LARGE DAMAGE IS ESTIMATED IN EXCESS OF $500,000

Atoka Area Devastated by Hail Storm Yesterday

Damage from the worst hail storm in the history of this section was estimated in excess of $500,000 at noon today as reports continued to come in from devastated regions. Reports from Hope say that cotton, fruit trees and other crops were stripped and that several heads of sheep were killed. In the Atoka community, a strip more than a mile wide is bare. There is nothing left of the cotton stalks except a stub. Rainfall here up to this morning measured 2.21 inches according to R. W. Bruce, weather observer. The heaviest shower fell yesterday afternoon measured 1.78 inches. The precipitation last night was .23 inches.

That it can and does rain here at times was thoroughly demonstrated yesterday afternoon when the streets were flooded by more than two inches of rain. Main street gave the appearance of a river for an hour after the rain fell. A severe rain and hail storm extended as far south as Lakewood and appeared to center near the Atoka community, where extensive damage was done to cotton and to house tops and window lights. Ben Roten, Carlsbad resident was caught in the hail storm at the Pecos bridge, and his car looked like a wreck when driven into Artesia, according to reports, with the top beaten in and glass broken out. The metal work of the auto looked as though it had been pounded with a sledge hammer. Hail stones as large as a hen egg were removed from the Roten car after it had been driven into a local garage. Yesterday's hail storm was the second sorm to visit the Artesia oil field and beat the paper roofs off several of the camp houses. Tuesday evening a severe wind storm overturned a garage and several out houses and a pumping plant rig on the Ramage lease.

The Dayton-Lakewood school bus was held over in town last night on account of high waters. Members of the American Legion cared for the children in their homes. More than fifty cars were marooned on the highway north of town last night it was said. The highway south, however, was impassible. Several cars were washed down in the fields near the highway when they attempted to cross dips and small depressions. One or two cars were wrecked in an effort to cross the high waters, it was said.

Several cotton farmers in the Atoka community were practically wiped out by yesterday's hail. Cotton stalks have been stripped and cotton beaten into the ground. Roofs and window lights did not escape the ravages of the storm. Louis Rowland, proprietor of the Atoka store said this morning that the shingle roof on the store building was riddled and every window light broken. Two or three milch cows were reported killed by the large hail stones in the Atoka community.

A scope of the middle portion of the valley with Artesia as the center was left out of the heavy rain belt during the first part of the week. Good showers have fallen in the surrounding areas. A heavy rain storm with some hail fell in the vicinity of Carlsbad, Tuesday afternoon. Creeks and streams were running bank full, according to travelers coming from Carlsbad as result of the rain. Aside from some tree branches being blown down in Carlsbad, the damage from the wind and hail was not extensive.

Hope reported a light shower on the same date, Tuesday evening. Farther north, a heavy rain is said to have fallen on the Runyan ranch, but reports were not received on the precipitation west of Hope. Hail two feet deep was reported standing in the highway seven miles west of Roswell yesterday morning. (Continued on last page, column 1)

The health authorities do not fear an epidemic and believe that the health situation can be controlled without further danger.

BEECHER ROWAN WINS PRIZE

A man who makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before is counted a benefactor of the race. Beecher Rowan not only made two blades of grass grow, but he made them grow much taller than all the surrounding grass in three weeks time, by applying a magic working compound called "Loma." Complying with the terms of the contest Mr. Rowan had a picture made of the grass, and sent it in, and received a prize of $25.00 from the Loma company for the best exhibit from the use of Loma in the state of New Mexico.

PINON-AVIS MOHAIR SOLD

Members of the Pinon-Avis Angora Goat Association have practically finished shearing for the fall clip and the clip has been marketed thru the State Cooperative Wool Growers Association at Roswell. Notwithstanding the fact that the mohair market has been more or less demoralized, the recent clip made a fair return. Mohair from old stock brought an average of 25 cents per pound, while members were advanced 30 cents per pound on the mohair from the young goats. The yield this year has been fair, despite the drouth and the association clip will total slightly in excess of 100,000 pounds. The present mohair crop averaged 3 1/2 pounds per goat. The kid crop, however, was poor in comparison with other years.

BALL PLAYER CASHES LOT OF WORTHLESS CHECKS AND SKIPS

Officers are making a diligent search in an effort to locate "Slim" Roberts, baseball pitcher, who left town after cashing and forging checks in the amount of about $200.00. Roberts made a hurried departure Sunday after a good days work among the business men Saturday, when he passed a dozen or more worthless checks and in the number were two alleged forgeries.

Roberts joined the Oiler baseball club here about three months ago as a pitcher, coming from Arizona. He recently finished the season with the local club and had remained apparently for a visit. When he decided to leave town, he evidently thought it best to leave with a full purse and worked overtime Saturday evening cashing checks at various stores, sometimes making a purchase and sometimes getting the cash without the trouble of buying a small article in connection with the transaction.

According to officers, Roberts is known to have gone to El Paso after leaving here Sunday morning and is believed to have taken a plane for the west coast. El Paso officers are also seeking Roberts on a cold check charge, it was said.

LET'S CHANGE THE PARTY EMBLEM?

If political propoganda gets much stronger we expect to see the time when old time democrats may have a price on their heads. Did you know that this specie of political faith has been responsible for all of the hard times we've had and we are almost convinced now that it was a democrat that caused the locusts to invade Egypt during the ancient times and may have been back of all the pestilence that has persisted and persecuted the human race since that time. It was Cleveland and the democrats that caused hard times in the early nineties and it was Wilson and the democrats that caused the panic and hard times after the war.

Mr. Coolidge was elected on the prosperity program and so was Mr. Hoover, but Mr. Hoover's prosperity program miscarried and the republicans tell us that it was on account of the democrats notwithstanding the republicans had control of the administration and both houses of congress. You see that shows you what kind of a worm the democrat is always tearing down somebody's playhouse. The democrats haven't been connected with the nation wide drouth yet, but the campaign isn't over. We expect to hear a plausible explanation of the connection. Likely as not the durn democrats got next to the weather man a gave him a little hush money to hold off the rain. If the democrats can't be definitely connected with the drouth and hard times of the present, the period will go down in history as a temporary business depression, otherwise the harsher term democratic panic will be applied to the period.

If the democratic party had been so unfortunate as to have elected a president during the 1923 campaign, it would have been definitely established by the propogandists that democracy and hard times was a synonymous term. Under the present circumstances, it would seem a logical step for the democrats to adopt the goat as a party emblem. They seem to get the blame for everything anyway.

The federal prohibition officers liked to have been too late with the announcement that wine making in the home is legal, the grape season is just about over.

About the only people who suffer in silence are those who suffer when required to remain silent.

THE TWO TICKETS

This is one election year that the democrats won't have to offer any apologies for the ticket nominated at the state convention. As a whole the ticket appears to be an exceptionally strong one, at least as far as this section is concerned. If we may lend ear to the current comments, the men and women composing the recent ticket, make it one of the strongest, if not the strongest offered since New Mexico was admitted to statehood. This of course will be a big party asset in asking the public's support and combined with party harmony should give cause for optimism for the success of the ticket.

The Albuquerque Journal in discussing the two tickets, says "on arriving at the merits of the democratic or republican nominees, the people of the state must take into consideration the party leaders responsible for the selection of the tickets, as well as the candidates themselves, the party platform pledges and whether there is any likelihood of the promises made being fulfilled."

The Journal alleges that the republican ticket dictated by the old guard has nothing to offer the people of the state who are desirous of clean government. The republican nominee for governor owes his nomination to Mr. Springer of the highway commission and his hands are tied so far as promising any reforms in the highway department. The Albuquerque newspaper further states that both candidates for governor and the senate on the republican ticket are corporate minded and have little or no sympathy for the progressive legislation for the laboring class of people. The republicans likewise ignored requests for a plank amending the workmen's compensation law, while the democrats pledged themselves to improve the law.

