1,000 Cattle Condemned In Eddy Under The Drought Plan

Inedible Cattle Are Being Destroyed; About 2,000 Edible Cattle Will Be Shipped to Market from Here and Carlsbad.

W. A. Wunsch, county agent, and Dr. W. C. Doss, representative of the Bureau of Animal Industry, were in this section Tuesday in connection with the government relief work among the livestock producers in destroying condemned cattle or those too poor to be classed as edible. In the emergency drought relief funds, a price schedule, reproduced below, is paid any cattle producer who cares to dispose of stock he no longer wishes to carry on the range.

It has been estimated by Ed Toner of Carlsbad, brand inspector, there are at the present time between 30,000 and 40,000 head of cattle in the county. Approximately 3,000 of this number will be either killed or shipped to market. Preliminary estimates say that 1,000 cattle will be killed, classed as inedible, and 2,000 will be shipped to market. Mr. Wunsch has recommended that the cattle for shipment to market be concentrated here and at Carlsbad. Work of concentrating the cattle will be started as soon as the condemned cattle are destroyed.

Work of destroying the condemned cattle was started Monday in the south part of the county and fifty-eight cattle were killed. Tuesday nineteen cattle were killed in one herd. As soon as the condemned cattle are out of the way, an inspector will go with Dr. Doss, Mr. Wunsch and Ed Toner, brand inspector, to pass on the value of the cattle to be shipped.

A schedule of prices to be paid by the government representatives, both for edible and inedible cattle is printed herewith together with the basis of participation in the proceeds by the debtor and the creditor:

Condemned animal flat rate, 2 years old and over, $12; 1 year to 2 years, $10; Under 1 year, $4.

Edible animal, flat rate, 2 years old and over, $13 to $20; 1 year to 2 years, $11 to $15; Under 1 year, $5 to $8.

Participation: 2 years old and over, debtor $6, creditor, $6 to $14; 1 year to 2 years, debtor, $5, creditor $5 to $10; Under 1 year, debtor $3, creditor $1 to $5.

Appraisal to be made on even dollars.

Inspections will be made on the following ranches as outlined:

W. J. Wooten, L. Leeman, R. Thurman—Wednesday, June 27.

Crawford & Johnson, Jim Dublin, James Bros.—Thursday, June 28.

W. C. Russell, W. T. Murray, W. R. Fenton—Friday, June 29.

Saturday will be spent inspecting the cattle on the dry farms and ranches in the Hope com- (Continued on last page, column 1)

WOOL MOVEMENT CONTINUES BE SLOW

The movement of the present crop of wool to storage continues at a fairly steady rate, but shipments to market have probably been below normal due to a weak demand on the market. Since last week growers of this section have brought to storage about 50,000 pounds. A car of 38,385 pounds was consigned this week to the Boston market. A few cash sales have been made. Two cars of wool moved from Lovington to market, but it could not be learned what portion of the shipments were consigned and what sold outright. Wool is still bringing from 18 to 19 cents on what few sales have been made to date.

A total of 260,000 pounds has been shipped from the Bullock warehouse to date with about 40,000 pounds remaining in storage. The amount of the clip handled here this year will likely reach 500,000 pounds or better.

THE CITY BEAUTIFUL COMMITTEE PLANS FOR FLOWER SHOW

The "City Beautiful" committee of the Women's Club met Tuesday evening with representatives from the Chamber of Commerce and organized with Mrs. C. R. Blocker as chairman for this year.

Many worthy projects were discussed and placed on the schedule of the year's program, but special emphasis was placed upon the necessity of caring for the trees, both public and private, that were set out in the spring tree planting project. Many of the trees are dying for lack of proper attention. A little care now will go far toward making the city more beautiful.

The local dahlia authorities also called attention to the fact that now was the time to force the dahlias to get the best results for the flower show to be held in October.

The committee is now ready to receive names of those interested in entering the yard and garden contest. Give your name to anyone on the committee: Mmes. Jim Berry, C. R. Blocker, S. E. Ferree or J. M. Story.

Melvin Jernigan came up from Carlsbad Monday night and spent a few days with home folks.

CARPENTERS BATTLE BEES FOUR DAYS TO GET PORCH REPAIRED

A battle between a bunch of bees and a bunch of carpenters at the home of Dr. J. J. Clarke on the Roselawn has been concluded with the death of the bees and will probably be soon forgotten except for the comic aspects of the struggle. Twenty years ago perhaps, a hive of bees established quarters in one of the large columns at the front porch of the Clarke home. In the course of time the tribe of bees multiplied undisturbed. When workmen came intent on remodeling the front of the home, it was natural the bees should resent the intrusion, so at the sound of the hammer on what had long been the abode of the bees, out came the bees and away went the workmen.

At the end of the first day or the first round, the bees held the field, despite efforts to drive them out. And so on thru the second and third day, notwithstanding efforts to smoke them out and drive them out with chemicals.

On the fourth day, the bees, still holding the fort, up drove the workmen and out came the bees, making a bee line for the workmen's car. A temporary carpenter retreat was ordered until it was observed Doc Clarke was out watering the lawn. Coming within hailing distance the workmen inquired about Doc's welfare, also what he used to keep the bees away, to which query Doc replied: "Shucks, boys, I knowed them bees for goin' on thirteen years and am so well acquainted with them that I can call 'em all by their first names. You all can get along together after you know each other."

