NEW FALL WEAR TO BE DISPLAYED IN A STYLE SHOW AUG. 27

An outstanding event of the approaching fall season for those interested in correct dress is the Joyce-Fruit style show to be given under the direction of the dry goods department Saturday evening, beginning at 8:30 p. m. The event will be just as elaborate as any previous style show staged by this firm in years passed. Ten live models will parade the length of the store building and will also appear in the display windows at the front entrance. Ladies will be able to view what is new in dress and coat wear also in millinery and footwear. Men's suits, shirts and other paraphernalia will be displayed. Another event which reminds one of the fall season is the special offering of school supplies for the school children. See the Joyce-Fruit announcement appearing in this issue for details concerning special prices made on dry goods and school supplies at this time.

TIDAL WELL IN THE EUNICE AREA WILL BE CLOSELY WATCHED

Eunice Test Develops Several Oil Showings — Kaiser 1 Gets Best And Third Show At 1,132 Feet.

Three wells in the Hobbs district are due for completion shortly, but principal interest at this time is centered in the Tidal Co., State No. 1 in the northeast quarter sec. 8-21-36 in the Eunice area, which was reported shut down this morning at 3,897 feet waiting on cement to set. Oil showings were reported in this test at 3,390; 3,490 to 3,532; 3,710 to 3,730 with an increase from 3,745 to 3,760 feet. Operators regard the Tidal as having more than a fair chance of developing a producer with these numerous oil showings. The twenty-third well in the Hobbs area to show water was reported last week, in the western flank of the field. The twenty-third well was the State 33 of the Midwest Refining Co., in the NW 1/4 sec. 4-19-38, which started showing 3 1/2 per cent cut oil, but when choked and reopened gradually began to make pipe line oil. Local attention is still on the Kaiser No. 1 of W. A. Scott, in the NW SE sec. 7-18-27, which is drilling below 1,150 feet this morning. A third oil show, the best yet found in the test was encountered at 1,132 feet. The Rice No. 1 of the Shell Petroleum Corp., in the SE sec. 13-18-37, is nearing the paying in the Hobbs field. This test was reported coring at 4,050 feet. The Turner No. 1 of the Skelly Oil Co., 1980 feet from the north line and 1,650 feet from the west line sec. 34-18-38, another interesting well in this area is drilling below 3,550 feet. Two new locations have been staked in the Hobbs area, these being the Byers No. 11 of the Midwest Refining Co., 660 feet from the north line and 1980 feet from the west line, sec. 3-19-38 and the McKinley No. 1 of the Skelly Oil Co., 990 feet from the north and 330 feet from the west line sec. 20-18-38.

Corporate Assessments Drop

$20,425,945 Loped Off Of Corporate Assessments In State—Oil One Commodity To Show Substantial Increase.

New Mexico will suffer a net loss of $20,425,945 in corporate and local assessed valuations this year, Byron O. Beall, chief tax commissioner said yesterday. The total valuation in 1932 will be $311,350,429 as compared with $331,776,374 for 1931. Corporate values, Beall said, decreased $7,313,436 or 5.90 per cent under the values for last year. The 1932 valuations are $130,161,685 as compared with $137,475,121 for last year. Local property values for 1932 total $177,688,744 as compared with $190,861,023 last year for a decrease of $13,172,279 or 6.90 per cent. Losses in valuation were shown in the values placed on banks, producing mines and railroads. The greatest loss listed was in the railroad assessments where the valuations dropped from $90,530,741 in 1931 to $85,381,894 for 1932. The total decrease in railroad values was $5,148,847. A gain of $713,130 was reported in the 1932 pipe line valuations over last year's, a gain of $78,000 was revealed in the telephone and telegraph assessment and $59,770 in oil production assessments. The valuations for all forms of corporate property follow: Banks: 1931 assessment, $2,075,762; 1932, $1,903,091; loss in valuation, $179,679. Pipe lines: 1931 assessments, $4,515,493; 1932, $5,228,623; gain in valuation, $713,130. Public utilities: 1931 assessment, $8,526,815; 1932, the same. Producing mines: 1931 assessment, $26,944,901; 1932, $24,250,521; loss in valuation, $2,694,380. Non-producing mines: 1931 assessment, $1,088,688; 1932, $1,000,000; loss in valuation, $88,688. Railroads: 1931 assessment, $90,530,741; 1932, $85,381,894; loss in valuation, $5,148,847. Telephone and Telegraph: 1931 assessment, $3,792,741; 1932, $3,870,741; gain in valuation, $78,000. Oil production in the state was valued at $3,500,000 this year or $59,770 more than last year's figure which was $3,440,230.

MANY AT CAMP MARY WHITE

Approximately 1,000 people visited Camp Mary White, the Girl Scout camp in the Sacramento mountains Sunday and heard an enjoyable program rendered by the Girl Scouts. Congressman Dennis Chavez, representing Governor Seligman made a brief address. At noon a barbecue was served to 720 people. A number of folks from the valley were present. Among the local people were: Mr. and Mrs. Mark Corbin, and son, Mark, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mann and daughter, Janice and Mrs. Fred Cole and little Miss Hattie Ruth Cole and Mr. and Mrs. John Prude of Hope.

WHEELER EXPLAINS BENEFITS OF FOREST

A large crowd turned out Saturday afternoon to hear the illustrated lecture of H. N. Wheeler of the U. S. Bureau of Forests. Using slides of scenes from the various forests, Mr. Wheeler brot home to the people here the need of conservation in the national forest. The Lincoln forest to the west helps to control the water supply of the Pecos valley. Its vegetation holds the water so that it does not drain quickly, but soaks into the ground giving us an underground water supply. Millions of tons of dirt is washed into the streams each year thru soil erosion caused by deforestation. Deforestation is caused by man and animals. Animals often overgraze forest and plains land and cause erosion both by wind and by water. Mr. Wheeler displayed pictures of barren China, a large portion of which was once covered by forests. Portions of the United States, particularly in the south have been practically ruined on account of the erosion. Protection of grazing in the forests helps to prevent waste of timber and the protection of the grazing area. Properly supervised forests also help to preserve the game and forest and supplies the sportsman with hunting. Prevention of fire in the forest was another phase of the conservation of our resources, stressed by Mr. Wheeler.

