A MOSQUITO CONTROL PROJECT SOUGHT FOR CO.

Setup Submitted To State WPA Office Asks For Control Work Here and At Carlsbad; To Employ Around 200 Men.

Carl Henderson, county sanitarian, announced here yesterday a malaria control project for Eddy county has been submitted to the state WPA office, involving an expenditure of $150,000 to $200,000 and would employ around 200 men if granted. The state has recently granted an allotment of $2,200,000 and similar projects in other counties will be asked for under the WPA. C. M. Adams of Albuquerque, assistant director of malaria control, has mapped out several projects in counties where the menace of malaria is apparent.

The project in Eddy county will involve control work here and at Carlsbad. Here the work will consist of draining the bogs southeast of town by running a ditch six to eight feet deep from the bogs to a point near where the Pecos river flows into the Pecos. Draining the bogs will add several second feet of water to the river flow, Mr. Henderson said.

In discussing the project, Mr. Henderson said it was purely preventative. "There is a mosquito breeding chain running from the bogs to the edge of town, which is made possible by the irrigation ditches. It is not probable that mosquitoes fly over a mile, but the water along the ditches from Artesia to the bogs affords a supplementary breeding place, which has created a menace, especially in view of the fact that malaria-bearing mosquitoes are known to exist in this section and one was recently found in Carlsbad."

In Carlsbad the project calls for the walling of the Pecos river with rock from the north Canal bridge to the Greene street bridge, a distance of about two miles. Only one side of the river, however, will likely be walled, he said.

He said a sanitary project would be set up along with the malaria project, but he did not know the amount which would be asked for.

ARTESIAN FINDS GAS AND BOOZE EXPENSIVE

J. L. Stephens of Artesia apparently found that a mixture of booze and gasoline for the driver of a motor vehicle is becoming expensive for offenders who are brought before Judge Frank H. Richards in police court.

Stephens was arrested Sunday and charged with drunkenness while operating an automobile. He was fined a total of $53, including costs, by Judge Richards in police court Monday morning. — Eddy County News (Carlsbad).

The state oil conservation commission's hearing to consider rules for the Lea county oil fields has been definitely set for August 9th, State Geologist E. H. Wells of the commission announced at Santa Fe Monday. The hearing is to be held at the capital.

Oil Tax Suit Is Filed At Santa Fe Last Friday, 19th

A suit to determine the liability of equipment of oil-producing concerns to taxation has been filed in the New Mexico supreme court by the state, through Attorney General Frank H. Patton at Santa Fe Friday.

In an action original to the high court, the State Tax Commission has been made the respondent of the state's petition for a writ of mandamus, directing the commission to take steps toward placing "large quantities of improvements, equipment, materials, supplies and personal property" on the tax rolls of Eddy and Lea counties.

The petition said that no taxes have been paid to the state or to Eddy or Lea counties on oil producers' property, the actual yearly valuation of which for the last five years was estimated at "more than $2,000,000."

Citing the failure of the tax commission to "require returns to be made," the petition declared that unless ordered by the supreme court the commission would continue to "fail to do so."

Red Bluff Dam Work Is Progressing At A Normal Pace Now

Revised plans in the construction of the Red Bluff dam have been approved by the Texas state engineer and construction on the dam is proceeding at a normal pace, according to word from Pecos. Sluicing at the dam site began Tuesday. Sluicing consists of forcing the water against the side of the core trenches and the filling of the trench dam under water pressure. Rock riprap was also begun last week. The present pay roll numbers about 165 men but will likely reach 200 shortly.

Hervey To Represent Carlsbad Water Users At Capital Hearing

J. M. Hervey, Roswell attorney, has been appointed by the Carlsbad water users to represent the water users in a hearing on the Alamogordo dam at Washington Monday before Secretary Harold Ickes. The right to build the dam at the Alamogordo site near Fort Sumner has been protested by Texas and Mr. Hervey, with C. W. Beeman, president of the Carlsbad water users, will present the water users case before the secretary of interior. Both men have already gone to the national capital.

400 of the 500 Cotton Farms in County Have Been Measured Now

Good progress has been made by the committee in measuring Eddy county cotton fields, in compliance with the provisions of the Bankhead law, W. A. Wunsch, county agent, stated here yesterday. Over four hundred cotton farms have been measured to date, he said, leaving about one hundred yet to be measured. Work of measuring the fields is expected to be completed by August 1st.

Six Million Gallons of Whiskey Burn In An Illinois Distillery Fire

Fire which swept the huge $6,500,000 Hiram Walker distillery, following a terrific explosion, was brought under control at Peoria, Illinois, Tuesday after causing damage estimated at two million dollars.

Twelve men were injured in the blaze and searchers were seeking for the body of John Barton, an employe, who has been missing since the blast in the rack house where he was working.

Six million gallons of whiskey were set afire.

LIGHTNING HITS CAVERN BUILDING

A bolt of lightning during a thunder storm at the Carlsbad Caverns Saturday afternoon struck a corner of a rock warehouse and broke a few window panes and burned out electrical fuses. The warehouse is located next to the power plant, but the electrical equipment is protected against lightning.

McCrory Explains Points Regarding Texas Truck Law

Truckers of this vicinity, who have occasion to do hauling in or through Texas should familiarize themselves with the Texas truck law. For the general information of the truckers, W. B. McCrory, manager of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce, submitted a resume of the important points of the Texas law. Truckers must pay a $10.00 application fee, a $10.00 driver's license, a $1.00 license plate, which is good for twelve months. A $10.00 tax per annum is imposed, however, this tax may be paid quarterly if desired. The tax year starts September 1st. Liability and property damage insurance must be deposited with the state of Texas.

If you own your own truck and are hauling your own property, no charges will be made.

SENATE OKEYS HATCH COTTON QUOTA TUES.

Amendment Would Be Effective In 1936 and Allow New Mexico To Produce 80,000 Bales of Cotton A Year.

WASHINGTON — The senate Tuesday adopted an amendment to the AAA act by Senator Hatch (D-NM) which would allow a minimum production of 80,000 bales of cotton in states which have produced 100,000 bales in any of the five basic years between 1928 and 1932, and a minimum of 200,000 bales if the production was 250,000 bales.

Due to the fact all state cotton allotments for 1935 have been made by the agriculture department, the Hatch amendment if finally approved by the house will become effective in 1936.

Hatch said the New Mexico quota last year was 65,000 bales, an increase of some 4,000 bales over the 1934 allotment. He explained there are several cotton counties in New Mexico which feel they have been discriminated against by the Bankhead act because they could show no real five-year average necessary for an adequate production quota.

"Some of the cotton land in New Mexico is new land and there are areas in which growers would like to produce some cotton, perhaps not much, but they are prohibited from doing so under the existing farm administration laws," said Hatch.

The senator said the 80,000 bale minimum provided for in his amendment will care for the future cotton needs of the state and permit production in areas in which cotton can be profitably produced.

