CAR CANS TO SUPPLY THE TRADE DURING CANNING SEASON

It will not be necessary to go out of Artesia this year to purchase cans or canners supplies, local hardware men announced here yesterday. A car load of cans has been shipped from Amarillo, Texas and the local dealers, L. P. Evans, Brainard and Corbin Hardware Co., and Joyce-Fruit Co., have stocked a full supply of canners needs which will be retailed at competitive prices.

Canning of fruits and vegetables in this section is expected to get well underway within a short time. Home grown tomatoes for which the north valley has long been famous will be on the market in a few days. A few early tomato patches in the Lakewood community have begun to ripen now. Last year farmers and truck growers canned a large quantity of tomatoes as well as other garden vegetables and the tomatoes not only found favor on the growers table but were in demand at the local grocery stores.

This year more vegetables, meats and fruits are expected to be put away in cans than has ever been known in the history of the valley.

LIVESTOCK CREDIT CORP. OPERATING IN NEW MEXICO NOW

The National Livestock Credit Corporation, which recently has been organized to finance livestock feeders and ranchmen in the territory of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Wichita, is now operating with headquarters in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. The Wichita district includes, Oklahoma, Kansas, and New Mexico.

The new corporation is one more link in the national chain of regional credit corporations being organized by the National Feeder and Finance Corporation to supply stockmen with an ample and a dependable source of credit. It is the sixth agency to be set up under the national financing plan which has been made possible by the Agricultural Marketing Act. The National Feeder and Finance Corporation is a subsidiary of the National Livestock Marketing Association of Chicago, central marketing agency set up 2 years ago by livestock cooperatives.

The six regional livestock credit corporations, operating through the National Feeder and Finance Corporation, have made loans totaling more than $15,000,000 to thousands of stockmen located in twenty-eight states. They have a total authorized capital of $5,250,000 with a total paid-in capital of $2,693,375. Of this amount, $393,375 has been supplied by farmers and ranchmen who have invested in the preferred stock of these credit corporations. With this amount of paid-in capital these finance agencies have a line of credit with the intermediate credit banks amounting to approximately $25,000,000.

The National Livestock Credit Corporation was incorporated under the laws of New Mexico on April 26, 1932, with authorized capital stock of $1,000,000. The corporation is formed with 7,000 shares of common stock and 3,000 shares of preferred stock, all of the par value of $100 a share. The preferred stock carries a 7 percent dividend to be paid out of the earnings of the association as declared by the board of directors and before any dividends are paid on the common stock. The charter also provides that all of the common stock of the corporation shall be owned and held by the National Feeder and Finance Corporation.

The National Livestock Credit Corporation began operating June 20 with paid-in capital of $250,000. Of this amount $50,000 was subscribed in preferred stock by farmers and ranchmen in Oklahoma. The balance was obtained from the Farm Board through a loan made by the Board to the National Livestock Marketing Association.

REGULAR MEETING OF MASONIC LODGE TONIGHT

There will be a regular communication of Artesia Lodge No. 28, A. P. & A. M. at the Masonic hall at seven thirty o'clock tonight. All Masons are urged to attend.

S. E. Ferree was transacting business at Carlsbad Saturday.

COTTON PROSPECTS GOOD--MANY BOLLS FOUND ON STALKS

Weather Is Favorable To Rapid Growth Of The Plant Which Is About On Par With Last Year—Market Looks Good.

The past few days have been exceptionally favorable to the rapid development of cotton and the plant has responded nicely. The period of growth is about on par with that of last year. Some farmers have displayed half grown bolls. Blooms and small bolls are to be seen in practically every cotton field. A good percentage of the crop will be ready to be laid by within a few days.

Some encouragement is seen in the cotton outlook. The market has advanced approximately $3.50 per bale from the bottom hit some five or six weeks ago. While growers generally do not anticipate that the market will advance much further, due to the large carry over from last year, the market will depend somewhat on general conditions, which at the present time are not too bright. Weevil and worm infestation is reported in the principal cotton growing areas of the south. This condition is probably due to the fact that the crop is generally late. The first government acreage report will be out tomorrow and is expected to show a decline over the corresponding period of last year.

NEW OFFICER PRESIDES AT ROTARY LUNCHEON

Howard Williams, vice-president and assistant Kingfish of the Artesia Rotary club presided at the club luncheon Tuesday noon held in the roof garden of the Artesia hotel. The luncheon program was largely a round table discussion with W. A. Wunsch county agent of Carlsbad, the principal speaker. Mr. Wunsch discussed the melon outlook in Eddy county. Luncheon visitors included Herb Smyrl and H. E. Samson of Roswell, Dr. O. E. Puckett and W. A. Wunsch of Carlsbad.

WRECKING BUILDING

Workmen have practically completed wrecking of the Olson building on Main street, gutted by fire on the night of June 21st. Minor repairs have been made to the Syferd Cafe building. Plans of the owners of the two damaged buildings, Hans Olson and Lee Vandagriff are not very definite at the present time, but it is possible that the frame structures may be replaced by brick buildings.

MASONS TO HAVE A BICENTENNIAL PROGRAM JULY 14th

Plans have been completed for a Bi-Centennial program to be given at the local Masonic lodge hall, Thursday evening, July 14th, beginning at 7:30 p. m. A number of prominent Masonic officials from over the state are expected to attend and three Roswell officials will participate in the program which follows:

Opening Memorial Prayer—The Rev. Harold G. Scoggins. Welcome Address—The Rev. Harold G. Scoggins. Washington as a Citizen—Past Grand Lecturer Robert Kallahan. Washington the Mason—Past Grand Master Lucius Dills. Faith of the Builders of Our Nation From Washington's Time Up To The Memorial—Grand Master Thos. J. Hall. Refreshments will be served at the close of the program. All members of the Masonic lodge are urged to attend.

HARVESTING OATS

Harvesting operations have been completed on fifty acres of spring oats on the A. T. Woods farm, east of town. The oats made an average yield of 80 bushels per acre. The yield while good is not considered exceptional, but the method practiced by Col. Woods may be of interest to farmers. The oats furnished pasture for a bunch of sheep practically all winter. Taking into account the fact that the oats supplied winter pasture for livestock, the returns from the crop will be as good or better than any other crop planted at this time.

H. C. HOLCOMB THE WATCHMAN AT LAKE McMILLAN RETIRED

On the 29th of June H. C. Holcomb, watchman at Lake McMillan received notice of his retirement from the federal reclamation service. Mr. Holcomb has completed an enviable record with the reclamation service. He has served at the post of watchman for twenty-six years, twenty-three of which he never missed a day from duty. He has been a resident of Eddy county for thirty-two years.

Mr. Holcomb we believe was the oldest employe in the continuous service of the reclamation bureau. Lake McMillan has been the home of Mr. Holcomb so long that he is loathe to leave it. He will remain at his post until a successor is appointed.

WESTERN AIR TRAFFIC AGENT HERE SAT.

George Lusk, of Albuquerque, district traffic agent of the Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., spent a short time here Saturday afternoon attending to business matters. Mr. Lusk announces that his company has recently perfected arrangements to speed up passenger service between the Pecos valley and points east. Under a new schedule, air passengers may travel from Roswell to Chicago in twenty hours by connecting with the east bound plane at Amarillo.

TAX PAYMENTS SLOW

Only about sixty-five per cent of the 1931 taxes have been paid in to the county treasurer at Carlsbad it was estimated yesterday by C. E. Mann, county commissioner. This leaves thirty-five per cent of the total taxes due delinquent. Every year there is a small delinquency, but the percentage has not run so high in several years. Under the present budget system all bills contracted during the present year must be paid out of the present tax collections. This is one of the puzzles the commissioners' court must solve.

WOOLFORD FUNERAL TO BE HELD THIS AFTERNOON ROSWELL

Dr. John S. B. Woolford, age 61, Roswell civic leader and president of the Roswell Chamber of Commerce, passed away Sunday evening near 6:30 after an illness of several weeks. Dr. Woolford, at one time an outstanding physician and surgeon moved to Roswell in 1918 and for two years thereafter was bedridden. Since that time he was able to be about only in a wheel chair. The present year he was re-elected president of the Roswell Chamber of Commerce for the third consecutive time. In 1928 he received a trophy as the most useful citizen of Roswell.

Burial will be made in Roswell today. The deceased is survived by a widow, two daughters, three brothers and a sister.

TERIFFIC TOLL

America resumed its workaday tasks Tuesday after a week-end Independence Day celebration that left a heavy toll of death. Several disasters and scores of isolated accidents brought a toll of more than 300 fatalities and hundreds of injured.

A tornado struck a Kansas town at the height of a celebration and took three lives. Eight drowned in a capsized excursion launch in Oregon. Ten were shot to death in flaming Kentucky feuds. A dozen died in Texas floods.

