C. F. VAUGHT TO JOIN SWOPE PARTY HERE—WILL SPEAK TONIGHT

C. Bert Smith, democratic precinct chairman, yesterday received a telegram stating that the democratic speakers scheduled to appear here tonight would be joined at Artesia by C. F. Vaught, of Albuquerque. Mr. Vaught is reputed to be the best speaker in the state and his presence here is expected to attract a capacity crowd.

Other speakers who will be here include Ed Swope, candidate for reelection, state land commissioner; Robert C. Dow, candidate for attorney general; Lorenzo Delgado, candidate for lieutenant governor; Mrs. Aurora L. White, candidate for superintendent of public instruction. Arrangements have been made to hold the speaking in the old City Market building. The public is cordially invited to attend.

SIXTEEN MILES OF THE GRADE WORK FINISHED ON MALJAMAR ROAD

Three Miles of Route Now Surfaced; Travel Now Going Over Road—Six New Trucks to Speed up Construction.

The greater portion of the oil field highway extension to the Maljamar well in Lea county will soon be finished, if nothing occurs to hinder the construction operations. Approximately sixteen miles of the road from the cap rock in this direction has been graded and is now being traveled regularly. About three miles of the roadway has been surfaced, the surface material has been constructed across the roughest part of the route which enables the traveler to drive the distance in comparative ease.

R. E. Horne, engineer for the state highway department has been doing extensive surveying work over the route during the past week. The survey has been completed, however, and grubbing the right of way has been brought up to the last eight miles of the route which will connect the present highway. Travel over the road has been made comparatively easy, except during the recent rains, when the grade became soft.

Contractors Donahue and Stephens have ordered six new trucks and expect to speed up the surfacing work. The present road building equipment consists of one 10-ton tractor, grader, twenty wagons and teams and fourteen fresno teams. In all about forty to fifty men are employed on the job regularly.

LOCAL COTTON PRICE IS $13.75 TO $14.25—HAY PRICES STILL STEADY

The local cotton market this morning is apparently a little stronger with an upward tendency. Just how the government report, due tomorrow morning, will affect the local market, is entirely problematical, however, farmers are hopeful that higher prices will prevail after the report is received in the cotton buying centers. Middling cotton was selling this morning at 13.75, strict middling at 14.25, strict low was going at 12.00. Eights range approximately fifty points above the local quotations.

The hay market remains comparatively steady, with choice at $15.00 per ton, grade No. 1, $13.00, standard $10.50, grade No. 2, $9.00.

BUSY BEE WILL OPEN

The management of the Busy Bee Cafe announces that a formal opening of the cafe will be held at 5:00 p. m. this afternoon. One of the features of the opening will be music furnished by the Majestic Orchestra. The public is cordially invited to visit the Busy Bee during the afternoon and evening.

CLEMENTS TO HANG OCT. 29

Following rehearing of the case of Price Clements, convicted of murder in Rio Arriba county, the state supreme court Tuesday adhered to its former decision and Clements is to be hanged on October 29.

NEW MEXICO BOND SALES

The municipal bond sales for New Mexico in 1925 were: state bonds $147,000; county bonds $141,000; school district bonds $30,900; city, town and village bonds $497,000; a total of $815,900.—Santa Fe Bulletin.

LEASING IS ACTIVE IN ARTESIA HOLDING ITS EASTERN PART OF STATE OWN AS A SHIPPING THREE WELLS DRILLING CENTER DURING 1926

(Henry Hall, Special Correspondent)

NADINE, October 4.—Leasing for oil and gas on a larger scale than ever before known is reported in the southeastern part of the state in Lea county near Nadine and Monument where several tests have been started and a number are contemplated.

Explorations Company of San Angelo, Texas, has spudded their well in the NE 1/4 of section 25, Twp. 19, Range 35, six miles west of Monument. At Nadine, Mesalero Petroleum Company is drilling at 610 feet in clay and shale, in SW 1/4 27-19-38.

W. P. Cooper of Amarillo has started a rotary hole on a permit in NW 1/4 of 27-19-38 and Rollie Scales has spudded with cable tools in NW 1/4 of 20-19-38 on a permit.

Major operating companies or their representatives have practically all of the available acreage in every direction of these tests for a distance of ten to twenty miles, under lease with individuals holding small blocks of state leases which few will price at this time.

Prices at which acreage is selling vary from $5.00 per acre within three miles of the drilling wells to $1.00 per acre twenty miles from the wells. Royalty is selling at the same price per acre as leases, for one half the royalty. Records show that 75 per cent of the land in that area is patented and the mineral right is in the land owners, which accounts for the intense interest in royalties there.

REFINERY EMPLOYEE BURNED

W. L. Batterson, an employee of the Flynn, Welch & Yates and Continental refinery received painful injuries from burns about the head and shoulders when a minor explosion occurred at the plant here last week. Mr. Batterson's condition is not regarded as serious and he is reported to be on the way to a rapid recovery.

COTTON GINNING OF NORTH VALLEY GINS NOW TOTAL 1280 BALES

Rains have again hindered the progress of the cotton gins in the north valley, otherwise the ginnings since the last report would have easily run more than 2000 bales. Below are the total ginning secured yesterday at noon and furnished us by Wm. Baskin:

PEGGY MITCHELL OF ARTESIA IS RUNNING SECOND FOR QUEEN

Miss Peggy Mitchell will be Artesia's candidate for the Chaves County Cotton Carnival Queen. Miss Ethel Olson and Miss Viola Pearson, who were mentioned during the early part of the contest as possible candidates have withdrawn in favor of Miss Mitchell. Two withdrawals are also reported among the candidates from Roswell and it is not known at this writing how many will remain until the final day. Miss Mitchell, who now stands second, is said to be gaining rapidly but the count up to date is not known.

SHOT THROUGH HAND

Jim Markham accidentally shot himself through the left hand with a 32 revolver Monday evening. The accident occurred in the oil field and he came to town for treatment.

NINE BIRTHS AND NO DEATHS IS RECORD FOR MONTH OF SEPTEMBER

Nine births and no deaths was the record of September, according to S. E. Ferree, sub register of the Atoka, Cottonwood and Artesia districts. It is also interesting to note for the quarter just ending births fell short when compared with the same period last year. For the quarter ending September 30th, this year, thirty-one births and four deaths were recorded against thirty-five births and eleven deaths during the same period in 1925.

Births recorded for September: twin sons of Tom Juarez; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ricketson, daughter; Antonio Martinez, son; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Burrows, daughter; Mr. and Mrs. S. Boone Barnett, daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Trujillo, daughter; Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Norris, son; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jack Cook, son.

ROAD EQUIPMENT IS MOVED TO WEST HIWAY WORK TO START SOON

Highway Department Also Plans to Build Extension of Cavern Road South to Texas Line and Connect With State Highway.

A road crew Saturday moved the road equipment of the state highway department from the high line connecting the upper valley with the Maljamar well, to the road west of Y. O. crossing, where construction work has started on the highway to Dunken and west from Y. O. crossing to Elk. The highway department expects to spend $10,000 or $15,000 on the west highways and will complete the jobs as soon as possible.