But the carpenters were skeptical until the last bee was killed and about two wash tubs of honey was extracted from the huge column. And we say the honey should have been divided with the workmen as a peace offering.

70 PER CENT OF CROP LOANS ARE PAID BACK

Nearly 70 per cent of the $360,000 emergency crop loans made in New Mexico have been paid back, according to Colonel Albert T. Woods, state emergency crop loan supervisor of Artesia.

He believes that there will be many 100 per cent counties and that the greater portion of the loans will be returned to the government. Loans made as far back as 1924 are being paid now, he reported.

STATE MAY HAVE SURPLUS AT END OF YEAR, REPORT

SANTA FE—Advising the state board of finance Tuesday an overdraft of $311,357 now exists in the appropriations account, Deputy State Treasurer J. J. Connelly expressed confidence tardy tax remittances from counties would allow the state to close the fiscal year with a surplus in the appropriations account—for the first time in many years.

Connelly said 19 counties have not sent in tax remittances since June 15th.

OFFICERS ABANDON SEARCH FOR STANTON IN SACRAMENTO MTS.

Report Stanton Seen At the Reeves Hill Detour Starts Hunt, But Shifts Rapidly; Officers Say Stanton Still in Texas.

Search for Ed (Perchmouth) Stanton, who with three other prisoners, escaped the Lubbock county jail early Sunday morning, has shifted several times as officers of New Mexico and Texas continue an intensive search for the fugitives. Officers, with five members of the state highway patrol, were concentrated in the Mayhill-Weed section of the Sacramento mountains Tuesday after it was reported here that Stanton had been seen en route to the mountains at the Reeves Hill detour, fifty-five miles west of here. John Wright, a rancher at Weed, reported Monday that he had met Stanton on the detour about 8:30 Monday morning.

Wright, who had known Stanton several years, was not aware that the desperado had broken jail at the time the two are supposed to have met on Highway 83. Soon after the report of Stanton's presence was reported here, two Texas officers, the sheriff of Lubbock county and a deputy sheriff of Swisher county, said to be the brother of John B. Mosley, former sheriff of Swisher, slain by Stanton, passed through here en route for the mountains. They were stopped at Hope and informed of the report.

Later information from Abilene, Texas, states the trail of the four desperadoes was picked up in south Taylor county, where the wrecked car, a 1934 Chevrolet sedan in which the four escaped from Lubbock, was found. The car was identified as that of Campbell Elkins, acting justice of the peace at Lubbock. The trail was lost three miles from where the car was wrecked.

State motor patrolmen, returning from the Sacramento area yesterday, said they believed Stanton was still in Texas. Late reports say thirty Texas officers concentrated yesterday at Palo Duro canyon, twenty miles southwest from Claude. Tuesday Stanton was reported seen in the vicinity of Tulia, Texas. Fugitive warrants were issued eastern New Mexico officers for the arrest of Stanton and his three companions so that the desperadoes might be prosecuted here in the event a New Mexico officer was killer or injured.

Another meeting will be called by Mr. Dexter the first part of July to allocate the July output between the ten pools of the state.

LAST CALL TO FORM SOFT BALL LEAGUE ISSUED FOR FRIDAY

Those interested in sponsoring the organization of a soft ball baseball league in Artesia, thus keeping step with other near-by communities in providing wholesome recreation for the men and boys of our own town, have decided to make a third and last call for those who are interested along the same lines.

Two previous calls have been made for all those who wish to play to meet on the vacant lots back of the building where the Peoples Mercantile is, but on none of these have enough men and boys appeared to play even the first game of baseball, much less organize a league. Now, the third call is issued for Friday evening at 6:15, or as near after that as you can arrive.

If you like to play soft ball and know of others who enjoy the same sport and think that we could very well have some soft ball teams of our own here in Artesia, be present at this hour and upon this date. On the other hand, if there is not enough interest manifested this time to get started, at least, the effort will be dropped until such time as there shall be more demand for the idea.

HABITUAL CRIMINAL HAS SENTENCE HIKED IN EDDY DIST. COURT

Jack Dyer, arrested on May 31st for stealing a car in Carlsbad and sentenced on June 5th by Judge J. E. McGhee at Carlsbad, will be given a more severe penalty for not telling the truth at the time of his sentence. When asked by Judge McGhee, Dyer said he had never been convicted of a crime. Return on finger prints sent out by county officers reveal that Dyer had been convicted of the robbery of the First National Bank of Elida and at the time of the Elida robbery was awaiting trial in Texas under $2,000 bond on a rape charge.

Dyer served five years and ten months of a twenty-five year sentence in this state and was later sent to Huntsville, Texas, and served two years and two months and was released on a conditional parole.

On June 1st, Dyer was arrested by the Eddy county sheriff's department and Lea county officers in the sand hills of Lea county after the stolen car was abandoned. He was brought to Carlsbad and sentence passed, but after returns from the finger prints were known, his sentence was boosted to eleven years in the state pen on charge of being a habitual criminal.