COMMISSIONERS COURT MEETS

The Eddy county commissioners court met in special session Monday at Carlsbad. The court met to consider the various county WPA projects, but proposed projects were not all completed and the court will convene again Friday to consider the projects.

Other transactions of the court included a change in the liquor regulations. Section six, in regard to minors was changed to apply only to the holders of general dispensary licenses. Heretofore, no minors were permitted in any place selling liquors, but the regulation was changed to apply to only those dispensing hard liquors.

THIRD CUTTING OF HAY

The third cutting of hay for the season was in a fair way to start, but has been postponed on account of the inclement weather by the majority of hay growers. When the weather clears up the third cutting is expected to get into full swing. Both the quality and the quantity of the third crop is said to be excellent. Choice hay is being sold on the present market at $10 per ton.

TYPHOID FEVER ON THE COTTONWOOD

A case of typhoid fever has been reported in a Mexican family on the Cottonwood. Local physicians and the health department hope to prevent the spreading of the disease.

Beetle Is Victor In Death Struggle With Black Widow

Front page news was made over the week-end at the McCann Service Station, in a matched fight between a black widow spider and a beetle. Saturday afternoon, a black widow spider was found in a tree near the service station by Mr. McCann. The spider was placed in a fruit jar and its fighting qualities tested by placing flies and small insects in the jar with the spider. The spider made quick work of destroying the flies, but when it faced a beetle placed in the jar later in the day, the result was a different story. A crowd gathered to witness the battle, with the spider trying to spin a web around the beetle. Several times the spider apparently had victory in its grasp, but each time the beetle emerged from the web.

Sunday morning the spider was found dead and the beetle almost dead. Mr. McCann located the nest of the black widow and placed the nest in the jar to determine if it were possible to hatch out some baby spiders.

The spider's nest has produced a mass of baby spiders, Mrs. McCann reported this morning. The mass of baby spiders were hatched out overnight last night.

Contrary to the first report the beetle is still alive, although still a bit groggy from his encounter. The beetle's recovery may have been hindered by lack of air in the jar.

Heavy Rain And Wind Hits Here

Artesia was in the center of a heavy wind and rain storm Sunday afternoon that left several hundred dollars damage in its wake. The storm was localized over town; the rainfall was light both to the north and south of here. Approximately three-quarters of an inch or .72 of an inch of moisture was recorded at the weather station, although the rainfall was believed to have been over an inch in places in the west part of Artesia.

The heavy wind accompanying the rain broke off large tree limbs, two or three good-sized trees, unroofed a metal barn at the C. M. Cole residence, blew down the old barn of the City Dairy, took two gasoline tanks from the stand at the Cave Brothers filling station at the north edge of town, blew down a cow shed at the Bill Stewig residence, knocked out the skylight at the Advocate office, broke a plate glass window at the J. C. Penney building and did minor damages in other places over town.

Roofs of houses and barns bore the brunt of Sunday's wind storm, according to late reports, inflicting minor damages in addition to blowing off several roofs. The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jackson on Texas street was minus a roof after the wind Sunday as well as the barn on the I. P. Johnson farm southeast of town. Part of the roof on the north shed of the Kemp Lumber Co., was also lost at the same time.

Heavy Rain Monday Night

Another heavy rain fell here near midnight Monday, covering a twenty mile section of the valley, but extending only a few miles to the west. The precipitation here measured near the three-quarter inch mark or .68 of an inch. Beginning in the edge of the Lake Arthur community, the fall extended through the Lower Cottonwood community and on to the south for several miles and west to the Beckett ranch about six miles from town.

East of here, the moisture was more general and covered practically all of the eastern part of the county and extended beyond Lovington. Motorists coming in over highway 83 report many low places looked like a "sea of water" and water was up to the running board in low areas along the highway.

Eddy County GOP To Meet August 1

Cotton Control Board Scheduled to Meet at Carlsbad Tomorrow

The New Mexico cotton control board will hold a meeting in Carlsbad Friday and will discuss the 1935 county contracts and the Bankhead applications made from Eddy county. A CCC CAMP IS TO BEGIN AUGUST 17th Survey Is Made of Range West and In and Around Hope; Twelve Cars of Material Unloaded at Lake Arthur for Camp.

Preliminaries for the construction of the CCC camp located about fifteen miles southwest from Lake Arthur and eighteen miles north-east of here, have been completed. About twelve cars of material for the camp have been unloaded at Lake Arthur and is being transported to the camp site. The buildings housing the workers, to be of the portable wooden type, similar to the CCC camp in Carlsbad, are expected to be ready for occupancy by August 17th, at which time operations at the camp are scheduled to start. Twelve to fifteen buildings are to be erected.

J. E. Stablein, in charge of all CCC camps under the grazing division, was here Saturday and with W. A. Wunsch, Eddy county agent, and L. C. Brown, Chaves county agent, made a survey of the range west of here and in and around the Hope community. A similar survey will be made of the Chaves county district Monday with L. C. Brown, Chaves county agent. Mr. Stablein also outlined the plan of work for the local CCC camp, which will be partly devoted to rodent control and partly to soil erosion.

The personnel of the camp will consist of 200 men. Eighty of this number will be used in the rodent control work and 100 for soil erosion control. The remaining number will be connected directly with operating the camp. Mr. Ward of Roswell has been selected as work superintendent of the camp, it was said.

Sterling Is Appointed To Serve As Baptist Missionary for Dist.

The Rev. Jordan Sterling was selected last week by a committee representing the Southeastern Baptist association and the Pecos Valley Baptist association to act as a full time missionary for the two districts, it was announced at Carlsbad Saturday.

The missionary will serve as an evangelist in rural centers and will establish Sunday schools and churches.

The committee which chose the Rev. Sterling, who is at present pastor of churches at Weed, Pinon and Mayhill, included the Rev. Julian Atwood of Roswell, the Rev. John Williams of Hobbs, the Rev. Aubrey Short of Lovington, and the Rev. Henry M. Weldon.

E. B. Guess Released From Well Plugging Contract With Dist.

It was understood here yesterday that E. B. Guess has been released from his contract with the conservancy district to plug any more abandoned artesian wells. The Guess crew has plugged about twenty-eight old wells since starting work about a year and a half ago. They were working on an old well in the county line district. Another well plugging equipment machine is practically ready and will take up the work of the Guess crew as soon as the machine is ready to go. The Guess contract with the district, originally called for the plugging of forty wells.

Roswell To Stage A Good Will Trip

The final good will tour to be made by the Roswell business men will be made on Saturday, August 10th, as far south as Carlsbad. The Roswell high school band will accompany the Roswell goodwillers and stops will be made at each community along the eighty-mile route as far south as Carlsbad. Saturday, August 10, was selected because of the request to have the Roswell high school band to play at the state convention of the American Legion. The noon meal will be eaten here, according to present plans, and each Roswell business house has been asked to send at least one representative along on this tour, which will be the third and last for the season.

SPACING RULES FOR OIL WELLS STARTS AUG. 12

Regulations Which Allow Only One Well To Each Forty Acres Protested By Eddy County Oil Operators Recently.

