JOHN FANNING HAS OLD TIME BRANDING AND PICNIC SUNDAY

Approximately 150 people witnessed the annual calf branding at the John Fanning ranch Sunday and enjoyed a steak fry and picnic dinner. These brandings have heretofore been an occasion for an old timers' get together, but owing to the fact that the event was not well advertised not as many as usual attended the branding Sunday. Old residents were present from Lakewood, Carlsbad, Artesia and Hope. The branding was held at the Four Mile Draw bridge about twelve miles south of town. One hundred and thirty-seven calves were branded at this time.

VOTERS TOLD HOW TO CAST ABSENTEE BALLOTS THIS YEAR

(By Fred Cole)

An unusually large number of absentee ballots will be cast in Eddy county on November 8th according to information received from the various precinct chairmen of both major political parties. The importance of the issues involved is great enough to warrant the small amount of extra effort necessary to cast the ballot although the voter is away unable to be at the polls on election day.

If any voter is unable to cast his own ballot at the polls on account of absence from his or her home precinct, they may receive a ballot with full instructions from the county clerk at Carlsbad. All that is necessary is to write to the county clerk, giving your name and the precinct in which you are registered, stating that you will be absent from the polls on the date of the election and that you desire an absentee ballot. An absentee ballot will be sent to you at the address designated in your request to the county clerk.

No delay should be allowed in applying for these absentee ballots as the ballot must be properly marked and returned in ample time to be in the hands of the election judges of your home precinct on election day.

Party leaders of both political parties are also urging all voters to vote as early as possible as it will be necessary if the total registration comes to the polls. Especially is this true in the Carlsbad and Artesia precincts where an unusually large registration is reported. A very heavy vote is predicted in the entire county, as well as throughout the state of New Mexico.

Three license sellers included, Mounts, Brainard Corbin Hardware Co., and Joyce Pruitt, hardware department. This number is under the license sales made here last year in the corresponding period, but the comparative data is not available.

Milk sickness caused usually by milk cows eating golden rod is prevalent among the livestock also at this season of the year. From now until about the first of the year is considered the danger period and farmers are warned to watch their milk cows and other livestock.

FIRST TOUCH REAL WINTER FELT TUES.

The Pecos valley experienced its first real touch of winter Monday night when a dark bank of clouds and a chilling north wind swept southward. The thermometer at the government station registered two above freezing as the coldest period Tuesday. Early Tuesday morning a cold rain fell, but the total precipitation was light, measuring .06 inches. Snow fell to the east and west of Artesia. Snow began falling in the Mayhill community at midnight Monday and the fall amounted to about four inches Tuesday noon. Jack Casabonne reports that about three inches of snow fell within four miles of Hope in the range to the southwest. Snow was also reported falling in the Lovington section Tuesday morning, but was light.

A killing frost occurred Tuesday night when the temperature dropped to 27 degrees above zero. Nothing but the hardiest vegetation survived the freeze.

CARLSBAD MAN IS FOUND DEAD NEAR SPRINGS MONDAY

Identified As Wm. Boyd — Death May Have Been Due To Heart Trouble—Friends Scout Suicide Theory.

The body of an unknown man was discovered on the valley highway just north of Carlsbad Monday afternoon.

The body was found a few yards east of the road leading to the Carlsbad Spring by Julian Garcia, H. B. Markham of Roswell and A. A. Kroal also of Roswell. They discovered the body about 2:30 Monday afternoon and notified authorities at once.

While the body was not moved by those who discovered it, he appeared to be between 30 and 40 years of age and well dressed. Near the body they found a bottle labeled strychnine and containing a small amount of a fluid resembling strychnine. The ground near the body showed signs of a struggle.

The only clue to the identity of the man was an express receipt bearing the name of W. S. Boyd. It was for a suitcase shipped from Carlsbad to Los Angeles. Los Angeles police are attempting identification, it was said Tuesday morning.

A coroner's jury empaneled Monday afternoon at Carlsbad rendered a verdict of suicide by poison.

It was announced at Carlsbad Tuesday that the body of the man found near the Carlsbad springs Monday had been identified as William L. Boyd, 58, a steam fitter, who has made his home with the Jack Hayes family at Carlsbad since last July. The Hayes family, who did not learn of the tragedy until notified by wire from the Los Angeles, California police, scouted the theory of suicide. Mr. Hayes stated that Boyd has been employed by the United States Potash Co., until recently.

