ONLY TWO HOME GAMES ON THE HOME FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Tentative Game Arranged There 6th—The Other Games To Be Played On Foreign Grids—A Strong Team Prospect

Artesia football fans will have few opportunities of seeing the high school squad in action this year, despite the prospects of one of the strongest teams seen on the local grid iron in several years. There will be only two home games if the present schedule is followed and one of these games was tentative when announced Tuesday. NRA PARADE STAGED HERE TUESDAY WAS FIVE BLOCKS LONG

The NRA parade staged here on Tuesday afternoon under the auspices of the Clarence Kepple Post American Legion was one of the outstanding peace time demonstrations witnessed by the Artesia residents and others gathered on Main street. Despite the fact that the parade had been postponed one week due to the death of the late Governor Seligman, interest in the demonstration never lagged.

A number of organizations joined the parade headed by Mayor Joe Clayton, who was mounted. The procession was about five blocks long and included the high school band, the City Council, the high school, central school and junior high pupils, the school faculty, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts the American Legion, the Legion Auxiliary, Rebekah lodge and several business firms.

Two Burned at Well Rig Fire

EDDY DIST. COURT CONVENES MONDAY

Two cases were heard in the Eddy county district court Tuesday, one of which involving a potash company had some unusual complications.

In the original filing of the case the plaintiff was Addie Warren, widow of H. L. Warren, and her unborn child, but since action was begun, Mrs. Warren has died, and the action is being continued by "next friend," for the child. Warren died of pneumonia and it was charged that it was the result of conditions at the mine.

Two dismissals were made at the instance of G. L. Reese, Jr., district attorney.

One is the case of the State vs. G. R. Harris, charged with flourishing a deadly weapon, and the other was the State vs. H. E. Zeewald, which was a highway brawl in which the defendant was charged with getting rough.

The case of the state against W. E. Washington will likely be continued it was indicated late Tuesday.

Bill Shaw and Homer Clark, charged with larceny from a store pleaded guilty on arraignment. The date for their trial was not set. The two were alleged to have been arrested in the Carson grocery store at Carlsbad, Friday night.

Otis Lane was ordered to the state penitentiary for the violation of his parole. He was sentenced last spring to a term of from two to three years in the state penitentiary but was released on parole.

W. L. Moody was sent to county jail for 90 days when he changed his plea from not guilty on a charge of grand larceny to guilty on a charge of petit larceny.

ROBERTSON IS MADE ASS'T. MGR. OF RACC STATE BRANCH BANK

J. E. Robertson of Artesia was sworn in Saturday as assistant manager of the New Mexico branch of the Regional Agricultural Credit Corporation bank. News of the appointment of Mr. Robertson reached here last week and Mr. Robertson left for Santa Fe Friday. George Hunker formerly of Las Vegas, is manager. Mr. Robertson will have charge of the Santa Fe office during the absence of Mr. Hunker, who is in the east on business. This state was served from the Wichita, Kansas office before the establishment of a state branch bank.

The appointment announced Saturday is an important one and friends of Mr. Robertson will be glad to learn of his good fortune. He was connected with the First National Bank here for twenty-five years, serving the institution the past few years as president.

It was also rumored that another federal position that of national bank examiner might be offered C. E. Mann, former vice-president of the First National Bank. This rumor, however, has been discounted due to the fact that two federal appointments would not likely be made from the same locality.

Louie Burch And Pearl Johnson Badly Burned When An Oil And Gas Pocket Is Struck Unexpectedly

Two workmen, Louie Burch and Pearl Johnson were badly burned about 8:30 o'clock this morning, when the Burch No. 4 of the Grayburg Oil Co., blew in unexpectedly. The men were sharpening a bit at a forge located about 200 feet away from the derrick when a pocket of gas and oil was encountered. The fire in the forge is presumed to have ignited the gas and caused the fire which severely burned both men about the face and arms. They were rushed here and given emergency treatment. The extent of the injuries could not be determined as we go to press.

The drilling machine over the well located twenty-five miles east of here was destroyed. The fire was still burning at the last report. Jim Berry sent in a hurry call for a tank of water.

The flow of oil and gas was developed about 3110 feet. Drillers expected to go about ten feet deeper before striking oil and gas.

MANY KILLED IN CUBA'S CIVIL WAR

HAVANA, Cuba—Bullets still spattered Havana's streets as nightfall Monday failed to bring an end to battling after the bloodiest day in the city's history, and while official estimates of the dead were unavailable, few believed the total would be less than 75, including one American.

Snipers and soldiers exchanged shots over the width and breadth of the city in a renewal of hostilities after attempts at truce in the beleaguered and shell-torn National hotel had failed.

The American, Robert G. Lot-speich, London, Ohio, manager of Swift International, was shot fatally in the chest as he stood in an apartment building near the hotel watching the battle.

The building of the Ford Motor Co., adjoining the scene of hostilities was struck by a shell intended for the hotel.

The best obtainable estimate of the dead included 35 to 40 soldiers, ten of the officers in the hotel and the remainder students and passers-by who were struck by stray bullets.

There were hundreds of wounded and the city's hospital were swamped since a few hours after the battle at the hotel began at dawn.

The truce at the hotel, which lasted only while a white flag was displayed from the roof, seemed to precipitate the spread of the battle over an undetermined area of the city.

CAR RAMS

J. B. Runyan received a car of fine buicks Monday, shipped from Wilmington, Ohio.

NO EMERGENCY FARM LOANS YET ON THE CARLSBAD PROJECT

The continued rejection of applications for reasonable loans on rich New Mexico agricultural lands by the Wichita land bank has aroused the ire of farmers under the Carlsbad project in the Pecos valley says information from Carlsbad.

With foreclosures imminent and only 23 loans approved by the land bank in New Mexico, compared with hundreds in other states, the farmers are organizing a mass protest to President Roosevelt, who they believe is unacquainted with the situation.

They are out to end the influence of Eugene Meyer, generally believed hostile to irrigated farming, and especially to get the scalp of President Fields of the land bank, believed personally responsible for alleged ruthless discrimination against harrassed New Mexico farmers with good security.

Fifty applications for extended farm loans under the Carlsbad project have been sent in since May, and not one has been granted.

35 BURNED TO DEATH FOREST FIRE NEAR LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

LOS ANGELES, California — Thirty-five men, workers on a county employment relief project and possibly twenty more, died in agony Monday in a box-like canyon, turned into a flaming inferno apparently by a cigarette inadvertently tossed into a tinder of brush by one of their number.

Between 150 and 200 other men were injured, some of them probably fatally. Most of them were burned and a number suffered fractures of arms and legs and the backs of a few were broken as they fell in a frantic flight to safety.

Shortly before 4:00 p. m. someone noticed a fire had broken out in the chaparral-covered sides of Mineral Wells canyon and a group of men, employed in the area on road projects, was sent down the steep canyon to extinguish it.

OPERATORS WATCH DEVELOPMENTS AT GRAYBURG BURCH 4

Expect Commercial Well Soon—Welch Well May Be Shot Next Tuesday Activity Lags In Lea County Past Week

Except for watching one or two wells in the eastern section of Eddy county which have reached a critical depth, the remainder of the oil activity over the area was rather desultory. Operators are closely watching the progress of the Burch No. 4 of the Grayburg Oil Co., sec. 19-17-30, which yesterday had reached the depth of 4092 feet with 200 feet of oil in the hole coming from 3080-85 feet. Commercial production is expected in this test before drilling another forty feet. Lockhart oil, Root No. 2, sec. 7-17-30, shut down for several days waiting on cement to set, has resumed drilling and progress is being made below 2910 feet. Spearow et al., McClelland No. 1 in sec. 22-22-23, is drilling below 3940 feet. Spearow et al McIntyre No. 1, sec 35-23-25, is reported drilling below 670 feet. Leonard, State No. 9, sec. 22-27-29, is drilling below 1125 feet. Western Drilling Co., Green No. 2, sec. 29-17-29, is drilling below 2450 feet. Compton Oil Co., State 6, sec. 15-16-23 is drilling below 420 feet.