Cecil Martinez was arraigned at Carlsbad last week on a charge connected with the robbery of the Weiler Army store at Carlsbad several days ago. He pleaded guilty. Alvin Jones, arrested in connection with the theft of an automobile at Artesia several days ago also pleaded guilty. Both will be sentenced when McGhee goes to Carlsbad July 2 in his regular monthly session of court in Carlsbad.

Six other pleas of guilty are expected to be heard at that time. Two are George Martinez and Leon Seballas, arrested last week in connection with the robbery of the Pratt-Smith Hardware store and of the Weiler Army store at Carlsbad. A third is Marques Rodriguez who is charged with flourishing a deadly weapon in a threatening manner. He is alleged to have drawn a gun on a colored woman while he was intoxicated as he sought to make her dance.

Two others are Edwin Howell and Walter Allison who pleaded guilty earlier in the week when arraigned before Frank H. Richards, Carlsbad justice of the peace, on a charge growing out of the taking of money from a pocket-book in a car belonging to Frank Collins, a Texan, who had parked his car northwest of Carlsbad as he talked to a man in a nearby field.

The two were arrested by officers shortly after Collins missed the money and later showed officers where they had hidden the money. The sixth arraignment will be a juvenile.

Packing plants may be located at Roswell and Albuquerque to care for the drought stricken cattle shipped out of this section, according to advices from Santa Fe.

Modern Cream Plant May Be In Operation Next Few Days

$20,000 Plant to be Moved From Fort Stockton, Texas; Old Laundry Building Repaired to House Plant.

Preliminaries are under way to start the operation of a creamery here within the next two weeks, possibly within the next ten days, it was understood here yesterday. W. R. Stephens, formerly of Fort Stockton, Texas, is remodeling the old laundry building, located just southwest of the Santa Fe freight depot and expects to have the building ready for occupancy by the latter part of next week. This location will house a $20,000 plant to be moved from Fort Stockton, Texas, which was shut down when the supply of milk in that locality dwindled to a point where economical operation was no longer possible.

Plans for financing the removal of the machinery and the repair on the building are well along toward completion, it was learned yesterday.

A preliminary survey made of the possibilities of this territory both as to the milk supply and the market has created an optimistic outlook for the economic operation of a well-equipped plant here, Mr. Stephens believes. While the present milk supply will not operate the present plant to anything like capacity, it will furnish produce sufficient to be mutually profitable to the buyer and the seller alike, according to those experienced in the creamery business. Produce to be manufactured here includes ice cream, butter, cheese and pasteurized milk.

Mr. Stephens moved his family in from Fort Stockton several days ago. He has had several years experience as a creamery operator.

BASEBALL GAME HERE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Baseball fans will have the opportunity of witnessing another fast baseball game here Sunday when the Artesia nine meets Carlsbad at Brainard park at 2:30 p. m. Carlsbad has up to the present a very successful season and will no doubt invade Artesia with the intention of taking the long end of the score. The Artesia team has been strengthened and reorganized and will be in position to put up a lively scrap with the best of contenders. Last Sunday Artesia won handily over Malaga by a score of 13 to 4.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Dexter left yesterday for an extended visit to Torrance, California, and other Pacific coast points. While there Mr. Dexter stated he expected to conduct a scientific investigation into the old question, "What are the wild waves saying?"

PUBLIC OPINION

Strange are the ways of Public Opinion. In her varying moods she becomes a savior of mankind or a destroyer of that which by her own demands she has saved. Today a vampire, tomorrow a saint; a Trojan in her demands for what today is heralded as right, as fickle as Cleopatra when tomorrow's multitudes declare that right was not right. Brave as a roaring lion and yet as cowardly as a skulking wolf which has been separated from the pack. Virtue-laden when Puritanic idealism possesses the land, she turns chameleon when that idealism takes wings and vanishes away. Intolerant and yet a persecutor of the intolerant. Such is Public Opinion.

She wears a halo to light her path and then destroys the very path on which she found her way to the light. She is no respecter of persons, or of truth, or of fact, or of historical revelation, or of prophetic vision; lover of truth and hater of the application of truth. She struggles through the years for the accomplishment of a great ideal, then in a day deserts the ideal and sees her own followers suffer the agonies which are certain to result from her popularly-endorsed folly. Such is Public Opinion.

Today she leads an army in a righteous cause; tomorrow she has turned traitor to the cause and enrolls in the battle lines of her erstwhile foe. Today she is mobilized to construct, tomorrow to destroy. She murders a Caesar on the ideas of March, and on the morrow follows a Mary Anthony from the funeral to destroy those who obeyed her demands for Caesar's blood. She burns Joan or Arc as a witch, and then sanctifies herself in the incense of the smoking ashes. She talks "peace on earth," and at the sound of rolling drums plunges into a world war with peace-preaching Christian murdering peace-preaching Christian. Such is Public Opinion.

In a year of popular demand she capitalizes on the teachings of a century and passes laws for the preservation of those teachings; in another day of popular demand, with a flash, she destroys the very laws which were formed for her own protection. She knows no constitution if that constitution blocks the way to her desire. She is a builder of governments and a destroyer of civilizations, a defender of constitutional rights and a defamer of the very constitutions which protect those rights; a hero and a deserter; a thinker today, a careless follower of uncertain doctrines tomorrow.

Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde: Thy name is Public Opinion.—Gibson City, Illinois, Courier.

NEW TYPE MENACE

There is a new type of menace found on many highways in addition to the reckless driver or the one-eyed car and this menace is the boulder left in the roadway after perhaps using it to "scotch" the wheel. After the rock or boulder is once put in the road, the motorist who follows must either drive around the boulder or stop and throw it out of the roadway.

The new type of cars built low on the ground cannot pass over the rock or boulder without a possibility of damage. One motorist recently ruined a wheel by passing over a rock he did not see because a lowering sun obscured his vision. The rock was in all likelihood placed in the road to "scotch" a wheel while a tire was being repaired. Drivers of old cars and "wrecks" will often leave the rock in the road after the tire is repaired because they have no brakes. The best remedy yet offered for carelessness of this sort is an educational campaign, teaching the motorist he has a responsibility to meet in keeping the highway in good condition.

LEGALIZED HIJACKING

Santa Fe has set an interesting example and set the state press talking by an attempt to exclude the road carnival. The simplest way to turn the trick is to fix the license fees so high that the carnival either passes the town up or leaves money enough with the city to partly repay for the loose change taken from those who can least afford to spend the money.

The average attraction of this kind is no better than the hijacker, the only difference being the hijacker is usually punished, while the city that permits the entrance of a carnival lets its officers stand by to witness most any kind of gambling the carnival management wants to exhibit.

An ordinance that legalizes the entrance of a bunch of hijackers into any community under the guise of letting some local organization sponsor whatever attraction the carnival has to offer with little or no revenue, should be repealed.

The prolonged drought in many parts of the county has brought up the question of providence taking a hand in caring for our surplus agricultural products. Regardless of whether one believes providence supervises and controls the destinies of man, the over-production problem has been largely taken care of and if 5,000,000 cattle are taken off the market through the present drought relief plan, there will be lots of us that will seldom have the pleasure of consuming country fried steak and flour gravy because the price will be prohibitive unless other commodities with labor experience a proportionate rise in price.

When you hear people quit talking about taxes, you'll know the hard times are definitely at an end. People don't have time to talk about taxes when they're doing well, but when times get bad again they suddenly realize there is an obligation to pay and they immediately set about to find somebody to blame for the fix they are in. Paying debts when you are in a tight is like acknowledging you are in the wrong when you happen to get your fender scratched in an auto accident. It just ain't done. The time to watch your step is when you're going along, not after you've fallen down.

One of the hardest speeches in the world to make sound convincing is the one setting forth the reasons why your son can't buy a dog.

FIVE MEN ARRESTED FOR THEFTS AT CARLSBAD

Five men were arrested at Carlsbad Thursday and charged with petty larceny. It is alleged these men had stolen a quantity of good, practically all wearing apparel, from the Weiler Army store, a dozen aprons were stolen from the J. C. The men arrested were Leon Seballas, Cecil Martinez, George Martinez, Pedro Marino and Manuel Chavez. Marino gave his address as Vaughn. Chavez said he lived at Clovis. The others arrested live at Carlsbad.

NEWS BRIEFS OF THE CHAMBER COMMERCE

"As Your Chamber of Commerce Is So Is Your City"

The CCC camps are filling up again. Artesia is allotted 11 as their quota this time and these must have their applications filled out and approved by July 1st. The call this time is for the juniors only—that is the boys between the ages of 18 and 25. Anyone interested in this venture report to the welfare office as soon as possible or call to ascertain if the lists are still open.

The drought relief is operating in large proportions in our county this week. One hundred twenty-three men have been placed on the work division of Hope relief and are being employed in crews of about forty each. The work they are doing is much needed and if completed will be a great boon to the Hope community when and if it rains. The main ditch is being widened and enlarged so that greater amounts of flood water can be conserved when they appear.

Miss Mary B. Perry is expected in town again this week to spend a few days. Her time will be given over largely to the drought relief program.

The local relief rolls have dropped again this week. The new low of 47 families will not be long maintained perhaps but it is good to have so many men on work not supplied by ERA.

H. D. Huycke of Los Angeles who is a representative of the Lincoln National Insurance Company was in town during the week in the interest of the hospital which has been talked about a great deal but which has never taken any visible form. The interest in the hospital is greater now than ever before and if this present interest holds for a few weeks it is our opinion that results shall be evidenced.

The creamery re-location is going forward with satisfactory progress and is at present writing practically assured. The present delay is due to the securing of some little finance to move the equipment and remodel the building in which it is proposed to house it.

The Chamber of Commerce has been asked by the governor to assist in raising the allotment of Eddy county for the New Mexico exhibition in the Century of Progress Exposition. The county's quota has been placed at $500.00 and of that amount Artesia has raised all of her share but $45.00. Anyone having a subscription that he wants to make toward advertising the state may leave his money at the office.

HOME GROWN ROASTING EARS

South Texas hasn't anything on Paul Terry when it comes to growing roasting ears for an early market. The corn on sale here for more than a week was not imported, but was grown in a three-acre patch of Mr. Terry's southeast of town. This corn was planted early last spring before the last freeze.

Thackeray's "Murder" Thackeray, the famous English novelist, from his study one day heard some friends talking in the street, and opening the window, he shouted, to the amazement and horror of the passers-by: "Wait till I have killed her and I'll be with you!" the "killing," of course, being only in his manuscript.

