DR. LOUCKS GARAGE WAS DAMAGED BY FIRE LAST SUNDAY EVENING

Sunday night about 8:30, fire of unknown origin damaged Dr. Loucks Garage, located on South First street. The blaze started in the partition wall separating the office from the repair shop and spread rapidly to the wood work above the office. When the alarm was sounded, a dense smoke was belching out of the roof of the building and a strong south- east wind swept the lower part of Main street, making travel hazard- ous.

REGULAR MEETING OF CHAMBER COMMERCE NEXT MONDAY EVE.

The regular monthly meeting of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce occurs next Monday evening, beginning at 7:30 p. m., in the office of J. S. Ward. It is hoped that an increased attendance may be registered at this meeting. Two or three important matters will be discussed at this time. The committee consisting of Messrs Lewis Story and Otis Brown, selected to canvass the business district and ascertain where the people would like to have the new Chamber of Commerce office located will report at this time. Lawrence Kremer, recently appointed as full time manager will likely outline a few plans regarding the work of the organization for the next few months.

LAWRENCE KREMER IS CHOSEN MANAGER OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Lawrence N. Kremer, of Brenham, Texas, has been selected by the board of directors of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce as full time manager. In choosing Mr. Kremer, the board believes that they have secured a man who is fully capable of discharging the duties of this office in an efficient manner and one who is well fitted to take charge of the community affairs at this particular time. Mr. Kremer comes very highly recommended and has previously been connected with some of the strongest commercial organizations in Texas. He has recently resigned the place of full time secretary of the Brenham, Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Kremer's family will join him over the Artesia field, he has accepted the job of manager because of the type of citizenship he has found here and because of the possibilities of the development of this section. He is anxious to make the acquaintance of every resident in this section. Realizing it is much easier for 3,000 people to know one man than it is for one man to know 3,000 people, he asks the public indulgence until such time as he becomes better acquainted.

The remaining fifty will be offered from time to time as subsequent monthly sales.

The former lessees have been sent registered letters calling attention to the sale and explaining how they may exercise their rights under the Malone decision. FARMERS AND FRUIT GROWERS MAY EXPECT MORE COLD WEATHER

Farmers and fruit growers may expect more cold weather during the present month and April, says R. W. Bruce, weather observer, who submits some interesting data on the precipitation and the high and low temperatures for these months during the past eight years. According to Mr. Bruce, who is basing his predictions, on the present indications, we can hold forth little hope of seeing a great deal of home grown fruit this year. On May 7, 1917, this section experienced a killing frost. One encouraging feature of this report is that we may expect some moisture during the next two months. A summary of the past eight years giving the precipitation and the high and low temperature follows:

Civic Clubs To Sponsor Planting Of More Trees

Will Endeavor To Get City To Aid In Caring For The Trees Planted Along Highways—Women's Club To Canvass Town.

A joint meeting of committees from three civic organization together with officials of the Chamber of Commerce met in the Chamber of Commerce office Tuesday evening to discuss some needed civic improvements, particular stress being laid on the necessity of planting more trees before the beginning of the growing season. Among the committees present were: the Chamber of Commerce civic committee, composed of Mesdames C. R. Blocker and J. J. Clarke, the Women's Club committee composed of Mesdames Darcy and M. W. Evans, a committee from the Rotary club represented by J. H. Jackson and George Frisch, the Lions club, represented by George Deane and Fred Brainard, president, and Lawrence Kremer, manager of the Chamber of Commerce were also present.

It was agreed that the Chamber of Commerce through its civic committee and cooperating with other organizations would sponsor a tree planting campaign. ARTESIA DAIRY TO PRODUCE GRADE "A" MILK

The Artesia Dairy has successfully passed the tests of the county, state and United States health departments to produce grade "A" raw milk, according to an announcement made here yesterday by Dr. O. E. Puckett, county health officer, who recently completed an inspection of the premises of the dairy. The necessary requirements for producing grade "A" milk is cleanliness, all cattle must undergo an inspection for tuberculosis and all dairy employees must have a health certificate.

This is an unusual distinction for the local dairy, being the first and only dairy in Eddy county to meet the requirements to produce grade "A" milk. The Artesia Dairy is owned and operated by Messrs. Ben Dunn and Thigpin.

A FOOLISH VENTURE

Judging from all signs and indications we may expect the greatest influx of tourists Artesia has ever known during the coming spring and summer months. We are therefore in hearty accord with the proposed spring clean up campaign which will be staged here soon under the direction of the county health department, provided the campaign is started where it ought to be on Main street.

Visitors will be impressed with the new $130,000 hotel at the corner of Main and First streets, which is truly an imposing edifice and with the sight of the new hotel, looming up in the distance, they might be persuaded to drive up Main street. What do you suppose they will say when they see a junk pile within less than a block of our $130,000 community venture? And if they drive on up Main street to see not only the most varied assortment of mechanical junk ever shown since man learned to wield iron into many mechanical things now made, but two or three bone piles as well. Bones drug in from the surrounding ranges on our main thoroughfares. Bones from dead horses and dead cows; bones spelling desolation of the deserts; bones the sight of which is calculated to bring shivers to the human spine. Bones that would be a disgrace to an out of the way junk pile of any city. And yet we talk of staging a clean up campaign in Artesia and of beautifying our premises with flowers and trees, with the main part of town disgraced with a junk pile that any town ought to be ashamed of.