Plans have also been made to construct a highway in the south part of the county, connecting with the Texas highway to Van Horn. The proposed construction is an extension of the highway to the Carlsbad Caverns from the entrance to what is known as Walnut canyon, several miles south of Carlsbad. The stretch of road about eighteen miles in length, will connect with the Texas highway, which is now practically complete and give Eddy county a hard surfaced road from Carlsbad south to the county line.

Plans to start a preliminary survey have been held up due to the inclement weather, however, a surveying crew will be put on the job soon.

Eugene Denton, son of H. A. Denton of the Cottonwood community, was severely burned last week while working in the Denton Meat Market in the oil field. According to information gathered here as to the cause of the accident, the young man had just finished repairing a leaky gas pipe in the market building, which had filled with gas fumes. When he threw the hammer down, the instrument in some manner struck a spark, igniting the accumulated gas. The force of the explosion blew out the glass windows and for an instant enveloped young Denton in flames, causing burns about the head and arms. He was brought into Artesia where he received medical attention and is now reported on the way to recovery.

PHILLIPS OPERATING STEADY

The Phillips Petroleum Co., are now piping an average of 3,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas daily to their casinghead plant in the oil field. From this amount of gas, approximately 6000 gallons of casinghead gas is made daily. Three new wells of the Flynn, Welch and Yates interests have recently been connected with the plant.

PAVING WORK DELAYED

Construction work on the paving program has been delayed due to recent rains. The work was scheduled to start October 1st, but on account of the weather conditions the contractors have been unable to ship their equipment here, however, one car of materials has already arrived. It is expected that the preliminary work will commence at an early date.

WOOL SHIPMENTS

The average yearly shipment of wool from New Mexico during the last seven years, has been 10,700,000 pounds, Dr. R. F. Hare, New Mexico statistician of the United States Department of Agriculture, finds after a careful survey of the wool production. The wool crop in 1925 was about 11,000,000 pounds, and the crop in 1926 is expected to exceed this amount. This crop also is superior in quality to that which has been marketed the past years, the wool buyers report.—The Earth.

ACCIDENT TO FOOT

Wesley Needham had the misfortune to catch his left foot in the seed carrier at the Alfalfa Association's cotton gin Tuesday afternoon and lost his great toe and part of the next.

Grand Jury Is Adjourned After Finding 4 True Bills

Jury Is Dismissed Last Nite After a Three Day Session—One Indictment Is Served; Petit Jury Begins Session Today.

The fall term of the Eddy county district court convened Monday at Carlsbad. Judge H. A. Kiker is presiding instead of District Judge C. R. Brice, who is holding court in Albuquerque.

The grand jury empaneled includes: J. O. Richards, H. G. Southworth, Henry Tipton, C. T. Hearn, Robert Compton, W. H. Lackey, A. J. Mayes, Shafter Ward, Herbert Reddy, George Skinner, Ted Taylor and W. H. Morgan. Henry Tipton was made foreman. Much work lays before the jury and the session will likely extend up until sometime today.

Following the appointment of J. R. Means and Tom Middleton as bailiffs, the grand jury retired and the docket was read by Judge Kiker and the cases set for the term. The following cases were dismissed: the Link Candy Co., vs. E. E. Jones; L. S. Crawford vs. the First National Bank of Carlsbad; the Eclipse Paint Co. vs. J. A. Lawrence; L. J. Reser vs. Central Farm Security Co.; F. J. Brocks vs. S. S. Jerome et al.

Besides the grand jurors serving from this district, a number of residents attended court the first of the week, among whom were Chas. Mann, W. E. Ragsdale, A. C. Crozier, Bun Muncy, George Welton, Coke Floore, M. Stevenson, Dick Atteberry, Harry Jernigan, French Gray, Wade Cunningham, Vick Newcomb and Misses Ward and Elaine Feenster.

Artesia attorneys who were present at the opening of court include S. E. Ferree, Geo. Threlkeld, J. B. Atkeson, G. U. McCrary, J. H. Jackson and James Stagner.

The grand jury completed its labors last night at 9:30 p. m. According to information received from Carlsbad this morning the jury found four true bills and nineteen no bills. One indictment has already been served and the remaining ones will all be served today. The petit jury was empaneled today and the hearing of evidence on the first case on docket will likely begin this morning.

Among the Artesians who were called to Carlsbad this morning on jury service included Rex Wheatley and E. T. Jernigan.

ARTESIA WILL MEET TULAROSA HERE SAT.

Saturday Artesia High football team will meet Tularosa for the first game of the season on the local grid. Many of the fans will want to see the Bull Dogs in action and a fast game is expected.

ENLARGING SUB STATION

The Southwestern Public Service Co. is enlarging the local sub station here by installing additional transforming capacity. The extra equipment was made possible by an increase in the use of electric current locally.

CONTINENTAL OFFICIALS HERE

B. M. Tanner, chief accountant, A. D. David, general manager of the Continental refining department, F. L. Herle, general superintendent of the Continental refining department and G. T. Bodman, chief accountant of the Continental refining department, all of Denver, have been in Artesia this week looking over the local plant of the Continental and Flynn, Welch and Yates refinery.

SHOT THROUGH HAND

Jim Markham accidentally shot himself through the left hand with a 32 revolver Monday evening. The accident occurred in the oil field and he came to town for treatment.

A COMPARISON

A comparison of four years administration of the state penitentiary under the republican administration and the four years under democratic administration shows: For the last four years of republican control, 1919 to 1922, shows an average daily income of $148,900 and an average yearly expense of $154,075, leaving an average yearly deficit of $5,175. For the last four years of democratic business administration, the average yearly income was $135,000 and the average yearly expense was only $123,500, leaving an average yearly surplus of $11,500. This year, the climax of the Hannett business administration, the fiscal year ended with all bills paid and a cash balance on hand in all funds of $48,000. Surely the comparison is startling, to say the least.

PARTISAN NEWSPAPERS

There seems to be a sort of an epidemic which every once in a while sweeps over the country causing certain newspapers without any sort of backbone, and also, those who do not wish to take a partisan role in political campaigns, to denounce a newspaper which is partisan and devotes space to laudation of the candidates of the editor's political faith.

Why should it be a crime to be a partisan in politics? by what law is it a crime? Since when is it the rule of newspaperdom to read any partisan editor out of the fold of respectability? Readers can notice for themselves that there are powerful newspapers that are really dependent, but those papers never denounce the partisan paper. The large papers recognize the right of an editor to be as partisan as he wants to be, just so long as he is guided by truth and morality.

It is the weaklings that are always howling at the partisan newspapers. It is those who haven't the backbone to fight for the principles they believe in, for there does not live an editor who can say he is not partisan to some political faith. Why then, should he not make a fight for those principles which he believes are right and for the welfare of the people? What if he is mistaken, if it is an honest mistake?

Partisan newspapers wrong or deluded poor saps! Bosh! Pity the editor of any newspaper who hasn't the "guts" to speak out for his party.

The News is democratic and will say so in any way it sees fit. If that be wrong, brethren, make the most of it, or "lay on, MacDuff" until your denouncer is satisfied.—Portales News.

