Consider Gas Tax to Provide Jobs Here

Mayor Clowe Promises Action on Tax as Soon as Ordinance Is Reviewed By City Attorney Jackson.

Means and means of giving immediate attention to further financial local welfare work were discussed at a joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, American Legion, City Council, Welfare League, City Council, Welfare League and Artesia Rotary at the Artesia hotel Tuesday evening. It was the consensus of opinion that something should be done at once to further replenish the community chest funds. While the matter of keeping the work of the welfare committee going, it is a matter of concern to the entire community. There is no doubt but that the people respond to another drive funds, but throwing the needy rely on charity will be unsatisfactory to both the givers and the recipients. The worthy way. The best way out of the B. 14, La Huerfana is to provide employment for those who must have and the majority of those Tuesday evening's meeting feel that there is only one way open to finance an unemployment program and that is the way of the one-cent gas tax. Others measure for providing a program to provide for those actually in need discussed, but were rejected. Mayor Clowe has agreed to call meeting of the City Council to consider the gas tax ordinance as soon as it is received by the city attorney, J. Jackson. It is proposed to re-aggregate the penny gas tax as an emergency measure to provide for civic improvement work the unemployed, which project is endorsed by the Artesia Chamber of Commerce, the Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion and other civic organizations. It was further proposed at the meeting Tuesday night to create an advisory committee from these organizations to act as an employment agency, in street or civic work is needed. The advisory committee announced by the various organizations includes: Chamber of Commerce, Fred Brainerd; Rotary (continued on last page, column 7)

TWO VALLEY MEN AWARDED THE BEAVER BADGE AT SCOUT MEET

One Hundred Twenty-Five Attend Area Scout Meet At Roswell; Huffman Will Go To New Field About March 1.

There was splendid attendance at the annual meeting of the eastern New Mexico Boy Scout area council, Friday afternoon and evening at Roswell. One hundred twenty-five scout leaders were registered at the business session Friday afternoon and 101 leaders attended the annual banquet at the Women's club building Friday evening. Messrs. S. W. Gilbert, E. B. Bullock and Troy Olds were among the local scout leaders from Artesia. One of the most interesting events Friday afternoon was the conferring of the Beaver badge, second highest award in scouting to two Pecos valley men, E. B. Bullock of Artesia and George B. Jewett of Roswell. This badge was awarded for noteworthy service to boyhood in general and Boy Scout work in particular. J. P. Fitch of Dallas, Texas, regional scout executive, recommended five immediate objectives in Boy Scout work, speaking at the banquet Friday evening. The first objective was to extend Boy Scout work at least twenty five per cent, the second, enroll institutions which will sponsor troops with enthusiasm; third, glorify the scoutmaster; fourth, increase the tenure of active scout training from about two years to four years and fifth, encourage the system of having the boys teach the boys under the supervision of an adult leader.

Minor Huffman Promoted
Announcement was also made at the meeting that Minor Huffman of Roswell, area scout executive had been promoted to deputy regional executive of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. Mr. Huffman has served eastern New Mexico as area executive for the past seven years. He will take up his new duties about March 1st.

Officers Elected
Lt. Governor A. W. Hockenull of Clovis was elected president of the area council for the coming year. Other new officers are E. B. Bullock, Artesia, first vice-president; F. L. Austin, Roswell, second vice-president; George B. Jewett, Roswell, treasurer; C. G. Mason, Hagerman, secretary; Maj. L. B. Plummer, Roswell, commissioner; and E. B. Birch Harrison, Carlsbad, national commissioner. Harrison is the retiring president. P. V. Thorson of Albuquerque has been appointed to succeed Minor Huffman as area executive, it was said at Roswell Saturday. Mr. Thorson was formerly area executive of the Rio Grande area, the largest scout territory in the state outside of the eastern area. He will spend this week visiting the various communities in the area.

TEN MILLIONS FOR FARMERS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Legislation to set up a $10,000,000 revolving fund to assist agriculture credit corporations was approved Monday by the house agriculture committee. The bill, drafted by Chairman Jones with the assistance of the agriculture department, is designed to make available additional credit to farmers from the intermediate credit banks. The secretary of agriculture would make loans from the fund up to 75 per cent of the capital stock of credit corporations with at least $10,000 capitalization. Under the law, funds of intermediate credit banks are available to farmers only through such corporations.

DISTRICT COURT IN SESSION

The Eddy county district is still in session at Carlsbad with Judge H. A. Kiker presiding. Judge Kiker expects to practically clear the docket before court adjourns on March 2nd. A number of civil cases have been heard. The court has approved the sale of the Sullivan refinery at Dayton.

Mrs. Helen Muncy brought her son, Delbert, in from Hope Tuesday to stay with his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harve Muncy while he is convalescing from scarlet fever.

Lea County Officer Killed

Deputy Sheriff J. M. Clifton of Lea county died in an airplane en route from Tatum to Lubbock, Texas about 8:30 o'clock last night the victim of wounds inflicted by two desperadoes who were instantly killed in a gun battle with Clifton yesterday morning, according to word from Roswell. The three deaths are the result of a shooting at Cross Roads, N. M., fifteen miles north of Tatum about 10:00 o'clock yesterday morning. Suspected of participation in the robbery of the Dean Hardware store at Lovington on Tuesday night, John O'Dell, 23, believed to be a convict escaped from the Oklahoma penitentiary, and Walter Carlocke, 22, wanted in Oklahoma for bank robbery, were shot and killed by Clifton in self-defense.

