagraves, Texas. Dave Runyan has sold his calf crop to Messrs. Adams and White.

Messrs. John Plowman and John Teel have purchased 700 head of sheep, after disposing of their cattle. Numerous sales of sheep have been reported for the Hope section. About 4000 head of lambs have been contracted from this section and quite a few sales were made at an earlier date.

Weather lambs have brought an average price of 10 cents while ewe lambs have been selling around 11 cents.

GOOD WORK

The persistence of the district attorney and the grand jury at Los Angeles in seeking to unravel the Aimee McPherson mystery are most commendable.

As a matter of public policy and public right, it is strongly advisable to get at the facts in this case.

Too many persons are going up and down the land assuming moral and spiritual superiority over the rest of us, sitting in judgment upon their fellows, condemning the innocent and exonerating the guilty, making dupes of the gullible, making self interest and iniquity and hypocrisy and piety.

In this case we have a woman wielding an enormous influence upon tens of thousands through magnetic and hypnotic powers, raising huge sums of money through this means, commanding tremendous political pressure, assuming to be the medium between crowds of ignorant or emotionally impressionable people and God, abusing those who do not swallow her pretensions, making a grave criminal charge against unknown, real or imaginary persons, and telling a story about her own mysterious actions which taxes the public credulity past the limit.

Regardless of technicalities, there is nothing intrinsically more criminal than for an unscrupulous person to take advantage of religious susceptibilities or emotional weakness of the masses for personal benefit. When such activities amount to demoralization and disturbance of public order, the authorities have certain responsibilities. If the allegations of many persons scattered over a wide territory are true, this woman has been duping the public. If so, the grand jury will do a great public service by exposing her. And it is rather absurd for anyone to say there isn't sufficient ground for a searching official investigation.

Those who howl against the district attorney's attitude might easily be open to the charge of attempting to cover up charlatanism and fakerism. It is of course to the interest of all fakery that others get away with it.—New Mexican.

USE COMMON HORSE SENSE INSTEAD OF A SHOVEL

In the campaign of education to prevent forest fires, a suggestion is made that campers and picnickers carry with them "long handled shovels" to be used in smothering camp fires with earth, says the Seattle Times.

A better suggestion would be, for each camper or picnicker to carry a little "longheadedness" into the fire hazard zones. A camping party plentifully supplied with common sense and longheadedness, will not need other materials with which to cope with the remains of a sensible fire.

Prevent fires through moderate, reasonable use of the forests. Protect the right to renew your youth by occasional contact with nature, unhampered by other men, and there will be no need for carrying curative weapons into the forests.

It is in unthinking, boastful fool, who misuses the privileges of enjoying nature at her best, and such individuals are a menace wherever they are to be found. They do not have to go camping to demonstrate it.—Walla Walla, Wash., Union.

MY HOME TOWN

How many individuals have you in mind among your acquaintances who have made an apparent failure in life because they were afraid to make an effort toward really getting out and doing something in the world? When a business opportunity came their way they were afraid to grasp it; they were leary because they couldn't Gentlemen, be Seated!

A few short years ago we bought
A dining table and six chairs,
Though we had need for only two!
We could not know that our affairs
Would shape themselves in such a way
That soon, between my wife and me,
A chubby little man would sit—
That we should use chair number three!

by
O. Lawrence
Hawthorne

Just four years later came the call
For number four; another boy
Had spoken for another chair—
Had brought another fund of joy;
Then four years more went swiftly by,
And in the Springtime of the year
We found a need for number five—
Yes, baby number three was here!

One vacant chair was left alone—
But not for long; boy number four
Arrived in less than three brief years!
We do not wonder any more
About the chairs that one-time stood
In idleness beside the wall;
We breathe a prayer of thankfulness
Because today we need them all!

see behind the curtain; couldn't see in the future. If a physical effort was necessary they passed it up saying, "What's the use." Later perhaps they spent their time in vain regrets, or else sitting around cursing their neighbor because of his seemingly good fortune, the land of equal opportunity they say is a joke.

How men who are familiar with the development of the west and tell you with a sigh about what wonderful opportunities they passed up in this or that community. "I once saw the day when I could have bought this piece of land at 50 cents per acre, now look what is worth. Yes, I knew this town when it was a wide place in the road, but it did not look like it would make much of a place. If I had only taken my money I spent foolishly and made an investment, I could have been worth $10,000 to where I am worth $1.00 today."

Some men today make the same talk that one timers heard fifty years ago.

Some months ago we heard a man remark, "There's not much use for a few of us to try and do something for this town, it'll never be anything but a wide place in the road anyway. A mention of some development in a town nearby brought the remark, "sure that's a good town, they can afford to and it growing all the while too, but it looks like we are wasting our efforts here."

How did the good town get that way? Was it because the citizens sit idly by with a sigh, "what's the use?" So far as we know there never has been a case on record where a city "just grew" without the efforts of the citizenship. Do you know of a man or woman ever to accomplish the worthwhile things in life without some training or effort?

