Hi Plains Firefighters Hold Meet

Hold Meet

Monday night, around 20 firefighters, representing 10 departments from seven counties were in Muleshoe for a meeting of High Plains Firefighters.

Most of the discussion centered around a proposed communications center and equipment for the new organization.

President Jack Dunham said the group is still awaiting a letter from the U.S. Forest Service at Lubbock to find out how much the Forest Service will provide in matching funds to purchase a new radio system.

He said verbally, he understood that the Forest Service would provide up to $15,000 toward the purchase of base radios, mobiles, walkie-talkies and a repeater system, but was still waiting for some proposal in writing.

Several communication companies have been contacted by the High Plains Firefighters communications committee to check on radio prices and availability.

Dunham told the group that because the High Plains Firefighters Association encompasses a large area, including 24 departments in seven counties, it is believed that more than one repeater will be necessary with a new system to interconnect all the departments involved.

One of the departments suggested going back to the 37,180 radios as most small departments still have that type equipment.

Also discussed during the meeting were Mutual Aid Agreements; liability insurance and a follow-up meeting to be held on Monday, August 31 in Muleshoe.

MAPPING OUT A ROUTE--Delbert Watson, left, and Herman Morrison checked a map Monday just before leaving for Saragosa, in far west Texas, with both a truck and a pickup load of clothing, food, appliances, linens, and other items for tornado victims. The truck and pickup left in the early afternoon for the small town that was virtually levelled by the tornado.

Muleskinners Plan Saturday Mule Show

This weekend, the first Mule Show to ever be held in Muleshoe is scheduled at Jeff Smith's arena east of Muleshoe on Saturday, June 6.

Sponsored by the Mule-Summer School

Starting 'Big';

At 230 Students

"As Muleshoe ISD continues searching for school excellence, several changes in the school operation became evident," said Superintendent H. John Fuller. "One such change is a five week summer school that began Monday, June 1.

"The school district's mission statement indicated that ALL STUDENTS CAN LEARN at the 'A' and 'B' level of mastery," he concluded. "In order for that to happen, some students need additional learning time. 230 students were in attendance on the first day of summer school this year."

He continued, "159 were enrolled in Language Arts and 68 enrolled in mathematics. 101 students were in attendance at Dillman Elementary, 84 students attended at DeShazo, 24 students at Watson Junior High, and 21 students attended at High School. The High School is also offering a one-half semester credit course in health."

According to the superintendent, all of the students enrolled in summer school will have opportunities to raise their mastery level in either Mathematics or Language Arts.

Teachers for summer school include Helen Bryant, Mary Helen Perez, and Carol Williams, teaching first grade; Joyce Scott teaching kindergarten; Sharlotte Donaldson, Kay Leopard and Rosemary DePalma teaching second grade.

Teachers at DeShazo Elementary are Beth Skipworth, Neva Gray, Jane Foster, Bettie Chamberlin, Jody Lyle and Gail Bruns. Teaching junior high are Evelyn Northcutt and Sue Espinoza. High School teachers are Denise Keeling, Stephanie Barrett and Mike Sumners.

"The summer school experience is a service offered to all students enrolled in Muleshoe ISD," concluded Fuller. "It is offered on a 'tuition fee' basis and runs from 8 a.m. to 12 noon through July 3."

shoe Muleskinners, the show is open to anyone, of any age, according to Donna Thompson of the Muleskinners. If you have a mule, or have access to a mule, you are invited to attend and show your animal, or attend to watch the events.

There is no charge to attend the all-day event, which will get underway at 9 a.m. Also, any club or organization wishing to set up concessions for the day are asked to contact Donald Harrison at 272-3905 or Jack Templar at 965-2638.

Ms. Thompson said youth classes will be shown with enough entries, and there is a $15 entry fee per class, with entry being made by calling one of the above telephone numbers, or the morning of the show.

She reminded that the All-Around Mule or Donkey must be shown in at least one halter and one performance class.

Jeff Smith's arena is located two miles east of Muleshoe on Highway 70, then south for several hundred yards.

