Lack Of Forage Causes Black Bear To Move To The Ranges

Two Animals Killed on Watts Ranch and One on Runyan Ranch; Two Seen in the Cottonwood Area Recently.

"Thar's bar in them thar hills," and the "bars" have kept coming, if we may believe the various reports, until they have reached the Cottonwood community. Ranchers say it is the lack of forage in the mountains that has caused the black bears to seek better pasturage and only once in the past twenty-five years has there been the wholesale migration of bears that has been witnessed the past two weeks. More than a score of bears have been sighted in the settlements to the southwest, west and northwest.

Edd Watts, rancher of the Dunken area, was probably the first rancher to kill a bear after they had molested his sheep. Using dogs, a small male bear was treed and shot and another another bear weighing 300 pounds or better was shot while being trailed by the dogs on the Watts ranch. Frank Runyan, Pecos rancher, is also said to have killed a bear while the animal was in the act of killing one of his sheep.

Two bears are said to have made their appearance on the Cottonwood and their presence has caused some uneasiness among farm hands irrigating at night. In fact the farm hands in some places say twelve hours of irrigation ought to be enough. A farmer who was cranking his tractor, saw a bear jump up in the weeds and left his tractor just as the engine started and the tractor had to go without a guide until the farmer ran to his house. Another rancher in the Crow Flat community about sixty-five miles southwest of here, went out to grease his windmill. After his horse became frightened he took up to see a big black bear sitting on top of the windmill tower.

TAX SCHEDULES ARE FIXED--RATES ARE LOWERED THIS YEAR

The 1934 tax rate will be substantially lower than the 1933 rate, data recently compiled at the office of Assessor Westaway shows. Due to potash and mineral development the total county valuation has also been boosted from $10,014,938 in 1933 to $12,035,741 in 1934, an increase of $2,020,803.

The state tax rate remains the same or a total of $.60, while the county rate has been reduced from $2.5047 to $1.6525. The Artesia tax rate for 1934 is $3.1292 as against $3.9514 for 1933.

It was said the little girl got hold of a box of pills Thursday evening and consumed the entire box. She was rushed here for medical aid and shortly after reaching here went into convulsions, which resulted in her death Friday morning.

The body was returned to Pinon and burial was made Friday afternoon. Mr. Tanner is postmaster at Pinon.

LOCAL ENROLLMENT IS SLIGHTLY UNDER THAT OF LAST YEAR

The second week of school started off with an enrollment slightly under that of the first month for last year. Because of the scarcity of houses in the community, some thought the enrollment would run much higher than that of last year. However, the initial enrollment is perhaps largely affected by the early maturity of the cotton crop. The enrollment in the high school is 192 as compared with 210 for the first month last year; 192 for the junior high school as compared with 199 last year; 379 in Central as compared with 424 last year. The school has been supplied with free geographies in grades four thru the eighth. The school has also been supplied with free readers through the first three grades. Newly adopted books which the pupils will have to furnish will be on hand this week.

Troyce and Carney Heard, sons of Mr. and Mrs. B. Heard of Lakewood, last week entered the Chillicothe Business College at Chillicothe, Missouri.

SEVEN LOCATIONS MADE IN OIL AREA DURING PAST WEEK

Seven new locations staked the past week indicate interest has not abated in the Eddy and Lea county districts. New wells announced include the Shepherd 2-B, of the Texas Company, SE sec. 6-26-37, announced last week as tentative; Atlantic-Kirby, Woolworth No. 1, NE sec. 26-24-36; Oil Well Drilling Co., and Southern Petroleum Exploration, Grimes No. 1, SE sec. 20-18-38; Stanolind Oil and Gas Co., A. H. Myers No. 2, NE sec. 21-24-36; Skelly Oil Co., Coleman No. 1, NW sec. 17-21-36; Gypsy Oil Co., Cooper No. 1, NE sec. 23-24-36; Pecos Valley Gas Co., Vandagriff No. 9, SE sec. 5-17-28, to be drilled for gas.

Among the completions recorded the past week are the State No. 1 of the Gypsy Oil Co., sec. 9-21-36, drilled to a total depth of 3910 feet and flowed 253 barrels in five hours thru casing with 2,000,000 feet of gas. The Repollo Oil Co., State No. 1, sec. 19-21-36, drilled to a total depth of 3940 feet and flowed 235 barrels open with an estimated 10,000,000 feet of gas. The Tidewater Oil Co., State-Foster No. 2, sec. 8-21-36, was completed at 3906 feet and made an open flow of 2397 barrels daily with an estimated 3,000,000 feet of gas.

A test between the Cooper and Jal districts which has been closely scouted is the Ike Ogg No. 1 of the Texas Company, sec. 35-24-36, shut down at 3156 feet for repairs. In Eddy county, the Etz, Hammond and Keyes, State No. 1, sec. 16-17-28, is drilling below 1820 feet. The Skelly Oil Co., Lee No. 1 in sec. 23-17-31, regarded as one of the best prospects for major production in eastern Eddy county, is shut down fishing for tools at 3515 feet. Tigner, Etz and Keyes, Keyes No. 1 in sec. 10-17-28, is drilling below 1750 feet.