Autos took their usual toll. Deaths by drowning were not far behind. Fireworks injured many but killed few. Most spectacular of the tragedies occurred at Butte, Montana, six youths, copper miners' sons, died when a case of dynamite with which they planned to celebrate the Fourth exploded.

SULLIVAN REFINERY BEING WRECKED

Workmen are this week wrecking the plant of the Sullivan Refinery at Dayton. Pipe fittings, tanks, etc., are being sold individually, but the owners hope to sell the plant proper as a unit, Ralph Shugart, one of the owners said yesterday.

FISTIC ENCOUNTER IS FATAL TO H. BURNS AT ROSWELL SUNDAY

Roswell Man Dies From A Brain Hemorrhage After Fist Fight—Roswell Stockman Lodged In Jail.

Homer Burns of Roswell, employe of the Mountain States Telephone Co., died Sunday night shortly after ten o'clock, following a fistic encounter between Burns and Tobe Foster, Chaves county stockman. The trouble is said to have occurred at Roswell in the Navajo hotel when Burns is alleged to have entered the hotel under the influence of liquor. Foster and Mrs. Opal Munn were sitting in the front room of the hotel when Burns entered the lobby of the hotel in company with A. L. Turner, another employe of the Mountain States Telephone Co. When Foster inquired of Mrs. Munn why she did not open the door after the door bell rang, Mrs. Munn remarked, it was because Burns was drunk. Foster, according to testimony introduced at the inquest stepped to the hall and a fight ensued, during which time Burns was struck down.

Dr. W. N. Worthington, who was called to try to save the life of Burns said that Burns was dead when he arrived and that the man met his death from a brain hemorrhage. Burns' nose was fractured and his eye was discolored and these marks were the only ones to show any evidence of the encounter.

There was never any previous trouble between the two men officers said. Foster immediately gave himself up Sunday night and was placed in the Chaves county jail. A charge of manslaughter was filed against him after an inquest was held and bond was set in the sum of $5,000 by Justice of the Peace W. C. Winston Tuesday.

Burns had only lived in Roswell some two months. He is survived by a widow and a six year old daughter, living in Clovis.

QUIET FOURTH

A quiet Fourth was passed here Monday. A few people remained at home to celebrate the day, but the majority of people who had transportation sought amusement elsewhere. A display of fireworks was practically the only reminder of Independence Day. Quite a number of people attended celebrations staged at Hope, Carlsbad and Roswell, while great numbers journeyed to the mountains.

MRS. GEO. LONG DIES AT LUBBOCK, TEXAS 6:45 THIS MORNING

Mrs. George Long, former resident of Artesia and daughter of the late Mrs. Newcombe, died at 6:45 o'clock this morning at a Lubbock, Texas hospital, according to word received here. Mrs. Long had been ill with typhoid fever since the 18th of last month. Her condition became critical about ten days ago and physicians gave up hope of her recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Long have been residents of Littlefield, Texas for a number of years where Mr. Long operated a variety store. The body of Mrs. Long will be shipped to Artesia for burial. Funeral services will be held here tomorrow afternoon with The Rev. Howden, Episcopal rector, officiating.

Mrs. Abe Burnett, left yesterday to be at the bedside of her sister. A brother William Newcombe of Artesia also survives the deceased.

FISH DISTRIBUTED FROM DEXTER HATCHERY

Sixteen thousand black bass from the federal fish hatchery east of Dexter were on their way yesterday for planting in various public waters of New Mexico.

These fish were in addition to those which have already been planted in various public lakes and streams of southeastern New Mexico during the past few weeks. Twelve thousand of these bass, all of good size went to the Elephant Butte lake. They were transported in state and privately owned trucks.

Four thousand bass in state trucks left yesterday for Albuquerque for planting in various waters in Bernalillo county.

MELON GROWERS TO DISCUSS MARKETING PLANS TOMORROW

All cantaloupe growers of north Eddy county have been called to meet with Alex Strachan of New York, field man for the United States Fruit Distributors, Inc., and Mr. Homer, secretary of the Pecos (Texas) Cantaloupe Growers Association, Friday afternoon at 2:00 p. m., at the Artesia hotel. While the nature of the meeting was not made known in a communication received here, it is thought that marketing plans for the coming crop will be discussed.

Growers at Pecos, Texas are preparing to market the crop at that place and the first of the crop here will likely be ready to move within a couple of weeks. The crop prospects continue encouraging. Weather conditions have been a great aid to the melon crop within the past two weeks.

HOME CANNING BULLETINS

The Chamber of Commerce has recently received from the State College a number of bulletins on how to prepare home grown vegetables and fruits for canning. These bulletins are free for the asking.

TENTATIVE DRAFT OF DEMO. PLATFORM IS MADE AT CARLSBAD

The sub-committee appointed by J. L. Truett, county chairman of the Eddy county democratic central committee to draft a platform met yesterday afternoon at the county court house in Carlsbad and started a tentative draft of a platform, which the committee will present to a similar committee at the state democratic meet. To give more time to work out the details of the various phases of the platform, Mr. Truett has called the committee to meet again in Artesia next week, the date to be selected later. In the meantime any democrat who may have any suggestion as to what the platform should embrace, will kindly hand the suggestion to Mr. Truett or any member of the committee.

When the platform is worked out it will be submitted at a banquet to be held here for members of the democratic central committee. The date of the banquet will follow the meeting of the sub-committee here next week, the date to be announced later. It is the plan of the county chairman to have the various planks of the platform explained to the central committee for their approval by members of the sub-committee and if okayed by the central committee the platform will be finally drafted for presentation to the platform committee at the state convention which will likely convene in August or September.

Mr. Truett states that the idea of submitting a platform has generally met with approval from a public. It is at least an innovation in state circles and will no doubt be appreciated by the state committee since it will suggest a definite working basis and will let the state organization know what the people of this section want and what they expect of the state and county candidates.

Members of the sub-committee attending the meeting from north Eddy county included: Dr. J. J. Clarke, and J. L. Truett of Artesia and E. A. Chambers of Hope.

HOPPER DAMAGE SMALL

Damage threatened by grass hoppers has not been very serious up to date according to farmers. Some sections have been hurt, but in general the ravages of the hopper has not been as bad as anticipated. It seems that the hopper has "backed up" after a threatening attack as one farmer expressed it. There are still plenty of the flying insects on the range.

SECOND CUTTING OF HAY

The second cutting of alfalfa hay is well underway and will be completed within a few days if the weather conditions permit. The second crop this year is of good quality, but the yield is about on par with the average. Most of the crop is being stored. Quite a bit of the hay is being cut in the bloom, which is rather unusual. The market continues steady, ranging in price around $5.00 to $6.00 per ton.

Three Eddy Wells Reach Interesting Stages Now

Producer Reported In No. 62 Of F. W. & Y. Oil Co.—Hobbs Field Is Active With Two Completions, New Location.

Three wells in Eddy county have reached an interesting stage and their progress will be watched by many operators until the tests are completed. The State No. 5 of Leonard and Levers, in sec. 19-17-30, has been drilled forty feet deeper with good results and approximately 400,000 feet of gas has been added to the gas flow, it was stated. The well is bottomed around 2,240 feet. The Kaiser No. 1 of W. A. Scott NWNE sec. 7-18-27, is waiting for a packer to shut off a strong flow of artesian water after encountering what appears to be a good show of oil and gas at 900 feet. The artesian flow was found at 811 feet.

Local interest is centered on the completion of the State No. 62 of the F. W. and Y. Oil Co., in the center of sec. 10-19-28, which is reported to have encountered both oil and gas around 2,100 feet. Efforts to verify rumors were unavailing this morning, but according to unauthentic sources the recent strike is very encouraging. Estimates from these sources say the well is good for better than 200 barrels and that the gas flow will measure about 400,000 feet.

Hobbs oil carriers, at least one of them has apparently reversed a former decision to reduce the runs from Hobbs field 4,500 barrels daily effective July 1st. At a later meeting with operators, it was understood here that the Atlantic Pipe Line Co., reduced its runs only 1,000 barrels, at the same time the Shell Pipe Line increased its runs to 15,000 barrels daily making a total allowable for the field of 29,500 barrels daily for the first period of July, an increase of 70 barrels per day over the last period of June.

The completion of two producers in the Hobbs field and the preparations to start another test will serve to hold some attention in that area. The Midwest Refining Co., has completed two producers in the Hobbs pool, but neither has been given a proration test, these being the State No. 26 in the SE 1/4 sec. 9-19-38 drilled to 4,170 feet, and the Byers No. 11, NE NE sec. 4-19-38, bottomed at 4,175 feet.

The Skelly Oil Co., has started preparations to drill its Turner No. 1, 1,980 feet from the north and 1,650 feet from the west lines sec. 34-18-38.

