Track men making the trip and the events which they expect to enter are: Orval Gray, 880 yard run; Dorris Ransbarger, high and low hurdles, discus and shot put, broad and high jump; Billy Bullock, pole vault; Jo Bill Ballard, 220 and 440 yard dash.

LARGE CROWD ATTEND CLOSING SESSION OF I. O. O. F. PROGRAM

Approximately 250 Odd Fellows and Rebekahs assembled in the Carlsbad Odd Fellow hall Tuesday night to attend the closing session of the Pecos Valley Odd Fellow Association program in observance of the 113th anniversary of the order. The attendance from Artesia numbered some thirty or forty members of both orders.

The association in 1933 will either convene here or at Lovington, the meeting place will be decided later, altho local Odd Fellows said the meeting would likely go to Lovington.

Grand Master H. E. Henry of Albuquerque, was the only prominent official attending the association from a distance. On unusual feature of Tuesday night's meeting was the fact that four past grand masters and four past presidents of the Rebekah Assembly were present to witness the closing ceremonies of the association. Past grand masters included: Edward Stone, E. A. Hannah and C. Bert Smith all of Artesia and J. Bert Leck of Carlsbad; past presidents included: Mmes. Belle McCord, Carlsbad; Edith Hurr, Roswell; Francis Wright, Clovis and C. Bert Smith, Artesia.

The following attended the sessions from Artesia:
Mr. and Mrs. C. Bert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hinshaw, Mrs. Ed Wingfield and daughter, Miss Marjorie, Mrs. John Lanning, Mr. and Mrs. John McCann, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Watson, J. J. Buel, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. Whitener, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Ferree, Mrs. Mary Abbott and the Misses Gladys and Ina Cole, Miss Bauslin, C. M. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Otts, Mrs. J. M. Story, Lewis Story, Victor Buel, Edward Stone, A. W. Irby, A. N. Buel and Mrs. Herman Jones.

NEW FOUNTAIN FOR PARK

Among the recent improvements made at the City Park is the completion of a fountain to serve a lilly and fish pond. The fountain is an artistic piece of work with a triangular stone as the base. The stone, a large one was secured in a cave east of the river by Messrs. Tom Whitted and D. E. Buckles.

The diameter of the pond is eighteen feet, and is set in the center of the park.

INSTALLS A NEW HYDRAULIC LIFT

The Lowrey Keyes Auto Co., has installed a new hydraulic lift to be used in greasing and lifting cars. The company has made application for Certified Texaco Service, Clyde Guy, manager said recently. Other changes have been made in the service department to better enable the Lowrey Keyes Auto Co., to service cars properly. See the announcement on the back page.

LAST HALF TAXES DUE

The last half of the 1931 taxes will be delinquent May 1st. Only two days remain to pay your taxes if you would avoid a penalty. Taxes have been coming in much better than anticipated thus far according to R. E. Wilkinson, county treasurer.

SELLS HORSES RECENTLY

Horse sales, common twenty-five years ago, are rather unusual today and yet there are many good horses on the ranges of the state today. John Prude, Hope rancher sold eight range horses to Armstrong and Armstrong of Roswell.

WILLIAMSON MOVED HOME AT HAGERMAN WOUND NOT SERIOUS

Assailant Says Wound Is Accidental—Charge Of Assault With Intent To Kill Has Been Filed By District Attorney.

Deputy Sheriff Jim Williamson was moved to his home in Hagerman Sunday, after recuperating here for six days from a gun shot wound inflicted April 18th. The wound did not prove to be as serious as was first reported. An X-ray picture revealed that the ball from a .45 automatic entered his body above the heart and angled toward the right side, lodging in his right leg. The ball evidently passed thru a fold in his stomach, which gave the appearance of two wounds, one above and one below the heart.

Circumstances surrounding the shooting gives some basis for the belief that it might have been accidental. W. H. (Buzz) Tarrant, denied any implication in the shooting. Gene Walker, the second member of the trio held in the Kemp Lumber Co., robbery at Elida, is alleged to have told relatives that his gun, a .45 automatic accidentally discharged when he hit Williamson over the head.

A complaint was being drawn at Roswell Monday against Fred Sutton, charging him with the crime of assault with intent to kill, in connection with the firing on Chaves county deputy sheriffs Sam McCue and Homer Dunagan at Roswell Saturday morning, April 16th.

Sutton, who was arrested in Carlsbad by Sheriff Walter McDonald is now in the Chaves county jail awaiting arraignment on this charge. He is also being held for Roosevelt county officers in connection with the robbery of the Kemp Lumber Co., at Elida.

Sutton has maintained complete silence since his arrest, but according to the statement of W. H. (Buzz) Tarrant and Gene Walker Sutton was implicated in the Elida job and was in the car at the time officers were fired on at Roswell.

Tarrant and Walker, officers said, told them that Sutton separated from them on Monday morning near Dexter. Sutton caught a freight train to Carlsbad where he was arrested and Walker and Tarrant were placed under arrest near Lake Arthur by Deputy Sheriff Jim Williamson.

Sutton has been finger printed and the prints have been sent in by officers upon the theory that Sutton has a criminal record.

It was understood here that District Attorney Osborn of Roswell had filed charges of assault with intent to murder against both Tarrant and Walker.

TRAPPING CARP

Representatives of the state game and fish commission are trapping carp this week at the Clark lake north of town. Early information could not be obtained as to whether or not the trappers were meeting with success. A number of local people journeyed to Lake McMillan Monday when the flood gates at the lake were closed. A few carp were secured.

COMPANY PLUGGING ON LAST OF THREE WELLS CONTRACTED

The Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co., has moved on the Glenn O'Bannon farm to plug the last of the three wells contracted by the board of directors of the Artesia Pecos Valley Conservancy District. Some difficulty has been encountered by this company in getting in the hole and at last report they had proceeded down about 250 feet. As soon as the hole is cleared for the plugging operations the company will make short work of shutting off the water.

Contracts to plug other wells may be awarded in the near future as operations of the conservancy district continues. Geo. Frisch, board member said here yesterday.

FREEZE KILLS SOME FRUIT

Cold weather prevailing here Friday and Saturday damaged fruit in the hills and mountains. A light snow fell at the state capitol in Santa Fe. Albuquerque reported approximately an inch of snow. A light rain fell here Friday night.

Cold nights have retarded the growing season. Farmers and truck growers who have planted crops complain that the crops which are up have not shown the usual growth.

HOBBS WELL GIVEN BOOST IN NEW TEST BURCH 3 INTERESTING

Turner No. 8 Makes 7,128
Barrels With 6,000,000
Feet Gas—Eddy Well
Will Be Finished Before Close Of Week.