Arthur Seligman of Santa Fe, democratic nominee, is a business man whose length of residence in the state has enabled him to know the conditions of New Mexico. His knowledge of the state combined with his business ability should enable him to handle the affairs of the state in a business like manner. The average citizen, who isn't hunting a political job, has or should have interest enough in state affairs to want to see the maximum results from a minimum expense. With this point of view, we believe this is one year when Mr. Average Citizen isn't going to be herded into the republican ranks without a thought of the consequences. If Mr. Seligman has made a success of his own business, it is reasonable to suppose that he can do as much for the state. And a successful administration should mean at least that we are to have no further increase in taxes.

The remainder of the democratic ticket, without exception, is strong enough to command the respect of the public.

THE DOG KILLING EPIDEMIC

Periodically, it seems the dog killers take their toll in Artesia. When we hear of some of the methods the killers use, we wonder if there isn't something wrong with their make up. A person even though he finds it necessary to put a dumb brute out of the way can show a little human kindness in the last act. It is hardly necessary to feed a dog glass and know that he will die by degrees or catch him in a steel trap and club him to death in order to get rid of him. There are other ways of dispatching him that are far more in accord with decency. Cruelty and barbarism isn't necessary, even though a dog may be a nuisance.

There are a good many dogs in Artesia and their numbers may get to be a menace to both property and life under certain conditions, however, the dog owners are usually willing to listen to reason, and if not the matter can be referred to the local officers. A dog, even though he be a dog, should be given a dog's chance. Most assuredly extreme cruelty isn't necessary to rid an unpleasant association from your sight.

The Roswell Record comments on the diversity of the climatic conditions in New Mexico. During July the thermometer ranged from a maximum of 110° F. to a minimum of 32° F. You can find almost any kind of climate that you want in the sunshine state.

INSIDE INFORMATION

Serve hot foods hot on hot plates. Serve cold foods cold—not lukewarm. It is astonishing how many homemakers ignore this simple and obvious detail of an attractive meal.

Apple butter may be made with or without cider and is a good means of using up windfall and other imperfect apples that must be cooked to be saved. The U. S. Department of Agriculture will tell you how to make it.

Use sturdy washable materials for kitchen curtains. Make them with a tuck in or near the heading to allow for shrinkage. Unbleached muslin, gingham, glass toweling, English prints, or Japanese crepe are good materials to use.

To make old fashioned creamy rice pudding put a tablespoon of washed rice in a baking dish with 1 quart of milk, 1/3 cup of sugar, 1/4 teaspoon of nutmeg or cinnamon, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cook very slowly in the oven for 2 or 3 hours, stirring often. A cup of raisins may be added.

Water containing iron can usually be improved for laundry purposes by adding a little limewater or washing soda to the water. Stir it thoroughly, let the iron settle to the bottom, and draw off the clearest water. It is better to filter the water through cloth or other material.

STANCELL FORMER ROSWELL MAN KILLED

Leo Smith, Hot Springs mayor, who is alleged to have shot and killed C. N. Stancell, a Hot Springs garage operator at Hot Springs last week, has been liberated under a $2,000 bond. Stancell was shot and killed during an altercation with Smith, after he refused admission to Smith, who is said to have wanted to search the Stancell home for stolen jewelry. Smith claims that his gun went off accidentally. Stancell, who died Friday morning at Hot Springs made his home in Roswell for more than thirty years. Dick Welch, shot by officers at Engle, after they had attempted to arrest him on charge of robbery of the Smith residence, was also a former resident of Roswell.

ARAPHOE HARVE A NOTED INDIAN SCOUT DIES AT KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Missouri—Arapahoe Harve, the only white man who could have averted the Indian massacre of General George A. Custer and his men on the banks of the Little Big Horn died Saturday.

His body scarred by tomahawk, arrow and bullet wounds, Harvey S. Fawcett, last of the famous scouts of western pioneer days, died here Saturday from the effects of a broken hip. He was 86 years old.

Arapahoe Harve was an associate of Kit Carson, Buffalo Bill and other famous scouts. He served at one time under General Custer, and only the fact that his horse gave out prevented him from warning the general of the massacre which awaited him in June 1876.

Fawcett was warned of the massing of Indians under Chiefs Sitting Bull and Crazy Horse. He was 200 miles away at the time and started on horseback to warn Custer. His horse collapsed after 20 hours of hard riding and before he could get another he learned of the massacre.

Indians captured him, he was tied to a stake and wood was heaped around him, but he was saved when a young Indian scout pleaded for his life.

His last scouting was done with the Newton scientific survey into the Black Hills. The party was attacked by Indians and was forced to flee. Harve kept the Indians at bay with his rifle, altho he had an arrow in his shoulder.

Ray Bartlett of the Majestic Theatre wants to know what kind of a lawyer an animal lawyer is, like we had his ad reading last week. Well, you know the public does not think very highly of the lawyers who defend gangsters and hardened criminals. That's what we meant by an animal lawyer. What's the use in just keeping a mere 60,000 words in Daniel's dictionary. Why not add a few more words occasionally.

We don't know whether horse racing and politics has a connection and we would not discourage the folks of the opposite political faith for anything, but a long time ago we learned not to bet on a horse that had the Botts.

One high school student calls our hand on the football write up of last week, when we stated a pass was completed from House to Green, we should have said from House to Gray, only we wore green goggles out on the field and got our colors slightly mixed. No, we're not color blind.

Necessities vs Luxuries

Under present financial conditions financiers urge the buying of necessities. Your home is not a luxury, but a necessity and you can not afford to let it deteriorate. Check up on your home and see what is needed in the way of repairs and call at our office. We will be glad to advise you as to the cost. Particular attention should be paid to roofs, flues, doors and windows. And remember, more is lost each year through rust and decay than by fire. A coat of paint will prevent this loss.

TOMATOES GOOD FOOD RICH IN VITAMINS
Soon the frost will be here and fresh tomatoes will not be available. Let us serve them often while we still have them, says Carolyn F. Wetzel of the New Mexico A. & M. College. There was a time when tomatoes were called love apples and were considered poisonous, so they were not used as food. We have learned that tomatoes are a good food and are rich in vitamins A, B, and C. Vitamin C is of especial value in preventing scurvy. Tomatoes also contain calcium, phosphorus and iron, which are needed to replace the body processes.

Before the frost comes, pick the larger and better developed tomatoes, pack each separately in a lot of newspaper and lay away side by side, not piled, in a cool place. They will gradually ripen during November and December.

Fresh tomatoes may be used in combination with other foods to make a salad. The tomatoes may be sliced or quartered. A few combinations are given here:

Tomatoes, cabbage, celery; tomatoes, cucumber, green pepper; tomatoes, pepper, hard cooked eggs, olives; tomatoes, cooked lima beans, celery; tomatoes, alligator pears, lettuce; tomatoes, cream cheese.

Tomatoes may be stuffed with many different combinations of eggs, olives, meat, fish, celery, shredded pineapple and nuts. Cucumber may enter in these various combinations, before stuffing the tomato mix the combination with salad dressing. Tomatoes may also be stuffed with bread crumbs or cooked meat mixtures and be baked. Broiled tomatoes and escalloped tomatoes are tasty and lend variety.

Tomatoes are the easiest of all vegetables to can. They are so full of water it is suggested that the jar be packed as full as possible with tomatoes, then filled with a puree made by running the ripper tomatoes through a strainer. Remember that canned tomatoes retain the food value. Chilled tomato juice is being served as an appetizer. Tomatoes in soups and stews all also a pleasing flavor.

The old saying is, "Eat what you can and what you can't eat can."

HOW

SEVEN DAYS CAME TO BE MADE LENGTH OF WEEK.

Where did man get his week, and what decided its length? Like so many things, it came from the Romans, but it did not originate in Rome. During the reign of Theodosius the seven day week came into use, and Rome imagined that it was Egyptian; but in truth it came from the Jews, who believed that God made the world in six days and rested on the seventh. Christianity was just beginning to creep across the world in these days, but masses of people were still pagan, and they accepted the seven day week as a moon week.