There is apparently a lesson in politics, perhaps in government, in the news announcement that Smith Brookhart has just received the nomination for senator from the republican party in Iowa. It is fresh in the minds of all of us how, about two years ago, the leaders of the party in Washington read him out of the party as one not amenable to party discipline. He was barred from republican senate caucuses and from senate committees.

Having referred his case to the people he can now tell these same leaders or successors what to do. He has behind him the Iowa farm vote, a potent force and a controlling factor in Iowa politics. Passing over the merits of the farmers' claim for special legislation, which an exchange says if effective would allow 100,000 more Iowa farmers to move to California and pass their remaining days in idleness, the principle of government involved, is that the people whom Mr. Brookhart represents have spoken in approval of his course. The people have outlined by their vote the policy which they want their representative to follow. He, in other words, gets orders from the people whom he represents, rather than those in power in the party in control of the administration.

Cabinets are falling because the party in power has not satisfied the representatives of the people in parliaments Canada and England, or the chamber of France, that its policy is correct. In these countries, and some others, should the policy of the government fail to satisfy the majority in power in the legislative assembly, the cabinet resigns and another is appointed, by which means the desires of the people are reflected in the government.

Just the contrary policy is followed in this country. When a group of the party refuses to follow the policy of the leaders, the members are thrown out of the party, while the leaders remain. Just now, they are considering whether to apply this

'LONG 'BOUT NOW

The days are long and dry and hot, the horses sweat and fight the flies and mankind sizzles, bakes and fries.

The maiden dons her peekaboo that we can easily see through, and lounges in a hammock swing, but in the house can't do a thing.

Her mother holds a canning fest and works all day without a rest, and makes her husband's hair turn gray by buying sugar every day.

The berry crop will soon be gone, but early peaches will come on, and as her heated brow she fans, the woman caners and cans and cans.

This month the farmer cuts his oats, and weans his early crop of shoats, and takes his veal calves off to town to find the price of calves is down.

He also cuts and rakes his hay and works from dawn till close of day, but Saturday to town he goes and blows his kale on picture shows.

The town boys loaf along the creek and swim and fish and pleasure seek. The farmer boy at early morn gears up the mules and plows the corn.

In after years the farmer boy, grown rich and great, will then employ the youth who spent his time in play, and get him for two bucks a day.—Hillsboro (Ill.) News.

FARM NOTES

Grow a cash crop. Once a year it will bring in quite a sum of money.

Just minding his own business will keep a farmer going all the time 12 months of the year.

An acre of twenty-bushel corn fodder made into silage will put twice as much gain on live stock as it will if fed from the shock.

Produce something that your neighboring farmers will want to buy. It may be seed, breeding stock or some variety of food that they don't raise.

policy to the insurgents at the beginning of the session, or to delay to see whether the recalcitrant ones cannot be intimidated into being "good."

If they take the program handed down to them, they may be rewarded by "recognition." If they persist in kicking over, they will be "disciplined." But the idea that they should do the disciplining, and that the leaders who hand down a program which a majority will not accept should be the ones to be deposited, seems never to occur to anybody.

It is not a question which of these methods is the better. In truth, both have their advantages and disadvantages. But which is the more democratic, and the more representative?—Las Vegas Optic.

WOOL EATERS

Wool eating by sheep is often only a bad habit, which, when started by one or more animals, is imitated by others. In some cases lack of essential mineral elements in the feed may also cause the habit. The practice is observed principally when sheep are confined in close quarters.

Lambs begin by gnawing the wool of their mothers, usually on the thighs and abdomen. Older sheep may select one animal and eat all its wool before turning to another. Wool eating may become general in the flock. A few lambs may become anemic, show digestive disturbance, or even die as the result of the formation of wool balls in a compartment of the stomach and the subsequent plugging of the intestine.

Wool eaters and their victims should be removed from the flock. It is important that the animals be turned out for exercise, and that nutritious feed be provided.

Why Sky Is Blue

The sky or air which surrounds the earth is filled with countless tiny specks of what we may call dust—particles of solid things hanging or floating in the air. These specks are of just the size and quality that they catch and absorb part of the rays of light which form our sunlight and throw off the rest of the rays, and the part which has been absorbed forms the combination of color which makes the sky so beautifully blue.

BI-ANNUAL REPORT OF LAND COMMISSIONER OFFICE READY SOON

The following statement was issued by the Commissioner of Public Lands, E. B. Swope.

We are preparing our biannual report, the figures have been set up and typed which will probably take a week or ten days.