GINNINGS HALTED BY BAD WEATHER TOTAL 3,070 BALES

Six gins in the middle valley were able to gin only 329 bales since the report last week. Picking operations were slowed down due to the inclement weather. Total ginnings up to this morning are reported as 3,070 as compared with 2,641 for the corresponding period of last week. Some growers are reporting that about fifty per cent of their cotton is grading good middling; the remainder strict middling. This is a very creditable showing considering the adverse weather conditions.

The per centage of the crop picked over this area will average about one-third, according to one estimate considered conservative. The crop southeast of Artesia and in the Atoka community is about forty per cent out the Artesia area is approximately thirty per cent and the Cottonwood area, retarded by weather conditions is only about twenty-five per cent out.

Pickers are reported plentiful in the lower valley, but are scarce in the Cottonwood area, which is retarding crop movement.

The gin report is divided as follows: Lake Arthur gin.....73 Cottonwood gin.....495 Association gin, Espulla.....402 Association gin, Artesia.....535 Farmers gin, Artesia.....815 Association gin, Atoka.....750 Total bales.....3,070

The man ran a piece of steel into his leg and was brought here for medical attention. The man was driving a south plains truck and was en route to Texas when the accident occurred.

The name of the man who came to the aid of Mr. Bowman was not learned.

VOTERS WILL HAVE WIDE CHOICE IN THE EDDY CO. BALLOTS

Eddy county voters this year will have the privilege of voting on six tickets in the November election. Only two county tickets appear on the ballot and a partial list of candidates for county offices on the independent ticket. The democratic ticket is the only complete county and state ticket in the field, the republican county and state ticket is complete with exception of two offices. If you are rather choice and want a large number of candidates to select from you should be satisfied for in state affairs you can choose between the democrats, the republicans, the socialists, the communist, and the liberty ticket and the independent ticket in the county offices.

If you vote any other than a straight ticket, it would be well for you to familiarize yourself with the instructions to voters printed on the official ballot, which are:

Mark with pen and ink or indelible pencil a cross in the O under the party name and emblem of the party for all or most of whose candidates you wish to vote, and if you wish to vote for any candidate other than a candidate whose name appears in the column under such O mark a cross in the [] to the right of the name of the candidate in any other column for whom you wish to vote. If you wish to vote for a person whose name is not printed on the ballot, write his name on the blank line under the designation of the office in any column and make a cross in the first [] to the right of the name that you wrote in. If you do not wish to make a cross in any circle you may make a cross in the first [] to the right of the name of each candidate or person for whom you wish to vote.

SCHOOLS TO DISMISS FOR TEACHERS MEET

The local schools will be dismissed Thursday and Friday, November 3 and 4 to permit the members of the faculty to attend the New Mexico Educational Association to be held at Roswell. This is expected to be one of the most interesting sessions held in recent years because of the discussion of problems, the solution of which are of such vital importance to the safeguarding of educational opportunity in the state. The Educational Council, the legislative body of the association, will hold its sessions on Wednesday. The Wednesday morning session will be devoted to a discussion of the tax situation looking to a proposed law to be presented to the state legislature which will lift a portion of the tax burden from property owners and place it upon those better able to pay. Such a law will also propose an equalization of the tax burden throughout the state.

Before the superintendent's session on Thursday morning, J. E. Owens will discuss "The Inequalities of Educational Opportunities in New Mexico," Supt. W. E. Kerr will discuss "The Factors Involved in Increased Cost of Education."

The entertainment for the convention will be furnished by the Chicago Operatic Trio, sponsored by the Roswell Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with the New Mexico Military Institute. AFTER THE ELECTION

Out of the maze of political propoganda, usual to the pre-election period such as the nation is undergoing at the present time, there is one outstanding fact. We will have a good or bad form of government, depending on the character and quality of men we elect to run our public affairs. As revolting as some phases of a political campaign may be, we should not lose sight of how much good government means to us. What we possess in the way of worldly goods, rests largely with the way our government is operated. It is to be admitted that few of us possess an appreciable amount of the coin of the realm, but what we do have wouldn't be worth anything without a strong government back of it. While our personal liberties have been necessarily restricted, a man's life might not be valued highly without some restrictions imposed by society in the form of government. So what we have and what we are depends in a large measure on what sort of government we have.

