Derrick Maljamar Ruin After Bad Fire

Fire Burned More Than Fifteen Unchecked—Destroyed the Derrick Etc., Storage.

A heater near one of the lines, the Maljamar Oil Corporation's No. 1 Baish 21-17-32, late Sunday night, which in a few minutes destroyed the rig, engine and all pumping equipment. The large gas engine. The fire as near as can be determined from the well stream of oil through a sack used in carrying off water that has been with the oil. The fire, a spectacular one, as the result of making a head over the well. The gas also broke through the well allowing the seven feet of gas to burn. The flames proved a difficulty for the 110 foot steel derrick around the well being necessary to cut with an acetylene torch. The derrick was brought under control after an eighteen hour fight by the men and members of the well crew and turned steam lines under the well. A cloud of steam and red hot metal. No loss as first reported. In addition to causing a momentary loss, also number of wells to suspend having been using gas as well as fuel. Connections have been replaced and a large machine used over the famous wildcat should be back on production the next few days. The importance to the announcement of the Lynch permit in section 10-17-31 will be drilled to complete the coming week. The well in and capped several feet due to the adjustment of the well, which was straightened out. Drilled the well appeared good with the bit only in the pay. Many are of the opinion that the Skelly will be 80 barrels flash when the Maljamar sand has been drilled. The Skelly Oil & Gas Co. are pre-drilling their initial well in section 10-17-31. This well will be located in the SE of sec. 10-17-31. It will make a well, which is likely, the Skelly will be called on to off-set directions. The Prairie well is spudded during the week. The Maljamar producer is being drilled below their No. 1 Wm. Mitchell test in sec. 18-17-32. To the producer the Maljamar Grace Mitchell well in section 10-17-31 have overcome a bad pipe and are now under way. Bruce Sullivan is attempting to get a seat for Henderson-Dexter-Blair carrying their pipe down the hole being 950 feet.

to get a good cement job in the setting of a 12 inch casing in the Inglewood No. 1 well in sec. 4-17-32. The well is 1450 feet. Several were spent in trying to freeze at 1385 feet. As the difficulty experienced in the Inglewood hole, contractor McDonald has delayed drilling on the south side of the well as both of these are located on the cap-rock. The logical thing to do is to check the formations in both wells closely. The Maljamar Oil & Gas Corporation is doing good time on their No. 1 21-17-32, drilling being done by the Wooley-Jones in rigging up their No. 1 permit in sec. 21-17-32. The well will be spudded by the end of the month. The north of the Artesia pool producer in sec. 33-17-32 on last page, column 4)

FURTHER PLANS ARE MADE FOR A SECOND RESERVOIR AT HOPE

The state engineer's office will investigate the feasibility of erecting a second reservoir on the Penasco river designed to further increase the water supply for irrigation purposes to be used by the Hope farmers, we understand. A representative of the state engineer's office has taken up his residence in Hope and will conduct an extensive investigation over a period of several months.

A meeting of the water users held in Hope last week resulted in a decision to formulate plans for the construction of the second reservoir. It will be sometime yet before the complete details are worked out, however, plans made so far are reported to be very encouraging.

REV. HUGHES IS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT ON ROSWELL HIGHWAY SAT.

Dies Shortly After Being Taken to St. Mary's Hospital at Roswell—Was Pastor of Presbyterian Church at Hagerman.

Rev. J. C. Hughes, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Hagerman, died in St. Mary's hospital in Roswell Saturday afternoon, as a result of an auto accident between Hagerman and Dexter. Fred Brainard and wife, of Artesia were en route to the Cotton Carnival at Roswell and happened by the scene of the accident shortly after it occurred. Rev. Hughes, it is understood was on his way to Dexter and had stopped to make some repairs on his car when his car was struck from behind by a car driven by George Matisko, also of Hagerman. Mr. Matisko, who was accompanied by his family and Mrs. Harrison Cowan, saw the car ahead and was under the impression it was moving north. His attention was attracted to the steering wheel momentarily and on looking ahead again, saw the Hughes car loom just in front of him. According to Mr. Matisko, he was too near the Hughes car to stop and attempted to turn to the left and miss the car, however, his right front wheel hit the car which was standing, causing it to lurch forward. Presumably Mr. Hughes was in front of his car at the time and was knocked down when the two cars hit. The Hughes car rolled about forty feet after passing over the unfortunate man's body.

Mr. and Mrs. Brainard assisted in giving what comfort they could and rushed Mrs. Matisko and Rev. Hughes to Roswell, where they were placed in a hospital. Rev. Hughes was found in an unconscious condition, but regained consciousness after he was placed in the car and was normal until he reached the hospital, where he again relapsed into a coma. He was badly cut about the head and it is believed he received internal injuries, which caused his death. Mrs. Matisko received minor cuts, but was apparently suffering more pain from the shock.

Rev. Hughes is survived by a wife and four children. He had been pastor of the Presbyterian church at Hagerman for approximately two years. He was also identified with the Pecos Valley Chamber of Commerce, an organization he helped to found.

COTTON GINNINGS TOTAL 3587 BALES UP TO YESTERDAY NOON

A gain of 1020 bales represents the total ginnings of the north valley gins for the week ending yesterday noon, according to totals submitted by Wm. Baskin. A shortage of pickers has seriously hampered the crop gathering operations, which would otherwise have been much larger, if sufficient help was available.

The totals follow:

Farmers Gin Co., Roswell	334
Roswell Gin Co., Roswell	284
Farmers Gin Co., South Springs	269
Oasis Gin Co., E. Grand Plains	239
Dexter Gin Co., Dexter	323
Greenfield Gin Co., Greenfield	228

DUE FOR A BUMP

The man who considers himself too big or too important to take an interest in local affairs is seldom missed. He may imagine he is traveling along above the rest of his townsmen, but no one envies him or seeks the perch upon which he rests.

It is poor policy to run contrary to the community spirit of the home town. This is something for our mutual protection and benefit, so all effort should be devoted to building it up, not tearing it down or ignoring it.

By setting himself up as better and above the town, the knocker imperils his own fortune and opportunities. So long as he lives here, he must go along with Artesia, and if he does not come down a bit and be sensible, he is apt to regret it.

Besides, the booster is ready to testify that one can enjoy life immensely by holding the right attitude toward the community in which he lives.

MORROW AND PRICHARD SPEAK IN ARTESIA ON LAST MONDAY EVENING

Congressman John Morrow and the party of democratic speakers appearing here Monday night, held an interesting meeting at the Legion hall despite the small audience that turned out to greet the party.

Judge Stonewall Prichard, of Tucumcari, was the first speaker to be introduced and confined the early part of his remarks to the question of suffrage, and the apparent lack of interest in exercising the right given every citizen. According to the figures given by Judge Prichard forty to fifty per cent of the American people do not vote. In the early history of the nation, the American people led in the percentage of votes cast by a large majority, but during the past several years, the vote has fallen down lamentably in comparison with the population. France, Germany and many of the European countries far outstrip the American nation in the matter of casting votes, yet the American people as a whole have had this privilege extended over a longer period of time than many of the European nations. In a recent election Mr. Prichard stated that France polled a vote of 77 per cent and Germany polled a vote of 90 per cent.

"It is time to stop and think," declared the speaker. "Everybody should align themselves with some party" he said.

Referring to state issues the speaker declared that the republican leaders have not been able to bring forward a single issue against the Hannett administration. More miles of roads and better schools have been some of the accomplishments of the democratic state administration. When the republicans were in power there never was a time when the state penitentiary did not come out with a deficit, he said, but during the three and one half years of the democratic administration, a surplus has been created yearly.

In discussing the election code toward the close of his speech, Judge Prichard declared that the republicans were endeavoring to stir up a race issue.

Congressman John Morrow was the last speaker of the evening. He confined the major portion of his address to the discussion of national issues. The national debt, he stated, now amounted to a total of $20,000,000,000, the various states owe $18,500,000,000, the railroads owe $11,000,000,000, the people owe according to the income tax statements $13,500,000,000, the entire debt owed by the people, government etc., amounts to $120,000,000,000. The interest yearly on the amount owed figures $20,000,000.