Van Welch, Jr., will probably shoot his State No. 1, sec. 22-17-28, Tuesday, he said. The well drilled to 2027 feet has been pumping about twenty-five barrels daily on tests.

Official reports are not available for Lea county this week, although activity in that section is also lagging. The daily allowable of the Hobbs pool is still under the 35,000 barrel mark and is given as 33,532 barrels. George Etz has spudded the test on the Etz permit, Chaves county, sec. 14-8-28.

The payment of one-third of the money needed for relief work in the various states is to be continued as in the past, Hopkins said. This will be aside from the money used to purchase supplies particularly farm products.

STATES POOR TO GET PORK

New Mexico poor will get four carloads of salted pork furnished by Uncle Sam, Miss Margaret Reeves, state child welfare director, announced Monday.

PRES. ROOSEVELT PLEADS FOR UNITY TO END DARK ERA

NEW YORK—President Roosevelt last night rallied the relief agencies of the nation for the "harder part still ahead" and told the states and communities they must do their share before the federal government supplements the needs of the destitute.

Speaking before the national conference of Catholic charities, Mr. Roosevelt praised the co-operation of church and private institutions for their help in "the climb out of the valley of gloom," and urged a national spirit of neighborliness to complete the task.

"This is the time when you and I know," he said, "that though we have proceeded a portion of the way, the longer, harder part still lies ahead; and that it is for us to redouble our efforts to care for those who must still depend upon relief, to prevent the disintegration of home life, and to stand by the victims of the depression until it is definitely passed.

"The federal government has inaugurated new measures of relief on a vast scale, but the federal government cannot, and does not intend, to take over the whole job. Many times I have insisted that every community and every state must first do their share."

Before addressing the conference, the president dined with the church leaders at a banquet in a midtown hotel. He was introduced by Cardinal Hayes.

Man Shot To Death At Carlsbad Last Night

The Shooting Was Result Of Previous Difficulty —C. Price Shot Twice And Dies Within Few Minutes After Affray

Another fatal shooting occurred in Carlsbad yesterday evening when a Carlsbad resident known as Cowboy Wilcox shot and killed Charles Price, also a resident of Carlsbad. The trouble started in the rear of Stevens Cafe, near the office. Stories told of the affair here last night said the shooting was a result of a previous difficulty, when the two met and Price is alleged to have stabbed Wilcox with a knife. Price it is said had been released from the county jail only a few hours. The jail sentence for Price was the result of another cutting scrape.

The shooting occurred about 6:30 o'clock. Wilcox using a revolver, is said to have fired three shots, of which two took effect, one in the lower part of Price's body and the other near his heart. He lived for about thirty minutes, coming out of the cafe with his adversary he told his friend good bye.

Wilcox was arrested by Night-watchman Henry Samples and is said to have asked officers not to release Price from jail if they valued his life. Both Wilcox and Price were passed thirty years of age. Wilcox is married.

PROCESSING TAX GOES FOR RELIEF FUNDS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Processing taxes assessed by the agricultural adjustment administration are to be used to provide funds for the new emergency relief corporation.

These funds added to money now in the hands of Harry L. Hopkins the relief administrator, are expected to take care of the situation until next spring. Purchases of a variety of supplies for the needy are contemplated.

The payment of one-third of the money needed for relief work in the various states is to be continued as in the past, Hopkins said. This will be aside from the money used to purchase supplies particularly farm products.

STATES POOR TO GET PORK

New Mexico poor will get four carloads of salted pork furnished by Uncle Sam, Miss Margaret Reeves, state child welfare director, announced Monday.

IT WILL BE DISTRIBUTED THROUGH THE COUNTY RELIEF AGENCIES.

State To Get Its Share C C Camps

ALBUQUERQUE—New Mexico and Arizona will have nine more winter conservation corps camps than they had summer camps, F. C. W. Fuller, regional forester, said Monday.

This means, he said, that there will be 48 camps in the two states of which number 20 will be in New Mexico. This is a gain of four over the number of summer camps in this state.

Estimates on the number of replacements needs in the camps run from 40 to 50 per cent. The camps will be brought up to full strength of 200, which means that replacements must be for those who left camp for one reason or another prior to the end of their enlistment period, as well as for those who do not wish to re-enlist.

Forest service men who have visited various camps report that a larger proportion of men from New Mexico and Arizona than from other states will re-enlist. There will be 15 winter forest camps in New Mexico, three state park camps, one national monument camp and one state erosion control camp.

Arizona will have 22 forest camps, two national park camps, one national monument camp, one state erosion camp and seven state park camps.

DOERS AND LEANERS

"We've got too many leaners," states P. H. Joyce, president of the Chicago Great Western Railroad, recently. "Too many people in this county have not learned to sharpen their wits on the grindstone of necessity. Nobody ever got anywhere by waiting. Doing something, even if you do it wrong—is better than doing nothing at all.

I am reminded of a college president who says the trouble today is everybody is waiting, from college students to business executives. A lot of seniors are planning post-graduate courses for next year—to wait for better times and better chances for jobs. I'm telling my boys not to come back. I'm telling them to get out and hustle the way their fathers had to do.

That is the very essence of our troubles of today in the economic world. Too many people are waiting to be reborn with a silver spoon in their mouths. Too many young folks are just "resting up" till a good job shows up. Quite too many older ones, finding a paternal government willing to give them aid, are sitting by, accepting a dole and living off others who are bearing thus a double burden—accepting alms when they should be ashamed to do so, and forming the fixed habit of becoming a "leaner."

"I DON'T PAY TAXES"—OH, YES, YOU DO!

It is estimated that 70 per cent of the national income is not subject to direct taxation—income which comes from government bonds is exempt from taxation because its owners' total receipts are below the levels touched by the income tax law.

That provides a pretty sound reason for public laxness about taxation. A majority feel that it is no trouble of theirs—that it is a problem belonging strictly to that minority which must pay direct taxes.

We all pay taxes, if we earn a thousand a year or a hundred thousand—and the bulk of governmental income comes from those whose income is in the lower brackets.

We pay taxes when we go to a movie, buy food, turn on an electric light, take a spin in the car, go fishing, or do anything else. We pay them when we are asleep—the maker of the bed, mattress and blankets paid taxes, which he passed on to those who bought his product. The more he paid, the more we pay to sleep!

Tax-freedom, whether for an individual or a business, is a beautiful illusion and it will never be anything else. If your income falls within the 70 per cent mentioned, don't be pleased about it. You're paying your share of excessive taxation. And you'll continue to pay until you do something about it.

NO SANTA CLAUS HERE

There is something the Artesia community and the neighboring communities ought to watch and that's how these would be trouble makers perform from here out. While we sympathize with the unfortunates and needy, we feel that they should show the proper spirit when given a chance at honest labor, assuming of course they are physically able to perform manual labor. This is no time to listen to the wild tales of an agitator, but rather a time when full fledged co-operation should be in evidence on every hand.

There are some it seems, who have formed the erroneous impression that charity efforts of the past have been more or less of a Santa Claus and that this Santa Claus will care for them regardless of whether they work or not.

These same people believe the government exists, not to protect them, but to feed them and as long as there is a listener, one can hear all sorts of tales about how the down-trodden should be helped.

These able bodied birds who refuse to work now should be placed on a bread and bean diet when cold weather comes.

THE SPECIAL SESSION

Governor Hockenull has said that he will not call a special session of the legislature, at least until after the first of the year, which will give him more time to study the financial needs of the state, including the prospective revenue from beers and liquors. Governor Hockenull has let it be known that he does not propose to be unduly rushed into a decision, which ought to be assuring to those who were wondering how the new chief executive will conduct himself.

It is hoped that the special session will be an improvement over the last regular session, otherwise we might as well let the boys stay at home and save the taxpayers money.

Speculation is rife as this is written as to federal appointments to be made by Governor Hockenull as well as to whom Senator Cutting will line up with. Somehow we don't feel that the senator and the new chief executive will play together as well as the late governor and senator. In that case a third party may become a reality.

