NOW THAT IT IS OVER

As this is written, the battle of the ballots is on. Whatever the results may be we are willing to accept them and keep on living just as we have always done. Unfortunately there are many occasions where unpleasantness creep in a campaign, which have no place. In the heat of the contest there are many things said and done uncalled for and wounds made which only time can heal. This temptation comes to those who take an interest in politics.

One candidate took occasion to criticize the Advocate from the platform for accepting unsigned political advertising. However in this we feel now and have felt in the past that we were entirely within our rights and did not violate any newspaper ethics in accepting contributions marked "political advertising" and paid for at our regular advertising rates, so long as the said contribution did not contain any libelous matter, all opinions to the contrary notwithstanding. There is no code of ethics which compels a merchant or contributor to sign an article, if it is made known that the advertising is bought and paid for. We are not attempting to argue the question of the effectiveness of an unsigned article. We will very frankly admit that an unsigned article of the nature of political advertising is not as effective as one that is signed. And if we have violated any code of ethics in accepting unsigned political advertising, practically every paper in the state of New Mexico is doing it every week for there is now running in the Advocate as well as a number of other papers nearby a series of political advertisements by the Republican State Central Committee. We do not know who the author is and we doubt if any other paper does.

Thoughtful readers realize that advertising matter, whether it be legal, political or display is the legitimate source of revenue for the newspaper and accept it as such. And there is one outstanding feature about magazines and newspapers which has entitled them to the name of the silent companion of man and, that is you don't have to read any particular part of the paper or magazine, unless you so desire.

We make this statement so that our readers may know the position we take in a matter of this kind. The criticism from the particular candidate was not unexpected. Four years ago this same candidate came around to the Advocate office and attempted to intimidate the writer with a threat of a libel suit, if a statement made in a certain political advertisement was not apologized for. We refused. He did not sue, because he had no grounds for a suit and knew so at the time of the threat.

The Advocate has never under the present management, made a remark which might be construed to be derogatory to the candidacy of any man or woman for a county or district office. We have refrained from such practice because we realized that we had a distinct advantage over any candidate. Such courtesy and consideration was not shown the writer by this candidate, who took occasion to lambast us from the platform.

SIX MILLION DOLLARS OF UNPAID TAXES

The campaign for the collection of delinquent taxes should be intensified during the closing months of the fiscal year, says a Bulletin of the Taxpayers' Association of New Mexico. If these taxes can not be collected, something is wrong with our administrative machinery, or the conclusion is inevitable that tax rates are so high that the condition of demoralization which has prevailed for several years in the matter of tax collections will become worse instead of better, as the tax rates increase.

The table below takes account of 1926 and prior taxes only. It shows that on December 31, 1927, there was a total of $6,238,054.32 of unpaid taxes for those years. One county has practically a clean slate. That is the county of Curry where the record shows a 100 per cent collection. Counties having a 95 per cent collection are Bernalillo, Dona Ana, Grant, Hidalgo, Lea, Lincoln, Luna, Otero, Quay, Roosevelt, San Juan, and Sierra.

The amounts given below are the amounts of uncollected taxes for the various counties for 1926 and prior years. The collection of these taxes would do much to relieve the burden of those who are in the habit of paying taxes fully and promptly.

THE OTHER SIDE OF SINCLAIR'S PERSONALITY

Millions of people have heard of Sinclair Oil Co., Sinclair Oil Stock and the Sinclair Trial. But a few words concerning the personality of Mr. Sinclair whose first name is the familiar, jolly sounding "Harry" and whose middle name is Ford!

Like Mr. Ford, Harry Sinclair started with a nickel and made hundreds of millions. His fortune is estimated, or was before he hired expensive lawyers, at about $300,000,000. Unlike Ford, Sinclair got his first start by an injury to his foot.

According to people who pretend to know, Harry Sinclair has a big smile, a loud, rather harshly good-natured laugh, which enables him to persuade other strong men to work, which inspires confidence.

Sinclair is a hard worker, and is shrewd. "Time" magazine publishes an interesting close-up of this financier and oil king who is again in the limelight, perhaps greatly against his wishes and contrary to his expressed desires, but in the limelight just the same. Says Time magazine:

"Destiny is a strange thing. For some men it flows evenly, broadening like a river. For others it expands like a gas. If the expansion is hurried there may be an explosion and a man's career will settle to earth in flocules of soot.

"Harry Ford Sinclair, oil man, who last week faced trial, a second time and less hopefully, for criminal conspiracy to defraud the U. S., has learned a lot about destiny. Sinclair is not yet 52 years old. He was born in Wheeling, W. Va. It is less than 25 years since he was first heard of in Wall street and on Long Island as a wealthy young parvenu from the mid-western oil fields. It is not 30 years since he was the son of a village druggist in Kansas, a son who, when his father died, lacked the patience to keep the little business going. One day he came in from rabbit-hunting with a wound in his foot. He had shot himself. An insurance company paid him $5,000 for the loss of a toe. Something told him where to put the money; not into the drug business, but into "mud sills," the big logs men were using them in Kansas to bolster their oil derricks.

"Young Sinclair's logs brought a profit. He sank the money in an Oklahoma oil pool and came out with $100,000. Soon he was a millionaire producer with properties dotted all through the midwest, from southern Kansas to northern Texas. He would spot a place, buy or lease it, develop it, sell out and look for another place. He kept control of richest wells.

"In those early years, Harry Sinclair helped fix the standard type of U. S. oil boom promoters. His energy was tremendous. His big smile and loud, harshly good-natured laugh would persuade strong men to work and out-smart the roney fellows. He was, and still is, as shrewd as they come in the whole shrewd oil game. His big laugh and heavy hand are the foils of a cunning mind.

"Not until 1916 did he start branching out from production into oil's subtler phases—transportation, refining, marketing. He formed the Sinclair Oil & Refining Co. out of seven small enterprises and built his own pipeline to the Great Lakes. In 1917 he formed the Sinclair Gulf corporation with his own fleet of ships. While larger companies were getting war contracts, he, an alert independent, developed a Latin-American trade. In 1919 he let his friends on various "ground floors" of the Consolidated Oil corporation, a towering organization of world-wide schemes.

"In the U. S., outside of oil, he was making his dominance felt by bucking the baseball business with a league of his own. The National and American leagues were too much for him, however, and his costly Federal League died in its second year (1915). With racehorses he did better. He bought the services of famed Trainer Sam Hildreth and out of his Ranocas stables, in 1923, came Zev, world's champion. He bought a yacht, a private car, a Fifth avenue mansion, an estate at Great Neck, L. I.

"The world-wide reach of Sinclair Consolidated was flung out by the burly Destiny Man to Mexico, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Panama; to Angola, in Portuguese West Africa; to Russia. Sinclair's technique was to approach the government of a country with the fly-leaf of his check book showing. "Men mumble but money talks," is an old oil adage. He would ask for a franchise to prospect for petroleum. If he found some, the government could have it all, except for a million or so acres. Sinclair always got his acres along the coast, where his tank-ships could put in. The oil fields he obtained this way soon brought Sinclair Consolidated's holdings up to $380,000,000. At the same time, Sinclair learned how to handle governments.