The most outstanding feature is the fact that we have placed in the common schools permanent fund $50,388.78 this amount being derived from oil royalties producing wells on common school land, in other words, out of the grant of four sections in each township made to the common schools of the state under the Enabling Act, we have produced enough oil and gas and received the above stated amount from the one eighth royalty. We have also placed in the common school permanent fund moneys derived from the sale of land and sale of timber on common school sections, the amount being $117,642.10 making a grand total of $168,030.88. This money is invested by the state finance board and draws 6 per cent interest, the interest is placed as credit to the common schools of the state for operating expenses, the amount as above set out is the largest sum of money ever placed in the permanent common school fund in the history of the state for this period of time, the distribution per capita of the amount of money distributed to the common schools of the state derived from all sources and will be $9.00 and a fraction for each child of school age, this distribution is now being compiled and has nothing to do with permanent funds. The largest previous distribution ever made was $7.40 per capita. No moneys received for oil royalties are distributed in the per capita distribution but is mostly derived from grazing leases, rentals, contracts payments and other rentals. The business passing through the state land office has increased considerably and the placing of this great trust on a business basis has indeed brought material returns to the school children of the state.

The most outstanding feature is the fact that we have placed in the common schools permanent fund $50,388.78 this amount being derived from oil royalties producing wells on common school land, in other words, out of the grant of four sections in each township made to the common schools of the state under the Enabling Act, we have produced enough oil and gas and received the above stated amount from the one eighth royalty. We have also placed in the common school permanent fund moneys derived from the sale of land and sale of timber on common school sections, the amount being $117,642.10 making a grand total of $168,030.88. This money is invested by the state finance board and draws 6 per cent interest, the interest is placed as credit to the common schools of the state for operating expenses, the amount as above set out is the largest sum of money ever placed in the permanent common school fund in the history of the state for this period of time, the distribution per capita of the amount of money distributed to the common schools of the state derived from all sources and will be $9.00 and a fraction for each child of school age, this distribution is now being compiled and has nothing to do with permanent funds. The largest previous distribution ever made was $7.40 per capita. No moneys received for oil royalties are distributed in the per capita distribution but is mostly derived from grazing leases, rentals, contracts payments and other rentals. The business passing through the state land office has increased considerably and the placing of this great trust on a business basis has indeed brought material returns to the school children of the state.

Proper Food and Light Are Poultry Essentials

Feeds containing vitamin A, and arrangements for direct sunlight to utilize the vital ultra-violet ray are as necessary part of the poultry farm equipment as chicken houses and pens, experiments of recent years at the Kansas State Agricultural college under the direction of the poultry husbandry department and Dr. J. S. Hughes of the chemistry department have shown. To prevent roup, according to Doctor Hughes, the flock must be fed such things as yellow corn, alfalfa hay, or green leaves—foods which contain vitamin A. Weak legs in growing chicks can be cured by treatment with ultra-violet light either from direct sunlight or from the quartz tube mercury vapor arc lamp. Foods rich in vitamin D also are a corrective for this condition.

Roll out a rich pastry, cut in squares large enough to enfold an apple that has been cored and peeled and the center filled with sugar, cinnamon and add a bit of butter, pinch the corners together, wetting the edges to keep any opening secure, so that the flavor and juices will not be lost. Bake in a moderate oven until the crust is brown and the apple tender. Serve hot with sugar and thick cream.

Why Hair Turns Gray
Dr. L. A. Hausman says that hair turns gray because of the failure of the little cells which form the cortex of the hair down in the base of the hair follicle and around the papilla to deposit pigment material. He asserts, therefore, that gray hair is never produced overnight.

NEW MEXICO SHEEP AND LAMB REPORT—JULY, 1926

The New Mexico lamb crop for 1926 is estimated at 1,373,000 head, compared with 945,000 head raised last year, or an increase of 45 per cent. Weather and feed conditions have been extremely favorable; losses have been light, and sheepmen are expecting that the lambs will go on the market in splendid shape this fall. Many lambs are being contracted from 9½ to 10½ cents. For the United States the estimated total breeding ewes and ewe lambs kept for breeding January 1, 1926, was 31,872,000, from which 24,519,000 lambs were saved this year. This is an increase of 2,200,000 head, or 10 per cent over the 1925 lamb crop.

OUTLINE OF GENERAL FARMING CONDITIONS

FARM PRICES: The general level of farm prices for June remained practically unchanged at 139 per cent of the pre-war level as in May. At this level it is nine points below June 1925. A substantial gain in meat animals, particularly hogs, was offset by decreases in grains and potatoes.

GENERAL BUSINESS CONDITIONS: Business activity as indicated by bank debits outside of New York, was practically on the same level as in May, and also in June of last year, but somewhat lower than earlier in the year. Building activity is below last year at this time. The volume of factory employment and payrolls, while three per cent lower than in March, is about at the same level as a year ago. Security prices moved upward in June, and by the end of the month recovered more than half of the February and March declines. Money rates remained low during June. Unless the general price level turns definitely upward in the next few months, further moderate curtailment in manufacturing production is not unlikely.

