DEEPER AND DEEPER DRILLING FOR OIL

The American oil industry is dig- ging in. As available oil-producing areas become fewer, the industry drives its wells deeper and the 10,- 000 foot level may soon be reached.

Two miles down is a long way to go for oil, the American Petroleum Institute points out, in an industry that is only 70 years old and that ten years ago considered 5,000 feet a great depth. But despite the ex- treme danger of deep drilling and the expenses which virtually have doubled the average cost of drilling a well in the last decade, several wells passed the 8,000 foot depth last year. The world's deepest well, in California, now is over 9,000 feet down and many wells in Texas and Oklahoma and California fields have gone below the 7,000 foot level. In fact, many wells have gone below water and have upset the prediction of oil field wags that if they went much deeper the drillers would be hearing protests from China.

Geologists believe that oil in quantity will be found at these extreme depths and the lessons in deep drilling learned in these new fields may lead to rehabilitation of abandoned areas.

VEGETARIAN FAD IS NEW EVEN AMONG MANY ANIMALS

Vegetarian fad is not new. Foxes of ancient times were fed on this supposedly modern diet, according to recent statement by E. B. Powell, in charge of dog experimental work for the U. S. Army.

"It is true," Powell says, "that foxes and dogs of ancient times were fed in the form of small game, when they killed their prey, the thing they did was to eat the organs and intestines. By doing this they got a large quantity of vegetable matter which is high in vitamin content. If prey was killed, they frequently ate very little of the meat, eating the vital organs in preference to the body of the animal.

"Foxes fed upon a straight diet for a year or two became sterile according to experiments conducted under the supervision of Powell. Not only did they become sterile on this diet, but their health was impaired because of a lack of vitamins A, B, D, and E. It has been found that dogs thrive when fed a mixture that contains cereals, and ingredients rich in vitamins which promote health and strength, in addition to the meat diet. Experiments show that cod liver oil, wheat germ meal and molasses contain the essential vitamins for the health and growth of the dog. These products are cooked, however, the vitamins are destroyed. The cooking that must be done to insure their nutritive value and to make them more digestible, must be done before these ingredients are carried.

"Dogs and foxes are vegetarians because it is a fad, but they are naturally vegetarians. No longer is a straight meat diet considered ideal for these animals—the diet containing cereals, such as wheat germ meal, and cod liver oil in addition to receiving the popular approval.

7:30 p. m. Popular peoples service. Special music. Anthem by our junior choir. Sermon subject, "The Dynamite of God." A study in power; human and divine.

You need a tonic! A spiritual tonic! Thousands have found it to work! Puts new blood in you, and a new light in your eyes. Come out Sunday to our church. You are missing the best of this life if you fail to tap God's spiritual reservoirs of power awaiting you. Ask your doctor about it!

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Our revival begins next Sunday morning and will be held in our church building. Dr. J. J. Cook of Fort Worth, Texas, who is a splendid evangelist and soul winner will do the preaching. Dr. Cook is a fine man and a really great preacher. He has a good delivery and preaches the gospel with power. You will enjoy hearing him and his sermons will be a help and inspiration to you.

Roy Camp of Ft. Worth, Texas will lead the song services. He is one of our best gospel singers and sings in a very pleasing and effective way. He is a good soloist and a fine choir director.

With these two men leading we are expecting a great revival. Shall not we as church members, stand each in his place and do his best in helping to have a real revival. We extend to all a hearty invitation to attend our meeting and share with us in the blessings. We are hoping and praying that the meeting will prove a great blessing to our little city.

NEW LINE UP IN THE SENATE MAY PLAGUE
PRESIDENT HOOVER

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Surprising changes in senate personnel, including a larger group of progressives may soon plague President Hoover and the conservative G. O. P. leadership, according to reports brought to Washington Monday by republican leaders here for the meeting of the national committee.

The 1930 elections, political rumblings reveal, may result in as sharp a realignment as in 1922, when a republican majority of only one vote led to some of Calvin Coolidge's most disastrous legislative defeats.

The predicted upset is feared partly because dissatisfaction with tariff proceedings and partly because of the natural phenomenon of a swing back from the huge Hoover majority last fall.

Present progressives up for reelection are expected to return, including Borah, Walsh of Montana, McNary and Norris. Norris has not yet announced his candidacy, but his friends are urging him to run again.

Despite his support of "Al" Smith last fall, it is not expected the reactionary republican machine can find anybody to beat him. Walsh has already tossed his hat in the ring.

This group may be increased if Iowa republicans can persuade William S. Kenyon to quit the federal bench and reenter the senate arena. Steck, democrat, comes up for reelection, and it is thought that Kenyon, a popular progressive, could win easily. Kenyon has not committed himself.