The state oil conservation commission announced Wednesday the extension of the spacing rule for Hobbs field wells to cover the entire state, effective August 12.

Announcement of the commission's action was made by State Land Commissioner Frank Vesely of Santa Fe, secretary of the oil conservation body.

The new regulation provides that no wildcat well may be drilled closer than 330 feet to any lease or property line, or less than 660 feet from any other well. Exceptions may be allowed by the commission provided there will be no waste or hazard conducive to waste. Exceptions may be granted also where surface conditions make drilling impracticable without unreasonable expense or in case a separately-owned tract is so small or so shaped to make conformity with the rule impossible.

A wildcat well is defined as one located not less than two miles from any commercial or potentially commercial well and outside the boundaries of any proven field or area designated by the commission. The spacing rule applies to all other wells until the commission adopts special rules, after hearing, for spacing in proven fields.

The problem of spacing was the chief one discussed at a hearing held in Santa Fe recently by the commission, when operators presented their suggestions on the proposed rules.

Eddy Operators Protest

A number of Eddy county oil operators, however, have voiced disapproval of the spacing rule as it applies to Eddy county. This county, they point out, is essentially a sand field and that unless the commission's regulation is modified which will not permit the drilling of more than one well to each forty acres, a lot of oil in the principal producing areas in Eddy county will never be recovered.

Protests have been sent to Dr. Wells, chairman of the commission, but apparently the commission has not considered seriously the protests.

Five Year Peak Is Reached In Hog Market Tuesday

CHICAGO—Hog prices at many points throughout the mid-west today reached the highest figure in nearly five years.

The $11 hog re-appeared on the Chicago livestock market for the first time since September 22, 1930. This figure plus the $2.25 government processing tax made selected choice medium weight hogs cost buyers $13.25.

Unseasonably slim receipts, the result of last summer's drought and the government's hog curtailing program, together with the announcement by the Department of Agriculture in Washington yesterday that inspected hog slaughter for the current market year will be the smallest in 25 years, were bullish factors throughout the mid-west generally.

SIX WELLS COMPLETED PAST WEEK

Well Near Monument Is Among Those Tested; Drilling Resumed On Two Wells In Eddy Co.; One Location Made.

Six producers have been completed in Lea county, one test has been abandoned and two wells in Eddy county have resumed drilling operations after being shut down for several months.

An interesting well northeast of Monument has been given a tubing gauge. The Saunders No. 1 of the Texas Company, sec. 18-19-37, which was drilled to 3953 feet, was given a maximum tubing gauge after an acid treatment and flowed at the rate of seventy-six barrels per hour. On an eight hour test the well flowed at the rate of 568 barrels per day thru tubing.

The Sun Oil Co., has also completed its Weir No. 1, sec. 35-19-36 at 3935 feet. After an acid treatment of 4,000 gallons the maximum tubing gauged seventy-five barrels an hour and settled to forty barrels per hour, flowing through tubing.

Other Lea completions include the Atlantic Oil Co., State 1-G, sec. 5-21-36, drilled to 3890 feet and finished for 277 barrels per day through tubing. In the southeastern part of Lea, the Amon Carter, Mattix No. 1, sec. 3-24-37, was drilled to 3913 feet and plugged back to 3881 feet where it is producing forty-three barrels per day with an estimated 1,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

The Gypsy Oil Co., Arnott 1-A, sec. 2-25-36, drilled to 3524 feet, was plugged back to 3505 feet and flowed at the rate of 115 barrels of oil per day with an estimated 2,500,000 feet of gas.

The Henderson, Langley No. 1, sec. 8-25-37, was drilled to 3453 feet and flowed at the rate of seventy barrels per day through casing.

The Burns No. 2 of the Argo Royalty Co., sec. 8-20-32, was drilled to 2803 feet and was plugged and abandoned after developing a hole of sulphur water.

Eddy Wells Resume Drilling

Two Eddy county wells have resumed drilling after being shut down for several months. The F. W. & Y. Oil Co., has resumed drilling on its State No. 70, sec. 27-18-28, below 300 feet. The Ramapo Oil Co., has also started up at 2232 feet on its State No. 1, sec. 32-17-28.

Only one new location was staked for the week, this being the Humble Oil and Refining Co., Mosley No. 2, sec. 10-24-36.

SPEND HALF MILLION

T. W. Conway, acting state director of the rural rehabilitation division, informed Governor Clyde Tingley Monday that more than half a million dollars was disbursed by the rehabilitation office at Santa Fe within the last ten days. During the period 3,369 checks totaling $593,826.79 were issued.

Top quality hogs sold at South St. Paul at a peak of $10.50, a maximum gain over yesterday of 25 cents. At the Omaha market a new top price of $10.55 was paid to Fay Stittles of Cedar Bluffs, Nebraska, for 20 head of choice Hampshires. This was 20 cents above the peak price there yesterday.

THE ALAMOGORDO DAM PROTEST

It is difficult to believe that Texas has protested the building of the proposed Alamogordo dam, in view of the fact that New Mexico permitted the start of the Red Bluff dam without a challenge from the Carlsbad water users. Without knowing all the whys and wherefores in the case, it looks to the casual observer that Texas is trying to return evil for good.

In asking for the Alamogordo dam, the Carlsbad water users are trying to protect what they have, not what they expect to acquire under a new project. If they ask for water to irrigate new lands, then the Ward county Texas residents might have cause to complain of an injustice and of the fact that New Mexico is trying to take more than its share of the Pecos waters.

The New Mexico water project is not an experiment, the character of its lands and the productivity of its soil is proven, whereas these things are to be proven so far as the Red Bluff dam project is concerned.

The priority right has governed similar cases and should govern this one. It would indeed be folly to turn the Carlsbad project into a desert to create a new farming area of unknown merit only a few miles below the forty year old project.

JUST A SCRAP OF PAPER

You can begin to understand the cynical way in which the governments of the world signed the Kellogg anti-war treaty by meditating on the furor which arose when Emperor Haile Selassie of Abyssinia asked the United States to protest Italy's projected violation of the treaty.

Here we have, seemingly, an open and shut case. Having renounced war as an instrument of national policy, Italy—for reasons which Italians find good and sufficient—proposes to use war as such an instrument. The United States is asked to remind Italy of that renunciation—and instantly there is a sensation in all the capitals of Europe!

It is pretty clear that the governments which signed this treaty never had the slightest notion of abiding by its spirit. If they had, would they be dismayed by the thought that now, when it might be of some use, someone is actually thinking of reminding them of it?—Midland Reporter-Telegram.

The figures on the mounting expense of the federal government, taken from Brisbane's column, may interest you:

Figures do not lie, but they surprise you. For instance, in the year 1801, the government of the United States had 126 employees. Today it has 700,000 employees, an increase of five thousand per cent. The number of congressmen has risen, since 1801 from 123 to 531, a little more than four hundred per cent, while U. S. population has increased 2,500 per cent.

The increase in population is due to mothers, the increase in government employees and government extravagance is due to politicians.

