ARTESIA, NEW MEXICO, THURSDAY, MARCH 3, 1927

NUMBER 11

Lakes Property is sold to Fort North Men

Price Figured On
Per Barrel—First
From The Malja-
in Lea County.

Brothers of Fort Worth, purchased the interest in the Lakes property in the SW 1/4 Sec. 28-18-25, this consisting of 200 acres and the most complete pumping equipment. The purchase was made on a basis of $1,000.00 a barrel and was a good buy, as the property is making better barrels daily. It is expected more wells will be drilled on the property, thus offsetting the loss to the north. The price for the state of the property for the week ending March 1st, showed the Artesia well made slightly better barrels, the Kattlesnake 2,765 barrels and the Hogear 810 barrels, making a total of 3,575 barrels. These prices will be materially in excess of the current month as the Artesia well completed their fourth well in the Maljamar field in the north, forty-five miles east of the town of Artesia. The well has a capacity of 5,000 barrels and connects with the Artesia well at Dayton, eight miles east of here. The Artesia Oil Co., have completed the well in the Artesia field, in the No. 8 on the Toomile in SE 1/4 Section 28-18-25, shot from 2,045 to 2,985 feet, with 2,139 with 900 thousand feet of oil was produced from the 8-inch hole, a few thousand feet and the well will produce a type of pumper for that well side of this field, the Dave Compton are making time on the five wells of which give indications of good production from the field. Many are of the opinion that the production will trend north and as a geological work is being done on this side of the Pecos county, considerable discoveries are being experienced due to the Artesia Oil & Gas Co. picking up salt and sulphur water from 3,853 feet. The hole is about 600 feet and the Artesia well in the Beeson well in Section 16-17-32, which is seven miles from the Artesia well. Samples of the water were turned over to the state for analysis and compared with samples from the Beeson, the Maljamar and the Ohio wells. The well in the Beeson well is being plugged as it has been working in a well. It is likely the 13 wells encountered above will also have shown in the No. 1 Grace Mitchell 5-17-32 at a depth of 6,000 feet. It is the opinion of the state geologists that this water is from the bottom of the Artesia well broken through the bottom of the Artesia well. The hole is being plugged while a test is being made. The Artesia company's No. 1 state well in Section 16-17-32 has been plugged and yesterday made a well of 86 barrels. As this well is shown for as much production as the discovery well, 600 barrels, it will probably be a few feet deeper in the Artesia well.

THE PAVING ON SOUTH FIRST STREET TO BE WIDENED TO 60 FEET

In addition to paving twenty-three blocks in the business and residential section of Artesia, Contractors Tibbetts and Pleasant are also fulfilling a contract to widen South First street from Main to Quay. The street already traversed by a concrete slab will be widened to sixty feet.

The widening of South First street one block will be financed in the same manner as the additional block on North First street and is not included in the original program.

BOND ELECTION TO BE CALLED TO ERECT A $50,000 SCHOOL BLDG.

Plans Call for Old Central Building to be Torn Down and Erection of Modern Structure with Complete Gymnasium.

A petition was circulated the latter part of the week, calling for an election to vote bonds to the amount of $50,000 for the purpose of tearing down and rebuilding the Central school building. This action was not unexpected to those who are in close touch with the school affairs of Artesia, as it has been known for some time that the condition of the central school building was a public menace.

The building has been condemned, but to meet an emergency situation, the services of a contractor are called each week to inspect and report the condition of the building. This is a matter of precaution to insure the safety of the school children. If the bond election is successful, the old building will be torn down and the materials will be used in the erection of a modern building, which will contain an assembly room and a gymnasium combined. The new structure will not only contain all of the modern equipment, but will provide a spacious auditorium and (Continued on last page, column 4)

IRL L. ALLISON WILL LECTURE AT A. H. S. ON MONDAY EVENING

Artesia will have an unusual opportunity to hear something out of the ordinary along artistic lines on next Monday evening when Irl L. Allison, noted musician and novelist, appears at the high school auditorium under the auspices of the school. Mr. Allison is generally conceded by critics to be one of the best piano artists in America today. He is head of the music department of Montezuma college at Las Vegas, New Mexico. He received his training under some of the most outstanding music masters in the country. The invariable comment of those who hear him perform is that he is "wonderful." This is not altogether due to his matchless technique but is traceable to his magnetic personality and a unique comradeship which he develops with his audience.

Though Mr. Allison is a young man, he has accomplished fame along other lines besides music. He is very much talked of by the press for his recent novel "Through the Years," whose setting is in New Mexico. He is now preparing another novel whose scene is to be the wonderful Carlsbad Caverns, the title being "Carl of the Caverns." His appearance here is purely one of entertainment. Interspersed with his musical program will be motion pictures of some of the beautiful scenery of northern New Mexico and some slides of the Caverns. One unique feature of the program is his short description of his experiences with the Pentitents, a

LEE DE AUTREMONT DIES IN HOSPITAL AT SAN ANGELO TUESDAY

Lee DeAutremont, age about 22 years, a former resident of Lakewood, died in a hospital at San Angelo, Texas, Tuesday morning as a result of a bullet wound received at Crossett, Texas, Friday afternoon at a late hour. Details surrounding the tragedy are not fully known, however, it is understood that the shooting was accidental. DeAutremont was an employee of the Crossett Drug Co., and at the time of the accident was in the rear of the drug store with several companions, when one of his companions attempted to remove a revolver from behind the counter, the hammer of the gun struck the top of the counter and in some manner discharged. The bullet entered DeAutremont's body near the right hip and ranged up through his abdomen emerging about three inches from the hip on the opposite side.

He was rushed to a hospital in San Angelo and given medical aid. His mother, Mrs. Belle DeAutremont of Lakewood, was notified by a telephonic communication received at Dayton, shortly after the accident and left for San Angelo by auto. She was at the bedside of her son when he died.

Lee DeAutremont was at one time a student in the Artesia High school and was well known here. He also attended high school at Carlsbad. The body was shipped from San Angelo to Artesia and arrived here today at 10 a. m. in the Woodbine cemetery.

REED McCAW GETS THIRD PLACE

Word from Reed McCaw, who left Artesia last week for Dallas, where he will appear as a tuba player in the National High School Orchestra, states that he has been awarded third place in the tuba contest. Seven contestants entered this event and the fact that Reed won third place is considered a very creditable showing. He has been a member of Harp's orchestra since the inception of this organization about two years ago.

The program given by the National High School Orchestra will broadcast a program over station W. A. A. Dallas Texas, this evening.

FERRIMAN TAKES OVER STANDARD MARKET

W. W. Ferriman, proprietor of the Roselawn Grocery has purchased the interest of Bob Caraway in the Standard Market and took charge of the business Monday morning. Mr. Caraway, the retiring proprietor has not made known his intentions.

THE CEMETERY DRIVE

The returns from the Cemetery Drive to date are $193.80, a goodly sum, but far short of the amount required to run the cemetery and make the needed improvements in the water system. Not all non-resident lot owners have been heard from, however, and it is hoped that more money may come in. In the meantime if anyone is disposed to contribute to this important work his donation will be gladly received by the Association.