Boyd Williams of Elk was trading in town Saturday.

FARMERS ASSURED OF INCREASING INCOME

New Mexico farmers will receive $2,945,000 of the probable total of $779,402,000 to be disbursed in rental and benefit payments in the 1933, 1934 and 1935 wheat, corn-hog, tobacco and cotton adjustment programs, according to an estimate issued by the finance division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. "These benefit payments," says Louis H. Bean, economic adviser to the adjustment administration, "a large part of which added materially to the farm income in the calendar year 1934, help to render assurance that farmers, as a whole, will have a larger cash income in 1934 than in 1933." Mr. Bean states that while production has been greatly reduced, farm commodity prices are enough higher than in 1933 to more than offset the reduced value of production and that, with benefit payments, the farm buying power of the nation as a whole, will be greater than during last year.

Of the estimated total payments, a preliminary report shows that up to August 25, a total of $282,882,517 had been disbursed in rental and benefit payments. These payments to producers co-operating in the various adjustment programs, were made as follows: $152,510,793 to cotton producers; $15,773,785 to tobacco growers; $67,781,951 to wheat farmers; $46,815,988 to corn-hog producers.

CITY MANAGER TO CONVENTION IN SANTA FE

George Frisch, city manager, accompanied by Mrs. Frisch and his two daughters, Misses Vesta and Margaret, left Sunday for Santa Fe to attend a water works convention. Mr. Frisch was scheduled to appear on the program one of the days during the session. They are expected home some time today.

HOME CANNING TO BECOME IMPORTANT INDUSTRY LOCALLY

Home canning has assumed sufficient importance in this area at the present time to establish the middle valley as a canning center. Before the fall season closes it has been roughly estimated that farmers and truck growers will have canned more than 100,000 cans of tomatoes. This estimate covers operations of the small canning plants and not the number of cans, which will be laid away in the family larder by the average family.

It has been predicted that the farming area will be cut up into smaller truck patches and that home canning will assume an increasing important position among the cash crops grown locally.

LIVELY BIDDING AT THE STATE OIL LEASE SALE SEPTEMBER 10

The state oil lease sale held Monday at Santa Fe did not net the state a sum as large as on the previous month, but was regarded as very satisfactory and bidding was spirited on some tracts.

Tract No. 1, including 1,004 acres, in twp. 16, ranges 28, 29 and 30, was sold to Olen F. Featherstone of El Paso, Texas, for $164.47. Tract No. 2, containing 1,122.59 acres and located in 16-32, was sold to H. A. Davidson of Los Angeles, California, for $132.26. Tract No. 3, containing 1,923.85 acres and located in 14-34, sold to the Phillips Petroleum Co. for $1,107.00 against one other bidder. There was no bid on tract 4. Tract 5, containing 520 acres and located in 16-20-32, sold to the Texas Company for $1,107.60 against two other bidders. Tract 6, containing 2,023.72 acres and located in twp. 13-14, range 38, sold to the Phillips Petroleum Co. for $5-111.00 against two other bidders. Tract 7, containing 1,484.92 acres and located in twp. 14, ranges 37 and 38, sold to the Shell Petroleum Corp. for $757.61 against one other bidder.

No bids were submitted on tracts 8 and 9. Tract 10, containing 1,480 acres and situated in 15-37, sold to W. E. Lee of Tucson, Arizona, for $370.00. Tract 11, containing 880 acres and located in 14-36, received no bids. Tract 12, containing 80 acres and located in 16-19-37, attracted nine bidders, mostly major companies. Competition was stiff and the tract brought the best price per acre of any lease in the sale. It was bid in by the Humble Oil and Refining Co. for $1,400 or for an average price of $22.50 per acre.

No bids were received on tracts 13, 14 and 15. Tract 16, containing 320 acres and located in sec. 11 and 16-17-34, was bought by the Ohio Oil Co. for $803.00. SIMMS MAY ENTER GOVERNORS RACE

ALBUQUERQUE—John Simms, former justice of the state supreme court and Albuquerque attorney, Tuesday announced he would be a candidate for governor on the democratic ticket this fall if the state convention should nominate him.

Answering an inquiry sent by Frank Angel, San Miguel county democratic chairman, as to whether he would run, Simms said: "... if the democratic convention sees it to offer me the nomination for governor I will accept it and make the race. I have made no campaign for the nomination, preferring to leave the convention absolutely free to do what it considers best for the party and the state.

"Whoever is nominated must realize that all past factions and differences must be forgotten and we must go forward as a united party behind the policies of the president to a greater victory in November."

Angel's inquiry sent in the form of a telegram said: "Many of our people are desirous or seeing you run for governor and are anxious to know if the nomination were tendered you at the democratic convention would you accept."

COTTONWOOD ENROLLMENT ABOVE THAT OF LAST YEAR

The enrollment at both the Upper and Lower Cottonwood is above last year. A full attendance at either school is usually prevented in the early fall due to the cotton picking season. Tabulations of the attendance at Lower Cottonwood school at the close of last week gave the attendance between forty-five and fifty according to Ray Zumwalt, principal. The enrollment at Upper Cottonwood reached fifty-eight Monday, I. H. Burgess, principal, stated.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. May of Clovis spent Sunday and Monday here visiting relatives.

