ARTESIA EXPECTS TO EVEN SCORE WITH CARLSBAD FRIDAY

What promises to be the most interesting as well as one of the hardest fought basketball games of the season is scheduled for Friday evening at the Central gym when Artesia meets Carlsbad. Carlsbad is the only undefeated team in district five. It was a close contest at the first meeting of the two teams at Carlsbad and both squads have improved since then. The Bulldogs have been doing some consistent playing in the last two games and have shown exceptionally fine team work in the last minute "rushes," which has placed the games on ice. The game will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock and should draw a large crowd, especially in view of the reduced admission prices. See the announcement elsewhere in this issue for further details.

SALES AND INCOME TAX RECOMMENDED AT SCHOOL MEETING

At the call of the County Superintendent H. R. Rodgers, a meeting of the various budgeting agencies of Eddy county was held at Carlsbad Friday to discuss the tax situation as it applies to the schools and county affairs. Representatives of the Eddy county, Carlsbad, Hope, and the Artesia Boards of Education, superintendents and the Eddy County Tax Payers Association were present. The possibility of closing the schools before the end of the regular term was discussed, but it was the consensus of opinion of those present that some means might be found to continue them to the end of the allotted time. A meeting will be called at a later date, when more information is at hand, to discuss the matter further. The meeting passed a resolution which will be submitted to the senator and representatives from Eddy and Lea counties asking them to work for the passage of a gross sales tax, an income tax and a privilege franchise tax that would lighten the present property tax. It is possible that such a tax would be made available for the liquidation of the budgets of the present year. Those from Artesia attending the meeting were Albert Blake, J. E. Robertson, John Shearman and Supt. W. E. Kerr.

SPORTSMEN WANT DUCK AND FISHING SEASON CHANGED

Ask To Be Classed With Texas In Duck Law—Also Want Open Fishing On River Except In July And August.

The attendance at the annual meeting of the Artesia Game Protective Association held in the American Legion hut Monday evening was very gratifying. In the election of officers, Mark Corbin was chosen president, succeeding A. L. Mount and William Linell was re-elected as secretary-treasurer. A number of recommendations were submitted to the State Game Department designed to protect the wild life of this section and improve hunting and fishing. On motion of G. U. McCrary the association went on record in favor of the ten day permit law, which would give both residents and non-residents the privilege of fishing in the three major lakes in the state for a period of ten days for the sum of $1.25. The resolution was conditional on whether or not the commission favored such a privilege. The association also approved a resolution which would class New Mexico in the same season as Texas for migratory fowls, and which would open the duck season from November 16th to January 15th, instead of the season from October 16th to December 15th. The association also asked the New Mexico Game and Fish Commission to open the Pecos river from the Dayton Bridge north to a point designated by the commission for fishing the year around except during the spawning season of cat fish in July and August. This regulation would apply to all tributaries to the Pecos in this region. The association also favors an eight inch limit on all cat fish caught. The association asked for a more rigid enforcement of the quail trap law, designed to stop the promiscuous trapping of quail in this section. Dues were reduced from $1.00 to 75c per member. Two visitors were present at Monday evening's meeting, M. Stevenson of Roswell, deputy game warden and Frank Nelson of Dexter, superintendent of the federal fish hatchery. Mr. Nelson made an interesting address on the promulgation of fish.

ACTIVITY CONTINUES AT HOBBS WITH NEW PRODUCERS ADDED

New Location Staked And Three Wells Given Proration Gauge And Texas Well Is Plugged And Abandoned.

Oil activity for the past week has been centered in the Hobbs area where two new producers have been completed and one well given a proration gauge. The Standard Oil and Gas Co., has finished its Turner No. 26, 660 feet from the south line and 1980 feet from the west line sec. 34-18-38, at 4,189 feet. On a proration gauge through a two inch tubing the Turner made 1,490 barrels with 1,100,000 feet of gas. The Gypsy Oil Co., has also finished its Hardin No. 2, sec. 18-18-38 at a depth of 4,253 feet. On a proration gauge flowing open the Hardin made 9,202 barrels of oil with 6,000,000 feet of gas. A proration gauge of the Bowers 3-B of the Humble Oil and Refining Co., sec. 20-18-38, has boosted the production 590 barrels over a company test made last week. CITY HOSPITAL IS A BRIGHT PROSPECT IF CITIZENS WANT IT

Artesia has a splendid chance of securing a small, well-built hospital if the citizens will cooperate in giving their support to the project. Artesia physicians have suggested that a hospital can be built through a loan of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, at a low rate of interest provided the city will finance the proposition. Joe A. Clayton, city mayor and Fred Brainard, manager of the Chamber of Commerce have indicated that they are anxious to see the building of a hospital launched here, provided local citizens will give co-operation. Mayor Clayton stated to an Advocate representative that he believed the building of a small modern and well equipped hospital would be feasible at this time under the present conditions. Mr. Clayton is of the opinion that now is the logical time to construct a much needed hospital if the people want it. "Labor and materials will never be any cheaper," he said.

