DR. CRILE OF ROSWELL IS APPOINTED LAND COMMISSIONER WED.

Dr. Austin D. Crile, of Roswell, prominent republican leader and former president of New Mexico A. & M. College yesterday was appointed by Governor R. C. Dillon as land commissioner to succeed Benjamin F. Pankey, who died Friday. The appointment was announced by Governor Dillon upon his return from Roswell where he gave out the diplomas at the New Mexico Military Institute commencement. Dr. Crile, who is also a rancher of the Roswell district, has been one of the most active republican workers in the state in recent years. He was prominently identified in the activities of the last republican state convention, and during the campaign he led one of the groups of speakers who stumped the state in conquest for votes for the republican ticket.

JOYCE-PRUIT CO. SOLD TO SUN SET STORES--A DELEWARE COMPANY

The sale of the Joyce-Pruit stores in the Pecos valley to the Sunset Stores Inc., was completed Friday, according to a announcement made at Roswell on the above date. It was known here several days ago that a change in the management of the Joyce-Pruit Stores contemplated, but no official announcement was made until Friday. The name of the firm will remain the same, as will the management of the various stores. Neither will there be any change in the policies of the company other than the advantage accruing from the association with fourteen other stores in West Texas. The officers and directors of the Joyce-Pruit Co., under the new management will be: A. H. Pruit, president; E. H. Robertson, vice-president and assistant manager; C. F. Montgomery of Carlsbad, vice-president; Rex Wheatley of Artesia, vice-president and R. B. Pruit of Roswell, secretary-treasurer. The Sun Set Stores Inc., is a Delaware corporation. In addition to the purchase of the Joyce-Pruit interests they have also purchased the Grissom-Roberts stores of Texas. The firm of Joyce-Pruit is one of the oldest concerns in eastern New Mexico and has played an important part in the development of this section. The Joyce-Pruit Company maintains stores at Clovis, Portales, Roswell, Artesia, Hope and Carlsbad. The employees and the departmental managers of the local store will not be changed it was said. Rex Wheatley will continue to serve as general manager, Willis Morgan as head bookkeeper, C. Bert Smith as manager of the dry goods department and R. G. Knodler as manager of the hardware department.

A BIG FRUIT CROP IS IN PROSPECT OVER THE STATE SAYS REPORT

Indications in the various sections of the state points to a large fruit crop, according to Dr. Fabian Garcia of New Mexico A. and M., who says the market demands large, good quality and attractive specimens and that it probably will be necessary to thin the fruit in order to produce the larger sized marketable fruit. In the smaller and early ripening varieties, he said, such as Old Alexander and Mayflower, the peaches should run not less than 80 to 90 specimens to the 30 pound box. Smaller peaches, he said, are not so desirable and have a tendency to affect the price of the larger fruit. The Elberta and J. H. Hale varieties, he said, should run from 65 to 80 specimens to the box. Thinning is the most important part of peach orchard management, he said. In thinning older trees, the thinning should be more severe than for younger ones. In the older trees the distance between the fruits may be from nine to fifteen inches while on the younger and more vigorous trees the fruit can be left from six to ten inches apart. As a rule, he said, the individual doing the work feels that he is taking off too many and in many cases under thins rather than over thins.

DIAMONDS VALUED AT $600.00 TAKEN FROM JERNIGAN'S STORE FRI.

Burglars entered the jewelry store of E. T. Jernigan sometime Friday night and secured diamonds valued at $600.00. Entrance into the building was made by forcing the door to Sy's Barber Shop and after making an effort to force the lock on the Jernigan store, the robbers passed through the barber shop and entered the jewelry store at the rear. The diamonds were taken from the show window. The cash drawer in the barber shop was also partly robbed and about $17.00 in cash taken, the robbers, however, left a larger amount of money in the cash drawer. Friday night's robbery is believed to have been the work of local talent. No arrests have been made.

Allen, manual training teacher and assistant coach in the Artesia High school during the past year, has been elected to coach athletics for the coming school year. Mr. Allen not only won letters in the major sports in his high school career, but was an outstanding track man in college. Before coming to Artesia he was director of athletics of the Farmington High school. His major work in college was in physical education which should especially fit him for the position. During the past season he was one of the most popular basketball officials in the Pecos valley. If Mr. Allen carries the same business-like conduct into his leadership in athletics there is no doubt that the Bull Dogs will make a good showing another year. During the summer Mr. Allen will be in coaching school at the University of Iowa.

