Revival Underway At Baptist Church

A revival meeting, which commenced at the First Baptist church on Easter Sunday, is being lead by the Rev. E. D. Morgan, pastor of the First Baptist church of Las Vegas. The Rev. Morgan preaches an evangelistic sermon each evening at seven-thirty and conducts a systematic study of the Book of Ephesians each morning at ten o'clock. Interest is increasing at each service and the membership of the local Baptist church are striving for an excellent revival with great results for the local church.

The regular prayer meetings, which were conducted each evening last week, will be continued during the next two weeks, being conducted at seven o'clock preceding the song service and evening sermon. The Rev. P. G. Woodruff will lead these services.

The Rev. Morgan was a pastor in west Texas for about thirty years and has been pastor of the Las Vegas Baptist church in New Mexico for the past five or six years. His church granted him the privilege to come to Artesia to aid in this evangelistic campaign and the entire public is urged to hear the Rev. Morgan, who is considered one of the denomination's strongest men in the state.

ELECTION SUIT FILED IN LEA COUNTY COURT

Last week a suit was filed in the Lea county district court at Lovington to compel the Lea county democratic central committee to canvass the results of the recent Lea county democratic primary. In the suit it is charged that a number of illegal votes were cast in the primary. No answer to the suit filed has been made, according to an early report.

Local Senior Class To Present Class Play On April 24th

On Friday, April 24, the high school senior class will present its annual play, a three-act farce entitled, "Bachelor House." The story centers around three young college professors, supposedly women-haters, who take pride in their womanless home. Complications arise when the maid gets small-pox and everyone is quarantined—including three young ladies who are in the house at the time. Each girl picks a professor and tries to break through his anti-woman complex. Do they succeed?

You will have to see the play to find the answer. Plenty of comedy is supplied by two Swedish maids, a grocery boy and the situations which arise in the story.

The following cast is rehearsing each evening:

Professor Lawrence — William Dunn.

Professor Dartmouth — Willis Wilde.

Professor Bierring—Bert Muncy, Jr.

Ole, the grocery boy—Robert French.

Hulda, the maid—Greta Anne Brown.

Great, the maid's sister—Bonnie Rowland.

Doctor Rumsell—Robert French.

Kate Denton—Mary Jane Terry.

Rose Denton—Clementine Cobble.

Edith Holden—Mary Anne Miller.

J. Clarke Bruce is directing the cast.

Use Fertilizer On Onions, Cabbage

The New Mexico Experiment Station has just published two new bulletins showing the results of extensive fertilizer tests with onions and cabbage. These publications, written by A. B. Fite, show that by the proper use and combination of certain fertilizers the profits from growing onions and cabbage may be very materially increased. They show further that results from fertilizers may vary greatly with the different types and state of fertility of different soils, emphasizing the importance of adapting the fertilizers to the needs of the soil.

In the onion experiments, ammonium sulphate applied at the rate of 400 pounds per acre gave a five-year average increase of 5,325 pounds of onions per acre, with an increase of $41.25 in the profits, a return of $3.44 for each dollar invested in fertilizer. All of the different fertilizers and combinations gave increased yields with the exception of superphosphate when applied alone. A combination of 10 tons of manure and 400 pounds of ammonium sulphate increased the profits $58.92 per acre; this combination appeared to be the most practical and economical for onions under the conditions of the test.

The soil used for the cabbage experiment was in rather poor physical condition and had been depleted of its available fertility by an old orchard, pulled just before the experiment was begun. On this soil a combination of ammonium sulphate and superphosphate gave the best results, increasing the profits $99.59 per acre, but on a more fertile soil used in 1934-35 this combination was the least profitable in the test, while 600 pounds of ammonium sulphate alone increased the profits $92.55 over the unfertilized plots.

Flay Austin Makes Interesting Talk On "Weeds In Industry"

Flay Austin of Roswell, general manager of the Kemp Lumber Company, was the principal speaker at the luncheon program of the Artesia Rotary club Tuesday and made an interesting talk on the subject of "Weeds In Industry," showing among other things, the necessity of the business man to take an interest in governmental affairs, if business is to continue in its normal way. Other factors pointed out by Mr. Austin was the gradual increase in taxes during the past fifty years.

Visitors in addition to Mr. Austin included W. G. Cook of Artesia and the Rev. E. D. Morgan of Las Vegas, who is conducting a revival at the First Baptist church. Two new club members, Roy Lowe and Arba Green, were introduced at this time. D. I. Clowe, club secretary, announced the Rotary club here had enjoyed a gain in membership of over twenty-seven percent in the past year.

Automobiles Need Spring Cleaning

A spring cleaning is a spring tonic to an automobile, giving it renewed life and liveliness, and fitting it for the summer's season of heavy duty use, according to C. W. Wood, national service director of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

"Proper attention to an automobile when spring comes is just as important as winter preparations," says Mr. Wood. "Unfortunately, many motorists neglect the spring cleaning job, with the result that the car, and the engine especially, cannot perform at maximum efficiency and economy.

"One of the most important operations when freezing weather is no longer to be expected is a complete cleansing of the engine cooling system, and the installation of new rubber radiator connections in place of flabby old ones. If these precautions are neglected, overheating is the penalty. After a long winter, the radiator is likely to be partly clogged with sludge and scale, caused by the action of anti-freeze solutions on the metal of the engine block, and the rubber radiator connections possibly have deteriorated sufficiently to obstruct the circulation of water.

