Two Oil Areas Connected By Ogg Well Of The Texas Co.

Well Makes 518 Barrels in Test; Fire in Gasser is Extinguished; Seven New Locations Made in Southeastern Area.

Major oil play is centered in the new Cooper district in southeastern Lea county, where two important developments transpired during the past week.

Six of the seven locations staked during the period were in range 36 and are as follows: Amerada Petroleum Co., No. 1 Everett, NW sec. 35-24-36; Simms Oil Co., Woolworth No. 1, NE sec. 35-24-36; Simms Oil Co., Coates No. 1, NE sec. 10-24-36; Texas Company, Everett No. 1, NW sec. 35-24-36; Empire Gas and Fuel Co., Everett No. 1, SW sec. 35-24-36; Tidewater Oil Co., Coleman No. 4, SE sec. 17-21-36.

A location announced for Eddy county is the Van Welch, Jr., State No. 3, NE sec. 22-17-28.

An important test has been completed midway between the Cooper and Jal fields, this being the Texas Company, Ike Ogg No. 1 in sec. 35-24-36. On a recent test flowing open, the Ogg well made 518 barrels of oil in twenty-four hours with 1,500,000 feet of gas. This test was drilled to 3523 feet. Production has been shut in awaiting orders. Since the Ogg test substantiates the theory of continuous production between the two pools, it will no doubt create much more development in this area.

Lea county's most spectacular as well as the most expensive gas well fire has been extinguished in the Coates No. 1 of the Humble Oil and Refining Co., sec. 10-24-36, after six days effort to control the flames. Drilled to 3370 feet, the Coates caught fire when a cigarette smoker is alleged to have thrown a cigarette down near the rig. The well wasted 45,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily before being brought under control. (Continued on last page, column 2)

RAIN FALLS OVER A WIDE AREA ON LAST THURSDAY NIGHT

A general rain fell over this section Thursday night and scattering showers fell Friday afternoon. The fall here Thursday night measured a quarter of an inch and extended over practically the southeastern part of the state and into El Paso, Texas. The moisture falling in the foothills was heavy in places. A fairly heavy rain fell between here and Lovington under the Cap Rock. At Carlsbad the precipitation measured .63 inches.

Late feed on the Cottonwood was damaged by the hail and wind storm Friday afternoon. The Cottonwood gin plant was the center of a heavy rain storm and small hail stones covered the ground in this area.

CAVERN HIGHWAY NEARING COMPLETION

The Cavern road up Walnut canyon is nearing completion. The new highway has been completed for a distance about six miles, from the mouth of the canyon to where the road runs up the mountain side.

COSTLY HALLOWEEN PRANKS WILL NOT BE TOLERATED OCT. 31

Private property will be protected this year during the Halloween season, officers said yesterday. Wanton destruction of property, such as occurred last year, will not be permitted. Every property owner will be deputized as an officer and all offenders will be jailed as fast as they are caught.

Last year the property damage as result of Halloween pranks amounted to several hundred dollars. This year a stern warning has been issued for offenders including all children to forebear Halloween inclinations.

EDDY CO. GRANTED $30,000 CONTINUE CATTLE BUYING PLAN

Three Southeast Counties Are Granted Additional $170,000; Allotment of 20,000 Head of Sheep is Practically Secured.

Three southeastern New Mexico counties have been given an allotment of $170,000 in an extension of the drought relief cattle buying program. Announcement of the allotment was received here Monday. Lea county has been granted $100,000 for slaughtering purposes only. Chaves county has been granted $40,000 to buy and slaughter cattle and Eddy has been granted $30,000 to buy and slaughter. Dr. W. C. Doss said yesterday no details of the extension had been received, but the program might start today.

Eddy county's quota of 20,000 sheep has been practically filled. Only about 2,500 sheep remain to be condemned and sold to fill this quota.

Dr. W. C. Doss, Ed Toner and Joe Lusk were here yesterday and slaughtered fifteen head of cattle from the smaller herds. Dr. Doss stated as soon as the present buying program was completed he would return to his work of giving tuberculin tests to cattle in this area.

OIL FIELD SECTION IS VISITED BY HAIL, RAIN, WIND TUESDAY

A hard rain with hail and wind fell in the Oil Field Tuesday night. The cloud swept in from the southwest and is reported to have inundated portions of the highway between here and Carlsbad and passed to the east. Residents of the Oil Field estimated the rainfall between two and three inches. No damage of any consequence was done by the hail and wind. The rain filled all of the lakes in the region full to overflowing.

P. O. WINDOWS TO CLOSE SATURDAYS

Editor's note: The following statement was made by J. L. Truett, postmaster, relative to closing the general delivery window on Saturday afternoons. Mr. Truett feels that such a move will enable the Artesia office to better serve its patrons. Mr. Truett's statement follows:

"In order to have a full working force on duty at all times to serve the increasing demands of the general public, dispatch all mails and attend all routine office duties and keep the required number of working hours per week, it has become compulsory that this office enact like schedule of all other 1st and 2nd class offices by closing the general delivery windows at noon on all Saturdays. Therefore, the windows of this office will be closed to general delivery service effective Saturday, October 20, 1934, to remain closed until the following Monday morning at 8:30 a. m. All first class and such other mails as possible will be delivered to postoffice box holders and special deliveries made as early as possible immediately after the arrival of such mails at this office.

It is the desire of the personnel of this office to render the very best service possible, therefore, the above changes are being made in the interest of a more prompt and satisfactory service during working hours throughout the week and we earnestly solicit your patience and whole-hearted cooperation in our efforts to serve you."

ORCHESTRA ORGANIZED AT UPPER COTTONWOOD

A junior orchestra has been organized at the Upper Cottonwood school, under the direction of Prof. E. L. Harp. The orchestra thus far consists of five violin and two piano students. It is hoped that several wind instruments may be added to the orchestra before Christmas.

Woman Kidnap Victim Returned Unharmed After A Long Wait

Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll, after six days in the hands of a lunatic kidnaper, was returned safely to her family Tuesday night.

The young society woman, stolen from her home October 10th, was brutally treated at times, but was described as in fairly good condition. She was put to bed at once under a physician's care.

Word of the restoration of Mrs. Stoll brought 500 joyous Kentuckians to the house.

Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., 27, former inmate of insane asylums in Tennessee, was named by the department of justice as the kidnaper. He had been sought since the kidnaping and a formal order was sent out Tuesday night for his arrest. Orders for other arrests went out at Nashville, home of Robinson, and a focal point of the investigation.

Robinson's wife, trailed from Nashville where she received the $50,000, to Indianapolis, was taken in custody and held for possible accessory charges.

Harold Nathan, in charge of department of justice agents here, said that only $50 of the ransom money was recovered when Mrs. Robinson was taken in custody.

The Rev. E. Arnold Clegg, pastor of Capital Methodist Episcopal church, Indianapolis, and his wife were in the automobile in which justice agents found the wealthy kidnap victim, and the alleged kidnaper's wife. The Cleggs were released and the department of justice in Washington announced they were not involved.

"Mrs. Stoll was brutally treated at times," said Nathan, in charge of the forty or more justice agents who rushed into Louisville by air from half a dozen points as soon as the sensational kidnaping became known. "She is in fairly good conditions, however," Nathan added.