If this condition is permitted to exist, we suggest that instead of changing the form of local government from a town to a city that we change from a town to a village; a change, that would better fit the appearance of Main street.

SAVING ON OUR CONTRIBUTIONS

Foremost among the policies to be inaugurated by the Chamber of Commerce soon, is an agreement by which the outside advertising schemer will be stopped. We use the word stopped advisedly because whether he is stopped will depend on how well the local business men cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce. Artesia business men "poop" away hundreds of dollars in good money every year to the sharper, who has some advertising scheme that will enrich nobody but himself. It has not been so very long ago, since we donated about $6.00 for an ad on a cigar lighter, only to have the merchant take the said lighter out of the store within about two weeks after it was set up.

In some places, business men have saved enough money to more than pay their dues to the Chamber of Commerce. How much they save will depend on how well they cooperate with the advertising committee. The advertising committee is usually a secret one, appointed by the body to look into the credentials of the stranger, who seeks to solicit advertising in the town.

NOT APPRECIATED

There were a few who did not especially appreciate the criticisms published in the Advocate a couple of weeks ago regarding some proposed city improvements. The way we view the situation, it is far better to have these criticisms if any, come to light before the improvement plan is inaugurated. Belated fault finding would accomplish nothing and would not ally public feeling which might be ingenerated against the sponsors, who ever they might be.

Surely those who believe in the proposed improvement program, should also be able to fight for it and defend it against objections and obstacles. We could hardly conceive of a man who calls himself a public spirited citizen, who would be inclined to take up the sword against those seeking to find out the soundness of the proposition. If the proposed improvement is worth having, its worth fighting for and will be appreciated all the more, if it stands the test.

DEFEAT OF OIL TARIFF

The defeat of the tariff on oil, by the senate, was unfortunate for southeastern New Mexico. The present price of crude oil is little short of disastrous to the industry. The defeat of the proposal tariff of a dollar a barrel means that the inflow of vast quantities of crude oil from foreign countries will continue. The senators from the thickly populated centers of the east and New England are satisfied to maintain tariff on their own products. This system eventually will be broken down, perhaps in a disastrous way, and it is unfortunate that the tariff is being made so much a sectional issue. It is not good for the country as a whole that this should be so.—Roswell Record.

WHAT IS VALUE

Few problems connected with railroad and public utility development have been more discussed than the method of arriving at the values of these properties for rate making purposes.

There are two schools of thought on this subject. One insists that the original cost of the property should be the basis of valuation; the other, that replacement cost should be the basis of valuation for rate making purposes. Courts have made decisions both ways.

The problem which none of the regulating commissions have been able to solve is how to reduce the value of public service properties below current costs of construction without causing the investor to close his pocketbook. No amount of argument or long-winded legal phraseology can make an investor believe that he wants to put money into a going concern to-day, the value of which for dividend earning purposes is based on what the property might have been worth 15 or 20 years ago.

The property owner who erected a home or building 20 years ago, if his judgment is good, probably has it insured to-day for considerably more than it cost him, for the simple reason that it is worth much more than it cost, based on its earning and replacement value.

No one has the emery to suggest that for taxation purposes, assessments should be based on property values 15 or 20 years ago.

After all the smoke has blown away and after all the speeches have been made, the regulating bodies and the public will return a fair dividend to the man who makes an investment, based on the cost of building and operation to-day. If the investor doesn't receive such dividends his money will not go into public service or railroad companies but will be invested in other lines of industry which earn dividends on values figured on a basis of to-day rather than a decade or generation ago.

NO WILL ROGERS FOR ITALY

Can a nation's sense of humor be suppressed by governmental decree. Well, keep an eye on Italy, and you may find out. Quips, puns, anecdotes and jokes, which reflect on the existing order are banned by the Fascist regime and the Italian press has seriously suggested the deportation of wisecrackers. Imagine what would happen to our race of columnists, our vaudeville entertainers, and radio speech makers, if such a decree were passed in America! Picture the fate that would befall even our legislators under a law like this.

What punishment might be meted out to "witty George" Moses of New Hampshire for his wisecrack about the "sons of wild jackasses"? What, in turn, would become of Senator Nye with his wittier retort that old guard senators of the tariff-tinkering finance committee were peeved because they had spent the summer trimming a Christmas tree to find, when fall came, that there wasn't any Santa Claus after all? How we would miss the persistent teasing that Pat Harrison of Mississippi employs to drive Utah's venerable Reed Smoot almost into a frenzy—and the delightful Shakespearean parodies by which Senator Norris of Nebraska occasionally enlivens a tariff debate. It is doubtful that Senator Caraway would continue to function as chairman of the committee investigating lobbies if he were deprived of his wisecracks. In fact, it is hardly probable that a quorum could be mustered in congress if all the wits and would-be wits were deported. Furthermore, Will Rogers and many press correspondents would have to be executed on behalf of proper respect for government and high officials.