A New Mexico editor has gone nutty over a new theory and along with the theory has embraced socialism and communism, although he denies he is a communist and tries to explain the difference between socialism and communism. Fundamentally there is no difference, at least that's what we are told by people who have studied the question. Three European nations now under the thumb of a dictator started out several years ago with the socialist party in control. They went from socialism to communism and from communism to facism and a dictator.

If the New Deal has fallen into disrepute, it is because the people have concluded that the college professors didn't have a monopoly on the brains of the country. What is needed more than anything else in the president's cabinet is more horse sense and less college sense. There is an air of uncertainty about any experiment, regardless of how successful it is. One experiment right after another will give the best of us the "jitters" in the course of time.

We see by the papers the New Mexico GOP "ain't" going to try to ride into office on the coat tail of the democratic national administration as the candidates did in 1934. If you remember speeches made in this section during the fall of 1934, the GOPers not only promised us a new deal, but a new deck. Now the republican leaders are trying to repudiate the 1934 stand by referring to the new deal as "the black widow spider of despotism."

An old bachelor took an old maid out riding and they stopped by the side of a road where they indulged in a little mild necking. The old maid expressed the hope that their platonic friendship could be continued.

"Why do you call it platonic friendship?" he asked.
"Well, it's play for you and it's a tonic for me," she replied.—Swiped.

An old sailor brought up in a rough school had a parrot which he had taught to swear terribly. And then the old sailor started to become respectable and the swearing of his pet burned him up. He heard of a very pious man who owned a parrot that prayed and the old sailor called on this man and asked that his parrot be placed in the same cage with the praying parrot. It was his idea that his parrot might be reformed.

And so the two parrots were put in the same cage and it happened they were mates. They eyed each other carefully for minutes.

"Hell's bells," said the sailor's parrot, "what about a little heavy necking?"
"Cheerio," was the reply, "what do you suppose I've been praying for all these years?"—Swiped.

The telephone bell rang in the charge room and the station sergeant picked up the receiver.
"Lo!" said a distant voice over the wire. "Ish that the polish station?"

The sergeant answered in the affirmative.
"Good," said the voice. "Ish there a guy named Bill Smith there?"

"No," said the mystified sergeant; "no one of that name."
"Thanks," said the voice. "Thish room I'm in ish locked and I thought I wash in jail."

(Just you and me, and I'm getting tired).

You have probably heard the rumors that Judge S. E. Ferree was a model young man. However, regardless of how suspicious you were of this fact, the rumor was not confirmed until recently and it came about in a rather peculiar way. Last week while E. B. Bullock was re-roofing his residence, a piece of paper was found; the paper proved to be a college recommendation over fifty-one years old. The recommendation, written in long hand, was evidently given Judge Ferree just before he graduated. It is remarkably well preserved and is certain a good send-off. When Judge Ferree reads this, please call at our office and we will be glad to return the recommendation.

It reads:
Alleghany College, June 23, 1883.

This may certify that Simpson E. Ferree, who graduates with us in a few days, is a young man of excellent character, and of good scholarship. His work in college has been well done, securing the respect and confidence of all of his teachers, and warranting the hope that he will succeed in whatever employment he may engage. Should he devote attention to teaching, there can be no doubt that a little experience will develop talent and aptness. We who have long witnessed his efforts and his success would commend him with confidence.

For the faculty,
J. HAMNETT,
Vice President.

Since diaper-pinning contests are becoming popular, it has been suggested that a match be staged between Gail Hamilton and the Rev. A. C. Douglas for the entertainment of the Artesia Rotary club. The odds are five to one on Douglas.

We hear the sub-marginal land division of the AAA, WPA, CCC, XYZ or what have you, is out of funds and can proceed no further after making a survey of the lands unfit for agriculture. Well, what about the Junior high gym? When Russia started on its first five-year plan, ordered a bunch of mammoth incubators and hatched a bunch of chickens with no provisions to feed them, we laughed at the incident. Now Russia can laugh at us.

Texas Protesting Building Of The Alamogordo Dam

With New Mexico contending that the Alamogordo dam is the only way to prevent 25,000 fertile acres from turning into a desert, a vigorous fight is to be made by the state July 29 at a Washington hearing to overthrow a protest by Texas which for the moment has stopped distribution of $1,500,000 for the New Mexico project.

The dam, to be located near Fort Sumner, 175 miles north of Carlsbad on the Pecos river, was allocated a million and a half with only the signature of the president needed before the money actually was turned over. A like sum was approved for distribution next year.

Texas has protested, however, and stopped distribution of the money, it was said at Santa Fe last week.

The dam will supplant now, and eventually replace, the Lake McMillan project where a dam originally built to impound 95,000 acre feet will now retain only 20,000 because of gypsum erosion. Last year, due to the drought, the lake dried up with consequent loss of thousands of fish and a loss of some $800,000 in crops.

Gov. Clyde Tingley and C. W. Beeman, president of the Carlsbad Irrigation District, last week held a conference with Attorney General Frank Patton on ways and means to combat the Texas attitude. Beeman said New Mexico had not objected to the Red Bluff dam in Texas, 15 miles from the state line, but now Texas was trying to block a New Mexico dam. Water rights on the Pecos will be attacked, Texas has threatened, Beeman said. New Mexico has ratified the Pecos compact, but Texas never has.

There is an area of about 25,000 acres in the Carlsbad district planted to cotton and alfalfa and cultivated since 1889, Beeman explained. This requires about 75,000 acre feet of water a year. Without it, "the savings and efforts of our lifetime, I have lived there 46 years for example, will become desert," Beeman said. Lake McMillan, under the new dam project, would become only a diversion dam.

Similar meetings are scheduled at three other places over the state. July 28th is the deadline for receiving applications.

Cull Loafers Keep Layers

The best time to cull the flock is when the hens go out of production, says W. M. Ginn of the New Mexico State College. It is wasteful to give high-priced feed to the non-layers.

The poorest layers usually start molting and stop laying in June or July and will not begin laying again for several months. Some of them will loaf until next spring.

Trapping tests at state experiment stations have shown that the earliest molters are usually the poorest layers. Those hens that lay thru the summer and do not molt until late fall will stay out of production for the shortest period and will produce more eggs when they do resume laying.

Hens that are molting should be culled now; it is poor economy to feed them all summer and then sell them in the fall. Also, culling is one of the best methods of keeping death losses down to a minimum. It is a known fact that those poultrymen who cull often and thoroughly have fewer deaths in their flocks than those who fail to cull out the loafers.

Culling is not the same thing as breeder selection. Selection is the choosing for breeders of those birds that have the inherited characteristics desirable for good breeders. Culling is the elimination of those hens not laying enough eggs to pay their feed bill. Culling is for the immediate improvement of the flock from an economic standpoint and has little or nothing to do with the genetic advancement of the strain.

There is no one season of the year that is especially favorable for culling. Culling should be done often. Some of the most successful poultrymen call once a month during the summer when hens are going out of production.

