Stevens No. 1 Rated The Best Well In Jackson Area

Fishing Job Is Ended Operators Are Reel With 500 Barrel One Hobbs Well Is To Be Tested.

Every cloud has a silver lining. Back of these clouds that have hung low for the past few days and made our gas bills run up comes the announcement from the Pecos Valley Gas Co. that the company will pay six per cent interest on all meter deposits to December 31st that have been up for six months. Said interest to be deducted from the January gas bills instead of issuing checks. The latter method of payment was adopted to save time due to the rush incidental to establishing the general offices of the Consumers Natural Gas Co., here.

most sensational oil development to occur in Eddy county in the past few months and is of immediate interest to the strike of the No. 1 of the Flynn, Welch Oil Co., NE SW sec. 13-14 in the Jackson pool. After the last August drillers set a pin to the tools lost at the well and succeeded in fishing them out. Drilling approximately 400 feet deeper they encountered a well that tested 540 barrels in four hours, in its initial stages. The Stevens was permitted to flow the second day and produced slightly less than two hundred barrels a day. Drilling is progressing ahead below 2,460 feet and it is hoped that more production will be obtained.

last well tested in the Eunice district is the No. 2 of the Continental Oil Co., 17-21-36, has not met expectations, following a 100 quart test showing 3,914-82 feet. Completed at 2,300 feet, the well swabbed 112 barrels in twenty-four hours and connected for production. The No. 2 was the second small well completed in this sector within two weeks. The Tidal Oil Co. No. 1 the biggest well in the Eunice district is still producing around 800 barrels daily. The lime seems to be a factor in production of wells in the Eunice sector just as in the official proration test shows the No. 29 of the Midwest Oil Co., 660 feet from the south west lines sec. 34-18-38 to be a better well than was first anticipated. The Turner made 21,350 on an official proration gauge-test, State No. 1, 2310 feet from the north and west lines 7-17-34, an important test in the Eunice county which is being watched developed a fish-hole at 4,647 feet but was cleaned yesterday and drilling re-

HOPE MAN IN A CAR ACCIDENT BUT MAKES HIS ESCAPE UNHURT

Dee Swift of Hope had a narrow escape Sunday morning when his Ford sedan overturned on the Hope highway west of the Artesia golf course as he was en route to Artesia. A blow out on a front tire is thought to have caused the accident. Mr. Swift was fortunate in that he escaped serious injury. The car was badly damaged.

PECOS VALLEY GAS CO. TO PAY INTEREST ON THE METER DEPOSITS

Every cloud has a silver lining. Back of these clouds that have hung low for the past few days and made our gas bills run up comes the announcement from the Pecos Valley Gas Co. that the company will pay six per cent interest on all meter deposits to December 31st that have been up for six months. ## JUDGE ROBERTS DIES SUDDENLY TUESDAY EVE WHILE IN HIS HOME

Judge C. J. Roberts, member of the territorial supreme court, and chief justice of the first New Mexico supreme court after statehood, died suddenly of acute indigestion at his home in Santa Fe Tuesday evening. Judge Roberts was 58 years old.

Coming to New Mexico from Trinidad, Colorado in 1907, Judge Roberts served in the territorial New Mexico legislature from Raton, was a member of the state constitutional convention, and after resigning from the supreme court in 1921, built up a tremendous law practice in New Mexico, in partnership with Judge C. R. Brice.

Judge Roberts was born in Madison, Indiana, and started his law education by sweeping out the office of Judge Baer there and reading in between times. His entire legal education was gained by reading and practicing in law offices. He served a term in Indiana as a district attorney before coming west.

Judge Roberts had not been well recently, and had been bothered by touches of rheumatism in his hip. He had been attending his office regularly, however, but late Tuesday afternoon, became ill. Manual Sanchez, the junior partner in the firm of Roberts, Brice and Sanchez, took him home.

A doctor treated him for indigestion and told him to go to bed. Judge Roberts fell dead a short time later while he was undressing.

FIREMEN'S BENEFIT BALL

Arrangements are underway to stage a firemen's benefit ball at the Artesia hotel roof garden, Thursday night, February 5th. It is hoped that the public may respond generously to this social event, since it is given for the benefit of the fire boys. Proceeds of the ball will go toward sending delegates to the state firemen's convention, which meets in Clovis in June. Or if proper interest can be developed, it is possible that a local fire team will be sent to Clovis to compete in prize events, which will be offered at this time.

TO EXTEND WATER MAINS

Plans are underway to extend the city water mains to the end of Tyler street in south Artesia and thence east to the Woodbine cemetery, it was learned the first of the week.

GOOD RAINS FALL OVER WIDE AREA, HALF INCH MOISTURE FALLS HERE

Best Season Seen Here For Twenty Years — Outlook Is Promising For Both Farms and Ranges—The Highways Are Slow.

Unusual weather prevailed over the eastern section of the state for more than 33 hours. Spring rains have fallen in January. Monday night a slow but steady rain fell here and continued intermittently during the day Tuesday. The rainfall measured .49 inches up to Wednesday morning, according to R. W. Bruce, weather observer. High temperatures recorded was 60, while the low was 21. The duration of the storm was thirty-three hours.

Continued rainfall has seriously hampered traffic on some of the highways. Stages have been running from thirty minutes to three hours behind time for the past two days. The principal difficulty has been encountered on the highway between Carlsbad and Pecos. The oil field highway has also been slippery which has slowed down travel some.

Old timers declare that the middle valley now has the best season seen here in twenty years. Farms and ranges have been pretty well watered and green vegetation has started nicely in places. Most of the old timers also look for an early spring with little wind.

A CORRECTION

The name of Miss Pearl Henderson was accidentally omitted from the list of guests at the party honoring Mrs. Otis Brown last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Garrett have returned from an extended stay at Tulia, Texas.

EDDY AUTO LICENSE COLLECTIONS UNDER THE AVERAGE TO DATE

Up to Monday evening, only about 1,300 of the 2,475 passenger cars and 100 of the 500 trucks in Eddy county had been registered, according to Virgil Albritton, of Carlsbad, deputy license collector. We rather think that these numbers represents the tabulations that have gone thru Mr. Albritton's office, and does not include cars and trucks registered directly with the motor vehicle department at Santa Fe. Numbers of motor vehicle owners have secured license plates by mailing applications direct to Santa Fe, rather than going to Carlsbad for license plates. Mail applications have been unusually heavy the past week, after Mr. Albritton's announcement that he could not come to Artesia until after the first of February.

Comptroller Lujan has stated positively that there will be no further extension of the license paying time after February 1st.

ARTESIA MORE THAN DOUBLES SCORE OF HER OPPONENTS IN 8 GAMES

PAYS INTEREST ON METER DEPOSITS

After an unusual display of cigars, cheroots, candies and bubble gum, much in evidence during the past week a curious reporter inquired into the 'whys and wherefores' and was informed that it was customers of the Southwestern Public Service Co., spending their interest checks on meter deposits.

Mrs. Marion Graham of San Antonio, Texas is spending a few days visiting Mrs. A. T. Woods.

THE VALIDITY OF LAW PROTECTING DEER IS TO BE TESTED SOON

Criminal charges of shooting a deer out of season may be filed in district court at Albuquerque to test the state game law as to what penalty, if any, may be assessed in such a case. M. J. McGuinness, assistant district attorney, said yesterday.

According to McGuinness, the state legislature left out a penalty for the offense in amending the law in 1927. The state laws permit the filing of a civil suit by the game department for $50 for each deer killed out of season.

The case to be used originated in Sandoval county, where a charge against Jose Garcia, living near Espanola, was dismissed by a justice of the peace.

Messrs. Martin and John Yates spent a few days the past week in El Paso, attending to business matters.