Potential of the Turner No. 8 of the Midwest Refining Co., in the SW sec. 34-18-38, in the Hobbs field was materially boosted when given a new test recently through the tubing. The Turner flowed at the rate of 7,128 barrels daily with approximately 6,000,000 feet of gas. The water has been completely shut off, a field report states. On a previous test through open casing the Turner was given a rating of 8,000 barrels of fluid daily, twenty-five per cent of which was water.

Another well of the Midwest Refining Co., the State No. 29 in the SW 1/4 sec. 10-19-38, has been completed at approximately 4,170 feet and will likely be given a prooration test today. Oil operators say prospects are good for developing a real producer in this test.

The Burch No. 3 of the Grayburg Oil Co., NE sec. 19-17-30, now the most promising well drilling in Eddy county will be completed before the close of the week, unless some unforeseen hindrance occurs. The Burch is down 3,035 feet and is heading about a barrel of oil every time the bit is drawn from the hole.

ALFALFA CUTTING TO START HERE MAY 15

The first cutting of alfalfa is expected to get underway about the middle of next month. The crop this year is expected to be about normal, possibly a little above the average. Damage from the green bug has not been so heavy lately according to reports.

MORE THAN NINETY FARM LOAN CHECKS RECEIVED IN EDDY

One hundred forty applications for farm loans have been made in Eddy county. Over ninety checks were received up to Tuesday, April 26th. Farmers should bear in mind that applications will not be received after April 30th. Saturday of this week is the last day. The average per application in Eddy county is $265.00 per loan.

Chaves county has one hundred forty-six loans to date.

MAY ESTABLISH A SUMMER SCHOOL AT METH. ASSEMBLY

Summer Assembly Will
Serve 800,000 to 900,000
Methodists West Of Mississippi— Plans Of Assembly Moving On.

Dr. L. N. Linebaugh of Roswell, member of the board of control of the Sacramento Methodist Assembly near Weed, made an interesting talk on the project before the Artesia Rotary club, on Tuesday, outlining some of the plans which the board hopes to accomplish within the next few years. According to Dr. Linebaugh, friends of the assembly may expect to see it become the central distributing point for summer activities of the Methodists. The assembly site four miles west of Weed will serve some 800,000 of 900,000 Methodists west of the Mississippi river. Owing to the present financial condition development of the assembly will be necessarily slow. The board, he says has adopted the pay as you go method, in order to keep from involving the Methodist conference too deeply in debt. In the course of time, Dr. Linebaugh anticipates that the conference will be able to employ a full time man to look after the interests of the summer camp.

The present location west of Weed has many advantages over the largest summer assembly of the Methodist conference east of the Mississippi river, located at Junaluska, North Carolina, which serves an average of 75,000 people.

May Establish Summer School
Dr. Linebaugh, who is a trustee of the Southern Methodist University at Dallas, Texas, stated that efforts would be made to have the University establish a summer school at the assembly site, giving work in both the theological and liberal arts departments. If such arrangements are made a student doing work at the assembly could secure full credit for all work done. While University officials have not acted on the suggestion, it is known that it has received favorable consideration and that the materialization of the plan is likely as soon as the assembly project has advanced sufficiently to justify the starting of the work.

Offer Lots
The assembly officials will soon have on the market 100 lots for which they ask $100.00 each. The next 100 lots will sell for $200.00 to $300.00. Selling of these lots will help finance the project, altho it will cost approximately $50.00 per lot to pipe the first hundred lots. Restrictions will be maintained as to the character of the people building on the lots. The rough element will not be tolerated, Dr. Linebaugh said.

27,000 RAINBOWS PLACED IN RUIDOSO

Twenty-seven thousand rainbow and Locklevin trout have been planted in the Ruidoso in the Lincoln National Forest, James B. McGhee of Roswell, member of the state game commission said this week.

MRS. ANNA STEPHENS DIES HERE THURSDAY

Mrs. Anna Stephens, age 86, died at her home in Artesia Tuesday afternoon. Death is believed to have been due to a heart attack. Mrs. Stephens suffered an attack while working in the kitchen and was dying when found by her son, Worley. Mrs. Stephens is reported to have fallen against the kitchen door, blocking the entrance to the door. A physician was hastily summoned, but the condition of the stricken woman was beyond medical aid when he arrived.

Mrs. Stephens had lived in Artesia for the past sixteen years. Her husband preceded her in death last fall. Since that time she had lived with her daughter, Mrs. Mary Abbott. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Methodist church. The Rev. H. G. Scoggins, officiating. Burial was made in the Woodbine cemetery. A son, Worley Stephens and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Abbott are the only known relatives surviving.

THIRD POTASH CO. IS PREPARING START TEST WEST LOVING

Preparations are being made by the New Mexico Potash and Chemical Co., to start exploration work on its holdings in the south part of the county. Messrs. Chase of New York and Lamb of Albuquerque have been here this week arranging to purchase materials for the start of the first test, which will be located on deeded land west of Loving and west of the Pecos river. Plans have been made by the company to test its holdings much in the same manner as other companies. Several holes will be core drilled over the prospective area to test the thickness and extent of the potash deposits.

O. MCCLAY PIONEER MERCHANT DIES ON FRIDAY MORNING

Artesia, Friday mourned the passing of a pioneer citizen, Owen McClay. While the death of Mr. McClay was a distinct shock to many, it was not unexpected by close friends of the family, owing to his condition. Mr. McClay who was called to the bedside of a brother in Bondurant, Iowa returned home on the 14th and two days later was taken ill, developing pneumonia. He was only ill six days, his death occurred Friday morning at 1:30 p. m.

Mr. McClay who was sixty-two years old had been identified with the Artesia community for the past twenty-five years as a merchant. Previous to coming to Artesia, Mr. McClay operated a hardware store in his native state, Iowa. Mr. McClay commanded the respect of all who knew him. He was one man who probably never had an enemy.

Members of the family carried out his request that burial be made in Bondurant, Iowa beside other relatives. The body was prepared for burial by C. E. Mason of Hagerman and shipped on the passenger to Bondurant Friday afternoon. Funeral services were held Sunday. His daughter, Mrs. R. N. McDonald accompanied the body.

Because of the condition of Mrs. McClay, it was decided not to hold funeral services here. A large crowd of friends gathered at the station to pay the last respects to a deceased member. R. M. Thorne and R. E. Wilkinson of Carlsbad, close friends of Mr. McClay were among the friends at the station to see the body leave.

