Small Town Spending Survey Source

Consumers often shun small town merchants and do their shopping "out of town." Why?

A consumer survey can provide the answers, says Dr. Don Stebbins a community development specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

"Such a survey can determine why consumers shop out of town and what changes are needed to increase their local spending," Stebbins points out. "I'm convinced that the best sources of information about spending decisions are the consumers who are making these decisions."

Two types of consumer surveys have been used by Extension Service community development specialists in recent years -- mail questionnaires and consumer panels.

The mail questionnaire goes to a large number of residents and provides a statistical analysis of consumer spending and decision-making.

On the other hand, a consumer panel involves about 10 people and represents a specific Rick Copp, vo-ag teacher at Lazbuddie, reported Tuesday morning on results of the Lazbuddie FFA students who exhibited in the Houston Livestock Show last week.

Scott Mitchell placed 12th with a light weight Berkshire and Tim Lust was 13th with a light weight short horn steer and seventh with an Angus heifer.

Casey Bradshaw participated in the calf scramble Saturday night and caught a heifer calf.

segment of the community, notes Stebbins. For example, panels of long-term residents, newcomers, teenagers and retirees are frequently selected. Members of each panel are interviewed together and have an opportunity to explain their shopping preferences and experiences.

"Both survey procedures offer valuable information to the business community," says the specialist.

"Given the intense competition in retailing, businesses have to constantly sharpen their management and marketing skills. Either survey can help identify weaknesses and help astute business operators do a better job."

Residents in small Texas towns consistently express a strong loyalty for their community and its retail merchants, notes the specialist. Local businesses can use this loyalty as a foundation to build upon as they make changes to keep consumer dollars at home.

"In the long run, however, loyalty alone won't work," Stebbins points out. "Local businesses have to beat their competition and do a better job of satisfying customers. That is why a consumer opinion survey can be so important."

Consumers are usually realistic about what they expect from small town retailers, says the specialist. For example, they know that large city malls can offer a broader selection of products and that large volume retailers can offer lower prices.

Small town merchants have an advantage in offering superior service. "It's sometimes surprising that many retailers think the only way to compete is Locally, Jerry Hicks was the unqualified favorite for Bailey County Sheriff. Hicks received 869 votes to Ray Ruthardt's 317 votes.

The only other contested race ended in a run-off. On April 12, Bailey County Commissioner R. L. Scott, Precinct I, will face H. E. Newsom in a runoff election.

Scott received 209 votes. Newsom had 119 votes and candidate James Meason received 91 votes.

On the Republican side of the ballot, for State Senator, District 31, Teel Bivins received 127 votes to 73 for his opponent, Ron Slover.

BAILEY COUNTY PROSPERITY SHOWN IN PRODUCE SALE

The true prosperity of Bailey County is shown by the sales of produce for the month. The produce of the county is increasing each week, so reports our produce men. The prices on all produce for the month have been steady. The egg market and price has been the most unsteady of all.

According to a check-up there has been 12,000 to 15,000 pounds of poultry, 1,050 cases of eggs, $2,000 worth of cream, 1,100 pounds of hides and over $300 worth of furs, consisting of wolves, badger, etc., brought here the past month.

As the result of these products business has been good among the different business houses. Our progressive people are securing better dairy herds, of registered type, also better and more highly pedigreed flocks of poultry.

ONE THIRD TEXAS LAND
NOW PROTECTED AGAINST SOIL AND WATER EROSION
Texas' fight for soil and water conservation, started some 225 years ago, has accomplished one-third of its objective, according to the annual report of M.R. Bentley, agricultural engineer of the Texas A&M College Extension service.

The figures are based on a survey made by county agriculture agents in November, 1937, Bentley said. The survey revealed that 20,389,482 acres of crop land are in need of protection against soil and water loss, while protection measures have been taken on 10,587,744 acres.

The work went forward at a steady rate in 1937, the report reveals. During the past year, 890,781 acres of crop land were terraced, 2,166,898 acres of crop land contoured but not terraced, and 232,632 acres of pasture land were terraced, contour listed, or protected in a similar manner.

HATS OFF...GOOD KIDS

"Why do the bad kids get all the publicity? They probably represent less than one percent of all the kids in this country."

We might offer several possible answers to this provocative and often made remark. But we think it would be more fruitful to give some publicity to the good kids instead.