Nineteen divisions will be in the halter class, with mule foals - 1987; donkey foals - 1987; mule yearlings - 1986 foals; donkey yearlings - 1986 foals; matched

MAC Monthly Drawing Set For Saturday

At 2 p.m. Saturday will be the time for what has come to be known as the very 'Special First Saturday' in Muleshoe. The monthly MAC Buck drawing will be held at that time.

Last month, because of the Heritage Foundation Auction on that day, the drawing was conducted at the Bailey County Civic Center, but it will be moved back to its familiar location at the corner of West Avenue C and Main Street for this drawing.

Eddy Morris, president of the Muleshoe Activities Committee, said the amounts for this month will be $100, $50 and $25.

The drawing for July, is expected to be held on Friday, July 3, and one half of the amount in the 'pot' will be given away in drawings at that time.

First Of Week Full Of Local Tragedies

Since Sunday afternoon, several very traumatic events have taken place in Muleshoe.

Around 5 p.m. on Sunday, officers and emergency medical technicians were summoned to a home in Muleshoe with the report of a 'hanging.'

On arrival, the emergency personnel found a 12-year-old Muleshoe girl lying on the ground in the front yard of her home.

CPR was being administered by family members, who had found her hanging with a cord, from a tree in the front yard of the home.

She was revived, and taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock for additional treatment.

Hospital officials indicated she was still in 'serious' condition. Tests were being made to determine the extent of possible brain damage due to oxygen being shut off to her brain.

Later the same afternoon, fire

July 4th Plans Well Underway

Toni Eagle, manager, said the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is presently planning a big celebration for the Fourth of July. On the Third of July, a miniature golf tournament is scheduled at the Mule Putt Miniature Golf Course; an antique car race, traveling coast to coast, will be shopping at Muleshoe in the afternoon, and merchants are urged to hold sidewalk sales all day.

Tentative plans also are being made to hold the monthly MAC Buck drawing on July 3rd.

On July 4th, the day will begin early with a 7 a.m. registration for the 10-K and 2-mile run. At 8 a.m., the run will start at KMUL Radio at 600 West Eighth Street. Registration will be $8 for all runners. Entry forms may be obtained from the CoC.

Registration for the World Championship Mule Shoe Pitching contest will begin at 8 a.m. The actual competition begins at 9 a.m. Entry is $5.

Divisions for the contest are men's, women's, doubles, children and youth. Competition will last until a world champion has been determined. Contact the Chamber for more details.

At 10 a.m. the Civic Center will open with kids activities, booths and entertainment.

The CoC is now reserving booth space for the celebration. "We are expecting a large crowd this year for many reasons," said Mrs. Eagle, and hope this turns out to be profitable for all concerned."

Booths are available at the Civic Center from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. and at the city park from 5 p.m.-10 p.m. Cost for a booth is $15 and for a booth at both locations, the cost is $25.

Mrs. Eagle explained that this money will be used to secure entertainment, pay for fireworks, buy trophies and countless other items needed to have a celebration such as July 4th.

Booths are reserved on a first

"Agriculturally speaking," said Bailey County Agent Spencer Tanksley, "our county is looking like it's off to a good start. We are just late in planting."

"Recently, we have received beneficial moisture, and have avoided the bad-type weather that has been occurring over the South Plains," he added.

Tanksley said that since the moisture was so good in the county, producers can plant and get their crops established now. He did add that the moisture was a little late for dryland producers to let their cotton started in a timely fashion, but a lot of Bailey County's cotton had been dry planted, but is now emerging and getting a good 'stand' started.

Most of the dry land cotton that was planted without pre-moisture is now at an acceptable stand, and this year, more normal cotton acres are expected, added the county agent.