NEW SCHOOL TRUSTEE LAW

The repeal of the present 1931 law governing the election of school trustees was effected last week and senate bill No. 14, passed and approved by the legislature and Governor Seligman. This still leaves two trustees to be elected for a term of four years as we understand it. The number of trustees in other districts were also reduced.

IS AMERICAN INITIATIVE AND ENTERPRISE A MYTH?

The people of the United States have a reputation for initiative and enterprise. They start things and they finish them.

They have a chance now to demonstrate their ability as never before.

Everyone is waiting for "business to pick up." But business won't pick up of its own accord. It will pick up when the desire and determination to do something rises again in our national consciousness.

There are about 25 or 30 million families in the United States. This means that there are some 30 million men who are actual producers.

Payrolls depend on construction activity—the building and upkeep of homes, factories and enterprises which consume every imaginable product.

Building has been going down steadily for the past several years until it has become almost stagnant. Thousands of structures are deteriorating because of lack of repairs, paint, rotting foundations, leaky plumbing, worn out heating plants, crumbling chimneys and a thousand and one other things which have been let go.

Never in years could repair work or new construction be done as cheaply as today.

There are millions of individuals and industries in this country that have savings and are well able to carry on necessary improvements now.

Starting a few million jobs, varying in amounts from ten dollars to a few thousand dollars each, would release an avalanche of money and start the wheels of industry. Employment would increase; our nation would take heart and commence and industry would slowly regain a normal stride.

Before long this improvement would be reflected in other nations.

No amount of legislation or political panaceas involving increased taxation and greater public burdens, can do a fraction of the good that the people can do for themselves by exercising our much prized American initiative and enterprise. Do it now! Investment and employment are cheaper than charity!

THE GROWING MALADY

Devising new ways or raising revenue is like trying to debase or inflate our monetary system, the big question is knowing where to stop. We are afraid to undertake the task of cheapening our money because the temptation is too great to keep the printing presses going once we start printing currency. In practically every instance where a nation has tried out a new tax, the tax which was apparently painless enough to start with has been gradually increased until it has become a burden. The gasoline tax is an outstanding example. From a cent and two per gallon the tax has been gradually increased until it is the major item in the cost of gasoline in some states. In fact it has been carried so far until the tax idea has defeated its own aims. Statistics recently compiled by the oil industry indicates the consumption of gasoline has declined in proportion to the amount of gasoline tax. The biggest jump occurs between the three and the six cent tax; where the decline registered is approximately eleven per cent. It has been clearly shown that there is a distinct relationship between the consumption and the amount of the gasoline tax.

We hear much talk of a sales tax at the present moment. A sales tax at this time might provide an additional revenue to supplement the ad valorem tax and might be considered equitable, but there is always the temptation to increase it when more funds are needed. The sales tax idea is comparatively new and could easily be made very burdensome to some least able to pay.

STRANGULATING A NEW INDUSTRY

Tax strangulation threatens the automobile industry, an industry that has helped to raise the standard of American living. Some people still consider the automobile a luxury and the same view is evidently taken by our bureaucratic government, which depends in a large measure on the various taxes collected from this industry. This is something the technocrats ought to look into. It begins to look like we cannot maintain our costly bureaus and at the same time hope to raise still further our standard of living.

According to Will Rogers every United States citizen is taxed $77.00 a head, which is $10.00 more per head than last year. While the wage earner has been cut from 10% to 5% the tax rate has increased 12 1/2%. Is the governmental protection you received in 1932 worth $10.00 more than that of 1931?

McKinley said: "I do not prize the word cheap. It is not a word of hope, nor a word of cheer. It is not a word of inspiration. It is the badge of poverty, the signal of distress. Cheap merchandise means cheap men, and cheap men, a cheap country."

Most everybody agrees that we need a leader to lead us out of the woods, but the trouble is that a would be leader would have a hard time making us believe he knew enough to lead, so we'll just keep groping blindly until we see the light.

One provision which might be written in rich men's marriage contracts would be a provision against alimony.

If Mr. Roosevelt is himself a farmer, he has a personal interest in seeing that agriculture gets a new deal.

To provide more bright spots in business, people must be more willing to get dirt spots on their cuffs.

Balmy days of spring draw near, when sleeping on park benches will not be so disagreeable.

We agree that the proof of the pudding is in the eating, but where's the pudding?

PICKED UP ON MAIN

See where a technocrat says folks ought to be rewarded for rearing a family and proposes to give $20,000 for each child born. We know of one potential millionaire not over a hundred miles from here. The family doctor ought to boost this plan because the first fourteen has not been paid for and doc might cash in and get his out of the first million that the family collected.