SAME HERE

It is evident that Panhandle farmers are going to have a hard time getting their crops in this spring. With an unusually large number of candidates in the field from governor down to constable, there is likely to be some would-be office holder waiting at the end of the row, just every little while, with a fresh supply of good stories and a convincing line of talk. Whether or not the farmer gets "all het up" over the perplexing situation, it is to be hoped that he will be able to ward off the attacks long enough to get his seed in the ground and plant some trees besides. It might not be a bad idea to invite a few candidates out to a tree-planting and make use of their keen desire to be of service to each and every taxpayer. Certainly, there are very, very few farm homes on the plains that could not use a few more trees and there are thousands that are as bare as they were the day the house was built on the vast prairie. And what a difference trees make in the appearance of a place! There is absolutely nothing inviting about a house set in a perfectly bare yard, but set out some trees, arrange some shrubs about it and make some flower beds and presto! it looks altogether different. In fact, it becomes a home. It goes without saying that every farmer as well as every other citizen should take an interest in politics and do his best to cast an intelligent ballot but it must be confessed that he is likely to get a good deal more personal satisfaction out of a beautiful yard and a good garden than from an attempt to solve the political problems of the nation.—Southwestern Plainsman.

THE LAW IN LEA COUNTY

The law enforcement body in Lea county is having quite a time making ends meet. The influx of population brought into the county on account of the oil development has made necessary more officers and better pay for the officers already created. However, the needed revenue with which to pay the officers is not always available when the oil field develops and creates a problem. Lea county is experiencing just what many other counties have experienced in the past that woke up to find an oil field in the limits. There is now way of easing the situation except by private subscription, for the pay of the official family is dependent upon taxes and the county can realize little or nothing on its increased valuations under a year.

Besides the ready money of the poker shark, the bootlegger and the gambler often proves to be too great a temptation for the weak official, even with a good salary from the county or state.

A man can sell 1,000 gallons of illegal booze for $5.00 or $10,000, and may possibly draw a fine of $50; while a poor ignorant Indian at Gallup stole an old fiddle and was sent to the penitentiary for three years. And then we wonder why the prohibition law "cannot be enforced." — Magdalena News.

INSIDE INFORMATION

Cooking a meringue in too hot an oven makes it tough and watery. If a slow oven is used for meringues they will set all the way through and remain puffy after they are taken from the oven.

In 1924 there were no cheese factories in the southern states. Last year approximately 60 factories manufactured more than 6,000,000 pounds of cheese valued at more than $1,000,000.

Too much water in a washing machine causes excessive splashing and often reduces the efficiency of the machine. Observe where the water line is, and also be careful not to overload the machine with clothes.

Oysters are now shipped all over the United States, in refrigerator cars or shucked and frozen. If properly handled they are fresh and excellent. Canned oysters are also good. Oysters are particularly desirable in inland regions because of the iodine they supply.

Curtains of unbleached muslin are practical for the bathroom as they do not lock limp or sleazy when dampened by steamy air. Also they are easy to launder. Brighten them up with a border or applique of fast-colored checked gingham, cretonne, or plain chambray.

BUILD A BULL PEN

"Too good for bologna," were the flaming words above the pen of Harvest Matador Douglas at the National Dairy Show in St. Louis, last October.

Harvest Matador Douglas, you might think by such a name that he was some plumed knight—is a Holstein bull whose ability to transmit production qualities to his daughter is known. Records show that his daughters produce 100 pounds more butterfat each than do their dams. In one year's time each of the daughters of this old bull made $57.00 more money for their owners than did their dams. Yes, a good record,—the value of this bull is proven.

"More dairying communities need proven sires," says the current issue of the Feeders' Purrinograph, published by the Purina Mills. But the butcher's knife claims many bulls before their value is really known. Many are sent to the butcher before their daughters come into production and can prove their sire's value. Why—because bulls usually become vicious and hard to handle by the time they are 3 years old.

Why not build a bull pen for profit? A bull pen will allow you to keep your young bull long enough to prove his worth. Once he is proven to be an outstanding sire, his increased value to the herd will offset the cost of building the pen many times. Your bull may be "Too good for bologna."

HOW SWINE ARE AFFECTED BY EXTREMES OF WEATHER.
The hog appears to have a more sense than many humans when it comes to a question of coming in out of the rain, and as a result the losses from pneumonia and swine influenza are sometimes severe.

The common practice of let- ting pigs run wild and giving them little or no protection, un- der the impression that they don't mind the cold, is decid- edly adverse to a prosperous year for the raiser.

The lack of hair makes the pig susceptible to cold and sud- den changes in temperature, and particularly is this so when it is allowed to lie on wet ground.

