WILD WOOLY DAYS OF 1876 DEPICTED AT THE WORLD'S FAIR

CHICAGO, Illinois - Indian scout, stage coach driver and mule skinner out of Deadwood, S. D., in the wild, wild days of 1876. Witness of the shooting of Wild Bill Hickok, and acquaintance of such renowned characters as Bat Masterson, Calamity Jane, Poker Alice and Potato Hill John, Rough Rider with Roosevelt and showman for many years with Buffalo Bill. . . these and a lot of other things are old Jim Moore.

You may find old Jim almost any day lounging around the "Days of '49," wild west mining camp at A Century of Progress—the Chicago World's Fair. There are many bewhiskered old veterans at the '49 camp, but Jim's growth is the most luxuriant of all. He wears a broad brimmed felt hat in the best tradition of the west, and a red flannel shirt. Jim is a wild west character, and he looks the part.

Jim can tell you stories by the hour of the old days in the west, and they all have the ring of authenticity. He can tell you how he ran away from his Pennsylvania home and went west in 1875 eventually reaching Deadwood. There he saw Jack McCall kill Wild Bill Hickok and he attended Hickok's funeral. So far as is known only one other man now alive saw Hickok killed.

Jim arrived at the scene of the Custer massacre a day after it occurred. He did a lot of other things in those days, for events came fast and furious, and he finally went with Buffalo Bill in his wild west show, besides riding with Roosevelt in Cuba.

He saw all the famous old gun fighters, but the fastest man with a gun he has ever seen is none other than Texas Jack Sullivan. Texas Jack is giving gun demonstrations in the '49 camp this summer.

ROSSELL SUICIDE

J. P. Binnion, age 54, Roswell resident shot and killed his wife Friday afternoon and then turned the gun on himself with a fatal shot above the temple, according to word from Roswell. Mrs. F. G. Duckett, a daughter was at the home of her parents and witnessed the tragedy. Two bullets entered the body of Mrs. Binnion just above the heart. Binnion had recently returned from San Saba, Texas, where he visited two sisters.

No motive was ascribed for the act of Binnion. About fifteen years ago he was struck in the head by lightning and had been in poor health since the incident.

THE FAMILY NEXT DOOR

EDDY HEALTH NEWS

The health department and the city and county schools are stressing certain subjects each month as health education programs. We hope to carry all these subjects through the entire school year, but each month will have a certain subject that will be given special attention. For September we have cleanliness and immunization.

"Cleanliness is the heart and soul of sanitation. We are inclined to place it even before godliness, for cleanliness of body, cleanliness of mind and soul, and cleanliness of our surroundings are essential to a full appreciation of the spiritual virtues. Our conception of cleanliness has greatly changed with our advance in the knowledge of the kinds of dirt, the degrees of dirtiness and the nature of these dangers. We can no longer be satisfied with physical or aesthetic cleanliness, but must insist upon biological cleanliness. A tetanus spore upon the shining blade of a surgeon's knife makes that instrument filthy, whereas many such spores on the skin of a chicken may be harmless when ingested. We cannot see the infection upon the common drinking cup, upon the roller towel, upon the point of a pencil that has just been moistened with saliva, or in water, milk, or food, although we well know the danger of such invisible "dirt" that these objects may harbor.

"It requires a bacteriologist to tell the difference between clean dirt and dirty dirt. We lack a sixth sense, or microscopic eye, to see and distinguish the harmful germs. We, therefore, must practice scrupulous cleanliness and educate the people to the biological meaning of this term. Long experience has taught the lesson that cleanliness offers a protection against disease; that clean surroundings are apt to be free of infection; and that clean food is apt to be safe food.

"Cleanliness of person and environment results in the diminution of the crop of many disease producing germs. Cleanliness of the type that approaches asepsis would prevent sickness and save lives through diminishing the risk of such infections. Hill believes that the mildness of modern infectious diseases is due to the lessened virulence, smaller stock and reduced distribution of disease producing germs formerly bred in hospitals and in wounds promiscuously. Every one should, therefore strive for personal and communal cleanliness.

At one time the theory of the filth disease reached the dignity of a special name. Typhoid fever was long regarded as the type of a filth disease, and, while we are now dropping that term, we should not forget that typhoid fever is

NEW MEXICO MOTOR PATROL INCREASES THE STATE REVENUE

SANTA FE (Special) — New Mexico's new highway patrol, composed of ten members, is making the highways unsafe for the violator of laws pertaining to motor traffic.

During the first three weeks the patrol operated, it issued warnings to nearly 2,500 motorists who were violating various of the laws, and made 99 arrests.