The rest of Mr. Sinclair's history is familiar to most readers of newspapers and magazines.

Better times ahead for the farmers of this section is seen by a number of leading citizens, who are optimistic enough to believe that the next two or three years will bring about more substantial values in farm lands. The valley is destined to get an increased tourist travel in the immediate future and with the tourist travel will come investors.

The whole family owns the car. That is, when the car is idle it is mother's car, when it is in use it is the children's car, and when disabled or with a tire down it is dad's car."

HEALTH NEWS

The American Child Health Association designates May 1st, Child Health Day and the week in which it falls Child Health Week.

Locally, if Child Health Week is to be anything more than a mere perfunctory "observance," certain definite results should be achieved. The playground movement should get a substantial start, so that the youngsters may be relieved of the dirt and danger of the public streets and given recreation which will build up instead of tearing down.

The sanitation question should be brought home to every section of the city, and dirty alleys, streets, backyards, and barn lots should be outlawed. The provision dealer and the butcher should be made to understand the menace of the fly. The ample provision should be made for keeping the inspection of milk up to standard.

The necessity of absolute obedience to quarantine regulations ought to be brought home to every parent. Celebrating Child Health Week while carelessness permits contagion to increase right along is something of a contradiction.

The visiting nurse movement should be fortified and arrangements made whereby all mothers can avail themselves of reliable instruction in nursing and free medical advice when necessary.

The mothers' pension law should be applied wherever there is need or justification, and its purposes made plain to all mothers who might come within its provisions.

Special thoughtfulness should be devoted to backward and deficient children in the schools and medical inspection should be emphasized and extended.

These are some of the practical obligations presented by Child Health Week. They affect our children directly and vitally and concern the entire community. Reading pretty sentiments and wearing baby ribbons form one way of keeping Child Health Week. Helping to do something real for the health and happiness of the children right here in our own city—in our own blocks—forms another.

Let's make something practical out of Child Health Week.

Dr. Puckett spent one day last week in Malaga investigating and giving the necessary preventive measures to a Diphtheria case. The non immune contacts of this case have been quarantined and given preventive doses of Anti-toxin in hopes of preventing a spread of the disease.

Mrs. Hardy spent a day in Artesia. She met with the Women's Club in formulating a plan of Child Health for the coming year, here. EDDY COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

TREES AND SHRUBS BEAUTIFY GROUNDS

Every home owner would like his home and grounds to have an inviting and pleasant appearance. This effect may be had in only one way; that is, by proper planting of a lawn, and trees and ornamentals about the place says J. G. Koogler, county agent of Bernalillo county. Frequently it is helpful to consult the local nurseryman about the landscaping. Where these men are located, they have studied the types of trees and shrubs that do well in their section and are probably better informed on local condition than firms located at a distance.

The home grounds, to be most attractive, should have the house as the central feature, a lawn for the foreground, a background of trees and shrubs, and flanking border masses of perennial flowers or flowering shrubs. The appearance is greatly influenced by the selection and placing of the trees, shrubs, and flowering plants. The lawn should not be cut up with flower beds. Flowers, flowering shrubs and small evergreens may be used in groups or clumps or single specimens about the edges of the lawn. The sharp curves or turns in the walks may be rounded up by proper planting of shrubs and flowers. Shrubs or evergreens should not be planted too close to the walks, as these specimens will be in the way when they are grown.

Sections of the country which do not have access to an abundant water supply may still do wonders with the native trees, evergreens, shrubs and flowers. Hydrangea, hawthorn, snowberry, Apache plum and mountain mahogany may be found growing wild. All may be transplanted and are resistant to heat and drought. Many other native specimens may be found in the brakes and draws of almost any locality and may be transplanted to advantage.

Raymond is 6 years old. One morning in school his teacher was trying to impress upon the children the idea of self-reliance. "Your fathers and mothers work for you now," she said, "but what will you do after you are grown? Who will work for you then?" Little Ray's hand went up instantly. "Wives of course," he shouted.

Boss—Late again, Jones! Have you ever done anything on time? Clerk—Yes, sir; bought a car.

CITIZENS TRAINING CAMP

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 24.—
Enrollment for the Citizens' Military Training Camps to be held this summer in the 8th Corps Area is progressing favorably and is considerably ahead of last year, announced Major General T. Q. Donaldson, the Corps Area Commander at Ft. Sam
Houston, today.

To date the six camps are approximately 65 per cent filled, with applications coming in at the rate of about 40 per day.

Compared with the eastern section of the United States, where many camps are already full, this west is to be rather a poor showing,
unless one takes into consideration,
the great area covered by the States of Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico, which comprise the 8th Corps Area.

I am sure the young men of this section of the United States, said General Donaldson, are just as appreciative of the advantages and benefits of the month's summer training offered them at Government expense, as are their eastern brothers, and the apparent slowness in taking advantage of the Government's very generous offer is due primarily to the greater length of time it takes to communicate between the various centers of the Corps Area.

Last year, due to additional funds received late in June, continued General Donaldson, these headquarters were able to order to camp and to train some 500 more than the quota assigned by the War Department, and last minute applicants were not disappointed.

This year, the situation is different. The secretary of war has announced that no additional funds will be available, and the quota of 2700 assigned the 8th Corps Area cannot be exceeded.

This means that the young man who waits until the last minute will undoubtedly be disappointed and the only way for him to be sure of a place in camp is to submit his application at once.

CHINESE ELM IN WIDE FAVOR

The Chinese Elm was introduced into the United States in 1908 by the office of foreign-plant introduction of the bureau of plant industry.
It is now established in a number of places in this country, particular in the southwest. This elm is very hardy and is valuable under a great variety of climate and soil conditions than any tree yet introduced.
Its resistance to drought, alkali, and extremes of temperature give it a special value in Eddy county, where shade trees are desirable. The tree is one of the first to leaf out in the spring and the last to shed in the fall. It can be grown from plants, seed, or cuttings. Under drought conditions it will grow more rapidly than the Cottonwood and under irrigation it will grow as rapidly as the Cottonwood. The mature tree will not break as badly during the windy season as the cottonwood.

The Chinese Elm is sold by several nurseries in the southwest and can be secured from the experiment stations at Lubbock, Texas or Hays,
Kansas at a low cost.

Husband—I say, if the worst comes to the worst I suppose we ready living with their parents.

GUARANTEE

Six months Free Service adjustment on Federal Blue Pennant and Double Blue Pennant Tires.
This plan involves no additional cost for insurance above our regular retail prices and gives you free tire protection for six months from date of purchase. We agree and bind ourselves in writing to repair Free of Charge any Federal Tires purchased under this plan and same applies to tires injured by accident and all road hazards.

We further agree that should such Federal Tire become so badly damaged as to be beyond repair if upon examination, it is our opinion the tire is defective in material or workmanship, we will make a liberal allowance on a new tire. Charges will be adjusted on service rendered by the old tire.