VISITORS AT ROTARY CLUB

E. E. Voss, of Dallas, Texas, deputy regional Boy Scout executive, Minor Huffman of Roswell, Boy Scout area executive, S. B. Barnett and M. rabid and fanatical religious sect infesting the mountains in which the scene of "Through the Years" is laid.

Supt. Reid has known Mr. Allison for a number of years, in fact he and the entertainer were classmates at college. He vouches for him and claims that Mr. Allison will bring unusual interest to every member of his audience, young and old alike, those with a love for beautiful harmony whether trained or not and finally those who are attracted by the spice of variety. There'll be no dead moments in Mr. Allison's program. The entire public is cordially invited. There will be an admission charged at the door, a percentage of which goes to the schools.

COLD WEATHER HITS HERE MONDAY—SNOW IN NORTHERN N. MEX.

A drop in the temperature was recorded here Sunday night, following a cold wind, which blew practically all day Sunday. Snow is reported to have fallen in the northern part of the state Monday morning and continued intermittently throughout the day. The skies in this section were overcast with clouds Monday and Tuesday, but no falling weather occurred. The temperature dropped below 25 degrees in Roswell Monday night.

No serious damages have resulted so far from the storm which hit the north and west part of the state and traveled in this direction. A few of the early fruit trees are in bloom and may be injured by the cold, but it is not believed that the principal fruit crop will be hurt.

REPORTED CAPTURE OF A BOOZE TRUCK IS NOT CONFIRMED HERE

Reports reaching Artesia and Carlsbad Thursday state that a border patrol of federal enforcement officers captured a truck load of booze near Seven Rivers, could not be confirmed, although several local parties bear testimony that officers were stationed near the highway on the above date and from all information available as to their activities, were evidently making a diligent search.

Several local parties who happened to be passing along the south highway Thursday were halted and searched. A local business man accompanied by his wife, was en route to Dayton, was told to stop with the result that his car was searched, including a spare tire. The auto of an Artesia minister was also included in the list of vehicles searched, which goes to show that most everybody may look suspicious on certain occasions.

PICNIC AND HIKE

J. W. Graham took his class of boys of the Christian Sunday school on a hike, Sunday after church. The hiking was done by auto however and there was a long rest during which there was a picnic dinner and the boys had plenty of time to scout around and enjoy the various attractions of the great out of doors.

Mesdames H. A. Stroup, J. B. Atkeson and W. C. Martin are Roswell visitors today.

A Motorcade From El Paso Due Here at 12:15 Sat'day

El Paso Delegation Will Take Lunch at Artesia Banquet Hall Where An Informal Program Will be Rendered.

At a call meeting of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce directors held last evening, preparations were made for the entertainment of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce good will excursion, upon their arrival here Saturday at 12:15. While a few details remain to be completed, the general plan calls for luncheon at the Artesia Banquet Hall at the noon hour. According to the last word from El Paso, about seventy visitors may be expected. Some thirty local business men will join the El Paso delegation at the lunch hour and an informal program will be rendered. C. Bert Smith was chosen as toastmaster for the occasion and Mr. Smith will also make the address of welcome in the behalf of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce. A representative of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce will be given an opportunity to explain the mission of the motorcade to the Valley and discuss any other subject common to both communities. The proposed highway from Artesia to El Paso is expected to be the chief topic under discussion. Mark Corbin has been chosen to make a short talk on the advantages of the proposed highway west and it is likely that this subject will also be discussed by an El Paso speaker.

After the luncheon hour the Pass City representatives will spend some time visiting among the people and the good roads delegation will be shown over the territory surrounding the town.

The following news dispatch has been received from the El Paso Chamber of Commerce: The El Paso Chamber of Commerce Good Will Excursion is scheduled to arrive in Artesia on March 5. The excursionists will arrive at 12:15 p. m. and leave at 3:00 p. m. Seventy-five of the leading business men of El Paso will be on this excursion. The excursionists are traveling by automobile, making a trip of 860 miles. The driver of each car is being paid by the Chamber of Commerce and is under obligations to carry out the itinerary to the letter. Trouble cars and reserve cars are also accompanying the caravan. The excursion will therefore arrive and leave in a body. This will be one of the largest and most spectacular good will motorcade excursions ever yet staged. An average of twenty-five miles per hour will be maintained on the trip.

The objects of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce Motorcade Excursion are simply those of friendship and of good will. The emissaries from El Paso are coming merely to greet the people of this city for the purpose of getting better acquainted.

The excursionists will be headed by a committee consisting of H. L. Birney, Geo. B. Ryan and D. A. Barden, general manager of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce.

Every once in a while a community critic bobs up and gently infers that the citizenship in Artesia generally are dead from the neck up. It makes us wonder if the said critic ever tried putting his shoulder to the wheel and helping things along a bit and if he has ever tried staying on the giving end of the various community enterprises for as much as a year. Perhaps his ideas as to whether or not we are making an effort at progress would change somewhat.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

According to the United States farm census of New Mexico in 1925, the state had a total of 31,687 farms, which represented an increase of approximately 3,000 farms over 1920, but a decrease of something like 4,000 farms over the year 1910. Farms operated by tenants increased more than 100 per cent from 1910 to 1925. The approximate land area of the state is 78,401,920 acres. Of this amount 27,850,325 acres were in farms.

THE FIVE CENT GAS TAX

The five cent gasoline tax bill has passed the senate by a vote of 18 to 4, but owing to a couple of minor amendments, the bill must go back to the house and be concurred by them before it is sent to the governor for his signature.

As it now stands, the bill will likely become a law and we are not especially jubilant over the prospects which the proposed bill brings. One of the worst features of the proposed measure is that it will virtually place the sale of gasoline in the hands of the state, as we understand it. The idea of the state or a branch of the state entering a commercial field carries no special appeal.

INTROSPECTION

We hear much of the value of self-examination and self-criticism. It is rightly assumed that most of us have faults and shortcomings which we should search out, recognize, and remedy. It being human nature to be reasonably well pleased with oneself, the advocates of introspection suggest that we mentally turn ourselves inside out, step up before some convenient mirror and look ourselves over.

There is little doubt but that if we are intelligent and honest we will discover some facts which have long been known to our friends, who, desiring to retain our friendship, have kept the knowledge to themselves.

This contortionist trick of turning oneself inside out even mentally is rather painful, so while in this exposed condition let us do a good job of inspection. In many things we have doubtless failed and laid the blame on conditions or at the door of hard-headed customers, unappreciative bosses, an unresponsive public, or on one of the thousand and one other convenient places for laying blame. Now is a good chance to take a look at ourselves and see if possibly some of this blame cannot be found hiding behind our lack of thrift, our lack of initiative or persistence, our love of leisure, our waste of time, our distaste for detail. There are all kinds of places within us where blame can hide so cleverly that we never suspect that it is right there with us, but feel certain that it rests elsewhere.