Before they died, the gunmen pumped three bullets into the deputy sheriff. Cal Barnett, manager of the Roswell airport, was summoned to Tatum to rush the wounded man to a Lubbock hospital. Flying a cabin plane owned by Herbert Joyce, Barnett took off from Roswell shortly after 5:00 o'clock. In a communication to Roswell, the pilot said Clifton died about forty minutes after leaving Tatum on the hop to Lubbock.

Clifton received a telephone call from his "chief," Sheriff Robert Beverly of Lovington, about 9:00 o'clock yesterday morning, with word to watch for the two desperadoes believed implicated in the hardware robbery. The deputy sheriff stopped the automobile near Cross Roads, and the two occupants stepped out.

Carlocke flashed a 41 Colt Revolver, and as Clifton started to disarm him, O'Dell fired a 38 special revolver, the bullet hitting the officer in the stomach and penetrating nearly through his body. As Clifton fell he drew his gun and shot and killed O'Dell. Then seeing Carlocke start for the car and believing him to be after another gun, the deputy fired and killed him. The deputy fired three shot, hitting both men in the heart.

Despite three gunshot wounds,

Clifton managed to drive his own car to Cross Roads, where he remained conscious and rational long enough to relate a coherent story to officers. Sheriff Beverly called from Lovington, and Sheriff John C. Peck, who sped to the scene from Roswell, summoned a plane from Lubbock.

When Transport Pilot Don Branson arrived from Lubbock, Clifton's condition was so critical that physicians would not allow him to be moved in the open ship Branson had flown. District Attorney Judson G. Osburn, who arrived to aid in the investigation, telephoned Barnett to rush to the scene.

An examination of the car the gunmen were driving revealed they were not connected with the robbery of the hardware store, from which, according to Manager Dean, the thieves obtained firearms, ammunition, knives and other articles valued at between $500 and $700. Another gun—for which the deputy sheriff believed Carlocke had started—was found in the car.

RANCH OVERSTOCKED WITH BIG GAME

One ranch composed of seventy-six sections southeast of Alamogordo is overstocked with big game and the State Game Commission will take steps to relieve this condition, it was announced last week following an inspection by representative of the game department. No statement was made as to the number of deer or other game found in this area, but game officials estimate that there are at least double the number the ranch will carry. This ranch owned by J. Malcomb Shelton has been closed to general hunting for several years.

CREAMERY MAN TO BE HERE TO CONFER WITH FARMERS SAT.

A party interested in the establishment of a creamery here is expected in Artesia the latter part of the week to inspect the territory. Fred Brainerd, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday. It is likely that a conference will be arranged between the creamery representative, the farmers and some of the business men, Mr. Brainerd said. Any producer of milk who is interested in the project may be able to get further details by calling at the Chamber of Commerce office.

COMPLETES FILING TAX PAPERS RECENTLY

Chas. H. Jones of Carlsbad, special attorney for the state tax commission, has completed filing papers in connection with the collection of delinquent taxes on Eddy county real estate. Suits are to be filed on real estate delinquencies as far back as 1920. As soon as returns are received from Santa Fe, more than 250 tax suits will be instituted in the district court for the collection of delinquent taxes on real estate. Mr. Jones has also completed a large number of complaints for collecting delinquent taxes on personal property. These complaints are now in the hands of the sheriff's office for collection.

WANTS AID FOR FARMERS

Col. Albert T. Woods spent the first part of the week in El Paso conferring with officials of the federal reserve bank, with reference to a plan to aid the farmers and stockmen under the newly organized Federal Reconstruction Corporation. Details regarding the procedure of securing financial aid are to be worked out, especially as to the forming of a local organization. If the plan goes through, it is likely that a valley chairman will be appointed to supervise all applications for aid from the Pecos valley. What Col. Woods and others interested want to accomplish is to clear away the red tape usual in such cases and enable the farmers and stockmen to secure funds without unnecessary delay.

CHECK LIVESTOCK ON FARMS

The Eddy county tax appraisers met with the Chaves county board of appraisers at Roswell Thursday and checked the list of livestock on farms and ranches in the two counties. A meeting with the Otero county board will be held at an early date it was learned.

SLOW RAINS GIVE BEST SPRING SEASON SEEN HERE IN YEARS

Slow Rains Give Good Season As 1.35 Inches Fall Here—Snow Falls In Foothills And The Mountains.

A slow rain fell at intervals for approximately a sixty-four hour period, ending Sunday afternoon and covering practically the eastern section of the state and parts of west Texas. The total precipitation was 1.35 inches. The rainfall was heavier to the north and west. The Hope section received both rain and snow, although the snow was light. It grew heavier toward the Sacramento mountains and the snowfall amounted to more than three inches, according to reports.

Old timers declare that the moisture falling over the week-end was more than has been seen here in several years in the latter part of February. In fact moisture at this particular season is unusual. A number of farmers this year will prepare their ground without any winter irrigation. Winter ranges are the best seen here in years with winter grass and weeds greening rapidly in places where the vegetation is protected.

If an early spring occurs, which is now in prospect, there is little likelihood that the stockmen will find it necessary to feed more than thirty days longer.

I. C. C. REOPENS THE HAY RATE CASES

SANTA FE—Pecos valley hay growers are being notified by Chairman Hugh Williams of the New Mexico Corporation commission that the interstate commerce commission has reopened the general hay rates investigation and that a hearing will be conducted at El Paso on March 30th.

