County-Wide History Book Meetings Set

On Monday, February 9, Jesse White of the Taylor Publishing Co. will be conducting workshops on how to write your family history, will be answering questions and getting committees involved in writing the Bailey County History.

Jerry and Faye Beasley are inviting all residents of the West Camp community to meet at the West Camp Gin on Monday at 9 a.m., and said the coffee pot will be on.

They, along with friends and neighbors, including Nelda Hunt, J.W. Herrington, Louise Roark and Leona Harris said they hope you will be there to get information on writing your family story.

Everyone who has lived in the community since it was the western camp of XIT Ranch should be included in the book.

This will be followed at 1 p.m., when White will meet at the First Baptist Church of Progress with Gordon and Ada Murrah, Helen Redwine, Fern Davis, Velma Gwyn and Elzada Gulley.

"There's more to Progress history than Josh Blocker!" said Mrs. Gulley. She remembers when there were 200 people living in Progress --it included a school, post office, store, blacksmith, and Velma Gwyn taught school there.

In the late afternoon, at 3:30 p.m. White will be at the Muleshoe Library to help anyone with writing their family story, and to answer any questions.

The history book committee reminds -- the history will not be complete without your story -- and volunteers are still needed.

South Plains Track Coach Rotary Guest

If his intention was not "leave them laughing" he fell short of his goal. Nonetheless, James Morris, head track coach at South Plains, Levelland, did in fact, leave members and guests at the Muleshoe Rotary Club in laughter Tuesday at noon.

Introduced by Dr. Robert Leopard, a former student when Morris was a high school track coach at Brownfield, Morris 'zeroed' in on the dentist almost immediately after the introduction.

For the past five years, Morris has been head track coach at SPC and spoke highly of the local students involved in studies at the Levelland college.

The speaker told Rotarians about the year Robert Leopard was named state champion from Brownfield in the 800 meter and told of several events that took place while he was coaching Leopard, and others, at Brownfield.

He explained the sports programs at Levelland, and said South Plains College is a member of the Western Junior College Athletic Conference, which encompasses 10 schools. Only four of the junior colleges are involved in sports, however,

IGA Grocery Closes Door On Saturday

Saturday, one of the oldest businesses in Muleshoe closed its doors. At this time, the owners of the Muleshoe IGA food store are removing perishables from the store and are taking them to their Morton store.

Tony Steinle, Co-owner of the store, said it was no longer feasible to keep the grocery store open in Muleshoe.

In the early 40's the original store opened on Main Street in Muleshoe, and Thurman White moved to Muleshoe in 1945 to manage the store. He purchased the store in 1959, and it was moved to one other location before needing more room.

White then constructed the present location at the corner of Main Street and Avenue D before selling it in 1983 to the current owners from Morton.

OUT OF CONTROL--Sunday night, a late model car driven by Jim Morales went out of control in the 600 block of West Third Street, knocking down a big part of the pipe fence on the east side of Watson Junior High School, before veering across a lawn, and coming to a stop in the 500 block of West Third. There were no injuries.

Creative Living

by Sheryl Borden

Interesting information on garments available for rental and successful weight control tips will be presented on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, February 10 at 12 noon and repeated on Saturday, February 14 at 2:00 pm. on KENW-TV. (All times are Mountain).

Gloria Bailey is a fashion designer who only rents her garments -- they're not for sale. She designs pageant gowns for contestants in such pageants as Miss America, Miss Universe and even children's pageants, like the Cinderella pageant. Emily Franklin, Miss New Mexico 1986 will model some of Gloria's pageant gowns. Ms. Bailey's business is called Gloria's Fashions, and she's from Baton Rouge, LA.

Another guest will be Betty Wedman, spokesperson for Uncle Ben's Rice. She will discuss some keys to successful weight control and has some very effective visuals to illustrate her points. Ms. Wedman is from Columbia, MO.