ONLY ONE MORE DAY LEFT FOR VOTERS TO REGISTER NAMES

Local citizens who have neglected to register to vote in the general election should not overlook the fact that Saturday, August 27th, will be the last day to attend to this important matter. Persons of voting age will no doubt bear out the statement that conditions can change radically in the course of a few days and even though you felt that you would not want to participate in the November election now, the situation might present an entirely different picture when November rolls around. So play safe and register if your name is not on the registration list. Saturday will be the last day any voter may register in any precinct in Eddy county. About 100 names were added to the registration books in districts A and B, Saturday, running the total voting strength of the precinct to over 1,200 voters.

ENTRANTS IN CITY GOLF TOURNAMENT QUALIFY BY AUG. 30

Entrants in the coming city golf tournament may qualify between now and August 30th, T. C. Bird, member of the tournament committee announced this week. This year there will only be one flight for the championship cup. Sixteen members may qualify and those who qualify must turn in the score by August 30th. Scores may be handed to any member of the committee, Willis Morgan, Ray Bartlett or T. C. Bird.

BUYS EWES

Col. A. T. Woods has purchased 147 ewes from Abe Conner and will run them on his farm east of town, it was understood.

PROSPECTS BUMPER COTTON CROP ARE REPORTED BRIGHT

Prospects for a bumper cotton crop are the best seen here in years according to cotton men who have made a recent inspection of crop conditions in this area. What is known as the bottom crop is especially promising and is heavily fruited. Weather conditions have been almost ideal and the cotton plant has shown a rapid growth as result and has retained practically all of the bolls and squares. Changeable weather conditions have often caused the plant to shed badly at certain intervals but this condition has not occurred here this year. Production estimates here forecast a crop of about 13,000 bales or better for the trade area. Ginner anticipates that some cotton will be ginned before the close of the present month, but in general, crop conditions are about ten days behind the corresponding period of last year.

HOBBS UNIT PLAN MUST BE APPROVED BY FEDERAL GOV'T.

Wells And Hinkle Insist More Activity In The Undeveloped Area Of Hobbs Field, Which May Be Utilized.

The article published in last week's Advocate with reference to a cattle grading demonstration at the Ned Shattuck ranch on August 28th, erred in the date. The revised date sent out by the State College is Monday, August 29th instead of Sunday, August 28th. J. K. Wallace and Dr. W. L. Black will offer some important discussions. Mr. Shattuck will give a free barbecue and the ladies attending have been requested to bring some pies and cakes. The Hobbs pool in Lea county, may become the first oil field in the southwest subjected to unitization after fully developed. While a unit plan of operation has been effective in the Van pool in Van Zant county for nearly three years, the arrangement was worked out before development started. Control of encroaching water and regulation of reservoir pressure are two immediate objectives of Hobbs pool operators, who adopted a resolution at a general meeting in Fort Worth last week that is believed tantamount to final approval of unit operation. The resolution provided for indorsement of unit operation and approval of the engineering committee's draft of participating percentages with the understanding that slight adjustments may be made on a review of appraisals on edge leases making water. The only opposition to unit operation was voiced by operators whose entire holdings in the pool are removed from the water contaminated area. They felt that the original draft of participating interests placed too high value on leases showing water. Any unit plan formulated by oil operators in the Hobbs pool must be approved by the federal government and the state before it can be placed in operation, Dr. E. H. Wells, state geologist said at Santa Fe. Dr. Wells who attended a meeting of the general proration committee of the Hobbs pool at Ft. Worth last week, issued the following statement dealing with the conference. "The proposed plan for unitization of the Hobbs pool submitted in Ft. Worth a week ago failed to receive the required unanimous vote of the operators, and the revised plan with slight changes in the amount of interest of the companies which was voted on Tuesday, August 16, received a number of dissenting votes. Additional efforts will be made by the operators to work up a plan which will be unanimously approved by the Hobbs operators. "Any unit law formulated by the operators must be approved (Continued on last page, column 3)

A tomato picked from the patch of A. M. Tarbet in south Artesia tipped the scales at a pound and a quarter when weighed. Mr. Tarbet says there is nothing unusual about the tomato except that it was grown from select seed.

Cantaloupe Movement May Start On Monday

Melon Shipments Stop On Account Of Market Conditions — Association Reorganized At A Meeting Tuesday.

Further shipments of cantaloupes from this point is contingent on the market outlook, it was announced Tuesday morning following a meeting of local growers with Alex Strachan of Pecos, Texas, field representative of the United States Fruit Distributing Co. It is hoped that the growers may be able to start loading cantaloupes again Monday, but this will depend on whether or not the market continues to show strength. It is understood that the growers on the Carlsbad project will continue to ship out about a car a day for the next few days, but the full movement will not start until the market improves. Mr. Strachan is of the opinion that the market conditions will improve from now on, in fact he says the market has already shown strength over a week ago. Six cars of melons have been shipped out of this point, but the growers will not be able to realize anything from these shipments unless the demand becomes great.

HOOVER AND ROOSEVELT

On August 11th a few of the faithful republican politicians came together to inform Herbert Hoover that his party had selected him as its standard bearer in the November election.

The democratic candidate kept in close touch with the convention which nominated him and as soon as the thing was done, he wired to Chicago that he would be there as quick as an airplane could carry him and would then and there accept the nomination.

Herein can be seen the marked difference between the two men. When Roosevelt has a thing to do, he goes straight at the matter and does the job up in good shape. When Hoover has something to do, he first appoints a committee to investigate the necessity for action and asks it for recommendations as to what should be done.