Ancients Used Concrete Concrete, which has come into such tremendous use in this country, dates its origin far back into antiquity, buildings constructed as long ago as 1600 B. C. are still standing. The Babylonians, Greeks, Egyptians and Romans used the material extensively.

Long Shoes for Nobility In medieval days, drawing out the point of the shoe far beyond the demands of necessity had great approval. Barons might don shoes with points two feet long; ordinary folk, even if they were rich, had to limit the points to a foot.

Canada-U. S. Business Canada imports a large volume of American goods, for the most part manufactures. That country sells to the United States a large volume of pulp wood, newsprint and similar items of a noncompetitive nature.

HEALTH COLUMN

Conducted by Dr. J. R. Earp, Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health.

Native Diet More than one public health nurse has observed that the best nourished among the Spanish-American children of New Mexico are those who subsist on a purely native diet. This is not astonishing. The Spanish speaking people of the southwest have been adapting products of southwestern agriculture to their dietary needs for centuries. They have found out by the trial and error method what is good for them.

A recent news release from the office of information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, points out that tortillas are made from ground corn which has been soaked in lime water. So is assured a supply of calcium; that food element which is of all foods most frequently deficient in our American diet. Chili peppers are very rich in vitamin A. Corn and frijoles supply proteins and carbohydrate. Fat is used freely in cooking. Peppers when used fresh supply vitamin C as well as vitamin A.

No doubt there are elements in the ordinary Anglo diet which will enrich the native diet of New Mexico. Milk is perhaps the most important of these. But the native diet has values that we do well to study and dishes that we Anglos may add with profit to our menus.

EDDY COUNTY WILL GIN 7,995,980 LBS. COTTON TAX FREE

The amount of cotton which may be ginned in states and counties tax-free under the Bankhead compulsory cotton control act was announced Friday by Secretary Wallace at Washington.

The total 10,460,251 bales to which the administration hopes to limit this year's production was distributed among 1,000 counties in 19 states. Texas, the largest producing state, was allowed the largest quota. Ten per cent of each state quota was reserved for future distribution among farmers who may be left out of the allotment when counties begin distributing quotas among individual producers.

Cully A. Cobb, chief of the cotton section, said the quotas were established after a careful examination on each county's production record during the years from 1928-1933 and represented the maximum figures possible in each case.

He added that in case a county was dissatisfied with the quota established, appeals might be taken to the administration within fifteen days.

The quotas were calculated in pounds and in terms of standard weight bale of 478 pounds. Due to the fact that the Bankhead act specified 500 pound bales, an increase of 460,251 bales was made above the 10,000,000 bale limit set in the act.

Within each county individual producers will be required to submit applications for allotments to the county production control committee, showing their record of production during the base period. Blanks for such application will be sent to counties within a few days, Cobb said.

County quotas of tax-exempt cotton included:

STANTON MAKES BOLD ESCAPE LUBBOCK CO. JAIL SUNDAY MORN

Officers of three states Sunday were searching for Ed (Perchmouth) Stanton, condemned West Texas desperado, and three other prisoners, who early Sunday morning slugged a Lubbock, Texas, deputy sheriff and escaped from the Lubbock county jail. Stanton, leader of the plot to escape, is under death sentence for the murder of John C. Mosley, former sheriff of Swisher county, Texas. With Stanton were William E. Doupe, Canadian soldier, under sentence for robbery, Andrew H. Nelson, under sentence for burglary, and J. B. Stephens, also under sentence for burglary. The two latter escaped prisoners are young men.

The four escaped Deputy Sheriff Bedford Carpenter as he and the jail trustees were preparing to serve the four men breakfast. Walking boldly from the jail after administering a beating to Carpenter, the fleeing prisoners captured Walter Posey, vice-president of the First National Bank of Lubbock and Campbell H. Elkins, assistant justice of the peace, who were later released after a wild ride to a spot near Big Spring, Texas.

State and federal officers guarded all roads in New Mexico. It was rumored Sunday morning that Stanton had been seen near Tatum. A United States army plane was flown from Lubbock to

STABILIZATION OF HUGE OIL INDUSTRY IS SOUGHT BY ICKES

WASHINGTON — Two major moves to stabilize the $12,000,000 oil industry were made Saturday by Secretary Ickes.

Seeking to dam the flood of petroleum produced illegally in the vast east Texas field, Ickes, as oil administrator, approved plans by which major companies will purchase surplus gasoline held in storage by east Texas refiners in return for an agreement by the latter that they will not handle illegal crude.

Ickes shortly afterward signed the Pacific coast petroleum agency agreement intended to remedy crude overproduction, reduce surplus gasoline stocks and abolish dumping of gasoline at low prices. This agreement applies to California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada and Arizona.

Where To Go and Things To See On Your 4th of July Trip

MOUNTAINS OFFER MANY ATTRACTIONS

The Sacramento and White mountains offer many attractions for those not familiar with mountain scenery and for those not familiar with all of the mountain territory. The climate of the mountains is delightful at this particular season, the nights are especially inviting. A fire is needed to keep one comfortable in many localities.