Some people evidently make light of their troubles, they burn their bills.

The cost of government ought to be cheaper after March 4th. It should not take as much to feed a donkey as an elephant.

The only trouble we seen about living in the garden of Eden if Adam hadn't eaten the apple is that everything would have been so perfect, nobody would have had anything to gripe about.

Even a baby knows how to get what it wants by making a noise and that's more than some store keepers will admit when it comes to advertising.

Officer—Where are you birds from?
Tourist—Walla Walla, Wash.
Officer—Can't you speak English?

I know a man who has been married thirty years and he spends every evening of his life at home. That's what I call love. The doctor calls it paralysis.

Warden, to new prisoner—If you are skilled in some particular pursuit we shall be glad to let you follow it.

Prisoner—Thank you, very much. I am an aviator.

Does the telephone company give you any impertinence?
No, they charge me for it.

Sunday School Teacher—Why was it that David said he would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of the Lord?

Bright Boy—So he could go outside if he didn't like the sermon.

A resident of the range west who was a caller at The Advocate office yesterday laid the present low price of farm produce on the door step of the democrats, with the remark that the democrats had taken charge of things. A little thing of whether or not we have two or three per cent beer does not bother him because like Gandhi of India, he drinks goat milk.

We have just listened to the third of a series of lectures on the harmful effects of eating warm bread, which are being delivered at our house by the head of the household. It has not been very long ago since we used to attend these bridge parties, eat a heavy lunch at midnight, swig it down with a quart of coffee and then go home and try to sleep, but the subject of healthful habits was never broached.

RELIEF MONEY FOR N. M.

A check for the first installment of a loan granted New Mexico last week by the R. F. C. for relief work has been made available immediately, Gov. Arthur Seligman said he was notified Monday.

Half the loan, or $40,000, may be obtained at once the governor said, and the other half will be available February 10th. The loan will be utilized to provide relief through March.

Miss Margaret Reeves, director of the administration of the emergency relief work in the state, returned to Santa Fe Monday from Washington, where she conferred with the committee relative to the Costigan-LaFollette-Cutting bill which would appropriate $500,000,000 to states in outright grants for relief.

Miss Reeves told the governor it was contemplated, if the relief bill passed, to administer it under a setup similar to that used in New Mexico. It would consist of three welfare workers, appointed by the president, to act as a recommending committee, she said, with the R. F. C. directorate to disburse the funds.

In New Mexico a special relief committee make suggestions to the state board of finance which disburses all moneys available for aiding the needy.

Relieved By Taking Cardui

"I was weak and run-down and suffered quite a bit with pains in my side," writes Mrs. Nick Barranco, of Beaumont, Texas. "I was nervous. I did not rest well at night, and my appetite was poor. "My mother had used Cardui with beneficial result, so I decided to take it. I surely am glad I did, for it stopped the pain in my side and built up my general health. I took seven bottles in all." Cardui is sold at all drug stores.

LIFERS IN STATE PEN SERVE AVERAGE OF EIGHT YEAR TERMS

SANTA FE—Final disposition of prisoners sentenced to death or life imprisonment, or its equivalent by district courts of the state during the 20-year period, January 1, 1901, to December 31, 1920, is set forth in a compilation made by Tom Hughes, former warden of the penitentiary. The number of long-timers during the period was 143. Average time served was 8 years, 2 months and 6 days. Seventeen men were executed. Mr. Hughes made the compilation with the assistance of Warden Ed Swope and Chief Clerk William Bayer in connection with a bill now pending in the house to abolish capital punishment. His compilation shows that one prisoner received a sentence of 150 to 160 years. This man later escaped from the clay pit and has not yet been apprehended. In passing sentence, Judge Medler said he was giving the man enough years to take care of any good time and time off for good behavior which the prisoner might receive. In 1914, Mr. Hughes' statement says, R. L. Ormsbee, then chief clerk of the penitentiary, made a summary of the sentences given the prisoners and the average time served then was between 13 and 14 years. Mr. Hughes' compilation shows that the average time served is decreasing. The executed include six Villistas who were captured at the raid in Columbus at Deming in June 1916; Pedro Montes, executed at Silver City in June 1917; Gates and Baldano, executed at Socorro in 1915; Hightower, executed at Silver City in January, 1916; Elmer, Blancett, executed in Santa Fe in 1920; Corral and Rosano, executed in Silver City in January, 1922; Katanka, executed in San Juan, county in May 1922; Miranda, Ruteria and Vaisa, executed at Estancia in June, 1922. Mr. Hughes says the penitentiary records do not have the names of all those sentenced to death but only those who were held for safe keeping. Until 1929 executions took place at the county seat of the county in which the crime was committed and were performed by the sheriff. Of the 143 long termers or lifers, Mr. Hughes found that many had been pardoned, paroled, commuted, or had died. He gives a summary which follows: Died, 8, escaped, 13; sent to insane asylum, 4; sent to Leavenworth, 2; pardoned, paroled or commuted as follows: Governor Otero, 5; Governor Curry, 6; Governor Mills, 3; Governor McDonald, 3; Governor Lindsay, 17; Governor Larazolo, 38; acting Governor Antonio Lucero, 1; and released by penitentiary board, 2. Forty remain in the institution.