However, we were never among those who believe that criticism, even self-criticism, means solely the pointing out of errors. As we take this inside look, we should also perceive much of which we can be proud. These things we should also recognize and build up, for they give us a certain self-confidence which is necessary to success. Close scrutiny, thoughtful analysis, and unbiased judgment having given us all the necessary data on ourselves; we can then resume our normal condition and, with our eyes again turned outward, strive to overcome the shortcomings we have discovered, and use more effectively those talents and abilities which we have found we possess.

One fine thing about this inside-out business is that the more frequently we do it, the easier the trick becomes and the less discouraging we find the internal view. Properly done, it is an exercise guaranteed to reduce ego, strengthen determination, and give that training so necessary to success on the cinder path of life.—The Southwestern Ambassador.

NEW MEXICO'S EDUCATIONAL EFFORT

(State Tax Payers Ass'n.)

In a recent talk before the Rotary Club of Gallup, Superintendent C. B. Redick calls attention to the physical conditions of rural schools as compared with those of city schools. The conditions, as reported, indicate that further provisions are yet to be made before education opportunities can be said to be equal.

Though there is much still to be done to improve our school system, New Mexico can be proud of what has been accomplished with her limited resources. Comparisons with other states as to tax burdens and economic income lead us to believe that New Mexico is doing more than any other state, according to its ability, to carry on all proper enterprises. In this connection Superintendent Redick calls attention to the fact that "California would have to spend $7.95 instead of every dollar it now spends to make as great an effort for education as we make; or another way to say it, our effort for education is almost eight times as great as that of the State of California."

Supt. Redick points out that when certain factors are taken into consideration, New Mexico stands twenty-fifth in the ranking of the forty-nine states of the Union, including the District of Columbia. This ranking is based upon a recent nationwide survey and places New Mexico as follows:

- Forty-sixth in value of tangible wealth.
 - Forty-seventh in average annual current income.
 - Forty-sixth in economic resources.
 - Thirty-seventh in average wealth per child.
 - Thirty-seventh in average income per child.
 - Thirty-seventh in average resources per child.
 - Forty-second in percentages of teachers who are Normal School graduates.
 - Forty-sixth in population per square mile.
 - Thirty-fifth in value of school property.
 - Tenth in percentage of population of school age.
 - Twenty-fifth in salaries paid teachers.
 - Twenty-first in length of school term.
 - Tenth in effort made to support education.
 - Sixth in percentage of wealth and income expended for education.
- The final result places New Mexico at a middle point, with 24 states above and 24 states below in educational effort. If, however, the per capita total expenditures be compared with the per capita income tax paid in New Mexico and further consideration be given to the factors not listed above, it is quite probable that New Mexico will be found to stand quite near, if not at the top, in educational effort.

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

As we were visiting around the merchants the other day we run across a merchant who put this question to us: "Martin, do you actually believe that advertising pays?" Now this merchant was not a knocker on advertising, he was just trying to get the opinion of a newspaper man on the question. Look around you right in your home town. Isn't it a fact that the men who are the largest advertisers are men who are doing the largest business? But let us go deeper. Does anyone think that the large department stores in the cities spend hundreds of thousands of dollars each year for advertising, unless they know that advertising pays? No one would be fool enough to think that they spend this money just because they like the editor. Let us get some concrete examples. Take Lydia Pinkham's Remedies. Advertising has made those remedies a household word, the people have become so accustomed to writing to Lydia Pinkham, that fifty years after the old lady is dead and in her grave, women are still writing her. Take Wrigley, for instance. Not long ago an editor stood on the great Michigan boulevard in Chicago and gazing down that busy thoroughfare at that magnificent structure, with its spires reaching to the high heavens, the thought came to him, How many revolutions of a woman's jaw at a cent a cake, did it take to build that building? And yet there is one of the finest buildings in the world, and it was built through the constant advertising of a penny cake of chewing gum. Does advertising pay? Every article in the world that has gained a national

LIFTING TOO MUCH

Towns, like balloons, cannot make much upward progress if overloaded with deadweight. Either must discard excess ballast if it expects to get anywhere.

Freighted with an indifferent attitude on the part of its citizens, unfair criticism or sentiment injurious to local business, a municipality is unable to overcome stagnation and will sink to earth with its burden.

Though Artesia is not lacking in home-town pride, there may be bits of ballast here and there which could well be eliminated in order to lighten the load which all of us must carry. Toss apathy, out-of-town buying and lack of co-operation overboard and the town will have smoother sailing on its journey to success.

WE THANK YOU!

SWEET CLOVER STORY

Grant Gould, who lives near Glencoe, has had a very interesting experience in growing sweet clover with oats.

Five years ago last spring he sowed five acres of ground to sweet clover and oats. After the oats were cut, the clover went ahead and made a good crop. The next year he let it go to seed and harvested four bushels per acre.

He plowed the ground and again sowed it to oats. Enough seed had been left on the ground to make another good stand of sweet clover after the oats had been cut. The next year he got six bushels of sweet clover seed to the acre. He again plowed the ground and sowed it to oats and the next spring he got a good stand of both. He reports that the oats grown on the sweet clover ground yielded more and were of much better quality than that grown in nearby fields.

By growing oats and sweet clover together in this way, and by allowing the clover to reseed itself every two years and then plowing the field and sowing to oats, he thinks that he has an ideal combination of feed and soil building crops.—Oklahoma Extension News.

How to Play BRIDGE

A new series of lessons by Wynne Ferguson

ARTICLE No. 19

Once in a while you will hold a hand which, by a little quick thinking, you can make a big gain. For example, suppose your partner bids one spade and second hand passes, what do you do if you held the following:

Hearts—K, 7
Clubs—10, 8, 7, 3
Diamonds—K, 10, 4
Spades—A, 8, 6, 5

If you pass as most players would do, you would bid two no-trump. The proper bid is to bid two hearts or two diamonds by hand. If this bid should be made by your partner, you are not enough either to bid two no-trump or double. On the other hand, if you bid two no-trump, it is very unwise. That fourth hand will be strong enough to bid three of a suit but if he should double. A bid of two hearts with the hand given will be a mistake, but if you pass, fourth hand will have bid two hearts and game becomes impossible. Be on the alert for such hands and don't hesitate to bid two no-trump when there is a reason for doing so.

The writer has frequently warned his readers of the dangers of preemptive bidding unless properly used. Here is a hand that illustrates the point:

Hearts—A
Clubs—A, K, J, 9, 8, 5, 4, 2
Diamonds—A, 7
Spades—A, 4

There were no score, rubber game, and you would bid with Z's hand as follows:

Y: A, B, Z
A: Y, B, Z
B: A, B, Z
Z: A, B, Z

dealer? This hand is not one with which you should double. It has too much strength in the side suits and thus contains too many possibilities both as a no-trump proposition and as an assisting hand for partner to justify an opening bid of five clubs. The proper bid is unquestionably one club and see what happens. If your partner overbids and he certainly will if he has anything in his hand, you can always bid no-trump, if advisable, or rebid your clubs. The one club bid is much more flexible than no-trump because it gives a much better chance to find the best bid of the combined hands than the no-trump bid. It is an interesting hand and should be carefully noted.