The biggest and best rains of the season visited the Dunken section Friday and Saturday. The rain Friday which fell with considerable hail amounted to two inches or more, Ed Watts, rancher, reports. The hail stones were too small to do much damage. The rain extended only a short distance east of the Dunken store.

Mrs. Roberts Pioneer Dies Last Night At Roswell Home

Operated Ranch Lodging House Here a Number of Years and Was Postmistress of Stegman; Came Here in 1873.

Mrs. Sallie Roberts, aged about 80, pioneer resident of Artesia, died at her Roswell home last night after an extended illness. Mrs. Roberts, one of the most colorful characters of the Pecos valley pioneers, came to this section in 1873. She was the daughter of James Chisum, well known among the early day ranchers.

For several years after coming here she operated a ranch lodging house on North Rose Lawn avenue, about where the residence of Ward Cave is now located. Prior to the establishment of Artesia she was postmistress of Stegman, the name of this locality before it was changed to Artesia.

Numbers of early day Artesia residents spent the night at the lodging house operated by Mrs. Roberts. S. W. Gilbert says he spent the night at the lodging house along with several other newcomers. The next time he came to what is now Artesia, there was not a sleeping room available, so he spent the night in a straw stack.

At one time the Chisums owned practically all of the land on which Artesia is located. The Clayton and Stegman addition was named partly for Mrs. Roberts, whose name was then Stegman. Her father also owned several pieces of land here and there is a Chisum addition in northwest Artesia.

Mrs. Roberts lived here until about fifteen years ago, moving at that time to Roswell. She is survived by two sons, Fred and John Roberts of Kansas. Funeral arrangements are pending.

BIG INCREASE IN OIL FIELD SCHOOLS

Schools located in some of the Lea county oil districts are expected to show 100 percent increase in attendance before the close of the present year. At Jal the enrollment last year was seventy in the grade school and twenty in the high school. This year the Jal grade school enrollment has already passed the 111 mark and twenty-five in the high school. The number of school teachers at Eunice was increased from two to three over last year and it is thought more teachers will be necessary immediately.

SEARCHERS FAIL TO FIND WILD MAN OF THE QUEEN SECTION

Search for a wild man in the Queen community in southwestern Eddy county by two Eddy county deputy sheriffs, a national guard officer and a posse of ten citizens ended Friday without success. The man is alleged to have terrorized the community for more than a month, robbing sheep camps and ranches. He is believed to be hiding in some of the numerous caves. Murphy Hayhurst, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Syferd of Artesia, and rancher of that section, surprised the wild man last week and shot at him, but is believed to have missed. While Hayhurst had gone to a neighboring ranch about six miles away, the wild man harried a goat and ate it near the Hayhurst ranch house.

The wild man, said to be active as a deer, is of average height and weight. He is usually clean shaven, but wears black hair well below his shoulders.

WARNING TO BIRD HUNTERS

Carl Gordon, deputy game warden, has issued a warning to bird hunters not to kill quail out of season. Mr. Gordon says he has found evidence southeast of town where quail have been illegally killed.

PUZZLES IN PLACE NAMES

A Chicago paper has embarked on a campaign of education and hopes to so change all of Chicago that the names of two streets will be pronounced alike and correctly by every Chicagoan. It goes a little farther with other place names as a matter of suggestion, but it centers its efforts on two names, Devon and Goethe streets, and hopes, within a generation or two to teach most people how the names should be pronounced, to induce them to pronounce the names correctly, and eventually to reach the street car conductor in the campaign. It would pronounce Devon with a short e sound, accent on the first syllable; Goethe as Gatey. It admits that pronunciation of the last named may be objected to, but points out that there is no English equivalent for the German.

A Nebraskan who journeyed to the southwest not long ago found place names a task to master. He was instantly corrected when he said Gila (long i sound) and found the natives pronouncing it Eela, even treating the g as silent. He stumbled over Albuquerque and Raton and did little better with La Junta and Taos. He was puzzled and confused at the ease with which natives tripped these names from the tongue's end.

And then he looked at a Nebraska map. He thought there he would find few names that puzzled or even left doubt. In that search he found such names as Minnachadua and Keya Paha for rivers; Bodare, Koshopah, Valyrang, Shebesta and Sybrant as postoffices, and other places that puzzled, both as to spelling and sounding.

The Chicago paper has restricted its efforts to two streets. Some measure of success may be accorded if it is persistent, but to take in the whole field of place name pronunciation would spell defeat. There is too much to learn and possibly may not conform to local pronunciation. We have an instance proving that in Nebraska.—Lincoln, Nebraska, Journal and Star.

LIBERTY

Because of the present social unrest, a great deal is being said and written at the present time as to whether the American people will change their ideas of liberty and of whether or not the right of a citizen to own property will eventually be abolished. The Liberty League, a non-partisan organization, has risen to combat efforts to change or do away with liberties enjoyed for over 300 years under our present form of government.