He said she had spent six days in an Indianapolis apartment. Solution of the crime stirred Kentucky as nothing had since the Lindbergh case.

As Nathan told briefly of what he had learned from the woman the crowd of happy neighbors surged over the 16-acre Stoll estate. Among them some of the wealthiest people in the state, admonished each other to keep quiet.

The lead that enabled federal agents to rescue the daughter of one of Kentucky's proudest and wealthiest families came when Mrs. Robinson called for the $50,000 ransom package in Nashville. It had been shipped there last Friday by railway express according to directions in the original ransom note.

NEW PLANS FOR THE ERECTION OF CITY'S HOSPITAL REVIVED

Despite reversals suffered several months ago, plans are going forward for the construction of a city hospital and prospects are bright that the present plans will materialize.

It is now proposed to build the plant with FERA labor, using donations by the individuals and business firms to finance the operations. The business firms and individuals in turn would be reimbursed by the city through a bond issue.

A resolution was passed and approved by the City Council at its regular meeting Monday night authorizing the calling of a bond election at the next regular city election next year. Under this proposal bonds not to exceed $15,000 would be voted. These bonds would serve as security for financing a building to cost approximately $25,000.

Arba Green, member of the council, was appointed on a committee to confer with lot owners on Roselawn avenue with reference to securing a building site.

FARMERS VOTE AAA APPROVAL

CHICAGO—Farmers by their own ballot are overwhelmingly in favor of a continuation of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's corn and hog control program for another year.

Nearly complete returns from 500,000 farmers showed a two to one vote of approval on the controversial control feature of the AAA in a poll in the big corn producing states.

DEER SEASON OPENS THURSDAY

The deer, turkey and squirrel season opens next Thursday, October 25th, and runs thru November 15th. The bag limit is one buck, two turkeys and five squirrels. There are closed areas on Turkeys and hunters should exercise care not to invade territory closed to turkey hunting by the game department.

A large number of hunters will be on the ground next Thursday morning at the beginning of the season.

TWENTY-SEVEN MAIL BOXES DESTROYED ON MONDAY NIGHT

Twenty-seven mail boxes on rural route No. 1 were torn down and destroyed sometime Monday night, it was learned Wednesday. Officers investigating at first believed it was the work of boys. At least evidence in their possession lead them to believe that the destruction of the mail boxes was the work of boys.

Officers working on the case have made two arrests, both of the parties arrested are Mexicans and the two are being held for investigation.

William Whitaker and his friend John Wilson arrived Sunday from Moor Park, California, and will spend this week visiting the Gage families of this community and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bridgman of Hope. Mr. Whitaker is a former resident of this section.

GOP CAMPAIGNERS BRING ISSUES TO THE VOTERS HERE TUES.

Urge Voters to Compare Platforms; Miller Says Special Interests Made Democratic Platform; Cutting Record Lauded.

Six speakers brought the progressive-republican issues to local voters here Tuesday afternoon at the Majestic theater. Judge S. E. Ferree acted as chairman and introduced the speakers, the first of whom was Jose Armijo, candidate for attorney general. Mr. Armijo called attention to the liberal principles advocated by the republicans as contrasted with the "reactionary principles" as contained in the democratic platform. He said if elected attorney general he would employ no special council to represent the state in special litigation cases.

Oliver M. Lee, candidate for land commissioner, spoke briefly asking for the support of the republican ticket.

Maurice Miera, candidate for congressman, was the principal speaker, discussing at length both the state and national issues. He said the present political campaign in New Mexico was along principles rather than party lines. Comparing the record of Senator Cutting with that of his opponent, the speaker said the record of (Continued on last page, column 3)

CUTTING - JOHNSON TO SPEAK MONDAY NIGHT AT ROSWELL

Announcements were received here yesterday that Senator Hiram Johnson of California and Senator B. M. Cutting of New Mexico will address the voters of the Pecos valley at Roswell next Monday night, October 22nd. The speaking will be held in the Roswell junior high school auditorium and will start at 8:00 o'clock. The public is invited to attend this speaking.

BULLDOGS WIN FIRST HOME GAME SAT.

In a contest marked by many penalties, the Artesia Bulldogs defeated the Monahans, Texas, squad here Saturday, in the first home game of the present season. Despite the potentialities of the local eleven, they failed to click as did the visitors. Twice in the first and fourth quarters, Artesia was in scoring distance of the goal, but missed both chances to count.

D. Haines grabbed a Monahans pass in the second quarter and raced thirty yards for a touchdown. He was more fortunate than Ross Conner who ran seventy yards for the goal in the fourth quarter to have his efforts come to naught when Artesia was penalized for holding. It was after this play that Monahans scored a safety on a ball kicked under the visitor's goal and recovered by Conner.

The starting lineup:
Artesia Pos. Monahans
J. Shearman RE E. Charlesworth
Clyde Tidwell RT Chas. Winters
Willis Wilde RG J. T. Yates
Dick Burnett C Jack Hardaway
Carol Ansley LG James Ballard
Alvin Hadley LT Glenn Clark
Stanley Jones LH Bert Carter

KILLING AT CLOVIS

Dean Wolfenbarger, 54, was held in jail at Clovis yesterday, charged with murder for the fatal shooting late Tuesday of C. A. Massengill, 70, over what officers said was a quarrel involving the payment of $28 rent.

Wolfenbarger, who pleaded not guilty when arraigned, is alleged to have shot Massengill when the latter allegedly moved his hand to his pocket as if to draw a gun. He fired five shots, three of which struck Massengill in the right side as he sat at the steering wheel of his car. Officers searched Massengill and found a revolver in his trouser pocket.

A Texas Boy Meets Death On The Felix River Bridge

Youth is Killed Few Miles From Journey's End; Hagerman Jury Holds Truck Driver Blameless in Accident.

Homer Todd, aged 16, of Lorenzo, Texas, was killed yesterday afternoon at the Felix river bridge north of Hagerman. Young Todd had started out on horseback from his home in Lorenzo to Dexter for a visit with his aunt, Mrs. M. O. Durbin of Dexter, but his long trek was cut short almost in sight of his destination, when he met a truck on the Felix bridge and his horse reared up and fell back with him. Jack Thornton of Jal was driving the truck loaded with hay. According to witnesses young Todd met his death when his horse shied, reared up and fell back, crushing the chest of the rider.

W. E. Boyd of El Paso, Texas, with the Clow Gas Steam Radiator Co., was the first person by the scene of the accident. When he arrived, Mr. Boyd said the boy was lying out by the side of the road bleeding and his horse was dead. "It was one of the most sickening sights I have ever seen and I rushed into Hagerman for a doctor," he said.

Mr. Boyd, who arrived here within about thirty minutes after passing the bridge, said he did not see how the boy could live.

At the inquest held at Hagerman last night before Dr. I. B. McCormick, justice of the peace, the accident was termed as unavoidable. The truck, loaded with hay, was traveling south and just as the truck passed the horse, the animal shied into the machine and then reared up and fell backward, pinning the boy beneath the horse and crushing his chest. The boy died before a physician arrived. The jury absolved Thornton from any blame.

Some difficulty was experienced in identifying the lad. Papers found on his body after being carried to the Mason funeral home at Hagerman aided in the identification and later he was positively identified by Miss Julia Ferrell, who had known him when he visited that section last year.