Much misinformation has been spread by the proponents of the 20 mill limitation concerning the patrol. They have claimed there are 20 members, whereas there are ten. They have claimed their duties are to see that motorists have tail lights.

That is one of their duties, since many accidents have occurred because some thoughtless motorist was driving without a tail light, but the real purpose of the patrol is to enforce the laws governing motor common carriers, to enforce the gasoline tax law to prevent bootlegging of gasoline and to enforce the license plate law.

During the first three weeks of operation, on which accurate figures are available, the patrol was responsible for collection of $1,800 in license fees, $316 in fines, $1,200 in motor bus and truck permits and $162 in gasoline taxes. They were directly responsible for these amounts and were indirectly responsible for considerable more, since the corporation commission which is charged with enforcing the motor truck and bus laws, gives the patrol credit for doubling their business, and the other departments report considerable increase in business.

HEALTH COLUMN

Conducted by Dr. J. R. Earp, Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health.

SECRET SICKNESS

When the liquor traffic was made illegal and driven into hiding it became a far greater menace. So it is with disease. Under the cloak of secrecy, infection spreads from person to person and its ravages invade the stricken individual unchecked by medical care. In countries where it is still almost a crime to have tuberculosis the attack rate remains high and the death rate is appalling. In this country we have learned to treat the consumptive with sympathy and hope and the disease is being rapidly brought under control.

But the venereal disease, syphilis and gonorrhea, still flourish in the dark. If they could be fought in the open they would be beaten more rapidly than tuberculosis for our methods both of prevention and cure are more successful in these diseases.

The New Mexico Social Hygiene Association exists to promote a social environment in which secret disease cannot find a place. Wholesome family life built on a foundation of sound ideals and accurate knowledge is the best insurance against the very prevalent and dangerous diseases of sex. For particulars of the New Mexico Social Hygiene Association address the secretary, Mr. Donald MacKay, Department of Education, the Capitol, Santa Fe. The association desires your aid at the present time so that it may have a part in the projected health survey of New Mexico. It would be a tragedy if the most important of the hidden diseases in this state should remain in hiding while the survey is being made.

ICKES' RIGHT HAND

Col. Henry M. Walte, who was selected by Secretary of Interior Ickes as deputy public works administrator, assumes much of the responsibility for properly administering the government's $3,300,000,000 construction program. Although Ickes holds the title of public works administrator, Mr. Walte's duties parallel those of Gen. Hugh S. Johnson in the administration of the industrial recovery law. Sixty-four years old, Walte first came into prominence as city manager of Dayton, Ohio, back in 1914.

FARM PRICES STILL TOO LOW

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Farmers apparently are getting more money out of increased retail food costs, but the agricultural adjustment administration Friday listed his average prices still below the desired parity with industry.

Dr. Fred C. Howe, consumer's counsel for the administration, reported a 47 per cent increase in farm prices between February 15 and August 15. His analysis said prices on things the farmer buys advanced 11 per cent in the same period.

Taking the 1909-14 period as 100, Howe said the increase put the August 15 index of farm prices at 72 as against 112 for what the farmer purchases.

From a study of 41 municipalities, Howe listed variations in retail prices paid for the same foods. He said consumers "might well ask their distributors why they must pay more than consumers pay elsewhere for these essentials."

When two can live as cheaply as one

EIGHT CYLINDERS WILL BE AS ECONOMICAL AS SIX

There's no law against believing that "two can live as cheaply as one." Neither is there any law against thinking that eight cylinders can be as economical as six. Use your own judgment—but if you want the most economical car, just ask a few people who own the new Chevrolet Six. Their cost figures will be a revelation, particularly if you are struggling to support a few extra cylinders for the cost of six. You can save with a Chevrolet, and if you want to find out why, go straight to your nearest dealer. Look at the car and drive it yourself. The Chevrolet valve-in-head 6-cylinder engine works wonders with a gallon of gas, and it doesn't burden your pocketbook with extra cylinders, extra rings and pistons, or extra valves. Chevrolet has earned the reputation of being the world's most economical car, but after all, it was Chevrolet's owners who first spread the good word.

NEW MEXICO MOTOR PATROL INCREASES THE STATE REVENUE

SANTA FE (Special) — New Mexico's new highway patrol, composed of ten members, is making the highways unsafe for the violator of laws pertaining to motor traffic.

During the first three weeks the patrol operated, it issued warnings to nearly 2,500 motorists who were violating various of the laws, and made 99 arrests.