COTTON: The cotton market has shown some upward reaction to the decline following the recent estimates of a large acreage and condition above average, the rise being due chiefly to attacks by the cotton hopper. The domestic situation in the textile industry does not reflect an active demand. The industry abroad is adversely affected by the coal strike in England, where spinners are operating alternate weeks due to the coal shortage. The decrease in mill production, however, may cause a later strengthening of demand on account of reduced stocks of cotton goods, particularly from England's customers abroad. Buys in the world's cotton markets are proceeding on a hand-to-mouth policy awaiting the possibility of a further decline in prices if the supplies prove to be excessive.

FEED CROPS: The July 1 condition and acreage of corn in southern states points to a 20 per cent increase in corn production over last year, with the largest increase occurring in Texas, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Georgia. The probable production of grain sorghums is expected to be about equal to the five year average or about one-third larger than last year. Oat production in southern states will be one of the largest on record or about 174 million bushels, compared with 91 million last year, and a ten year average of 118 million bushels. The southern states as a whole show a material recovery in hay production from the short crop resulting from drought last year.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By E. R. Waite

William Simpson, business manager of the Philadelphia Bulletin, says:

THAT newspaper reading is a universal habit; newspaper advertising therefore reaches each day virtually all who buy.

Newspaper advertising is the life blood of local trade because it touches all consumer sources in every community. It gives the national advertiser the same opportunity for complete consumer appeal in any locality.

Newspaper advertising cuts selling costs because it entails no waste in locality circulation. Manufacturers use it to cover markets where it is profitable to do business.

Newspaper advertising insures quick, thorough and economical dealer distribution and dealer good will, because retailers are willing to sell products advertised direct to their own customers.

Newspaper advertising enables manufacturers to tell where their products may be bought.

Newspaper advertising can be started or stopped overnight, can be prepared between days to meet sudden developments and to obtain immediate results.

Newspaper advertising enables manufacturers to check advertising results and costs in every market which they enter.

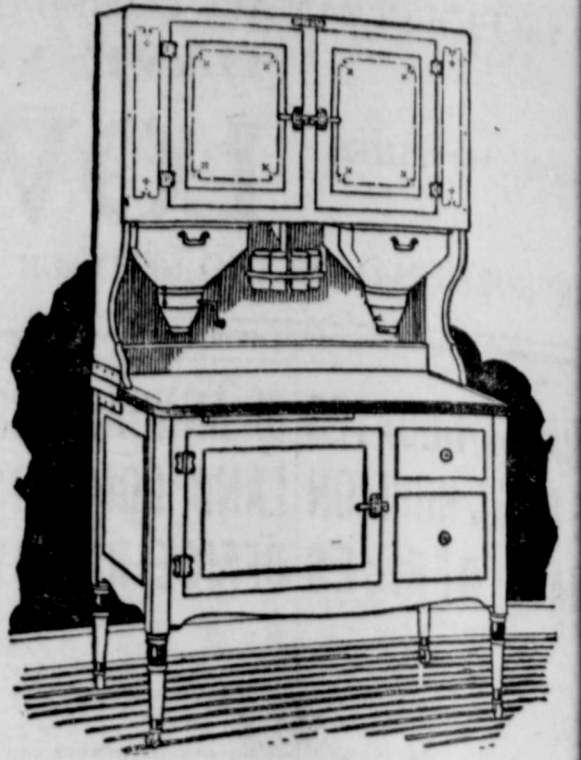

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING COSTS LESS THAN ANY OTHER KIND.

Sew and So club, with Mrs. D. A. Bradley president, Mrs. Solon Spence vice president and Mrs. E. C. Latta, secretary. A very pleasant hour was spent with needlework, which was the chief attraction of the afternoon, after which refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames D. A. Bradley, Solon Spence, McKinney, Misses Moots, Charlie B. Brown, Bonnie Bell Bradley, Mary Helen Spence and Morris Johnson Bradley.

What almost proved a serious accident occurred to the A. V. Flowers family last Friday afternoon, as they were returning from Roswell. They were stopped fifteen miles south of Roswell, and in the act of mending a tire, when a Buick, driven by an intoxicated driver, coming from the south met them, he was driving at a terrific rate of speed and smashed into the Flowers car, as it sat intact on the highway. The collision was of such force that it knocked the Flowers' Dodge off the highway, and almost completely demolished same. Mrs. Flowers and two daughters, Jewell and Gerline were seated in the rear seat of the car, and received the full benefit of the shake-up, but fortunately no bones were broken, though they were considerably bruised up. Help was summoned and the two cars pulled into Roswell to the garage. We understand the driver of the Buick, causing the accident, paid all expenses of having the Dodge, belonging to Mr. Flowers, repaired.

PLAN TO REVISE CONVENTION RULE PREVENT DEADLOCK

NEW YORK.—John W. Davis has joined a movement for abolition of democratic national convention rules which were largely responsible for his being the party's presidential candidate in 1924 instead of Alfred E. Smith or William G. McAdoo.

Mr. Davis is opposed to the two thirds and unit rules. He intends to work for majority rule in the 1928 convention.