Cool spring water, cold enough to make one's teeth ache is another feature to be enjoyed and to be looked forward to in addition to the crisp weather to be enjoyed in the early mornings.

Going westward on highway 83, the family looking for a desirable picnicking place can find the spot at Walnut Grove on entering the Lower Pecos. Traveling up Highway 83, one can either turn to the left just after passing Mayhill and go in the direction of Weed or proceed up highway 83 to Clouderoft. If the traveler wishes to make the left turn, the first place of interest to be visited is the Girl Scout camp, located about four miles up Bear Canyon. Take the first right hand road leading up the canyon after crossing over on the Denny bridge. One may turn back up the road after visiting the Girl Scout camp, go over the Denny hill and on to Weed. Four miles west of Weed is the site of the Sacramento Methodist Assembly. Turn left at entrance, proceed by the caretaker's cabin and on to the assembly grounds. The amount of construction undertaken at the assembly site is no doubt surprising to those who have never visited it. A number of new buildings have recently been erected to care for the assembly gatherings including four dormitories, a large mess hall seating 390 people, an assembly hall, a large cabin erected by the Trinity Methodist church of El Paso, Texas, and some smaller buildings. Several cabin sites have been sold and it is understood that plans are under way to establish the McMurry summer college on a twenty acre tract of land near the main assembly grounds. Educational facilities leading to the master's degree will be offered students of the Texas institution.

The Artesia Sacramento camp is located two miles west of the Methodist assembly. A sign at the entrance of the ground directs the traveler to the cabins located on the hillside. Thirteen cabins are located on a circular drive. Water is supplied the camp from two springs, located in the upper part of the grounds about two hundred yards apart. Furnished cabins are available for those who want to visit in the camp.

Six miles above the Sacramento camp is the Boy Scout camp in a very pretty location. Because of the height spruce and Quaking Aspen abound. A couple hundred yards above the camp is the private camp of Minor Huffman. One of the most beautiful drives in the mountains is the drive to the summit in the region of the Sacramento river. Take the first left hand turn about two miles west of the Sacramento camp just after passing Potato Canyon.

Clouderoft Rodeo

Back around through Weed and on to Highway 83, the traveler can find a public camp ground about a quarter of a mile above Mayhill. Proceeding up the highway to Clouderoft, a distance of twenty miles the summit is reached. At Clouderoft on July 3 and 4, the visitor is promised plenty of entertainment with a rodeo and dance. The rodeo starts in the afternoon at 1:00 o'clock the 3rd and 4th. In as much as the hotel accommodations are limited, the traveler is advised to bring plenty of blankets.

From the south edge of the town of Clouderoft the White Sands to the southwest beyond Alamogordo can be seen. The sands resemble a huge white cloud and may be reached over highway 83. If one cares to make the loop, take Highway 70 at the intersection of Highway 83 and 70, go by Tularosa and around through the Indian reservation and beyond the reservation is Ruidoso, three miles off the highway. At Hondo, one can turn to the left and visit old historic Lincoln, about ten miles off the highway. Highway 70 may be followed into Roswell and on home.

Hope Celebration

Starting with the night of July 2nd, The Hope Civic League plans a big celebration lasting over the 4th. Amusements include dancing each night on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th, ball games, pony races and other features for the two days. The entertainment is being sponsored by the Hope Civic League with the Hope baseball club cooperating.

Other places of interest which may be visited over the 4th of July include Sitting Bull Falls, located in the edge of the Guadalupe mountains, about sixty-two miles southwest of here, which may be reached by traveling highway 2 some twenty-seven miles south and turning to the right on the Queen road. Camp tables have been provided for those who wish to picnic. Few places equal Sitting Bull Falls for sheer beauty.

Black River Village, five miles southwest of the Cavern highway, is another beauty spot to be visited over the 4th or on any week end trip. Running water and Cottonwood trees furnish an ideal place for the picnicker.

El Paso and Juarez, Mexico, the former mecca of the thirsty may be reached by traveling the Cavern highway to White's camp and turning to the left, the distance from Artesia is approximately 206 miles.

PECOS RODEO

By far the largest rodeo ever held in this country is scheduled for July 3 and 4 at Pecos, Texas, when the fifth annual American Legion rodeo will be held. The event, started five years ago, has grown in size and popularity every year, and the 1934 show promises to surpass by a wide margin anything of the kind ever held before.

Two full days of bronc riding, bulldogging, horse racing, steer roping, and other events will draw a large crowd from all over the country. Expert rodeo performers from far and near will compete for the purses, which are larger than in the past, and which are far greater than others offered in rodeos on the same date anywhere in west Texas.

Dances and other celebrations will take place during both evenings.

CLOVIS TO HOLD GOLF TOURNAMENT

Coinciding with the big celebration to be held at Clovis to open and dedicate the new City Park and swimming pool, and to observe Independence Day, the first annual New Mexico and West Texas open golf tournament will be held at Clovis July 2, 3 and 4.

Between 75 and 100 of the best pros and amateurs of this region are expected to enter the tourney. More than a score of prizes will be offered by the Clovis Municipal Golf club, sponsor of the tournament.