FAVORS ISSUE OF $2,000,000

SANTA FE—Issuance of $2,000,000 in highway debentures will mean a net increase in debenture debt of only $500,000 in two years D. H. Donnell, chief clerk of the highway department said Monday. The state is retiring $750,000 in 1933 and 1934, he said. His statement says that if debentures are not issued, one-half the present force, ranging from 1,200 to 1,500 people must be discharged, affecting 3,500 people. A tax levy of three-quarters mill will probably be made to pay interest and sinking fund on outstanding debentures, he says. The statement shows 2,500 miles of federal aid roads constructed at a cost of 36 millions, with New Mexico obligated to the government to maintain these roads. Maintenance of the state's 5,658 miles of highway costs $1,300,000, he says. By completing the highway system and oiling present roads, cost of maintenance will be materially reduced, he asserts.

BRATTON OPPOSES THE LAND TRADE BILL

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Legislation to permit a trade of private for public lands in New Mexico in order to allow expansion of the Lincoln national forest was being examined Saturday by Sen. Sam Bratton. Bratton said he feared it might open the way for depriving of the state of public domain likely to come to it in the immediate future. The senator's comment was made in an interview on a statement of forest service officials that an act of congress probably would be required to permit the transfer, which would involve the so-called Harvey tract and other acreage now privately owned.

CORDS SHOW MOST PROFITABLE METHODS

The first annual report of the New Mexico poultry flock record keepers indicates important factors in the most successful system of poultry production in New Mexico, says W. M. Ginn of the New Mexico State College. The average net returns per hen for labor and management, after all costs of feed and overhead expenses are considered, was the measure used for determining the most successful practices. Following are the management practices which proved most successful: Feeding a well balanced ration; use of skim milk in the ration; use of good shed roof or gable roof type of poultry house; poultry houses with three square feet or more per bird and with depth of more than 15 feet from front to back; maintaining health of poultry flocks; following good sanitation methods; control of loss to less than 15 per cent of the birds in the flocks; culling 30 per cent or more of the poorer birds; producing 40 per cent or more of eggs in the winter time and having flocks with production of 125 eggs or more per hen during the year. This is a small study involving records of one year and later records should add a great deal of information. Poultrymen interested in getting data in regard to the relative profitableness of different methods of management should write the extension service, State College, for a copy of the annual report of the New Mexico flock record keepers.

RAGSDALE-ARCHER

A quiet and beautiful wedding ceremony was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ragsdale at 7:00 o'clock on Thursday evening, January 26th, when Miss Katherine Ragsdale, of this city, became the bride of Mr. D. D. Archer of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. The Rev. A. C. Douglas of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, conducted the ceremony.

An altar fashioned with banks of snapdragons and ferns as a background and with golden candelabra holding long white tapers as a foreground, was erected in one corner of the living room. The lighted candles shed a soft glow over the wedding group during the ritual.

Before the entrance of the bridal party, Mrs. V. L. Gates sang, "As The Dawn," by Otto Cantor. Mrs. Willis Morgan was the accompanist and also furnished the music throughout the ceremony. With the first chords of the Mendelssohn Wedding March, the attendants, Miss Elsie Palmateer, bridesmaid and Mr. Marvel Archer, best man, and brother of the groom, led by the Rev. Douglas, walked to the altar. The bride, escorted by her father, followed, and was joined before the altar by the groom. "I Love You Truly," was played softly as an accompaniment to the ceremony which was a double ring service.

Immediately following the marriage the bridal party adjourned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Morgan, where a reception was held.

In the receiving line with the bridal party were Mrs. Walter Archer of Oklahoma City, mother of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Ragsdale, parents of the bride. During the reception, the bride threw her bouquet, which was caught by the bridesmaid, Miss Palmateer.

The Morgan home was attractively decorated for this occasion with potted plants and ferns, with sweet peas and ferns adorning the dining table which was centered with a beautiful wedding cake. Punch was served from a quaint punchbowl set, an heirloom in the Ragsdale family. Mrs. Morgan was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. W. E. Ragsdale, aunt of the bride.