This guarantee will be given noly to original purchasers of Federal Tires.

To My Old and New Friends

I want you to know that your patronage and loyal support (for which I am grateful) in the past has enabled me to grow in the tire business to the extent that I can now adopt this new plan of quantity buying, quick turnovers and small profit, which is in line with modern merchandising methods used in all lines.

Under this new plan I have selected Federal Extra Service Tires exclusively for this territory in order that I might concentrate my purchases and because of their high quality and the organization behind Federal.

The Federal Rubber Co. is an institution where, under ideal working conditions, the finest and purest rubber and strongest fabric that the world's market affords are fashioned into superior pneumatic tires and tubes. Skillful, contented and well compensated workmen form the backbone of the Federal Rubber Co.

The Federal Tire is the quality product of a steadily growing and substantial organization and we are placing Federal Tires on the cars of our customers because we honestly believe there is no higher quality tire on the market.
Let's follow the Blue Pennant Trail.

Very truly,
B. PIOR.

FREE! FREE!!

On June 1st, three cash prizes of $5.00, $10.00 and $15.00 will be given free to the persons giving the nearest and most correct answers to the following questions:

- 1—How many Federal Tires came in this car?
- 2—How many Federal Tubes came in this car?
- 3—What is the total weight of this car of Federal Tires and Tubes?

LEAVES FROM NANCY'S KITCHEN CLUB NOTEBOOK

I think we managed to make a modern kitchen for Grandmother Lovett without taking away the delightful home-iness of the one she had. It will have a gray linoleum floor, light-gray walls, white woodwork, light-gray cabinets, refrigerator and table, light-gray chair with a lavender cushion in it, lavender curtains, silver-gray oil stove, lavender lacquered bookcase, a china clock in purple and white, and a foot-stool covered purple.

Keeping Meat Fresh

"We didn't always have ice when I was a young housekeeper," said Grandmother Lovett. "And so we made our meat stay fresh longer in this way: instead of putting it flat in a pan, we set it on a grill, so that it didn't rest in its juices; we covered it, but not tightly."

Left-over Biscuits

Sprinkle cold biscuits with hot water, or dip them in hot water for an instant. Then set in the oven to dry and heat.

Children will love biscuits cut in two, each half with a dab of butter on it, put in a pan with syrup poured over the whole and cooked for a few minutes.

Meat and potatoes in one dish.

Meat Omelet

Shred or run through food chopper left-over roast beef or steak. Heat in double boiler or in container over boiling teakettle. Fold into mashed potatoes. Make a smooth mound of the mixture, brush it over with white of egg and brown in oven. Mashed potatoes should always be mixed with hot, not cold, milk.

Table on Rollers

"I'm not so fond of taking steps as I used to be," says Mrs. Lovett. "So I had a small table put on rollers. I keep this at my outside kitchen door. The delivery boys put their packages on it without having to come in to the kitchen with their muddy feet. Then I roll it to the refrigerator. At meal time I use it to collect dirty dishes."

ARTESIA GETS MISSIONARY CONFERENCE FOR NEXT YEAR

The Artesia delegation to the Annual Missionary Conference of the M. E. Church, South, in Albuquerque last week, succeeded in getting the Conference for Artesia next year over the bids of Pecos and Clovis. It also secured a conference officer, Mrs. I. C. Dixon, who was elected superintendent of literature and publicity. Mrs. J. H. Walker, wife of a former pastor at Artesia, now presiding elder of the Las Vegas district, was elected president of the conference. She succeeds Mrs. K. C. Childers of Albuquerque, formerly of Clovis, who had held the office very successfully for the past four years. Mrs. C. C. Higbee, wife of Rev. Higbee, who was pastor here last year and is now in charge of the church at Las Vegas, was re-elected to the office of superintendent of social service and supplies.

An outstanding feature of the conference was the address by Miss Elizabeth Claiborne, a missionary to China for many years. Miss Claiborne, is a fascinating speaker and gave a very interesting address upon "The Young Peoples' Movement in China." Mrs. R. O. Cowan was a member of the Artesia party at the Conference, in addition to those mentioned last week.

A sentry halted a man in general's uniform who was attempting to enter barracks and asked him for the pass word.

The general was unable to remember it, and the sentry accordingly turned him back.

Next day the soldier was warmly complimented on his devotion to duty—and for some time afterwards given every dirty job in barracks.

"What are you studying at the University of Chicago?"

"Triggernometry."

STATE TO LOSE LARGE AMOUNT

A decision by District Judge Reed Holloman ordering the state land commissioners to refund to J. F. Bowyer $814 in excess fees collected on oil land leases in 1925 and 1926 will mean the loss of more than $100,000 to the state school and institutional funds if it is upheld by the supreme court, C. B. Barker, attorney for the commission, said Saturday.

The fees of 15 5-8 cents per acre were collected on the Zinn lease form, which provides payment at 1 per cent per acre, Mr. Barker said. He plans to appeal this or a similar case to the supreme court to determine whether the charges were legally made.

P. E. O. PARTY

The P. E. O. Sisterhood gave its annual entertainment for the husbands, the B. I. L. party at the home of Mrs. R. L. Paris, last Friday evening. The festivities started with a delicious buffet supper after which the business of initiating the B. I. L. S. into the brotherhood began. Mesdames Ed Phillips and J. H. Jackson were in charge of the ceremonies and under their clever management the process furnished enough fun for several evenings. The Paris home was tastefully decorated with sweet peas, pansies and other flowers for the occasion. Beside members and husbands there were present the Misses Dora Russell and Helen Sage and Messrs. Willis Morgan and Howard Whitson. Miss Esther Morgan was at home from Roswell for the party.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

The surprise birthday party given by Mrs. Lewis Cole in honor of her mother, Mrs. W. B. Glover, was a very pretty and happy event. Fourteen ladies were present and enjoyed an afternoon which will always be a pleasant memory. The color scheme was pink and white with tulips as favors. Games and the exchange of good wishes were the pastime of the hour. Mrs. Glover was the recipient of some pretty and useful gifts reassuring her of the esteem of her friends. Earl Gage, Jr., and Mrs. C. M. Cole assisted in serving the refreshments.

GIRL SCOUT MEETING

The Girl Scouts of troop No. 1, met at the central school building at 4 p. m. Four girls passed the tenderfoot test. Other tests given were first aid and compass. A signaling test was also given. A short program was given by the Arrow Head Patrol at the Presbyterian church. Seventeen Scouts attended the meeting.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB

The Fortnightly Bridge Club met with Mrs. C. E. Brown yesterday. The hostess served a delicious two course luncheon at one o'clock. Mrs. Fred Cole was elected to membership to fill a vacancy. Mesdames Dayton Reecer, Price Gittinger and Will Linell substituted.

EASTERN STAR

Initiation occupied part of the time at the meeting of the Star Tuesday evening, the candidates being Mrs. D. L. Grimm and W. T. Haldeman. Refreshment of punch and angel food cake were served and there was a good attendance.