STATE OIL LEASE SALE NETS A TOTAL OF $33,303.58 TO STATE

The state lease sale held at the land office in Santa Fe on the tenth, attracted some spirited bidding. The sale netted the state a total of $33,303.58. Twenty tracts were offered and no bids were received on five tracts and only one bid was submitted on each of nine tracts offered, while six tracts attracted two bidders and two tracts three bidders.

Tract No. 9, consisting of eighty acres and located in western Lea county in N¹/₄SW¹/₄ sec. 16-17-32, adjoining production of the Maljamar Oil and Gas Corp., brought $1,260.00 from the Phillips Petroleum Co., or $15.75 per acre. This was the highest price paid per acre in the sale.

DUCK SEASON OPEN TO RUN THRU THE 13TH OF JANUARY

The duck season opened in this section Saturday. So far as could be learned, ducks have not started migration into this section in numbers, probably due to the mild fall weather thus far. Under the new regulation the season will consist of Saturdays and Sundays through January 13th. The bag limit is twelve ducks and four geese. Hunting hours are from sunrise to sunset.

J. L. Truett, post master, Monday said he had sold twenty-one migratory bird stamps. Hunters must have the new stamp before they can legally hunt any migratory bird.

TAXES

You won't hear the progressive-republican party say much about taxation in the Pecos valley and less about the proposal to abolish the sales tax. They are saving this poison to spread in the so-called less prosperous sections.

One thing intelligent people have had firmly implanted in their minds the past five years is that no tax is painless and that taxes must be paid and that there is small chance of effecting an immediate reduction, regardless of the real need. Another thing the depression taught is that taxes regarded lightly in good years might spell the difference between profit and loss on lean years.

The taxation platform of the progressive party is like the faulty diamond, it looks beautiful from a distance, but when one reads all that this bunch hopes to accomplish it should create a suspicion even among those not familiar with the many problems of taxation.

The progressives say this is a campaign of the people against the special interests. The corporations are pictured as the "bogey man," just ready to squeeze the life out of the little fellow. The corporations are just like the individuals, since they are composed of individuals and we doubt if there are any angels among them, at least we have never seen any sprouting wings.

People of southeastern New Mexico know or should know that the oil industry, for instance, pays the highest scale of wages to its laborers of any industry operating in this section, with the exception of the potash industry. Both pay sufficient wages for their employes to live well. These industries have spent millions of dollars in this section and will spend millions more, if not hampered too greatly by the socialist and the communists, who expect a living from the government. The major part of expenditures have gone for wages, but through the sale of royalties and leases our state institutions including the common schools have shared in the prosperity these industries have brought.

Over in the northern part of the state these industries are held up as blood suckers and the political orators are telling the dear public that these are among the corporations that should be made to pay and pay dearly for all the socialist state government experiments proposed under the progressive platform.

The progressives say they want to do away with the sales tax. They say they want to substitute an income tax, a corporate tax, an intangible tax and a mineral severance tax. Just for the sake of comparison, let's see how these heartless oil companies pay taxes. Do you know how many they pay? Let's start from the time the oil is taken out of the ground until it's poured into your gasoline tank. Here are the different taxes: State and county taxes on drilling equipment; state and county taxes on well equipment; state gross production tax on crude produced; federal tax on crude produced; federal tax on crude refined; state gasoline tax; federal gasoline tax; state and county taxes on refinery equipment; sales tax on oil products other than gasoline; state income tax; federal income tax; capital stock tax; occupation tax and franchise tax and if the oil is shipped out of the state to be refined, the two percent sales tax applies. There are fourteen of these taxes and these are in addition to the seven different assessments paid by the refiners-producers under the NRA.

The politicians used to feed us the "boloney" about developing our resources by attracting outside capital. But since the corporations have become so wicked, the progressives will probably discourage any further influx of capitalists and corporation and maybe stop the operations of those we have with us and leave us to live off each other, sorter on the order of the cat and rat ranch, you've probably heard about.

A RISK TOO GREAT

"I did not believe that I would ever see the day when New Mexico would be faced with the situation of an attempt to dominate it by one who would set himself up as a dictator. I would not submit to a dictator." Quoted verbatim from a speech delivered by Senator Oliver M. Lee on the floor of the senate of the New Mexico legislature on March 9, 1929, in criticism of Senator-elect Bronson M. Cutting.

On the second day of January, 1931, James F. Hinkle, former governor of New Mexico, assumed office as commissioner of public lands. On the third day of January, 1931, Arthur Seligman, incumbent governor, served notice upon Commissioner Hinkle that a goodly number of employes in the land office must be selected from a list including names of those bearing the Cutting label. Commissioner Hinkle refused to subject his administration of public trust to such hazard, and said so emphatically. Thereafter open warfare existed between the executive office and the land office.

The Cutting-Seligman crowd sought to subordinate the land office to the control of the state board of finance headed by Cutting's puppet governor. Failing in that effort because of a lack of legal privilege the gang sought to enact a law by which the land office could be forced to submit to supervision of the state board of finance or its actions restricted by a superior commission. Ex-Governor Jim Hinkle fought against that domination and won. He refused to "submit to a dictator."

Two years later the same experience confronted Frank Vesley, successor of Jim Hinkle. Commissioner Vesley stood his ground and won. He too refused to "submit to a dictator."

Imagine the circumstance which would confront the commissioner of public lands and the menace to that public trust should a vacillating person occupy that office. What would be the effect of trusting that charge to one who had once loudly proclaimed his refusal to "submit to a dictator" and consequently supinely submitted to the least of a dictator's demands.

Frank Vesley has done his job well. He has declined to burden the payrolls of his office with a group of Cuttingites notorious for inefficiency and neglect in office. He deserves re-election. Furthermore the state cannot risk placing this trust in the charge of one who so readily changes his defiance of a dictator to an attitude of complete submission to the very dictator whom he had challenged. —Las Vegas Optic.

RADIO TUBES AND BATTERIES—JOE HAMANN AT MANN DRUG CO.

Chislings

Mayor Hollis Watson had grown more eloquent with each introduction, as he introduced the democratic speakers last week. Finally Squire S. E. Ferree could stand it no longer and after Watson had made his last introduction Squire Ferree arose and exclaimed: "Say Hollis, when is this guy going to walk on the water?"

Last week in a gathering of about 120 people, those who had been married thirty-five years were asked to raise their hands and seven responded; two said they had been married forty years, one had been married fifty years, one had been married sixty years. We're like to see the same question propounded to the movie people in Hollywood and ascertain how many couples among them had been married for thirty-five years or over.

Why is it people will make a mad dash for the scene of a fire every time the alarm is sounded and often get right in the way, or else run over a fire hose? We'd like to see some of these threatened stiff fines materialize. Even old Doc Pepper himself (A. P. Mahone) grew excited last week and got right in the way, so reports say. We think the least Doc could do is to take the fire boys down and give them a bottle of 10, 2 and 4, and have the Advocate ed down to see that it is done right.

And Dick Attebery rises up and asks why in the heck don't the city or somebody build a public comfort station in Artesia. Seems like the garages and others have been having trouble keeping their places clean, due largely to the fact people either don't know or don't care.