HEAVY RAINS FALL ON RANGES TO WEST

Heavy rains fell in the hills and mountains to the west Saturday afternoon and came near spoiling the Fourth for numbers of vacationists. A heavy rain fell from Hope west extending beyond Elk. High waters delayed traffic on highway 83 for several hours. The amount of moisture varied from an inch to two inches. The moisture was timely for the stockmen and ranges were benefitted as result.

Heavy rains also fell on the range extending to the Cap Rock section and south to Pecos, Texas. Rains approaching cloudburst proportions fell in the north and western part of the state and highway crews were busy repairing bridges and keeping the highways open. No damage to crops has been reported yet.

THOS. STANDIFER INJURED

Thos. Standifer, employed on the Hammond farm about two miles south of town was painfully injured Tuesday morning while feeding a hay baler, when his foot was caught and partly crushed in the feeder. He received first aid here and was resting nicely at the last report.

WHAT THE NEW TAXES MEAN

A recent Associated Press dispatch from Washington gave an interesting insight into what the new revenue bill will mean to the wage earner.

A married business man with one child, having a net income of $6,000, will pay an income tax to the federal government of $124 as against $23.63 in the past. If he buys a $600 automobile he will have to pay a new tax of $18 plus 60 cents for taxes on tires, etc. If he uses 700 gallons of gasoline during the year and 30 gallons of lubricating oil, he will pay a tax of $8.20, in addition to state gas and oil taxes. If his wife gets a $200 fur coat the tax will be $20.

If he makes home brew he will pay about $3 in taxes on malt. His wife's perfumes, powder, etc., will cost another $3. If he buys a $75 radio and pays $100 for an electric refrigerator, the taxes will be $3.75 and $5, respectively. He will pay increased taxes on cameras, electricity, matches, the telephone and a hundred other commodities and services. If he spends $2 a week for shows and movies, the treasury will get $10 from him by the end of the year.

His total direct taxes will be about $310, as against about $174 under the old rates—an increase of $236.

It looks as if the new bill will fatten a depleted treasury—but it's going to make a deep hole in the public pocketbook. And these taxes are only a beginning unless definite steps are taken to curb the expense of government, the cost of which increases like compound interest as the number of public employes grows.

ANOTHER RACKET

A racket that is worked at various times in some parts of the state seems to have been revived at Wagon Mound. That is the old deal of stopping motorists who pass through the town and arrest them on a charge of speeding.

The motorists are taken to the nearest justice of the peace where they are fined $10 or $15, plus about $5 cost. The unsuspecting tourist knows nothing different but to pay up, as generally a tough looking bunch will surround the small justice of the peace courtroom. The money is then promptly divided up among those who put on the racket.

The defendant, of course, hasn't a chance. He is guilty as soon as he is brought in. We know of two or three such cases that happened just recently. How many tourists were stopped it not known, but probably the racket has proved quite profitable.

Highway 85, over which a large part of the traffic south through Raton passes, goes through the middle of Wagon Mound. It is a reflection on New Mexico's courtesy to guests of the state to allow such rackets to practice. The highway department, or justice department, should have their attention called to such practices and those who are guilty should be punished. There is a way to deal with such racketeers and it's not with gloves.—Raton Range.

ROOSEVELT

This newspaper's opinion of Franklin D. Roosevelt as a public official has been frequently stated. He is now the democratic nominee. Our opinion stands. Yet we hope with the utmost sincerity that the future conduct of Mr. Roosevelt himself, as governor and as presidential candidate, will give us cause to revise that opinion. That depends on Mr. Roosevelt.

His greatest asset, as the presidential campaign begins, is the platform his party has given him. It has lifted the nation with a new hope. Unlike the evasive republican platform, it is forward-looking, clear and forthright.

These qualities, so important—though so rare in normal times, and so desperately needed in these times—are essential not only in platform but in candidate, if our country is to be led forth from its season of distress.

It is therefore our earnest prayer that Franklin D. Roosevelt may rise to the crisis into which he, as nominee of his party, now enters.—State Tribune.

CATCHING THE DOLLAR

Some facts about money may be of interest, although that commodity itself is rather scarce so far as most of us are concerned. Our word "dollar," by the way, is from the German term "thaler," a piece of money first coined in Bohemia about the year 1518.

The U. S. silver dollar was first minted in 1794. Its intrinsic value is less than half its face value, as it contains 412.5 grains of silver. The origin of the dollar mark ($) is not known with certainty.

The motto, "In God We Trust," first appeared on a bronze 2-cent piece in 1864 and since 1865 has been used on gold and silver coins, the eagle appeared on the first coins issued and on most coins ever since. Coinage of silver dollars has practically ceased in recent years.

It may not be generally known that half-dollars, quarters and dimes are legal tender only for debts not exceeding ten dollars, while nickels and cents are legal tender only up to twenty-five cents. Any old kind of money would be accepted as legal tender in any amount just now, we imagine.—Exchange.

Those who figured the readjustment of our economic condition would be the principal campaign theme from now until the general election will have another guess coming. The matter of an empty lunch pail or whether we shall wear patches on the only breeches we have isn't going to be a political issue as important as whether we shall go to the corner saloon for our toddy or continue to patronize the bootlegger.

After all what is an empty family larder compared with a thirst for more than one-half of one per cent beer? We are going to relegate the suffering cause by the present financial condition to the back ground and decide the momentous question of wetness. And this issue was made to order for the republican administration. For the administration, the elevation of the liquor question merely meant changing the campaign tactics from a defensive to an offensive one.

He'll Never Get Her Unless He Asks

NEW FEDERAL NUT DEPT.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The inception and development of a new department of the government, to be known as "The Federal Nut Department," is foreseen by the Chicago Tribune (Rep.) which gives the following details of the inception and development of additions to the Federal Bureau.

"A news item from Ealem, Ore., says that the federal employees in Crater Lake National park will count the nuts the squirrels store away this fall. Students of government are advised to watch this, because here is the genesis of a government bureau. It is not always possible to catch one just as it breaks the shell. From the Crater Lake research many reports will go to Washington and when they come in a new set of offices with doorman, usher, superintendent, chief clerk, three assistant clerks, two stenographers, three filing clerks and a publicity agent will be required.

"In 1933 this force will be expanded to meet the increased demands. It will then consist of fifty field agents, thirty envelope addressors, two policemen, two private elevator operators, ten typewriters and three pressmen. Later there will be six chemists, two hundred forestry experts, ten acorn experts, ten chestnuts specialists and ten agents well informed as to hickory nuts and paper shell pecans. In 1936 the bureau will move into a building of its own and by 1940 the squirrel and rodent department will be one of the foundations of the government and the secretary will be expected to deliver thirty delegates to the republican convention."

SALE OF FISHING LICENSES GAIN

Fishing has escaped the depression. Perhaps unemployment has something to do with it. Receipts for licenses for the first quarter of the present license year, beginning April 1, total $19,073.75. State Game Warden Elliott Barker stated Saturday—a gain of $250.25 over the receipts of the same period of last years.

"I'm inclined to believe that resident fishing license receipts are responsible for the increase," said Barker.

PICKED UP ON MAIN

M. W. Evans was heard the other day fervently invoking divine aid after he caught a string of little catfish. His prayer went something like this: "Oh, help me to catch a big fish, so I won't have to tell a lie."

And here's something worth reading which we swiped "Our pioneers did not sit and wait for the government to solve their problems, and that's why the country does not belong to the Indians now."

The democrats have been noted for their rip snorting conventions, but darn poor elections. If that wet plank don't mildew it'll be different this year.

Those who have listened in on these political conventions are convinced that the Lincoln type of statesman are out of the running in comparison with the fitness of some of these would be candidates.

A lady customer who stepped in the gas office to pay her bill remarked that she was mighty glad the democrats nominated Roosevelt, because he made us a good president one time.

SANITATION TO SHIELD TURKEYS FROM DISEASE

Sanitation is the keynote of prevention of the fatal blackhead disease of turkeys for which there is no effective remedy.

The disease is caused by a parasite which may be spread by chickens. Turkeys affected show signs of dullness, inability to keep up with the flock, loss of appetite, drooping wings, and sulphur colored diarrhea.

To prevent infection, the turkeys should be raised where there are no chickens. If poulters are to be raised with hens the coops should be moved at weekly intervals in order that the young turkeys may run over new ground. The rotation system of yards by which birds are moved weekly or even every two weeks from one yard to another and are not allowed to come back to the same yard oftener than once a month, has proved effective.

Where turkeys are herded, taking them out in a new direction each day will be fairly effective in preventing blackhead.

Keeping down the roundworms by adding tobacco dust to the mash in the proportion of 2 per cent has been received favorably. This may be kept up for weeks without any serious damage.