The symptoms of the two dis- eases are somewhat similar to those of hog cholera, and have led to an erroneous belief many times that cholera was respon- sible for deaths that might have been prevented with a little shelter during bad weather.— Washington Post.

STATE DEFICIT CUT DURING FEBRUARY

The deficit in the appropriations account was cut down $22,586.21 during February, State Treasurer Emer- son Watts' report for the month shows, being reduced to $221,992.59 by February 28.

This deficit was caused by the legislature's failure to provide run- ning expenses for the first five months of this fiscal year.

The appropriations account for prior years also is in the red. The amount now is only $31,965.32 hav- ing been reduced from $53,900.98

STYLE SHOW

A style show occurred at the home of Mrs. Dan Eipper, Monday afternoon, when the styles of the past fifty years were exhibited by the ladies assembled as guests at a party given by Mrs. Eipper as a farewell courtesy to Mrs. Anna Hadley, who is leaving tomorrow after spending the winter here. The display of garments gave a comprehensive preview of the oncoming styles, with their long voluminous skirts with basque-waists, mitten leg sleeves and gorgeously trimmed hats perched coquettishly on the top of the head. The old fashioned family album gave further enlightenment as to the impending styles. In this array of feminine fashion one man intruded to give data as to masculine styles. This "glass of fashion" was the Rev. Hezekiah Hicks, of Chicago, who spent the afternoon chatting pleasantly with the ladies, but carefully turned his face away from the camera when the group had its picture "struck," as a memento of this old fashioned party. Old time delicacies doughnuts and ginger bread, etc., were served, the hostess being assisted in this party by her daughter, Mrs. Grover Kinder and granddaughters, Zanna and Natalie Filbert. The ladies who gave this charming exhibit of the new styles were the honoree, Mrs. Hadley, Miss Addie Coll and Mesdames Alf Coll, C. O. Brown, O. N. Trotter, H. L. Muncy, Joe Clayton, F. A. Manda, G. U. McCrary, Stroup, Kinder, the hostess and Natalie Filbert.

Dexter, who spoke very convincingly on the subject of "Republican Prosperity as Seen by an Independent Oil Operator." Miss Clarke, the new Rotary Ann was introduced to the assembly. Mr. Kremer, the new manager of the Chamber of Commerce gave a short discussion on the origin of the Chamber of Commerce. And other speakers were: W. E. Flint, Coach Allen, J. R. Joyce, Coach Wilkins and D. I. Clowe. Members of the Artesia high school basketball team introduced at this time included Messrs. Brown, Withers, Williams, Clayton, L. Clarke, Gates, Wheatley, Norris, Pollard and A. D. Hill, Jr.

BIRTHDAY PARTY (Delayed)

Some twenty-five little friends helped Charles Mack Kniedler celebrate his ninth birthday last Thursday afternoon. Valentine decorations made a cheery setting for the party and a number of games indoors and out of doors made the occasion a lively one for the children. Charles Mack received a number of nice presents from his young friends. The children participating were, besides Charles Mack, Eugene Conner, Jane Shugart, Billy Paris, Lela Bess Mann, Helen Meredith Gates, "Buddy Glover, Gordon Gotcher, Leonard Spivey, Nina Mae McLean, Edith Sinclair, Clara Sinclair, Ann Adele Williams, Junior Boyce, Landis Ed Feather, James Robertson, Charles Preston Dunn, Beatrice Howell, Jane Rabb, Bobby Rabb, Ben Wilson, Jr., Donald Pior, Billy Bartlett, Phyllis Bartlett and Robert McCaw.

ANALYZE THE ALLOWANCE ON YOUR USED CAR

If a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must make up the difference by extra charges on the new car or re-sell it to some one else at too high a price

PERMANENT value is always better than a temporary bargain in the purchase of an automobile. It pays to look ahead and consider reliability and ultimate up-keep costs, as well as comfort, safety, speed, and beauty of line and color.

Since most automobiles are bought for replacement, the value set on your used car is a factor in almost every purchase. Frequently it is given an importance beyond its true worth.

Used cars have a definite market value and you are justly entitled to an allowance based on that value. It is not fair that you receive less. It is not to your best interests to receive more.

IF a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must either re-sell it to some one else at too high a price or make up the difference on the new car. This he cannot do unless he is allowed an excessive profit on the car or on financing, extra equipment and other charges. In either case, you pay the bill, for no way has yet been found to give something for nothing. The money must come from somewhere.

You may not get the largest used-car allowance from the Ford dealer, but that very fact should give you confidence that you are receiving full value in the new car. Ford charges are not marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on your old car.

Because there is no waste, extravagance or undue profit in manufacturing, distribution or selling, every dollar you pay for a Ford brings a full dollar in return. In lower first cost, in reliability and long life, in the low cost of operation, service and replacement parts, the Ford will save you much more than the seeming difference in trade allowance.

FURTHERMORE, at least $75 extra value is given to you in the new Ford in the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, the Rustless Steel, the five steel-spoke wheels, and the four Houdaille hydraulic double-acting shock absorbers. The unusually large number of ball and roller bearings, and the extensive use of fine steel forgings instead of castings or stampings, are other features that show the extra quality built into the Ford car.