On Tuesday, February 10 at 9:30 pm Lauren Ryan, Public Relations Manager for Dow Consumer Products will demonstrate how to put the theory of batch cooking into practical use. Ms. Ryan will show how batch cooking in the microwave oven is one answer to the new "no time to dine" lifestyle. She is from Indianapolis, IN.

Leta Brazell, co-owner of The Quilt Works in Albuquerque, will demonstrate how to make the popular bloom-in vests and will show some pretty examples of finished garments. The interesting part is how to make the vests "bloom", and Leta will illustrate this technique.

Today's bath area includes more than the three basic fixtures and a light over the mirror. Ellen Cheever, representing the Maytag Kitchen Idea Center will discuss new bathroom design ideas and products. Ms. Cheever is from Sacramento, CA.

On Thursday, February 12 at 12 noon, "Creative Living" will feature a demonstrate on making cakes and information on clothing adaptations for the elderly.

Sue Vaughan, co-author of Calf Fries to Caviar cookbook, will present some of her favorite cake recipes, and the exciting part of this demonstration is that each of the cakes is prepared from a cake mix. Ms. Vaughan says she just "doctors" them up and they don't even resemble a cake mix. This makes each one so easy to prepare, and it also cuts down on the preparation time. Sue is from Lamesa, TX.

The difficulties involved in purchasing suitable clothes, and the pain and effort involved in the process of dressing may cause an elderly person to lose interest in their appearance. Dr. Betty Campbell, Chairman of the Home Economics Department at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, NM will focus her discussion on readily available garments or patterns for easier dressing for elderly people. There's a great deal of research that indicates a person's feelings, their well being and positive state-of-mind are closely related to their appearance. So, it's particularly important that the elderly be encouraged to dress each day. The information Dr. Campbell will provide should make it easier to help elderly individuals develop an interest in maintaining an attractive appearance despite the problems of finding suitable styles and fabrics.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show airs on over 95 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico, and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, CO. Viewers can request copies of printed materials offered on the show by calling on KENW-TV's toll-free telephone lines. In New Mexico, the number is 1-800-432-2361, out-of-state: 1-800-545-2359 and Portales and Roosevelt County: 562-2112. Viewers are asked to call between 8:00 am and 5:00 pm, Monday through Friday.

Elderly May Be Lonely Or May Just Be Alone

Family and friends sometimes confuse an elderly person's desire to be alone with loneliness.

"If grandma has always enjoyed solitary pursuits, there's no reason to expect her to become more social now that grandpa has died," says gerontologist Dr. Judith Warren. "The fact that she spends her time alone doing needlework or gardening may not necessarily mean she is lonely."

Family members should be aware of those things that can cause loneliness for the elderly, says the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economics specialist.

Risk factors include the loss of a spouse, sibling, child or friend; homebound status; a change in access to transportation; illness and disability; low income; and change in living arrangements.

But one or more of these risk factors may not result in loneliness for every elderly person.

So the specialist advises family members to also listen to elder relatives for time-oriented complaints, such as "I'm just putting in my time until I die." Expressions of abandonment, such as "Nobody cares about old people, they're just put on the shelf," are another sign of loneliness.

Further indicators that loneliness is a problem may include changes in behavior, such as increased irritability, withdrawal, increased talkativeness, restlessness or an inability to concentrate.

She notes that psychosomatic symptoms or real health problems can also be linked to loneliness.

"When elders experience loneliness, it may be a chronic or a situational problem," the gerontologist says.

Warren explains that loneliness is often rooted in long-term problems with social relations that existed before the person became elderly, and may require professional counseling.

"Situational loneliness is more common among the elderly and usually results from one of the risk factors," she adds.

To help elders through periods of situational loneliness and adaptation to life changes, there are a number of options including grief counseling and support groups such as the American Association and Retired Persons (AARP) Widow-to-Widow program. Increased social opportunities can be found through a senior center, eating lunch at a nutrition site, or a friendly visitor or telephone assurance program.