Regardless of how much endorsement we give to governmental endeavors under the present national administration, we should be broadminded enough to admit opposition to some of our national administration policies will be wholesome. We have a suspicion that the Nazi reign in Germany and the Bolshevik regime in Russia, worse in many respects than an absolute monarchy, were brought about by a diffident acquiescence of public opinion. European nations may laugh at us for our seeming inability to control gangsters and murderers, but still we retain the right of free speech and the right to own property.

And again we have a suspicion that possibly the moral fiber has been weakened among an alarming percent of the American people. Certainly it has been clearly demonstrated that some of our modern-day people do not have the stamina to face adversities with the same courage as our forefathers. They seem to be willing not only let the government feed them now, but give no indication that they will make a serious effort at self support in the future. Efforts to end poverty may result in ending individual initiative, the force that has made the American nation an outstanding one among other countries of the world.

NATURALIZED CITIZENS

It has been called to our attention that there has been some solicitation among the business people of Artesia to secure funds for the celebration of Mexico's independence day by the Mexican population. One business man said he did not contribute anything because he felt the Mexican population who claimed citizenship in the United States should be good enough citizens to celebrate the national holidays of the United States. Possibly a great deal of the blame can be laid to thoughtlessness. Here is an opportunity for some organization to teach Americanism, if our citizenship should be measured up to its full responsibilities.

CAUTION

At this season of the year, traffic hazards can be largely eliminated with proper caution in passing the school grounds and more especially the grade schools. A near-accident Sunday morning in front of the Presbyterian church brings home the necessity of caution. A motorist passing the church was suddenly faced with a child, who had darted from behind a parked auto and became paralyzed with fear. Screaming, he stood still while the driver ground his breaks. When a stop was made the child reached out and touched the car bumper.

INCREASED WELFARE WORK

The ending of the cotton picking season will bring increased burdens on the local welfare board, unless we miss our guess. Large numbers of cotton pickers have come into the valley from outside points and the present prospects are that there will be too many pickers for the cotton to pick, which means the crop will be gathered quickly and there will be less work for both the local and foreign labor.

PICKED UP ON MAIN

Dick Attebery still insists that the car that brought death to its driver last week at the dip west of Espulla wasn't going eighty miles, unless a Ford was pushing it.

Up at Espulla they are getting pretty tough. They even electrocute kitty pussies. Last week when a cat crawled into the bottom part of an electric ice box at the Rambo store, the animal caused a burned out motor, and created a blaze that threatened the store building. We were under the impression that neither Mr. nor Mrs. Rambo believed in capital punishment.

Don't Lend Your Car to Politicians

A Carlsbad newspaper recently published a comment on the loan of the Rufus Wallingford car to a politician to go out to the country to church in and the fact that the car came back "banged" up. As a matter of fact the Carlsbad news item was "banged." The car was not loaned to a politician and furthermore the car was not used to go to church in. Hear the true story of this controversy from the fourth member of the ill-fated party. A banker, a lawyer and a newspaper man started out of Artesia with his honor, Governor A. W. Hockenhull, on about the 15th day of June with the ultimate destination being the Sacramento Methodist assembly. The assembly grounds were made with every member of the party duly sober. In the meantime the Dodge car furnished through the courtesy of Wallingford was herded over the Reeves hill detour, the place where the Penasco river is crossed several times and in these crossings several ghastly, big, ugly rocks stuck up to embarrass the motorist and it was at one of these crossings presumably the last one, that caused the damage to the car. The auto may have hit a big rock with the front axle, the same rock damaging the oil pan and creating the muffler. Anyway it was done so silently that none of the ill-fated party heard a single sound and still they were duly sober, mind you. Anyway a stop was made at the assembly grounds and the party proceeded on to the Boy Scout camp and on to Cloudford where another stop was made. At this point, the banker, who was doing the driving, discovered a bent place in Wallingford's radiator and wondered how Wallingford had damaged his car.

And here's the interesting part of the controversy. A day or so later Wallingford started to the mountains with C. J. Dexter, president of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce. Dexter suddenly discovered something had happened to Wallingford's Dodge and broke the sad news, whereupon Wallingford is alleged to have begun jumping up and down and tearing his hair.

The trip was supposed to have been in the interest of the community and of highway 83. When the question came up who would settle for the damage, it was decided to pass the hat. Our contention is that if Dexter had never told Wallingford, nobody would have been the wiser and the boys could have saved around $2.00 to $3.00 apiece. As the matter now stands, we think Dexter should ante at least $10.00. Instead he put in his spare time trying to remember who the fourth member of the party was.

Acknowledging that business conditions are bad, there are still some people who, now that things are on the up-and-up, did not realize how bad things were, as in the instance of the young man of Jewish extraction who, when he was informed that there had been a fire in the White House in Washington, exclaimed, "My gosh, I didn't know things were that bad."

"How is it?" inquired the plumber, arriving at last to mend a broken water pipe.

"Not so bad," replied the householder. "While we were waiting for you, I've taught my wife to swim."