Cordell Hull, now a representative has announced for election to the senate in Tennessee, and his chances of victory might be good, in view of his long record and popularity. W. E. Brock, millionaire candy manufacturer of Chattanooga, has been named to succeed the late senator Tyson, but many think Brock will not seek the nomination.

Politicians, for some reason, place credence in reports that "Al" Smith may succeed Senator Copeland of New York. According to the story, Copeland will be given a $25,000 job as head of a new sanitary commission, and Governor Roosevelt will name Smith in the senator's place. The 1928 presidential candidate is known as a progressive on many questions, and would undoubtedly become spokesman for democrats of that group.

Senator Warren of Wyoming, a great conservative, may be missing. He could probably win easily, but he is 85 and has lately shown signs of tiring from the strain of his senate duties. Senator Schall of Minnesota, whose earlier progressive tendencies seem to have disappeared, may have difficulty coming back. Friends of Walter H. Newton, secretary to Hoover, are grooming him for the senate and hope the administration will back him.

GINNING RATE PROTESTED BY VALLEY GROUP

SANTA FE — Twenty-seven farmers of the Pecos valley have complained to the state corporation commission against the ginning rates in that region. The rate is 50 cents and, they say, is too high.

The commission fixed the rate at 40 cents for the Messila valley, but did not fix it for the Pecos valley. Chairman Hugh H. Williams of the commission said the complaint was made too late to give the commission time to order any change in the Pecos valley for this ginning season. He has written the ginners, however, asking them to lower the rate.

CATTLE SHIPPERS TO MAKE SAVING ON NEW ORDER

Shippers of cattle into the Pecos valley and points in Texas are the gainers by from $15 to $40 per car and there will be several thousand dollars in refunds on the lots upon which an I. C. C. rate decision received Monday was based.

Interstate Commerce Commission Examiner H. W. Archer was Monday reported as making definite recommendations as to the reasonableness of rail rates from points in Arizona and New Mexico to destinations in New Mexico and Texas, in cases heard at Roswell on May 20th this year.

The rates on range or feeder cattle were attacked as being unreasonable and the issues presented to Mr. Archer on behalf of J. J. Lane and other livestock shippers of this territory by the Pecos Valley Traffic bureau of this city.

The examiner has recommended material reductions in the rates which action, if finally sustained by the commission, will make it possible for increased shipments of cattle from Arizona and western New Mexico to west Texas.

Exceptions to the examiners proposed report are due to be filed with the Commission on or before September 30, 1929.

The decision will be generally recognized as being of immense importance to the stockers and feeders of the valley and various points across the state line, as it affects a class of cattle that is held for many months before they are sold and the money is available to pay complete charges. — Southwestern Dispatch.

NEW FILLINGS FOR SCHOOL SANDWICHES

September, school and sandwiches seem to go together. Many school lunches will be packed during the school term and sandwiches will form the bases of most of them. The following suggestions for sandwiches are offered to the housewife, by Miss Grace B. Long of the Agricultural College.

Bread for sandwiches: White, Rye, graham, whole wheat, oatmeal, raisin, nut, brown bread or a combination of two or more breads may be used. Bread to cut well must be a day old, although new bread may be used. A sharp knife is essential for cutting bread thinly.

Butter should be spread thinly on all bread before filling is added. The butter fills the open spaces and prevents a "soggy" sandwich. It should be creamed in order to spread easily and smoothly. Avoid spreading butter or filling over the edge.

The fillings used determine the kind of sandwich.

Ham sandwiches—put one cup of cooked ham thru the food chopper with three hard cooked eggs. Add three tablespoons thick cream and sufficient salad dressing to make a paste of the filling. Spread on slices of any brown bread.

Cheese sandwiches—Melt two tablespoons butter and stir in two tablespoons flour. Add one cup milk and cook until thick and glossy. Take from the fire and add salt to season, a dash of paprika, one-fourth teaspoon ground mustard and one cup grated cheese. Set in a cool place and use a needed for a sandwich filling.

Bean sandwiches—Mash cooked beans or rub through colander, mix with tomato sauce or salad dressing and chopped sour pickles, green relish or chili sauce.

Carrot sandwiches—Put equal parts of fresh raw carrots and salted peanuts through the food chopper. Moistens with mayonnaise. Insert one or two thin slices of stuffed olive or sweet pickle in every sandwich.

Fruit sandwiches—Chopped dates, raisins or figs may be combined with orange or lemon or grape juice or with corn syrup and coconut.