CONVENTION OF HEAD CAMP W. O. W. WILL BE HELD HERE APRIL 1-4

Attorney J. H. Jackson, junior past head consul of the Woodmen of the World, Tuesday received a wire stating that the New Mex-Mex head camp of the Woodmen of the World will hold its next convention in Artesia, the first week in April, from the 1st to 4th inclusive. The convention was originally scheduled to have been held in Clovis, but owing to some complications, Woodmen officials decided to change the place of the meeting to Artesia. Seventy-five delegates are expected to attend the April convention.

Plans for entertaining the visitors will be made at an early date, it is understood.

MR.-MRS. U. M. McCAW CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

It is a rare occasion when a couple is able to pass a half century of married life, for such a period of time is more than the ordinary span of human life. An event of this sort deserves recognition and is usually celebrated. A golden wedding anniversary of interest to local people is that of Mr. and Mrs. Ursula M. McCaw, celebrated at the home of their daughter, Miss Linna K. McCaw, Tuesday, January 27th. On January 27, 1881, Mr. and Mrs. McCaw were married at Selma, Arkansas. Coincidental with the date of the wedding it might be of interest to mention that both Mr. and Mrs. McCaw were born in Arkansas in the same year 1860, at Monticello. Mr. McCaw's birthday is on May 27 and Mrs. McCaw's is August 14. After their marriage in 1881, they left for Texas in 1883 and moved to Artesia in 1907, where they have since resided.

A delicious turkey dinner was served Tuesday on the anniversary date. All of the immediate family were present in addition to Miss Merrill Bradley, L. E. Neeley, Mrs. Mary Ralls, Elvy Barker and Mrs. E. M. Smith. Mr. and Mrs. McCaw were recipients of many nice gifts from their children and friends. Among the gifts were flowers, candy and gold pieces.

GASOLINE IS REDUCED THREE CENTS GALLON—GAS WAR EMINENT

A local gasoline war appears to be eminent to-day with practically all dealers expected to line up on a new price. Yesterday the Artesia Auto Co., announced a reduction of three cents per gallon to the retail trade. Gasoline was cut from twenty-one to eighteen cents per gallon. Principal retailers had not met the reduced price yesterday evening but are expected to meet the reduction to-day.

Dungan farm three miles southeast of town will start promptly at 10:00 a. m. The latest model tractors and how to get maximum results for the longest time, at the least expense will be fully explained to farmers of this vicinity by a factory representative. The tractor school beginning at 1:30 p. m. in the Majestic Theatre will be in charge of men who know everything about tractors. In plain, simple illustrated lessons, these men will teach what they know.

EPWORTH LEAGUES ACCEPT WEED SITE

Two hundred young people are expected to attend the session next summer. There will be a course offered for the various Methodist pastors of this conference district and indication are now that a majority of the pastors will attend. The activities above marks the beginning of a program of concentration of all activities in the Weed area.

Low Bids On Six Highway Jobs Were In Wednesday

Six Jobs Total $639,871.50 —Bids Received By Old Highway Commission—Jobs Not To Be Let Until Conflab With Governor.

The first highway department contracts under the democratic administration yesterday brought low bids totaling $639,871.50 on six projects. The bids were received yesterday by the old highway commission headed by Charles Springer, but contracts will not be awarded until after a conference with Governor Seligman. The bidding attracted more than 100 men representing contracting firms, and was held in the Santa Fe district court room because there was no available space at the state house.

The low bidders follow: Cook and Ransom of Ottawa, Kansas, bid $106,215.03 on No. 3 reopened, to complete another gap on the Santa Fe-Las Vegas highway and U. S. 85. The project is a little more than three miles from the end of the job now under construction to the junction with the Lamy road. The contract must be completed not later than August 1, 1931, and the contractor will be fined $200 a day for each day necessary to complete the project after expiration of above date.

The New Mexico construction company of Albuquerque bid low at $264,595.70 on No. 21-B to extend the oil highway on the Santa Fe-Taos road, U. S. 485 from San Juan eight miles to a point near Embudo. This contract must be completed not later than August 15, 1931, with same guaranteeing clause as above.

Cook and Ransom of Ottawa had low bid of $122,996.45 for building the three and eight-tenths miles of newly surveyed highway up La Bajada hill on U. S. 85 and 66 between Albuquerque and Santa Fe. The expiration date of this contract is July 15, 1931, with same fine of $200 a day for running over.

A. O. Peabody of Hatch, N. M., bid $16,378.84 on No. 107-D to top course surface 14.8 miles on U. S. 85 in Dona Ana and Sierra counties between Las Cruces and Hot Springs. The project must be finished by April 1, 1931. This also carries $200 a day fine for additional days.

E. J. Maloney of Gallup bid $65,972.97 on No. 147-H on state road 19 in San Juan county for slightly more than four miles of highway between Shiprock and Farmington. It includes a concrete and steel bridge. The job must be done by July 1, 1931.

The Lee Moore construction company of El Paso bid $63,712.51 on No. 160-B on U. S. 54 in Harding and Quay counties between Logan and Nara Visa for 11 miles. This project also must be done by July 1, 1931.

Artesia has already begun to plan for the reception of Legion and Auxiliary members and is looking forward to the pleasure in assisting to make the coming convention the best in the history of the state organization.

RECOGNITION

If the "never say die spirit" entitles an individual or company to any recognition, C. J. Dexter, Jim Berry R. H. Henderson and the Western Drilling Co., should certainly receive a lion's share of credit for their untiring efforts in trying to develop the oil resources of southeastern New Mexico. And now when operators who have followed the oil game for a quarter of a century or more are turning away from it, these men are taking a fresh start. It was only last week that three new locations were announced for Lea county, which these men were instrumental in getting underway.

Dry holes and "bad luck" have not dampened the ardor of Dexter, Berry, Henderson and their associates.
Neither has the general depression, which has affected the oil industry. These men believe in the future of New Mexico's oil industry and have proven their faith in starting new projects when nobody else would.

It may not be an accurate standard of comparison, but if the holes drilled for oil by these men were placed end to end they would reach a long way toward the Cap Rock.

Nature has a peculiar way of hiding her treasure and will eventually reward those who have so diligently sought after them.

PROHIBITION WITH US ALWAYS

The report of the Wickersham commission, made public last week, clearly indicates that America can never agree on the merits or demerits of prohibition.
This question will continue to be argued, in times of prosperity and in adversity and it is doubtful if another issue will shove it from the first place it now occupies. With suffering and human misery prevailing in many sections, people continue to discuss probi-tation as the absorbing topic. If folks continue to give the eighteenth amendment first place in public discussions in times such as these, we can hardly hope to dismiss the subject in normal times, at least not for many years to come.

THE KNOCKERS ARE WORST

A southern paper takes the championship by observing that "after all, it's doubtful whether the boll-weevil hurts cotton as much as the silk worm does."
Authorities like the Department of Commerce, the Bureau of Home Economics and the Department of Agriculture, have seen fit to deny during the past year that the silk worm has kept its place at the pinnacle of the textile ladder. The greatest progress made in all the textile industries has resulted through new dureng development and quality maintenance in mercerizing cotton. This product is now in a position of excellence that has caused cotton goods to gain greatly increased favor with the discriminating American public.

SHORT LEGISLATIVE SESSION IS TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE

The proposal has been made that the business of the tenth legislative assembly of the state of New Mexico be transacted in from 30 to 45 days. This may be catalogued as "too good to be true." The prediction may safely be made that this session as others in the past and of the future, will run for the full limit of 60 days and end in a pandemonium of ill advised legislation.—Alamogordo News.