These hay rates have been under consideration since 1928 and it was the consensus of opinion of the commissioners of the various states to which the interstate commerce commission agreed, that the case should be opened for re-hearing to enable hay growers to bring their case up to date.

The Pecos Valley Hay Growers association has vigorously contested the proposed new schedules, arguing that they would wreck the hay growing industry in New Mexico.

MRS. JUDD TO HANG

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Winnie Ruth Judd, convicted slayer of Agnes Anne LeRo, was denied a new trial yesterday in superior court and Judge Howard C. Speakman sentenced her to be hanged.

May 11 was fixed as date for execution of the sentence. Before sentence was passed Mrs. Judd stood before Judge Speakman and attempted to argue that evidence presented in the case was not sufficient to convict her.

She charged that county attorney, Lloyd J. Andrews had not presented all the evidence in the case.

"Those women were not killed in bed," Mrs. Judd declared a moment before Judge Speakman set the date for her hanging. She maintained her composure and showed no signs of nervousness. Judge Speakman stopped her several times during her argument before the court.

"You have been in California and Arizona in the hands of the police for months," the judge said, "if you had anything more to say than is in the records of this court, then was the time to have said it, not now."

The Production Credit Corporation will open a central office here about March 1st, to give financial assistance to farmers, it was announced recently.

Directors Of Water Dist. Organize At Roswell

Light Vote Cast In The Election Saturday—Dr. Crile, Roswell Is Made Chairman Of Board At First Meeting Tuesday.

A light vote was polled in the election of five directors of the Pecos valley artesian water conservancy district, Saturday. Only 354 voters turned out in the five districts, which was probably due to the fact that there was opposition in only two of the five districts. The vote here in district 4 from Main street to the south city limits of Hagerman was cast principally by farmers.

In district 5, George Frisch polled a total of 53 votes; in district 4, Jesse Funk of the Cottonwood defeated W. A. Hamilton of Lake Arthur 84-52; in district 3, M. Y. Monical of Dexter defeated W. F. Kerr also of Dexter 80-22; John Mullis of Roswell received 31 votes in district 2 and Dr. A. D. Crile polled 50 votes in district 1.

The Pecos valley conservancy district composed of 290,000 acres of land was started in the fall and a court order approving the district was signed by Judge Kiker on January 11th, of this year.

Dr. A. D. Crile of Roswell was elected chairman of the Pecos valley conservancy district directors at the first meeting of the newly elected directors at Roswell Tuesday. John Mullis also of Roswell was elected secretary-treasurer. Lots were also drawn to establish the tenure of office of the directors, which will be as follows: Dr. A. D. Crile and Jesse Funk, of Cottonwood, two years; M. Y. Monical, of Dexter and John Mullis of Roswell, four years and George Frisch of Artesia, five years.

PLUGGING BROWN WELLS

Machinery for plugging abandoned and leaky artesian wells used by the artesian well supervisor has been moved to the old Brown wells southeast of town and preliminary operations have been started in stopping the wastage of artesian water on the Brown farm. W. M. Ervin artesian well supervisor and assistant last week finished plugging a well northwest of Hagerman, estimated to be wasting 1,950 gallons of water per minute. The well just plugged is said to have wasted about 3,000 acre feet of water, sufficient for the irrigation of 1,000 acres of land.

CITY ELECTION TO BE HELD APRIL 5TH

April 5th will be the date of the biennial city election, at which time the voters will select a mayor. The four aldermen, Arba Green, S. E. Ferree, C. O. Brown and M. W. Evans, elected in 1930 for a term of four years have another two years to serve. The city clerk and city treasurer, heretofore elected under the town government will be appointed this year by the city council under the new city form of government.

So far there has been only one candidate announced for mayor, this being Joe Clayton. The present incumbent, D. I. Clowe has not made known his plans. It is understood that Mr. Clowe has received several solicitations recently to make the race for a second term.

LAMB SHIPMENTS NET FAIR RETURNS LATELY

Satisfactory returns were received on 1250 lambs shipped to the Kansas City market some two weeks ago by Bridgman and Wheatley of Hope. Approximately 500 head netted $6.10; five hundred head netted $5.50 and 250 netted about $5.15.

Mrs. Jack Boren underwent an operation for appendicitis at the St. Mary's hospital in Roswell Monday evening and at the last report was resting well.

NO EDDY WELLS WOULD SPOTLIGHT

Two Eddy county wells featuring the chief interest in the eastern oil area this week, completion was made by the W. and Y. Oil Co., in its State 61, Sec. 32-18-38, yesterday in the well was shot with 90 feet of nitro. Twenty-five feet of pay was shot at a depth of approximately 2,000 feet. This responded nicely by cleaning up and today the drillers, H. Brothers, are engaged in cleaning out the hole. Company officials anticipate that the State 61 will be an average producer, possibly better, but the formation of the well will not be tested until today.

Program of the Compton No. 1 of the E. D. Compton Oil in the NE sec. 8-18-27, on west edge of the Eddy county, will be watched with interest during the next twenty-four hours. Drilling was progressing rapidly, that drilling was progressing rapidly, that drilling was progressing rapidly, that drilling was progressing rapidly.

The Grayburg Oil Co., is drilling below 600 feet in its Burch 3, NW sec. 19-17-30, Eddy county. Another producer is expected to be added soon to the Hobbs in the No. 6-A 33 State of Continental Oil Co., sec. 33-18-17, which is reported to be drilling below 4,000 feet.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

The post office department has "run in the hole" $146,000,000 the past year.