IN OUR OWN LIGHT

Recently a resident remarked to us that it was his opinion, the farmers of the Pecos Valley were standing in their own light in not giving more attention to the dairying industry. The present low price of cotton has occasioned considerable thought on this matter and we are inclined to believe that he was imminently correct in his conclusion.

After last year's surplus cotton, it was freely predicted that we would see fifteen and perhaps ten cent cotton another year. Despite the fact that this condition was generally known, farmers over the west and south increased the cotton acreage and it was not their fault that the present crop did not reach a total of

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

What joy it brings to see again
Those good old friends I used to know—
To meet the women and the men
Who were my playmates long ago!

The same dear smiles are here today
That greeted me in childhood years,
Though temples now are touched with gray
And eyes have learned the hurt of tears;

The same glad grip of cordial hands
(Yes, even warmer than of old!)
That bears to him who understands,
The finest message ever told;

The same unselfish kindness
And thoughtful hospitality—
Small favors that alone express
True friendship's great reality.

Oh, life is richer than before
And lighted with a deeper glow,
For I am with my friends once more—
Those good old friends of long ago!

© 1925 O. Lawrence Hawthorne.

Why does the ordinary mother instinctively fear that some woman is going to make a fool of her son?

A father wonders if his son is spending the evenings with the right sort of fellows. A mother, in thinking about her daughter, wonders—the same thing!

A girl who employs her "will power" to restrain the impulses of her heart usually has cause to regret her—"stubbornness."

The natural enemies of all wives: blonde stenographers, blonde manicurists, blonde waitresses, blonde actresses, blonde saleswomen, blonde telephone operators, blondes!

All men are susceptible to blue eyes. Also to black, gray, hazel, brown, green, yellow and orchid.

A woman who yearns for a manly man invariably falls wildly in love with a masculine clinging vine.

BAKER BEGINS SENTENCE

R. A. Baker was taken to the state penitentiary yesterday by Sheriff Shattuck, to begin serving his sentence of not less than six months and one day and not over one year, on a charge of selling intoxicants to a minor.

Baker has been out on bond, having an appeal before the supreme court from the decision of the court of this county, but the appeal was not perfected and he requested that a commitment be issued so he might start serving his time.—Carlsbad Argus.

seventeen million bales instead of around fifteen million, as is the estimate, notwithstanding that many think the estimate is too high. If price is based on production, the only reason for thirteen and fourteen cent cotton is because a portion of the cotton growing country failed, otherwise it might be several cents lower.

The often repeated adage that it does not pay to put all the eggs in one basket will never be better illustrated than this year.

Growing cotton under the present conditions costs approximately fifteen cents per pound, according to a number who have made more or less of an estimate on the cost of production. It can be seen without argument that there is little profit in this year's crop, on the fifteen cent basis.

There is one bet the farmer generally has overlooked; that of dairying. It has often been stated that the conditions in the valley were naturally adapted to the dairying industry. Whether it would be profitable to attempt it on the wholesale scale is questionable at this time, but there is room for considerable expansion on the local market. Our estimate would be that approximately 80 per cent of the butter sold in Artesia today comes from the creameries, some located as far away as Amarillo. This leaves only about 20 per cent of the town's demand supplied locally. A little arithmetic should convince us that if it is profitable for the creameries to gather up their product and ship it here, the farmer should find it to his advantage to supply the local market, at least.

Think it over.

LEE'S HIGH LIGHT

If you have stood on-tiptoe beside a garden wall,
Or climbed upon a high board fence,
in answer to a call,
And looked into another yard and seen two eyes of blue
Alight with bashful tenderness 'look shyly up to you.
Then you have lived. There's nothing in the world of grown-up men
Can bring such joy into your heart, make you so glad again.

If you who have climbed through long years can look back down the way
And find a memory like that back in the yesterday,
You know the little worth of gold, the little worth of fame,
The little worth of plaudits you have won in life's grim game;
You would not take the worth of fame, the worth of gold and all,
For just the memory of love across a garden wall.
And that is the high light of life, the bit of tenderness
That shines sometimes across its path; what words cannot express,
But what the heart and soul can feel and treasure up and keep,
And maybe take along with us past life's last longest sleep;
Two bashful eyes upraised to yours, mayhap a tender kiss,
When your soul has stretched out its wings and burst life's crysalis.

PHILOSOPHIN

When I have stood on my pink feet till they feel tired and sore, and they ache so I cannot bear to have them touch the floor, I do not growl and do not weep and all my grief display. I tuck my little tootsies up and lay them both away, and then I chortle songs of joy and gobs of gladness spread, for when my two feet ache me I can stand upon my head.

Wore Aprons on Street

About the time Shakespeare was a schoolboy, more than four centuries ago, it was a common or rather a stylish practice for women to wear aprons as part of their street attire. It was a day of ornamented dress for women, who also carried small mirrors attached by ribbon to their belts, which they used to see that their wigs were on straight.

WOMEN'S COMMENTS

OCTOBER 1, 1926

SUMMARY—Prospects for winter ranges are good over the state, but feeding will be a problem in some localities. Hay supplies are plentiful and prices seem to be a decided improvement over those of the year. Lambs have been available to feeders in Nebraska and Missouri in some localities there is a restock cattle, but in some stockmen report a fall in the lamb movement during the months of October and November. Prices of cattle have been light since the demand is good. The demand for sheep has been light since several months. Up to the shipments amounted to 254,296 head, compared with 254,296 head in July of last year, and the movement amounted to 9,724 head. The demand for cattle is light and prices fair.

WEST: Farmington—Winter range prospects fair. Hay plentiful and lambs contracted. Tend to restock cattle. Tend to start in October.

CENTRAL: Raton—Winter range prospects fair. Hay plentiful and lambs contracted. Tend to restock cattle. Tend to start in October.

SOUTHWEST: Lordsburg—Winter range prospects fair. Hay plentiful and lambs contracted. Tend to restock cattle. Tend to start in October.

EAST: Roy—Sheep ranges for winter prospects short. Hay plentiful and lambs contracted 10 cents. No restocking. All winter range prospects fine. Tend to cull old ewe lambs. No lambs held. Tend to restock cattle. Demand for calves, 11 cents. Sheep prices fine. Sheep being sold. Lambs contracted. No movement. Demand and prices satisfactory. Range prospects, 10 cents. MILITARY TRAINING BY MAIL

Reserve officers and enlisted reservists, of whom there are more than four hundred residing in New Mexico, may avail themselves of the latest improved theoretical training in military subjects, without stirring from their homes, according to information from Headquarters 410th Infantry, at Roswell. All they need do is to pursue one of the army correspondence courses appropriate to their respective grades and branches. Certain maps and texts may be purchased by the student at small cost, but most of the material is supplied free.

Those belonging to the Infantry branch should apply for enrollment to the headquarters of the 410th Infantry, at Roswell. Members of the other branches should apply at Headquarters 103rd Division, 515 Kittredge Bldg., Denver, Colorado.

The courses which will open on October 1st are said to be progressive and designed to fit the officer for promotion. Blue Course C. M. T. C. graduates are now required to take certain correspondence courses before being eligible for reserve commissions. They may secure this instruction before attending C. M. T. C. and should apply for enrollment now.

The value of these courses has been proven by the excellent progress that students have made in former school years.