A real treat. Friday, April 27. Faculty Play. 19-1tc-21

MRS. WHITE HONORED

Mrs. H. N. White, who has spent the winter here with her daughter, Mrs. E. S. Wilkins, and family on the Cottonwood, was the honor guest at a one o'clock dinner Sunday, given by Mrs. R. B. Kishbaugh. The Kishbaughs were old neighbors of Mrs. White many years ago. On this occasion they invited to take dinner with Mrs. White, other old neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Turknett, and the day was spent very pleasantly in reminiscing. Mrs. White left yesterday to visit a daughter in Kansas before returning to her home at San Bernardino, California.

FIRST BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. J. J. Clarke was hostess to the First Bridge Club at its regular meeting yesterday afternoon, entertaining an extra table of guests, who were Mesdames Compton, Crandall, Hoover and Cash Austin of Farmington. Mesdames Hightower and Hartell and Miss "Jack" Hightower substituted. Lovely refreshments were served in two courses.

HOME EC GIRLS ENTERTAIN

The Second Year Home Economics class of the high school entertained the high school faculty at luncheon last Thursday. The luncheon was in two courses and was served at twelve o'clock. It was a most successful dinner, the food being delicious, the table appointments attractive and the service excellent. The color scheme was red and white and the favors, quaint little dolls, carried out the color scheme in their costumes. The members of the class serving the dinner were Roselle Berry, Mary Smith, Annie Laurie Wright and Verta Moore, and those engaged in preparing it were Mary Jackson, Lola Gray, Ruth Bigler, La Rue Mann, Camille Horner and Fern McCaw.

WILL MOVE CITY OFFICE

The office of the town of Artesia will be moved from the Clarke building on Roseawn avenue to the office formerly occupied by Dr. J. E. McCabe on Fourth street. Workmen are remodeling the new office and the fixtures in the present city office will be moved as soon as the new quarters are ready.

EVENING BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Jeff Hightower was hostess to the Evening Bridge Club last Friday. After the usual delicious supper was served several rounds of bridge were played. Mrs. Mabel Weston and Beecner Rowan substituted.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

The Idlewhites Bridge Club enjoyed an extra meeting when a bridge luncheon was given at the E. H. Perry home last Tuesday at one o'clock. The luncheon was served in three courses at a beautifully appointed table centered by a lovely bouquet of tulips. Mrs. Perry's daughter, Mrs. Louise Glosbrenner, who leaves shortly for her home, was the honor guest.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL OPERETTA "AUNT DRUSILLA'S GARDEN"

National Music Week in every community should be a time when people pause long enough to realize what music means to our nation. What it means to the young child and what it means to the aged people, who live in the past and cling to pleasant memories.

On account of the limited time during the month of May for the neavy schedule before Commencement, the music department of the Junior High School is presenting a two act operetta entitled "Aunt Drusilla's Garden" on Friday, May 4th at the central school building. This operetta is given to celebrate National Music Week which is from May 6th to 12th.

The cast of characters of "Aunt Drusilla's Garden" are as follows: Aunt Drusilla Rogers—Ethelyn Cobble.

Aunt Prudence Rogers—Evelyn Cobble.
Nelda Alvenia Rogers—Elizabeth Gage.
Pat—J. C. Paris.
Bob—Rowland McLean.
Ted—Roy Cowan.
Tiny Little—Mona Sinclair.
The Gang—Chorus of Boys.
The Circle—Chorus of Girls.
Butterfly—Helen Hutcheon.
Winter Fairies—Ellamaye Eaton, Elsie Jernigan.
Sunshine Fairies—Mary Ann Miller, Carolyn Seale and Helen Keiser.
Bees—Josephine Payne and Mary Jane Cunningham.

Remember the date, Friday, May 4th, Central School building, eight o'clock.

Arba Green left Sunday for Alba, Missouri, in response to a message that his mother was very low. A message received by his daughter, Miss Irma, after he left stated that she had passed away Sunday evening. She was seventy-nine years old the Friday preceding her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dexter were week-end visitors at El Paso. (It will be remembered that Mr. Dexter had the misfortune to lose his watch while in Juarez, Mexico a few months back, this time, however, as a matter of safety he kept it pinned to his red flannel undershirt.)

THE CHURCHES

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH Fourth and Grand Rev. John P. Sinclair, Pastor Phone 249

Sunday, April 29th (Boy's Sunday).

9:45 a. m., Sabbath school.
11:00 a. m., morning worship. Sermon subject "Are there any real Christians left?" How are Christians different? Nietzsche said that "the world had only one Christian and He died on a cross." What would happen if the world took Christ's words seriously? Communion at this Holy service.
6:45 p. m., Christian Endeavor.
7:30 p. m., Boy's service. Special music by orchestra and junior choir. Sermon subject: "The boy who did not appreciate his home and the boy who did."

"The devil is perfectly willing to leave to the church the prayer meeting if give him the play ground. Let us supervise the boy's play."

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE Corner Eighth and Missouri Streets W. A. Huffman, Pastor Phone 295

9:45 a. m., Sunday school.
11:00 a. m., morning worship.
6:00 p. m., children's service in charge of Mrs. Huffman.
6:45 p. m., young peoples society.
7:30 p. m., evening service.
The morning service will be especially for boys. We hope to see a large attendance of boys at this service. The pastor will speak especially to them.

Rev. Mrs. Hartline, of Clovis, will preach at the evening service.

Prayer meeting at church Wednesday evening at 7:30. Cottage prayer meeting at Mrs. Frank Watkins' Friday evening.

Everybody is invited to all these services.

ARTESIA METHODIST CHURCH Mims J. Jackson, Pastor Austin Brown, Supt. Sunday School

The 11 o'clock service will be dedicated to "Children's Day" program. Let's have a fine attendance, also, at the 9:40 Sunday school service.

Conforming to "National Boys Week" idea, we devote the 7:30 evening service exclusively to our boys. At 2:30 in the afternoon, our Senior League becomes host to all the Pecos Valley Leagues. Good program assured. Come.

All of our Sunday school classes except three are "over the top" in their conference quotas. Let's make it unanimous!

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Our services last Sunday were well attended. While the pastor presented the Unified program at Lake Arthur at the morning hour Rev. Pat Murphy preached for our church. At the evening hour the pastor was back and filled his pulpit. We had a fine service in the evening, there being two conversions. Two fine young people came out on the Lord's side. We rejoiced to see them take their stand with God's people.

The Fifth Sunday meeting of this Association will be held in our church. Rev. McCann of Roswell will preach at the 11 o'clock hour. He will no doubt bring us a great message. Dinner will be served at the church. The laymen, the women and the young people will render interesting programs in the afternoon. Our missionary will preach at the evening hour. Everybody is most cordially invited to these services.