And still there are people who want the government to own and operate everything down to the hot-dog stands.

And cities are being urged to take over privately-owned public service utilities.

Our government is $4,000,000,000 in the hole. Taxes are up to the limit. People are broke.

Yet we are being told that government ownership is the only thing.

Do you think any well regulated private utility corporation would stand for the graft and waste that is being practiced in this government—national and state?

"That which is everybody's business is nobody's business" is the truth.

We have laws to regulate all corporations dealing with the public.

If they are not properly regulated it is because our public servants cannot be depended on to do their duty.

Better go slow about government ownership of utilities.—Ozark Star.

THE GAS TAX

There are some objectionable features connected with the proposed penny gasoline tax to supply revenue for street and municipal improvements to aid the unemployed. Except for an emergency measure the gas tax would likely prove unpopular, however, the community chest is facing the alternative of either aiding the unemployed or of making another drive for funds, which are being rapidly depleted. Personally we think the gas tax is the only logical course because it would give the town some needed improvements and at the same time enable the needy to earn their own way.

Where street oiling is contemplated as more or less of a permanent improvement, we believe that it is only fair that the property owner who receives this benefit should share in the expense, where such an arrangement is possible. It is hardly fair to ask the heavy user of gasoline to improve the other fellows property, unless in an exceptional case. Where an emergency exists, as at the present time, such objections should not be permitted to hinder the starting of the project.

LIGHT, HEAT AND REFRIGERATION

Whoever first used gas for illumination would be amazed if he were still alive to see the progress made by that industry.

In addition to gas lighting, a multitude of new and greater uses have taken its place. It is claimed that in more than 20,000 industrial operations gas plays a part—it is an outstanding cooking agency—it warms the home in winter and cools it in summer—it manufactures ice, and so on. And the gas industry serves a population of 85,000,000 and employs 150,000 people.

All this has taken place in little more than a century. That is real progress.

Customs and sayings of George Washington's time have proved quite interesting to modern day folks during the celebration of the Bicentennial. We have come to appreciate Washington for what he did, especially in view of the circumstances under which he served as president. The future then was more uncertain than now and there must have been lost of grumbling and dissatisfaction, but somehow this part of past history does not interest us now.

A Chicago woman saved $700 by keeping her mouth shut when a robber was in action in her presence, notes the Pittsburgh Headlight. She had her jewels in her mouth. Of course, not every woman will have $700 in jewels in her mouth when a robber is around but perhaps there is a slight suggestion in the incident, says an exchange.

During 1931 the value of the dollar climbed from an average of 123.8 cents in January to a high of 149.9 cents for the week ending December 24th. Thus, the steady decline in commodity prices has done much to offset other factors of the depression.

A wave of national patriotism has swept many European nations and they have adopted the "buy at home movement" with fervor. All of which has made it harder to revive a spirit of international co-operation and international peace, says one writer.

Running for mayor of Seattle, a candidate has for his slogan: "Make Seattle famous if we have to put hula hula skirts on the cops." Well, maybe that would be one way to make them show a little movement.

The League Commission has finally admitted war exists in China. Now we wonder what the commission calls what's been going on for the past three weeks or a month in China.

Tax the bootlegger is one suggestion by W. C. McAduo, former Wilson cabinet member for raising additional revenue. We would think it wise to catch him first.

There are thirty-five candidates in Roosevelt county (Yamville). We did not know before that sweet spuds had that kind of effect on folks.

Don't forget that now is a mighty good time to plant trees and shrubbery. A little planning ahead will save you trouble later.

Let's see if we can swap the democratic "gadget" for the republican nail picker. We believe the latter is more useful.

HATCHING SEASON

During the last year or so chickens have been mighty valuable property especially to those people who have been selling eggs. True eggs are low in price, but eggs are being produced cheaper than for a great many years. Poultrymen that are getting eggs have a nice margin of profit between the cost of production and selling price of eggs.

The policy of keeping records lately has had its effect in getting people interested in just what the hen will do for them and they are making arrangements now to expand in the poultry business.

This brings us back to the subject of baby chicks that we discussed in this column before. The proper care of baby chicks during the starting period and thru the growing period is a very important factor in the net returns from the poultry business.

You should plan to get things in readiness before chicks come. You'll want to clean the brooder houses used last year. Scrub the floors with soap and water. Drench the ceiling, walls and floors with a good, strong coal-tar disinfectant. The job of getting the house in order should be completed at least two weeks before any chicks are put into the brooder.

It may be that you are planning to build new brooder houses this year. If so, you can get plans from your state college or county agent.

Provide plenty of ventilation in your brooder houses and avoid having chicks "gassed" because of insufficient ventilation. See that the ventilator near the top of the front wall of the house is open most of the time. A hole in the rear wall under the eaves constructed the same as the one in the front, gives a more rapid exchange of air. Avoid drafts, directly on chicks—but don't skimp on fresh air.

The brooder house should face the south or southwest, except where strong prevailing winds are from this direction. It should be placed on dry, well-drained soil out of the direct path of storms and winds. If the skids are rested on flat stones there is less danger of rotting. Be sure the house sets level and has double flooring with building paper between the floors.

You can't afford to overcrowd chicks in the brooder house. Crowded chicks often do all right for the first two weeks, but after that they lost their pigment, become stunted and never recover. Many cases of cannibalism can be traced to overcrowding.