"A funny thing happened to my mother in Berlin."

"I thought you said you were born in London."

A naval officer fell overboard. He was rescued by a deck hand. The officer asked his preserver how he could reward him.

"The best way, sir," said Jack. "is to say nothing about it. If the other fellows knew I'd pulled you out, they'd chuck me in."

NEWS BRIEFS OF THE CHAMBER COMMERCE

"As Your Chamber of Commerce Is So Is Your City"

By the time this is printed the creamery will have opened for business. This is the realization of a dream many have had in mind for years and the Chamber of Commerce sincerely hopes that the venture will turn out to be a real boon to all who are now interested in selling milk products and any who may engage in that industry.

During these hard times the creamery in west Texas engaged largely in the making of cheese, had to increase its capacity 100 percent to care for the business that came to it. The price paid for its raw products is not known to us but it seems that if in that locality where they had to winter feed heavily and shelter much more than here they could make such an industry profitable then we certainly ought to be able to predict safely reasonable success for the creamery in Artesia where there are many advantages that Texas does not have.

Last week Messrs. Guy Cable and G. B. Easley of north central Missouri stopped in Artesia while en route on a western business trip and made the Chamber their headquarters while in this locality.

They reported what we already know, that Artesia is in the center of the most prosperous looking farming country that they had seen in all their western travels. They certainly were convinced of this fact for after examining some land on which they had lost considerable money on poor mortgage loans, they made it very plain that they would like to invest in this vicinity on good farms with good water rights.

Anyone desirous of having more information regarding the regulations governing the production or handling or processing milk products may secure that information from the Chamber of Commerce of from Mr. Stephen at the creamery.

The state is now engaged in laying new plank creosoted floor on the bridge over the Pecos river east of town. This piece of construction has been badly needed for a long time and will be greatly appreciated by all who travel eastward.

The two pipe line companies are removing the pipe lines from the bridge and are now engaged in the construction of a suspension cable to carry the lines over the river.

RECOVERY MILESTONES POINTED OUT SUNDAY

WASHINGTON—More than 8,000,000 jobs and a billion-dollar increase in farm income were recovery milestones pointed out to President Roosevelt Sunday by Donald Richberg in his last report on new deal achievements.

"You may take profound satisfaction in your leadership and in the achievements of your administration," the secretary of the executive council told his chief. He added that the record was one "of many difficulties and some disappointment but on the whole of great achievement."

"The nation has risen out of the depths of its worst depression," Richberg said, "and is moving steadily forward in the process of a definite economic recovery and is building new defenses against a recurrence of economic ills from which it has been suffering."

"The money expended in these great constructive efforts is, of course, far less than the cost of one year of participation in the world war with its vast destruction of life and property. It has been a small price to pay for a great gain."

Richberg said 15,000,000 applications to national and state employment services within the last 12 months indicated the magnitude of the unemployment problem, and added "it is natural to feel disappointment that there have not been great reductions in unemployment."

is dependent upon the use of electricity. Much of the progress which has been made in the last 50 years was made possible through the utilization of electrical energy. The sudden cessation of all electrical service throughout the country would be one of the greatest of catastrophes. Industry would be tied up—cities would be without lights—you would be without many of the comforts and necessities of life.

Electricity will deserve credit for much of the achievement of Tomorrow, as well as the progress of Yesterday.

EVERY FARMER ASKED TO MAKE AT LEAST ONE ENTRY AT FAIR

ROSWELL, New Mexico—More exhibitors than ever before at the Eastern New Mexico State Fair to be held in Roswell October 3, 4, 5 and 6, is the ambition of the directors of the fair this year. They want every farmer in Eastern New Mexico—or the entire state if possible—to make at least one entry. A complete premium list which will be sent on request provides almost unlimited opportunity for every farmer to compete for the cash prizes, and there is no entry fee in the products department. The management hopes to make this a real showing to the world that despite drought "New Mexico can take it" and produce wonderful crops. Directors point out one of two entries from 150 farmers will do the job in a big way—and they hope to have far greater number of exhibitors than that in the products department.

Old timers day, October 5, will be another big occasion for those who have lived in New Mexico thirty years or longer. An old timers parade in which no motor vehicles will be permitted will be a feature of the morning and the old timers will be guests at a barbecue at noon. The big spectacular opening parade promises this year to exceed previous years, with entries from many points of the state.

A big rodeo each afternoon, to which only amateurs are eligible, will be one of the big entertainment factors. In addition to the usual carnival features at the fair grounds, there will be free entertainment at frequent intervals each day and night. Admission to the grounds is free up to five o'clock in the afternoon after which the nominal charge of ten cents for adults will apply.

U. S. CATTLE TO AUSTRALIA

An exportation of purebred cattle from the United States to Australia is reported by the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture. The lot consisted of 11 Short-horns and 2 Herefords which are to be used for breeding purposes. Prior to shipment, the cattle received thorough veterinary inspection including a blood and tuberculin test to insure their freedom from disease.

Great Britain is the natural source of supply of foundation breeding stock for Australia and New Zealand. For this reason it is regarded as a compliment to the United States livestock industry when Australian breeders purchase such a large shipment here.