So we are tipping our editorial hat to a bunch of very good kids--GIRL SCOUTS, who are celebrating the 56th birthday of their organization this week.

There's nothing square about these girls. They're just as groovy and "with it" as the kids who are making a lot more noise with a lot less to shout about.

They are thoroughly acquainted with the latest rock and folk rock. On non-Scout occasions, they look pretty sharp in mod dress or a carnaby type cap.

But instead of trying to tear this country apart, they're doing their darndest to help build it up. They are finding ways to serve their communities. They are making friends in other countries, and thereby helping to improve our national image abroad. They are earnestly trying to develop their best potential because they know our future depends on them.

There are lots of good kids in this country. More than three million of them are Girl Scouts.

So Happy Girl Scouts Week, kids. Enjoy your fifty-sixth birthday, too.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Armstrong, Grant

MR. AND MRS. KEVIN TODD GRANT
[nee Renee Michele Armstrong]

Miss Renee Armstrong became the bride of Kevin Todd Grant in a candlelight ceremony recently in the First Baptist Church of Ft. Sumner, N.M. The Rev. Bill Sessom read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Armstrong of Ft. Sumner, N.M. and Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Grant, Jr. of Muleshoe.

The church was decorated in a romantic setting beginning with each window being lit by candles in a white wrought iron candelabra embedded in juniper, blue spruce and fir evergreen branches.

Evergreen trees accented with small white lights filled the front of the church. A white wrought iron heart shaped arch, two heart and two angle candelabras provided the setting for the ceremony. A wrought iron unity candle stand was also decorated in evergreen branches. A Bible given to the bride at birth opened to Ruth was on the unity candle stand emphasizing the presence of God in this unity.

The candelabras were built by the bride's father and grandfather. The evergreen decorations were from the bride's grandparents' and great grandparents' ranch.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's dress was fashioned by the bride and her mother. The satin, Chantilly lace, and fantasia gown had a Queen Ann neckline and V-insert tapered sleeves with lace cuffs.

The princess-style top with its lowered three point basque waist was detailed with beaded lace on each side. Rows of pearl and bell beads were chevroned down the center front. Seven rows of pearl and bell beads were draped across the tulle insert in the back.

The draped satin pickup skirt allowed the beaded lace undershirt to show. The petal sweep train accented with fantasia ruffles and beaded lace fell from the lowered bow adorned waist.

Her floor length tulle veil trimmed with iridescent lace and beads was attached to a tear drop hat. Blue and white roses and white stephanotis with beaded streamers composed the bride's bouquet on a fur muff.

Organist, Mrs. John Walker of Roswell, N.M., accompanied soloist, John Walker also of Roswell, and Christy Walker, soloist, Wayland Baptist University at Plainview, as they sang "Someone", "Nothing's Gonna Change My Love for You", "Each for the Other", and "Love's Grown Deep".

Miss Tanya Armstrong, sister of the bride, of Ft. Sumner, N.M. served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Dana Splawn, Texas Tech, Lubbock, and Laurey Grant, sister of the groom, also of Texas Tech.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore identical dresses featuring a turquoise lame' fitted top with pleated sleeves and a lowered waist attached to a light blue embossed satin bubble skirt. Below the bubble skirt was a ruffle that swept the floor in the back. Accenting the dresses were beaded crochet collars that were made by the bride's grandmother.

They wore blue silk flowers and bead streamers in their hair and the same design recreated on the fans that were carried.

Johnyne Barraclough of Santa Fe, N.M. served as flower girl. She wore a dress that had turquoise lame' top and embossed satin ruffled tiered skirt. She also had a crochet collar.

Kelly Haynes of Ft. Sumner and Clay Grant, brother of the groom, of Muleshoe, served as candlelighters. Ms. Haynes wore a dress identical to that of the flower girl, and Clay Grant wore a grey tuxedo and grey cummerbund and tie.

Scott Saylor of Muleshoe served as best man. Groomsman were Joe Neel of Texas Tech, Ronnie Angeley of Muleshoe, and Lynden Armstrong, brother of the bride, of Ft. Sumner. Nolan Armstrong, cousin of the bride, of Tularosa, N.M. was ring bearer.

The ring bearer wore a light grey tuxedo and turquoise lame' cummerbund and tie and the others wore light blue cummerbunds and ties.

The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo with a turquoise lame' cummerbund and tie. His cummerbund and tie were made for him by the bride.