Congressman Morrow stated that we often heard of the economic ad-

STEPHENS AND SONS AWARDED CONTRACT FOR HIGHWAY NORTH

Bids on nine federal aid projects were opened by the state highway department at Santa Fe Monday. Five awards were made the first day and the unofficial figures on the remaining projects were submitted Tuesday. The bids on the nine projects it was understood totaled near a million dollars.

G. H. Stephens and sons, of Artesia were the successful bidders on project 108-B, the new road from Artesia north to the Chaves county line paralleling the railroad. The low bid was $93,849.65. Armstrong and Armstrong were next low bidders, submitting an estimate of approximately $103,859.67. Owing to the death of Engineer French the final bids will not likely be announced for some ten days yet. Six bids were entered on the construction of this project.

The contractors will have thirty days in which to commence construction work from the time the awards will be finally made and will have 180 days to complete same from the time work is started.

The other projects let were: 88, seven miles between Bernalillo and Algodones, concrete, Lee Moore Construction Co., low bidders, $293,546.54. Ten bids submitted on this project, George Orr next lowest, according to unofficial estimates. Galisteo bridge in McKinley Co., J. C. Harvey, Santa Fe, low bidder $11,853.47. Five bids were submitted.

162A, Chaves county, Acme to Railroad mountain, John Mulligan low bidder, $84,499.13. Lee Moore Construction Co. next low bidder. Ten bids submitted.

157A, between Clayton and Texas line, Joe Nix, low bidder, $21,872.85. Five bids submitted.

76, Gallup-Shipprock bridge, Lee Moore Construction Co., low bidders, $104,780.14.

147E, small bridges, San Juan county, Sallie Construction Co., low bidder $12,002.50.

174, Chaves county, paving from North Main street in Roswell from the Spring river bridge to the city limits, north.

GAME COMMISSIONER CORKIN SPENDS FEW DAYS IN COMMUNITY

Phillip R. Corkin and two assistants from the state game and fish department have been in this section the past week, investigating the game and fish condition of this vicinity. It is reported that some violations of the game and fish laws have been committed and in each case the transgressors have been indicted.

Mr. Corkin announces that he will give this section continued supervision. He requests the cooperation of every citizen in the matter of reporting law violations and preserving the present game conditions as far as possible. He also requests that every hunter and fisherman carry their license with them in order to save trouble and possible embarrassment.

PLANS ARE UNDERWAY TO OPEN ROAD FROM ARTESIA TO LAS CRUCES

Work to Start on Y O Crossing Road Saturday—Plans Are Made to Extend Highway on to Las Cruces by Alamogordo.

Jake Gregg, highway engineer in charge of the highway west from Y O crossing, spent a few hours here Monday and announces that construction work will start on the Y O road Saturday. In this connection it might be interesting to note that plans have been formulated to extend the highway to Cloudcroft, which will give a highway from Artesia to Las Cruces. A clipping from the Alamogordo News states:

In a conversation recently between District Engineer Davidson and S. Strickland, chairman of the Alamogordo Commercial Club, the former states that the state would take over the road from Y O crossing this side of Hope to Cloudcroft, over either the Cox canyon or James canyon route from Mayhill, in all probability, declaring the James canyon road the state highway; also the road from Cloudcroft to Alamogordo will be declared a state highway. This will give a state highway clear through the country from Artesia to Las Cruces.

Also the state will declare a state highway from Cloudcroft to Mesalero. The forest office will expend $400 at once in maintenance and some new construction on the forest road 5.6 miles out from Cloudcroft toward Mesalero. There will be some surfacing and grading soon on the Cloudcroft-Mescalero road in the reservation, rains having done some damage to the present road.

MRS. KISHBAUGH'S FATHER DEAD

Yesterday, Mrs. R. B. Kishbaugh received the sad news that her father, T. E. Stephenson, had died at his home at Gonzales, Texas. No details as to the cause of his death were learned, however, it is thought that his death was due to old age. He was 83 years old at the time he passed away.

Surviving Mr. Stephenson are a son, H. F. Stephenson, of Fort Stockton, Texas, two daughters, Mrs. J. A. Maness, of Gonzales and Mrs. R. B. Kishbaugh of Artesia and a number of grand children. Burial was made at Gonzales today.

THREE ARTESIANS ARE HONORED BY I. O. O. F. AT STATE MEETING

A number of I. O. O. F. and Rebekah delegates who attended the I. O. O. F. convention at Albuquerque, returned last week and report a very enjoyable time. Three important positions in these orders are now held by residents of this section. C. Bert Smith, who has served the I. O. O. F. for a number of years in the capacities of grand scribe and grand secretary, was again re-elected to these positions. Ed Stone was elected grand warden of the I. O. O. F. and Mrs. Effie Wingfield was appointed grand conductor of the Rebekahs.

OVERLAND REDUCES PRICE

Messrs. Bigler and Evans, of the Artesia Overland Co., received notice of a substantial reduction in the price of all Overland auto models. The new price delivered here is as follows: Overland Whippett, sedan $835.00, Overland six sedan $995.00.

Robbers Loot Office Safe Of Majestic This Morning

Make Escape After Exciting Battle With Night Watchman Ammons—$140 Is Secured from the Safe—No Arrests.

Unknown robbers entered the office of the Majestic Theater at an early hour this morning and after bodily removing the safe into an aisle of about $140.00 in cash. The robbery is believed to have been the work of local amateurs. Entrance was made to the office through the door. The safe was carried into the theater and from all available evidence the combination to the safe was first tried. After an apparent unsuccessful attempt the combination was removed. The robbers also tried to open the safe door by removing the door hinges, but were unsuccessful in their efforts. They finally succeeded in getting into the safe by removing three rollers from the bottom of the safe and taking out an iron plate.

The attention of Night Watchman Miller Ammons was attracted to the scene of the robbery, just as the burglars were making their getaway. According to the story told on the streets this morning, Mr. Ammons was coming east and had just passed the City Bakery building, he heard a noise in the direction of the Majestic theater and later saw a man coming out of the Majestic lobby and called for the man to halt, but the unknown person only increased his speed, headed east, around the Roselawn Grocery and west down the back alley. Mr. Ammons gave chase and emptied his revolver. One of the men was seen to fall just back of the Fray Cafe building and it is believed that the revolver of the night watchman scored a hit. It was about this time that Mr. Ammons had the misfortune to stumble and fall. In the meantime the robbers increased the distance in the pursuit and made their getaway. While the lone man, evidently stationed at the front as a watchman, was coming out of the Majestic lobby, other robbers made their escape through an outside exit and into the alley.

The robbery is believed to have been the work of local talent, however officers at Carlsbad were notified and have been on the lookout since 4:30 this morning.

Two suspects were brought into the office of M. Stevenson this morning; but were released after a search of their personal belongings.

STAFF CORRESPONDENT HERE

P. J. R. MacIntosh, staff correspondent of the Western World, a publication devoted to the development of the oil and mining industry, is here this week looking over the oil field, preparatory to writing an article on the oil developments in this section. Mr. MacIntosh will also obtain interesting photographs, which will likely be published in connection with his feature article of this section.

"It certainly looks as though a revival of the boom will come as soon as Maljamar gets fully underway," said Mr. MacIntosh. "With the Skelly and Maljamar wells both producers and their logs showing the same general formation, it looks very probable that a real field will be developed between the two. The new road will be of great benefit in providing easy access to the field and to the townsite of Maljamar, which has a good chance of becoming a real town."

The Western World has an international circulation, and is published in Fort Worth by the World Publishing Company. Chester R. Bunker, its president, is also president of the World Oil Company, which owns extensive interests throughout Texas and is drilling a number of wells in various parts of the state.

THE SORDID SIDE OF COTTON (In Commerce and Finance)

The history of cotton is the most remarkable romance ever recorded. Few will dispute that fact and none will deny that cotton's ramifications extend into every village and hamlet of the civilized world. It has held favorable the balance of trade of the country for generations. But at what cost! For there is a sordid side of the romance of cotton.

We hear very little of the struggles of the growers except in the press of the rural south, and little there. Occasionally prominence is given by metropolitan newspapers to some interesting news which affects this phase of the south's economic life, such for instance as the present move by Texas bankers to create a fund for the removal of 1,000,000 bales from the market, but the problem itself—and all must admit that the poverty of the cotton producer is a real problem—is but of passing moment to all but himself. This is not as it should be, for the prosperity, health and happiness of the entire south is necessarily and most seriously affected by the condition of these hundreds of thousands who labor in the cotton field.