THE CHURCHES

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST
Corner 7th and Grand Ave.

We were glad to see the fine increase in the Bible school last Lord's day. We are pleased to know the Bible school is steadily gaining in number and interest. Everyone is taking more interest in the great work. Brother Johnson was unable to fill his appointment last Lord's day, so Brother Southworth gave us a very fine lesson, which was filled with the gospel.

We have a good lesson on the Bible by some of the brethren every Lord's day at the 11:00 o'clock hour. These talks are real gospel sermons and are very interesting and helpful. A special invitation is extended to the good people who live in the country. If you don't go to some Bible school and church services, we will extend to you, the glad hand of welcome to come and worship with us. You will feel at home with us, and will want to come again. Remember you will be a stranger only once.

Don't forget the ladies Bible class meets every Thursday at the church. Everyone who is interested in the study of the Bible is invited. Mrs. Polk Turner, who lives north of town has organized a Bible class for those who live in the country. There was a fine attendance last Thursday afternoon.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

We were favored with two good addresses on Montezuma last Lord's day. Prof. Carney of Montezuma brought us a fine message at the morning hour and Prof. Schwab another at the evening service. They were here in the interest of Montezuma. We are sure our people have a better understanding of our school and we believe a deeper interest because of their coming. In Montezuma we have a worthy enterprise and it is hoped that we will all back up our school.

At the morning hour next Sunday the pastor will speak on, "The Great Conspiracy." Some men are trying to put God out of His universe. In this sermon we will show how this is being attempted. At the evening hour the subject will be, "Where Are The Wicked Dead?" We are expecting special music by the choir assisted by our orchestra.

The "pulse of the church" is the name that has been given to the mid-week prayer service. Whether this is a good name or not is of little importance, but it is of great importance to any church to have a large group of its people meet each week for prayer and Bible study and Christian fellowship. Get the prayer meeting habit and bring others with you.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT TO ERECT ROAD SIGNS ALONG THE HIGHWAY

SANTA FE—A special truck built for the purpose has just started on the job of erecting road signs on the highways of the state. The first section to be covered will be U. S. highway 85, between Los Lunas and El Paso.

George Ball, the engineer in charge states that while the first job will be the erection of warning signs, later on directional signs will also be put up, as soon as received from the manufacturer. The directional signs will give the mileage to the next city or town or point of interest for the guidance of the tourist. The roads have been logged by a scout car, and the sign truck will follow the map prepared which shows where additional signs are needed. "This special sign truck is the only one of its kind in use anywhere, so far as I know," said Mr. Ball, who designed it.

UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIP TO BE AWARDED

CHICAGO, Illinois—University scholarships are to be awarded as major prizes in the seventh national meat story contest just announced for high school girls of the United States. The contest is held annually under the direction of the National Live Stock and Meat board and has the endorsement and support of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and educational institutions throughout the country.

The contest is intended as a supplementary project to the regular home economics work of high school girls. More than 16,000 students representing high schools in every state participated last year, it was said. The 1930 contest, which has just been launched and will come to a close on April 1, will have an entry list as large, or even larger than 1929, the sponsors believe.

Contestants are permitted to write on any angle of the subject of meat they desire. These essays will be judged by a committee of prominent home economics authorities.

The interest of leaders in this field of instruction is attested by the fact that many of them have served as judges in past contests, including such personages as Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the bureau of home economics. U. S. Department of Agriculture; Miss Margaret Fedde, director of the home economics department, University of Nebraska; Prof. Mabel V. Campbell, director of home economics, University of Missouri; Dr. P. Mabel Nelson, head of the department of foods and nutrition, Iowa State College; and others.

The revelation by a government survey that the average housewife's knowledge of meat is very limited is said to have been one of the incentives for establishing this project for housewives of the future.

HUMBLE ANNOUNCES
NEW WORK SCHEDULE
FOR REFINERY RUNS

HOUSTON, Texas.—The Humble Oil and Refining company and the Humble Pipe Line Company late Tuesday took the lead among oil companies in announcing a working schedule of six days a week in response to the federal oil conservations board's suggestion for a curtailment in the present production of gasoline.

The refining company and the pipe line company Sunday, March 9 and each Sunday thereafter until further notice will shut down all drilling, producing, transporting and refining operations "where physical conditions make this possible." W. S. Farris, president of the former company announced late Tuesday.

Where a complete shut down is impractical, he added, operations throughout the week will be reduced one seventh in volume.

"Notwithstanding the decrease in operations," the announcement added, "no reduction in personnel and no reduction in payroll is contemplated."

TO THE WOOL GROWERS OF NEW MEXICO:

At the annual meeting of the New Mexico Wool Grower's Association, held in Albuquerque on the 5th and 6th of February, it was unanimously decided to avail ourselves of the great opportunity given the wool growers of the United States to set up their own marketing association in conjunction with the National Wool Marketing Corporation, as outlined by the Federal Farm Board.