His views are in accord, partly at least, with those of at least twenty democratic national committee members, who in May expressed themselves as favoring elimination of the rules that served to tie up the 1924 convention.

ARTESIA, NEW MEXICO

QUALITY AT LOW COST

Into the field of low-priced cars the smoothest Chevrolet in Chevrolet history brings exactly the velvet acceleration and freedom from high-speed vibration that have been the big reasons for the buying of multiple-cylinder cars.

Imagine loafing up a hill in a loaded car—with the motor turning so easily that you are scarcely aware of its operation. You can in the smooth Chevrolet!

Imagine rushing from 10 to 30 miles an hour before your watch ticks ten times—with never a semblance of labor on the part of the motor. You can in the smooth Chevrolet!

Imagine being able to drive between 40 and 50 miles an hour for hour upon hour—in perfect comfort, entirely free from any sense of excessive speed and unconscious of even the slightest roughness in the road. You can in the smooth Chevrolet!

Learn for yourself the incredible smoothness that is winning the world to Chevrolet. Arrange to see and drive the car today! and come prepared for a ride the like of which you never dreamed possible in a car that sells at Chevrolet's low prices!

CHEVROLET WINS IN LAKE ARROWHEAD CONTEST

With a gasoline average of 25.71 miles per gallon, L. H. Lawrence, of Monterey Park, Los Angeles, driving his own Chevrolet coach, was an easy winner in the light car class at the first annual Lake Arrowhead Conservation contest held recently in California.

Entries were restricted to amateur drivers and privately-owned cars. Lawrence's gasoline average was the best turned in by any of the thirteen drivers participating in the contest which promises to become one of the classics of the western motor car world.

Starting from the Automobile Club headquarters in Los Angeles, the run ended ninety miles away at Lake Arrowhead, a mile above sea-level, in the San Bernardino mountains.

Lawrence's Chevrolet covered the distance on exactly 3.5 gallons of gasoline. No less remarkable was the car's demonstration of cooling ability. The day was the hottest of the present season and the climb over the steep Waterman Canyon switchbacks was made under a noon sun. Despite these facts, inspection at the finish revealed that the radiator had used only four pints of water, a record unsurpassed by any other water-cooled car in the run.

Lawrence bought his Chevrolet last January. In preparation for the conservation contest he had the valves ground and, after thoroughly lubricating the car, he made a few mileage tests in the course of his daily driving.

The fact that the run was non-professional in character, and was driven in just the fashion that the average owner would use on a mountain trip, made its results especially interesting. The Lake Arrowhead trip is one of the most popular Southern California mountain drives, and next year's contest promises to draw a very much larger entry list. A huge crowd witnessed the finish of the run, and the awarding of the cups to the prize winners.

TROOP B WINS PRIZES

Troop B, crack organization of the 11th Cavalry, New Mexico National Guard recently returned home with more than their share of prizes won in the various contests entered, according to the Carlsbad Argus. Captain Mann, of Carlsbad had the largest number of men in attendance at the training camp at Ft. Bliss. The men in troop B numbered sixty-three.

BUICKS FOR 1927
NOW ON DISPLAY

New Standard in Looks and Performance Claimed.

On August first the Buick Motor Company introduced its new models for 1927.

Many features never before found in cars of its price class are included in the new Buicks, and several important engineering developments are introduced as being exclusive Buick features.

Chief among these is the Buick valve-in-head engine, which is said to be absolutely without vibration periods and very silent at all speeds. This result is obtained, Buick engineers say, through a combination of counter-balanced crankshaft and torsion balancer, with light cast iron pistons and a heavy flywheel.

A new crankcase ventilator and thermostat water control prevent crankcase dilution and make a complete change of oil necessary only four times a year.

Silence and the elimination of closed car rumble are also claimed for these cars. These results come from rubber engine mountings at all three points of suspension, a silent transmission and rear axle, and a muffler and exhaust system which eliminates unpleasant noise.

Among the many attractive features of the new Buicks are balanced wheels, which prevent wheel bobbing and chatter and aids in smooth riding.

Upholstery and trim is of the best in all models, mohair plush being used in the closed cars and genuine Spanish leather in the open models. New color combinations are in Duco. Tires and rims are jet black, adding much to the appearance of the cars. Attractive lines and several entirely new models feature the line. Prices are no higher, in spite of the many improvements.

OIL SPECULATION LOSS CAN BE DEDUCTED FROM U. S. INCOME TAX

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Money invested in oil leases in "wildcat" territory which became worthless as a result of sinking dry wells is deductible as losses from gross income in making federal tax returns, the board of appeals held Friday.

IN MAKING BUTTER MAKE BEST BUTTER

The first essential in good butter making is good quality, clean flavored cream, says O. C. Cunningham of the New Mexico A. & M. College. To secure a high quality cream, strict cleanliness in all operations is essential, because undesirable flavors in cream are caused chiefly by bacteria carried into milk and cream by filth from unclean air, unclean cows, unclean milkers, and unclean utensils.