Each day was dedicated to one of the planets, Sun day, Moon day, Mars day, Mercury day, Jove day, Venus day, and Saturn day.

The Anglo-Saxon forefathers refused to call the days after foreign gods and renamed them after their own divinities, Tow, Woden, Thor, Frigga and Serterne.

The work "week" comes from the German "wikon," meaning change or succession, and the length of this succession of days is usually decided by the moon or the market.

How Compass Plant Got Its Somewhat Odd Name

The so-called compass plants get their name from a habit of growth brought about through self-preservation.

The plants, including the rosin weeds and the prickly lettuce, usually produce fairly broad leaves, which grow in a horizontal position. In sections where the air is particularly dry and the sunlight intensifies one edge of the leaf usually curls straight upward. In order that a thin edge may be presented to the withering rays of the sun.

By this means, the flatter surfaces face the morning and evening rays of the sun, which are, of course, less intense, while to the midday sun, the plant presents only the thin edge.

In sections where this growing habit is common, the effect is striking.

How Map is "Oriented"

To orient a map is to place it so that its east side, etc., lies toward the corresponding parts of the horizon; the map attached to a plane table may be rotated to make its directions correspond with the actual compass directions. In surveying, the azimuth of a line is the angle the line makes with a north and south line, and differs from a bearing in being measured always in one direction through 360 degrees, while bearings are measured in each of four directions through 90 degrees. Contour lines on a map are lines connecting points of the same elevation. On a contour map which shows contour lines at 50, 100, 150 feet, etc., the contour intervals will be 50 feet. Distance is usually indicated by means of a scale; for further information as to methods used in surveying, consult a textbook on the subject.

How X-Ray Foils Smugglers

As a means of combatting the ingenuity of diamond smugglers, the authorities of the port of New York are X-raying wealthy society women who are known to have bought a lot of diamonds in Paris. If she fails to declare them when the ship arrives, she will be asked to step inside a specially constructed booth in the customs shed.

As the woman stands there, the expert in charge will be able to see at once if any solid objects are concealed. Should she have hidden a diamond just before leaving the ship, it will be seen, as also will any jewelry hidden in the heels of her shoes or in her clothes.

FORAGE CHEAPEST FEED FOR RANGE LIVESTOCK

The cheapest feed for range livestock in New Mexico is the forage that grows on the range and is grazed by the animals, according to research studies made by J. L. Lantow, head of the animal husbandry department of the New Mexico Agricultural College. Tests were conducted by feeding various amounts of cottonseed cake and other feeds to different pens of livestock grazing on the college range. It was found that over a period of years, feeding large amounts of cottonseed take is unprofitable unless it becomes necessary to feed due to heavy snows and other emergency conditions. Generally speaking, if cattle must be fed to prevent starvation, the range is overstocked or poor culling practices have been followed. It may be more profitable to cull the herd heavily, or move the entire herd rather than damage the range by heavy over grazing.

Under average price conditions it does not pay to feed over one-half pound of cake per day to calves weaned in the fall, unless they are to be sold in the spring. If the calves are to be sold in the spring, says Professor Lantow, one pound per animal per day may usually be fed to advantage. In feeding cows, one pound per day seems to give the best results. While feeding this small amount may not have very much effect on the gain of the cow, or of the calf when dropped, it evidently enables her to produce considerably more milk which results in rapid gains in the sucking calf the next summer.

The studies further show that it often pays better to feed cattle a concentrate supplement when they and the range are in fairly good condition rather than merely to resort to feeding to reduce losses from starvation. Complete information in regard to the results of these experiments may be secured by writing to the experiment station, State College, New Mexico for a copy of bulletin 185, "Supplemental Feeding of Range Cattle."

The body is being held in state at the Bynum Funeral Home, pending funeral arrangements.

Mr. Berryhill is survived by five daughters and four sons. Surviving sons are: M. O. Berryhill, Snyder, Texas; Lee Berryhill, Tatum; W. A. Berryhill, McGaffey; and Fred Berryhill, Kenna. Surviving daughters are: Mrs. Bob Blivins, Tipton, Oklahoma; Mrs. Lee Scott, Arvin, California; Mrs. Myrtle Braswell, Olton, Oklahoma; Mrs. L. Belcher, Roswell and Mrs. C. D. Foster, Pecos, Texas.

THE ARTESIA WOMEN'S CLUB

The club had the pleasure of listening to two very helpful talks at its regular meeting yesterday afternoon at the Central school. Judge Ferree gave an enlightening discussion of the New Mexico laws for women and children, a vital topic to all women citizens of the state and Miss Luis G. Todd, county health nurse, explained the program of the county health authorities in regard to safeguarding the health of the children of the county. She stressed the importance of instructions to the mothers in the correct feeding and care of small children. Since it is not possible for the county health officer, the county nurse and school nurse to reach all children, she called attention to the importance of mothers, who have had instruction, passing information on to others who need it.

The business session was curtailed somewhat, by the threatening storm, but a few matters were taken care of. Delegates were elected to the state federation meeting in Albuquerque this month as follows: Mrs. J. M. Story and Mrs. Chester Russell; Alternates, Mrs. W. E. Kerr and Mrs. Stanley Blocker. Mrs. G. R. Brainerd, state treasurer, is a delegate by virtue of her office, as is also the president. Tentative plans were made for partly financing the trip of the delegation by giving an entertainment. Mrs. Lawrence Krenmer was admitted to membership.

The president, Mrs. Stroup, was complimented by the gift from the Yard and Garden committee, of a very large and handsome bouquet of dahlias. Some very beautiful displays of flowers have been made during the spring and summer and it is expected that many more hand some offerings will be seen in the windows of the Southern Club cafe between now and frost, at which times the contest closes.

A most interesting and important announcements was made at the meeting, which was the organization of a Junior Women's club, which has been under consideration since last year, and had finally gotten underway, with prospects for a splendid organization. A meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Blocker last Saturday afternoon, at which time, plans were made for completing the organization. Mrs. Blocker was elected temporary chairman, and a membership committee, composed of Misses Catherine Clarke, Virginia Egbert and Helen Green, was appointed. Plans have been made to start the Junior club off in good shape by a tea, which the young ladies will give at the Clarke home next Wednesday afternoon from four until six o'clock. Prospective members and all the members of the Women's club are invited to be guests at this tea, for which interesting plans have been made. The charter membership of the club includes Mesdames Blocker, Tex Henson, Fred Cole, Leslie Martin, Carl Joiner, Albert Glasser and the Misses Clarke and Egbert, already members of the Women's club and Mrs. W. D. Jones and Miss Helen Green. Although it has its own organization and will hold some separate meetings, the Junior organization is an integral part of the older club. The next meeting of the Women's club will be on Wednesday the 15th.

ANNIVERSARY DINNER

"THIN batter, even heat"—Grace Winter's voice was mellow and sweet as she made clear the household hints which were her own radio stunt at this hour. Grace had done many things in her time and done them well. Chautauqua work, editing a tiny woman's corner in a farm weekly and now, thanks to a personality and voice that made her an asset to the success of this new hook-up she was settled here. A little apartment book care of mother, and Lou Anne, her small daughter, and her hours were not too hard.

Lou Anne's father had been out of the picture for some years. Grace had her moments of forgiveness but they were infrequent. For her work had always kept her too busy to realize how time was flying, how soon Lou Anne would be grown up.

These hours at the studio were beginning to pall on her. Perhaps she missed the personal contacts her other positions had given her. The stacks and stacks of letters helped greatly but in spite of them she felt her work growing mechanical.

If married life had been less prosaic, if good old Jim had been less busy their matrimonial bark would never have gone on the rocks. She wanted no man's admiration but his, though she resented his casual acceptance of her, and out of resentment had sprung her sudden resolution to make him miss her, plead with her to stay. It was a touch of melodrama. Grace craved and had sought in every change of vocation she had made since. And when she did not find it even in this new form of publicity, when even her day's work simmered down to a matter of time-clock, of schedule, of letter-files and correct postage it, too, lost its glamour for Grace Winter.