In some large establishments turkeys are raised in confinement on hardware cloth, cement floors or on coarse gravel, which allows a system of sanitation to be practiced so that the droppings are not mixed with food. Blackhead can be reduced to a minimum by these methods.

Judge—What had the defendant been drinking when you arrested him?
Cop—Whiskey, I think, your honor.

Judge—You think? You think? Aren't you a judge?
Cop—No, your honor, only a patrolman.

Sam—Why did you tip that girl so much when she gave you your coat?
Henry—Look at the coat she gave me.

Build Up Health and Pains Go Away

WOMEN who suffer from weakness often have many aches and pains which a stronger state of health would prevent.

Women in this condition should take Cardui, a purely vegetable tonic that has been in use for over 50 years. Take Cardui to improve the general tone of the system in cases of run-down health and "tired nerves." Women have found, in such cases, that Cardui helps them to overcome pains and make the monthly periods easier. CARDUI is safe and wholesome for women of all ages. Try it!

Sinking highway debentures $934,404, highway bonds $12,050, building debentures $162,406.

The institutional expenditures shown do not necessarily represent total expenses of the institutions, but only that part which passes thru the state treasury.

All of these funds, except the governor's, are subject to audit. The governor's fund is one of the sacred cows. The legislature has decreed that the governor will not be called upon to tell where his money goes. He may spend it as he chooses. So far as can be learned no governor has turned back an unexpended balance to the state. The total appropriation is always spent.

STATE OFFICERS DO NOT WELCOME SALARY CUT SANTA FE—On the ground that it "wouldn't be a drop in the bucket" and that most of them are paid little enough now, state officials are for the most part disinclined to advocate use of the axe on their salaries.

That appeared to be the predominant sentiment among some officials at the statehouse. The hand of economy has already been felt in some quarters at the capitol. The most recent victim is the state game department. In the state highway offices a lower schedule was put in effect at the first of the Seligman administration. There have been some cuts made in the motor vehicle bureau.

Typewriter Doctor

By RUBY DOUGLAS

THE cashier of the Brookville bank looked up from his desk as Sylvia, his competent little stenographer, entered his office humming gaily.

"Why the mirth on Monday morning, Miss Sylvia?" he asked.

"The old, old reason—joy in having created something!" she told him.

"Tell me—let me be joyful, too," persisted the cashier.

He had known Sylvia since her childhood. There was a friendly, family acquaintance as well as a business association.

"I will—but you won't like it," Sylvia laughed.

"Oh—conceived the idea of getting married, I suppose."

Sylvia raised her hands in protest. "Not at all. But the effect on you will be just the same. I am going into business for myself."

The cashier listened while the girl unfolded her plan. The idea had come to her on Saturday morning like a flash of lightning from the unknown spaces. She had recognized it at once as an inspiration, and all through the week-end she had been turning it over in her mind until now it was a concrete plan all formulated and ready to put into action.

"Then, you'll be a typewriter doctor, I gather," said the cashier when she had finished her outline.

"Yes—that's an attractive way to call it. There is no one in town who can mend a machine. You know yourself what a nuisance it is when the typewriters here in the office are out of order. We have to send to the city and not only pay the man's expenses but wait till he finds it convenient."

"Oh, I think you have hit upon a splendid idea. I—of course we hate to lose you, but we can't expect a girl with your ability and ambition to go on working for some one else at perhaps twenty dollars a week. Go to it, Miss Sylvia, and we will give you all the support we can."

Thus Sylvia severed her connections with the Brookville bank, but she took with her all the good will of the officers and employees who, one and all, promised to help her to get launched in her new venture.

She found a diminutive office on the main street and called herself a "Typewriter Doctor." She had a native mechanical sense and more than a little practical business ability.

It was not long before Sylvia was very busy, and she had found it necessary to make a few trips to the city in order to learn from the makers of various machines a number of intricate little peculiarities of their own typewriters. But she was quick and determined to succeed. Nothing seemed too difficult. She was happy and busy and she was experiencing the thrill that comes with achievement.

One morning a young man appeared in her office.

"Good morning," she said cheerily. The visitor explained that he was a writer and that he lived on a farm outside the limits of the city. His typewriter had become very badly in need of parts and repairs while he was in the middle of some work for a weekly publication. He asked whether he might bring in his machine and perhaps rent one for a few days. That was his problem.

Sylvia assured him that that was her work, and she had several machines on hand that she could let him choose from. For by this time she had not only gone into the business of renting typewriters, but she had acquired the agency of a neat little portable machine and was making handsome commissions on this.

If the young woman recognized another finger of fate pointing the way to her pathway she did not admit it. She confessed to herself that she was glad Mr. Bob Saunders would have to return for his machine. She liked him.

In a day or two, Bob Saunders appeared again. He was buoyantly happy.

"You are a mascot as well as a good typewriter doctor, Miss Bates," he said.

"How do you know?" asked Sylvia, for his machine was not ready.

"I have sold the story I wrote on the rented machine for more than a third again of what I have ever received before from the same people," he told her enthusiastically. "Now I can afford to get the parts."

He remained in the little office longer than was necessary, but Sylvia kept on working. He was lost in admiration of the deft, easy way in which she went about mending this machine, adjusting that one, cleaning another.

It became a habit—watching her. "Could you—perhaps—doctor the heart of typewriter man, Miss—Sylvia?" he asked her one day after many weeks.

"I—might, if it needed it," admitted Sylvia.

"I think if you would—we—we could make a success—together," Bob wrote better than he talked.

But Sylvia managed to understand. Add her response was all that he had hoped for.

"And, besides the doctor needs a partner," she told him afterwards. (© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.) (WNE Service)

PROSPECT HOOVER WILL VETO THE GIANT FEDERAL RELIEF BILL

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Senator Watson, the republican leader, said Tuesday that President Hoover would veto the $2,100,000,000 unemployment relief bill and insist that congress stay in session until a new measure has been passed.

WASHINGTON, — The $2,100,000 compromise unemployment relief bill was finally approved Tuesday by the house and senate conferees.

Indications, meanwhile, were increasing that President Hoover planned to veto the measure if the conference report is approved in its present form by the senate and house.

The conferees approved the final draft of the compromise agreement in the same form in which it was tentatively agreed to last Saturday, carrying $300,000,000 for direct relief loans to states; $322,000,000 for public construction and $1,500,000,000 for loans through the reconstruction corporation, both public and private.

All the conferees signed the bill except Representative Treadway, (R., Mass.), a strong administration supporter.

His refusal to sign added strength to the reports that President Hoover would veto the measure.

TWO CASES TYPHOID IN THIS SECTION

The occurrence of one and possibly two cases of typhoid fever, one on the Cottonwood and other at Seven Rivers, has set a busy line of labor for Dr. O. E. Puckett county health officer. Both cases are of foreign origin, but the fact that they occurred inside the county lines caused the break in a long line of typhoidless months and caused the tightening up of procedure.

During the week Dr. Puckett started 64 immunizations at Cottonwood, completed 17 at the Oil Field and advanced 7 at Seven Rivers.

"There is no occasion for alarm," said Dr. Puckett. "These sporadic cases will occur sometimes, and the sensible thing to do is to immunized anyhow, to be careful about flies, to be sure about your water supply, and if possible use only pasteurized milk. Just remember that water and milk are great carriers, and it doesn't pay to take any chances with either."

A comparatively small number of turtle doves appeared in Carlsbad over the week-end says the Current-Argus, the list including the following who were licensed to wed:

J. A. Shelton and Johnnie Owings of Minna, Texas.

Herbert Berry and Nellie Houston of Midland, Texas.

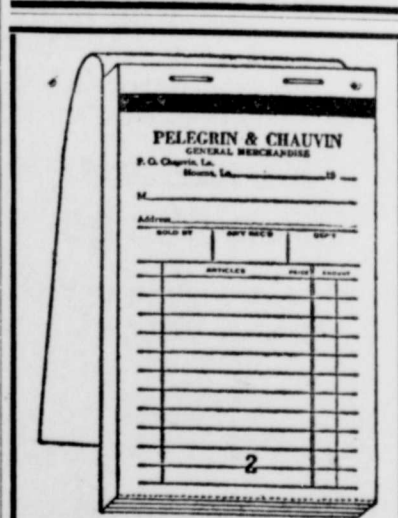

A. L. King and Mary Freeman of Fort Stockton, Texas.

Milton F. Wilson and Carrie E. Johnson of Hamlin, Texas.

D. M. Martin of Dallas and Geraldine M. Mills of Albu.

H. A. Samiemiange and Josefa Valdez of Carlsbad.

STATE HIGHWAY DEPT. WATCHING FATE OF FEDERAL AID BILL

SANTA FE—The New Mexico highway department has attention centered on the closing days of the congressional session, watching the fate of federal aid highway legislation.