Bird Dog Team Trials Scheduled Here Saturday

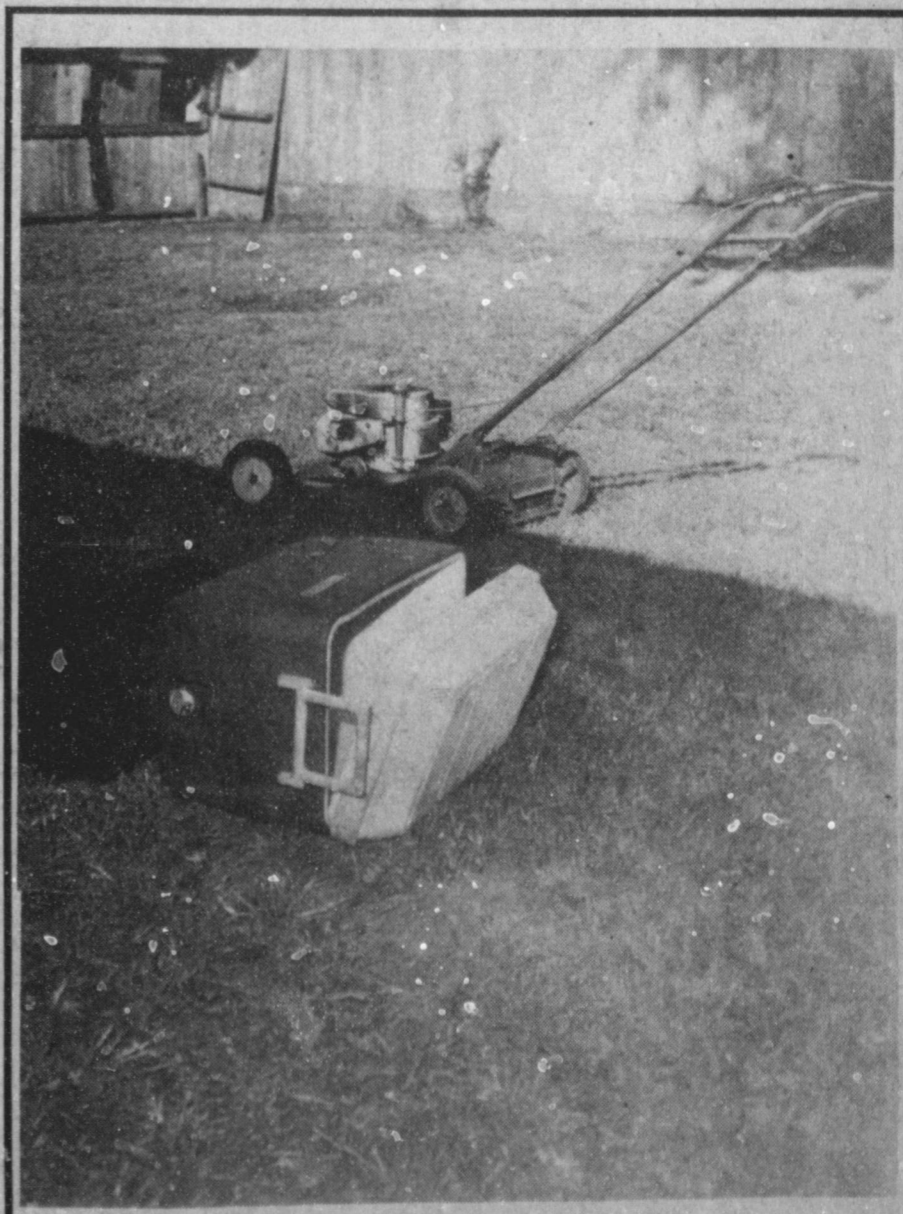

The Running Water Bird Dog Association, affiliated with the National Shoot To Retrieve Bird Dog Association, will sponsor team trials on Saturday, June 6, at the roadside part one half mile north of the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge on South Highway 214.

A team trial is a trial in which beginner dogs are teamed with experienced trial dogs. Entry fee is $10 per dog, and the same dog or dogs may be entered more than one time.

Starting time is 7:30 a.m. and will continue until all dogs have completed their trials.

Persons interested in having their bird dogs participate in this educational program may contact Jerry Moncrief, club president, at 272-5480 by 5 p.m. on Friday, June 5.

Observers are invited to attend at no charge.