She sat down at the big desk heaped with letters. It would be necessary to get in extra help but meanwhile she would put in extra time herself. For interspersed among the "Enclosed please find" were included letters that brought good cheer and merriment. And she needed all the encouragement they contained.

Among the first letters she turned up was one in Jim's familiar hand! How impudent of him, how unlike the discreet Jim.

She read it with vague discomfort. On the surface, merely a yielding to a sudden impulse. But to what? An appeal? Or a threat?

"Dear Grace:

"I learned your address in a queer way. Last week I was at home with a sprained ankle and, fooling with the radio, got your voice. I can't tell you how it made me feel. Am not good at that sort of thing. But you asked your listeners to write to you, and here I am.

"You were talking about little cakes and said your little girl was especially fond of the ones with chocolate. Your little girl! My little girl, too, Grace! Don't forget that.

"I was a fool to give you your way and I am not sure I can go through with it. Lou Anne is old enough now to have something to say about it. I copied down your recipes for the little cakes and Bonnie made some up. Lou Anne is right. They are great, but she can have them here as well as in New York. Better, Grace, for the old investment you used to storm about turned out all right.

"Do not be surprised if you hear from me again.

Yours respectfully,

JIM."

Respectfully! She stared at the paper. A threat. To take Lou Anne from her. Was it Bonnie Dale he meant? Was Jim m-married!

The place was insufferably hot. She must have air. Grace Winter put on her hat and jacket and walked blindly into the hall. So sick was she with fright and worry that she stumbled and a man just getting out of the elevator took her arm to steady her. Her eyes wondering, startled, almost stopped the words on his lips. For it was Jim, come to take Lou Anne!

She brought herself to attention with a desperate effort. But what was he saying!

"I am going to ask you to come back to me, Grace. I can't go on. This way of living is not fair to Lou Anne. Do you think I am made of iron?"

"But Bonnie? Bonnie Dale?" she faltered.

"Bonnie Dale!" His voice was puzzled. "She has been married two years. What has she—"

Then a light broke.

"You mean the cookies? That was little Bonnie Crider, Cousin Net's girl. Don't you remember her fat little girl? She stays with mother and takes domestic science in high school. They all use your menus. You'll be their idol, if you come back home!"

Jim's voice was wistful. He looked at her with admiration in his eyes. He was not blaming her, though no one knew better than Grace Winter how richly she deserved blame.

Well, it was better so. For Lou Anne's sake at least. And if Jim's loyal and honest admiration was to be her penance it was mild enough. Crying out her remorse on Jim's shoulder, washing out with bitter tears, once and for all, the wrong she had done him, Grace Winter changed her vocation once more and the studio lost its newest recruit, forever.

LEONA ATKINSON DECEASED

Mrs. Marvin Beasley, the only daughter of the late J. F. Atkinson and Mrs. Atkinson, now of Long Beach, California, passed away at her home at Magnolia, Arkansas on Wednesday, August 27th, following a serious operation. Funeral services were held in the Central Baptist church, post office employees acting as pall bearers, and interment was in the Magnolia cemetery.

Leona Atkinson lived in Artesia from 1903 to 1913, when following her marriage to Marvin Beasley, she moved to Arkansas. She is survived by her husband and three small children, her mother and five brothers, M. D., W. R., and F. B. Atkinson, all of Long Beach, California, and A. S. and M. T. Atkinson, of Belen, New Mexico, all of whom, excepting M. T., were present at the funeral. The Magnolia paper gives the following tribute to the deceased: "Mrs. Beasley was a woman of excellent traits and had made a multitude of friends in Magnolia and throughout Columbia county."

60 ILLEGAL RADIO STATIONS TO BE MADE SILENT SOON

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The federal radio commission has declared war on pirates of the air and with the cooperation of the justice department, expects to silence nearly sixty stations operating illegally.

After months of intercepting code messages, the commission has turned over to the justice department data on three score stations, most of which are suspected of being used by international smugglers and other lawless organizations.

Most of the illegal radio stations radio supervisors have found, operate on short wave lengths with receivers fixed to receive messages only on a specified channel. The outlaw stations were found through the use of automobiles equipped for testing frequencies and power used.

Commissioner Harold A. LaFount believes when the monitoring radio station being erected at Grand Island, Nebraska, by the Commerce department is placed in full operation, the detecting of the renegade stations will be expedited.

MORE LIGHTS FOR CARLSBAD CAVE RECEIVED TUESDAY

CARLSBAD—Six hundred lamps, most of them of a thousand candlepower, were received Tuesday at the Carlsbad cavern. They represent part of a $10,000 expenditure for additional lights.

The lights will be used to floodlight the lunchroom, for improvement of the lighting of the King's Palace for the Queen's Chamber and for better illumination of the corridor opening in to the cavern from the entrance, and to better illuminate the iceberg.

POPULAR DELUSIONS

Outstanding among the unfounded popular beliefs noted in today's news are the following:

That youth is wiser than age.

That age is wiser than youth.

That a dog is sometimes named Old Dog Tray.

That men sometimes propose on their knees.

That no one ever gets a seat in a street car.

That a crook makes money without hard work.

That horses are, or used to be, called Old Dobbin.

That life in the country is easier than life in the city.

That life in the city is easier than than life in the country.

That anyone can tell positively whether a belief is or is not a delusion.

That aging, decrepit and idle people at winter resorts are having a good time.

SCRAPS

Nearly 3,000 varieties of pears are grown in the United States.

For the first time in the University of Tulsa's history no Indians are enrolled.

Figures at the University of Texas show the average age of freshmen is lower each year.

Hampton Roads, Virginia's sea gateway, has seen its imports increase four times and its exports seven times in 15 years.

Ten thousand school children from as far south as Atlanta and as far west as Chicago, are to make a tour of historic Virginia.

The population of Bamberg, Germany, the town with as many breweries as churches, increased by 365 during 1929, or at the rate of one new inhabitant a day.

It is not often that you hear of grandchildren older than children, but Mrs. F. A. Betts, Sioux City, Iowa, became a grandmother at thirty-one and mother, for the fourth time, at thirty-two.

ALL KINDS

Each gallon of sea water contains 0.2547 pounds of salt.

Amber is not a stone. It is the petrified resin from certain trees.

The average or mean area of the 48 states in the Union is 3,057 square miles.

It would take 213 states the size of Rhode Island to make one state as large as Texas.

The bottom of Lake Superior, which is 1,180 feet below the surface, is 378 feet below sea level.

In 25 years—from 1900 to 1925—the reindeer population of Alaska increased from 3,000 to 400,000.

The lowest natural temperature recorded on the surface of the earth was at Verhoyanski, Siberia, 99 degrees below zero.

If all the outlying possessions of the United States, exclusive of Alaska, could be combined into a single area, it would be less than that of the state of Montana.

AGE AND VIEWPOINT

"Daddy, I know how to do everything," said the little boy of five.

"What I don't know isn't worth knowing," said the young man of twenty.

"Well, anyway, I do know my own trade from A to Z," said the man of thirty-five.

"There are very few matters, I am sorry to say, that I am really quite sure about," said the man of fifty.

"I have learned a bit, but not much, since I was born; but knowledge is so vast that one cannot become wise in a short lifetime," said the man of sixty-five.—Border Cities Star.

A NIGHT IN HOLLAND TO BE PRESENTED AT THE COTTON CARNIVAL

"A Night in Holland" a mammoth fireworks display will be a feature of the second night of the Cotton Carnival which starts at Roswell next Wednesday, October 8. In this program will be wind mills, fountains, beautiful shell numbers. This is just one of the unusual and new features which have added to the four day program at Roswell.

A rocking chair endurance contest is scheduled to start on the opening night of the carnival. On Saturday afternoon there will be a day light fire works display which is entirely different from anything ever shown in eastern New Mexico.