The smaller the brooder house is, the greater the danger of crowding the chicks. The 10x12 house will handle from 200 to 300 chicks. A 1,000 chick size brooder will care for 350 to 400 chicks; the 500 chick size will comfortably care for 250 chicks. Allow one square foot of floor space to every three chicks. It is unwise and costly to overcrowd chicks in the brooder house. Three chicks per square foot is the maximum—and if more room can be allowed more chicks and stronger chicks will be raised.

No matter what type of stove is used, coal, oil burning or electric, run them several days in advance to see that everything is in good shape and to make the adjustments on the thermostats. To get the temperature up to 95-97° F. (when the thermometer hangs from the edge of the hover with the bulb three inches from the floor), will require several adjustments to allow the check draft to remain closed until the necessary heat is being produced. To start chicks off 95-97° F. brooding temperature is necessary. This temperature must be maintained for the first week, after which it can be allowed to drop to 88-90° F. Lower the temperature as the chicks get older. Chicks should be hardened off by the time they are 6-7 weeks old, even though a low fire is run for several weeks thereafter.

From the time chicks are put into the brooder until they have learned what feed and drink are, the litter should be covered with paper or burlap to prevent chicks eating litter. The paper or burlap should be laid within three inches of the stove. Pink building paper is ideal. You can remove the paper by the middle of the second day after feeding. When chicks are put under the canopy, a guard is necessary to keep them from heddling in a corner away from heat. Take a roll of one-inch mesh wire one foot high and circle the brooder, about 15 inches from the edge of the hover. This wire should be covered with muslin or, after it is in place, drape burlap bags over it from the outside to check all floor drafts.

Peat moss or shavings make a suitable litter for chicks. Both are lighter than the droppings, which allows the droppings to sift to the floor.

The third or fourth week, construct a roost of six perches across the back of the house. Use 1x2 inch material, lying flat, five inches apart, as the roosting poles and 2x2 material for roost supports. Let it lie flat on the floor

HEALTH COLUMN

Conducted by Dr. J. R. Earp, Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health.

COMPARATIVE COSTS

During a recent year the average American citizen spent ten dollars for candy, nine dollars for education, three and a half dollars for police and fire protection, seventy-five cents for perfumes, fifty cents for chewing gum and twenty-five cents for public health.

It costs from $3,000 to $10,000 to surface a mile of roadway. A public health nursing service costs $2,750 a year. The cost of keeping a public health nurse permanently in the community cannot therefore be greater than the cost of keeping ten miles of road in repair.

To go back to costs per capita. Union county pays twenty-six cents per capita for its public health nurse. Grant county has no nurse. They could have one for fifteen cents per capita. San Miguel county could have a nurse for twelve cents per capita.

The people of New Mexico pay about two dollars per capita for the education of children who are not in school but at home on account of sickness.

How much is it worth to save a baby's sight, to restore usefulness to crooked limbs, to save a child; life that would be taken by diphtheria or summer complaint? We can afford good roads—can we afford a nurse?

To know what to do is wisdom; To know how to do it is skill; To do the thing as it should be done is service.

Smilin' Charlie Says-

"Accidents always occur where we least expect them--that's why they happen there ----" for several days. Later, raise the rear ends of the supports about six inches and fasten to a temporary cleat on the back wall. Underneath the roost, fasten 1 inch mesh poultry wire, being careful to wire it in so that the chicks cannot possibly get through behind or under the roosts. A week later, raise the rear end of the roost supports about 10 inches. In another week raise the front end up so the roost is level, and about fifteen inches from the floor.

The brooder house should be deeper (north and south) than it is wide (east and west). This allows the chicks to spend most of their time in the front of the house, in the light and away from the stove. The brooder stove should be placed slightly toward the rear of the house.

The Family Rock-Pile

How many hours do you spend each day, seven days a week, in your kitchen?

Does it make you feel as though you were chained to a rock-pile, with a never ending routine of tasks connected with the preparation of three meals a day and their aftermath of dirty dishes?

If so, there is a servant—electricity—within your door, loafing around and waiting to be put to work. There is scarcely a kitchen task which it will not do willingly, slightly, better than you can do it yourself, and for the most nominal wage.

Why be chained to a family rock-pile when this new servant will release you from it?

NON PRODUCING OIL
LAND MAY BE TAXED

The New Mexico tax commission will assess for taxation for 1932 taxes, non-producing oil and gas leases on privately owned fee lands, Chief Tax Commissioner Byron O. Beall said at Santa Fe Saturday.

The decision of the New Mexico tax commission, which Mr. Beall said follows the present practice of California, Arkansas, Kansas, Kentucky, Ohio, Texas, Tennessee, Vermont and West Virginia is based upon an opinion by Attorney General E. K. Neumann and research into court records even to the United States supreme court.

Lea, Eddy, San Juan and McKinley counties are the only four materially effected by the decision. Discussions have been going forward for more than four years over whether such non-producing leases constitute taxable property under the minerals taxation code.

The state tax commission, he said, will conduct a meeting in June or July to determine the method of fixing values on these leases for taxation purposes.

Turning to the Hobbs oil field, as portrayed in the official map of the Midwest Refining Co., to illustrate the effect of taxing non-producing leases, Mr. Beall pointed out that within the bounds of the field proper are 70,398 acres of land under oil and gas lease of which 6,320 acres are under production.

All of the producing area, which is taxed on royalty, is owned by major oil companies with the exception of 560 producing acres which is owned by seven individuals.

All of the remainder of the area included in the scope of the field and which is non-producing is held by the major oil companies, Mr. Beall said, with the exception of 2,600 acres owned by twelve individuals.