R. PETERSON, Pastor.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY 613 W. Main Street

Sunday services at 11:00 a. m. Wednesday services at 7:30 p. m. Subject for Sunday, April 29: "Everlasting Punishment." The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Better than last year. Faculty Play. 19-1tc-21

CLEAN UP, PAINT UP

(As sung at the Woman's Club) There's a certain club in town That is bound to wind renoun By the war its going to wage upon the dirt. We will help along the work And our duty we'll not shirk And the whole town with one problem we will skirt.

Now this that is filled with such renown We'll begin to wage a war upon the fly So we'll help along the work And our duty we'll not shirk, We can do what we set out to, if we try.

All our windows we will screen And our yards we'll keep so clean We will pull the weeds and burn up all the mess And as thru our town you ride You will point to it with pride And you'll have to own, there are no flies on us.

Screen! Paint! Clean! And make it classy. Don your overalls with us With a can of paint and brush, We will do it with a rush And we'll make our neighborhood cleanest with no fuss. —The Hagerman Messenger.

Heaven Help Us! Another Saxophone Has Been Born!

Not content with spring, house cleaning, presidential campaigns, senate investigations and nine saxophones, the Fates have thrust upon us another saxophone, making ten. We just received this bad news from the Conn Music Center, Elkhart, Indiana.

That will increase the suffering of the public ten per cent, according to the reports of the country's best statisticians. The latest perpetration is a saxophone in "F." We don't know what that means but it is reported to mean "Saxophone in Finale." If it is true that this is the last saxophone, we're humbly thankful. Providing no more saxophones are made, we guess we can stand just one more. Hospital records will tell.

According to the latest United States census, the saxophone family, from smallest to largest, consists of the following: E flat soprano, C soprano, B flat soprano curved, B flat soprano straight,

F mezzo-soprano, E flat alto, C melody, B flat tenor, E flat baritone and B flat bass.

Count 'Em and Weep

Count 'em, gentlemen. Count 'em and weep. Ten of 'em, now.

What makes it worse is that the new mezzo-soprano in "F" is to be a lead instrument. You know what that means. Remember when you used to sing in the choir? Everybody wanted to sing the solo parts. It wasn't so bad when most of the choir was set to work singing alto, baritone or bass, but when they broke forth into the lead it was terrible.

With the resourcefulness of the Spanish Inquisition, the makers of this instrument have doped out a new design which is different from all the rest. It looks the same but it sounds different. We're not interested. It can't sound any worse. Ho hum.

THE DISTRICT ROTARY CONVENTION OPENS IN ALBUQUERQUE TODAY

ALBUQUERQUE.—Guests to the 42nd District Rotary Conference to be held in Albuquerque, today and tomorrow, will be taken over the famous Rim Drive, which was opened last fall and is expected to attract thousands of tourists this year. The Rim Drive carries the visitor to the highest point in the Sandia Mountains and affords a view which is said not to be surpassed in America.

Delegations from Marfa, Sander- son, Alpine and El Paso, Texas, are coming strong to the Albuquerque Conference, and reservations have already been made for 350 visitors from the fifteen cities of the district. Raymond J. Knoepfel, prominent attorney of New York City, and only man to hold the presidency of the New York Club two successive terms, will be the principal speaker at the conference. Edward F. Flynn, railroad official of St. Paul, Minn., will also speak. He is widely known for his rapid fire talks, and is expected to be a feature of this year's conference, as he was last year at Carlsbad.

Guy Harrington, of Santa Fe, is district governor, and plans for the conference are in the hands of the Albuquerque club headed by Arthur Prager, conference secretary. In addition to important business meetings, the guests will be entertained with a banquet and a ball, as well as with motor trips, golf tournaments, and afternoon teas for the women guests.

The DAIRY

MUST FEED COWS FOR PRODUCTION

If the dairy industry of North Carolina is to profit most from the introduction of pure-bred cows and bulls brought in by farmers in recent years, the offspring from these animals must be well fed.

"In the three dairy improvement campaigns conducted in this state during the last three years about 850 pure bred, well selected dairy bulls have been placed on that many farms," says John A. Arey, dairy extension specialist at the North Carolina State college. "This does not include a number of other fine animals brought in through private sales. If the dairy industry is to derive any great benefit from the use of the animals, their offsprings must be well fed. This is true from the time the calf is dropped until it has passed its usefulness as a milk cow. Many heifers sired by good bulls have been disappointed and have been stunted in growth and production by under-feeding when they were young."

Mr. Arey states that good breeding is very important in building up the milk and cream production of a herd, but it is ineffective unless the good breeding is accompanied by good feeding. Underfeeding, he states, is largely responsible for dairy cows of this state averaging only about 150 pounds of butterfat a year. This quantity of butterfat selling for 45 cents a pound brings only $67.50 which will not pay for the feed the cow eats. In many cases, the production may be increased from 150 pounds to 225 pounds by liberal feeding. At 45 cents a pound the 225 pounds of fat will bring $101.25 which is enough to give the farmer a good profit for all the feeds he produces on his farm and feeds to his cows.

These animals which will not produce as high as 225 pounds of fat when well fed, should be culled from the herd and sold to the butcher; but, no cow should be so condemned until she has had a chance under good feeding and care, states Mr. Arey.

The Means at Hand

By AD SCHUSTER

IN A far-off province of India where men have time and are trained to think of possible villainy, Frank Lamson gave himself to evil thoughts. In this little hut on the frontier he was removed from the things he loved, from the men and women he called his kind, and from all examples for good.

Here he was on the borderland, face to face with the shadows and mysteries. He could not trust his own servant and he knew the very air to be filled with danger. So he played with his paperweight, turning it over and over, and made plans for revenge upon a woman.

He had loved her once and always would. Now that he was gone it was easy to make himself believe that had he stayed in England she would have learned to care for him. There came the chance for a career, the opportunity for fame and the return in splendor. With her refusal in his ears and desperation in his heart he had set out, not knowing or caring for the future. Now he had time to think, time to regret his haste, and time to plan to get even.

Ellen had married. He had seen that in the papers some one had sent, carefully marked lest the item escape his eye. And she had married Tom Wilkerson! Lamson remembered easily-going Wilkerson and hated him. He wrote to friends for more details, had all the papers sent to him, and waited his chance.

One day he thought he saw the opportunity. A friend, the only one who would have written so, advised the soldier that Wilkerson was in hard straits financially. "He has the reputation of being big-hearted, as you may remember," the letter went on. "Some shrewd men who know that kindness may be next to carelessness have him in a hole. Wilkerson woke up just in time, climbed half way out, but there he is sticking. If I had, say two thousand pounds, I could break the man. You know I'm in a competing line and that I know what I am talking about. But, I can't spare the change and, besides, he's your enemy, not mine. Just thought I would let you know that I'll do the work if you'll furnish the money."

Lamson, with his arms sprawled on the wooden table in his hut, played with the paperweight and tried to summon from his slender resources of money or friends the possibility of acquiring two thousand pounds. He would have to mortgage his future, sell his few possessions, and borrow to raise this sum. No time could be lost. Wilkerson was climbing out of the hole. Before long it would be too late to shove him back.