A Board of Directors was appointed by the Wool Growers' Association, to act until a meeting of members or shareholders is held when the directors will be elected by the vote of the members. Each 1,000 pounds of wool or fraction thereof, will entitle a member to one vote. For instance, a grower who signs up for 100,000 pounds of wool, will subscribe for 100 shares of stock at $1.00 per share, and will have 100 votes.

Mr. F. J. Hagenbarth, president of the National Wool Growers' Association, has been working for a plan of this kind for the last forty years or more. He has clearly defined the plan as follows:

"In brief the plan of the corporation is first, to make where required, pre-shearing advances not to exceed $1.00 per head of sheep to be shorn; second, after the wool is shorn and bills of lading issued against it, or, if warehoused and warehouse receipts issued against it, in favor of the corporation then to advance 90% of the value of the wool at a rate of interest not to exceed 6% until the wool is sold.

"The present day value of wools will be determined by the Farm Board, with the assistance of the wool advisory committee by ascertaining the foreign price of competing wools, then adding the tariff and deducting the difference in quality for the different grades. The grower thus is assured the full value of his wool based on its foreign parity.

The Farm Board has approved of our contract with Draper & Company, Inc., of Boston, as selling agents. This company will devote its entire time to selling for the corporation and conduct no business of its own account."

The Board of Directors met and appointed their officers and signed up for five million pounds of wool. We urge and invite all the wool growers of our state to become members of the New Mexico Co-operative Wool Marketing Association. We want you to clearly and definitely understand that it is your own marketing association and you derive all benefits therefrom. This same plan has been set up for the marketing of different products and it is conceded by all that wool can be handled more successfully than any other farm product, as we only produce 54% of what we consume, the rest has to be imported.

Representatives of the Association will visit the various sections of the state and explain more fully the details of this plan. The fact that so many of the largest growers in the state have become directors of the association and have shown their confidence in this new plan by signing up for such a large amount of wool, should make you feel that they themselves feel assured that this is the proper way to handle your wool. We want you to understand that this is your own association—grower owned and grower controlled. The association has entered into contract with the New Mexico-Arizona Wool Warehouse Company to act as fiscal agents and managers to carry out the plans of the association through its warehouse and office at Albuquerque and the warehouse and office of Bond-Baker Company at Roswell. Applications for membership and pre-shearing advances may be made to either the Albuquerque or Roswell office.

THE USED CAR SALE OF JACKSON-BOLTON IS OUTSTANDING SUCCESS

The past week was one of unusual activity in the used car department of the Jackson-Bolton Chevrolet Co.
Ivan Sarvis, assistant sales manager for the Chevrolet Motor Company and H. F. Wisenteiner Chevrolet district representative came from El Paso particularly to visit the used car department of the Jackson-Bolton Chevrolet Co., and test out the used cars as to reconditioning, appearance and price, which is in line with the Chevrolet national policy of offering to the public, through their dealers, a high standard of quality in used cars at the lowest prices.

Mr. Sarvis and Mr. Wisenteiner personally tested and drove every car in stock and placed the 'OK' tag on these cars, which means the Jackson-Bolton Chevrolet Co., stands squarely behind each and every car so tagged.
The El Paso executive was enthusiastic about the condition, appearance and low prices of the cars offered for sale by the Jackson-Bolton Chevrolet Co., and pronounce it one of the cleanest and best assorted stocks in this section of the country.

Mr. Sarvis left for El Paso, stating that the reconditioning, prices and policy of the Jackson-Bolton Chevrolet Co., in their used car department, met all of the Chevrolet Motor Company's requirements.

Sales Room Bright Spot

One of the bright spots in Artesia this week is the used car sales-room and lot of the Jackson-Bolton Chevrolet Company. Gaily colored banners, huge signs, and flood lights at night are attracting large crowds to the Jackson-Bolton Chevrolet Company, and according to Mr. Bolton business conditions in Artesia must be good, if the number of cars closed at his lot during the first three days of the sale are any indication.

Mr. Bolton gave the Advocate reporter some very interesting facts concerning used cars during an interview yesterday.

The dealer declared that more used cars are sold per year than new cars and that the demand is steadily increasing due to dealers' faithfulness in completely reconditioning and guaranteeing the cars they take in trade before re-selling them.

"Cars are being built better to-day than formerly and are driven a shorter time by the original owner due to the yearly urge to trade in on the latest model; as a result, the majority of used cars have many years of service left, particularly when it is considered that the average life of a car is six years."

"The used car of to-day is not a piece of second-hand merchandise that should be regarded with suspicion by the prospective automobile buyer, but a genuine piece of high-grade merchandise with thousands of miles of unused transportation."

The spring clearance sale of the Jackson-Bolton Chevrolet Company runs from March 1st to March 31 inclusive.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE 90 DAYS MAKE!

TODAY A TODDLING CHICK... in 90 days a proud pullet about to lay. There's something to think about! Tiny bones and little muscles have grown several times in size... a delicate fuzz has sprouted into hundreds of feathers... a chick weighing grams has grown into a pullet weighing pounds... all in 90 short days!