The principal lease holders within the combined producing and non-producing areas, Mr. Beall said, are: Amerada 53,020 acres; Continental, 9,120 acres; Gypsy, 8,700 acres; Humble 4,500 acres; Ohio, 1,640 acres; Prairie Oil and Gas 2,940 acres; Shell 2,080 acres; Texas Company 11,068 acres; Tidal, 2,920 acres.

Attorney General E. K. Neumann held that "leases and mineral deeds and royalty agreements on fee land constitute taxable property and should be returned to be assessed by the tax commission.

CATTLE GROWERS TO MEET IN CARLSBAD
MARCH 4TH AND 5TH

ALBUQUERQUE — Changes in the usual order of things have been made in the plans for the Eighteenth Annual Convention of The New Mexico Cattle Growers Association to be held in the court room at Carlsbad, New Mexico, March 4 and 5.

In order that the visiting cattlemen and others attending the convention may be given time for a trip to the Carlsbad Caverns, the opening session of the convention will be called for 7:00 o'clock the evening of March 4.

The opening session this year promises to be a most interesting session if plans that are now being worked out are completed.

Honorable Arthur Seligman, governor of New Mexico and Honorable L. A. Swigart, mayor of Carlsbad will welcome the cattlemen and S. W. Land of Glen-coe will respond.

This will be followed by the annual address of President R. H. Royall and addresses by Carl B. Livingston on "The Land Nobody Knows," and Col. E. N. Wentworth, director of Armour's livestock bureau at Chicago. These addresses will be interesting and instructive.

March 5 will be given over to the convention. Addresses on subjects of vital importance to the cattle industry will be made by well informed men.

Financing of the cattle industry; marketing of livestock; public domain legislation; tuberculosis eradication of range herds; traffic problems and many other problems will be discussed by the following—R. C. Pollock, manager of the national livestock and meat board; Jas. F. Hinkle, state land commissioner, Chas. E. Blaine, traffic counsel and F. E. Mollin, secretary of the American national livestock association; Francis C. Wilson, member, committee on the conservation and administration of the public domain; Dr. H. L. Kent, president of the New Mexico college of agriculture and mechanic arts; and others. The afternoon will be given over to the business of the association. Resolutions will be read and discussed; officers elected; and the next annual meeting place decided upon.

BELIEVED TO BE DEAD
SHOWS UP AGAIN

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The last health hen on earth, believed to have been dead, as it had not been seen for nine months, has again been sighted near the traditional nesting field of the last health hen on Martha's Vineyard Island, Massachusetts, according to word reaching the American Game Association from Dr. Alfred O. Rowland, an ornithologist of Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine, officially in charge of health hen keys for a number of years.

Apparently in perfect health, the cock bird, sole survivor since the death of a species which formerly ranged New England states in water numbers than any other bird in the Green near West Tisbury February 9th. It was observed by Mr. Green and others.

Warm weather of early spring led to its seclusion in the thick oaks of the island, back to the meadow on the Green farm for many years the only nesting flock of health hens to go to gather for their nesting antics. Although still line the highway bordering the meadow to watch the last health hen during his spring visits, he was not strutted, boomed and inflated the orange sacs on either side of his head since his disappearance in 1929.

At that time he boomed almost daily until May 11, and finally disappeared to the scrub oaks sadly fallen. No females had come to the trying ground to admire him over night.

A second attempt was under way by Oklahoma game officials to provide the last bird with the companionship of five prairie chickens, near relatives of the health hen, when Dr. Gross announced, the probability that the species was finally extinct. His disappearance may cause this plan to be carried through.

Beans, Spaghetti Form Basis For Children's Quick Lunches

"WHAT shall I have for the children's lunch?" This is a winter long problem confronting busy mothers. The morning speeds away almost before we realize, and it is time for the children to come romping in, hungry and ready for a good substantial lunch. The menu must be well-balanced and appealing, yet for mother's sake it must be simple and not require too much time for preparation. Main dishes should be nourishing, and may frequently be varied by giving a few simple touches to familiar and often served foods. Children enjoy unusual touches just as grownups do, and the school-day lunch should be a gay, cheerful affair so the child will go back to school refreshed and happy.

The following simple menus contain dishes that children enjoy; they offer an abundance of milk and are planned with an eye to ease of preparation.

- Puree of Oven Baked Beans*
- Whole Wheat Bread Toast
- Baked Apple with Milk
- Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce
- Apple, Nut and Celery Salad
- Whole Wheat Bread
- Peanut Pudding*

Puree of Oven Baked Beans: 1 small can Oven Baked Beans (with Pork and Tomato Sauce), 4 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, dash of pepper, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon juice scraped from a cut onion, 4 cups milk, 3 tablespoons Tomato Ketchup. Mash baked beans or force through a coarse sieve. Melt butter in saucepan, blend thoroughly with flour, add seasonings and milk, and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add mashed beans and ketchup and stir until smooth.

Serve very hot with crackers or toast. An easily prepared, nourishing and flavorful main dish for the children's school lunch.

Peanut Pudding: 3 tablespoons honey, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, 3 tablespoons Peanut Butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2 cups milk. Scald milk. Blend other ingredients and add to scalded milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened; place in double boiler or over hot water and cook for 15 minutes. Pour into molds, chill, and serve with cream or whipped cream.