Artesia possibly is no exception to the ordinary western town in the matter of furnishing a local market for local produce. Some times the local market is glutted with eggs, butter and other farm produce, while at other times, merchants are shipping in crates of eggs and cartons of butter. Now would be a good time to start eating country butter and such other produce a smay be placed on the market locally and help the farmer keep up his weekly pay check. Local butcher shops can also help by demanding home killed meats from the feed pens.

Governor Seligman isn't only removing the barnacles from the ship of state, he's going a step further and polishing it, according to recent reports. When he cut out five jobs, representing salaries amounting to $25,000, he made an awful rasping noise, that mighty near every tax payer in the state heard.

Farmers are breaking round this winter without the usual winter irrigation in many places, rather unusual for the valley. Crop prospects for another year were never better. Of course at the present time we can't say much for the price outlook.

A man in a position to know whereof he speaks remarked recently: "The impossible has actually happened in New Mexico. More cattle have been shipped out of the state this year than were on the assessment rolls."—Tucumcari News.

Secretary Hyde's announcement that no part of the $45,000,000 drought relief fund will be used for food loan's suggests a new slogan: "The administration that puts the mule above the man."—Carrizozo News.

gressmen in Washington are talking about doing something for the unemployed.—Inland Oil Index.

We see where some of the Arkansas drought sufferers have been eating dog meat. A fat dog used to go

INSIDE INFORMATION

Hot gingerbread, split, and filled with a mixture of cream cheese, dates and chopped nuts, is an excellent dessert.

Red cabbage keeps its bright color if it cooked in boiling water until just tender, and, after draining, served with lemon juice or vinegar.

In roasting meat, sear it first in a very hot oven then reduce the temperature and finish more slowly.
Meat cooked in this way shrinks less than when it is roasted from start to finish at a high temperature.

From the standpoint of nutrition, the egg is really two foods, rather than one. The white part is almost a pure watery solution of certain proteins of high quality for body-building and maintenance. The yolk furnishes not only fat and protein of fine quality, but has an unusually rich store of the minerals and vitamins necessary for growth and development. Children need an egg a day, if possible.

Here's a good tutti-frutti sauce for ice cream or blanc mange: strain the juice from 4 slices of canned pineapple, add sufficient water to make 1 pint, and combine with 1/4 cup of sugar and 1/4 teaspoon of salt.
Cook for about ten minutes or until the syrup is fairly thick. Break 1/2 cup of blanched almonds in halves, cut the sliced pineapple into thin pieces, and add to the syrup with 1 cup of candied cherries and 1/2 cup of citron, but cut in small pieces.
Boil for a few minutes, chill and serve with the dessert.

"It don't run. It's stationery."

FORD SMOOTHNESS

The new Ford has more than twenty ball and roller bearings

EVIDENCE of the high quality built into the new is the extensive use of ball and roller bearings. There are more than twenty in all — an unusually large number. Each bearing is adequate in size and carefully selected for the work it has to do.

At some points in the Ford chassis you will find bearings. At others, roller bearings are used regularly. The deciding factor is the performance of the car.

The extensive use of ball and roller bearings in the new Ford insures smoother operation, saves gas, and increases speed and power, gives quicker pickup, reduces noise, and gives greater reliability and longer to vital moving parts.

Other outstanding features that make the new a value far above the price are the Triplex shatterglass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbors, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, three-quarter floating rear axle, Rustless Steel, the extensive use of fine steel forgings, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

CAPITOL SNAPS

By Fred Holmes,
Our Washington Correspondent

Of all the developments in connection with the preparation and the publication of the prohibition report of the Wickersham commission, none matched in political importance the prompt espousal by President Hoover of the dry side of the liquor issue. There is no serious difference of opinion upon that point in any official quarter of the capitol. The reaction to the findings of the commission elsewhere was regarded as interesting, particularly that on the part of the house and senate members. But Mr. Hoover's decision overshadowed all other facts in the situation.

The president had before him a report upon which he might have taken almost any stand, it is agreed. He might have joined with the seven members of the commission, who, in their individual conclusions, indicated a belief that constitutional prohibition is unenforceable and some radical change must be made. Then, too, he might have agreed with those commissioners who feel that a revision, if not repeal, of the 18th amendment is imperative if a flexible plant of prohibition enforcement is ever to be devised in this country and put on a workable basis.

But Mr. Hoover did none of these things. He took at literal face value the commission's first conclusion as set forth in its composite summary, to the effect that it is opposed to repeal of the 18th amendment, and announced his decision to stand upon that declaration.

Political developments foreshadowing the presidential campaign of next year came in the wake of the Wickersham report and President Hoover's prompt disclaimer of the conditional proposal for "revising" the 18th amendment. In the senate, Millard E. Tydings, wet democratic senator from Maryland, offered a resolution directing the judiciary committee to seek from George W. Wickersham, the commission chairman, an explanation of "the method by which the apparently contradictory conclusions and recommendations were arrived at." The resolution further would have the committee ascertain if the commission accepted suggestions from "authorities who were not members of the commission."

The Wickersham commission promptly issued a statement calling "wholly without foundation" and "absolutely false" statements that the president had influenced the formation of parts of its report. The statement said the report had not been changed after it was signed, and that "at no time" has the president in any manner attempted to influence the recommendations of this commission. It said assertions to that effect had been made "in certain newspapers," and that telegrams received by members of the commission had suggested the report might have been changed after the members had signed their names to it.

As a matter of fact, President Hoover had not closed his mind against revision of the 18th amendment in his message to the senate transmitting the Wickersham report, according to a close friend, who said that politicians and editors had widely misinterpreted the president's position in their comment on his message. The president was described as feeling that his statements against specific revision had been misconstrued in some quarters as placing him against any revision of the amendment in case a further trial should show that the law could not be enforced. This was the general purport of newspaper articles and editorial comment on the message, it was said. Those close to the administration said that it was only fair to the president that his position, as defined in his message, should be correctly interpreted.

The prohibition issue has been pitchforked still further into the national campaign of 1932 by the Wickersham commission report and President Hoover's letter of transmittal. This presupposes the candidacy of President Hoover to succeed himself and the nomination by the democrats of a presidential candidate who favors repeal or revision of the 18th amendment. The nomination of President Hoover by the republicans, supporting the 18th amendment, and the nomination of a democrat also favoring a retention of the amendment—for example, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader of the senate—would have the effect of taking the liquor question out of the presidential race.

Opposition to the plan of Representative Garner of Texas, democratic floor leader, for the immediate payment to war veterans of the cash surrender value of their adjusted compensation certificates was voiced by Secretary Mellon in a letter to Chairman Hawley of the ways and means committee. Mr. Mellon asserted that if all holders of these certificates should avail themselves of the option provided in the Garner bill, the total amount that would be paid covering basic surrender value would exceed $2,100,000,000, and that no such amount could be raised by taxes. The alternative, he said, would be for the government to borrow funds.

President Hoover has accepted an invitation to participate in the ceremonies dedicating the $75,000 mausoleum of President Harding at Marion, Ohio. The invitation was extended by Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, former senator from New Jersey, president of the Harding memorial commission, who called at the White House recently. Mr. Frelinghuysen said that a date had not been fixed, but that it would be after May. Former President Coolidge will be invited to attend the ceremonies.

Seeking a means of killing the senate's $25,000,000 appropriation for Red Cross drought relief, house administration leaders planned hearings on the proposal before taking action. They decided to have the interior department supply bill, to which the appropriation is attached as an amendment, referred to the appropriations committee for investigation. The committee would give Red Cross officials who are opposed to the appropriation an opportunity to testify and make recommendations on whether the amount voted by the senate is necessary.

Appearing before the senate committee on foreign relations at the committee's invitation, Elihu Root of New York explained during a session lasting nearly three hours the means provided for the entrance of the United States into the World Court, and in answer to searching questions, maintained that under the so-called Root formula which was sent to the senate by President Hoover for ratification, the United States has the power to veto over any proposal for submitting to the court a request for an advisory opinion relating to a matter in which the United States has or claims to have an interest.

General Pershing is in Washington, but living amid complete retirement at a downtown club. One of his old-time army sergeants, now retired, serves as doorkeeper of the general's quarters, and you have to know the password to get by the grizzled veteran at the portal. A little secret about Pershing's war story is that he wrote every solitary word of it, official documents excepted, with his own hand. Like many authors, the general has never learned to dictate satisfactorily. Pershing's mail bag from day to day contains copious evidence that his stirring narrative of events "over there" is gripping the country's attention.

THE U. S. IS A NATION OF SONG WRITERS SAYS AN IRISH TENOR

That the United States is a "Nation of Songwriters," is the surprising statement recently made by Allen McQuhae, golden-voiced Irish tenor, equally famous for his radio recitals, his concert appearances and his records. And McQuhae offers "a truckload of manuscripts" good, bad and indifferent—in proof.

Following my series of radio broadcasts on national networks I am the proud possessor of more songs than are in the catalogues of a half dozen prominent music publishers combined," McQuhae explained. Nearly every song is accompanied by a request from its composer that I sing it on the radio.

It is only occasionally, however, that he finds one which he can use, he said, and even then revisions usually have to be made.

McQuhae, who was born in Ireland and educated in England and Belgium, shipped to Western Canada while still a youth and became successively farm hand, railway fireman, Alaskan prospector, newspaper reporter and cabaret singer before achieving recognition as one of the world's greatest Celtic tenors.

How Fairs Originated

Fairs were originally meetings held for the purpose of exhibiting or selling goods. In Europe they appear to have originated in the church festivals. One of the most noted of the English fairs was that at Smithfield, London, founded at the beginning of the Twelfth century. The greatest fairs in Germany are those of Leipzig, Frankfurt and Brunswick. In the United States the term is applied to a variety of exhibitions. The most common kind are the agricultural fairs, originated by Elkannah Watson, a merchant of Albany, N. Y. Mainly through his influence, the New York legislature appropriated, in 1819, $10,000 a year for six years, for premiums on agricultural products and family manufactures. Since then annual state fairs have become quite general.

PICKED UP ON MAIN

It is rumored that the oil companies will substitute bicycles for autos in order to cut down expenses.
Don't be surprised if you see a bunch of bicycles in the rack at the hotel each Thursday, when the scouts cut samples. And if you see the boys out in the sand hills, be humane and give them a lift. They'll appreciate it.

The mayor is thinking of issuing a proclamation calling on the people to eat more beans, bacon, flour and such like. The plan would work something on the order of oil production. Every family would be required to eat at least 20 pounds of beans each month and wear cotton socks and stockings at least twice per week. The daily menu would run on this order: Monday—beans; Tuesday—beans and chili; Wednesday—beans and cabbage; Thursday—beans and syrup; Friday—(pork for Jews only); Saturday—beans and bacon;
Sunday—beans and pork.

When C. J. Dexter used to go to Roswell we would say he was in Roswell visiting friends and attending to business matters, but he denies that he has any friends in Roswell, so we've had to shorten the mention up a bit.

It does not pay to be too curious.
The other day we walked into the Mann Drug Co., and espied Otis
Brown in the act of pulverizing moth balls. Brownie informed us that he was preparing soup to feed the moths.

Albert Richards expects to learn gone to Indianapolis for a few weeks.

H. Q. Haley has been acting mighty queer here lately and looks as though he had something hidden.
Probably he's located another acorn patch out in the sand hills, but since he's read about so many negroes and mules starving to death in Arkansas, he's become a little panicky and won't let his friends in on his latest cache.

STATE INSTITUTIONS
WANT $7,088,154.93

SANTA FE—Budget requests from all state institutions and departments are a little less than one million dollars of being double the amount of appropriations made by the 1929 legislature, Governor Arthur Seligman said Friday.

The total amount requested from the present legislature is $7,088-154.93 of which $5,588,154.93 would be raised by taxation, according to a compilation prepared for the governor by Rupert F. Asplund, director of the New Mexico Taxpayers Association.

The 1929 appropriations were $4-284,122 for substantially the same purposes for which $7,088,154.93 is now asked, Governor Seligman said, and of the total requested, the state institutions want $5,280,230 and maintenance of all other state government totals $1,808,924.93.

The increase is accounted for largely in demands from the various state institutions.

The requests ask that $4,004-242.45 be made available during the twentieth fiscal year and $3,083-912.48 during the 21st year.

How Need of Vitamins Came to Be Recognized

The realization of the existence of vitamins grew gradually out of numerous attempts to feed animals on diets of known composition as free as possible from all admixture. Later it was found in England that under these conditions the animals lost weight and died, but that if a relatively small amount of milk were included in the diet the animals flourished and increased in weight. Simultaneously in Germany similar observations were made. They concluded that something was necessary for life more than the amount of pure carbohydrates, proteins and fats needed to satisfy the animals' requirements of energy and of material for new growth and the replacement of waste tissue. A complete comprehension of the conditions was only attained after the discovery that not one but two "accessory" substances were required in addition to pure carbohydrates, proteins and fats.
For convenience these accessory factors were termed fat soluble A, water soluble B. Funk first named vitamins in 1912, but did not classify them.

Conveyors Carry Ford Car Parts

Trains unload in the plant.

Bodies starting through the shop.

Conveyors carry wheels with mounted tires over a line on which cars pass to completion.

The highly important part played by conveyor systems in all Ford Motor Company manufacturing and assembly plants is graphically shown in the above three pictures taken in the recently opened Edgewater, N. J., plant. One of the pictures shows how parts may be unloaded from freight cars within the plant only a few feet from the various assembly lines. Another picture shows automobile bodies starting their trip on a conveyor while the third view is of the conveyor system used to bring wheels to the chassis which are also moving on a conveyor. As indicated in the picture, a constant flow of wheels on which the tires have already been mounted moves around and over the chassis assembly line. As a chassis enters the section, workers, in groups of four, each take a wheel from the hooks and fasten it to the chassis.

RED SQUILL POWDER NOW A POPULAR AND SAFE RAT POISON

An onion-like plant that grows wild along the Mediterranean coast produces the safest rat poison yet known. It is called red squill, and it produces large bulbs that are made into the red-squill powder that has proved so effective in killing rats. So says a leaflet on "Red-Squill Powders in Rat Control" just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Red squill had been known in Europe for many years, says the leaflet, but apparently its use had not become popular, owing to extreme variation in the toxicity of the products available. Studies by the bureau of biological survey, U. S. department of agriculture, however, showed that drying red-squill bulbs under controlled temperature conditions, makes it possible to produce a powder that is uniformly poisonous. The powder, although effective in destroying rats, does not seriously endanger other animal life. Reports of the progress of the investigation and the excellent results obtained in the early stages stimulated interest and powdered red squill is now manufactured in quantity in the United States. So far as known, the first of these commercial red-squill powders was placed on the American market in 1926, and in five years these products have taken a leading place among rat poisons.

RACING PILOTS

Slant on Everyday Motoring

by Ralph Hepburn

Road Hogging

THE dangerous, unexplainably selfish and unsportsmanlike practice of road hogging undoubtedly is responsible for more traffic accidents on American highways than any other single factor entering into the scheme of motoring conditions. That the road hog should be smitten with a vengeance similar to that exercised in stamping out any other common or garden variety of pest, is a foregone conclusion. Any motorist will agree with that.

Highway facilities in the United States are inadequate despite the rapid progress demanded by the requirements of the twenty-six million motorists who are trying to use them in the interest of furthering their individual needs. They would not be nearly so inadequate if the road hog could be abolished and if highways could be used as a means of accommodating an expeditious movement of traffic instead of the hodge-podge that exists today.

A number of progressive cities have declared war on the road hog. Chicago is a notable example. In that city, the person who attempts to drive slowly on a high speed boulevard is treated with the same degree of intolerance as the driver who attempts to break speed records where slow and careful driving is necessary.

Michigan has discarded the old fashioned method of regulating speed and has established in its place a law which permits the individual motorist to govern his speed in accordance with the width of the road, traffic conditions and sane driving policy. This law was enacted on the theory that thirty or forty miles an hour may be perfectly safe under certain conditions while, under other conditions, fifteen or twenty miles an hour may be dangerous.

The motorist who causes an accident in Michigan through carelessness or recklessness, loses his license and is otherwise dealt with severely. Undoubtedly, other states will follow.

these examples in time. When they do, a welcome relief from the road hog should be closer to accomplishment. In the meantime, the best way to work on that type of driver is to show him how unpopular he is.

The road hog has been defined as "that type of motorist who takes his half of the road from the middle." He is noted for his persistency in poking along on a high speed boulevard, forcing those who would pass him to endanger their own lives and the cars and lives of those who may be approaching from the opposite direction.

Deliberate road hogging is pure selfishness and those who engage in it should be made to pay the penalty. Automobile manufacturers are doing their best to make the automobile as safe as possible.

Four-wheel brakes, all-steel full vision bodies and a hundred and one other modern ideas have been adopted in an effort to reduce traffic accidents. But accidents we will always have so long as motorists engage in unsafe driving practices, and particularly that one known as road hogging.

Personal experience has taught me to drive with my head as well as my feet and hands. And this is particularly true when I am in unfamiliar territory. I have found it both wise and safe to get my car in one lane of traffic and keep it there. It saves me the bother and expense of buying new fenders and of paying doctor and hospital bills. Besides, it preserves my nerves for speed-way driving.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Girl Scout Council met for its regular monthly business session on Monday afternoon at the central school building. The secretary reported a membership of 66 Girl Scouts and Brownies, duly registered at headquarters. There are two troops of Scouts, each having registered leaders, and one active assistant leader. An assistant leader is needed for the high school troop. The Brownie pack is supplied with both a leader and an assistant.

Plans are well under way for sending three leaders to the Mary White Leaders' Training camp this summer, with expenses paid.

The leaders reported that the girls are starting in earnest to work on their tests for tenderfoot, second and first class standing.

More handicraft work is being taken up and a garden campaign is soon to be inaugurated. A representation from the local council will attend the regional conference to be held in Amarillo in April.

The membership of the Girl Scouts includes: Troop 1—Evelyn Cobble, Ethelyn Cobble, Mabel Champion, Jack Ward, Grace Sinclair, Katherine Filbert, Jaunita Perry, Jeanne Wheatley, Lillie Mae Miller, Marjorie Kerr, Agnes Ann Williams, Marylynne Haley, Ruth Graham, Janie Hamilton, Elizabeth Gage, Irene Bell, Mabel Beuford, Peggy Brainard, Laura Bullock, Norma Christman, Frances Eaton, Velma French, Nelle, Jackson, Mattie George, Lucretia Jackson, Glenna McLean, Norma Michael; Troop 2 — Dorothy Berry, Elnora Gage, Helen Meredith Gates, Emily Gleghorn, Dorothy Gleghorn, Lela Bess Mann, Elaine Meeks, Wilma Paton, Jaunita Richards, Emogene Roberts, Clara Sinclair, Carolyn Seale, Minnie Woods, Lois Cavin, Avis Clowe, Zanna Filbert, Natalie Filbert, Virginia Gates, Mildred Gilliland, Elsie Jernigan, Joan Wheatley and Betty Rabb; Brownie Pack—Annadell Williams, Vivian Haldeman, Clara Bess Beale, Irene Gillespie, Phyllis Bartlett, Nina Mae McLean, Minnie John Riley, Dorothy Bob Company, Margaret Company, Margaret Kile, Edith Sinclair, Betty Jo Brainard, Margaret Mahone, Dorothy Lee Ables, Clara Ackerman, Ercel Adams, Dorothy Gilmore, Ruth Hamilton, Beatrice Howell, Mary Evans, Alwen Fraley, Eolise Gleghorn, Sybil Mae Stevens.

CRUDE PRODUCTION INCREASE

TULSA, Oklahoma—The Oil and Gas Journal reports Oklahoma production was accountable for an increase of 24,365 barrels in the country's daily average output of crude oil last week. The increase boosted the total to 2,104,612 barrels.

With an average of 466,540 barrels Oklahoma was up 25,655 barrels. The total for the mid-continent area was 1,100,288 barrels an increase of 33,134 barrels. West Texas had an increase of 6,355 barrels at 244,857 barrels. Kansas production was 106,845 barrels, a drop of 465 barrels.

Production of eastern fields remained unchanged at 108,000 barrels. The Rocky Mountain output was up 692 barrels at 98,800 barrels.

California production tumbled 5,750 barrels to 532,000 barrels.

STATE SOLONS WANT THE COTTON GINNINGS TO PASS AN OIL TARIFF

SANTA FE—Land Commissioner James F. Hinkle said Monday that he would favor passage by the tenth legislature of a joint memorial to congress advocating a tariff on crude oil and petroleum products by the present congress.

Representative Garble of Oklahoma Saturday introduced the first oil tariff bill of the present congress providing for $1.00 a barrel import duty on crude oil and a lesser tariff on petroleum products. The president would likewise be empowered to stop all oil importation for a period if deemed necessary.

"A tariff on crude oil," Mr. Hinkle said, "certainly will not hurt the situation in New Mexico, and there is a great possibility that it would be decidedly beneficial. I have never been a tariff advocate—I have always been and out and out free trader—but this situation comes straight to home. New Mexico must look after its state institutions and protect its state lands. Anything which would tend to increase the value of New Mexico's oil properties is imperative. An oil tariff offers the best possibility to increase the New Mexico market outlet."

Mr. Hinkle said that such a memorial to congress, supplementing similar action taken by Texas and Oklahoma should not be partisan.

HOW

EPIDEMIC WAS AVERTED BY ARMY SANITARIANS.—It is difficult to give credit for the avoidance of calamities. For this reason the work of the sanitary squads of the United States army has never received its due of credit, in the opinion of Dr. Henry Pleasants, Jr., who tells some of their accomplishments in Hygeia Magazine.

Among the most important work done by the sanitary squads was the careful watch kept over the water supplies of the soldiers in France. Although the greater part of the work of water analysis was done in laboratories, the sanitary squads were equipped with small testing outfits that would roughly reveal the presence or absence of dangerous substances.

The value of this check-up was shown when a sudden flare of intestinal trouble occurred among troops at Langres. The city water supply was found to be excellent, being conducted through a complete chlorination plant. The water that left the plant gave a satisfactory reaction. It finally occurred to some bright-witted sanitarian to test the water after it arrived at its destination. To his astonishment he found no evidence of chlorine.

Further investigation showed that the original source of the water was the River Marne, which was muddy and filled with organic material. The water had not been properly filtered before it entered the chlorination plant. The chlorine combined with the organic matter and by the time the water reached the city all the chlorine had been used up. The simple procedure of re-chlorination stopped the epidemic.

PRESENT-DAY POETS CALLED TO ACCOUNT

The decay of poetry should be viewed with alarm. As it is now practiced—by amateurs for the most part or by professionals who received their credentials under false pretenses—it has the potentiality of great harm for the language.

Special reference must be made to the brazen company who write the lyrics for our popular songs. These gentlemen are constrained to the erratic course of the composers' measures; that much may be said in their extenuation. After two or three boop-boop-a-doops, a long blue note may force the lyricist to change his plan and derail the meter. For this you blame the composer, not the verse writer.

But the unpardonable sin of the lyricists is committed in their choice of rhyme words. Melancholy, golly and Molly sound incongruous, but they might pass the board. And the bard who joined kiss with antithesis may have had an impediment in his speech. But sighin', cryin', and mine are a bit thick; and same and again are as dreadful as dream, queen and seem.

In a related category is listed Loosy-anna, a corruption for the name of a state at the mouth of the Mississippi river.

SEVENTY PER CENT OF DEER IN STATE LOCATED IN NATIONAL FORESTS

The national forests, Mr. Perry said, comprise about seven per cent of the total area of the state but contain a considerably larger proportion of the big game species except antelope than do the plains regions. The antelope was originally a plains dweller, but has been driven to the foothills of the national forests for protection.

The following tabulation of the five principal big game species to be found in the state and based upon surveys made by the U. S. forest service for the period 1921 to 1929, show that the turning point in the abundance of these animals occurred in 1923. Mr. Perry said this fact was significant because of the fact that the first big game refuges in the state were established in 1921, and the bulk of them were established between that time and 1925. The large increase in deer, he said, is particularly gratifying in view of the fear, sometimes expressed that hunters are over hunting this species of big game.

The following is the forest service report on game animals on the national forests in New Mexico:

TRACTOR DAY PROGRAM HAS ATTRACTIONS

A FIELD DEMONSTRATION, SCHOOL, FREE LUNCH AND MOVIES PLANNED

The latest models in tractors and how to get maximum results from tractor operation, for the longest time and at the least expense, will be fully demonstrated and explained to farmers of this vicinity at a big field demonstration and tractor school to be conducted by L. P. Evans, local farm equipment dealer, aided by representatives of the John Deere organization.

The field demonstration of new tractors and new tractor equipment will be held on Friday (tomorrow) morning, beginning at 10:00 o'clock, on the G. B. Dungan farm three miles southeast of Artesia.

The tractor school will be conducted from 1:30 o'clock to 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, in the Majestic Theatre building in Artesia. Free lunch will be served in the intermission between the field demonstration and the tractor school. A new, interesting motion picture of several reels will be one of the entertainment features at the session of the school.

"We invite every farmer in this section to be our guests at the field demonstration and tractor school," says L. P. Evans. "These two events will be different from any of their kind ever held in this community. There have been great power farming machinery improvements that mean so much to the farmer. We are going to demonstrate the latest models of tractors and equipment. Every farmer who attends the demonstration will get new and profitable ideas of what tractor designers have accomplished for his benefit."

"The tractor school will be in charge of men who know everything about tractors. In plain, simple illustrated lessons these instructors will teach what they know. They will demonstrate the easy, money-saving ways of keeping a tractor tuned up for greatest efficiency throughout its life. Since tractors are coming into such wide use in this section and since a clear understanding of tractors by the user is such an important factor in successful operation, it will pay every farmer to attend this power farming demonstration and tractor school.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

NINTH DISTRICT HAS A SMALL DELINQUENCY

WICHITA, Kansas—In spite of the fact that the value of farm crops in the United States in 1930 was 27 per cent less than the value in 1929 and the gross income of farmers was 16 per cent less and notwithstanding crop failure in some parts of the Ninth Federal Land Bank District, (covering Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico and Oklahoma) and short crops in larger areas, only 2.4 per cent of the loans of the bank were delinquent more than 90 days at the end of the year, according to the report made by the president of the bank, John Fields. "The composite yields of crops in 1930, expressed in percentages of the ten-year average yield from 1919 to 1928 according to the Department of Agriculture, were 91.1 in the United States and 95.1 in the Ninth Federal Land Bank District. By states in the district, the composite yields, were: 117.2 in Colorado, 89.4 in Kansas, 102.8 in New Mexico and 71.2 in Oklahoma. The fact that the total installment delinquencies amounted to only 43 cents on each $100 of net loans outstanding," continued Mr. Fields, "is most encouraging. In this connection, it should be noted that the bank maintains a full reserve against all delinquent installments."

ESTANCIA VALLEY WILL ADVERTISE PINTO BEANS

The business men of the Estancia valley are planning an extensive advertising campaign for the New Mexico pinto bean, says G. R. Quesberry of the New Mexico Agricultural College. They have arranged to send out some 10,000 one-pound bags of beans with folders and recipes giving information on cooking this product. Their plan is to do a large part of the advertising outside the pinto bean area, in sections not acquainted with the superiority of this product over many other types of beans.

It has been known for a long time that New Mexico pinto beans should have a wider distribution. They have up to the present time been grown and marketed largely in the southwest, but with the Mountainair organization strongly behind them with their type of advertising, all parts of the pinto bean area should profit and the use of this bean should increase throughout the east and south.

GRASS FIRE AT MOON HOME

A grass fire at the residence of Senator Moon caused some undue alarm Thursday afternoon, when vines on a porch caught fire. The blaze was under control when the fire truck arrived.

TOOK NINE TREES OFFENDER PAYS FINE BY PLANTING 1,000

A citizen of New York is still paying off one of the strangest Christmas debts so far recorded.

When charged by an officer of the state conservation department with cutting down nine evergreen trees on forest preserve land to sell as Christmas decoration, he was fined the customary penalty of $10 for each tree.

But unable to pay the fine, he begged to be permitted to work out his penalty by replacing the nine trees with 1,000 more.

Under this agreement, the offender is now busy repaying his debt to the scenic beauty of the state by planting 1,000 balsams where nine grew before, according to the department's report to the American Game Association.

How Pigs Rout Caterpillars

Pigs have various callings besides the humble one of becoming bacon. They are used in some parts of France to rout out caterpillars.

A plague of caterpillars descended on the valley of La Bruche, having come there from the forests of Heligenberg, where they stripped 6,000 acres of woodland trees of their leaves.

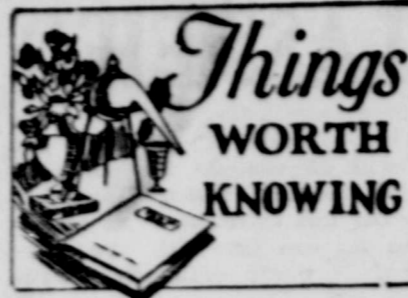

Pigs in droves have been turned out into the forest, and have been reinforced by poultry. These farmyard animals, in the endeavor to scratch a living, turn up the soil and destroy the caterpillars and the millions of pupae where they lie.

How Plate Glass Is Made

Plate glass is essentially cast glass rolled into its mold. It is produced in two qualities. The melted glass is ladled out of the furnace and transferred to a cast-iron rolling table. A roller moved with guides that decide the thickness of the plate, flattens it out. It is then annealed in the annealing kiln, which is very hot at the entrance, and gradually cools off. The plate is then cut to size with a diamond.

How to Clean Marble

To clean marble, make a paste of two tablespoonfuls baking soda, one tablespoonful powdered pumice stone, one tablespoonful powdered chalk and enough water to make a thick paste. Rub paste over marble and let dry. Wash off with warm water and soap suds, wipe dry with clean soft cloth.

Cows will eat an unpalatable grain mixture or low grade hay more readily if flavored with molasses. Before adding the molasses, mix it with enough water to make it flow freely. Excessive quantities of molasses make the ration too laxative. Don't give more than 3 pounds a day to each cow.

Daffodils can be grown singly in a vase of water. When putting the bulbs away to root, the water in the vase should barely touch the base of the bulb, or rot may set in. If the bulb fits tightly in the neck of the vase, rooting will occur readily even if there is a space between its base and the water. Change the water once a week. It is advisable to keep a lump or two of charcoal in the vase.

Select female breeders from the poultry flock that conform to the standard qualifications for their breed and variety, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Don't pick out birds that show disqualifications such as side sprigs in single-comb varieties, stubs in clean-legged breeds and "foreign" color markings. Choose females that have bright full eyes, combs and wattles of good texture wide backs, and fairly deep bodies, and that are well fleshed.

Many farmers are prejudiced against the use of seed potatoes grown under irrigation, believing that the irrigation water impures the vigor and vitality of the seed, but experiments by the U. S. Department of Agriculture show that irrigation water has little or no effect on the seed. Seed grown for 15 years under irrigation produced yields comparable with those from non-irrigated seed, provided it possesses the same freedom from disease.

Treatment of flower seeds with mercuric chloride in a 1-1000 solution will destroy many seedborne parasites and so help to prevent the common diseases of garden flowers, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Most flower seeds will stand soaking in this solution for one half hour without injury. Shake or stir the solution containing the seeds frequently to keep air bubbles from preventing contact between the solution the seeds. Rinse the seeds in clean water after treatment. Use only wooden, glass or earthenware vessels for the mercuric chloride solution. The seed should be planted immediately after treatment or it may begin to swell. If prompt planting is not possible, the seed should be spread out thin at once and dried thoroughly.

New Paralysis Test Shown

General paralysis may be detected in its incipient state, making a complete cure possible, by a test just revealed and demonstrated by Dr. K. O. Newman, pathologist of the Oxford County and City Mental hospital, in England. He claims to have devised a blood-test, which would do away with the present process of removing spinal fluid from patients by a minor surgical operation, often painful and troublesome. The blood test would give an opportunity to apply treatment at a stage when prevention is possible, declares Doctor Newman. It is believed a cure might be effected by an early system of artificial inoculation with malarial fever.

GREAT PHYSICIAN

NT—Luke 4:33-44; 5:12-13

TEXT—Surely he hath said, and carried out his word, did esteem him stricken, and afflicted.

TOPIC—Jesus and Health.

STATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus and Health.

PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Ministry to Physical Ills.

Calling a Demoniac (4:33-34)

Engaged in teaching in the synagogue was interrupted by a "spirit of an unclean" who came out with a loud voice and left him alone, professing to be him as the Holy One of God.

Jesus rebuked the demon and he came out of the man.

Jesus the man with a violent demon shows Jesus as being powerful to set demons under the power of his ability to free the whole brood of diabolical as lust, envy, anger, and rule them. This man's divine power amazed the people and they cried out, "What is this? A new sign?"

Heals Peter's Mother-in-law from a Fever (v. 38-41).

Jesus was prostrate with a fever and Jesus in her behalf. He healed her and left her so that she immediately arose and ministered to them. No earthly physician ever been known to heal a fever in this manner.

Divine healing is immediate. It is most important to distinguish between faith and faith healing. Faith is the result of the action of the Holy Spirit on the body, and is measured by the degree of the faith of the individual. Divine healing is the power of God upon the individual and is always complete.

Heals a Leprosy (5:12-15).

Jesus healed a leper who was most loathsome and unclean. Because of its foulness, he was excluded from the city. Leprosy was incurable by any means, and the leper was regarded as dead. In response to Jesus' earnest request Jesus immediately healed the leper. Leprosy is a type of sin. Sin is loathsome, hideous and unclean. Jesus has power to heal who come to him by faith.

Heals a Paralytic (5:18-20).

Jesus healed the paralytic brought to him by the Pharisees and the scribes. This is a fine lesson of faith. They could not heal him, but Jesus could not be moved by their unbelief. He operated in bringing him to the point where he could heal and restore. Jesus' willingness to go to pains and bring the needy man to the point of his sins forgiven (v. 20).

Jesus healed the paralytic who had been laid back of the palsy to its knees. The effect of his sin was to paralyze him, but he proceeded to deal with the cause of it. All disease and suffering is the result of sin. The Lord Jesus said that which was at the root of the trouble. Jesus saw the man's sin and brought him to the point of his sins forgiven (v. 21).

Pharisees accused Christ when he declared the man's sins forgiven. Jesus showed the man the beneficent deed was the demonstration of the main purpose in the miracles is the authentic divine mission of the one them. While the divine authority are thus shown, and love of God are shown in all cases the supernatural good of the individual. Relative value of physical ill and spiritual maladies (v. 21).

Physical ill are less than the sins which cause them.

EARTH TEMPERATURE, TIME, NOT PRESSURE, PRODUCED PETROLEUM

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Heat and time, rather than great earth pressures, now are believed to be the mediums chiefly responsible for natural formation of petroleum.

Laboratory experiments made in connection with research projects sponsored by the American Petroleum Institute in an effort to learn more about the fundamentals of this natural resource and to determine if and where new sources are available, have demonstrated that little oil and gas are produced from such rocks as oil shales by pressure alone. Oil shales subjected at low, or room temperatures to pressure exceeding 100,000 pounds per square inch for as long as seven months yielded insignificant quantities. Even shale known to contain as much as 44 per cent infiltrated oil failed to release its petroleum content in an appreciable amount, although pressure applied was equal to that at earth depths of 10 to 15 miles.

Temperatures at depths 10,000 feet below the earth's surface are believed sufficiently high to cause slow distillation of organic matter into oil and gas over a long period, but it is estimated that with shale such as is found in Utah some 840,000 years would be required to convert as much as one per cent of the organic matter at a temperature of 100 degrees Centigrade. In oil shales at shallow depths and earth temperatures below that degree, it is believed, little if any change will occur in organic matter.

"Shearing pressures, of themselves, when exerted on oil shales at low (room) temperatures and through relatively short periods of time, do not generate oil from the organic matter," J. E. Hawley, Institute research fellow, concluded. Experiments made at the University of Wisconsin have led him to believe he added, that "it seems most probable that temperature is by far the most important agent in promoting the conversion of bituminous material in rocks to oil."

NEW MEXICO'S CROP SUMMARY FOR 1930

New Mexico crops for 1930 are valued at 19,813,000, compared with 39,510,000 last year according to the annual report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The December 1 farm price is used as a basis for valuation of all crops. The valuation of important crops in New Mexico is about 50 per cent of last year, while those of the United States are 72 per cent of last year. The decline in valuation for New Mexico was caused by smaller production and decline in prices.

The yields in 1930 were uniformly lower than 1929 with the exception of cotton and cantaloupes. The acreage for grain, hay, seeds and potato crops showed about a 5 per cent decrease from last year while the production for these crops showed a much larger decrease due mainly to the lower yields.

All Hay—Hay ranks first in valuation with $8,541,000, compared to $5,285,000 in 1929. Tame hay in 1930 had a yield of 2.02 tons per acre and a production of 447,000 tons. Wild hay yield was .8 tons per acre compared with .9 tons in 1929. Production was 27,000 tons and 31,000 tons in 1929.

Cotton Lint and Seed—Cotton lint is New Mexico's largest cash crop with a valuation of $4,983,000, compared with $7,662,000 in 1929. A production of 100,000 bales is forecasted as compared with 90,000 bales a year ago. The yield in 1930 is 377 pounds per acre and 333 pounds in 1929. 41,000 tons of cotton seed is estimated, valued at $968,000 compared with 37,000 tons in 1929 valued at $1,036,000.

Beans—The bean crop with a 1 per cent increase in acreage had a valuation of $1,098,000 and $4,389,000 in 1929. The December 1 price per bushel in 1930 is $1.50 and $2.60 in 1929. The 1930 production was 726,000 bushels and 1929, 1,688,000 bushels.

Corn—Corn has a valuation of $2,318,000, compared with $3,720,000 in 1929. The production in 1930 was 3,010,000 bushels with an average of 14 bushels per acre. The 1929 production was 4,180,000 bushels averaging 20 bushels per acre.