Interest continues to grow in the big parade on the opening day of the carnival when organizations, communities and business firms will put out their best in the way of floats. There will also be many unusual features in the parade.

Old timers day on Friday will draw men and women who have been residents of New Mexico thirty years or more from all parts of the state. A big parade in the morning will be limited to these residents and there will be a way for every man and woman to ride. Incidentally it will not be in an automobile. No modern features will be permitted in this parade.

Sixty-one has been the high number of contestants in the rodeo in previous years and according to Edd Amont, one of the managers of this year's show, there will be close to a hundred this year, and among them will be some of the best ropers and riders in the game. There will also be novelty entertainment features each afternoon of the rodeo. The rodeo will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons. The carnival continues through Saturday, which will be one of the big days of the four.

WOULD YOU THINK IT?

Some men can sign a check and make it worth $50,000. That's capital.

A girl can buy a hat for $2.99 but prefers one that costs $29.99. That's vanity.

A merchant can take an article costing 75 cents and sell it for $1. That's business.

A mechanic can take material worth $15 and make it into watch springs worth $50. That's skill.

The author of this can write a check for $9,000, but it wouldn't be worth a cent. That's tough.

The government can take an ounce of silver worth 50 cents and make it worth one dollar. That's money.

Tennyson could take a worthless sheet of paper, write a poem on it and make it worth $65,000. That's genius.

An artist can take a 50-cent piece of canvas, and paint a picture on it worth hundred of dollars. That's art.

FISH WILL BE TRANSPLANTED

SANTA FE—State Game and Fish Commissioner Edgar L. Perry will supervise moving black bass from the state fish hatchery near Dexter.

Eugene Catte, government fish hatchery operator in Kansas, has agreed to remove the fish. If the endeavor is successful the fish will be planted in the Pecos river, its tributary streams and other streams and lakes of southeastern New Mexico.

An attempt was made this summer to partially drain the hatchery pond and remove some of the fish. The bass however, took refuge in the high moss on the bottom of the pond. Removal of the moss, a procedure followed in other bass hatcheries, was found almost impossible due to the soft muddy bottom.

Catte, however, has promised Commissioner Perry to show his men how to transplant the fish. This pisciculturist long operated a private fish hatchery in Kansas. His success attracted the federal government's attention. The government leased his hatchery and placed Catte under its employ to raise fish for Kansas streams.

T. B. MAIN DEATH CAUSE

Tuberculosis was the principal cause of death in New Mexico during 1929, according to the yearly report of the U. S. Department of Commerce vital statistic bureau, issued Monday.

Tuberculosis resulted in 852 deaths or 13 per cent of all deaths recorded. The total number of deaths in the year was 6,428. Pneumonia caused 508 deaths, diarrhea and enteritis 427 deaths, accidents and unspecified external causes, 351, disease of the heart, 384, cancer 208 and homicide 51 deaths.

SOUTH CAN REDUCE COTTON ACREAGE AND RETAIN SAME OUTPUT

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Carl Williams of the federal farm board outlined to the United Press Saturday a far-reaching, long time program for southern agriculture which might eventually take 15,000,000 acres out of the cotton production without materially reducing the cotton output of the south.

Williams said the farm board had begun a land utilization study to determine how southern acres best could be used. There are about 45,000,000 acres in cotton now. Williams believes the interests of the south best could be served if that were reduced to about 30,000,000 acres without reducing the yield. Fertilizers and improved production methods could be adopted, he believed.

PREPARE FOR WINTER

There are so many delicious fruits that make most alluring preserves, preserves and relishes, that it is necessary, if we have a supply for the fruit closet, to be ready for each fruit as it comes. Look up the old reliable and well-liked recipes and nothing will be missed.

Each year we like to try some recommended concoction, so a card index helps to keep them where we can find them quickly.

Andover Conserve.—Put in a large preserve kettle eight pounds of hard pears, two lemons, one orange and one-fourth pound of preserved ginger, all put through the meat grinder. Add eight pounds of sugar, set over moderate heat until the sugar is melted and the juices flow, then cook, stirring occasionally until thick and clear. Now, with the addition of pectin from the bottle, the long cooking is eliminated and the amount of fruit can be greatly increased.

Fruit Conserve.—Take three pounds each of pears, plums, and apples. Stone the plums and boil the stones in two cupsful of water forty minutes. Peel core and chop the fruit; add one lemon and one orange (both chopped), six pounds of sugar and the strained juice from the stones. Cook, stirring until thick. Here, too, the pectin may be added and save long cooking.

Haricquin Pickle.—Take ten large green and ten red peppers and twelve onions. Chop the peppers coarsely, pour boiling water over them and let stand ten minutes; drain, cover again with boiling water and drain after standing five minutes. Drain and add the onions chopped, two cupsful of brown sugar, two tablespoonsful of salt and one quart of vinegar. Bring to a boil and cook fifteen minutes, then can in jars.

Cherry Olives.—Fill jars with well washed cherries with the stems left on. Pour over equal parts of vinegar and water, adding one teaspoonful of salt to each pint. Can and seal.

Why Glider Stays Up

The modern glider is a soaring plane. It is, for all practical purposes, an extremely light airplane without an engine, while the construction is greatly simplified, all parts being made as light as consistent with strength and the lifting surface so designed and set as to give high lift at low speeds. The fact remains that the craft is sustained in the air by means of the lift on its surface, caused by its motion relative to the airship.

PRUDENT SPENDING TO HELP BUSINESSES WITHIN MEANING OF THRIFT

By H. R. Daniel, Secretary American Society for Thrift.

"We must not overlook the fact that the standard of living of the American people is steadily improving. The bare necessities of life are not enough. We have our rightful conveniences, our comforts, our luxuries. In this way we are developing new industries as well as furnishing employment for more people and for more capital. All of this is within the meaning of true American progress and true American thrift. For American never goes backwards."

It was with these words that S. W. Straus recently sought to use his wide-spread influence to encourage judicious, thrifty spending by the people of this country as an aid to business. Perhaps his words will be of help just now when every effort is being made to stimulate general business activity. He always urged that in times such as the present people should spend money with as much freedom as might be considered within the bounds of prudence from the standpoint of the individual.

He never advocated the wide-spread spending of money by the public simply to encourage business. He felt that the individual should always live within his means and at all times be prepared for the proverbial rainy day. He gave voice to the belief that the general expenditure of money by individuals for things they could not afford could result only in dangerous inflation and a situation of economic unsoundness. At the same time he advocated a policy of judicious spending by those who could afford to spend in order to help business. Particularly in times of business depression, he believed that those who could afford to spend money freely in ways that would help relieve unemployment and promote better business should do so.

"Judgement," he pointed out, "must be used in deciding the proper balance to be maintained between spending and saving by the individual. We should not cultivate habits of miserliness, neither should we spend beyond our means. No man has the right to pauperize himself today and jeopardize his future economic independence under any circumstances or for any reason whatever."

TOADS LIVING FOUND SEALED IN AN OLD OKLA. INDIAN MOUND

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—Three toads taken alive from an Indian mound in northwestern Oklahoma where scientists said they probably had been imprisoned for three or four centuries, were on display here Tuesday at the State Historical Society Museum.

J. B. Thoburn, curator of the historical society, said the age of the amphibians depended largely upon the origin of the mound. If the elevation was made by hand, he said, it is probable the toads were imprisoned 300 or 400 years, if it was of natural origin, the age of the toads might be even greater.

Thoburn and two other archaeologists made the discovery while excavating the mound, believed to be the ruins of an imitation pueblo. The toads were dormant with lips and eyes sealed, Thoburn said, but within a few moments after being liberated, hopped about with agility, their lips and eyes open.

Each was in a small pit about three or four feet below the surface of the ground with on means of egress on ingress. Above them but still some distance below the surface was the remains of a sunken fire pit of a lodge believed to have belonged to a band of Commanche or Kiowa Indians who until approximately 50 years ago roamed the plains of this section. The curator pointed to this fact as proof that the toads had lived in their dormant positions for centuries.