Veterinary inspections and official certification of health have become an important phase of international movement of livestock, owing to the rigid requirements that most countries now impose as a means of preventing inroads of livestock disease. Dr. George W. Pope, in charge of international quarantine regulations for the Bureau of Animal Industry, explains that since purchases of livestock by foreign breeders are dependent largely on the health of animals, the bureau conducts rigid tests when necessary in order to insure sound health of livestock to the purchasers.

COLE-GODDARD

At the Methodist Church, South, Saturday evening at sunset, the marriage of Miss Mary Louise Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cole, to Kenneth Goddard, son of Mrs. Frances Goddard, was solemnized with some one hundred and fifty guests attending. The Rev. John Klassen, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, read the impressive ring ceremony of that faith before an altar of beautiful roses and evergreens bordered by six four-point chandelabra holding white tapers. The Rev. Klassen, the groom and the best man, Frank Payne, entered from a door at the right of the pulpit. Next to enter were the bridesmaids, Misses Iva Ruth Glasscock, Marjorie Johnson, Margaret Williams and Irene Nabors, who were ushered in by Claborn Buckner, Roy Goddard, Raymond Buckner and Earl Goddard. The bridesmaids wore silk organdie frocks of pastel shades all of the same fashion and carried arm bouquets of roses and fern. Following the bridesmaids was Miss Effie Fite, maid of honor, who was dressed in a pale blue organdie gown and carried a bouquet of yellow dahlias. Next to enter was Johnny Williams, ring bearer, who carried the ring on a white satin pillow. He was followed by Lillie Ruth Craig and Hachel Scoggins, flower girls, strewing rose petals from small pink baskets in the path of the bride. The flower girls were dressed in baby pink and blue organdie frocks with matching hair ribbons. The bride entered on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a lovely gown of white satin fashioned on extreme lines with a low back a high neck line in front, a cape effect over the arms with a bow that tied in the back at the neck. Her veil was fastened to the head with a small rhinestone band. She carried a bouquet of rose buds and babybreath tied with a bow of tulle. Just before the bridal party entered the church, Curtis Cox, accompanied by Mrs. Geraldine Reed Ferrell on the piano, sang "I Love You Truly." Lohengrin's "Wedding March" was played by Mrs. Ferrell for the professional and the recessional of the party. Following the wedding a number of Miss Cole's personal friends from the younger set were guests at a reception at her home. A three-tiered bride's cake decorated in pastel shades surrounded by white tapers was placed on a table. The bride cut the cake while Mrs.

PRAIRIE CHICKEN CROP IS SHORT

An appeal to sportsmen to forget the prairie chicken hunting this fall was made Monday by J. Stokely Ligon, owner of the Ligon game farm at Carlsbad, says the Carlsbad Current-Argus.

Ligon returned from a tour of Lea, Roosevelt and Harding counties and reported a small chicken crop. About the only birds in evidence were the old ones, he said. Few were raised this year. Hunting chickens this year will seriously impair the future of chicken hunting in New Mexico, he declared.

LARGE INCREASES IN FOOD PRICES WILL BE FOUGHT BY CONSUMERS

A warning to consumers against being stampeded by false rumors about the food situation was issued by Dr. Frederic C. Howe, Consumers' Counsel of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Consumers were urged to follow closely the actual effect of the drought lest they be victimized by unjustified price advances.

"Exaggerated reports are being spread as to prospective increases in the price of foods," said Dr. Howe. "That misrepresentation takes advantage of consumers and exposes them to raids by profiteers. But consumers should follow closely official reports on the movement of food supplies and prices. These will help them to buy wisely and economically, and to spot unwarranted price increases."

"Some food prices will undoubtedly rise, Dr. Howe pointed out, partly in line with usual seasonal changes, partly because of drought-reduced supplies, as in the case particularly of meats and poultry products. But there will be food sufficient for the larger part of the usual American food requirements.

"We are going to give consumers every possible help in judging the fairness of price changes," the Consumers' Counsel stated. "We are going to do everything we can to develop intelligent buyer skepticism, and tell the housewife how to feed her family well on low-priced but nutritious foods."

The Consumers' Counsel's efforts in the face of rising bread and cotton textile prices last summer and fall, Dr. Howe said, had demonstrated the possibilities of checking price advances by informative publicity. By publicizing changes in bread prices in relation to ingredient costs, the public was kept informed as to justified changes. The majority of bakers cooperated and for nearly twelve months the price of bread has kept in close correspondence with legitimate price increases.

LESS CRUST AND MORE FILLING MAKES A SUCCESSFUL SUMMER PIE

One crust's enough for any summer pie. And if that one crust is made of crumbed crackers—wholesome, easily digested and most easily prepared—and filled with a short-cut custard and fruit filling, you will have a perfect summer dessert.

ODESSA TO GET NEW OIL FIELD ROAD SOON

ODESSA, Texas—Grade construction is now under way on a new county highway to connect directly Odessa with the oil fields of eastern New Mexico.