Surviving Mr. McClay are a widow, a daughter, Mrs. R. N. McDonald of Artesia, two brothers, Will and George McClay of Bondurant, Iowa and a sister, Mrs. J. W. Davis of Des Moines, Iowa.

WILL ATTEND ROTARY CONFERENCE MAY 4-5

C. J. Dexter, president elect of the Artesia club, J. K. Wallingford and possibly Howard Williams and George Frisch plan to attend the Rotary district conference at Marfa, Texas, May 4 and 5, it was announced Tuesday. L. P. (Slim) Evans, Artesia's only Al Smith republican an extinct political specie of the southwest had charge of the program Tuesday. Dr. Linebaugh of Roswell was invited to speak before the club by Mr. Evans Tuesday. Mr. Evans promises to make a rousing political speech before the general election in November.

R. N. Falkenau of New York was the only visitor in addition to Dr. Linebaugh.

THIEVES BUSY

Thieves were busy on Monday night and judging from all reports were evidently trying to equip a car in the piece meal fashion. They took a new tire from the car of Guy Smith by jacking a wheel up and taking the tire and rim. A thief or thieves attempted to take a generator from the Ford car of Aubrey Watson, but were frightened away when Mrs. Tom Ragsdale turned on a light. At the private garage of George Frisch they were more successful and took a generator from the city car.

NEW WELL SUPERVISOR

Clifford Smith of Roswell has been appointed artesian well supervisor, succeeding W. M. Ervin also of Roswell. Mr. Ervin has been elevated to the position of engineer in charge of well plugging operations.

Nazarenes To Convene In Meeting May 5 to 15

Meetings Expected To Bring In 175-200 Delegates And Visitors — Prominent Church Officials To Be Present.

Plans for the coming district camp meeting and assembly of the New Mexico District Church of the Nazarene to be held here in May have been virtually completed. The Rev. Edwin G. Benson, local pastor in charge of arrangements has announced. The district assembly will convene from May 5th to 15th and the district assembly will convene from May 12th to 15th. The territory embraced in the district covers all of New Mexico and part of West Texas.

Between 175 and 200 delegates are expected to attend both events. The people have responded splendidly in offering accommodations for the visitors, The Rev. Benson, reports. The large tent for the camp meeting will be located on the lot owned by the Artesia Auto Co., on Fourth and Quay streets. The day sessions of the district assembly will be held in the First Baptist church. Three other important conventions connected with the church work are scheduled to occur from May 9th to the 11th. On May 9th, the missionary convention will be held; on May 10th the young people's convention and on the 11th the Sunday school conventions. The above meetings will run throughout the day.

Last year, the district camp meeting and the district assembly were held in Portales, but owing to the fact that the general assembly, an affair which occurs at intervals of four years, will convene this year at Wichita, Kansas beginning June 12th, the district meetings have been moved up.

Prominent visitors expected include: Dr. R. T. Williams, of Kansas City, Missouri, one of the four general superintendents of the church; A. K. Bracken of Bethany, Oklahoma, president of Bethany College; The Rev. and Mrs. Allie Irick, evangelists of Bethany, Oklahoma; A. K. Scott, of Portales, district superintendent and probably a number of returned missionaries.

MORE STREET OILING IN SUMMER MONTHS

Over fifty per cent of the street oiling program will soon be finished. George Frisch, city manager said Tuesday. Approximately 750 barrels of oil have been applied on resident streets to date and 250 barrels remains to be spread on the streets before the first 1,000 barrels have been used. About 800 barrels additional will be available for street work, but owing to the nature of the oil, the weather will have to get considerable warmer before the oil can be spread with any satisfaction.

Streets where two coats of oil have been applied include 9th street and parts of 2nd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th streets. Approximately sixty blocks will be included in the improvement program before the oil now in storage is used up.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

The board of county commissioners will convene as a board of equalization at Carlsbad Monday. This is the time when any taxpayer may appear before the board and ask for a reduction in valuations. At this time it is expected that the Taxpayers Association will present a demand for a general reduction of 20 per cent on all valuations, and other items will combine to make the hearings interesting to all.

OUR WELFARE WORK

Except what few funds are received through some sort of a benefit entertainment, the Community Chest, so far as we know is attempting to operate as best it can without any regular revenue.

This condition is not especially praiseworthy and it is not anything to the credit of the community, for children and grown folks too get hungry in hot weather the same as cold. The Welfare Committee has struggled along the best that it could, others have been kind, especially the local women's organization, but there is still an acute need for extending charity to the needy. Because ways and means have not been provided for aiding the less fortunate is no sign that the need has ceased to exist.

One of the worst features we see of the present lack of operation is that such a condition may breed violence and possibly crime. There may be a good portion of the local unemployment due to shiftlessness as in other places, but on the other hand there are numbers of people who would like to have an opportunity of earning their own way and who unless given this opportunity do not propose to starve, even though they are compelled to resort to unlawful means to gain livelihood.

Even though the method of passing the hat still has some obnoxious features attached, we would prefer to play the good Samaritan rather than to see our townspeople suffer and possibly stoop to violent means to obtain bread to live on. A workable suggestion has been made, which sounds logical in the absence of any other feasible method of securing welfare money and that is to place a voluntary contribution on the car owners of this and the adjoining communities. If an equitable method of collecting such a contribution could be worked out, then this proposal would be as just as any yet suggested.

TODAY

With the setting sun, your hopes of yesterday died out. All right. That was yesterday.

Things didn't materialize the way you dreamed they would. All right again. Now—the present hour—is Today. Yesterday bears no relation to it, except perhaps, the relation that a nightmare bears to the morning after.

Forget all about yesterday . . . it is dead and buried in the cemetery of Time.

Today is alive. Are you? Well, then get busy! Fling from your shoulders the depressing weight of those hopes that haven't come true. Stand erect. Man, the world is yours! You have just as much claim on its good things—on the things you've longed for and prayed for and worked for—as the other fellow has.

This hour has been handed to you as a gift from the overflowing storehouse of Eternity.

What are you doing with it? Answer that.

Moping? Growling? Despairing? For shame!

God has favored you with another chance to make good. He has given you Today. Prove your appreciation by making it a stepping stone to happier, worthier tomorrows!—The Imprint, St. Paul, Minnesota.