COWS RETURNED MORE THAN THREE FOR ONE

One may prove most anything with statistics, but cash on the barrel head, or rather in the bank, is much more convincing. A statement was published a short time ago that it did not pay to grow feed for dairy cattle on land that would produce a quarter of a bale or more of cotton per acre. That would mean, in the last analysis that it would not pay to grow anything on land of that character because we have before us a comparative statement showing that in Neuces county, where the cost of production is as low as anywhere in the South, a third bale of cotton per acre selling at 13 cents a pound lost to the grower $2.72 per acre. We also have a report from the Bexar County Herd Improvement Association which shows that dairy farmers received $3.44 in return for every $1 worth of feed produced and fed. More than three for one ought to be an attractive proposition. If an acre of land will produce a half a bale of cotton per acre, then it is productive enough to yield a proportionately larger feed crop than poorer land. If poor land will produce enough feed to make dairying profitable, then good land should proportionately increase the profits.—Farm and Ranch.

THE STORE VERSUS THE MUSEUM KEEPER

The merchant of to-day, who refuses to adopt modern methods of merchandising, won't be operating a store very long; he'll be running a museum. The present day buyer demands good, clean and up-to-date merchandise. The merchant who does not try to dispose of his goods while they are new, may find that his counters are full of antiques. Once the public makes this discovery, it will be just too bad for that merchant, the antiques will accumulate rather than diminish.

The public taste has broadened. It not only demands a greater variety of merchandise to serve an increasingly higher standard of living, but demands that the goods must be new and up to the last minute. The modern day buyer stays shy of the shop worn goods and will not buy of the store that has ever tried to sell him goods on this order, regardless of how many up-to-date articles the establishment may receive later.

DANGEROUS BUSINESS

Stop signs at the intersection of Main and First streets presents a menace that the city council might well look into. The stop signs, designed as a matter of safety are not a menace in themselves, but their location is of little aid to the traveler along the highway. The tourist, who is passing through town is not able to see the signs until he is too near to make a quick stop. Stop signs such as we have serve their purpose well if they are placed at a point where the motorist may expect them, but the tourist who has never been through town is not acquainted with our street arrangement and is entitled to a warning before he reaches the intersection of the highway and Main street. If warning signs are placed even a block away, that would help.

As a matter of safety, warning signs should be erected for the protection of the local and foreign traffic before the heavy tourist season sets in.

ARTESIA ACTIVE

The neighboring town of Artesia is setting out an ambitious program of civic expansion.

Plans have been completed for a two day good will excursion by business men of that town to Cloudcroft and return, with stops along the way at intermediate towns.

Plans are also being made there for a municipal airport to be laid out in the near future.

Such activity is significant of a wide-awake civic consciousness and a determination to advance with Carlsbad and Roswell.

There is plenty of room in this fine valley for three thriving cities.—Carlsbad Daily Current-Argus.

CONSERVATION

New Mexico operators should take the initiative at the oil conservation meet at Colorado Springs, June 10th. Possibly no other Rocky Mountain state has as much at stake as does New Mexico, with development of a large area just getting underway. The problem of conservation is one to be worked out by mutual agreement between the operators of the various oil producing states. We do not believe that the Rocky Mountain states should be called upon to do all of the conserving, rather conservation to be successful must be worked out by the industry as a whole.

We need the hammer as well as the horn, if we are to build and go forward, not a hammer used by the knocker, but a hammer used by the building contractor.

The Town Doctor Says

CIVIC LOYALTY IS A FINE SOUNDING PHRASE

It is a fine, high-sounding phrase—Civic Loyalty; it make a good text for a lot of oratory and columns upon columns of newspaper editorials, but after all, there is no difference between Civic Loyalty and any other kind of loyalty.

Whole books have been written on the subject; any number of sermons preached on and about it; hundreds of speakers have put thousands of people to sleep talking about it. Still, what is it—or perhaps it is better to say: "What isn't it?"

The city in which you live is your city; its institutions are yours; its life your family's and your children's; and besides, you are a part of it, in fact, you are the city. Such being the case, you naturally do not want to be disloyal to it, for the worst of all is disloyalty to one's self. The man who is disloyal to his town is disloyal to himself and to all that is best in him. He is his own worst enemy, for he undermines his character and thus deprives his efforts of that incentive which is the most powerful of all factors.

Your loyalty or disloyalty makes the place where you live what it is or what it is not, and you can not pass the buck to "George," the weather or prohibition.

You expect your city to be a good place in which to live, in fact, you sometimes get "het-up" and demand that it be such a place. But it is a good place, only if you yourself do that which is necessary to make it so, and to do that you have to be loyal to it, stick up for it, boost it, and if necessary, fight for it.