The bride was attired in a handsome gown of bridal satin of magnolia hue, that had been designed and made by Mrs. Walter Archer, mother of the groom. The dress was cut low in the back, and was trimmed only with bias strips of self material, inserted diagonally in the tight fitting skirt, which fell in soft ripples to the floor. Her shoes were of dark brown suede. The only jewelry worn was a pin, an heirloom, presented to her by her grandmother Ragsdale. On her arm she carried a bridal bouquet of calla lilies and freesias hung in streamers of knotted white ribbon. For the reception she assumed a short packet matching the dress and trimmed at the cuffs with deep bands of brown fur. A small brown velvet turban completed the costume.

Mr. and Mrs. Archer accompanied by Mrs. Walter Archer left on Sunday for Oklahoma City, where they will be at home at 104 West 21st street.

TAX MEASURES NOT YET CONSIDERED

With more than 20 days of the 60 day legislative session passed none of the administration's general tax program bills has been introduced it was said at Santa Fe Tuesday.

Joint committee of house and senate has met twice with the state tax commission to consider the tax and revenue problem and to go over with Governor Seligman proposals for new legislation.

Just what the administration's tax program will include has not been indicated by members of the committee, the governor, nor Byron O. Beall, chief tax commissioner, but the program will probably follow lines of recommendations laid down in the governor's message.

It is known that Mr. Beall has been working on tax measures for several months but the bills he has tentatively drafted have never been released for publication. Mr. Beall said at the opening of the session that the administration's tax measures might not be introduced during the first few weeks in order to give members of the legislature time to present their tax bills, if any.

All of the bills would then be gone over, he said, with possibility of the best features of all being incorporated in one or more related measures.

Governor Seligman's proposal for a four year property assessment plan has drawn fire from taxpayers of Socorro county, who said in their petition to the legislature that assessments by experts working out of the state tax commission office proved a failure in Socorro county several years ago.

The petition related that the county board of equalization cut the assessments so fixed 5 per cent and even then some taxpayers secured further reductions by going to the courts. The cost of the survey was $15,000, the petition relates.

There has been little indication that the legislature will favor a sales tax. Senators who have given thought to this matter believe that it would be a solution to many of the present evils of the tax problem providing there was some way to force the corporations to continue paying their proportionate share of governmental costs.

A reduction of one-third on general property taxes to be made up from proceeds of the sales or income tax or both would prove a great relief to railroads in several counties and mining and other corporations in others where the bulk of all taxes are now paid by the corporations.

For this reason it is doubtful that the legislature at this time will pass a sales tax unless it can enact a companion measure which will affect the corporations in a similar proportion to the effect a sales tax will have on the small wage earner.

It is the small wage earner, home owner and farmer who are apparently drawing the chief interest of the legislators since the bulk of them fall within this class.

A continuation of the selling has been in evidence since the end of last week, was reflected by further declines at New York yesterday.

The pressure was again attributed chiefly to liquidation of long accounts and offerings were absorbed by covering or trade buying. May sold off from 6.06 to 5.94 and was holding around 5.95 in the mid-afternoon market, with a active months showing net declines of 9 to 10 points.

SPRING WINDS

The Pecos valley has had a touch of early spring the past two weeks with high winds blowing from the southwest and west. The cold experienced in the early part of January has moderated somewhat with a high temperature ranging from 50 to 60 degrees and a low scaling down to 20 degrees. While high winds prevailed here, the Sacramento region has experienced snow flurries with snow falling at intervals in the Weed and Clouderoft section for ten days or more.

ROOSEVELT CABINET RECENTLY PICTURED

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The latest preview of the everchanging Roosevelt cabinet picture, as seen by some democrats in Washington who ordinarily are well informed indicates that nearly all of the cabinet posts in the new administration have been offered and several definitely settled.

This information presents the situation as follows:

Secretary state: Senator Cordell Hull of Tennessee, if he wants it, otherwise Owen D. Young of New York if he wants it.

Treasury: Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, who has not yet accepted but generally is expected to.

War: Former Governor George H. Dern of Utah.

Justice: Senator Thos. J. Walsh of Montana.

Post office: James A. Farley of New York.

Navy: Still open, Senator Claude Swanson of Virginia, in case Senator Glass refuses treasury.

Interior: Senator Bronson Cutting of New Mexico, if he wants it. Otherwise, the place is open, with John B. Elliott of California, prominent among the possibilities.

Agriculture: Probably Henry A. Wallace of Iowa.

Commerce: Uncertain. William H. Woodin of New York preferred, but probably won't accept.

Labor—Miss Frances Perkins of New York.

A spray that kills the weed will be used by Beatty in an attempt to rid the range country of it. Apparently the plant grows only in limited areas, officials said.

SEEKS FUNDS TO SUE N. MEX. FOR WATER

AUSTIN, Texas—Senator Regan of Pecos introduced a bill in the Texas senate Tuesday to appropriate $12,000 for the prosecution of a suit against the state of New Mexico.

The suit will be for the rightful diversion of waters of the Pecos river.