Hay scarce.

FIVE EXPLORATORY LEASES IN NAVAJO RESERV'N RENEWED

Five Exploratory leases in the Navajo Indian reservation in northwestern New Mexico granted by the Indian council with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior in 1921 and 1923 have been renewed by the same agencies so as to permit them to come within the provisions of a law enacted by congress on June 23, 1924, which perpetuates the leases as long as oil and gas are produced.

The leases affected are a 4800-acre exploratory lease on the Hogback dome acquired by the Midwest Refining Co. in 1921; 3200-acre lease on the Table Mesa dome purchased at auction by J. C. Bailey for $17,500 on October 15, 1923 34080-acre lease on the Rattlesnake dome purchased in 1923 by S. C. Munoz for $1000; 4000-acre lease on the Tolcito dome purchased in 1923 by the Gypsy Oil Co. for $46,000; and a 4800-acre lease on the Beautiful Mountain dome purchased in 1923 by Neil B. Field for $1000. The Midwest is operating its own lease; the Table Mesa lease is being operated by the Continental Oil Co.; and the Rattlesnake lease is being operated jointly by the Continental and Santa Fe companies. The other two leases have been tested but were not producers.

The leases were made to run for ten years when granted originally. In the meantime the law was enacted making the terms of Indian leases for five years or so long thereafter as oil or gas are produced. The law was not retroactive and the operators could not obtain the benefit of same except by a renewal which was granted by the Navajo Indian council at its meeting at Fort Defiance on July 7, 1925. It was this action of the council which has been approved by the secretary of the interior making the producing leases perpetual in effect and extending the same benefit to the other two leases should oil or gas be encountered within five years after the renewal.

TO OUR Cotton Farmer Friends

We have just recently purchased and are operating this season for the Public the Larsh Cotton Gin situated south of Artesia on the Artesia-Carlsbad Highway.

This outfit is a complete Continental Gin System throughout with Munger Double Breasted Brush Gin Stands and all the latest improved modern cleaning devices.

LONG EXPERIENCE has taught us that the above equipment is the best that money can buy and especially adapted to the ginning of Pecos Valley Staple Cotton, as our slow speed brush gin does not gin cut or napp the staple while in process of ginning, and makes grades unexcelled by any gin.

LET US PROVE THIS TO YOU; Bring us your next bale and when ginned, take the sample, compare its grade and staple with other cotton ginned on the High Speed Air Blast Gins, which are designed to gin Texas short cotton; not Pecos Valley Staples. When the cotton is finally sold see for yourself which brings you the most dollars and cents.

Let the HIGH DOLLAR be your GUIDE, We Want You To Convince Yourself.

We solicit your ginning patronage on the basis of Efficient Service, Courteous and Fair Treatment to All and we will make you money on your cotton.

CLAYTON—STOLDT

A pretty home wedding occurred at eight o'clock on Monday evening at which time Miss Eula Bee Clayton became the bride of Mr. Clarence Stoldt.

The Clayton home was attractively decorated for the occasion in a color scheme of yellow and white. In the living room was a beautiful arch of white under which the wedding party stood during the ceremony. Lovely ferns were banked against the fireplace and flowers were placed at various places about the rooms, as were also yellow candles in yellow candlesticks.

Promptly at eight o'clock two ushers, the Misses Velma Smith and Nellie Gray, lighted the candles and stretched white ribbons from the staircase to the arch forming a lane through which the bridal party passed. Mrs. John Lanning sang sweetly "At Dawning," by Charles Wakefield Cadman, with Miss Alma Norton accompanying. Then as the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march rang out, Mrs. Ealen Gage, a cousin of the bride, and matron of honor, descended the stairs and took her place beside the arch. Then followed the bride's little sister, Pauline, carrying the ring in a white rose. Next came the bride leaning upon the arm of her father, who gave her away. She was met at the arch by Leonard Jernigan, his school friend at Oklahoma University. Rev. C. C. Higbee, pastor of the Methodist church, officiated using the impressive ring service. The ceremony was witnessed by a company of relatives and friends of the young couple, who after congratulations left for a brief trip to Roswell. The bride threw her bouquet, which was caught by Miss Alma Norton.

The bride was beautiful in an oyster white satin gown with lace and filmy veil and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The matron of honor, Mrs. Gage, wore a changeable rose taffeta with silver lace and carried a bouquet of pink roses and snapdragons. The little ring bearer wore pink taffeta with georgette. The ushers, Mrs. John Lanning, and the Misses Velma Smith, Nellie Gray Opal Martin and Alma Norton wore gowns of pastel shades of silk and carried bouquets, the gift of the bride. The ushers assisted in serving the refreshments of punch and cake, the latter being in the color scheme of yellow and white.

The bridal couple were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts.

Mrs. Stoldt, who is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clayton, is in the strictest sense an Artesia girl, for she was born here, received her education in the public schools and graduated from our high school, and is a charming and popular girl. The groom is also a product of the Artesia schools and graduated from the high school in the same class as his bride. The romance, which culminated in marriage, began in high school days, and continued during the four years that the groom was studying at Oklahoma University. He graduated from that institution last June and since that time has been assistant city engineer at Blackwell, Oklahoma, where they will make their home. He is an excellent young man, and is held in high esteem by all who knew him, while Artesia was his home. The couple left Tuesday for Blackwell, carrying with them the best wishes of a host of friends.

SIX O'CLOCK DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Linell were hosts at a six o'clock dinner last Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Nash and Mrs. Head, who were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Linell. Besides the honor guests there were present Mrs. Martha Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Will Linell, and Mr. Marvin Stank, of California, Miss Lorita Linell and the host and hostess.

WEDNESDAY
Meeting of Woman's club called off on account of meeting of State Federation at Carlsbad.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. Walter Ferriman was the hostess at a four course luncheon at one o'clock Saturday, complimentary to Mrs. Nash and Mrs. Head of Memphis, Tennessee. The table was centered with a silver basket of dahlias and pink candles were used very effectively in illuminating the beautifully appointed table. After the luncheon several rounds of bridge were played. Present were Mesdames Nash, Head, Harris, Will Linell, Landis Feather, John Lanning, Bigler, Fred Cole, and the Misses Lorita Linell and Velma Smith.

BUSINESS MEETING OF WOMAN'S CLUB

The club was called into extra session last Saturday for the transaction of business. Four new members were taken in—Mesdames E. J. Brooks, Walter Ferriman and H. Q. Haley and Miss Dorothy Reddy. A delegate and alternates were elected to the meeting of the State Federation, which will be held in Carlsbad next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Beside the president, Mrs. G. R. Brainard, who is a delegate by virtue of her office, they are Mrs. H. A. Stroup, delegate and Mrs. E. N. Bigler and Mrs. C. R. Blocker, alternates. Mrs. Mark Corbin, chairman of the Music Department is drilling a chorus to sing at the annual concert, which will be given on Friday evening.

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY

Mrs. J. R. Attebery was hostess at a delightful bridge party, Tuesday afternoon for her daughter, Miss Virginia, whose marriage to Lloyd R. Simon will occur the latter part of October.