The man made a list of everything he owned and added the names of the friends who might be induced to loan him money. Then he wrote them all, diplomatic letters each suited to the recipient, letters asking money. Impatiently he awaited the replies and as he waited he toyed with the paperweight on his table.

One after one, the answers came and each he threw into the basket with disgust. They were all sorry, but, you know, one's money does not go far in this country and—it was the same.

"They won't loan it to me, that's what they mean. They'd loan it to Winslow, or Thorndyke—." He sat up late in the night, calling aloud for an inspiration that would lead him to money, money with which to ruin Ellen's husband. It was then that the fever rode into the window and touched him on the brow. The hut held a sick man, and delirium, and the news went the route of the runners. It was Thorndyke who came to help.

When Thorndyke approached the hut he was met by a frightened native, who gave him to know that Lamson had driven the servants from the hut and had been raving and shouting inside. The delirium, which was an evil spirit, had been more effective than the threats. The sick man was alone in his need.

Thorndyke broke in the door and there was Lamson at his table. The paperweight in his hand. But Lamson was dead. The fever had halted his plans for revenge.

"Poor fellow," said Thorndyke. "And it was just two months ago he asked me for a loan. Maybe, had I given it to him, he would have asked for leave and gone away where the fever would not have got him."

Then Thorndyke's eye fell on the dull-colored paperweight. He held it to the light, then secreted it carefully in his pocket.

"A sapphire!" he said, and he remembered the story of the lost one of Malik Kaffur. "It must be worth easily three thousand pounds! And old Lamson never knew."

Nagging

One of the best definitions of "nagging" was that given by Justice Darling—noted for his sense of humor—during the trial of a domestic action. A male witness was having a lot to say about his wife's nagging propensities. Judge Darling asked him to state exactly what he meant by "nagging." The man couldn't.

"T'll tell you what nagging is," said the judge. "It is the constant reiteration of unpleasant truths."

And come to think of it, it is, isn't it?

NOTICE OF HEARING UPON FINAL REPORT OF EXECUTRIX IN THE PROBATE COURT OF
EDDY COUNTY, NEW MEXICO

In the Probate Court, Eddy County,
State of New Mexico.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE
OF ROSE K. BAISH,
Deceased.

No. 549.
THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO,
to Margaret Baish, Heir, M. E. Baish, Guardian, and all persons who may be interested in the Estate of Rose K. Baish, deceased:

You and each of you are hereby notified that Mrs. E. E. Mathes, Executrix of the Estate of Rose K. Baish, deceased, has filed her Final Report as Executrix of said Estate together with her petition praying for her discharge.

You are therefore notified that the Hon. D. G. Grantham, Probate Judge of Eddy County, New Mexico, has set the 22nd day of May, 1928, at the hour of 10 a. m., at the court room of said Court in the Court House of Eddy County at Carlsbad, New Mexico, as the day, time and place for hearing objections, if there be any, to said report and petition; that on that day and at the hour and place above mentioned the Probate Court will proceed to determine, in harmony with the provisions of the Last Will and Testament of the decedent, Rose K. Baish, the heirship and ownership of said Estate and the interest of each claimant thereto and therein and the person or persons entitled to the distribution thereof.

Therefore any person or persons wishing to object are hereby notified to file their objections with the County Clerk of Eddy County, New Mexico on or before the date set for said hearing.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and the seal of office, this 19th day of April, 1928.

Old Dishes Made New

Old pineapple is a made fruit adapted for a lot of dishes, especially one in a hurry. It is a different twist. Best fruit cocktails suggest a cocktail or full of the chilled Hawaiian pineapple, just from the can—and a maraschino cherry. There are all sorts of more combinations with grapefruit and with of fruits including the particularly pleasing at this season, is made cantaloupe halves with pineapple. Pineapple has made a difference. An expert dietitian finds an iced mint fruit half a can of crushed pineapple, two cups of water, half a cup of sugar, and a tea-spoonful of thickener. This soup off with a dash of mint. There are also good with. There are our savory. It is given a pleasant new twist with crushed pineapple. Some of the can for a garnish; it is a small amount of the pineapple, well drained, number of meat sauces.

NATURAL GAS FOR ROSWELL CONSIDERED BY C. OF C. DIRECTORS

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce Monday afternoon, the natural gas committee of the Chamber of Commerce made a report and the following statement was ordered published by the directors. The gas committee consists of John W. Hall, C. J. Stilwell and W. C. Lawrence. Since inquiry has been made repeatedly as to the attitude of the Roswell Chamber of Commerce toward natural gas for the city, the directors deem it advisable not only to explain that the organization has been active in this undertaking for the past year or more but to call to the attention of the people some factors which need their serious consideration. The Chamber of Commerce realizes that natural gas in sufficient quantities at a price to the consumer that would be attractive could be a tremendous asset to the community. It has found, moreover, a general sentiment in the community to this effect and in no instance has it found any opposition to the bringing of natural gas to Roswell, either from individuals, organizations or corporations. The directors feel, however, that there are a number of factors which should be taken into consideration before the community endorses any specific proposition along this line. A company proposing to bring this gas to Roswell should be financially responsible and have an adequate supply of gas not only to supply Roswell today but in the future, taking into consideration the fact that the demand will in all probability be much heavier two years from now than it would be today. The company should demonstrate that it would install adequate lines of sufficient size and quality to carry this gas to the city. It should be shown conclusively that it would be delivered to the consumer at a price that would represent a real saving over present fuel costs and at a figure as low as is possible consistent with the necessary investment to bring the gas to the city. There is still another factor which has been discussed in the city at some length and one which we believe merits serious consideration. That is the possibility of developing an adequate supply of natural gas near Roswell. There are many responsible geologists who feel that this will undoubtedly take place in which case gas could be delivered to the Roswell consumer at a rate much lower than would be possible if the gas were piped a long distance. While we feel that it is important that we get natural gas at the earliest practical moment, so far the Chamber of Commerce has been reluctant to advocate any specific propositions until the directors had more light on the subject. While time is an important element, yet the matter of a few months delay if necessary, would be preferable we feel, to entering a contract which would prohibit gas at a much lower rate, should the supply be found closer to Roswell. We realize that this is a matter which will be officially acted on by the city council when any specific proposition comes before them. The Chamber of Commerce directors are in hearty accord with the unofficial attitude of the councilmen, as expressed from time to time, that this is a proposition on which the community should proceed with greatest caution and act only after the closest and most careful investigation.—Roswell Record.

Orchestra Directors with "It" Are Becoming Millionaires

BEN BERNIE

Ben Bernie in Demand Twenty-Four Hours Each Day

With a wave of his baton, Ben Bernie, musical director at the Hotel Roosevelt, dismissed a contract a few days ago of $1,500 a week for a fifteen-minute daily appearance at a local theatre.

Bernie, "Master of Ceremonies," is so popular as a personality conductor that his time is bid for continuously by the smartest hotels and night clubs of the country.

It is not so long ago that Bernie had to leave college to help support his family. Starting out with nothing but his violin, he has made a spectacular success artistically and financially, and has won a devoted public.