The bill alleges that a deplorable condition exists among the Texas farmers who irrigate from the Pecos and that the condition is caused by the inequitable diversion of water by New Mexico.

Regan said that 40,000 acres of land had been abandoned by farmers along the Pecos in Texas because they have been unable to obtain water.

OPPOSE STATE TAX

SANTA FE—Members of the house of the 11th New Mexico legislature, sitting as a committee of the whole, Tuesday voiced general opposition to proposed sales tax measures.

The greater number of representatives who took part in the discussions conveyed an impression they favored reduction of governmental expense rather than increased taxation as a means to synchronize revenue with disbursements.

In view of the expression Tuesday of the house attitude on sales taxes, observers said a number of contemplated measures which would place levies on certain produce will not now see the light of introduction.

TOM MIX MUST PAY ZACK MILLER $66,000

Miller alleged that Mix broke his contract to appear in Miller's ranch show and sued for $342,000.

ALLOTMENT BILL WOULD AID DIARYING INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, D. C. — More than 12,500,000 people dependent on the dairy industry rely on the domestic allotment farm relief bill to restore their pre-war purchasing power, the senate agriculture committee was told last week.

Charles W. Holman, secretary of the National Cooperative Milk Producers' Federation, urged the committee, however, to place a compensatory tax on oleomargarine.

The billion dollar measure, backed by farm organizations and the incoming administration and passed by the house, now covers wheat, cotton, hogs, rice, peanuts, tobacco and butter fats.

Senators have declared it should be reduced to the first two or three commodities.

In addition, the senate had before it a bill sponsored by Minority Leader Robinson calling for a $1,000,000,000 farm credit pool designed to scale down frozen farm loans. This measure also had backing of leading farm organizations.

GARRETT GUN AWARDED

Temporary disposition, at least, has been made of the six-shooter which Pat Garrett held in his hand in Pete Maxwell's house at old Ft. Sumner on that night in 1881 when the daring career of Billy the Kid was forever ended.

Under the terms of an order entered into recently in probate court at El Paso the gun with which the former Sheriff Pat Garrett killed the notorious outlaw will go to Kathleen Powers, of San Antonio, Texas, it was announced at Roswell Monday.

The order is conditioned on the outcome of a suit filed by Mrs. Pat Garrett of Las Cruces, widow of the colorful peace officer, for possession of this gun which her husband loaned to the late Tom Powers, of El Paso, for exhibition purposes. Kathleen Powers is the daughter of Tom Powers who died two years ago.

The gun which killed the most noted desperado the southwest has even known came into the limelight recently when various persons in the southwest claimed to be its possessor. Mrs. Garrett has asked the court to return the gun, regarded now as very valuable to her.

CHIMNEY "ICE" FROM NATURAL GAS

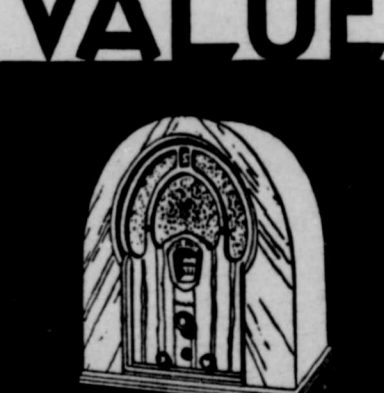

NEW YORK—Chimney "ice," a solid carbon dioxide refrigerant, 109 degrees below zero, made from gases going up in smoke, can be manufactured for a cent and a quarter a pound under a process reported to the American Chemical Society recently.

The method is described by Frank E. E. Germann, director of research and professor of chemistry of the University of Colorado.

Despite its chimney origin this snowy refrigerant, he says, is a "fine, odorless product." He predicts that small cities will use it widely. In its present stage it is specially applicable for natural gas burning communities.

But it can be made from "combustion of liquid or solid fuels," as well. In fact the American chimney is potentially the greatest source for this kind of "ice."

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Troop 3, Miss Anna Mae James leader, had a very good meeting after school at the home of Mrs. Rex Wheatley on Monday, with about a score of girls present. Practicing the scout songs started the meeting off with enthusiasm and playing jigsaw puzzles gave it a happy ending. In between there was business of importance. Plans were made to celebrate the troop's birthday next Monday afternoon, with a party to which the troop mothers will be invited. The requirements for camperships were given out to the girls, who might take the outing at Camp Mary White this coming summer. And last a letter of thanks from the Anti-Tuberculosis Committee for the splendid assistance given by the troop in the sale of Christmas seals was received with satisfaction by the girls who had given themselves wholeheartedly to this good work.