BIG 4TH AT CARLSBAD

Visitors to Carlsbad Caverns National Park on July fourth, will enjoy the added and unusual attraction at the Carlsbad municipal bathing beach where a five hundred dollars night fireworks display will be provided under the auspices of the American Legion of the Cavern City. The display will be fired from the east bank of the Pecos river to create the added beauty from the reflections in the greenish blue mineral spring water at the bathing beach.

The American Legion will conduct water contests, baseball games, dances and a bathing beauty contest, and give away a new automobile in addition to the fireworks display.

Mr. and Mrs. George Frisch and daughters Misses Vesta and Margaret returned Tuesday evening from a vacation trip to points in Nebraska. Mr. Frisch attended a reunion of his regiment of the Spanish War Veterans and they visited relatives.

LOCALS

Elaine Feemster spent the week end in Lubbock visiting with friends.

Mrs. Wendell Welch and children are spending the summer at the Sacramento Camp. They are in the Hannah cabin.

Dr. C. Russell spent the week end with Mrs. Russell and Chester and wife at the Russell cabin at the Sacramento camp.

ORGANIZE FIELD MEN LAND USE PLANNING

Organization of field forces to assist in formulating and carrying out land use plans which will develop as a result of the activities of the program planning division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has been started with the announcement by Chester C. Davis, administrator, of the appointment of directors for nine regions and the designation of those regions into which the country has been divided for land use planning. New Mexico is located in Region IX, which also included California, Nevada, Utah, Colorado and Arizona. P. V. Cardon, director of the State Agricultural Experiment Station, Logan, Utah, is regional director of the six states and L. H. Hauter, Agricultural Economist of the New Mexico State College, is in immediate charge of the work for New Mexico.

Regional directors are establishing contacts between federal and state agencies so that the long-time programs of each may be coordinated toward the same objectives. They are starting preliminary investigations as the initial effort toward establishing a definite program of land utilization in each of the nine regions and are aiding state agencies with the problems involved in the utilization of sub-marginal lands.

Services of the regional directors will be available to the sub-marginal land committee which is directing the expenditure of 25 million dollars appropriated thru the Federal Surplus Relief Corporation for government acquisition of sub-marginal land. Areas in which land use problems are similar have been grouped together to form the various regions.

HOW BIG A LUBRICATING JOB CAN A QUART OF OIL DO? HERE is a record of motor protection and low consumption that conclusively proves how big a lubricating job a quart of oil can do. Six strictly stock cars, with one fill—five quarts only—of six different, nationally advertised motor oils were run to "destruction" at the Indianapolis Speedway under AAA Supervision. Under exactly similar conditions the cars were operated until their motors failed. Here is the result: Oil No. 4 went 1713.2 miles; Oil No. 6 went 1764.4 miles; Oil No. 5 finished 1815.9 miles; Oil No. 1 completed 2266.8 miles. Oil No. 3 totalled 3318.8 miles. Oil No. 2, New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil, piled up the amazing total of 4729 miles! That was 3000 miles farther than the first oil to go out, and 1400 miles farther than the last oil to fail. Such demonstrated superior qualities of greater film strength, ability to withstand increased heat, resistance to dilution—such proved performance should guide your future oil purchases. WEATHER MAY PERMIT PLANTING OF MORE ACRES NEXT YEAR

WASHINGTON—Unless both farm administration officials and the weather change, wheat and cotton farmers are going to plant quite a few million acres more for the 1935 harvest than they did for 1934.

The weather has cooperated almost too heartily in the farm administration's effort to cut down the wheat surplus.

The drought in the west and mid-west this summer, in addition to giving Secretary Wallace and his assistants many uneasy moments, has caused a lot of reflection. The realization came that another substantial acreage reduction effort plus another drought might put this country into the position of being forced to import wheat.

That possibility is remote but the political effects would be devastating on the entire farm program. Then too, the secretary and his aides are contemplating setting up reserves of wheat, and possibly cotton, to be held off the market unless an unusual need arises.

The combination of the voluntary production adjustment plan and the Bankhead law, however, has trimmed acreage, final figures of which will be nearer 25,000,000 than 30,000,000.

The average over the past few years has been around 41,000,000. The Bankhead law set the number of bales which might be produced tax free at 10,000,000, although leeway was provided which raised this to about 10,500,000.

The cotton carry-over was 13,000,000 bales before the plow-up campaign of 1933. Experts say that it will be slashed to about 10,500,000 bales by July.

Should the Bankhead law work as is expected and consumption not slump unduly, a carry-over of 7,000,000 bales is in sight for next year.

The reports from the cotton belt tell of dry weather in the west and too much rain in the east. An unusually short yield might pull the cotton surplus down to normal.

In any event, the maximum reduction next year under the voluntary reduction program is 25 per cent of the base average of around 40,000,000 acres, as compared to the 40 per cent aimed at this year.

On the basis of present conditions, the number of acres the farm administration may aim at next year will be somewhere between 33,000,000 and 35,000,000.

SCOUT NEWS

Display of the flag continued: When the flag of the United States is being flown other than from a staff it should be either vertically or horizontally. When decorations are desired use bunting, never a flag purely for ornamentation.

When displayed over the middle of the street, the flag should be suspended vertically with the union to the north, in an east and west street and to the east in a north and south street.