In giving cotton to the south God gave it one of his most precious heritages. Certainly He did not suspect or will that this heritage would be so misused that it would bring poverty to uncounted thousands. It is inconceivable that one should find mothers suckling their babes beneath the shade of trees adjoining cotton fields, and yet this is a common sight in nearly every county in the south. It is well known to all who live in that section that the crop is largely chopped and harvested by women and children, whose labor in the majority of cases is "thrown in," but not counted in the cost of production of cotton.

It is of record that cotton today is priced below the levels which obtained when it was raised with slave labor on granted lands. So much for the grower.

What of the cotton merchant? One can spend almost any day at any cotton center talking to the most reputable merchants without finding a single one who has made a legitimate earning on his invested capital for the past three years.

The spinners of cotton, it appears, are faring no better than the growers or merchants. For a very long time, over three years, the complaints from this quarter have been unanimous, it mattered not if they came from the Carolinas, New England, Lancashire, or where. There has been not only no margin of profit but almost continuous unprofitable operations. It cannot be denied that the spinning business has long been in a bad way.

And there is another branch of this great industry "Cotton" that has greatly suffered. The "Future Brokers" for upwards of two and a half years have seen the volume of their business so small that it has not yielded a sufficient revenue to meet necessary expenditures. In the restriction of cotton futures business lies a very real menace, for it is only through the insurance of the hedge that the merchant and spinner can cover their commitments. And it is only through their use of those markets plus the load the speculator assumes, that the producers can market orderly the bulk of a twelve month's crop in four or five.

I have touched upon some of the sordid sides of the "Romance of Cotton." To me it is not a pretty picture. "We are our brothers' keepers" and someone is responsible for the fact that each of the important divisions of the cotton industry is more or less an object of concern. It is popular to blame the semi-monthly bureau reports of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Daddy Suffers, Too

by
O. Lawrence
Hawthorne.

"When babies come," my boy observed,
"I guess the Daddy suffers too,
Because whenever Mother's ill
It makes you awful sad and blue!"
A lad of only ten short years,
And yet he senses what some day
No doubt will line his face with care
And touch his golden locks with gray.

Of course, a Daddy suffers too!
It hurts him deep when he must see
The dearest woman in the world
Approaching her Gethsemane,
And know that each heroic step
Brings more excruciating pain,
While his attempts to ease her path
Are all so impotent and vain.

For when, to him, the doctor seems
So unconcerned, and when the nurse
Seems so incompetent and slow
And so inhuman and perverse,
The agony a man endures
Cannot be measured or explained;
His anguish is intensified
Because his rage must be restrained.

Yes, Daddy suffers; and perhaps
Is frequently misunderstood—
God knows how gladly he would share
The pangs that come with motherhood.
And so, while Mother should receive
The reverence that is her due,
Let's not forget, when babies come,
Their helpless Daddy suffers too!

© 1925 O. Lawrence Hawthorne.

Whether or not they are largely responsible is problematical. Suffice it to say these reports are obnoxious from every standpoint. No one wants them that I know of and if they serve any useful purpose it has not been observed. They eliminate the speculator to a very great degree and the present is a striking example of what his absence does to prices. Were it not for the government reports, the speculator, who in bulk is always bullish, would now be taking the selling hedges at perhaps several cents per pound higher level than those obtaining.

But that is by no means all of the story. The goods merchant dares not buy plentifully for inventory, for each two weeks an unsettling price influence is injected into his business and he may find his inventory value shrinking 5 per cent in a day. The same applies to the mill man, who dares not buy beyond his sales, even though his better judgment dictate that this or higher levels are both safe and attractive.

As I said, we cannot dodge the fact that "we are our brothers' keepers" and at least we who are interested in the south's welfare—and it cannot be dissociated from the nation's—should do what we can to correct this situation. The trouble of the cotton merchant, spinner, and futures broker will largely be helped by a concentrated effort to force the government to eliminate its semi-monthly reports. The producer will be greatly aided by their discontinuance, but particularly because of his greater numbers his problem is more difficult. In my humble opinion the banks of the south hold the solution to the growers' problem. It is only necessary to bring economic pressure to bear in sufficient force to curtail acreage to the desired point. It is not a pleasant remedy and in a sense is difficult of fulfillment, but it can be done. The small banks are the principal ones to carry out the necessary program of the future. It is vitally necessary that they do so, for their own interests, the growers', and for the south's as a whole, and it is the positive duty of the more responsible bankers to aid in bringing this "economic pressure" to bear in every way possible.

"I am in favor of lawful prohibition, but against hypocrisy," declared Governor Hannett, in referring to the illegal prohibition bill devised by Dillon and Rev. R. F. Farley, head of the Anti-Saloon League of America for this district.

THE AGRICULTURAL EXHIBIT AT ROSWELL

The agriculture exhibit at the Chaves County Cotton Carnival last week at Roswell was one of the best we have ever seen anywhere. Despite the small territory the exhibits were drawn from, the display and its general arrangements would have proven a credit to any state or county fair in the south. And that's saying a lot, even if Artesia did not have enterprise enough to prepare an exhibit for this event.

The exhibit was no doubt a revelation to the stranger, who happened to view it. Its one of the most effective means a community has of advertising its resources too.

PLANS TO FINANCE THE COTTON GROWER

New York financiers have indicated an interest in helping the cotton grower to market his present crop, according to a Washington dispatch. Briefly the plan is to put the cotton on the market as the demand warrants through a cooperative organization and borrow money through the intermediate credit act, which would enable the farmer to hold the cotton not sold. The offer carries with it an agreement to reduce next year's acreage at least forty per cent. The proposition sounds good, if it can be made to work out in a practical manner. The proposed organization is substantially the same as the plan adopted by the California Fruit Growers association. The California association is successful and there isn't much excuse for the failure of a similar plan among the cotton growers, if they cooperate. Cooperation is an absolute necessity.

The writer recalls an incident over in Texas a number of years ago when the same subject was under discussion. The reduction of acreage was generally being advocated and was in a measure successful the following year. A certain farmer heard of the proposed plan and at once resolved to double his acreage saying, "By Gosh, this is the year for me to plant cotton, when all the other fellers are cutting their'n." The moral of the story is that it shows us some peoples idea of cooperation.

CAMPAIGN OF INFORMATION

The things which we do not understand are the ones which fool us. It is easier to trust to luck than to acquire information.

A large part of human energy is expended in caring for the mistakes of others.

Poorhouses are filled because of waste, extravagance and ignorant spending.

Hospitals are filled because people disregard common rules of health and safety.

Courts are filled with those whose troubles are largely of their own making.

Asylums are filled because people knowingly break laws of health and nature.

Penitentiaries are filled with men who commit premeditated crimes.

To help eliminate much grief and suffering, industry is today carrying on educational campaigns to show people the folly of being uninformed, careless and indifferent to rules of health, business and safety.

Insurance companies are striving to show the irreparable waste of life and property which results from preventable fires and accidents.

Public utility companies have been leaders in safety-first campaigns in the home, on the street, and in the investment field where savings are spent.

Railroads are constantly working to eliminate grade crossing accidents.

In order to improve service and prevent delays in communication, telephone companies invite telephone users to call at the nearest central stations, and inspect the complicated system of wires and signals which are maintained to complete their telephone calls. An understanding of what telephone operations are doing would eliminate much of the impatience which telephone users too often exhibit.

And so it goes through a long list of industries, including lumbering, mining, manufacturing, etc. Private enterprise is endeavoring to prevent misinformation, and furnish reliable information to the public which has too often been uninformed about the commonest essentials of home and business life.

NEW MEX. APPLE PRODUCTION
A total apple production of 1,081,000 bushels for 1926, is indicated in a crop report issued by R. F. Hare at Las Cruces for October 1st, 1926. The 1925 production reached a total of 1,021,000 bushels, the 1926 forecast therefore, represents a gain of 60,000 bushels over the past year.