The cream should be cooled as soon as separated to as low a temperature as possible, and kept cool until enough is secured for churning.

In preparing cream for churning, warm it to about 70 deg. F. by standing the vessel of cream in another vessel of warm water. Hold it as near as possible to 70 deg. until it has soured. Soured cream may be hastened by adding one-half to one pint of clean flavored sour milk or buttermilk to each gallon of cream. When ready for churning the cream should have a slightly acid taste, be thick in consistency, and glossy in appearance. Cool cream to churning temperature, usually between 56 and 62 degrees. A higher temperature must be used in winter than in summer. The butter should come in 30 to 45 minutes.

In preparing the churn, butter worker, mold and ladles, always scald them in boiling water, then cool with as cold water as obtainable.

It is well to strain cream into the churn to catch any particles of curd or foreign matter.

If butter is marketed it is desirable to add butter color during the winter months, but add only enough to keep the color uniform throughout the year. Color should be added to the cream when it is put into the churn.

The churning has been carried far enough when the butter granules are the size of kernels of popped corn. If the churn has a buttermilk outlet the buttermilk should be drawn off and clean water equal in quantity and temperature to the buttermilk added to the churn to rinse the butter. Agitate butter slightly in the rinse water, but not enough to cause it to mass.

After rinse water is drawn off, add salt to the butter, usually about three-fourths of an ounce of salt to one pound of butter.

Butter should be worked sufficiently to distribute the salt evenly thru it. If butter is properly made, it should be waxy in consistency when the working is completed, and when broken should show a rough surface like that of broken steel.

One of the Two Seats

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

"MOTHER, I think it's too disgusting the way these people flock to the tennis tournaments. I have tried all over London and can't get a single seat for the finals, and it's one of the reasons I chose to come here for my holidays—I did so want to see Lenglen and Miss McKane and Miss Ryan and all the bunch of champions at Wimbledon."

"There, there, dearie," consoled her mother. "I have tried to get a word in edgewise and tell you that I have just found in the Personal column—I always read the personals, they are so amusing—one which offers two seats for sale for the games."

"Oh, mother, shall I dash straight off to get them? You will come, too, won't you?"

"Now, Molly, you know I would pass right on if I had to sit through a tennis match in a crowd of several thousands."

So Molly rushed off to the first taxi she saw and on to the address of a flat in Upper Brook street in quest of the ticket.

Arriving there and being admitted she found that the young man who had got there one minute before her had the tickets in his hand and was even then producing the necessary two pounds.

"Oh," wailed Molly, looking straight into the young man's blue eyes. "I've come all the way from America to see one of these great games and now I can't get a single seat."

"I say, that's rotten luck. Here, you have one of these. One is all I want." He told the yarn easily.

She drew a pound from her neat bag and took the ticket with a smile that sank to the very depths of the young man's heart. Also with American frankness she held out a slim hand and colored slightly at the warm pressure it received as she tried to thank him.

Molly felt she could hardly wait until the day she dressed her prettiest to go to Wimbledon.

Her heart sank down into her very dainty boots when, upon finally reaching her seat in the center court, she found that what she had been hoping was not to be. There was no nice young man with blue eyes beside her, but a young lady whose attitude as Molly sat down was not in the least cordial.

Molly realized that this was the other of the two seats, for on her left side was a large party of some eight or ten, so the aristocratic young lady must be the friend of the very nice young man.

"I'm so sorry," she said with appealing friendliness, "that I took this seat—the gentleman who had it told me he only wanted one, and now I know he gave it up. I wish I could get it back to him. I believed him when he said he didn't want it."

Lady Sybel Hove looked frankly at Molly. "My brother would say that," she told her. "He has been looking forward to seeing this set for months, but he said he would edge in somewhere. Please don't feel so badly," she added swiftly for Molly looked so distressed that Sybel's heart smote her. "A man can always make his way in."

Half an hour later when the greatest of world tennis champions were hard at play on the courts, Lady Sybel and Molly were clutching each other in excitement and munching chocolates alternately.

When the exciting games were over and the thousands of good-natured people swarming to the various exit gates, Lady Sybel turned to Molly.

"You will come for a cup of tea, won't you? Jack will be delighted to have a chat with you. He and I are taking a long trip over to your country this autumn and you must tell us all about what to see."

Molly blushed shyly and accepted happily.

There was no slightest doubt as to Lord Hove's delight when he realized that Sybel had succeeded in what he hoped, without having asked her, she would do. She had become acquainted with the girl whose green eyes he had not been able to forget since they had gazed into his own.

The second meeting was even more wonderful than the first and no one looking at Molly and Lord Hove could think anything save that they were suddenly, desperately and most happily in love. Sybel saw it right away and wondered what color her bridesmaid's gown would be.

And when the great ocean liner nosed into the dock in New York a scant month later the photographers were all there to snap the arriving bridegroom and the bridesmaid as they met the bride.

Would Lord Hove, or would he not, kiss his bride-to-be?