"As soon as the weather warrants it, heaters should be completely disconnected from the cooling system. That is, the fittings and valves and hose connections should be removed and stored carefully, and especially important, the heater itself should be emptied, by removing the drain plug at the bottom.

"The fan and its drive belt are a part of the cooling system, remember. In cold weather, a slipping fan belt may not be noticed, because the engine will run cool anyway—but on the first warm day the engine may overheat unless the belt is adjusted to get the maximum cooling effect from the fan.

"Actually, the best thing one can do for one's car in the spring is to have a complete tune-up of the engine, including a thorough overhauling of the entire cooling system, plus a change from winter to summer lubricants in the engine, transmission and rear axle."

The two-months-old infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Adams of Dexter, died suddenly Saturday morning about 10:45 o'clock while being rushed here from a road camp on Highway 83. The infant was taken suddenly ill, probably from pneumonia, and died while en route here. The body was shipped to Dexter for burial.

thirty typhoid carriers. At the same time 308 typhoid carriers were found by investigating the source of infection of known cases, i. e. by epidemiology, and 227 cases were found by stool examinations of patients after convalescence.

The report states that milk borne outbreaks of septic sort throat and of scarlet fever are of great importance but that "food borne tuberculosis is confined almost entirely to the bovine type as far as we know."

Amebic dysentery is a menace concerning which our knowledge is incomplete. In this case again it is unwise to load the laboratory with a lot of stool specimens taken at random. The bacteriologist must concentrate his efforts on the suspects discovered by that detective of contagious diseases—the epidemiologist.

Conservancy Board Disapproves Proposed Farm Utilization Plan

At a meeting of the Pecos Valley Artesian Conservancy Board at Roswell Saturday, disapproval was expressed of the proposed utilization plan of the U. S. Resettlement Bureau. The statement was signed by board members present, including Dr. Austin Crile, president; George Frisch, vice president; J. H. Mullis, M. Y. Monical, and Jesse I. Funk, and follows:

"There has appeared in the press and similar information has been sent to a number of people in our community as regards a fantastic scheme put out by the U. S. Resettlement office. In order that the facts may be clearly known, we submit the following statement, which was unanimously adopted at a regular meeting of the board on April 11th.

The Supreme Court of New Mexico rendered a decision which declared that the artesian waters of our basin belong to the State of New Mexico, subject to appropriation for beneficial use. Our state legislature enacted a law creating a conservancy district which includes the entire artesian basin and the district was granted authority to levy taxes and do any and all things proper and right to conserve our water. Among things that are being done is the plugging of our leaking wells which has been paid for by a uniform tax levy on all the real property within the boundaries of the district.

The State Engineer, who, under our law, administers and appropriates all of the artesian water, is now making a hydrographic survey of all the rights in our district. The survey is being made to determine the number of acres each user has applied artesian water to beneficial use. This survey is now in progress and will be completed in the near future after which time all the users of waters from the artesian waters of this basin will be given their allotted rights and will be entitled to use three acre feet of water from the artesian basin.

It is evident to all interested that there are no surplus waters to be appropriated, and that there is not now available three acre feet for all the lands entitled to that amount and not until the water is so conserved and the head built up may the present water users secure their legal amount and certainly there is no surplus waters to be appropriated to any arid lands.

The board has no objection to the U. S. Resettlement Bureau of Santa Fe purchasing any amount of land they wish so long as they confine their purchasing to land with water rights, but our government above all has no right to undertake to buy land for a few dollars an acre and then attempt to drill into our artesian basin and take away water that is now being put to beneficial use. The owners of water rights in this valley support this community, the state, and the United States and it would be a travesty on justice for the government to attempt to take away their water which is their only value on the basis that they need to develop land for resettlement.

All this attempt at importing into our valley some governmental engineers to re-survey our basin and to tell us what to do with our water and then arbitrarily take it away from us, is pure nonsense. Our business as farmers and users of water is the business of the state of New Mexico. The board of directors of the Pecos Valley Artesian Conservancy District will resist to the utmost any attempt either by the government or individuals to make further appropriations of water until such time as those who have borne the burdens, have paid the taxes and produced the money to plug the wells, will first have been served with three acre feet of water.

We hope that the resettlement administration may have the good sense not to undertake to disturb our present program toward which we have worked for many years and which is now working out to our security and to our safety."

PIONEER DIES

Word has been received of the death of one of Eddy county's earliest pioneers, and the wife of the engineer who built the Santa Fe railway in the Pecos valley.

She was Mrs. Manda J. Ballard, who died at the home of her niece, Mrs. Loren Funk of Fort Collins, Colorado. She was buried at her home in Bethany, Missouri.

Mrs. Ballard moved to Carlsbad in 1890, while the railroad was being built and lived there many years.

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION Costs Less—It's Better

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION IS NO LONGER EXPENSIVE

The reduction in electric refrigeration costs really appears unbelievable, but any electric refrigerator dealer can prove to you that since the depression his prices have been reduced as much as 50 per cent, and that during this same period operating costs were reduced more than 75 per cent, and that service costs have been almost eliminated.

But quality has not been sacrificed. Really it has been improved. Fast freezing of ice cubes and desserts is still a fundamental feature. Every electric dealer guarantees food compartment temperatures below 50 degrees in the hottest of weather.