Here is a most unusual hand in that there is only one way to make game. See if you can figure it out.

Problem No. 23

Hearts—A, 9, 8, 2

Diamonds—A, 6, 3
Spades—A, 7

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one no-trump. All passed and A opened the eight of spades. Y played the deuce, B the queen and Z the seven. B now played the ten, Z the ace, A the trey and Y the four. How should Z size up the hand and plan the play? The solution and all four hands will be given in the next article.

PRESIDENT VEToes FARM BILL

WASHINGTON. — The McNary-Haugen farm relief bill was vetoed Friday by President Coolidge, killing the last hope of general farm legislation at this session of congress.

The president found the bill objectionable for many reasons and he attached to his veto message an opinion by the attorney-general holding that the measure also was unconstitutional on several counts.

It was asserted by the chief executive that the bill's equalization fee on cotton, corn, wheat, rice, hogs and tobacco amounted to discrimination price fixing, and was "an economic fallacy" which would not benefit the farmer, but would raise the cost of living and operate to the injury of the general welfare.

The president said in a special message to the senate that he had declined to approve the bill because "the measure discriminates definitely against products which make up what has been universally considered a program of safe farming."

"The bill singles out a few products, chiefly sectional," he said, "and proposes to raise the prices of those regardless of the fact that thousands of other farmers would be directly penalized."

EL PASO WILL MAKE ACTIVE EFFORT TO GET HIGHWAY INTO ARTESIA

Decision to make an active effort to get a road from El Paso to Artesia was made by county commissioners yesterday.

They appointed a committee composed of County Judge E. B. McCintock, County Engineer Fred Wilson and Commissioners John Andreas and W. T. Griffith to work with the Chamber of Commerce good roads committee and any other committee to secure a road.

Commissioner Griffith proposed the appointment of the committee.

"The Artesia oil men are very anxious to come in here," Griffith said. "I have been told that they can go to Fort Worth almost as quickly as they can come to El Paso because of the better roads. A direct road to Artesia would bring El Paso an enormous amount of trade."

Commissioner Henry Herring proposed a new route for a road to the Carisbad caverns. He said there is a road now that leaves Clint and angles out across Hudspeth county to the old Salt Lake in the northwest corner of Hudspeth county. The road is called the Salt Trail.

"It is traveled a little now and could be placed in good, shape, cheaply," Herring said. "It is only four or five miles longer to the Caverns than the route surveyed out through Hueco tanks. It has a lower grade."

"Here is the added advantage that we already have a good paved road to Clint and it would bring tourists through our valley. If they come through the Huecos they miss seeing our fertile valley. The road is in existence and Hudspeth county cannot keep us from using it."

The roads committee agreed to study the possibilities of this route.

YOUR motor is designed to deliver a certain number of revolutions per minute to give maximum power and response under all conditions.

But as carbon forms, that "knock" occurs. The motor revolutions drop—and you lose power on hills and pick-up in traffic.

Conoco Ethyl Gasoline knocks out that "knock." What's more, the carbon (which causes the "knock") becomes a means of power because carbon increases pressure—and increased pressure means increased power. Conoco Ethyl Gasoline performs perfectly under this increased pressure.

THE TOUR OF THE SUNSHINE LIMITED

The Sunshine Limited, which started from the Jernigan home at seven thirty last Friday evening, had a very successful trip. The train was crowded with sightseers who felt that they got the full worth of their fare. The character list included many curious characters from different places and periods of time. George and Martha Washington rubbed elbows with Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge and the bride of twenty years ago with today's flapper. The cowboy in all his glory of high heeled boots and sombrero and the old maid with her freak costume and birdcage lent a picturesque and colorful atmosphere to the scene. The old woman from Pumpkin Center, Arkansas with her daughter just home from college was the life of the train and the two gypsies were the most striking and colorful. Miss Erma Woolridge and Mrs. J. R. Wright impersonated George and Martha Washington and Rev. Higbee and Mrs. C. R. Blocker took the parts of Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge. Mrs. Littlejohn made a firstclass cowboy, Mrs. Jim Berry was the star performer of the evening and acted the part of the lady with the birdcage to perfection. Miss Ruby Partinas, a nun, contributed the serious element and Mrs. Fred Brainard and the two gypsies, the brilliant and charming side. There were too many quaint characters on the train for personal mention of each, but all contributed to the gaiety of the occasion. The train crew consisted of J. R. Wright, conductor, Mrs. Michael, news butcher and Margaret Perry, Lola Ward and Exa Terry, red caps. Mrs. Bill Cox was station agent. In the Harvey house excellent lunches were served by three waitresses, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Reed Brainard and Mrs. Calvin Dunn. Mrs. Fred Brainard, the gypsy occupied a fortune telling booth in the lobby. The Jernigan home lent itself admirably to the staging of the entertainment. The living room was the waiting room, and the ticket office, rest room and chair car were in the bedrooms on the second floor. The destination on the round trip ticket, which each bought, was Amarillo, passengers going farther were obliged to change cars at that place. After the return from the tour an interesting program was given in the waiting room. Numbers on the program included vocal solo, Miss Katherine Ragsdale, two readings, "Little Boy to His Stomach," and "I'm Getting Influenza," by Juanita Perry, two Irish readings by Miss Vida Detter, a vocal solo by Harvey Bradley and a musical number including many old favorite ballads, called the "Honeymoon Special," by the Sunshine class. Miss Miriam McMahon and Miss Peggy Mitchell were accompanists for the evening. An old time spelling match also provided considerable diversion. The "Tour" was a financial as well as a social success and earned for the class over $28, which will be used to apply on the Conference Claims.

FOSTER—GITTINGER

The following social item, clipped from a Norman, Oklahoma paper relative to the marriage of Price Gittinger, the popular High School English teacher, to Miss Scatta Foster, of Woodward, Oklahoma, will be of interest to his many friends here:

The marriage of Miss Scatta Foster with Price Gittinger took place at 10:30 a. m. Saturday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Foster, of Woodward. The bride attended the University the past semester where she is a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority. She was a student here for three and one-half years. The bridegroom is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Gittinger, 225 West Duffy street. He completed work for the degree of bachelor of arts at the end of the first semester this year. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity and of Pe-et, senior honorary society. He was a member of the University orchestra and band.

Mr. and Mrs. Gittinger left immediately after the ceremony for Artesia, New Mexico, where they will make their home and where the bridegroom is a teacher of English in the high school.

VARNER—RICE

Mr. Clint Rice, of this city and Miss Myrtle Varner, of Cottonwood Falls, Kansas, were quietly married at 407 W. Richardson, 11:00 a. m., Monday, February 28th, Rev. C. C. Higbee, pastor of the Artesia Methodist church, officiating. This marriage marks the culmination of a romance which began some sixteen years ago, before the Rice family moved to Artesia. The happy pair will make their home here. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sipple, who witnessed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice have our very best wishes for a long and happy life. Mr. Rice is well and favorably known in this locality, having been a citizen of this vicinity for more than fourteen years.