If congress passed the federal aid bills, Chief Engineer W. R. Eccles said Tuesday, "we will be able to proceed with between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 worth of highway construction, otherwise the projects cannot be built."

If the emergency appropriation fails, he said, "the chances are that the department will go ahead with its oil surfacing plans anyhow, which provide for the treatment of a little more than 80 miles of highway."

It will be necessary, Mr. Eccles said, to cut operating and construction costs unless an emergency allotment comes. Maintenance which costs one and one half millions annually ought to be the last in the department to feel the retrenchment axe, Eccles said.

"We have thirty millions invested in roads in this state. We can't afford to let that deteriorate."

CARNIVALS BARRED IN BERNALILLO CO. UNLESS THEY PAY $600 PER DAY

There will be no carnivals on exhibit in Bernalillo-co. for some time it appeared Saturday.
Chairman Thomas Keleher of county commission announced that hereafter carnivals wishing to show in the county must pay a $600 a day licence fee. The state law provides a fee for carnivals of $200 a performance.
County commission has construed one performance to be from 6 a. m. to noon, one from noon to 6 p. m., and one from 6 p. m. until midnight.
Sheriff Felipe Zamora has been instructed by commission to collect the license fee from the carnival before it is allowed to open.
Keleher also said that whether the carnival is sponsored by lodges, churches, or other organizations, will make no difference in the case.
Commissions action was taken, Keleher said, upon complaint of a number of local business men.—Albuquerque Tribune.

PRISONER COMPLAINS

From W. J. Boring, "care of the County Jail, Carlsbad, N. M." comes a letter of numerous pages relative to "intolerable" conditions in the Eddy county jail. Because he has written with a hard pencil making very fine, light lines, we can't read much of the letter.
However, it seems to pertain to the food in the jail. From the items he mentions and they are numerous it looks as though there is little, really, to us that the prisoners of the Eddy county jail must be eating better, certainly more regular than many a poor law abiding man and woman on the outside.

NEW STAMPS

Washington.—American citizens yesterday started using the new three-cent stamp and help get the government out of the red.
The three-center is printed in purple and bears the familiar Stuart portrait of Washington. It is identical in size and design with the two-cent stamp of the Washington Bicentennial series except for the change of denomination numerals and the omission of dates.
Two other varieties of three-cent stamps will also be used—the current Lincoln stamp of the regular issue and the three-center of the bicentennial series.

TURNIP SAUERKRAUT IS NEW FARM FOOD

The farmer who used to put down a barrel of cabbage sauerkraut each fall may add another product to his list. Turnip sauerkraut is a new appetizing food suggested by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.
The department finds that a good sauerkraut can be made from medium-sized purple top turnips. They should be firm, sweet, and juicy in order to allow proper fermentation and flavor. The fleshy part of the root is ground or shredded and then mixed with salt at the rate of 4 ounces of salt to 10 pounds of turnips. The mixture is then packed in stone jars, weighted down and allowed to ferment.
Turnip sauerkraut may be stored at a low temperature for some time, the department says. It has a sharp flavor, closely resembling good cabbage sauerkraut. Most of the turnip flavor is lost when the kraut ferments.

DO YOU KNOW?

In 1871 our Congress passed an Act abolishing further recognition of our Indian Tribes as independent nations with whom we could make treaties, but not annulling some 370 treaties already made, and that this in effect outlawed the American Indian so that he became, and is today, a helpless "ward" with no right to employ his independent legal adviser, nor to enter any of our Courts for relief from wrongs of the Indian Bureau, unless by a special and specific Act of Congress?
And do you know that since 1887, according to Congressman Kelly, up to twelve years ago, "Congress had appropriated $15,000,000 for Indian schools? Money enough to furnish a 40,000 school building for every 200 children." Yet today the majority of our "Bureau Indians," it is asserted, cannot read or write our customary English language.

NEW MEXICO DEFICIT TO BE ONLY $300,000

SANTA FE.—New Mexico closed its twentieth fiscal year with a deficit of approximately $300,000, and the institutions began the new year with appropriations limited to available revenues to preclude increasing the overdraft during the ensuing period.
The actual deficit was $311,954, and unused balances returned to the treasury will approximate $10,000.
Slow tax payments account for $225,000 of the deficit.
Over estimate of the general fund income from motor vehicle licenses accounts for $40,000 and decrease in succession tax payments $10,000.
The remainder consists of miscellaneous items.
Treasurer Warren Graham believes that $150,000 in delinquent taxes will be forthcoming to apply against the deficit and the board of finance may issue certificates of indebtedness up to $137,000.

SPEAKERSHIP PRIZE

Washington.—The speakership of the next house is the big prize dangling before the eyes of a number of prominent democratic members, due to the nomination of speaker John Nance Garner for the vice-presidency.
A movement, begun Saturday by friends of representative Joseph W. Byrns of Tennessee, chairman of the powerful appropriations committee, to make him successor to the Texas, has gained in force.

NATION ENTERS NEW YEAR WITH HIGH HOPES

WASHINGTON.—Despite a 1931-32 deficit of $2,885,000,000—mightiest in peace time history—the nation Friday entered upon a new fiscal year with high hopes of coming out even as the result of a mammoth program of taxes and economy.
Even as the treasury announced how far the government had gone into the red in the fiscal year which closed Friday midnight, congress pushed ahead with the list of its appropriation measures. Biggest of the three bills dispatched to the White House was the $1,056,000,000 treasury postoffice measure. Like the $112,000,000 supply bill for the state, justice, commerce and labor departments and the $22,000,000 second deficiency bill it carried sharp reduction from previous years.

UNITED STATES TRUST COMPANY, a corporation, trustee for ANNA M. J. SMILEY, Plaintiff, Vs.

R. H. NORTON, impleaded with the following named defendants against whom substituted service is hereby sought to be obtained: MRS. MABEL WOOD, C. L. WOOD, her husband, and PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA, a corporation, Defendants. No. 5416.

NOTICE OF PENDING SUIT

STATE OF NEW MEXICO: TO R. H. NORTON, impleaded with the following named defendants against whom substituted service is hereby sought to be obtained: MRS. MABEL WOOD, C. L. WOOD, her husband, and Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California, a corporation, defendants.

You and each of you are hereby notified that there is a suit pending, No. 5416 on the Civil Docket of the District Court within and for the County of Eddy and State of New Mexico, wherein the United States Trust Company, a corporation, trustee for Anna M. J. Smiley, is plaintiff and R. H. Norton, impleaded with the following named defendants against whom substituted service is sought to be obtained: Mrs. Mabel Wood, C. L. Wood, her husband, and Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California, a corporation, are defendants; and that the general objects of said suit are (1) to obtain judgment against the defendants R. H. Norton and Mrs. Mabel Wood upon a promissory note executed by the defendant R. H. Norton to the plaintiff on April 26, 1927 for the sum of Nine Thousand Dollars due and payable on or before March 1, 1932 with interest from March 1, 1927 until paid at the rate of seven per cent per annum, and for judgment against the defendants R. H. Norton and Mrs. Mabel Wood for attorney fees as provided in said note; principal and interest claimed to be due the plaintiff from you the said defendants R. H. Norton and Mrs. Mabel Wood $10,336.48 with interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum from July 1, 1932 until paid, attorney fees claimed to be due the plaintiff from you the said defendants R. H. Norton and Mrs. Mabel Wood $1,033.65, as provided in said note, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from July 1, 1932 until paid, and cost of suit; and (2) to foreclose a certain mortgage deed executed by the defendant R. H. Norton to the plaintiff on the 26th day of April, 1927, and conveying to plaintiff as security for said note certain real estate, premises and water rights situated in Eddy County, New Mexico and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

All of Lots numbered 13, 14, 15 and 16, in Section 6, also the Southeast quarter of Section 6, also the North half of the Northeast quarter and the Northeast quarter of the Northwest quarter of Section 7, all in Township 16 South of range 26 East, N. M. P. M., together with the one-seventh right to the Artesian Well located in the Southwest corner of Section 5, Township 16, Range 26 and the right to have and maintain a pipe line to supply the house, etc., and the barn, etc., with the necessary water. Also a one-half interest in the Schetter-Eipper Water Right Filing on the Cottonwood Creek, being for three and nine-tenths feet of water the year round. Also the pumping plant and all equipment belonging thereto located on above described land, being 440 acres more or less.

You are further notified that unless you enter your appearance and plead in said cause at the Court House in Carlsbad, Eddy County, New Mexico, on or before the 23rd day of August, 1932, plaintiff will take judgment by default against you the defendants R. H. Norton and Mrs. Mabel Wood for principal and interest in the amount of $10,336.48 with interest thereon at the rate of 7 per cent per annum from July 1, 1932 until paid, and for the further sum of $1,033.65 as attorney fees with interest thereon at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from July 1, 1932 until paid, and cost of suit.