In these days of national and world readjustment every reserve of hope, faith and courage are required to enable each of us to swim against the strong tides of life's demands. We cannot afford to cringe or retreat as we, individually and collectively, wage war on human selfishness and greed—the two evil influences that have brought this great nation of ours to its prayerful knees. With new determination, let us join the old Scotch clergyman who, in a day of great need, asked: "Please, Lord, keep me alive as long as I live."—Birmingham (Michigan) Eccentric.

When people tell an editor they want him to print the truth they mean the truth about the other fellow. The principal drawback to printing the truth is invariably when it is done somebody's toes get stepped on.

PICKED UP ON MAIN

Here's the best a ter dinner joke M. W. Evans could dig up, the last banquet speech he made. Its been going the rounds so we are reproducing it:

A visitor in a small Arkansas town saw a big strapping boy, about the size of a high school youth, in hot pursuit of an elderly woman. The woman was running down the street frantically and was screaming for help. No one seemed to pay any attention to them.

"Why doesn't someone help that old lady?" the visitor asked.

"That's their own family problem," a bystander said, "that's Aunt Matilda Smith and that's her boy Sam. She's been trying to wean him for going on six months now."

A man in town who has a growing German goiter, says its caused from a fallen chest. Says he going to get his stomach down though before the spring winds set in as a big tummy develops too much wind resistance and is too hard to push.

Girls when they went out to swim Once dressed like Mother Hubbard. Now they have a different whim— They dress more like her cupboard.

A Scotchman was run over by a beer wagon and for the first time in his life, the drinks were on him.

A lady had just purchased a postage stamp. "Must I stick it on myself?" she asked.

"It will accomplish more if you stick it on the envelope," the postal clerk replied.

How did you stop your husband from staying out late at the club? "When he came in late I called out, 'Is that you, Jack.' And my husband's name is Robert."

We once heard of a man who pleaded his own case in court and was so eloquent his words carried conviction.

We have with us those who are so lazy they never exercise anything but their opinion.

Unless conditions change, we'll be compelled to admit there are some buzzards displaying their blue eagle.

Strange Underground River

An underground river flows in South Australia. Nobody seems to know its source or outlet. At the farthest point explored there was no diminution in the size of the passage or the depth of the water, which flowed as if it had some clear outlet. Years ago a canoe was lowered into the river and its course was followed for some distance.

Swing Your Partner

The list of national dances is large, but the most representative are the seguidilla, cachucha, fandango and bolero of Spain; the tarantella, the saltarello and the forlana of Italy; the mazurka and the polonaise of Poland; the calca of Russia; the reel and highland fling of Scotland, and the jig in Ireland and Wales.

HEALTH COLUMN

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Many cases of infantile paralysis occur without any paralysis. A better name for the disease is poliomyelitis but it is less well known.

There was an epidemic of poliomyelitis in New Mexico in the year 1927 when 200 cases were reported to the State Bureau of Public Health. Since then the largest number of cases occurring in any single year was in 1930 when 37 cases were reported. Last year we had ten cases and so far this year we have had five cases. Children are most liable to this illness at two years of age. After ten years of age the danger diminishes, though it is possible to contract poliomyelitis at any age. Boys are somewhat more susceptible than girls. On the average 65 per cent recover without permanent injury though some epidemics are more severe than others.

Early recognition of the disease is important because there is good evidence that serum treatment will protect those exposed and perhaps help the patient too if given at the beginning of his illness. This illness comes on suddenly. Parents or teachers should be on the watch for the following symptoms: (1) headache, (2) constipation, nausea, vomiting, (3) slight fever, (4) prostration, (5) drowsiness, (6) sensitivity of skin, muscles and joints, (7) inability to urinate, (8) sweating, especially of the head. Whenever two or more of these symptoms are detected a doctor should be called. He will test the responses of the nervous system.

A good pamphlet on infantile paralysis has been written for the public by Dr. E. V. Cowdy of Washington University, St. Louis, and is offered free of charge by the International Society for Crippled Children, Elrya, Ohio.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, pea distinct headaches. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Cosmetics won't help at all.

Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay poison in your bowels. The one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions, today, 25¢ at drug stores.

Before "something just as good" for it may gripe, loosen teeth or soiled rectum. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for.

THE NATIONAL NRA CENSUS TO START

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A census of all American employment establishments to determine how many men have been returned to work by NRA and how much payrolls have been increased was initiated Monday by the government with hope the answer would be obtained within three weeks.

Other new steps taken to forward industrial steps and hasten recovery included:

Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA chief in the name of President Roosevelt, asked Pennsylvania coal miners to go back to work immediately. His appeal was backed up by a similar one from John L. Lewis president of the United Mine Workers.

The national labor board sent telegrams to 50 commercial and trade organizations in 14 key cities asking nominations for industrial representatives on regional mediation boards, simultaneously asking labor organizations to name employ spokesmen while Senator Wagner, the board chairman, began inviting personally selected individuals to act as neutral members.

Betty and Her Barn

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

WHEN the wolf prowled near enough to the door of the old Wycliff estate to cause young Betty Wycliff serious anxiety she decided that the most sensible thing to do was to sell the old home itself and take up her abode in the stable—commonly called the barn. The new owners were quite willing that she should keep the barn since they would be putting up modern garages.

Its position was in direct line of the railway approach to the glowing little suburb, which, before its tendency to sprout, was justly called Offthemap. But with a generous supply of the fertilizers—builders, estate office, butchers, etc.—the growth began and they wisely changed the name to Onthemap.

So Betty's old barn stood like a veritable lighthouse in its prominent position on High street. The prowling footpads of the wolf were too close for Betty to have done much except install a bathroom and kitchen and hardwood floors in her barn. She wanted very much to make good in the little village in which all her forefathers had been reared. An attractive sign down at the rustic gate leading to the barn informed the passerby that Miss Wycliff taught dancing and elocution.

Betty's pupils were not so numerous as to effect a traffic block in High street.

It was between a dance and an elocution lesson that Betty watched the approach of a young man.

Betty soon learned that he was the owner of the new department store that was even then nearing completion in the heart of Onthemap's shopping district. "Miss Wycliff," he jumped straightway into his reason for intruding. "I will pay you $500 down and another $500 when the sign's finished if you will rent out that east wall of your barn to me for advertising purposes—it's a swell site to catch the eye and it need not be too—advertising—as it were. What do you say? I'll get an artist that knows his job."

"Wait a moment," cried Betty. "until my brain regains its poise. I never see the outside of my barn—at least not of an advertisement in his head and the exact same figures in the way of rental."

"But I simply couldn't stand it to have pictures of sausages and those sides of lamb and beef flitting on my barn walls," cried Betty. "The decorative scheme shall be left entirely to you," said the young butcher, quite overjoyed at the site he had secured.

She retired in a somewhat wilted state to her little kitchen to brew herself a cup of tea. Certainly having walls to one's barn was a greater asset than having a brain in one's head for the teaching of dancing and elocution.

So while Betty sipped her comforting cup of tea the owners of the department store, the butcher shop and the baker shop were one by one dickering with the only artist that Onthemap had ever known. He was but a visitor.

His efforts to secure fame and fortune in miniature painting had so far failed, and it was with extreme joy that he welcomed the orders to take up his brushes in the interest of advertising.

"But you must consult the owner of the barn," each had warned him. "I have a scheme that will suit her," laughed the artist. "We will simply paint crowds of well-dressed people rushing toward the open doors of the shops of you three good gentlemen. It will be a subtle and attractive way of doing the trick."

And because Betty had a brain in her head she promptly started a tea and coffee room in conjunction with elocution and dancing. Young Martin Wells, swinging on his painting scaffold, thought the world a lovely place and wondered why he had ever puddled about with little dabs of paint when he could splash it in bucketfuls on the barn walls of the most lovely girl that either town or suburb had ever produced.

Betty stepped out from time to time to admire the work of the young artist and to gaze wonderingly up at anyone who could so transform the flat walls of a barn into dreams of color. She knew, too, that he would one day be a leading mural decorator and that she—but what else Betty knew was being expressed beautifully in young Wells' eyes as he gazed happily down at her.