AN ODE TO AN O. K. PROOF

The Tucker Printing House, Jackson, Mississippi, contractors for a large part of the state printing of Mississippi, recently completed the voluminous tabulated financial report of the state auditor to the legislature assembled. On being advised by telephone that the job was free of error, J. Wofford Tucker felt so greatly relieved that he dedicated the following lines of verse to the auditor's department:

ODDS IS ODDS

Millions and billions of figures
 In columns that total much wealth
 Must be got just right by the printer
 Or it wouldn't be good for his health.

If he slips one single typelet
 There's the devil to pay all 'round.
 He might just as well do hari-kari
 And get in his hole in the ground.

There is just one chance in ten million
 That some one may say, "Old boy,
 There's not one error in it;
 It's a thing of beauty and joy."
 —Inland Printer.

TO GO WITH HOT CAKES

In making smoked sausage of country sausage, use the following ingredients in the proportions indicated.

- 85 pounds pork trimmings
- 15 pounds lean beef
- 2 pounds common salt
- 4 ounces black pepper
- 1 ounce red pepper

Cut the meat into small pieces, sprinkle seasoning over it, and then run through the grinder. Hold for 24 to 36 hours in a cool place and stuff in casings. Then smoke in hard-wood or corn-cob smoke until a dark mahogany color is obtained. Store in a cool place.

The meat may be all pork if desired, or the percentage of beef may be increased and additional seasoning such as one ounce of sweet marjoram, mace or sage may be used.

AL G. BARNES CIRCUS WILL VISIT ROSWELL AND CARLSBAD 25-26

Al. G. Barnes big four ring circus will exhibit afternoon and night at Roswell, Monday, October 25 and at Carlsbad, Tuesday, October 26.

The announcement of Al. G. Barnes four ring circus appears in this issue. The coming of this organization is welcome news, as the Al. G. Barnes circus is one that always presents a clean, wholesome and entertaining program.

This year, according to announcements, the circus has been greatly enlarged, and in addition to the all new spectacle of Pocahontas at the Court of Queen Anne with the enormous cast, selected from 1080 employees, other new features are: 180 horses in one big act, the Fez-Ton Tribe of Arabs from the Sahara Desert—their first visit to America, The Canton Troupe of Chinese Circus Artists, The Imperial Midget Family from Bavaria, Joe Martin (himself), the Giant Gorilla Man, Lotus, the only performing hippopotamus in the world, and the famous exclusive Al. G. Barnes feature—40 dancing horses and 40 dancing girls, and Al. G. Barnes appears in person at each performance.

Owing to the enormous size of the circus this year, the management announces that no street parade will be given in any city visited, however, in place of the omitted procession, a mammoth open air free exhibition will take place on the show grounds at 1:00 and 7:00 p. m., immediately preceding the opening of the doors to the circus, and the largest traveling menagerie in the world, comprising over 400 rare animals from all quarters of the earth.

The circus performance starts promptly at 2:00 and 8:00 p. m. Ample parking space for autos is reserved on the show grounds and a city ticket office, where numbered reserved chairs may be obtained at same price charged on the show grounds, is maintained in each city.

If the fund exceeds this year, the amount of these special scholarships probably double, and even the amount now available at the University of New Mexico, $1000, is to be divided into $500 each to two graduates in 1927 of New Mexico schools. The money is to be paid in installments to the two graduates while they are in the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque.

What is Leadership? It is the realization that in this age of easy publicity for street characters, it is either to designate or to designate of unusual body, in mind, and in spirit, while not dogmatic about the donor says he would like to be considered as a leader in modern life who drinks and the girl who does not know how to be at college unless it is for a reason.

REBEKAH PICNIC

Sunshine Rebekah Lodge No. 9, celebrated the 75th anniversary of the founding of that great order with an indoor picnic in the lodge room last Monday evening. The celebration was an informal affair, no set program being prepared but every one bent upon having a good social time. A supper of sandwiches, pie and coffee was served by the members.

ATTEBERY—SIMON

A very pretty home wedding occurred at eight o'clock on Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. J. R. Attebery, Sr., when Miss Virginia Attebery became the bride of Lloyd R. Simon. Rev. L. R. Simmons was the officiating minister, using the impressive ring ceremony.

The Attebery home was attractively decorated for the occasion in yellow and white; chrysanthemums, dahlias and ferns were banked in the white arch way under which the bridal party stood. Basket of flowers were placed about the living room and dining room and yellow shaded lights cast a soft radiance over the pleasing scene.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Fred Cole sang beautifully "Oh, Promise Me," by Clements Scott, with Miss Ruth Morgan at the piano. Promptly at eight o'clock the strains of Lohengrin wedding march were heard and the bridal party entered the room.

Miss Marjorie Wingfield, maid of honor, gowned in a yellow georgette frock, and carrying an arm bouquet of pink rose buds took her place at the archway. Next came the bride gowned in a beautiful white georgette frock and lovely point lace veil and carrying a shower bouquet of bride's roses and baby breath, leaning upon the arm of her brother, Richard Attebery, who gave her away.

She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, L. L. Harvey.

Following congratulations and best wishes to the happy couple, refreshments were served to the company

Mr. and Mrs. Simon left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip to various places of interest in the state.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. J. R. Attebery, Sr. and is a native of New Mexico, having been born and reared in Artesia and is a graduate of our high school, graduating in the class of '22.

She is charming and a very popular young lady and has many friends in the business as well as social world, as she has been with

FEDERATION MEETING

Artesia was well represented at the State Federation meeting at Carlsbad the past week. In addition to the club president, Mrs. Brainard, there were three state chairmen, Mrs. Corbin, of music, Mrs. Atkeson, conservation and natural resources and Mrs. A. D. Adams, law enforcement, who gave their reports. Mrs. Bigler was club delegate. The chorus, which Mrs. Corbin had been drilling for several weeks, appeared upon the program at the state concert Friday evening. The two selections given by the chorus, "Calm as the Night," by Bohm and "Rain," by Curran, were exceptionally well rendered and were generally well received by many one of the best numbers on the program. The chorus was composed of Mrs. Corbin, leader, Mesdames V. L. Gates, King, Lanning, Welton, Wheatley, Albert Richards, Hartell, Fred Cole, Miss Inez Jones, Miss Dorothy Reddy and Miss Flo Marshall, accompanist. Among other club members there for one or more sessions were Mesdames Ferree, Walter Ferriman, Alvinger and Stroup. Mrs. Elsie Fielding drove down with some of the club ladies on Friday. The meeting next year will be at Las Vegas.

the First National Bank three years.

The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Simon, of Haddam, Kansas and is a splendid young man, being held in high esteem by those who know him. He has a very responsible position with the Maljamar Oil Co.

The ceremony was witnessed by the bride's family and a few friends of the young couple, the guests being: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mann, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Landis Feather, Mr. and Mrs. Will Lineil, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seale, Mr. and Mrs. William McGinn, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Harvey, Mrs. W. W. ## STATE HIGHWAY ENGINEER FRENCH DIES LAST WEEK

SANTA FE.—State Highway Engineer James A. French died at the steering wheel of his automobile twenty miles from Encino at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon on the way home after looking over mining properties at Corona. E. T. Morton, of El Paso, who was with him stopped the car.

Death is believed to have been caused by apoplexy or heart trouble.

Mr. French was born at Washington, D. C., in 1866, and educated at public schools and Georgetown university there. For some time he was a draftsman and instrument man for the Union Pacific and Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroads on location in Colorado. Later he was assistant city engineer at Santa Barbara, California, which position he left to become an assistant on surveys in Alaska with the United States coast and geodetic surveys. In 1892-93 he was chief engineer of the Sunnyside irrigation canal north Yakima, Washington, and assistant engineer of the Colorado River Irrigation company's surveys. From 1894 to 1902 Mr. French served with the government engineering department at Washington, and in the latter year was assigned as engineer in charge of investigation on the Rio Grande and report on the Elephant Butte reclamation project in New Mexico. In 1904-06 he was assigned to the Shoshone dam and tunnel construction work at Cody, Wyoming. The following year he was reassigned to the Elephant Butte project in charge of all field work in New Mexico. This included diamond drill borings at Elephant Butte dam, Leasburg dam, and work in the Mesilla and El Paso valleys.