And this is a personal note to Mrs. T. H. Flint in San Antonio, Texas. We are watching T. H. mighty close and have him walking the straight and narrow path. Hollis Watson isn't allowed to associate with him any more, which, of course, has lightened our task in watching him.

If the writer is permitted to discuss a subject of serious nature, it seems that Artesia has lost an unusual number of good citizens the past eighteen months. By good citizens I mean those who are ready and willing to shoulder responsibilities pertaining to the welfare of the community.

Small towns can ill afford to lose the services of energetic, capable and unselfish men who have lived in the locality long enough to know its problems. The problem of decentralizing the larger population centers has not materialized as rapidly as hoped for despite the depression, which is supposed to have aided the smaller town.

The last two men to sever active business connections were Rex Wheatley and Willis Morgan. And since Willis has gone we can say some really nice things about him. Morgan has unusual ability along some lines and if the breaks are even fifty percent in his favor, he will make his mark in the Pass City.

And here are a few good ones swiped from The Chase, Eastern New Mexico Junior College publication:

A member of the faculty says his wife goes through his pants every night. But that's nothing, wait until her relatives come. Then he'll have aunts in his pants.

What did the moths live on before Adam and Eve wore clothes? I give up. So did the moths. I'm from Nebraska. What part? All of me.

Opinion: A hope chest is no good to an old maid unless she has a vest buttoned over it.

APPLE CROP IS NOW PRACTICALLY GATHERED

The mountain apple crop is practically gathered. Pickers have been at work picking apples for the past four weeks and Texas truckers and others have hauled the apples out as fast as they were gathered. H. J. Powell, who lives just this side of Reeves hill, reports that he has sold over 1,000 bushels of apples this year from a small orchard. Others have had yields equally as good, in fact, the crop in the lower Pecos, Elk and Mayhill communities is unusually good.

Several hundred tons of cabbage have been trucked out also, but the major portion of the cabbage crop is yet to be moved.

NEWS BRIEFS OF THE CHAMBER COMMERCE

"As Your Chamber of Commerce Is So Is Your City"

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, an organization which takes into its membership the eastern New Mexico chambers also, is engaged just now in an effort to make a complete survey of all arterial highways affecting the region served by their organization. It is the plan to point out to the two states concerned and the federal government in those areas where it may be concerned these arteries which are of vital importance to the future development of the region and to promote these highways until they are so constructed as to adequately serve the needs of the locality served.

This type of inter-state service is a splendid example of unselfish thinking and is in direct line with the work the New Mexico-Texas Highway 83 Association has already started between Las Cruces and Hobbs. This would seem to guarantee the completion of 83 as a link in the transcontinental highway system.

The chamber regrets deeply the loss of Willis Morgan, who has just left for his new home in El Paso. Here is an example of how much a man may mean to his community. At the time Willis left he was a director in the chamber, director in the bank, president of Rotary, city treasurer member of the local FERA committee, candidate for the office of state representative, and in some way connected with every worth-while move for the betterment of the community. His place will not be filled by any one man for some time but the change was greatly to his advantage and we wish him a highly successful career in his new connection.

Recent new members to the Chamber of Commerce are: The Baldwin Stores, The Brite Spot, Emery Carper and J. L. Truett. The loyalty of the merchants and citizens to the organization this year has been exceptional and has in large part made possible the prosecution of the successful road 83 program.

There have been several conflicting statements made to the manager regarding the transient relief situation. The facts are these: As in the past any worthy, hungry transient or other person may find relief at the relief headquarters in the old National Bank building. In order to give relief asked, the relief office is required to ask a lot of questions. Some people, not fully understanding this, get angry and will not cooperate to the extent required to receive the relief provided. But all should know that there is no call for the promise-

If Babies Made Laws

Have you ever stopped to consider how our laws would be affected if a strong contingent of babies held seats in the legislature?

I know one subject which would be scheduled for early and vigorous debate; that is congenital syphilis. I can almost hear the baby senator declaim:

"Every year in this state of New Mexico a thousand babies are needlessly infected before they are born. The fact that in many cases our mothers are ignorant of the fatal germs that they are passing on to us is no valid excuse. Parents who plead ignorance of a matter so vital to our lives and health and to the health of our race have no right to be parents. A simple blood test taken early in pregnancy will show the presence of the infection in most cases. Prompt treatment of the mother at this stage will prevent infection. Treatment begun as late as the fifth month of pregnancy will usually cure the baby before birth. If through omission of these simple precautions a dead baby is born I contend that the parents are guilty of murder through negligence. If a baby is born that is burdened with this feeding of folks at the kitchen door and that as long as this is done they will keep coming to your door. The relief office is prepared to investigate and you are not. They will care for the worthy person. The other should not be encouraged in his nefarious practices.

terrible and often fatal disease then he is entitled in equity to the heaviest damages against those who are responsible for his fate.

What laws would they pass? Would they be severe, even vindictive, or would they introduce compulsory health education and make graduation requisite before a marriage certificate could be obtained? It is certain at least that some startling new laws would be enacted.

THE CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY 613 W. Main Street

10:00 a. m. Sunday school. 11:00 a. m. Sunday service. 'Doctrine of Atonement' is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches and Societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 21st. The golden text is: 'The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.' (Mark 10:45).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: 'Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.' (II Cor. 6:17).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: 'Man cannot exceed divine love, and so atone for himself. Even Christ cannot reconcile Truth to error, for Truth and error are irreconcilable. Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving a truer sense of love, the divine principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of love redeems man from the law of matter, sin, and death by the law of spirit—the law of divine love.'

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Bible school at 10:00 a. m. Preaching at 11:00 a. m. Young people's meeting at 7:00 p. m.

Brother Hobbs came very highly recommended and has done a very fine work in Pecos. He is a very young man but full of the spirit of the gospel. There has recently been organized a junior young people's bible class that meets at 7:00 p. m. every Sunday evening. It started off last Sunday with a large attendance.

Tell your friends about our meeting and try and be present next Sunday. You can't say, 'I am a christian,' and expect people to believe it when they see you acting like a pagan in your personal life. Are we drifting?

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH Roselawn and Grand

Pastor, the Rev. P. G. Woodruff. Sunday school superintendent, Fred Cole.

General B. T. U. director, Miss Maurine Lewis.

9:45 Sunday school. Topic: 'The Christian At Prayer, or Prayer As Fellowship With God.' Matt. 6:5-15. The larger lesson includes Ephesians 3:14-21. There were eighteen men present in our Men's Bible class last Sunday. We should have twenty-five men present for this class every Sunday. Come and enjoy the splendid teaching of Mr. Putnam. There were 127 present in the whole Sunday school last Sunday, but this figure can be raised also.

11:00 Song service and sermon. 6:30 B. T. U. After the attendance of twenty-five of our B. T. U. pers at the Associational Rally last Sunday afternoon at Loving, we are sure that the B. T. U. as a whole is more than ever determined to improve the quality of our work. By keeping up the points on our records we can do this. Next quarter we want to carry off some of the awards for our own church.

We are expecting a large delegation of members from the church to be present at the state convention in Roswell Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. There will doubtless be some interesting reports on this great convention upon the return of the messengers next Sunday. Those who stay at home will miss a great inspiration.

Mid-week prayer services will be held on Wednesday night at 7:30 as usual. Let us magnify this service of the church.