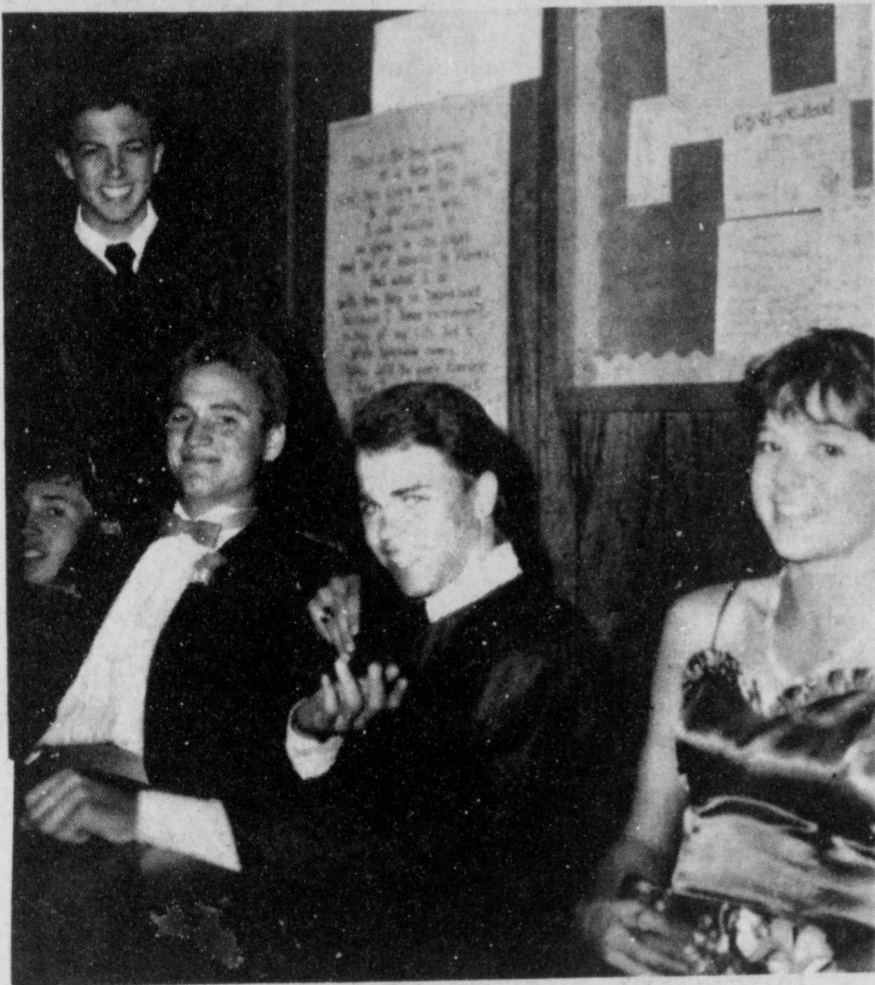

EVIDENCE OF ARSON--Last Sunday evening, the firemen and law enforcement officers were summoned to the Lily Reyna home in northeast Muleshoe where a fire had been reported. After extinguishing the fire, two neighborhood youth were questioned, and admitted starting the fire.

LEAVING FOR SARAGOSA--Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Milligan and Herman Morrison are shown at the Bailey County Civic Center Monday shortly before 1 p.m. preparing to leave for Saragosa with the large loaded truck of supplies, as well as a pickup loaded high with supplies. Saragosa was nearly leveled by a tornado two weeks ago. Seeking a truckload, the truck overflowed into the pickup provided by Morrison.

Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Acres struggles with financial matters this week.

Dear editor:
I knew a woman in a small town who once called up her bank and said: "I lost my deposit slip. Uh, that check I deposited yesterday, was it for $500 or $5,000?"

For a long time I couldn't understand this. How could anybody be so indifferent to money?

It's getting clearer to me now. When the Sultan or Brunei wrote a check for $10 million to help certain people in Washington help the Contras in Nicaragua, he asked to deposit it in a numbered account in a Swiss bank.

Only trouble was he was given the wrong number and the money was deposited in the account of a big shipping magnate. The magnate, I guess looking over his bank statement, must have scratched his head and said, "I wonder which one of my businesses that came from?"

Anyway, he assumed the money was his and forthwith bought a Certificate of Deposit with it.

At least that's what he claimed.