The house was attractively decorated with autumn flowers. The kewpie motif was used in table markers, tallies and score pads and the announcement was cleverly made when a miniature hope chest tied with a large white bow was placed before the bride-to-be. The chest, when unlocked, disclosed kewpies for each guest bearing in their hands, small chest upon which the announcement was written. The favor for the bride-to-be was a kewpie dressed as a bride.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Jennie Mae and Mrs. Richard Attebery.

The guest list included beside the honor guest the Misses Marjorie Wingfield, Velma Smith, Jack Hightower, Nellie Gray, Ruth Morgan Maxine Rowan, Evelyn Stone and Viola Pearson and Mesdames Landis Feather, Fred Cole, Frank Seale, Richard Attebery, Will Linell, Lester Harvey, Dayton Reser and Lewis Cole.

MARRIED IN ROSWELL

Erank J. Herbold and Miss Katy Boyce, both of Artesia, were united in marriage in this city yesterday by Rev. C. C. Hill. They will make their future home at Artesia where they have a host of friends.—Roswell Record, Wednesday.

COTERIE CLUB

The first meeting of the year, which was held at the home of Mrs. W. C. Martin on Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. L. T. Shirley as associate hostess, was a unique affair. This being the Hallowe'en month, the Hallowe'en motif was used and black cats, bats and witches were in possession of the Martin home, which was darkened to give the full effect of this ghostly atmosphere. The entertainment was in character and was in many respects very thrilling and funny. The first of the entertaining features was a peanut game. In this the company was divided into two sides and each person required to carry a peanut on a knife blade without dropping it, while walking along a string on the floor. The winning side received a bag of peanuts for a prize. The writing of ghost stories brought to light much hidden talent. Each was required to start a ghost story and all the others to contribute a sentence until the stories were finished. This cooperation of effort resulted in some amusing yarns. A trip through a chamber of horrors provided the thrills and the telling of fortunes by a witch was in line with the Hallowe'en traditions. A blindfold contest was perhaps the funniest feature of this amusing party. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses and here again the Hallowe'en idea was in evidence in the napkins and witch caps. Mrs. C. R. Blocker assisted the hostesses in entertaining.

We have a complete line of samples of social stationery—Artesia Advocate.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Pauline Vanderver celebrated her thirteenth birthday anniversary last Thursday evening with a party at which several of her young girl friends were the guests. After a number of lively games were played, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. Vanderver. The young folks who enjoyed the party were Margaret Frisch, Wilma Robinson, Evelyn Keiser, Nina Gray "Jack" Ward, Lilla Jackson, Violet Ohnemus and the little hostess.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEETS

The Auxiliary held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Ben Pior last Monday afternoon. Plans were made for holding the postponed picnic, which is now scheduled to take place in the Legion hall on the 18th. This picnic is for the Auxiliary members and their families. Nominations were made for the election of officers which will be held at the November meeting. Lovely refreshments were served by Mrs. Pior, who was assisted by Mrs. Lydia Widney. The Auxiliary will meet next month with Mesdames Klopfenstein and Widney.

EDUCATIONAL ART EXHIBIT

The Elson Art Exhibit at the Mize building yesterday and today is one of the finest things that has occurred in Artesia for a long time. It is of great educational and spiritual value for it contains reproductions of the greatest art of all times, beginning with the architecture of the Egyptians, the architecture and sculpture of the Greeks and Romans and continuing down to those different forms of art in modern times. The great religious pictures are well represented as well as the various phases of nature and life, as portrayed by the great artists of Europe and America. The school children have taken a keen interest in the exhibit and the women's organizations of the different churches are arranging to place some of the religious pictures of the collection in the schools as a source of religious inspiration to the children.

MEET THESE NEW FARM RADIO FOLKS

Special farm features from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, to be scheduled this fall and winter from Station KOB at the New Mexico A. & M. College, starting October 4, make another new departure in radio programs.

Those of you who listen in to these Monday evening programs between 7:30 and 8:30, will be introduced to several interesting characters who will bring to you just the things you want to know.

In "A weekly letter to dad," a school boy writes an interesting letter home, telling the folks some of the high spots in his studies of agriculture which he believes might be well put into practice on the old place. You will like Jim, and you will be almost sure to share his enthusiasm.

"Aunt Sammy," who chats in a friendly way with the housekeepers, knows all the new wrinkles and fine points in housekeeping, and will talk about them in a style all her own. Her gossipy little talk will always include an answer to the age-old question, "What shall we have for dinner?"

Then there's the bug. Sometimes he is one bug, and sometimes another, he always gives you his autobiography, and incidentally lets you know how to get rid of him. Young and old will enjoy listening to what he has to say.

You will get the latest farm news, will have an occasional interview with the agricultural economist, and quite often will happen in on the telephone line where the county agent is talking to one of the farmers in his county. This dialogue is really worth hearing, and the county agent doesn't care how many of you get in on the lines.

These farm programs will be packed full of practical information, and yet will be humorous and entertaining. Additional features will be offered from time to time on these Monday evening programs. Tune in to KOB between 7:30 and 8:30, wave length 348.6 meters.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR MRS. C. C. HIGBEE

The Sunshine class of the Methodist Sunday school met at 7:30 Monday evening and appeared at the parsonage unbidden for a social hour with Mrs. Higbee, class instructor for the past year.

Mrs. Higbee was presented with loads of flowers. Each member of the class wrote their first impression of the class instructor upon her arrival in Artesia, which were read aloud. Then each member in turn expressed their appreciation of the year's service rendered by Mrs. Higbee. Delicious refreshments were served by the class at the close of the delightful evening.

Do You Realize What

OIL

Will Do For New Mexico

Intelligent development of New Mexico's oil resources will bring millions of dollars into the state treasury in form of royalties, rentals and taxes, not to mention the millions it will yield to property owners and millions to lucky investors.

But if you haven't one penny invested in the oil industry of the state, the proper development of this huge industry will automatically put dollars in your pocket because it will lessen your taxes. Proper oil development, however, can only come through intelligent cooperation and square dealing on the part of the State of New Mexico.

Oil development today is being worked in New Mexico on a scale never before known. E. B. Swope, State Land Commissioner, announces the state has under lease approximately 6,000,000 acres of state land for the purpose of prospecting for oil and gas.

Nearly every county in New Mexico has some kind of prospecting well now going down. It is the hope of the present state officials to make New Mexico one of the greatest oil producing states in the Union by giving proper co-operation to development companies. Every possible means of co-operation is being shown by Governor A. T. Hannett, Land Commissioner Swope and state officials.

The only criticism of Democratic Administration public lands made by the publicans is to slander the title obtained under the year lease. The Democrats say they will stand by them; the Republicans say they are no good. The Democratic administration promises to stand behind these leases in good faith and Francis C. Wilson, speaking the platform with Republican candidates, says the invalid.

Cattlemen, sheepmen and all business men will tell you the Business Administration the best and greatest Mexico has ever had.

Because schools are out of debt and on a cash basis, all counties are out of bond interest is being paid bonds are at par or a state credit is A-1 throughout the nation and every department, bureau and institution has been put on business-like basis.

These things all help business man and every person in New Mexico. Up to you, Mr. and Voter, to determine whether you want to continue these policies or revert to chaotic conditions of the public bosses.