Those who have had no experience in culling can secure complete information on the subject by writing for the bulletin on culling which is sent out by the Extension Service, State College, New Mexico.

GARDNER MADE HEAD OF THE STATE COLLEGE

LAS CRUCES—Professor Hugh M. Gardner, dean of the School of Agriculture of New Mexico State College was named acting president of the college Tuesday to serve during the absence of Dr. H. L. Kent, recently granted a year's leave of absence by the board of regents to regain his health.

The appointment was announced by Dan L. Williams, president of the board of regents. Actively identified with education in the state since 1922, Professor Gardner has been dean of the school of agriculture since 1930 and for the past seven years has been director of the school's summer session.

Health Column

Conducted by Dr. J. R. Earp, Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health.

Cui Bono?

I am rather frequently met with a question that is half a criticism: What is the good of all this public health work when people who are actually sick cannot get a doctor? To the critic it seems rather absurd to be worrying about "well babies" or to be spending money on health education when people with serious diseases are not provided with medical care.

There is a problem of medical relief which is enormous and urgent. Last year 1,759 people died in this state without having a doctor's care in their fatal illness. Obviously many more were sick and recovered without medical advice. To provide medical care the Committee on the Costs of Medical Care tells us we must spend from $20 to $40 per person per year. A quarter of a million dollars per annum has proved quite insufficient to the FERA to provide medical care for even a portion of the people of New Mexico.

Under these circumstances is public health work a waste of time? Consider only the prevention of illness in "well babies." In 1930 the death rate of infants in New Mexico was 138.3 per 1,000 live births, in 1934 it was 122.6 per 1,000 live births. If the 1930 rate had continued in 1934, 190 more babies would have died. Adequate public health work in this state can greatly increase this saving of life. Health education in infant care can cut in half the number of babies that die every year and reduce to at least one quarter the present amount of sickness.

Let us change slightly the wording of the question with which this article begins: What is the good of preventing sickness in New Mexico when we cannot afford to pay for treating sickness?

TRUSTEES FOR WOODS FARM

Federal Judge Colin Neblett Saturday named Roger Durand and C. E. Mann, as joint trustees to operate the A. T. Woods farm, just east of Artesia. The action of Judge Neblett in federal court at Santa Fe was taken under the corporation reorganization provision in the federal bankruptcy law, believed to be the first case of its kind in the United States.

The farm, consisting of about 600 acres, will be operated by the trustees until December 31, 1937. Mr. Durand, who has lived on the farm for the past six years, will continue to serve as manager, and C. E. Mann will handle the finances. Col. Woods will be permitted to retain possession of the dwelling he now occupies until December, 1937.

Standard Starts Ad Campaign On Penn Motor Oil

The Standard Oil Company of California is launching a widespread motor oil campaign in western newspapers to inform local motorists that Standard Penn is now available everywhere at Standard Oil dealers.

Sales records established for this product since its introduction three years ago at Standard Stations, Inc., prompted the company to make the following announcement in its opening advertisement: "For three years increasing thousands of motorists have been changing over to this superb oil—buying it at Standard Stations, Inc., and their authorized distributors."

"Now Standard Penn spread its wings. We are now placing it on sale with thousands of Standard Oil dealers everywhere." Besides supporting its dealers with an advertising campaign in four hundred newspapers in the west, the company is offering its dealers point-of-sale tie-ups in the form of window posters and smart island-display racks.

Following closely on the heels of the first newspaper announcements, the company will distribute Standard Penn through its dealers in new distinctive packages. Standard Oil's package-designing has been receiving widespread national recognition and has won many competitive prizes. The distinguished labor developed for Standard Penn should be an outstanding sales asset.

SPECIFIES FISH TO GO IN ELEPHANT BUTTE

SANTA FE—Dr. A. S. Hazzard of the federal bureau of fisheries after a survey of Elephant Butte lake, has recommended introduction of pike, perch and small mouthed bass in the waters. He said the waters are suitable for warm water species, but not cold water.

Though occasionally a trout or salmon has been hooked, Dr. Hazzard said his party did not find a single one of either. The state game department, therefore, it was announced Saturday, will discontinue planting those types in Elephant Butte lake.

Low oxygen content and warm water work against the trout, Dr. Hazzard said, while food supply is deficient except for forage fish such as carp, buffalo, cark suckers and shad; insects and other shore food are virtually lacking and conditions are unsuitable for introduction of water plants.

Construction of a hatchery and of brush shelters in protected bays, closed to fishing, is recommended.

New Refrigeration Gives A Constant Cold Temperature

To those who have given the matter any attention at all it has become clearly evident that the remarkably rapid growth of the electric refrigeration industry has been due, more than any other thing, to the provision of constant, unchanging cold for food. According to Grady Burkhalter of Artesia, local Frigidaire dealers and specialists in food preservation, it is this fundamental principle that is the basis for food preservation.

"There have been many preservation methods tried," said Mr. Burkhalter, "but most of them have been conceded to be little more than makeshifts. The use of ice in the summer seasons provided the first basic forward step in the science of attempting to preserve foods over an extended period.

"With the true causes of food spoilage unveiled, it was inevitable that electric refrigeration would finally be developed. Since we know now that heat itself does not render food unfit for consumption, but rather that it encourages the growth of the tiny yeast and mold plants along with certain bacteria, which are the real vitiating agents, it was but a matter of developing proper apparatus capable of furnishing constant cold. This was accomplished in a most ideal way with electric refrigeration in which field Frigidaire Corporation was one of the pioneers.

"A Frigidaire makes its own 'cold,' as it were, just exactly as it is needed, no more or no less. The cooling unit, called the super freezer, can be set at practically any temperature the user will desire, and it can be done as easily as tuning in a local station on a radio set."

Christian Church Convention Closes Carlsbad Session

Officers were elected for another year at the closing session of the Christian church convention and the New Mexico and Southwest Texas Missionary society in the closing session of the state convention at Carlsbad late Thursday afternoon. About 100 delegates from fifteen churches attended.

Will H. Hortenstein of Roswell was re-elected president; the Rev. D. B. Titus of Roswell was elected first vice-president, and Guy B. Williams of Roswell was elected second vice-president; Arline Gibbany of Roswell, was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

Officers of the Pecos Valley district include the Rev. C. E. Perlee of Carlsbad, president; Thomas Massie of Artesia, vice-president, and C. O. Brown of Artesia, secretary and treasurer.

Culinary Jingles by Marcia Camp

Mrs. Mudge and Mrs. Midge Played a splendid game of bridge. No one evidenced surprise When their final scores were ties. Said Mrs. Midge, "I'll not bepridge First prize to dearest Mrs. Mudge If I may win—odd though it seem— Your recipe for that ice cream!"

"FROZEN VELVET" was the enthusiastic comment of one woman on the texture of the very first marlow she had ever eaten. She immediately followed it up by clamoring for the recipe, to be tried promptly thereafter in her own automatic refrigerator; and when told that marshmallows were the only secret of the "frozen velvet" she was politely incredulous but still more anxious to try it herself.