Ushers were Charles Emig from Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, and Rickie Dale of Muleshoe.

The guest book table was covered with a hand crochet table cloth which was a gift to the bride and groom from the bride's grandmother. The floral arrangement on this table was in an antique bowl that was on the bride's great, great, great grandmother's wedding table.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the First Baptist Church of Ft. Sumner fellowship hall. Hostesses for the reception were the bride's and groom's parents and Cristi Carnell of Ft. Sumner, registered the guests.

Indirect lighting covered with evergreen branches and an arched candelabra provided the mood for the reception. The color scheme of blue shades and greys dominated the reception. The wedding cake top was seven satellite heart-shaped cakes of various sizes on different height crystal piers surrounding a lighted fountain. The cake top was a gazebo with a loving couple sitting on a park bench. Love birds, wedding bells, a garden fence, roses, lilies, and candles accented the cakes.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Business in 1988 may be slowed a bit but the attitude of the Federal Reserve Board, and declining interest rates, makes a recession less likely than was thought even a month ago.

Meanwhile, earnings reports have been good, and consumer spending has help up despite the October stock market plunge.

The stock market itself is still considered to be a bear by most of the pros. But most of them hedge their forecasts, and many are still bullish long-term.

Most also agree there are still good bargains in stocks, some of which are still near their October lows.

Inflation has recently receded as a threat. Yet looking at long-term prospects, it's hard to see how some increase in inflation next year and thereafter can be avoided.