Other services, such as low-cost and handicap-assist transportation, a homemaker/home health aide for help with activities of daily living, nursing care or an emergency alert system may also help deal with problems that keep the elder isolated and lonely, says Warren.

Retired school teacher donates funds for laser to Texas A&M University COLLEGE STATION — A conversation five years ago made an impact on a retired schoolteacher who in turn made an impact on the veterinary facilities at Texas A&M University.

Mrs. Maurine Mullins, who resides near Weatherford, has presented $50,000 to Texas A&M University toward the purchase of an advanced laser for veterinary eye surgery.

Texas A&M will have the nation's only veterinary school with exclusive access to such a device, said Dr. Dean Gage, associate dean of veterinary medicine. A similar instrument in North Carolina is shared by several institutions.

Mullins, who taught school in Fort Worth for nearly 40 years, has been supportive of Texas A&M veterinary programs in the past, explained Gage. Because of her support, five years ago she was invited to tour surgical facilities at the newly expanded small animal clinic.

In conversation during the tour, she asked Dr. Ned Ellett of Texas A&M about the possibility of a laser instrument for veterinary ophthalmology. She recalled that conversation as one of the reasons for her donation, said Gage.

Most people who hand out small talk seem to think it must be done in large quantities.

MR. AND MRS. BARRY WADE WISEMAN (nee Marsha Jo Stone)

Stone, Wiseman Wed In Bryson Candlelight Service

Marsha Jo Stone and Barry Wade Wiseman were married on a candlelight service at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 27, 1986 at the Bryson Church of Christ in Bryson.

The father of the bride, James Pete Stone, conducted the ceremony and the father of the groom, Calvin Wiseman, gave the benediction. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pete Stone of Bryson and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Wiseman of Sudan.

A reception was held in the Bryson Senior Citizen's Center following the ceremony. The bride's table was laid with a lace and linen cloth. Silk floral arrangements graced the table where the three-tiered cake was served by Cindy Stone of Abilene and sister-in-law of the bride. Punch and Mexican wedding cookies were also served from crystal appointments by Shannon Smith.

The groom's maternal grandmother, Fannie Mae Boutinghouse of Arlington and the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Stone of Cisco, Texas were among the out of town guests attending.

Mrs. Wiseman is a graduate of Abilene Christian University with a degree in music. They will make their home in Campbell, Calif. where he is employed by Campbell Christian School.

Rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the "Alley Cafe" in Graham, Texas. At the dinner, a quilt was presented to the couple. Each lock was made by a friend or relative and expressed a wish, memorable event, quote or saying and was a surprise to the couple.

A wedding day brunch was hosted by Mrs. Pat Jurek, aunt of the bride of Port Lavaca, Texas. Personal gifts were presented to the bride at this time.

ment allowing the applicant to work in the U.S.

6. Social Security card and a driver's license or other identification card with photo, issued by the state.

7. U.S. birth certificate or birth certificate which establishes U.S. nationality at birth and a driver's license or other state issued identification card with photo.

PENALTIES

If employer's knowingly hire unauthorized aliens, they can be fined between $250 and $2,000 for each such employee for a first offense. The second violation carries a fine of $2,000 to $5,000 per employee found in violation. After more than two previous citations, the fines range from $3,000 to $10,000 per offense. If, in the opinion of the attorney general, an employer is engaging in a pattern or practice of violations, he may face criminal charges which carry fines and/or jail sentences.

There is a period through March 1987 during which no citations will be issued. During the subsequent year through March 1988, a first offender will be cited, but no penalty will be assessed. Second and subsequent violations found during this year, however, will be penalized as outlined in the bill. After March 1987, all violations are subject to the full measure of the bill.

For seasonal agricultural employees (90 man-days in production and harvesting of perishable commodities), no penalty will be imposed for violation until the application period for the seasonal agricultural worker program has ended in October 1988.