Loyalty reproduces a reciprocal effect in all with whom a loyal person comes in contact. A man who is loyal to his friends, family, town, country and loyal to his God will never be troubled with disloyalty on the part of others. There is no real success without loyalty.

Whatever Civic Loyalty is, is isn't knocking your town, buying mail order, or going to the next nearest town to purchase when you can buy the same things at home, and usually for less money.

Spending your money with out of town peddlers is not only disloyalty but downright foolhardiness, if you value your money.

Bragging that you bought in this city and that, therefore, it must be better, when you could have purchased it from a local dealer, is not only disloyalty, but it is flaunting your lack of loyalty, besides taking a chance on being laughed at behind your back by people who know. When a stranger says: "This looks like a pretty good town you have here," and you reply and say: "Oh yes, it's all right if you like it," or some other derogatory remark; or when you hear some unthinking native ridicule your community, and you turn it off as a joke, that is not only disloyalty, but darned poor business.

Preaching to others what they should do and then doing the opposite yourself is disloyalty, so "Try The Home Folks First."

TO THE CRIME COMMISSION

To all members of President Hoover's crime commission we respectfully recommend an article in the current Harper's Monthly. It is called, "What's Wrong With the Right People?" Its author is Jack Black, a reformed criminal.

Jack Black has spent 25 years of his life in jail or prison. He appears to write with sure knowledge of what goes on in the average criminal's heart and mind. If some part of his knowledge can be imparted to the members of the crime commission they will be helped toward understanding the problem they have to deal with.

It is not unreasonable to believe that the answer to the crime problem is more likely found in the country's prison cells than in the country's libraries. Yet it is too much to expect that the elderly and dignified Chairman Wickersham and his eminent associates will spend their time chumming with convicts in an effort to learn what makes them tick out of tune with society. That would be impractical to say the least.

However, here is a man who has studied life from both sides of the jail bars and from both sides of that invisible mental or moral barrier that separates the "good" people from the "bad." He knows the criminal's viewpoint. We undertake to say that no amount of study that fails to achieve some understanding of this viewpoint will go very far toward solving or reducing the crime problem. It will pay the president's commissions to read what he has written.

Incidentally, Jack Black relates that his own reform resulted from the fact that an intelligent judge decided he had some good in him and told him so: this judge gave him a short sentence when he could have given him a long one. Harsher penalties, in Jack Black's opinion, is not a cure for crime.—State Tribune.

GATHERING IN THE "SUCKERS"

The National Better Business Bureau has estimated that questionable stock selling concerns issue "tipster sheets" which have a circulation of 15 millions, to push the sale of questionable securities.

As a result of such activities, uninformed investors are defrauded of millions of dollars annually with little or no legal redress.

Don't go to a horse doctor if you seek advice on investments. Make inquiry from a reputable investment banker or responsible broker dealing in stocks or bonds listed on recognized exchanges.

PUBLICITY OR ADVERTISING

"Purchase by the International Paper and Power Co., of interests totaling over ten million dollars in eleven newspapers in eight cities is a good indication that the big companies at least know the value of newspaper publicity," remarks the Alamogordo Advertiser. "Call it propaganda if you like, but it is favorable publicity the big concerns are after, which is only another name for advertising after all. Small concerns might well ponder over the matter.

USE PRESSURE COOKERS IN CANNING NONACID FOODS

Research and practical experience have demonstrated, says Dr. A. F. Woods, director of scientific work, United States Department of Agriculture, that nonacid food products, like asparagus, beans, corn, peas, beets, spinach, meats, and fish can not be canned safely by processing in boiling water, but must be sterilized under pressure with approved time and temperature.

Pressure cookers are now standard equipment and are readily available at small cost. The department does not recommend any particular make, although attention is called to the importance of having pressure kettle equipped with thermometer and pressure gauge for proper control.

"There is now no excuse," says Dr. Woods, "for continuing to take risks involved in canning nonacid foods with adequate pressure cooking. All recommendations by the department of agriculture will hereafter make this clear and emphatic."

Things WORTH KNOWING

A horse may get "off feed" and be unfit for work because of musty, spoiled, or dirty feed. Trash and dirt should be removed from the grain box before each meal and chaff and refuse cleaned from the manger before the night feeding.

One of the latest devices for saving man labor in handling hay is a combination baler, developed in Kansas, that it might be called a three-in-one baler. This machine takes the hay directly from the windrow or swath, bales it, and delivers the baled hay to a wagon as the outfit travels through the field.