Keep in mind the fact that our revival is to be held the first part of January. Start praying and working toward that high point in our church life, now!

ST. PAUL'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH OF ARTESIA REV. F. B. HOWDEN, JR., Rector

Services at St. Paul's this Sunday will be held at the following hours: Church school, 5:00 p. m. Evening prayer and sermon, 8:00 p. m.

GENERAL NEWS BRIEFS

Seven-year-old John Feeney of Jersey City, New Jersey, was the victim of the game of 'Cops and robbers' Saturday. After being strangled to death, his companions placed his body in an old trunk in a squatter's shack. The boys told police John was the robber and after capturing him, they tied a piece of old rope around his neck. When John was freed his body dropped to the floor. The other boys became frightened and dropped his body in an old trunk.

John Pfeifer, aged 71, a raw fur dealer of Denver, Colorado, died shortly after he was discovered Saturday hanging by the heels in his establishment. He told police he was robbed about 5:30 Friday afternoon and after the robbery, the robbers hung him by the heels. He was knocked unconscious by the bandits and was too weak to call for aid.

The California supreme court Saturday granted David A. Lamson, former Stanford press executive, a new trial for the murder of his wife, Alene, for which he had been convicted and sentenced to hang. The supreme court in its ruling declared the evidence was no stronger than a mere suspicion.

Babe Ruth left New York Saturday on a trip that will carry him around the world. The Babe will head a ball team of major leaguers who will play a series of games in Japan. After his return in February, 1935, Ruth hopes to connect for a position as manager of some major league.

Guards with rifles patrolled the confines of a nudist club at an international convention in Akron, Ohio, last week. The delegates took a dip in the brook and then donned clothing to keep warm. Delegates said they would approve a move to hold future conventions in the summer.

James A. Hall of Clovis, president of New Mexico Bar association, Saturday announced that he would support the candidacy of Bonston Cutting for the United States senate.

The United States supreme court held Monday the government could not be sued without its consent in refusing to review an attack on the constitutionality of the cancellation of air mail contracts last February. The suit was originally brought by the Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc.

China placed a ten per cent tax on all exports of metal Monday. The tax was aimed at the United States silver policy.

J. A. Nabors of Amarillo, Texas, was fatally injured in an auto accident Saturday night six miles south of Roswell and died the following night without regaining consciousness. With Mr. Nabors were Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hardage and Mrs. A. B. Young. Mrs. Young was driving and wrecked the car when she lost control and ran off the highway, crashing into a telephone pole. The party was said to have been en route to the Caverns. Injuries sustained among the other passengers did not prove fatal.

Mrs. Maxine Howard was stopped in her effort to set a new coast to coast airplane speed record Sunday when an oil line broke on her 4-place high wing plane near Kansas City. She aspired to beat the record of ten hours and two minutes held by Col. Roscoe Turner.

Bruno Richard Hauptmann, alleged kidnaper and murderer of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., is fighting for his life in a New York court. Testimony of a handwriting expert may connect Hauptmann with the crime. Hauptmann is fighting extradition to New Jersey.

The suicide strike of 1,200 miners near Pecos, Hungary, ended Tuesday when the miners came to the top of the mine after being underground for nearly five days. The miners struck and threatened starvation until granted more pay.

BANKHEAD BILL IS AN INJUSTICE TO N. M. FARMER CHAVES SAYS

Following a meeting called by Mesilla valley cotton growers, Congressman Dennis Chavez, democratic candidate for United States senator, made the following statement at Las Cruces Sunday:

'For the past two weeks and since coming into the Mesilla valley, I have been receiving complaints as to the injustices suffered by the cotton growers of New Mexico due to the small allotments given the farmers of this valley and elsewhere under the Bankhead bill.

'The Bankhead bill and its application to the cotton growers of the country was and is a new thing. The congress had little or practically no information on which to work, especially from the newer cotton producing states including New Mexico. As a matter of fact, no information was furnished from New Mexico to the congressional delegation in Washington that could be used in the drafting of the bill. I know that an injustice has been done and we can profit from the experiences of the farmer during the past year. There is no doubt in my mind about that. These injustices can and will be remedied. It is my purpose to do everything possible in the congress to rectify said injustices and will do my utmost to see that any modification made in the Bankhead bill will go to the extent of making the modifications retroactive so that the farmer who has sustained losses during the past season will be repaid for those losses. If we can protect the farmer in the matter of his construction charges for irrigation purposes there is no reason whatsoever why we should not be paid for losses suffered as the result of an inequitable allotment.'

POLICE COURT

Six were arraigned before Justice W. H. Ballard Monday, charged with interfering with and obstructing the work of the fire department on October 10th. The six defendants included C. C. Millman, Frank Wilson, G. W. Forsee, M. Mitchell, F. C. Knowles and J. W. Brown. The case against the latter was dismissed, while the five former plead guilty as charged. After a lecture by Justice Ballard the fines were suspended and the defendants ordered to pay the costs.

Squire Ballard has emphasized there will be no more suspended sentences, but those found guilty of violating the city ordinance will in the future be fined the limit. It will be well to remember that no auto will be permitted to park within two blocks of a fire, that no auto except the vehicles of the firemen should follow the fire truck closer than five hundred feet and that all cars should pull into the curb and give the fire truck the right of way when passing.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED BY MR. AND MRS. ARBA GREEN FRIDAY

One of the most delightful social events of the fall season was the celebration of the coral wedding anniversary by Mr. and Mrs. Arba Green last Friday evening when they entertained one hundred guests at the Masonic hall.

Vases and floor baskets holding large bouquets of fall flowers decorated the hall and gave a home-like setting for this lovely affair.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Jessie Morgan, S. E. Ferree, F. G. Knoedler, and the following members of the Idlewhiles Bridge club, all of whom assisted in every detail of this entertainment, of which Mrs. Green is a member: Mmes. Jim Berry, M. W. Evans, J. Hise Myers, James Nellis, J. M. Story, Frank Smith, Hugh Kiddy, Ralph Shugart, and T. S. Cox.

Mrs. Effie Wingfield presided at the registrar's table where each guest registered. This list is to be bound and kept by Mr. and Mrs. Green. The table was adorned with a cloth decorated with hand-knit lace, made by Mrs. Green before her marriage.

Promptly at eight o'clock Mrs. Frank Smith sang "O, Promise Me," with Mrs. Mark A. Corbin at the piano. The wedding march was played by Mrs. G. U. McCrory as the Rev. W. B. McCrory and the bridal couple of thirty-five years ago entered and marched slowly the length of the hall where a newspaper announcement of their marriage on October 12, 1899, at Carthage, Missouri, was read by the Rev. McCrory who then introduced Mr. and Mrs. Green who were attired in their wedding clothes of that date.

The garments had been wonderfully preserved and the picture was a decided contrast in comparison with the styles of 1934. S. E. Ferree spoke briefly on the "Griefs of a Husband" and found it hard indeed to find data which might be termed a husband's grief. A scene which was supposed to have transpired in the dressing room of Mr. and Mrs. Green as they were dressing to come to this entertainment was reproduced by Mrs. Martin Yates impersonating Mr. Green and Mrs. Hartell, Mrs. Green. This was very clever and brought many laughs from the husbands and wives present. The closing number was "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," sung by Mrs. Frank Smith. A grand march around the hall, led by Mr. and Mrs. Green followed by the guests. The ladies in beautiful costumes and colorful evening gowns lent a dignified note to the occasion. This event completed the program.