That was what the newspaper men wondered.

All the Sunday editions would tell the answer—one way or the other.

Food of Ostriches

Ostriches are by nature herbivorous. On ostrich farms the birds are usually pastured on alfalfa in the summer and fed alfalfa hay, wheat bran, barley, oats and corn in the winter. Of course they require grit. Ostriches are notorious for their voracious appetite for stones, gravel, granite and pieces of bone. They have been known to swallow pocketbooks, spectacle cases, watches and other similar objects. As a rule they do not care for flesh of any kind unless real hungry.

Exercise for Brood Sow

The brood sow should get plenty of exercise during the winter months. The sow that keeps out of doors most of the time when the weather is good is much more likely to produce a strong litter than the sow that lies around in the barn or shed. A sow that is too fat will not produce a strong litter of pigs—neither will she be able to take as good care of them. Give the brood sows the run of a pasture lot during the winter if possible, and scatter some feed over the ground so they will be induced to take plenty of exercise.

Direct From the Factory To You?

'Tis a Long Road With Many Tolls

Of all the ghastly frauds that have cost the American public hundreds of thousands of hard earned dollars one of the greatest is the cry, "Direct From Factory to Consumer."

Direct? How Direct?

Direct to a state manager who takes a toll sufficient to pay any warehousing cost he may have to incur—sufficient to pay the office rent, help and the cost of building a field force of salesmen.

Direct from the state manager to the District Managers who takes his toll sufficient to cover expenses and leave a profit.

Direct from the District Manager to the Bell Ringer whose profit is usually the amount of the deposit fee required.

Truly the route direct from the factory to you is a long road of many tolls.

Are profits big in the Peddler Field? Just secure a copy of the "Specialty Salesmen" Magazine and see what these peddler firms say themselves.

Are costs high in the Peddler Field? A well known shoe firm in Chicago tried selling its shoes by canvassing and found that peddler selling was far more costly than selling from their stores in the regular way.

The bare, bald, plain truth is that all the Peddler's talk about saving you money is sheer bunk. His costs run so high that the ordinary firm would go broke from just one item that the peddler's firm meets among many other high costs. We refer to the cost of hiring and training its sales force, which Mr. T. K. Kelly, banker, sales authority and president of the T. K. Kelly Sales System, Minneapolis, Minnesota, declares will cost from 100 to 150 per cent higher than the same item does in the regular channels of distribution.

Yes—it's safer to spend your money at home.

There is a word often used by economists. That word is "utility."

When you buy merchandise you pay for three utilities. You pay for form utility—time utility and place utility.

Form Utility is given by the manufacturer who takes raw goods and puts them into the form and condition—contrives from them the article that you can use.

Time Utility is given by the wholesaler who pays for transporting that article to the general district where such goods are needed and then stores it until such time as his retail customers have a demand for it.

Place Utility is given by the retailer who anticipates your wants by having it here at hand so that instead of traveling long distances to secure this article you have it right at hand without the expense of delay or trouble on your part.

These utilities are eternal. Not one of them can be dispensed with and they must be paid for. The only difference is that the Peddler handling a specialty must charge you more for delivering these three utilities than the old established chain of manufacturer, wholesaler and retailer has to charge.

That is due to the Peddler handling one specialty where the cost must fall heavier than where the cost is apportioned over a mass of merchandise of many different lines. More-over the Peddler is not equipped to deliver these utilities at a minimum cost.

Utilites Contribute $23 in Taxes Every Second

Seven hundred million dollars a year, approximately $23 every second of the day and night, are poured into the public coffers in the form of taxes by public utilities throughout the United States, aside from the tax-exempt municipal plants.

This is approximately one-quarter of all the taxes paid by the incorporated in- dustries of the country.

In the Artesia field the Twin Lakes Oil company are completing a good well in their No. 8, in sec. 28-18-28, which was shot yesterday with 100 quarts from 2422 to 2447 feet. Over 1500 feet of oil was standing in the 8-inch hole before the shot.

Drilling has been resumed on the Merriweather No. 1, Goodale in sec. 19-18-29, the well being taken over by Maloney et al, for completion. No action has been taken by the government so far on the alleged "salting" of this well several weeks ago, although it is on a government permit.

Efforts are being made to ease off the water in the well on the Vandagriff permit in sec. 5-17-28, pipe being run with a packer. Dave Compton is drilling his No. 2 on the Mann permit in sec. 5-18-28, the hole now being below 2010 feet.

HEAVY RAIN WASHED OUT BRIDGE OVER 4 MILE ON HIGHWAY

A down pour of rain is reported to have fallen near the head of four mile creek south of Dayton Friday morning. A sluice of water came down the creek following the rain and spread out about a half mile wide at the crossing on the highway. The waters washed out the highway bridge and delayed traffic for several hours, but with the exception of the bridge the roadbed was not seriously damaged.

A good rain on the same day is reported for the Vaughn section, northwest of Roswell.