Annual losses from fire on farms and in rural communities are estimated to be as high as 3,500 lives and $150,000,000 worth of property. Farmers' Bulletin 1590-F, Fire-Protective Construction on the Farm, points out the fire hazards generally found in farm-building construction and suggests how they may be avoided in new buildings or remedied in existing ones. This bulletin may be obtained from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Feeding a supplemental grain ration to steers fattening on grass not only increases the gains made by the steers, but it improves the quality of the beef and increases the profits per steer, according to experimental work carried on by the Bureau of Animal Industry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the West Virginia Experiment Station. In a 3 year experiment conducted in West Virginia, steers getting grain in addition to grass sold from $1.25 to $1.40 more per hundred-weight than similar steers getting grass only.

High producing cows rarely if ever get enough feed for their requirements on first-class pasture; furthermore very few pastures are first class; therefore such cows need grain in addition to pasture. Cows on pasture when producing more than 20 pounds of milk daily should be given 1 pound of grain to each 4 to 6 pounds of milk produced. The grain may be a mixture of ordinary farm grains, such as corn, oats, wheat, bran or barley, and should always

WORK WILL START ON THE RUIDOSO HIGHWAY AT AN EARLY DATE

ROSWELL.—Work will start at an early date on state road 37, a main feeder into the summer playground section of the Ruidoso, it was reported recently at the district highway office. This work will consist of three miles of surfacing which will eliminate a bad muddy stretch which has hampered tourist and vacationists travel in the past.

The Ruidoso this year will experience a heavy increase in summer vacationists, the highway office mentioned. This information comes from tourist bureaus and from El Paso where the plans of many new visitors to the summer playground region have been listed.

be ground. For cows producing more than 35 pounds of milk daily the grain mixture should contain one high-protein concentrate, such as an oil meal; otherwise the ration will be too low in protein in comparison with the carbohydrates and fats. Cows producing less than 20 pounds of milk do well on good pasture with no additional feed. They may produce a little more milk if fed some grain, but the increased flow of milk does not ordinarily pay for the grain.

BEN F. PANKEY LAND COMMISSIONER DIES IN SANTA FE FRIDAY EVE.

"Uncle Ben" Pankey, land commissioner for New Mexico died shortly after midnight Friday night at St. Vincent's sanitarium in Santa Fe after an illness from stomach trouble.

Mr. Pankey had been in ill health for several months and recently made a trip to Hot Springs for a rest. He returned to Santa Fe and a few days later was confined to his home. Last week end at a time when he appeared to be improving, he suffered a hemorrhage and was taken to St. Vincent's sanitarium. Death followed a second hemorrhage suffered about midnight.

At one time one of the largest land owners in New Mexico, Benjamin F. Pankey, was known throughout the state. In the last general election the people returned him to the office of land commissioner for a second term by a majority which placed him as the leader of the republican ticket among candidates for state office.

Although he was a republican in politics, his political following did not respect party lines, and democratic counties joined with republican counties to retain his administration of the land office.

Gifted with rare sense of humor, sound business judgment, and a desire always for fair dealing, "Uncle Ben" or "Governor Pankey," as he was familiarly called, was one of the most universally known men in the state. He was sixty-eight years old, and although hampered by failing health and eyesight he was always at his desk in the statehouse whenever it was physically possible for him to be there.

Mr. Pankey was the third state land commissioner to die in office. The others were Robert P. Ervein and Justianiano Baca.

Ben Pankey goes down in New Mexico history as one of those sturdy western farmers who married while young and who fought his way to the top largely through the sagacity and the powers of endurance and will to succeed.

He built himself a millionaire rating and then lost nearly all of it with the cowmen and sheepmen. He had a way, however, of turning misfortune into good fortune and after the crash, rejoiced saying "thank God I am poor—nobody bothers me now."

Uncle Ben was born in Harrisburg,

Illinois of French parentage on August 10, 1861. He was educated in the public schools of Harrisburg, was married in 1880 and two years later moved to Topeka, Kansas, where he started in the ranching and cattle-raising business.

He went into the telephone business in Topeka in 1901 and there followed the telephone war with the rapidly growing Bell system which Pankey won in 1907 and sold his interests at a good profit.

With his profit he emulated William Jennings Bryan and bought land in large quantities. He bought a 10,000 acre ranch near Emporia, Kansas, and 81,000 acres near Santa Fe. In 1908 at a time he was seeking the nomination for state senator in Kansas under the political tutelage of his friend Charles Curtis, now

Vice-President of the United States, Mr. Pankey left Kansas and came to New Mexico.

Don't worry if your job is small

"What party do you affiliate with?" asked the registration clerk, of the colored lady.

"Does I have to answer dat question?"