This brings up two questions. (1) How can a man have so much money he's un-astonished to find an extra $10 million in his bank account? And (2) What was the Sultan of Brunei doing giving away $10 million of his country's money?

Somewhat in this connection, at least slightly, I read that 37 billion checks are written in the U.S. each year, yet 85% of high school graduates don't know how to write one.

Some educators consider this bad news, but there's another side to it. Writing checks has put more people and more countries in a bind than nearly anything else. Have you considered what a dent it'd make in the national deficit if the next crop of Washington officials came from the 85 percent of high school graduates who don't know how to write a check?

Local Church Welcomes New Minister, Wife

Music Comeback

Sales of hit recordings dating back to the thirties and forties have become good sellers again. Swing music, songs with words that make sense, big bands—the younger generation is beginning to want to hear it.

No wonder. In the last two decades, the hard rock of strobe lights and silly costumes, of wierdos jumping around like fools on stage, is in large part a drug scene.

RAINFALL FOR YEAR IS 5.12 INCHES IN MULESHOE: DROUGHT MAY BE ENDED
Is the drought in West Texas really broken?

That is a question of paramount importance to every person in this area, and while it is true that recent rains have considerably relieved the tension brought on by one of the longest droughts in history, rain fall has been fairly spotty in the West Plains area.

Moisture received this year in the immediate area has for the most part been beneficial, falling slowly, with little runoff. Soil retention of the moisture has been good and planting conditions have been near ideal this spring.

WATER CONSERVATION AT HOME-- As summer approaches, Texas' water conservation problems become more evident. Consumers can help in the conservation effort by using common sense and following some easy water and energy savings ideas. Dr. Susan Quiring, a housing specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service says, "There are many ways to conserve water in the home. Taking short showers instead of baths, running dishwashers and washing machines only when they're full, and turning off the water while shaving or brushing your teeth are just a few easy things to do to save water." There are many conservation devices available for faucets, toilets, showers, water heaters, and other parts of the home. Conserving water outside by not watering in the hot part of the day, or on windy days also helps. Water conservation is everyone's problem, and some solutions are easy, inexpensive and energy saving.

Sheri Haberkorn, Markham United In Marriage

Sheri Rose Haberkorn became the bride of Jimmy Lynn Markham Wednesday evening, April 29 in the St. Stephens United Methodist Church in Amarillo. The Rev. James Martin read the double ring vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Haberkorn of Dubuque, Iowa and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Markham of Sudan.

Colleen Bradley of Wildorado sang "There Is Love", "Will you Still Love Me" and "The Wedding Prayer". She also played the piano.

A brass arch flanked by two seven-branch candelabras formed a background for the ceremony. The arch was decorated with white stephanotis, pink carnations and yellow daisies.

Escorted down the aisle by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a tea-length dress of sheer ivory batiste over a satin slip with a fitted bodice.

The blouson bodice of the dress had a Peter Pan collar covered with Medallion lace. The gathered skirt fell to an embroidered scallop edged hemline, also did the full-length sleeves. Narrow satin ribbons gathered the sleeves at the wrists and a wide satin ribbon decorated the waistline with a bow tied in front.

Her two-tiered fingertip length veil was gathered to an ivory headband of three silk roses. The dress and the veil were made by the bride.

She carried a Bible borrowed from the groom, which she covered in ivory satin. Atop the Bible were three long-stemmed pink roses, with pink and ivory lace ribbons tucked into the Bible was a handkerchief, given to her by her sister-in-law.

Something old were the pennies minted in their birth years; something new was the handkerchief; something borrowed was the Bible; something blue was her mother's 35 year old wedding garter.

Sandi Wynne of Amarillo served as matron of honor. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations and yellow daisies. Her tea length dress was a pink and gray print of polyester jacquard featuring a blouson bodice with Flutter sleeves and a gathered skirt.

The groom wore a gray tuxedo with a gray cummerbund and tie. His boutonniere was a pink rose.

Kevin Bibby of Littlefield was the best man. He wore a black tuxedo with a pink cummerbund and tie. His boutonniere was a yellow daisy.

Following a wedding trip to Disneyworld, the couple resides in Sudan. They will also travel to Dubuque, Iowa this month for a reception which will be hosted by the bride's parents.