BOOM TO BLAME

The trouble which disturbs all of us in some degree these days is not the fault of the gold standard. It is rather the fault that, during the "new era" boom days, we merely paid lip service to the gold standard while we lived and bought and planned and borrowed in utter disregard of the gold standard. Now that the standard has reassured itself, we have found ourselves appalled by the devaluation of value relationships. Prices and values which the exigencies and stupidities of uncontrolled war-time credit inflation lifted to lofty pinnacles have been ruthlessly hauled down to conform to an arbitrarily and even brutally enforced and dangerously swollen gold value. But no corresponding deflation has been attempted—perhaps no corresponding deflation was possible—in the case of fantastic debts and obligations which were as natural and inescapable corollaries of credit inflation as two-dollar wheat, ten-dollar shirts and over-priced stock shares and other property. Our chief source of trouble has been a complete lack of balance between the carrying charges on these debts (whether in the form of interest or taxes) and the deflated dollar value of property, products and service.—Fort Wayne News-Sentinel.

Last year the post office department lost approximately $5,000,000 on the free mail service and franking privilege that congress has granted the congressmen and to the various bureaus. A lot of this free mail service is merely political propaganda, sent out by the congressmen and it is usually over the head of the average reader. That's another place we could use the paring knife on government expenses.

Some have reason to believe that the so-called depression has no corners nor curves, but rather it has traveled in a long road that has few turns. Sitting down waiting for the return of good times, isn't going to bring them. What strides we have made toward normal times has been through hard work and earnest effort.

It has been estimated that this tax appraisers law has cost each county in the state approximately $1,800 per year. Speaking of cutting down expenses, that's one expense that we used to get along without.

Clovis compromised the gas tax controversy by permitting the retailers to pay a quarter cent per gallon out of their own pockets rather than the one cent charged to the customer.

Al Capone wants out of jail so he can help find the Lindbergh baby. Al did not say what else he wanted to do.

PICKED UP ON MAIN

The following is swiped from the Santa Fe New Mexican on epitaphs:

Let us endeavor so to live that when we come to die even the undertaker will be sorry.—Mark Twain.

Here lies our young blooming daughter
Murdered by the cruel and relentless Henry,
When coming home from school he met her
And with a shelf six-shooter shot her—New Hampshire.

Accidentally shot as a mark of affection by his brother.
After life's fever I sleep.

Stranger, pause, my tale attend
And learn the cause of Hannah's end;
Across the world the wind did blow,
She fetched a cold that laid her low.

We shed a lot of tears 'tis true,
But life is short, aged 82.
—Bayfield, Miss.

Ellen Shannon, aged 26, fatally burned 1870, by the explosion of a lamp filled with Danford's non-explosive liquid.—Girard, Penn.

Epitaph over a jay walker: "He did not choose to run."

Here 'neath the grass sleep two young fools;
They stepped on the gas and ignored the rules.
This was their code as they drove about:
"I'm on the road, so you look out."

Here lies the body of Johnny Sap,
He drove a car with a gal in his lap.

Here lies the left leg of Bill McSwipe,
The rest of him couldn't be found;
He sat on a powder keg smoking his pipe
And the wind blew the ashes around.

Beneath these stones repose the bones
Of Theodosius Grimm;
He took bad beer from year to year
And then his bier took him.

Financial Independence

That men have attained financial independence in years passed, does not mean that they have acted miserly in saving or have resorted to crooked means to attain their end. It means that they have spent wisely as well as saved wisely. They realized that tomorrow would not take care of itself unless provision was made for its coming. They did not live extravagantly in the days of high prices, when positions and jobs were plentiful. Possibly the man or men who attained financial independence, could not be classed as prophets, but they did not refuse to review conditions in their actual light. They started a plan of right thinking and right living without waiting for a more propitious time.

Earl Darst

Financial independence does not mean that the man who occupies the coveted position occupies a pedestal alone nor does it mean that he has forsaken his friends to attain this position. It simply means that the man who has attained this rank is able to meet perplexing problems without loss of employment or business. He is in position to seize opportunities and thus add prestige to his business or profession.

AN EDITOR GOES TO HEAVEN

Charles S. Crosse, whose death last year was recorded in the Stoughton Courier-Hub, paper which he had edited for many years, with an obituary notice numbering by his expressed wish only four words, "Charlie Crosse is dead," concluded a discussion of subscription collections at the 1905 convention of the Press Association with a poem picturing an editor in heaven. Its closing verses appear below:

"The editor gazed, with head bended low,
Into the seething, boiling caldron blow.
A million lost souls writhed in that awful hole,
While a million friends were shoveling in coal.

And emblazoned there on a big slab of mica,
This legend, in bold face extended, sixty line pica:
'Delinquent subscribers fricasseed, a la soup,'
And that editor collapsed with a mighty whoop.

"And dear old St. Peter found him there,
His laughter hysterical splitting the air,
As he peered exultantly into the pit
And shot down shaft upon shaft of taunting wit.

'Come, come,' spake the angel, let us wing our flight,
For falling fast are the shades of night.
'No, I'll stick,' quoth the editor, shapping his knee,
'Ye gods, this is heaven enough for me!'

OIL INDUSTRY MILLIONS INTO U. S. TREASURY

Franklin, president of the Petroleum Association following statement at hearing of the senate committee:

oil excise taxes in the revenue law are the only ones which will large receipts for the federal government without imposing burdens upon industry or the ultimate consumer.

At the rate fixed of gallon upon the various products, over $40,000, be assured, if we base mate upon the average of imports for the past years. The various items which this total is estimated follows:

2,636,888 gallons at $26.363,678.00.

and gas oil 1,002,734.334 it equals $10,027,343.00.

Naptha and other final products 551,349,414 equals $5,513,494.00.

total therefore would be $15,564,515.00.

When in the proper distinction had yourself at the difference between gasoline and so that the former were with us a rate proportioned to tax levied on crude oil.

It would have been set on imported gasoline. terms it requires three per cent of crude oil to produce one gallon of gasoline. If the same fixed for both of these, it would be more to refine the crude oil.

Importing it, thus affecting labor now engaged in refining. If this were made, solely to the rates in the present the tax of 3c per gallon gasoline would produce single item $16,540,482 or only $5,513,494.

According to the United States Commission, the difference between foreign and domestic production costs is $1.03, evident that the imposition of a 42c tax upon a barrel of crude oil will not only affect the volume imports. Neither should the tax, even at the figure which would make, constitute any bar to this foreign product.

position of this tax upon petroleum and its refinery should not impose any burdens upon the prices of gasoline consumers. It is evident that there is no difference between the prices of gasoline and the prices of crude oil. Comparison of prices in typical cities over a period of months demonstrates the fact that has sold at its highest in the crude oil from was produced sold at an low price. Conversely, gasoline has sold at record low prices when the crude oil from which it was produced had reached an unusually high figure. Actually the price of gasoline is determined by the great distributing corporations which manipulate it at their will.