If the president had been a man of action, he would have attempted to do something about the depression long before the recent session of congress. But he waited nearly two years before even suggesting a plan for relief.

If the people of this country want action when action is needed, they will vote for Franklin D. Roosevelt, a man of action.—Loving-to Leader.

IRREGULARITIES

During a campaign year one is likely to hear of irregularities existing in our county, state and national government. In the off years, a crooked politician could steal the capitol or state house and the average individual would be little the wiser, because what is everybody's business is nobody's business.

Alleged irregularities exist in our own county, according to current reports, but up to the present time we have refused to be seriously concerned with the charge of the payment of excessive fees to certain individuals in this or other counties of the state because the practice has been prevalent for a score or more of years and because the accused individuals are acting within the law.

If we are to reform the operations of our government, the place to start is at its head at Washington, where millions of dollars of the tax payers money are squandered each year. The policy of winking at an individual who is smart enough to steal a million dollars and cover it up and then punishing the poor devil, who might have taken a few dollars dishonestly, is very unfair.

If the prohibition law has failed and most of the American people agree that it has, the major cause of its failure is due to the fact that its too easy for the wealthy to escape the toils of the law, while the poor who break the law must suffer.

NO PRAISES SUNG

There are usually no praises sung for the business enterprises who are maintaining a high grade product and first class service at the expense of profit. Many newspapers are outstanding examples of this situation. There are newspapers now that continue to publish a good paper because they are more interested in the quality of the product produced than the losses incidental to the manufacture of such. And pardon us folks, but we believe the Advocate is in this class.

And those who have been intent on beating the subscription price down, let us assure you that we have no intentions of raising the subscription price should cotton go to twenty-five cents a pound, cattle sixty dollars a head and oil $2.00 per barrel.

The state government of the sunshine state has more stenographers than the liberty party has cures for the depression and the average pay for the state stenographers is $140.00 per month. If a stenographer has as many as fifteen votes in the family and can qualify in a beauty contest the monthly pay envelope, of course is larger.—Aztec Independent Review.

Another recommendation has been made that might help to get more prosperity on the tax rolls and thus reduce the taxes is to have the assessor's tax rolls made public. The practice of nepotism by representatives in national congress received a severe blow when made public by the newspapers.

Throughout the state one hears: "When are we going to have the state conventions?" And the answer from all is: "As soon as they find out what Cutting's going to do." And that's just as true as if you'd read it in the Bible, for in the palm of Bronson's hand rests the action of both parties.

It has been suggested that one reason why there are fewer railroad than automobile accidents is that the engineer doesn't make a practice of hugging the fireman.

It seems to us the trouble with this British trade conference is that everybody wants to trade nothing for something.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

When confidence returns so will the confidence of men.

PICKED UP ON MAIN

Pen Pusher, Picked On Main Column, Dear Sir:

You requested us to make a scientific analysis of the two major party platforms for the benefit of the voters of your district. We are pleased to announce that we have completed the analysis of one, the republican party and have started on the democratic platform. After carefully weighing an important element in both platforms we find a content of 97 per cent bologna. The republican platform analyses is as follows:

ba (bologna) 97 sb (soft bull) 5 unfb (unfulfilled promises) 57 bey (Bureaucracy) 1.50 tmv (too much wilbur) 63 Total 492

And here's a tip for R. G. Knoedler. While Willis Morgan's wife was away, Willis only had enough dishes to last him ten days at one washing.

Referring to the package lost in front of the Majestic by the blonde lady who was stepping out with some married man in his wife's absence, mentioned in this column last week, we had so many calls, claiming it, that we have decided to have a raffle and let the lucky guy take it.

The story told of a Chaves county candidate who got over in Eddy county last week and knocked on the door of a Cottonwood resident. The wife answered the door and on being asked how many in the family, replied:

"We have five in our family—me, the old man, the kid, the cow and the cat."

The candidate then asked as to the political affiliations, and the woman replied:

"Politically we're purty badly mixed—I'm a republican, the old man is a democrat, the kid is wet, the cow is dry and the cat is a populationist."

The Portales News gives the following market report: Hogs are squealing about the rise in prices.

Cattle will not be stamped by the advance. Butter is strong. Eggs are suspicious.

Beans are green and a little bashful. Tomatoes are beginning to blush, and in the adjoining fields, after looking at her rosy cheeks, the alfalfa is shocked.

There is a sweeping demand for broomcorn. Onions are getting stronger each day. Many of the cucumbers are dissipated, and some are getting pickled.

The stock exchange has been closed for sixty days, and the suckers are compelled to bury their money in the old sock.

Did you ever hear the title of Hoover's campaign song. It's "Nobody Knows How Dry I Am."

A friend of Abe Conner seeing that Abe was especially cheerful asked him what it was all about. Abe said: "I've just sold Col. Woods 147 ewes and slipped in ten extra that he does not know about." And that reminds us of a similar trick played on a new comer to the plains country during the early day. A man who was hurrying off the plains as fast as his wagon would carry him was asked by a neighbor the occasion for his hurry: "I've just sold a man a section of this here plains land and slipped in two other sections in the deed and am getting out of the country before he finds it out."

DOE SEASON IN SACRAMENTO

The Alamogordo Forest Supervisors office is in receipt of a telegram from the state game warden's office, Santa Fe, defining the boundaries of the area on which there will be a short open season on does declared.

The boundaries are as follows: Lee holdings on the south the watershed divide on the east; the south boundary of the original Alamo Refuge on the north, and the desert on the west.

The doe season has not yet been determined but will follow the regular big game season, probably the fore part of December, the state warden says.

The number of does to be taken will be determined later, also the manner of issuing permits.

The big game season is Oct. 25 to Nov. 15 inclusive. —Alamogordo News.