Soil Fertility Important For Conservation Reserve

"Soil Fertility is a very important factor in the Conservation Reserve Program. Fertilizer supplies plants with the essential nutrients needed to stimulate plant growth which eases the establishment and maintenance of cover crops and grass," says Patsy Wilhelm, Soil Conservationist at the Bailey County Soil Conservation Office.

Producers should obtain a soil sample and send it to a lab to be analyzed. The lab will determine the components of the soil to see if fertilizer is needed and provides fertilizer recommendations. Fertilizer rates are based on the soil analysis report. If a producer does not get a soil sample, he will be required to fertilize with 40-40-0," comments Wilhelm.

A fertilizer formula indicates the composition of the mixture expressed in a percentage of three elements indicated as N-P-K, for example 10-20-10 (nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium). This applies to all general fertilizer recommendations.

Each chemical element provides a vital function in plants and must be present for the plant to live. If it is available in excessive amounts, the plant can not function properly.

Nitrogen improves vegetative growth and increases the protein content of a plant. It helps the plant produce a dark green color. If the amount of nitrogen applied is too great, maturity is delayed causing the lodging of grain. Tissue produced is soft and sappy which lowers the quality of the product. The plant's resistance to disease is lowered. Nitrogen deficiency symptoms include chlorosis (yellowing) and delayed maturity. The overall yield is decreased due to the stunting of plant growth.

Phosphorus is an essential element that is necessary for plant growth and development. It is known to be related to various vital functions in plants. When a plant is deficient in phosphorus, abnormalities occur such as thin stalks, small leaves, limited lateral growth, delayed maturity and premature defoliation. By fertilizing phosphorus deficient soil, the yield and forage of plants is increased. Because phosphorus does not leach into the soil very fast it is unavailable to the plant's roots. Therefore, it must be incorporated into the soil prior to planting.

Potash is a water soluble salt. It has many functions including an increase in root growth which improves drought resistance, reduces water loss by wilting and helps retard diseases. Deficiency symptoms include mottling, and streaking or curling of the leaves. There may be a premature loss of leaves.

Moisture

"Farmers are very busy this week," continued Tanksley, "as they are planting grain sorghum, finishing planting cotton, sandfighting and doing land preparations for another year."

According to the county agent, corn is off to the best start in several years, as well as potatoes. Both these crops thrive in the cool, damp weather during the past couple of weeks.

Tanksley said farmers will be 'laying by corn' in the next couple of weeks, as corn is doing a lot of growth right now.

"This is not to say it is a 'bed of roses' for the farmer," reminded the county agent, "as they all face problems from an unusual spring.

"Late freezes did a lot of damage to wheat in the county, and there has been a lot of wheat baled," he added. "Also, some 30-40 percent of the wheat was lost. But, we haven't had any leaf rust reported yet. Since we have had none reported, we haven't been making recommendations, but producers should be carefully checking their wheat for problems, wheat is reaching the 'soft dough' stage at this time, and conditions are right for any problems to start showing up."

Another problem producers have faced this spring, says the county agent, is a poor quality of seed with stands reduced, and replanting necessary in some instances. This, coupled with poor soil temperature, has caused poor germination, he said.

Heat increments (that natural ingredient necessary to make crops grow) have been 'terrible' for May, said Tanksley. Although corn has been thriving in the cooler weather, he reminded that other crops need the heat increments to grow.

Range lands have shown a lot of improvement since the late rains came, and this has greatly enhanced the forage for cattle. "The cattle market is very strong at this time," said Tanksley, adding, "basically, the market outlook for all commodities is higher than anticipated for the month of May. Cotton is definitely a surprise as the market is very strong as the new growing season starts."

He said alfalfa has been behind all year, and has never yet reached the growth expected. Tanksley says most producers have been troubled by weather, disease and insects, getting that crop off to a very slow start.

The county agent also commented, "Barring unknown weather conditions, and if the weather is normal for the summer, with a good fall, we will have a very good outlook for crops this year."