YOU CAN PUT NEW MEXICO AHEAD 20 YEARS DURING THE NEXT TWO YEARS BY ELECTING

Governor Hannett

REMINISCENCES OF FIFTY YEARS AGO ARE GIVEN AT HOME COMING

E. B. Bullock, who last year attended a family reunion of the Barcus family near Waco, Texas, this week handed us a clipping from the Waco Times Herald, telling of the home coming held this year, eight miles west of Waco, commemorating the Stanford Chapel, built more than 50 years ago. Mr. Bullock is a nephew of John Barcus, who tells of some of the early day happenings and we reproduce extracts from the story not especially because it is of general interest to the community, but because it will call to mind pleasant memories of the days gone by, experienced by many of the older residents of this section.

Reminiscences of fifty years ago were given at the homecoming service at Stanford's Chapel, eight miles west of Waco, last Sunday, by Dr. John M. Barcus, presiding elder of the Corsicana district, Methodist church, a descendant of one of the founders of this early-day place of worship. His review was put in manuscript form, as follows:

Fifty years is not a long time as God counts time, but measured by events and as a part of one human life, it is a good while. A church fifty years old, in what we call the old world, is entirely too modern to attract attention, and over in the eastern section of our own country it would not excite comment. But fifty years in Texas is a long time. It is more than half its life as a state—and fifty years of life on the prairies of Texas just about covers the whole of its history as a habitation of white men.

From such a point of view, Stanford's Chapel is an old church. When it was established there was not a barbed wire fence in the county. There was only one railroad, and that a spur of the H. & T. C. running from Bremond to Waco. Oxen were in general use for hauling and breaking sod. Two-horse wagons were considered up-to-date conveyances for the well to do people. Hacks and buggies were luxuries enjoyed only by the rich. A brass lamp without a chimney or a tallow candle were the ordinary means of illuminating the homes, and a kerosene torch was the accepted standard of church lighting. A glass lamp with a chimney and with red flannel strips adorning its insides was an extravagance that only a few could afford. A wire screen to keep out flies and mosquitoes had never been imagined and ordinarily each eater at the table had to contend with innumerable competitors in getting his share of food. However, when company came some younger member of the family was detailed to wield a fly brush, which was either a bunch of weeds, a limb of a tree or a bunch of newspapers artistically fastened to the end of a rod. This had the effect of making the contest with the flies not quite so one-sided affair. The main water supply for the community was the South Bosque. In the summer time this swift running stream usually took a rest in its journey to the sea and stood in holes. Into one of these holes the water wagon full of barrels would be driven until the bed of the wagon was on a level with the top of the water. This gave the team a chance to drink and cool off while they stood in the water, and made it easy to dip the water with a bucket and pour it into the barrels and when they were filled the boys could easily strip off their scant clothing and jump off the wagon into the limpid water for a cleansing swim. As this was a long time before bathtubs and running water in the home were invented, this bathing in the river was a great saving of time and trouble. Fortunately, fifty years ago germs and microbes had not been invented and so no one was deterred from drinking the water for fear of contracting a disease. This was also before the days of artificial ice. In fact, about the only thing that was absolutely essential to make the water acceptable was that it should be wet.

At this time there was not a riding plow in the neighborhood. The double shovel was the aristocrat among farm implements, having recently usurped the place so long filled by the bull tongue plow.

The means of recreation and amusement of that day were very simple, yet effective. The singing school, the spelling bee and the Saturday night debating and literary society, with an occasional play party constituted the social dissipations. But all these had to be carefully chaperoned. If the boys and girls attended they had to travel in groups, or wagon loads, and were never allowed to go in pairs. In those days the parlor or front room was given over by the family to the young lady of the house and her fellow, if they were thought to be matrimonially inclined, and the family album and the stereopticon afforded never failing amusement. If the weather was fair and there were together more than one couple they were allowed to stroll into the nearby woods through the cemetery. Preaching days which came only once a month were always looked forward to with anticipations of delight, not only because of its opportunity to hear preaching and to worship, but because of its great social privileges. People would come from far and near in wagons, on horseback or afoot. In the meeting house the men and boys would sit on one side and the women and girls on the other, and woe betide the young man who tried to override this regulation and sit by his girl. There were no organs or other musical instruments. The hymns were lined out two lines at a time and a tune hister pitched the tune and everybody sang. The preachers of that day were great men. They sometimes lacked terminal facilities, but nobody seemed specially to care. They had the day before them, and the one service was all they expected to attend that day and perhaps for the next thirty days.

Housewives who lived in the neighborhood of the church were expected to have cooked a bountiful supply on Saturday and all who came from outside the neighborhood were expected to go home with somebody for dinner and spend the rest of the day. Such was the life in Stanford's Chapel neighborhood fifty years ago. In 1874 Rev. Thomas Stanford moved out of Waco and settled on the prairie eight miles to the west. He had with him at that time four boys—two of his own and two orphans he was raising, and one daughter. His son, Berry and his son-in-law, Tom Ritchie, moved out with him and together they opened up a large farm and fenced it with lumber and cedar posts. In the spring of 1875 Brother Stanford came into Waco and talked with the Rev. E. R. Barcus, who was temporarily in charge of the music department of Waco Female college, and persuaded him to move out one mile beyond him and settle his family on the prairie. As a special inducement he offered to give him a cow and calf, a hive of bees and a sow and pigs. As soon as the school was out Brother Barcus proceeded to move out and Brother Stanford made good his offer to the minutest detail. Thus began a friendship between two men and their families which has widened and deepened with the passing of the years and resulted in sacred ties which could not have been anticipated fifty years ago.

Nearly all the fathers and mothers of the Stanford neighborhood fifty years ago have finished their course with joy and are now enjoying a well earned rest. One of their first acts after Brother Barcus got his family settled was to build a small box house on a plot of ground which Brother Stanford donated, on a hill about half way between the two settlements, in a grove of beautiful old live oaks. Here a church and Sunday school were organized and a small day school established.

After a year or so a camp meeting was established. At first it was held under a brush arbor—later a shingle roof shed was built. For nearly forty years this was the annual scene of a gracious revival. People would come from miles around and erect temporary camps and spend ten days in strenuous religious activities. They would begin with morning prayer at sunrise and continue with services at 9, 11, 3 and night with a grove meeting at sundown. During these years hundreds of people were converted, many backsliders found their way back to the fold, a large number of men were called to preach, and multitudes had their spiritual strength renewed.

VISITORS TO CAVERNS

Carlsbad. Attendance records at the Carlsbad Caverns indicate a drop of nearly three thousand between August and September. The figure in August was 4,282 while in the last month but 1,436 visitors are reported. It is estimated that nearly 10,000 tourists have seen the Caverns since April 1.

CHURCH COUNCIL MEETS

The Church Council of Artesia met Monday night in the Baptist church, with the president, Rev. C. C. Higbee in the chair.

It was decided to invite Rev. James Rayburn, evangelist of Newton, Kansas to pay a preliminary visit to Artesia in the near future to meet with the churches and formulate plans for a co-operative campaign in the spring if mutually agreeable. The council endorsed the coming Near East Relief drive and also urged the churches to take cognisance of father and son week which falls November 7th to 14th. It was suggested to get the co-operation of the Rotary club.