The new route will follow the pavement on state highway 137 to a point about 38 miles north of Odessa, where the new road leading to the west crosses a section of Andrews county about 15 miles to make connection with the Eunice highway of New Mexico to Jal and Hobbs in that state.

The route traverses a section of sand hills and deep sand that has been very difficult to travel, but the highway will now enable oil men to move supplies directly from Odessa to the New Mexico field and reduce driving time to not more than one and one-half hours between the two points.

HEALTH COLUMN

Underweight

Too much attention should not be paid to the child's weight for height and age. This is only a rough index of malnutrition. There are more reliable signs for which the doctor or public health nurse will look in a school examination.

The poorly nourished child may be pale, lazy, with flabby muscles and poor posture; or he may be wiry, nervous and overactive, with no tissue between his hard muscles and his skin.

Underweight may be due to one or a combination of several causes: infection of tonsils or teeth causing loss of appetite, eating at irregular hours with the same result, eating when tired or emotionally upset so that indigestion follows, not having enough to eat due either to poverty or to ignorance of how to choose the right foods, insufficient rest or over-activity so that the young body uses up food faster than its digestive organs can absorb food.

It is a common mistake to think that all malnutrition is due to poverty and that all we need do is to provide a little extra milk to every child who is underweight. This is an example of lazy goodwill.

The public health nurse should be responsible, first for finding out why each is undernourished; then for explaining to the parents what is wrong and how it may be remedied. When the child's poverty prevents the child getting enough food the social welfare worker should be called into consultation—the relief of poverty is the business of the social worker not of the nurse.

In the health survey it was found that the children of New Mexico are better nourished than in the country as a whole. But we have many malnourished children. The proportion is almost twice as high among the children who react positively to tuberculin. Tuberculosis is another infection which does things to the appetite.

"Substance" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Societies and Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 16th. The golden text is: "My God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus." (Philippians 4:19).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." (Hebr. 11:1).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. Truth, life and love are substance, as the scriptures use this word in Hebrews: 'The substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.'"

Sunday school 9:45 a. m. John Simons, superintendent.
Lesson text: Isa. 1:1-31. Now is a good time to enroll in Sunday school. Promotion day will be the fourth Sunday in this month. New classes will be started and many pupils given certificates of promotion to higher classes, this will be a great day in our school. Then, the Christmas holiday with its special programs and treats will be here shortly and if you are not enrolled in Sunday school you may be left out. You need the Sunday school and the Sunday school needs you. We had fifty in attendance last Sunday and our goal is 60 for next Sunday, help us reach this goal!

Morning worship 11:00 a. m.
Subject of sermon: "Daniel in the den of lions." The children will sing at each service, you will want to hear them and remain for the sermon. Almost 100% church attendance from the Sunday school is appreciated by the pastor—let's make it 100%.

B. T. U. 6:30 p. m. Our juniors had all 23 members present last Sunday night with a good grade of 96%. Many of the juniors will be promoted to intermediates soon and we trust they will keep up this good work.

Evening worship 7:30 p. m.
Subject of sermon: "Esau and Jacob." These evening services are planned as pre-revival services and when our evangelist and singer arrives to begin the meeting next month we trust our church will be ready to begin. There were very few vacant seats Sunday night and we have about a hundred seats. More seats will be provided as our crowds increase during our fall enlargement and revival seasons. If you like good spiritual singing and earnest gospel messages you'll enjoy these services. This church makes a contribution to the lives and welfare of every one of you by simply being here. It will help some people because of its administrations. Some will become attendants or members. Yourself, your family, and friends are cordially invited to attend every Sunday—a glad hand awaits you.

NEW STOCK LOANS MADE AVAILABLE

WASHINGTON—Feed loan allowances for female calves, lambs and kids born this year in primary drouth areas, in addition to allowances for mature stock, were authorized today by the farm credit administration.

The administration said the allowances would be available on November 1. They are to be made only on stock primarily for breeding purposes. The total number of animals for which loans are authorized must not exceed the number of mature cows and goats owned by the borrower on April 1, 1934, or of sheep owned within six months prior to that date.

YOUTH OF TODAY IS NOT SPEED CRAZY

DETROIT, Mich.—"The youth of America could hardly be called 'speed-crazy,'" according to H. G. Weaver, director, customers research staff, General Motors Corporation.

"This assertion is based on an analysis of owner reactions, gathered during the past year thru the mailing of over 2,000,000 questionnaires to car owners in all sections of the country. A breakdown of the data on an age basis makes it possible to compare the tastes and desires of youth with those of adults.

"Our analysis shows that the younger generation wants a top cruising speed only three and seven-tenths per hour greater than that voted for by adults. It is interesting too to note that the general subject of safety was stressed more frequently by youth than by the grown-ups, although the point was frequently made by both groups that an extra margin of speed and pick-up is essential to safety in coping with modern traffic conditions.

"The most outstanding point of difference between the young people and the adult group is that an overwhelming majority of the boys and girls want radios in their cars and it was pointed out over and over again that radio equipment makes for slower, safer driving. As one college chap expressed it, 'Even the fastest kind of fox trot doesn't blend nicely with a speed of over 50 miles an hour with waltz-time I find myself slowing down to 40 or less.'