STATE FAIR TO HAVE LARGE FARM EXHIBIT

Greater participation in the Eastern New Mexico State Fair to be held at Roswell October 18, 19, 20 and 21 by individual farmers and stockmen in the counties outside of Chaves is being urged by the fair management.

"Each year many of the counties bring booth displays and almost invariably take away first money," said H. A. Poorbaugh, president of the fair board. "This we are proud of and know that it will be true again this year. But we would like to see more individual exhibitors from other counties in all the departments. Whether it is a peck of oats, a box of apples, a display of onions, or cotton, or a fine bull in the beef cattle class, or good individuals in the dairy class, it means more to all eastern New Mexico to have this general participation and give the other counties that much additional advertising. We hope this year many more of the ladies from adjoining counties will make entries in the domestic arts department."

A poultry division has been added to the fair this year. Additional buildings are being erected to house the poultry show and to care for the added livestock exhibits. The department of agriculture is sending from Washington a car load of material for a display entirely different from last year.

"This agricultural exhibit cost us a neat sum for transportation, but we believe it is worth it to the farmers and ranchmen of the state, and this is the only place it is shown in New Mexico or Arizona," said Mr. Poorbaugh.

COMMISSIONERS COURT

The Eddy county commissioners court met Monday at Carlsbad. Routine matters claimed the attention of the court. Further preparations toward completing the county tax rolls cannot be made until the tax rate and the corporation valuation is received from the state tax commission. Whether or not the 20 mill limit will apply to current taxes is another factor that must be taken into consideration in making the tax rate. District Attorney Reese is understood to have said that the 20 mill limit would be retroactive in his opinion.

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook states: "Neither evil, disease, nor death can be spiritual, and the material belief in them disappears in the ratio of one's spiritual growth."

COMMITTEE PLEADS FOR OBSERVANCE OF THE NRA PROVISIONS

The local NRA committee urges the entire community to consider the pledge made to the NRA and to the president with the utmost seriousness. In signing the act of June 16th, the president said: "Those who bravely go forward to restore jobs deserve and must have the aggressive public support, if this great movement is to succeed."

The local committee will soon report the number of employes returned to work and how many have been added to the payrolls. All business houses and business men are urged to fill out and return to the local office, all blanks recently furnished with reference to the number of persons employed, wages, hours etc. All complaints of irregularities may be filed with the local office. Proper investigation of your case will be made by the compliance committee.

A word to the consumer: Your loyalty and responsibility to the blue eagle is as great as that of the employers. Sole responsibility rests with you in your efforts to do your part. When you put into action the words: "We do our part, we have won the battle." COMMITTEE.

Cellophane

Cellophane looks like Isinglass, or like celluloid, and is known as glass paper and as transparent cellulose sheeting. It is transparent, thin, tough and moisture and greaseproof, and while airtight, permits the customer to see exactly what he is buying. It is not a new product, but developments in the chemical industry have made production possible in quantities and at a price which permits general use. Wood or cotton provides the base. The ash, coloring matter and other impurities are removed, leaving only the pure vegetable fiber, or cellulose, which is treated with caustic soda and sulphide of carbon. This results in viscose, the liquid which is glass paper after being forced through a very narrow slit and cooled. It is no more inflammable than ordinary paper. It is manufactured in various forms and sold under various trade names.

Contented Cows Give More Milk

Cows in Holland which have been provided all the comforts of a modern home show their gratitude by giving more milk. They have the best of food, their sheds are heated in winter, and if the winds are cold they even wear overcoats when they go out. The floors of the cowsheds are laid with shining white tiles, which are kept spotlessly clean, and in many of the sheds there may even be lace curtains. The cow's horns are scrubbed and polished and her coat is groomed until it is glossy. In the dark months of the year the sheds are lighted with electricity, so as to make things cheerful for the bossies.

Chinese Tree Goes to Sleep

The Chinese mimosa or silk tree, blooms throughout the summer months as if it were rooted in the soil of China, its native land, rather than in the ground of its adopted country. The silk tree's blossoms are delicate little sprays of a deep pink that grow in clusters and then fall off to form a magic carpet below. The leaves, tiny green ovals, which grow on either side of a long stem, react to darkness much as a sensitive plant does to touch. When the sun goes down, they fold up and await coming of day again.

Poison Ivy and Poison Oak

Poison ivy and poison oak are not the same although they are often confused. Common poison ivy is usually found in the eastern half of the United States and Canada while the poison oak is more prevalent in the southern states, says Pathfinder Magazine. Each has three leaves; the ivy leaves are either smooth or 'toothed' while those of the oak are notched, resembling oak leaves. Both of these plants may be in the form of shrubs or vines.

Japan an Age-Old Empire of Countless Paradoxes

Many people think of Japan in terms of gayly painted fans, picturesque structures with upturned gable ends, Jirikishas, vivid temples and the everlasting natural gorgeousness of Mount Fuji.

Japan is an empire of paradoxes. It is ancient and modern. It is tiny and tremendous. It is carefree yet grimly determined. It is a land of modern factories, of tea rooms and telephones, of Tenth Century courtesy and latter day bustle and efficiency.

The main streets of Japan's cities may be named Showadori, Marunouchi, Ginza, Moto-machi. They are flanked with smart shops—most of them executed in the "modern style of architecture with artistically arrayed merchandise."

Restaurants and hotels, not to be outdone, have sent corps of men to Paris, London, Vienna and Rome to study, improve upon and combine with Japanese ingenuity the gustatory delights of the western world.

Out from Tokyo, the excellent government railway lines reach in all directions. And here again the Japanese have scored a triumph. English style locomotives draw American type pullmans that are built with every conceivable thought for western comfort.

English has become the second language with the Japanese—on trains, ships or wherever travelers gather, for English is a compulsory course in all Japanese middle schools and most colleges.

Waldseueller Map First to Bear America's Name

Map-making received a new impetus with the discovery of America. Each returned explorer, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, brought tales of a new found land which caused many changes and alterations. And until the time of Mercator—in the sixteenth century—all maps were embellished with all sorts of fantastic creatures that were supposed to inhabit the little known world. Here were to be found men with dog's heads; men with no heads at all but with eyes, nose and mouth implanted in their chests; men who used one big foot for an umbrella; cows with wings; roosters as big as horses, Noah's Ark with dormer windows. Mercator broke with such traditions and drew a world chart on the "Mercator Projection" which in modified form is still in use today.

There was the Waldseueller map of 1507, the first to bear the name of America. It was lost for centuries until discovered in a German library in 1901 by an Austrian professor. And then there was Ortelius, whose "Theater of the World" ran into thirty-three editions, starting in 1570. It is regarded as the parent of the modern Atlas.

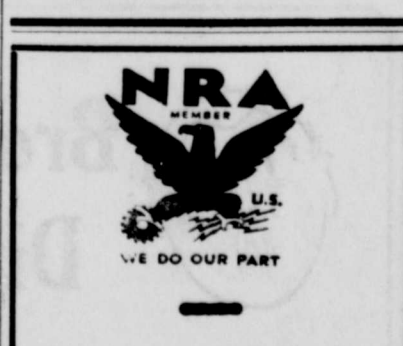

Bats Eat Many Insects

Even if it didn't have the Alamo, San Antonio would be famous as the oily city in the world with a municipal bat roost, notes a writer in the Detroit News. Since it towers 73 feet in the air, and has to be cleaned occasionally, life isn't all cakes and ale for the bat boy. The only reason bats are officially welcomed to this progressive Texas municipality is that they rid the summer air of mosquitoes and night-flying insects. Less forward-looking communities in that section calculate as how they'd as leave have mosquitoes and night-flying insects as bats.

Presidents as Penmen

It is worthy of notice that most of the Presidents of the United States have been excellent penmen, quite a different variety of "statists" than those of whom Hamlet spoke. George Washington's accounts, preserved in the Treasury department, are legible in the highest degree; Abraham Lincoln had a clear, flowing stielographic technique.