"That is the law."
"Den yo jes' scratch my name offen de books. Ef I got to tell dat pahty's name, ah don't vote, das all. Why, he ain't got his divorce yet."

MARRIED AT LAS VEGAS

The surprise wedding of the season occurred, Friday afternoon at Las Vegas when Miss Mildred Kissenger became the bride of Clint Cole. The young couple allayed suspicions of the pending event, when they let it be known Friday that they were going to Las Vegas for the groom's brother, Herman Cole, who had finished a school term at Montezuma college. Arriving at Las Vegas in the middle afternoon Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Cole went to the residence of Rev. J. H. Walker, former pastor of the local Methodist church, where they were married, Rev. Walker officiating. Herman Cole, brother of the groom and Mrs. Walker witnessed the ceremony.

After spending a brief honeymoon at Las Vegas, the bride and groom arrived here Sunday afternoon and have made plans to take up their residence at the new bungalow in northwest Artesia, near the C. M. Cole dwelling. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. C. F. Kissinger and is a graduate of the Artesia High school. She has lived in Artesia for the past five years and has been employed in the office of Judge G. U. McCrary for a period of eighteen months or more.

CHRYSLER THOROUGHLY TESTED BEFORE IT IS SENT FROM FACTORY

No part of a Chrysler is so small, its function so insignificant, as to be slighted during the period of probation on which it is put, before being assembled in the completed product.

In the huge engineering building of Chrysler Motors at Highland Park, Detroit, hundreds upon hundreds of accessories are constantly being tested for the Chrysler "65," "75" and imperial cars.

Not only are devices invented by Chrysler engineers put to the most rigid tests before being adapted for use in these products, but all equipment submitted by outside manufacturers for use in these cars is also subjected to the most minute examination, so they will live up to the high standards set for all Chrysler-built products.

To the layman entering experimental rooms in this laboratory, it appears that a hundred Rube Goldberg engineering cartoons have suddenly come to life. Here, without apparent rhyme or reason, many different types of motor car accessories are performing those duties they will eventually perform in a car.

Dozens of windshield wipers, electric and pneumatic, attached to panes of glass, moving back and forth, for days on end go through the motions of wiping water from a windshield. After exhaustive tests, they are stopped and examined for wear. If it is found they have given the amount of service a windshield wiper would be called upon to do during a definite period, and are still in good working order, a record is made. Some day, that particular type of windshield wiper may be used on a Chrysler car, should it reach the standard set for all other parts in these automobiles.

In another part of the room, dozens of electric switches such as are used for tonneau lights, are being turned on and off, and on by rods connected to electric motors. These switches must also be able to perform after they have functioned longer than they should be required to in an automobile.

Paints and lacquers submitted for examinations for use on Chrysler cars also undergo severe treatment. Panels painted various colors are subjected to the light from an ultraviolet ray lamp, which has the same effect on the paint as do the rays of the sun. Any color that fades, cracks or blisters as a result of this treatment, will never find its place in the color scheme of a Chrysler car.

In a separate sound-proof building but part of the laboratory, horns designed for use on Chrysler cars are also tested. Hundreds of horns of different types toot in endless cacophony, hours in and hours out, in order to prove which is the best to use. Any horn which cannot stand longer and more continuous use than would be actually required in an automobile, cannot be installed in a Chrysler car.

It is this demand for perfection in the smallest detail which shows how Chrysler Motors insures the highest standard of quality in its finished products—even in what some might consider the least important accessories in an automobile.

HEALTH NEWS

1. Know your cows are free from disease. Have them tuberculin tested annually; every six months if reactors are found. Watch the condition of the cow's udders. Mammitis (garet) or inflammation of the udder may cause serious disease in humans.

2. Clip the cows flanks and udders. This helps to prevent dirt from falling in the milk at milking time.

3. Wipe the cow's flanks and udders with a damp cloth each time before milking. When the cows are muddy wash the udders and flanks with clean water and wipe dry with a clean cloth.

4. Use a covered top milk pail.

5. Every milker should thoroughly wash his hands with a brush, soap and water before milking, or handling milking utensils.

6. All utensils used in handling milk should be absolutely clean. In cleaning milk utensils first rinse with cold water, then clean thoroughly with a good alkali dairy cleaner dissolved in warm water (do not use soap), rinse and then sterilize with boiling water, live steam or a chlorine solution of known strength.

7. After sterilization, milk utensils should be stored in a clean place and protected from flies, dirt animals and unclean humans.