From 1912 to 1919, Mr. French, served as state engineer, New Mexico, and then retired to private construction work until 1923, when reappointed state engineer by former Governor James F. Hinkle. Governor Arthur T. Hannett reappointed Mr. French in 1925, which position he held at the time of his death.

Rev. and Mrs. Sinclair, Mrs. Jessie Morgan and Mrs. Reed Brainard drove up to Hagerman Tuesday to attend the funeral of Rev. Hughes, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who was killed in an automobile accident last Saturday at Dexter. Rev. Caughey, of Roswell, preached the funeral sermon. Rev. Hughes was the Grand Sentinel of the Masonic Lodge.

LAKE ARTHUR ITEMS (Mrs. Alva Spence, Reporter)

Miss M. S. Bailey spent the week end at the home of her parents in Artesia.

D. A. Goode has been quite sick for the past few days, but is better at present.

S. M. Morris, of Taiban, is relieving agent Sims, while he is away on his vacation.

Quite a number of Lake Arthur people attended the Cotton Carnival recently held in Roswell.

Bob Rowan and Fred Hines went to Carlsbad last Thursday, where Mr. Rowan underwent a tonsillitis operation.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Sims left last week for Big Lake Texas, where they went to visit Mr. McKinney and family.

C. W. Bartlett, of Artesia, has quite a number of music pupils here, and will teach here regularly every Tuesday.

Mrs. Lillard Johnson and family left Saturday for McCamey, Texas, where she goes to join her husband, who is working there.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Jackson returned last week from an extended overland trip to Memphis, Tennessee, Hot Springs, Arkansas and Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Miss Leona Nichols entertained a number of her friends at the home of her parents last week, with a social. Those fortunate enough to be present report a jolly evening of fun.

Rev. Moon and wife, of Hope, were in town Sunday and Rev. Moon delivered an excellent sermon at the Methodist church. Rev. Moon was returned to this charge by the conference.

By way of explanation, we wish to say that your Lake Arthur reporter was called out of town on business and just returned, hence the reason for no news from Lake Arthur for the past two weeks.

Miss Bradford, of east Texas, came in last week and accepted a position in the Lake Arthur high school. This increases our number of teachers to eight at present, and they all seem quite busy.

Mrs. Clyde Nihart entertained a number of little friends of her children, George and Mary, last week, with a party. The usual games and frolic were indulged in after which the usual refreshments became evident, and needless to state the youngsters had a delightful time.

Mrs. Ned Hedges entertained a number of little folks last Wednesday afternoon, honoring the sixth birthday of Dicky. Quite a few little presents were received. Jolly out-door games were played and "eats" were served in profusion, and a most delightful time enjoyed by the little tots.

Several citizens of Lake Arthur attended the sad funeral of Rev. Hughes last Tuesday afternoon at Hagerman. A sad gloom spread

In the Kitchen with 6 Famous Cooks

FOUR DELICIOUS CAKES FROM FOUR CORNERS OF THE UNITED STATES

(Ed. Note: This is one of a special series of articles contributed by 6 Famous Cooks. Their recipes are "different." Cut them out and paste them in your cook book.)

Who ever heard of a family without at least one "cake-eating" member? It's pretty certain that such a household doesn't exist. Usually there are several folks clamoring for cake and more cake. It's the one food which seldom has "left-overs."

It's also one of the foods which can be made just as rich or just as plain as the cook wants to make it.

MARGARET ALLEN HALL

For the Chocolate Fans

Rich Devil's Food Cake with Laplander frosting is a cake which appeals especially to those who like chocolate. Miss Margaret Allen Hall, nutrition expert at the Battle Creek College of Home Economics, gives this as her favorite recipe:

- 1/2 cup butter
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup milk
- 4 eggs
- 2 cups flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 cup chopped nuts
- 2 squares chocolate.

Cream the butter with one cup of sugar. Beat egg yolks, add the other cup sugar, beat until creamy. Combine the two mixtures. Sift baking powder with flour and add to creamed mixture alternately with the milk. Add melted chocolate and nuts, and fold in egg whites. Bake in deep pan, or in layers. Cover with Laplander frosting.

Laplander Frosting

- 1 egg
  - 1 cup sugar
  - 2 squares chocolate cut fine
  - 2 tablespoons milk
  - 2 tablespoons butter
  - 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- Beat the egg, add milk, butter, sugar and chocolate. Cook slowly over flame, stirring constantly. When mixture comes to a boil, remove from fire, add vanilla and beat until thick enough to spread.

For the Children

Mrs. Sarah Tyson Rorer, the Philadelphia cooking expert, has an excellent recipe for a soft molasses cake. "Give the children as much as they want," says Mrs. Rorer. "It's wholesome and nourishing."

Here is Mrs. Rorer's recipe: Dissolve one teaspoonful of baking soda in two tablespoonfuls of warm water. Add one cupful New Orleans molasses, a quarter of a pound of melted butter, one cupful of boiling water, and one tablespoonful of ground ginger. Add three cupfuls of pastry flour and beat until smooth. Bake in a shallow pan on upper rack in a medium oven for about 30 minutes.

This may be served with whipped cream as a delicious dessert.

Use Bananas, Too

Bananas flavor this delicious cake recommended by Mrs. Kate Brew Vaughn, Los Angeles cooking expert. The ingredients are:

- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup mashed bananas
- 4 tablespoons sour milk
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup chopped walnut meats

Cream sugar and shortening, add the beaten eggs. Dissolve soda in sour milk and add. Sift flour, baking powder, and salt together and add. Mix well, and add nuts. Pour into two greased and floured cake tins. Bake in oven 350 degrees F. for 25 minutes. Ice with banana whip.

1 banana
1 cup granulated sugar
1 egg white

Put all three ingredients in a bowl. With a Dover egg beater whip until mixture is of the consistency of stiffly beaten whipped cream.

Sunshine Prune Cake

Mrs. Belle DeGraf, San Francisco, home economics counselor, contributes her recipe for Sunshine Prune Cake.

- 2 eggs
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 cup milk or water
- 1/2 cup melted shortening
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 teaspoon lemon

Sift dry ingredients, except sugar; beat eggs until very light, add sugar gradually, beating with egg beater. When creamy, add dry ingredients alternately with liquid, mixing well. Add flavoring and melted shortening. Pour batter in a shallow, well greased pan, cover top with pitted uncooked prunes, placing the fruit in even rows, sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. Bake in a moderate oven.

It's Worth It

Every housewife who uses an oil stove should devote five minutes to it each morning, filling the reservoir and wiping off the wicks. This care insures perfect flame and no soot or odor.

Vegetable Cookery

In cooking vegetables use as little water as possible. Have it boiling when the vegetables are put in otherwise the vitamins, salts, and flavor are lost.

CHICKEN DINNER AT MALJAMAR HOTEL

The chicken dinner given Sunday by the promoters of the new town of Maljamar in Lea county was a decided success and a most sumptuous meal was spread to a number of

FOR THE

New Perfection Stove

Is cake baking really difficult?

"Not when you have the right stove," say six famous cooks.

There is no reason why cake-making should be less successful than any other cooking operation—when the cook can depend upon her stove.

THAT is the statement of six famous cooks who have just completed a practical cooking test of the Perfection Stove. All six agreed in praising the Perfection highly for its baking ability, as well as for its general performance.

"Speaking of cakes, half the making is in the baking," said Miss Rosa Michaelis, New Orleans, domestic science specialist.

Delicate Angel Food

"An even temperature must be maintained while an angel food and other cakes are baking," added Miss Margaret A. Hall, nutrition expert of the Battle Creek College of Home Economics. "When I baked cakes in the Perfection oven I used a standard, portable oven thermometer as a check. The flame did not creep or crawl. You can depend on the Perfection flame to remain as you set it."

"My orange cakes and devil's foods were delicious," commented Mrs. Kate B. Vaughn, household economics director, Los Angeles Evening Express. "The air circulation in the Perfection oven seems perfect. All excess moisture was carried away."

"It's the 'live heat' of the Perfection Oven which brings such good results," said Mrs. Rorer, famous Philadelphia cook.