Individual cakes, beautifully decorated in pink and white, were served with coffee. Mrs. J. M. Story and Mrs. M. W. Evans presided at the handsome double silver service. The table was covered with a snow-white linen cloth, a wedding gift of the Greens'. A beautiful wedding cake decorated in pink and white, with tall pink tapers, formed the centerpiece. The cake contained the coins, thimble, ring and needle. Mrs. Green herself got the needle. Guests were also served a piece of this cake. Mmes. P. V. Morris, Stanley Blocker, Walter Douglas, John McCann, J. L. Briscoe, Calvin Dunn and Miss Ella Brown served.

The lovely anniversary presents were on display at the hall. Mr. and Mrs. Green have made Artesia their home for the past eight years and have made many friends during that time here and in the state. Mr. Green at the present time is Grand Sentinel of the Order of the Eastern Star in the local order and treasurer of the local Masonic order. Mrs. Green is instructor of the Eastern Stars in district number twelve.

Games of cards and checkers were played by many of the guests after the refreshment hour. The invited guests list included the following: Messrs. and Mmes. Jim Berry, M. W. Evans, J. H. Jackson, Hugh Kiddy, G. U. McCrory, James Nellis, Frank Smith, J. M. Story, J. Hise Myers, Lewis Story, Ralph Shugart, S. E. Ferree, F. G. Knoedler, C. O. Brown, W. H. Ballard, D. I. Clowe, B. E. Spencer, Hollis Watson, Albert Richards, Walter Douglas, W. H. Gilmore, George Frisch, Paul Otts, P. V. Morris, Willis Morgan, J. M. Jackson, J. C. Floore, A. B. Coll, J. R. Attebery, R. G. "Where Price and Quality Meet"

Uncle Henry

By TOM GIBBONS

PAT SPENCER slowed the car to a stop and took a quick glance at the gray-haired old man beside her. The traffic light changed to green and she shifted gears and the car started forward. By the set of his mouth, Pat decided that Uncle Henry Spencer was not in a good mood.

Uncle Henry and his niece, Pat, were the last of the Spencer clan of Hillcrest. They lived in the big family mansion and Uncle Henry exerted all his stern influence to dominate the attractive, youthful Pat. "Uncle Henry, let's stop at the ball game—we're just in time," Pat looked at her watch. The crowds were lined up at the ticket windows. "It isn't the ball game that you're interested in, young lady. It's just that good-for-nothing ball player, Hank Weddell."

"Why don't you like Hank? He makes a good salary, and he's a nice young fellow. Besides that he's been darned nice to me," Pat admitted.

"Humb! A ball player—no better than an actor." "Uncle Henry, I just happened to think. Hank won't be playing today. He pitched yesterday's game."

"All right, then we'll go in. I always liked ball games until that young fool turned me against them," Henry Spencer grunted.

As the usher showed them to their seats, Pat smiled to herself—as if the width of the ball diamond could separate Hank from her!

Watching the players warming up, Pat kept a keen watch, hoping to see Hank somewhere on the field. "Oh, look! There's the home team coming out on the field," Pat announced to her uncle.

"Well, what do you want me to do? Stop them? Or give three cheers? That's what they're paid for, isn't it?"

After her uncle's sarcasm, Pat didn't attempt further conversation during eight innings. She watched the game in silence and after the eighth inning she looked at the score board with satisfaction. Two runs had been scored by the opponents to the three runs for the home team.

She was satisfied. It looked like a sure victory for Hillcrest. The pitcher had been throwing neat curves which had the opponents baffled. Three up and three out, then home, Pat figured. Now that the game was almost over, she was anxious to get home.

The crack of the bat against the ball caused Pat to drop her powder puff and take renewed interest in the game. The runner was rounding second, starting to third, but decided he couldn't make it and returned to second. Pat watched the game intently and Uncle Henry was chewing another cigar vigorously.

"Another hit and we're done for!" Uncle Henry gasped, his eyes centered on the home plate. "That's a pinch hitter coming in," Pat said rather excitedly. "They call him 'Home-Run Charlie.'"

"A home run right now will settle our hash," Uncle Henry's eyes were shining. "One man on base, no outs and a pinch hitter at bat. Wow, it looks bad for Hillcrest!" he groaned.

A swift grounder dashed from the bat, the runner made first easily and the man at second advanced to third. The crowd roared. Pat was on the edge of the bench. They were changing pitchers and a man with a megaphone announced: "Hank Weddell now pitching for Hillcrest!" Joan turned to her uncle. He immediately frowned suspiciously and chewed at his cigar.

Hank walked to the center of the diamond and dug down in the pitcher's mound with his spiked shoes. A few preliminary throws and he stood facing the man at bat. Three times his arm went up with that swinging motion and three times the umpire called: "Strike!"

Uncle Henry lost all his antagonism for the young pitcher and he joined the shouting in the stands. "Atta boy, Hank! Come on, kid! Give 'em some more! Just two more times like that! You can do it, old boy!" Uncle Henry kept up his cheering, oblivious of the happy Pat, who watched him with evident amusement.

The next man up at bat swung at the first one, hit it up, the ball bounding in the air. Hank, like a flash, was under it. He was waiting for it and he caught it safely in his glove.

Uncle Henry turned to the man next to him, and with a broad smile said: "That young man's a friend of my niece's! He's a great ball player, isn't he?" And with that Uncle Henry sat back on the bench, well pleased with the world.

Again Hank Weddell put three swift strikes over the center of the plate, and the last man was out. A deafening roar went up from the stands.

Uncle Henry called to Pat as she dashed from her seat. He yelled at her loudly, more loudly than was necessary.

"Tell Hank Weddell we'll wait for him and drive him home!" Uncle Henry got to his feet and faced the awed crowd proudly.

"O. K. Uncle Henry. We'll meet you at the car!"

EXPENDITURES FOR RELIEF OVER BILLION

WASHINGTON—Federal emergency expenditures surged past the billion dollar point today, with the big outflow of winter relief just ahead.

The extraordinary spending totaled $1,015,443,339 for the first three and one-half months of the fiscal year, by comparison with President Roosevelt's estimate that something over $2,000,000,000 would cover the entire twelve-month period.

Actually, moreover, the aggregate emergency outlays for the year to date were $1,151,715,521, from which was deducted $125,953,651 in repayments of loans by the reconstruction corporation and $10,308,531 in profits on securities

H. S. ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

A regular assembly was held in the high school auditorium, October 11, sponsored by Cyril Stone, senior class president. A program of miscellaneous numbers was enjoyed.

Two songs, by the student body and faculty, opened the assembly, after which the orchestra gave two specials.

A skit, entitled "Fanchon," from Penrod, by Booth Tarkington, was introduced by Florine Muncy. Irene Gillispie played the part of "Fanchon," a new girl from New York, and "Penrod" was played by Robert French.

Following three numbers, sung by the Glee club, entitled "Lovely Appear," "Come to the Fair," and "O, No John," Tony King played an accordion solo and this was so immensely enjoyed that he was encored twice.