The law also addresses workers employed through labor contractor. If the farmer knows the employees are not authorized to work in the U.S., the farmer is considered to be the one doing the hiring. Any sanctions imposed will be against the farmer.

Employers who do not adhere to the documentation requirements may also be fined. The law mandates employers maintain a record keeping system that verifies they have examined documents presented. Employers may photocopy the documentation. Those employers found in violation shall be fined between $100 and $1,000 for each individual for whom the violation occurred.

SUMMARY

As the law now stands, it seems quite clear that if employers have any doubts regarding an applicant's residency status, they should ask for proper documentation. If applicants cannot provide any of these documents, they should not be hired. If they provide proper documentation, keep copies on file.

"The basic purposes of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo are the development of youth and education. There is no better training program for teaching future leaders in agriculture than the hands-on work and responsibility a young person accepts when feeding, fitting and developing livestock for the shows," said Don Jobes, assistant general manager.

"Our junior show sets the stage for wholesome competition and provides instructors and adult leaders with the kind of teaching tools that traditionally influence young people to better themselves," he added.

The Food Security Act of 1985 has been amended to change the payment limitation. In addition to the $50,000 Limitation per "person" there is an overall $250,000 payment limitation per "person." This includes all payments for all purposes in 1987.

The colleges are involved in golf, tennis, basketball and track and field.

Twelve scholarships are available in each of the sports at the college, and these are full scholarships, where everything is provided except 'pocket money.'

SPC also has several world class athletes, he commented, and are exceptionally academic, with all athletes maintaining a grade point average above 3.

Morris had available, booklets explaining the athletic program at SPC, and several copies are also available at The Journal.

In business action, President Bill Liles assured J.D. Cage of the Rotary's local support in his bid to be elected a district governor.

Lonnie Adrian and George Nieman reported on a drug and alcohol program available through Rotary International at a one-time cost of $150, which will be radio spots and videos on "You Have A Right To Say No." The Rotary unanimously approved the purchase for local use.

Visitors included Johnny Atkinson, Parker Woodall, Robert Parker, Scott Campbell, Curtis Carpenter, Danette Bunch and Cleta Williams.

The junior class has begun their annual sale of Valentine carnations. The carnations are sold in three colors: red for love, white for friendship, and pink for secret admirer. These flowers can be purchased from any member of the junior class for $1.50 per carnation. They will be delivered on Friday, February 13.

Brent Black and Jeff Hicks attended a workshop at Texas Tech to learn how to sword fight for the one-act play which will be presented by the speech department.

How do the plants look close up, Glenda W.?

Rachelle Bonham and Joe Mendoza will be attending the 1987 DECA area Career Development Conference in Wichita Falls on Friday, February 6.