United States Is Third in Production of Gold

One-half of the gold produced in the world is mined in South Africa—some quarter billion dollars' worth annually. Another 20 per cent is mined in colonies of Great Britain, chiefly Canada. The United States is third in place, says an exchange. The mines are principally in a range of hills near Johannesburg in an area 85 miles long and two to five miles wide. There is found the "reef," which means what it does on the seashore—a layer of rock two to three feet wide hidden in the hills.

Geologists explain that ages ago a great lake existed into which washed gold-bearing sediment finally solidifying into a gray rock with white spots. Around the spots the gold settled and it all became a reef or rock layer. Then in some upheaval the lake was lifted into hills and the layer of gold rock was tipped until in the heart of the hills it lies at an angle of 30 to 40 degrees, buried a mile deep in places, outcropping here and there and nobody knows how far it extends beyond the present explored area.

Fifty years ago it was discovered on a farm, and since then Johannesburg has grown to its present importance as South Africa's principal city and the largest on the continent except Cairo—with some 200,000 white and 300,000 native population.

Vocabulary of 850 Words May Give World Language

The 1,500 languages and dialects of mankind are such serious barriers to world understanding that lingual experts of many nations hope to find a remedy. A director of the Ornithological Institute of Cambridge is of opinion that a means of world communication has been found. The language is nothing more than simplified English. A vocabulary of 850 words with perhaps another 150 of a more scientific and technical character, has been chosen to do the work of more than 20,000. It is possible to write all these on a sheet of note paper. They can also be put on a gramophone record without crowding!

When we remember that millions of people make themselves understood in all their daily affairs by the use of still fewer words, this number ceases to appear insufficient. For instance, hundreds of English verbs are superfluous in ordinary speech, and after long and painstaking tests only eighteen have been retained in the New world language, which is called Basic English.—Tit-Bits Magazine.

Earthworm Music

Some people claim that earthworms produce music at night. Much argument has been given in attempting to explain these sounds. Some believe that the worms produce the sounds by rubbing their bristles together; others think it is by scraping their bristles over stones. At any rate, it is poor music, and they themselves cannot hear it, for they are deaf.

Early Training Important

A great religious educator once said that if he could have the moral training of a child entirely in his hands between the ages of eight and thirteen years he could guarantee the future of that child, no matter what influences it came under in after life. It is at this susceptible age that the character of the coming adult is most indelibly stamped.

Mercury Has No Atmosphere

Spectroscopic photographs of Mercury, the planet closest to the sun, reveal that it is a dry, sun-baked world lacking both air and water. The spectroscope breaks up light beams and reveals the elements which modify the reflected rays of the sun. Although other planets show the existence of an atmosphere, the tests on Mercury came out a complete blank.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Opossum's Home and Diet

The home of the opossum is a hole in anything high or low just so it is near timber and water. Its food consists of almost anything eatable, its diet changing with the seasons. It would be easier to list the few things that it does not eat rather than the foods that it does. Chickens and eggs seem to be on the preferred list, however.

1934 COTTON PLAN IS MADE PUBLIC

The plan for adjusting the cotton production for 1934 and 1935 adopted by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, is similar, in some respects, to the plan that is now being put into operation for wheat. County cotton production control associations will be set up similar to the associations that have been set up for the control of wheat production, and these will be responsible for allocating the reduction to the individual growers and for the local administration of the plan. The cotton acreage to be planted for 1934 will be announced on or before January 1, but it is expected to be close to 25 million acres, which is approximately 60 percent of the five year average. The acreage will be allocated among the different states, counties and individuals on the basis of the five year average, 1928-1932. The plan will follow the 1933 cotton plan in that producers will be compensated in part by receiving a cash rental and/or benefit for acreage left out of cotton production, the amount to be determined later. Production will be restricted at planting time, however, so there will be no plow-up of cotton already planted. In general terms, the plan will work as follows: The producer, thru the county association, will enter into a contract with the Secretary of Agriculture for a period of two years. The required reduction for 1935 will not be more than 25 per cent of the five year average acreage. Payments to farmers will be based on the domestic consumption proportion of the five year average production and it will be the intention to give the farmer parity prices for this portion of his crop. At the same time that the plan for 1934 and 1935 was announced, the secretary of agriculture announced that loans would be made on the 1933 cotton crop up to ten cents a pound. The object of this loan is to permit the farmer to hold his crop until approximately parity prices can be secured.

INJUNCTION SETTLES GRAZING QUESTION ALAMOGORDO—District Judge George Hay of Silver City Saturday decided an important question pertaining to rights on the public domain when he granted a temporary injunction to Former State Senator O. M. Lee restraining settlers from grazing their stock on public domain, wherein they had no living or permanent water on the public domain. The settlers were not permitted to show they had water on their own homesteads in the township in question. Lee showed he had permanent water on the public domain. Another hearing to make the injunction permanent will be held in about two weeks.

"Breeches Bible" First Printed in Roman Type

The "Breeches Bible," more properly known as the Geneva Bible, was an immensely popular English version which was the immediate predecessor of King James, or Authorized Version, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

During the reign of Queen Mary (1553-58), the Scriptures were proscribed, and many English Protestant leaders fled to the continent. A number settled in Geneva, Switzerland, and there several undertook a new revision of the Bible in English, which they published in Geneva in 1559. It was chiefly the work of William Whittingham, assisted by Anthony Gilby and Thomas Sampson.

The Geneva Bible was novel in several respects. It was the first English Bible to be printed in roman type instead of the old black letter; the first in which the chapters were divided into verses; and the first in which italics were used for explanatory and connective words and phrases.

A peculiarity of text in the rendering of Gen. 3:7, gave it the popular name of the "Breeches Bible." Its rendition is "The eyes of them both were opened . . . and they sewed figge-tree leaves together, and made themselves breeches." This reading occurs in every edition of the Geneva Bible, but is not in any other version.

Walcheren Natives Are Happy as They Dream On

An island the Dutch wrested from the sea remains as one of its prized sections. Long before Hendrik Hudson, some 320 years ago, set out on his voyage to the western world the Dutch were extending their national shores by fighting the sea, and Walcheren stands as part of the result of their efforts. Life in Walcheren lets the rest of the world go by willingly and freely. Walcheren's natives are content to live in their dreamy way—wooden shoes, old Dutch customs and dress, windmills, ancient churches and plenty of cheese. There is no night-life gaiety in Walcheren, to be sure, but there's a little bit of bad in every good little girl, and so, while the signs of the beach say "Verboden te Baden" (forbidden to bathe), the girls roll up their dresses and go wading. But lipsticks and powder are still foreign things to them, and as they congregate outside their churches Sunday mornings they all have healthy, rosy complexions, but not bought and paid for in a drug store.

Guardian of Mankind

Akbar, famed Mongolian emperor, won the title of Guardian of Mankind, because of the benevolence of his rule and at the same time the devoted zeal in which he sought to regain lost sections of the once vast empire which had broken away under long periods of misrule before Akbar ascended the throne. He devoted himself to the development of commerce with the lost provinces until the ties of business interest were so great the further tie of political interest was easily accomplished. During his reign, he fostered religious tolerance among the many conflicting religions of Mongolia and he established and developed a school system which went far toward earning him his title of guardian. For many generations after his death in 1605 he was held up as a model of rulers throughout India and other portions of Asia.

Briton Became Pope

Adrian, the name chosen by six popes, was the name of the only British churchman to become head of the Roman Catholic church. Adrian IV was the son of a poor English family named Breakspere, he being baptized Nicholas. Seeking his fortune in Paris, he became an excellent and gifted student, noted for his zeal and learning. He entered the priesthood and eventually became an abbot. His next step upward was to the Sacred college, and in 1154, he became pope. He was vigorous in his religious leadership and strict in upholding all the power and authority which his holy office gave to him. He died in 1159.

Worm-Catching Plants

Persons who may have thought that ferocious plants which capture and devour animals exist only in stories and the minds of their authors will be interested in a report by an official of the bureau of plant industry. These plants and their victims, he says, are so small as to be seen only through microscopes. They form a jungle from which they extend their feelers or limbs to capture the small worm-like animals as they pass along. The plant then releases a chemical strong enough to quickly dispose of the unlucky prisoner.