You and each of you are further notified that the real estate, premises and water rights in plaintiff's complaint and mortgage deed described will be sold to the highest bidder for cash to satisfy the amounts due plaintiff and all cost.

You are further notified that plaintiff's attorney is J. H. Jackson, and that his business address is Artesia, New Mexico.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the official seal of the District Court on this the 6th day of July, 1932.

AN EDITOR'S "GOOD BYE"

The following extract from the valedictory notice of a Tyron, (Oklahoma) newspaper contains food for thought for those of other towns which would "stay on the map," grow and become prosperous:

"With the close of this week we finish our duties as editor and manager of the Lincoln county Leader.

"We have given it a fair trial, but on account of non-support we must quit and throw up our lease, and go elsewhere where our services will be appreciated. Every dollar we have earned through the paper has been spent in Tyron, with very little response. In one establishment we have spent upwards of $35 and only $1.50 have we received from that house. Reciprocity seems to be an unknown word in Tyron; but rather it is 'grab all and give nothing in return.' We believe we have given Tyron a good newspaper, at least we have been told so many times, but we are tired of giving a good thing for nothing in return. We are also tired of begging small 50-cent advertising, and in some cases have the advertiser squirm when the bill is presented. We do not have to 'beg' our living, but we are tired of doing it here. If the newspaper cannot be cheerfully patronized, do not patronize it at all. It is a legitimate business and should be so characterized.

"We think half a dozen good funerals around here would be beneficial and new business blood would then be injected.

"We have no apologies to offer and our wish is that our successor may be more successful."

At a dinner party the absent-minded professor was seated next to a charming woman.

"Don't you remember me, professor?" she smiled. "Why some years ago you asked me to marry you!"

"Ah, yes," said the professor, "and did you?"—The Optimist.

Ties That Bind

By BERTHA LEAH CROSS

NAOMI STEVENS sat on the back porch watching the dusk as it settled over the garden. To her, this time of day was the loveliest, and the hour when she felt the most let down, tired, old and disillusioned. This night she was feeling unusually so because of the letter from Laura, the second she'd had that week. In the latter she pleaded even more urgently with her to accept her invitation to go to Europe as her traveling companion.

"If I only could," she whispered. "But here I am, as always, tied hand and foot by mother. If mother could only see, only realize how terribly she hampers me in everything I want to do. Talk about the selfishness of the young—it's nothing in comparison to the old. They think only of themselves!"

All of her life Naomi had craved a good time. She longed for travel and excitement.

First it had been her father, who parsimonious to the point of miserliness, had forced both her and her mother to scrimp and save; to go without and make over, while he hoarded his money. Then when he had died, ten years ago, each had lacked initiative and urge to get out of the rut into which their lives had settled. It had taken but these letters, however, to light the flame of desire in Naomi's crushed ego.

"There's money," she told herself, "plenty of it. If only mother can be aroused . . ."

But the mother—a self-effacing little woman who had lived for forty years under the domination of her husband. Cowed, timid, shrinking, after these years of bondage. What force could galvanize her and make her forget her husband's reiterated statement: "Women's place is in the home." Could she be freed, emancipated from that obsession?

Naomi was now forty-five. She had let her youth go by as she had loved. Fred had become tired of waiting.

She had been a lovely girl with a wealth of curly, brown hair and large, wistful eyes filled with dreams. Other men had been attracted. But they, like Fred, had been appalled by too much interference, and later by too much prospective mother-in-law. They had passed by to other less hampered girls.

Now had come this opportunity Galvanized into life, she let her thoughts dwell on this chance of a lifetime. Even the words in the letter were etched on her mind: "Come on, Naomi," her friend had written. "Check your mother with her sister and come with me."

The tears came now, faster and faster, stinging her eyes, overflowing—a perfect torrent of heart-breaking tears of longing.

Suddenly the tears stopped and she sat up with a snap. The fire in her eyes dried the tears: "I'm going!" she said aloud. "I'm going to Europe with Laura. Mother can go to California with the Lawsons."

She began formulating in her mind her plan of procedure. First she would write Aunt Hattie that her mother was coming, if she could make her, and ask for her help. Then she would write Laura that she would arrive in New York ready to sail the seventh of July.

"I'm going to spend, spend, spend!" she said recklessly. "I am going to make myself young again and see life. For every dollar I've denied myself, I'll spend two."

After supper she walked to the village for the evening mail. She posted a letter to Laura telling her she would meet her in New York the sixth. "I've burned my bridges now," she thought. "I'm going straight home to break the news to mother. I'll find new interests, and life, and youth," she told herself.

"Mother," she said abruptly. The swaying rocker stopped at the tenseness in Naomi's voice.

"Yes? What is it, Naomi?" Her tone held a mild surprise.

"I'm sailing the seventh of July with Laura."

"Sailing?" in a bewildered tone.

"Yes, sailing for Europe on the seventh. And I've made arrangements for you to stay with Aunt Hattie while I'm gone."

"You've made arrangements? I'll haven't lost my mind, have I? Well, you've certainly taken a pretty independent step." Her quick anger cooled. She laid a hand on Naomi's with a quick pressure. Suddenly she laughed. "Child, you was afraid to tell me? I wondered what you had on your mind for a week."

"Yes, I was afraid. I was afraid you'd not want me to go. Oh, mother, her voice breaking. "I've got to go. I can't let this go by, as I have everything else in life." Her voice was growing shrill and rising a little. "Can't you see? Can't you understand?"

"I certainly can see," her mother replied slowly. "I have wanted a vacation for years and always thought I had to stay here at home on your accounts. But from now on, Naomi, these ties that bind are going to be elastic. They are going to stretch. For a month I've been trying to get up courage to tell you that I'm dying to go to California I've always wanted to go—and now I'm going."

Consider the Community and the Bank

It is a heavy responsibility that a strong bank must meet, for its obligations to the community are legion. The trusted counselor of local business, its fingers are kept constantly on the pulse of world affairs that the city's flow of trade may be synchronized with that of the nation. The bank is a dispenser of credit, life-blood of commerce, and this vital force must be given wisely. Industries which support the region look to the bank for guidance in their problems. To it, too, turn thousands for guarding of their savings, and hundreds more for investment counsel. To the bank belongs the task of teaching habits of thrift to those who are beginning life, and likewise the solemn trust of keeping safe the worldly estates of those who have passed on.

The WEEK'S NEWS

STAND TOGETHER, SUCCEED!— This was plea for Democratic unity made by Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt to each of his convention supporters. Message was transcribed by special process to the durable surface of letter-size cardboard with phonograph records and mailed to each delegate's home as reminder.

SHAPELY CINDERELLA—It's easy to see why Susan Fleming, former Broadway chorus girl, was selected from the ranks of Hollywood extras to star in a new production.

ORIGINAL CROONER BACK—Ten years ago Whispering Jack Smith discovered crooning. Now he's back showing the boys how it should be done in a thrice-weekly NBC broadcast. Here Smith is giving vent to a good hearty shout after years of whispering while Margaret Speaks, who sings with him on his program, looks on in amazement.

NEW CHAMPION—Jack Sharkey (facing) pokes out his deadly left in the fight with Max Schmeling that won the Boston gob the world's heavyweight championship.

WARHORSE—Germany is teaching animals as well as men to prepare for gas attacks in the event of future war. Fearsome-looking animal above is a horse in special equine gas mask awaiting the coming of a trial gas cloud.

A FEW HIGH LIGHTS ON LIFE OF DEMO NOMINEE ROOSEVELT

After twenty-two years of political life, Franklin Delano Roosevelt reached the top rung in the ladder of his political party after touching the steps upon which his illustrious cousin, the late president "T. R." reached the top.

Theodore Roosevelt attained the presidency after schooling in the governorship of New York, the post of assistant secretary of the navy and the vice presidency. He was a republican.

Franklin is the nominee for the presidency at the hands of the democrats after eight years as assistant secretary of the navy, an unsuccessful candidacy for the vice-presidency and four years as governor of New York.

The candidate descended from a long line of Dutch patrons, began his political career as a state senator from the Rockribbed republican county of dutches, seat of his country estate. It was 1910, and he was a young lawyer with the ink on his diplomas from Harvard and Columbia scarcely dry on the parchment.

John E. Mack, who nominated him for the presidency in Chicago induced Franklin to seek that state senate post, and nominated him at the senatorial district convention. The tall, robust son of James Roosevelt, wealthy farmer and railroad man conducted a campaign in a new contrivance of the day, the automobile. He rattled through the country, buttonholing farmers over barbed wire fences and talking to cross-road gatherings at night. He won, to the surprise of his neighbors and the amazed republicans.