LICENSE PLATES TO GO ON SALE NOV. 1

Licenses go on sale November 1, giving applicants two months to get them before the penalties go on. State Comptroller Juan Vigil intends to continue the policy of having branch offices at every county seat, or nearly every county seat—at least during the first couple of months.

As to whether the "two-bit" notarial fee is to be continued, he said he hadn't made up his mind fully. However, he added, he believed it would be necessary to pay the expenses of the branch offices. There is no other way to provide for statewide distribution that he has been able to discover so far, he said.

All plates, except truck plates, are to be yellow, approximately the color of the field of the state flag, with red letters and numerals. On the truck plates the colors are to be reversed.

The "Sunshine State" motto is to be omitted. The Zia sun symbol is to be retained on the plates. The symbol is the same as that on the 1931 plates, except that the lateral rays will be full length as well as the vertical rays. It will be larger than the symbol on the 1932 plates.

The plates will be as heavy or heavier than the 1932 plates, it is said. The number of passenger plates on which bids were asked is 65,000 pairs for immediate delivery; 10,000 for possible future requirements, or a possible total of 75,000 in case the demand exceeds the original order.

WOMEN LAND AFTER 196 HOURS IN THE AIR VALLEY STREAM, N. Y. — Appearing trim and fresh as when they took the air, even to manicured finger nails, two 24-year old housewives brought down their "Flying Boudoir" late Monday with a new women's refueling flight endurance record of 196 hours, five minutes and four-fifths seconds.

Appearances were deceiving, however, for Mrs. Louise Thaden, ominously silent while her companion, Mrs. Frances Marsalis, laughed and joked with the crowd, suddenly collapsed. She was removed to a nearby home and her condition later was reported as not dangerous.

After more than eight days of monotonous wheeling over the Curtiss airport, they made a perfect landing a few minutes after 5:00 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time). Their flying time was checked by four watches and was expected to be accepted as an official record.

TEXAS DEPUTY KILLED NEAR PORTALES SAT. BY ALLEGED BANDITS

Three men Sunday night were being held for questioning in connection with the killing of Harvey Bolin, Plainview, Texas, peace officer, and the wounding of a deputy sheriff in a gun battle 48 miles southeast of Portales Saturday morning.

Sheriff S. T. Jernigan of Roosevelt county, New Mexico, Sunday arrested Joe Jones, son-in-law of Lee Peabworth, who is being held under guard in a hospital recovering from wounds suffered during the fight.

Jones was arrested at the Peabworth farm, where the shooting occurred, and was brought to Curry county jail in order to be kept away from Stanley Headrick, who was arrested near Tatum, Saturday with Peabworth and taken to the county jail at Portales for questioning.

Sheriff Jernigan said that Jones denies any knowledge of the shooting and claims he was away from the farm at the time the Texas and New Mexico officers arrived to question Peabworth in connection with the robbery of a bank at Olton, Texas Friday. Peabworth was one of four men indicted for robbery.

Meanwhile Headrick, who also denies any knowledge of the shooting, is being held pending the filing of murder charges against him by District Attorney J. C. Compton. Compton said similar charges would also be filed against Peabworth, but was not prepared to say what charges would be brought against Jones pending further information.

The search for the fourth member of the alleged bandit gang believed implicated in the shooting was continued during the day. Sheriff Jernigan said it was known that four men were involved in the shooting and said he believes three of them have been captured.

Physicians said Sunday night that Peabworth has a good chance to recover and said he might be physically able to be moved to the jail at Portales Monday. So far Peabworth has made no comment on the shooting.

Deputy Sheriff R. L. Hollis, who was wounded during the fight, also is given a good chance to recover.

FAT MAN REDUCES 53 POUNDS--OH BOY!

Don't be stubborn, you big fat men—throw off your fat before your fat throws you into the discard. Do as Mr. S. A. Lanier of Sawtelle, California, did—read his letter:

"I have used two reducing belts to no benefit but since using Kruschen Salts each morning in my coffee I have taken off 7 lbs. in a week and eat most anything I like. I weighed 243 lbs. 6 months ago and now I weigh 190 lbs."

Take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning—cut down on fatty meats, potatoes and sweets—now you know the safe way to lose unsightly fat.

For a trifling sum you can get a jar of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks at any drugstore in the world—but be sure and get Kruschen—your health comes first.

ROY HUNT WINNER EL PASO TO ROSWELL LAP OF AIR DERBY

Roy Hunt of Norman, Oklahoma flying a Great Lakes Cirrus Tuesday was the winner of the El Paso to Roswell lap of the Cord Cup race with Eldon Cesna of Wichita, flying a Cesna Warner plane arriving about ten seconds later. Cesna had the faster plane and all but overtook Hunt before they hit the finish line.

The finish at Roswell was close, thrilling and spectacular and the best finish on the race so far. There were groups of two, three and four planes in mad races for the finish line which kept the crowd in a state of excitement. Hunt overtook twelve of the slower planes which started before him under the handicap system and in turn was almost overtaken by some of the faster ships who started behind him.

The fliers said they had almost perfect flying weather but that they encountered very light rain in two or three places.

There was a great crowd at the airport to greet the fliers. The cheers of the mass of people mingled with the roar of the many planes, making a deafening uproar.

Many compliments were heard from the fliers on the airport and the way in which matters were being handled by the people in charge. Everything went as smoothly as clockwork.

EMERSON WATTS HAS PERMIT CANCELLED

SANTA FE—The blue sky permit held by Emerson Watts and Company, Inc., of Roswell, has been cancelled by the state corporation commission, Hugh Williams chairman of the commission, said. The permit, Williams said, was cancelled on recommendation of W. R. Heflin, blue sky commissioner, on the ground that the company had failed to file quarterly reports as required by the blue sky department.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION DATE IS SET FOR SEPT. 22

SANTA FE.—After one hour and a half, the republican state central committee Monday decided to hold the state nominating convention in Albuquerque September 22.