"Youth has always been more interested in questions of automobile design than older people, and during the past 3 or 4 years our surveys prove that this interest is growing more and more intense. Today we are getting higher than 40% returns from some of the lists of younger motorists to whom we have sent

OPEN SEASON ON ANTELOPE

State Game Warden Elliott Barker said Tuesday antelope hunting enthusiasts would have an opportunity to try their luck again this year through a special permit season.

From October 1 to 15 inclusive, special antelope hunting permits will be issued (to cost $5 each). These permits will be limited to 150, and applications must be in Barker's office by September 20.

Over 150 applicants will be determined by drawing.

The area to be open will be the San Augustine plains country between Magdalena and Beaverhead. Hunters will be assigned to areas when they check in at Magdalena. One buck with forked horns will be allowed each hunter.

The idea is to remove old bucks from the herd, Barker said.

Marshall and Miss Mildred Puckett, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Puckett of Hope, are attending college at Altus, Oklahoma.

On the eve of a heavy cotton movement, with the size of the crop practically known, and with greatly reduced consumption as well as potential buying power; we can see nothing in the outlook to justify immediate advances of large proportion.

The number of unemployed tends to intensify an already bad situation resulting from international currency situation. Those countries still clinging to gold find their position increasingly untenable. The future, unless one is gifted with omniscience, cannot be definitely defined or understood, and under such conditions extremely conservative action is the better part of wisdom.

There is but one really sustaining influence visible at the moment, namely, the 12c loan offered on cotton grading low middling or better. With this in mind, and considering all of the other factors and influences bearing on the cotton market, we still are of opinion that sales of cotton made around or above 13.50 are advisable.

FORDS WIN THREE PLACES IN GRUELING PIKES PEAK RACE

COLORADO SPRINGS—Three men who all broke the record waged a spectacular and thrilling contest between themselves in the Labor Day stock car race up Pikes Peak for the Penrose trophy. All three drove strictly stock Ford V-8's with optional equipment, all three had trained together and the race, both in car performance and individual ability, was as near even as is humanly possible.

The fact that all three men smashed the previous stock car record testifies to the closeness of the race.

B. D. Hammond, the winner, had never been in a race before. Angelo Cimino, who finished second, had been in many races but had never been in the prize money. Glen Shultz, who finished third, had won many a Pikes Peak race, once in a stock car but usually in special racing machines in the open event.

Before the race Shultz had predicted that either of the other drivers could beat him. He said that Hammond was a more promising racing champion than any other young driver he had ever watched.

Under the rules of the AAA, the three Fords driven by Hammond, Cimino and Shultz were selected by AAA officials from the stock of the Denver Ford factory branch and then were immediately sealed by the officials, who kept the cars under constant surveillance until after the race.

Hammond's time for the steep, twisting course of just less than twelve and a half miles, ascending nearly 5,000 feet to the 14,109-foot summit of Pikes Peak, was 19 minutes, 25.7 seconds. Cimino was just three seconds slower and Shultz made it in 19 minutes, 39.1 seconds. The previous stock car record, made in 1933 by Al Miller, was 20 minutes, 5 1/5 seconds.

At mile 14, a little over 3 miles from the finish, the three Ford drivers were said to be only one second apart. A little farther on, some children wandered onto the highway in Cimino's path. He was forced to throttle down so that the children would hear his horn and then to slide off the edge of the road to avoid hitting them, thus losing valuable seconds.

Although the stock car race this year was thrown open to all stock cars regardless of price, only the three Ford V-8's were entered. In previous years the stock car event was divided into classes for cars costing less and more than $1,000.

The Pikes Peak race course has an average grade of 7 percent and maximum grades of 10 1/2 percent. It contains 19 switchbacks where the road doubles back on itself and there are 144 other curves in the 12 miles, 2,200 feet, between the starting point, at 9,150 feet altitude, and the finish at 14,109 feet. The race, which must be run mostly in second gear, is a grueling test of automobile stamina, acceleration and roadability, because of the continual throttling down as the drivers skid around the many turns. In the climb, the three drivers made top speeds of from 57 to 62 miles per hour.

RECOUNT PROBABLE IN GOP ELECTION OF MAINE SENATOR

PORTLAND, Maine—Senator Frederick Hale, republican and uncompromising foe of the "new deal" Tuesday night depended on the slender margin of 1,238 votes to send him back to the United States senate for his fourth successive term.

Governor Louis J. Brann (D) whose defeat republicans particularly urged as a symbol of Maine's repudiation of the "new deal" was returned to office with a triumphant majority of more than 33,000 over Alfred K. Ames, conservative retired lumberman. Maine's first democratic governor in 16 years, Brann became the first in more than three quarters of a century to be accorded a second term.

After experiencing the narrow escape from defeat of his long political career, half faced the certainty of a demand for a recount by F. Harold Dubord, his aggressive democratic rival.

Mrs. J. H. Jackson returned last Thursday afternoon from a few weeks visit with her mother and sister in the state of Kentucky.