In Albany he quickly gained attention by leading a fight on William F. "Blue Eyed Billy" Sheehan, who was Tammany Hall's candidate for the United States senatorship. Sheehan was particularly adept at raising and distributing money for campaign purposes. Roosevelt disapproved of his tactics. Gathering a group around him he deadlocked the election. Sheehan was shelved.

Roosevelt, enthused by the doctrines of Woodrow Wilson, enlisted in his cause and was an active worker for his presidential nomination at Baltimore in 1912. Josephus Daniels, the North Carolina publisher, liked the energetic young New Yorker and upon the party victory took him into the navy department.

Roosevelt at the 1920 convention in San Francisco seconded the presidential nomination of Alfred E. Smith. There began the political alliance that endured until early this year when Smith went into the lists against Roosevelt for the presidential nomination. In 1924, Roosevelt nominated Smith for the presidency, and directed his candidacy against William Gibbs McAdoo, who handled the proceedings here that nominated Roosevelt. Again in 1928 Roosevelt nominated Smith and during the campaign spoke in his behalf.

Infantile paralysis attacked Roosevelt in 1921 and left him unable to walk without assistance. For seven years he fought the ravages of the disease. In 1928 he listened to the entreaties of Smith, John J. Raskob, the democratic chairman, and Herbert H. Lehman, now the lieutenant governor, and ran for governor. "Al" was beaten but "Frank" was victorious. From that time on he was a potential candidate for the presidency.

Theodore Roosevelt was the fifth cousin. Franklin married Ann Eleanor, the only daughter of Theodore's brother. She is his own sixth cousin. They have five children, Mrs. Curtis Dall, James, Elliott, Franklin, Jr., and John. Mrs. Dall, James and Franklin, Jr., attended the convention. John traveled to the convention Saturday with his parents. There are several grandchildren.

Roosevelt is 50 now. He is tall, weighs about 190 pounds, has the long nose and broad smile of the Roosevelts. His eyes are gray and deep set. He is an animated conversationalist. He still wears braces on his legs to steady muscles handicapped by infantile paralysis, but can discard them if he so desires. He walks with the aid of a cane.

The great statesman hunted up Daniel Webster and asked him to indorse the note.

"With pleasure," said Webster. "But I need some money myself. Why not make your note for $500 and you and I will split it?"

This they did. And today the note is in the Riggs Bank—unpaid.

Ex-Capitalist—Why, a lot of us had seats on the Stock Exchange a year ago, and now look at us.

Farmer—Yes, and many of us had seats in our pants a year ago, and now—don't look at us.

SHORT SUBJECTS

Artistic Eras
Some writers have distinguished the early Italian revival of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth centuries as the Risorgimento (literally "new arising"), applying the term Renaissance to its development in western and northern Europe in the Sixteenth century.

Revealed by the Tongue
Study your tongue, declares a French scientist, who declares that if it is long it denotes frankness; if broad, expansiveness; if narrow, concentration, and if long and wide, a weakness for gossiping.

Not Altogether a Joke
For years James D. Lloyd of Talgarth, Wales, told friends he was "banking his money with the angels." Every one thought he was "off" until it was revealed that he had $2,500 hidden in a cemetery.

Well, Not So Strange!
Esthonia, the little Baltic republic, still continues one of the strangest marriage customs in history. Brides, when first entering their new homes, throw money in the fire.—Collier's.

Have Historic Names
There are 26 cities by the name of Madison that have post offices, 23 with the name of Monroe, 18 with the name of Jackson, 11 with the name of Jefferson and 9 with the name of Sherman.

Long Words Win
Jud Tunkins says some folks use such long words that they naturally have the best of an argument. All you can say to them is, "Oh, well, have it your way!"—Washington Star.

First American Stamps
The Post Office department says that the first postage stamps were made under contract in 1847 by Rawdon, Wright, Hatch & Edson of New York.

Still Better for Them
"Crying is good for the complexion," says an English physician. Wonder if he didn't mean the complexion makers?—Boston Transcript.

Taxpayers' Coin
Over in Hedjaz they have a coin called the "grouch," which is probably the favorite money for tax paying.—Nashville Banner.

Permanently Inco
An advertisement in a New York paper offers for sale a picture by "an unknown famous Italian painter."

Pretty Thought
Gray hairs seem to my fancy like the light of a soft moon, silvering over the evening of life.—Richter.

Antiquity of Horse
Fossil remains more than 4,000 years old have been identified as those of a horse.

Adapted From Battle Cry
Often the motto used in heraldry was in early times the battle cry of its owner.

In a Nutshell
The bitter past, more welcome in the sweet.

MOVEMENT ASSN. MEET JULY 28

Meeting of the New Mexico Improvement Association will be held at 8:00 a. m., July 28, 1932, at the Hotel El Comodoro. This meeting will bring Farm and Home members of the association together for a week of contemplative and constructive work. The meeting will be held at the Hotel El Comodoro, Albuquerque, N. M., from July 25 to 29 inclusive. Members of farmers who are unable to attend for a week will be permitted to attend for a portion of the week. The meeting will be held at the Hotel El Comodoro, Albuquerque, N. M., from July 25 to 29 inclusive. Among the speakers will be O. S. Fisher, Extension Agent, U. S. D. A., of El Paso; D. C. and W. H. Olin, Supervisors for the Rio Grande Railroad, Colorado. Problems of the producers of the state will be discussed at this time and a number of other matters of considerable importance will be discussed. The main sorghums will be planted at this time. A tour of the valley farms will be made during the afternoon.

HEALTH COLUMN

Conducted by Dr. J. R. Earp, Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health.

MOSES WAS RIGHT

Thou shalt have a place also without the camp, whither thou shalt go forth abroad; and thou shalt have a paddle among thy weapons; and it shall be, when thou sittest down abroad, thou shalt dig therewith, and shalt turn back and cover that which cometh from thee." (Deuteronomy, Chap. 23, Verses 12 and 13).

The children of Israel moved like an army in the field. The danger that was apparent to their leader has been apparent to army generals of later days. Nearly one third of the deaths among the British troops in their war against the Boers were caused by typhoid fever. Today the soldiers are comparatively safe from this danger because they are all inoculated against typhoid fever. But the germs of typhoid, dysentery and infantile diarrhea are still carried in millions from human dejecto to human food. A single fly may carry as many as four million germs on its body and twenty-five million in its intestinal tract.

Last year 258 babies in their first year, 58 babies in their second year died from diarrhea in New Mexico. Simple calculation will show you that flies to a baby are just about as dangerous as high explosive shells to a soldier at war. Think of this whenever you see a fly sharing the baby's bread and jam.

Since we live in villages we have privies instead of the paddle used by the children of Israel. But the privy is no safeguard if it can be invaded by flies. Every ### fly infested privy within a mile of your house is a menace to the health and even to the life of your child. Instructions for making the privy safe may be had from the county health officer or from the State Bureau of Public Health. Are you seeking work for the unemployed? Invest your charity in health. Build fly-proof privies.

DISTRIBUTE PERCH FROM PRIVATE LAKE

Ten thousand perch have been taken within the past few weeks from the Lea Lake of the Fin & Feather club for distribution in various public waters of the state. It was announced Thursday by local officials of the state game commission.

Thursday afternoon 4,000 perch left in a truck of the state game department to be placed in various public waters near Hot Springs and 3,000 additional fish are now in a live box in the lake ready to be transported to Albuquerque for distribution.

Other shipments have gone to Deming and various other parts in the southern and central portions of the state.

Game officials said Thursday that these last shipments would probably conclude the perch distribution in New Mexico for this season. Only a small percentage of the fish in the lake, however have been taken, they said.

OLD HIGH FINANCE

Frenzied finance is not exclusively a habit of recent years. At the Riggs National Bank in Washington, says the Popular Magazine there is carefully guarded a proof of the foregoing assertion. Regarding the proof there is told this story:

One winter morning Henry Clay finding himself in need of money, went to the Riggs bank and asked for the loan of $250 on his personal note. He was told that while his credit was perfectly good, it was the inflexible rule of the bank to require an indorser.

The great statesman hunted up Daniel Webster and asked him to indorse the note.

"With pleasure," said Webster. "But I need some money myself. Why not make your note for $500 and you and I will split it?"

This they did. And today the note is in the Riggs Bank—unpaid.

ROOSEVELT -- GARNER HEAD DEMOCRATIC TICKET AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Illinois — Making new political history the democratic national convention prolonged its sessions Saturday to receive and welcome its choice for the presidency, Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, nominated late Friday night by the unanimous support of the delegates of forty states.

Roosevelt won with 945 of the 1154 convention votes on the first ballot of the night session, fourth of the convention, when California and Texas swung to his support with the deliberate purpose of breaking up then and there the deadlock set upon him by his opponents.