This is no reason why the intelligent citizenship should not permit political personalities interfere with their duties and rights of a citizen. Political ills can not be cured by staying away from the polls because some phase of the campaign proves to be revolting. Nor should the intelligent citizen who is capable of thinking for himself permit himself to be swayed by some political prejudice. Nor do we look with favor on the activities of those who seek to persuade the ignorant to vote, when such people have no conception of what it is all about.

TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND MORE VOTERS IN NEW MEXICO NOW THAN IN 1930

Tabulation in Santa Fe of the registration in all of the counties indicate that there are about 25,000 more names on the lists than two years ago. What does this mean? Political leaders would like to know.

Are these extra voters mostly democrats or republicans. If you know what part of the country they hail from you could make a good guess as to which party would have the advantage in their advent.

Throughout the country there is an apparent waking up from the apathy over going to the polls. The Literary Digest lists out of some one and three-quarters millions nearly thirty per cent who did not vote at the last presidential election. The fact that there is an increased interest is perhaps to the good. Doubtless there is sign of resentment in so many going to vote at the coming election—over the soldier bonus proposition, prohibition, the unemployment situation, etc., etc. So far as the final count is concerned the various groups will offset each other, except there may be many who want a change, believing that they will give the democrats a chance to make good their promises in national affairs.—Alamogordo News.

DESERVES NO CRITICISM

Several times last week it was called to the writer's attention that there was some criticism with reference to the attendance of Ex-Governor Dillon and the party of republican speakers at the monthly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce. We do not propose to offer an apology for the Chamber of Commerce for anything that was said and done, for that would hardly be necessary. We view the matter purely from an unprejudiced, personal standpoint and if there was any harm in such an arrangement or a chance to engender ill feeling from a political viewpoint, then we were just too dumb to see it because aside from an informal introduction the visitors had nothing to say or do with the meeting.

We believe any distinguished visitor is entitled to a little courtesy from the community he may choose to visit, regardless of his religious or political faith or creed.

Further we do not believe those who attended the luncheon found any cause for criticism and if you did not attend you had no right to issue any criticism. So that's that.

NOT A STORK

It is rumored that the Leader has been criticized because of its failure to mention the birth of a baby in Lovington last week. We are always glad to welcome the advent of any little stranger into this world. We realize that he will have many trials and tribulations in this vale of sorrow and if we can add aught to his cup of happiness we will gladly do so. But the editor of the Leader is neither the stork, a midwife nor a doctor. The only way he has of learning of these arrivals is for them to be reported to him. If the parents, grandparents, uncles, aunts and cousins of these new arrivals have not enough interest in the important event to report the fact, it certainly seems manifestly unfair and unkind to censure the editor for not mentioning the coming of the stork.—Lovington Leader.

TAXES!

During the present political campaign one hears a great deal about taxes and how to reduce them. New sources of revenue are being tried and discussed, but the property tax is still the backbone of our tax system and our guess is that it will remain so, notwithstanding a helpful supplement may be discovered in the sales tax. The important thing to recognize is that even a prosperity tax rate can not continue to increase. Taxes must be brought to the level of the tax payer's earning power.

There are two things that go into the making of friendship; one is truth, the other is understanding.

Speaking of the jack of all trades, that's what's needed in all trades right now.

PICKED UP ON MAIN

Angry Father — Well, young lady, explain yourself, coming in at this hour.

Daughter (returning from late party)—Oh, daddy, I was sitting up with the sick son of the sick man you are always telling mother you sit up with.

Floorwalker — I noticed that your last customer did not buy anything, but he seemed very pleased. What did he want to see?

Salesgirl—He wanted to see me at 8:00 o'clock.

A man rushed up to the home of a doctor in a small village about 3:00 a. m. and asked him to come at once to a town several miles away.

The doctor hustled out to his car and they drove furiously to their destination.

Upon their arrival the man asked, "How much is your fee, doctor?"

"Three dollars," said the physician in surprise.

"Here you are," said the man, handing him the money, "the garage keeper wanted $15 to drive me over when I missed my train."

Old Tack, publisher of the Amarillo News, has an answer to the republican slogan stating: "Don't change horses while crossing a stream." Tack says we are not in the stream, but in the mire and its mules we need, not horses to pull us out.

A Kansas man drank a quart of whiskey and died within an hour and the papers praised the deed because if a man is going to drink himself to death he ought to do it in a hurry and not over a period of years, making his family suffer.