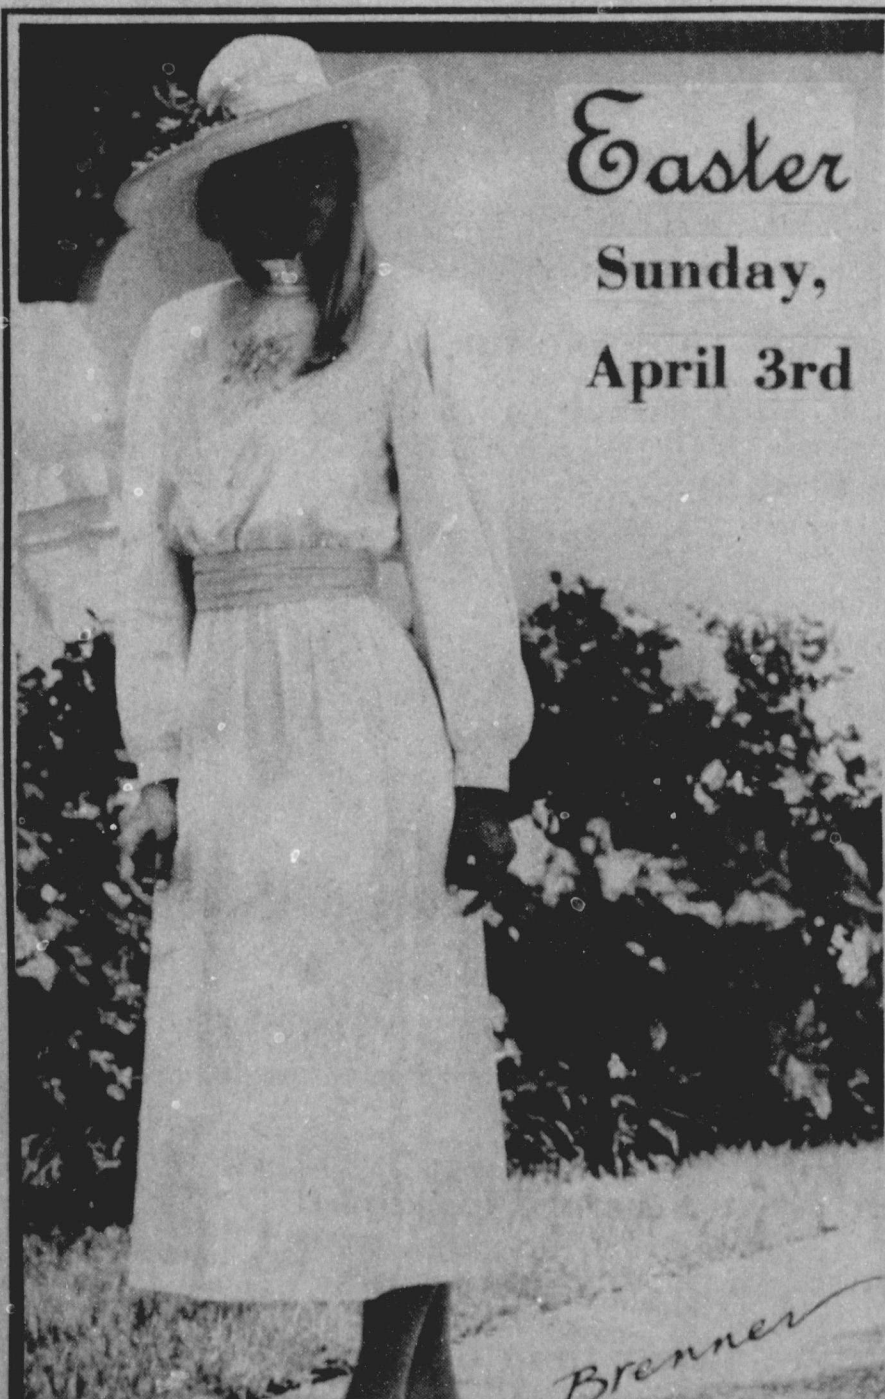

NOTES ... COMMENTS

Baseball fans are beginning to stir.

Nervous tension is an expensive trait.

Experts, like ordinary people, seldom agree.

Nothing can be gained listening to rumors.

Miss Goodwin, Shafer United In Marriage

MRS. TERRY LEE SHAFER
[nee Susan Lynn Goodwin]

Miss Susan Lynn Goodwin became the bride of Terry Lee Shafer at 12 noon Saturday, Feb. 27 in the First United Methodist Church of Huntsville, Alabama. The Rev. John Holloway of Huntsville and the Rev. Bradley Henderson of Five Point, Alabama officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William Lee Goodwin of Huntsville, Alabama and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Shafer of Hartselle, Alabama, formerly of Muleshoe.

Traditional wedding music was provided by Kenneth Turvey, organist, and Gaines Gravlee and Jane Holloway, soloists.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a designer gown fashioned of ivory slipper satin and Alencon lace, featuring a high lace neckline and sheer yoke which precluded a richly beaded Alencon lace bodice. Long satin and beaded lace sleeves ended in soft scallops over the wrist. The full satin skirt fell from a basque waist and was adorned with richly beaded Alencon lace motifs.

The hemline and cathedral train were traced with a narrow border of Alencon lace. Her heirloom veil of French silk illusion was edged with motifs of Alencon lace and fell from a pearl and sequin encrusted lace Juliet cap.

Mrs. Floyd Wilson Smith, Jr. of Birmingham, Alabama, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Maid of honor was Miss Nancy Bryant and bridesmaids were Mrs. Albert Del Greco, Miss Willa Elise Goodson, Miss Donna Guckian, Mrs. Michael Cahalan, Mrs. Martin Eric Steinberger, Miss Lee Anne Parker and Miss Lou Ann Sides. They wore long satin and velvet dresses and carried alban lilies.

Capt. Larry David Shafer of Montgomery, Alabama, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Gregory Sisk of Huntsville, Jeffrey Clark of Ft. Worth, Jeffrey Johnson and Wayne Westerhouse of Huntsville, Thomas Marine of Hattiesburg, Miss., Murrey DeGraffenreid of Decatur, Alabama, Clifford Jones of Madison, Alabama and Floyd Wilson Smith, Jr. of Birmingham.

Scott Shafer, son of Capt. Shafer served as ring bearer. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Huntsville Country Club.

Guests were welcomed to the ballroom with music by "A Touch of Class" string quartet. A chef's hand-carved chocolate violin cake and bow that was an unusual gift to the bride from Nashville friends was featured at the groom's table.

On Friday evening, Joyce and Jim Shafer and the groom's brother, Capt. Larry Shafer and his wife, Cassie, gave the after rehearsal dinner at the Redstone Arsenal Officers Club. Approximately 60 wedding party members and out-of-town guests attended.

Decoration features were an arrangement for the head table of ranunculus, heather, variegated ivy and stock and smaller versions throughout the room on each of the round tables. Terry presented his groomsmen with gifts after dinner.

Earlier that day, a bridesmaids' luncheon was held at the Heritage Club on Washington Square. Hostesses were Boots Clower, great aunt of the bride, from Daytona Beach, Fla.; Shirley McDonald, aunt of the bride, and Jane McDonald, Caroline McDonald and Leah McDonald of Huntsville.