When used on a speakers platform the flag should be displayed above and behind the speaker. It should never be used as a drape to cover the speaker's desk or about the platform. If flown from a staff it should be at the speaker's right.

When used in unveiling a statue or monument the flag should not be allowed to fall to the ground but should be carried aloft to wave out, forming a distinctive feature during the remainder of the ceremony.

When flown at half staff the flag is first hoisted to the peak, then lowered to half staff position, but before lowering the flag for the day it is raised again to the peak.

When used to cover a casket the flag should be placed so that union is at head and over the left shoulder. The flag should never be lowered into the grave nor allowed to touch the ground.

If displayed in church by the congregation the flag is at the congregation's right on staff. If used in chancel the flag is on staff at minister's right. Any other flag displayed at the same time is placed at the opposite side.

To indicate mourning if flown from a fixed staff the flag is flown at half mast. If carried on small staff as in a parade two streamers of black crepe are tied to the spearhead of the staff, being allowed to float freely.

Crepe is used on a fixed staff only by order of the president.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely." (Rev. 22-17).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Divine Science derives its sanction from the Bible, and the divine origin of science is demonstrated through the holy influence of truth in healing sickness and sin."

Jim King was acquitted by a jury in district court at Alamogordo of charges growing out of the death of J. F. Haynes, day marshal of Tularosa, who was ridden down by King's horse. The state tried to prove King rode him down intentionally, whereas King and defense witnesses testified the cowboy was unable to swerve his horse quickly enough to avoid Haynes who stepped out into the path of the animal.

King admitted, during his testimony, he had been drinking.

CAREER OF INSULL IS LIKE NAPOLEON'S

When Napoleon sat on the ocean-bound shores of the little island of St. Helena and looked out over the limitless expanse of the Atlantic he little dreamed that in another country on another day another Napoleon would be sitting in his cell gazing out through the barred windows at Lake Michigan.

Like his counterpart Samuel Insull has returned from his self-imposed exile a tragic figure of defeat, little resembling the imposing person he once was when he was Chicago's biggest citizen and controller of the vast utility corporation in the world.

Today he contemplates the long and fascinating past, studded with memories, both precious and repellant, that have played such an important part in the history and building up of America, while he awaits the fact of justice at the hands of his neighbors.

For Insull, when he first came to these shores from his English home, was a mere young man, eager to learn but eager, too, to be a success. Back in London he had started as an errand boy for the foreign representative of Thomas A. Edison; and when Edison himself finally needed a secretary Samuel was called to act in that capacity.

At Menlo Park he not only became Edison's secretary but also his business manager, furnishing the financial genius that built his companies. He was one of the first executives of what is known as the General Electric Company, even then being recognized as a veritable financial magician.

Insull Becomes Powerful
 Ten years after landing the Chicago Edison Co. ran into difficulties and Insull, at his own recommendation, took over the presidency. It was from that moment on when he began his career as the powerful and dominating so-called utilities magnate throughout the middle west, controlling an empire as vast in its ramifications as any country.

Perhaps Insull would have weathered the storm that followed when this country entered the depression had it not been for the shaky foundation upon which he had built his enterprise, for his system of pyramiding one company on top of the other as a means of financing them became, finally, too top-heavy.

In 1932 came the crash. A receiver was appointed for the Middle West Utilities, greatest of his companies. Stocks in all the Insull companies fluctuated unbelievably. When his great holding company collapsed Insull, too, went down.

Then he fled. Everyone knows the story of his wanderings over Europe from the moment he booked first-class passage, still a free man without an indictment against him. The story of his final capture and his return to this country in disgrace is known to every school boy.

And now, like Napoleon, he sits gazing out over the waters, his fate in the hands of the people who once trusted him so greatly that they were willing to spend their last bit of change with him—yeah, even to licking his boots.

Apple Growers Seek to Destroy "Worms"

Apple growers in the vicinity of Roswell are seeking to eradicate the apple worm and are asking that all owners destroy those containing the pests.

They have agreed to repay the owner with good apples, providing they have a crop. Trees, it is said, have been affected by fruit shipped into the district from outlying regions.

As soon as the consent of the owners has been secured, a crew of workers, under the supervision of a reliable apple man, will start the work of destroying the apples.

Someone has said that the difference between a brave market writer and a foolish one is but little. The former ventures to prophesy just enough while the latter just a little too much. The one is wise and brave, the other rash and foolish, yet they are very closely related. Our prognostications in the past have happily been in tune with the market but the time is here when anyone can easily hit a discord.

It seems sensible now to be content with the following statements of facts and conditions:

1. The crop is holding up well in the west regardless of heat and winds.
2. Seasonable temperatures and moderate rains were favorable crop factors in Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee and the Carolinas.
3. Torrential rains over parts of Louisiana and Mississippi have retarded progress but in other parts the crop has made excellent progress.
4. July liquidation has been accomplished mainly by transfers into the more distant months which statement deserves more than passing notice and is a wealth of information to some.
5. Sterling is under pressure but is being supported by control operations.
6. The crop of 1934 has begun moving. The first bale having been ginned by the Alto Bonito Gin Co. in the Rio Grande valley of Texas and was sold in Houston to L. R. C. Towles for $500.00. Millions to follow. Oh, boy, that they might all bring as much (is the wish of the producer). But how about the consumer?