"The fact that incredible dividends were paid during the depression period by the subsidiaries of the oil-importing concerns ranging from 100 per cent to 400 per cent per annum, demonstrates the enormous profits now being reaped by these organizations, at the expense of the consumer.

"In the event that the purposes of this tax measure should be defeated by any movement on the part of the great oil-importing corporations to decrease their importations, the nation's requirements could be adequately met by the American petroleum industry which would, thus, be enabled to re-employ approximately 300,000 oil workers now idle with a stimulating effect upon related industries upon which approximately 2,000,000 persons depend for their livelihood. The restoration of the consuming power of these people would be reflected at once in a new development of prosperity and would be registered in the tax receipts of the federal government from income taxes, corporation taxes and from items included in this bill now under consideration.

"The federal treasury has lost countless millions of dollars in income through the duty-free admission of cheap foreign oil at the same time that the oil importers have made fabulous fortunes. The domestic petroleum industry formerly paid tremendous income taxes on its large profits. Those profits have now been converted into losses upon which, naturally, no tax is paid.

"While no complete tabulation has even been made of amounts paid in income taxes alone by the oil corporations, these have reached the hundreds of millions of dollars while the income taxes paid by recipients of the dividends of these corporations also formerly netted the federal treasury tremendous sums. The practical prostration of the American petroleum producers has eliminated these receipts. The goose that laid the golden eggs, while not dead, is too moribund to continue the process.

"According to a compilation made by the New York Stock Exchange recently, the average price of petroleum shares has been steadily declining through the past three years. From an average of $44.58 per share on January 1, 1929, the price has dropped to $11.71 per share on January 1, 1932, while the market value of the shares traded in on exchange fell from $6,441,625,381 to $2,047,654,221, in the same period.

Where's old Bill been lately. I haven't seen him for months. What? Haven't you 'eard? He got three years for stealin' a car. What did he want to steal a car for? Why didn't he buy one an' not pay for it, like a gentleman!

ENGRAVING—THE ADVOCATE

THE RUNAWAYS

By H. IRVING KING

EDITH JAFFREYS had two admirers who counted—William Lester and George Caltan. As a rule, Lester was away ahead of Caltan in the race, but just now a quarrel with William had brought George within measurable distance of the winning post.

The quarrel was about—well, several things; one thing leading to another, as they will when two positive characters get to arguing—smoking by women, bobbed hair "ships and shoes and sealing wax and cabbages and kings."

The first time Edith had refused George Caltan, George felt that life had turned to dust and ashes. Each subsequent refusal left him less and less afflicted. Edith had become merely a habit with him, but she had so long been the object of his dreams that he thought she was so still and made love to her automatically.

The evening after Edith's great flare-up with William, George made his semi-annual proposal. This time it went, "Edith, when are you going to throw over Bill Lester and marry me?"

"Mr. Lester and I, with my consent, will never meet again," she answered. "And George, I will marry you at any time."

George was amazed at his own sensations. He knew that he ought to be deliciously joyful; but subconsciously he had a feeling of dismay.

The answer flashed across his mind suddenly. Helen Marlowe! Yes, hang it! he was in love with Helen Marlowe and engaged to Edith Jaffreys. George groaned as deeply on this, the first night that Edith accepted him, as he had on the first night she had rejected him.

Edith, after George had gone, a first fairly gloated over the hopeless agony that William Lester would suffer when he learned of her new engagement. Then she began to be sorry for him, and by the time she turned off the light and got into bed she was crying. Next morning she thought: "If William will only apologize for his outrageous conduct perhaps I might—but I'm engaged to George!" She was moody and irritable all day, revolving impossible schemes to extricate herself from her dilemma.

George had proposed and been accepted on Wednesday. Thursday he did not show up. Friday afternoon Edith packed her bag. She had a great aunt living out on Long Island. Meanwhile George had been going through the same mental processes as Edith. "I shall go crazy if I think of this much longer," thought he. "I can't face this girl! I'll disappear for awhile, that's what I'll do. Something may turn up in the meantime."

He packed his bag and bought a ticket for Champeville, Long Island. It was a small town. He had never been there; but had heard it had a good hotel which was open the year round. At this season the hotel would not be likely to have many guests and there appeared to be a small chance of encountering anyone he knew.

Five people got off the train at Champeville. Three of them hurried through the little station to waiting automobiles. Two stood on the platform and stared at each other in consternation. The two were George and Edith.

"Why George?"
"Why Edith?"
Silence for a minute and then "Were you going somewhere?" from George.

"Oh, no," said Edith, "were you?"
"Of course not," replied George trying to assume a look of childlike innocence.
Just then an automobile came rushing up to the station on the further side and two familiar voices were heard in the waiting room.

"I knew we would not get here by the time the train did," said the voice of Helen Marlowe.
"What's the difference?" replied the voice of William Lester; and then he and Helen saw George and Edith standing there staring at each other.

With a joyful cry Helen rushed out. William followed more cautiously, as not entirely sure of his reception. "Then you got Jack Huntington's wire all right?" cried Helen. "You see, in making up his house party, he quite forgot to send you invitations. But as soon as William and I arrived he wired at once. But gracious! how did you make the train? He only wired half an hour ago. Edith where are your trunks? Gone astray? Phone at once and find out about them. But first, William, you drive Edith over to Soundedge in the two seater and send back a car for George and me. George is going to get a wigging in the meantime. He has avoided me now for two whole days."

Edith had never been so glad to see anybody in the world as she was to see William. They made it all up on the ride to Soundedge. Before she got into the car she said: "Remember what I said to you Wednesday night? Of course, you understand I was only joking?"

"Oh, perfectly," replied William with beaming face.

These Recipes Will Utilize Left-overs In Welcome Ways

By JOSEPHINE GIBSON
Director, Heinz Food Institute

MEAT remaining from last night's roast and bits of vegetables in the refrigerator need not appear on today's table in a form in which they will be recognized. They may be served in almost numberless dishes so flavorful and tempting that the family will enthuse about them. By adding a flavorful sauce, or by combining with another food an entirely new dish may be made. Vegetables offer possibilities for sandwiches and salads and the meats for meat pie, or delicious hash. Try these recipes for thrifty, flavorful dishes. They will bring welcome variety to your table.

Delicious Hash: Combine one cup grated cheese, two cups Rice Flakes, one egg, one teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce and a dash of pepper. Place a generous layer in a buttered baking dish, add a layer of chopped cooked ham and repeat, using remaining ingredients. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) until cheese is melted and the top slightly brown (about 15 minutes). If left-over ham is not available, use thin slices of cold boiled, or baked ham.