8. Milk with dry hands in a clean dust free place.

9. Remove the milk from the barn immediately after milking.

10. Cool the milk to sixty degrees Fahrenheit or below immediately after milking. Use a thermometer so that you may know the temperature to which it is cooled.

11. Milk bottles should be cleaned and sterilized each time before being filled. Disease may be spread on your route if this duty is not properly performed.

12. Keep the milk bottle caps clean.

13. Deliver fresh milk.

14. Do not accept milk bottles from places under quarantine until permission is obtained from the proper authority. When such bottles are released, handle them as a separate lot and thoroughly sterilize them according to directions from the proper authorities.

WHEN you see the number of Chryslers in the hands of bankers, lawyers, doctors, manufacturers, engineers, chemists, judges and other leaders of American life everywhere, you realize more than ever that you travel in the best of company when you own and drive a Chrysler.

It means something definite when thousands of people who formerly owned and drove far more expensive cars are now driving Chryslers by preference.

Today there is a general recognition of the fact that Chrysler has obsoleted long-established standards.

By scientific distribution of car weight, by new utilization of fuel, by advanced carburetion and correctly applied thermo-dynamics, Chrysler engineering has created a new performance.

A perfectly-balanced chassis, with buoyant vanadium springs anchored in moulded blocks of live rubber instead of ordinary metal shackles supplemented by hydraulic shock absorbers, means an entirely new and delightful comfort in riding.

Take a demonstration. Learn for yourself the difference between Chrysler performance and the other.

The entrance of Lorenzo E. Anderson and Company of St. Louis and J. G. Kauffman and Adkins are very favorably impressed with conditions as they are at this time.

This transfer sale does not, in any way, effect the management or policies of Joyce-Pruit Company which is one of the oldest firms in Eastern New Mexico but will perhaps perpetuate its good name and guarantee the continuance of its aid in the development of this section.

Different Juicy Fruits Used for Summer Ices

Blackberries, raspberries, strawberries, and any other juicy fruits may be used to make summer ices, suggests the bureau of home economics. The proportions below will be found satisfactory. If more acid is preferred in any ice, lemon juice is added.

3/4 cups fruit on juice, strained
juice 1 cup sugar
1/2 cup water 1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons lem-

Crush the fruit and heat it for about 2 minutes, meanwhile stirring and pressing so that the juice runs freely. Strain through a thick layer of cheesecloth and to the juice add the sugar, water, lemon juice, and salt. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, and pour into a freezer. Use a freezing mixture of 1 part salt to 4 or 6 of ice. Turn the crank of the freezer slowly. After freezing remove the dasher, pack the freezer with more ice and salt, and let the fruit ice stand for an hour or more to ripen. This will make about 1 quart.

WORK WILL START ON MALJAMAR ROAD AT AN EARLY DATE IS REPORT

ROSWELL—Road work will start near Maljamar in the heart of the southeastern oil field at an early date it was stated at the district highway office recently.

The new work will extend west to Artesia, the sand stretches being platted. The work will put the road in shape to receive and to stand up to the greatly increased traffic which has resulted from the twelve new oil locations recently made in this section.

Further west on this same route in the Mayhill-Cloudcroft section $13,000 worth of work will be done in James canyon which will finish the work in this section which has been going on. As the road across Cactus Flats has been put in excellent condition the finishing of the James canyon stretch will give a fine "back door" way to Cloudcroft, it was said, although the stretch of road through the forest section has not had work announced for it yet by the forestry officials. This stretch is good however in dry weather and usually passable in wet.

With all this work completed good passage will be secured from the state line on the east to Cloudcroft in the heart of the Sacramento, it was pointed out. From Cloudcroft west the new La Luz-Highrolls road gives boulevard connections with the Tularosa Basin. The last section of this road from Highrolls to Cloudcroft proper is now being worked on. Curves are being revamped and a general reconditioning of the road done. As soon as the work is finished the Southern Pacific Bus Service will be established over this road from Tularosa, it was indicated.

W. M. PACKER ZONE SALES CHIEF NAMED

Announcement was made last week by E. W. Fuhr, Pacific Regional Manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company of the appointment of William H. Packer as zone sales manager for the Southern California territory effective immediately.

Packer succeeds George H. Wallace who because of the outstanding record made by himself in the Los Angeles district, has been appointed assistant general sales manager of the Buick Motor company at Flint, Michigan. Wallace is a nationally known figure in the industry and becomes through his new position one of the outstanding executives in the automobile business. His association with General Motors units extends over a period of some years.

Packer is succeeded in the position of city sales manager for Los Angeles by William C. Herring who has been regional sales promotion manager with offices at the Chevrolet Motor factory at Oakland for the entire Pacific region. Herring was formerly sales promotion manager of the Seattle district and his new position is another step in the rapid progress he has made in the last few years.