The meanest crack of the week was made by a visiting oil man. In conversation with one of the local democratic speakers, he inquired of the speaker why the political activity in speaking at two small precincts and said: "My gosh man you've been talking to yourself."

An exchange says a girl was overheard talking and was so dumb that she thought the eternal triangle was a baby's loin cloth.

WAS HE WRONG?

At a lecture the speaker orated fervently: "He drove straight to his goal. He looked neither to the right nor to the left, but pressed forward, moved by a definite purpose. Neither friend nor foe could delay him nor turn him from his course. All who crossed his path did so at their own peril. What would you call such a man?"

"A truck driver," shouted a voice from the audience.

FEDERAL TAX PLACED ON CAVERN TICKET

Admission to the Carlsbad cavern was raised to $1.65 which includes the federal tax on amusements of 10 per cent, it was announced at Carlsbad Saturday, by Col. Thomas Boles, superintendent of the Carlsbad Cavern National Park, says the Carlsbad Current-Argus. The new admission fee took effect Sunday.

The raise has been made necessary by an order issued by the internal revenue department of the United States Treasury department. O. N. Wherritt, official of the department, stationed at Roswell, was in Carlsbad Saturday and informed Col. Boles of the order making necessary the increase in the charge at the Cavern.

Col. Boles was of the opinion the Cavern was an educational study and that the 10 per cent tax was not necessary. The department of internal revenue officials hold that it is an amusement, however, and that the tax must be enforced.

The order on the 15 cent tax will be enforced on all passes and on all children over 12 years of age as well as adults, Col. Boles stated.

Admission charges to the Cavern is $1.50 per person and 50 cents additional each way for those who ride the elevator.

There will be no tax on the elevator rides so that the schedule of rates will be as follows:

Admission, riding one way on elevator, $2.15.

Admission, riding both ways on the elevator, $2.65.

The new schedule was put into force Sunday morning, Col. Boles stated.

DAILY USEFULNESS

"I wouldn't be without my telephone on the farm. It's useful in so many ways—keeping in touch with market prices on poultry and dairy products—keeping in touch with my children going and coming from school, summoning neighbors to social gatherings and club meetings."

This is a statement from a farm telephone user who uses telephone service to advantage. It can be equally useful to you in emergencies, sickness, fire or accident, one call may be worth more than can be measured in dollar value.

3,000,000 FAMILIES AIDED BY RED CROSS

Distress in All Areas Met by Giving Food, Clothing and Other Help.

More than 3,000,000 families throughout the nation were given relief of various types by the American Red Cross in the past winter, to aid them in their distress caused by unemployment, disaster or other misfortune.

A major relief task, due to unemployment and other unusual conditions in the bituminous mining counties in twenty states, was met by the Red Cross chapters alone, or participating with other agencies. In these 143 counties, the Red Cross aided 90,000 families through giving groceries, school lunches, clothing, flour and other necessities to combat privation.

Flour, milled from government wheat turned over to the Red Cross by Congress, was given to 15,000,000 persons in the period from March 8 to June 30, the close of the fiscal year. Flour will continue to be given through the winter of 1932-33, and Red Cross chapters also will give cotton clothing, made from government cotton turned over to the Red Cross for distribution.

"The Red Cross faces the busiest winter since the days of the World War," Chairman John Barton Payne said. "It is organized in virtually every one of the 3,072 counties in the United States, and will cooperate with all agencies to meet distress wherever found. The flour has proved of great benefit, and the cotton clothing will be given wide distribution."

While carrying on nation-wide these unemployment and other relief measures, the Red Cross also was engaged in its regular peacetime activities in public health nursing, service to ex-service men and their families, teaching home hygiene, life saving and first aid. The Junior Red Cross, composed of almost 7,000,000 school children, also rallied to the support of the society's relief efforts, and the children aided others of their age in practical ways, formed sewing and food canning classes, and were of great assistance in chapter relief work.

While the wheat and cotton were given by the U. S. Government, no money was provided to pay for the necessary work entailed. The Red Cross will meet this expense of almost $500,000 from its treasury. Citizens can aid by joining as members of the local Red Cross chapter during the roll call from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

SELIGMAN WOULD DIVORCE TEACHERS FROM STATE POLITICS

Enactment of a law insuring permanency of employment for qualified school teachers and divorcing employment of school teachers from political consideration was advocated by Governor Seligman in a prepared speech at Alamogordo Monday night. Some method to stabilize school income was also advocated.