A wonderful change... and only one thing can do it... good feed! This year consider Purina Startena Chow (mash) and Purina Chick Chow (scratch) or All-Mash Startena Chow for the first six weeks... and then Purina Growena and Purina Intermediate Hen Chow until your pullets are laying at 16 weeks.

Put these Chows before your chicks. You will see pullets that are built right... pullets that will lay eggs aplenty in fall and winter when eggs are always worth good money.

$5.00 PER DAY FINE ON CARS WITH 1929 LICENSES

SANTA FE.— The season opens March 6 on motorists who have failed to obtain their 1930 automobile license plates, State Comptroller Rupert Asplund announced Monday.

His field deputies have been instructed to begin picking up drivers of cars sporting 1929 licenses on that date.

The period of grace for getting new plates expired last Friday night and the twenty-five per cent penalty is now being charged tardy applicants. Beginning March 6, they will be liable to a fine of $5 a day in addition to the twenty-five per cent penalty for each day that can be shown they have driven their cars after February 28th.

SENATE VOTES TARIFF OF SEVEN CENTS ON COTTON

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The senate Monday voted a duty of seven cents a pound on long staple cotton.

No record vote was taken on the duty, which would apply to cotton of 1 1/8 inch staple and over.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

ONLY 25 PER CENT OF MOTORISTS FILL OUT TRAFFIC CENSUS CARD

SANTA FE—Only 25 per cent of the motorists who stop at the signal of the traffic census recorders take the trouble to fill out the cards handed them and drop them in a post-office box. This despite the fact that it should only take two or three minutes to answer the seven simple questions asked, and the card requires no stamp or signature.

"If the traveling public understood clearly the value and importance of this census to every community in the eleven western states where the census is being taken, I am sure that the response to our appeal for co-operation would be much better," A. R. Abelard, state supervisor of the traffic census said recently at the capitol. "A great many motorists do not even stop for a card. We must depend entirely upon the voluntary assistance of the public. We again appeal for 100 per cent cooperation."

Mr. Abelard stated that the census is being taken by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and the State Highway Departments of the eleven western states, and the expense is borne jointly. I will determine, among other things, how many automobiles, trucks and other types of vehicles use each of the roads under survey; the variations in traffic between seasons; where the cars are from and their destination; the mileage traveled each day by the average car; etc. This information will be tabulated and will aid the bureau of public roads to determine which roads should be on the federal aid system. "Each day's travel must be recorded separately, this means that every time a motorist passes a census station he should get another card even if he has already filled one out on a previous day," Mr. Abelard explained.

It is poor economy to have the dairy cow thin at calving time. Cows in good condition at time of calving will start off the lactation period at a higher level of production than will thin cows and will give a larger yield of milk for the year. Feed during the dry period should be high in minerals, particularly calcium, or lime and phosphorus. Properly cured legume hay will supply calcium. And wheat bran or the oil meals will furnish the phosphorus. Considerable protein also is needed for the development of the foetus.

A progressive individual cotton grower may obtain good seed and raise better cotton than his neighbors and yet be unable to sell his cotton for better prices. It is only in communities that are known to raise cotton of good quality and in commercial quantities that higher prices are paid, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The way to avoid mixing seed at the gins is to plant only one variety of cotton in each community, so that only one kind of cotton comes to the gin and only one kind of seed is planted. By the simple expedient of uniting on one variety, farmers in a community can continuously produce cotton of higher and more uniform quality than each can alone.

ORIGINALS AND DUPLICATES

A backwoods mountaineer one day found a mirror which a tourist had lost.

"Well, if it ain't my old dad!" he said as he looked into the mirror. "I never knowed he had his pitcher took."

He took the mirror home and stole into the attic to hide it. But his actions didn't escape his suspicious wife. That night while he slept she slipped up to the attic and found the mirror.

"Hum-m-m," she said, looking into it, "so, that's the old hag he's been chasin'."

The "drillability" of fertilizer will depend on the care it gets in storage. Fertilizer should be kept in a dry place, preferably on a wooden floor above the ground level, until ready for use. It usually becomes less drillable when stored in the field, as is often done in certain sections, or in a damp place, or on the ground. If fertilizer absorbs moisture in storage, it should be dried before distribution, by spreading it in a thin layer on boards or canvas in the sun; if it becomes lumpy it should be screened, the lumps broken up, and then remixed. The humidity of the air is usually lowest from noon until 4:00 p. m. of sunny days. Damp fertilizers dry best and can be distributed most efficiently at such times.

TARIFF ON OIL IS REQUESTED BY DILLON

SANTA FE—Governor R. C. Dillon Tuesday telegraphed New Mexico's senators and congressmen at Washington urging them to support an adequate tariff on oil and oil products in the tariff bill.

The telegrams went to United States Senators Cutting and Bratton and to Congressman Albert G. Simms.