STEP LIGHTLY

By Erwin Greer, President Greer College, Chicago, Illinois.

Step lightly on the gas when your rear tires are in poor condition. A blowout when speeding can cause a car to skid off the side of the road or even turn turtle.

Unless a driver is a strong man and keeps a mighty firm grip on the wheel his car is sure to skid dangerously if he has a blowout. The reason is, that when a tire blows out, the resistance offered to it as it rolls is tremendously increased. This swings the car around sharply and since the speed is high, and it all happens in the fraction of a second, unless the driver is braced for it and is holding on to the steering wheel he has no time to save the situation.

The average motorist wastes gallons of gasoline every year because he allows his carburetor to run on too rich a mixture. By a little study of his carburetor he will soon learn how to adjust it to cut down on the gas or introduce more air in the mixture. This not only means a big saving in gasoline, but less carbon and a sweeter-running engine.

The average motorist has a mistaken idea that the gravity of gasoline is an absolute test and proof of its efficiency for motor car use, when in fact a lower gravity gasoline will propel a car more miles per gallon of gasoline.

The reason for this is easily explained because the lower gravity gas requires much more air in the carburetor for proper combustion. Scientific tests have demonstrated that there is a 20 per cent more mileage in a 63-degree gravity gasoline than there is in a 76-degree gravity.

As the gravity of motor gasoline has gotten lower each year, it is well to remember that a carburetor now one, two or three years old cannot work as efficiently on the present grade of gas—unless it gets more air.

The different items of expense in keeping an automobile divide the average cost per mile as follows: Depreciation, 30.7 per cent; repairs, 21.7 per cent; gas, 21.3 per cent; tires, 8.8 per cent; Garage rent, 6.5 per cent; interest, 4.7 per cent; oil, 3.7 per cent; insurance 1 per cent.

SEC. WILBUR DEFENDANT IN OIL SUIT FILED

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Secretary Wilbur was named defendant in a suit for mandamus filed in the District of Columbia supreme court Monday by Ethel M. McLennan, of Sacramento, California, to test the legality of the interior department order cancelling applications for oil prospecting permits as a result of the Hoover oil conservation policy.

It was claimed that under the order many hundreds of applications for permits had been rejected without right of appeal and the petition argued she was duly qualified under the act of February 25, 1920 to hold a prospecting permit and that the interior secretary had exceeded his authority in directing that her application be rejected.

She denies the claim of the department that the granting of such permits was merely permissive and not mandatory and asked the court to require Wilbur to reinstate her claim.

Corner 7th and Grand Ave.

Considering the time of year, when most everyone gets the roving fever our Bible school is holding up fine.

Vacation time is now on and several are leaving on that account, but we who are left should be more determined to be present every Lord's day and hold the Bible school up to normal.

Visitors and strangers coming to our city are invited to attend our services.

There are a good many of the members of the Church of Christ who are not attending services, so get in line and come and meet with us. There will be a good talk by some of the brethren every Lord's day.

If it is possible every Christian should attend Bible school and church service every chance they get. So come next Sunday and you will feel better by going. Bible school starts at 10:00 a. m. Be on time.

If you have not been to the revival meeting at the tent yet, you are missing something worth while. Rev. Jarrette Aycock, wife and daughter are a great evangelistic team. Their message in sermon and song are convicting to the sinner and inspiring to the Christian. Quite a number have sought salvation, and we trust by the close of the meeting next Sunday night there will be a large number. Services are held every night at 7:30. There will be one more day service this week tomorrow (Friday) morning at 10:00 o'clock. Saturday night Brother Aycock will bring a message especially to Christians with the aim of helping them in the problems of living the Christian life. A number of "catchy" songs will be sung that you will enjoy hearing. This service should have a large attendance. Sunday morning at 9:45 Sunday school will be in session. Then at 11:00 Brother Aycock will preach.

Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock Mrs. Aycock will bring one of her famous object lectures. Old and young should hear this by all means. A beautiful Testament will be given away to the person who gets the largest number of children to come between the ages of 5 and 15 inclusive, provided those children are not members of the Nazarene church. Remember every one is eligible to this contest.

Then Sunday night will be the closing service of the revival. May we earnestly request your presence at these services.

INSIDE INFORMATION

The new leaflet, No. 42, Good Habits for Children, is needed by every mother with young children. It may be obtained while the supply lasts by writing to the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C.