A young peoples social will be held under the auspices of the council on Friday, October 29th, in the Baptist church. The young people of the following churches were asked to supply the following towards the success of the evening. Games, Baptist church; music, Presbyterian church; literary, Methodist church.
The council expressed its willingness to co-operate in every possible way with Mr. Harp's community orchestra and favored the proposal of using the various church buildings in turn for the rehearsals.

JOHN P. SINCLAIR,
Secretary of Council.

SOCIALISTS PLACE A FULL TICKET IN FIELD FOR THE STATE OFFICES

The socialists of New Mexico have placed a full state ticket in the field and will immediately begin an aggressive campaign, according to W. F. Richardson, of Roswell, state secretary of the socialist party. Mr. Richardson says that every nominee has accepted and that the party will enter into the campaign immediately. Following is the complete state socialist ticket: for congress, E. E. Denniston, Roswell; governor, Q. M. Bixler, Mount Dora; lieutenant-governor, C. A. Rodell, Clayton; secretary state, Mrs. Letitia Richardson, Roswell; treasurer, Samuel Butler, Roswell; school superintendent, T. C. Rivera, Chamita; auditor, W. T. Flowers, Clovis; land commissioner, George Lawrence, Farmington; corporation commissioner, R. B. Cochran, Estancia.

This ticket was nominated at a secret state convention held in this city on September 5 and was not released for publication until all the nominees had accepted. The announcement with the ticket says: "This is the least we can do as socialists to keep the world wide movement before the people. In three-fourths of the world today socialism is the vital plan of life and we fully realize that it is only a question of time until fundamental justice will force it upon us here. We also believe that the socialist movement must furnish the brains and organizations to bring it about and thus be of great service to mankind."

HOLLOMAN REFUSES TO ACCEPT HANNETT CHALLENGE FOR DEBATE

SANTA FE, October 5th—Judge Reed Holloman refused to go through with a scheduled debate after he found out his opponent was Governor A. T. Hannett, according to a signed statement made here Tuesday by David Steele of Santa Fe, who represents approximately 300 Independent voters in Santa Fe county.

Mr. Steele, in his signed statement, says: "I encountered Judge Holloman in the O. K. Barber Shop, Monday morning. He was talking about the election code with Mr. Baca, and telling him that it would disfranchise the Spanish American people to the number of 20,000."

"I asked Judge Holloman if he would present his views on the election code at a meeting here in Santa Fe at a near date. He said he would and that Thursday would be the best day. I informed him that I would get other speakers."

"I then asked William J. Barker if he would represent the Democrats, and he said he would, but was not sure that he would be here. I then proceeded to the Capitol building to get a substitute, and someone suggested I ask Governor Hannett."

"Governor Hannett stated that he could not speak on Thursday because he was scheduled to speak at Roy on that day, but that he would be delighted to discuss the proposed election law from the same platform in Santa Fe with Judge Holloman, or the Republican candidate for governor or any other republican."

"Governor Hannett then agreed to speak on Tuesday evening, representing the democratic side. I then called Judge Holloman and asked him if Tuesday evening was agreeable with him, and he informed me that it was. I informed him that other speakers would be there; some of the best in the state."

"About noon I called Judge Holloman over the telephone and told him that Governor Hannett would represent the democratic side and that I had his interpreter. I asked Judge Holloman who he wanted for his interpreter. He said George Armajo, and in the event I could not get him, to get Mr. Sanchez in Judge Robert's office. Judge Holloman was satisfied."

"Judge Holloman then said: 'I want to see you this afternoon.' I said to Judge Holloman that I would see him and about 3 o'clock I met the Judge on the steps of the court house."

"He said to me: 'What kind of a fight are you trying to pull off?' I said there was to be no fight; it was merely to explain his views; and Governor Hannett his views; and the Independent voters and other voters could decide their vote on the evidence they heard. He said: 'If I am going to be in a debate, I want to have something to do with the plans.'"

"Judge Holloman then said he wanted to see Governor Hannett's manager, Mr. McManus, and make the plans. I informed him that Mr. McManus had nothing to do with this matter, that it was for the Independent voters; that neither headquarters were represented on either side."

"I told him that I would get William J. Barker. In his office, he asked me whom I represented and who was the instigator in this matter. I told him that I was responsible for this and was doing it on behalf of about 300 Independent voters in our county who were at sea as to the real meaning of disfranchising voters and the election code in general."

"He said he did not recognize any independent voter; that they did not want anything; that he would only recognize two parties, the democratic and the republican parties; that if Governor Hannett or anybody else wanted to hold an open debate to send him written notice; that he was not going to be made a fool of for any independent voter, as we had no organization and had no legal status."

"Since the famous debate blew up, Governor Hannett has issued a statement in which he says he'll meet any republican candidate, lawyer or anyone else in a debate on the election law. Governor Hannett has told Judge Holloman over the telephone that he'll be pleased to meet him at any time or any place to debate the issue."

Governor A. T. Hannett, in a statement issued here Tuesday, announced Drilling at 700 feet. T. P. McDonald NE 1/4 sec. 22-18 34: Fishing at 700 feet.

The fete was held on the village green, a picturesque and beautiful bit of old New England. With decorated booths and grounds adorned with flags and Japanese lanterns the atmosphere was gay, and residents and visitors entered into the carnival spirit. The ice-cream booth disposed of 55 gallons of ices. There were fortune-telling, candy, fancy work, fruit and vegetables, flower and sandwich and "hot dog" booths. Foliage and crepe paper gave them a show hues. The net result was a total of $2,000.

HELEN, BACK HOME, HAS PUT AWAY HER RACKET FOR THE YEAR

Helen Wills, National Tennis Champion, is back home in Berkeley, Cal., where she plans to resume her studies at the University of California. She has stated that she would not play again this year. "I expect to have a good rest this year and hope to win back my title next year at Forest Hills," Helen said.

MRS. M. W. PEAK DIES
WHILE EN ROUTE TO HOSPITAL AT ROSWELL

The older residents of the valley were saddened Saturday by the news of the death of Mrs. Maud E. Wharton Peak, who passed away while being brought to Roswell from Oil City for medical treatment for a complication of troubles culminating in pneumonia.

Mrs. Maud Wharton Peak was well known here, having lived here nearly her whole lifetime. She has been a resident here for forty years, and her friends are legion. She was born in San Antonio, Texas, March 16, 1880. She was a member of the Christian church and has been such for thirty-three years. She was married to Joseph Peak on June 12th of this year and they have made their home in the oil fields east of Artesia. Surviving her aside from her husband are two children, Mrs. O. C. Bynum of this city and John Wharton of Boger, Texas. Also three sisters: Mrs. Henry Chewing of Roswell, Mrs. Belle Halcomb of Bakersfield, California, Mrs. Pearl Nichols, of Floydada, Texas, also three brothers; J. A. Dunnahoo of Bakersfield, California, J. P. Dunnahoo, of Canyon City, Colorado, and Rufe Dunnahoo of Roswell. Her father, R. H. Dunnahoo is also living and resides here at Roswell. Burial was made at Roswell Sunday afternoon.—Southwestern Dispatch.