"Some satisfactory solution of the public school situation in New Mexico is one of the paramount problems before the people of the state," he said, "and undoubtedly will be given serious consideration by the next legislature."

"Because of a decided falling off in the revenues of the schools from state lands and interest on their permanent funds, they are in a most trying position. In view of the economic condition throughout the state it has been impossible to increase the school tax burden on the people to offset the loss of other school income."

"In fact, it has been necessary to decrease the amounts of money to be paid in school taxes in 1932 by 7.37 per cent in comparison to the amount levied in school taxes in 1931."

"This is the smallest of the tax cuts made by your democratic administration. The reduction in state taxes has been 8.4 per cent, county taxes 16 per cent and in municipal taxes 15.49 per cent."

"There is an urgent need for some equitable plan in the state to stabilize school income without adding to the burden of the property owners. Our schools should not be subjected to the uncertainty of a greatly fluctuating income, and our taxpayers cannot be asked to assume an increased burden.

"I believe that the tenure of employment for our teachers also should be made more definite and more stable. I am of the firm opinion that the laws of our state should be so changed as to insure permanency of employment for properly qualified teachers."

The governor said he would do "my utmost" to obtain passage of a law "which will provide that the hiring of teachers on the basis of qualifications alone shall be mandatory, without regard to their political affiliations."

Residents of the state should be given preference, he said. "I believe," he said, "that provision should be made in the law that a list of qualified teachers should be kept in the department of education and that when a vacancy occurs in any county in the state, the position must be offered to the eligible teacher standing first on the list."

MANY WOMEN ARE NOW SEEKING OFFICES

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Content heretofore with casting their ballots and making a few scattered bids for public office, women this year are trying to pick political plums in record numbers.

"There are 102 seeking important offices in 31 states, a press survey shows."

Three are running for the U. S. senate, 28 for the house, two for governor and 69 for lesser state offices, exclusive of state legislative posts.

By parties the 102 candidates are divided this way: socialists, 23; communists, 22; democrats, 18; republicans, 17; prohibition, 6; farmer-labor, 4; independents, 3; non-partisan, liberty and independent republicans, 2 each, and law preservation, progressive and socialist-labor, 1 each.

Huge Task of Nurses

Red Cross public health nurses, who work in hundreds of communities, are meeting the greatest demands in history for their services, due to the depression. Visits in maternity cases, protecting the health of infants and children, and aiding mothers in distress due to unemployment of the bread winners have taken them into thousands of homes. The nurses made 1,357,000 visits to or on behalf of individuals, and inspected 949,000 school children. More than 58,000 adults were instructed in home hygiene and care of the sick.

Clothes for the Needy

Women volunteers sewing for the needy under direction of the Red Cross produced 296,000 garments last year, and will produce millions of garments in the winter of 1932-33. These will be from the millions of yards of cotton cloth distributed by the national Red Cross from the 500,000 bales of cotton turned over to the organization by Congress. Cloth was sent to all chapters requesting it, and later it was proposed to send some simple ready-made garments, including trousers, overalls, underwear, stockings and sox.

Woman Readers Invited to Analyze Proud Man

A chemist (a man) reports that he has at last been able to analyze woman, and here it is: Symbol—W. O. A member of the human family. Occurrence—can be found wherever man exists. Physical properties—all colors and sizes. Always appears in disguised condition. Surface of face seldom unprotected by coating of paint or film of powder. Boils at nothing and may freeze at any moment. However, melts when properly treated. Very bitter if not used correctly. Chemical properties—extremely active. Possesses great affinity for gold, silver, platinum and precious stones of all kinds. Violent reaction when left alone by men. Ability to absorb all sorts of expensive food. Turns green when placed next to a better appearing sample. Ages very rapidly. Fresh variety has great magnetic attraction. (Note: Highly explosive and likely to be dangerous in inexperienced hands.)

Now will some woman reader analyze man?—Pathfinder Magazine.

Borgia Beauty Hint

When Lucretia Borgia took time off between intrigues to get sunburned, she went at it scientifically, we learn in the Golden Book. Her method was "white of egg and sugar-candy rubbed on the face." She washed her teeth in a concoction of rosebuds, citron-pips, pinecones, clay and wine. She painted her face with mercury sublimate and white lead; which was all right until some one chewed saffron and breathed on her, when she turned bright yellow, while garlic turned her black. And if you yearned to dye a renaissance lady green, you had merely to decoct a chameleon in her bath.