At the Roosevelt, one sees passionately devoted New Yorkers who will go nowhere else for their dance music and transient guests who make sure Bernie is conducting before they talk business with the room clerk.

In interpreting popular music to his audience, the Roosevelt conductor is a master in pantomime and harmonious clownishness. It has become the fashion to go to the Roosevelt dining room almost as much to see Bernie, as to listen to him.

"What'll You Do," a new fox trot, is one of his present favorites, and his various interpretations of it brings nightly, other orchestra directors to watch and listen.

"I especially like a song that tells a story both musically and lyrically," explains Bernie, the "Maestro." "Many songs nowadays tell a fox trot story in tune, and a waltz story in lyric. I like 'What'll You Do' because it tells a fox trot story all the way through."

In Bernie, one gets a surprise package with a vaudeville skit tucked in one corner, irresistible jazz bursting out of the sides, tied up with some of the cleverest and most original wisecracks that ever hit Broadway.

Edward Elliott, vice president of the Security Trust & Savings Bank of Los Angeles, is an authority on bank advertising. This institution has 54 branches in southern California, is 39 years old and has resources of more than a quarter billion dollars. I interviewed Mr. Elliott as to what newspaper advertising has done for this great institution. Mr. Elliott says:

"Some five years ago we made a thorough analysis of our advertising and found that we were spending a great deal of money on 'good will' and purely 'competitive' advertising in annuals, special editions, programs, and souvenirs. Some of it was legitimate and a small fraction of it worth while, but most of it was valueless and not a little of it 'hold-up' stuff. The bank apparently was regarded as an easy mark."

"Conference with representatives of two or three of the other banks in the city revealed a similar condition with them and a desire to remedy the situation. Accordingly a representative from every bank in the city was invited to a meeting to discuss the situation. Out of that meeting has grown the custom for representatives of the banks to meet for a discussion of advertising of this character. At first there was so much of it that weekly meetings were necessary, but as word got about that the banks were 'out' of this kind of advertising, solicitors kept away from the banks. This was a great saving of time for the individual banks and eventually a meeting every two weeks was enough to take care of the business. The result has been almost complete elimination of all advertising not based on merit with a consequent saving of thousands of dollars to the banks."

"The newspapers and established financial publications are fully recognized and without doubt a considerable part of the money saved from cutting off these unprofitable forms of advertising has gone into newspaper space."

"The Security Trust & Savings

Bank, now in its fortieth year, "was one of the earliest banks to advertise in the modern sense and has always been a liberal user of newspaper space. Five years ago when we discontinued a large part of our miscellaneous advertising, we immediately increased our newspaper space. We feel that no other medium so successfully keeps the bank's name before the public or produces better results."

SINCLAIR FREED OF CHARGES TO DEFRAUD THE GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON.—Harry F. Sinclair was acquitted of the charge that he conspired to defraud the government in the leasing of Teapot Dome.

A jury in the District of Columbia supreme court accepted his contention that when he paid Albert B. Fall $233,000 in Liberty bonds and $35,000 in cash it was for a part in the ranch owned by the former secretary of the interior and was not a part of a deal through which the Wyoming naval oil reserve was turned over to him.

The jury took the case from Justice Bailey at 10:25 o'clock this morning and returned its verdict at 12:24 p. m., being out exactly one hour and 59 minutes.

Sinclair, although freed of the conspiracy charge still is faced with two contempt proceedings. One of these is for his refusal to answer questions of the Senate oil committee and he was sentenced to serve three months in jail for that. The other is for his hiring detectives to shadow the Fall-Sinclair trial jury last August. He was sentenced to six months for that. Both are pending in the circuit court of appeals.

The conspiracy charge against Fall, which was severed from that of Sinclair, is still alive but what will be done about it by the government, in view of Saturday's acquittal, is problematical.

Sinclair was placed on trial on April 9 to answer the charge which resulted in Saturday's acquittal. The verdict marked the successful culmination of his six year's fight to prove he had not acted corruptly in negotiating the lease from Fall in April 1922.

Immediately after the verdict was rendered Sinclair authorized this statement:

"I have felt since the inception of the oil cases that I would be acquitted of any charge of conspiracy to defraud the government when the evidence went before a jury."

In the court room he was surrounded by his friends who poured their congratulations upon him. Mrs. Sinclair was so deeply moved that she became hysterical.

When the jury had entered the court room and seated itself the usual routine was performed by the court before the justice addressed it.

"Gentlemen of the jury, have you reached a verdict," he asked finally. "We have," replied the foreman. "What is your verdict, Mr. Foreman?" asked the clerk of the court. "Not guilty," came the reply as the court room strained forward.

"Oh, good," exclaimed Mrs. Sinclair as she began to cry.

Friends led her into the corridor and as soon as Sinclair could force his way through the crowd he walked out, put his arm around her shoulders, then slipping her arm through his, walked out of the corridor door.

Before the jury filed in the jury room Justice Bailey warned the spectators that any sort of a demonstration regardless of the verdict, would be promptly punished.

ROOSEVELT COUNTY COMMISSIONERS ARE DEFEATED IN PRIMARY

PORTALES.—With but a few rural precincts to be heard from it appeared Sunday night that the Roosevelt board of county commissioners had been defeated for renomination in the record vote polled in the democratic primaries Saturday.

Interest centered in the commissioners' race and J. B. Crawford, J. L. Paxton and Paul Eminger appeared to have been nominated, defeating S. B. Fletcher, G. T. Littlefield and Edgar G. Sparks, respectively.

In the senatorial race R. G. Bryant had a lead of 325 votes over W. E. Dupuy but the latter's supporters claimed the rural precincts will greatly reduce this. Coe Howard was leading Blanch S. Trigg by 350 votes for representative.

J. C. Compton led D. Jackson Melton for district attorney by about 150 votes but it was contended he would win handily in the district which is composed of Roosevelt, Curry, De Baca and Quay counties.

The race between J. W. Ballow and W. E. Davis for county clerk was close but the former had a margin of 87 votes. The sheriff and treasurer contests will be determined at a second primary on May 12. S. T. Jernigan with 784 votes and Coeman Hendley with 417 were high for sheriff and for treasurer Homer Barnett had 902 and Cass Lyons 756 votes.

Ike Hughes is nominated for probate judge by a vote of two to one, while Sam J. Stinnett and J. R. Shock were unopposed for assessor and superintendent of schools, respectively. Floyd T. Kennedy was named chairman in precinct No. 1.

More people inherit their politics than inherit their worldly possessions, and they protect and preserve these political beliefs with greater success, too. Every American citizen is a potential politician, and an embryo statesman, though only a few ever get a chance to consume sufficient of whatever vitamin is required to develop into a complete and highly organized, not to say, efficient political mechanic. We use the word "mechanic" advisedly, because reference is so often made to the "machine," and it requires mechanics to keep machines running. To be sure, many of the mechanics lack skill, and bungle their work so that the machine sometimes fails to function properly, or is ruined entirely when this happens, a new machine must be built, which usually doesn't take long, fresh machines are put on the job and an entirely different crew employed.—Clovis News.