Vegetable Salad Sandwiches: Mix one large tomato, finely diced, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1/2 medium size green pepper, minced, 8 to 10 Stuffed Spanish Olives, 2 cups shredded lettuce, and salt to taste, and spread between slices of whole wheat bread which have been spread with Mayonnaise Salad Dressing. Cut into rectangles, but do not remove crust. Serve with meat, egg or bean salad.

Baked Bean and Egg Salad: Place 2 cups Oven Baked Beans in a sieve and wash with boiling water, then cool. Add 3 chopped, hard cooked egg whites, 6 Preserved Sweet Gherkins, chopped, 1 small chopped onion and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Moisten with Mayonnaise and serve in crisp lettuce cups. Garnish with Mayonnaise and egg yolks, pressed through a sieve. Serve very cold. Serves 4.

"THE BEATITUDES"

"The Beatitudes," a religious cantata, by E. L. Ashford, was very successfully presented last Sunday afternoon at the Baptist church, by the Choral club of Simmons University at Abilene, Texas. The club, which numbers over thirty members, is under the direction of Prof. Wm. James Work of the musical department of the University, with Mrs. Work, a pianist of superior attainments, as accompanist. The ability of Prof. Work as director, was plainly shown in the splendid entertainment given by the club, "The Beatitudes," while being a production of much artistic merit, is still of a character to win popular approval and the audience, which filled the large church to capacity was highly pleased with the entertainment.

This is the first time the chorus has visited this section, and as a tribute to the state, four New Mexico girl students at Simmons, Miss Shirley Atwood of Roswell, our own Miss LaRue Mann, Miss Dorothy Doty of Tucuman and Miss Mary Frances Moore, formerly of Montezuma College at Las Vegas, formed a quartette, which rendered a very attractive negro spiritual. A male quartette also gave a fine number, the two selections being in addition to the regular program.

Miss Doris Deter, who had sung in the cantata while a student at Simmons, some four years ago, sang with the chorus here.

At the close of the program the ladies of the church served a delicious supper to the club, which

THE OLDEST TOWN OF SOUTHWEST IS FOUND IN NEW MEX.

DENVER, Colorado — Those mysterious diggers in the earth—archaeologists, have discovered the oldest dated ruined town in the southwest 861 A. D., and also unearthed valuable ceremonial deposits in the great sanctuary at Chetro Ketl in New Mexico.

Announcement of the findings was made for the first time Monday by Dr. Edgar L. Hewett, director of the school of American research in Santa Fe and head of the department of archaeology in the University of New Mexico, in a paper read at Monday's session of the 12th annual meeting of the southwestern division of the American association for the advancement of science.

In his paper on "The Excavations in Chaco Canyon, New Mexico, by the school of research and the University of New Mexico," Dr. Hewett announced that "Professor Florence Hawley, assistant for the past three years in the Chaco Canyon excavations, especially in charge of tree ring studies reports that from a beam taken from the crudest masonry of the Una Vida (a ruin two miles above Pueblo Bonito) there is obtained the earliest building date so far known in the southwest—861 A. D. The earliest date heretofore is one from Pueblo Bonito, 919 A. D."

"It will be recalled," said Dr. Hewett, "that in a previous report by Miss Hawley (El Palacio, Feb. 24, 1932) a pilaster beam from the east tower kiva at Chetro Ketl yielded a beginning date of 634 A. D., its cutting or building date not determinable, thus carrying Dr. Douglas' tree ring calendar back 90 years earlier than heretofore."

Dr. Hewett also announced the opening of five of the blind niches in the second terrace of the lower level in the great sanctuary, all of which were carefully sealed, and the discovery of valuable deposits of shell beads and turquoise ornaments.

"The principal feature in each deposit," said Dr. Hewett, "was a head necklace of shell and a black mineral as yet undetermined, together with numerous pendants and buttons of turquoise. A total of 7,713 beads were found."

"The important thing about this find," he continued, "is its indication that the sealed crypts in the ancient period at Chetro Ketl were carefully covered and never molested by subsequent occupants, while pointing to the fact that in the upper and later town all niches were formerly sealed but have subsequently been opened and rifled."

He pointed out that when it is understood that among ancient people of America turquoise and shell were, because of their symbolic value, treasured even beyond gold, the importance of the find will be realized.

NATIONAL EGG WEEK
FROM MAY 1 TO MAY 7

National egg week will be observed this year from May 1 to 7. During this time, consumers are urged to take advantage of the present low price of eggs by serving them as frequently as possible says W. M. Ginn of the New Mexico State College.

Eggs are very cheap. A dozen eggs weighing 1½ pounds can be purchased for 10c to 12c in most producing areas. Of this amount, there is very little waste, there being no bones nor gristle.

Eggs are quickly and easily prepared, requiring only a very slight knowledge of cookery, in most instances.

Eggs are sometimes called "the complete food," since nature prepared the contents for the sole purpose of supporting the growth of the chick for the 21 most delicate days of its life. They are rich in vitamins, minerals and protein. Vitamin A, which prevents ophthalmia (an eye disease) and Vitamin D, which helps prevent rickets, are abundantly supplied by egg yolks. Eggs also carry some of the other vitamins. Rare but essential minerals such as iron, iodine, and phosphorus are obtained by eating eggs. Due to their unique food value and the ease with which they are digested, they are especially recommended for the sick, the very young and the old.

The poultry industry ranks third in agricultural activities, the 1929 census showing it to be over a billion dollar business. Its returns are far ahead of beef cattle, cotton, wheat and many other farm industries of which so much is heard. Almost 90 per cent of the farm families raise some poultry.

Eat more eggs, increase good health, and help 90 per cent of the farmers in the United States.

BODY SHAPE IS UNIFORM
IN ALL CRIMINALS

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Crime's distinctive "mark" in body shape, which even bootleggers bear, was reported to the American philosophical society recently.

Existence of this stamp of evil in many forms and intricate ramifications, was revealed by nearly 2,000,000 measurements of 16,000 criminals studied at Harvard University.

"A curious and well nigh incredible relationship of body build to nature of offense in white criminals" and a significant divergence of American first degree murderers from other criminals were among the findings.

Each criminal was subjected to 120 observations and measurements. Two thousand non-criminals were given similar examinations as a basis for comparison.

"Parson," said Aunt Caroline reproachfully, "I'd like to kill dat low-down husband o' mine."

"Why Caroline, what has he done?"

"Done. Why, he's done and left de 'two' chicken-house door open, and all de chickens has escaped."

"Oh, well, dat's nothing. Chickens, you know, come home to roost."

"Come home?" groaned Aunt Caroline. "Come home? Pawson, dem chickens'll go home!"