"The Perfection oven is so roomy that there is room for several cakes at a time," said Mrs. Belle DeGraf, San Francisco. "And, through the glass door of the oven you can see just how they are baking. No need to open the door and lose any heat."

Miss Lucy G. Allen, of the Boston School of Cookery, commented on the visible oil supply. "You can see," she remarked, "whether you have enough for your cooking. If not, it's easy to refill the Perfection reservoir without soiling your hands."

High Praise

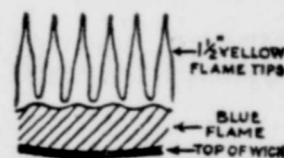

These are just a few of Perfection's good baking points which the six expert cooks praised highly. You will find many others when you bake on a Perfection. It's the stove which proves cake-baking is not difficult.

"You can see when the glass reservoir tank needs refilling, and refill it without getting a drop of oil on your fingers," says Miss Allen.

ON BEING GOOD

Complaints continue t' pour in on Constable Newt Plum settin' forth th' awful up hill task o' bein' good these days. These communications come from ever' walk in life, from mothers an' fathers, an' boys an' girls, an' from men around fifty-five. They tell o' snares an' pitfalls, an' all sorts o' temptations that jest seem t' be planted under their very noses t' steer 'em off th' straight an' narrow course. They assume that there's a gigantic conspiracy on foot t' send ever'buddy straight t' th' devil, an' they want somethin' done about it. Constable Plum admits that there's a wave o' demoralization sweepin' o'er th' country that threatens t' engulf th' nation, but he says that all he kin do t' curb th' trend o' th' times is t' close a soft drink place now an' then, an' that th' ramifications o' th' wave extend in ever' direction t' places he don't dare t' bother. In commentin' on th' free an' easy condition o' things, Rev. Wiley Tanger has this t' say: "Th' wave o' debauchery that's sweepin' th' country t'day is largely psychological, a state o' mind. If th' weak an' slippin' 'll jest foller this simple rule they'll survive th' wave with flyin' colors. It's not nearly so troublesome as rollin' off flesh. It's not painful like havin' the face lifted, an' you're not out a cent. It's simply this, in th' mornin' when you git awake, say, 'I will be good, I will be good.' placin' lots o' emphasis on will. It may be whispered, or mumbled, or spoken aloud. Don't confuse it with Dr. Coue's 'I'm bet-

When you're in a hurry you kin jest say, 'I will be good,' instead o' sayin' 'I will be good, I will be good,' however, sayin' it twice sounds more determined. It won't hurt t' switch occasionally t' 'I won't foller th' crowd, I won't foller th' crowd.' 'I will be good, I will be good' sounds so easy an' simple that many'll question its effectiveness, but a few years' trial 'll prove its worth, unless one is absolutely depraved. If th' little

LAUREL GRAY
LOVE GOSSIP

Girls love settled men. Even the most sentimental romance may flourish within the influence of a materialism which has to do with such common place things as savings bank accounts, a houseful of furniture all paid for, and a sense of responsibility. There is no doubt that poverty has brought more romances into nose dives and tail spins than any other flaw. It is not enough that a man supply bread and butter; these are days of frosted cake and lamb chops for luncheon. Girls have not changed since days of yore, but society's customs and ideas have certainly changed; you have to play the game according to the rules if you would be happy in marriage. A settled man has taken into consideration the demands of the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker before he has thought of romance. The settled man has "grabbed off" a good job and has decided to do all his roving via "Robinson Crusoe" and "Two Years Before the Mast." (If he hasn't read both he hasn't read anything!) Settled men may not enjoy the thrills which the aimless wanderer finds but there is a real thrill in knowing that you are safe in the love of a woman and unaffected by the whims of fortune. Settled men are about the best risk a girl can undertake. Girls love settled men.

KIRKLAND IS FREED OF MURDER CHARGE

Tom Kirkland, San Jose store-keeper, was freed of a charge of murder when the jury returned a verdict of not guilty, about eleven o'clock Wednesday night. He was charged with the murder of a Mexican youth, Alberto Cervantes.

The case was called Tuesday morning, as set by Judge Kiker, of the eighth judicial district, who is presiding for Judge Brice over the regular October term of court. District Attorney Dover Phillips and his assistant, Curtis Hill, represented the state, while E. P. Bujac represented the defense.

The state's case, briefly summed up, charged that Kirkland shot Cervantes late on the night of June 27th, when Cervantes and two companions knocked on his door for the purpose of awakening him to buy some gasoline. The young men were going to Malaga, and did not have sufficient gasoline, and stopped to make the purchase. The state's testimony was an effort to show that Kirkland shot without provocation, with the intent to kill.

The defense was based upon the same statement made by Kirkland at the time of the killing—that the gun was discharged accidentally. Kirkland at that time stated he asked the boys to go away, and that he was not going to open his store, but that the knockers continued to annoy him, and when he opened the door, the young Mexican started to come in, when he struck at him with the gun and it was discharged, shooting Cervantes in the head and causing immediate death. Kirkland has been at liberty on bond.

Miguel Martinez and Eulalio Salgado were sentenced to forty-five days of hard labor and fines of $50 and costs each yesterday afternoon, when the jury found them guilty of assault and battery. The case was appealed from justice court, and they were charged with "beating up" Federico Leos. The judge asked that the "hard labor" be found for them.

The jury returned their verdict about 4:30 yesterday afternoon, and this completed criminal matters before the court, which is now sitting

WRECKED FELLOWSHIP

It used to be when supper things were washed and put away
And the red glow of the grate-fire would warm the closing day,
A friend or two who knew my ways and liked my easy chairs
Would drop in for a visit. And we'd spread our mental wares
Each for the other's seeing, or we'd sit a while and smoke;
And I have known long evenings through which neither of us spoke;
But now they never drop around when day has turned to gloam;
Or, if they chance to drop around, they never find me home.

Or when sometimes I hike along the street and reach their shack
And try the knob of their front door, I grunt and amble back;
For always their house stands at night forbirringly, and stark,
Like a ghost of the used-to-be up-risen from the dark
With windows like dead eyes in the blank wall confronting me,
And seeming to look out at me—yet seeming not to see;
So I am glad to gather up my folks and hike away,
The world I know today is not the world of yesterday.

Sometimes I meet up with the friends I used to know of yore,
But we know contemplative nights by the grate fire no more;
Sometimes my telephone will ring and someone asks for me,
Then someone will say: "Say, my size is thirty-three by three;
Can you lend me an inner tube?"
And I will answer back:
"I haven't got an idle one. Can you lend me a jack?"
And that's our only interchange of speech—that kind of bunk!
The fellowship of days of old has been rammed, jammed and sunk.

PHILOSOGRI

Sometimes my shoes hurt my fat feet until I want to howl, until I want to meet the world with a forbidding scowl; but before I scowl or growl or fuss or raise a mournful plaint I look to see if they're on right; and then I find they ain't. The right shoe is on the wrong foot, so I change them about; and then I kiss my neighbor's wife and go cake-walking out.

How to Play BRIDGE

A new series of lessons by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright 1926, by Hoyie, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 1

The writer has often referred to the charm of the unexpected at auction. When you think you have an invincible hand, a bad "break" surprises and disconcerts you and you only make one or two odd. On the other hand, the game has its compensation, for how often does an apparently worthless hand turn out to be a big winner? Very often the one picture card in the hand is just the one to make your partner's hand invincible, and so turn apparent defeat to an unexpected victory. "Never say die" is just as good a motto for auction bridge as for anything else. Here is a good example of the hopeless hand turning out to be a winner. Z dealt and held the following hand:

Hearts — Q, 4, 2
Clubs — 8, 7, 5, 2
Diamonds — 10, 7, 6
Spades — 7, 3, 2

Naturally he passed, and probably with the thought: "Here goes game." His partner, however, had a most remarkable hand:

Hearts — A, J, 9, 8, 7, 5, 3
Clubs — none
Diamonds — none
Spades — A, Q, J, 10, 9, 5

The bid finally reached five hearts, was doubled and Z's partner redoubled. He just made the bid, losing only one spade and one heart trick. Z's one face card, the queen of hearts, saved the day, and Z's hand which looked so hopeless really contained the element of victory. Never despair and never give up a rubber until your opponents actually win it. Until they do, there is always hope and that is what makes auction bridge the greatest of card games.