Marshmallows have a flair all their own for imparting smoothness to ice creams made without agitating. Use either a mechanical refrigerator, an ice cream freezer or a mold packed in an ice-salt mixture. The mold requires a tightly fitting cover, sealed with adhesive tape. Even if you have never been able to make a perfect one in your life before, you can't help succeeding when you make it with marshmallows. The luscious lumps of ice cream made consist in large part of corn syrup and gelatine; and as every housewife of the pre-electric era knew, corn syrup and gelatine were two guarantees of smoothness in old-fashioned freezer ice cream. Now they guarantee the same melting sleekness in deserts frozen without any stirring at all. Furthermore, you don't need to worry about the correct proportions; the marshmallows are made just right for perfect ice cream. Nor need you worry for fear the remaining marshmallows will dry out between times, and perhaps be less effective when you want to use them again. The campfire marshmallows now come in triple-sealed economy packages containing four separately sealed quarter-pound packs. Keep just one of these packs-ettes for six months if you like; the day you take it out of the pantry shelf to use it, you will find its contents as fresh and sweet as the day you bought it.

And here is the very simple and very delicious marlow (or marshmallow ice cream) which so impressed the lack of our anecdote:

MACAROON MARLOW
15 marshmallows 1 cup whipping cream
1 cup milk
8 macaroons

Steam marshmallows and milk in top of double boiler over boiling water. Crush macaroons, add to marshmallow mixture and chill. When cold and slightly thickened, add the stiffly-beaten cream, and pour into refrigerator trays, freezer, or mold. Freeze without stirring.

Loving Defeats Oilers One Run

The Oilers dropped their second game to "Lefty" Wright and Loving Sunday by a 2 to 1 score.

Pashea, local hurler, limited Loving to seven hits, supported by airtight fielding, but the locals were unable to hit against "Lefty" Wright, collecting only four safe blows.

Fascinating Tales of Lost Mines
by Editha L. Watson
G.W.M.D.

THE LOST CABIN MINE

SOMEWHERE in the Big Horn mountains is a mine richer than the Comstock lode. It was found in 1863, and lost in 1864, but some day a lucky prospector will find it again, open up its neglected tunnels and build a new cabin where the old one stood.

Three men, Allen Hulbert, Cox, and Jones, were the first to discover this bonanza. They had gone out on a prospecting trip from Walla Walla, and some time in the spring of 1863 they found themselves in the wildest part of the United States. They had been going through terrible hardships, floating on a raft down the Big Horn, and traveling at night to avoid hostile Indians. Men in their senses would have recoiled at the bare idea of such an adventure, but these men were bewitched by a golden phantom; they kept on prospecting as they went.

At last, there in the Big Horns they found a wonderful pay streak, which panned "all the way from five cents to one dollar each trial." This was their rainbow end, and here they planned to stay through the next winter. By the time water froze overnight, each had something like half a bushel of gold.

Winter passed all too slowly. As soon as the first spring warmth came to the little valley, they were on the job again.

What their plans were, no one can tell. Perhaps they expected to go to Walla Walla that summer, laden with treasure; or they may have decided to stay on until either they or the nuggets were exhausted. But these plans were destined never to be completed, for Indians suddenly fell on Cox and Jones, killed and scalped them, and rifled the cabin. Hulbert who had gone some distance off, saw the horrible sight, but was powerless to help his partners.

As soon as the marauders left, Hulbert hurried down to the cabin. The gold was still there, and he packed a knapsack full, buried the rest, and struck out in the opposite direction taken by the Indians. After 18 days through wild, unknown country, he reached the North Platte river, and found the old trail to California.

Here he met up with a large party of gold seekers heading toward the northwest. On hearing his story, part of the enormous crowd decided to return with him to the mine, and more than 500 people, with 140 wagons, accepted him as their leader.

How was a man to retrace a trail like his? How could he remember every landmark, every direction of those terrible 18 days of flight? Hulbert thought he could, but all summer long he tried in vain to reach that abandoned cabin where the bodies of his friends guarded the golden treasure. At last he was forced to admit defeat, and the angry crowd, after even once gathering to lynch their bewildered leader, started westward.

Since then many a good prospector has spent years in the effort to locate the Lost Cabin mine. "Old Pancake" Comstock, grubstaked by Nevada men, searched for it in vain.

Then, during the Sioux uprising, when the Big Horn country was alive with Indians, three men made their way to the head of the Little Big Horn, and here they found what must have been the real mother lode of the Lost Cabin gold. It was the largest known body of rich quartz in the world!

The newcomers built a boat, loaded it with gold, and planned to float down the river until they reached a settlement. Here they would outfit and return to where fortune had smiled her golden grin at them. But death lurked downstream; the Sioux camp, stretched along the river, was more than three miles long, and 6,000 warriors waited and longed for a chance to spill white man's blood.

It was midnight when the awkward boat started past this gigantic camp. A dog, sniffing the air, barked excitedly. A sentinel peered and listened. The rapids of the Little Big Horn reached for the boat. In haste, the miners grew panicky—a moment more, and the boat overturned—another, and they were captives of the hostile Sioux.

In the scuffle that ensued one man managed to get away. He had no food, no weapons, and his clothing had been torn until only a few rags covered him. But he had clenched his hand over a couple of nuggets, and these he kept during the days when he wandered in search of a settlement. At last he stumbled into a little town.

What happened to Sitting Bull, Ouster, and the rest, is history. The country became safe from Indians again. But the one man who could have trailed the golden phantom back to the Lost Cabin lode sat in the sunshine and babbled of immense wealth, of hunger, of Indians, of his beautiful yellow nuggets—a garrulous, senseless idiot.

Debt Committee Meets At Carlsbad

The regular meeting of the Eddy County Debt Conciliation was held in Carlsbad on July 23rd at 10:00 a. m. R. M. Thorne, chairman, presided. The meeting was attended by William Klein, state supervisor, and the following committeemen: C. W. Beeman, J. R. Ogden, W. D. Bales, Fred Huckleberry and W. A. Wunsch. Two cases were discussed and final instructions prepared and reported to the committee and reported that no change in the present members of the committee has been made; and outlined instructions were received from Alvin T. Anderson, assistant to the governor, in regard to the changes of the committee.

"Now that the supreme court has held the Frazier-Lenke amendment to be unconstitutional, a greater responsibility rests on the state and county voluntary farm-debt adjustment committees. They are the only remaining bulwark between deserving, debt-distressed farmers and that minority of creditors who would take advantage of the situation by liquidating them indiscriminately. According to information coming to this office, these creditors, the "ten-per-cent fringe," propose to institute foreclosure proceedings in keeping with their legal rights, now that the Frazier-Lenke amendment is out of the way. Some of them would ruthlessly liquidate borrowers, the deserving and undeserving alike, regardless of the fact that, if all creditors with the same legal right were to act in a similar manner, it would result in serious social and economic consequences in the field of agricultural credit. Such action might easily lead to the enactment of radical remedial measures, injurious to the credit system for years to come."