"Citizens in general here are anxious to have a tariff on oil and oil products included in the tariff bill as it is of vast importance to the interests of the state, both in matter of royalty and development of the oil industry.

"Will appreciate it greatly if you will do everything possible in this matter."

OIL STORY

is expected to reach an interesting depth by the end of the week. The production of the Lea district continues to lead all others in Lea county in pipe line runs. During February, the pipe line runs of the district, exclusive of oil in storage amounted to 120,266 barrels, this production is from eight wells.

NICHOLSON PARTY HAS REACHED NEW DEPTH
1350 FEET IN CAVERN

The deepest point ever reached in the Carlsbad caverns was reached Monday by Frank Ernest Nicholson and members of his exploration party. Nicholson said Tuesday morning that he had found a depth of 1350 feet a new level. The main level of the caverns is at 750 feet and the lower level is at 900 feet. Their hands and legs scratched and their clothing torn, the party returned to Carlsbad at 11:30 Monday night after having been in the caverns from early morning until 10:00 o'clock, on their longest trip through winding passages and heretofore unknown rooms.

This new section is the most beautiful part of the caverns I have ever seen," Nicholson said, "and we are going back into it, as now, knowing the way, we can get in much faster than we did Monday. The party began their climb from the lunch room and went almost straight down. They found no air currents on the new level. "We did lots of stiff climbing," Geron Mendenhall, who assists Nicholson in the photography, said. "I did not have my shirt tail in all day." "At places the formation was sharp as needles," he said, showing his scratched hands, "and my knees are all bruised. I did not feel tired, the place was so interesting, until the trip ended and I sat down."

Photographing of a three reel dramatic motion picture, featuring Nicholson, began in the caverns Wednesday morning. Reed Haythorne, who made the first successful pictures in the caverns and who has taken many news pictures in them, said Tuesday. Haythorne, who has joined the party, will do the photography. Huge twin arcs that are part of his equipment will be used for the lighting.

Following hundreds of feet of string laid out as a trailer, Frank Earnest Nicholson, underground Columbus and his men yesterday renewed their search for the end of the Carlsbad Cavern, after resting Tuesday.

Once upon a time long ago, according to fairy tales, a brave youth who set out to destroy a terrible orge who imprisoned pretty princesses used a ball of string to mark his trail thru an underground labyrinth. Hundreds of knights before him had been lost in the many dark tunnels and never returned. But the youth killed the orge, followed his string back to the surface and claimed the rescued princess.

There may be no orges or princesses around the Carlsbad Cavern, but the ball of string is likewise almost a life and death matter with the Nicholson expedition.

"If we didn't lay the string to guide us," Nicholson said, "it would be easy to get completely lost in the maze of underground tunnels."

Instead of returning Tuesday to the new underground level at 1,350 feet discovered Monday, Nicholson and his men, tired from the hard trip of crawling, climbing and dangling at the end of a rope, loafed around the cavern and rested. Nicholson Monday did most of the dangling himself from the end of a 350 foot rope.

"We left our string laid out to the point we quit work," Nicholson said, "so it will not take us long to return to our farthest point. We are going back to the new low level because I believe we have found a series of new chambers which it would take a year to survey. It is a succession of chambers of wondrous beauty, connected by archways."

The explorers use strong rope, two gallon lanterns, three electric flashlights and the ball of string. They carry concentrated food.

When perpendicular shafts are reached in the tunnels, the rope is made fast to some rock or projection, and while the aides make sure of the security of the anchor, Nicholson goes over the ledge, his legs wrapped around the rope, and slides until he hits the bottom again—or until he reaches the end of the rope and it is necessary for his aides to let out more rope.

"It is not difficult to slide down the rope," Nicholson said, "but the return trip involves hard rope climbing. It was in view of that difficulty that we rested Tuesday."

"On our trip Monday the tunnel was so jagged and narrow in places that we had to stop frequently and break stalactites and stalagmites before we could go farther. This proved to us conclusively that no one had been in that section ahead of us."

THE WOMEN'S CLUB

The Women's club met for its regular meeting in the health room at the Central school yesterday afternoon. The program began with two charming violin numbers by Miss Florence Oakes, teacher of music in the schools, and Miss Virginia Egbert, private instructor in violin. The young ladies were accompanied by Mrs. Ralph Henson. Dr. Puckett, county health officer, made an instructive and helpful talk upon the subject of "Sanitation," and Mr. Kremer, the new manager of the Chamber of Commerce, gave some impressions of a newcomer in Artesia and outlined some ways in which the women of the community can cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce and the service clubs in their effort to make this a more attractive and healthful place in which to live. The last number on the program was a talk by Prof. Kerr, upon the subject, "The Changing Ideals of Womanhood," which was the principal talk of the day. Prof. Kerr is justly making a reputation as a speaker and his talk yesterday was a splendid effort. He set forth in a logical and entertaining way the position of women in the various periods as shown by the history of the world and pointed out the relation of woman's position at different times to various governing factors. It was a talk which would have been appreciated by practically all the women of the community.