Blueberry or huckleberry cottage pudding is made by adding 1 cup of the berries, washed and dried, to your ordinary cottage pudding mixture, and omitting one or two tablespoons of liquid. Flour the berries before adding them.

Baked eggs in tomato cups are easily made for lunch or supper. Scoop out the centers of large, firm, ripe tomatoes. Sprinkle the tomato cups lightly on the inside with salt and dot with butter. Break an egg into each tomato, sprinkle with salt pepper, and fine dry bread crumbs, and dot with butter. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) until the tomato skins are slightly wrinkled.

Cedar chests that are in good condition and made entirely of properly dried 3-4 inch red cedar heartwood can be depended upon to protect clothing stored in them, provided all the one-half to full grown larvae are removed, before storing, by a thorough brushing, sunning, fumigation or dry cleaning. Young larvae present at the time of storing, or that hatch from eggs on the clothing after being stored, will be quickly killed in a good cedar chest.

In sealing jelly with paraffin, put the paraffin into a small saucepan, and melt it over low heat. After the jelly has cooled and set, pour hot paraffin over each glassful of jelly. See that it completely covers the top. Tilt the glass so that the paraffin will run up on the sides of the glass lightly. This makes a perfect seal around the edge. After the paraffin cools cover the glasses with tin tops or paper pasted over them, lable, and store in a cool, dry place.

The stingy farmer was scoring the hired hand for carrying a lantern to call on his best girl.

"The idea!" he exclaimed. "When I was courtin' I never carried no lantern. I went in the dark."

"Yes," said the hired hand sadly, "and look what you got."

RAIL FURNISHED IN DR. GRISSOM CASE

Dr. M. A. Grissom under sentence to as much as 47 years in the penitentiary for death following an illegal operation, is now a free man, bail in the sum of $4,500 having been furnished by A. D. Hill and A. J. Irwin.

The original bail in this case was placed at $15,000, which it was impossible for him to give and he has since been in jail, while his appeal to the supreme court was pending.

In the light of his conviction in a definite degree, and because of the fact that confinement was telling on him, Judge G. A. Richardson was disposed to reduce the bail to an amount that could be given and allow the dentist a chance to recuperate outside of the prison. The supreme court will pass further on his case in due time.—Roswell Dispatch, Wednesday.

In starting the work for the summer. Mrs. J. I. Funk was chosen leader, and officers were elected as follows: Goldie Ray, president, Mable Watson vice-president, Grace Watson secretary-treasurer, Alma Bradley reporter. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served by Mrs. W. L. Bradley. The next meeting will be held at the W. A. Watson home.

VETERAN EDITOR BOOSTS ROADS OF NEW MEXICO

LORDSBURG.—Willard Holt, for 43 years an editor and publisher and known as one of New Mexico's greatest boosters to-day in an interview with Hugh Neely Fleming Jr., war correspondent to Mexico and now writing a series of feature stories on New Mexico stated that as soon as New Mexico is sold on itself the world will be sold on it too.

"We have to sell New Mexico to New Mexicans," said ex-publisher Holt, "then we must sell it to the world. I have said it 4,000 times and say it again. When we are all sold on our own state, it will be easy to sell to the rest of the world."

Mr. Holt pointed to his home city and proudly stated that Lordsburg was nationally known for its progress because of the unity of spirit behind its every endeavor. He offered as an example the fact that only four negative votes were registered in the recent bond voting for erecting educational buildings in Lordsburg.

"When New Mexico is unified in spirit and effort nothing can stop the state's progress," Mr. Holt continued, and added, "We need appreciation of our resources and especially of our highway system. The comment which I hear most frequently from the touring public is that New Mexico's road system is superior to any other western state. The populace of the state needs to appreciate this fact and cooperate with the Highway Department accordingly."

"The Highway Department employees always give courteous service and attention to all motorists," he went on to state. "This is one of the greatest factors in bringing tourists back to the state and sending others to it," he said.

Henry B. Joy, president and founder of Packard Motor Co., was recently Mr. Holt's guest. It was his first cross-country trip in New Mexico in sixteen years. In 1913, it is remembered, Mr. Joy made a trip through New Mexico in one of the early model cars of his company. In those days the country was almost uncharted desert and the hardships of this initial trip were widely broadcast, he told Mr. Holt.

Mr. Joy, Holt says, proudly retains in his possession a camera record of this first trip. One of the photos is a picture of the car he used taken near Lordsburg. Indicating it to Mr. Holt he said, "your roads now show as great an improvement over those of 1913 as my present car does over this one in the picture."

Mr. Fleming's article will quote Mr. Holt on the road and airport situation in New Mexico and will be printed in eastern publications.