The Chihuahua Dog

One prominent dog authority has said that there is no other dog known to man that has had so much nonsense and ignorant misconception written about it than the Chihuahua. It was supposed to have been the product of cross breeding between various wild animals, including the Mexican squirrel, but this is all fallacy.

TURNIP SAUERKRAUT GIVES MENU VARIETY

Turnip sauerkraut does not take the place of cabbage sauerkraut but it is appetizing and adds variety to the menu, according to W. A. Wunsch, county extension agent. It has recently been developed by workers in the United States Department of Agriculture.

To make turnip sauerkraut, turnips of the purple top variety should be used. They should be young, tender, and in perfect condition. Shred or grind them. Mix thoroughly with salt, using 2 ounces or 4 level tablespoons of salt to each 5 pounds, or 2 1/2 gallons, of shredded turnips. Pack in stone jars. After the material has been pressed down thoroughly, a liberal sprinkling of salt may be spread over the top of the turnips. This will add in keeping the product.

A wooden or stone cover should then be fitted inside the jar and weighted down with stone. If the turnips are of prime quality there should be enough juice to cover the top in about 24 hours. The product should be kept submerged in the brine to prevent discoloring and drying. From 15 to 20 days will be required for fermentation to be completed, which should be carried out at room temperature. The jar should then be stored in a cool place or the fermented kraut packed in glass jars and stored. In warm weather, the kraut should be canned.

If desired, the shredded or ground material, after being thoroughly mixed with the salt, may be packed directly into glass jars. About an inch of head room should be left at the top of the jar for expansion of the gas which is formed. Screw lids must not be tightened, or if glass jars are used, the bail must be left up for a few days to allow the gas to escape and the jars should be placed in a vat or in pans in order to catch the juice that is forced out. The juice should be returned to the jars if possible. This may be accomplished by pressing the kraut down with a wooden spoon or stick. After 2 or 3 days the jars may be sealed and the fermentation allowed to proceed.

Other information in regard to preservation of vegetables with salt can be secured from W. A. Wunsch, county agent, Carlsbad, New Mexico.

October is the month that most of the pullets hatched this year started laying. There are a number of things such as cleaning the house, treating for insects, particularly lice, treating for worms, watching the feed and culling for deformities.

Many poultry raisers have made it a point and are having excellent results by keeping their brooding equipment, houses, etc., clean. Now they should be careful to clean out with disinfectant, the quarters for these birds if they are to pay back the money expended.

Both the head lice and body lice are present in various flocks in the county. These can be controlled with one treatment, by preparing a sodium fluoride solution dissolving the powder at the rate of two tablespoons to the gallon of water and dipping the chicks in a lukewarm solution on a warm day. Be sure and see that the chicken's head is held under the water for a second in order to get the head lice. If the weather is too cold for dipping the sodium fluoride powder can be used, but be sure and put some back in the feathers at the base of the head and under each wing and below the feathers. A second treatment if the powder is used should be administered after ten days.

Even though the best sanitary conditions have been carried out during the year, if there have been flies present and we have had our share in Eddy county this year, the chickens are apt to have tapeworms. It has been found that the treatment of birds by the means of individual capsules using some well known product will give the best results.

The culling of the pullets will be mostly confined to discarding those pullets that have defective beaks, injured eyes, and are undersize. Due to the high price of feed most pullets that will take a long time to come into production are not worth keeping. They should be sold or put in cans for winter use.

The laying hens and pullets should receive a well balanced ration, consisting of mash and a grain mixture with a protein content of at least 14%. At the present price a wheat and ground yellow corn makes an ideal grain ration. Many of the poultrymen contend that they cannot feed a mash at the present price of eggs. However, if good results are to be obtained a mash must be fed. Figures show that it is more profitable to feed a good bunch of pullets and hens with a well balanced feed than it is to feed a larger group of hens with ordinary feed. If additional information on any poultry topic is desired the county agent will be glad to furnish the same or give any as-

FIFTEEN BIRTHS

Fifteen births were recorded during the month of September by S. E. Ferree, sub-register for the Cottonwood, Atoka and Artesia communities. Births were recorded to Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Johnson, son; Mr. and Mrs. Basil Kimbrough, daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Hartsell Bills, daughter; Mr. and Mrs. M. assistance in culling or worming. It has always been emphasized that one should not use galvanized vessels when feeding milk to chickens. The acid in the milk has a chemical action with the vessel which will cause poison.

The Ohio experiment station has found that if milk is put in a galvanized vessel and allowed to sour for a few days and this poison milk is buried or burned and the vessel thoroughly scrubbed, the vessel can then be used for feeding milk as no further chemical action will take place. The use of baking soda at the rate of 1/4 pound to 5 gallons of water is recommended by W. M. Ginn, extension poultryman, for use as a laxative for poultry, rather than epsom salts. The soda acts as a laxative and at the same time sweetens the digestive organs. Soda used at the rate of two tablespoons to the gallon of water has also been found to be a good treatment for colds.

Turkey raisers should begin now to prepare their young turkeys for the market by use of a ration consisting of at least 50% of ground yellow corn to fatten the turkeys. Four to six pounds of grain will add one pound of weight to the turkey. This ration will produce those nice firm breasts that the market demands. Feeding will also eliminate the pin feathers, as it has been found that even though the birds are of proper age they will have pin feathers when dressed unless they have been fed properly. If the turkeys are light in weight it might be profitable to worm your birds before starting them on your fattening ration.

County Agent Wunsch has made arrangements for blood testing the poultry for light diarrhea. The antigen will be secured from the department of bureau of animal industry, thus, the cost of testing will be reduced about one cent a bird. Any breeder desiring to have his birds tested should notify the agent at once, so proper arrangements can be made.

WORLD'S FAIR WILL END OCTOBER 31ST

CHICAGO, Illinois—In less than a month what promises to be the greatest of all world's fairs from the point of attendance, will forever come to a close.

Repeated suggestions and wild-cat rumors that A Century of Progress Exposition will remain open longer, possibly through next year, are entirely without foundation say fair officials. The exposition will be definitely closed after October 31, according to Rufus C. Dawes, president and Major Lenox R. Lohr, general manager.

Last minute rush of millions who have not seen it, and more who want a last glimpse, combined with a host of unusual and spectacular features planned for the month, is expected to result in record-breaking crowds during the final month.

A review of weather forecast for October indicates that ideal weather will prevail for the millions who will avail themselves of the cool, crisp, delightful "Indian Summer" days to visit the fair.

Heading the great card for the second week in the month is Chicago Day, Monday, October 9. This event on the same date in 1893 drew 750,000 people to the World's Columbian Exposition. All leading religious groups and national groups of the city will assemble for a program in the Court of the Hall of Science at 11:00 a. m. Band concerts and choral music will take up most of the afternoon. At night there will be an international water carnival and a gigantic fireworks display, commemorating the Chicago fire. A special program on the stage of the floating theater in North Lagoon will last throughout the evening and until 2:00 a. m.

October 9 will also mark the opening of Autumn Festival Week at the fair, with daily programs of band, concert, choral, instrumental and other music sponsored by the Illinois Federation of Music clubs.

A Century of Progress day will be celebrated Tuesday (October 10), with leading exhibitors and concessionaries parading their wares and shows about the exposition grounds. The 1933 World's Fair will pay tribute to its glorious predecessor of forty years ago on Columbian Exposition day, Wednesday, October 11. In the afternoon there will be a reunion of the Columbian Guards, guide organization of the old fair, and a parade of ancient vehicles, carrying passengers dressed in 1893 costumes. President Cleveland's speech at the old fair will be re-enacted. A brilliant display of fireworks commemorating the 1893 fair, including set pieces of the ferris wheel and "Little Egypt" will wind up the day.

Columbus day, Thursday, October 12 will see commemorative programs by Italian national groups. It will also be Puerto Rico day.

Saturday, October 14 will open College Week, with special programs planned for various colleges and universities, and special tours arranged for college students. A concert by the United Polish National choir will feature Sunday, October 15.