Two very humorous readings were given by Ethel Cave entitled, "Mr. Brown Never Had A Chance," and "A Hindu's Paradise." These were well given and enjoyed.

After Monday our schedule will be re-arranged making our regular assembly meet every Thursday morning at 8:35. We will appreciate and welcome all visitors who might wish to come.

New Mexico Democrats Dodged Farm Issues

(Excerpts from an article by President A. W. Cameron of the Farm Holiday Association, New Mexico division, published in the Roosevelt County Record and the New Mexico Farm Herald at Elida, N. M., Thursday, October 4, 1934)

In careful analysis of the platforms submitted for the consideration of the voters of this state, we find a complete contrast in the two platforms with reference to the agricultural situation in this state.

One of the major demands of the FHA is the passage of the Frazier-Lemke Bill. The Democratic platform is silent on this, one of the most constructive measures for the relief of the farmers and small home owners, now before the Congress. The Republican platform takes a positive stand on this legislation. "We favor the Frazier-Lemke bill and other necessary national legislation proposed by the farmer's organization."

The FHA demands "The repeal of National and Federal Reserve Bank Acts

Farm Holiday Association Comes Out for Republican ticket after careful checkup on platform of the two parties.

Democrats make no positive declaration on this subject. The FHA has advocated a graduated net income tax since its organization.

On December 13th, 1933, the Farmers' Holiday Association placed on the desk of the Hon. A. W. Hockenull, governor of New Mexico, the following suggested legislation: "A law providing the valuations for purposes of determining rates charged customers by public utilities shall be considered and used as a taxable value thereof." New Mexico Democrats declare: "We reaffirm our oft repeated statement and belief that all property of the corporate, individual or otherwise, should be taxed at its actual value." Republicans declare, "We demand that public utilities return their property for taxation at the same valuation they estimate its value for rate making purposes."

We have been asking for some law that would protect the honest farmer from losing his home, a moratorium. Democrats dodged this issue entirely. Republicans have this to say in their platform: "We favor the passing of a law providing for more lenient redemption conditions for farmers and home owners in financial distress."

The Republicans are in favor of the "graduated net income tax." New Mexico

GRISSOM HITS AT MILLER ON TAX ITEMS

SANTA FE—R. H. Grissom, state school budget officer, said Tuesday that "If Jaffa Miller, republican candidate for governor, had a solution to the state's tax difficulties he should, as a patriotic citizen, have given the state the benefit of his knowledge during the special session of the legislature when state officials and other interested individuals were working out a plan to keep the schools open."

Grissom said he noted Miller was "going all over the state saying he can finance the schools of New Mexico without a sales tax. Then, why in Heaven's name didn't he volunteer his services last year after the passage of the 20-mill limitation when the school people of the state and all citizens were doing all within their power to see that the children of New Mexico could have school this year."

Miller at the time was an employee of the state, as superintendent of one of the schools, Grissom said, and "was, or at least should have been, interested in the children of the state and in the schools."

"I do not remember that he at any time, or under any conditions, or circumstances, offered any suggestions. I do remember that M. L. Fox, the present campaign director for the republican headquarters, worked and plead (copy)

Johnnie Lee Hall, aged 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hall, who died on the 10th, was buried at the Woodbine cemetery on the same date with the Rev. P. G. Woodruff officiating. Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist church. Mr. and Mrs. Hall live on the Pearson farm in the Cottonwood community.

SIXTY-TWO BIRTHS ARE RECORDED IN SEPTEMBER

There were sixty-two births recorded in Eddy county during September compared with twenty-two deaths, vital statistic released last week revealed.

The births by communities, are as follows: Carlsbad, 33; Artesia, 12; Lakewood, 1; Hope, 5; Loving, 7; Malaga, 4. Deaths by communities were: Carlsbad, 15; Artesia, 3; Loving, 2; and Hope and Malaga, 1 each.

with the people of New Mexico to pass the 20-mill limitation and was also very enthusiastic for the sales tax."

Grissom challenged Mr. Miller's claims for the gross income tax. "This seems like a poor time," Grissom said, "for Miller, a former democratic state employe, to come forth with a suggested tax plan. If he is sincere, he should have offered the state the benefit of his ideas, if they are his, at a time when state leaders were struggling to devise ways to keep the schools open."

N. M. COTTON GRADE IMPROVES FURTHER

Cotton classed this week from the irrigated southwest showed the majority was classed as strict and good middling in grade. Staple length shows a considerable improvement over last week, especially in lengths of 1-1/8 inches and longer, Texas, district 1, being the only district showing a slight decrease.

NEW MEXICO: Practically all cotton classed this week and to date has been strict and good middling, an increase being shown in the proportion classed as good middling and better over last week. Staple lengths of 1-1/8 inches and longer showed an improvement over last week, 42 per cent as compared to 36 per cent. To date 89 per cent has been classed 1-1/16 inches and longer.

TEXAS, DISTRICT 1: This district again had all cotton classed this week as strict and good middling, a slight increase in the proportion of good middling is reported over last week. A slight decrease is reported in staple lengths of 1-1/8 inches and longer this week, 47 per cent as compared to 54 per cent last week. To date 94 per cent has been

Can You Prove Your Oil is Better than the Others?

We Can and Do!

This Machine Shows Why this New Oil Cuts Motor Wear and Saves You Money!

YOU, as a buyer of Motor Oil, should ask that question —and demand facts! Here is Continental's answer: In the demonstration pictured below, the film strength and oiliness of every well known motor oil in America have been shown to be increased by the addition of a drop of Germ Essence.

Demonstrations before at least two hundred thousand motor-minded men have proved that "Any oil would be better oil if Germ Processed!" But there is only one oil made by the patented Germ Process—New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil! Use this oil of proved strength in your car! It saves you money by giving greater motor protection and lower oil consumption. It gives you the comfortable feeling that you know your car is protected by the safest, finest motor oil made!

1 Assembled instrument. Split bearings and shaft, lubricated with competitive oil, are clamped between "jaws" of instrument. With set-screw, extreme pressure is applied.

2 Crank is now used to turn shaft. Oil film ruptures and bearings "seize." Shaft extremely hard to turn. You can even hear the metal-to-metal contact!

3 Drop of Germ Essence is added to oil in bearing. Same pressure applied. Shaft can now be turned easily. Smooth, quiet movement—no seizing—no sound. Proof that Germ Processing increases oiliness and film strength of any oil!

TO CAR OWNERS OF Continental backs claims with facts. To prove that New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil gives you lower oil consumption as well as greater motor protection, we drove six brand new cars to destruction, testing this oil against five other nationally known oils. Any Conoco station will give you a booklet that tells the story of this convincing test. It will pay you in money saved to read it. Drive in and ask for a copy—or try this oil!

Workmen are rebuilding the derrick after removing the fire fighting equipment. Completions reported included three producers for Eddy county. The Etz, Hammond and Keyes, State No. 1, sec. 16-17-28, has been completed for a twenty-five barrel pumper. The Tigner, Etz and Keyes, Keyes No. 1, sec. 10-17-28, is flowing forty barrels daily through an open casing after a shot of 120 quarts of nitro. The Lee No. 1 of the Skelly Oil Co., sec. 23-17-31, plugged to 3812 feet, was treated with 2,000 gallons of acid and is reported to be swabbing 40 barrels daily.