TACKY PARTY

The young Ladies' Missionary Society had a "tacky party" at the home of their leader, Mrs. Allinger, Tuesday evening. The Society has been holding a contest for some months past, and the party was the closing episode in the contest and was given by the losers to the winners. A number of games provided amusement for the evening. The most unique was a "Lying Contest," in which the girls vied with each other in trying to tell the biggest whopper. Edna Bullock won the prize, because, like the "Father of His Country" she "could not tell a lie." Light refreshments were served by the defeated hosts. The girls present were Mary Jackson, Lois Gable, Loraine Gable, Elsie Dell Beckett, Lola Gray, LaRue Mann, Kathryn Bowers, Wilma Berry, Katherine Ragsdale, Mary Smith, Annabelle Spivey, Inez Buchanan and Edna Bullock.

MEETING OF ART DEPARTMENT

The Art department of the Women's Club were the guests of Mrs. Martin Yates at their study meeting yesterday afternoon. The pictures, by the artist Redin, recently purchased by Mrs. Yates, were the subject of study and drew forth an interesting discussion. A vocal solo by the hostess and instrumental music by Mrs. Williams, wife of the paving engineer, who is an accomplished pianist, were features of interest in addition to the usual program. The serving of refreshments by the hostess was another pleasant variation from the usual course of proceedings at these meetings.

BRIDGE PARTIES

Mesdames V. L. Gates and Rex Wheatley entertained six tables at bridge on Friday afternoon and four tables on Saturday afternoon. On both occasions a color scheme of green and white was used in flowers, favors and menu, the latter being in two courses.

The Friday afternoon guests were Mesdames Atkeson, Clarke, S. D. Gates, Hegeman, Lowery, Hartell, Hightower, Ferree, Adams, Corbin, G. R. Brainard, Rowan, Yates, Oscar Gilbert, Mann, C. Bert Smith, Welton, M. H. Ferriman, Brooks, McRae, Bowers, Reuben Paine, J. H. Jackson and L. P. Evans.

On Saturday afternoon there were present Mesdames Fred Cole, John Lanning, Will Linell, Lewis Story, Frank Seale, Bigler, Threlkeld, Russell, Landis Feather, Blocker, Walter Martin, Aubrey Watson, Ray Bartlett, Louis Cole, Kneale and Fred Brainard.

LUNCHEON AND TENNIS PARTY

Mrs. R. A. Brewer entertained a number of young ladies at a one o'clock luncheon followed by a tennis party last Saturday afternoon. The luncheon was served in three courses, covers being laid for the Misses Inez Jones, Esther Morgan, Ruth Morgan, Merrill Bradley, Arabelle Rogers and Miriam McMahon and Mr. and Mrs. Brewer. Favors were drawn by ribbons from a prettily decorated blackbird pie, which centered the table. After luncheon the company changed into tennis costume and spent the afternoon playing on the Brewer's fine court. The weather was ideal making the exercise very enjoyable.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brainard left today for Mineral Wells, Texas, where Mr. Brainard will join the Dallas baseball club for a short session of spring training, before going to Dallas for the opening of the baseball season.

FIRST BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. S. E. Ferree was the hostess at the meeting of the First Bridge Club last Tuesday afternoon serving delicious refreshments, in a very attractive color scheme. Mrs. McRae and Mrs. Kneale substituted for absent members.

MISS ELIZABETH GARRETT IN TOWN

Miss Elizabeth Garrett, daughter of the famous Pat Garrett and author of our beautiful state song, "O, Fair New Mexico," was here Tuesday visiting her friends, Mrs. Will Ballard. Miss Garrett, who is located for the present in Roswell, came down from that place with a sister-in-law of Mrs. Ballard.

GARCIA—RAMIREZ

A pretty wedding occurred at the Catholic church Monday morning at half past eight o'clock when Father Frederick, of Roswell, celebrated the nuptial mass for Hilario Garcia and Guadalupe Ramirez. The bride wore a pretty white georgette dress with wreath of orange blossoms and veil and carried a shower bouquet of white silk roses. She was attended by two friends, Bernadina Perez and Martha Villa, who were also dressed in white. The groom was attended by Manuel Zamora and Oswald Yturralde. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's brother-in-law, Santos Subio. There was also a wedding at two o'clock and a baile in the evening in the Mexican hall.

During his first days in camp a young recruit was the victim of so many practical jokes he doubted all men and their motives. One night while on guard the tall figure of an officer loomed up.

"Who goes there?" challenged the recruit.

"Major Moses,"

"Advance, Major Moses," ordered the recruit, scenting a new joke, "and give the Ten Commandments."

TAOS WOMAN LIFE

ALAMOGORDO, N. M.—The story of the life of a woman, printed before, is now being published by a New Mexico woman, Blanch C. Grant of Marjory Bedinger College.

The story was dictated to his friends, Col. Peters, about 1850-55. The script was lost for some time and was recently discovered in an old house in the city. It was brought back to the publisher given to the public.

She has edited it, says, and the whole is a valuable addition to the country.

OFFICIAL INVITATION

On behalf of the Artesia Methodist Church, we wish to extend to each pastor of our sister churches, the officials and membership of these religious bodies and all who stand for righteousness in the community, a cordial invitation to attend and participate in the revival, which begins Sunday, March 13th.

Our church has stood ready for more than a year to enterprise a city wide campaign. While the other denominations have not officially joined in this effort, all are as welcome as if they had done so. We have taken pleasure on many occasions in the past in extending the hospitality of our commodious building and you will always find a hearty welcome.

Judge Frank Morris comes to us most highly recommended and we believe you will find him an unusually strong man. Judge Morris recently held a meeting at Hagerman and dozens are coming to Artesia to hear him in the coming revival. If they think that much of him, our local people will not want to miss the opportunity.

Paine's Claim to Fame

Thomas Paine was born in 1737 and died in 1809. Of his work called "Common Sense" it is said that it was "the first open assertion of American independence, and was probably the most powerful pamphlet that ever influenced a nation's history." In this sense Thomas Paine may be said to have influenced the preparation and adoption of the Declaration of Independence.

Credit Not Johnson's

When Doctor Johnson's "Rambler" was first published, the sale was decidedly disappointing. In fact the only paper, curious as it may seem in the light of his reputation today, which might be said to have been popular, was No. 97—the only one Doctor Johnson did not write. This paper, says the Market for Exchange, was said to have been written by Samuel Richardson.

POULTRY

POULTRY SUFFER FROM DISEASES

Poultry suffer from colds and associated troubles in winter just as do human beings, but a little care and doctoring will help to keep down the heavy annual toll that these diseases exact from poultrymen. According to Dr. B. F. Kaupp, head of the poultry department at the North Carolina State college, the birds suffer most from diseases of the respiratory tract in cold weather.