The apportionment of delegates to the state convention was based on the vote cast for Governor R. C. Dillon in the 1928 election and was set at one delegate for every fifty votes cast, or major fraction thereof.

In a meeting which was delayed several hours because of conferences, in which it was understood the entire problems of the committee were discussed, the central committee, by overwhelming votes, selected its convention city, and date.

The session was marked by one bit of excitement when Francis C. Wilson of Santa Fe, attending the meeting on a proxy from his wife, tried to make a speech before the committee on what he said was "vital party issues."

Wilson, shortly after a message from Senator Bronson Cutting urging party harmony, had been read, asked for permission to speak to the committee. Carl P. Dunifon, state chairman, asked him to wait until after the committee had finished its business. This was done, and immediately after the time of the convention had been set, a motion for adjournment was placed before the committee.

NEW FEDERAL AID HIGHWAY TO NORTH

A new highway from Vaughn to Bernal, a project of importance to the Pecos valley, has been added to the seven per cent federal aid system, it was reported Tuesday.

W. R. Eccles, state highway engineer, wired the Roswell Chamber of Commerce he has received official notice from the secretary of agriculture of the federal aid addition. When the road may be built is not known.

The stretch would be approximately 65 miles in length, running almost straight north from Vaughn to Bernal, 17 miles south of Las Vegas on U. S. 85. It would give the valley a new and faster road to Santa Fe going by Bernal instead of Encino; and to Denver, going by way of Bernal instead of by Santa Rosa.

The highway proposal was put on the federal aid system, it was understood to give a direct, high type road connecting the Mesa Verde and Carlsbad Cavern national parks. Mesa Verde national park is located in the southwest corner of Colorado, just across the line from New Mexico.

Mr. Eccles also received official notice Tuesday that the Santa Rosa cut off which has been controverted before the governor and the state highway commission for two years, had been approved for designation as part of the federal aid system.

RECONSTRUCTION CROP GETS SUPPORT

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The extensive support the reconstruction corporation is rendering banks, other financial institutions and railroads—all of which must give security for any loan—was illustrated Monday when the first monthly report to be made public showed $45,057,556 was disbursed in the last ten days of July.

In the 437 advances covered, $32,990,180 went to banks and trust companies, including receivers.

The report was laid open by South Trimble, clerk of the democratic house of representatives, who said "the law gives me no discretion in the matter." The administration contested the publicity provision when the bill was before congress.

Atlee Pomerene, chairman of the reconstruction corporation, told newspapermen he opposed publication of the report.

Governmental and banking quarters pointed out that the reconstruction directors require security considered adequate before authorizing any loan.

One aim has been to help the banks and business situation by the thawing of frozen assets.

FUNDS SOUGHT FOR INDIGENTS

SANTA FE.—Arthur Seligman last week said the board of finance had advised that he can borrow money from the reconstruction finance corporation for work among indigents in New Mexico without encountering difficulties from the provisions in the state constitution covering the borrowing of money.

The governor seeks to borrow funds to take care of indigents in the state this winter, but before making application he sought the advice of the state finance board on the matter.

The state constitution provides that certificates of indebtedness can be issued up to $200,000 and that no bonded indebtedness can be assumed without a vote of the people.

Governor Seligman feared that perhaps these constitutional provisions might restrict his efforts to obtain a loan.

The board of finance however held that such was not the case and the governor said he would now continue his plans to obtain the money as soon as Miss Margaret Reeves, director of the child welfare bureau has completed a survey of indigent cases within the state.

Upon this survey the governor will base his request for funds and the amount to be sought from the reconstruction finance corporation.

GOVERNOR ENLISTS SENATORS IN BATTLE FOR STOCK BANK

Disappointed over the failure of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to provide for a branch livestock loan bank in New Mexico to handle livestock loans while providing for such banks in Arizona, Colorado, Kansas, Utah and other western and southwestern states, Governor Arthur Seligman Monday renewed his efforts to obtain such a branch for this state.

He enlisted the assistance of United States Senators Sam G. Bratton and Bronson M. Cutting.

Jess Jones, a member of the board of directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, in a telegram to the governor explained that the matter of establishing a branch bank in New Mexico would be considered at the board's next meeting.

WARD THINKS THAT TAX RELIEF SESSION LIKELY TO BE CALLED

C. W. G. Ward, of Las Vegas, secretary of the New Mexico Federation of Taxpayers' associations, said Saturday that replies to questionnaires sent out to New Mexico legislators on measures proposed by the federation for revision of the tax code at a special session of the legislature show such a strong sentiment in favor of the reduction program there seems to be no doubt as to passage of the relief legislation.

Ward said replies have been received from 41 members of the house of representatives and 10 members of the senate. If two more senators will agree to vote for the curtailment program, Ward said, Governor Arthur Seligman under his agreement with the federation must call a special session.

ROOSEVELT PROPOSES NINE REMEDIES IN COLUMBUS SPEECH

COLUMBUS, O.—Nine "fundamental" economic remedies, which he said were to protect of the "great mass of American men and women," were proposed Saturday by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt as he fired his opening gun in his road campaign for the presidency.

Charging that the president's acceptance speech and the republican platform are "empty of hope," the democratic standard bearer also aimed a four-barreled attack at the Hoover administration.

"I propose an orderly, explicit and practical group of fundamental remedies," Governor Roosevelt declared.

"These will protect not the few, but the great mass of average American men and women, who, I am not ashamed to repeat, have been forgotten by those in power."

His nine proposals are: 1. Prevention of the issuance of "manufactured and unnecessary securities of all kinds, which are brought out merely for the purpose of enriching those who handle their sale."