The testimony now being given by manufacturers, physicians, nurses, and social workers as to the improvement in the condition of the population at large which has taken place since the Eighteenth Amendment was adopted is so potent that it will convince the great majority of the American population, both native and foreign, that the complete disuse of alcoholic drinks will result in enormous benefits to any people that accomplishes it.—Charles W. Eliot.

STATE GAME REFUGE SYSTEM CONSISTS OF NINETY SIX AREAS

The state game refuge system now consists of 96 areas set aside to furnish sanctuaries in which game may breed unmolested and replenish adjacent hunting grounds, according to E. L. Perry, State Game and Fish Warden.

The refuges are distributed among 27 of the 31 counties of the state, and embrace something more than two million acres of land. They vary greatly in size, the smallest containing less than 100 acres, and the largest more than 50,000 acres. The size is determined by the needs of the section to be served and the species of game to be protected, the idea being to have a large number of small sanctuaries rather than a few large ones.

This system insures that hunting will not be unduly interfered with in any region, whereas in some states entire counties are set aside as refuges, thus building up a game supply in the interior which is of little benefit to the sportsmen. In the case of the smaller refuges the surplus game is constantly overflowing into open hunting country where it may be killed.

The first refuges were created in this state in 1921, and additional ones have been established every year since. That the refuge system is a certain means of increasing the game supply, Mr. Perry said, is evidenced by the fact that in the districts where the older sanctuaries are located hunting is becoming better every year. In many instances where refuges have been established in regions in which the game had been nearly exterminated, it is found that the sanctuaries are being rapidly restored, and it is only a matter of a short time when the animals will begin to spread out and the hunter's rifle be heard again in the land.

No matter how intensive the hunting may become, a reserve supply of animals will always exist in the Refuges and it will never be possible to deplete the game as in the past.

The outstanding example of the effectiveness of the refuge system of management is furnished by the state of Pennsylvania, Mr. Perry said. Twenty years ago that state was practically shot out and not to exceed two or three hundred deer were to be found in the entire state. At that time the refuge system was inaugurated, and as a result of it Pennsylvania hunters last fall killed more than 14,000 bucks, as well as a large number of other animals. A little more than 2,000 bucks were killed in New Mexico, which has an area about three times that of Pennsylvania.

MORE COUNTIES IN TEXAS ADDED PINK BOLL WORM AREA

WASHINGTON.—The department of agriculture announced Friday and addition of nine Texas counties and parts of two others to the areas under regulation on account of pink boll worm.

The territory consists of that part of west central Texas involved in the new outbreak announced by the department several weeks ago.

The counties are Winkler, Andrews, Ector, Crane, Upton, Midland, Martin, Dawson and Glasscock, and the southeast quarter of Borden and all of Howard county except the northeast corner.

The order is effective April 25. All cotton lint from these counties must hereafter be fumigated and compressed before interstate shipment and all cotton seed is prohibited from interstate movement to points outside the area.

This is the most threatening outbreak of the pink boll worm since its original introduction into the United States more than ten years ago, the department said.

"The fact that this new outbreak brings the insect into connection with the unbroken cotton belt is the menacing situation," it was added, "and unless drastic measures can be promptly undertaken to eradicate the pest in this area, its natural spread will carry it rapidly throughout the cotton belt."

SCHOOL BANDS FROM SIX DISTRICTS IN MUSICAL CONTEST ALBUQUERQUE

ALBUQUERQUE.—School bands from six districts in New Mexico will participate in the Interscholastic Musical contests to be held at the University of New Mexico on May 11 and 12, it was announced by Mrs. Florence W. Smith, chairman, department of music. The bands will compete for the state trophy offered by the National Bureau for the advancement of music which is co-operating with the Music Supervisors' National Conference and the university in conducting the contests.

The winners of the first and second places in Class A will be entitled to represent New Mexico in competition for the National trophy at the National School Band contest in Joliet, Illinois, May 24-26. Joliet high school, the present holder of the national trophy, has won it twice in succession and by winning it again this year would come into permanent possession.

Preliminary to the state finals here next month, elimination contests will be held in six districts in the state, for which some 45 medals and 20 cups are offered the winners in the several classes.

The districts with headquarters and names of directors of contests are: Raton, Colfax, San Miguel, Harding, Mora, Taos, and Union counties. Mrs. Jessie Brett, music supervisor, Raton; Gallup, McKinley and San Juan, Charles B. Redick, superintendent of school, Gallup; Albuquerque, Socorro, Rio Arriba, Bernalillo, Torrance, Valencia, Santa Fe and Sandoval, Mrs. T. Wallace Snider, music supervisor, Albuquerque public schools; Clovis, De Baca, Roosevelt, Guadalupe, Curry and Quay, Miss Marian Rustad, supervisor of music, Clovis; Roswell, Lincoln, Eddy, Chaves and Lea, J. D. Shinkle, principal of high school, Roswell; Las Cruces, Catron, Sierra, Dona Ana, Grant, Hidalgo, Luna, and Otero, Mrs. Lynn, superintendent of school, Las Cruces.

The district contests in New Mexico are similar to those which will be conducted between now and the time of the Joliet national contest in about 30 states in which more than 500 school bands will compete. The winners of first and second places in Class A and B in these state contests are entitled to represent their states in the national contest.

INFANT MORTALITY
HIGH IN NEW MEXICO

Records show that in 1926 one death in every five in New Mexico was of a child under one year of age. Miss Margaret Tracy of the American Public Health association said. This is the highest infant mortality rate in the United States, she declared.

"This should be reduced and education, especially in the rural districts, is the most effective means for so doing," she said. "The Shepherd-Towner nurses have made a splendid beginning in teaching prenatal care and the proper care for infants to women who live in the remote district, but their work is only begun."

INSIDE INFORMATION

New shoes which fit correctly are comfortable from the start. They do not need the process known as "being broken in."

Keep your sewing machine oiled, clean, and in good running order. Learn to know its attachments and how to use them. Keep your tensions and stitch adjusted to the kind of material you are using. Use good needles of the right size for the thread and material with which they are to be used.

Linoleum, to give good service, should be laid over a smooth floor in such a way that it does not buckle, and it should be cleaned with a damp cloth wrung out of suds made with mild soap. Alkali washing powders, strong soap, or too much water, will ruin even the best linoleum.

Some months present so much heavier cash expense than others, it is well to look ahead and provide if possible for these periods. If Easter outfits caught you unawares, how about graduation? You have a vacation fund, doubtless, but the new school term, with books to buy, and often fall clothing, follows hard on the heels of the holidays.

Have you seen the new leaflet, No. 17, on "Cooking Beef According to the Cut"? It is issued free by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. One of the recommendations made in it is that a thermometer should be used in roasting ribs of beef, in order to tell whether they are rare, medium, or well-done. This removes the element of guesswork and gives the same results every time.

Fill up your bin now. Don't wait until you are down to the last lump before ordering your coal.