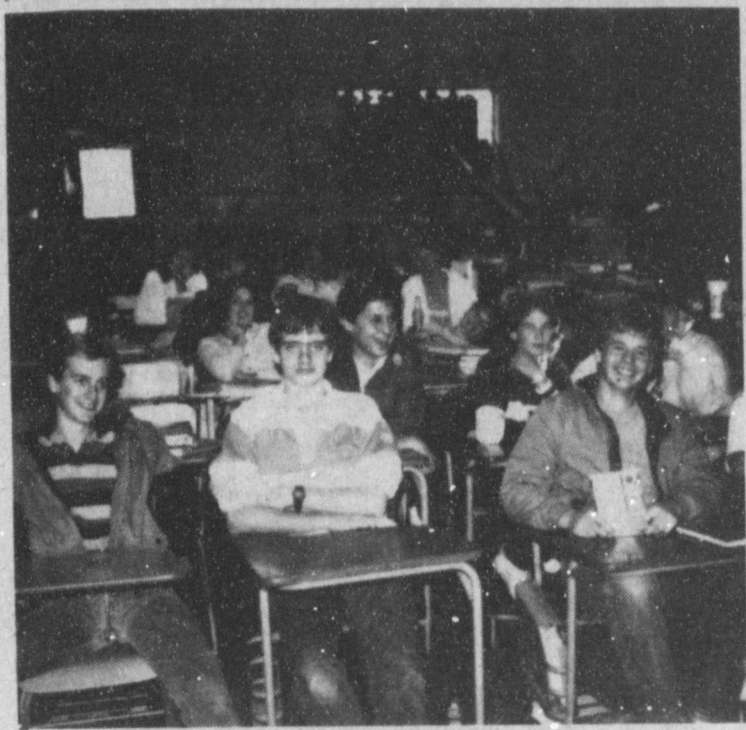

The annual staff can rest easily now that they met their yearbook deadline. Due to "pushy" sponsors, twenty extra, unneeded pages were turned in. The names of the sponsors will not be revealed; however, Mrs. Adrian and Mrs. Watson threw a party to make up for "someone's" mistake.

Speaking of annuals, if you have not purchased yours, don't be left out when these "outrageous" yearbooks are delivered in late summer. Price of the books will be $21.00 for nonpersonalized and $23.10 for a yearbook with your name on it. See any member of the annual staff and buy your book now!

In Fashion

'Bald Soprano' Play Cast Performs For Texas Tech

Upon request from Dr. J.E. Masters at Texas Tech, Mr. Kerry Moore directed a show to present at a judging workshop. Dr. Masters was teaching his students how to critique plays and certifying judges.

During the Fall Show put on by the drama department, local judges chose a show that would be performed at the workshop. The lucky winner was "Bald Soprano". It is an off-the-wall comedy about the family lives of people in London; the whole thing is completely nonsensical.

The "Bald Soprano" cast and crew are the following: Melissa Martel, Lance King, Dondee Stewart, Darren Albertson, Becky Vela, and James Zigenfuss and the crew is Paul Chamberlain, Greg Young, and Shannon Berry. These students left for Lubbock Friday after school with directors Kerry Moore and John Gulley.

Whenever they arrived at Texas Tech in Lubbock, the nervous jitters and swarming butterflies began. The stage was set, make up was applied, and costumes were donned. One hour before the actual performance, the cast was allowed to practice on the prodigious Tech stage. Then Mr. Moore gave his final advice, and the play began.

When the curtains were closed, the cast felt that they had done the show well. Of course, there was remorse for a couple of lost lines or awkward actions, but the overall feeling was pride and relief.

Dr. Masters critiqued the show as well done with potential actors and actresses. He could not help but laugh at the absurd reactions and farcical plot. Everyone was encouraged and pleased with his positive reviews.

Annual Sweetheart Festival Will Be Highlighted By Coronation

The Sweetheart Festival, which is traditionally sponsored by the Fine Arts boosters, will be held on February 7. Events will begin at 7:00 P.M. and will end at 11:00 P.M. Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the winners of the prince and princess contest for junior high and the king and queen for high school.

Twenty Students In Driver's Ed Class This Fall

There are twenty Muleshoe High School students currently in a driver education class. Drivers Education is much more than how to pass a state test, Driver's Education covers attitude, defensive driving, all weather driving, daily check on a vehicle, how to change a flat tire and many other items in everyday driving. Also such things as repair cost. There are some students and parents who still do not understand that they must be in class everyday to get credit for the course. The fee for driver's ed is $110.00. There will be another driver's ed class offered starting in April 1987. The Driver's Education vehicle will be furnished by Muleshoe Motor Company. The vehicle will be a Chrysler product with an automatic transmission.

A Mental Slip

"Did you have a nice walk, Phillis?"
"Oh, yes, Mummy. And we saw the funniest man!"
"Really, dear? How was that?"
"He was sitting on the sidewalk talking to a banana skin."

Each fine arts department has its own candidates. Students representing the drama department are Melissa Martell and Russell Brown. The art department's candidates are Bonnie Perez and Rudy Flores, and Glenda Willoughby and Richard Muyschondt have been chosen as band candidates. The crowning of the king and queen will take place at 10:00. Winners are chosen based on the amount of money raised by each department for their candidates. A variety of money-raising activities will be used.