A great crowd will undoubtedly see the football game between Northwestern and Stanford University October 14. Florida day will be the attraction October 18. October 21 will be New Jersey day and will also see a series of concerts by the University of Indiana band.

The visit of Dr. Hugo Eckener and the Graf Zeppelin will be one of the high spots of the month, probably on October 25. October 27 will be Navy day; the International Automotive Trade show assembly will be conducted October 29.

Miss Marjorie Kavanagh, twenty-one years old, was chosen as America's prettiest waitress in a contest sponsored by the American Restaurant association at its annual convention at the Merchandise Mart in Chicago. Miss Kavanagh has brown hair and eyes, is 5 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 106 pounds.

PARADE OF PIGS ENDED

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The government's parade of pigs to market was over Saturday with approximately 6,200,000 weighing 100 pounds and less sent to premature slaughter along with about 200,000 sows.

Farmers anxious to get the benefit of the higher-than-market prices offered for the pigs rushed them in large numbers to livestock marketing centers Friday when farm adjustment administration purchasing came to an end.

BEG PARDON

In last week's issue, it was erroneously stated from an unofficial source that ginning charges were twenty-five cents per hundred pounds, last year. Ginning charges last year were 30 cents with no segregation. This year ginning charges for the valley recommended by the national ginners' association are thirty cents per hundred pounds, plus a five cents per hundred pounds for sterilization.

ROSWELL YOUTH DIES OF HEART ATTACK

While talking with friends in a Roswell pool hall Sunday night, Primitivo Brady, Jr., 16-year old Roswell east side school student, suffered a heart attack and died within a few moments.

He was taken to St. Mary's hospital in the Talmadge ambulance but efforts to revive him proved futile. The cause of his death was given as angina pectoris.

University October 14. Florida day will be the attraction October 18. October 21 will be New Jersey day and will also see a series of concerts by the University of Indiana band.

The visit of Dr. Hugo Eckener and the Graf Zeppelin will be one of the high spots of the month, probably on October 25. October 27 will be Navy day; the International Automotive Trade show assembly will be conducted October 29.

ICKES MAKES PRODUCTION CUT

WASHINGTON, D. C. — A cut into the national daily oil production was ordered Friday by Secretary Ickes in efforts of the federal government to bolster petroleum prices through controlling the output while studying closely the question of price regulation.

The production allocation which Ickes ordered Friday, to become effective October 1, reduced the daily total from 2,409,700 barrels to 2,337,500 but provided for a sharper cut into actual production by wells than the 72,200 barrels difference.

COTTON CHECKS COMING IN

Cotton checks are being distributed at the rate of 30,000 daily, according to information received by County Agent Wunsch from the United States Department of Agriculture. This information says an effort is being made to distribute the checks equally and that Eddy county should receive its quota soon.

Count the Cost

Count the cost of poor and insufficient lighting in the case of your school child who studies at home at night. Lack of proper light must eventually work an injury to his or her eyes, and may seriously affect school progress and standing. Note whether the lighting in your home is correctly placed for easy reading and studying, whether it is too bright, or whether it is insufficient.

The cost of the proper modern fixtures is low—and as a rule adequate illumination costs no more in current consumed than haphazard lights here and there.

EDDY HEALTH NEWS

The subjects that are being stressed in the schools for health education during the next few weeks are cleanliness and immunization. As stated before, personal cleanliness and personal hygiene are synonymous — public cleanliness and public hygiene.

Immunization means—the power which certain living organisms or a human body, possess to resist disease or infection. Immunity may be natural or acquired. People become immune to certain diseases after having one attack of the disease. Measles, mumps and whooping cough are examples.

We are able to immunize most people against small pox, diphtheria and typhoid fever by vaccination. The ranchman can immunize his calves against black leg by vaccination. It is very rare to hear of a ranchman refusing to vaccinate his calves. In Eddy county it is rare to find parents objecting to their children being vaccinated.

It has been stated in the Carlsbad papers lately that at least one person had encephalitis due to vaccination, out of every 5,000 vaccinated. If that statement is true should parents and school authorities abandon compulsory vaccination, ninety or more people had small pox for every one hundred born and about one-fourth of those that had the disease died. (From M. J. Rosenow's book on Preventative Medicine, page 1). Which is better, one person out of each 5,000 have encephalitis or 90 out of each 100 have small pox and 20 or more die? If only one person out of each 5,000 have encephalitis, it would take a large number of vaccinated, and non-vaccinated as controls to determine that vaccination caused that one case.

The number of immunizations made by the Eddy county health department during the months of July, August and September in pre-school round-ups and the first month of school are: against small pox 284; against diphtheria 40 and against typhoid 63.

A number of other immunizations are in process against small-pox, diphtheria and typhoid, and will be completed during this month.

Out of 945 students, who have completed their census cards, the registration shows 497 men and 448 women. Students are continuing to enroll and a much larger figure is expected for the semester.

The figures show 610 registered from Bernalillo county. Other counties largely represented are Colfax with 34; Valencia, 28; Santa Fe, 22; Curry, 14; McKinley, San Juan and Torrance, 13 each; Eddy and Quay, 9 each; Chaves and Grant, 9 each. FEDERAL EXHIBIT ON RANCHING AT FAIR

A carload of educational exhibits especially designed to fit western conditions has been scheduled by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for display at the Eastern New Mexico State Fair, Roswell, October 18-21, 1933.

The exhibits will present important information and suggestions on sheep and wool, range cattle, horses, range destroying rodents, campfires and public roads, and are intended to interest both rural and city people.

There will be an information booth with a display of publications where visitors may examine department of agriculture bulletins, talk with department representatives and learn where and how direct advice or published information may be obtained on many phases of agriculture.

A large portion of the wool produced in America comes from the western sheep and the exhibit "Good Wool" portrays by text, pictures, objects and samples how breeding, feeding, care and management of sheep and the care and handling of fleeces enter into the production of good wool.

GRADE AND STAPLE REPORT IS ISSUED FROM EL PASO, TEXAS

The second weekly report on the grade and staple of cotton which is released at El Paso, Texas, includes the states of Arizona, New Mexico and California. Texas District No. 1 (the irrigated valleys of Texas, west of the Pecos river) had insufficient ginnings on which to base an estimate.

All of the cotton classed to date has been extra white, middling, and better. About 99 per cent has been strict and good middling with the good middling predominating. This is due in large part to the extremely favorable, warm, dry weather.

Cotton classed from Arizona this week was 83% good middling and 17% strict middling. All of the cotton classed for the week was 1 inch longer. The predominating staple lengths were 1 1/16 and 1 3/32 inches. The out turn for Arizona and New Mexico showed 78 per cent and 63 per cent respectively to be of these lengths. 10 per cent of the Arizona cotton was 1 1/8 inches and longer against 2% for New Mexico.

All cotton classed from these states is tenderable for futures contracts. This report does not include American-Egyptian cotton.

Wednesday at noon stocks showed considerable life and cotton rallied in sympathy but lost nearly all the gain closing flat with little interest, traders being inclined to even up in preparation for the coming report.

An increase of two or three hundred thousand bales is looked for next report. This should have but little effect afterward as that amount of increase has been taken care of in the recent decline but a greater increase will send the market upward.

Mill takings are running larger now, foreign demand increasing, and a very general interest taken speculatively on the buying side. These combinations are holding against declines which otherwise would result from hedge selling which is heavy.

Finally cotton is going to sell higher. Just how long this will take is problematic, but by the first of the year the administration's cotton program will be reflected in the market to the holder's advantage.

list to Senator Cutting and Congressman Chavez. This land is all served by the Carlsbad project canals, and is the finest irrigated farming soil in the world. Most of the loans asked are small, sufficient to avoid foreclosures, and meet taxes and other charges. It is alleged that loans in the proportion of $800 to $5,250 have been refused, and that it has taken over three months even to secure refusals.

Similar unreasonable discrimination by Fields against farmers in the Middle Rio Grande conservancy district and in the Pecos valley artesian belt is alleged.

First promised relief up to as much as 75 per cent of the normal value of their land, the farmers saw this arbitrarily reduced to 50 per cent with an arbitrary reclassification of water rights so as to make relief to the farmers practically impossible.