In preceding articles the writer has often referred to the 4-4-1 type of hand and strongly advised an effort to find a suit bid with such a hand, one that best fits in with the partner's hand. Here are two good examples:

Hand No. 1
Hearts — A, Q, 8, 6
Clubs — K, 8, 4, 2

Problem No. 1
Hearts — Q, 5, 4, 3, 2
Clubs — A, K, 8
Diamonds — A, K, 6
Spades — 10, 9

Hearts — A, J, 9, 8, 7

No score, first game. Z dealt and bid one spade. A passed, Y bid one no-trump, B passed and Z bid two spades. All passed and A opened the ace of hearts. He then played the queen of spades. How can Z so play the hand that he can win the balance of the tricks against any defense? Solution in the next article.

HEALTH NEWS

The county health unit has inspected the grammar schools of Carlsbad, San Jose, and Hope and the entire school at Loving. More than 80 per cent of the Carlsbad and Hope children have one or more defects. At Loving, the record is some better; only about two thirds have defects. These defects consist of enlarged tonsils, defective teeth or vision, underweight, bad posture and a few heart lesions.

There are about one third of the children that have been examined that are ten per cent or more underweight.

The Artesia school is being inspected this week. In many parts of the United States, teachers and parents are taking steps to correct these defects and underweight children are being brought up to normal.

No score, rubber game. Z dealt, bid one no-trump and A passed. What should Y bid? Y should undoubtedly bid two hearts. This type of hand, 4-4-4-1, is seldom suitable for no-trump, so overbid your partner's no-trump with that one of the four card suits which offers the best possibilities. In this case, the heart suit is fairly strong and should be bid.

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one spade. A passed and Y bid one no-trump. If B passed, what should Z now bid? Z should bid two hearts. If Y cannot help the spade bid, he should have good help for hearts and a game is very possible. On the other hand, if Z passes and lets Y play the hand at no-trump, his opponents may run off five diamonds and so save game. With this type of hand, 4-4-4-1, try to find the suit bid that best fits the combined hands. If you do, you nearly always score game. Hands with this type of distribution come up very frequently, several times in an evening's play, so if you know how to handle them you will make many a game not otherwise possible.

It is not often that a good fifty-two card problem is presented but here is one just from England and it certainly is a teaser. Try your luck, but if you cannot solve it don't be discouraged, for it will puzzle the great majority of players

RUTH WINS CHEVROLET

Babe Ruth not only won everlasting base ball renown with his trio of home run swats in the fourth game of the world series played in St. Louis, but he also won a Chevrolet.

One of the circuit clouds crashed through the plate glass window of an automobile salesroom near the Cardinal park and bounded off the side of a Chevrolet coupe on display inside. In acknowledgement of his feat the Bambino was presented with the coupe. The picture shows him beside the car, holding the home run base ball.

"Times have changed," said Ruth with a broad grin. "Some years ago it would have been a serious offense for any of us to break a window with a base ball. Now it brings a new automobile."

White Birth Rate Declines

Statisticians have agreed that the birth rate among whites in the world is steadily decreasing, but this is offset to some extent by the decrease also in the death rate among whites. It is estimated that the best that can be expected in a falling death rate, however, is that the average length of life will be raised to 65 years.

BUYS STATE LEASE

John L. Zimmerman, chief clerk of the state land office, was down from Santa Fe yesterday, and made sale at nine o'clock of potash and sodium leases on two tracts of state land, east of Carlsbad. The purchaser was Mrs. Frances E. Nixon, formerly vice chairman of the state democratic central committee, now a real estate operator. Mrs. Nixon was here with her niece, Miss Helen Sela Hite, also of Santa Fe.—Carlsbad Current.

DEMOCRATIC SPEAKING

 ernment was 444,000 and in 1926 the number had been increased to 562,000. There is now one person in every ten in the employment of the government, he stated.

Republicans were given credit for the reduction of the income tax, Congressman Morrow declared, but the bill first originated with the democrats in the house. You have also heard much about Secretary Mellon's plan to reduce the taxes. It reduces the taxes, but the big man gets the benefit, he said. The proposal of Secretary Mellon in 1926 to further reduce the taxes is on the same order, he declared.

According to Congressman Morrow the percentage of votes cast in New Mexico is one of the highest in the nation, totaling 67 per cent. The Spanish American vote in the state amounts to 87 per cent. The Spanish American vote represents 47 per cent of the state's full voting strength and the Anglo American's vote represents 53 per cent of the total voting strength of the state. "It can be readily seen that the east side of the state can swing the tide, if the vote is cast," declared the speaker.

Referring to the democratic national administration under Wilson, Congressman Morrow stated that $1,500,000 was spent in investigating the administration when Harding went in, but no scandal resulted.

The speaker discussed the situation of the farmer. "The farmer, gets less return on his investment than any other class of business, he said. The average income of the clerk is $1,250 per year, the railroad employees earn an average of $1,750 per year, while the farmer gets only an average of $750 per year. There are 31,500,000 people on the farms today, he stated. "His $1.00 has a purchasing power of less than 60 cents today."

One statement of particular interest made by Mr. Morrow was the fact that the representatives from the state of New York alone can over vote the combined representatives of the states west of Kansas. The speaker said that during the past session of congress at Wash-ington there were 19,000 bills introduced. A total of 896 bills were passed and approved. New Mexico got 30 of these bills "And yet the republicans will tell you that the democrats have lost their influence in congress."

Referring to his own state, Congressman Morrow declared that New Mexico was one of the greatest mineral states in the union. "There is more coal land in the state than in in any other states with the exception of Colorado and Montana," he said. "Congressman from the western states will see to it that the people get title to the school lands."

During the latter part of his address Congressman Morrow paid a high tribute to the late James French, state highway engineer. He stated that Mr. French was regarded as the best road builder in the west and had assisted in bringing up the standard of good roads in New Mexico, as attested by the fact that the state now ranks eighth in the construction of highways. "Where you find cotton, you find democrats," the Congressman said. Mr. Morrow closed his address with an appeal to his hearers to vote the democratic ticket. "We want every democrat to vote" he said.

OIL FIELD NOTES

Fifty-seven at Sunday school October 17. Yes, we are growing.
 Mr. Granb, our grocerman, was a Roswell visitor last Thursday and Friday.

Jimmie Markham, who accidentally shot himself in the left hand, is improving rapidly.

Harp orchestra entertained our community Sunday afternoon. Had a large audience and good singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Looney left this week for McCamey, Texas, where Mr. Looney will work in the oil field.

Miss Frances Markham substituted as primary teacher during the absence of Miss Ruth Smith one day last week.

Miss Frances Markham, accompanied by her mother, and two girl friends, spent Saturday in Roswell, where they attended the Carnival.

The people of Illinois camp were entertained Saturday night at the beautiful ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Angell. The evening was spent in dancing and everybody reports a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Keso attended the Carnival at Roswell Friday. They have sold their home here to a family from Illinois and will leave for their ranch in Union county soon.

Miss Ruth Smith was badly burned when her school room gas stove exploded. However, by means of "first aid" and the kindness of the ladies of Illinois camp, she was able to resume her duties the following day.

Leland Wittkopp entertained the little kindergartners on his fourth birthday, October 19th. A number of games were played under the direction of their teacher and all reported a pleasant time, voting a wish of many happy returns of the day.

Mrs. James, who returned to her home in Oklahoma, reports terrible floods from that state. Water was over the telephone and telegraph poles and one small town entirely washed away. She was delayed two days on her trip and wishes she were back with us.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By E. R. Waite

THAT the man who earns his money in the city where he lives and spends it in some other city is no citizen.

THAT the man who sends his money away from home and then expects his home city to prosper is a candidate for the "Bug House" and the sooner he goes there the better off the home city will be.

THAT the man who helps to build a city other than the one he lives in is a liability, not an asset.

THAT every citizen should be a booster for better business for the home city.

THAT they should help to keep their city on the map in capital letters.

THAT the citizens who think a city can be built without cooperation are just dreaming.

THAT for a city to grow all citizens must be loyal to the home city and keep their dollars working at home.