Lois Washington Honored On Move To Junior High

Muleshoe High School has sadly lost one of its members, Mrs. Lois Washington. Mrs. Washington was a secretary at the high school for 7 years and before that, she was an aide to Mr. Graves for two years. Mrs. Washington is not completely away from the high school, because she is now secretary at the Jr. High.

Mrs. Washington said she will miss all of the kids here at the high school, and she will "always have a special place in her heart" for every one here. She says the job will be pretty much the same because she will still be in the school system.

She was honored with a luncheon given by the faculty. It was potluck and she was presented with a silver tray during the noon hour Friday.

We will all miss Mrs. Washington tremendously and we all hope she enjoys her new job. (ALSO, if anyone feels the urge to see her again, she is just across the street!)

Many booths will be set up by various groups at the festival, with the dual purpose of raising money while providing fun activities for everyone. The drama department will have a pool table, jail, marriage booth, and kissing booth. A dunking board and a balloon throw will be provided by the art department, and the band will offer a hayride, fortune telling booth, and a cupid booth. Other activities await the participants, and the evening offers a variety of activities for everyone from pre-school age to grandmas and grandpas. Come to the Civic Center Saturday, February 7, for an evening of fun!

From The Principle's Desk

Wayland Ethridge, principal at MHS, has released the honor roll for the first semester. This honor roll demonstrates the high level of excellence attained by high school students for the current school year. One hundred forty-three students, which reflect 38% of the enrollment, made the honor roll. This reflects 48% (36) seniors, 25% (22) juniors, 30% (28) sophomores, and 48% (57) freshmen. The outstanding percentage of honor roll students reflects not only academic excellence but a high level of student pride.

Band Beats It's Drum

The Mighty "M" Band traveled to Lubbock this past weekend to participate in the South Zone 3-A All-Region Band. The tryouts were held a little over a week before the concert was to be performed. Our band did extremely well, with 49 players, six of whom were first chair, and 11 alternates. Needless to say, Muleshoe dominated the band. This district has six bands which try for positions in the North Zone band which has around 100 members. Our six 1st chair players were: Michelle Finney, flute; Greg Garcia, baritone; Glenda Willoughby, horn; Scott Williams, trombone; Richard Muyschondt, trumpet, and Christie Mata, percussion.

Upon making the band, the various schools give out proper parts to the music that is to be played. The students are then asked to practice on their own or in band so that the rehearsals will not be as tedious. Friday evening the band practices for 2-2½ hours with a guest conductor. They then resume practice again at 9 the next morning with a break for lunch. If needed, another rehearsal is scheduled for the afternoon. Of course, the trip does not consist of just practice, there is a lot of free time for swimming, trips to the mall, and just relaxing.

Muleshoe High school and Jr. High bands left Friday afternoon. Upon arriving, the band had a couple of hours to swim and get ready to go to the mall. The next hour or so was spent wandering around the stores and eating. Then it was off to rehearsal. After finishing, the band went back to the motel for another hour of swimming and whatever. The motel was covered with kids and the trip was great!! There were around four or five other bands in the same motel. This added to the fun because there were old friends from past competitions, and also new faces. Of course that many kids can create quite an interesting weekend.

Saturday afternoon was spent in rehearsal so there was little time to do anything else except get ready for the concert. The Mighty "M" Band changed into uniform, warmed up, and performed along with the others in the band. The concert was awesome!!! The students had practiced hard and performed well after just a few hours of practice with the group. Of course as soon as their part was through, the band changed into street clothes, went to eat, and started on their way home.

The bus ride was calm and quiet as everyone crashed from lack of sleep the previous night. Congratulations to all those who tried out and represented Muleshoe!!!!