CENTRAL SCHOOL PARADE

The parade by the Central school children, honoring the birthday of Washington and the Washington Bicentennial, scheduled to have been given Friday afternoon was postponed until Tuesday afternoon on account of the inclement weather. Many lined Main street to see the colonial days depicted again with a line of school children extending over three blocks. Colonial costumes were especially appropriate both in the dress and in the traditional powdered wig, so popular in the days of Washington. Every detail of the parade was so excellently given that no section or part could be classed as outstanding.

AFTERNOON PARTY

Mrs. Tom Heflin entertained on Wednesday with an afternoon party. Several amusing games were enjoyed by those present, after which the hostess served light refreshments. Local Basketeers Split Double Bill With Roswell

The Bulldogs lost a rough and tumble contest to the Roswell high school basketeers at the Central gym Tuesday evening, by a score of 25-19. It was a see-saw affair with the locals leading at the end of the half 10-8. Failure to ring the basket at opportune moments was largely responsible for the downfall of the Bulldogs. Coach Allen tried several combinations, but none seemed to work out successfully until the last quarter. This same combination will furnish Roswell plenty of grief in the annual tournament, if pitted against the Coyotes.

The Junior and Senior teams of Hope were defeated by two teams from Lovington Friday evening at the Central gym. The Lovington Juniors defeated Hope 18-8 and the Seniors by a three point margin, 27-24.

I mavericked this one, says Frank King in Hoofs and Horns, but I run across it on my range so I reckon it won't be called stealin'. One of these here new rodeo hands went into Billy's lunch room here in Tucson to get a bite to eat. Betty, the pretty little waitress, slid up to his table and said: "I've got deviled kidneys, pigs feet and calf brains." The old range hand looked at the little girl a minute, and comes back with: "Say, honey, your troubles ain't nothin' to mine. I got exzema, rickets, bunions, a headache and an empty stomach, and I sho craves food and plenty of it."

Artesia Squads Close The Season With Two Wins

Both Artesia basketball squads won the last scheduled game from Dexter here last night. The Bulldogs were able to even an earlier defeat by defeating Dexter 32-28 in the Senior game. Shortly after the first few minutes of play the Bulldogs took the lead, which they never relinquished, although Dexter came within one point of tying the score in the third quarter when the count stood 20 to 19. Nine Artesia players saw action in last night's contest. Ransbarger regained some of his old time fire to lead his team mates in scoring with eighteen points. Artesia lost several opportunities to score on free throws. J. Burr led the visiting squad with fourteen points.

TRAVELING MEN CARS NOW BRING GUEST TAG

Guest automobile license tags good only for a 30-day period will be issued under authorization of State Comptroller J. M. Lujan to traveling salesmen and other travelers making only three or four trips a year into the state of New Mexico.

The plan, announced is partial solution to the widespread difficulties arising out of the state law requiring all non-residents coming into New Mexico "regularly" to purchase New Mexico license tags was reported Monday by Carl Johnson of Roswell, special license clerk for Roswell, says the Roswell Dispatch. Johnson went to Santa Fe Saturday to confer with the state comptroller in response to protests issued by executives of non-resident business firms, by hotel owners and by interested Roswell citizens, on the basis that economic harm and ill feeling was resulting from the legal requirement.

Lujan said he would issue immediate instructions to all license clerks in the state concerning the new proposal. The regular guest tag, costing $1, will be issued to the traveling men, except that the receipt will be changed to make the validity of the license read for a period of 30 days instead of six months. Johnson explained that this would be a minor burden on those men who come into the state only two or three times a year, usually spending from two weeks to a month each time in the various cities and towns of the state. Whether the travelers are actually "guests" or tourists and thus entitled to the six-months guest tag will be left to the judgment of the collectors.

New Mexico Money

Experts have for the past months been busily engaged in probing the cause of the present business depression.

Many causes have been advanced and theory after theory has been offered. But the one point upon which they all seem to agree is that one of the leading contributing factors is the investing of United States money in foreign bonds and securities.

It is quite certain that many fortunes have been swept away and many small banks ruined by reason of these investments. Revolution and strife have made these nations unable to pay and someone must suffer the consequences.

New Mexico banks have always made a strong effort to keep New Mexico money in New Mexico or as nearly as it is safely possible. They have constantly refrained from the shipping of their depositors' money to any foreign country.

LEGION IN PLEA TO NATIONAL POLITICS AID THE UNEMPLOYED BEGINS STIRRING

You are familiar with the national plea of our organization working in co-operation with the federation of labor on the unemployment situation. Our aim is to put one million men to work and do it now; we have enlisted in the war against depression, we can and we will win the battle... we are all going to help.

Now, to get the job done quick, we must first realize the seriousness of our local unemployment situation and get behind such methods as our local employment agency may adopt for immediate relief. If it is a gasoline tax through co-operation with our mayor and city council, let us commend them on the issue and give our extended co-operation by securing the good will and co-operation of every filling station owner in and around our city. Make contact with our ministers, the leaders of all civic organizations and newspapers that they may explain the seriousness of this emergency call and urge the cooperation of all loyal and true citizens in this war against depression. We feel that no citizen after realizing the seriousness of our local condition of the unemployment situation, can be so disloyal as to not co-operate in this big offensive to the fullest extent. As private or individual citizens we may not agree with every principle involved in the plans which are soon to be adopted by our city officials and local employment agency, but realizing it is an emergency call, let us disregard our objections and accept the plan in general with a whole-hearted determination to put over the big offensive drive.