Common colds result from the birds becoming wet or chilled because of poor housing, quick changes in weather or cracks in the house permitting a draft to blow on the birds. One of the signs of this disease is a discharge from the nose. Any bird so affected should be immediately removed from the flock, states Doctor Kaupp, because the discharge will contaminate the drinking water and give the disease to the other birds. In the case of colds, the nose should be cleared out by syringing with a 10 per cent solution of argyrol or a purple solution of permanganate of potash. In the case of roup where there is a stinking discharge, pure iodine should be used in the syringe and the bird treated morning and night until cured.

Weak pullets come from crowding in the summer and they must have proper feed and care in the laying pens. Most of them will develop sore head even in a new house. These pimples should be greased with carbolic grease.

Sore eyes is another familiar winter-time trouble. The eyes need to be swabbed out, states Doctor Kaupp, and a drop of a 10 per cent solution of argyrol or a 1 per cent solution of sulphate of zinc placed in the eye twice each day.

Canker or diphtheritis is a winter disease which attacks the mouth. It forms a spot where the sore is covered with a cheesy material. Scrape this off, states Doctor Kaupp, and use on it a canker pencil, pure iodine or powdered chlorate of potash. Repeat once each day until the sore has been cured.

Early Hatched Pullets Produce Eggs in Winter

The results of laying tests at the Massachusetts experiment station show that early-hatched chicks of the heavier breeds make the best winter layers. Rhode Island Red pullets which were hatched in March gave a winter egg production of 42.65 eggs. April-hatched pullets gave a winter production of 35.40 eggs and May pullets gave a production of 22.50 eggs. The profit in producing eggs comes largely from producing them at a season of the year when they are highest in price. This means that we must plan to produce eggs during the winter months. The Massachusetts experiment shows that, with the general-purpose breeds, the early-hatched chicks are the ones which mature in time to start laying in the latter part of October and continue throughout the winter.

Mothers for Guinea Chicks

Ordinary guinea make the best mothers for guinea chicks. Given warm, dry weather, and plenty of range, turkey and guinea hens can be used successfully, but should a rain or heavy dew occur the mother turkey or guinea hen is apt to drag the chicks through the wet grass, and many are lost from becoming wet and chilled. Neither turkey nor guinea hens can be induced to seek the shelter of the coop at night and during storms, but will remain out in the fields to hover their broods.

THE RAMBLIN' ROCK HOUND

The following poem, clipped from the Inland Oil Index, appears to have been passed around several times and we are passing it on for what it's worth. It has been suggested that the little verses be respectfully dedicated to Morgan Davis.

We read:
FIRST EPISODE
The Ramblin' Rockhound cocked his eye
At the rockribbed hills as he rambled by
In his rusty Ford of venerable mien,
And model of Post-Pleiocene.

He stopped his bus and he says,
By heck!
There's east dip here most hounds could check;
I'll grab my Locke and Aneroid,
And prove her good, or null or void.

The sun was hot, the blackjacks high;
The chiggers they smote him hip and thigh,
And his Aneroid bubbled around with joy,
To befuddle the brain of this poor boy.

Then he met a bull, the rest is sad—
He missed some data he shoulda had,
With form and speed he departed thence,
But left his pants on a barbed wire fence.

His soul was stirred and filled with scorn;
He cursed the day that bull was born;
But still he toiled mid bugs and heat,
And made strange marks on his lefex sheet.

Now he hired a kid—a smart young blade,
Who claims he is a slicker with an alidade,
He worked right fast and his notes were neat,
But he couldn't close his traverse within forty feet.

That Rockhound roared and groaned with pain,
He tore his hair and got profane,
And he took a day to show this kid,
How Shootin' with an alidade oughta be did.

So he made his map, this Rockhound,
And drew nine closures all around;
I'll tell you brief she sure looked keen—
That quapaversal structure was a peachierine.

SECOND EPISODE
Next he hired a guy to help him lease,
With conversation slick as grease;
Whose line of bull was built to please,
His logic strong like Limburg cheese.

He took those nesters 'round and 'round,
And up and down that battle ground,
In Cowboy style, mid porkers' squeals,
He spoke of home and high ideals.

With truth and verity he told
Stock yarns about the flowing gold,
And nearly paralyzed his jaw
On Drumright, Burbank, Tonkawa.

This poor old guy, his name is Shouse,
Talks till he almost goes bughouse,
Nine kinds of rotten booze he kills;
Yet spends his nights in nervous chills.

For one old rooster, he won't lease,
He says he doesn't want no grease,
And then to sorta help his line,
He claims his woman wouldn't sign.

But Shouse, at last, he lands this goof,
Escrows his lease in bank as proof,
Then goes and gives himself the gate
To Cuba to recuperate.

THIRD EPISODE
Our hero gets his titles straight,
And starts out to negotiate,
His inside stuff, finance his hole,
But fear there was within his soul.
In office halls he cools his heels,
While the other boys put up their deals.
Then, when the hello girl calls time,
He bows his neck and hits the line.

Just like old Matty in the box,
He pitches him one to H. Wilcox.
The Amerada, Astec, Pure
He thot he'd sell the Tidal sure—
The Texas, Twinstare, Cosden, Kay,
Magnolia, Marland and Margay,
Wrightsmen, Roxana, Hull, Comar,
The Barnsdall, Buttram, Bo Vi Var,
Devonian, Dixie and Dutch Shell,
The Gypsy, Gulf and Gladys Belle,
Sun, Sinclair, Skelly, Slick—
He traded till his head was sick.
This boy he does the best he can
With Carter, Coline and McMann.
The Prairie, Phillips and Black Gold;
Some birds were hot and some were cold;

Some sent their Rockhounds down first hand
To sorta view the promised land,
And check his north and southeast dips,
And look for corelation slips.

FOURTH EPISODE
So now it's Rockhounds round and round,
Are tearing up that battle ground.
They argue, lecture, parlyvoos,
Some say they don't, some say they do,
Some say she is, some say she aint,
Vocabulate without restraint.
Some turn it down, ah, lack-a-day—
Some say they'll recommend the play,
And so from all the weary mess,

HOPE ITEMS (Noel L. Johnson, Reporter)

Sid Wilburn, of Texas, is here visiting the Wilburn boys this week.

Charley Coffin has been on the sick list again.

J. B. Comstock has sold his farm at Hope and purchased another farm in Missouri.

Joe Kintz and Edgar Watts, of Dunken, spent a day in Roswell this week on road matters.

R. Stockard of the Dunken Dome well has been off of the job for awhile on account of sickness.

J. H. Bridgeman, W. P. Riley, E. C. Hall and H. A. Taylor, drove to Santa Fe Sunday on business connected with the reservoir.

Mrs. Mary Crun, age 73, who has been under the care of a physician here for sometime, died Sunday morning following an extended illness. Burial was made in the upper cemetery at Hope. Mrs. Crun has been living with her daughter, Mrs. Bessie Cowden at Pinon for sometime.