THAT if nobody pays any attention to the needs of the home city and everybody just paddles their own canoe, its good bye business and good bye any hopes for the home city.

The city that pays attention to community growth, makes the most of its natural resources, keeps up its appearance and helps in the development of its trade territory gets somewhere.

An unattractive looking city hasn't half a chance.

In order to instill home pride and attract new industries, a city should keep dressed up, a good front goes a long way.

SOLDIERS' PAYMENTS IN STATE $176,000 DURING SEPTEMBER

The United States Veterans' bureau spent $191,929.66 in this territory during the month of September, according to R. R. Gibson, regional director. Of this amount $176,700 was distributed as compensation payments to former soldiers. The latter figure represents an increase of $12,238.70 over the previous month and is due largely to retroactive adjustments according to Mr. Gibson.

Fall Presents Frocks Richly Embroidered

Dear to the hearts of Americans are those clever, unpretentious frocks for informal afternoon wear that prove themselves so adaptable. Made of dark-colored or black satin, they are brightened with embroidery in colored silk, sparingly used, and elaborated a little with dainty neck and sleeve finishings.

Good taste and good health demand sound teeth and sweet breath.

The use of Wrigley's chewing gum after every meal takes care of this important item of personal hygiene in a delightful, refreshing way — by clearing the teeth of food particles and by helping the digestion.

The result is a sweet breath that shows care for one's self and consideration for others — both marks of refinement.

INSURANCE RATES ARE REDUCED HERE FOR ANOTHER YEAR

A substantial reduction in fire insurance rates is now applicable to practically all classes of business and dwelling houses in Artesia. The new published rates for Artesia, recently completed by the Rocky Mountain States Inspection Bureau of Denver, Colorado, will mean a saving of approximately 20 per cent over the present rate in practically all of the ratings listed.

The rate on shingle roof frame dwellings, with no exposures was formerly 70 cents per $100.00. This rate has been reduced from 70 cents to 59 cents. Rates on business properties, while applicable to the individual buildings have been reduced approximately 20 per cent. In some instances the reduction has been greater, frame business buildings will probably receive less benefit from the new rate than either dwellings or brick business houses.

TO ESTABLISH NEWSPAPER PLANT AT ALAMOGORDO

J. R. Hoffman, who returned Saturday from Alamogordo, announces that he has completed arrangements for the installation of a newspaper plant at that city. Mr. Hoffman recently purchased the newspaper plant at Tularosa and plans to move the equipment to Alamogordo, where he will assume his duties on the first of next month.

Mr. Hoffman is enthusiastic over the general prospects of that section and believes that Alamogordo is just now entering into a period of prosperity.

Mr. Hoffman is the former owner and editor of the Advocate. Previously to his residence in the Pecos Valley, he published the Harper Advocate at Harper, Kansas. The newspaper game, is therefore, not a new venture for him. The best wishes of the Advocate go with him to his new home.

NEW PUBLISHERS FOR HAGERMAN MESSENGER

Messrs. Stanley Stigler and Usery of Roswell have taken over the publication of the Hagerman Messenger, according to a statement appearing in the Messenger last week. Both of these gentlemen are experienced newspaper men. Mr. Stigler is the former owner and editor of the State Line Tribune at Farwell, Texas. Mr. Usery has been connected with a commercial printing plant at Roswell until recently.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN

A cross country run will be one of the new features of the inter-scholastic track meet of the class A, Eddy county schools, according to advices from Carlsbad. The original arrangement was to the effect that this event was to be staged between Carlsbad and Artesia, however, later information has it that Hope will join in the annual cross country run.

Henry Kennedy arrived in Artesia this morning from Brunswick, Missouri, where he has been attending a school of pharmacy and assumed his former position as pharmacist at the Mann Drug Co.

ANOTHER REDUCTION ANNOUNCED ON ALL CHEVROLET MODELS

Another reduction in the price of Chevrolet cars has been recently announced by the factory. The new price means a substantial saving and is a new price record set by the manufacturer of a three speed car. The following prices are effective here: Coupe and coach, $795.00, touring and roadster, $647.50, sedan $892.00, landau $932.00, truck $665.00.

New models are now on display at the authorized Chevrolet agency, Lowrey Keyes Auto Co.

GIN CHARGES REDUCED

Effective Thursday, the gins at Dexter, Greenfield and Hagerman made a substantial reduction in the price of ginning, it was learned here. The reduction amounts to 10 cents per hundred and the price was cut from 50 to 40 cents. The slump in the cotton market is given as the primary cause. Some are of the opinion that other gins in the valley will follow suit, but the final outcome is not known at this writing.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

The Christian Science Society of Artesia announces a free lecture on Christian Science by Dr. John M. Tutt, C. S. B., of Kansas City, Missouri, member of the board of lecturership of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, at the Majestic Theatre, 310 West Main street, Sunday afternoon, October 24, 1926, at 3:15 o'clock. You and your friends are cordially invited.

A WORD OF APPRECIATION

The Woman's Club desires to publicly express its thanks to Mr. Frank Miller, who so kindly donated the use of his building for the Educational Art Exhibit, to the Advocate, and also to Mr. Bartlett, manager of the Majestic theatre, for advertising the same. Without their kindly co-operation the exhibit could not have been successfully carried on.

REPRIEVE FOR DOOMED MAN

Governor Hannett Monday granted Price Clements a stay of execution, postponing the date set for his hanging until December 3. The supreme court's order fixed October 29 as the date, but the governor wanted more time to investigate the case before deciding whether he will commute the sentence to life imprisonment. Governor Hannett plans to hold a hearing of interested parties before acting in the case.

SCOUT MEETING

An interesting Boy Scout meeting was held at the Baptist church Friday evening at 7:30. Fourteen members were present. After a short business session the boys enjoyed a number of games, before going home.

ASSIGNED TO ARTESIA

The Reverend George W. Palmer, late of the Porto Rico missionary fields, has been assigned to the Episcopal parish, comprising Artesia and Carlsbad. He will hold services at Carlsbad Sunday morning and at Artesia 7:30 in the evening.

JUNIOR HIGH BULLDOGS TAKE FAST GAME FROM LOVINGTON--28 TO 19

In a football game, respondent with thrills, the "Little Bulldogs" of Junior High Saturday afternoon clawed their way to a brilliant 25 to 19 victory over the Lovington Hi team. It was an offensive battle all the way through, both sides carrying the ball with great dexterity but neither being able to hold the other consistently for downs.

Junior Hi scored first, early in the first quarter on a fumble but the play seemed to arouse the fighting spirit of the Lovington boys and they were hard to head for the remainder of the game, scoring three touchdowns with one point after touchdown for their total. Their best efforts, however, could not match the offensive strength and the dogged determination of the "little Red Granges" in the Junior Hi backfield or the stellar end play of "Yellow" Rogers who grabbed a beautiful twenty-five yard pass out of the air and raced almost to the goal-line before he was downed from behind by a faster man on the opposing side.

With the two clubs alternating with their touchdowns, the game was intensely interesting from a spectators viewpoint and was a creditable exhibition of the art of carrying the pigskin.

Officials for the contest were: Washam (Baylor); Umpire, Priest (Superior); Headlinesman, Mehrens.

FOOTBALL HERE FRIDAY

Friday afternoon at three-thirty on Main field, football fans of this city will have an opportunity to witness the Artesia High Bulldogs in action for the second time this season, when they clash with the formidable Portales Lobos. The Portales club is especially anxious to take the measure of the home boys and a great battle is expected.

Attorney J. B. Atkeson has just received notice of the decision of the state supreme court in the case of Luella Buel versus the Kansas City Life Insurance Co., in which the decision of the lower court was affirmed. It will have a far reaching effect and will undoubtedly be of interest to many of the local people. The case was tried at Carlsbad some years ago. The suit arose over the double indemnity clause for accidental death. Evidence connected with the death of Mr. Buel was to the effect that the cause of his demise was due to alkali poison. Both the lower court and supreme court held that death due from alkali poison was accidental and therefore the beneficiary was entitled to the double indemnity clause.

This case had been pending with the supreme court for two years. J. B. Atkeson was the attorney for the beneficiary and Reid, Dow, Hill and Hervey the attorneys for the Kansas City Life Insurance Company.