The discovery was made two miles northeast of Gate.

How Turkey Is Modernizing

Turkey's isolated Anatolian capital has drawn nearer to Europe with the opening of the first direct rail connections between London and Angora, established by the continuation of the famous Simplon Express from its former terminus at Constantinople to Angora. Passengers from London and other European centers bound for Angora are transported across the Bosphorus by Turkish ferries, pending fruition of ambitious plans for the construction of a tunnel or a suspension bridge to link the Asiatic and European shores. This new linking of Angora with the Occident is regarded in Turkey as another feather in the new Turkey's Europeanized cap. The fact that the Simplon Express will shorten the Angora-Constantinople run by four hours is heralded as a means of tightening the bonds between the nation's former and present capitals.

SPEAKING OF SIMILES

As full of questions as a jealous lover.

As happy as an old maid held for ransom.

As bright as the seat of a Scotchman's trousers.

As rare as a waiter with shell-rimmed glasses.

As incomplete as a transatlantic flight without a stowaway.

As self-conscious as a pair of acrobats without a handkerchief.

As conceited as a nurse who has been made love to by a delirious patient.

As loyal as the movie star who has been offered a better contract by a rival producer.

As surprised as the sardine who went to sleep in the deep and woke up in a delicatessen store.—Exchange.

Why Day Is Remembered

Probably the most terrific hall-storm in history was that which swept across France and Belgium and into Germany on a very hot day—July 13, 1778. The natives still remember it, after a century and a half.—Boston Globe.

tended the chapel of the school. Rev. Morton gave the pupils an interesting talk.

T. F. Schwarz, who has been visiting the D. Ohlenbusch family, returned to his home in Loraine, Texas Saturday. Mrs. Schwarz and little son are remaining for a longer visit with her parents.

Chapel, at which a number of visitors were present, was held at the school house Monday afternoon. The school sang "America," and the first and second grades gave the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Superintendent Bernard introduced Rev. W. B. Morton, who gave an interesting talk to the young people. Dr. A. L. Moore lead in prayer, and the program was concluded by the singing of "The Spanish Cavalier."

The Sophomore class of the local high school recently organized their class. The following officers were elected: George Miles Murphy, president; Elmo Contrell, vice-president; Annie Mitchel, secretary and treasurer; Gertrude Bradley, reporter. The president appointed the following on the entertainment committee: Pauline Alexander, Mary Nihart, Mary Graham and Ella Ohlenbusch. The class is planning for this to be a more successful school year than any that they have had before.

How to Curb Telephone Echo

By delaying speech transmission, actually bottling up a word on the telephone wire and holding it for an instant, engineers have demonstrated a way of overcoming echoes and otherwise improving telephone service. The holding lasts only for a few hundredths of a second and is accomplished by means of retarding apparatus similar to that already employed in telephoning over transatlantic and long land cables.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

How to Clean Paintings

A good way to clean oil paintings is to rub them with linseed oil. When you buy it ask for hotted linseed oil, as there are two kinds. By applying this with a soft piece of cloth you will have good results. It will not injure the paintings in any way.

How Navy Trains Men

The navy maintains 42 trade schools for the specialization training of its enlisted men in electricity, gyro electricity, gunnery, pharmacy, radio, advanced radio, repair, machinery, music, aviation, and the trades of blacksmith and coppersmith.

How Bridal Veil Originated

The custom of a bride wearing a veil is derived from the old Anglo-Saxon way of performing the ceremony under a piece of square cloth, held at each corner by a tall man, to conceal from the onlookers the bride's blushes.

Coach—How many runs did they get off you in the first inning?
Pitcher—Only six.

Eight.
And in the third?
Aw, in the third I blew up and went all to pieces.

OIL SHALE QUESTION WILL BE PROBED AFTER CHARGES MADE MONDAY

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A full investigation of the whole oil shale question was welcomed by secretary Wilbur after charges had been made by Ralph S. Kelley, head of the general land office at Denver, that the interior department had shown favoritism to large oil companies in administering western oil shale lands. Kelley, who has held land office posts at Salt Lake City and Denver for 25 years, made his charges recently when he announced his resignation in a statement to the press. Secretary Wilbur Monday defended his oil land policy in a lengthy statement. He said he had declined to accept Kelley's resignation because of the "seriousness" of his charges, but had suspended the Denver official and directed him to file immediately the names of the companies he claims have been favored, "with dates and nature of the transactions mentioned." The resignation came as a surprise, Wilbur said, because Kelley had been ordered on July 7 to come to Washington to take charge of the "very work" he criticized and had not yet reported to the secretary. He did, however, come here about August 5 and worked approximately a month at the land office during the secretary's absence, Wilbur said. Kelley asserted that for the past five years large oil companies, "because of great political and other pressure brought to bear on the secretary" had received favorable consideration in attempts to gain possession of valuable oil lands. Wilbur said no leases for oil shale had been issued under his administration and that the majority of claims on shale land not invalidated by the coming into force of the general leasing act of 1920 were held in the name of "individuals or associations of individuals, made up largely of local people in the immediate vicinity of the deposits." "Whether so-called large oil companies purchased these claims after patent is a matter over which the department has no information or control," the secretary added. He said further that President Hoover's conservation policy did not extend to claims located under the old mineral leasing act and that this law left intact such claims so long as they were maintained in accordance with the law. Prior to 1920, he added, several thousands of these claims had been located in Colorado, Utah and Wyoming, covering more than 3,000,000 acres.

UPPER COTTONWOOD SCHOOL ITEMS

Last Friday night the Upper Cottonwood school children gave a program. The school patrons were also favored by having Miss Egbert and her orchestra, with Miss Catherine Clarke at the piano, who rendered several excellent selections. The ladies of the P. T. A. served refreshments to those present.

Quite a number of the pupils are returning to school from cotton picking.

Prof. Burgess made a trip to Carlsbad Saturday on school matters.

Those on the honor roll for perfect attendance this week are:

Primary Grades—Juanita Burgess, Freddie Burgess, Emelia Sanchez, Ester Melenez, Bruce Garner, Lois Howard, Ella Louise Sterrett, Clarence Hale, Mary Frances O'Bannon, Lucy Flores;

Intermediate Grades—Cooper Malone, Johnnie Mae Norris, George Rex Norris, A. L. Price, Frank Petty, Herman Drennan.

Things WORTH KNOWING

Change the horse's feed occasionally, though not suddenly. A horse—like a human being—likes variety in his diet.

Now is the time to dip livestock for lice, sheep for ticks, and mange. These pests will be more troublesome later on, when it will be too cold to dip stock.

In regions where parasites interfere with sheep raising, breed ewes in time to lamb early, advises the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and market the lambs before the worms share your profits.

Even the most careful feeding may leave the horse in poor condition if its teeth are not sound so as to permit proper chewing. Sometimes the milk teeth of young horses remain longer than they should, and cause the permanent teeth to grow crooked. Watch this and if necessary remove the milk teeth with forceps.

The saying "Three days of rain then a frost," has little basis in fact says the weather bureau. The weather conditions preceding a frost in fall and spring frequently are an area of low barometer, overcast skies and rain but not necessarily three days of rain; as a matter of fact three consecutive days of rain are of very infrequent occurrence; After the low barometer passes an area of high barometer with cold northerly winds comes on, and if the sky be clear, the wind light and the temperature sufficiently low, frost is imminent.

Young pigs are an easy prey for roundworms and until they are four months old special care must be taken to avoid worm infection. Fall pigs may be farrowed in individual houses on a clean pasture sown to a good forage crop on which no pigs have been pastured. Except in the extreme north, pigs born in early fall will be past the age of greatest susceptibility to worms when it is time to put them into winter quarters. However, winter quarters should be thoroughly cleaned before pigs are placed in them.