Every community in the United States is working out plans to fight the same battle against depression and we must not weaken the line of battle by neglecting our sector but charge the line of depression with fixed bayonets and come through with progress as our medal of honor. Let us relieve the national situation by helping our local conditions.

By Post Employment Committee, Clarence Kepple Post No. 41, American Legion.

Ernest Malone and Mary Jane Terry have started feeding their calves for the 4-H club show to be held at El Paso next October. Plans are underway to organize a pig club in the Hope community.

E. P. Malone sheared 800 of his lambs that he has on feed during the first week of February and in checking the gains found that the lambs are making more gains than the ones not sheared. WASHINGTON, D. C.—A whirlwind of pre-convention presidential politics is sweeping the country, whipping down here and there to advance or stay the driving force behind five outright or possible candidates, four of them democrats.

Two informal conferences at the capitol—the fiery "Jim" Reed of Missouri with Speaker Jack Garner and Postmaster General Brown with Senator Hiram Johnson—served only to increase speculation.

Governor Ritchie of Maryland carried his speaking campaign into Michigan.

Governor Murray of Oklahoma argued with Georgia officials about primary filing en route to an Indiana speaking date.

The prohibition views of Speaker Garner came up for airing with Senator Sheppard of Texas, replying to an inquiry with the assertion "His entire public record is ample assurance that he would give the country vigorous and thorough enforcement."

Sheppard replied to H. Beauchamp of Dallas, field secretary of the Sunday school board of the Southern Baptist church that while Garner voted against submission of the eighteenth amendment to the states he voted for the Volstead enforcement act.

"It is my opinion," Sheppard added, "that he has voted for every enforcement act since. Mr. Garner has made no statement as to his position on repeal of the eighteenth amendment."

Reed, who is counting on Missouri's support for the nomination at Chicago, demanded after his call on Garner that the convention name a candidate who "represents America and American policies."

However, the Missourian insisted he did not discuss politics with his Texas friend, whom he said he held in high esteem.

"Who is the candidate going to be? That is in the lap of the gods, or the lap of the convention," he said.

Brown, the administration's political chieftain, exchanged greetings with Senator Johnson just about the time reports were going around that the California would enter the Ohio Primary against President Hoover.

INTERESTING BIT OF EARLY KAN. HISTORY TOLD BY J. M. JONAS

A bit of early Kansas history has come to light as result of a recent controversy over the Tilghman brothers, western pioneers which incidentally is known by J. M. Jonas, Artesia resident. C. F. Colcord of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma has written Mr. Jonas, asking his (Jonas') version of the story appearing in the Dallas News of 1931 under the caption of "Long Delayed Story of Dick Tilghman's Death."

Bill and Dick Tilghman, brothers were residents of the Sun City section, in the vicinity of Dodge City, Kansas. The story is related in this article how Dick Tilghman met a tragic death at the hands of the vigilance committee, evidently through an error. The vigilance committee had trailed two men, believed to be horse thieves to the dug out of Bill and Dick Tilghman, near Sun City. According to the story the two men made for the dug out, thinking it would prove a fort for them. It was early in the morning and the Tilghman boys had gotten up. Bill Tilghman had gone over the ridge in search for antelopes while Dick Tilghman stayed to prepare breakfast. The two men were admitted to the dug out with the vigilance hand close behind. Bill Tilghman heard the shooting when the vigilance committee opened fire on the dug out and ran over the hill in time to see the two men with his brother marching out of the dug out holding up their hands. Each man was fired on, the bodies receiving two or more wounds, the story relates. The horses of the Tilghman boys were picketed between Bill and the dug out. The vigilantes saw Bill and made for him. In the meantime he had run for a small horse and cut the picket rope, making for Dodge City, Kansas bareback. The men were buried under an oak tree by Capt. John Myers, according to the story.

The latter statement is in dispute. While Mr. Jonas says he never recalled seeing either of the Tilghman boys after this incident, he does remember helping to cut down three men, who were hanging to a cottonwood tree. Mr. Jonas was at the time a member of the Kansas militia, stationed in this section to guard the settlers against Indian raids. Mr. Jonas served in the company about a year in 1875, the guardsmen were later disbanded. He lived in the Sun City section until 1880, when he moved south.

The same story as related by Capt. Myers, which Mr. Jonas thinks is incorrect, tells of Bill Tilghman who made his name famous as a marshal of Dodge City, the early cow town. At the time the story was related, Tilghman was deputy U. S. Marshal in Oklahoma. It was said Tilghman had a six shooter with four notches on each side of the handle, the four notches on each side represented eight of the vigilantes, and of the remaining two one died a natural death and the other left the country.

At the time Mr. Jonas saw service with the militia, buffalo were plentiful on the Kansas range and Indian raids were occasional. Mr. Jonas participated in one skirmish with the Indians, but none of his company was killed.

Saw Jesse James Robbery

Although Mr. Jonas spent a great deal of time on the western frontier, the most thrilling moment of his life did not occur when he was living the life of a pioneer, but when he was a boy shortly after the Civil War. One day as Mr. Jonas and his uncle were traveling on the train, he saw his first train robbery, although the robbery was over almost before anyone realized what had happened. A man said to be a member of the Jesse James gang came marching down the passenger aisle, with his gun and hat into which he would ask the passengers to pitch their money and valuables. In front of Mr. Jonas and his uncle sat a blind preacher with his hat lying on the seat beside him. When the robber passed he noticed the condition of the preacher and emptied the contents of his hat into the hat of the preacher and proceeded with his collecting work down the aisle.