Much misinformation has been spread by the proponents of the 20 mill limitation concerning the patrol. They have claimed there are 20 members, whereas there are ten. They have claimed their duties are to see that motorists have tail lights.

That is one of their duties, since many accidents have occurred because some thoughtless motorist was driving without a tail light, but the real purpose of the patrol is to enforce the laws governing motor common carriers, to enforce the gasoline tax law to prevent bootlegging of gasoline and to enforce the license plate law.

During the first three weeks of operation, on which accurate figures are available, the patrol was responsible for collection of $1,800 in license fees, $316 in fines, $1,200 in motor bus and truck permits and $162 in gasoline taxes. They were directly responsible for these amounts and were indirectly responsible for considerable more, since the corporation commission which is charged with enforcing the motor truck and bus laws, gives the patrol credit for doubling their business, and the other departments report considerable increase in business.

HEALTH COLUMN

Conducted by Dr. J. R. Earp, Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health.

SECRET SICKNESS

When the liquor traffic was made illegal and driven into hiding it became a far greater menace. So it is with disease. Under the cloak of secrecy, infection spreads from person to person and its ravages invade the stricken individual unchecked by medical care. In countries where it is still almost a crime to have tuberculosis the attack rate remains high and the death rate is appalling. In this country we have learned to treat the consumptive with sympathy and hope and the disease is being rapidly brought under control.

But the venereal disease, syphilis and gonorrhea, still flourish in the dark. If they could be fought in the open they would be beaten more rapidly than tuberculosis for our methods both of prevention and cure are more successful in these diseases.

The New Mexico Social Hygiene Association exists to promote a social environment in which secret disease cannot find a place. Wholesome family life built on a foundation of sound ideals and accurate knowledge is the best insurance against the very prevalent and dangerous diseases of sex. For particulars of the New Mexico Social Hygiene Association address the secretary, Mr. Donald MacKay, Department of Education, the Capitol, Santa Fe.

Co-operating With the N. R. A.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND PATRONS:

In order to give our friends and customers better service and at the same time co-operate with the NRA program in Artesia, Buford Gray has been given charge of the station at First and Texas, while the former agent, V. D. Bolton has been transferred to the wholesale department and will devote his entire time to this department.

Both Messrs. Gray and Bolton having been in the employment of the Phillips Petroleum Co., for several months are familiar with local conditions. In addition to selling a real product, these men are prepared to give real service.

ICKES' RIGHT HAND

Col. Henry M. Waite, who was selected by Secretary of Interior Ickes as deputy public works administrator, assumes much of the responsibility for properly administering the government's $3,300,000,000 construction program. Although Ickes holds the title of public works administrator, Mr. Waite's duties parallel those of Gen. Hugh S. Johnson in the administration of the industrial recovery law. Sixty-four years old, Waite first came into prominence as city manager of Dayton, Ohio, back in 1914.

FARM PRICES STILL TOO LOW

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Farmers apparently are getting more money out of increased retail food costs, but the agricultural adjustment administration Friday listed his average prices still below the desired parity with industry.

Dr. Fred C. Howe, consumer's counsel for the administration, reported a 47 per cent increase in farm prices between February 15 and August 15. His analysis said prices on things the farmer buys advanced 11 per cent in the same period.

Taking the 1909-14 period as 100, Howe said the increase put the August 15 index of farm prices at 72 as against 112 for what the farmer purchases.

From a study of 41 municipalities, Howe listed variations in retail prices paid for the same foods. He said consumers "might well ask their distributors why they must pay more than consumers pay elsewhere for these essentials."

FRENCH TRANSFERRED HERE

Thelbert French, of Artesia has been transferred back home. Mr. French who has been with the Safeway Stores since 1930, formerly managed a store in Roswell for twelve months. He succeeds C. E. Speck, who was transferred to Carlsbad.

When two can live as cheaply as one

EIGHT CYLINDERS WILL BE AS ECONOMICAL AS SIX

CHEVROLET There's no law against believing that "two can live as cheaply as one." Neither is there any law against thinking that eight cylinders can be as economical as six. Use your own judgment—but if you want the most economical car, just ask a few people who own the new Chevrolet Six. Their cost figures will be a revelation, particularly if you are struggling to support a few extra cylinders for the cost of six. You can save with a Chevrolet, and if you want to find out why, go straight to your nearest dealer. Look at the car and drive it yourself. The Chevrolet valve-in-head 6-cylinder engine works wonders with a gallon of gas, and it doesn't burden your pocketbook with extra cylinders, extra rings and pistons, or extra valves. Chevrolet has earned the reputation of being the world's most economical car, but after all, it was Chevrolet's owners who first spread the good word.