These facts were in an article by Baron Corvo, which proved that the Borgias were a lot brighter about beauty recipes than about venoms, and that the Borgia poisonings are largely myth.

OKLAHOMA MINISTER SENTENCED NEXT MON.

MUSKOGEE, Oklahoma — The Rev. S. A. Berrie, 52-year-old unfrocked Presbyterian minister, was convicted Tuesday of the poison murder of his first wife, Mrs. Fannie Berrie.

The verdict, which carried a life prison sentence, did not appear even momentarily to break the composure of the preacher. He appeared calm when he was returned to his cell. Sentence will be passed formally next Monday.

His comely 19-year-old second wife, the former Ida Bess Bright, a Sunday school teacher in his church, also apparently was unmoved by the jury decision.

During the trial Mrs. Berrie, named by the prosecutor as the motive for the poisoning, appeared by the side of her husband and asserted her belief in his innocence. He is the writer of numerous hymns in "Land."

AL SMITH MAKES HIS FIRST CAMPAIGN SPEECH MON. EVE

NEWARK, N. J.—"Al" Smith before a police estimated crowd of 20,000 concluded his first national campaign speech Monday night by declaring that nothing but the election of the Roosevelt-Garner ticket would solve the economic problems of America.

Smith had reserved mention of the name of his old political ally Governor Roosevelt, until he had lashed out at prohibition and had made extended criticism of the republican administration.

His call for a Roosevelt-Garner victory set off a demonstration in the vast auditorium which was many minutes in ending. Thousands of American flags were waved. Automobile horns set up a bedlam of noise.

Smith wound up by asking his audience to "go home and see if you can find one great big public question that they (the republicans) have made a reasonably good attempt to settle."

"Instead of that," he continued, "we received a program of threat that if the republican party is defeated the return of prosperity will be retarded."

"I deny that, and I deny it emphatically, and I state from this platform to my nation-wide audience that the election of the democratic ticket is the best way to solve these problems and the best way to bring back prosperity—the election of Roosevelt and Garner."

While uncounted thousands—some police estimates exceeded 50,000—literally battled outside the huge brick building in a vain attempt to smash through police lines and gain entrance Smith delivered a speech which was devoted principally to prohibition.

"In 1928," he said, "both parties ducked the prohibition issue. They were both afraid of it."

"The democratic party wasn't a bit better than the republican party. They both laid down, in fear of the consequence had they taken a decided step looking to revision or repeal of the 18th amendment."

The crowd roared when he said: "I think the record pretty clearly indicates that I did not dodge it. I did not duck."

FEDERAL SUIT TO FORCE DIVISION OF PEGOS RIVER WATERS

Ralph Yarbrough, Texas assistant attorney general, announced Saturday that Texas plans to bring suit in federal court at Austin against the state of New Mexico to force a fair division of the waters of the Pecos river.

Yarbrough said that he recently visited the Pecos and found New Mexico water projects within the artesian development area had dried up springs that formerly supplied the Pecos river, the result being a marked loss of water normally carried by the stream.

The attorney general was authorized to make an investigation of the situation by the last legislature.

The matter has been a bone of contention by Texas authorities for many years. They claim that Texas residents living along the lower Pecos are entitled to a larger share of water from the river than they are getting and seek to force New Mexico residents to release more of the water into the stream.

Should such a demand be successful, it is pointed out by authorities, present agricultural areas along the Pecos including the one would likely suffer

MORE OIL TARIFF NEEDED TO STOP FOREIGN IMPORTS

"Imports are again being used to drive down the price of domestic crude oil," said Wirt Franklin in commenting on the weekly American Petroleum Institute reports released for publication last week.

"From the effective date of the tax on imported oil to October 1, the daily average of all imports was 94,000 barrels. Since the agitation for a price increase for domestic oil, the daily average of imports has jumped, for the past two weeks, to 132,000 barrels per day.

"In reading the reasons assigned by importing companies refusing to meet the domestic price increase, it must be apparent that these reasons constitute no real excuse for refusing to meet the prices set by the great majority of purchasing companies. It may be that the real reason behind this refusal by importing companies to join in a program which means so much, not only to the stabilization of the American oil industry but which also furnishes the inspiration for the recovery of all American industry, is that they can bring in imported oil more cheaply than they can buy domestic oil.