"I hear you dropped some money on the stock exchange. What were you a bull or a bear?"

"Neither. Just a simple ass."

LOVINGTON YOUTH SUICIDES

Despondent over his failure to win the girl he had proposed to, Jerry Hanback, 19, clerk in a drug store at Lovington Sunday phoned the girl and told her he was going to commit suicide if she married another man. On being told he was too late, the youth stepped to the prescription room and took poison.

After taking the poison he walked to the front of the store and talked to some customers telling them what he had done and saying: "I wonder when this will take effect?"

The customers thought Hanback was joking until the poison began to take effect.

By the time a physician had been summoned the youth was dead.

Goat Ranked Above Cow in Mountainous Lands

Although they keep themselves distinct and appear to affect disdain one for the other, sheep and goats are, and apparently always have been pastured together, the goats eating the brush and roughage which the more tender-mouthed sheep will not touch.

In rough, rocky mountainous districts as is a great part of the land of Canaan, the goat is a more serviceable animal than the cow, more agile and wonderfully sure footed, content to wander about and pick a mouthful here and there, able to live without much more moisture than the heavy dew supply, long-lived, and generally free from sickness, especially from contagious diseases. They thrive best in the higher altitudes, and the wild varieties which existed until comparatively recent days in Syria and about the Palestinian Lebanon, are always sought on mountain tops. As the Psalmist says: "The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats." It is worth noticing that among all his riches of flocks and herds, Job counted no goats, as was to be expected, since he lived on an Arabian plain where was abundant pasture for his "fourteen thousand sheep and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she asses." (Job 29:12) as well, doubtless, as immense numbers of cows.

Modern Detective Not "Sleuth" of Old Times

When did detectives finally discard the black mustache? We observe that detective fiction, at least, with which the book market is flooded, has quite withdrawn from the black and scowling sleuth with his all too visible trappings of the chase. The truth is, it was the melodrama more markedly than the novel that so pictured the pursuer of the transgressor.

The best detectives, we learn, are those whom nobody suspects of "detecting." It is your mild-mannered man, often of fair hair and guileless eye, who leads the wicked, step by step, into the trap of the law. This "detecting" is a gift, bestowed for the good of mankind. Its possessor learns his powers little by little and is possessed by them. Combined of intuition and an uncanny suspicion, the ferreting sees its hypothesis grow into stern facts. Such a detective is as clever in constructing the plot of crime as the scientist is in creating the whole prehistoric animal out of a single leg bone. Plato's logic, splitting hairs, is as nothing compared to it.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

HEALTH COLUMN

EARLY SIGNS OF CANCER

With rare exceptions, there is no pain in the beginning of any kind of cancer. By the time pain is felt, the cancer is usually far advanced in its development.

One of the most common signs that attract a patient's attention to cancer is an unusual growth, which frequently starts without any apparent cause. A small, painless lump appears in the breast. A mole or wart begins to show signs of change. A little thickening is noticed on the tongue or lip. A bone develops a slight swelling. In this very quiet way the growth of cancer may begin.

Another common sign of cancer is an unusual discharge. The very slight "weeping" of the sore on the face which does not heal may mean cancer. The persistent discharge from the nose which fails to respond to ordinary treatment may be due to cancer. A slight discharge from the nipple may indicate a beginning cancer of the heart. The appearance of blood in the stools is frequently one of the first signs of cancer of the rectum, although it is unfortunately not an early symptom of that disease. Blood in the urine is frequently due to cancer of the bladder or the kidney, and is generally the first sign of such trouble. Cancer of the female genital organs frequently gives warning at first by an unusual discharge, which later becomes a hemorrhage.

In cancer of the stomach, persistent unexplained indigestion is often the first symptom. Lack of appetite, especially for meats, and a peculiar disturbance of taste early in the majority of cases.

Unfortunately, some of the deep-seated cancers give no early signs which make their existence known to the patient.

The commoner forms of cancer, however, usually present early signs which can readily be recognized by the average individual.

This is the fifth of a series of ten articles on cancer prepared for the New Mexico Bureau of Public Health by the American Society for the Control of Cancer.

TRICKS of MAGIC EXPLAINED by Will L. Lindhorst

HOW TO CHANGE ONE CARD INTO ANOTHER

Three cards are used in preparing for this trick. Two of the cards are folded in half, and one-half of each is pasted on the face of the third card, which remains straight. The cards are pasted so the creases meet in the center of the third card, and this leaves the other two halves standing upright with backs to each other. These are then pasted together, and you will find that by blending them in either direction you will be able to change one card into the other. When you are ready to present the trick, hold the cards in your left hand with the upright part flat, so that it appears to be one card. Then pass your right hand over it, in the manner shown in the above drawing, and release the fingers of your left hand which holds the cards flat. As the hand passes over the cards it draws the bent part down or up, according to which way it is moved, and at the same time covers the movement of the card, so that when the hand is withdrawn the card will have changed into another. It is necessary to stand away from your audience so that the creases in the cards do not show.

SHUART TELLS HOW WAR ON ROUGH FISH IS MAINTAINED HERE

Harry Shuart, editor of the New Mexico Magazine, who spent a few days fishing in this section last week explains the idea of the state game and fish department in warring on the rough fish of this section:

Now the rough fish outnumber the game fish, living off their eggs. The idea is not to exterminate them, but, to reduce their numbers which will place the game fish in the ascendancy. The game fish live on minnows of the rough variety and complete extermination would not be a friendly act to them.

From a half to a ton of rough fish is being removed daily.

Below Carlsbad, electricity is being used in this work. An electric current is passed through the water. It stuns all of the fish and all the game department workers have to do is wade in and toss the rough fish out on the banks. The game fish recover quickly and go about their business.

At other points the work is being carried on by seining.

Famous Bank Vaults

Specially constructed vaults have been provided to house the gold reserve of France. These vaults are in a big chamber, covering two and a half acres, 200 feet below the earth's surface. Above the ceiling is first 40 feet of water and then 50 feet of solid rock. This safety deposit was built since the World War. A place was planned which would not only be safe from bombs but the bank force guarding it would be safe from gas attack. A supply of fresh air is drawn into the vault chamber through a secret source. The fact of the vaults being under water is explained as resulting from the flow of a river beneath the city of Paris. This was discovered when the opera house was built, just before the War of 1870.

Peat Still Popular

In many places in the British Isles peat is still exclusively used for heat and drying it for use during the winter months still persists in the very northernmost part of Scotland, the county of Caithness. One of the features of a peat fire is the "lazy hole," so-called because its contents, the ashes which fall from the fire, need only be removed once a week. The last member of the family to retire at night removes the embers from the hearth to the "lazy hole," where they smolder among the ashes throughout the night. When morning comes, the embers are replaced on the hearth, and in the company of a fresh piece of peat soon break into a cheerful blaze.