CANDY KITCHEN

By Aunt Jo.

I know that you have always wanted to learn how to make candy by yourself, so today I am going to teach you. Well, let's see, suppose for this little lesson we learn how to prepare molasses candy, the real old-fashioned kind. If you follow these directions very closely, you will find that you can make molasses candy that is every bit as good as that you can buy in the best candy stores.

Before you start, you must remember always to be careful when near a hot stove. If you take reasonable precautions you will never come to harm, but at all times keep in mind that you cannot be careless with fire.

Now you will need five ingredients to begin with: one cup of New Orleans molasses, one half cup sugar, one tablespoonful of water, one teaspoon full of butter and one-fourth of a teaspoon full of soda.

First melt the butter in an iron spider, over a flame that is not too high. Then carefully add the molasses, water and sugar. Stir until all the sugar is dissolved, at first occasionally, then, as the mixture grows hotter, constantly. Keep the preparation at a boil until it becomes brittle. You can test this by dipping out a bit of the hot mixture and dropping it into a cup of cold water; if it forms a hard ball in the water, then you are ready to proceed.

Set the pot on the back of the stove, stir well, add the soda, and then stir thoroughly. Have a well-greased pan ready, and after stirring for a time, pour the mixture into the pan to cool.

And now comes the best part of all—the candy-pull. Wait until the candy is just cool enough to be handled before pulling. The best way to manage this part of the candy-making is to get someone to help you, for a candy-pull can be loads of fun when two or more people are in on the game.

Dip your finger-tips into the cooling candy and with the thumbs and fingers—being careful not to make a messy job by squeezing it in the hands—work the candy by twisting and pulling it. In a little while it will commence to get light-colored and porous, and will be easier to work.

Now getting your friend to help you, both of you pull and twist the candy into a ropy mass. In a short time it will begin to harden. When this takes place, stretch the candy to the thickness you want, and cut it into small pieces with large shears. When you cut it, turn it half way round after each incision of the shears. This will change the direction of each cut. Cool the pieces of candy on buttered plates.

And now you will find that you have made some molasses candy that tastes as good as any you can buy. If you don't believe me, try some on your father when he comes home from work tonight, and if he likes candy, he'll eat every piece you give him.

EUGENE ASKREN; N. M. M. I. STUDENT KILLED IN POLO GAME AT SANTA FE

The following account of the death of young Eugene Askren clipped from the Santa Fe New Mexican, will no doubt be of interest to many residents of this section, who know the Askren family.

After making a goal on the polo field, the third of the six for his side, Eugene Askren, of Santa Fe, fell with his horse and received injuries at 4:30 p. m. Sunday, which resulted in his death at 1 o'clock Monday morning.

Mr. Askren was only 17 years of age, and would have been a Junior next year at the New Mexico Military academy at Roswell, had he lived.

The fatal accident was witnessed by the boy's parents, former Attorney General and Mrs. O. O. Askren of Santa Fe. After the lad fell everyone at the polo field seemed dazed; it was impossible, owing to the cloud of dust that enveloped horse and rider to determine just what had happened. Everyone expected to see young Askren, who was a clever polo player of several years experience, rise again on his horse. But suddenly Mr. and Mrs. Askren realized that their boy—his only son—was injured and they dashed across the field to where he had fallen.

The young man was rushed to the sanitarium where an X-ray was made last night and it disclosed that no bones had been broken. Death was due, a local surgeon said, to a blood vessel bursting in the head.

People who witnessed the accident said today it was impossible to state exactly what had happened. Veteran polo players said that Askren's horse must have crossed its feet and thus fell; another theory is that in the scrimmage near the goal the horse lost its footing and stumbled.

Askren, it appears, made a final drive with his right hand, leaning over the left side of the horse, shooting the ball through the goal just before his horse fell. Askren was an expert horseman and kept his seat. He may have struck his head a violent blow on the hard ground, or the animal may have rolled on him.

Eugene Askren was a native of Roswell and was here for the summer vacation, spending the past few years studying at the Roswell Military Institute. He had finished what is termed the high school course. He was very popular in Roswell and Santa Fe younger society, and was rated as a good student and an ideal young man of fine principles and delightful manners.

Playground Tests

One hundred and seventy-eight cities have entered 811 playgrounds and athletic fields in the national playground beautification contest announced by the Playground and Recreation Association of America. Forty-one states and Canada are represented by the cities competing for the $4,050 in cash prizes and nursery stock to be awarded by the Harmon foundation.

New York is the most populous competitor, and Antreville and Coward, S. C., are the smallest, each boasting 100 persons. However, the metropolis will not compete directly against the villages, as all entering cities are divided into three population groups.

There is such a thing as this business of asking too far. Thomas W. The foolishness of asking estimates, Mr. Sutter tell about Charles Hamilton printing business, who peevish at a letter from wanted bids on several headsets, different sizes grades and different wanted the printing form. So Charlie took his in hand and wrote:
