J. L. BENTLEY TO FACE HABITUAL CRIMINAL ACT RESULT OF RAID

Takes To The Tall Weeds When Officers Enter Station With Search Warrant And Find A Quart Of Whiskey.

Federal officers, Howard Beacham of Alamogordo and R. L. Neal of Roswell and Carl Gordon, constable raided the premises of the Bentley Filling Station on South First Street Sunday morning and confiscated a quart of liquor, found in a pitcher. Driving up to the station in an auto, the officers were met by J. L. Bentley. Officer Gordon presented Bentley with a search warrant and entered the building to find the family eating breakfast. A search revealed a quart of liquor in a pitcher. While the search was going on Bentley decided to make his get away and started running down thru the flats east of the station and was never overtaken. Officers allege that Bentley has been selling whiskey for some time, although they said he was careful to keep only a small supply on hand. The arresting officers said they would press two charges against Bentley if he is caught. One is the violation of the habitual criminal act, and possession of intoxicating liquor. This was the third offense for Bentley under the prohibition act. Bentley was still at large according to the last report.

NARROW GAUGE RAILROAD FROM MINE TO PLANT IS UNDERWAY

Equipment for the narrow gauge railroad being constructed by the United States Potosi Co. to connect its refinery plant with its potash mines is arriving at Lovington. A fifty-five ton locomotive together with rails and ties have already arrived. Twenty-ton gondola cars are to be used in moving the salts, and these with other equipment are expected within the next few days. The narrow gauge line is seventeen miles long. Grading on the project is from one-half to two-thirds completed, and the laying of track is expected to start today.

WANT NIGHT CAT FISHING

William Linell, secretary of the Artesia Game Protective Association Monday was circulating a petition addressed to the State Game and Fish Commission, asking that the fishing rules be changed so as to permit fishing for cat fish at night, using one to four hooks and cut bait. Local fishermen contend that cat fish should not be classed with game fish and further that the cat fish bite better at night.

FISHING CASE IS APPEALED

Henry Whitaker of Midland, Texas, who last week was fined $100.00 for fraudulently obtaining a resident fishing license, while fishing at Lake McMillan has appealed to district court after pleading guilty as charged. Later information develops the fact that while Whitaker had a home at Midland, Texas, he had been working at Hobbs for the past year.

NINE LOCK BOLL COTTON

Mrs. Mae Wilkins brot into town Saturday a nine lock boll cotton, grown on the Wilkins farm on the Cottonwood. The boll looked the part of a freak, being somewhat smaller in size than some of the best cotton grown in this section.

PRIZES FOR BEST BUCK

Anticipating a successful hunt in season the Joyce-Fruit Co. is offering attractive prizes for the biggest buck, the smallest buck and the buck with the most points and the buck with the most antlers into Artesia. See the announcement on the back page for details.

CITY JAIL EMPTY

City jail officials informed an Advocate reporter Tuesday that the new city jail was empty for the first time since it that local. An empty jail indicates that people have grown that somebody who ought to be in jail isn't. Perhaps it's the latter case.

MITCHELL HERE

Wm. Mitchell of New York, who owns extensive oil interests in this section arrived here Sunday to spend several days during which time he will inspect the new Malco refinery and look over his oil holdings.

THIEVES ARE BUSY TUESDAY NIGHT—CAR AND GAS ARE STOLEN

Thieves were busy in Artesia Tuesday night. A Chevrolet sedan belonging to Jack Clady was stolen while standing in front of the Clady home. The ignition was locked and the key out. No trace of the missing auto has been found to date. On the same night the wholesale station of the Texas Company was broken into and about thirty gallons of gasoline was stolen from a tank. A Buick car stolen from Forest Griffith here sometime ago was reported found in Hereford, Texas. It was said the car was badly wrecked.

COMMUNITY CHEST TO STORE FOOD WITH THE LOCAL GROCERY STORES

The Community Chest has arranged to change slightly the method of distributing food and clothing over the plan first adopted. Before the winter season the chest expects to gather up about a ton of beans, two canned beets, some canned fruits and vegetables. Instead of placing the food in a store house and distributing from the store house, the local grocery stores have agreed to place the food in the stores and distribute the food as authorized by the distributing committee. The arrangement was perfected Tuesday by Fred Brainard, chairman of the distributing committee and it is hoped to avoid some expense in this manner.

The budget for the Community Chest is not yet complete. Some of the committees appointed to solicit funds for the organization have not yet reported, but so far the drive for funds has been very encouraging and it appears as though the Community Chest will have sufficient funds to operate this year.

Want School Books

The Community Chest is in need of more used school books. Perhaps numbers have school books around the house and if so the book will be appreciated by the needy children, who have not been supplied. Look over your book and see if school books are among the list. If so get in touch with some member of the Community Chest immediately or bring the books to the Yates and Dooley building east of the Hardwick hotel.

CLOSE A CARLSBAD GARAGE

A Carlsbad garage was closed Monday after a distraint warrant had been served by the sheriff's department for collection of taxes.

KIMBROUGH MAKES HOLE IN ONE ON THE LOCAL GOLF COURSE

A. C. Kimbrough (Kennebrew) is a member of the national Dodo club, after having made a hole in one on the local golf course. This unusual feat was performed by Mr. Kimbrough Saturday, in the presence of a creditable witness. It was said and is either the third or fourth such performance to be witnessed on the course in his history.

Mr. Kimbrough's (Kennebrew) success is attributed to the fact that being a town cowboy, he often wears cowboy boots on the local course and to the fact that he has developed quite a muscle in his driving arm by carrying a spectacle case, having taken up the work of his illustrious predecessor, in fitting specs.

SMITH RE-ELECTED GRAND SECRETARY OF L. O. F. NEW MEX.

NO DIPHTHERIA IN EDDY

There is no diphtheria in Eddy county at the present time, according to Dr. O. E. Puckett, the county health officer, but the county health authorities are watching the situation with some anxiety as six cases have been recently reported in the state health department. School children of last year were 100 per cent immunized and if diphtheria occurs, it will be among the new pupils.

One Burned To Death When A Still Explodes

Ted Stiewig Is Fatally Burned And Perry Hill Is Injured In Blast That Practically Wrecks The Refinery.

The Artesia community was shocked by a horrible accident Saturday afternoon, when Ted Stiewig, age 27, employe of the Desert Refining Co., was fatally burned by an explosion of a gasoline still. Unknown to the refinery employes, the still had evidently sprung a leak and exploded as the unfortunate workman had walked near it. The force of the explosion blew the boiler down and practically wrecked the plant. Perry Hill, who was also working the same tower, happened to be on the bubble tower at the time the explosion occurred. He sustained burns about the face as he was blown from the tower. Mr. Stiewig had been near him only a short time before and as soon as Mr. Hill hurried himself together he began a search for his companion to see him crawling from under a flaming mass with the clothing burned from his body. The burns were so deep that his finger nails dropped from his fingers.

Without stopping to take an inventory of the wreckage caused by the explosion, Mr. Hill hurried the burned man to town, where he received medical aid. The Desert Refining Co. plant is located on the lease of the Grayburg Oil Co., some twenty-three miles east of Artesia. It was constructed several months ago by Gray Coggin and associates and was later taken over by Dewey Ellis. Mr. Stiewig, it was said had only been working at the plant about a week.

Mr. Stiewig lived some three hours after the accident and was conscious until a short time before he expired. Funeral services were held at the Church of Christ Thursday afternoon at 3:30. Rev. Thomason of Lake Arthur officiating. All of the relatives residing in this section were present at the funeral. Surviving the deceased are a widow and baby daughter, Marie, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stiewig of Artesia, two brothers, W. H. Stiewig of Artesia and M. L. Stiewig of Pecos, Texas, two sisters, Mrs. Fred Henderson and Mrs. Pearl Blane of Artesia.

WARD PURCHASES OLD TURKNETT FARM SOUTHEAST OF TOWN

The old Turknett farm about a mile southeast of town has passed to a new owner, S. S. Ward of Artesia. The land sale was consummated recently with the approval of the title, the purchase having been made from the Felix Investment Co. The farm consisting of approximately 360 acres and lying southwest of the present Turknett homestead will be highly improved by the new owner. Practically all of the farm will be placed in cultivation. Two artesian wells on the farm are to be repaired and placed on the pump. Other improvements contemplated is the construction of half dozen buildings. Several attractive four room adobe residences to be used by the tenants are to be erected. Material has been assembled for the erection of the first adobe dwelling.

GINNINGS FOR WEEK TOTAL 2,318 BALES

A shortage of cotton pickers in this section has slowed up cotton picking operations considerably over the anticipated amount up to date. Six gins of this area registered an approximate gain of 752 bales over the corresponding period of last week. Last year over the same period five gins in this section had ginned 3,934 bales. The ginnings for the period ending yesterday morning follow: Lake Arthur gin.....160 Cottonwood gin.....481 Association gin, Espula.....334 Association gin, Artesia.....374 Farmers gin, Artesia.....590 Association gin, Atoka.....379 Total.....2,318

STOCK MARKET WEAKENS ON WAR RUMORS TODAY

A telegram sent William Mitchell here this morning conveyed the information that the stock market had weakened on the rumors that Russia was mobilizing troops to join China in a war against Japan. A call to the Roswell Record this morning at 11:00 a. m. failed to bring additional information on the subject. According to this information the League of Nations is still conducting peace negotiations and several peace overtures have been advanced in an effort to avert the threatened war between China and Japan.

The rumor had evidently not affected the cotton market, as the New York market opened at 6.21c and remained at 6.21c at the 11:00 o'clock call.

RESIDENTS WARNED TO EXAMINE FLUES BEFORE COLD SPELL

With the coming of cold weather, local residents will soon have the heating stoves going full time. A word of warning has been issued by D. I. Clowe to examine the flues carefully before winter. The warning is especially timely in view of the earth quake experienced by this section some few months ago. It is always a good policy to clean and examine the flues before winter, even under normal conditions, if the people would avoid a possible heavy loss by fire. The earth tremor is held responsible for one recent fire.

OIL RIGHTS INVOLVED NUMBER CIVIL CASES CHAVES DIST. COURT

A number of important civil cases have been set for hearing this week before Judge Henry A. Kiker, of the eighth judicial district, who will sit at Roswell for Judge G. A. Richardson, says the Roswell Record.

Elliott, Royalty Properties and others.

Umphrey, Frank Buttram, Everett Newby and Lawson Petroleum Company. This is a Lea county case and involves many intricate and involved features. The case will bring together some of the leading attorneys of New Mexico.

The case of Louie My Wiseley against William E. Wiseley is set for next Monday before Judge Kiker.

SUPREME CT. REFUSES RECONSIDER DECISION BARTON APPLICATION

Upholds Wilbur Ruling Made In March 1929 For Conservation Of Oil And Gas On Federal Lands.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Reconsideration of its decision, upholding Secretary Wilbur's action prohibiting further prospecting for oil and gas was refused Monday by the supreme court.

The Wilbur order was issued to carry out the oil conservation policy announced by President Hoover in March, 1929.

Roy G. Barton, applicant for a permit to prospect for oil and gas on public lands near Las Cruces, New Mexico and several others attacked the withdrawals but lost.

In asking a review of the decision, Barton charged that Wilbur was insincere in enforcing his order. He said 482 oil and gas prospecting permits had been issued by the department of the interior since the policy was announced.

Several western states joined in assailing the order before the supreme court but they did not participate in the request for a rehearing.

BUYS BUCKS

Wink Hardin of Hope last week purchased fourteen registered bucks from George Beale and has moved them to his sheep ranch near Hope.

EASTERN STAR WILL CELEBRATE ITS 25th ANNIVERSARY TUES.

The Artesia Eastern Star lodge will celebrate the 25th anniversary of the order Tuesday evening with a dinner at the lodge hall. Eastern Stars and their families are invited to the dinner. A number of visitors are expected.

WHAT $5.00 WILL BUY

The new purchasing power of the dollar is forcefully illustrated in the windows of the Joyce-Fruit Co., Grocery Department. Comparative prices of two years ago, a year ago, two months ago and now, are illustrated and the articles that $5.00 would have bought or will buy now, are shown in the window. Some of the principal staples used by the family are to-day off more than fifty per cent as compared with two years ago. Two years ago, $5.00 would buy five staple items, to-day the same five spot will buy sixteen items.

CUTS SACKS AND WAGON COVERS

Employees of the Alfalfa Association, Saturday discovered that the association had been the victim of spite work. Some twenty-five or thirty cotton sacks together with half a dozen or more wagon covers were cut with a knife. The sacks were folded in such a way that the cut with a knife made four cuts in the sack. No motive could be assigned for the deed, except spite work.

RANCHER HURT

Wade Williams, a rancher from near the Cap Rock was seriously injured Tuesday afternoon about four o'clock when his automobile turned over four miles south of Hagerman.

Mr. Williams sustained severe injuries about the scalp, but will recover unless injured internally. A companion, "Hawk" Medlin, and owner of the car, was uninjured. The injured man was taken in the Mason ambulance to Dexter where he was met and taken to Roswell in the Talmage ambulance. The man was in a state of semi-consciousness during the trip to the hospital.—Hagerman Messenger.

MRS. SID COX MOTHER DIES

Word has been received here from Mrs. Sid Cox telling of the death of her mother, Mrs. Emma Wright, which occurred at Terra Haute, Indiana Sunday morning following an operation last Thursday. Mrs. Wright's death was a shock to friends and relatives as she seemed to be improving rapidly a short time after the operation. Mrs. Cox arrived in Terra Haute on Thursday morning before her mother underwent an operation that afternoon.

Funeral services were held Tuesday and burial was made at Logansport, Illinois.

The Defense Testimony Started In Welch Case

Sheriff Peck Is The Last Witness Called By The State Yesterday Afternoon. Case May Go To Jury Today.

The case of the state versus Gifford Welch of Dexter, charged with the murder of Rufe Dunahoo, Chaves county peace officer got underway at Carlsbad Tuesday morning with the completion of the jury. The regular jury panel was exhausted Monday and additional veniremen were summoned Tuesday. Ten of the jurors were selected Monday afternoon and two more Tuesday morning. The completed jury is: Casper Fosmark, clerk; R. U. Boyd, service station; L. O. Warren, highway employe; J. O. Coleman, car dealer; W. J. Bindle, farmer; Daniel Wade, farmer; Thomas J. Pope, electrician, all of Carlsbad; Frank Thomas, grocery salesman; Ed Watson, grocery salesman; Buford Gray, salesman and Ross Calvert, farmer, all of Artesia and W. R. Shattuck, rancher of Queen.

One of the questions asked jurors by the defense council was if they, the jurors believed a man had a right to protect his home from an unlawful entry by officers of the law. The state was concerned whether or not the jurors had conscientious scruples against capital punishment. Fred Powell owner of the car from which the state alleges Welch stole the license and headlight, was the first witness placed on by the state Tuesday afternoon. Powell was questioned by the defense in an effort to show the parts taken from a junk car and no longer an automobile, it being alleged that under the law taking parts from a junked car would be a misdemeanor and not a felony. Powell, however, said his car was in running condition. D. Herbert of Dexter, deputy sheriff, who was present at the shooting was the second witness called and testified as to the circumstances surrounding the fatal shooting. Dr. W. W. Phillips, county health officer of Chaves county was the third witness called and testified of the shooting from the stand point of the bullet wound.

The state completed its evidence against Gifford Welch yesterday afternoon at Carlsbad and the defense will call its first witness this morning.

Testimony of John C. Peck, Chaves county sheriff who was present at the shooting took most of yesterday afternoon. Peck was unshaken in his testimony that Welch invited the officers into his home and aided in the search until the alleged stolen auto parts were found and then Welch became angry, threatening the officers and finally drawing a gun.

Welch the defendant is expected to give a lengthy testimony before the jury this morning. Other defense witnesses sworn in are: Mrs. Welch, Estelle Welch, Pete Welch, Justice of the Peace William C. Winston, Levi Barnett, R. A. Floyd, Mrs. J. C. Buffington, Elmer Lankford, W. A. Losey, Ernest Langenegger and Dr. C. H. Wright.

THREE STATES WILL POOL MOHAIR CLIP

SAN ANGELO, Texas—With the Texas Warehouse Association's 6,700,000-pound pool of mohair moving to the National Wool Marketing Corp. warehouses in Boston, co-operative officials here announced that Arizona and New Mexico also have entered the federal farm board agreement.

The combined clips of these two states total around 600,000 pounds. Advances are to be the same as in Texas, 15 cents for adult and 35 cents for kid hair, net to the grower. The warehouses are receiving an additional half cent a pound advance for handling the pool.

Growers are to be held responsible for over-advances, although Mayer, president of the National Wool Marketing Corp., believes the corporation will be able to get several cents a pound above the advances this year. These additional sums probably will not be used to repay over-advances on the business of previous years, he said. At least $1,750,000 will be brot into Texas immediately by the advances.

ZEAL FOR MORE LAWS

"The growing contempt for law is attributed in large measure to a mistaken zeal for more and ever more law," said Governor Ritchie of Maryland a short time ago.

It is refreshing to hear this that echoed by a high public official. Too few of them are sufficiently candid—or courageous—to do so. But almost all who have studied the crime problem have come to the same conclusion.

We are a nation of law-breakers largely because we are a nation of law-makers. We have abrogated human liberties—and crime has been increasing on a greater scale than in any other supposedly civilized country. We have passed laws which have acted as boomerangs and have in actual practice benefited the criminal class which they were supposed to suppress—such as the various anti-revolver bills in effect in several states.

We cannot shut our eyes to the fact that America is a lawless nation. In almost every great city authorities are all but powerless against the depredations of a well organized, well financed underworld. Simpler and fewer laws, more justice and less litigation, surer punishment for offenders—in that direction lies victory for society in its war against the criminal class.

MISCONCEPTION OF GOVERNMENT

According to a prominent English writer, Americans can learn nothing about unemployment by studying the English methods, except perhaps to stay away from the dole system. England developed the misconception that the function of the government was to furnish employment for its citizens as well as protection for its subjects. England made the mistake of letting the Socialist element take the reins of government along with a bunch of efficiency experts, who proposed to provide the old age with pensions as well as the workers with employment.

Now England's dole bill is costing $600,000,000 yearly and every bill enacted to cure the existing evils of the present system adds to the complexity of the situation. In trying to cure her domestic ills, England has let her world trade slip; at the same time she has killed the individual initiative of her citizens.

LATEST NUISANCE

The latest to disturb some residents, according to recent complaints, isn't the dog, cow, horse, a crowing cock or any of the things that usually make life more or less miserable for the city resident, but the modern invention, the radio. Some local people have asserted that their neighbors forget to turn off the radio. It would not be so bad they say, if the radio was not so loud, but in some instances the machine can be heard a couple of blocks away. Trying to sleep with a loud radio going at 2:00 a. m. in the morning is quite a task, unless, perhaps, the said radio acts as a sort of lullaby.

We would not be surprised to see an attempt made to have the loud radio declared a nuisance, especially at two o'clock in the morning.

HERE'S AN OPPORTUNIST

Two men recently escaped from the Portales jail, after window bars had been sawed. One of the men in jail on a bad check charge, left an explanatory note to the sheriff, stating that he had no part in sawing the window bars and that he would be back immediately after he succeeded in raising the money to pay off that check.

History records that in ancient times debtors were imprisoned indefinitely until the debt was paid, even where they had not the slightest chance to raise the money.

Perhaps the Portales prisoner believed himself faced with the same dilemma; and really, he cannot be blamed very much for seizing a chance opportunity to raise the money if his note to the sheriff was written in good faith.—Amarillo News.

CAN CARE FOR OWN NEEDS

New Mexico communities will be able to care for the unfortunate living in the state, but will find the matter of caring for the transient too great a burden, state officials believe. Never before perhaps has there existed the necessity for the needy to remain at home during the winter months.

Welfare workers believe that the problem of the transient will be lessened this winter and we hope so. There is no reason why the unfortunate family should spend the winter in driving from one community to another and those connected with welfare work should impress the fact on the needy families and forestall the possibility of overtaxing the resources of any community.

WE CAN'T PUBLISH UNSIGNED COMMUNICATIONS

Like other papers, The Advocate frequently receives unsigned communications with request that the same be published. Just recently we received an unsigned communication from Carlsbad on the tax situation that contained some commendable points. The article of course was consigned to the waste basket.

Folks who wish to contribute to the paper should have conviction enough about the subject matter to sign their names to articles, otherwise the articles would carry little weight with the readers and would place the entire responsibility up to the newspaper, in the event objectionable matter is contained in the article.

A woman seldom comes out of a sullen spell until she's sure her husband has suffered as much as she thinks he should.

Only exceptional men can run enterprises on idealistic lines and make them pay.

THE COWBOY'S CREED

O Lord, I've never lived where churches grew;
I love creation better as it stood
That day You finished it so long ago
And looked upon your work and called it good.
I know that others find You in the light
That's sifted down thru tinted window panes,
And yet I seem to feel You near tonight
In the dim, quiet starlight on the plains.

I thank You, Lord, that I am pleased so well,
That You have made my freedom so complete;
That I'm no slave of whistle, clock or bell.
Or weak-eyed prisoner of wall and street.
Just let me live my life as I've begun,
And give me work that's open to the sky;
Make me a partner of the wind and sun,
And I won't ask a life that's soft or high.

Let me be easy on the man that's down
And make me square and generous with all;
I'm careless sometimes, Lord, when I'm in town.
But never let them say I'm mean or small.
Make me as wide open as the plains,
As honest as the horse between my knees,
Clean as the wind that blows behind the rains,
Free as the hawk that circles down the breeze.

Forgive me, Lord, when sometimes I forget;
You know about the reasons that are hid,
You know about the things that gall and fret
You know me, better than my mother did.
Just keep an eye on all that's done and said,
Just right me sometimes, when I turn aside,
And guide me on the long, dim trail ahead
That stretches upward to the Great Divide.—Rocky Mountain (Denver) News.

POTASH EXPERT IS IN CARLSBAD

R. V. Ageton of the mineral leasing division, United States Geological Survey, has established offices in Carlsbad, and will be in charge of leasing developments following exploration work in potash development thru the geological survey and bureau of mines.

But two of the government's tests for potash are yet to be finished, Mr. Ageton said, and these will be completed within the next month. Mr. Ageton came here from Washington, and is seeking a desirable home.—Current-Argus.

CHECK COLDS AND ROUP AMONG POULTRY FLOCKS

At this time of year colds and roup are prevalent among poultry flocks and are a serious handicap for the poultryman to overcome. The greatest harm these diseases do is not confined particularly to deaths, but to the decrease in growth and egg production and to lowered vitality of the birds, says W. M. Ginn, of the New Mexico Agricultural College.

Like most other poultry diseases roup is easier to prevent than to cure. The best methods of prevention includes the liberal use of green feed or its substitute, alfalfa; the breeding or purchasing of stock with strong constitutions or vitality; practicing strict sanitation; keeping the birds free of worms and other parasites which sap the vitality of the host; and using well constructed, properly ventilated and insulated houses.

If the disease has already obtained a start, the following recommendations may be helpful:
First: remove the cause.
Second: remove the birds that are seriously affected and either kill and burn them or place in a separate pen. For treatment of these, douche the nostrils and throat with a strong solution of baking soda and give them a dose of salts.
Third: Clean the house thoroughly and keep it clean.
Fourth: Give a dose of salts in drinking water and repeat every three days until the birds show improvement.
Fifth: Use a teaspoonful of baking soda to every pan of water except those which contain salts.

How can you afford these luxuries? She was asked.
By doing without necessities, dearie, she smiled.

CONOCO GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL

ONLY CONOCO GERM PROCESSED OIL Can Give You the Extra Benefits of the "HIDDEN QUART"

that Stays up in Your Motor and Never Drains Away

Almost half of all motor wear takes place while you're starting your car! And it's in the starting period that oils not germ processed fail to protect your motor. They lubricate your motor after it starts . . . but they drain away when your car is idle, leaving vital working parts unlubricated while you're starting.

Germ Processed Oil gives you safe lubrication not only after your motor starts but during the starting period! For only Germ Processed Oil has penetrative lubricity . . . the ability to cling to, penetrate and combine with metal surfaces. A "hidden quart" of Germ Processed Oil stays up in your motor and never drains away. It cuts down starting wear and makes starting easier and quicker. Save your motor from wear . . . Change now to Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil, the only oil in North America made by the patented germ process. Fill up at any station that displays the Conoco Red Triangle.

MANY GOOD WAYS TO USE GREEN TOMATOES

When the first hard frost leaves a large supply of green tomatoes on hand, some of them will undoubtedly be made into pickles, but they are also good to use in many other ways. Green tomatoes cut into half-inch slices, sprinkled with salt, dipped in flour or fine bread crumbs and fried until tender in a little fat, are excellent. They may also be fried with sliced onions. The following recipes using green tomatoes have been tested by the bureau of home economics, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Cream of Green Tomato Soup
12 green tomatoes
1 cup water
1/4 teaspoon soda
4 tablespoon butter
2 cups milk
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons flour
1 small onion, cut fine
Pinch of pepper and curry powder.

Boil tomatoes with water until tender and put thru a strainer. Fry onions, pepper and curry powder in butter, remove pieces of onion; add flour and later milk to make white sauce. Add soda to hot tomato pulp. When white sauce is thoroughly cooked blend the two mixtures and serve at once.

Green Tomato Pie
4 or 5 medium size green tomatoes
1/2 lemon, sliced very thin
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 tablespoons corn starch
3/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon butter

Slice tomatoes and heat slowly in a saucepan with sugar, lemon, salt and spices until tomatoes are tender. Add cornstarch and cook until latter does not taste raw. Take from fire and add butter. Line a pie tin with pastry and bake lower crust 12 minutes in moderate oven. Put tomato filling in prebaked crust, cover with upper crust, and bake in hot oven until upper crust is done. If there is not enough liquid in the tomatoes to cook them, a little water may be added when stewing them.

Green Tomato Marmalade
6 pounds green tomatoes
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
6 cups sugar
6 lemons

Wash and trim tomatoes and cut into small pieces and add sugar. Cut lemons in very thin slices and boil five minutes in one cup water to which salt had been added; add this to tomato and sugar. Heat this mixture slowly, then cook rapidly, stirring constantly about one-half hour, or until marmalade has the consistency of thick jam. These proportions will make about three quarts of marmalade.

1931 COTTON CROP JUMPS 599,000 BALES
WASHINGTON, D. C.—The agricultural department forecast of the 1931 cotton crop, predicted a total of 16,284,000 bales based on October 1 conditions which was 69.3 per cent of normal.

The report representing an increase of 599,000 bales above the September 1 estimate, and adding to the surplus, had been in a measure expected, but caused a sharp bear movement in the great markets of the world, according to advices received here.

Do you remember that couple we met on the steamer we took such a violent fancy to—I mean the couple we invited to visit us? Yeah, You don't mean to say— Yes, the idiots are actually coming! — Life.

PREPARING THE CHILD FOR SCHOOL

Frequently the parents, according to the United States Public Health Service, may suspect that the child is suffering from some slight defect in vision, and occasionally there may be obvious visual disturbances which should be corrected. Children with such conditions should be taken to an oculist as soon as there is evidence of trouble. If glasses are required, it will take some time for the child to become accustomed to wearing them, and the habit of using them should be acquired before the child enters school. However, the chief advantage of early correction of visual defects is that it usually requires less treatment, and in some cases such early treatment may cure the condition and secure for the child normal vision which might have been impossible had correction been delayed.

Altho we may have given our children every attention, trained them in habits of cleanliness and good personal hygiene, fed them the proper food, and corrected so far as possible all physical defects, there yet remains a very important matter to be considered, namely, the prevention of a possible attack of smallpox or diphtheria. In this day and age it is almost criminal to neglect on our part to fail to see that our children are protected against these preventable diseases. The best time to start their immunization treatment is after the child is six months of age. The reaction to the treatment is after the child is six months of age. The reaction to the treatment is much milder at this age, although it is just as effective; but what is of more importance, especially in the case of diphtheria, is that they are immune to the infection at the time in life when the disease is most fatal to them. Statistics prove that the death rate from diphtheria is much greater among children attacked before they are five years of age. There are very few states in which children are admitted to the public schools without evidence of vaccination against smallpox, and many are now requiring diphtheria immunization. In fact many communities are now practically free from diphtheria epidemics, due chiefly to the fact that they require diphtheria immunization of all school children.

A comparison of our present day elementary schools with those of only a few decades ago will show a much younger age group completing the elementary course. This is probably not due solely to better trained personnel and school systems, but may, in many instances, be due in considerable part to the fact that preventative medicine has taken its place in the school program. Attendance is more regular, the children are in better physical condition, and consequently there is less loss of time from school work due to illness.

Thus we as parents can appreciate the privilege and opportunity that is ours to see that our children are in every sense of the word properly prepared for entering school. School life affords real competition. Early defeat is often the cause of failure and a desire to quit the race. We surely will not allow our children to start their race in life with a handicap which is the result of our own negligence, but will see that our best efforts are expended to prepare them properly for their first days of school.

Also the following citation from Science and Health with Key to the Scripture, by Mary Baker Eddy, page 23: "Wisdom and love may require many sacrifices of self to save us from sin. One sacrifice, however great, is insufficient to pay the debt of sin. The atonement requires constant self-immolation on the sinners part. Visitors always welcome."

Why Pennsylvania Oil?

Pennsylvania paraffine base oil is different from the oils found in any other part of the country. It contains no sulphur or other harmful ingredients. It can be refined by a process which in no way injures the lubricating value of the finished oils and, because of certain inherent qualities which nature has placed in this crude, motor oils refined from it are superior in heat-resisting qualities, higher in flash and fire points, and, when properly refined, are purer than oils made from any other crude petroleum.

WHEN WILL IT FROST?

When will it frost? This question no doubt will interest a number of people. If statistics gathered by R. W. Bruce, weather observer means anything we may expect frost most any day now. Below is given the date when killing frosts occurred in the past five years: 1926, October 25, (light); 1927, October 12; 1928, October 18; 1929, October 24; 1930, October 30.

Feeding Young Turkeys

About Same as Chicks
Young turkeys can be fed about the same as chicks. A good starting feed is rolled oats or hulled oats. In a week or more you can add wheat and cracked corn to the oats. Grain should be fed very sparingly to turkey poult. They should not be fed in the same quarters as chickens. Give them free range so that they can secure most of their food by foraging. This can be done easily if they are allowed to run with the turkey mother. Light feeding at night will tempt the brood to come in to roosting quarters. This is important, for the turkey raiser should always know where the brood spends the night.

First American Ice Cream

The true history of ice cream dates from the days of Dolly Madison, the White House's most famous hostess, who about the year 1816 served ice cream at a Presidential reception. Isolated instances of the serving of ice cream in America antedates the dashing Dolly's historic party—there is even a hint that George Washington tasted the delicacy at a fete given by Mrs. Alexander Hamilton, but Dolly first put the official stamp of approval on the dish.

Early Air Flights

While a great deal of experimental work on airplanes was done in Europe before 1906, especially in France, England and Germany, there was no successful flight there until Santos-Dumont succeeded in 1906. The Wright brothers in this country made the first successful flight on December 17, 1903.

Battle, Not Massacre

To call the battle in which General Custer and his men lost their lives, a massacre is a misnomer. It was a battle in which both sides were armed, and which was fought until the result was defeat and death for all of the United States troops who were in the engagement.—Washington Star.

Prayer in Congress

When a session of congress recesses, it simply resumes its deliberations at the next meeting without any of the opening formalities, such as the calling of the roll, etc. When a session adjourns from day to day the opening exercises, including prayer, are gone through with.

Term for Minerals

Marcasite is a mineral, the disulphide of iron, and also known as white iron pyrites, coxcomb pyrites or radiated pyrites. It is found in the form of pure yellow orthorhombic crystals. The term has also been applied to certain other minerals.

Musical Term

A fret, in musical terms, is one of the narrow ridges of wood, metal, or ivory crossing the fingerboard of the mandolin, guitar, zither, etc., against which the strings are pressed by the fingers to shorten the vibrating length and thus raise the tone.

Good Thought

"Can anyone ever find real happiness?" Yes, if they go the right way about it. Happiness, as Tupper said, is only the little wayside flower growing on the high road of usefulness.

First Postage Stamps

Rowland Hill's diary and correspondence are preserved. In the diary, against the date May 1, 1840, is written: "Stamps were issued to the public today in London for the first time."

Chinese Like Western Plays

Education Imperative

As an apple is not in any proper sense an apple until it is ripe, so a human being is not in any proper sense a human being until he is educated.—Horace Mann.

Frozen Meat Preferred

That frozen meat is more tender and has better flavor if cooking is begun while the meat is still frozen stiff, is the report of British health officials.

CATTLE POINTERS

I never saw a better demonstration of what can be done with cheap feed when it comes to fattening calves, than the results of several years work at the Myron-Stratton Farms, at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Last year they fed seventy-eight Hereford calves; forty-three steers and 35 heifers, for 204 days. Yes, they made them fat.

The average daily feed per calf consisted of 15.2 pounds of cut corn fodder, .74 pounds protein supplement, 2.64 pounds of ground barley, 9.1 pounds of corn silage and a small amount of salt and mineral.

At the beginning of the feeding period the calves averaged 420 pounds per calf. At the end of the feeding period they weighed an average of 870 pounds per calf. These calves made an average daily gain of 2.21 pounds per head per day for the period of 204 days.

The feed was charged to the calves at the prevailing market price during the feeding period as follows:

Cut corn fodder, ton.....$7.50
Protein supplement, ton.....38.00
Ground barley, ton.....15.00
Corn silage, ton.....5.00
With feed at the above prices the feed cost of putting 100 pounds of gain on the calves was $5.14.

The Pecos valley produces all the feeds that were used in this feeding demonstration, and at the present time it looks as though the supply of feed stuffs in the valley would exceed the demand. Why not sell this cheap fed thru beef cattle?

At the time of the demonstration the calves were appraised July 9, 1931 at $7.65 per cwt. f. o. b. the farm. Let's figure what home grown feeds sold for thru the calves.

In this demonstration the amount of feed consumed per hundred pounds of gain was as follows:

Cut corn fodder..... 690 lbs.
Protein supplement..... 33 lbs.
Ground barley..... 119 lbs.
Corn silage..... 410 lbs.

Total feed 100 lbs. gain—1252 lbs. Deducting the cost of the protein supplement, which was necessary in the ration, but not home grown, they received an average price of $11.50 per ton for their home grown feeds, and at the same time had the manure on the farm to be used for soil improvement.

Sale price 100 lbs. beef.....$7.65
Cost 33 lbs. protein......62
Sale price of 1219 lbs. feeds
Net 1219 lbs. home feeds.....$7.03
Or at the rate of $11.50 per ton.

This same home grown feed if it had been sold on the market in the same proportions it was fed to the steers would have brot only $7.38 per ton. This means that the feeding operations enabled them to sell their home grown feeds for $4.12 more per ton than they otherwise would have been.

You say that it takes money to finance the feeding of cattle. You are right, but in many places satisfactory plans have been worked out where the ranchman and the cattle feeder can co-operate for the mutual benefit of both. Drop the Artesia Advocate farm editor a line if you want more information on these contracts.

Girl Enjoyed Being Arrested

By Y. E. YATES

OFFICER TIM O'GRADY was rounding a corner of the worst part of his beat. Before him stretched the bridge, a grim and dim silhouette against the black background of river warehouses. From below came the dismal rhythmic lapping of water against the piers. The night, black as it always appeared, the river-front, seemed almost gruesome as a sharp and chill rain beat steadily down and gleamed desolately upon the paved ground.

The river front was deserted, as it always was, and as it should be, in the dead of the night. Mechanically, unexpectedly, O'Grady scanned the bridge and suddenly he started with surprise as his eyes came to rest, a short distance away upon a dark figure of a woman, who, indifferent to the rain, leaned over the rail and contemplated the black, swirling waters below.

Her intentions seemed obvious, even before she began to climb over the bridge. With a cry of alarm O'Grady dashed forward, and caught her as she stood poised upon the rail.

"Walking the plank; eh?" he exclaimed, shaking her as she tried to struggle. "I ought to run you in a couple of days in jail would change your bright ideas."

"She stared at him, and suddenly her laughter, startling, clear and fresh and musical, rang out through the rain. O'Grady eyed her in surprise. He became aware, in the dim lamplight of the bridge, that her face was young, fresh and pretty, that her eyes were bright and daring, that her lips had a cheerful, upward curve strangely in contrast with the thought of suicide.

"So," she asked, "you think I want to jump into the water?"

"No," he retorted with sarcasm. "You just climbed the rail to get a better view of the rain. And now you're going to take a nice, little ride to a nice little cell, where you can think over what to tell the judge."

She gasped in alarm. "Wait!" she cried.

He stopped and gazed down at her. She was very pretty, even in the dim lamplight. Her eyes were anxious now, and eloquent, as she pleaded with him.

"Don't arrest me," she begged. "I didn't want to commit suicide. I—I wish I could explain. Oh, please."

He sensed her sincerity without understanding it. He released her arm.

"Will you promise not to try that again?" he asked.

She nodded eagerly, and with a happy smile and a word of thanks, she turned and sped away.

O'Grady was thoughtful as he watched her slim figure fade away among the black shadows. He had had to let her go. She was so young and happy-eyed. She—a would-be suicide. It seemed impossible. And yet, had he not caught her, poised upon the rail, swaying toward the hungry, black waters below? He should have questioned her thoroughly. But somehow, her bright eyes had befuddled his brain. He wondered if he were a fool.

It rained again the following night, and as O'Grady tramped his way toward the bridge he thought of the girl of the night before—thought of her, and raising his eyes to scan the bridge, saw her once more, poised upon the rail!

He ran toward her as he had never run before, but he was too late. In an instant she had disappeared. He listened for the splash, but strangely, none came.

He was starting vainly down at the river, when he became aware that she had reappeared at the other side of the rail, and was climbing back upon the bridge. He approached her grimly.

"Hello," she said implishly. "I was hoping you'd come."

He frowned. "This time," he growled at her, "you're going to explain everything."

She nodded eagerly. She waved a small brown package at him.

"I just got this," she said. "between some beams right below the rail of the bridge. It contains the jewels gotten in a recent robbery for which my brother was arrested. He was 'framed.' He is innocent! And this package contains enough evidence to convict the real thieves."

"You see, my brother is just a youngster, and he got in with bad company. They 'framed' him for what they had done, but I suspected them. I spied on them, and after a while discovered where they had hidden their loot. They had to hide it in a safe place until the affair blew over. And this is where they hid it. They cut into the rail to mark the spot. But one of them, so I learned, has, by mistake, included his keys and his driver's license among the loot—and that is the link that should lead to the arrest of the real culprits."

O'Grady's eyes shone with admiration. What a plucky girl she was!

He grinned at her as he said: "This time you are going to tell your story to the judge. Come along."

She laughed as she fell into step beside him. "This time," she retorted, "I'm going to enjoy being arrested."

Fear Corn Borer

The people of Kansas are preparing to fight the European corn borer—a pest of the corn fields of states farther east—should the insect reach their state, according to information obtained from Plant Commissioner Dr. K. C. Sullivan of Missouri. Lately it has been learned that smartweed borers are numerous in the eastern part of Kansas. They are also found in Missouri, and closely resemble corn borers.

HERE'S FIRST PLAN TO OUTWIT THE COTTON ACREAGE REDUCTION

PARIS, Texas—Now comes a Lamar county farmer who plans to beat the cotton acreage reduction law.

This farmer says he will plant 30 acres of each 100 in peas, 30 acres in cotton and the remaining 40 acres in corn and other feed and food crops.

The cotton acreage reduction law makes no provision relative to interplanting cotton with other crops, the farmer maintains.

Restaurant Manager (to orchestra conductor)—I wish you'd display a little more tact in choosing the music.

According to Bradstreet's report for 1930, 95% of all business failures were non-advertisers.

FRANCES SEARS ELIDA GIRL KILLED IN AN AUTO WRECK SAT.

Frances Sears, 15, of Elida came to her death as a result of careless and reckless driving, according to a verdict returned by a Roswell coroner's jury Sunday morning.

The jury having been summoned to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the death of the young girl.

Miss Sears died a few moments after having been brot to St. Mary's hospital in a Talmage ambulance Saturday night from the scene of a wreck 4 miles northeast of the Highlonesome Filling Station, 28 miles northeast of Roswell.

Frances Sears was the daughter of Mrs. W. L. Sears, of Kenma, and was returning home with Clifford Stevenson, of Elida, when the accident occurred at a point approximately 30 miles northeast of Roswell on the Roswell-Clovis highway, at 8:30 o'clock.

According to the evidence presented to the coroner's jury Sunday morning the car driven by Stevenson and occupied by Miss Sears was traveling at a high rate of speed and on the wrong side of the road when it plunged head-on into a truck coming this direction.

The evidence showed that the particular section of road where the accident occurred was straight. Stevenson evidently was blinded by the lights from the approaching truck, the Ford coming in contact with the truck with a terrific impact.

Good Banking Is Safe Banking

Depositors who have money in a bank, want "their money loaned safely. Some applicants for loans consider their poses and ability perfectly safe, believe in their security ability to repay, but find they do not meet banking requirements.

The banker is trustee for the depositor; he cannot be guided by personalities nor friendships, but must comply with spirit and the letter of the law and banking regulations. Thorough analysis of loan applications, maintaining strong onduary reserves, keeping loans sound and liquid, avoiding loans or loans which may "stretch out," and saying "no" to risk, are a duty which he cannot avoid.

Banks are in the business of lending money; as far as they have it available, they are anxious to lend it safely. Frequent talks, frequently, with your banker, are of help to him, and you. The more he knows of your business, the better he can serve you.

THE ARTESIA JUNIORS DEFEAT ROSWELL JRS. 20-0 SATURDAY

The Artesia Juniors showed very good teamwork at Roswell Saturday when they defeated the Roswell Juniors 20-0. Artesia received the ball and scored in the first minute of play when Ballard caught the kick off and ran behind excellent interference for a touch down. Roswell appeared hard to hold during the first quarter and made several gains, one of about sixty yards. The showing made by Roswell had Coach Wilkins worried, but the first quarter ended with Roswell trying to score.

The second quarter Artesia saw just what had to be done and did it. Roswell made very few gains and Artesia seemed to be making good headway. Artesia put in a few substitutions during the second quarter, and was getting close to Roswell's goal when the whistle blew for the half, with the score 7-0.

The last half seemed to be the best part of the game, that is, for Artesia. In the third quarter Artesia had the ball going her way and about the middle of the quarter, Kuykendall scored a touchdown, thru Roswell's center, by pulling, shoving and diving over the goal line. Little action was seen during the last of the third. Roswell seemed to weaken. Occasionally a man would go down with part of his hind missing when Ballard, Bullock and Kuykendall tackled him. The whistle blew for the end of the third quarter, with Artesia 13, Roswell 0.

At the beginning of the last quarter Roswell made a few good plays keeping Artesia on her toes then Artesia got loose again and was on her way to the goal line. Roswell kept the locals from doing much damage until the last few minutes of play, when Williams ran down for a pass catching the ball a few feet from the goal line scoring another touchdown and a free point making the score 20-0. Artesia started toward her goal again when the whistle blew closing the game.

Starting lineup for Artesia: B. Bullock, captain, qb; Ballard, fb; Hammons, t; Graham, e; Cave, g; C. Brown, hb; B. Jones, hb; Pior, g; Denton, t; Williams, e; L. Walker, c. Substitutions—Bruce for Hammons, Clyde Champion for Graham, Kuykendall for C. Brown, Heard for Pior, Graham for C. Champion, C. Champion for Williams, Paul Crockett for Jones. Referee—Mr. Storm, of Roswell.

Game Friday Friday at 2:00 p. m. the Artesia Juniors will meet the Junior football team from Carlsbad at the Brainerd park. Followers of football should not miss this game.

As manager of the Artesia plant, Mr. Morgan was awarded a nice wrist watch by the economics committee, which made an inspection of the plant several weeks ago, for the best kept and most efficiently operated plant in two states.

Reasons Why YOU SHOULD SELL OR EXCHANGE YOUR COTTON SEED AND BUY COTTONSEED MEAL AND HULLS

The yield of cottonseed meal per ton of seed crushed in the United States for the season 1930-31, was 917.4 pounds. On this basis, 4,360 pounds of cottonseed were required to produce one ton of cottonseed meal. In other words, nearly 2 1/5 tons of cottonseed are required to get one ton of cottonseed meal manufactured. In addition to requiring twice the amount of seed to furnish the meal, the oil in the seed will cause cattle to scour, if sufficient seed is fed to furnish the needed bulk as well as the feed requirements of the animals. In addition to the lint ordinarily left on the cottonseed hulls (which is desirable) the 4,360 pounds of seed contain 275 to 310 pounds excess lint that is just plain crude fiber and of no more food value than the 200 to 225 pounds of trash and dirt that are ordinarily found in 4,360 pounds of seed. The cottonseed meal is free of dirt, trash, lint, excess oil and moisture and is a concentrated feed highly digestible. On the other hand cottonseed contains so much that is not desirable from the feeder's standpoint. Why feed the seed when the meal and hulls—the only desirable part of the seed for feeding purposes—can be had in just the right proportions that you desire to feed to any class of livestock? In some cases, the meal and hull mixture is all that is needed. In order cases, it is best to mix the meal and hulls with your own farm-grown grains. Cottonseed hulls make an excellent roughage to mix with grain feeds, even if you have plenty of hay or fodder. If you are short on hay or fodder, certainly you should use some cottonseed hulls as roughage. Feeding trials have shown 100 pounds of cottonseed hulls equal to 99 pounds of Johnson grass hay, 207 pounds of corn silage, or 251 pounds of sorghum silage. Cottonseed meal is the most valuable single feed available to southern farmers. There are three main food elements needed for livestock—proteins, carbohydrates, and fats. Fats are required in very small amounts. The chief demand is for proteins and carbohydrates. Farm grains and hays are the cheapest source of carbohydrates; cottonseed meal is the cheapest source of protein. The cottonseed meal contains, also, carbohydrates and fats; but the protein is the most valuable element in the meal and is greatly needed by livestock. Cottonseed contains all of the three elements—fats, carbohydrates and proteins—but these elements in the seed are not in a form that is readily digestible; nor are they in the right proportion to meet the needs of livestock. Cottonseed is a different kind of feed from cottonseed meal. It contains a higher percentage of oil and a lower percentage of protein. The excess oil impairs the appetite and upsets the digestive system. As a source of protein, cotton seed is a costly substitute for cottonseed meal, because three pounds of seed are required to furnish as much digestible protein as is furnished by one pound of cottonseed meal. While 2 1/5 tons of cotton seed will make one tone of cottonseed meal, the protein in the seed is not as easily digested as it is in the meal, and, therefore, one pound of the meal will furnish as much digestible protein as three pounds of the cotton seed. Remember, the farmer of the south today, is entering into a new period. Cotton, cotton seed, wheat, corn, oats—in fact all farm commodities—are selling at new low levels. As a consequence, the south will plant less cotton and more feed. In order to get the most from our feed, we must sell the feed in the form of meat and milk, cream or butter. Feeding properly is more important, therefore, than ever before. The selling of quality products is also necessary. If you sell lambs, calves, steers or hogs, they must be finished properly and at weights that will bring the most on the market. If you sell milk, cream or butter, you must use the feeds that will give you, not only the most in quantity at the lowest cost, but the quality of product that will sell at the highest price on the market. Increase your farm income by lowering the cost of production and by selling quality products. Equal Parts Of Cottonseed Meal and Hulls Better Than Cotton Seed As Fertilizer. One ton of equal parts cottonseed meal and hulls contains as much nitrogen as 2600 to 2750 pounds of cotton seed, depending upon trash, dirt and moisture in the seed; the mixture of meal and hulls not only gives a great deal more nitrogen, but the use of the hulls with the meal retains the moisture and makes possible the liberation of the nitrogen from the meal more evenly than when the seed is used. For detailed information on definite methods of feeding the different classes of livestock, under varying conditions, write—

STATE GETS SUM FOR LUMBER-GRAZING FEES

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Thirty-two states and territories will share in $1,240,608 collected by the federal government for lumber and grazing fees in the national forests in the last fiscal year. The states will turn the funds over to counties containing national forest lands to be used for roads and schools. The federal payment is made in lieu of taxes on forest lands. It represents 25 per cent of the entire collections which fell from $6,751,500 in 1930 to nearly $5,000,000 in the fiscal year 1931. In addition, 10 per cent of the collections, amounting to $496,243 will go to the states for roads and trails in national forests. This is added to the regular congressional appropriations of more than $16,000,000 last year. Under special acts of congress Arizona receives $30,358 and New Mexico $525 for school funds.

FIRST SHIPMENT AUTO LICENSE PLATES

SANTA FE—The first shipment of 1932 New Mexico auto license plates has been received by State Comptroller J. M. Lujan from the Shwyder Trunk company of Denver, manufacturers of the plates. The shipment just received consisted of 12,000 license plates, and Mr. Lujan said an additional shipment will be made at a later date. Mr. Lujan said Tuesday he will call a conference of deputy license plate distributors to meet in Santa Fe during the week of October 26 to discuss plans for distributing the licenses which go on sale November 1. The new plates are green with white figures and bear the words "New Mex. 1932, Sunshine State," and in addition will have small Zia sun symbols which will be used to separate the numbers on the plate which heretofore have been separated by dashes.

Thirty Million Children . . . .

Future scientists, explorers, judges, attorneys, surgeons, inventors, legislators, senators, congressmen, even presidents, are among the more than thirty million children now in the schools—public, private, sectarian—in this nation.

Each is growing, developing, learning in an environment and under general standards of living of a quality never before known to humanity.

Parents, grandparents, brothers, sisters, cousins, friends acquaintances; all share in the benefits of our advanced American civilization.

Not the least of the factors contributing to present day living conditions of sanitation, safety, health, recreation, business and industrial development is ELECTRIC SERVICE.

All of the parents and grandparents have witnessed the period of greatest development of electric service during the past twenty years. Many are older than the electric light and power industry itself.

We are proud to have had a part in all of this. We are forging ahead, keeping pace and even trying to anticipate the growing needs of growing communities, state and nation.

We believe in the future. We are making plans to ride along with it, to help furnish the motive power to make it increasingly bigger and better.

Perhaps we can help you to help us so we may even better help you and yours in years to come.

Roadside Market Is Gaining Popularity

Attractive Display, Steady Supply Requisite.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.—WNU Service.)

A successful roadside market must front on a road with heavy traffic and must sell high-quality, fresh produce at fair prices, says Miss Caroline B. Sherman, associate agricultural economist of the United States Department of Agriculture. Attractive display, steady supply and courtesy to customers also are recommended.

That roadside markets have not invariably possessed these qualifications is attested by several investigations cited by Miss Sherman. She says, however: "Apparently the stage of mushroom growth in the roadside-market business as a whole has nearly passed. The time has come when farmers, as a group, are inclined to make a fairly careful study of the question before putting much time, money or energy into roadside markets."

Miss Sherman finds that the business of the better roadside markets is increasing. She cites as an example a study in Michigan in which many of the better markets reported increases of 10 to 15 percent in volume of sales in the second year of business. Co-operative roadside markets also are reported as being successful in some localities.

To aid farmers who contemplate entering the roadside-market business, Miss Sherman has summarized the principal factors of success and of failure in Leaflet 68-L, entitled "Roadside Markets," just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. The leaflet contains a list of state publications which set forth the results of roadside-market investigations in specified localities and indicates the states in which state or self-regulation has been tried. Leaflet 68-L may be obtained from the office of information, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington.

Fertilize Fruit Trees Shortly Before Bloom

Nitrogenous fertilizer applications for fruit trees should be made two to three weeks before bloom. The fertilizer does most good if it gets into the tissue of the tree early in the spring when it may influence the size of the leaves, the set of fruit, the length of shoot growth, and the development of fruit, says Prof. A. J. Heinicke of the New York state college of agriculture.

While the tree may absorb nitrogen even after the leaves and fruit has been formed, it is not always best to have too much available late in the growing season. The new growth in a mature apple tree requires about one and one-half pounds of actual nitrogen in a year. About one-third of this is contained in the fruit crop, and the rest is used in the leaves and shoot growth. Much of the nitrogen in the leaves is recovered and used again the following year. The quantity of reserve nitrogen in the tree and soil varies from year to year, and the plant must depend more on fertilizer one year than another.

CAVERN HIGHWAY TO BE SURFACED

SANTA FE—The New Mexico highway commission, at the suggestion of Governor Arthur Seligman, Monday ordered State Engineer Will Eccles to prepare specifications and call for bids for the gravel surfacing of nine more federal aid projects this winter, to cost $350,000.

Governor Seligman said that this plan is to aid in the relief of unemployment in the state. The highway department from various sources has saved that amount which may be used by the state, anticipating its refund later from the 1932 federal aid allotment.

All of the projects to be surfaced are on the regular federal aid program. Among the gravel surface projects are two of nineteen miles on the Carlsbad Cavern road.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

A large number of pupils are absent from this building because of cotton picking, and a few because of illness.

The school grounds have been improved by fixing soccer and football goals at each end of the court. The boys have put them up during physical education periods.

Miss James and the seventh grade girls hiked out to the Turkneth grove, about a mile and a half south of town. Wednesday afternoon at 4:15. The girls enjoyed a picnic supper, roasting weiners and marshmallows over a camp fire. Mrs. Payne, Mrs. Seale, Miss McCaw accompanied by Miss Bradley and Mrs. French drove out and brought the crowd to town.

Horse shoe pitching has won the interest of a number of Junior high boys. A tournament is being planned to be held soon. Mr. Mansfield and all the boys who are interested met Thursday afternoon to determine when it will be given.

William Harrison has been absent from school for several days. It has been reported that he has moved to Texas.

Mr. Walters has been keeping the flowers and school grounds looking nice all summer and fall.

Miss James has her regular classes begin with fancy marching, followed by setting-up exercises, simple folk dances for which the girls hum or clap to keep time. Her games are running races, and ball games. Kick-ball is very popular with the girls. Nearly all of the girls have their black and white costumes and are wearing them for class work.

Assembly was held Tuesday morning from 8:15 to 9:30. Miss Deter played two violin selections accompanied by Mrs. Harp. Rev. Scorgins made a very interesting talk. The pupils seemed to enjoy each number.

The tennis nets will not be allowed out of the building on Sunday.

EDITH WALTERS.

In our history classes each room is making a scrap book. In 8-II room some of the interesting topics which are being put in are: aviation, inventions, nature, foreign news, sports, news of the U. S. A., words of the wise, here's how, how it began, believe it or not, strange as it seems, and in the back of the book we're putting good jokes.

We are getting pictures and articles for our books by having each member of the class bring one from a newspaper which he has at home. That way it saves expense of buying a regular current event paper for the class and is also very interesting. When we finish our books we hope to exchange books with another class.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in hives, your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned. It takes these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. ### BULLDOGS DEFEAT FT. SUMNER IN MARCH TO AREA FOOTBALL TITLE

While stiff opposition has ceased to give the Artesia Bulldogs unusual worry, they do run up against real competition at times and the game with Fort Sumner on the Fort Sumner grid, Friday was no exception. The Fort Sumner lads put up a real battle to hold the Bulldogs scoreless in the first quarter of Friday's football game. The first touchdown came in the second quarter when Hill, aided by excellent interference, ran thirty-five yards for a touch down, but the locals failed to make the extra point in a line plunge. In the second quarter, with a series of line plunges, and a pass from Brown to Ransbarger the Bulldogs brot the ball to the Fort Sumner three yard line. The ball was given to Hill and he went off right tackle for the second score, but again the local eleven failed to make the extra point.

Hill was replaced by Champion at the start of the second half. A series of end runs brot the ball within twelve yards of the Fort Sumner goal, but an incomplete pass in the end zone gave the ball to Fort Sumner and the ball was immediately punted to a zone of safety. Artesia again carried the ball to the Fort Sumner six yard line to lose the ball on another incomplete pass.

At the start of the fourth quarter Norris intercepted a pass and carried the ball to the Fort Sumner three yard line. A pass from Brown to Ransbarger netted another goal. Hill replaced Norris. Artesia threatened to score twice more but lacked the punch to put the ball over the line. The final score: Artesia 18, Fort Sumner 0.

No Game Friday
It was erroneously stated in the last issue of The Advocate that Clovis would meet the Bulldogs at the Brainard park, Friday, but the Clovis game is set for the 23rd with Friday an open date. However, Coach Allen does not intend to let his charges rest. He is of the opinion that the team is getting a little dead on the subject of football and football suits will be discarded for track suits this week-end, altho practice periods will be held at usual with work on speed, spiking, blocking and tackling.

Friday, the 23rd Clovis will be here and from all indications will give a tough battle, maybe too tough, but Coach Allen hopes not as his men will be in the pink of condition, altho the team must work with clock-like precision if they expect to win. T. C. Bird, who scouted the game between

Controversy Over Word

We do not find that any word in the Bible has no meaning, but there has been for many centuries controversy as to the precise meaning of the word "Selah." This occurs 71 times in the Book of Psalms and three times in Habakkuk. It is variously described as a musical rest, a recommending for the bending of the body in reverence, and as an ejaculation corresponding to hallelujah.—Washington Star.

Roman Cities in Gilead

After their conquest of Palestine the Romans built several fine cities in Gilead, attracted by the beauty and verdure of its hills and plains. The ruins of Jerash, one of these, are said to be the finest and most perfect remains in existence of the power and glory of Rome. And Jerash is at the extreme edge of verdant Gilead, near to where forests cease and desert wastes begin.

White Spruce

White spruce is the most important as well as one of the most widely distributed commercial tree species in Canada. The estimate of white spruce by the forest service, department of the interior, is about 20,000,000,000 cubic feet, or one-third of the total spruce stand of all species in Canada.

Patty Was Only Fooling

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

A GIRL and a man leaned over the Matsonia's bow rail and contemplated the curling, swishing green water. It had been some time since either spoke and then it had been the young man who had dropped into an abyss of silence, a few words weighted with significance.

"I expect my fiancée will meet me at the dock," he said.

The girl at his side had made no comment at first, but had the man's gray eyes not been fixed on the dim distant shore line that was California, he might have seen that her lip quivered and her hand gripped the rail tightly.

When she did speak, she was smiling, and her eyes drew and held his steadily. "I am soon to be married myself!" she said. "Congratulations!"

But some minutes later Patty Wayne entered her stateroom, only to fling herself face downward on her berth.

"Cruel—cruel—cruel!" she moaned. Then she sat up resolutely. "Well, it's over," she said. "I let myself care, but it is only fair to say that he never took any advantage. I just dreamed and let myself think—" In spite of her effort at self-control the tears came again.

Patty Wayne and Dick Comstock were returning from vacations spent in Hawaii's sunny paradises. Strangely enough, they had wandered through the islands without meeting, only to fall into casual acquaintanceship the very afternoon that the Matsonia left Honolulu. A moonlight night with its witchery of shining heaven and gleaming translucent water had quickly touched their relation with something else than mere acquaintanceship.

And to Patty, at least, pretty little brown-eyed kindergarten teacher, the moment when the journey would end was something not to be thought about. Unless—

Patty had not realized how very much she was depending upon that "unless" until that bitter ten minutes at the bow rail. She hadn't once suspected that there had been any other girl in Dick's life. He had spoken of years away at college, of more or less erratic wanderings about the world, of nothing that hinted at any tie which would hold him to a settled existence.

On the other hand, he had not made love to Patty. And now she thought she must have been mistaken when she fancied she saw him looking at her with love and longing in his eyes. Probably, she told herself scornfully when she supposed he was looking at her, he was in reality seeing the face of his absent fiancée.

They said good-by just before the steamer docked, standing beside the gangplank, amidst a great creaking of hawsers about the winches.

"Good-by, Patty," he said quietly. "I—oh, hang it. Good-by." "Good-by, Dick. I hope you'll be very happy!" But the last she saw of him as she turned to go ashore was a pair of miserable gray eyes and a white, set mouth.

She had finished seeing about her baggage and was wondering vaguely just where to find a decent restaurant when some one came quickly up behind her.

"Patty—oh, Patty!"

It was Dick, and in his hand was a telegram. He didn't look particularly happy, but his eyes had lost their forlorn expression.

"I do want to tell you the whole story," he was saying. "Even if, under the circumstances, it won't do any good."

LOCAL LEGION POST ASKS REFERENDUM ON 18TH AMENDMENT

Endorses Action Of National Convention—Post Is In Doubt If Law Is Favored By Majority Of States. Now.

Members of the Clarence Kepple Post, American Legion, assembled in the regular monthly meeting last week, unanimously approved a resolution endorsing the action of the national convention at Detroit, Michigan in asking that the Eighteenth amendment be submitted to various states for ratification or rejection.

Synopsis of the meeting included the installation of new officers, appointment of a committee to set a date for the Legion and Auxiliary to go to the river and cut tamarack. The tamarack to be given to the needy this winter for fuel. Completed arrangements for butchering two beaves to be donated by Col. Woods and canned under the supervision of E. W. Dimock at Hope, appointment of a patrol to assist in regulating traffic by the Central school.

The Resolution

The full text of the resolution asking that the Eighteenth amendment be submitted to the people follows: To the Department Commander State of New Mexico, American Legion.

Whereas, Clarence Kepple Post No. 41, Artesia, New Mexico, of the American Legion believe that there is an undue amount of lawlessness and disrespect for law in the United States, and, whereas, we think that a great deal of this lawlessness and disrespect for law is directly attributed to the 18th amendment, and, whereas, we feel that no law can be enforced unless it has a majority in favor of it, and, whereas, we feel that there is doubt as to whether the majority of the people in these United States favor this law, and, whereas, in the National Convention of the American Legion assembled in Detroit it was the wish of this assembly that this 18th amendment shall be resubmitted to the various states and, whereas, our own delegates from the state of New Mexico endorsed this resolution, therefore, be it resolved that Clarence Kepple Post No. 41, Artesia, New Mexico endorse the stand taken by the National convention and by the New Mexico delegates to this convention.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to our executive committee man, Roy Cook of Albuquerque, New Mexico and our Departmental Commander Everett Grantham, and signed Clarence Kepple Post No. 41, Artesia, New Mexico.
H. W. CLADY, Adjutant.

He paused, giving Patty a chance to ask somewhat coldly, for all the unreasonable beating of her heart: "Where's your fiancée?"

"That's what I wanted to explain," he said eagerly. "You see, when I was a kid in high school I was sweet on a girl—and well, we got engaged. We kept it up while I was in college and although afterwards I didn't see so much of her, still I always supposed some day we'd be married, and be very happy."

"Then I went to Hawaii—and well, the place sort of got under my skin. The beauty, and all, but I knew I wouldn't want to be there with Flossie—which told me a whole lot. So I wrote her, as nicely as I could, that I thought we'd both made a mistake being so young and—well, the day before I left Honolulu I got a telegram, saying she would hold me to my promise and would meet me when I landed."

"Is—that it?" Patty indicated the yellow paper.

"This? Oh, no. Wait until I finish. I met you and fell in love. But what could I do, bound to another? When we docked a messenger handed me this."

He held out the paper and Patty read: "Mr. Richard Comstock: I had to punish you a little first. But don't worry. I am soon to be married myself."

"FLORENCE!"

"You see—" said Dick. "And—well, I just had to tell you, even if you are engaged—" "Me? Engaged? Oh—" and Patty blushed, remembering. "I just said that in—in self-defense!" Dick gripped her arm. "Then you're not going to be married soon?"

"No—that is—I mean—" and then they both laughed joyously.