Britain's Varied Climates

There is no other country of similar size which has so many climates as Great Britain. A man traveled in February from Aberdeen down to London, and next day went on to Falmouth. Around Aberdeen the country was deep in snow. The Cairngorms were absolutely Arctic, and on Deeside curling was in full swing. Forty-eight hours later, at Falmouth, the sun was hot, daffodils and other spring flowers were in bloom, and it seemed like another world. From northern Perthshire up to Braemar is a great stretch of country where snow falls at the end of October and a half lies until the following March.

EXTENDING GAS LINE

The Pecos Valley Gas Co., is extending gas lines in Chaves county to serve thirteen pumping plants. The most recent extension is at Oasis where a 3,200 foot extension is being built to serve six pumps and six residences. A mile and a quarter of line is being laid to connect with the federal fish hatchery buildings at Dexter.

SEINING WORK SUSPENDED

Work of seining rough fish in Chaves county has been suspended it was announced at Roswell this week due to the fact that game and fish department officials did not want to disturb the game fish during the spawning season.

Work of ridding the streams of this section of rough fish will be resumed within a few weeks.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George Rinkler of the Cottonwood, Monday a daughter.

Syrian Goat Immortalized

The common goat of Syria and Palestine, which is probably a similar creature to those tended by Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, stands on longer legs than some other varieties, but its hair in some cases reaches almost to the ground. It has curiously long drooping lop-ears of about a foot long, which give it a strange uncanny appearance, and is nearly always of a black color. "Thy hair is as a flock of goats that appear from Mount Gilead," sang the writer of the Song of Solomon to his beloved one (Song of Solomon 4:1), from which we gather that, like the daughters of Erin, though her skin was fair, and her eyes blue (like dove's eyes) she had long flowing black hair.

Great Land Purchase

The Louisiana Purchase was the first territory acquired by the United States. It was purchased from France in 1803 and comprised the Mississippi river's west side drainage basin, except that part held by Spain. It extended from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico and included areas now occupied by Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Montana, most of Minnesota and portions of Colorado and Wyoming. The United States took formal possession of the Louisiana Purchase regions on March 10, 1804, and congress divided it into two parts—the territory of Orleans (later the state of Louisiana), and the territory of Louisiana.

Postage Stamp Pictures

The portrait of Martha Washington has been used on a stamp in two of the regular series and the likeness of Queen Isabella appeared on the $4 stamp of the Columbian commemorative issue. In addition, the central design of the 55-cent denomination stamp of the Jamestown series is a representation of Pocahontas. While other female figures have appeared in the designs on postage stamps, like the Red Cross issue, for example, in no case has the likeness of a woman known by name been used.

RUSSIAN CHORUS TO APPEAR HERE MAY 5

Recent announcements made by the American Legion of the appearance here of the world famous Royal Russian Chorus at Central Auditorium on May 5th have created a distinct furor in local music circles and the success of their concert seems to be assured, as the advance seat sale has started very briskly here.

The Royal Russian Chorus has the distinction of probably having sung before, and been received by, more royalty, than any other musical organization in the world. On two occasions under the personal direction of Prince Dmitry Slaviansky, the original founder of the choir, they sang before the Pope in Rome and at St. Peter's Cathedral. On their first European tour they were given over fifty medals, decorations and diplomas.

In Spain, they received the Order of Chivalry from the king and the silver medal of honor from the Ateneo Musical and Art Society of Madrid. King Edward of England, bestowed upon them the British Medal of Music and invited them to sing at Windsor castle.

On their first American tour, the president invited them to sing at the White House, in Washington, and bestowed upon them the first, and possibly the only, presidential medal ever given a musical organization.

Their most recent royal honors were bestowed upon them in Japan two years ago at the X coronation ceremony in Kyote, where they were invited by the Japanese government as a special foreign entertainment feature of the enthronement festivities, and Princess Slaviansky, the present conductor, was given an Imperial medal. The Imperial Conservatory of Music, Tokyo, also honored her by making her an honorary member of their faculty, the first foreign woman to have received this honor. Their present American tour is under the personal direction of Walter Lowe, well known Pacific Coast Impresario.

Testing Tin Cans

Millions and millions of tin cans are made use of for the preservation of fruit and vegetables, and it is a rare thing indeed to encounter a can which has proven defective. These cans reach the consumer in perfect condition as far as their contents are concerned, unless they have been in a freight wreck or subject to some similar experience. The reason that they fulfill their mission so satisfactorily is that each can is subjected to a severe test before leaving the factory where it was made. The process is the same as we make use of in locating an unseen leak in the inner tube of a bicycle tire. They are pumped full of compressed air while under water and the least imperfection manifests itself by a display of bubbles. Special machinery has been devised for the purpose and the work is done very rapidly.

Tribute to Horse Collar

The humble horse collar is glorified in a scholarly tome written by Lefebvre des Noettes. It is entitled "The Horse Through the Ages." M. des Noettes, who is noted in France for his research work, contends that the widespread slavery of ancient and medieval times was due to the fact that there was no horse collar. Since there was no method in those days of harnessing a horse properly to a load so that it would not choke, human beasts of burden had to be utilized. Although the genius who invented the horse collar is not known, M. des Noettes finds that it came into use between 950 and 1000 A. D., which marked the advent of the Capetian monarchy in France.

Care Needed

The mistress of the house was explaining the household duties to the new maid.

"This," she said in awed tones, "is a very valuable Persian rug." She paused and added: "I want you to be very careful when you clean it, as it is very old and has been in the family for many generations."

The new maid nodded understandingly.

"I can quite see that it's old, ma'am," she replied, "but I dare say we can make it last through the year if we're careful."

On an Equality

When the famous Doctor Johnson courted Mrs. Porter, whom he afterward married, he told her that he was of mean extraction; that he had no money; and that he had had an uncle who was hanged! The good lady by way of reducing herself to an equality with the doctor, replied, that she had no more money than he, and that, although she had had no relation hanged, she had fifty who deserved hanging.

BROOD FISH AT HATCHERY

There are now approximately 1,000 brood fish in the federal fish hatchery at Dexter, according to Fred J. Foster of Salt Lake City Utah, supervisor of the bureau of federal fisheries who has been in the valley on an inspection tour. The brood fish are divided between black bass, perch, bream, crappie and cat fish. The output of the hatchery this year is expected to be large Mr. Foster said.