Wheat—With a reduced acreage yield and price, wheat has a valuation of $1,181,000, compared with $5,495,000 in 1929. In 1930 the acreage harvested was 203,000 with a yield of 9.3 bushels per acre and a production of 1,921,000 bushels. In 1929 there were 305,000 acres harvested averaging 18.8 bushels per acre and a production of 5,742,000 bushels.

FOREST HIGHWAYS

The U. S. forest service has under construction a number of important highway improvements in the Lincoln National Forest area. Machinery is on the ground for the construction of a road in Devil's canyon from the Bonnell ranch to Fort Stanton, improving the highway from Bonnell ranch to the Mescalero Indian reservation, and building a road from Fort Stanton to Alto, connecting Alto with the state road leading from Ruidoso to Fort Stanton. The forest service is also surveying a new road up Nogal hill to the Captain-Carrizozo highway. These improvements are in addition to the improvements to be made on the Mayhill-Elk road.

RANGES ARE IN GOOD SHAPE — LIVESTOCK ARE WINTERING FAIR

Livestock over the state have wintered thus far, better than was anticipated, says a state report. Losses have been light even in dry areas. Stockmen have been fairly successful in feeding out cattle this winter and in sections where heavy feeding was necessary, the stock have come thru in good shape.

Moisture this winter has been more plentiful than usual and spring holds fourth much promise for both the cowman and the sheepman. Winter vegetation has started and will supply a portion of feed necessary for cattle and sheep.

Some stockmen look for an early spring and if an early season is experienced in this section it will create a better demand than shipments have had for several months.

WANT TWELVE MEASURES

The New Mexico municipal league at a meeting in Santa Fe Wednesday decided to attempt to get twelve new bills thru the legislature this session.

These measures include: Making city treasurers, clerks and police judges appointive by the governing bodies of municipalities.

Providing a better system of collection of delinquent special assessments in the cities.

Providing for pro-rating back to the municipalities one-fifth of the five cent state gasoline tax collected in municipalities after deductions by the state of the interest and sinking funds on highway debentures.

A garbage disposal law. A law to clarify procedure on the granting of franchises.

Fixing of maximum salaries for officials in municipalities.

Providing for a levy for parks and libraries above and in addition to the five mills for general purposes.

Providing that cities may place a one cent tax on gasoline. This measure is desired by Santa Fe.

Providing for creation of improvement districts and enlarging districts for storm water sewers. This is wanted by Las Cruces as a protection from arroyo floods.

GRADE CROSSING ACCIDENTS LESS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Railroads reported Saturday to the interstate commerce commission a marked reduction from previous years in number of highway grade crossing accidents during the first 10 months of 1930.

WINS TWO

Artesia cagers took a double bill from two visiting teams here Friday night at the Central gymnasium. The Town Team defeated Price & Co., quintette of Roswell 29-10 and the Bulldogs defeated Hobbs high 41-9 in a one-sided affair.

"How bashful you are!" a pretty girl said to a young man.

"Yes, I take after father in that respect," he said.

"Was your father bashful?"

"Was he? Why mother says if father hadn't been so darn bashful I'd be four years older."

Meat Dealer—"Listen, I wouldn't cash a check for my own brother."

Stranger—"Well, of course, you know your family better than I do."

Helen: "I heard that Ella had eloped with Mr. Brown. Has her mother forgiven them?"

Mable: "I don't think so—she has gone to live with them."

The difference between a cow chewing her cud and a flapper chewing her gum is: that the cow always looks as if she were thinking.

Why Leaves Change Color

The lower temperature and the smaller amount of light stop the manufacture of sugar in the green leaves. When this occurs the chlorophyll changes into some red and yellow compounds, thereby changing the color of the leaves.

Why Radio Receiver Fades

Fading in radio is caused by weather conditions. That happens before the signal reaches the receiver. Therefore the receiver is not at fault.

WHY Nickname of "Hawkeye" Was Given State of Iowa

"Hawkeye" as the nickname for Iowa was first formally proposed by James G. Edwards in the issue of the Fort Madison Patriot dated March 24, 1838. David Rorer, a pioneer lawyer in Des Moines county, claimed to have suggested the cognomen to Edwards. According to Benjamin F. Shambaugh, superintendent of the State Historical society of Iowa, the sobriquet was immediately approved by many prominent Iowans and it was gradually adopted by common consent after it was used in a series of letters printed in the newspapers of the territory in 1839. It is supposed that "Hawkeye" was suggested by the name of the famous Sac and Fox chief, Black Hawk, who led the Black Hawk war of 1832 and who died on the Indian reservation on the Des Moines river in 1838, the year that Edwards proposed the nickname in the Patriot. Edwards himself thought that the adoption of the nickname would "rescue from oblivion a memento, at least, of the name of the old chief (Black Hawk)." Many reference works state that Iowa was given the nickname "Hawkeye" because a famous Indian chief so named was a terror to the early voyagers and traders who visited that region. There is, however, no evidence that Black Hawk or any other Indian chief answering the description was ever known as Hawkeye.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Why Ozone in Upper Air Is Benefit to Mankind

Ozone is queer stuff. Science would like to know more about it. There is much ozone in the atmosphere at high altitudes. In fact, there seems to be a sort of layer of it far aloft, which is exceedingly fortunate for man, inasmuch as it absorbs, and thereby shuts off, most of the ultra-violet rays that come from the sun.

The ultra-violet solar rays are exceedingly healthful for human beings. But there may be too much of a good thing. If all the ultra-violet rays that reach the earth's atmosphere came through the latter, unobstructed, every one would be obliged to wear orange yellow or blue goggles, or perhaps smoked glasses, to escape being blinded.

Ozone is simply oxygen with an extra atom to the molecule. It is an unstable gas, readily breaking up and converting itself into ordinary oxygen.—Exchange.

Why Niagara's Flow Varies

The flow of water at Niagara varies with the height of Lake Erie, which in turn is influenced by rain on the territory drained, direction of wind, and diversions from Lake Michigan at the Chicago drainage canal, diversions through the Welland canal and the New York barge canal. The average flow is placed at 191,000 cubic feet per second. The total diversions average 73,000 cubic feet or considerably more than one-third the average flow.

Why Scold is "Xantippe"

To say of any woman that she is a Xantippe is not to flatter her. On the contrary, it is epithet of opprobrium with which few members of the fairer and not always weaker sex care to be identified.

For to be a Xantippe is to be a scold, to be a nuisance, to be a constant complainer, and, as Johnny would phrase it, a "killjoy."

The allusion is to the wife of Socrates—Xantippe—notorious throughout the ancient world for her tartness, her bad temper and her ill-nature.—Kansas City Star.

Why Variations in Air

The effect of the air on the body depends on how near the percentage of moisture in it comes to being the greatest the air can hold. Air can hold much more moisture when hot than it can when cold, and the raw, cold air of winter is near the point where some of its moisture will condense. Heat the same air to 70 degrees and it feels dry.

Why Farmers Complain

If all American farmers had been paid the wages of plain unskilled laborers in cities, and had been given on their investment the low return of government bonds, the nation's crops last year would have cost exactly $5,000,000,000 more than they did.—Country Home.

Why "Eternal City"

The ancient Romans themselves called Rome the "Eternal City." They believed that no matter what might happen to other empires in the world, Rome would go on forever. In Vergil's Aeneid Jupiter tells Venus that he will give the Romans an eternal empire.

Radio Church Bells

The very latest idea in bell music comes from Tintagel parish church, in Cornwall, England. This church was the first in the country to install a radio-gramophone system, and this proved so successful that arrangements were made recently to reproduce records of bell music by means of a moving-coil loud-speaker placed in the church tower. It is claimed that records of bells played in this way cannot be distinguished from the real thing. And, of course, the loud-speaker installation is much less expensive than genuine bells would be.