Subject of the Bible lesson for Sunday, February 5th, is: "Spirit." Golden text is from the 4th chapter of John: "God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

One of the Bible citations is from 1 Corinthians, 2:14: "But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook states: "The calm, strong currents of true spirituality, the manifestations of which are health, purity, and self-immolation, must deepen human experience, until the best of material existence are seen to be a bald imposition, and sin, disease and death give everlasting place to the scientific demonstration of divine spirit and to God's spiritual, perfect man." CAMP GROUNDS IMPROVED

The Lincoln National Forest Service has an allotment for the complete equipping of two forest camp grounds with camp stoves, shelters, fireplaces, toilets, etc. The grounds to be improved are "Sitting Bull Falls" camp grounds in the Guadalupe mountains, about forty miles west of Carlsbad and the Cherokee Bill camp ground at the mouth of Cherokee Bill Canyon. The latter camp is across the ravine east of the Ruidoso Junction store. — Alamosado News.

AIR CORPS HERO

Private First Class, Specialist Second Class Arden M. Farley of the Ninety-fourth pursuit squadron at Selfridge field, who has been designated the outstanding hero of army air corps activities for the year 1932, upon the recommendation of a board of air corps officers. The act of valor which has won Private Farley the coveted award consisted in dragging a comrade from a burning plane after extricating himself.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

The Sunday school training class led by Dr. Atwood of Roswell was well attended, and over twenty took the examination. Another and more extensive study course for all departments is being planned as soon as the religious census of the town is completed by the churches.

Another union was added to the B. T. S. last Sunday night. This makes two new unions added recently, the latter being an adult union and the officers elected are: R. E. Bean, president; Mrs. John Simon, vice-president; Miss Ruby Jenkins, secretary; T. F. Wilson, Bible leader; W. A. Beard, corresponding secretary; John Simon, captain group No. 1; Mrs. W. A. Beard, captain group No. 2; J. P. Porch, treasurer; Mrs. J. P. Porch, choister and F. C. Rowland, pianist.

The general organization was also set up and officers elected by church are: H. C. Morehead, director; A. A. Malphurs, associate director; and Mrs. Dale Gleghorn, general secretary. The Baptist training service is on the up grade and there were over fifty present last Sunday night.

METHODISTS TO CARLSBAD

The fifth Sunday services were observed in all departments of the Methodist church at Carlsbad last Sunday, many attending from the local church. The Rev. A. C. Douglas preached the morning sermon and Mrs. I. C. Dixon, district secretary, presided at the missionary meeting in the afternoon. The Hope league put on the program for the League and the Roswell League won the attendance cup. There was a good attendance from all the Leagues. A basket lunch took place in the basement at noon.

In addition to the Rev. Douglas and family, there were present from here Mr. and Mrs. Reed Brainard and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Thompson and family, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Dixon and over a score of young people, whose names could not be secured.

SPECIAL ELECTION ON PRO REPEAL CAN BE HELD FOR $7,500

A special election can be held on the repeal question at a cost of less than $7,500, said repealers at Santa Fe Monday, if the election code is amended or a special election law passed to limit the expenses.

The average state election costs $100,000. The biggest item is $42,000 for registration. According to existing law, the registration lists used at the last general election are to be used as a special election, so that expenses be eliminated. (Purging is permitted by the court).

A special election will not require all of the machinery needed at a general election, say its advocates. They believe two judges will be sufficient in each precinct; that clerks and counting judges will not be necessary as there will be only the "Yeas," and "Nays" to be added up instead of the votes for many candidates on as many as six tickets. This would reduce election officials' payroll to $4,800 or less.

It is believed the plan can be put into effect either by amendment to the election code or a new law intended to cover elections on amendment.

Two amendments were submitted in 1930. The printing of the ballots, 200,000 of them plus 40,000 samples, cost $760. For only one proposal, this cost, it is said, could be cut in half.

For the 1930 general election the poll books, furnished by the secretary of state, cost $560.61. For a special election, the form of the books would be simplified and the expense reduced. Advertising was the biggest cost in connection with the last election, incurred by the secretary's office. The bill was $1,625, for the two proposals. Obviously for a single proposal, it would be smaller.

Transportation charges, it is said would not amount to more than $200 or $300.

PORTALES FARMERS HOLD BARTERING

Roosevelt county farmers held a bartering bazaar at Portales over the week end and everything from pigs to peanuts changed hands.

Little cash was involved. Most of the farmers traded something of which they had a surplus for other products they needed. There were more than 100 trucks in a vacant lot off the town square where the bartering was conducted. The farmers planned to come back next week.

Several thousand hogs are being fed in the Portales region by merchants and other persons who have taken them in on accounts. The price of grain is so low the merchants believe they can dispose of the fed hogs at a profit.

LICENSE PLATE BILL UP TO THE GOVERNOR

SANTA FE — The senate bill authorizing manufacture of license plates and highway signs at the state penitentiary Saturday was well on its way toward becoming a law.

The bill was passed by the lower house Saturday morning by a vote of 35-0, without any discussion, and went to the governor for final action.