At that time, the bride presented her bridesmaids with silver engraved picture frames.

Special guests were her grandmothers, Nahoma McDonald, who was celebrating her 86th birthday, and Aline McLe-more; her great grandmother, Etta Lee; the groom's grandmother, Margaret Atchison of Muleshoe; and the mothers of the bridal couple, also Mrs. Larry Shafer, sister-in-law of Belgium.

Other pre-nuptial festivities included a Christmas ornament party hosted by Mrs. Claire Walters of Huntsville, a chocolate party hosted by Mrs. Alice Bentley, aunt of the bride and other friends and relatives of Huntsville.

On February 14, the couple was honored with a tea given at the home of Mrs. Richard DeKalb of Hartsville.

Following a wedding trip to Lake Louise, Canada and the Banff area, the couple will be at home in Nashville, Tenn.

Miss Goodwin is a 1981 graduate of Huntsville High School. She graduated from Auburn University in 1985, with a bachelor's degree in journalism.

Shafer graduated from Muleshoe High School in 1979, and from the University of Texas in 1983, with a bachelor's degree in psychology and in 1985, with a master's degree in counseling psychology. He is employed by Vanderbilt Child and Adolescent Psychiatric Hospital as a therapist.

MAKING FAMILY LIFE MORE FUN

Computer Game's A Hit With Baseball Buffs

You: an armchair athlete? Someone who's often felt you could do a better job at managing your favorite baseball team than the professionals? Here's a chance to test your true abilities.

A new computer game has scored a hit with baseball buffs across the nation. Now available is the second version of the top-selling, award-winning home computer game, Micro League Baseball. The only game endorsed by Major League Baseball and the Players Association, Micro League Baseball (MLB) is an exciting baseball simulation that uses real players and their statistics, and puts the control of managing the team in the hands of the players.

What has made MLB such a hit (over 100,000 copies sold), is all the features that make it like real baseball. Injuries, arguments with the umpire, rain delays, pinch hitters, pitchers in the bullpen, stadium dimensions, and player ratings, to name a few—all affect the outcome of the game. The detailed computer graphics make players feel like they're at a real ballpark. There's also a quick play option where the computer plays the whole game in just one minute and shows a full box score.

Many family members, of all age groups, find that playing in leagues—with or against each other—can be a great way to spend time together. One man in Illinois says his daughters play MLB so much that he can't play unless he challenges them to a game or waits until they go to bed!

MLB made its debut in 1984, when the World Series opener between the Tigers and the Padres was simulated on computer before the game was actually played. The Tigers' 3-1 victory on computer was strikingly similar to the real 3-2 Tiger win the next day.

Today, "Micro Leagues" can be found all over the country. People pit teams from the past or present against one another, replay classic match-ups, or even put together their "dream teams" using the General Manager/Owner's disk. There's even an MLB newsletter and a 1-800-PLAYBAL hotline for information. The game allows for play on many levels—from the person who just enjoys the challenge of managing a favorite team to the die-hard fan who recreates entire seasons down to the last detail.

Doing favors for people is habit forming, in both directions.

People who hurry though this life meet death that much earlier.

Selfishness will break up any partnership.

It's always easy to find an excuse for delaying hard work.

Helicopter Film

At Tuesday Meet

It was a video for members of the Muleshoe Rotary Club Tuesday, when Paul Poyner was in charge of the program for the day. Howard Watson presented a film on "The Third Wave of Technology." The film concerned the Tiltrotor helicopter, the newest helicopter which can be converted from a helicopter to a plane in just 15 seconds, in mid-air. The tiltrotor, with top speeds of plus 340mph, is said to be very adaptable for the military. Watson said the film was owned by his brother, Don, of Canyon, and was produced by Bell Helicopter. In Rotary business, Robert Lepard again asked for Rotary volunteers to help with upcoming track meets -- for the Muleshoe High School meet on Saturday, March 19; and again on Saturday, March 26, for the junior high school meet. Bill Liles gave the combination to Rotarians to the storage building where the Rotary is accumulating newspapers and aluminum cans. Mike Hahn's pin was drawn for the Polio Plus, but he failed to draw the right number to win the six piece set of screwdrivers, donated by Poyner's Otasco Store.