2. Full federal regulation of "holding companies which sell securities in interstate commerce."

3. Federal authority in the regulation of "exchanges in the business of buying and selling securities and commodities."

4. More rigid supervision of national banks "for the protection of depositors."

5. Disencouragement and prevention of the "unrestrained use of bank deposits in speculation, to the detriment of local credit."

6. Separation of investment banking and commercial banking.

7. Restriction of federal reserve banks, whose funds, prior to 1929, "were used practically without check for many speculative purposes."

8. "Of the other two, the governor said: 'Finally I propose two new policies for which legislation is not required.'

"In the first place I promise you that it will no longer be possible for international bankers or others to sell to the investing public of America, foreign securities on the implicit understanding that these securities have been passed on or approved by the state department or any other agency of the federal government."

"In the second place, I assure you that high public officials in the next administration will neither by word nor by deed seek to influence the prices of stocks and bonds."

The governor pointed his attack on the Hoover administration in this manner: "I sum up the history of the last administration in four sentences. "It encouraged speculation and over-production through its false economic policies."

"It attempted to minimize the crash and misled the people as to its gravity."

"It erroneously charged the cause to other nations of the world. "It refused to recognize and correct the evils at home which brought it forth, delayed relief, and forgot to reform."

75,718 TAX LIENS OUT IN NEW MEXICO SANTA FE.—There are 75,718 tax lien certificates outstanding in New Mexico, J. D. Mell, delinquent tax collector, reported Saturday.

Mell said the list was not complete and that between 6,000 and 8,000 more certificates probably will be added. At least 1,200 suits already have been filed to foreclose on the liens, Mell said. There are from one to 500 defendants in each suit. The greatest number of the certificates, 7,772, have been issued in Bernalillo county, Mell's report showed. In Chaves county the total is 4,912; in Curry county 1,906; in San Miguel, 5,220 and in Santa Fe, 4,042.

CURTIS OPPOSES REPEAL OF 18th AMENDMENT

TOPEKA, Kansas.—Voicing his personal opposition to repeal of the 18th amendment and expressing confidence in eventual success of administration efforts to bring relief from the depression, Vice-President Curtis Thursday accepted renomination by the republicans.

The Kansan, in his formal address of acceptance, said he felt the people "should at all times be given full opportunity to express their opinion on the constitution or amendments thereto" but that personally "I am opposed to the return of the saloon and I am opposed to the repeal of the 18th amendment."

Mr. Curtis made no mention in his prepared address of President Hoover's proposal for a change in prohibition under which each state would be given the right to deal with the problem as it may determine, subject to federal constitutional guarantees to protect them against interference by their neighbors and against return of the saloon system.

GASOLINE BOOTLEGGING IS INCREASING

Bootleggers of gasoline are costing New Mexico well over a half million dollars a year in taxes, Tom Hughes, state senator said at Santa Fe last week after he had obtained figures on gasoline tax collections for the first seven months of 1932 and on automobile registration.

Gasoline tax collections have dropped every month this year under collections a year ago, he said, despite a greater automobile registration this year.

On August 11 this year there were registered 58,461 passenger cars against 55,696 on the same date last year.

Trucks registered totaled 13,527 this year and 13,885 last year; busses 268 and 337; dealer licenses were 93 and 134; state officials 370 and 365; U. S. registrations 96 and 95; staff officers 12 and 22; and highway department 5000 for both years.

HALF WAR ORPHANS HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO GET EDUCATION

Educational opportunities have been provided, thru efforts of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, for more than half of all World War orphans in the United States, according to an advance copy of the annual report of P. C. Harris, (Maj. Gen. U. A. A. Ret.) of Washington, D. C., the Legion's national director of education of war orphans. The report has been prepared for the fourteenth national convention of the Legion to be held in Portland, Oregon, September 12 to 15.

Of the 12,367 war orphans in the United States, the report said, 6,871 reside in the twenty-two states that have enacted, thru Legion sponsorship, laws to aid orphans in obtaining an education. The report says the program made in this phase of Legion activity has been "most gratifying and encouraging."

The Legion's approved plan for war orphan education, the report asserts, contemplates the following: Continuance of government compensation after the age of eighteen to children pursuing courses of instruction in schools, colleges and universities; state aid, or state scholarships to supplement or match government compensation; remission of fees and other concessions to war orphan students by college authorities, and help from individuals where aid from the other three sources proves insufficient.

A law sponsored by the Legion and enacted by congress in 1928 provides for the payment of government compensation from age eighteen to twenty-one to orphans who are pursuing a course of study or training. This compensation amounts to $10 a month for one child and $6 a month for each additional child, where there is more than one in a family. The various state war orphan scholarship acts provide for annual appropriations ranging from $150 to $250 and in a few states the amount is ever greater.

DECISION HITS AUTO DEALERS

SANTA FE—County assessors all over the state will be instructed to place new and used cars in dealers' stock rooms, or used-car yards, on the tax rolls in conformity with the supreme court's decision, stated Chief Tax Commissioner Byron O. Beall Monday. These cars had been listed in only one county, Bernalillo, as a tax case. Cars held in stock by automobile dealers, unless separate registration fees have been paid for each of them, are subject to the personal property tax laid down upon other forms of merchandise, says the supreme court in an opinion handed down Monday in the case of Oden Buick, Inc. and other Albuquerque automobile agencies against County Assessor S. B. Roehl and other taxing authorities. Chief Justice Bickley, Justices Watson and Hudspeeth concur.

2 CARLSBAD YOUTHS DROWN IN CANAL

Manuel Mendoza, 12, and Miguel Fernandez, 13, were drowned in the canal about a quarter of a mile above the siphon late Friday afternoon. Efforts to resuscitate the pair failed, the Carlsbad Current Argus reports.

The boys had been in wading along the edge of the canal and began scuffling, according to other boys, who were in the water at the same time. During the scuffle, both lost their balance and fell into the canal. Neither could swim and disappeared from sight immediately.

The boys ran to a nearby farm house and reported the drowning and a large crowd from Carlsbad soon gathered.