THREE MEN FATALLY BURNED IN WINK TEX. FIRE SUNDAY NIGHT

WINK, Texas.—Three men were burned fatally in a fire at the bath house on the Republic Oil Company's lease near here Sunday night. The dead: Martin Smith, Albert Helms and R. C. Jackson.

D. H. Fisher and George Jackson were burned seriously and were brought here for treatment.

The fire was caused by the ignition of gasoline being used by the men in removing grease from their bodies. They had been working on an oil well and their clothing had become saturated in oil. A heater in the house was believed to have ignited the gasoline. Workmen nearby helped extinguish the flames.

The National Tuberculosis Association says: "Tuberculosis gains among girls, due to smoking, late hours and inadequate diet in order to reduce; victims of 'flapper' age; death rate, 50 per cent greater than among boys five years ago, is now shown to be 100 per cent higher."

A record number of inspections of fruits and vegetables was made in the past fiscal year by the bureau of agricultural economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, a total of 266,831 inspections being made.

Sixteen farmer owned and operated cotton marketing associations with approximately 100,000 members handled more than 1,100,000 bales of the 1928 cotton crop. The best record was made by the Oklahoma Cotton Growers Association, Oklahoma City, which received more than 363,000 bales from its 25,000 members.

Fall-sown oats in the Southern states should follow crops that can be removed from the land in time to permit sowing the oats in early fall. Late seeding is believed to be responsible in part for the low yields secured from this crop in the south. The open furrow method of sowing oats will give some protection against injury from winter killing.

Considerable interest has developed during the past year in new dairy sections of the country in regard to the manufacture of cheese, and in answer to inquiries on this subject the U. S. Department of Agriculture has issued Miscellaneous Publication 42-M, "Points to Consider in Establishing a Cheese Factory." This publication can be secured by writing to the Department of Agriculture.

Vitamin A as contained in cod-liver oil is an elusive substance disappearing rapidly when the cod-liver oil is spread over large surfaces and exposed to light and air. For this reason, when stock feed containing cod-liver oil is purchased, the vitamin A substance should be guaranteed to be stable. If it is not, it is better to buy cod-liver oil and give it separately or mix it with the ration shortly before feeding.

There is no economy in having the cow thin at calving time. A cow in good condition starts off the lactation period at a higher level of production than a thin cow and gives a larger yield of milk for the year. Since the cow normally loses weight for 3 or 4 weeks after calving, she should carry considerable flesh at the time. Feed during the dry period should be high in minerals, especially calcium, or lime, and phosphorus. The calcium can be supplied by good pasture in summer and well-cured leguminous hay in winter. Most of the high-protein feeds, such as wheat bran and the oil meals, are good sources of phosphorus as well as protein.

Celery in commercial quantities is usually stored in cold storages where under proper conditions it may be successfully kept for 3 or 4 months. Limited quantities of celery, however, are commonly kept for short periods on the farm. The usual method is to place the plants close together in a trench with the roots, which should not be trimmed off, imbedded in soil. Soil is thrown up about the plants and as cold weather approaches the tops are covered with boards or straw. Old hot-bed pits are frequently used for home storage, the tops being covered as in trench storage.

Beet tops and crowns, if properly handled, make good silage. The tops should be run through the cutter and put into the silo promptly after the beets are topped. In gathering the tops from the field care should be taken to have them free from dirt, which might damage the silage. Cut straw should be placed in the bottom of the silo to absorb excess moisture, and as fast as the tops are cut straw should be mixed with them. Special care should be taken to have the edges packed firmly. Salt sprinkled over every few inches increases the palatability of the silage. Water should not be added. A 12-inch layer of cut straw, or other coarse roughage should be placed on the top to keep out the air.

GREAT BRITAIN LEADS IN QUOTA IMMIGRANTS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Great Britain led in the number of quota visas granted to immigrants to the United States during the first month of the current fiscal year, according to an announcement by the Department of State. The figures issued by the department represent visas actually reported under each quota.

Reports of many other visas for which quota numbers have been allotted to distant consulates are received by the quota control officers only after the end of the month for which allotted. The figures in some cases are provisional in character and less than the total obtained at a later date.

The report lists Great Britain and Northern Ireland with 1,172, and Germany, 1,340. A few of the other countries are given as follows: Poland, 637; Italy, 535; Czechoslovakia, 284; Sweden, 255; Russia, 232; Norway, 225, and the Netherlands, 204.

A RETRACTION

It was erroneously stated in the last two issues of The Advocate that Mr. Reno said "that it was too late to plant your cotton, but time to buy your coal." It was Mr. James that said "it's too late to plant cotton, but time to buy your coal." However, Mr. Reno agrees with Mr. James and since these two men agree, it must be timely advice.