Careless disposal of offal from livestock slaughtered on the farm is one of the ways in which parasites are spread, according to the bureau of animal industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, which says that offal should be tanked or treated in such a way as to kill all parasitic material. Offal is often thrown out and allowed to decompose in an offensive manner. Dogs eat this material, and as parts of carcasses infested with tapeworms cysts are rejected as offal, the dogs become infested with tapeworms which they in turn carry to livestock and infest them with the bladderworms. Among the tapeworms spread in this way is the deadly hydatid which forms a cyst the size of an orange, or larger, in cattle, sheep and swine, and in man. Offal is also a prolific source of blowflies which breed in it in great numbers.

Proteins from animal sources are generally better for poultry than those of vegetable origin, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Meat scrap, fish meal, and tankage are good sources of animal protein, and supply valuable minerals in addition. Another advantage of animal proteins, especially milk and meat scrap, is that they are highly digestible. Protein in a good grade of fish meal is probably equal to the same amount of protein in meat scrap. Tankage is not so sure as the other proteins for poultry and needs to be supplemented with minerals. One of the best sources of animal protein is milk, which has a relatively greater feeding value than its actual protein content. It helps to prevent mortality of baby chicks, to increase the rate of grain of growing chicks, and to increase the feed consumption and egg production of laying stock.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENTS—we have them

NEW RULES GOVERNING MINERAL LEASES ON STATE LANDS POSTED

SANTA FE—Regulations relating to miscellaneous leases of state lands were posted at the state land office Friday.

They outline the conditions upon which the land office hereafter will execute potash, sand, gravel, gypsum, clay, stone placer and lode mineral, coal and salt leases and the terms which will be incorporated in contracts for the sale of timber on state lands.

There is very little material departure from the practices in the past, Charles B. Barker, land office attorney said, and for that reason the rules were made effective immediately although technically they do not become operative for ten days after posting.

Regarding timber sales, Mr. Barker said, the rules are largely informative. They are not intended to be adhered to rigidly for circumstances will be taken into consideration in determining the conditions of sale.

Ordinarily timber is not sold except after appraisal by a forest service expert. There is a positive rule that a sale will be made only at a public action which has been advertised.

The terms of payment are one-fourth in one, two and three years thereafter without interest. No cutting will be permitted in advance of payment of a sufficient amount to cover the timber cut.

The land office policy is described as opposed to the sale of lands containing timber in commercial quantity. However, exceptions may be made where the timber is scattering, is of poor quality, and where it can be shown that the lands are not adapted to timber growing and that cutting will not adversely effect streams or water supplies.

The office has taken no objection to local residents taking dead timber from state lands for domestic use, but has no authority to grant a permit covering that subject, and purchasers of state timber may prohibit the carting off of dead timber.

Gypsum, clay and sand, gravel and stone leases are restricted to a maximum of 40 acres and the rental is fixed at a minimum of $25 a year for the tract. The royalty is not less than five per cent of the net proceeds, after treatment and transportation charges have been deducted. For placer deposits of all kinds the area is not to exceed 640 acres. The rental and royalty is the same as in the case of gypsum and clay leases.

Lode leases are to be on the same basis except that the locality will be taken into consideration in fixing the acreage. Under the law a claim may not exceed 600 by 1500 feet, approximately 20 acres.

The regulations provide that no more than one claim will be included in any one lease except when it is shown that mining operations are to be of such a character as to reasonably justify the inclusion of more than a single claim.

The coal regulations are determined largely by statute. The maximum tract is 640 acres and the rental $25 annually. The royalty is ten cents a ton and must be at least $3 for the first year, $4 for the second and $5 a year thereafter.

Prospective permits are granted for lode minerals for a term of 90 days and upon payment of $1. The prospecting permit for coal is for a year and the payment is not to be less than $10.

For potash leases the maximum acreage is 3,000 acres, and the rental is ten cents an acre with a minimum down payment of not less than $100. There is a requirement for development in the leases upon discovery of the mineral. The minimum royalty is five per cent which is to be computed on the mineral delivered at the nearest or most accessible railroad shipping point.

The same terms apply to leases for sodium, phosphorous and the salts and compounds of these minerals.

As to common salt, the law is followed. The royalty is ten per cent of the sale price at the place of extraction and the advance royalty payments are required as in the case of coal.

In all cases a bond is required for the faithful performance of terms of the lease.

ROOSEVELT COUNTY ROAD OPEN TO TRAFFIC SOON

SANTA FE—The federal aid road project under construction between Portales and Elida is now being finished with caliche type surfacing and will soon be open for traffic, a report from project engineer J. R. Isler to the Highway Department states. The work is being slowed somewhat as it nears completion because of the large amount of caprock which it is necessary to crush in order to get into the chalky pits of caliche. Despite this difficulty however, the job is moving steadily toward the open for traffic stage.

The road is slightly more than fifteen miles in length and the contract price is $105,401, let to Armstrong & Armstrong of Roswell.

HOLT vs. BRATTON SIMMS vs. CHAVES BOTTS vs. SELIGMAN

—BY—

REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

MR., MRS., and MISS VOTER:

The Republican party of New Mexico again comes to you with a ticket. It is one of the best tickets ever nominated in this or any other state.

Herbert B. Holt of Las Cruces, is the nominee for United States senator. Opposed to him is Senator Sam G. Bratton. Each is a man of high character and known ability. We ask you to consider which of the men would best serve the interests of New Mexico.

H. B. Holt would support the policies of President Hoover. Senator Bratton opposes them. If the Democrats should have a majority in the senate, none of the president's policies could be carried out. That would be unfair to him and bad for the country.

Holt And Simms For New Mexico

H. B. Holt would stand for the protection of New Mexico's products from foreign competition. The Democratic party wants to write another tariff law. Each time it has written a tariff law, that law has brought ruin to this state by placing cattle, sheep, meats, wool, wheat, corn and other products on the free list. Each time there has been the blackest disaster to the business of the country. As a result of the last Democratic tariff, sixty-one banks failed in New Mexico. Merchants went into bankruptcy, livestock men failed. The tax values of the state shrank ninety million dollars. Sixty-six million dollars of the shrinkage was in grazing lands and livestock. The disappearance of almost one-fourth of the taxable property of the state forced higher taxes on the remaining three-fourths.

Senator Bratton voted against the Republican tariff bill. The best bill for New Mexico that was ever written.

Both Senator Cutting and Congressman Simms voted for the bill.

Against Congressman Simms the Democrats have nominated Dennis Chaves of Albuquerque. Mr. Chaves claims to favor the highest possible tariff for New Mexico products. But he expresses himself no more forcibly on that subject than did Senator Bratton who voted against the bill when it came up for final passage.

Bratton's Real Reason

The real reason Senator Bratton voted against the interests of his state was because the eastern and southern Democrats have decided to make the tariff the issue in the campaign this year and in the presidential campaign of 1932. They expect to get help from the big manufacturers who have established plants abroad, where they can hire labor at a cost of from one-half to one-fourth the wages they must pay in the United States. They want to ship back their products of cheap labor to the American markets free of duty.

Holt and Simms will represent the interests of New Mexico, first, last, and all the time. Senator Bratton follows what he believes to be the best interests of the Democratic party.

Judge Botts

The Republicans have nominated former Supreme Court Justice Clarence M. Botts, of Albuquerque, for governor. Judge Botts is a distinguished lawyer. His private and public life is "as clean as a hound's tooth," quoting Theodore Roosevelt. He has lived in New Mexico for more than 25 years, as schoolteacher, lawyer, justice of the Supreme Court and public spirited citizen. He has been in every part of the state and knows its needs. If elected governor he will deal with state conditions impartially and for the public good. Like Governor Dillon, he loves people. He likes to meet them, shake hands with them, talk to them. He talks their language. He is one of them, and knows it. He is proud of it.