Mr. Black, a surveyor, who has been stationed here as a representative of the state engineers department, has returned with his family to Santa Fe. His report on the proposed reservoir will be ready within about three weeks, it is understood. It will then be up to the Hope people to determine whether or not they want the reservoir, however, they have already decided one thing and that is they want the leaks stopped in the river beds. Work to stop the leaks is expected to start soon. When the leaks are stopped, Hope will have a normal supply of water.

MASONS WILL MEET AT MAGDALENA

Las Cruces.—The grand lodge of New Mexico Masons, in convention at Las Cruces Thursday chose Magdalena as the next meeting place for the convention. The twenty-ninth annual convocation of the Royal Arch chapter was held at Las Cruces Thursday.

Loose-leaf binders, special ruling and stock forms—Advocate.
Advocate want ads get results.

His efforts meet with some success, and from the best that he can tell, he figures he can drill the well.

FIFTH EPISODE
The derrick's up, the hole starts down
In country, village, hamlet, town—
The only thing the nesters tell;
"We're boring down our first oil well."

Each one puts on his Sunday vest,
And saunters forth to view the test.
With joy and pride their bosoms swell,
"They're boring down their first oil well."

SIXTH EPISODE
Near contract depth they had a show,
Their hopes rose high—she made one flow.
They drilled on in and hope dropped dead
"Pacific Ocean" driller said.
That Rockhound heaved a soulful sigh,
And swore he knew that log ran high.
The drillers said "that lime and shale
Sure makes us think we're on the trail."
The scouts all said "she made one flow,
We'll recommend she ought to go
Down to the Wilcox sand or lime,
That's how we figured all the time."
The crew speaks up they'll work for beans,
The Big Boys dig down in their jeans.
An Independent furnished oil
To sorta make the pot boil.
So once again they're making hole,
Just as the nesters—bless their souls
Began to weep, lament, harangue.
They ought to sue the whole shebang.

One night there rose from the dark hole
Perfume that stirs the oil man's soul
A mist up round the driller's head;
Gas from live oil the Rockhound said.
And then they saw the cable slack,
"They're comin' out" yelled wire line Jack.
And toolie jumped to pull his fire,
Then headed where the woods are higher,
And as the others went from there
The tools and cable took the air.
With a rip and a roar, and a kick
and a cough—
The Wilcox sand was paying off.

FINAL
There is some news that travels fast
Of great good luck or sad disaster;
But words of Gabriel's final blast,
Could never get there any faster,
And long before the crack of day
They heard the boys had got the pay,
And they balled the jack in a heck of a rush
To see the gosh darn dry hole gush.
And each one came with mind intent
To celebrate the glad event,
And those who stood by understood
Why oil men all are a brotherhood.

E. L. DOHENY LOSES OIL LEASES IN SWEEPING DECISION OF U. S. COURT

WASHINGTON.—Edward L. Doheny lost his fight Monday to have the courts confirm the leases of the Elk Hills, California naval oil reserve, awarded to him by Albert B. Fall, as secretary of the interior.

Upholding the findings of the circuit court, the supreme court, in an unanimous decision, held that these leases not only were illegal, but were obtained by "fraud and corruption."

The victory was sweeping for the government, confirming in every detail the position taken by special counsel appointed after a senate committee had completed an investigation of the naval oil reserves.

The opinion, delivered by Justice Butler, held that it was the established policy of congress and of the government to maintain the reserve of fuel supply of the navy under ground and that the general leasing act of 1920 carried no authority for leasing the naval oil reserves.

The court sustained the circuit court in California in cancelling the leases and contracts and referred Doheny to congress for any relief he may consider himself entitled to for the expenditure of more than $100,000,000 in the erection of storage tanks at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, under his contracts, and for fuel oil placed in them as well as for improvement work upon the reserve.

Throughout the decision the court referred by way of emphasis to the fraud and corruption marking the transactions, although a jury in the District of Columbia supreme court last December held that there was nothing criminal in the relations between Fall and Doheny.

BILL MAY ABOLISH UNADVERTISED OIL LEASES IN N. MEX.

SANTA FE.—All oil leases will have to be sold at public auction to the highest bidder, after ten weeks' advertisement of the auction, if the house judiciary committee's substitute for house bill 234 passes.

The bill would do away with unadvertised leases altogether. Originally, house bill 234 gave the state land commissioner authority to grant leases in any form he deemed to be for the best interests of the state, either advertised or unadvertised. The bill passed the house but was reconsidered.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By E. R. Waite

John Temple Graves II, editor of the Jacksonville (Florida) Journal, says:

THAT a great many things are gold which do not glitter at all in ordinary economic sunlight. There is gold, for example, in a city which welcomes every newcomer with a presumption of his honesty and patriotism and which suggests to him at once an outlet for these qualities. There is gold in a city which offers every man not only an opportunity to make a living but also an inspiration to live broadly and nobly on the living he makes. There is gold in a city whose "high pressure salesmanship" is no higher than the pressure of fraternity and good will and good citizenship within its walls.

In my own state of Florida today we have persuaded ourselves that our interest in business booms must never be greater than our interest in an educational boom, and a religious boom, and an arts and letters boom and a boom in civic conscience. We are beginning to conceive our state as a community with a past as well as a future and to know that even though that past must not be permitted to limit the future it's dignities may well guard and guide us in the building of that future. We have come to value now our common traditions and good manners equally with our common sense and good round dollars, and our historic background in full measure with our increasing economic backbone.

There is no real gold in a city or a state unless it has a spirit which includes but does not end with the mere desire to make a profit on investment.

Salesman—Yes sir, this car pays for itself.

Customer—All right, as soon as it has paid for itself send it along to me.

WILL ROGERS COLLECTS TWO DIMES FROM JOHN D. SR.

Ormond Beach, Fla.—Will Rogers, famous comedian and mayor of Beverly Hill, Calif., considers his visit to John D. Rockefeller, Sr., a profitable one. In the morning he entertained the oil magnate and the rest of his foursome during a round of golf, for which he received one bright new dime, and later lunched with him at his home, "The Casements," at Ormond Beach, Fla., where he was presented with the other. Photo shows Rogers and Mr. Rockefeller standing in the doorway of the "Casements."

FACTS ABOUT COWS ON NEW MEXICO RANCHES

From a study of 127 New Mexico ranches made in 1925, the following facts are brought out by A. L. Walker, economist for the New Mexico A. & M. College:

The greater portion of the ranch receipts on the twenty ranches making the greatest return on investment came from the sale of calves, yearling steers, and cows. Older steers and heifers were relatively unimportant in the sales classes of cattle on any but the smallest ranches studied, and on these ranches receipts from heifers constituted only a small percentage of the total.

Because of the close proximity of the more important markets, and probably because of a higher degree of finish, ranchmen in northeast New Mexico received 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents per pound more for yearling steers than ranchmen in the western and southern parts of the State. Considerable feeding of foders and cake is done in the northeastern part of the state and the quantity and quality of the grasses are such that it is possible to put on a higher degree of finish than in other parts of New Mexico.