Passage of this bill and hearing on labor legislation occupied the morning session.

HEALTH COLUMN

Conducted by Dr. J. R. Earp, Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health.

THE OPEN WINDOW

The open window admits cold air, except on very hot days. Cold air tends to fall and hot air to rise. If the window is open at the bottom this cold air falls rapidly to the floor. The air in the upper part of the room remains warm and stagnant while the air on the floor gets too cold. The people in the room have hot heads and cold feet. This is a most unhealthy combination and makes them very susceptible to colds in the head.

When the window is open at the top the cold air comes in near the ceiling and, unless it is thrown straight down by a window shade, it must filter slowly down through the warm air of the room. In this way the fresh air itself gets warmed and there are no cold feet. All the air in the room is kept in gentle motion and so there is no staleness and stuffiness.

If the window cannot be opened at the top a deflector should be used that will throw the current of air upwards. In this way an effect can be obtained somewhat similar to that of a window open at the top.

When buying or renting a house notice whether the windows have been made to open at the top. Try to avoid houses that have windows which open only at the bottom. If you must have shades, either to keep out the glare or to keep up with the Jones', then hang your shades a few inches below the top of the window so that the fresh air can pass over the top of them. Next thing you know the Jones' will be moving their shades down a few inches to keep up with you.

Here's gas to excite motors. It makes them quick on the trigger... fast on the move. Choking is hardly required for a quick, snappy start and a take-off like a quail on the wing.

Even old motors... wheezy, snorting, complaining motors... cut capers you just can't believe. If you doubt it, just try it. It's like rich, racing blood injected into old veins.

This gasoline is so new... so "different"... so quick, fast, powerful, and economical, it's hard to give it a name. Perhaps YOU can. When you FEEL your motor's response, it may come to you like a flash.

Ask at any Conoco station for the new bronze-colored, high-test gasoline—and an entry blank. Help name it and describe it. You may win a part of $10,000.00. You are SURE to win a grand, new thrill, and that is worth a heap. Make the test TODAY.

Crossed Wires

LILLIAN JAFFREYS came out of the gates which gave entrance to the grounds surrounding her father's country house and waved her hand at Tom Collingwood as he went by in his liver. Lillian was dressed as became the daughter of a "magnate." She smiled a bewitching, careless smile at Tom as she waved her little hand in his direction; one would have thought her the most carefree young beauty in all the world. But her whole expression changed when the liver had passed. A perplexed look wrinkled her brow and her eyes took on a pensive gaze. The young man to whom she had waved had answered her greeting with a polite, but formal bow and had looked at her in a manner which was neither one of reproach nor of indifference, but a compound of the two. And withal there had been something like defiance in his look and manner. For there was no denying that Lillian had given every encouragement to Tom—and had then thrown him over. Yes, Lillian had done all this and now she was sorry for it. She tried to tell herself that there was no use crying over spilt milk; but even that venerable saying did not seem to fill the bill. Airbrake's Inventor

The airbrake was invented by George Westinghouse, Jr., in 1869. This was known as the straight airbrake. Objections to this led him to invent in 1873 the automatic airbrake. In 1887 he invented the quick-action triple-valve brake, and in 1897 he placed on the market the high-speed brake.

"Oblates"

An oblate in the Roman Catholic church is one who, not being a professed monk or friar, has either in youth been offered to God and fulfilled that offering or in adult years has dedicated himself to the service of God in holy religion. There are oblates of many orders. Those of St. Francis are perhaps the best known.

Complying With the Law at Berea, Ohio

It applies equally to horses, mules, dogs, cats, monkeys, or any other animal that can be driven. Miss Marlon Boehn is pictured here as she started on a late afternoon ride equipped in compliance with the latest edict of the town's solons.

Nowadays, "if a man makes a better mouse trap," (even though he live in the midst of a wilderness, etc.), he will put on a big national advertising campaign, and his sales manager will dispatch high-pressure salesmen into their respective territories, and the salesmen will work themselves all up into a lather offering little traps, medium sized traps and large traps, offering plain traps, gold plated traps and diamond-studded traps, offering cash terms and trade-in terms and dollar down terms and any old terms you can mention—and still a large part of the prospective buyers will decide to get along without a mouse trap for another year or will say that they prefer a cat.—Detroit News.

Alum Use Important

Alum finds an important place in commerce, varying from use in calico manufacture to treatment of drinking water. It is, chemically, one of two sulphates, either a sulphate of potassium or a sulphate of aluminum. It is used in dyeing and tanning, the former use, of course, accounting for its part in calico printing. In food manufacture, it is sometimes used in bread to whiten the bread and in milk to aid in the separation of butter. Cloudy drinking water is treated with small quantities to clear it up. Because of the extremely astringent nature of alum, however, its use in food and water is limited to very small quantities.