Mendoza's body was found first and the city's inhalator was put into use but the youth was too far gone to be saved although his pulse fluttered momentarily when the inhalator was first used.

It was nearly an hour later before Fernandez' body was found. Both bodies were found only a few feet below where the pair fell in the water.

Big gates in the canal a short distance above where the boys fell in the water were opened considerably lowering the level of the water in the canal below and aiding in the finding of the second body.

Mendoza's body was taken to Roswell for burial Saturday while Fernandez was buried at Carlsbad Sunday.

OIL OPERATORS GOING IN FOR 5-DAY WEEK

The five-day week is in effect to a great extent among the larger oil companies. For example, Standard of California put it in effect in the field departments nearly two years ago and has extended it from time to time until it is now almost universal with the company. The result is the employment of 2500 more men than would have been possible under the old system of six days. Union oil has recently extended the plan to practically all departments. Other large companies are generally on the five-day basis.

California has a host of unemployed oil workers, but the number is smaller than it would have been but for the cut in hours of work and the policy of doing as much work as possible during the period of depression even though it could, and in the ordinary course of business, would have been postponed. The oil industry should follow these policies everywhere. The 12-hour tour ought to be abolished in every state, as it has been in California. There is much to be said in favor of the six-hour tour, which was given a trial by at least one California operator, Ben Mun, who declared it extremely satisfactory. By paying on an hour basis the cost of work to the operator remained unchanged but by eliminating the loss of time for eating lunches in the derrick, Mr. Mun said that work was made continuous and the expense actually reduced. —Hobbs News

A committee appointed from the local growers consisting of F. W. Lee of Lakewood, R. R. Russell of Hope, H. L. Muncy and G. R. Brainard of Artesia, okayed the new agreement.

The Chamber of Commerce announces that in the meantime efforts will be made to have the freight rates reduced from the valley points. It was pointed out that the Pecos, Texas growers have a thru rate of $1.20 per hundred while a rate of $1.50 per hundred is charged here. This makes a difference of 30 cents per crate or about $100.00 per car, which in reality is the difference between a profit and loss to the growers.

A MERCHANT CONFESSES

An unusual statement was published some time ago in the News-Gazette, Champaign, Illinois. Signed by E. L. Murdock, head of a former leading ladies' ready-to-wear store which had closed its doors to avoid being thrown into bankruptcy. In this statement the merchant set forth the principal reasons for the store's failure to maintain the prestige and prosperity it had enjoyed in times past. He said:

"Perhaps the greatest contributing cause is the fact that four years ago our firm, because we thought the rate was too high, discontinued all advertising in the News-Gazette. We tried other plans of advertising to supplant the News-Gazette but found none effective. Our business continued on the down grade. Seemingly our friends had forgotten us. The fault was ours."

A STRAY PUP

What does a stray pup amount to anyway? What does it matter if such a helpless animal is abused and tortured to make sport for a gang of thoughtless boys? Who cares? One small boy cared—and because he cared he made a friend—a friend who didn't forget.

Some years ago a kindly man named Jacob Siler walked along the banks of the Mississippi river near St. Louis and came upon a group of boys who were amusing themselves by throwing a stray pup into the river time after time, in spite of the protests of one small companion. Finally the pup's defender engaged the others in fistful combat to save the wretched animal from drowning. He battled so courageously that he won the day and saved the pup.

Mr. Siler commended the boy, whose name was Otto Schmidt, and between the two a lifelong friendship sprang up. Recently Siler died and left $7,500 to the boy, now a man, whose humane instincts and courage had rescued the poor dog and won the admiration of the casual passerby.

Those who befriend unfortunate animals do not always obtain material rewards such as came to Otto Schmidt but they inevitably have the reward of an improving conscience, which is greater still.

Hobbs Unitization—

(Continued from first page) by Secretary Ray Lyman Wilbur of the department of interior, J. F. Hinkle, commissioner of public lands and E. H. Wells, state geologist. The plans which have been considered specify that approval of at least 60 per cent of the fee land royalty interests must be obtained. A unitization plan agreed to by the operators could be approved as submitted, approved with modifications or rejected by the government and state officials concerned.

"Commissioner Hinkle and State Geologist Wells both feel that any plan approved should provide for considerable additional drilling in undeveloped parts of the Hobbs field.

"If the unit plan of operation should be put into effect, at Hobbs it would necessarily supersede the present proration agreement, which does not expire until January 10, 1933. The proration agreement can be terminated by agreement of the operators signing it or by the state land commissioner or the state geologist on 30 days' notice.

"Under unit operation, the entire Hobbs pool would be operated by one company or operator as a single property. Instead of taking oil from each well, as is now done, the oil would be produced only from those wells where it could be obtained with greatest efficiency.

Each 40-acre tract and fraction thereof would receive a fixed percentage of the total future output of the well irrespective of its individual production. In computing the interest or participation of the various tracts, the potential production of the wells on the tract and the structural position and the area of the tract have been considered.

Miserable Early Days of World's "Great Men"

Sir Oliver Lodge's revelation of the fact that the only period of his life during which he contemplated suicide was during his very unhappy youth adds another to the "exceptions" which may or may not be held to "prove the rule" of the happiness of youth so frequently proclaimed by old gentlemen at "speech days" and other similar occasions, writes a columnist in the Manchester (England) Guardian. Men destined to eminence who had unhappy boyhoods would include Frederick the Great in a long list of royal persons. Among statesmen, Lord Salisbury and Disraeli made complaint of their early days in later life. Salisbury was so miserable at Eton that for 30 years after he left the school he never revisited it, although he was often at Windsor; and his only visit to the school induced a "fit of depression which, even at that distant time, was so severe that the visit was never repeated."