"The Tariff Commission's report shows that the cost of Venezuelan oil, delivered at Atlantic Seaboard refineries, is 87 cents per barrel. Adding the 21 cent import tax now in effect, makes a total cost, delivered to these refineries of $1.08, thus enabling importing companies to prevent any material increase in the price of domestic crude.

"This only emphasizes the importance of continued effort to increase the tariff on imported crude."

SANDWICH SPREAD

The following recipe for making sandwich spread was sent us by Mrs. A. W. Wilde:

Grind 6 red and 6 green bell peppers, (can be all green if preferred), 6 medium sized onions. Then grind enough tomatoes to make 4 quarts. Mix tomatoes, peppers and onions together and add 1 cup of salt and let stand over night. In the morning squeeze out of brine. Then make a salad dressing, 3 cups of granulated sugar, 2 cups of flour, 1 tablespoon of tumeric powder and 1-10c box of ground (French) mustard. Mix all ingredients to a thin paste with water. Then stir it slowly into 2 quarts of boiling vinegar. Cook until thick and add to tomato mixture. Stir thoroughly and heat thoroughly, not boil. Put in cans and seal while hot.

SENATOR GORE TO SPEAK AT ALBUQUERQUE SAT.

United State Senator Thomas Gore, of Oklahoma, "The Blind Senator," will speak in New Mexico on Saturday, October 29th, it was announced by W. J. Barker, democratic state chairman.

African "Medicine-Men" Strong on Ceremonial

Before the medicine-man, in central Africa, is appealed to for rain, those desiring it must prepare their ancestral spirits for the event. All the people in the neighborhood prepare their own ancestral spirits, propitiating them with offerings of foodstuffs.

When this is completed the chief sends for his medicine-man and gives him a black sheep. This votive offering is killed by piercing its breast, the stomach is then removed, and roots of a certain plant added to the stomach. This is then put on the fire and the watchers observe the spirals of smoke.

In the ceremony to protect crops against theft, a head of a spitting cobra is filled with sorghum seed and planted. The grains grow and when fruiting the roots are dug up and calcined. Then a rope is made of tree bark rubbed with the calcined roots, and this is mixed with the sap of a rubber plant. The rope is stretched between two sticks and is addressed by the owner of the crops: "This is my farm. If anyone takes anything, go and bite him!"

The owner whose farm is thus protected, goes away believing that a spitting cobra will bite any thief.

Why, of Course Daddy Would Dress the Baby

"John, dear, will you dress Tommy this morning? I'm in such a hurry, and it won't take you more than a minute or two."

"Certainly," replied John, cheerfully. "I'd just as soon dress the little chap as not. Here, son, come and let daddy dress you. I'll have you as neat as a pin in a jiffy."

Tommy, aged four, reluctantly left his playthings, and his father began:

"Now, let's off with your nightgown and—keep still, dear, or I can't unbutton it. There, now, we'll—sit still, child. What makes you squirm like an eel? Where's your shirt! Ah, here it is, and—sit still! Put up your arm—no, the other one, and—can't you get still half a second? Put up your other arm and stop pulling so. No, let's—come here, boy. What do you mean by racing off like that with nothing on but your shirt? Now come here and let me put the rest of your clothes on. Put your leg in here. Not that leg. There you go, squirming around like a worm. Now, if you don't keep still, I'll—stop pulling at that chain, and—here, Doris, you'll have to dress this wriggling animal yourself. I couldn't do it in ten years."—London Tit-Bits.

Altogether Wrong Idea About Caveman's Wooing

So the caveman, it seems, wasn't such a devil of a fellow, after all. These stories that he won his woman by clouting her over the head with a club are the inventions of pale highbrows who, possibly, get a vicarious delight out of the roughneck technique they have bestowed upon the chaps of long ago. Well, a lie can be young but once and the truth can never die. And it has come about, as it was sure to do, through some digging in the Grotto of Isturitz, that we at last have a real, authentic picture of the caveman's courtship. It is an exquisite bit of carving, with no suggestion of violence, but, rather, of gentle, persuasive wooing in the best Victorian tradition. The fiancée is carrying a bouquet of orchids which her hero, we feel sure, sealed an Alp to get. And that pale remnant of a scrawl is easily identified as a sonnet to his lady's eyebrow. It might be remarked, too, in closing, that the cavewoman had a fine, sweeping, unplucked eyebrow which well inspire a sonnet—or an epic.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Materials of Miniatures

A study of materials used for miniatures has been adjudged a valuable aid in cataloguing their ages. Vellum, first employed, was succeeded by cardboard. The miniature artists of Elizabethan days frequently did their painting on the back of playing cards. By the end of the Seventeenth century, ivory, which was to do so much for the art, was employed.