Heart Group Gives Report On Research

"Volunteer members of the American Heart Association do seek results," says Janie Moynihan. "Their work is efficient, progressive, serious. A single goal inspires them: to prevent heart disease, the number one killer in Texas. To AHA volunteers, this goal is not insurmountable, and the results of their work are evidenced in many ways.

"The presence of the American Heart Association in most Texas communities continued to be its greatest asset," she continued. "Volunteer members raised over $7.5 million in campaign contributions and nearly $1.9 million in bequests during the 1986-87 fiscal year.

"Most fundraising campaigns occurred during the month of February, which is known as 'Heart Month.'"

"At the local level, volunteers from the Bailey County Division held their annual radio auction on February 20. Local businesses and individuals donated a total of 157 items for auction. The donations included baked goods, services, merchandise, and cash. The total amount raised by $3,264.05."

Mrs. Moynihan continued, just as contributions are received from virtually every segment of our population, so also are AHA programs and services offered to Texans.

TFU Boosts Tax Repeal For Diesel

A new requirement in the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act requires agriculture producers to pay the diesel fuel tax (of 15.1 cents per gal.) up front at the time of purchase, effective April 1, 1988, but the farmer or rancher may then apply for a tax credit and get the money back.

Under current law a farmer or rancher is exempt from paying taxes on the purchase of wholesale diesel used strictly for on-farm and off-highway purposes.

The delegates at the 84th annual State Convention of Texas Farmers Union in Fort Worth, January 28-30, 1988, passed a special order of business requesting Congress to repeal the change and reinstate the previous provisions exempting on-farm and off-highway use of diesel fuel from tax collection.

Given the amount of diesel fuel that many farmers use in the planting, care and harvesting of crops each year, then to add the time-consuming burden of applying for a refund at a later date, creates a major cash flow problem for the American farmer. In many cases of family-sized farm operations which are on the brink of cash flow difficulties-this increased tax burden could well be the "last straw" which forces them out of business.

The TFU convention delegates felt that if the full impact of this change had been known, it would not have been enacted. Rep. Jim Jantz, D-IN, has introduced House Resolution 3850 to maintain the standard exemption for diesel used on-farm.

FANCY THAT!

Making house calls to hospitals. That's what trucks full of health care systems are doing traveling down many American roads these days. The tractor-trailers carry a diagnostic imaging system that offers an advanced way of taking pictures of the inner-most workings of the human body. The system isn't to be used in hospitals however. It's used by hospitals.

Smaller hospitals and hospitals in out-of-the-way places around the country that could not ordinarily afford such advanced equipment on their own are taking advantage of it none-the-less through these mobile diagnostic imaging vans.

In Area Concert

Two-time Country Music Association's Male Vocalist of the Year, George Strait, and recent grammy winner K. T. Oslin, will be in concert at Eastern

New Mexico University's Greyhound Arena Sunday, March 20, at 7:30 p.m. Seating for the concert will be on a reserved basis. All tickets are $15.

Strait, a native Texan and former cattle rancher, was named Billboard Magazine's Top Overall Artist in 1987.

His list of musical accomplishments include eleven albums and hit singles such as "The Chair," "Amarillo by Morning," "Foolhearted Memory," and "Marina Del Rey." His current album, "If you Ain't Lovin' You Ain't Livin'," includes the hit single, "Famous Last Words of a Fool."

The opening act for Strait is long-time songwriter K. T. Oslin. Oslin co-wrote her current album "80's Ladies" and earned three Grammy nominations this year.

Girl Scouts

One of the best organizations for youngsters in America is scouting—Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

On March 12, in 1912, Daisy Gordon and ten other young girls met in an unused stable of Daisy's aunt, Mrs. Juliette Low. That was in Savannah, Georgia, where they founded the first patrol of Girl Guides in the United States.

Mrs. Low had married an Englishman and they lived in London and Savannah. She knew sir Robert Baden-Powell, the founder of the Boy Scouts.

She obtained his help for the Girl Guides—which became the Girl Scouts.

The headquarters of the Girl Scouts was moved to Washington in 1915, after other groups began forming in other cities.

Later it was moved to New York and in the span of only a few decades, there had grown up in this country a national Girl Scout organization with members numbered in the millions.

Scouting is one of our noble youth organizations, teaching and stressing good deeds, helping others, courtesy, learning, and cleanness in word and deed.