With 100,000 acres in the county out of production in the Conservation Reserve Program, most of that land has been planted back to permanent grass. The recent moisture has really helped get that crop established. There are still 175,000 acres in crops in the county this year, with several crops being planted.

Producers looking for different crop alternatives, look at vegetables first. "This is a very good area to grow vegetables, and a very good quality of vegetable can be produced here," said Tanksley. "But, there are also drawbacks, with the lack of labor required to harvest the production.

"The new laws have greatly affected the producer, with wages, fringe benefits, and the new Immigration laws. Most producers will not adopt vegetables as a crop."

Dwight Yoakam, the Country Music Association's "new male newcomer of the year", has been booked to headline a 7 p.m. show at the 70th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair here September 28.

Fair general manager Steve L. Lewis said Yoakam will follow George Jones, who will open the 1987 exposition in Fair Park Coliseum on September 26. The eight-day fair run concludes October 3. Other shows will be announced later.

Yoakam, a 29-year-old singer and songwriter from Pikesville, Ky., has been identified as delivering the kind of country music normally associated with Hank Williams, Sr. and Lefty Frizzell.

"We're not cowpunk, we're not country punk, we're not doing rock and roll," he has been quoted as saying. "We're doing pure American hillbilly music." Yoakam divided much of earlier years between Nashville and Los Angeles before he made his first album for Reprise Records. It contains six of his best songs.

Yoakam and his band has been playing together for approximately three years. It includes bassist J.D. Foster, fiddler Brantley Kerans and drummer Jeff Donovan.

Last year, the band and Yoakam released "Guitars, Cadillacs, Etc." and independent EP on Oak Records.

Five of the six tunes on the disc are Yoakam compositions. Tickets for all fair shows are $10 each and all seats are reserved.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas government is budgetless, and how we get ourselves out of this predicament is the Capitol's favorite guessing game.

Technically, lawmakers have a little less than two months to forge a budget in special session, since Comptroller Bob Bullock must certify the new budget by August.

When will the governor call it? When he feels confident his 56 Republican House members are harnessed to stay hitched to his veto wagon.

As long as they stay hitched, they will control the budget session. The other issues have gotten their attention, and now in this single-issue session, the rules of the game will change.

Clements Vows Firmness

The excitement will come from watching a 'first' in Texas history. A Republican governor is positioned against the might of a Democratic legislature accustomed to running the show. This collision will be heard across the nation.

Lawmakers and onlookers are just beginning to sense the battle nigh, perhaps like some Southerners did while watching Union troops muster into formation on the other side of the battlefield. This is going to be a little tougher than most observers thought.

As the curtain rang down on the regular session, Governor Clements fired his parting shot, a vow to veto new taxes even if it pushes the state into the next budget period without a budget.

Brinkmanship

Brinkmanship in the halls of the Texas Legislature has never gotten any tougher than that.

But the Democrats will bring some mighty good generals to the affair, and all they need to do is peel off six votes, maybe less, from the Republican bloc.

One realism lawmakers know about budget-making is this: If you don't go along and vote for a budget, then you don't enjoy a player's share of the pork barrel.

Thus, the fun and games begin for individual legislators as they reconcile the needs of their districts with the lash of the leadership.

matter which side you're on. No good deed goes unpunished.

But there have always been lawmakers, a handful at a time, who dare to go against the grain. This summer, whether it's Republicans or Democrats who bolt on this issue, they will make the difference.

Constitution Squeezed

Suppose lawmakers come back into special session, burning up the days in conference committee and then hand the governor a tax bill just before August.

Clements vetoes it. The new biennium comes, and we enter in the red. Crack! The sacred altar of pay-as-you-go will be in the balance.

Money Crunch

A money crunch does funny things to people, conservative and liberal alike. When one takes a pencil to numbers in a more or less private setting, the political rhetoric left at the door, one's real heart emerges.

It's tough to walk back out the door and oppose your group, no

Johnsongrass Ready After Rain For Treatment

Abundant rains on the High Plains have contributed to the growth of johnsongrass, always a serious problem for cotton growers. But the rains also have primed the grass for herbicide treatments, said a cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"A combination of mechanical tillage, soil and foliar applied herbicides and hand hoeing are required to effectively eliminate the weed," said Dr. James Supak, Extension cotton agronomist.