With the barrier of the Frazier-Lenke amendment removed, the efforts and influences of the state and county voluntary farm-debt adjustment committees constitute the principal safeguard against the accomplishment of this purpose. Again we must look to the county committees to use their influence in preventing a wave of unjustifiable foreclosures.

An "unjustifiable" foreclosure has been defined in the public mind as one wherein the following factors are involved:

1. The farmer is doing his honest best.
2. His delinquency is due to the many years of low agricultural prices rather than any fault of his own.
3. He has a record of paying his obligations up to his capacity to pay, as limited by the net farm income.
4. He is taking proper care of the property.
5. He is properly applying the proceeds of production, over and above necessary living expenses, toward paying his creditors in accordance with the principles of security and priority of claim, the foundation of any sound credit system.
6. He has a reasonable expectation that, with a return to normal conditions, he can ultimately meet his obligations to the satisfaction of his creditors.

The above statement represents

The general attitude of the forty-four state agricultural advisory credit councils and the 2,752 county committees throughout the country. It also represents the attitude of farmers and farm groups as well as the majority of creditors who recognize that agricultural conditions during the past several years have been such that creditor-lenity in the case of deserving farmer-borrowers should be the rule governing foreclosure policy. The committee will hold regular sessions each month and anyone having any cases to bring before the committee can contact W. A. Wunsch, secretary, and the proper forms will be furnished.

Egyptian Wasps To Fight Pink Boll Worms In the U. S.

Traveling over the fastest air and water routes, three lots of promising little wasps from Egypt recently reached the United States. They are now building up an army soon to be turned loose against the pink boll-worm in the few North American cotton fields invaded by this pest. The pink bollworm—the most destructive cotton pest in nearly all the important cotton-growing countries of the world—has not yet reached the main cotton belt here. Every effort is being made to keep it from doing so.

"A few of these wasps," says C. P. Clausen, in charge of insect parasite introduction, "were obtained with the assistance of the Egyptian Ministry of Agriculture and increased by entomologists of the United States Department of Agriculture on the other side of the world. Then they were shipped to the department's insectary at Presidio, Texas, making the trip from Cairo in about two weeks.

One of the small aliens—Microbracon irkpatricki—has long been a natural enemy of pink bollworms in East Africa. It was successfully colonized in Egypt several years ago, but efforts to import it into North America failed. The delicate little insect could not stand the long, hard journey. Air express and fast ocean liners, with modern refrigeration facilities, however, have removed the hazards of travel for Microbracon.

From Egyptian parents that came safely over the great stretch of land and sea, a large number of American-born wasps are now ready in the Presidio insectary for release in cotton fields.

Eastern New Mexico State Fair 1935 Premium List Is Now Ready To Mail

REMARKS ON RELIEF

The following item clipped from the Semi-Weekly Farm News was brought to us by H. K. Privity. Mr. Privity says this is the best article he has seen in a long time on the national relief question:

If wisdom and righteousness went hand in hand, ours would be a prosperous land. The new World Dictionary defines wisdom as "knowledge practically applied to the best ends." The unrighteous will not apply their wisdom to the best ends if it conflicts with their selfish interests. The righteous would not curtail or destroy farmers' products when thousands are suffering for need of them.

Nobody knows that farmers have produced too much of anything, because their products have never been adequately distributed among the needy. - Agriculture, the basic industry, is suffering more from the depression than any other industry. Tenancy is increasing. If the present program is kept up much longer, nearly all farmers will be tenants.

Roosevelt's huge spending program will be in full blast soon, but it won't help farmers, nor anybody else any longer than it will take to spend it. Capitalists will not invest in uncertainties. The New Deal will be kept up, in its present form, or a modified one, as long as Mr. Roosevelt is president. Billions of dollars is being spent for temporary relief, but practically nothing for permanent relief. Farmers and laborers are getting restless and are ready to grab at anything that offers relief. Maybe Huey Long or somebody else, who offers a quick remedy for our ills, will sit in the president's chair; but I don't think anyone can deliver us soon from the middle we are in.

J. B. MARTIN,
R. I. Commerce, Hunt Co., Texas.

Premium lists for the 1935 Eastern New Mexico State Fair to be held in Roswell October 2, 3, 4 and 5, are now ready and are being mailed on request. Radical changes have been made in the various departments this year, with increased premiums and broader classification to enable more farmers and stockmen throughout New Mexico to participate. Many changes have also been made in the domestic arts department. A postal card to the secretary of the fair will bring a copy.

The livestock show this year is expected to exceed any similar event ever held in the state. Livestock barns will be enlarged and the general exhibit space will be increased. Reservations for space have already been made by some of the counties in the western part of the state, in addition to the reservations from communities in eastern New Mexico which have been showing at the fair in past years. The New Mexico Pure Seed association will have a much larger exhibit than ever before. New and different entertainment features are being planned for each day of the fair.

You may be cool enough but your motor is hotter than Death Valley!

Protect your motor with Germ Processed Oil!
2 to 4 times greater film strength than plain mineral oil—even at motor heats of 225 to 425 degrees

BREEZES may cool you off as you drive, but your motor runs at terrific heats—from 225° in the crankcase to 425° in the cylinders. To protect your motor, your oil must have extra film strength and maintain it at these high temperatures. Otherwise, the lubricating film ruptures and the bearings and cylinders suffer damaging wear. Plain mineral oils have little film strength and oils over-refined by the new cleansing methods have even less. Moreover, these oils rapidly lose film strength as motor heat goes up. You can protect your motor far better with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil, for tests on the Timken Machine prove that at high motor temperatures it has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil! More proof—supervised road tests were made in identical cars fitted with the new alloy metal bearings used in many 1935 cars. The bearings lubricated with a high-quality plain mineral oil showed 45% more wear than those lubricated with Conoco Germ Processed, the first alloyed oil. Say "O. K.—Drain"—fill with Germ Processed Oil. Drive far—drive fast—without a worry!

Have You Ever Analyzed Your Electric Service Statement?
There is nothing complicated about your monthly statement for electric service. It simply informs you of the total amount of electricity used in your home during the month.
If it were itemized according to the multitude of services performed, you would immediately exclaim, "I never realized how much electricity really saves me each month!"
Take your statement and divide the amount by thirty and discover what electricity costs you per day. Then take the daily cost, which is only a few pennies, and divide these pennies by the number of lights and appliances you have in your home—radio, toaster, refrigerator, washing machine, vacuum cleaner, iron and every light. It is surprising how little electricity costs.

"Truth" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches and Societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 28th. The golden text is: "Thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth." (Pa. 31:5).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible:
"Only fear the Lord, and serve him in truth with all your heart." (I Sam. 12:24).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text book:
"It is easier to desire truth than to rid one's self of error. Mortals may seek the understanding of christian science, but they will not be able to glean from christian science the facts of being without striving for them. This strife consists in the endeavor to forsake error of every kind and to possess no other consciousness but good."