Wonderful Fog Horns

Fog horns with which German's two great passenger liners are equipped weigh nearly a ton yet are economical of steam, as they use four diaphragms to produce unusually low tones.

Artificial Way Best

Lake trout eggs hatch better in artificial hatcheries than in the natural spawning beds on the lake bottom, experiments conducted by Ira Smith, conservation warden of Wisconsin, showed.

"Siamese twins" among fish are a common occurrence. In state hatcheries, even specimens with five perfect heads to a single body have been found.

ARTESIA LOSES TO CLOVIS HIGH WILL MEET ROSWELL FRI.

The Artesia high eleven lost another conference victory at Clovis Friday by a score of 38-0. The Bull Dogs have not yet found the combination that will click against the opposition, despite the fact that the team has shown streaks of brilliancy, which resembled the performance of last year's squad. It appeared as though Artesia might successfully hold Clovis in the first quarter, but the big plunging fullback, Joe Maddux of the Wildcats, proved too strong and started a scoring spree in the second quarter. Clovis by the way has what appears to be the strongest team in the state thus far.

Score by periods:

Clovis ----- 0 13 6 19--38
Artesia ----- 0 0 6 0--0

Summary: Punts, Clovis, two for average of 47 yards; Artesia 3 for 40 yards; kickoff, Clovis, 8 for average of 45 yards; passes, Clovis 3 for average of 17 yards; Artesia, 3 for 10 yards; yardage made from scrimmage, Maddux 3, Skarda, Abernathy, Neff; extra points by Maddux (line plunge), Lindley (pass).

To Roswell Friday

Friday Coach Allen will pit his charges against the Coyotes at Roswell. Both Roswell and Artesia have fared about alike this season and Friday's game should be a close one. A large crowd of fans will likely accompany the team.

"Voices of Fish"

Fish are not entirely dumb. Many species of marine creatures have voices. Some grunt, some make a noise like a distant report of a cannon, and the blenny is able to let out quite a sizable scream.

There is the South American fish called Gymnotus electricus, about four feet long, with the head of a catfish and the body of an eel. This creature carries a powerful electric battery, and the biologist in charge of that department of the Toronto university remarks: "We know he is capable of knocking over a horse, and upon dissecting a dead one found the body to contain four electric batteries, composed of millions of electric cells, in series."

Life in the Oceans

As in the world above the surface of the water there are many varieties of parasites, so, too, there are lazy creatures in the oceans which get a free ride through life. Rock perches are frequently encrusted with hundreds of polyps, which hang to its skin and which the poor fish is unable to shake loose. The hermit crab thrusts itself into a colony of sea anemones, which are armed with a formidable battery of stinging cells, and hence are given a wide berth by hungry fish. As the crab has a shell which is not irritated by the sting-cells, it lives in peaceful security from the attacks of fish which know better than to mix up with the anemones. But how the anemones regard the intruder is not known.

Dido a Slicker

The role of "slicker" in a bargain was played back as far as history extends. Consider the case of Dido, founder of the city of Carthage. After she had been forced to flee from the kingdom of Tyre, following the slaying of her husband by Pygmalion, Dido fled to Africa. There she purchased a plot of land, which, according to her bargain, was to be as large as could be covered by the hide of a bull. Having struck the bargain, Dido cut the hide up into very narrow thongs and laying them end to end encircled a piece of ground sufficiently large to serve as the location of the city which she founded.

for reimbursement from the various organizations, including $350 from the city. Every effort will be made to care for those more or less permanently located in the district, but the board can not care for transients nor can it underwrite funeral expenses.

Under the present plan the able bodied will be asked to work for the groceries, but the board will not start functioning so far as it may effect the able bodied until after the cotton picking season has closed. Clothing and flour will be given without any labor requirements. A plan to provide work for the able bodied will be worked out within a short time.

The board has on hand at the present time outing flannel material suitable for making comforts and will be glad to have the assistance of any local organization in making the material into covers.

A storage or welfare room has been established in the Muncy building, next door to the City Market with Pete Loving in charge. The room will be opened for distribution on Monday and Friday afternoons after 1:00 p. m. Applicants will be required to sign a receipt for food or clothing taken.