That action was enough to put him over, wild demonstration followed and then state after state rushed to the winner's column.

With the selection Saturday of John Garner of Texas as his running mate conceded by every party faction, and no other business remaining before final adjournment party officials sought to make the New York governor's visit to Chicago—the airplane dash from Albany—a convention finale of memorable color and significance.

LOUIS KEEL FINALLY CLEARS DAMAGE CASE

Margaret Roberts, 21, Abilene, Texas, lost her $50,000 breach of promise suit against J. Louis Keel, 22, Roswell ranchman, according to Associated Press dispatches from Abilene.

The decision was returned by two district judges, Milburn S. Long and W. R. Chapman, who reviewed the finding of the two previous trials in which the juries were unable to agree. The principals agreed to submit the case to the two judges and abide by their decision.

Miss Roberts charged that Keel broke his promise to marry her and married Mrs. Lillian Watkins El Paso widow, instead.

Tom Ed Bullock returned Sunday to Fort Worth, Texas after a two weeks' visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Bullock.

TAXPAYERS PRESENT AN EIGHT POINT TAX PROGRAM FOR AN OK

SANTA FE—An eight point program designed to bring about tax relief in New Mexico and to be presented at a special session of the state legislature if the governor approves, has been drawn up by a sub-committee and special investigating committee of the New Mexico federation of taxpayers associations.

The two committees, following their appointment Monday went into executive session and remained there until Tuesday morning when they adopted the following program which calls for:

- 1—Revision of the county officials salaries and expense laws.
- 2—Reduction of the general appropriations act for the 21st fiscal year.
- 3—Elimination of county boards of appraisal.
- 4—Elimination of delinquent tax collectors.
- 5—Restricting of employment of special counsel by state departments insofar as possible.
- 6—Provision for the distribution of motor vehicle licenses through the county treasurers.
- 7—Passage of a special appropriation to pay gasoline tax refunds.
- 8—Further provisions for the safeguard of public monies.

Clarence Iden of Las Vegas, president of the state federation and chairman of the sub-committee said that the governor will be asked to incorporate these eight recommendations in his call for a special session provided the taxpayers definitely decide to ask him to call the session.

The two committees will meet here again July 12. In the meantime the committeemen will continue their investigation of the tax problem and will draft bills intended to carry out the relief sought.

Misses Ruth French, Ruth Bigler and Margaret Phillips and Ed Shockey spent Sunday in El Paso, Texas.

The son of Ben Champion underwent an operation for appendicitis Saturday.

The market advanced further on active covering. Futures closed firm 27-30 higher; July 6.05; October 6.21; December 6.34; May 6.71. Spot quiet; middling 6.20.

Joe's Faith

By CORONA REMINGTON

SHE was only a little maid in a big hotel and he the chef, but he had generations of chefs behind him and hers was a family of the highest type of maids.

When Joe porter had first mentioned marriage to Cornelia Allen she had hesitated although she did love him.

"Well, I'll never marry anybody else," he vowed. "You're as pretty as a little picture and your folks are all honest and fine people, and I love you and I believe you love me, too. Isn't that reason enough we should get married?"

Cornelia said nothing for a moment, she merely permitted him to keep his arm around her, which was a sort of consent, he considered, since she never had done this before. She did love him, she knew she did.

"But, Joe, I wanted to go up in my work—get to ladies' maid to somebody big in society," she protested.

"That don't matter," he answered. "They'll never love you like I do, honey, so you'd better take me."

It was a wrench to give up her ambition, but at last she consented. She was in the midst of doing her work on the fifth floor one day when she received a summons to go to the office of Mr. Williams, the manager, at once. Puzzled, she hurried down and found her employer talking to a stranger whom she supposed to be a guest. He seemed disturbed about something and would scarcely let Mr. Williams speak, but with a gesture of the hand the manager silenced him and addressed the maid himself.

"Cornelia, did you clean up 516 this morning?" he asked.

"Yes," answered the girl, her face suddenly paling. "Why? What's the matter?"

"You know what's the matter," broke in the guest.

"I don't!" protested the girl on the verge of tears.

"Did you let anyone else in the room while you were cleaning it? I mean, did any of the other maids come in?" inquired the manager.

"No, sir, I am the only one in and I locked the door as soon as I had finished."

"Well, you have my wallet, then, with $116 in it," broke in the guest angrily, "because I left it under my pillow and forgot to take it downstairs when I left this morning. As soon as I missed it I rushed to my room and it was gone. You may both come up and look."

Together the three took the elevator to the fifth floor and hurried down the long, red-carpeted corridor to room 516. After a thorough search they were forced to give it up. The wallet was not under the mattress nor on the floor beneath the bed. In fact, it was apparently nowhere.

"Go on to the servants' quarters," ordered the manager harshly, and Cornelia fled out of the room. But she did not go to the servants' quarters, instead she sought out Joe and told him of her undeserved disgrace.

"Kid, you never did it," he declared, holding her close. "And I'll break anybody's face who comes here saying you did."

"I'm so glad you still believe in me," Cornelia said, clinging to him. "You're the only one that does. I'll be ashamed to look at anybody around here after it gets out because most of 'em'll think I did steal it—going to be married and everything, they'll think I wanted it to buy clothes with. Oh, Joe, I'm so wretched." And again she burst into tears. "You'll be disgraced if you marry me because there's lots'll always believe I did it."

"They'll not either. They know you too well."

But Joe was wrong. By noon the news had spread out and at lunch Cornelia could not eat, for the suspicious glances that were shot in her direction and whispered murmurings that went on among the servants.

The next morning the manager sent for her again and she was horrified to see the same guest sitting there at the side of the desk. This time Mr. Williams let the other man do the talking.

"Here's a twenty for you," he said. "I found my wallet. I'd slipped it inside the inner pillow slip when I thought I was putting it under my pillow. As soon as I lay down last night I felt it under my head. Sorry it happened."

"I don't want your twenty dollars," said Cornelia, with the dignity of a princess. "But I'm glad you found your purse. All I want is that you or Mr. Williams tell the servants at dinner today that I did not take it."

"Be glad to," said the manager warmly.

Once out of the office she shed her dignity like a cloak and rushed out to find the chef. After she had told him she gave him a little sudden hug.

"I'll always love you a little more for believing in me so hard," she said.

"Then it was lucky for me it happened," he laughed, and because she was so happy she had a little glad cry on his shoulder.

New Tips on What to Serve With Various Salad Courses

By JOSEPHINE GIBSON, Director, Helms Food Institute

DECIDING what to serve with salad is often a more problem than choosing the salad. This is a matter that confronts the hostess, whether the occasion is luncheon, dinner, or evening party. The accompaniment varies with the type of salad and the time at which served. Below are listed—according to salad with which they should be served—simple, easily prepared, tasty and flavorful salad accompaniments. The less substantial be chosen for luncheon or dinner menus and the heartier for party in which salad is the main course.

1. Vegetable Salad Accompaniments
  - a. Very crisp crackers, spread with Peanut Butter and bordered with Fresh Cucumber Pickle Relish.
  - b. Rounds of bread, toasted on one side and the untoasted side spread with Sandwich Relish and garnished with strips of pimiento.
  - c. Sandwiches spread with cream cheese combined with Evaporated Horseradish and French dressing. Use white or whole-wheat bread.
  - d. Toasted Cheese Rolls.*
2. Meat or Fish Salad Accompaniments
  - a. Sandwich Relish in Whole Wheat bread sandwiches.
  - b. Lettuce, sliced Stuffed Spanish Olives and Mayonnaise Sandwiches.
  - c. Lettuce, chopped Preserved Sweet Gherkin and Mayonnaise Sandwiches.
3. Fruit Salad Accompaniments
  - a. Sandwiches of Peanut Butter and thinly sliced banana in white bread.
  - b. Sandwiches of Peanut Butter and chopped Dates in white bread.
  - c. Rippe Mission Olive sandwiches.*
  - d. Chopped nut, celery and Mayonnaise sandwiches.
  - e. Peanut Straws.*

CAPITAN MAN KILLED

Walter Kee, of Capitan, was instantly killed at 3:00 o'clock Sunday morning and Lynn Scott, of Estancia, was seriously injured when an automobile in which they were returning to Capitan from a dance at Ruidoso overturned near White Mountain Inn.

Kee, who was driving, was instantly killed when the car left the highway on a sharp curve and overturned. His neck was broken and he received various internal injuries.

Scott was taken to Ft. Stanton and was brought to Roswell today. For a time it was feared that his injuries would be fatal. He was, however, easily and attending physician said he would get well.

Scott, who sustained a chest, a bad cut at the side of the ear and various internal injuries, said that the only one he could account for the accident was that Kee had gone to the wheel.