The calves sold from northeast New Mexico ranches had a slight advantage in weight when compared with those sold from ranches in the southern and western parts. It is also interesting to note that the net price per pound received for calves by the ranchmen in northeast New Mexico was no greater than for calves of other sections.

Cows as a rule are sold from ranches after they have served their usefulness as breeders. The average New Mexico ranchman sold 137 cows in 1925 at $3.14 net per hundredweight. They averaged approximately 800 pounds each. Cull cows sold from northeastern New Mexico ranches averaged 50 pounds per head more than cull cows sold from the ranches in the southern part of the state, and sold for 24 cents per hundredweight more.

Kansas City was New Mexico's most important range cattle market in 1925. With the development of the California market, however, western New Mexico cattlemen have found it highly profitable to ship there. Much unfinished stuff is shipped to the Missouri valley, Colorado, and Texas feed lots. Local buyers are very active in the western and southern parts of the state, while ranchmen in northeast New Mexico find it economical to ship direct. This may in a way account for the net price advantage northeast New Mexico ranchmen had in 1925.

"James, do you know where I could get a mackintosh for my daughter?"

"I do not, but there's a fine young McFarland up yonder, and he's a bachelor. Maybe he'd suit the young lady."

TAX COLLECTION TO HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

SANTA FE—Motor vehicle and gasoline tax collection would be placed under supervision of the state highway commission and would be divorced from the state comptroller's department, under terms of house bill 306, introduced last week by R. L. Baca and Jose Ortiz y Pino. The bill is expected to receive favorable action by the house, although it is expected to meet with some opposition.

This change was anticipated several months ago, when there was much sentiment in favor of abolishing the state comptroller's department altogether.

MEN'S AREA COUNCIL WILL MEET IN DENVER COLO. MARCH 13 TO 15

The biggest program ever brought to the Rocky Mountain region by any church organization will feature the Denver Area Men's Council to be held in Denver March 13, 14 and 15. It is stated that it is the costliest three days church program ever put on in the United States.
 According to the plans of Dr.
 Bert Edward Smith of the board of education of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Bishop Charles L. Mead, and other church leaders, it is designed to give the people of the Denver area the most appealing, instructional and inspirational program that is possible to select. The churchmen of the Denver Area have long distances to travel and the program chosen is to justify the time and expense of people coming from all sections of the area, comprising the four states of Colorado, Wyoming,
 New Mexico and Utah.
 Although the program is under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church, more than a half dozen of the leading denominations are represented in the talent selected.
 Each speaker is chosen regardless of his church connection because he has a message the people want to hear.
 Churchmen of all denominations are invited to attend the council meetings.
 It is estimated that more than 1000 people from all parts of Denver will enroll for the three days council. The Greeley and Colorado Springs districts, it is predicted, will have 400 enrollments each. The Pueblo district will have a large enrollment. The Grand Junction district as well as the districts from neighboring states will be well represented. In addition to the regular enrollments there will be hundreds of people who will attend individual programs in which they are interested. Already it has been announced that several towns within 100 miles of Denver will be represented by the full membership of local organizations.
 The Sunday evening program at the City Auditorium when the council is opened by United States Senator Frank B. Willis of Ohio and
 Dr. Frederick F. Shannon of Central Church, Chicago, have accepted places on the program. Speakers who have already been announced are: Ralph Connor, Hon. Pat M.
 Neff, Lorenzo H. King, Gov. Walter
 M. Pierce, Edward A. Steiner, Dr.
 George Elliott, Bishop John M.

COOKED CEREALS
 (Central School Notes)

A large part of our food comes from plants. The most important of the plant foods are grains or cereals. The chief cereals eaten in this country are wheat, oats and corn used in some form as flours, oatmeal and cornmeal.
 All cereals contain a large proportion of fuel food and a small amount of the building materials.
 Oats contain more building food than wheat or corn, however, they are all excellent foods.
 Cooked cereals are better for a person than uncooked. Oatmeal or cream of wheat are much more nourishing than shredded wheat or other uncooked cereals. An average serving of oatmeal with cream and sugar contains four ounces of protein while one shredded wheat biscuit with cream and sugar contains only two and two-thirds ounces of protein. Cooking develops flavor, makes food easier digested and removes danger from parasites.
 In oatmeal we have water, sugar,
 starch, fat, building material or gluten and the mineral salt, while in the uncooked cereal we don't find all these food values.

Artesia, New Mexico,
February 22, 1927.
To the Members of the School Board, Artesia, New Mexico:

We, the committee appointed by the school board of Artesia, New Mexico to make an examination of the Grade School Building in regard to the safety of the building, make the following report after a thorough examination.

That a 3/4" rod be placed through the south wall up next to the wall running east and west on the second floor with a heavy plate on each end and turnbuckled up tight, rod to be placed against the wall and about three feet below the ceiling. Also run a 3/4" rod through the center pilaster on the south side of building through room to hall on the inside with a heavy plate on each end and to only be tightened.

We also recommend that a competent builder be appointed to inspect said building every week and make a report in writing to the school board as to the condition of the building. We do not feel that there is any immediate danger but recommend this as an extra precaution.

We also recommend that this building be condemned and torn down and the material be used for another building as soon as the present term of school expires.

There are several cracks in the walls of the building from the top to the bottom. The building is an old one, not properly ventilated or lighted and the roof is bad and considerable repairs in general are needed and would be an expense every year until replaced with a new building. Respectfully submitted,

CARLSBAD WINS GIRLS BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT HELD LAST SATURDAY

The Girl's tournament at Carlsbad February 26, may be considered quite a success—at least from the viewpoint of the winners. The drawing took place as soon after nine o'clock, Saturday morning, as was possible for the coaches to assemble. The first game was played at ten o'clock. In this game, Carlsbad easily defeated Hagerman. Artesia drew the strong Dexter team for her opponent, in the next game. Through the commendable efforts of her guards and centers, the game finally resulted in victory for Artesia, with a score of 23 to 25. Hope eliminated Lake Arthur in the third game. Carlsbad met Artesia in the feature game of the afternoon winning by one point with a score 28 to 29. The Artesia girls came back strong after their two hours rest; yet at first the game went against them. After the soreness from their grueling in the morning's game ceased to bother them, they rallied, overcame Carlsbad's eight point lead, and kept the lead for the remainder of the game, until Lula Wilson, guard, was disqualified. The game, then, with only one half minute to go, seemed within Artesia's grasp. The half minute stretched out. Artesia made a goal on a foul. Carlsbad made a field goal. The ball went back to center and was soon in Artesia's territory. The Artesia forwards now missed several opportunities to score. The Carlsbad guards finally broke up Artesia's passes and the ball was played back and forth, up and down the court, and still the time keepers gong did not sound. Finally, through a lucky break, a Carlsbad forward secured the ball within scoring distance and caged it. The long waited for gong

Right here is a good place while a suggestion is effect that in the tournament an effort be made officials who are not members of the school body of the schools. This should be at least two reasons: the honesty of the student be not questioned; next, testing teams be as important decisions.