Seligman De-vilish Sly

The voters of New Mexico will choose between Judge Botts, the Republican nominee for governor, and Arthur Seligman, of Santa Fe, whom the Democrats nominated. Mr. Seligman is a banker, a salesman of bonds, a smooth politician. Like Joey Bagstock, of Dickens' Dombey and Son, he is "devilish sly," and takes great pride in his slyness, his slickness and sleekness.

As between Judge Botts and Mr. Seligman no one should hesitate. Judge Botts will make, by far, the better governor, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Seligman is far richer than Judge Botts.

True Public Servant

The entire state ticket is a good one. Of the following candidates to succeed themselves to the voters of the state have knowledge due to nearly two years of excellent service. Mrs. E. A. Perrault has been a most efficient secretary of state. She is a wonderful woman, a splendid, homey kind of mother, and as a public speaker has no superior in the state.

Victor Ulibarrie is making an excellent auditor. He is careful of the state's finances. As the "State's paymaster" nothing gets by him that shouldn't. As a member of the State Board of Finance he has shown conspicuous ability.

State Superintendent Atanasio Montoya has conducted his office with great ability. He has restored harmony between the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction and the State Board of Education. He has established thorough and competent supervision of the high schools. He has revised and improved the rules for certification of teachers. He has secured out-of-state financial help for the rural schools for the first time in the history of the state. He has done much else that is outstanding. He has been able to build up education sentiment in sections of the state where it is most needed.

The Land Commissioner

Dr. Austin D. Crile, Commissioner of State Lands, has the most important of all the State's offices, except that of the governor. The income from state lands in the last fiscal year was more than eighteen hundred thousand dollars. The income from oil leases and royalties will soon run into millions of dollars for our public schools and the penal and charitable institutions. With absolute honesty and great ability, Dr. Crile has formulated rules for the conduct of his important office and has had them buttressed by decisions of the supreme court. The state is fortunate in the fact that it can retain his services as land commissioner.

Max Fernandez's record as a member of the Corporation Commission has been above criticism.

The candidates thus named to succeed themselves are entitled to reelection upon their records of faithful and efficient service. Of the new candidates we shall speak later.

Dear Mr., Mrs., and Miss Voter, you love your state. You want to see it make progress. You want to see good schools and good roads. The Republican party has promoted them and is pledged to a continuation of the policies of the Dillon administration. At the same time let it be borne in mind that the tax rate has been substantially reduced for the coming year.—ADV

DUKE CITY INDIANS DEFEAT ARTESIA IN A HARD FOUGHT GAME

The Artesia Bulldogs lost a hard fought grid iron game at the Albuquerque Indians hands at Albuquerque Saturday by a score of 6-0. As the sports writer of an Albuquerque paper put it, "the Redmen found the boys of the lower valley hard to score on." The Indians made their gains principally on passing. The locals appeared to have lacked the generalship to uncork a passing attack, but were tight in the pinches and displayed a marvelous defense when the Indians threatened the Artesia goal line. With a revamped lineup Artesia gave a much better exhibition than during the first game here on the nineteenth and taken as a whole the showing made against the Albuquerque Indians on their own territory, one of the strongest competitors of the season, is very gratifying. Brown, Artesia quarterback is credited with pulling the local team out of several holes, but his team mates lacked the punch in the offensive.

The touchdown of the Indians came in the third quarter, when Chulla Jiron made a pretty end run around right end, but failed to kick goal.

Officials for the game were: Referee, Harry Bliss; umpire, Louie Hernandez; headlinesman, Coach Wilson.

HAGERMAN WOMAN HAS NARROWESCAPE IN HIGH WATERS NEAR ARTESIA

Mrs. Perry Andrus, small daughter of Hagerman, and sister, Mrs. Huckabee of Brownfield, Texas narrowly escaped drowning when their car stalled in a dip a half mile north of Artesia during the flood caused by heavy rains at Artesia.

Mrs. Andrus was driving the car when they arrived at the dip which was running moderately deep in water, and was afraid to try to make the crossing. Two Mexicans arriving in a Ford volunteered to drive the car across, but stalled the engine. Mrs. Andrus lifted the five months old babe over her head and the two women climbed out in water up to their arms. When the car was pulled out last night, the water was up to within six inches of its top.

heavy hail held up traffic into Roswell for a short time. North and west of Roswell a severe hail and electric storm played havoc with telephone and telegraph wires. A rain which assumed cloudburst proportions fell in the vicinity of Picacho hill, northwest of Roswell. A heavy rain also swept a small strip of country between the Cap Rock and the oil field, in the oil field the rain fall was lighter. The precipitation here Monday night amounted to .07 inches and on Tuesday night amounted to .13 inches.

The moisture is not especially welcomed by cotton farmers since it has slowed up cotton picking operations, but it may be the salvation of a number of local stockmen if frost holds off long enough. Old timers say they have seen grass grow knee high here before a late frost with moisture at this season of the year.

Two women were discussing the sad case of a financier who had failed.

"Poor George!" said the first woman. "Did he accept his failure like a man?"

"Exactly like a man," said the second woman. "He blamed it on his wife's extravagance."—Humorist.

SELIGMAN OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN LAST NIGHT WOULD LOWER TAXES

"The people of New Mexico have definitely made up their mind that they need and want a change in administrative affairs," Arthur Seligman said in his maiden speech as the democratic candidate for governor at Bernalillo last night.

"The burden of taxation has become too heavy for us to carry," said Seligman, adding that it was more his desire to help the people than an ambition to be governor that he went into the political race.

"Extravagance has mounted to a point that is out of all reason," he said. "Our tax rate has gone up by leaps and bounds under the republican administration. Citizens of every political creed want good roads and good schools, but they also want value received for every dollar of public money that is spent. That is only common sense."

"That the state's payrolls have been gorged with political employees; that the state today is in financial difficulties; that the 'widely ballyhooed new assessment system has been a flat tire failure,' and the state is still waiting for equalization were among the indictments he brot against the present administration.

Mr. Seligman promised a competent and business-like remedy for what he termed "The chaotic condition of the whole assessment fabric."

"Expenditures must be limited to income," he declared.

Referring to the announced cut in the state tax rate, he said "the assessed valuation has been increased to the extent that the authorities can put 60 cents in one of your pockets and then reach into the other pocket and take out $1.60."

He declared for the elimination of "political favoritism" in the assessment system.

He rapped the republican legislature for crippling the disabled soldiers bureau on one hand and giving the water commissioner a $25,000 appropriation on the other.

"We must obtain the utmost benefit from the immense oil resources of the state," he said. "We must have competent administration of the affairs of the land office."

"Elect a democratic legislature and you will get better laws and fewer bone heads laws," he declared.

Senator Bratton in his address told of the legislation he has obtained for the state in the six years he has been in the senate enumerating legislation for a vote upon a constitutional amendment to evolve a simple and satisfactory system of leasing of oil and gas lands; a bill granting to the state college 51,000 acres of land for establishing experimental development with livestock; securing of financial aid for the dry farming experimental station at Tucumcari; legislation for the Normal at Portales; legislation for a federal fish hatchery in the state, and for development of a government bath house at Hot Springs.

Reflection in Spoon Shows Upside Down

When a person looks into the bowl of a brightly polished spoon he always sees his reflection upside down. This is because the concave part of the spoon acts like a lens. If the spoon were flat it would reflect like an ordinary mirror. To illustrate, in focusing a plate camera images are thrown on the ground glass upside down when rays of light are passed through a lens they converge on each other until they all meet at one point. From the point where they cross and continue their journey towards the eye their positions are reversed. That is why stereopticon slides and moving picture films must be put in the projecting machine upside down in order to make the pictures appear right side up on the screen. Any hollow reflecting object, such as the polished bowl of a spoon, acts in the same manner. The rays that strike in its exact center are reflected straight back, but those that fall on the curved sides are turned inwards. Hence all the rays cross at a point and the reflection appears upside down. A flat surface, such as a mirror, does not reflect the light rays from a point and accordingly they do not meet. That is why the reflection is right side up.—Exchange.