"The recent rains have johnsongrass in prime condition for treatments with herbicides, especially the Poast or Fusilade type materials that can be applied over the top of cotton," he said.

Breaking up the rhizomes and pulling them to the soil surface during chiseling and other fall-winter tillage operations helps to set the stage for an effective herbicide control program, said Supak. Desiccation and weathering will weaken or even kill exposed rhizomes.

Breaking the rhizomes up into fragments limits the amount of food reserves available for the development of new shoots. Supak said the amount of herbicide needed to kill a short root segment is less than that needed to eliminate a large, intact rhizome.

Supak warned that over-the-top applications of DSMA and MSMA on johnsongrass may cause "burn down" and suppression of the grass.

"Such treatments can cause damage to the crop and slow its growth and development," Supak said.

Roundup applied as a spot spray, with wipe-on applicators or with recirculating sprayers provides an effective and economical means for controlling johnsongrass once the height of the weeds exceeds that of the crop, said Supak.

"Permanent control is more likely if the grass is in the boot or early flowering stages of development," he noted. Supak warned that grass in the boot or early flowering stages are often delayed in growth because of weed competition.

Supak said Poast and Fusilade 2000 were introduced as post-emergence herbicides that can be applied over-the-top of cotton to control annual and perennial grasses. These herbicides are applied as broadcast or spot spray treatments to control johnsongrass in its early developmental stages, said Supak.

"A crop oil concentrate or surfactant must be used at designated rates to insure herbicide penetration into grass tissue," said Supak.

Supak warned that in some instances a second application will be needed to control escapes and late emerging plants.

The condition of the grass at the time of treatment with all these herbicides is extremely important in determining the level of control that will be obtained, said Supak. In all cases, the grass needs to be actively growing and not be under stress due to drought or other factors.

Dr. Allen Wiese, weed scientist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Amarillo, has shown that with Poast and Fusilade 2000, the level of johnsongrass control can vary from 0 to nearly 100 percent, depending on the condition of the grass at the time of treatment.

Supak said, the control was poorest when treatments were applied to moisture-stressed grass during periods of high temperatures and low humidities. Similar results have been obtained in on-farm tests conducted with these herbicides by county Extension agents and Extension specialists, he said. "The recent rains are sure to enhance grass growth and development for the next week or two. This will provide an excellent opportunity for applying herbicides to obtain timely, effective control of grassy weeds," said Supak.

give up a hit. Outstanding hitters for the game were Colin Tanksley, Beto Diaz, Larry Gonzales and Juan Perez.

"At this time, top hitters for the Muleshoe team are Junior Olivarez, .1000; Colin Tanksley, .800; Hector Flores, .500; Beto Diaz, .500; Larry Gonzales, .429 and Juan Perez, .400.

EATING OUT

by Rose Hughes

ONE of the best cafeteria chains in the East is Morrison's, known and patronized by Easterners for half a century. It's still a recommended cafeteria.

GONE are the days when waiters stood in lines at the cashier's seat, to carry trays for all for tips, usually ten cents. That added up to good money in the thirties—two or three dollars a meal in tips added perhaps six dollars a day to the low salaries.

BUT today at most Morrison's there are some waiters left, to carry trays for those who need help. Right and good. But the best thing about a cafeteria like Morrison's for many is that there's no service charge. That reduces costs by ten or fifteen percent.

The entrees at Morrison's are expensive. One pays $2.00 or $2.69 for chopped steak, and must select vegetables, salads, dessert, drink and bread. It can add up.

IN a recent visit the writer was surprised to find the bill totaled over seven dollars—for lunch! Here was the menu: chopped steak with fried onions, hash browns, green beans, tossed salad and strawberry shortcake. No bread, no drink—just water.

But management has a $2.99 special, an entree and two vegetables for smarter diners.

SMILES

One Consolation "What do you think of our two candidates for senator?"

"Well, now, there's one consolation, we can't elect both of them."

Has To Be Minister—Son, do you think you can lead a good Christian life at college on your allowance?

Student—Sir, I'm afraid that's all I can do.