THE PLAIN MEMBER
(By Douglas Malloch)

I like the little fellows who don't count for very much; It isn't from the cellos that you get the finer touch; The roaring of the basses and the rattle of the traps May have their proper places in the harmony perhaps; But down there in the middle, inconspicuously there, Is the little second fiddle that is carrying the air.

The crashing of the cymbal shakes the ceiling with its "Blam!" The piccolo is nimble; "Boom!" you hear the drummer slam; The trombone slides and screeches; "Tut, tut, tut," the proud cornet

Just a little higher reaches than it's ever tutted yet; The Main High Diddle Diddle runs his fingers through his hair— But the little second fiddle still is carrying the air.

We talk about the bosses with the big and busy brain, Making profits, taking losses—but the boss would boss in vain If he didn't have assistance, someone handy he could trust; He would never go the distance, and the company would bust. Here's the secret of the riddle of success ev'rywhere— There's some little second fiddle that is carrying the air.

FIVE FROM SANTA FE TO FEDERAL PRISON

SANTA FE.—Five prisoners left Santa Fe Saturday for the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth. They are: Adam McLowry, 82, sentenced from an Albuquerque court to a term of ten years for forgery. Eugenio Aguilar, 18 months for a postal case. George Walsh, four years under the Dyer act. Fred Gray, two years under the Dyer act and William Hall, two years under the tariff act.

The prisoners will be conducted to Leavenworth by Joseph Tondre, United States Marshal, and Alfred Lucero, deputy. Two women and one man will be taken to Colorado prisons by special officers. The two women will go to the penitentiary at Canon City. Artesia Oil Field Maps, 25c—Advocate.

MARK AND WATCH
CANNED PRODUCTS

Label Each Batch So It Can Be Distinguished.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) In connection with your home canning this season, the United States Department of Agriculture advises that all finished products be marked so that those in each batch can be distinguished. That is, make labels giving not only the name of the product, and its variety, if you have more than one, but the date on which it was canned, and the time and temperature of processing. For example, the label on a quart jar of string beans might read: "String beans—Kentucky Wonders, 7-15-26; packed hot, processed at 240 degrees F. (10 lbs.) for 40 minutes."

If you are canning in tin, watch for leaks when the cans are plunged in cold water to cool as soon as they come from the canner. Air bubbles will indicate imperfect sealing. Or if

Invert Glass Jars Immediately Upon
Removal From the Canners. Cool to Room Temperature and Keep Under Observation for at Least a Week.

you are using glass jars, invert them immediately after processing and look for signs of leakage. All leakers should be opened at once and the contents used on the table or heated, repacked in other jars, and processed again as at first. Hold all canned products at room temperature for a week or 10 days, where they can be examined at least once a day to be sure that they are keeping. If the contents of any jars or cans show signs of spoilage, examine all of that lot carefully. After this observation period, store the canned goods in a cool place.

FELL FROM TRUCK

Rena, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John DeArcy, fell from her father's truck last Saturday morning and was pretty badly bruised and shaken up, but had no bones broken. The fall was caused by the truck jolting over a big rut and the girl, having nothing to hold to, was unable to hang on.

DILLON STRONG FOR DRY LAW AND ENFORCEMENT

(Roswell Record)
R. C. Dillon, candidate for governor on the republican ticket in an exclusive interview with the Record here this morning, declared that he was for prohibition.

"I obey the prohibition law and if elected governor I shall expect other state employees to do the same," he said.

"I not only believe in obeying the eighteenth amendment but believe in obeying all laws."

"The federal government is doing what it can toward the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and other federal laws and I believe the state should give the federal government all the help it can. With this in mind together with Sen. Puryear, I introduced a state prohibition law only to have it vetoed by the present governor."

"If elected governor I shall do all in my power to get a state prohibition law passed in order that we may have better enforcement," he said.

NEW YORK WINS ODD GAME IN WORLD SERIES

Baseball fans have had all eyes on the world's series in progress the past few days between the St. Louis Cardinals of the National league and the New York Yankees of the American league.

The results each day follows.

Saturday at New York:
New York 2; St. Louis 1. Batteries: New York, Jones, Shawkey, Shocker and Severid. St. Louis, Alexander and O'Farrell.

Tuesday's game at St. Louis:
St. Louis 4; New York 0. Batteries: St. Louis, Haines and O'Farrell; New York, Ruether and Severid.

At St. Louis Wednesday:
St. Louis 5; New York 10. Batteries: St. Louis: Rehm, Reinhart, Bell and O'Farrell. New York: Hoyt and Severid.

Wednesday's game was featured by three home runs by Babe Ruth. Today's game at St. Louis:
St. Louis, 2.
New York, 3.

This gives the odd game to New York.

Batteries: St. Louis, Sherdel and O'Farrell. New York, Pennock and Severid.

GREENING DEAD

FINDINGS IN THREE WELLS ADD INTEREST TO OIL FIELD

According to a late report the Wooley-Jones interests have decided to skid their rig from the center of the SW $\frac{1}{4}$ to the NE of the SW $\frac{1}{4}$ of sec. 21-17-30, this being on the Danziger permit, two and a half miles north of the No. 1 Beeson, which is shut down. The Dunkin Dome well of the Texas company is down 2110 feet, drilling being slow.

Paris Has Launched Square-Crowned Hats

Among other novelties in headwear Paris sends over this season high square-crowned tailored and semi-tailored hats. In some of them the severity of the shape is softened by drapery of velvet or other fabrics about the crown and brims are varied as shown in the picture. They illustrate the trend toward more elaboration and greater dignity in millinery with flat adornments of ribbon, velvet or other trimmings. Small jeweled ornaments are featured on them.

STATE CONVENTION OF ODD FELLOWS WILL MEET IN ALBUQUERQUE

The state convention of the I. O. O. F. of New Mexico will be held in Albuquerque October 11, 12 and 13 with hundreds of delegates from the different associations expected.

The Grand Encampment, the Grand Lodge of Rebekah Assembly will hold separate sessions during the three days. The grand assembly will meet in I. O. O. F. temple on Second and Gold while the Rebekah Assembly will use the Masonic Temple.

On Tuesday night a banquet for all members of the different lodges will be given at the Franciscan hotel. Reservations will be taken by any members of the local grand lodge committee.

The sessions will close Wednesday with a big "get together" social meeting in the evening at the I. O. O. F. temple. Local committees are working to make the three day session the most successful ever held in Albuquerque.

The Grand Encampment session will be held on Monday, October 11, the Grand Lodge and Rebekah Assembly Tuesday and Wednesday, October 12 and 13. Among the local lodge members who expect to attend the meeting are: E. A. Hannah, past grand master; Ed Stone, finance committee; Victor Buel, representative of the Artesia lodge; C. Bert Smith, grand secretary and grand scribe; Mrs. Effie Wingfield, chaplain, Rebekah Assembly; Mrs. Nellie Smith, past president, Rebekahs; Mrs. Corrine Lanning, representative of the Rebekah lodge, Artesia; Mrs. Joe Clayton, representative Artesia Rebekah lodge. Possibly many others will attend, but we have been unable to get the names.