Varsity Girls Basketball

The varsity girls have now completed the first half of district play. They are tied for third along with Floydada and Littlefield. Friona took an undefeated first place and Dimmitt took second. The Friona Squaws had to capitalize on both offense and defense in order to defeat the Mulettes by a mere 10 points. The Mulettes played one of their most outstanding games against Friona.

Starting the second half of district play, the Mulettes took on the Floydada Whirlwinds on the Mulettes' home court. Captains of the Mulettes commented that they have had more spirit and integrity during the last couple of games. They added that the crowd has boosted their self confidence and they appreciate the support. If the Mulettes continue their success, a chance for the playoffs is not far ahead. GO GET 'EM, MULETTES!!!

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The honeymoon is over early for Gov. Bill Clements and the Legislature, and Speaker Gib Lewis observed the activity among lawmakers is as thick now as it usually is at the end of previous sessions.

No one has it thicker than the prison system, except embattled Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower.

Prison directors have to keep the inmate population down with one hand while they help lawmakers search for $83 million for emergency prison construction.

All Hightower has to do is fight for his political life: the Republicans have Clements' blessing behind their legislation to change firebrand Democrat Hightower's office from an elected to an appointed one.

Hightower called it a "cheap, political shot," and said if Clements wants a fight, "he's got one." Clements insisted the act wasn't political or personal.

Remember Mattox?

Privately, even some Democratic officials grin while Hightower squirms, since the bill is given little chance to pass in a Democrat-controlled Legislature.

House Agriculture chairman Dudley Harrison said he doesn't think the Texas agriculture community supports the change.

Indeed, others say that when Hightower was elected to this post after a failed attempt for the Railroad Commission, some regarded him as a political opportunist who knew little about farming. But since then, Hightower has proven to be a tireless promoter of Texas products and seeker of new markets.

Hightower, a populist, is often also viewed even by party cronies as a media showboat. What no one can figure out is if the Republicans are really serious or just keeping Hightower pinned down.

If they're serious, they might well remember how such acts can come back to haunt with a sympathy backlash at the ballot box. Five years ago, the GOP redistricted Jim Mattox right out of his congressional seat. He fought back and now he's beginning his second term as Agriculture General.

Prison Bail-Out

One proposal to come up with the new prison money is to shift $83 million from the state contributions into the Teachers Retirement System, but one teachers' group doesn't like it.

Officials say the shift wouldn't hurt teacher retirement, but the Texas Federation of Teachers disagrees.

Mattox Sues

Attorney Gen. Jim Mattox and Texas have joined with New York and California in a lawsuit against a company alleged to have an illegal pyramid sales scheme.

The company, United Sciences of America, Inc. sells nutritional products for treating a myriad of diseases from AIDS to dandruff.

Mattox also filed suit to block a State Board of Insurance action from taking effect, calling a 17.7 percent rate hike for workers compensation insurance "unconscionable."

Unconscionable

Comptroller Bob Bullock warned lawmakers that Texas could lose as much as $100 million in the next four years under a new federal court order affecting franchise tax collections.

He said Mattox will appeal the district court ruling which limits reserves accounts in company surplus for the purpose of franchise tax calculations.

For the present, Bullock is dropping the state's revenue estimates by more than $100 million.

Legislation Filed

Rockwall Sen. Ted Lyon and Fort Worth Rep. Mike Millsap coiled legislation to ban abortions beyond the point a fetus could live outside the mother's body, even with life support systems.

McAllen Rep. Juan Hinojosa's new bill will change the Open Meetings Act to tape record closed-door meetings so a judge can determine later if the session violated any laws.

Other Highlights

• New Texas Secretary of State Jack Rains of Houston was sworn in by Texas Supreme Court Justice Raul Gonzalez.

• The original Goddess of Liberty will return to a special pedestal in the Capitol north foyer.

• A Clements' special panel unveiled 35 proposals to stimulate economic growth in Texas, including freeing about $250 million in state trust funds for venture capitalists.