THURSDAY MARKS 600,000th VISITOR TO THE CAVERNS

Last Thursday, the Carlsbad Caverns were viewed by its 600,000th visitor and this visitor was Edna Merle Hawthorne of Seagrave, Texas. Coincident with the 600,000th visitor, it was just a year ago last Thursday that the 500,000th visitor went thru the Caverns. The half millionth visitor was Grandma Norman of Waters, Oklahoma. Col. Thomas Boles, superintendent of the Caverns, predicts that the millionth visitor will make the Cavern trip on July 4, 1938.

services. People who love the Lord and want to go to heaven will not let little things hinder their serving Him. We must be instant in season and out of season for we know not the hour nor day that Christ is coming again.

The subject for Sunday night could be stated this way: "Why we refuse to wear human names." We have good Bible reasons for not doing so. Will you be open-minded enough to consider them in the light of the Scriptures?
We had a fine meeting. Many attended and received great benefit. Many stayed on account of prejudice. Prejudice is an enemy of truth. It was prejudice and tradition that crucified Christ. Think on these things. "Come let us reason together."

Sales of Chevrolet 366 Percent Over June of Last Year

In announcing the new Chevrolet lines for 1935, officials of the Chevrolet Motor Company predicted last January that the country's gradual recovery of buying power would create a heavy demand for the new improved standard models, which combined the advantages of performance and economy with low first cost.

How correct they were in this prediction may be gauged by figures just released by W. E. Holler, vice-president and general sales manager of Chevrolet. Sales of Standard models through June, Mr. Holler said, totaled 137,128 units. This is a gain of more than 366 per cent over the figures for the corresponding period of 1934.

"Automobile buying is following fairly closely along the lines indicated by our advance surveys," Mr. Holler said. "Thousands of individuals whom economic conditions had deprived of their cars entirely are returning to the market, buying, for the most part, used cars. Other thousands, located in the financial stratum just above these, are graduating from used cars to new cars in the lowest price range, notably Chevrolet Standard models. It is this general increase of purchasing power, all along the line, that has brought about the sharp increase in Standard sales, we believe."

One reason why Chevrolet has been able to secure so much of this business in the lowest priced field, Mr. Holler added, has been the marked improvement in performance engineered into the Standard line. Its engine develops 23 per cent more power than in 1934, and economy and durability also are substantially improved.

Hobbs Welder Killed By Blast

An empty hydrochloric acid tank mounted on a truck which he was welding exploded and instantly killed Leo Black, 26-year-old boiler works employe at Hobbs last Thursday afternoon.

Black, a welder, had just put his torch to the leak when the explosion occurred. He was instantly killed, and the force of the blast hurled the end of the tank several hundred feet in the air.

John R. Brand, assistant district attorney, who investigated the accident, said no inquest would be held.

He said the cause of the explosion was undoubtedly due to the forming of gas in the tank, but what caused the gases to form was not known. A fleet of such tanks is operated in the nearby oil fields, and a number have been repaired in the same way before without accident.

Black is survived by his widow, his mother, Mrs. A. O. Mary of Fort Smith, Arkansas, and a brother living in Cooper, an oil town near Hobbs.

Senate Passes AAA Amendment To Bolster Prices of Farm Products

WASHINGTON—Ending a half month of argument the senate Tuesday passed the AAA amendment bill, much cut and patched, but broadening and bolstering the administration program for increasing farm prices.

As a last minute gesture, the senate accepted a sweeping amendment requiring senate approval of higher salaried employees "under this or any other act of congress." The vote for final passage of the bill was 64 to 15. It came after the senate had waded through a tangle of last minute amendments, throwing many aside but adopting some. The bill had two main purposes—to arm the secretary of agriculture with new weapons to push farm prices up to a parity with prices of other commodities, either by the processing tax method or through marketing and crop control agreements; and, secondly, to prepare for the time when the supreme court will pass on the validity of the AAA program.

In anticipation of that date, and in an effort to prevent an upset, the amendment bill validated all processing taxes heretofore imposed and ratified them at their present levels.

The section validating the rates applied by the secretary of agriculture was aimed at meeting arguments that they had been fixed under an unconstitutional delegation of authority.

The amendment read that "the taxes imposed under this title as determined, prescribed, proclaimed and made effective by the proclamation xxx of the secretary of agriculture or of the president xxx are hereby legalized and ratified and confirmed as fully to all intents and purposes as if each such tax had been made effective and the rate thereof fixed specifically by prior act of congress."

As a second bulwark, the bill legalized all benefit contracts under which farmers have been paid about $700,000,000.

Third, the bill outlawed all suits against the government for recovery of processing taxes paid in the past unless the processor proves he has not shouldered them off upon the consumer or producer.

The farm bill, already passed by the house, must go back to that branch for consideration of senate changes. A senate-house conference probably will be necessary.

FAUST ILL

Douglas in church work for the past nineteen years.

Oil Tax Suit—

"Many thousands of dollars" in taxes have been lost to Eddy and Lea counties and the state, the petition said. The action, it was explained, was filed originally with the supreme court rather than Santa Fe district court, because of the need for immediate action if the property is to be placed on the 1935 tax rolls.

The state seeks to have the tax commission required to prescribe forms for operators in Lea and Eddy counties for the years from 1930 to 1935 inclusive, in order that the property may be placed on the tax rolls, or show cause why it is not done.

HISTORY AND CIVICS EXAMS

There will be given, in the office of County School Superintendent Spencer, the latter part of August, a state examinations in New Mexico history and civics, for certification purposes.

SALES TAX TOKENS RECEIVED BY STATE

SANTA FE—Thirty thousand one- and five-mill tokens, the first of 650,000 ordered by the state of New Mexico for customers' use in defraying the sales tax on small purchases, were shipped from Pennsylvania Wednesday, it was announced here Monday.

Ben D. Luchini, director in charge of the sales tax, said he had been advised that daily shipments of 30,000 tokens would follow.

BIG GAIN IS SHOWN IN SALES OF AUTOS

WASHINGTON—American automobile factories sold more machines in the first six months this year than in the entire year of 1933 and nearly 1,000,000 more than in the first half of 1934.

The Commerce Department reported Tuesday that half-year factory sales were 2,262,144 for 1935, compared with 1,714,263 in the corresponding period of 1934 and 1,920,057 in all of 1933.

REPORT ON MEXICO CITY CONVENTION

Roy Daniel and Ed Williams, both of Roswell, made interesting talks on the International Rotary convention held in Mexico City, Mexico, last month, at the weekly luncheon of the Artesia Rotary club on Tuesday. Messrs. Daniel and Williams were delegates from the Roswell club and went to the convention by way of San Antonio, Texas, where they took the train to the interior of Mexico. The prevailing fellowship among the fifty-two nations represented was among the outstanding features of the Mexico meet, stressed by both speakers. Another striking feature of the convention was the fact that all speeches in the convention were made in English except one, according to Mr. Daniel.

Logan Hunter of Roswell and Mr. Warnick of Phoenix, Arizona, were among the visitors present at the luncheon in addition to the above-named speakers.