It is alleged the land bank ignores valuations and factual findings as to this area long since established by the government itself, and that no consideration is given the fact that up to the time of the slump these farmers had a better record for paying up than those under any other U. S. Reclamation project.

The following are samples of the applications refused, as published by the Carlsbad Current-Argus:

Application No. 1—In La Huerta tract, 15 acres, normal value $350 per acre, loan asked, $800 or $53 per acre.

Application No. 2—In the La Huerta tract, 10 acres, normal valuation $400 per acre, loan asked $800, or 80 per acre.

Application No. 4—In the Otis country, 110 acres, loan asked $5,900 or $54 per acre.

Application No. 5—In the Otis country, 155 acres, normal value, $150 per acre, loan asked, $8,200, or $53 per acre.

Application No. 6—In the Lovington country 131 acres, normal value, $125 per acre, loan asked $5,717, or $44 per acre.

Blanket Makers in Caste

In a rural district of Meerut, India, there are 55,000 sheep, which yield 51,000 pounds of wool for blanket weaving. Caste plays a part there, says the British Empire Chamber of Commerce Magazine, and one may see Gadaras or Hindu shepherds tending these sheep while Mohammedan kamallas carry on the actual manufacture of the blankets. When the industry enjoyed a boom, these workers were assisted by Julhas, who are otherwise engaged in cotton or silk weaving.

Kismet—Fate

In Arabic the word kismet is "kismet" and means fate. This word was used by Mohammed when he preached in the Koran the duty of submission to all that God had ordained. He believed that a man's every action was predestined, yet he never suggested the folly of struggling against an adverse doom. The doctrine of Kismet has prompted Mohammedans to utmost heroism and fortitude in the cause of their religion.

Ruskin's Philosophy

A good story is told of one of Ruskin's disciples who, having read the master's diatribes against "foul and filthy railways," resolved to prove his belief by walking from his home to Ruskin's, a matter of many miles. When he reached the master's presence, very dusty and explained what he had done. "Young man," said Ruskin, "abuse railways, but use them."

Black Bear Likes Ants

The black bear, though relishing a great variety of things as food, from centipedes to skunk cabbage roots and from toads and field mice to honey, is especially fond of ants. His method of obtaining these choice morsels is to run his paw down into an anthill and leave it there until the ants swarm up on it where he can lick them up.

Harbor Pollution

A report on harbor pollution by oil from passing liners states that a film extends out over the ocean for 500 miles from both New York and Cherbourg. In some areas the oil is so thick and gummy that it has caused numerous birds to be stuck in it—and have starved to death.—Collier's Magazine.

VIRGINIA VOTES REPEAL

RICHMOND, Virginia—Virginia the second state to ratify the 18th amendment, Tuesday became the 32nd to vote its repeal.

Both urban and rural Virginia contributed to the slightly less than two to one margin held by repeal with approximately three-fourths of the precincts reported. It was from the large centers of population, however, that the wet tide set in strongest.

With 1,246 of the state's 1,690 precincts reported, the repeals led 90,742 to 50,886. Advocates of repeal of the state prohibition law and the substitution of a liquor control plan were in the van 85,941 to 47,124. Slightly fewer precincts had reported in the referendum on state prohibition.

SANTA FE—Expressing regret that unforeseen difficulties and press of state affairs had swamped him, Gov. A. W. Hockenull today said he might not be able to name a United States senator until next week.

The governor had announced he would have the appointment this week, and "I want to keep my word," he said today, "but there are so many things that have to be done right now. I may be able to get the appointment this week. I hope so because I want to keep my word."

Congressman Dennis Chavez and Carl Hatch of Clovis are conceded to have a good chance at the appointment.

CHICAGO, Illinois—New Mexico Legionnaires last night expected full approval from the Legion's national convention of the special planks on veterans' rehabilitations, adjutant H. W. Neely, Santa Fe reported.

The New Mexico delegation has asked the convention's support of legislation which would give veterans afflicted with respiratory diseases a ranking of 50 per cent total disability after a sure cure has been effected or the malady has been arrested.

At present, Neely explained, the veterans' aid stops after ten years.

E. B. Swope of Santa Fe, chairman of the state democratic central committee, said Saturday he would probably call a meeting of the state democratic central committee soon to select a successor to the late Governor Seligman as national committeeman. Dennis Chavez, national congressman has been the only name mentioned thus far for this position.

Mrs. Georgia Lusk, state school superintendent has said it might be possible to prolong the school terms in seven or eight counties, where school budgets allow less than nine months, by means of federal aid.

Two men held at Estancia, L. C. Gleghorn, and Earl Chisum who were arrested at Socorro last week in connection with the robbery of the Citizens State Bank of Vaughn will be held for the robbery of the First State Bank of Mountair, on June 26th.

A run on the Lea County State Bank at Lovington, last week caused the state banking department to issue restrictions on all deposits placed in the bank prior to September 23rd. The run was said to have been caused by false rumors, thought to have been actuated by a desire to destroy the bank.

CLOVIS—Coleman DeLoney, 25 year old farmer, was shot and killed on Main street of Grady Monday afternoon and officers held Lee Borden, Grady garage-man, for questioning in connection with the fatal shooting.

Freight car loadings in the 4th quarter of 1933 will be nearly fifteen per cent above actual loadings in the same quarter of 1932, according to estimates just compiled by the thirteen shippers' regional advisory boards and made public Monday.

MADRID — Spain's third government collapse in four months left the country Tuesday without a premier, without a cabinet and without a congress. Parliament turned against the regime of Premier Alejandro Lerroux by a vote of more than two to one after the veteran radical republican had stalked dramatically out of the chamber at the head of his cabinet, after only 21 days in power.

The street is full of action. Gambler crowd around wheels of fortune. Orange-colored monkeys dance to the strains of a guitar. Llamas laden with rice, or coffee, step haughtily over the cobbles. Indian vendors bake maize in wide corn husks on the street. And Cholols sit on the sidewalk and spin brightly-hued yarn. The Indians, topped with stiff hats and wrapped in blue or red ponchos have regular "character faces" bulging with cocoa leaves, which they all chew. The Cholols swirl along in a dozen garishly colored, billowing skirts—looking for all the world like beach umbrellas.

Beneath this fairy-tale city a river roars its way through valleys rich with oranges and bananas. Above it loom mountains holding a wealth of silver and semi-precious metals.

Discovered Maple Syrup

The manufacture of maple syrup and maple sugar is purely an American industry. The first of the New England settlers exploring the Indian trails in the springtime saw the natives gashing trees with the tomahawks and sap flowing into hollow logs and bark containers. Soon maple sugar became the sugar of the early settlers, even as far south as Virginia and Kentucky. At first the white men followed the Indian method of producing maple syrup and sugar. But it was not long before they learned that the Indians' deep gashes in the trees often injured them. Tapping methods were improved, but the evaporation process has changed little, except that more modern equipment is often used.

Wednesday at noon stocks showed considerable life and cotton rallied in sympathy but lost nearly all the gain closing flat with little interest, traders being inclined to even up in preparation for the coming report.

An increase of two or three hundred thousand bales is looked for next report. This should have but little effect afterward as that amount of increase has been taken care of in the recent decline but a greater increase will send the market downward.

Mill takings are running larger now, foreign demand increasing, and a very general interest taken speculatively on the buying side. These combinations are holding against declines which otherwise would result from hedge selling which is heavy.

Finally cotton is going to sell higher. Just how long this will take is problematic, but by the first of the year the administration's cotton program will be reflected in the market to the holder's advantage.

STRIKE AT DAWSON MINE

DAWSON. — Miners at the Phelps-Dodge Company coal mine here Tuesday continued their "holiday" as G. C. Davis manager of the mine, said he was unable to act on a demand made by a committee of miners that the United Mine Workers of America be recognized by the operators.

Between 225 and 250 miners failed to appear for work at the mine Monday morning and Davis and other officials of the company were at a loss until early Tuesday to explain the failure of the men to show up for work.