Built to Last

Steel framework is a symbol of massive strength. On these beams thousands of tons will rest and be supported with ease. Even the brick exterior will actually rest on the steel frame. No wind or storm that comes will threaten this structure — it is built to last.

Some lives are like this building—they have a core which supports the whole and which the storms of life will not threaten. The really good news is that you can have this solid center to your life too. It is a center based on total trust in God. Your nearby church can tell you why and how to trust in God. Go there and let your life be built to last.

Texas' Fuel Tax Is Only Average

Texas' temporary five-cent increase in gasoline tax on January 1 puts the state on a par with the rest of the country in highway user fees, according to an economist with the Federal Highway Administration.

"Fifteen cents a gallon is just getting up to the threshold of what is needed in the leading states, as far as taxation of motor fuel," said Tom Cooper, an economist with FHWA in Washington, D.C. "The range is wide among the 50 states, from seven cents to more than 18 cents. At 10 cents a gallon, Texas was one of the lowest in the country."

Published reports listing Texas as a high-gasoline-tax state differ from the highway department's official statistics, according to Bob Lanier, chairman of the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission.

"There are two major discrepancies," said Lanier. "In reports ranking Texas thirteenth highest, states having the same tax are grouped as one. For example, the five states taxing 16 cents per gallon are ranked in one place. Carrying this logic out, there are only 26 rankings. On this basis, it is true that Texas is thirteenth."

"But if the ranking allocates one position to each state, Texas ranks number 20 of 50 states and the District of Columbia," Lanier said. "Three other states are tied for that ranking."

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Acres looks at the stock market this week, sort of.

Dear editor:
One of the many things I don't know anything about is the stock market.

For instance, according to an article I read the other day, during the first 11 days of January "the most powerful rally in the history of Wall Street has left stockholders $243.2 billion richer after a dramatic buying frenzy. "I don't understand this.

Say you own some stock in a company. And the stock goes up dramatically this week regardless of the fact the company is not paying any more dividends than it did last week. You're richer only if you sell. Just like the people who "made that $242.2 billion the first 11 days of January" are richer only if they sell.

In other words, a stock is like a politician-worth only what somebody thinks, not what the real value is. It's not unheard-of to pay more for a congressman than he turns out to be worth.

Now say that the stock owners who saw their stocks gain $242.2 billion in 11 days hold on to them, on the theory that the stock market will keep going up forever. Eventually, if the stock market does keep going up forever, they'd wind up richer on paper than the country is now in debt.

Now what if those stocks, like some politicians, turn around and go in the opposite direction?

Recently I've been reading the business section in the papers and I haven't found one stock market expert who says the market has yet reached its peak. They say that the Dow Jones Industrial average, whatever that is, having passes the 2100 mark, can easily go to 2200 or 2500 or maybe 3,000. No crash likely. Buy more stocks.

In other words, I'm not the only one who doesn't know anything reliable about the stock market.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

And the second discrepancy confuses the issue even further, Lanier said.

"Other computations have ignored the sales tax many states charge on gasoline," said Lanier. "In some states, this amounts to more than the direct gasoline tax."

Lanier said that an average of all state gasoline taxes must be considered to get the full picture.

"If you average the latest figures from the Highway Users Federation and add any state sales taxes, the national gasoline tax average is 13.76 cents a gallon, compared to 15 cents in Texas," he said. "But our state maintains some 40,000 miles of farm-to-market roads that in many states are maintained by the counties. Since further tax increases occur throughout the year in other states, we expect our ranking to drop."

Cooper supports Lanier's prediction of further increases.

"The number of states taxing more than 15 cents a gallon is growing," he said.

But Lanier says the nickel increases enacted in 1986 has not resulted in an increase in highway funding for Texas.

"At 15 cents a gallon, our gasoline tax preserved the increase made in 1984," said Lanier. "And it removes us from the general revenue category by placing highway funding entirely on a user-fee basis."