Passing Brandenham with a friend, Disraeli described it as the place where he had spent his unhappy youth, full of ambition, and without any prospect of using his talents for advancement. Hogarth's youth was no happy one, and Handel suffered much before he overcame his father's determination that he should not be a musician. Cowper left a pathetic account of the sufferings of his school days, and Schiller's life was clouded by the misery of his youth.

Early Aqueducts

As early as the year 312 B. C., Appius Claudius Caecus constructed an aque duct which brought in a supply of water to Rome. The second aque duct, known as the Anio Vetus, was constructed 40 years later. Toward the close of the First century A. D. there were nine aque ducts. Some of the structures still remain, both in Italy and in other parts of the former Roman empire, examples existing at Nimes, France, and at Segovia, in Spain.

Cotton Up $1.25 Bale

NEW YORK—Cotton had another sharp rise yesterday, the active contracts jumping $1.25 a bale on buying stimulated by an adverse weekly weather report. New high levels for the movement were registered in all future contracts, with most of them selling above the 8-cent level.

New York Cotton

Expectations of a decrease in crop estimates promoted by bullish features in the weekly report of the weather bureau, were reflected by a more active and general demand and a sharp advance in cotton yesterday. December contracts sold up to 8-19 or 28 points above Tuesday's quotations and the mid-afternoon market was firm at net advances of 22 to 28 points.

COST OF LIVING DECLINES

NEW YORK—Real weekly earnings in manufacturing industries have declined 27.3 per cent between June, 1929, and June 1932.

The cost of living has declined 22.3 per cent in the same period. Employment this June was 42.8 per cent below that of June, 1929, in twenty-five representative industries. These facts on the depression's effect on employment were made available Saturday by the national industrial conference board.

"The purchasing power of the contents of the average weekly pay envelope in manufacturing industry has declined 27.3 per cent in the three years between June, 1929 and June 1932," the board's report said.

"That the decline was not much larger is due to the decrease in the cost of living of wage-earners, which, while it has not kept pace with drop in earnings, has in the three years amounted to 22.3 per cent.

"Three factors enter into the computation of the purchasing power of weekly earnings, namely, the number of hours worked per week, the rate of pay, and the cost of living.

"In June 1929, the average number of hours per week worked by those employed was 48.6.

"In June 1932, this figure had fallen to 32.7.

"In June 1929, the weekly earnings in actual dollars were $28.69, and in June 1932, they dropped to $16.24.

"But the decline of 22.2 per cent in the cost of living made the purchasing power of the June 1929, dollar equal to $1.29 in June 1932.

"Average weekly earnings fell off sharply between May and June of this year, from $17.17 to 16.24 or 5.4 per cent.

Understanding

By RUBY DOUGLAS

GRACIA Collins had an "envious" income. And now that she was the sole surviving member of her family she felt that she had a right to live as she pleased. She had always fitted her tastes to those of the family and it was not until the last two years that she had begun to be an individual and express her own personality.

Her apartment was not large, but it was furnished exactly as she had always dreamed her own home should be. Today, she sat in the big cloth-covered chair beside a log fire in her library. All about her were shelves of books. A little autographed volume of Christopher Morley's lay open on her lap. She had found a line that had struck home. "Poetry must be lived before it can be either written or properly understood. And that is why the enjoyment of poetry is essentially a feeling of recognition; the recognition of something you thought you had forgotten or were hardly aware that you had once noticed."

Gracia's eyes took on a glow that made her very lovely. "So that is why I have begun to appreciate poetry of late. That is why I am secretly trying to express myself in verse," she admitted. "I have lived—I understand."

Perhaps the thoughts that tumbled one after another through her mind as she sat in the solitude of her own environment were not too tangible, even to Gracia herself, but when she finally moved to mend the fire her spirit was possessed of a strange homesickness.

"It's ridiculous," she said, quickly switching on a light. "I'm not homesick, I'm not lonely. I have all that I want—all that I have ever wanted—right here." She let her eyes wander about the room as if to convince herself that she was not mistaken. "I need a cup of tea. It is the dampness and the gloom that has put me into this mood."

There, Christopher Morley, go back to your book.

"Music—that's what I want this afternoon—not literature. I'll have music with my tea." She adjusted the dial of her inconspicuous radio set in a secluded corner.

"Liebestraum," she murmured. "Oh, why is everything possessed to make me suffer this afternoon? That is the one bit of music that hurts, oh, how it hurts me."

And yet she did not stir. She sat with her head in her arm on the big chair. Her tea grew cold. The last haunting strains of Frits Liszt's beautiful dream of love died away.

The voice of the announcer brought her back. She looked at the cup of cold tea and at the dial of a petulant, whining sign of wind sought admittance at the window. Gracia shivered.

She arose and walked toward the telephone. For a long moment she sat with her hand on the receiver as if summoning courage to lift it.

At last she called a number she seemed to know well. Her hand was cold; her lips trembled close to the glass mouthpiece. No answer. She waited to be told that the party did not reply and then she hung up the receiver.

A sound startled her. The knock was being gentle tapped. She opened the door. A man with a folder of manuscripts stood there—Don Hubbard.

"I had just called you on the telephone," she said, trying to be cheerful. "The smoke from the fire has made my eyes too tired to read and I was—lonely."

"The man put his cap—he wore a cap and tweeds as if he had come from the country—on a chair. "I have been writing down at my sister's bungalow and, somehow, it seemed as if you were the only one who could help me," he began.

Gracia had made the fire bright and was offering him the big seat opposite her own. "Poetry! But—Don—you never used to write poetry," she exclaimed after she had looked at the page he handed to her.

"For an important fraction of a minute they looked at each other while understanding dawned in the eyes of both. "Sometimes I'll tell you what I have been doing this afternoon," she said, later, "and that may explain many things."

The rain seemed not to chill Gracia now. The fire burned brightly. She was happy. They talked on about Don's efforts and Gracia almost admitted to him that the two years of perfect freedom were not too perfect, after all.