Five Lea county wells are ready to add production. These being the Empire Gas and Fuel Co., Lindley No. 2-B, sec. 15-25-36, drilled to 3277 feet and made an open flow of 562 barrels daily with 1,000,000 feet of gas. The Phillips Petroleum Co., Woolworth No. 5, sec. 27-24-36, drilled to 3504 feet and made an average flow of 235 barrels an hour thru open casing with 1,500,000 feet of gas. The Phillips Petroleum Co., Woolworth No. 8, sec. 22-24-36, was given a drill stem test at 3843-3503 feet and made thirty barrels of oil per hour with 1,000,000 feet of gas. The Repollo Oil Co., Hanagan No. 1, sec. 12-25-36, drilled to 3322 feet was given acid treatment of 1,000 gallons and after treatment made 549 barrels in eighteen hours. The Shell Petroleum Co., State 1-B, sec. 24-18-37, drilled to 4269 feet, made an open flow of 3952 barrels with 5,000,000 feet of gas. A wildcat test four miles west of Hobbs temporarily abandoned several years ago at 4188 feet is rigging to drill deeper according to field reports. This is the National Securities Co., No. 1 Linan, NE corner SE SW sec. 33-18-37.

COOK BOOK MENACES ESKIMO'S DIGESTION Modern Recipes to Inject Novelty Into Diet.

Washington.—Dyspepsia and flimsy appetites are probably in store for Greenland Eskimos. Late news dispatches from Copenhagen state that a cook book of 450 recipes has been compiled to inject novelty into the simple Eskimo diet. The volume will be translated into the native Greenland dialect. "Igloo cookery presents few problems," according to a bulletin from the National Geographic society. "The Eskimo wife has never known the strivings of her white sister to excel as a 'fancy cook.' Her husband has never regaled her with tales of the pies his mother used to bake, for he has never tasted pastry, or candy of any sort in his life. Meat is his almost unvarying food. The meat of the polar bear, seal, walrus, caribou, white whale, narwhal, and musk oxen, are all palatable to him.

Simple Equipment.
"The average Eskimo bride starting housekeeping in a new igloo needs only four things in the way of furnishings: a meat knife, lamp, cooking pot, and sewing kit. The blubber burning lamp, which also serves as a stove, is usually near the entrance to the hut. Suspended from the ceiling above it hangs a large soapstone cooking pot from which comes the aroma of boiling seal meat. At the sound of the sleds returning from the day's hunting expedition, the Eskimo wife, crouching over the stove, stirs the pot of simmering seal meat for her husband's supper. "Dropping in for an evening meal with an Eskimo family, one would see old and young squatted on their knees, and each ready with a knife. Each member of the group takes a piece of juicy, cooked seal or walrus meat in his left hand, shoves it into his mouth, and seizes a strip between his teeth. With a deft stroke of the knife, he cuts off a mouthful, just at the lips. Often times liver and blubber are held in each hand, and eaten alternately. The meat is washed down with draughts of ice-cold water.

No Fruit or Vegetables.
"Fruits and vegetables are unknown items in the diet of the Eskimo. When the meat supply is exhausted, the Greenland Eskimos gather rockweed and kelp, and dig the bark of willow bush out of the frozen soil. This is cooked into a jelly in the soapstone pot. This food, however, is not pleasing to the Eskimo palate, and is eaten only to stave off starvation when more desirable food is unobtainable. The nearest approach to ordinary vegetable matter consumed by the Eskimo is the semi-digested moss found in the stomachs of the caribou. This material becomes the Eskimo's 'greens.' "Fish eaten either boiled or raw, offer variety to the menu. Clams are also included in the seafood dishes of the Greenland Eskimo. He obtains them via the stomach of some freshly killed walrus who has just feasted upon the mollusks. Stuffed head of walrus is undoubtedly the subject of at least one of the new recipes designed for the Greenlanders. They are fond of the unadorned head, and could possibly cultivate a taste for an elaborate preparation of it.

"In the Greenland spring, the dovekie, or little auk, appears. This means another dietary change for the natives. Through the summer hundreds of these birds are netted and stored for food during the long winter months. The eggs of the elder duck, the brant goose, and the gull are the object of an intense search near the end of June each year. The family egg supply for the coming winter is stored in stone caches where the eggs become chilled first, and then frozen. They remain in this condition until eaten in the winter. Not all of the eggs collected are stored, however, for the Eskimo wife prepares an egg sausage, sometimes using as many as 300 eggs to one sausage. The eggs are broken and poured into a washed seal intestine, and in this state are eaten from time to time throughout the winter."

Coffee Stimulation Is Aided by Adding Cream
Norman, Okla.—Coffee with cream has a greater stimulating effect than black coffee, results of a scientific experiment at the University of Oklahoma disclose. Mrs. Lottie Mae Russell Norman graduate student, found that coffee with cream produces a stimulation of 7.7 per cent at the end of 30 minutes and 7.6 per cent at the end of an hour. Black coffee produces a stimulation of 3.6 per cent after 30 minutes and 5.6 per cent after an hour. Basal metabolism tests were taken to arrive at the conclusions.

Store Robbed 45 Times
Austin, Texas.—Owners of the Checker Front store here were pained when they found recently that burglars had paid them a visit, but they were not surprised. The store has been burglarized 45 times and hijacked twice in seven years, according to Arthur Smith, proprietor.

MAY SOON GIVE THE TUBERCULIN TEST

As a child grows up and his contacts with other persons increase, he is likely, sooner or later, to get tuberculosis germs into his body. Usually no harm is done because the number of germs is so small that the body fights back and keeps them from doing damage. Occasionally the germs win and cause tuberculosis. In most cases tuberculosis begins very slowly in childhood and does not cause trouble until one is grown up. It is well to know if a youngster has the germs in his body so that precautions may be taken to prevent serious trouble in later life. The tuberculin test shows whether tuberculosis germs are in the body. This test was first used by Robert Koch, the discoverer of the germ of tuberculosis. It has been used for forty years. It is known to be harmless. The test is approved by the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection, by State and City Health Departments, tuberculosis sanatoriums and by scientific medical organizations. The test is made by injecting a drop of liquid called tuberculin within the upper surface of the skin. This is harmless. If the spot becomes red and slightly swollen within two or three days it means that live tuberculosis germs are somewhere in the body. The small red reaction area disappears and leaves no scar or other effects. Tuberculin is a colorless liquid made with exactness and extreme care in laboratories under government supervision. It is thoroughly sterilized by heat and by filtration and contains no germs. Do not confuse tuberculin with "injections" or serums. Do not confuse tuberculin with BCG, the vaccine sometimes used for protecting infants born of tuberculous mothers.

If the tuberculin test is positive (red and swollen) it means only that living tuberculosis germs are in the body. It does not tell how many there are or if any damage has been done. It should not cause worry to parents. If the test is positive, the child's chest should be X-rayed to be certain that no harm is being done in the lungs. If the X-ray, following the tuberculin test, shows any damage, the family physician should be consulted. We have not given the tuberculin test in Eddy county, but have been thinking of doing so. It was discussed at the last meeting of the County Medical Society. We will be glad to discuss the tuberculin test with any parents who are interested. DR. O. E. PUCKETT, County Health Officer.
